FIRST EMERGENCY PATIENTS RECEIVED-Less than four hours after the West Plains Medical Center doors were officially opened Monday, two emergency patients were brought in by Bailey County Ambulance Service. Two workmen from Bamert Seed Co. had received electrical burns. One patient, in the wheelchair in the background, was treated and released, while the patient on the stretcher was admitted to the former ICU unit for observation. He received third degree burns to his hands and feet.

Mighty Mules Will Be Hosting Tulia Hornets Here Friday Night

A battered bunch of weary Mules went to Tulia last year to take on the Tulia Hornets. Many players had been lost for the season due to injuries, and several new players showed up on the Mules' roster. Despite a valiant battle, the Hornets stung the Mules 49-0.

This year, a battered bunch of Mules will host the Hornets at Benny Douglass Stadium on Friday night. However, despite numerous injuries, and once again, players out for the season, the Mules are expressing confidence, and plan to turn last year's final score to their own advantage.

With just the Tulia and Dimmitt games left to play, the Mules are standing even on the season at 4-4. Tulia is 6-2 for the season and 2-1 in district action, being listed in second place, with Littlefield and Friona tied for

In 346 rushes in the season, the Mules have gained 1,670 yards, while their opponents show 298 rushes for 954 yards.

In passing, the Mules have completed 35-129 for 416 yards, and their opponents have completed 35-107 passes for 445 yards.

In punting, the Mules have punted 36 times for 1117 yards and their opponents have punted 45 times for 1395 yards.

The Mules show 104 first downs, with 82 rushes, 16 passes and six by penalties. Their opponents show 81 total first downs, 59 rushes, 16 by passing and six through penal-

The Mules have a total of 46 penalties for 480 yards and their opponents show 43 penalties for 401 yards.

The Mules have lost nine fumbles, and have recovered 10 opponents' fumbles.

Leading rusher for the Mules is Michael Dunham, who shows 124 carries for 627 yards; Armando Del Toro has 88 carries for 434 yards; Daniel Olivas, 59 carries for 373 yards; Shannon Simnacher, 22 carries for 101 yards; Jerry Mendoza, 10 carries for 59 yards; Johnny Garcia, 10 carries for 31 yards; Jeff Hicks, 26 carries for 27 yards; Timmy Shipman, six carries for 18 yards and Ronnie Perez, one carry for 0 yardage.

In the passing department, Jeff Hicks completed 21-88 for 288 and was intercepted five times; Johnny Garcia shows 11-53 and also has been inter-Cont. Page 10, Col. 2

Superintendent Changes Date For Meeting

Due to an out-of-town commitment, H. John Fuller, superintendent of Muleshoe schools, has re-scheduled the 'Fifth Saturday-Talk With Your Superintendent' program for October 31, to the first Saturday in November, November 7.

This program is a voluntary action of the part of Superintendent Fuller, with the specific purpose to have his office open on the fifth Saturday to give anyone in the community an opportunity to visit directly with the superintendent.

He encourages the local citizenry to come and share ideas, complaints, and commendations directly with him on any school matters. The office will be open on Saturday, November 7, 9 a.m.-2 p.m. No appointment is required to meet with the superintendent, however, those wishing to make specific appointments can do so by calling 272-3389.

State License Is Granted; Hospital Admits Patients

On Monday afternoon, it was a relieved Jim Burgess, president of the West Plains Medical Center board of directors, and weary doctors, directors, workers, and persons who spent many, many hours during recent days cleaning and renovating the hospital.

Inspectors from the Texas Health Department in Austin had conducted an inspection of the hospital, found nothing wrong, and on the spot reissued the operating license of the hospital.

At the time the license was renewed, one emergency patient was in the ICU being 'observed' following an accident where he had received severe electrical burns shortly before noon on Monday. Another patient was waiting to be admitted to the hospital as soon as the license was granted.

the hospital and two more had received treatment in the emergency room of the hospital and released. One of those receiving treatment was one of the electrical burn victims; and the other was a 15-year old high school girl who had been struck by a car Tuesday morning on the south side of Muleshoe High School. Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Board members Todd Ellis and Jeri Wiedebush met with the West

'Real' Texas Monthly Nomad Visits Muleshoe

He's a modern-day nomad, in writer, who has always exhibita white suburban -- and a tired nomad, at that -- when he visited The Journal offices on Sunday afternoon in his yearlong trek around the state of Texas.

On January 1st of this year, Dick Reavis, senior editor for Texas Monthly magazine of Austin, left from the Cotton Bowl in Dallas. He was attempting to do something that had never been done before. Reavis set out to drive each and every mile of highway in Texas.

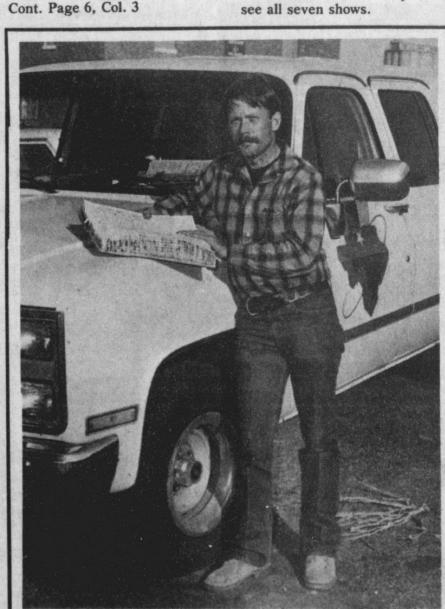

This nomad's mode of travel is the 'National Car of Texas' as designated in an August 1986 issue of Texas Monthly. He is driving a White Chevrolet Suburban, easily recognized with its Texas Monthly National Tour of Texas Logos, along with the Texas Monthly Texas map, painted on each side.

Initially, he expected to cover more than 70,000 miles of Texas highways and end up on New Year's Day, 1988, just before Texas Monthly's fifteenth anni-

However, on Sunday afternoon, he was just under 80,000 miles when he was in Muleshoe, and before a return trip to Lubbock to spend the night, he would see the 80,000 mark.

A friend from the American Automobile Association is helping map out his route, although he does get 'side-tracked' at times and loses some time, such as coming back to Muleshoe on Monday after he found out after arriving here on Sunday, the hospital was re-opening.

Reavis is a multi-talented

MULESHOE VISITOR ON SUNDAY AND MONDAY--Sunday afternoon, Dick Reavis, senior editor for Texas Monthly Magazine, arrived in Muleshoe, and visited at The Journal office with Cleta Williams. He returned to Muleshoe on Monday to do an update on the re-opening of West Plains Medical Center for a future issue of Texas Monthly, as he had no knowledge before he arrived in town that the hospital was re-opening.

DANNY NOBLE PRESENTED AWARD-On October 9, at the ASCS state office in College Station, Danny Noble, Bailey County Executive Director for the ASCS, was presented a 'Certificate of Merit' for "high quality performance of duties as County Executive Director during the period October 1, 1986 through September 30, 1987." The award was signed by Terrance G. Harmon, state executive director. Looking over the award are from left, Jerry Sowder, Noble, Terry Pollard, and Ben Roming, chairman of the Bailey County ASCS Committee.

City Council Approves New Fees, Study

It was a busy meeting, and a fast one for the Muleshoe City Council Tuesday morning, as several items were taken care of in something like 20 minutes.

Approved was an Ordinance to provide for the assessment of special expenses by the Municipal Court as provided by Article 45.06 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. In other words, Municipal Court can assess a fee of $25 for serving warrants for other law enforcement entities. They can also assess monies in relation to Defensive Driving Courses.

A resolution was approved for the City to participate in the Texas Community Development Program, and named City Manager as the city's executive officer and authorized representative. The city is seeking the funds to help pave portions of the city.

A routine matter, the renewal of the agreement with the Bailey County Appraisal District to assess and collect taxes for the City of Muleshoe, was also approved.

Also approved was a resolution approving the participation in the Telephone Franchise Study Committee. It will cost the city only $25 to participate in the study.

The city manager explained that this is a general study, and since Muleshoe's franchise expires in 1990, now is the time to approve such a study.

The city manager, Dave Marr, also said he expected to hear something on Tuesday or Wednesday of this week, showing the status of the city's application for a grant in excess of $450,000 to help provide capital operating funds for the hospital. A final decision is expected around November 22.

Marr explained that much criteria must be met in order for the city's eligibility for the grant to be approved.

He also said the right-of-way acquisition for the new airport is progressing well; the city is studying participating in a volunteer fireman's pension program; the city will be advertising for the purchase of several large items of equipment; a change in the method of billing some customers; and read a letter from SPS, indicating they are asking for a rate decrease, and refund of fuel-cost overcharges to SPS customers.

COOL FRONT BREAKS UP THREE WEEKS WET SPELL: NO SERIOUS LOSSES SEEN

Clear skies, bright sunshine and brish winds Wednesday not only changed the weather, but the outlook for West Plains Farmers and their delayed harvest of the 1957 fall season. A mild cool front blowing in from the west Tuesday evening brought a brief dust storm, followed by a sudden shower, and then clearing skies and a drop in temperature to end three weeks of almost ceaseless moist weather.

Although there was some damage to area crops from the long seige of wet weather at harvest time, the general belief is that the situation is not disastrous. Late opening of cotton and improved grain varieties combined to prevent what might have been a catastrophic situation.

The cotton crop is unusually late this fall, and this has proved a blessing in disguise. a offset somewhat by hot dry weather, the cotton crop is only about 15 percent damaged due to the rain and fog.

LITTLE HOUSE ON THE PRAIRIE IN MULESHOE

It took several years of researching and more than four years of construction, to set up a log cabin on the east edge of Muleshoe.

The log cabin is 16X18 feet, with enough lumber, that if split, would build a six room house of one inch lumber, according to John Fried, who moved the log cabin to Muleshoe.

Originally built around 1870, Fried said he found structure on the North Canadian river bottom near Shawnee, Okla, where it had been abandoned since 1937. Fried said the formerly two-story log cabin had been lived in until a bad hail storm in 1937, unroofed it. The cabin was then abandoned.

When the Frieds' found the cabin, said to have been built by a German 'squawman' the roof and floor were gone, rotted away with the years and with weather. They purchased the structure for $100 from the woman who owned it and made arrangements to have the logs transported to his home-site in Muleshoe.

Then the real work started. Fried said he hired a crane to move the 400 pound logs into place. The corners had been hand cut to fit perfectly, and the house was originally built without nails, as wooden pegs held the logs where they fit on the corners.

Fried said he put approximately 11,000 pounds of oak logs into the one story structure in Muleshoe and used a combination of clay, sand and feet deep in the ground south of at home." Muleshoe. This formed the base for the 3,000 pounds of mortar used to put the building

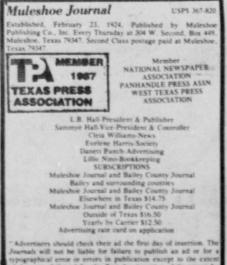

He said he found the house to be perfectly even on all corners except the northeast corner, which was two inches off, and the handhewn logs were adjusted to level the structure on all sides of the six inch thick logs.

After putting up the outside walls. Fried roofed the strucructure, and put in a new floor and ceiling. He went to Lubbock and had windows specially cut to fit the original windows of the cabin.

In the attic is room for two full sized beds, such as log cabins were used in frontier days. The corner features a fireplace and a coal range sits in the room. An old-fashioned iron bed is in one corner, as well as an old dresser, a rocker, table and chairs and a cabinet, which is from the pioneer days.

On the bed is an original feather mattress and rag rugs cover portions of the bare floor. Fried said he and his wife had spent the past four years reconstructing the log cabin and putting it on a bare spot at the back of their property for Muleshoe version of the "Little House On The Prairie".

'Sew Smart' Seminar Scheduled In Lubbock

Clotilde, nationally known sewing consultant, television hostess and author, will present a six-hour "Sew Smart" seminar on Wednesday, November 4, 1987, from 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Texas A&M Research and Extension Center north of Lubbock. Registration for the seminar is $10.00.

"People are too label conscious," explains Clotilde. "They look at a Calvin Klein and think it's an act of God. I'm trying to make women realize cement to mortar the logs. The that they can produce the same clay was dug from about four quality, the same expensive look

The morning session will be 'Sew for the $500 Look," covering manufacturer's tricks of the trade and designer techniques not shown in pattern instruction sheets. Whether you've sewn three months or 30 years, you will learn dozens of useful and practical sewing tips to give your clothes the professional look of the finest ready-to-wear.

"Everyone can learn to sew like I do," said Clotilde. "The secret is simply paying attention to the right details."

Clotilde will explain these details while giving helpful advice on fabric care: layout, marking and cutting proceedures; designer seam and facing finishes; zipper applications; collar construction; plus explaining the critical difference between fitting ease and pattern ease. She will also demonstrate many time and money-saving notions that really do work.

The afternoon session will be on "Smart Tailoring." See how easy it is to tailor jackets with a professional look. Learn how to select and apply fusible and nonfusible interfacings, apply shoulder pads and sleeve heads for perfect set-in sleeves, make invisibly stitched patch pockets, easily construct double welt pockets, and lining and topstitching techniques that give the custom look. Current patterns and fabrics will also be discussed.

"A perfect collar, lapel and collar notch are the most important parts of a jacket," said Clotilde. "This is the most important part of a jacket whether it's a tailored, lined jacket, or an unlined jacket made of velveteen or corduroy. Why? Because this is the area people look at as they are talking with you."

Two collar applications will be shown:

-the woman's "stitch and technique using self fabric for the undercollar.

-the use of melton or Ultra Suade for the undercollar as is used on a man's tailored jacket, thereby achieving a flat collar notch.

Clotilde will share home decorating ideas and new aids for creating interesting new window treatments. treatments. Put excitement back into your

She also gave a report on the Caprock District Club meeting in Plains that she and Mrs. Shain had attended.

The Club voted to give $100 to the West Plains Hospital Action Fund.

Mrs. Costen introduced Mrs. Joy Stancell as speaker, and she talked about growing old and about the Muleshoe Nursing Home. She said there were 42 eople in the home, with only one empty room.

She told they have exercise classes four times a week, watch TV, enjoy singing with those who come to sing with them. Some of the people are able to help do little things around the Home.

Mrs. Stancell stated that statistics show that only five percent of the older people are in nursing homes. Due to increased medical findings, people are living longer. In 1983, there were 4,000,000 people over the age of 65.

Mrs. Stancell gave a very good program and everyone reported they enjoyed it.

The next meeting will be on November 12, in the home of Mrs. Wilson Witherspoon.

Senior Citizens

Bailey County Senior Citizens met Monday, October 26, in the Depot at the Heritage Center for their monthly covered dish luncheon.

Following invocation by Mrs. Retta Shipp, the meal was served to 35 persons, including four visitors and three from the Nursing Home. Visitors included Mrs. Jean Miller, Clifton Finley and Mr. and Mrs. Woodie Goforth.

President Mildred welcomed the visitors and the minutes of the previous meeting were read.

Mrs. Ada Thompson and Mrs. Retta Shipp recognized for having birthdays since the last meeting. The Birthday Song was sung for them. The Senior Citizens voted to meet on the third Monday in November, and new officers will be elected at that time, Novem-

Girl Scouts Caught Sampling Project

Girl Troop 190 By Mary Franklin

Girl Scout Troop #190 went to Plainview on Saturday, October 24, to earn their first badge for the new year.

The Scouts left Muleshoe at 8:30 a.m., facing 'nippy' weather. However, they said that by the time they got into earning the badge, it was starting to warm up real well, and it didn't take them long to start shedding their jackets.

Outdoor Cooking was the badge earned, and was new to all of the Girl Scouts, as they had not done any outdoor cooking or camping out as yet.

Learning how to build safe fires was the first undertaking. Boy Scouts from Plainview showed the Girl Scouts how to gather wood, kindling and tinder, and prepare it for starting the fire, and helped the Girl Scouts start the fire.

In learning different methods of cooking out-of-doors, the Girl Scouts made and used a cardboard box oven and 'buddy burner' out of tuna cans.

They also learned how to operate a grasshopper stove, including preparing coal fires and cooking on them.

Then it was time to take care of another basic -- the menus. Making about five trips to the the Scouts watering hole prepared and cooked: Turkey in the Straw Soup; Individual Meat Loaves: Potatoes and Carrots in foil; Walking Salad; Mock Angel Food Cake and tea. After preparing the meal, the Girl Scouts and sponsors all sat down and ate what they had prepared. With five different menus, they all sampled each other's cooking. By the time they completed the clean-up and learned to extinguish the fire, they had a surprise coming. They had earned another badge -- Exploring Foods. *

"It was a very rewarding and fun-filled day," said the Girl Scout reporter.

Attending the workshop were Marianne Toombs, Shawna Delaney, Kristina Soto, April Franklin, Bobbi Hutchinson, Laura Soto and leader, Mary Franklin. Betty Ashford, also worked with the group, and her work was said to have been 'invaluable.'

He commented that not many hospitals in rural Texas were as well equipped as West Plains Medical Center.

Burgess told The Journal Monday afternoon, "There is no way to adequately thank all the people who have been cleaning and repairing, all the people who have donated supplies and materials, all the people who have provided food for the workers, all the people who have volunteered their time, their labor, and their expertise.

"We gratefully acknowledge all these people, such as the nurses, who have volunteered their services for each shift, around the clock, during the first week.

"The entire board has been overwhelmed by the response of the public when we asked for assistance in getting hospital ready to open. People responded from all walks of life, all ages. Even the small youngsters and older people, who ran errands, and were the 'legs' for many of those working."

Burgess said daily charges for the hospital are set up comparable to the rates charged by Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. The Lubbock hospital has been assisting in working out a 'budget' for the hospital. They indicate that if the hospital maintains an average of nine patients per day, the hospital can continue in operation.

At this time, the City of Muleshoe is awaiting word on a grant application for more than $450,000 which would be used as a loan for West Plains Medical Center to use for operating funds.

If the hospital receives the grant, and enough patients, to continue operation, it is very possible that Muleshoe will be getting two or three more doctors within the next 6-8 months.

It will be impossible to continue operation without a steady income, as nurses, aides, clerks, and cleaners will have to be paid. At this time, everything is on a volunteer basis, in order to keep the hospital in operation, explained Burgess, but this cannot continue indefin-

Donations are being accepted at Muleshoe State Bank for the West Plains Medical Center Improvement Fund, and donors may make their contribution, in any size, at that location.

If you would like to donate any type of supplies, such as bathroom tissue, facial tissues. paper towels, cleaning equipment, or other items, please check with Central Supply at the hospital.

Volunteer cleaning people, office workers and other are still being sought, to keep the hospital spic and span and in operation

Use It! Or, Lose It!

People of the Muleshoe area, as well as the surrounding area. have something to be proud of -- community spirit! These same people also have a rare opportunity. It is very seldom that a hospital manages to re-open, once the doors are closed.

On November 13, 1986, Westworld Community Healthcare, Inc., who had operated West Plains Medical Center in Muleshoe for nearly two years, closed and locked the doors of Muleshoe's only hospital, and left town. Residents had been warned many, many times of the impending closure of the hospital, and West Plains Medical Center had seen many years of financial trouble dating back to the late 1960's.

Most people thought that the money to operate the hospital would 'come from somewhere' and many abandoned the local hospital to go out of town for medical care, much the same as many people were going out of town to do the major part of their shopping.

Instead of staying a growing, progressive community, Muleshoe was taking a 'giant' step backward with the closing of the hospital. Despite a small, but pleasant, community, and excellent schools, even the smallest industry was not looking toward Muleshoe to locate.

During the past months, members of the West Plains Medical Center Board of Directors have explored many avenues for financial assistance to once again open the hospital. Only two doctors were left in Muleshoe, both with an admittedly health care load. Even emergencies had to be taken to out-of-town hospitals. Muleshoe has been very fortunate this time to have one of the best, if not the best, emergency medical personnel in the State. the Bailey County Ambulance Service, who proved over and over their training and dedication. With time fast running out in order to re-license the hospital, a quiet "push" started to clean and renovate the abandoned hospital. During the past weekend, the gigantic push was on, and some 75-100 people showed up Saturday morning at the hospital to clean and repair.

Top to bottom, and inside and out, including roof repairs were made with 100 percent donated materials. All the masses of people were volunteers, from all walks of life and ages. They worked day and night, around the clock, to get the hospital ready for inspection and to open. Volunteer nurses were lined up for each shift, 24-hours ready to be sterilized, and the hospital would be ready for a Monday inspection. Every plumbing fixture, every light fixture, each and everything was ready for use in the sparkling clean hospital.

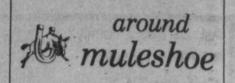

During the inspection on Monday, the state inspectors fully approved the newly cleaned hospital and approve re-licensing. At the time, one emergency patient from electrical burns was 'under observation' in the former ICU and another patient was waiting to be admitted when the license was approved.

Now -- Mulesnoe and area people -- it's strictly up to you -- A lot of dedicated and caring people, volunteering time, money and labor, as well as supplies, and repair materials, have seen to it that you -- and yours -- have a hospital in Muleshoe. Somewhere around 100 people worked ceaselessly to get the hospital ready -- but it can't stay open without you! What it really comes down to -- the bottom line is -- USE IT --OR, LOSE IT!

Real Nomad

the different, the offbeat and unusual to write about.

He has won several prestigious awards during his magazine career, including a National Magazine Award for 'Scarecrow Cops,' a 1982 article concerning the private security guard business in Houston.

Sunday afternoon, Reavis explained to The Journal that he was making 350-400 miles per day, after deciding 'on instinct' to make his trek all over Texas.

"I wanted to see the land that gives us the basis for our culture," he commented, adding, "Texas is very different from the rest of the nation."

Reavis also said the tour had been prompted, or encouraged, from readers who would suggest -- "You should see....." thus his tour was planned.

He keeps a very large log, and each day enters his mileage along with towns, cities and 'wide spots in the road' visited, and where possible, he stops at post offices so his log book can be 'hand cancelled' by the post master, designating that town or city as a stop.

Also, along the way, he looks for story ideas and items to write for his monthly column in the Texas Monthly.

These reports include a lot of the unusual, the offbeat, places discovered and sights seen by Reavis as the crosses, and crisscrosses the state.

Reavis is a lifelong resident of Texas, and co-incidentally grew up at Dumas where his father is owner of the newspaper.

He worked for his father's paper until 1977 when he moved to Austin. In Austin he became a writer for Texas Monthly and joined the Texas Monthly staff in 1981.

Friendly and quiet-spoken, Reavis speaks readily about his interest in Mexico and the Mexican people.

In fact, as soon as his tour is completed, and he writes his last column, in mid-January, he will leave Austin for a one-year hiatus in Mexico, where has signed a contract to write a book about Mexico.

His plans are uncertain after that time, although he may go back to Texas Monthly as he has a "Standing Offer" or he may continue his writing about the Mexican people, this time back in Texas.

After learning that West Plains Medical Center Hospital was re-opening on Monday, October 26, Reavis returned to Muleshoe on Monday, and interviewed Dr. Bruce Purdy istrator for the hospital.

A year ago, another Texas Monthly editor, Peter Elkind, was in Muleshoe, and a story about the hospital was in the January, 1987 edition. Reavis was very interested in the fact that "the people of Muleshoe" were working so hard to open the hospital themselves.

Not often does a writer who exhibits the excellent writing ability of Dick Reavis come along -- it was very nice to have been called by him to welcome him to our city Sunday after-

Texas Monthly editor Gregory Curtis sees a further benefit from Reavis' travels.

"Because Dick will be writing about all the different regions of the state, his observations will help people in Dallas, for instance, understand and feel a kinship with the folks in Laredo and make people in El Paso feel what it's like to live in Nacogdoches. The next few years will be challenging ones for Texas and Texans, and we need to begin pulling together now. The tour is a step in that direction."

Michigan State Meeting Ohio State Saturday

The Spartans of Michigan State took a couple of discouraging beatings early in the season, a 31-8 loss to Notre Dame and a 31-3 pasting from Florida State. However, when the Big Ten race started four weeks ago, Michigan State turned things around and came alive. First they upset Iowa and Iowa City 19-14, then upset Michigan at home 17-11 before burying Northwestern. Ohio State will just be part of the challenge Saturday. The other part, having to play to Buckeyes in Columbus. This is the first time in three years that the Spartans have had to play both Michigan and Ohio State, but inspits of the unfriendly surroundings Saturday, they look to be equal to the task. Michigan State could possibly smell a rose or two after this weekend. With roses in U.C.L.A.'s road to a New Year's date cleared a little with its win over Oregon two weeks ago. But there are thorns in the way, and Arizona State is the first this week. The Sun Devils beat the Bruins last season 16-9 on their way to the Pac-10 title, but Washington has already put a 27-14 damper on the chamions. The game is in Tempe. but we're picking U.C.L.A. to survive.

Auburn hosts Florida in a contest that could pronounce the fate of the loser in the race for the top spot in the Southeast Conference. On the Tigers' record is a tie with Tennessee and they will must still face both Georgia and Alabama. Rough future. Florida lost to L.S.U., and has yet to meet Georgia and Kentucky. In a game that's almost too close to call - Florida.

In the Atlantic Coast Conference, the Deacons of Wake Forest in spite of their upset loss to Maryland, have been the most pleasant surprise. The feature game this week is Wake Forest and Clemson where the champion Tigers will probably be too much for the challenging Deacons.

First Business After Hours Session Proves To Be Successful

Tuesday afternoon, it was standing room only in the Summit Savings meeting room for the first 'Business After Hours' meeting hosted by the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

All the business people were welcomed by Ron Montgomery, president of the CofC.

He said the Chamber was seeking more member involvement, and now, there has been more of the membership working in the Chamber this year than in many years in the past.

Montgomery introduced the newly elected members of the board for the CofC.

New board members for 1988 include Bob Stovall, Merlyn Neel, Ray Day, Max Crittenden, Robert Lepard and Donna Kirk, Jennyslipper representative. Holdover directors are Roy Farley, Elaine Burgess, Ronald Ashford, Todd Ellis and Jeri Wiedebush.

Directors going out of office are Billie Downing, Tom Bond, Jerry Hailey, Margie Merritt, Tim McCormick and George Nieman. Ron Montgomery will be repeating as president, Fred Clements will be vice president and Mike Hahn, secretary.

Outlining plans for the Chamber for 1988, Montgomery briefly discussed a number of upcoming activities and events.

*RV Park - the land has been acquired between the Ben Franklin store and the Mule Putt Miniature Golf Course. There will be 6-8 spaces for travelers, who can stay free overnight.

*A Leadership Program for youth is planned. Toni Eagle. manager of the CofC explained that such a program has proven to be highly successful in other communities. Young people are trained to be future leaders of the community.

*Helping Clubs and organizations set up conventions and workshops in Muleshoe.

*Business After Hours to continue. Membership meetings so members of the CofC can find out what's going on -- and participate.

*Entertainment contracts are pending to bring known name entertainers to Muleshoe again.

*Buckles designed just for Muleshoe are due in shortly. Only 500 have been cast, and this will be an ongoing project.

*Clean-up and beautification will continue. *The July 4th Activities format will be changed. *There will be another membership drive in January.

*There will be a 'surprise' speaker for the CofC banquet in January.

Eddie Morris spoke briefly on the MAC's project adopting a portion of Highway 84 east of Muleshoe, and the revision of the MAC Buck Program, beginning in January.

President Montgomery also introduced members of the Ambassadorettes who were present at Business After Hours, and Billie Downing, current president of the Jennyslippers talked briefly about the Jennyslipper Scholarship program.

Speaker was Irvin St. Clair who said "It is great to be in Muleshoe. It took a special breed of people to tame the Muleshoe area."

He encouraged CofC members to work toward a better Muleshoe.

An advocate of utilizing what is already here, and not seek big industry. He said, "I don't want Muleshoe to be Chicago, I want it to be a small town."

He complimented the people working hard on preparing the hospital to open it, commenting, "We have seen what a group of people can do in a hurry.'

Bob Stovall told the group who were behind the big push to get the hospital ready to open - and CofC board members Todd Ellis and Jeri Wiedebush were given an ovation.

RASE/LOUS:

Case IH added a touch of genius to 3-point hitch operation with electronic "Hitch Command" in new MAGNUM tractors.

Just touch a switch to raise the hitch. Touch again and it lowers. Always to the exact limits you pre-program . . . and at precisely the speed that optimum operating conditions require.

Only new Case IH MAGNUM tractors give you electrohydraulic hitch actuation that saves time and effort at the headlands and with all soil types, implements and field conditions.

Isn't it time you switched to electrohydraulic hitch control? It's standard on the all-new Case IH MAGNUM tractors, 130 to 195 PTO hp. See us for details.

MAGNUM means more.

To My Customers:

I'm retiring and closing my doors after 33 years in business in the Muleshoe Area.

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to my many loyal customers and fellow business associates for their business and friendship through the years. As a token of my appreciation I'm offering the finest values at the greatest savings in my store history,

After closing my retail location I intend to direct my full attention to just relaxing and catching up on things I have not had time to do over the past several years So please come and join me in this time of celebration and we will give you savings that would not be possible if we were going to stay in business.

Muleshoe is my home, and I look forward to continuing my relationship with my many friends in this community.
