SAVED! BY A SEATBELT!--If there was ever a good point made for wearing a seatbelt, a 25-year-old man from Littlefield could really testify a seatbelt saved his life early Saturday morning. He struck a metal light pole at West 8th Street and American, uprooting it, then the car skidded on its side and top for nearly a block. Although the man had to be cut from the vehicle, and was taken to West Plains Medical Center by the Bailey County EMS Ambulance, he received relatively minor injuries in the 6:30 a.m. accident in Muleshoe. Saturday night, the annual awards banquets wound up for the year with the Lazbuddie Longhorn All-Sports Banquet.

Longhorn Spirit was very evident as the young people gathered for the banquet amid Lazbuddie's colors of orange and black.

'Muleshoe Train' Arriving Here Friday Afternoon

'The Muleshoe Train,' as the Oklahoma Travel-Tour Bus is called, will arrive in Muleshoe on Friday afternoon, June 2.

The bus filled to capacity for their fun excursion from Oklahoma and Lawton just to see the West Texas town of Muleshoe, saying people have heard about 'Muleshoe' far and wide.

In the evening, the Jennyslippers are serving their dinner at the Depot, along with guests, including Mayor Darrell Turner and his wife, Gayle; as well as Muleshoe Chamber of Agriculture Manager John Smith, and his wife, Joan.

There'll be special entertainment, too, while the Oklahoma tourists are in Muleshoe.

Other special events will take place during their brief visit and although they will be leaving Muleshoe about mid-morning Saturday to begin their homeward journey, the Jennyslippers believe everyone will know they have had a 'great time' in Muleshoe, and have found the friendliest people on earth right here.

So, if you see the Oklahoma Tour bus, please give them a great big, friendly wave.

English Visitor Stops In Town To Discuss Walk Across Texas

'Walk Across Texas' is a very popular song, but how about 'Walk Across Texas?'

Monday morning, a young man, 31-year old William Tanner, of London, England, briefly visited Muleshoe on a real, true 'Walk Across Texas.'

Tanner told The Muleshoe Journal that as a child, the word 'Texas' always had a bit of magic, and he always wanted to see Texas.

He got his first opportunity two years ago, when he visited the United States, and spent a few days in the Houston-Austin area.

He liked what he found, and was determined to spend more time in Texas, and see much more -- and how better to really get the feel of the state, than to walk across it!

He said he arrived in Boston, MA and briefly visited a brother before traveling by Greyhound bus to the Texas-New Mexico line.

He said it took him four days to travel from Boston to Farwell. At Farwell, he briefly walked back into New Mexico, so he could say he walked all the way across Texas.

After starting his walk at 1:30 p.m. on Sunday afternoon, night found him just east of Lariat, where he knocked on the door of Lloyd and Elsie Williams, and asked to spend the night either in their back yard or on their porch.

He left the Williams' home around 7 a.m. Monday, and by 8:45 was just coming into the city limits of Muleshoe in his sturdy walking shoes, and a pack on his back.

He estimated it would take him some 60 days to walk across Texas, projecting to end up in Houston, and walk into Louisiana where he will fly back to Boston.

When asked why walk across Texas? -- he responded, 'I like walking, and I love Texas, so it seemed like a good combination to me.'

An actor and writer, Tanner plans to write articles about his walk across his favorite state in the United States for a couple of magazines in England -- one of them, appropriately enough, a 'walking' magazine.

He says he has written stories, plays and a little for TV, and has also acted on TV and in the theatre.

As he goes along, he carries maps, and does not plan to follow a direct, more or less straight route across the state. Once he reaches Lubbock, Tanner said he

American Legion Holds Military Flag Ceremony

Around 20 people were at Bailey County Memorial Park at 9 a.m. Monday for the annual American Legion Flag Ceremony to commemorate all military veterans -- focusing especially on veterans who lost their lives defending our country.

Conducting the ceremony were Mike Richards, Commander of the local American Legion Post, and Bob Phillips, American Legion chaplain.

As the people watched, and Phillips maintained a 'salute' -- Richards raised the flag, then lowered it to half mast.

The flag was a new flag, donated to Bailey County Memorial Park by the American Legion.

Richards then made the following statement: 'We are glad you could come join with us in the remembrance of our fellow service men and women who have dropped their burdens by the wayside of life and are gone to their eternal rest.'

'We honor those who gave their lives in the service of our country.'

'Let us renew our pledge of loyalty to our country and it's flag. Let us show by word and deed the privilege and duty of patriotism.'

'They fought for us and they fell. In deepest reverence, we do them honor. Because of them, our lives are free and because of them, our nation lives.'

'The chaplain will now pronounce the benediction. Let us stand with bowed heads in solemn memory of our heroes. Thank you for coming and sharing this moment with us.'

Then, the following benediction was pronounced by Bob Phillips, chaplain: 'Eternal God, we thank Thee for this hallowed soil. Make us worthy, we pray Thee, to guard our heritage of pride through all the years to come.'

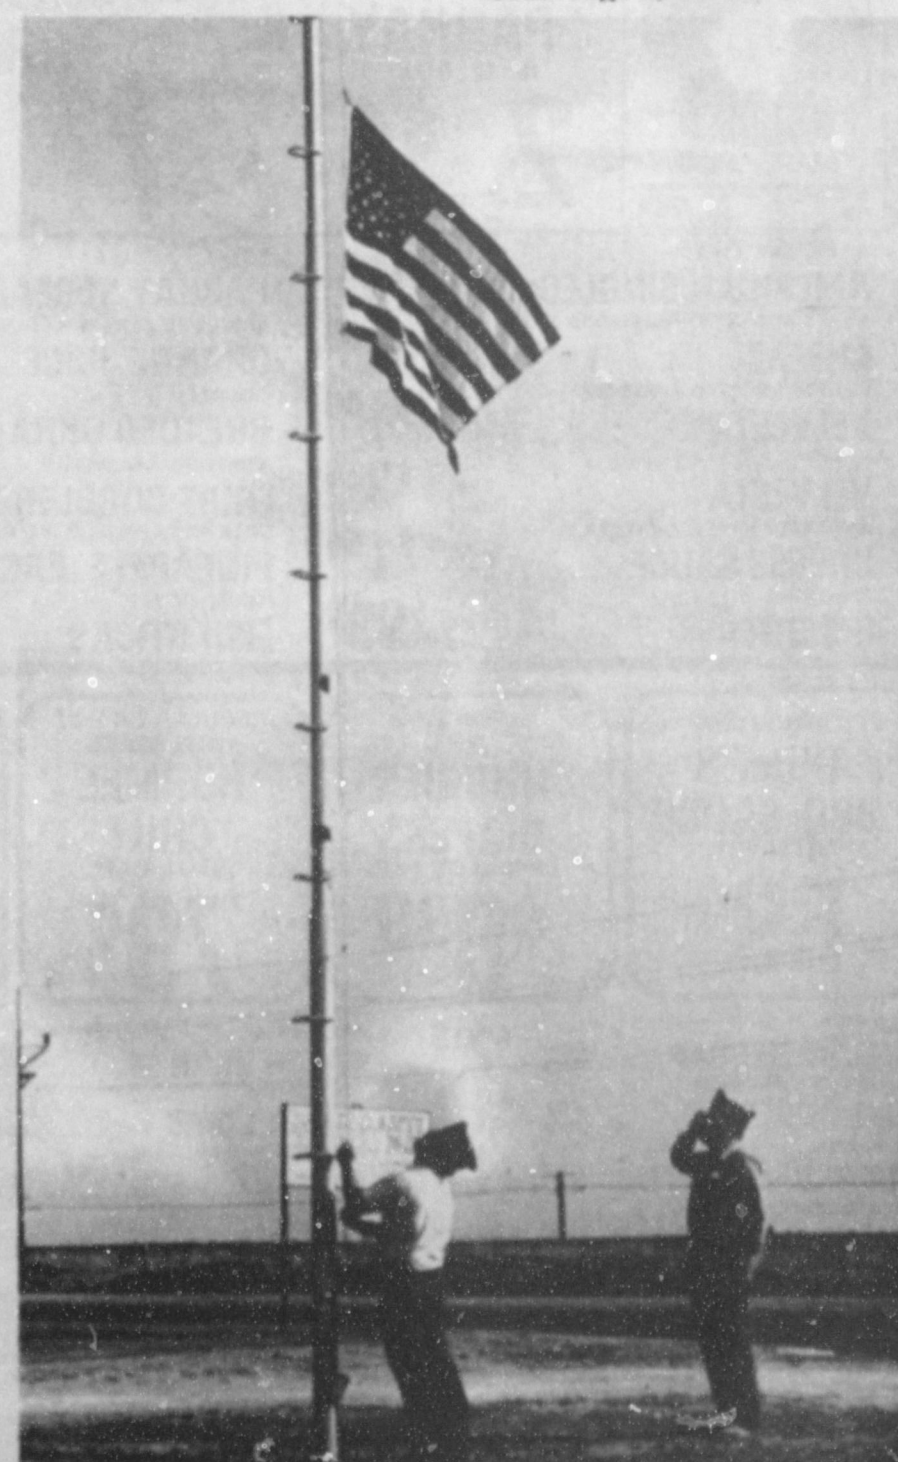

'In memory of these, our dead, may we pledge to our beloved land the same service and the same devotion.'

'And, O Lord, secure to us evermore the peace for which our comrades died. Amen.'

As the ceremony ended, a steady flow of vehicles was arriving at the cemetery so many local residents could visit the graves of servicemen and women and loved ones.

A BIT OF ENGLAND IN MULESHOE--Monday morning, on the second day of a 'Walk Across Texas' William Tanner of London, England, paused for a brief interview before going on his way, strolling down U. S. 84 toward Lubbock. 'Texas was always a word with a bit of 'magic' for me while I was growing up said the English actor-writer, of his decision to walk across the state. He says it will take him approximately 60 days. (Journal Photo)

AMERICAN LEGION CONDUCTS FLAG CEREMONY--At 9 a.m. Monday, with American Legion Chaplain Bob Phillips saluting in the background, American Legion Commander Mike Richards performed a flag ceremony at Bailey County Memorial Park. The flag is a new one, donated to the cemetery by the American Legion. Richards made appropriate remarks, followed by benediction by Chaplain Phillips, for some 20 people gathered in the cemetery for the occasion. (Journal Photo)

Harry Bell Former Area Resident Dies

Funeral services for Harry Bell, 66, of Lubbock were held at 2 p.m. Saturday, May 27 in Beacon Heights Baptist Church with the Rev. Jimmy McGuire, associate pastor, officiating. He was assisted by the Rev. Dudley Bristow, pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church in Casa Grande, Ariz.

Burial was in Englewood Cemetery in Slaton under the direction of Sanders Funeral Home. Bell died at 6:25 p.m. Wednesday at the Methodist Hospital following a lengthy illness.

Born in Mart, Bell married Johnette Foster on February 28, 1942, in Slaton. He was a veteran of World War II and a member of Becon Heights Baptist Church. He farmed in the Muleshoe area from 1954 to 1963, and was a retired truck driver.

Survivors include his wife, Johnette; a son, Brad of Lubbock; three daughters, April Tidwell of Anson, Kathy Bachman of Lubbock and Karen Bristow of Casa Grande, Ariz.; a sister, Leah Jones of Las Vegas, Nev.; 12 grandchildren; and seven great grandchildren.

Local Woman's Sister Dies

At Littlefield

Funeral services for Fannie Zahn, 82, of Littlefield were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday, May 31 in Hammons Funeral Home Chapel with Larry Cash, minister of Duggan Avenue Church of Christ officiating.

Interment was in Littlefield Memorial Park under the direction of Hammons Funeral Home. Mrs. Zahn died at 3:10 a.m. Monday in Lamb Health Care Center in Littlefield following a lengthy illness.

Born in Haskell, she moved to Littlefield in 1943. She married Willie K. Zahn on Nov. 29, 1922. She was a homemaker and a Methodist.

Survivors include her husband, Willie; three sons, Dennis of Liberal, Kan., Benny of Littlefield and Anthony T. of Chickasha, Okla.; three sisters, Ella Faubus of Muleshoe, Martha Bruggeman of Stanford and Sally Decker of Stanford; 11 grandchildren; and 18 great grandchildren.

early-season migratory game bird hunting regulations for 1989-90.

In response to federal frameworks, the proposal includes a continued prohibition of the early teal duck season, sunrise-to-sunset shooting hours for all species except doves, and a modified bag limit during the four-day white-winged dove hunting season.

Ron George, dove program leader, said the proposals have been published in the Texas Register for the required 30-day public comment period. The Parks and Wildlife Commission will consider them for adoption at a public meeting June 15 in Austin. Comments on the proposal may be directed to George at TPWD Headquarters, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, TX 78744.

Proposed season dates for the early-season species are virtually unchanged from last year. The proposed season for mourning doves are: North Zone, Sept. 1-Nov. 9; Central Zone, Sept. 1-Oct. 30, and Jan. 6-15; South Zone, Sept. 20-Nov. 18 (Nov. 14 in the Special White-winged Dove Area), and Jan. 6-15. Shooting hours for mourning doves are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

The proposed bag limit for mourning doves in all three zones is 12 mourning, white-winged and white-tipped (white-fronted) doves in the aggregate, including no more than two white-winged and two white-tipped doves per day; the possession limit would be twice the daily bag limit.

The proposed whitewing season in the Special White-winged Dove Area is Sept. 2-3 and 9-10. The proposed bag limit change would divide the whitewing area into two zones. In the portion north and west of the International Toll Bridge and U.S. Highway 277 S at Del Rio, the proposed limit would be 10 white-winged, mourning and white-tipped doves (white-fronted) doves in the aggregate, to include no more than two white-tipped doves per day; the possession limit would be twice the daily bag limit.

South and east of that dividing line, the daily limit would be 10 white-winged, mourning and white-tipped doves in the aggregate, to include no more than five mourning doves and two white-tipped doves per day; the possession limit would be twice the daily bag limit.

George explained the more restrictive bag limit south of Del Rio was due to biological concerns about late-nesting mourning doves. If research currently proposed by the department indicates these new regulations have not adversely affected dove populations, the bag limit south of Del Rio may be relaxed in the future.

Proposed shooting hours for the whitewing season would remain the same, at noon to sunset. Also as in the past, one fully-feathered wing would be required on all dressed doves at all times in the South Zone and the Special White-winged Dove Area.

Other early-season species and proposed regulations are: rails, Sept. 1-Nov. 9, bag limit 15 king and clapper rails, possession limit 30; 25 Sora and Virginia rails, possession limit 25; gallinules (all species), Sept. 1-Nov. 9, bag limit 15, possession limit 30.

A Mom, Sir!

During preliminary inspection at a Boy Scout camp, the director found an umbrella in the bedroll of a small Scout. Since the umbrella obviously was not one of the items of equipment listed, the director asked the lad to explain. The tenderfoot very innocently asked, "Sir, did you ever have a mother?"

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I have never written a letter to the editor before, but I feel that I have something to say in reference to our hospital situation.

You see, I lost my husband during the time we had no hospital. It is a very frightening experience.

Owen had his heart attack at home and all I knew to do was to call Dr. Purdy at home and tell him what was happening. He told me to call the ambulance and he would call ahead to Lubbock and get me a doctor.

I called Wayne Wauson, since he was a paramedic and Owen had worked with him, and he called the ambulance for me, but he came immediately to our house. He knew immediately what was happening.

The ambulance crew arrived very soon and began to check Owen out in our home before they could transport him. Our ambulance crew is super -- they are very thorough and caring, but there was no place to take Owen get him stabilized. This had to be done in the ambulance on the way to Lubbock. There was no hospital to go to for stabilizing Owen before transporting to Lubbock. Whether the end result would have been different, I have no way of knowing. I just know I lost my husband.

Muleshoe has been our home for forty years and will probably be my home for the rest of my life. I have no family here, just good friends. Both of my boys do not live in Muleshoe, so I am praying that we are able to keep our hospital so that people like me will have the availability of it. For no more tax than we will have, I can do without something and gladly pay the tax. I would rather pay it to our own Hospital District than to be annexed to another district and have to pay them.

Respectfully,
Clara Lou Jones
(Mrs. Owen Jones)

May 29, 1989

Dear Editor:

I am writing in regards to keeping the hospital open here in Muleshoe.

Not only is it necessary for the progress and financial growth of the community, it is a dire necessity. As important as good schools for quality education for our young people, is a hospital for the young and old alike.

For two years, I had health problems and was unable to drive. With no family in Muleshoe, I was constantly calling on good friends to take me to Lubbock to Doctors and for testing because we had no lab here at that time. A small increase in taxes is little enough to pay for the convenience of medical care in one's home town.

We are fortunate to have such excellent Doctors here and I can't tell you what a secure feeling it has given me to have my medical records back in Muleshoe. When I feel badly, it is no problem to see a Doctor immediately and they do not hesitate to contact a specialist if the problem is beyond their expertise.

PLEASE vote YES to keep our hospital open.

Sincerely,

Host A Foreign Exchange Student In Your Home

Foreign Exchange may bring to mind the international money market in most places, but the Host Families willing to participate in a visiting student program, the term foreign takes on a more exciting meaning. That is the conviction of Lynda Lawrence-Homan of Gatesville who is coordinating Host Family arrangements for Foreign Exchange Students from many countries who will be in your city and the surrounding areas for three, five or ten months.

This type of foreign exchange is giving and receiving in human terms: to give the Exchange Student the chance to learn about our culture; and, through the student, for the Host Family to receive a fascinating glimpse of life abroad.

"Host families provide room and board for the time the students will be in Texas, that plus a natural sharing of family life is all that is required, according to Mrs. Homan, who represents Texas Student Exchange, an umbrella organization for the sponsoring agencies. Families can be of any age, without children, with young children, with children who are grown and away from home. Young married couples can participate as well as retirees or single parents. What we look for is a joyful willingness to share lives." All the students have studied English-reading, writing, and the spoken word. They are between the ages of 15 and 18.

A Host Family/Student is planned in August in Gatesville at which the entire Program, Student's rules and Insurance Coverage provided are all thoroughly reviewed by TSE Regional Coordinator and Area Representatives.

By TSE regulations, students may not drive while in the United States, nor may they take an alcoholic drink, unless they are of age and that is part of the host family's custom. Students bring their own spending money with them and are well accustomed to our climate.

Four families from Muleshoe and the surrounding area are needed said Lynda Homan, TSE Regional Coordinator. This is an excellent way for a local family to travel abroad while staying at home."

Programs are also available for American High School Students.

Anyone interested in becoming a Host Family is urged to contact the local area rep.

A convenient appointment will be arranged in your home for a personal interview, at which time you will have the program outlined in detail. A second meeting will then be planned at which time will receive the name and photos of your prospective family member. Correspondence starts back and forth across the ocean well in advance of the student's arrival, affording you the opportunity of greeting a long standing friend on Arrival Day" said Lynda Lawrence-Homan.

GRADUATION EXERCISES AT SCHOOL AUDITORIUM LAST FRIDAY EVENING

Graduation exercises of the Muleshoe High School were held at the school auditorium last Friday evening in the presence of a large audience.

Four young people have made good in their classes and are now prepared to enter higher institutions of learning, which they will probably do in the near future. Whatever may be their intentions, we join their hosts of friends throughout the community in wishing them well.

Some of the members of the faculty the past term who live in other communities have gone to their respective homes where they will spend all or a part of the vacation months. Those with homes in Muleshoe are likewise resting from their labors for a few days before continuing higher college work.

Fusion?

The great fusion discovery (claim) of March is turning to disillusionment. On March 23rd, two scientists, one from Utah and one from England, announced their belief they had attained fusion at room temperature in a small glass jar.

This claim electrified the world. If fusion was that simple, it meant a new source of cheap energy could eventually become available—an event of enormous economic and social importance.

Other universities jumped into the act and, initially, there were reports some had found the claim of B. Stanley Pons and Martin Fleischmann justified.

But as weeks passed, Cal Tech and MIT, two giants in the scientific world, announced that they could find no sign of either fusion or net energy gain from their experiments with electrolytic cells.

And a research team at Brigham Young University published a detailed paper recently which showed that the fusion found in experiments such as that by Pons and Fleischmann produced billions of times less energy than claimed, that such fusion had no future potential as a cheap source of energy.

As a result of such findings, those who own oil stocks breathe easier. But others, captivated and intoxicated by this promising new hope, are disappointed. There may not be a Santa Claus, after all, in the field of energy. Stay tuned.

U.S. Postal Service; Is It Closing Down?

After being introduced at the Tuesday noon meeting of the Muleshoe Rotary Club by local Postmaster Abel Arguello, Ron O'Conner, Littlefield Postmaster, commented, "I am here to help Abel close down the Muleshoe Post Office."

He paused for those words to penetrate, then said, "That just happens to be something that could happen here."

He continued, "The U. S. Postal Service could be turned over to private industry. That should be a concern to you as a business person in Muleshoe."

O'Conner talked about the "high price of a postage stamp," then went on to compare the four cent price in 1959, the year he went to work for the United States Postal Service, with today's prices. "My salary was $2, gasoline was 25 cents a gallon and the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal cost five cents."

Today, the price of a stamp has risen to twenty-five cents; the price of gasoline is above $1 per gallon and a Lubbock Avalanche-Journal costs 25 cents.

"When the Post Office was re-organized in 1970, it agreed to provide postal service for all of America, and did not intend to make a profit. It would be funded from the sale of postage," he added.

Rates were increased, with

New Memorial Scholarship Established

A fourth memorial scholarship has been established through the Lazbuddie Schools to honor Howard Harding Carlyle who died in July, 1988. He was raised in Muleshoe and spent much of his life in this area. In 1975, he became the counselor for the Lazbuddie, Bovina and Farwell schools, and served in that capacity for 13 years.

Howard Carlyle graduated from Texas Tech in 1960 and received his master's degree in Guidance and Counseling at New Mexico State University in 1965. From 1960, educating young people was a major focus of his life. His family and friends decided a memorial scholarship given to a graduating senior in his name would help to continue an educational tradition that he felt very strongly about.

Trustees have been set up for the Memorial Scholarship Fund which is being administered through the Lazbuddie Schools and a Board of Trustees. The scholarship is a perpetuating fund and scholarships will be awarded according to the amount in the fund at the time.

The presentation of the scholarship will be at the graduation exercises of Lazbuddie High School. Applicants will be chosen on the basis of character, citizenship, need, overall academic grade average and future goals and plans of the applicant.

Lazbuddie School Superintendent Joe Hall said donations will be tax deductible.

Donations may be made to: Howard Carlyle Memorial Scholarship Fund, Lazbuddie School, Lazbuddie, TX 79053.

slower rate increases for second class postage for newspapers (Editor's Note: The Muleshoe Journal AND Bailey County Journals both qualify for the second class postage permits, and are the only local newspapers to thus qualify); for church bulletins, mail for the blind and other non-profit groups.

He said in Japan, a postage stamp costs 44.5 cents; in Italy, the cost for a postage stamp is 43.1 cents and in West Germany, the cost is 42.5 cents for a stamp.

In other statistics, O'Conner said the U. S. Postal Service handled 160 billion pieces of mail through September, 1988. This breaks down to 500 million pieces of mail each and every day for 40,000 postal facilities, with 29,000 being in similar size to the post office in Muleshoe.

The Littlefield Postmaster also said 760,000 people are employed by the U. S. Postal Service, being second in size, only to the U. S. Department of Defense.

The U. S. Postal Service works on a $32.5 billion budget.

A total of $35 billion was budgeted for 1989, but the Postal Service expects to spend at least $36 billion.

"The Postal Service is a very large business," said O'Conner. "And, private industry would love to split up the 'pie.' Private industry sees the potential of huge profits if they could take over the Postal Service."

O'Conner, who had distributed a flier describing what 'could' happen if private industry took over the Postal Service, suggested such a takeover could be like the telephone service or airlines when they were de-regulated. "Is telephone service better, or cheaper," He asked? "Are airfares better, or planes safer?"

The postmaster said the U. S. Postal Service is not perfect! "We have a very large business, and thus, have our own problems to contend with. However, we believe we are 99 percent very good to excellent -- unfortunately -- most people only remember the other one percent."

Other items mentioned if private industry should take over the Postal Service included

"There would be no guards for mail. If an important piece of mail gets lost -- who would you call? Who would deliver government checks and Social Security Checks? Who would handle Selective Service registration -- Passport Applications -- Migratory Bird Stamps -- and many other services?"

"Would private rates be competitive?"
And, as a last thought, he said, "Will service actually be better, rates lower, and will the country -- as a whole -- benefit?"

Rotary President George Nieman reported a very good wrestling card, but no crowd.

He also asked Scott Campbell to make an announcement. Scott said he was going to Hawaii Friday where he will be married.

Bill James was winner of the Polio Plus drawing.

Jarah Redwine Receives Honor

Jarah Redwine, a student at Lazbuddie Junior High will be honored for academic achievement at a statewide ceremony on June 17, at Baylor University in Waco.

The recognition ceremony is sponsored by the Duke University Talent Identification Program (TIP) to salute the seventh-graders from Texas who qualified in TIP's ninth annual Talent search.

All students invited to the ceremony have earned scores on Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or the American College Testing Assessment (ACT) comparable to college-bound school seniors. Jarah took the SAT in January along with four other Lazbuddie Seventh graders. Mrs. Anne Farris, counselor, coordinated the TIP at Lazbuddie.

The students will receive certificates of distinction at the ceremony. The highest scorers will also receive scholarships and books.

TIP conducts recognition ceremonies in each of the 16 states it serves in the southeast, midwest and southwest. Over 50,000 mathematically and verbally gifted seventh graders are identified by this program each year. TIP offers additional educational opportunities for gifted students in seventh through tenth grades.

TIP is a non-profit educational organization established in 1980 with a five-year grant from the Duke Endowment. The program receives continuing support from student fees, individuals, corporations and foundations.

Jarah's parents are Bobby and Debra Redwine. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Garner of Farwell and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Redwine of Lazbuddie.

He cited George Strait, Willie Nelson, The Wagoneers, and the late Buddy Holly as being some of his favorite singers.

Maintenance Of Lawns Needs Careful Attention

By: Spencer Tanksley
CEA-AG

Everyone wants to have a healthy, green lawn and home landscape. Maintenance of an attractive lawn is relatively easy if proper management practices are used at the correct time of the year.

WATERING

Watering is probably the single most important factor in maintaining a healthy lawn. The easiest way to determine how much water one is applying is to set a straight-sided can, such as a coffee can, on the lawn and turn the sprinkler on. Record how long the sprinkler is on and, after turning off the sprinkler, measure the depth of water in the can. A lawn needs .3 to .4 inches of water per day in the spring and fall.

During hot, dry conditions, raise mowing heights to reduce watering needs. Grass mowed two to three inches maintains a deeper root system than grass mowed at one to one and one-half inches. Watering needs are reduced with more effective use of water in the soil. Mow Bluegrass and Fescue lawns at three inches during summer months. DO NOT mow Bermuda grass higher than two inches.

'When' water is applied also influences the effectiveness of watering. Early morning is considered the best time to water. The wind is calm and the temperature is lower, thus water loss from evaporation is low.

Early morning watering helps to wash dew off of leaves which reduces the incidence of diseases. Late evening is considered the worst time to water as grass which remains wet throughout the night is more susceptible to disease.

FERTILIZATION

Nitrogen is the nutrient required in the largest amounts to maintain a good healthy lawn. Grasses respond to nitrogen in a number of ways including density, dark green color, greater drought resistance, faster recovery rate and greater traffic tolerance.

The surest way to determine fertilizer needs of a lawn is to take a soil sample and have it analyzed to determine nutrient status and obtain a fertilizer recommendation. However, in the absence of this, some general guidelines can be used.

TYPE OF GRASS	LBS. OF N. PER 1000 SQ. FT.
Buffalo Grass	3
Bermuda Grass	6
Blue Grass	8
Fall Fescue	8

These applications should be applied at two different times of the year -- one-half in May and one-half in early September. These guidelines assume that grass clippings are not removed following each mowing. If clippings are removed, higher fertilization rates will be required.

MOWING

Mowing greatly affects the density, texture, color and root growth of lawns. Improper mowing can rapidly cause a lawn to die out. Mowing grasses lower than recommended will weaken the grasses causing them to die in periods of either heat, drought, or cold stress.

The lawn should be mowed frequently enough so that no more than 40 percent of the leaf tissue is removed at any one mowing. This means that it must be mowed regularly. Removing more plant material at one time is a severe shock to the plant.

A sharp lawn mower blade is important in maintaining a well-groomed lawn. A dull blade shreds rather than cuts leaf blades causing the tips to turn brown a day or two after mowing. Lawn mower blades should be sharpened several times during the growing season.

Additional maintenance tips are available at the Extension office located in the Bailey County courthouse. Homeowners should request Bulletin No. L-1372 on Home Lawn Care.

Insect Scouting Workshop Slated

Cotton, corn and sorghum producers in the Panhandle and South Plains are receiving a special invitation again this year to attend the annual High Plains Insect Scout Training Workshop to increase the effectiveness of their pest management programs.

The first of two workshop sessions will focus on early and mid-season pests and will be held Friday, June 2 at the Ollie Linder Agricultural Center in Plainview. The center is on U.S. 87 Business Route south of the city.

The second workshop will be July 10 in Plainview and will cover mid-to late-season crop pests.

The workshop, conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, was first held in 1973 to train scouts in the pest management programs it conducts. The Extension Service is part of the Texas A&M University System.

MS Bike Tour Will Be Held On July 8-9

The West Texas Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society and Mobil Exploration and Producing US, Inc. are announcing the First Annual "Cactus & Crude" MS 150 Bike Tour on July 8-9. Cyclists will ride from Midland to Buffalo Springs Lake in Lubbock for a total of 150 miles. Top fundraisers in the "Cactus & Crude" will be eligible for prizes that include trips to San Francisco, Los Angeles or Phoenix.

The 2-day cycling event, for cyclists of all ages and abilities raises funds through a registration fee of $20 and a minimum of $150 in pledges from each participant. The registration fee includes all meals, well-stocked rest areas (every 10-15 miles), medical support, transportation of luggage, mechanical support, and much more. Cyclists will be raising needed funds for research, education and patient services. Sixty percent of the funds raised remain in the chapter's service area while 40 percent is used nationally for research efforts.

For more information, or to register for the "Cactus & Crude" MS 150 Bike Tour contact the West Texas Chapter at (915) 699-7787.

In subsequent years, the training has expanded to include scouts employed by consultants, aerial applicators and others, as well as producers who want to learn how to scout their own fields for insects. The workshop focuses on perfecting skills in identifying crop pests and making timely pest management decisions which can protect investments and yield.

The first workshop will begin at 8:30 a.m. with Dr. Jim Leser, extension entomologist, outlining the scope of the training, general concepts of pest management and sampling. Aspects of pesticide safety will be presented by Craig Forbis, extension cotton specialist, will open the cotton session with information on growth and development of cotton. Leser then will present information in thrips. Cotton fleahoppers and beneficial insects will be discussed by Mark Brown, extension agent-entomology headquartered at Crosbyton.

Greg Cronholm and Mike Blanton, extension agents-entomology in Plainview and Farwell, will provide information on early and mid-season pests of sorghum and corn. Dr. Pat Morrison, extension entomologist will discuss pests of soybeans and sunflowers. Major plant diseases of South Plains crops will be discussed by Dr. Harold Kaufman, extension plant pathologist.

Nutrient deficiency symptoms will be presented by Dr. Michael Hickey, Extension soil chemist.

The workshop will conclude at noon with a hands-on session in which participants will learn how to determine the percent square set on potted cotton plants and will identify insect specimens. Handouts will be available.

Notice To Taxpayers

Taxpayers in the Bailey County Appraisal District have an opportunity to protest values proposed for their property for local taxes. The property owner must file a written "notice of protest" with the Appraisal Review Board (ARB) before June 23, 1989. The district's Appraisal Review Board hearing will be on July 10, 1989 at 104 E. Ave. C.

Official forms for a notice of protest are available at the Bailey County Appraisal District office, 104 E. Ave. C., Muleshoe. A letter from the taxpayer is also acceptable as long as it identifies the property owner, the property which is the subject of protest, and indicates dissatisfaction with some decision or action of the appraisal office.

Each protesting taxpayer may offer evidence or argument either in person or by filing an affidavit with the ARB. Taxpayers should be aware that the ARB has no authority over tax rates or taxing units or taxing unit spending and will not hear protests of those matters.

The ARB will schedule hearings as property owners file protests and will inform them of the time, date, and place of their individual hearings.

The State Property Tax Board has issued a pamphlet called "Taxpayer's Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities" available at the Bailey County Appraisal District office, 104 E. Avenue C, Muleshoe, which explains how to prepare and present an appeal to the ARB.

Insect Hotline Opens For Summer Cotton

An expanded Cotton Insect Hotline, a 24-hour service that provides timely information on insect populations, movements and control recommendations, is in place in five cotton producing states this year. Made possible by a grant from Nor-Am Chemical Company to The Cotton Foundation, the service is managed by the National Cotton Council and updated by state Extension entomologists.

Data gathered from monitoring fields in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi and Texas is made available on the hotline as part of the Extension Service's integrated pest management program. The hotline is being offered in Florida and Texas for the first time this year. More than 5,500 calls were made to the service in the other states last year.

The toll-free number and the Extension specialist providing the update in each state are: Alabama, 1-800-458-3738, Dr. Ron Smith, Auburn University; Georgia, 1-800-228-8389, Dr. Bill Lambert, University of Georgia; Florida, 1-800-654-8488, Dr. Dick Sprekel, University of Florida; Mississippi, 1-800-445-4931, Dr. Bob Head, Mississippi State University; and Texas, 1-800-544-6768, Dr. Ray Huffman, Texas A&M University.

The opinion among producer leadership of the National Cotton Council which gathered in four Cotton Belt cities in early May to review the Food Security Act of 1985 was that the cotton section of the legislation should be continued with only minor alterations. The meetings -- in Atlanta, Memphis, Dallas and Visalia, CA -- were the first steps

Thunderstorms And Lightning Hand-In-Hand

Lightning and spring thunderstorms in Texas go hand-in-hand.

While lightning can dazzle the eyes with its beauty, it still is a destroyer of property, livestock and human life.

According to Spencer Tanksley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, there are certain defensive measures for taming lightning:

--Equip your house and farm structures with an approved lightning protection system. Inspect it annually.

--Seek safe shelter before a thunderstorm arrives. Avoid solitary trees, metal buildings, fencing and hilltops. Get out of water. If inside an unprotected home, stay away from windows, doors, metal objects and appliances.

--If you are outside and feel your hair standing on end, lightning may be about to strike. Drop to your knees and bend forward, placing your hands on your knees. Don't lie flat on the ground.

Almost every farm or ranch is served by central station electrical power, usually carried via overhead powerlines. Then that power often is disturbed around the farmstead by overhead lines that could be fatally contacted by those involved in operations below.

--Use extreme care when moving or positioning tall equipment such as grain augers, and when erecting metal ladders and carrying long irrigation pipes near overhead powerlines.

--Be extremely careful when erecting or taking down a TV, ham, CB, FM or short-wave antenna if powerlines are near. It's best to call your power company for assistance.

--Correct sagging farmstead lines, especially over driveways and areas where tall farm equipment might be moved. Better yet, consider installing farmstead powerlines underground.

policy in shaping the cotton section of the 1990 farm bill.

"How successful we are in fashioning a good bill for cotton depends on how successfully we can reach a consensus among producers," said Council President Bruce Heiden in addressing the groups. "Without that consensus, someone else could be writing the cotton section of the bill."

In opening comments, NCC Executive Vice President Phillip C. Burnett, stated, "Creativity and compromise, statesmanship and a look to the long-term for the good of this industry are required in our deliberations and in formulating the cotton section of the 1990 legislation."

Directors L. Sykes Martin of Courtland, AL; Fred Schneider, III, of Lake Providence, LA; William T. Lovelady of Tornillo, TX; and Jerry Calvani of Carlsbad, NM, chaired the meetings. PSC Chair Fred Starrh of Shafter, CA, and Heiden were other participants.

The Council's position in support of expanded agricultural research was carried to Washington by Robroy Fisher of Greenville, MS, chairman of the Industry/Government Research Committee. Fisher appeared before a subcommittee of the House Committee on Appropriations to recommend several adjustments in USDA's proposed fiscal 1990 budget.

"Council delegates (have) strongly endorsed expanded agricultural research, education, market development and action programs to reduce costs and increase competitiveness of U.S. cotton," Fisher told the subcommittee. "Understanding the need to help hold the line on government spending, we reluctantly accepted a no-growth budget for agricultural research and extension for several years. We expected that funding for essential projects would be provided in the future. Such has not been the case, so we are recommending several adjustments."

Programs critical to the cotton industry conducted by the Extension Service, Agricultural Research Service, Cooperative States Research Service and APHIS as well as the USDA's Export Market Development Program were highlighted in Fisher's comments.

Golden Spread Electric To Purchase More Power

Golden Spread Electric Cooperative today announced the signing of a memorandum of intent with Sunflower Electric Cooperative, a generation and transmission utility located in Hays, Kansas, and the Western Area Power Administration, a federal hydro-power marketing agency headquartered in Golden, Colorado, for peaking capacity and a new high-voltage power line.

The memorandum is the first step in consummating an agreement between Golden Spread and Sunflower for the sale by Sunflower of excess capacity to Golden Spread. The memorandum also provides for the construction of a transmission line from Sunflower's Holcomb Station, near Garden City, Kansas to Guymon, Oklahoma.

Under the agreement with Sunflower, Golden Spread will obtain 110,000 kilowatts of capacity from two gas-fired turbine generators located at Sunflower's Garden City power plant. The power will be used to meet the peak-load needs of Golden Spread's member systems.

Additionally, Western and Sunflower anticipate the execution, in the near future, of an agreement for transmission service over Sunflower's existing 345kV system for delivery of preference power and energy to Kansas customers.

The transmission path from Holcomb Station to Guymon, Oklahoma will be financed by Western, Golden Spread and Sunflower. Sunflower and Western will be responsible for the costs of the construction of substation and transmission improvements in Kansas. Golden Spread will be responsible for the costs of such improvements in Oklahoma.

Golden Spread General Manager Robert W. Bryant said, "This new power supply arrangement will benefit all of Golden Spread's member systems and their consumers."

"Golden Spread's members will obtain low cost peaking power to assure that electric rates will continue to be affordable for their irrigation consumers. The new transmission line will strengthen the electrical interconnections to the north and increase our opportunities for future access to low cost electrical power."

Under the agreements, Western strengthens its access to Kansas to serve preference customers reliably with its hydro-electric power, and also will have broader opportunities to purchase, sell, and exchange energy. Sunflower will benefit from the making of additional electric sales and from becoming more firmly interconnected with other electric systems in the region.

The Transmission line is expected to be a 230 kV or 345 kV line, depending on the final engineering analysis, and is expected to cost between $23 and $36 million. The line will be about 90 miles in length and will take about three and one-half years to complete.

Bailey County Electric Cooperative, Muleshoe; Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative, Hereford; Greenbelt Electric Cooperative, Wellington; Lamb County Electric Cooperative, Littlefield; the Lighthouse Electric Cooperative, Floydada; Midwest Electric Cooperative, Roby; North Plains Electric Cooperative, Perryton; Rita Blanca Electric Cooperative, Dalhart; South Plains Electric Cooperative, Lubbock; and Swisher Electric Cooperative, Tulia; all located in Texas, and Tri-County Electric Cooperative in Hooker, Oklahoma, are the eleven member systems served by Golden Spread.

Sunflower provides electric service to seven Kansas Electric Cooperatives.

Western Area Power Administration is responsible for federal electric power marketing and transmission functions in 15 central and western states encompassing a 1.3 million square-mile geographic area.

TDH Works To Curb Health Fraud In Texas

In recent months, the Texas Department of Health (TDH) has intensified its efforts to combat the rising incidence of health fraud in Texas.

According to TDH investigators, the sale of bogus "health aids," unapproved drugs and gadgets, is a thriving industry in the state. While some of the products are merely useless, posing only monetary loss to the victim, others can be dangerous, even deadly.

Dennis Baker, director of the Division of Food and Drugs, said "Many of the products openly sold as health aids are illegal, if only because their labels or accompanying literature mislead consumers about their effectiveness. Other, more dangerous products fail to disclose their potential hazards or side effects, as required by federal law."

Baker said, "In the three months ending in a raid on a San Antonio company May 8, our investigators carried out 35 separate actions against distributors and retailers of illegal drugs, devices, or food products. While the action we took in San Antonio was important because of the size of the company's operation, the illegal drugs, devices, or food products. While the action we took in San Antonio was important because of the size of the company's operation, the illegal inventory we found was typical."

In the raid, the authorities joined to stop sale of Michael's Health Products at the company's headquarters in San Antonio.

The action involved investigators from the TDH Division of Food and Drugs, the San Antonio police department and district attorney's office, the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission, and the federal Food and Drug Administration (FDA), following a 6-month TDH investigation.

The authorities embargoed the entire inventory of the company's headquarters and packaging plant.

Michael's markets about 100 so-called health aids, primarily through health food stores nationwide, with estimated profits in excess of $1 million.

Among the company's most popular sellers are: "Manpower," alleged to restore virility; "Arthro Tabs," sold as a treatment for arthritis; "Circu Tabs," said to remove toxic metals from the blood; and "Diab Tabs," purported to provide natural insulin for diabetics.

Ken Davis, chief investigator for TDH, said, "Such drugs as 'Diab Tabs' are extremely dangerous to consumers. Not only are the contents of them unknown without further testing, but people with real health problems such as diabetes might choose to substitute these pills for their prescribed medications."

Also included in the embargoed inventory were bulk quantities of vodka, which the company used to mix "tinctures" for mouthwashes, gargles, and sinus sprays. The company has no permit to use the alcohol in its products.

Davis said that several state and federal charges against the company owner, Michael Schwartz, are pending.

GOLDEN ACRES . . . recommends the following varieties for ghost acres in the Texas-Oklahoma Panhandle.

- T-E 35 Red, medium early with maximum drought resistance for dryland. Short, uniform, excellent standability. Good yield potential for maturity.
- T-E EMPIRE Medium maturing Biotype E resistant, hetero yellow recommended for dryland or limited irrigation. Slightly shorter than T-E Y-101-R with comparable head exertion.
- T-E Y-60 Yellow-white cross, extremely droughty. Medium maturing with good seedling vigor and emergence. High yields under favorable conditions. Not recommended for full irrigation and intensive farming practices due to above average height under these conditions.
- T-E Y-75 Biotype E resistant medium red. Stay green strong stalk. Big yield potential under limited or full irrigation.
- T-E Y-101-G Biotype C resistant, medium late. A popular choice because it combines a short, strong stalk with record yields under favorable conditions. Recommended for irrigation.
