Child Recovering From Heart Operation; Fund Reaches $1002

With $1,002.09 as the total amount raised to date, 10 a. m., Tuesday, Sept. 5, has been set as the deadline for receipt of donations to the Langford Fund at The Artesia Advocate.

The money goes to pay the expense of a heart operation for Belle Langford, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Langford.

There's plenty of good news for Langfords and for those generous folks who gave money to pay cost of the operation for the Artesia girl. Mrs. James Boggs, West Missouri, who initiated the campaign, said yesterday that operation, lasting three and a half hours, was performed at Children's hospital in Dallas and that the operation was a success.

She stated the doctor had said child probably could come home within two weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Langford are in Dallas with Belle.

Estimated cost of the operation is $2,000 to $1,500. Mrs. Boggs has $1,002.09. This means that between $91 and $497.91 remains to be raised, not including the $104 obtained in a Carlsbad campaign for same purpose.

Fund Handled

A complete detailed explanation of the way The Artesia Advocate, Edna Emerson, news editor, Mrs. Boggs were handling the money turned in for the Langford fund, was contained in a story published in the Aug. 24 issue of The Artesia Advocate.

Money was received into the fund by persons calling at The Advocate, handing in money to the editor or other employees, or received in money sent through the mail, and was given to the editor on the street at times.

Mrs. Boggs also received money in coin containers from both First National and Peoples State banks.

The fund was set up in the First National Bank. Mr. Langford has drawings on that fund to pay expenses incurred by his daughter's operation.

Fall Heralded By Labor Day

Artesians in many walks of life will be able to observe a holiday come Monday, Sept. 3, for that day is Labor Day, which officially recognized as a holiday by the Artesia Chamber of Commerce.

The holiday proclamation, which is contained in the chamber's membership bulletin, now being mailed out to chamber members, reads as follows:

"Monday, Sept. 3, is Labor Day, red lettered on your calendar, and recognized as a holiday by your chamber.

You will be with the majority in closing on that day, last of the summer holidays for you and your employees."

The chamber's proclamation puts Artesia squarely in line with other places all over the United States, the District of Columbia, Hawaii, Alaska, Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands, which also observe the day.

The day is usually marked with the closing of banks and government offices, and the staging of parades and meetings by labor organizations.

Paper on Wednesday

The Artesia Advocate will publish both its regular semi-weekly issues. Edition for Tuesday, Sept. 4, will not be put out until Wednesday, Sept. 5. Then the regular Friday paper will appear on Friday, Sept. 7.

While Tuesday's paper will be one day late, advertisers are still asked for promptness in preparation of their copy.

One More Day

Schools will be closed on that day, but the battle of the books begins at 9 a. m. sharp the following day doesn't let up until Thanksgiving, except for time out for teachers' meeting Oct. 24-27.

Armistice day, which this year is celebrated on Nov. 12, because Nov. 11, traditional day of observance.

Paper Shortage Holds Up Health Booklet 3 Years

Heart disease, accidents and diseases of early infancy were the three leading causes of death in the state in 1948.

This information comes from the Annual Report of the Department of Public Health of New Mexico for 1948.

A letter from James R. Scott, director to Gov. Edwin L. Mechem and ex-Gov. Thomas J. Mabry explains that reporting of the Department's activities is three years behind the times due to the wartime paper shortage.

The 94-page report printed on glossy book paper lists members of the state board of public health, the department of public health and district health officers for 1951.

O. E. Puckett, M.D., Carlsbad, is health officer for District 6, in which Artesia is located.

Tuberculosis control, incidence of communicable diseases for 1948, and public water supplies are other items covered by the report.

Hospital Official To Preach Sunday At First Methodist

Executive secretary of an El Paso hospital foundation, Dr. L. L. Evans, will preach at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, Sept. 2, in First Methodist Church, it was made known Thursday by Rev. R. L. Willingham, pastor.

Dr. Evans was for eight years pastor of El Paso Trinity Methodist. El Paso district superintendent six years, and for one year pastor of Roswell First Methodist.

He has also been pastor of large churches in Waco, Chattanooga, Tenn., and in Muskogee, Okla.

His new position puts him in charge of a 276-bed hospital to be opened next month. Providence Memorial will have the latest equipment including a polio ward, caring for patients of all ages from babies to grown persons. Future hospital plans call for a school for nurses and a medical college.

Elliott Funeral Service to Be Held in Carlsbad

Funeral services for Charles Monroe Elliott, 64, ranch employee who died at 10 p. m. Tuesday, Aug. 28, in Artesia General Hospital, as the result of injuries suffered when he was stepped on by a horse, will be conducted at two this afternoon in West Funeral Chapel, Carlsbad.

Burial will be in Lookout Cemetery at Malaga.

Mr. Elliott was a native Texan, born Aug. 11, 1887 in Texas, and had lived in Eddy County since 1917.

Survivors include a brother, William F., and a half-brother, G. V. Hammonds, both of Carlsbad, and a sister, Mrs. J. C. Lawrence of Hatch.

Mr. Elliott had been employed the last two years on a ranch east of Artesia.

August Rainfall Up to .24 Inches

Rain in the amount of .10 inches Wednesday afternoon and night served to bring the total for August up to .24 inches.

It also served to cool off things slightly for at 8 yesterday morning the temperature was a cool 78; however by one p. m., it had risen to 100 degrees.

A reporter who was asked about whether it was going to rain on Wednesday was almost forced to eat his words, for when questioned about it he said, "If it rains today I am a Chinaman."

Before he had a chance to finish the sentence rain started falling which increased in intensity before the afternoon was over.

August has another day to go yet, but the total to date tops June's precipitation by .19 inches, but falls way short of the July total when 4.35 inches were recorded.

Today Final Date For Registration Of Artesia Pupils

Today is final day for registration of pupils in Artesia public schools for the 1951-52 session. Classes begin Sept. 4.

On the calendar yesterday was a faculty session, in three assemblies, winding up with a get-together social on the high school campus.

Sale of high school football tickets totaled 750. Principal Travis Stovall said at 1:30 p. m. yesterday. The sale opened Wednesday. A prelude to the opening of school was the Quarterback Club meeting, attended by 65, held Tuesday, Aug. 28.

Junior High to Open for First Complete Session September 4

Artesia's "baby" and best school building, the Artesia Junior High school, will begin classes for the school's first full session in its new building on Tuesday, Sept. 4.

The gleaming, shining new structure opened its doors to its first pupils late in the first semester of the 1950-51 session.

Number of pupils expected to attend junior high this year is 150, which will be "about the same" as last year, Principal Donnie said Tuesday. The school will have 23 teachers in all on its staff.

Grades are six, seven, and eight, the same as last year, although the sections of the sixth will be other schools, as was the case in 1950-51.

The session, after the preliminary faculty briefings and registration of new students, will be initiated with an assembly from 9 to 10 a. m., Tuesday, Sept. 4, in the gymnasium, where teachers will be introduced to the pupils.

All new students who have not enrolled (and the words "not enrolled" are stressed by Principal) are to report to the office immediately after assembly to enroll.

Pupils are to report as their schedule shows. Schedules will not be changed on the opening day on Wednesday, Sept. 5, eighth graders may change schedules that day, while the next day, Thursday, Sept. 6, is the time for the (Continued on Page Four)

Manual Shows Entire Scope Of High School

The B-36 of high school handbooks, designed to acquaint pupils with everything from "office practice award" to "basketball schedule," is the Artesia High School manual.

Foreword, 1951-52, reads: "This handbook has been prepared for the guidance of the students and teachers of Artesia High School.

"The committee who prepared the book have gathered and edited the material with the desire that students may become better acquainted with the activities of Artesia High School.

"The person in charge of the preparation of this handbook was Margaret Harston (typing teacher). The student typist was Rube Austin."

As was the case for the handbook last year, this year's issue, 2,500 copies, was printed by The Artesia Advocate.

Bigger and Better

Both in arrangement and completeness, the new handbook is improved over the old.

The back cover has an aerial photo of the high school and address.

Pot Bert Undergoes Operation in Abilene

A postcard received at The Artesia Advocate, dated Sunday, Aug. 26, 3:30 p. m., gives information concerning A. L. (Pot) Bert, former editor of this newspaper.

Mrs. Bert wrote that Pot was in Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Abilene, Texas, to undergo a kidney operation, the following day.

The postcard supplements information previously received as to Bert being in the hospital for a check-up.

New Mexico's First 1951 Bale of Cotton Comes From Artesia

W. Berry, president of Peoples State Bank of Artesia, can now claim the first bale of cotton to be ginned anywhere in New Mexico this year, according to Bob Jones, manager of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce.

Jones took an inspection trip to the Berry farm last Wednesday and made some photographs.

He reported that of the 320 acres of ground on the Berry farm, 200 acres southeast of Artesia, 200 are devoted to cotton.

One hundred acres are in pasture and alfalfa, while the remaining 120 acres comprise the farm house, barn, and a plot of ground.

The bale, which was brought to Artesia Gin of the Alfalfa Growers Association at 4:45 p. m.

Tuesday weighed 1,530 pounds and is expected to produce 540 pounds of lint cotton.

It is of the 1517 type and was harvested by Connor and Roundtree.

Some of the strands of cotton on the Berry farm are six feet tall, with up to 60 bolls on one plant.

Berry estimates that his yield will be two bales per acre.

The bale which was harvested Tuesday is slated to be sold at public auction this week, at a time and place to be announced. Berry stated he hoped local men would buy it.

Berry, in addition to being president of the Peoples State Bank and a cotton farmer, is also an oil producer.

Score of Floats Entered in Vets Rodeo Parade as Deadline Nears

Hurry! Hurry! Hurry! Only 11 more days remain for organizations to get floats entered in the veterans rodeo parade. Deadline for float entries is 4:30 p. m., Monday, Sept. 10, according to John Simons, Jr., parade committee chairman.

Plans call for Gov. Edwin L. Mechem to be on hand, and Wild Bill Elliott and members of his rodeo troupe, together with the Eddy County Sheriff's Posse and the local unit of the National Guard will participate in the parade, according to Simons.

Anyone able to ride a horse is cordially invited to participate.

As of yesterday morning half the prize money for the first, second, and third best floats had been contributed. Of this, $100.00 came from the First National Bank, and $50.00 from the Artesia Alfalfa Growers Association.

This left $150.00 to be raised to bring the total up to $300.00.

Twenty organizations and business firms had submitted float entries by yesterday morning.

These include: Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority, which will be a motor-drawn float to transport the queen candidates; Beta Sigma Phi sorority, Radio Station KSVP, United Veterans Club, DVA Auxiliary, Kiwanis Club.

Lions Club, Girl Scouts, Carper Drilling Company, Peoples State Bank, Pilot Club, Fire Department, Del Smith Motors, Business and Professional Women's Club, Mon Repos Dairy, Order of Rainbow for Girls.

Miley Implement Company, Rotary Club, Garden Club, Mead's Bread.

Parade Committee members are John Simons, Jr., chairman; Frank Bixby, Carl Foster, Clayton Menefee, Peggy Springer, secretary.

Graham Rites To Be Held In California

Burial services will be conducted tomorrow for David G. Graham, 30, of Loyalton, Calif., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Graham, 505 North Roselawn.

Graham was killed while working in the woods by a log rolling on him.

Graham lived in Artesia until 1946 when he moved out to California. He was a veteran of World War II, seeing action in Alaska, the Aleutian Islands, and France, in his four years of service. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge.

His brother, Eugene Victor Graham, was killed in action in the South Pacific on Nov. 13, 1942.

Survivors include the parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Graham, 505 North Roselawn; three brothers, B. L. Springfield, Oregon; R. H. Stockton, Calif., and John L. Lakeview, Oregon.

Five sisters: Mrs. Jerold E. Evans, 212 Shearman; Mrs. L. E. Ball, Roswell; Mrs. J. D. Whitlock, Carlsbad; Mrs. J. H. Taylor, Pampa; Mrs. T. E. Walker, Stockton, Calif.

Interment will be in Loyalton (Calif.) cemetery at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

St. Anthony Masses On Winter Schedule

Masses at St. Anthony Church, Ninth and Missouri, will be on the winter schedule beginning Sunday, Sept. 2. Time of daily Masses is unchanged, 7:30 a. m., but on Sundays Mass will be said at 7:30 and 9:00 a. m.

The former schedule was 6:30 and 8:00.

Rev. Francis Geary is pastor of St. Anthony's.

Three-Score of Clark Clan Attend Reunion Held in Lone Star State

Sixty persons attended the 19th annual reunion of the descendants of the J. O. A. and George L. Clark families at Glen Rose, Texas, Saturday, Aug. 25 and Sunday, Aug. 26.

Although the present reunion is only the 19th in the current series, they have been going on in one form or another since the close of the Civil War when the original members of the two families moved to Texas from Mississippi.

This year's reunion coincided with Rev. C. A. Clark's 53rd anniversary as a Methodist minister in New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, and Arizona.

Places Served

Rev. C. A. Clark's pastorates have been divided as follows:

New Mexico — Sherman Memorial Methodist, Loco Hills, where Rev. Clark is now serving his second year as supply pastor; Dexter Methodist, where he held a similar position for two years.

First Methodist Church, Artesia, six years; First Methodist, Hobbs, seven years; First Methodist, Clovis; First Methodist, Farmington; Central, Albuquerque.

Arizona — First Methodist, Prescott; Capitol Methodist, Phoenix.

Texas — First Methodist, Lubbock; First Methodist, Hereford.

In Oklahoma Reverend Clark served as superintendent of the Oklahoma Methodist Children's Home in Oklahoma City. The home has since been moved to Tahlequah.

Reverend Clark, who owns his home at 708 South Eighth street, has been "retired" for the past three and one-half years, as the statutory retirement age for Methodist ministers is 72, but has served as supply pastor at Loco Hills and Dexter since that time.

Enjoys Present

Commenting on his "semi-retirement", Reverend Clark said, "I would be ashamed not to live an active life until I am 100. I had rather live the next 25 years, than the past 75."

Rev. C. A. Clark, 708 South

SOCIETY

Four Artesians Attend Auxiliary School Session

Mrs. H. R. Paton, national committee woman of the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. D. M. Walter, president of the sixth district of the department of New Mexico, Mrs. H. B. Gilmore, local unit president, and Mrs. J. B. Mulcock, local unit secretary, returned home Sunday night from Albuquerque where they had attended a two-day session of school conference unit officers and chairman, Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 25-26.

Auxiliary distinguished guest was Mrs. James Kyffin of Denver, national membership chairman.

The American Legion also had a commanters and adjutant meeting and their distinguished guest was Erle Cooke, Jr., of George, national commander.

Both the Legion and Auxiliary members attended a banquet and dance at the Hugh A. Carlisle Post 13 club room Saturday night.

Following the talk by Commander Cooke an Indian chief and princess entertained the group with Indian songs and music. The chief presented Commander Cooke with an Indian headdress and gave him the name of "Chief One Feather."

The Hugh Carlisle post also presented Cooke with a large Navajo rug.

The auxiliary went on record as endorsing Seaborn Collins of Las Cruces, for national commander of the American Legion, and the candidacy will be announced at the Legion's annual convention Oct. 15-18 in Miami, Fla.

The auxiliary also went on record to carry out safety campaigns throughout the community in any way possible to help cut the death rate.

The table was draped with a lovely lace cloth and centered with a bouquet of fall flowers with tall white tapers in crystal holders on each side.

Coffee cakes, coffee and melon balls were served to the guests. Miss Burch presided over the lovely silver service.

Guests present were Misses Wanda Crume, Ann Armstrong, Dianni Thomas, Nancy Franklin, Jane Miller, Laura Lou Smith, Eileen and Eileen Marshall, and Willa Green.

Marsha Rowley, Donna Keith, Carolyn Cox, Billie Sue Stewig, Sylvia Miller, Charlene Rogers, Celesta Bradshaw, Georgia Crawford, Regina Hayes.

Jean Coll, Loy Sue Siegenthaler, Marilyn Cox, Connie Harsha, Carol Lannon, Shirley O'Dell, Pat Bookster, and Joyce Anthis.

Coke-Ettes present were Nila Naylor, Shirley Thorp, Betty Crow, Mary Lee Burns, Charlotte, Johnson, Linda Boyie, and Vee Ann Mitchell, and Mrs. Doyle Cole.

Episcopal Picnic Attended By Thirty

Thirty members of the Sunday School of St. Paul's Episcopal Church gathered in the church yard last Wednesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock to partake of plentiful food and drink.

Everyone got their fill of hot dogs, beans, donuts, potato chips and soft drinks.

Following the meal, the group broke up into smaller sections to play games.

It was announced Sunday School classes, which have been suspended during the summer months, will be resumed next Sunday at 9:45 a. m.

Sir Walter Raleigh never visited North America.

Baptist Society Conducts Royal Service Program

Members of the Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church met in the educational building on Tuesday morning at 10 for their Royal Service program.

Under the direction of Mrs. G. E. Jordan, the theme, "Mighty Movements in South America," was presented as "school reports" in a "class room" with Mrs. Wesley Sperry acting as "teacher."

"Pupils" answering roll call and reporting on missionary work in Brazil, Argentina, Paraguay, Uruguay, Chile, Colombia, Venezuela, Peru and Ecuador were: Sylvia Hager, Otho Howard, Eunice Holcomb, Nellie Walter, Eunice Herbert and Mary McGinty.

Mrs. Burr Clem, as a "visitor" brought devotional thoughts "They Who Sat in Darkness" from Isaiah 9:2-4 and Matthew 4:16.

Prayers for the missionaries and people in these countries were offered by Mrs. J. H. Holcomb, Mrs. G. E. Jordan and Mrs. Clem.

Mrs. R. L. Smith presided over a brief period of business. Plans were made to entertain the annual Association Workers' Conference which convenes here Sept. 10-11.

Mrs. Smith, in closing, appointed a committee for the purpose of nominating the officers for the new year, which begins Oct. 1.

Others attending were: Mmes. W. C. Garner, J. E. Mitchell, N. H. Cabot, Robert Corbin, J. D. Walker, Lee Vandergriff, J. H. Myers, J. S. Hillis, Charles Ransbarger, F. P. Turner, Martha Croft, Stella Muncy and G. M. Trumble.

Central PTA Starts Drive for Members

The membership committee of the Central School PTA will be on hand with new membership cards for the forthcoming school year, when the school opens Tuesday, Sept. 4.

"Making the world better by rearing a better generation of children is the goal of the Parent-Teacher Association. The organization presents the latest and best information on child training," says Mrs. Wayne Adkins, publicity chairman of the association.

"Membership in the National Congress of Parents and Teachers is now over three million and all parents are urged to join this great civilian army of men and women enlisted in volunteer service to children and youth.

"Your understanding, effort, influence and ability are needed to help carry forward a vital program of projects and activities.

"The Central School PTA hopes to have the largest membership to date and all parents are cordially invited to join and take an active part in the organization."

Country Club Chatter

By JACK FAUNTLEROY

In spite of my prediction earlier in the summer, Billy Bullock stomped all over his competition and won the golf championship for the third straight year. That just goes to show you that golf is a mighty peculiar game.

Here of Bill spends all the first part of the summer courtin' instead of practicing, then the first part of August he gets married and still no practice.

He comes out a couple of times, a week before the tournament starts and looks kinda rusty. Then wham, he catches on fire and thass all, Brother.

I'm not sorry that my prediction was wrong, because Billy is always a fine golfer, practice or not, and he holds the Championship like a true sportsman.

As I told him, I am only disappointed in the fact that this makes the third straight year that he has won the top trophy and now it is his to keep.

That means that the tournament committee has to make another expenditure for another trophy.

Oleta sees it much the same way that I do. She told me that she had spent a lot of time dusting that cup, and she was kinda lookin' forward to giving that chore to some other golfer's wife.

Now she has the job on a permanent basis. The trophy committee was mighty thoughtful in not giving her a dust cloth at the presentation.

Golfing Wit

B. E. Spencer, one of my favorite golfing buddies, is a former club champion. He is one of those consistent golfers that is down the middle, one, and in, and shoots a mighty good score.

He is also one of the wittiest people you can find for a golf round. He has a joke, and a good one for every hole. He has moved out of the championship flight, by choice, to play around with guys like me, who shoot the game strictly for pleasure. (No, I do not want to give the wrist watch back.)

The other day, during the qualifying match, we came up to the 17th hole. Mr. Spencer had twisted his knee on the second hole, but continued playing in order to qualify. When we walked up to the tee box, he ambled back to the bench and sat down with a sigh of relief and said as he sat down, "Say, young feller, you know I'm mighty wiry when it comes to this sittin' down. I can sure take a lot of it, and it doesn't bother me a bit." That gives you some idea of the chatter when Bal is on the Ball.

First In Pool

To be honest with you, I was not the first person to go in the new swimming pool, but I claim to be the first person over 21 to accomplish that feat. I think that Chuck Brown's daughter, and Nancy Booker were the first, since Chuck made them go in to pick up some paper that had blown in the pool while it was being filled.

That makes me the third person and the first BIG person to hit the pool. I hold this record by virtue of the fact that (1) Paul Nissen was asleep at the switch, (2) Paul Nissen can't undress in the length of time that it takes me to take off my shoes and watch, (3) Paul Nissen can't run very fast in fresh concrete.

Don't feel bad, Paul, maybe you can be the first one to break the ice and go swimming this winter. (I kinda doubt that though, as I'm conditioning myself now with cold showers.)

There ain't but two words to describe that new pool - beautiful and fittin'. If you don't have a swim suit, you ought to get one and try the pool. Nearly everybody else has.

Medalist day for the Ladies' Tournament is this coming Sunday. They have their trophies on display at the pro shop, and they are handsome. All of you ladies are invited and welcome, so get your names on the Trophy Hunter list.

berg, Selma Kay and Jerry Wallace.

Hundred Attend Presbyterian Church Picnic

Members of the Presbyterian Sunday School and guests turned out 100 strong Sunday, Aug. 26, to hear Rev. Ralph O'Dell preach a short sermon and to play softball and avail themselves of the plentiful food supply.

The picnic was staged at James Canyon, three miles above Mayhill. This location was decided upon in preference to Walnut Grove.

The menu featured fried chicken, baked ham, potato salad, pickled beets, cole slaw, fruit salad and coconut cream, apple, cherry and Boston cream pie for dessert.

Soft drinks brought to the picnic grounds by Gene White and Ralph Shugart, Jr., rounded out the refreshments.

Following the meal, some members went for a short hike.

Some members of the group including Rev. and Mrs. Ralph O'Dell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McKinley and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cooley, apparently were still hungry after the picnic, for they adjourned to Rev. O'Dell's cabin at Ruidoso for dinner.

Presbyterian Youth Hold Wiener Roast

Presbyterian Youth Association met at 6:45 o'clock Wednesday evening for a wiener roast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Linell, 1500 Hermosa Drive.

After the picnic supper a formal business meeting was held to discuss the fall program.

Eugene White was appointed moderator for a period of three months. He will choose two assistants to help map a schedule of discussion concerning religious matters and program material for the three-month period, the fall meeting beginning Sept. 9.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Allen are moving to Arizona next week. He was a major factor in the beginning of the YA and has been continually reliable help in organizations and program ideas.

Those present were Messrs. Mmes. Albert Linell, Jim L. Abbott, Bob McCaw, C. R. Cooley, W. Cook, Calvin Whitworth, Bob Gates and Emory Dillz and Eugene White.

Peaches and mixed load of fruit for sale at A. G. Bailey, West Richardson late Sunday evening or Monday morning.

Responds to your slightest wish - the quick answer you get when you nudge the throttle - the extra security you feel in the velvet grip of the brakes - the complete freedom from tension you find in Dynaflo Drive - the sense of mastery that makes every mile a joy.

And, confidentially, there's one more important way in which ROADMASTER stands alone, and that is in the modest cost of its pounds and performance.

Better come in soon and check for yourself what a great car and a great buy this one really is.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

is your front end steering straight?

YOUR Buick probably steers so sweetly on the road, it's hard to realize that thousands of travel-miles and millions of bumps may have put the front-wheels out of alignment.

Yet a little misalignment can scuff a lot of mileage off your front tires—and make control less sure.

It's an easy matter for us, with our special equipment, to give your whole front-end assembly the checkup it should have periodically. Drive in soon, why don't you, and let our experts make sure your Buick is tracking true?

You never tried a fine car like This One

YOU'RE right to set your sights higher when you buy a fine car.

You can rightly expect more room - more comfort - more performance - and a lordly smoothness in the way it carries you.

So we present these facts:

You'll find, in a ROADMASTER, more usable room than you'll find in any other six-passenger car in America.

You'll find the extra comfort of double-depth Foamtex cushions in ROADMASTER only.

You'll find that the ROADMASTER has a high-compression, valve-in-head power plant that is also Buick's own - a mighty Fireball

Engine endowed with more performance than most owners will ever need.

And you'll find that a ROADMASTER rolls with unsurpassed levelness and poise, thanks to coil springs on all four wheels - which is still another feature found on no other car in the fine-car field.

But the thrill that is yours, when you get this willing beauty out on the open road, is something that can't be summed up in any listing of features, one by one.

It's a "feel" which, we honestly believe, no other car can approach.

It's the sure way this dazzling performer holds the road - the way it

Safe Driving
Boys and Girls

More than two million have received special instruction during the past few years to make them safe drivers. When they take the wheel in their own cars or drive the family car, the Association of Motor Vehicle Owners and Drivers of New Mexico and the Surety Company will be glad to help them.

The significance of the rapidly growing safety-trained young drivers is shown by the fact that there were only 27 states in 1949 which had such a program. Now 47 states have it. The National Education Award Program for driver education is now being given to states which have made or maintained progress in driver education.

and to individual schools in those states. Artesia High School has a drivers course in its curriculum. Ten states have won the Association's Superior Awards for offering courses in driver education during the 1950-51 academic year.

Seventeen states and the District of Columbia will receive Meritorious Awards for giving driver education courses in at least 25 per cent of their secondary schools, with not less than 25 per cent of eligible students enrolled. The 17 states are: Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, and West Virginia.

Four of these states, New Jersey, North Dakota, Oklahoma and Vermont, also won a special award given for the first time in states in which parochial and private schools have shown unusual progress in driver education. With more than 25 per cent of schools and students participating in the program. The association, which pioneered in high school driver education for more than 15 years has sponsored these courses as an effective means of helping to reduce the toll of street and highway accidents, said nearly 5,000 have added driver training to their curriculum since the award was started in September, 1949. "Driver education has been found to be one of the best ways to the problem of reducing the toll of death, injury and damage on the highway."

enrollment of 1% students, against 57 per cent in 121 schools giving both work and practice driving. In 893 other schools, 42 per cent were enrolled in which do not meet the minimum standards for driver education. These substandard schools brought to 8,815 the schools in which young drivers were given some training and increased total enrollment to 707,262 students.

In the last 10 years, Hammett, the total of young drivers trained in high school probably exceeded 3,500,000. Complete records have been kept since the National Driver Education Award Program was started in 1949.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, chairman of the Award Program board of judges, which includes leading educators and officials. Other judges were Dr. John W. Studebaker, York City, chairman, and a committee for Traffic Safety, former U. S. Commissioner of Education, Joseph F. President, Association of and Surety Companies.

Ellett, Jr., Porter Military Academy, Charleston, S. C.; Thomas Donald, Washington, D. C., Commissioner Bureau of Public Safety. On the basis of preliminary 1950 census information, there are still more than 750,000 U. S. farms without electric service. More than 100,000 different items are purchased by railroads every year.

Western College
To Open Tuesday

Full term activities at New Mexico Western College, Silver City, will get underway Tuesday, Sept. 4, with registration for upper classes and orientation and placement examinations for freshmen and transfer students. The military situation and other uncertainties make it extremely difficult to predict enrollment this year. Donald S. Overturf, director of admissions, reported. Colleges throughout the nation are expecting the draft to cut their enrollment, he said.

However, the latest ruling received from Selective Service provides that a freshman student who enrolls in college now will be permitted to continue until the end of the school year if his college work is satisfactory, Overturf said. He predicted that this may cause the freshman class to be larger than had been expected.

A general assembly at 8 a. m. Tuesday in Light Hall will be the first meeting for the fall term students. Dr. H. W. James, president, will preside at the convocation. Students will be officially welcomed by Dr. James and Don Lacey, president of the student body.

Tuesday's program also calls for a general assembly at 1:30 p. m. in Light Hall with Dr. Nanette M. Ashby, dean of personnel, presiding. New students will be taken on campus tours starting from Light Hall at 10:15 a. m. At 8 p. m. students will attend a student-faculty-Air Force mixer at Graham gym sponsored by the student council. Wednesday will be taken up with upperclass registration and various placement examinations.

Four Artesians Attend Auxiliary School Session

Mrs. H. R. Paton, national committee woman of the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. D. M. Walter, president of the sixth district of the department of New Mexico, Mrs. H. B. Gilmore, local unit president, and Mrs. J. B. Mulcock, local unit secretary, returned home Sunday night from Albuquerque where they had attended a two-day session of school conference unit officers and chairman, Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 25-26.

Auxiliary distinguished guest was Mrs. James Kyffin of Denver, national membership chairman.

The American Legion also had a commanders and adjutant meeting and their distinguished guest was Eric Cocks, Jr., of George, national commander.

Both the Legion and Auxiliary members attended a banquet and dance at the Hugh A. Carlisle Post 13 club room Saturday night.

Following the talk by Commander Cocks an Indian chief and princess entertained the group with Indian songs and music. The chief presented Commander Cocks with an Indian headdress and gave him the name of "Chief One Feather."

The Hugh Carlisle post also presented Cocks with a large Navajo rug.

The auxiliary went on record as endorsing Seaborn Collins of Las Cruces, for national commander of the American Legion, and the candidacy will be announced at the Legion's annual convention Oct. 15-18 in Miami, Fla.

The auxiliary also went on record to carry out safety campaigns throughout the community in any way possible to help cut the death rate.

Episcopal Picnic Attended By Thirty

Thirty members of the Sunday School of St. Paul's Episcopal Church gathered in the church yard last Wednesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock to partake of plentiful food and drink.

Everyone got their fill of hot dogs, beans, donuts, potato chips and soft drinks.

Following the meal, the group broke up into smaller sections to play games.

It was announced Sunday School classes, which have been suspended during the summer months, will be resumed next Sunday at 9:45 a. m.

Sir Walter Raleigh never visited North America.

Coffee Held By Girls Club In Burch Home

The Coke-Ette Girls Club entertained with a coffee at the home of Wanda Burch, Saturday morning, Aug. 25, with Corinne Aaron and Alice Martin as co-hostesses.

The table was draped with a lovely lace cloth and centered with a bouquet of fall flowers with tall white tapers in crystal holders on each side.

Coffee cakes, coffee and melon balls were served to the guests. Miss Burch presided over the lovely silver service.

Guests present were Misses Wanda Crume, Ann Armstrong, Dianna Thomas, Nancy Franklin, Jane Miller, Laura Lou Smith, Eileen and Eileen Marshall, and Willa Green.

Marsha Rowley, Donna Keith, Carolyn Cox, Billie Sue Steiwig, Sylvia Miller, Charlene Rogers, Celesta Bradshaw, Georgia Crawford, Regina Hayes.

Jean Coll, Loy Sue Siegenthaler, Marilyn Cox, Connie Harsha, Carol Lannon, Shirley O'Dell, Pat Bookster, and Joyce Anthis.

Coke-Ettes present were Nila Naylor, Shirley Thorp, Betty Crow, Mary Lee Burns, Charlotte Johnson, Linda Boyie, and Vee Ann Mitchell, and Mrs. Doyle Cole.

Auxiliary Past Presidents Hold Meeting Monday

Past Presidents Parley of the American Legion Auxiliary, Clarence Kepple Unit 41, met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Ralph Rogers, president, southeast of Artesia.

Members planned to have an all day meeting to begin the annual project for making gifts for Veterans Hospitals gift shops.

The hostess served cake and coffee to Mmes. Earl Darst, Fred L. Jacobs, Frances Painter and D. M. Walter and a guest, Mrs. Readell, past president of the Silver City unit.

Country Club Chatter

In spite of my prediction earlier in the summer, Billy Bullock stomped all over his competition and won the golf championship for the third straight year. That just goes to show you that golf is a mighty peculiar game.

Here of Bill spends all the first part of the summer courtin' instead of practicing, then the first part of August he gets married and still no practice.

He comes out a couple of times, a week before the tournament starts and looks kinda rusty. Then wham, he catches on fire and thas all, Brother.

I'm not sorry that my prediction was wrong, because Billy is always a fine golfer, practice or not, and he holds the Championship like a true sportsman.

As I told him, I am only disappointed in the fact that this makes the third straight year that he has won the top trophy and now it is his to keep.

That means that the tournament committee has to make another expenditure for another trophy.

Oleta sees it much the same way that I do. She told me that she had spent a lot of time dusting that cup, and she was kinda lookin' forward to giving that chore to some other golfer's wife.

Now she has the job on a permanent basis. The trophy committee was mighty thoughtless in not giving her a dust cloth at the presentation.

Golfing Wit

B. E. Spencer, one of my favorite golfing buddies, is a former club champion. He is one of those consistent golfers that is down the middle, one, and in, and shoots a mighty good score.

He is also one of the wittiest people you can find for a golf round. He has a joke, and a good one for every hole. He has moved out of the championship flight, by choice, to play around with guys like me, who shoot the game strictly for pleasure. (No, I do not want to give the wrist watch back.)

The other day, during the qualifying match, we came up to the 17th hole. Mr. Spencer had twisted his knee on the second hole, but continued playing in order to qualify. When we walked up to the tee box, he ambled back to the bench and sat down with a sigh of relief and said as he sat down, "Say, young feller, you know I'm mighty wiry when it comes to this sittin' down. I can sure take a lot of it, and it doesn't bother me a bit." That gives you some idea of the chatter when Bal is on the Ball.

First In Pool

To be honest with you, I was not the first person to go in the new swimming pool, but I claim to be the first person over 21 to accomplish that feat. I think that Chuck Brown's daughter, and Nancy Booker were the first, since Chuck made them go in to pick up some paper that had blown in the pool while it was being filled.

That makes me the third person and the first BIG person to hit the pool. I hold this record by virtue of the fact that (1) Paul Nissen was asleep at the switch, (2) Paul Nissen can't undress in the length of time that it takes me to take off my shoes and watch, (3) Paul Nissen can't run very fast in fresh concrete.

Don't feel bad, Paul, maybe you can be the first one to break the ice and go swimming this winter. (I kinda doubt that though, as I'm conditioning myself now with cold showers.)

There ain't but two words to describe that new pool — beautiful and fittin'. If you don't have a swim suit, you ought to get one and try the pool. Nearly everybody else has.

Medalist day for the Ladies' Tournament is this coming Sunday. They have their trophies on display at the pro shop, and they are handsome. All of you ladies are invited and welcome, so get your names on the Trophy Hunter list.

is your front end steering straight?

YOUR Buick probably steers so sweetly on the road, it's hard to realize that thousands of travel-miles and millions of bumps may have put the front-wheels out of alignment.

Yet a little misalignment can scuff a lot of mileage off your front tires—and make control less sure.

It's an easy matter for us, with our special equipment, to give your whole front-end assembly the checkup it should have periodically. Drive in soon, why don't you, and let our experts make sure your Buick is tracking true?

Authorized Buick Service

You never tried a fine car like This One

YOU'VE a right to set your sights higher when you buy a fine car.

You can rightly expect more room — more comfort — more performance — and a lordly smoothness in the way it carries you.

So we present these facts:

You'll find, in a ROADMASTER, more usable room than you'll find in any other six-passenger car in America.

You'll find the extra comfort of double-depth Foamtex cushions in ROADMASTER only.

You'll find that the ROADMASTER has a high-compression, valve-in-head power plant that is also Buick's own — a mighty Fireball

Engine endowed with more performance than most owners will ever need.

And you'll find that a ROADMASTER rolls with unsurpassed levelness and poise, thanks to coil springs on all four wheels—which is still another feature found on no other car in the fine-car field.

But the thrill that is yours, when you get this willing beauty out on the open road, is something that can't be summed up in any listing of features, one by one.

It's a "feel" which, we honestly believe, no other car can approach.

It's the sure way this dazzling performer holds the road — the way it

responds to your slightest wish — the quick answer you get when you nudge the throttle — the extra security you feel in the velvet grip of the brakes — the complete freedom from tension you find in Dynaflo Drive — the sense of mastery that makes every mile a joy.

And, confidentially, there's one more important way in which ROADMASTER stands alone, and that is in the modest cost of its pounds and performance.

Better come in soon and check for yourself what a great car and a great buy this one really is.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Western College To Open Tuesday

Fall term activities at New Mexico Western College, Silver City, will get underway Tuesday, Sept. 4, with registration for upper classes and orientation and placement examinations for freshmen and transfer students.

The military situation and other uncertainties make it extremely difficult to predict enrollment this year. Donald S. Overturf, director of admissions, reported. Colleges throughout the nation are expecting the draft to cut their enrollment, he said.

However, the latest ruling received from Selective Service provides that a freshman student who enrolls in college now will be permitted to continue until the end of the school year if his college work is satisfactory. Overturf said. He predicted that this may cause the freshman class to be larger than had been expected.

A general assembly at 8 a. m. Tuesday in Light Hall will be the first meeting for the fall term students. Dr. H. W. James, president, will preside at the convocation. Students will be officially welcomed by Dr. James and Don Lacey, president of the student body.

Tuesday's program also calls for a general assembly at 1:30 p. m. in Light Hall with Dr. Nanette M. Ashby, dean of personnel, presiding. New students will be taken on campus tours starting from Light Hall at 10:15 a. m. At 8 p. m. students will attend a student-faculty-Air Force mixer at Graham gym sponsored by the student council.

Wednesday will be taken up with upperclass registration and various placement examinations.

Rotary Speaker Stresses Value Of Kindness

There is nothing in Rotary akin to selfishness," Bill Duckworth of Clovis, governor of District 170, told 106 Rotarians and Rotaryans from four clubs in an intercity program held at 7 p. m. Tuesday, in Masonic Temple.

"One cannot render a service to another without being the gainer for in helping the next fellow he makes himself better.

"Remember this always—that your duty is not to be better than your neighbor but to be better than yourself. Merely being kind is an exercise in self betterment.

"We have all noticed how people flock around a man of kindness, a man of good temper. People feel safe with him for they know they are not going to feel the sharp edge of a cutting tongue."

Ideal of Service

Other parts of the district governor's talk were centered around Rotary's "ideal of service," a concise history of the organization, which now numbers 350,000 members in 7,000 clubs in 83 countries, and a definition of Rotary's aims and method of conducting its business.

A feature of the program was the singing of the Barbershop Quartet, composed of Vancel Lowery, Ben Caudle, Glenn Caskey and Howard Haynes. They sang "A Toast," "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

During the supper, at which turkey was the main dish, background music was played by Marijo Storm, club pianist.

Neil Watson led group singing. Artesia Rotary club 1553 is 27 years old, being chartered in October, 1923.

Officers

Travis Stovall, president; J. D. Smith, vice-president; Bert N. Muncy, secretary; Walt Byers, treasurer.

Other directors—Bill McGinty, Jack Tinson, Neil Watson, Charlie Bullock, Harvey Yates.

Club bulletin is The Gusher. A. R. Wood is editor. Co-editors are Andy Corbin and Jim Abbott.

Stigler Tells Kiwanis Story Of Chaco Canyon

How Chaco Canyon's "Threatening Rock" finally toppled was the subject of an illustrated talk presented to Kiwanians at yesterday's meeting by Perry Stigler.

The "threatening rock was a boulder that had threatened to fall for years. The Indians in the territory braced the huge rock to keep it from falling, but it finally toppled on Jan. 22, 1941.

Because of the fall of the rock were unusually heavy rains that caused materials at the base of the rock to waste and melt away.

When it fell the rock damaged 25 rooms of Pueblo Bonito, at Chaco Canyon.

Stigler also told the club how the pueblo had been constructed and explained the general system of pueblo construction used by the Indians.

Construction was begun in 1000 B.C. and finished in 907 B.C.

The talk was illustrated by color slides.

Stigler who is now manager of Price's Creameries in Artesia was stationed at Chaco Canyon, while associated with the Civilian Conservation Corps for one year.

Quite a bit of excavation and road building took place in the vicinity of the canyon at that time.

The club also learned that the Eddy County 4-H Livestock Show is slated to take place in Artesia this fall and that plans will be formulated in the near future.

Members were reminded of the annual district meeting scheduled to be held at Ruidoso Sept. 15-16.

Thousand More Mexican Farm Workers Needed

Last minute requests have raised the figures for Mexican Nationals to be certified—from 4,000 to 4,875—according to Carl C. Foster, manager of the New Mexico Employment Service.

Of the total, Artesia Alfalfa Growers Association has requested 4,000, while Eddy County Farm and Livestock Bureau has asked for 875. Previous totals were 3,250 and 750 respectively.

Actual recruitment of Mexican workers will take place between Sept. 5 and 20, although not all workers will be in the country by that time.

Foster also pointed out that if any domestic workers wish to pick cotton they would have priority over Mexican nationals. However, domestic workers should get their requests for work in early, according to Foster.

Added Names Listed On 'Southern Pine'

Names of more southeastern New Mexicans taking part in Operation Southern Pine were made known when The Artesia Advocate received a note on which was penned information concerning Pfc. Otice E. Brown and Pfc. Lynn Menefee.

Both are in the 54th Signal Repair Company, both completed a radio repair school at Camp Gordon, Ga., on July 21, then went to Fort Bragg, N. C., for the exercise.

Private Brown is the son of Mrs. O. H. Brown, 113 West Missouri; Private Menefee, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Menefee, west of Artesia.

Legion Auxiliary Boosting Street Decoration Sale

Mrs. H. B. Gilmore, local unit president of American Legion Auxiliary, Clarence Kepple Unit 41, announced Tuesday that any merchant in the city who has not been contacted on rodeo street decorations and who desire same to please call Mrs. Gilmore at 1102 or Mrs. J. B. Mulcock, phone 638.

All members were urged to attend the confab.

Guests of the club were Don Fairon, Kansas City, Mo.; Jack Moreland, Pagosa Springs; Joe Rhinehart, El Paso; Gray Stark, and Lowe Wickersham, both of Artesia.

Yesterday's meeting was held at noon in the upstairs dining room of Cliff's Cafeteria.

joining buildings, which appeared in The Advocate of Aug. 28, while the back cover of last year's booklet was blank.

This year's pamphlet is indexed, last year's was not. The '51 edition has an expanded section on work permits, giving federal and state regulations as well as those of the high school; the 40-50 edition merely gave a resume of school regulations.

This year's manual also has an expanded section on the library, including an explanation of the Dewey Decimal System of classifying books which is used by practically all libraries in the United States.

Work Training

A section on "Distributive Education" giving rules and regulations on part-time employment in the retail trades and its relation to the academic program is another improvement featured by the new booklet.

This year's football and basketball schedules are double rather than single spaced, making for easier readability; B-team football schedule which was included in last year's booklet is omitted in this year's.

The same principle is followed in the listings of members of the board of education, administrative, custodial, and instructional officers.

This year's booklet is bigger, having 63 pages, as against 55 for last year's.

Both pamphlets give the High School song and the New Mexico State song, "Oh Fair New Mexico."

SCHOOL SONG

Hail to Artesia High,
Cheer them along the way,
Onward to victory,
May we win again today,
We'll give a cheer for Artesia High.
Long may they reign Supreme,
Shout! Till the echoes ring,
For the glory of our team,

OH FAIR NEW MEXICO
Under a sky of azure,
Where balmy breezes blow;
Kissed by the golden sunshine,
Is Nuevo Mexico.
Home of the montezuma
With fiery hearts aglow
State of the deeds historic

Oh Fair New Mexico
We love, we love you so,
Our hearts with pride o'er flow
No matter where we go,
Oh Fair New Mexico,
We love, we love you so

State Magazine Prints Artesia Railroad Yarn

Artesia's railroad boom of 40 years ago, which died aborning, is the subject of an article entitled, "Railroad Fever," authored by Bob Koonce, manager of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce, in the September issue of New Mexico Magazine, just released.

The article is illustrated with pictures of the site of the bed of the railroad which was slated to run from Artesia to El Paso, via Hope.

Also shown are men and women fishing in the now dried up Penasco stream, and mule team traveling down Main street.

The story of the railroad's birth and death were the subject of an advance article in the last issue of the Artesia Advocate.

Who Went Where

Orville (Rooster) Durbin entered Southwestern General Hospital, El Paso, Tuesday to undergo surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wallis returned home Tuesday from Jacksboro, Texas, where they had spent part of the summer on a ranch. The first part of June, they went on an extended trip to Grand Canyon, San Francisco and to the coast to Redwood Forest and into Coos Bay, Ore., where they spent two weeks. They said in Coos Bay instead of giving a parking ticket to visitors; they gave courtesy cards and gave the location of good fishing spots. They said courtesy was certainly shown to visitors in that town. They returned by way of M. Lassen, Calif., Reno, Nev., Hoover Dam and into Texas. Mr. Wallis is a teacher at junior high and Mrs. Wallis is a teacher at Park School.

James A. Knauf, 1407 Yucca, engineer with the Artesia office of the U. S. Geological Survey, returned Monday from Farmington, where he has been helping out district engineer Philip T. McGrath for the last three weeks.

W. W. Adair, Jr., 1104 West Centre, spent Tuesday in Roswell on official business. He also stopped off at Hagerman and Dexter.

Artesian Defines 'The Thing Second' As Horsehair Snake

An answer to the question "What is the Thing II?" has been found.

The man who produced the answer is no biologist, but he thinks the animal in question is a horsehair snake.

When a reporter gave the man

in question a description of the animal whose identity was obscure until that time, this was the first thing he said.

Want to know who the man in question is? Well, it is W. W. Adair, Jr., 1104 West Centre.

The story of The Thing II was published in the Aug. 28 issue of this newspaper.

1951 Bulldog Better Fed Than 1950 Model

Maybe it's an omen, but a good one.

The Bulldog on the cover of the Artesia High School's new handbook shows up in black instead of the pale lusterless color shown on last year's handbook.

And this year's Bulldog isn't the hungry canine of 1950 as was the bulldog on the cover last year. The 1951 bulldog is growing ferociously over a bon'. Could it be that of a Caveman?

Study Halls

All study halls will meet in the library with the exception of the second and third period auxiliary study halls. The second period auxiliary will meet in room 127; third period auxiliary in room 136. Pupils are instructed to abide by their enrollment card schedule as to study hall.

Lockers

Each student has been assigned a locker and given the combination of the lock, code of which is on the enrollment card. "If you do not know how the combination works," advises the principal, "ask a student who was here last year to help you."

Unexcused Absences

Unexcused absences will be given for not having secured an excuse before school time or for other reasons not acceptable to the school. A pupil will be assigned to detention hall to make up time missed for these unexcused absences or tardiness.

Enrollment Card Stubs

All eighth grade girls will report at the northeast corner of the gym to receive their enrollment card stubs. This stub will contain all information pertaining to class schedules. "Please keep this stub until you have learned the routine."

Eighth grade boys report to the southwest corner of gym; seventh grade girls, northeast corner; seventh grade boys, southeast corner.

Class Schedule
September 4—
First period—9:50-10:26.
Second—10:31-11:07.

Third—11:12-11:48.

Don't let "little things" get you down!

The wisest truckers in town rarely come to us for major repairs.

That's because they make a practice of turning their equipment over to us at regular intervals—let us catch the "little things" that go wrong before they can eat away performance and run up operating expenses.

We specialize in giving truckers more "run" for their maintenance money. Our repair department is staffed by veteran mechanics who know how to arrest truck troubles before they mushroom into full-grown breakdowns!

The service is fast, the work done right—and the savings? 3-Way Thrift for truckers! You (1) cut down the possibility of costly repairs, (2) get better performance with less "down time" and (3) get more years of service from the trucks you now run.

Isn't that mighty important to you today?

Young Taught Two Million Girls in Last Four Years

Two million youth special courses in driving during the last four years have been spread rapidly in recent years. With this latter group the total of school-trained drivers has just passed the 2,000,000 mark, Mr. Harvey observed.

Official reports from every state show that 7,922 public schools in the last year gave either classroom instruction meeting the association's minimum standards for driver education courses, or classroom work combined with practice driving. This is an increase of 725 schools, or 10 per cent more than a year ago and 37.7 per cent of the 21,009 public secondary schools in the nation, according to Harvey.

More than two out of every five eligible students were enrolled in these courses in the 1950-51 academic year, he emphasized. Of 1,528,781 eligibles, 370,651 were enrolled for classroom work only, a gain of approximately 45,550 over the previous year.

Combined classroom and practice driving courses enrolled 291,902, about 55,900 more than in 1949-50. In 2,801 schools, classroom only training had an average enrollment of 125 students per school, against 57 per school in 5,121 schools giving both classroom work and practice driving.

In 893 other schools, 45,009 students were enrolled in courses which do not meet the association's standards for driver education. These substandard courses brought to 8,815 the total of schools in which young drivers were given some training last year, and increased total enrollment to 707,262 students.

In the last 10 years, Harvey estimated, the total of young drivers trained in high school courses probably exceeded 3,500,000. Complete records have been kept by the states since the association sponsored its National Driver Education Award Program four years ago.

Ned H. Dearborn, president, National Safety Council, served as chairman of the Award Program's board of judges, which included leading educators and safety specialists. Other judges were: Dr. John W. Studebaker, of New York City, chairman, National Committee for Traffic Safety and Education; Joseph F. Mathai, president, Association of Casualty and Surety Companies.

Mrs. George W. Jaquis, Winchester, Ind., national chairman of safety, General Federation of Women's Clubs; Dr. William Jensen, superintendent of schools, New York City.

Col. Robert T. Ellett, Jr., president, Porter Military Academy, Charleston, S. C.; Thomas H. MacDonald, Washington, D. C., commissioner, Bureau of Public Roads and chairman, Coordinating Committee, President's Highway Safety Conference.

Also H. Elmer Marsh, of Montana, president, American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators; James J. Newman, Washington, D. C., chairman, Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee.

Gordon C. Graham, supervisor of safety education, Detroit Public Schools; David M. Green, principal, Delmar (Del.) High School; Kenneth E. Oberholzer, president, American Association of School Administrators.

Dr. Wayne O. Reed, U. S. Office of Education, Washington, D. C.; J. Harvey Rodgers, superintendent, Gloucester County public schools, Woodbury, N. J.; M. R. Trabue, State College, Pa., chairman, National Commission on Safety Education, and Mrs. Fred Knight, Cartersville, Ga., national safety chairman, National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

SSA Field Agent To Be in Artesia On September 4

Ralph H. Yowell, field representative of the Roswell Social Security Administration office, will be in Artesia Sept. 4 to assist Artesia residents in making application for old-age or survivors insurance benefits. He may be contacted at the office of the New Mexico State Employment Service, Ward Building, between 10:00 and noon. Self-employed persons were reminded today by Yowell that coverage under the new law is mandatory and not voluntary. "There's a lot of talk going around to the effect that the self-employed themselves can decide whether or not to report their earnings for social security purposes. While it is true that certain professionals are excluded from coverage, the exclusion is by law and not by choice," Yowell stated.

Self-employed men and women who are not excluded by law, will have to report their 1951 "net earnings" for social security purposes on their income tax returns next March. The social security tax will be paid at the same time.

In the meantime, those businessmen and women who are now covered for the first time under social security should get social security numbers if they have never done so. Applications for these numbers may be secured from the Artesia Post Office or the employment office here in Artesia.

Anyone whose net earnings from self-employment are $400 or more in a taxable year is "covered" under the new law, unless the earnings are derived from the operation of a farm or the practice of an excluded profession. Among those excluded are doctors, dentists, veterinarians, full-time practicing public accountants, professional engineers.

For further information about this or any other phase of the new Social Security Administration law you should contact Yowell when he is in Artesia or write to office in Roswell.

Hey There, Waco You Ought to Buy Hay From Artesia!

Artesia and vicinity, which in the past have been big suppliers of hay to areas in need of it will be unable to meet the demand this year, according to information released by the Artesia Chamber of Commerce.

Bob Koonce, manager, told the Waco Chamber in a letter dated Aug. 24 that hay would be available for shipment from here the next few weeks, and very little thereafter.

The letter quoted prices ranging from $42.00 to $50.00 per ton for stored fully cured hay, and that interested farmers would have to come after it if they wanted it.

A list of key farmers in the area was also supplied. A reply from the Waco Chamber dated Aug. 27 stated that with prices of hay and freight rates from Waco being what they are, livestock and dairy men would be unable to take advantage of the offer of the Artesia Chamber.

The letter further stated that the only way Waco farmers and dairy men could take advantage of the offer would be if the Interstate Commerce Commission saw fit to install drought freight rates for the area.

At the time of writing no word of action from Washington had been received. So it looks like Artesia will not be able to play the role of major hay supplier this year.

Special Display Set For Oil Week Issued For Service Stations

A three-piece window display—a natural for service stations during Oil Progress Week, Oct. 14-20—is now being distributed by the Oil Industry Information Committee.

The colorful posters can be put up on a service station window in less than a minute. The three unit set feature the industry theme of "Your Progress and Oil Progress Go Hand in Hand"; "Oil Progress Serves the Nation"; and "Oil Progress Serves You."

The centerpiece is a duplication of the billboard created by nationally-known artist, Howard Scott, especially for Oil Progress Week. Printed in seven colors, the centerpiece measures 14x37 inches. Two diamond-shaped side panels are 12 inches square, and are red and blue in color.

Rotary Speaker Stresses Value Of Kindness

There is nothing in Rotary akin to selfishness," Bill Duckworth of Clovis, governor of District 170, told 106 Rotarians and Rotaryans from four clubs in an intercity program held at 7 p. m., Tuesday, in Masonic Temple.

"One cannot render a service to another without being the gainer for in helping the next fellow he makes himself better.

"Remember this always—that your duty is not to be better than your neighbor but to be better than yourself. Merely being kind is an exercise in self betterment.

"We have all noticed how people flock around a man of kindness, a man of good temper. People feel safe with him for they know they are not going to feel the sharp edge of a cutting tongue."

Ideal of Service

Other parts of the district governor's talk were centered around Rotary's "ideal of service," a concise history of the organization, which now numbers 350,000 members in 7,000 clubs in 83 countries, and a definition of Rotary's aims and method of conducting its business.

A feature of the program was the singing of the Barbershop Quartet, composed of Vancel Lowery, Ben Caudle, Glenn Caskey and Howard Haynes. They sang "A Toast," "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

During the supper, at which turkey was the main dish, background music was played by Marijo Storm, club pianist.

Neil Watson led group singing. Artesia Rotary club 1553 is 27 years old, being chartered in October, 1923.

Officers

Travis Stovall, president; J. D. Smith, vice-president; Bert N. Muncy, secretary; Walt Byers, treasurer.

Other directors—Bill McGinty, Jack Tinson, Neil Watson, Charlie Bullock, Harvey Yates.

Club bulletin is The Gusher. A. R. Wood is editor. Co-editors are Andy Corbin and Jim Abbott.

Stigler Tells Kiwanis Story Of Chaco Canyon

How Chaco Canyon's "Threatening Rock" finally toppled was the subject of an illustrated talk presented to Kiwanians at yesterday's meeting, by Perry Stigler.

The "threatening rock" was a boulder that had threatened to fall for years. The Indians in the territory braced the huge rock to keep it from falling, but it finally toppled on Jan. 22, 1941.

Because of the fall of the rock were unusually heavy rains that caused materials at the base of the rock to waste and melt away.

When it fell the rock damaged 25 rooms of Pueblo Bonito, at Chaco Canyon.

Stigler also told the club how the pueblo had been constructed and explained the general system of pueblo construction used by the Indians.

Construction was begun in 1000 B.C. and finished in 907 B.C.

The talk was illustrated by color slides.

Stigler who is now manager of Price's Creameries in Artesia was stationed at Chaco Canyon, while associated with the Civilian Conservation Corps for one year.

Quite a bit of excavation and road building took place in the vicinity of the canyon at that time.

The club also learned that the Eddy County 4-H Livestock Show is slated to take place in Artesia this fall and that plans will be formulated in the near future.

Members were reminded of the annual district meeting scheduled to be held at Ruidoso Sept. 15-16.

Thousand More Mexican Farm Workers Needed

Last minute requests have raised the figures for Mexican Nationals to be certified—from 4,000 to 4,875—according to Carl C. Foster, manager of the New Mexico Employment Service.

Of the total, Artesia Alfalfa Growers Association have requested 4,000, while Eddy County Farm and Livestock Bureau has asked for 875. Previous totals were 3,250 and 750 respectively.

Actual recruitment of Mexican workers will take place between Sept. 5 and 20, although not all workers will be in the country by that time.

Foster also pointed out that if any domestic workers wish to pick cotton they would have priority over Mexican nationals. However, domestic workers should get their requests for work in early, according to Foster.

Added Names Listed On 'Southern Pine'

Names of more southeastern New Mexicans taking part in Operation Southern Pine were made known when The Artesia Advocate received a note on which was penned information concerning Pfc. Otice E. Brown and Pfc. Lynn Menefee.

Both are in the 54th Signal Repair Company, both completed a radio repair school at Camp Gordon, Ga., on July 21, then went to Fort Bragg, N. C., for the exercise. Private Brown is the son of Mrs. O. H. Brown, 113 West Missouri; Private Menefee, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Menefee, west of Artesia.

Legion Auxiliary Boosting Street Decoration Sale

Mrs. H. B. Gilmore, local unit president of American Legion Auxiliary, Clarence Kepple Unit 41, announced Tuesday that any merchant in the city who has not been contacted on rodeo street decorations and who desire same to please call Mrs. Gilmore at 1102 or Mrs. J. B. Mulcock, phone 638.

All members were urged to attend the confab.

Guests of the club were Don Fairon, Kansas City, Mo.; Jack Moreland, Pagosa Springs; Joe Rhinehart, El Paso; Gray Stark, and Lowe Wickersham, both of Artesia.

Yesterday's meeting was held at noon in the upstairs dining room of Cliff's Cafeteria.

joining buildings, which appeared in The Advocate of Aug. 28, while the back cover of last year's booklet was blank.

This year's pamphlet is indexed, last year's was not. The '31 edition has an expanded section on work permits, giving federal and state regulations as well as those of the high school; the 40-50 edition merely gave a resume of school regulations.

This year's manual also has an expanded section on the library, including an explanation of the Dewey Decimal System of classifying books which is used by practically all libraries in the United States.

Work Training

A section on "Distributive Education" giving rules and regulations on part-time employment in the retail trades and its relation to the academic program is another improvement featured by the new booklet.

This year's football and basketball schedules are double rather than single spaced, making for easier readability; B-team football schedule which was included in last year's booklet is omitted in this year's.

The same principle is followed in the listings of members of the board of education, administrative, custodial, and instructional officers.

This year's booklet is bigger, having 63 pages, as against 55 for last year's.

Both pamphlets give the High School song and the New Mexico State song, "Oh Fair New Mexico."

SCHOOL SONG

Hail to Artesia High,
Cheer them along the way,
Onward to victory,
May we win again today,
We'll give a cheer for Artesia High.

Long may they reign Supreme,
Shout! Till the echoes ring,
For the glory of our team,
A! H! S!

OH FAIR NEW MEXICO

Under a sky of azure,
Where balmy breezes blow;
Kissed by the golden sunshine,
Is Nuevo Mexico.

Home of the montezuma
With fiery hearts aglow
State of the deeds historic
Is Nuevo Mexico.

Oh Fair New Mexico
We love, we love you so,
Our hearts with pride o'er flow
No matter where we go,
Oh Fair New Mexico,
We love, we love you so

State Magazine Prints Artesia Railroad Yarn

Artesia's railroad boom of 40 years ago, which died aborning, is the subject of an article entitled, "Railroad Fever," authored by Bob Koonce, manager of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce, in the September issue of New Mexico Magazine, just released.

The article is illustrated with pictures of the site of the bed of the railroad which was slated to run from Artesia to El Paso, via Hope.

Also shown are men and women fishing in the now dried up Penasco stream, and mule team traveling down Main street.

The story of the railroad's birth and death were the subject of an advance article in the last issue of the Artesia Advocate.

Who Went Where

Orville (Rooster) Durbin entered Southwestern General Hospital, El Paso, Tuesday to undergo surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wallis returned home Tuesday from Jacksboro, Texas, where they had spent part of the summer on a ranch. The first part of June, they went on an extended trip to Grand Canyon, San Francisco and to the coast to Redwood Forest and into Coos Bay, Ore., where they spent two weeks. They said in Coos Bay instead of giving a parking ticket to visitors, they gave courtesy cards and gave the location of good fishing spots. They said courtesy was certainly shown to visitors in that town. They returned by way of Mt. Lassen, Calif., Reno, Nev., Hoover Dam and into Texas. Mr. Wallis is a teacher at junior high and Mrs. Wallis is a teacher at Park School.

James A. Knauf, 1407 Yucca, engineer with the Artesia office of the U. S. Geological Survey, returned Monday from Farmington, where he has been helping out district engineer Philip T. McGrath for the last three weeks.

W. W. Adair, Jr., 1104 West Centre, spent Tuesday in Roswell on official business. He also stopped off at Hagerman and Dexter.

Artesian Defines 'The Thing Second' As Horsehair Snake

An answer to the question "What is the Thing II?" has been found.

The man who produced the answer is no biologist, but he thinks the animal in question is a horsehair snake.

When a reporter gave the man

in question a description of the animal whose identity was obscure until that time, this was the first thing he said.

Want to know who the man in question is? Well, it is W. W. Adair, Jr., 1104 West Centre.

The story of The Thing II was published in the Aug. 28 issue of this newspaper.

1951 Bulldog Better Fed Than 1950 Model

Maybe it's an omen, but a good one.

The Bulldog on the cover of the Artesia High School's new handbook shows up in black instead of the pale lusterless color shown on last year's handbook.

And this year's Bulldog isn't the hungry canine of 1950 as was the bulldog on the cover last year. The 1951 bulldog is growing ferociously over a bon. Could it be that of a Caveman?

Study Halls

All study halls will meet in the library with the exception of the second and third period auxiliary study halls. The second period auxiliary will meet in room 127; third period auxiliary in room 136. Pupils are instructed to abide by their enrollment card schedule as to study hall.

Lockers

Each student has been assigned a locker and given the combination of the lock, code of which is on the enrollment card. "If you do not know how the combination works," advises the principal, "ask a student who was here last year to help you."

Unexcused Absences

Unexcused absences will be given for not having secured an excuse before school time or for other reasons not acceptable to the school. A pupil will be assigned to detention hall to make up time missed for these unexcused absences or tardiness.

Enrollment Card Stubs

All eighth grade girls will report at the northeast corner of the gym to receive their enrollment card stubs. This stub will contain all information pertaining to class schedules. "Please keep this stub until you have learned the routine."

Eighth grade boys report to the southwest corner of gym; seventh grade girls, northeast corner; seventh grade boys, southeast corner.

Class Schedule

September 4—
First period—9:50-10:26.
Second—10:31-11:07.

Third—11:12-11:48.
Fourth—1:00-1:50.

Don't let "little things" get you down!

The wisest truckers in town rarely come to us for major repairs.

That's because they make a practice of turning their equipment over to us at regular intervals—let us catch the "little things" that go wrong before they can eat away performance and run up operating expenses.

We specialize in giving truckers more "run" for their maintenance money. Our repair department is staffed by veteran mechanics who know how to arrest truck troubles before they mushroom into full-grown breakdowns!

The service is fast, the work done right—and the savings? 3-Way Thrift for truckers! You (1) cut down the possibility of costly repairs, (2) get better performance with less "down time" and (3) get more years of service from the trucks you now run.

Isn't that mighty important to you today?

Table Given On Four Grid And Cage Cards

For the benefit of sports fans four schedules—A and B squad football, high school basketball, and basketball tourney schedule for 1951-52, is listed below.

The schedules have been compiled from officials bulletins of the schools.

So far there has been no word as to the number of cage squads to be in action this coming season.

Last year formation of A, B and C squads keep basketballs flying in a dizzy whirl all season.

First to swing into action on the gridiron is the Artesia High School squad, which has been working out since Aug. 18, with Jack Tinson, head coach, directing the practice, aided by Coaches Reese Smith, Cal Hall, and the junior high mentor.

Lobos of 1950 Spread Korea To Newfoundland

When football practice opens at UNM next week Dud DeGroot and staff will be facing the problem of moulding a team from a draft-riddered group of returnees and a set of good, but inexperienced, ex-high school players.

Since last season Uncle Sam, with Selective Service running interference, has opened wide holes in the Lobos' offensive and defensive lines and has broken into the secondary, cutting out some promising backfield talent.

Last year's Lobos are spread from Korea to Newfoundland, San Francisco to New York.

"We lost some promising boys from last year's squad before school was out," DeGroot said, "and we may have lost some during the summer that we haven't heard from yet."

Pvt. J. L. (Bucky) Brandenburg is the first of the ex-Lobos to see duty on an active war front. The young halfback, whose breakaway running was one of the few bright spots in last year's dismal season, is on duty with the 148th Bomber Squadron in Korea.

On the other side of the world, in Newfoundland, is Albuquerque's Bob Cook. The big fullback, also on duty with the Air Force, is stationed at Tepperrell AFB, St. John's, Newfoundland.

Manny Orosco, the Belen flash, of whom great things were hoped for in the backfield this year, is doing his maneuvering for the U. S. Navy aboard LST 883, tabbed "The Galloping Ghost of the Korean Coast."

Another Manny, this one Morales, is stationed with the Army Tank Corps at Camp Polk, La. The hard driving El Pasoan is piloting one of the Army's largest tanks for the 822 Heavy tank battalion.

Albuquerque's Herbie Hughes is undergoing basic training at Keesler AFB, Miss., and big defensive guard Kenny Kostenbader is taking pre-flight training at Sheppard AFB, Texas.

Other Lobos who were slated to return are now on active duty with the armed services are Milton Price, Marines; Gus Hampton, Navy; Ray Guertie, Air Force; Bill Guiney, Navy; and trainer Jack Davis, Navy.

Widow-Maker, Veteran of Rodeo Chutes, To Perform in Artesia Cowboy Tourney

"Widow-Maker" . . . An ominous name, but there could be none more appropriate for this Elliott-Steiner bronc, one of the many top bucking horses to be seen at the United Veterans rodeo.

"Widow-Maker" is not an old horse in years, but he is a veteran of the chutes. He has lost more top-flight cowboys in Texas and Oklahoma rodeos during the past two years than any other horse on record. A product of the Oklahoma cattle country, "Widow-Maker" showed his reluctance to become a saddle horse five years ago, and was sold to a small-time rodeo producer. Word got to "Wild Bill" Elliott and Tommy Steiner that "Widow-Maker" was a horse that could and regularly did make serious efforts to live up to his name, and after a trip to Oklahoma, these partners made a deal that resulted in their shipping "Widow-Maker" back to their rough stock ranch near Mineral Wells, Texas, where the hundreds of broncs and bulls that will entertain you Sept. 13-15 are quartered between shows.

Young Horsemen To Show Skill At State Fair

Monday, Oct. 1, will be a big day for youthful horsemen and horsewomen of New Mexico.

That's the day of the junior horse show at the New Mexico State Fair in Albuquerque, one day only. Riders under 17 years of age will compete in performance classes in three age groups and open events.

It's one of the most popular features of the annual state fair horse show. Fair dates this year are Sept. 29-Oct. 7.

There will be one riding class for tiny tots, under six. Children six to 11 will compete in a stake race and riding and reining classes. Juniors 12 to 16 show in the same three classes.

Open classes for any rider under 17 include a cloverleaf barrel race, separate western parade classes for boys and girls, western matched pairs, reining class and a bending race.

Heber Stewart of Clovis, veteran breeder of quarter horses, will be arena director for the junior horse show.

The 1950 junior show drew many enthusiastic entries and this year's event is expected to top 1950.

Entry details may be obtained from the State Fair premium book. For free copy, write Leon H. Harms, Secretary-Manager, New Mexico State Fair, Box 1693, Albuquerque.

Advocate Designs And Prints New Bulldog Blotter

Bulldog followers will have improved and more attractive football blotters to help them keep posted on when the Bulldogs are playing where.

The new blotters which were designed and printed by The Advocate Publishing Company are tri-colored. Three thousand copies were produced.

The body of the card, which measures 8 by 4 1/2 inches, is white; top and bottom borders are orange, names of teams and other information are in black type.

The top orange section has the inscription "Bulldogs" in white capital letters, and printed over it is "Artesia High School's Complete 1951 Football Schedule."

The words 1951 Football Schedule are in larger type than the

Juarez to Stage Gigantic 10-Day Liberty Festival

One thing that Mexican people exceed all others in is having fun, and the citizens of Juarez, located immediately across the Rio Grande River from El Paso, Texas, will attempt to prove this when they commence a combined 10-day cotton and Independence Day Celebration Sept. 7.

The continuing force of any festival is its music. Juarez will have the best in the band of the War Department of Mexico. The band is composed of over 100 of the top musicians in Mexico. Each one holds the title of professor of music.

With this top-flight music providing the backdrop, the ten days will be crammed with such activities as bullfighting, roping and riding, fireworks, boxing, wrestling, and an endless procession of dancing.

Scheduled bullfights are on Sept. 8 and 16. The first will feature popular woman fighters, and negotiations are underway to bring the top matadors of Mexico to the border for the second.

A riding and roping exhibition by the outstanding "charros" of Mexico will be staged Sept. 15.

One of the highlights of the festival will be the selection of the festival queen. Balloting on several candidates is currently in process.

The center of activities will naturally be the Juarez Plaza. This site will be transformed into a fair grounds complete with game booths, confectionary counters, and the works.

The Fair Committee of the Regional Tourist Commission of Juarez, sponsors of the affair, plan to make the festival an annual occasion. "Someday," officials said, "people will be coming from all over Mexico and the United States to attend our cotton and Independence Fair."

Mouth and Jaw Nature of Most Grid Injuries

Statistics show that 50 per cent of the injuries incidental to playing football are those of a mouth, tooth, lip or jaw nature, says the August bulletin of New Mexico High School Athletic Association, issued by Morris W. Ward, Roswell, executive secretary.

A blow on the jaw can also result in more serious injuries, not included in the 50 per cent figure, such as concussion or cerebral hemorrhage which can and has resulted in death.

Fair adequate protection has been designed for most all of the body such as hip pads, shoulder pads, and helmets and they are being improved upon from time to time.

Adequate protection for the skull was deemed so essential that in 1928 wearing a protective helmet was made mandatory for high school players.

The August bulletin also contains a message from Glen F. McCracken, president, and Secretary Ward, along with some football rule changes, list of grid games wanted, and marking of a football field.

President's Statement

"The sudden death of our president, Mr. Paul H. Deaton, left a vacant place in the heart of each one of us who knew him. Paul was a great leader and pursued with vigor the program of forming a more efficient athletic program for our schools.

"It was with a profound humility I took over the presidency of the New Mexico High School Athletic Association, the Board of Control having voted that I fill out the unexpired term of Mr. Deaton.

"It will be impossible for me to continue the splendid work that Paul has been carrying on. However, since I have been chosen, I pledge my untiring efforts, and the giving of best, to a continuation of improving our athletic program.

"I shall work closely with the Board of Control and the Executive Secretary, that our decisions may be sound and beneficial. I am sure I speak the sentiments of the Board of Control and our Executive Secretary, when I say we covet a continuation of your counsel and support. To build and to build soundly would seem a worthy goal."

Ward's Message

"Another school year is just around the corner and it is our sincere desire to make this one of the best. As we face the many problems that will come up, it is hoped that all member schools will continue to give us the same whole-hearted support as in the past.

"All of us are working toward the goal of having the best high school athletic program possible, and it is through our co-ordinated efforts that this will be accomplished. The State Office is ready to serve you at any time, so do not hesitate to call on us."

Football Rule Changes

The attention of all is called to a few of the important changes this year in National Federation Football Rules. There are also some changes to your attention.

Players and Coaches—Notice the diagram at the front of the Rule Book. A Coach's name must be established between 30 yard lines not less than 30 yards from the sideline.

Playing Field—Notice in the diagram that a barrier, preferably a wire fence, should surround the playing field.

Ball—(Rule 1-2) A TAYLOR OREGON BALL shall be used for all games. For night games the ball team shall provide light-colored balls with or without contrasting stripes, and a tan ball with one-inch stripe one inch from each end of the laces. Referee has authority to select ball in case agreement cannot be reached.

Substitutions—(Rule 2-7) Any number of substitutions may be made whenever the ball is in the field before the snap or free kick. Whistle to declare ball dead in all specified conditions.

Neutral Zone—(Rule 2-7) This rule has been revised for better coverage and prohibits the standing in neutral zone after the snap. This will prevent the player from standing over the line when calling defensive signals.

Marking of Football Field

Last year some schools failed to mark the football field properly. Be sure this year that the field is marked off in 5 yard increments and that the lines are marked with a material which is not injurious to eyes or skin.

Last season there were several bad line burns that could have been prevented if the person responsible for marking the field had selected non-injurious material for lines. This one item of caution will pay good dividends.

Natatorium Was Ace Oasis Of Sunburn Season

Mecca of coolies in the sweltering 100-degree Artesia heat this summer has been the Artesia municipal pool located on the high school campus.

And, the pool will continue to remain open for boys and girls physical education classes, possibly for a three-week period in September, Paul Kerley, pool manager, said Tuesday.

There is a possibility that the public may be able to continue using the pool in the period from 4 p. m. to 6 p. m.

The pool opened on May 2, operated on a 1.6 p. m. basis Sunday to Friday. It was also kept open on Wednesday night from 7 to 9. A two-week trial run of a bargain day, Friday, with admission set at 10 and 20 cents instead of the regular 20 and 30 cents, proved a failure since there weren't enough swimmers to make the deal profitable.

The plan was rapidly discarded. Biggest attendance at the pool on any one day was 300. That was on a hot Sunday afternoon but Kerley could not immediately recall the date.

Kerley, during the regular school term, teaches math at junior high. In the management of the pool he has had two other junior high teachers working with him, one early and one late in the season. The two are Neil Hardin, social science, and John Daugherty, English.

Asked Tuesday concerning any accidents at the pool, Kerley said two boys playing tag had suffered badly cut chins and another, under a diving board, was struck on the head and had a lacerated scalp. First aid was given all at the pool. The injuries were painful but not serious. Aside from that trio of mishaps, and some minor cuts and bruises, the safety record is clear.

Hornets to Try Four-Time Sting Against Cave Kids

A half-dozen games, three at home, three away, four against two Carlsbad elevens, a pair with Roswell, comprises the 1951 football schedule of Artesia Junior High School Hornets.

The Blue and Gold will vie with the traditional foe, the Cave Kids of Eisenhower and Alta Vista junior high school and have one game here with Roswell, winding up the season. The other game with Roswell will be in the Chaves county seat.

Opening the season will be a tussle with Eisenhower on Saturday, Sept. 22, in Artesia. The last game will be played on Saturday, Nov. 3, against Roswell here.

The complete schedule:

- Saturday, Sept. 22—Carlsbad, Eisenhower, here.
- Saturday, Sept. 29—Carlsbad, Alta Vista, here.
- Thursday, Oct. 4—Roswell, there.
- Saturday, Oct. 13—Carlsbad, Eisenhower, there.
- Saturday, Oct. 20—Carlsbad, Alta Vista, there.
- Saturday, Nov. 3—Roswell, here.

carrying for 1,173 yards in ten regular-season games, and picking up 236 more against the San Diego State in a New Year Harbor Bowl contest.

Hardin-Simmons' Camp Wilson, running from a fullback position, was third in the nation in 1942. He carried the ball 196 times in nine games for a net of 981 yards, an average of 5.01.

Hardin-Simmons Also Had Good Rushing Backs

When Whizzer White, Arizona State of Tempe back, set the 1950 rushing record of 1,502 yards, he handed the border conference its fifth national rushing championship.

Halfbacks from Hardin-Simmons, Abilene, also of the Border Conference, were leaders in 1942, 1946 and 1947.

Fred Wendt, Texas Western halfback, set the 1948 rushing record when he raced for 1,383 yards.

Doc Mobley galloped 1,281 yards in 1942 to lead the nation. In 1946 Mobley again led the nation's ball carriers, but failed by 54 yards to equal his 1942 mark.

Wilton (Hook) Davis, Hardin-Simmons' 1948 All-Southwestern half-back was the national leader in the rushing department in 1947,

Overdraft Darts Over Line First In Derby Prelim

They're off! And in a blistering burst of speed, Cole's Calamity came down the track. She looked like a sure winner but at the half-way post it was Overdraft by a half dozen lengths. Overdraft was still leading at the three-quarter mark but Cole's Calamity had cut down the lead by half and was making a comeback.

The superior condition of Overdraft paid off, and Fred Cole's entry breezed across the finish line two lengths ahead.

So it was Overdraft, first; G. Taylor Cole's Calamity, second; with Jack Fauntleroy's entry, Fertile Myrtle, in the show spot.

That's the way the Artesia Lions staged a preview of the turtle trot they will conduct at 3 p. m., Sept. 14-15 at Morris Field Stadium.

The preliminary turtle race was staged at Masonic Temple at noon Wednesday as a part of the Club's regular weekly luncheon program. There were 18 turtles entered by 18 members of the club. Each of the 18 members paid a $1.00 entry fee. The $18 total was turned in to E. B. Emerson, news editor of The Artesia Advocate, for the benefit of the Langford Fund.

Floyd Springer reported on plans for the turtle derby, said 300 turtles had been obtained, or 700 less than the eagerly-sought 1,000. The club pays 25 cents for each turtle brought to it for the derby. Land type turtles only are wanted.

J. Grady Wright, first vice-president, presided at the luncheon in the absence of President John Clarke.

A guest was Dave Adams of Radio Station KSPV.

established as the check-in time. A list of all who had contributed was prepared daily, and one copy given Mrs. Boggs. Money and names were checked at that time.

Then the money was taken to the bank and put on deposit. Names of persons who contributed after the 9 a. m. deadline went on the next day's report.

This was carefully explained in a story in the Aug. 28 issue. Nevertheless, one contributor who noted that a total of the amount raised was given as of a later hour but name was not on the list, was puzzled.

Explanation was made that it was possible to rapidly total the amount but it was not possible, after 9 a. m., to add names of contributors after the deadline, and that in this case as in others, the name of those "after 9" donors would go on the next day's report.

Complete Record

Mrs. Boggs has received from The Advocate a complete list of all who have brought or sent in money to the fund. Not a penny received has gone anywhere, but into the fund.

Some checks were made out in the name of the news editor. He immediately endorsed the checks and turned them into the fund.

Because names of all contributors were not published on the day received does not mean that the news editor or any employee of this newspaper is contemplating dipping into the fund and leaving town.

Every penny received for the fund by the news editor or other Advocate employees has gone into the fund and nowhere else.

Public Service

It has required considerable time, and effort to handle collections at the newspaper for the fund but The Artesia Advocate, which has served this territory for a half century, was eager to do a public service and accepted without quibbling or delay a request from Mrs. Boggs to be a receiving center for the fund.

Corrections on Amount

In one case a $2 donation was listed as $1. This was a check from Mrs. Anna Lou Cox and was entered on the records as $2. The news editor made a mistake and it came out $1 in a story. Apologies are due Mrs. Cox.

There may be other cases in which incorrect amounts have been listed, or where some donor did not receive credit. This could have happened especially in the case of checks. Where a note accompanied the check with a "Mr. and Mrs." name, both were given, but when only one name was on the check, that alone was given.

Any errors made were simply errors and not any attempt to shy away from the fund. The news editor will be glad to correct any errors if properly called to his attention.

Biggest Check

Biggest contributor to the fund to date has been A. S. Foster, rancher, who gave a check for $100.

Longest distance from which a donation has been made is Duncan, Okla., via Socorro. Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Mann, Box 214, Socorro, sent in a check for $5, saying to Gal TWC Child Recovering credit them with $4 of the amount and the remaining $1 to be credited to Mrs. Clara Robinson of the Oklahoma town.

August 28—

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Cave, 202 West Texas, $25; Teague Nu-Mex Service, $15; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Everest, Box 815, $20; Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Woelk, 607 South Roselawn, W. B. Chenoweth, 306 South Eighth, $5.

L. C. Smith, West End Grocery, $2.50; Rev. and Mrs. Arthur G. Bell, 510 West Quay, Don Moore, 509 South Seventh, $2; Fred Baker, 905 1/2 West Richardson, Mrs. Bob Jackson, 317 North Fourth, $1.

On this date Mrs. Boggs telephoned The Advocate saying money in the bank as of that date alone was $90.88 and she reported these contributions:

Sewing Club, 612 South Fourth, $7; C. A. Baker, $2; loose change in First National Bank containers, $5.38.

August 29—

A. S. Foster, Box 266, $100; Russell Rogers, $10; J. W. Sharp, Box 341, Thomas J. Quinlan, I. P. Johnson of Lake Arthur, John A. Mathis, Sr., 807 West Bullock; B. G. Robinson, Past Worthy Matrons O.E.S., $5; Mrs. Forrest Lee, Lakewood, $2.

Mrs. M. H. Ruptledge, 805 West Washington, W. H. Payne, 210 West Texas, E. V. Mayrhofer, 811 South First, $1.

Maljamar and Loco Hills—

Brought in by Mrs. E. R. McKinstry contributions from Maljamar and Loco Hills, totaling $36.50.

Maljamar — E. R. McKinstry, $4; Aubrey Northam, $3; W. G. White, Steve Carter, $2; one-dollar donations were by:

John Klein, John McMurray, E. J. Frazier, L. L. Mason, A. W. Golden, O. I. Furr, Buck Blakeley, Mrs. Thelma Wallace, Dick Hunter, Ralph McGill, Zealey Edwards, L. J. Kelly, Mrs. O. H. Goodman, M. C. Newsom, 50 cents.

From Loco Hills—

Charles Weir, Lee Foster, $5; one dollar donations from Mrs. Sam Snow, Charlie Williams. Money received from Maljamar was $24.50; from Loco Hills, $12; total, $36.50.

Miscellaneous—

Mrs. Boggs reported receiving $7.50 from the Rebekahs. This is in addition to $14.47 given the Langford family before they left for Dallas. Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Jacobs and Mrs. Ruby Wallace each gave $1.

August 30—

Mrs. Boggs reported 50 cents obtained from coin containers at First National and 11 cents from a similar container at Peoples State.

One $21 donation was received by The Advocate, consisting of two checks, one $10 bill, and four $1 bills, currency totaling $14. Frank W. Runyan was the name on the $5 check. The other, for $2, was made out to W. B. McGuire, signed by Mrs. F. A. Johnson, 511 West Washington.

The person bringing in the $21 total said the givers of the $10 and $1 bills preferred their name not be listed.

Other contributors:

Artesia Lions, $18; Methodist Church, $15; Artesia Woman's Club, Alice M. Hamilton, treasurer, $10.

Donations of $5 each were received from the following:

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Walter, 902 South Second; Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Loucks, 411 South Second; J. F. Price, Seven Rivers; George E. Kaiser, Kaiser Electric, 1102 West Quay; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harmon, 205 Osborn; S. M. Mobley, Box 42, Route 1; Dewey A. Donovan, 315 West Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Orval Gray, Box 274, Route 1.

Two dollars was given by Mr. and Mrs. C. L. East, Box 1041; and $1 by Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Gray, Box 334.

Band Aides Elect

1951-52 Officers

C. R. Coole is the new president of the Artesia Band Aides.

He was elected at a meeting held at 7:30 p. m., Tuesday, Aug. 28, at the high school.

Merchants are reminded that proceeds from the rodeo go towards defraying the indebtedness on the Veterans Memorial Building, which is worth more than its assessed valuation, estimated by the chamber as $120,000.

The chamber also points out the direct and indirect benefits to the merchants from the rodeo.

Direct benefits in increased sales by gas stations, restaurants, motels, and stores.

Indirect benefits include publicity, morale, entertainment and a boost for the kids.

Election Drags

Other items listed by the bulletin include a progress report on the chamber's three nominees to the revived State Economic Development Commission.

The nominees are C. L. Withers, Cecil Waldrep, and Artie McAnally. A previous progress report appeared in The Advocate of Aug. 7 and complete qualifications of the trio were listed in The Advocate of July 27.

Only follow up information listed in the chamber bulletin is that the Carlsbad Current Argus of a fortnight ago reported that a committee of the legislature were still reviewing qualifications of all 96 candidates.

New Secretary

Some chamber members are apparently unaware that Ellonia Calahan has been the chamber's secretary since July 9, replacing Oleta Ford, who had held the job for three years. The change was reported in The Advocate of July 13.

Oleta Ford is now married to a star. Her husband, Bill Bullock, won the Artesia Club Championship last Tuesday as reported by Jack Fauntleroy last Tuesday's Advocate.

Legion Caravan Seeking Members On Tour of State

Three representatives from the American Legion will be in Artesia, Friday, Sept. 7, as part of a state-wide membership caravan.

The trio, composed of Dick department commander of the American Legion; Bob Marr, membership adjutant; Cleo Wall, membership chairman, are scheduled to be at Veterans Memorial Building at 10:30 a. m.

All members of Clarence Post 41 are requested to attend this meeting.

Artesia Baby Polio Patient in El Paso

One Artesian is among the patients currently receiving treatment for polio in the El Paso General Hospital, according to the Paso Times of Aug. 30.

He is Stephen Mathis, 19-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mathis, who was admitted Tuesday and is the 27th case to be treated at the El Paso hospital.

His condition is described as good and he is suffering from a slight paralysis, according to hospital attendants.

Nation Getting Bigger and Better Trailers, Says Steel Publication

By HARRY SINGER

Artesian and others over the nation numbering 2,000,000 don't seem to share the opinion of the old-timer, who, when told what modern trailers are like said disgustedly "You might as well live in a house," for trailer is getting bigger and better all the time.

Information on trailers comes from the July issue of "Steelways," bi-monthly publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute, New York 1, N. Y., in an article entitled, "Be it ever so mobile."

Trailers are being used in the city directory. Also, here are three trailer camps, one Artesia family, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. McQuay and their two children, Bobby and Buddy, 813 South Fourth, used a home-built trailer on their 6,000 mile trek, reported in The Advocate of Aug. 24.

Figures on the trend toward bigger trailers, compiled by Edward Wilson, managing director of Trailer Coach Manufacturers Association, are cited in the article.

They show that the percentage of trailers over 27 feet long jumped from 17 per cent in 1949 to 64 per cent in 1950. Coaches under 20 feet in length are definitely on the way out.

Reason for this is that people tend to stay in one place longer, hence want more comfortable accommodations. The article compares today's trailers with a private car on a streamliner.

Sturdily Built

Some of them boast of accessories you probably wouldn't find on streamliners, such as a special porch for pets, and a second story that lowers hydraulically when you get ready to move.

Today's trailer in addition to being comfortable is also solidly built. Thirty five thousand tons of steel was allocated for the construction of trailers last year, according to the article.

Most of this went to the chassis frames, undercarriages, and roofs, but window frames, venetian blinds, bedroom furniture and accessories such as refrigerators also used their share of steel, most of it of the stainless variety.

Sheik Trailrite

Inhabitants of trailers show as much variation as people who live in houses, and numbered among them the late King Emir Abdullah of Transjordan.

Trailer dwellers include military personnel who find moving from one base to another easier with a trailer, retired folks who want to see the country, and salesmen who have to move around a lot.

Trailer inhabitants have an association of 80,000 members, called

Bankers Backing Soil Conservation

An award program to encourage sound soil conservation plans for every farm and ranch in New Mexico has been inaugurated by the New Mexico Bankers' Association, Hoy C. Connelley, extension soil conservationist, State College, said today. The program will provide recognition to farmers and ranchers who have completed most of the soil conservation plan for their units.

The bankers' award program will be officially opened in the Carlsbad area during the week of Sept. 9, which has been proclaimed "soil conservation week" in that area.

During the week, schools will show movies on conservation, talks will be made before civic clubs, and conservation tours will be held. The Carlsbad Daily Current-Argus will issue a special edition on conservation.

The week will be climaxed by a barbecue Sept. 15, when a certificate of recognition will be awarded to those farmers and ranchers in the Carlsbad area who have done the best job of soil conservation.

Those who have been handling arrangements for the week's program include R. T. Spence, Carlsbad banker: G. L. Beene, of Artesia, district SCS conservationist and Dallas Rigsdon, Edd County extension agent.

"The bankers award program is the sort of encouragement that has been needed to get farmers and ranchers to adopt soil conservation plans for proper land use," says E. O. Moore, president of the New Mexico Association of Soil Conservation Districts. "As a result of this program, there should be a great improvement in the conservation of our farm and ranch resources, particularly soil and water."

WSB Names Industry And Labor Members

The Wage Stabilization Board, Dennis, has announced the appointment of industry and labor members of the Region 11 Board.

Dr. Edward J. Allen, WSB Regional Director who will be chairman of the tripartite regional unit which will decide wage cases in Colorado, Utah, Wyoming and New Mexico, said the public members will be announced shortly. The board will include four public, four labor and four industry members.

Industry members of the Regional Board will be: James W. Logan, managing director of the Mountain States Employers Council; Brown W. Cannon, Denver vice-president of the Beatrice Foods Company; Dr. Adam Ben-Nion, Salt Lake City, vice-president of the Utah Power and Light Company; and Daniel T. Kelly, Santa Fe, president of the Gross-Kellogg Company.

AFL labor members named are J. Clyde Williams, Denver, vice-president of the Colorado State Federation of Labor and William McConnell, Denver, member of the Bricklayers Union.

Alternate AFL members will be Fuller Latter, Salt Lake City, president of the Utah State Federation of Labor, and Martin G. Hill, Cheyenne, president of the Wyoming State Federation of Labor.

Family Farm Policy Review

James Roberts, president of the New Mexico Farm and Ranch Bureau, has flayed the Family Farm Policy Review program being unveiled through the Agricultural Mobilization Commission and presented to the Department of Agriculture the name of the Family Farm Policy Review.

Robert, a director of the American Farm Bureau Federation, said that in its action the Department of Agriculture violates principles of constitutional government by usurping power and right of Congress to develop policy programs.

The program is to be presented to farmers and ranchers by the Agricultural Mobilization Committee within ten days, he said. "A meeting of the AMC in each county is to be held to try to get the consent of farmers and ranchers to this 121 page detailed program in advance to allow for study and analyze its features."

Roberts explained that the Agricultural Mobilization Committee is composed of the state heads of the federal agricultural agencies in the state, with the Agricultural Marketing Administration being host agency.

The meeting is to be held to review the proposal and try to get approval of farmers and ranchers in each county. The county heads must be over and their consent in the state office of the program by Sept. 10," he said. "Apply there is no desire on the part of the department of agriculture to have folks know too much about what the department proposes for agriculture in this country."

Roberts declared that the "unsound policies and procedures of this Family Farm Policy Review, and that it is obviously aimed at taking over national and administrative policies and programs have repeatedly been rejected by farmers and ranchers of this state in direct opposition to the provisions adopted by the voting members of the New Mexico Farm and Ranch Bureau." He added in a statement that the American Farm Bureau Federation or New Mexico Farm and Ranch Bureau had any part in this Family Farm Policy Review program or in any other program of the state.

Roberts declared that the program is beyond the old Brannan plan (which was defeated by the efforts of nearly all agricultural people of the nation) while at the same time it is all the salient features of the Brannan Plan.

Builders, Miners Draw Best Wages Over Entire State

Construction workers in New Mexico with an average hourly wage of $1.97 were the highest paid industrial group in July, according to the monthly report of the Employment Security Commission of New Mexico in cooperation with the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Mining employees, however, because of slightly higher average hours worked, per week, averaged the highest weekly earnings, $79.40.

New Mexico's total non-farm employment numbered 156,200 on July 15, according to M. F. Miera, chairman and executive director of the commission.

Oil Men to Talk Over Steel Supply

J. Ed Warren, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, has been invited by Bruce K. Brown, deputy administrator of the petroleum administration for defense, to attend a session in Washington, D. C., on Wednesday, Sept. 5, to discuss the limited steel supply and its relation to the oil business.

We Are to Blame

WE CRITICIZE and condemn public officials, professional politicians and those in public office who run things to suit themselves, their friends and their party and should do so but the real reason they do this is because we permit them to.

They are only doing what many individuals will do and will continue to do if the opportunity presents itself. We are all more or less greedy and selfish and we think of ourselves first.

So it is not surprising when we find those who make their living or at least receive it from public jobs to do those things which bring profits, gains or benefits to them or their party members or their friends.

For instance when gambling prevails in a city or a county and there are those in the county giving their approval and perhaps are being paid to permit the gambling to flourish—we are to blame. We permit that situation and that condition to prevail.

If as citizens we demand that our public officials enforce the laws this situation would not grow and develop and prevail.

The few who do voice their opposition are brushed off and branded as old 'fogies' or something else. Their complaints are ignored. But let a goodly number of citizens or the majority of the citizens register their complaints and those public officials soon swing into action to do the things they are supposed to do; the things which they swore they would do and the things for which they are being paid.

When we permit politics to be played in the operation of public offices and the businesses of these offices to be given to individuals or firms or concerns friendly to the political party or those in power—it is done because we have permitted this practice to prevail and because we as citizens and taxpayers do not demand that it be halted.

When we find that political influence and political power are employed to set up given situations to benefit certain individuals—it is done because we have not complained in the past and because we have let it become a common practice for professional politicians to carry out such practices and the theory that to the 'victor belong' the spoils.

We have sold our rights and our privilege of registering our complaints either because we are afraid we may lose some business; because we are sharing in the spoils of politics; because we refuse to assume duties which citizenship impose on us; or because we just do not care.

In far too many instances now because of the socialized programs of our national government and because we profit and benefit from them whether they are right or not, we are unwilling to vote for what we know to be right and demand that honesty be returned to those who control our various branches of government.

So the graft, the corruption and the outright stealing in some instances in public office has resulted because we have permitted it to prevail. We are the ones who have permitted certain things to be done—permitted them to be done for so long they have become common practice.

The change will come about when we as citizens demand that the public officials enforce all the laws instead of the ones they want to enforce. The change will come when we demand that the practice of using our office or our position for personal gains and benefit is stopped. The change will come about when we as citizens assume the role that citizenship imposes on us and when we taken an interest in governmental affairs and demand honest men and women be elected to be public officials and that honesty and good business principles be employed in the operation of the office.

The professional politicians have taken over our affairs for us—they will continue to control and dictate our governmental affairs until we as citizens take them over.

Always Too Late

WE ARE A GREAT PEOPLE and a great nation to go out and lock the barn door after the horses have been stolen. That, of course, may keep anything else in the barn from being stolen but it doesn't return the stolen horses.

It is also true that checking up on those things which make for serious accidents after the accident has occurred and death has resulted may help prevent another such accident occurring but we can't keep from wondering why we do not check up on some of these things before they happen.

Only recently a water heater exploded in an Albuquerque theater. That explosion killed one individual and injured others. The cause of that blast was said to be because the proper safety device was not installed on that equipment.

Now the city officials are checking the water heaters. They are endeavoring to see that this does not happen again. This of course, is commendable but the public still would like to know why that it wasn't done before?

The fact is that the public wants to know whether the laws of this state permit the installing of equipment without adequate and proper safety devices? It also wants to know if the so-called inspection of plumbing and gas lines doesn't provide for a check and inspection of the equipment installed? And if not then perhaps it would also be in order to ask, why not?

We have been extremely careless in this state in our handling of gas—natural, canned and condensed. We know some cities which paid a tremendous price for not providing proper safeguards and enforcing these regulations. We know some cities which have had some explosions which might have occurred but they would not have been so disastrous if the gas had been kept outside the city limits.

We recall that only a few months ago, a city in New Mexico had a home wrecked with a natural gas explosion. It is said to have resulted from leaky and faulty lines or inadequate or improper venting of a floor furnace. Much was said

What Other Editors Are Saying

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

Lake Orion, Mich., Weekly Review: "Britain has embraced Socialism completely, turning away from the political philosophy that made her the greatest nation on earth. France, too, has embraced the theory of Socialism. In the Chamber of Deputies at the moment an alarming number of Communists hold seats and by power of numbers dictate a Socialist concept of government that is but a few steps from Communism."

Foley, Ala., Onlooker: "When the people—at least, when a majority of the people—of this country decide they wish to make a change in the policies which are daily causing bad matters to become worse, those policies will be changed. But the people themselves must bring the change. So long as our people regard the government as a benevolent and dotting parent, rather than as a personal responsibility, just so long will we continue to head toward a completely socialistic state."

Berlin, Maryland, Eastern Shore Times: "America became great through public ownership—but we don't mean the kind of public ownership the Socialists-minded bureaucrats mean. We refer to the corporations which have made this the mightiest industrial nation in the world. They are owned by the people—the stockholders—and they are owned directly by the people, without governmental interference or direction."—Industrial News Review.

MEDICINES FROM MEAT

Almost everyone knows that meat animals are the source of important medicines. But it would be a rare person indeed who could list all of the medicines which are a by-product of the meat industry, or even a substantial part of the total list.

Here, for instance, are just a few of the remedies in this category: insulin, the only substance known which can control diabetes; ACTH, used in the treatment of arthritis and other conditions; epinephrine, for the treatment of many allergic conditions; liver extract, to treat cases of pernicious anemia; fibrin foam, which controls bleeding during surgical operations; bone marrow concentrates, for various blood disorders; posterior pituitary extract, which increases blood pressure in certain shock cases.

The meat packing industry has developed elaborate facilities for saving the animal by-products which go to make these and many other medicines. The medical people and the packers are actively engaged in a research partnership in search of still other products which will battle disease, relieve pain, and save lives. And only the established packers are able to make these all-important by-products available.

That is why economic controls or other policies which tend to divert meat into illegal channels of trade actually are a menace to the health of the nation. During the last war, when there was flagrant black-marketing of meat, the leading pharmaceutical concerns reported that the supplies of needed animal by-products they were able to obtain were dangerously small. The black market profiteer and the fly-by-night slaughterer are not interested in saving by-products which are source of medicines—and even if they were, they haven't the facilities. Let us hope the present administrators of the price control laws remember that and act accordingly.—Industrial News Review.

about it and an inspection was to be made over that city. To date nothing has been done and it probably won't be done. A little more careful check of lines and equipment; a little more action to prevent such accidents from occurring would probably result in fewer of these accidents occurring. Why don't we act before they happen instead of afterwards?

Assignment New Mexico

By G. WARD FENLEY

Wasn't it one heck of a summer? The Cincinnati Inquirer once defined summer as that miserable period between 19 pleasant days in the spring and a week of delightful weather in the fall.

I can't quite agree with the Defensor del Pueblo (Socorro) in that slip the editor made in the heading: "Vacations are good at home and aboard."

Coming back from a vacation, I find myself feeling as if I'd kinda gone through the wringer of a washing machine.

Sorta like the policeman who told his boss the "screen" on his car wouldn't work. He reported: "The thing will sigh but it won't reen."

To be perfectly frank, our vacation was miserable. We had, no such good time as Gordon Greaves (Portales News) reported: "It was wonderful sharing the view of the Capitan Mountains with a dear"—for deer, of course.

Other folks had vacations, also. A young lady member of the Vir-den Pots and Patches 4-H Club wrote about their outing in the Lordsburg Liberal:

"After a good night's sleep we had hot cakes and bacon and eggs for breakfast. Mrs. Whipple, however, forgot the eggs so we had just hot cakes and bacon."

Editors Took Vacations

From the looks of the pile of typos I garnered in catching up with my reading of New Mexico papers, a few editors had a sleepy vacation.

They included: "off-numbered houses"—Albuquerque Tribune: "she will rein as queen"—Belen News Bulletin; "The Black Range was married by a fir"—Hot Springs Herald; "it'll have to wait for the net legislature"—Roswell Record.

The gentle sex, according to the Silver City Press and Independent, really dish out some whammies. In an Aug. 4 issue want ad: "I do ironing in my own home, specializing in men's hirts." That seems to be pressing the matter a bit far.

And in the same issue (in the 10 years ago kolum): "The bride-elect was resented with two large baskets filled with gifts."

We feel the same way about a lot of presents. Our neighbor, the El Paso Times, gladdened my heart by getting their typo needle hung on three successive errors.

The paper had: "drunk diving fine"; "They rescued the cat by lowering a nose around his neck"; and "The Elephant Butter Irrigation District."

We tend, however, to agree with them. It might as well be butter for all the good it does as a water-ing agent.

She collected some drug store signs: "We don't need your bull, we sold our cow"; "Count yourself again big boy, you ain't so many"; and "Money is like manure, good only when spread around."

The Santa Fe New Mexican had a cutie. A young female resident of the Capitol City, named Myrtle, changes her middle name to suit the radio show she likes at the moment. One day she's Myrtle Blondie, then she's Myrtle Cindy and later Myrtle Our-Miss Brooks Nancy.

I liked the Artesia Advocate's story about the youngsters who called up advising folks not to stick their tongues to ice cream freezers.

"Did that happen to you?" the editor asked.

"No, but it did to my dad and I had to pour hot water on his tongue to unglue him," replied the young fellow.

Cotton Demand Estimated as 16 Million Bales

Consumption prospects, together with the commodity loan program, make it neither wise nor necessary for the cotton farmer to dump his crop at depressed price levels during the abnormal pressure of the current harvest season, Harold A. Young, president of the National Cotton Council, said in a message to producer-delegates of the industry-wide organization.

The Council president emphasized that the demand outlook is still just as strong as was anticipated at the time the government requested a 16,000,000-bale cotton crop last December.

Department of Agriculture figures, he said, point to a domestic consumption during the coming crop year of 10,500,000 bales and exports of 5,500,000 bales, giving a total disappearance of 16,000,000 bales.

"With consumption at such levels, a crop of 17,000,000 bales indicates a carryover on Aug. 1, 1952, of 3,200,000 bales, as compared with a carryover of 6,846,000 bales on Aug. 1, 1951," Young said. "The carryover on Aug. 1, 1951, was 2,000,000 bales, the smallest in 25 years."

"These figures give every reason for confidence in cotton's stability throughout the season ahead, provided an orderly flow of bales into the market can be maintained during the harvest period." The federal commodity loan pro-

Korean Armistice Could Save $5 to $10 Billion That's Combat Consumption Cost Currently Per Year

WASHINGTON—Despite the Defense department's insistence that an armistice in Korea will make no difference in the United States military buildup, the fact is that a lot of dollars have been going on the negotiations at Kaesong. If the armistice comes through here are some of the things that will happen:

The Army will shelve a request for at least $6 or $7 billion in supplemental funds that would have been submitted to Congress if the fighting had continued.

The Air Force will stretch what it now calls a nine-month building program to cover 12 months at a "book" saving of between $3 and $4 billion dollars.

All three services will be saved what are called "combat consumption" costs running between $1 and $2 billion a year. Altogether between $10 and $20 billion are involved, even if there is no change in the size of the armed forces, or their equipment goals.

BRUSH OFF—Normally, a President's report is law in his official family—but senators relate an incident in which Mr. Truman seemingly got the cold-shoulder treatment.

Way back last January Mr. Truman wrote Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder saying he wanted the Treasury and Commerce departments to settle their differences over a long-range bill for the construction of new passenger ships. Senators understand the letter went to Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer.

In his letter to Snyder the President said: "I should like to have this material (a report on how differences were settled) as soon as possible, but at least by March 1, 1951."

That, senators stress, was back in January. It was not until recently that the Commerce department and the budget people got together at the White House to talk about the bill. Treasury ignored the meeting.

CAPITOL COLLECTORS—Washington visitors can find some rather interesting things on the office walls of senators and congressmen on Capitol Hill.

Senator Joseph McCarthy (R), Wisconsin, has framed citations which praise him for his fight against Communism. Senators Lyndon Johnson (D), Texas, and Kenneth McKellar (D), Tennessee, have pictures of persons named after them. Rep. J. Percy Priest (D), Tennessee, the House whip, has pictures of home state youths who have been appointed to service academies under his guidance.

Pictures of Annie Oakley, Buffalo Bill, Gen. George Custer, as well as Chief Sitting Bull and other Indian leaders adorn the walls of Rep. Usher L. Burdick (R), North Dakota.

Vice President Alben Barkley collects political cartoons, with a particular liking for the Veep. Rep. Richard H. Velde (R), Illinois, has a miniature collection of products manufactured in his Peoria district.

LOST AND FOUND—The gentleman from Illinois, Congressman Noah Mason, didn't want to take up the House's time unnecessarily, so he obtained permission to insert in the Congressional Record a short speech.

The next day, however, he arose in great indignation and protested that he had looked through the Record and, to his amazement, discovered the speech had been left out. He lodged a vehement protest.

Speaker Sam Rayburn (D), Texas, brought down the House, so to speak, by asking Mason: "Has the gentleman looked in his pocket?"

gram offers the major opportunity for orderly marketing of the 1951 crop. Mr. Young said, pointing out that conditions prevailing this fall are identically those for which the program was created.

The loan program was never intended as a method of setting a price for cotton, but as a mechanism through which the farmer could avoid dumping his cotton on a glutted market in exactly the type of situation which now exists," he said.

"The loan program can and should be used in the weeks ahead to absorb the volume of cotton which is not needed immediately by domestic textile mills or for export, and which is in excess of the capacity of private financing facilities.

"Without it, the splendid response of cotton farmers to their government's appeal for a 16,000,000-bale crop could easily result in raw cotton prices substantially less than the minimum the farmer expected when he planted his crop last spring, and also substantially less than the level prevailing on the appeal for a big defense program."

Young complimented the leadership of various producer organizations on the aggressive work done, and gains already made in informing individual farmers regarding use of the loan program.

"I trust," he said, "that you will impress upon all of your group the immediate importance of this program as a mechanism through which each member may determine whether he wants to dispose of his crop at existing levels or hold for later sale."

In recent years, cotton growers in the U. S. have been harvesting as much cotton from 160 acres as they did from 270 acres a quarter of a century ago.

The purple coloring used in stamping of beef by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's stock branch is absolutely less.

MR. DOOLEY, the immortal creation of Finley Peter Dunne, once told his friend, Mr. Hennessey, "Whenever I read a sermon that the wurruld is goin' to pot, that the foundations of government is threatened, that the whole of civilized s'ciety is in danger, that men 'are becomin' drunkards an' women gamblers, an' that the future iv the race is destruction, I can always console meself with wan thought."

"What would that be?" asked Mr. Hennessey.

"It isn't so," said Mr. Dooley.

Illuminating footnote on the holy state of matrimony in Movieland: A starlet met an oil millionaire on Friday, married him on Monday, and arrived in New York for a personal appearance tour (alone) on Thursday. A reporter asked the girl, "Do you miss your husband?" "Miss him!" she retorted. "I scarcely know him!"

Farmco Drug To Open Tuesday

Coincidental with the opening of school, Sept. 4, is the grand opening of the Farmco Drug Store, Seventh and Main, which is owned by Glenn Farmer, 206 Carper Drive.

The introduction of Artesia's newest drug store will begin a 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, at which time free coffee and doughnuts will be served to guests and will continue to be served throughout the day. Bubble gum and souvenirs will be distributed.

Beginning at 5 o'clock, Mon Repos ice cream cones will be distributed to the guests.

The store is housed in the former Coca-Cola plant. Clyde Dunning, contractor, was responsible for the face lifting.

The floor of the 30 by 36 foot building is checkered with multi-colored linoleum. Two-tone green walls and shelves are accented by a white ceiling. The 12-stool counter is topped with red, as are the stools. Two semi-circular charretrousse booths complete the seating arrangement.

Over the north entrance to the store, a large neon sign carries the legend, "Farmco."

A complete line of drugs, sundries, tobaccos, news publications, cosmetics, school supplies, candy and a few toys will be carried at all times, Farmer said.

The fountain, specializing in ice cream concoctions, will also serve hot, toasted sandwiches. Curb service is offered with parking space on Seventh Street. The owner reported that delivery service of prescriptions, sandwiches and soft drinks is also being offered customers.

Farmer, who came to Artesia in 1939 from Monahan, Texas, has worked in drug stores in both vicinities. He received considerable fountain service training in Artesia before World War II. He is married and has two daughters, Linda Gayle, 3 and Phyllis Charlene, 18 months.

Pharmacist at the Farmco Drug Store is Bob Palmer, who graduated from the Capitol College of Pharmacy, Denver, Colo. His most recent position was with the Roswell Drug Company, Roswell, where he was pharmacist and co-manager for two years. He brought his wife and daughter, Virginia, 4, to Artesia Aug. 20.

After the grand opening, the Farmco Drug Store will be open daily from 8 a. m. until 11 p. m. Palmer will be on prescription call day and night.

Movie Salutes Oldest Branch Of Sea Defense

Starting Sunday at the Ocotillo Theatre Republic Studios present the first motion picture glorifying the exploits of America's oldest sea-going branch of the armed forces, "Fighting Coast Guard."

The film stars Brian Donlevy, Forrest Tucker and Ella Raines in a stirring movie story, alive with vivid realism.

Republic had full cooperation of the U. S. Coast Guard in filming the picture and it is authentic in every detail.

Many officers and enlisted personnel appear in the film and actual Defense Department film of specific war actions is incorporated into the picture.

Tucker appears as an ex-Bosun's Mate who figures, in November of 1941, that his job in a shipyard will defer him from service in case of war. But he hasn't reckoned on meeting lovely Ella Raines, an admiral's daughter, who is working as a welder at the shipyard for patriotic reasons. Tucker and Brian Donlevy, a commander in charge of construction at the yard, become rivals for Ella's affections.
