From Early Day Spain to the Present to Be Depicted Here

Artesia's Part in Cuarto Centennial April 24-26 Will Re-enact History of State During Four Centuries.

THREE BIG NIGHTS

Varied Program Will Be Given Each Evening, Pageant the Last.

The romance of Old Spain transferred to a New World, the formation of a new race as the Spanish Conquistadores intermingled with the age-old Indians of the Southwest, the colonization of a new country by the white man and the mighty struggles as New Mexico passed through four centuries under as many flags—all of this will be portrayed in Artesia Wednesday through Friday, April 24-26, when the greatest program of folk lore and pageantry ever attempted in Eddy County will be staged in Artesia.

Plans are rounding out for Artesia's participation in the three-day event here, which like the many other pageants and entradas being staged in New Mexico this year, was four centuries in the making.

The gala climax of the observance here of the Coronado Cuarto Centennial will come the last night, when a mighty pageant will be presented under the direction of Mrs. C. E. Robinson. But no less important in the observance of the coming of Coronado 400 years ago, in 1540, will be the programs of the first two nights, which will be presented in the auditorium of Artesia High School. The pageant will be under the floodlights of Morris Field, with more than 1,000 person taking part, both Anglos and Spanish-Americans.

Dances, folk songs and games will hold the attention the first evening, April 24, when the presentation of E. J. Foster, general chairman for that day, is given. Mrs. C. R. Vandagriff has been working hard as chairman of the (Continued on last page, col. 3)

Little Theater in Play Before Goat Ropers on Monday

Circumstances Throw Two Groups Together, but Men Will Act April 26

The Little Theater of Artesia and the Goat Ropers' Club, although quite different in organization and purpose, for a time Monday evening met together, when members of the former group presented a short, one-act play, "Ashes of Roses," which had been rehearsed under the direction of Mrs. C. E. Robinson for club study, before the latter club.

Mrs. Robinson, who also is directing the Coronado Cuarto Centennial pageant here Friday evening, April 26, and is using members of the Goat Ropers' Club for soldiers, gave them instructions as to what was expected of them in the pageant.

Formal Opening Of Owl Drug Is This Week End

Announcement is made today that the Owl Drug Company store, which opened March 21, will have its grand opening Friday and Saturday, with which will be a sale of Walgreen products, identifying it with nearly 2,000 other independently-owned Walgreen drug store agencies, which handle the same merchandise as the 500 Walgreen Stores.

M. S. Hamilton, owner of the store, in commenting on the connection with the Walgreen Company, said that besides the great value of the services the firm will receive through its contract as an agency, the people of the community will have access to the tremendous number of Walgreen drug products available. There are more than 1,300 such products, covering a wide range in the drug and cosmetics fields, he said.

Since coming to Artesia Hamilton has expressed great confidence in the future of Artesia and the probability of its continued growth. Hamilton also owns the Roswell Drug Company store in Roswell.

The Artesia store is located in the C. C. Smith building, which was remodeled and "had its face lifted" for occupancy by Hamilton.

Attention to the two-day opening sale is called elsewhere in this issue in the advertising columns.

Eyes On Area As Sikes Well Goes Over Rig

Quiet After Dry Holes, Interest at High Lone-some Picks Up Again—Stout Is Drilling in Pay There.

Attention of oil men was again directed yesterday to the High Lonesome area twenty miles east and ten miles north of Artesia, where one well threw oil 150 feet into the air and another was drilling in pay sand, after the locality apparently had proven of little value except for the Nolan discovery well, which was hailed with considerable enthusiasm.

When the Cook No. 1 of J. H. Sikes in NE NW section 20-16-29 was shot Tuesday evening with seventy quarts of nitro, it stood above the derrick for several minutes and then made a second head. About 1,300 feet of oil is standing in the hole while it is being swabbed and at times is making enough gas to flow by agitation, it was reported.

While the Sikes well is being prepared to put on production a quarter mile west and a location south of the Nolan well, the Iles No. 1 of Stout-Waddell Drilling Company a quarter mile north of the Sikes well, in NE SW section 17-16-29, is drilling ahead in pay sand.

That well hit the pay eleven feet higher than the Sikes well, it being found at 1,762 feet. Drilling yesterday had gone fifteen feet into the pay and showed a bleeding core and gas. A rotary rig is being used.

No other wells are drilling in the High Lonesome area, where activities ceased after several dry holes were encountered. Interest in the area had been high when the Nolan discovery well came in, but the dry holes discouraged further development. The dry holes were to the east, south and northeast. But it looks today as though the area will get "hot" to the west and north of the Nolan well.

Operations in Eddy County were marked during the last week by the completion of three wells, all producers, and the location of six wells. During the same period two new wells were located in Lea County.

Completions in Eddy County: Continental, State 1-N, NE SW 2-18-29; total depth 2,552 feet; flowed 310 barrels of oil per day. R. W. Fair, Brainard 7, NE SE 10-18-29; total depth 2,635 feet; flowed 15 barrels of oil per hour. Continental & Yates, Brainard (Continued on supplement)

Scout Executives Here Planning for The "Camp-o-Ral"

C. K. Eisler of Hobbs, field executive of the Boy Scouts of America, who is being transferred to Clovis, and Sam Henry, who is to take his place at Hobbs, were in Artesia Wednesday making preliminary plans for the Scout "Camp-o-Ral" to be held here April 26-28.

Eisler will be in charge of the physical arrangements for the camp and Henry will have charge of the program and activities. Both will return here April 24 to complete arrangements for taking care of the hundreds of Boy and Sea Scouts representing troops and ships in the Eastern New Mexico area council.

Henry, who formerly was field executive out of El Paso, comes to Hobbs from Lubbock, Tex., where he has been in the insurance business the last year. Eisler will replace M. G. King at Clovis. King is being transferred to Houston, Tex.

Killed in Jump From Flaming Truck at Loco

Walter Saylor, 65, Dies Last Thursday as Cab of Son's Tank Burns—Funeral Services Held Here Saturday.

Funeral services for Walter M. Saylor, 65, who was fatally injured about 2:20 o'clock last Thursday afternoon when he jumped from a flaming oil truck south of the Loco Hills oil field, were from McClay Chapel at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon by the Rev. S. M. Morgan, pastor of the Baptist Church. Burial was in Woodbine Cemetery.

Mr. Saylor and his son, A. C. Saylor, owner and driver of the truck, were about a mile south of the oil field when the entire cab suddenly burst into flames. The younger Mr. Saylor jumped and assisted his father from the cab. The clothing of both was in flames, which the son extinguished. His father was unconscious or dead from a head injury sustained as he struck the ground, when the son reached him.

A. C. Saylor tried to attract the attention of his sister, Mrs. Walter Dodson, and others at an oil field store to the north, but an automobile came along before they saw his signals.

The flaming truck, which ran about a quarter mile before it stopped, was seen by Mrs. Dodson and the others, who realized something was wrong, but did not immediately locate her father and brother.

The younger Mr. Saylor was transferring oil from a pit to a tank for the Continental Oil Company and his father was riding with him.

It was damaged to the extent of about $450. The casings and (Continued on last page, col. 4)

State Commission Group Considering Tank Percentages

Presented by Independents, It Is Taken Under Advise-ment

The state corporation commission has taken under advisement a petition of a group of independent New Mexico oil producers, well represented from Artesia, after hearing arguments on the petition seeking revision of a commission ruling permitting pipeline companies to deduct 2 per cent of transported petroleum.

The commission heard testimony at Santa Fe Tuesday only from witnesses called by the petitioners after attorneys for the Texas-New Mexico Pipeline Company and the Shell Pipeline Corporation withdrew previous protests on grounds their business was solely interstate and outside the commission's jurisdiction.

Lieut.-Gov. James Murray, president of the Me-Tex Supply Company, testified that the pipeline's 2 per cent deduction cost New Mexico oil producers about $520,000 during 1939 and resulted in a loss of about $30,000 to the state as a royalty holder.

Under the present method used by pipeline companies to measure New Mexico oil, two barrels out of every 100 are deducted.

"In other words," said Murray, "if a purchaser buys 100 barrels of oil, I have to ship 102 barrels." Asked where the two barrels went, the lieutenant governor said: "They go into the pipeline, but nobody knows what the hell happens to them."

Melvin Neal, attorney for the independent producers, told the commission the 2 per cent deduction was initiated in the days when pipeline service was poor and through faulty pipe connections and inexperience, the transporters suffered a loss. There was no such loss under present pipeline operations, he said.

Attorney General Filo Sedillo interrupted the hearing to express the opinion that regardless of the corporation commission's present ruling, the state both as a tax collector and a royalty holder should be paid on a flat 100 per cent basis.

"I'm going to take what steps are necessary," he said, "to see that, in the future, the state receives its full share of revenue from the oil produced. If the commission revises its ruling from a 98 per cent basis, of course any action on my part will be unnecessary."

Mrs. Gill, 40, Dies At Memorial from Abscess on Liver

Mrs. O. L. Gill, 40, died at 2:20 o'clock last Thursday afternoon at Artesia Memorial Hospital of an abscess on the liver. She was a patient seven days.

Funeral services were from McClay Chapel at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon by the Rev. Lee P. Phillips, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene. Burial was in Woodbine Cemetery.

Don't Confuse the Census Taker With Peddler or Salesman

Some of the census takers in this district have found slight difficulty in gaining entrance in some instances, as housewives have thought them salesmen.

Frank McCarthy of Roswell, assistant district superintendent of the census, sent word to The Advocate, asking that housewives and others be asked to realize the 1940 census is being taken and that the man at the door may not be a brush salesman or some other salesman, but is the census enumerator.

For the most part, the census takers are being met courteously and having no difficulties, but some cases of mistaken identity have been reported. The census enumerator has credentials, so anyone not being sure of the identity of a man or woman seeking entrance may be asked for them. That is why they carry credentials.

Will Build New Freight Depot On SF Station

Tentative Plans Are to Use Present Passenger Office for Dual Purpose—Auditor Compliments Men on Records.

Tentative plans for replacing the Santa Fe freight office and warehouse, which burned early last Thursday morning, are that the present passenger station will be made over into a combination passenger and freight station and that a new warehouse will be built on to the building to the north.

J. A. Noble, division engineer, who was here Tuesday morning conferring with C. O. Brown, local Santa Fe agent, said it is probable that method of procedure will be taken.

Many of the stations of the Santa Fe have been built that way in recent years and there is a definite trend in that direction.

The freight department has been operating in the men's end of the passenger station since last Thursday morning, when Brown moved in temporary furniture and went to work even before all of the embers of the destroyed freight office and warehouse had burned out.

Box cars are being used north of the station for a temporary warehouse.

Brown and Jack Spratt, chief clerk and cashier, were more than pleased with the findings of F. J. Brown of Albuquerque, traveling auditor, who rushed here after the fire, arrived Thursday noon, completed his work in between 2 and 3 hours, found everything in the safe in order and left Friday noon.

His task was lessened because he had only the first four days' business of April to check, but he found that every record had been (Continued on last page, col. 2)

School Maintenance Budget Is $3,000 Short of Amount Asked

C. B. Strebeck Is Speaker at Rotary Meeting

C. B. Strebeck, Artesia High School boy, addressed the Rotary Club at the weekly meeting Tuesday noon on "How the Constitution Protects Rights of Individuals," giving a well-prepared speech and delivering it splendidly.

The address was the one the youth prepared to give in a district declamatory contest at Roswell several weeks ago, sponsored by the American Legion, but which he was prevented from doing because of a mix-up in the time of the contest.

He reviewed the Bill of Rights of the United States Constitution, explaining each amendment.

It was announced at the meeting that The Rotarian, international publication of Rotary Clubs, will have two photographers at the annual district conference at Albuquerque Sunday through Tuesday and that pictures will be taken for a future issue of the magazine.

The district has been chosen as having ideal conferences and so the magazine decided to devote about three pages of pictures to the meeting.

D. I. Clowe, secretary of the local club, will appear on the speaking program there, presenting "What Can a Rotary Club Do in Vocational Service?"

Besides Clowe, the conference will be attended by C. D. Marshall, retiring president, and Neil Watson, president-elect, as delegates and Howard Williams and possibly others.

Last Rites for T. E. Hinshaw Held on Sunday

Victim of Car Accident Dies Last Thursday Night, 75—Members of I.O.O.F. in Charge of Services.

T. E. Hinshaw, 75, prominent Artesia real estate man and a pioneer of the Artesia locality, died at 10 o'clock last Thursday evening in Artesia Memorial Hospital of injuries sustained Tuesday, March 26, when the automobile of he and his wife, Dr. Lura L. Hinshaw, was wrecked on the Carlsbad highway south of here.

He sustained a fractured pelvis bone and other injuries.

The accident happened the afternoon of March 26 as Mr. and Dr. Hinshaw were returning from Carlsbad. The automobile skidded during a shower and went out of control and was wrecked. Mr. Hinshaw, who was thrown clear of the car, was picked up by Oscar Pearson and rushed to the hospital here.

Dr. Hinshaw sustained minor injuries, which are keeping her confined to her home. However, she was taken by automobile to Woodbine Cemetery Sunday afternoon, where Mr. Hinshaw was buried with last rites by members of the I.O.O.F., of which he had been an active member probably forty years or more.

Funeral services, also in charge of the Oddfellows, were from McClay Chapel at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. There Dr. Ed Stone read a paper written by Mr. Hinshaw a number of years ago, with the request that it be read at his funeral.

Funeral services were eight members of the lodge, E. A. Hannah, J. W. Cave, Dr. Ed Stone, Jack Hastie, D. E. Buckles, Abe Connor, Frank Thomas and L. A. Rideout.

Surviving Mr. Hinshaw are his widow; two sisters, Mrs. Fannie A. Terpening, Artesia, and Mrs. Lucy Brunton, Ordway, Colo., and a stepdaughter, Katherine Lee, Mrs. Charles R. Smith of Hollywood Calif., a daughter of Dr. Hinshaw by a former marriage, who arrived here Sunday after the accident and is still visiting in her mother's home. Mrs. Brunton also arrived a few days after the accident. She plans to leave Friday for her home.

County Commission Lops Off That Amount, but Allows $6,432 Increase in Annual Meeting at Carlsbad.

WANTED TEACHERS

Was Hoped to Provide for Increases in Enrollment in Artesia.

Although an increase of $6,432 was made in the maintenance budget for the Artesia public schools at the annual school budget hearing in Carlsbad yesterday, believed the minimum on which the schools could be properly run, the total of $68,672 allowed fell short by about $3,000 from the figure asked. On the other hand, the direct charge part of the budget was increased from the $17,197 of last year to $20,000.

However, representatives of the Artesia schools pointed out, the maintenance budget of $71,000 asked for was held to be necessary to take care of additional teachers and other increases because of greater enrollment and additional buildings.

W. E. Kerr, superintendent; R. L. Paris, president of the board of education; Charles Morgan, vice president, and C. J. Dexter, member, represented the Artesia schools.

The hearing was before the Eddy County budget commission, which consists of R. H. Grissom, state educational budget auditor; H. G. Watson of Artesia and Harold Miller of Carlsbad.

Kerr said the action of the county budget commission is not final, but that the case of the Artesia schools, as well as the budget cases of other schools in Eddy County which were acted on Wednesday, will be reviewed by the state tax commission next August. However, he said, it is not likely the additional allowances will be made.

He said the principal source of (Continued on page 7, col. 3)

Stout Moderator Of Presbytery in Valley Next Year

Local Pastor Elected at Annual Meeting Here This Week

The Rev. Henry S. Stout, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Artesia, was elected moderator Monday evening at the annual Presbytery and Presbyterial of the Pecos Valley at the church here, to succeed the Rev. George C. Crockett of Alamogordo, retiring moderator.

The session was the first of a two-day meeting at which the annual business was transacted. The Rev. Denton R. Woods of Hobbs was elected temporary clerk.

The meeting was attended by representatives of all the churches in the Pecos Valley Presbytery, which includes the territory east and south to the Texas line, respectively, from Alamogordo and (Continued on last page, col. 2)

POSTAL RECEIPTS TAKE SKYROCKET

Another evidence of the continued growth of Artesia is shown by the receipts at the postoffice as compared with a year ago.

Jesse L. Truett, postmaster, said receipts for the first ten days of April equaled total receipts for April, 1939.

A steady increase in receipts has been shown over the last few years, but the increase for the first ten days of April over the entire month a year ago was phenomenal.

Truett said, however, it should not be expected that the rate for the short period is an absolute indicator.

When the Fire Siren Blows at Noon Saturday Goodwill Subscription Campaign Will Be Over

When the fire siren blows at 12 o'clock noon Saturday, The Advocate's big Goodwill Subscription Campaign will be closed!

Only votes which have been turned in by that moment, or are in the possession of contestants or others who are in The Advocate office, awaiting their turn to check in, will be counted.

In other words, candidates in the drive have only a few remaining hours to secure the subscriptions that may win one of the grand prizes. Several of the candidates are enough alike in votes earned to date that the final outcome of the campaign will remain a mystery until after the closing gun is fired.

The only thing that can determine the eventual winner of the campaign is the amount of business secured from now until the close of the drive. At present, it appears probable there will not be more than a few subscriptions difference between the various candidates at close of the campaign.

Each of the candidates has reported she has secured many "promises" of subscriptions before the close of the campaign. Others have promised, "I'll help you with a subscription if you need it." Candidates take these promises in good faith and are depending on them to help win a fine prize.

In a race as closely run as this one, each candidate needs every bit of support that she can get. All are depending on these promises to give them the credits they need to win. Failure of even one of these promises to materialize may cause the eventual outcome of the campaign to be greatly altered.

If you have indicated that you would help some candidate before the close, don't let your friend down!

Candidates often receive so many of these last minute promises that it is impossible for them to make all the necessary calls during the last few days of the campaign.

If you promised some candidate a subscription, you can do her a great service by leaving your subscription at The Advocate office. The candidate will receive the same credit as though your subscription was turned to her and reported to the office by the candidate. Mailed subscriptions will receive the same consideration if they are received before the closing hour of the campaign.

The Advocate has chosen three prominent local men to act as judges, the Rev. Henry Stout, L. B. Feather and Boone Barnett. They will take over the counting of the votes at approximately 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon and the final returns for the campaign will probably be available by 6 o'clock.

Returns will not likely be available before that time, so interested parties are asked to refrain from calling The Advocate before that hour. All details will be published in next week's issue of The Advocate.

Just by way of precaution, should the siren fail to blow at 12 o'clock noon Saturday for any reason, the time will be checked with Western Union. If it is noon or after, Western Union time, the campaign will be declared closed immediately.

WHAT'S WHAT —in— NEW MEXICO

News Briefs of the "Sunshine State," Gleaned from Many Sources

State Registration Director Earl Hennigan praised operation of the new permanent registration in the recent municipal elections, but expressed belief that a purging provision might well be inserted in the law by the next legislature. The act now provides for no closing of registration lists before municipal voting, although it does close them 30 days before general and primary elections. "It seems that closing of the books 10 or 15 days before the city elections would be advisable," said Hennigan.

Quarterly payments of the federal income tax in New Mexico last month totalled $345,000, a gain of 61 per cent over the $213,800 from quarterly collections in March, 1939. Payments by persons remitting their entire tax at once were $238,100 last month, or only $36,100 more than in March, 1939. Revenue Collector S. P. Vidal interpreted the large gain in quarterly payments as indicating a sizeable increase in the number of large incomes in New Mexico. He pointed out that persons making lump payment usually are in the smaller income classifications, while quarterly payments are usually the choice of persons with bigger incomes.

The week of April 14-21 was designated "Parent-Teacher Week" in New Mexico in a proclamation by Governor Miles to "accord proper tribute to the lasting achievements of the Parent-Teacher Associations."

March state sales tax collections were $312,517, against $290,405 in March, 1939, the State Revenue Bureau reported. State severance tax receipts were $58,736, compared with $47,925 in March a year ago.

Three thousand pieces of New Mexico literature have been mailed to prospective delegates to the 195th annual convention of the Western Association of State Highway Officials, it was announced. About 300 visitors are expected for the meeting April 17-20 in Santa Fe.

Only about 12,000 brand-owners have applied for re-recording of brands, though the time is growing short, Sam McCue, secretary of the New Mexico Cattle Sanitary Board, said last week. "We expected fully 22,000 brands would be re-recorded, with the possibility the number would reach 30,000," said McCue. The re-recording began Jan. 8 and must be completed in July. It was attempted for the protection of cattle owners and elimination of inactive brands. McCue asked that owners who have not sent in applications do so at once.

The current flood of requests for New Mexico literature has put a heavy strain on the state Tourist Bureau's postage fund. Expecting a big year, the bureau budgeted $4,000 for postage—twice as much as for 1939—but already nearly half that amount has been used in mailing some 45,000 envelopes filled with literature. "We'll have to get more postage money somewhere," said Director Joseph Bursey. "The mailing peak is still to come."

March gasoline tax collections of $360,069 declined from the record February receipts of $375,666, but were well up from the $306,522 received from that source in March, 1939, the bureau of revenue reported. Liquor excise stamps realized $51,927 last month, against $52,204 in February and $52,083 in March, 1939.

State registrars of vital statistics are meeting this week in Washington to discuss coordination of the census with state vital statistics agencies. Miss Billie Tober, New Mexico registrar, is attending.

New corporations chartered by the corporation last week included the Sherman Memorial Community Church, Smith, Eddy County; Thomas and Flint, Artesia mining-drilling company; the Willett Mining Company of Organ.

More than 200 men have been dropped from Santa Fe WPA projects, as the capital took its share of the 1,825-man reduction in New Mexico's WPA quota. The announcement came from State WPA Administrator J. J. Connelly, who announced that the state's April relief work quota had been dropped to 12,275 from the March figure of 14,000. Connelly said the state-wide employment reduction would be distributed as equitably as possible.

Seven persons were killed in New Mexico highway accidents in March, the lowest monthly toll

Coronado Gets "Come Hither Look"

What's this! Can that be Coronado in the mirage? Sure enough, it is. And the lady is Carmen, who, according to the story of the famous opera, now being produced at Eastern New Mexico College in Portales, lived about 300 years after the great Spanish explorer of New Mexico. Anyway, it seems that Carmen (Mildred Ruth Springer, Portales soprano and co-ed beauty at the college) was out for a walk the other day near Portales and saw Coronado traipsing across the plains and gave him that "come hither look." "Love at first sight," she says. "Same here, amigo," explains Coronado. Miss Springer, 18, blonde, and 5 feet 3 inches tall, will sing Carmen when the opera is produced April 18 and 19.

since records first were kept in 1935. State Safety Engineer W. R. Eccles credited road improvements, additional road signs "and splendid cooperation by the state police" with contributing to the reduced toll. The state's highest monthly toll since 1935 was 27 deaths in September, 1937. The previous low mark was eight deaths in May, 1938.

Governor Miles has reappointed W. A. Cloman of Carlsbad as a member of the state board of pharmacy for a term ending April 1, 1945. Cloman's previous term expired last week.

Mrs. Frances Eagle, mother of Governor Miles, will be honored at the annual Mother's Day services of El Rito Normal School, Santa Fe, it was announced. The school has chosen her for the occasion as "the mother to represent all mothers."

Miss Helene Dunn of Taos, comely stenographer in the Bureau of Revenue at Santa Fe, is to be the model for a cover on The Highway Traveler.

The State Tourist Bureau has received a request for New Mexico literature from a war-bound Londoner, who wishes "to live again the very happy hours I spent in your state." "Unfortunately," said the writer, "while this war lasts, we English people cannot travel abroad." The Englishman said he visited New Mexico two years ago and planned to return as soon as European conditions permitted.

It's No. 20 in the Enrique Gonzales home at Santa Fe. Mrs. Gonzales, 42, gave birth to a 10-lb. 3-ounce girl which she told the attending physician was her twentieth. The family lives outside of Santa Fe.

President Roosevelt has approved WPA allotments of $52,170 for road work in the Santa Fe National Forest, and $26,314 for construction of a grade school in Santa Fe, Rep. J. J. Dempsey telegraphed.

Three carloads of mohair from New Mexico and Arizona were shipped from Lordsburg, N. Mex., to Boston by Mrs. Zola Claridge, representing Boston mohair houses. The shipment, totalling 122,122 pounds, brought 41 cents a pound for goat hair and 51 cents for kid. She said another 100,000 pounds would be shipped from Roswell to Boston.

Sodium Refinery Is Contemplated In Eddy County

Newest contemplated industry in Eddy County is a sodium refinery to be located on the George Cleveland ranch near Malaga by New Mexico Chemicals, Inc.

Planned subsidiary plants are to produce high grade bond paper and commercial fertilizers. Eddy County, rich in its natural resources, already is noted for its oil fields and the potash mines, the greatest in North America. These, added to the Carlsbad Caverns, have made the county famous. And now the sodium industry and the subsidiary plants will help the county further.

Tom W. Bassett of the company said the refinery will employ approximately 300 men. Construction of the plant is to begin within the next 6 or 8 weeks, he said. A number of houses for the employees will be built near the refinery.

"WREN"-TING A HOUSE

Jenny and Johnny House Wren are so domestic that they will build nests almost anywhere, in tin cans, flower pots, man-made houses, and in places that only a wren would ever think suitable for housekeeping. Jenny is something of a shrew, so scientists tell us, but Johnny, like most husbands, cheerily sings and goes about his business. Sometimes, when life gets just too tough, Johnny leaves home and takes another wife or spends the rest of the summer leading a care-free life of single blessedness. The National Wildlife Federation has given this pair a brand new bungalow for their appearance on one of the 1940 Wildlife Poster Stamps.

Albatrosses Visit Pecos Valley? May Have Been Crane

Fifteen large white birds, north-bound, encountered strong headwinds over the Pecos Valley last Thursday and made an emergency landing on Roswell's new airport. City Engineer Lea Rowland didn't know, but from his descriptions, amateur ornithologists surmised that maybe the birds were a species of albatross, a long way from their Pacific home.

They said a few of the birds had been seen there in recent years and that one was identified positively as an albatross. It is possible, however, the birds were some of the crane which wintered by the thousands on Seven Rivers, some of which started northward last week.

Gross receipts from the state gasoline tax for March totalled $360,069.14, compared with $306,522.20 for the same month last year, the Revenue Bureau announced. The March figures, however, showed a decline from the record February receipts of $375,666.64.

"Why do all those trees bend over so far?" "You'd bend over too if you were as full of green apples as they are."

James E. West has served as chief executive of the Boy Scouts of America since the early days of the movement's organization.

A total of 27,232 Boy Scouts represented 536 councils at the national jamboree held in Washington, D. C., in 1937.

Two-thirds of the entering classes at the United States military and naval academies are composed of former Boy Scouts.

Students to Get Better Insight in Life Requirements

In order that students may gain a better insight into vocational business and professional requirements for life work, the commercial department of Artesia High School this year is initiating a program which calls for the cooperation of the business and professional people of the community in assisting students who are completing their senior year's work.

Eleven students of the course in business science have expressed a desire for employment in business concerns in town for part time employment in order that they may learn as much as they can about the type of work which they believe they would like to pursue.

The heads of business concerns are being called upon to cooperate with the school in placing these young people for a period of one month on a part-time basis. It is not expected that various business concerns will profit any by taking these boys and girls into their employ for a month, but it is purely a matter of their rendering a service to these young people that will perhaps aid them in making a vocational choice and giving them a better appreciation of the kind of services which their business renders the public. W. E. Kerr, superintendent, said. Advocate Want Ads Get Results

Little Known Facts and Sidelights on Oil Industry

Chemical Pioneer Prospectors—

Chemists have joined the search for oil and gas. They are applying micro-chemical methods to the pioneer custom of finding oil deposits by surface seepages. Unlike the pioneer prospectors, who located only shallow wells by surface seepages and sometimes not even those, modern chemical prospectors hope to develop a method of seepage analysis which will be an accurate guide to underlying oil deposits in any field and will locate wells at any depth.

At present they are concerned chiefly with the analysis of surface soils or the gases contained in them for minute amounts of various hydrocarbons and other compounds which indicate the presence of underlying petroleum deposits. Soil samples from the surface or a few feet below are taken to the laboratory. There light hydrocarbon components are driven off by vacuum distillation. Such heavy components as waxes are extracted in various ways and analyzed. The presence of such divergent gases as hydrogen, ethane, ethylene, and propane is determined. Liquid hydrocarbons from surface soils, and even hydrocarbon or partly-hydrocarbon soil waxes, are being used as possible indications of underlying oil deposits.

Recently, a highly sensitive device known as the "mass-spectrograph" used only in the physics research laboratory for "weighing" infinitesimal atoms, has been put to work. It is used as a modern divining rod, separating and identifying the minute amounts of surface gases which have escaped laboratory analysis.

With the "atom-weigher," it is possible to run a qualitative and quantitative analysis on an unknown mixture of hydrocarbon gases smaller in volume than the head of a pin. Results of the analysis may be obtained in ten minutes or less, scientists say.

Another device, newly-developed to aid discovery of new production horizons in already-developed fields, contains a very sensitive electric eye which responds to emissions of Gamma rays from geological structures. Lowered to the bottom of the well and raised slowly, the "eye" registers variations in the Gamma rays given off by each strata which are recorded automatically at the surface.

London Bus Trailer—

London traffic is taking on a new and different aspect with the revival of the gas generator which is being used in lieu of the motor fuel tank on many British vehicles.

War-time restrictions on the use of gasoline have revived this fuel-manufacturing device with which engineers have experimented for years. One London omnibus hauls its gas generator as a trailer. Many cars of average horsepower have been equipped with generators, including trucks and tractors.

A fuel of high calorific value is produced in the generator. This gas is cooled by air going to the generator, to which steam is supplied to keep the temperature below the ash-fusion point. On the way to the engine the gas passes through a dust-removing cleanser. Total operating costs for a 1½-ton vehicle making a weekly round of 600 miles amounts to around $40.

The Big Smoke Ship—

Biggest day of the year for the Eskimos comes on a frigid morning in July when they scan the blizzard-swept shoreline for "the big smoke ship" which opens navigation from "the outside."

For 40 long years, commencing back in '86, the arrival of the "Bear" has been a regular spring-time event. Since 1926, however, a motorship has replaced the stout little three-masted vessel and the Eskimos can't understand the absence of smoke on the distant horizon.

Even if the old friend which brought everything from food to phonograph needles should reappear, they would find it hard to recognize her. She's gone modern with a 600-horsepower diesel engine and she's stepping out to the Antarctic on another Byrd expedition to the South Polar region. Growing need for a dependable power source when working through the ice and the saving of valuable space due to a far less bulky fuel supply, even though operating thousands of miles from the nearest base, made the choice of diesel power advisable for one of the world's oldest and most famous ships.

During her four decades of service on the San Francisco-Northern route she met high adventure, often escaped being wrecked completely, carried tons of letters bearing messages of hope and comfort, brought meat, medicine and even marriage certificates to America's loneliest outposts. It was the "Bear" that carried the reindeer from Siberia to Alaska, which became the nucleus of today's vast Alaskan reindeer herds. From this trip came the thrilling rescue of 265 men from eight wrecked whalers who were marooned and close to starvation in the ice off Point Barrow.

Good reports are expected from the "Bear" on her new trip. Better reports than ever most likely, due to a high degree of maneuverability, more room for carrying supplies, and a far greater cruising range—now that she's a motorship.

Cottonwood Items

(Ora Buck)

A few farmers in this vicinity have planted their cotton.

Noah Buck of here was a business visitor in Carlsbad last Thursday.

Mrs. Ruth Bates and Dorothy Nihart of Lake Arthur were in Roswell last Thursday.

Mrs. Jesse I. Funk of this community is taking the census on Cottonwood.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Buck and Mrs. Charlie Buck were among those from here in Roswell last Thursday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Carson and daughter, Martha Jo, of Roswell, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Parnell and family.

Two road graders were in the Cottonwood community the first of the week grading the roads after the rain and snow that fell Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Crook, Mrs. Dora Russell and Mrs. R. Clark, all of Lake Arthur, were business visitors in Hagerman and Roswell one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Marley Mack and children of Carlsbad and his mother, Mrs. Jim Elliott, and daughter, Jewell, of here left the first of this week for Arizona. They planned to be gone about ten days.

A regular meeting of the Cottonwood Woman's Club was held at the Cottonwood School gym last Thursday. It was an all-day meeting, with a covered dish luncheon at noon. An interesting demonstration on box furniture, displaying a vegetable bin, sewing cabinet, shoe rack and other articles, was given by Miss Vernita Conley, county home demonstration agent. About fifteen members were present.

State to Have One Of Largest Lettings For Oil Highways

One of the largest state road oil lettings in New Mexico's history is to be held in Santa Fe April 14, when the Highway Department will open bids on approximately half of the state's maintenance road oil needs for the calendar year 1940.

State Highway Engineer Burton Dwyre said the department would receive bids on an estimated 180 carloads of oil and asphalt, expected to cost between $75,000 and $90,000.

It has been the department's custom in the past to buy maintenance road oil for each highway job, purchasing it in from one to ten-barrel lots delivered to the nearest railroad siding to the project.

Dwyre said the department expected to make a "considerable" saving by purchasing half a year's supply at one time, although he declined to name an estimated figure.

The local vocational agriculture boys attended the state vocational judging contest at State College last week. They entered contests in livestock judging, dairy judging, poultry judging, crops judging, farm shop skills, meat cuts, identification and farm economics. The boys placed in the upper half of all events, which is a good showing for boys who take time out of their regular class work instead of spending all their time in preparation for judging contests.

The boys who made the trip were Dennis Jenkins, Bob Whitte, C. W. Boyce, Quentin Rogers, Roy Ackerman and Billy McClure, and were accompanied by R. O. Marshall, instructor.

The boys all agreed that their trip was highly worthwhile and they look forward to making more such trips. They are at present making tentative plans for a summer tour of large farms and ranches in West Texas.

University Is Air Conditioning Most Ancient Dwelling

In a hunt for prehistoric man the University of New Mexico is air conditioning North America's most ancient dwelling—a cave where man lived possibly 35,000 years ago.

The institution hasn't any idea of fusing up the place for visitors, even though it did attain considerable fame last spring when finds there pushed back the record of human occupation in America 10,000 years or more.

The modernization is necessary to protect the scientists' lungs during work this summer from dust that has gathered in the water-formed cavern in the eons since the last prehistoric housekeepers left.

So five sure-footed archaeology students lugged hoses and motors and other equipment up the 450-foot high cliff in the Sandia Mountains to prepare for resumption of the hunt for Sandia man—an old fellow who disappeared 20,000 or more years ago.

Alumni of Four-H Plan Coop House At State College

To Help Club Members Get Higher Education at Cruces

Plans for a cooperative boarding and rooming house for 4-H Club boys is the chief project for next year of the 4-H Alumni Association of New Mexico State College. This association is composed of former 4-H Club members from different counties in the state. It is the desire of the organization to sponsor this project for former 4-H Club boys whose parents can better afford to supply food products, such as meats, canned fruits and vegetables and the like to help pay for board and room for the boy, than furnish the amount of cash necessary for these expenses. The building will also be used as a center of activities, especially for those 4-H Club members just entering college, thereby helping to serve as a means of adjustment and orientation for college freshmen. The only cash outlay necessary will be the cost of a house mother and cook and for a few staples such as flour, sugar and coffee. Each boy will be assessed a small amount to cover these expenses. There are at present more than 200 former 4-H Club members from practically every county in the state now enrolled at State College. All former club members who have good scholastic and 4-H records will be allowed the privileges of this cooperative house.

At a recent meeting of the Alumni Association, Travis Hughes, a senior and former 4-H Club member of Quay County, was elected president; Peggy Lund, a former club member of Chaves County, vice president, and Florine Kuehn, also a former club member of Quay County, secretary-treasurer. Florine and Richard Birchell, former club members of Eddy County, will spend some time planning for the cooperative house.

One of the first activities of the Association for next year will be the chuck wagon supper and barn dance during the twenty-first state annual 4-H Club Encampment, to be held Aug. 19-24. Also the association will again publish the 4-H yearbook, "Trebol."

Fletcher Hornbaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hornbaker, who is a member of the public school faculty in Portales, spent the week end here with his parents.

Mrs. E. T. Jernigan and daughter, Mrs. Allen Gibson, of Hobbs visited friends here Saturday and saw "Gone With The Wind," which is showing here. The Jernigan family are former residents of Artesia.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

YOU can figure it out for yourself from what you see in daily traffic and what you hear when the talk turns to automobiles.

Buick's pacing the pack. Has been for several years.

It called this year's style turn a year ago. It set current performance standards in '38 with its Dynaflash engine. It still leads the crowd for riding qualities with its BuicOil

Springing, now in its third year. So where's a more logical place to look for next year's "big news" than in this year's big and roomy Buick?

It may be smoother engines. Buick is the only car that now balances power plants after assembly.

Coil springs all around may come. Buick's never need lubrication, are practically indestructible, and even cut down skid-risks.

Maybe it'll be heavier frames — Buick has the heaviest of any car of its price. Or maybe many of the "extra touches" Buick so freely applies — safety-latches on rear doors and Two-Way Direction Signals with automatic cut-off.

You get all of these things now in Buick.

Get them with the plus of Buick quality of materials and workmanship — get them at a price that suggests a six instead of an eight.

So it's easy to start enjoying future "new features" right now.

Just go try a Buick. Look it over, inside and out. And get the prices.

Even if you've been buying in the lowest-price field you'll find it takes less than you think to step up to a Buick. Prices begin at $895* delivered at Flint, Mich.; transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories — extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

You get a "Good Deal" Two Ways from Your Buick Dealer

A good "deal" when it comes to old-car allowances — and a whole lot of automobile in your new Buick. See your dealer and find out for yourself.

revenue for the maintenance budget is the sales tax, of which Eddy County contributes to the state far more than its share.

In asking for and receiving a budget allowance of $20,000 for the direct charge part, it was expected to provide for additional schoolrooms here.

The sinking fund, which is fixed according to bonds outstanding and their maturity dates and interest, and which must be put through, was budgeted in the amount of $9,000 for both sinking and interest.

It was brought out at the hearing that the operating cost per capita in the Artesia schools is $81 estimated on average daily attendance, the same as Carlsbad, which is the lowest figure in the state.

Increases in budgets were asked by Artesia and Carlsbad, the two places where the population is growing. The budget for Hope was left about the same as for the last year, and some rural budgets were decreased.

Students Compete On Friday for NMU Self Help Standing

More than 1,600 students in fifty-nine New Mexico high schools competed Friday in a state-wide test of academic achievement sponsored by the University of New Mexico.

To fifty of the 100 top-ranking students in the tests will be offered an opportunity to attend the university next year with a guarantee of jobs to earn their entire expenses for the freshman year.

Need of financial assistance must be shown as an additional qualification to become eligible for the award.

Now in its sixth year, the testing program had 400 more participants than ever before, Dr. Philip H. Dubois, director of the Bureau of tests and records at the university, estimated.

About 1,200 took the tests last year.

Dr. Dubois described the program as aimed to help able and ambitious high school seniors who might not otherwise be able to continue their education, and to provide high schools in certain instances with records to compare their students with comparable groups through the rest of the state.

Tests include English, social science, mathematics, science, reading and language.

"I Promise to Pay"

Did you ever consider the meaning of a promise to pay? Everything that a man is stands behind that promise. His character, reputation, position, possessions, everything backs up his word. Should he fail to keep his promise, as he made it, he takes away something that is vital to his well being and standing among men. It is evident and true that a man is only as good as his word.

Credit is the substance of a promise. It is extended and based upon the proposition that a promise will be fulfilled. Credit rating is the classification of persons according to the manner in which they perform after promises are made. Promptness denotes reliability and strengthens credit; indifference weakens credit and, if prolonged, fixes a worthless credit rating upon the person concerned. Ability to pay does not of itself entitle anyone to credit, for credit is measured by the manner in which obligations are taken care of as well as the ability to discharge them.

Officials of Santa Fe Through Artesia Over the Week End

Edward J. Engel, president and chairman of the executive committee for the Santa Fe System, and his party were in Artesia twice over the week end, although their special train did not stop here.

The men passed through the city Friday night on their way to Carlsbad, where they inspected the new spur roads recently built there. They returned through Artesia Saturday afternoon.

With the high-ranking railroad official, who was on a tour of the South Plains and New Mexico, were J. A. Gillies, general manager of the Western lines; G. H. Minchin, assistant general manager of the Western lines, and H. C. Vincent, general freight and passenger agent, all of Amarillo, and Fred G. Gurley and W. K. Etter, executive vice presidents, with headquarters in Chicago.

T. G. Gallaher of Chicago, general passenger agent of the road, stopped here Sunday morning in his special car on his return from Carlsbad, where he went Saturday night, and conferred with C. O. Brown, local Santa Fe agent.

Schedule Here Of Santa Fe Is To Be Reversed

Artesia and the Pecos Valley will benefit in more than one way by a new Santa Fe passenger train schedule, which is to go into effect June 2, according to information to C. O. Brown, agent here.

The present schedule will be reversed in general, southbound trains arriving in the morning and northbound leaving in the evening.

One of the principal benefits will be in the mail service, by which correspondence received from the north will arrive in the morning, to be distributed at once, rather than lay over here overnight before it is delivered, and it can be answered and dispatched the same evening, again instead of laying overnight.

In announcing the new schedule, the Santa Fe stresses the advantage to tourists wishing to visit the Carlsbad Caverns. They will make connections at Clovis with the Scout and will be able to go to Carlsbad over the Pecos Valley branch, visit the caverns and return north to Clovis the same evening.

The southbound passenger train should arrive in Artesia about 6 o'clock in the morning, Brown said, although he does not have a definite schedule as yet. And, he figures, the northbound will stop here about 9 o'clock in the evening.

Another new service of the railroad will go into effect May 1, Brown has been advised. It will be the "Train-Auto Service," whereby a traveler may arrange when buying a ticket to have an automobile at his service at his destination, if it be any of about 150 principal cities.

Spanish-American Vets Plan Annual Sale of Carnations

The annual sale of carnations by the Spanish-American War Veterans will be held in Artesia Saturday for the benefit of disabled veterans.

Jack Kennedy, department senior vice commander, said that the use to which funds raised through the sale of carnations is put is the same as that from the sale of poppies by the American Legion, the care and rehabilitation of disabled veterans.

As there are only six veterans of the Spanish-American War in Artesia to carry on the work, the veterans will be assisted in the sale Saturday.

There is no definite price set on the carnations, a purchaser being permitted to give as much as he wishes. However, at least a dime is customary.

Methodists Are to Attend Annual Meet Held at Carlsbad

The Rev. John S. Rice, pastor of the Methodist Church in Artesia, and members of the church here are planning to attend the annual conference of the Roswell district in Carlsbad Monday and Tuesday. About 100 delegates are expected to attend, according to the Rev. C. E. Jameson of Carlsbad, pastor of the host church.

Elected as delegates from the Artesia Methodist Church are the Rev. J. H. Walker, Mrs. Reed Brainard, Mrs. Dale Thomas, Mrs. Pat Gormley, G. E. Kaiser, Martin Yates, Jr., E. J. Foster and J. H. Jones, and the Rev. Mr. Rice is a delegate by virtue of his office. Other members of the church are planning to attend.

COUNTY SINGING MEET TO BE AT HOPE SUNDAY

An Eddy County singing convention will be held at Hope Sunday, April 14, in the gymnasium. Visitors are expected to be there from all of the valley towns, and anyone in the mountains is invited to attend.

A covered dish dinner will be served at noon.

NEW CITY DADS TO TAKE OVER FRIDAY

Emery Carper, mayor-elect, and other newly elected city officials will be sworn in at the regular council meeting at the city hall Friday evening.

Appointments probably will be made at that time. Carper said all will be made at the recommendation of the entire body.

TEXAS MAN BREAKS LEG IN ACCIDENT

E. C. Goebel of Amarillo, Tex., sustained a broken leg in one of a series of automobile accidents in this locality Friday during a blinding snow storm. No one else was seriously injured.

He was brought to Artesia Memorial Hospital, from where he left Monday for his home. The accident in which Goebel figured was between Artesia and Carlsbad. His car was badly damaged.

QUESTION: Suppose you have a boy or girl at college, one hundred miles away. (You may have, at that so here goes).

What would a 3-minute night or Sunday station-to-station call cost?

Did you say one dollar? Two dollars? Seventy-five cents?

ANSWER: The answer is forty cents. Your telephone takes you to other towns at little expense. Enjoy the thrill of hearing familiar voices across the miles . . . it's next best to being there.

Any city is really just across the street by telephone and you are usually connected while you hold the line—like local calls. Whose voice would you like to hear?

and a few wells even flow at the surface. In the areas where this is true, there is often no water table, and occurs most frequently on the east side of the basin in the drainage area of the Pecos River.

The depth to water in the valley fill varies considerably. The land surface and the water table both slope in general to the east toward the Pecos River, where the two surfaces intersect. The surface slope, however, is greater than that of the water table and the depth to water increases to the west from the river. In a belt 2 to 4 miles wide along the Pecos River, the water table is generally less than 10 feet below the surface. Westward from this belt the depth to water increases about 15 to 20 feet per mile.

Another article in the near future will continue with the resources of the shallow ground water.

Santa Fe Shows Eight Million Net Income in 1939

A pamphlet report of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway system for 1939 shows net income of $8,490,832 after taxes and charges, equal after dividend requirements on the 5 per cent preferred stock to 94 cents a share on common stock.

This compared with $8,216,544 or 83 cents a share on the common in 1938.

The report disclosed that the 1940 program for additions and betterments is about the same as that of last year, when gross expenditures for these purposes totaled $15,224,490.

Santa Fe's total volume of freight tonnage in 1939 was larger by 37,884 cars, a gain of 2.9 per cent over 1938. Total loadings handled last year were 133,753 cars.

the council room, the Goat Ropers met in the assembly room at the city hall, where the stage is located, so the members of the theatrical organization "visited" the others and presented for them the play.

Seen in the play were Mrs. Charles Morgan as Kittie Clive, eighteenth century London actress, in her dressing room in 1741; Mrs. Lucille Hare as the maid; Alfred Manley as Horace Walpole and Mrs. Louis Blackburn as a country girl.

At the business meeting of the Little Theater, Mrs. Robinson read a paper on directing.

Members of the Goat Ropers' Club decided to pasture some of their goats, cutting down the herd at the arena to 45 or 50.

They are to meet at Morris Field Thursday afternoon, April 25, to rehearse for the pageant.

The Goat Ropers Sunday afternoon added calf roping to the usual activities, using five calves loaned by E. B. Bullock and one by W. W. Batie.

Standing committees for the coming year were named. Chairmen: National Missions, Rev. LeRoy Thompson, Roswell; foreign missions, Rev. John D. Anderson, Dexter; Christian education, Rev. W. S. Dando, Carlsbad; united promotion, Rev. Henry S. Stout, Artesia; pensions, E. C. Gessert, Roswell; history and necrology, S. W. Gilbert, Artesia.

placed in the safe Wednesday evening of last week prior to the fire and that all were in order. The auditor said it was one of the fastest jobs of auditing he has done and found it a pleasure. He complimented C. O. Brown and Spratt.

The ruins of the fire were inspected by Dee Robinson of Clovis, special agent, and E. McElroy, transportation agent.

Anglo square dances, which will have an important place on the program. With Cecil Vandagriff calling and instrumental music furnished by Elmer and Carson Howard, Odell Stewart and Lynn Cobble, Anglos of the community will re-enact the old-time dances enjoyed by the early settlers.

But in those days the early Spanish-Americans too had their square dances, and these will be depicted by Artesia Spanish-American citizens under the direction of Sr. Villa, who likewise will do the calling. Native music will furnish the rhythms for the dances.

Then, as history advanced, there were the colonial dances of the early Anglo settlers. These will be presented by pupils of the fifth grade under the direction of Miss Natalie Murdock.

Spanish-speaking children will have a place on the program under the supervision of Miss Cruz Galvan, Spanish teacher.

Special dance numbers will be given, which were directed by the Catholic Sisters in Carlsbad.

An evening of music and song will take the spotlight the evening of April 25, with W. E. Kerr serving as chairman of the evening's program.

Folk songs, directed by Miss Beulah Moore, will be presented, as will be old religious songs under the direction of the Rev. Henry S. Stout.

Spanish numbers, also planned and directed by the nuns in Carlsbad, will be given by fourteen Spanish-American boys and girls in Spanish costume. Various numbers, solos, duets and the like, also will be given by the Spanish people.

And the cowboys will not be forgotten, for Lynn Cobble and Edgar Hoover will play and sing a short program of them. Then, too, there will be some old-time fiddling by the same group which will play for the Anglo square dances the first night.

A high point in the program will be the singing in Spanish by Miss Helen Dooley, colorful Artesia contralto, who for several seasons has appeared in the Muni Opera of St. Louis. She will be accompanied by two Spanish boys on their guitars.

Then the last evening will come the grand pageant, which will depict, act by act, the history of New Mexico from before the coming of Coronado to the present day. In this Boy Scouts of the Eastern New Mexico area council, who will that day arrive for a three-day "Camp-o-Ral," will take part in the final scenes.

Mrs. Robinson did not announce the complete program of the pageant, saying next week will be time enough for that, but she did say it will be well worth the while of anyone to drive 100 miles or more to see.

More than 2,100 gold medals and certificates have been awarded to Boy Scouts for life saving and heroism.
