City Manager Talks With Rotary About Future Landfill Operation

Muleshoe City Manager and fellow Rotarian Dave Marr was introduced as guest speaker at Rotary Tuesday. George Nieman, who was in charge of the program, asked Marr to speak on the landfill operations of the city and how new legislation will be affecting this area.

Marr's presentation brought a flood of questions from the Rotarians at the meeting.

He started out by talking about the 1984 Federal Congress mandate as an amendment to the Resource Recovery Act.

He said that in August, 1988, the Environmental Protection Agency published a set of proposed regulations for landfill operations, but final rules have not been finalized yet, he reminded.

"All county landfills and dump sites all over West Texas will be closed," added Marr. "Such as Lazbuddie, who have already been closed down. There will be no open burning of trash. Those people (Lazbuddie) still generate a great deal of trash," he added, "and we received 22 semi-loads of trash last Friday alone from Lazbuddie."

The city manager said Muleshoe operates a Type II landfill, which means Muleshoe does not have to cover the trash but one time a week. However, under new regulations, the trash must be covered with six inches of clean material daily.

He spoke of gases which must be controlled. Muleshoe does not have the problems other cities have with methane gas, which is generated by garbage piles, combined with moisture. "That's not a problem here, but EPA says we must have a system to collect and disburse gas."

According to the city manager, the day of dumping a load of trash for $10 is over. He also cited the EPA regulation for 24-hour access control for the dump. He said Muleshoe already has a four foot fence, but expects the regulations to mandate a six-foot man-proof fence around the entire facility.

Marr talked about mandatory draining control.

"Everything I'm talking about has a tag -- cost!" he added.

Other costs will go up for such businesses as sewer cleaning operators, he added. "Taking

School Bans Tobacco Use In, On Property

Monday night, the Muleshoe ISD Board of Trustees heard Kent Wiley, president of the Muleshoe Fine Arts Boosters ask for guidelines for the concession stands located at Benny Douglass Stadium. Wiley told the trustees that guidelines are needed where other groups are asking to use the concession stands for various activities at the track and field.

"We need some guidelines as there has been a change in the way things are done, and we have not been made aware of the changes," said Wiley.

"Fine Arts Boosters has a sizeable investment in the concession stands," he added. "The concession stand has more or less always been our domain, and we own all the equipment inside the concession stands. We have had some bad experiences in the past with groups using the concession stands, and we voted two years ago that we would no longer allow other people to use the concession stands. That if they needed to be open up and run, we (FAB) would do this."

The school board promised to check into Wiley's request.

In other action, the board approved an efficiency study of the entire school facility at a cost of $3,500. Four trained persons will come into Muleshoe and spend three days. They will give an overview of the efficiency operations of the school.

After a lot of discussion, and considering four different proposals, board members adopted a school calendar for the next school year.

Also discussed was a method to reimburse teachers who travel for the school and pay for meals while away from home.

On a split vote, board members adopted a 'Tobacco Use'

Zona Gatewood served thumb-print cookies, and strawberry punch from crystal appointments.

The serving table was covered with a white linen table cloth and accented with an ivy and silk arrangement in a white and pink planter. The honoree's corsage consisted of pink carnations.

Special guests included Jodi Ellard, mother; grandmothers, Ferri Berryhill and Carol Warren and great grandmother, Jean Burgess.

The hostesses gift was a stroller. Hostesses for the occasion included: Jan Pierce, Bonnie Carpenter, Connie Haight, Tammy Killough, Darla Rhodes, Jo Ellen Cowart, Rose Sain, Betty Wuerlein, Beth Webb, Berta Combs, Zonell Gatewood and Zona Gatewood.

Mix a pound of ground chuck with a cup of pre-cooked (minute) rice, half can of condensed tomato soup, an egg, 1/4 cup water and a teaspoon of onion salt. Arrange in a circle 12 meatballs, cover with wax paper and microwave at High for 10 minutes, rotating the dish every 3 minutes 1/4 turn.

In the other half can of tomato soup, mix in 2 tablespoons of ketchup and a teaspoon of mustard and stir. Spread this sauce over meatballs and microwave at High for 3-4 minutes.

Aging Symptoms May Indicate Drug Abuse

Every year about a fourth of people over the age of 70 take a fall, and although falls in older adults can be attributed to illness or other physical impairments, substance abuse and alcoholism can sometimes be the catalyst.

The prevalence of alcoholism and substance abuse among older adults is an important concern because it's often a hidden problem, said Dr. Judith Warren, gerontologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"It's difficult to detect elderly abusers because most of them live alone, so there's a lack of visibility," she said. "Also, alcohol problems in older persons are often misdiagnosed, because symptoms are seen as part of the natural aging process."

Warren said researchers are just beginning to discover the prevalence of substance abuse among the elderly. It is believed that men are four times more likely to have a drinking problem than women. Yet most prescription drug abuse is by women.

"Older adults comprise 11 percent of our population, but they account for 25 percent of the people on prescription drugs," Warren said. An elderly abuser may show signs and symptoms of recurring falls, dehydration, malnutrition, increased forgetfulness and neglect of physical appearance.

Warren said the development of an alcohol problem in later life can be triggered by significant life events, such as the loss of a job or the death of a spouse.

Three type of drinkers exist, she said. The chronic heavy drinker who starts drinking early in life; the reactive drinker who starts because of a major life change; and the intermittent drinker whose drinking is unpredictable.

Warren said most elderly people are ashamed to admit they have a drinking problem because alcoholism is considered a moral issue.

"In fact, alcoholism and substance abuse is a progressive, treatable condition and not a sign of moral weakness or lack of will power," she said.

The C-A-G-E questionnaire is one method being used to detect an alcohol problem. The person is asked four questions:

•Has anyone ever told you to Cut down on your drinking?

•Has anyone ever Annoyed you by saying you drink too much?

•Have you ever felt Guilty because of your drinking?

•Have you ever needed a drink as an Eye opener or to get you going in the morning?

An answer of yes to any of these questions is reason to suspect an alcohol problem, Warren said.

One way to recognize those who need help may be to establish a gatekeeper program in the community. "Gatekeeper" is the term now widely used in social services to describe non-traditional referral sources.

These sources include meter readers, bank personnel, apartment managers, fuel dealers and others who are in high-risk position to identify isolated and high-risk elders in the community.

Few substance abuse treatment programs deal exclusively with older persons, Warren said. However, the Texas Department on Aging is coordinating one such effort and can be reached at 1-800-252-9240.

The best treatment programs for elderly abusers, she said, have:

•Staff aware and sensitive to special needs of the elderly;

•Elderly peer groups who rebuild social networks, self-esteem and deal with issues of loss, grief and aging; and •Follow-up services (after care).

High-jump

Dick Fosbury of the United States was the first Olympic high jumper to go over the pole head first, landing on his back, explains The Kids' World Almanac. This style, known as the Fosbury Flop, earned him a gold medal in Mexico in 1968 and set a new trend in high jumping.

Foreign investments

Foreign investors spent $65 billion to buy or establish 1,012 businesses in 1988, according to the U.S. Commerce Department. This was an increase of 61 percent from 1987, and included 12 multibillion-dollar purchases. The leading foreign buyers in 1988 were Great Britain, $21.5 billion; Japan, $14.2 billion; and Canada $10.4 billion.

WBU Registration

Breaks Records

At 2,116 Students

The release of final spring semester enrollment figures Monday from the Plainview campus and from Wayland Baptist University's centers in Texas, Alaska, and Hawaii reveals an all-time record of 2,116 students, marking the second straight semester of record enrollment growth.

Total enrollment jumped 283 students from the spring, 1989, total of 1,833, an increase of 15.4 percent. The new record surpasses the fall, 1989, benchmark of 2,052 by 64 students, or 3.1 percent.

A new credit hour records was established as students established as students registered for 16,493 semester hours. The new total is 1,290 ahead of last spring and 129 better than the former record of 16,364, set last fall.

Wayland's Plainview campus paced the increase with a total of 892 students, 105 more than a year ago and six more than last fall. Credit hours were up 5.2 percent from spring, 1989, to 10,187.

"This spring semester growth of 105 students in Plainview in combination with the addition of 79 new students last fall translates to significant growth not only in head count, but also in credit hours," said Hall. "Since our plan was to increase enrollment on the Plainview campus by 89 students, I feel that we have met our enrollment goal for this academic year."

The university's six off-campus centers grew 3.2 percent from spring, 1989, to a record high of 1,224. Credit hours grew at an even faster pace, showing a 14.3 percent gain to 6,306.

Wayland's San Antonio Center grew 61.2 percent to a total of 250 students. The San Antonio branch is now the second-largest behind Honolulu, which jumped 33.4 percent to a total enrollment of 279.

"Our off-campus centers continue to attract new students in record numbers," added Hall. "This, coupled with the growth on the Plainview campus, indicates progress toward a major enrollment increase. Continued enrollment growth is a priority of the faculty, staff, and administration."

Wayland's spring increase will likely place it in the upper echelon of Southern Baptist schools nationally. WBU's fall, 1989, figures represented the third-highest numerical increase and fourth-best percentage gain among SBC-affiliated schools.

Proposal to regulate cholesterol labeling lauded

(AUSTIN)--"We don't grow any coconuts in Texas," Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower said, applauding the State Health Department for proposing new regulations to provide consumers with additional information about the cholesterol and saturated fat content of processed food products.

The regulations establish state guidelines on food that can be labeled as "Cholesterol Free," "No Cholesterol," and "Low Cholesterol."

"When the Texas Department of Agriculture first approached the State Health Department about fat labeling a year ago, we had two concerns: (1) Texas consumers were being misled by certain food labels and advertising claims; and (2) Texas producers of vegetable oils were getting hurt in the process," Hightower said.

"In recent years, food manufacturers have responded to the American public's growing concern about dietary fat and cholesterol by making health-related claims on their packages. Terms like 'No Cholesterol' and 'Made With 100 Percent Vegetable Oil' have become commonplace on bread, cookies, cakes, crackers and dozens of other manufactured products. Unfortunately, some of these products are made with coconut and other so-called tropical oils which contain between 51 percent and 92 percent saturated fat. Manufacturers have been able to hide these unhealthy ingredients behind the 'Pure Vegetable Oil' banner, because so many consumers--42 percent, according to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration--think all vegetable oils are low in saturated fat," Hightower said.

"Meanwhile, our Texas producers of the good vegetable oils--cottonseed oil, corn oil, soybean oil, sunflower oil, peanut oil, and canola oil--were competing with these imported oils in the marketplace. Under current federal labeling regulations, the highly saturated tropical oils are able to borrow the good reputation of our low-saturated-fat domestic oils without identifying themselves to consumers."

"This regulation places Texas in the forefront on this issue and points in the direction for federal policy in this area. It makes sense that manufacturers should have to list highly saturated ingredients, like tropical oils, any time they trumpet the lack of cholesterol on the front panel of a package. Texas consumers will be well served by such a regulation, and Texas producers of healthful vegetable oils will be more fairly positioned in the marketplace," Hightower said.

TAXPAYERS' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities

Want to learn more about the property tax system? That's possible by reading a pamphlet the State Property Tax Board has written and made available at the local appraisal district office.

It's called "Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities" and it may help you save money. Learn about tax relief available through

- homestead exemptions
- disabled veteran exemptions
- special productivity value for farm, ranch, and timber land
- tax deferral for over-65 homeowners

You'll learn how your property is appraised. That way, you can decide if the appraisal district's value is reasonable.

If you think it isn't, the pamphlet tells you how to prepare an appeal to the appraisal review board. You'll learn the types of protests the appraisal review board can hear and useful evidence to bring to your hearing.

Important dates in the tax year are listed. You'll know what your responsibilities are and when you are obligated to satisfy them.

"Remedies" is free to taxpayers. Ask for yours today at

Jennyslippers Welcome Houston Chronical Reporters

A Big Welcome To Muleshoe-- that's just what Carol Rust and John Davenport, Houston Chronical reporters, got Friday night when the Jennyslippers, Women's Associates of the Chamber of Commerce, along with Mayor Darrell Turner and other dignitaries from Muleshoe gathered at the Old Depot for a dinner welcoming them to Muleshoe. Sponsored by the Jennyslippers, the dinner was catered by LaPlacita Restaurant.

Gill Lamb, Magann and Jack Rennels and sons were special guest. Ms. Rust and Davenport were in Muleshoe Friday and Saturday to write a story on Gil Lamb's Mule Train News and Channel 6 Cablevision.

Following the invocation by Pat Langfitt, Jennyslipper president, mistress of ceremonies, Billie Downing introduced the reporters and special guests.

In welcoming Ms. Rust and Davenport to Muleshoe, Mayor Turner stated that these people (reporters) just continued to come to Muleshoe. "At first I thought that if we could find out what brings them here, maybe we could bottle and sell it." "But you can't sell people and we are fortunate to have real people here in Muleshoe."

Nelda Merriott, Mule Plex publicity chairman, spoke on the Mule Plex Production and asked Ms. Rust and Davenport to mark their calendars and come back to Muleshoe for the July 4th celebration 'where all the "Action" is.' She also presented with pins welcoming them to Muleshoe, as well as decorated Mule Shoes and a Mule Shoe Pitching Game.

Bob Donaldson, representing the MAC Committee also welcomed the guests to Muleshoe and stated "Welcome to the Greatest little city on God's Green Earth." He also explained how MAC works. "We promote Muleshoe every way we can and try to get all of the people to shop in Muleshoe."

Billie Downing recognized the Jennyslipper officers.

Representing the Heritage Foundation, Cari Juan Schuster thanked the Jennyslippers for allowing them to be a part of the group Friday night. She stated that Muleshoe is the most progressive town between Clovis, N.M. and Lubbock and what makes it that, the volunteers. "We contribute a lot of the Heritage Foundation's success to Magann, who served on the first board."

J.B. Douglass, accompanied by Lisa Hamilton, sang a song about Texas.

In rounding out the evening, Mrs. Rennels thanked everyone for inviting them out Friday night, before turning the floor over to Gill Lamb. "I appreciate everyone. Love you to pieces and wish I had words to express how I feel." Lamb said. "I would like to quote a little prayer which I heard Jerry Hutton say, 'If I can't have what I want Lord help me to want what I have.'"

WELCOME TO MULESHOE--Friday night the Jennyslippers hosted a dinner welcoming Carol Rust and John Davenport, from the Houston Chronicle, to Muleshoe. Nelda Merriott presented them a pin, Mule Shoes and a Mule Shoe pitching game. (Journal Photo)

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company hereby gives notice that it has filed an application requesting the PUC to declare Southwestern Bell's intrastate Billing and Collection market subject to significant competition and to authorize the following form of pricing flexibility: detariffing of the rates, terms and conditions of the Billing and Collection services now offered in Section 8 of Southwestern Bell's intrastate Access Service Tariff. Approval of the application as filed would result in all tariff sheets in Section 8 (Billing and Collection) of Southwestern Bell's Intrastate Access Service Tariff being cancelled, and the service thereafter being provided on a contract basis. Through this application, using procedures established by P.U.C. SUBST. R. 23.27, Southwestern Bell seeks to obtain uniformity of rates, rules and regulations for intrastate and interstate Billing and Collection services.

Approval of this application would remove all rates, terms and conditions applicable to billing and collection from Southwestern Bell's Intrastate Access Service Tariff. Intrastate billing and collection service would continue to be subject to PUC regulatory oversight only to the extent that (1) Southwestern Bell would be required to maintain current price lists at the Commission for the service, and (2) the revenues or losses from the service would be subject to the regulatory treatment specified in P.U.C. SUBST. R. 23.27(p). Further, under procedures established by P.U.C. SUBST. R. 23.27, the PUC's General Counsel, the Public Utility Counsel or any affected person could seek a subsequent review of the rates, terms and conditions of this service.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings, or who would like further information, should call or contact the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, (512) 458-0100. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Information Office at (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

The PUC has assigned this matter to Docket No. 9224. A prehearing conference will be held on April 19, 1990, at 9:00 a.m. at the Commission's offices at 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard in Austin, Texas. The deadline for filing motions to intervene is April 26, 1990.

taken to the landfill. He figures they eventually will have to be certified. More expense!

Additional expense will be generated because Muleshoe will have to open a new landfill, added Marr. He explained that the State Health Department DOES NOT WANT small towns, such as Muleshoe, to operate landfills. They want landfills handled on a regional basis.

As he cited more expenses involved, he said it has been projected that West Texas could become the dump ground for the state.

He also talked about small towns and small cities meeting jointly to try to be prepared for the future landfill operations, and work together to try to minimize some of the great expense involved.

Prior to the speaker, President Terry Hutto again reminded Rotarians about the upcoming Rotary District Conference, as scheduled for April 20-22 in Ruidoso; and asked for the board to meet concerning the track meet re-scheduled for Friday, April 13.

He said the next four programs will be by Bruce Purdy, Curtis Shelburne, David Tipps and James Turnbow.

Following the meal, there will be a skills display by EMS personnel with needed equipment and supplies on display.

You are encouraged to attend, and or make, your donation to help support both of these groups.

Officers for the Lazbuddie EMS this year are Connie Barnes, president; Bart Barnett, vice president and Brad Treider, secretary-treasurer. Other EMTs on call with the EMS service are Cheryl Weaver, Charles Johnson and Robert Smith. Smith has moved to the next level of EMT, which is the Special Skills level.

Next year, the Lazbuddie EMS said they hope to have three more advance to the EMT-SS level with the ultimate goal to have a paramedic on board, in their service.

In the meantime, the Lazbuddie EMS has had a very busy three months. They started the new year by conducting an Emergency Care Attendant or (ECA) class on January 15. The course instructor has been Larry Mitchell, EMT-Paramedic from Bovina. The main purpose is to prepare the first responders to be able to access the scene and start prompt and decisive trauma or medical care.

The course has included an excess of 80 classroom hours of instruction with interim test and manual skills. State certification is necessary in the following skills: cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR), one man and two man rescue in infant, child and adult; obstructed air way management; mechanical aids such ECA certifications were acquired by Allen Smyer, C. W. Williams, Joyce McGehee, Susie Sterling, Kim Puckett, Douglass Rice, Rick Copp, Joe Bullock, Armando Torres, Lewis Snow, Debbie and Doyle Weir, Terry Thomas and Ellen Gallman.

Recertifying as ECA's were Connie Barnes, Glenn Lust, Donnie McDonald, Phil Brockman, Brad Treider and Lyn Eldon Randolph.

Bart Barnett was the only EMT recertifying at this time.

At the conclusion of the class, five moved up to the EMT level to attend a class beginning in April.

Two young men taking the class cannot certify until they reach the age of eighteen. Tim Smith and Micheal Bullock will have this first responder knowledge this spring on wheat harvest.

Texas Senate Week In Review

Texas lawmakers return this week for a final attempt at resurrecting a public school finance bill before the special session ends at midnight Wednesday (March 28).

If the Legislature fails to pass an education bill this week, Gov. Bill Clements has promised to call a second special session, possibly in early April.

The Legislature has been in special session since February 27 to come up with a plan to equalize funding among the state's 1,068 public school districts.

The State Supreme Court has ruled the state's school funding distribution plan unconstitutional and has set a May 1 deadline for a plan to narrow the funding gap between rich and poor school districts.

Early last week, the Senate passed and sent to the House a bill calling for a $1.3 billion school funding increase for fiscal

Mrs. O.M. Gunstream Services Set At Memphis

Funeral services for Mrs. O.M. Gunstream, 91, will be held at 2 p.m. today, Thursday, March 29 in the First United Methodist Church in Memphis, TX with the Rev. Henry Salley, pastor, officiating.

Burial will be in Memphis Cemetery under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home. Local arrangements were under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home. Mrs. Gunstream died at 6 p.m. Monday in Muleshoe Area Health Care Center.

Born July 5, 1898, in Gravelly, Ark., she had been a resident of Muleshoe since 1983, moving here from Memphis, TX. She was a homemaker and a member of the Memphis First United Methodist Church, the Memphis Eastern Star and the United Methodist Women. She married O. M. Gunstream in 1916, in Loco, Tx. He died December 7, 1971.

Survivors include a son, M.D. Gunstream of Muleshoe; a daughter, Mrs. Erma Lee Lowrie of Wellington; three grandchildren; and seven great grandchildren.

1990-91. By week's end, however, the House had dropped the Senate bill in favor of a $511 million first-year funding plan. But after more than eight hours of floor debate in the House, that bill failed on a vote of 101-45.

As a means of starting over in the short time remaining in the current session, the House Public Education Committee was to meet Monday (March 26) to consider a compromise education funding bill. Specifics of that measure had not been worked out at week's end last Friday.

The current legislative session is also likely to end this week without passage of a judicial reform bill.

The state is under a separate court order to change its method of selecting judges.

U.S. District Judge Lucius Bunton III ruled last year that the state's method of electing judges on an at-large, countywide vote dilutes the minority vote in the state's most populous counties.

In other Senate action last week, the Senate Health and Human Services Committee met with officials from the Texas Department of Human Services (DHS) to discuss the agency's projected $850 million deficit.

Faced with the need for additional funding or cuts in programs that serve the state's neediest citizens, DHS Commissioner, told the committee those figures would be available in early April.

The committee also heard testimony from a large number of people who would be directly affected by the proposed cuts in service to the disabled, the elderly, and the poor.

The committee is scheduled to meet again April 3 to hear more testimony on the DHS budget crisis.

The Senate and the House were to reconvene Monday afternoon (March 26).

March 21, 1990

Dear Managing Editor:

Thanks to your help, my office's VOTE '90 campaign is off to a great start. Voter registration in Texas has reached an all-time high and turnout on March 13 was the highest of any non-presidential year primary election in Texas history.

Your newspaper deserves much of the credit for VOTE '90's success. By publishing our public service announcements, you have helped me spread the word about how important it is for Texans to register and vote.

On April 10, Texans will return to the polls for Democratic and Republican party primary runoff elections. Historically, there is a drop in voter turnout from the primary election to the runoff. With that in mind, please continue to publish the VOTE '90 public service announcements as often as possible between now and April 10.

Thank you for your continued commitment and support.

Sincerely,

George S. Bayoud, Jr
Secretary of State

EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH—Last Friday morning, a very surprised Evelyn Ellington, foreground with CofC President Lonnie Adrian, found herself the recipient of the Employee of the Month certificate for March. She was very surprised, when her husband, Carl, center front, showed up, and later, her daughter, Carla. Mrs. Ellington has been employed at the Art Loft for the past nine years, and was very pleased with her award. (Journal Photo)

Opening ceremonies begin at 1 p.m. Booths will be open from 1:30-4:30 p.m. and closing ceremonies will begin at 4:30 p.m. During the closing ceremonies winners of the Earth Day Poster Contest "Girl Scouts Care: Help Save the Air!" will be announced. Alan Greenspan, Federal Reserve Board Chairman: "These (foreign) influences do not fundamentally constrain our ability to meet our most important monetary policy objectives."

1990 Chapter I Parent Program Set

The Muleshoe Independent School District will host the Annual Chapter I Parent Program on Thursday, April 5, at 7 p.m. in the Muleshoe High School Cafeteria.

Families whose children are involved in the Chapter I program on any of the four Muleshoe ISD campuses are invited to an evening of BINGO and may also have the opportunity to win some very nice prizes.

Prizes will include games, books, puzzles and educational toys. Two special games during the evening will delight some lucky winners with extraordinary prizes.

A hostess will be assigned to each table to assist the players, if needed, and all families of eligible students are urged to make plans to attend.

Six members will be elected to two-year terms on the Chapter I Parent Advisory Council for the Muleshoe Schools. These people will serve in an advisory capacity as Muleshoe ISD encouraged parents to become more actively involved in the education of their children.

Refreshments will be served and every effort will be made to make this an enjoyable evening for everyone.

Education in the 1990s: Texas A&M begins a new education commitment COLLEGE STATION — Texas A&M University will play a leadership role in addressing and solving the many problems currently facing education in both Texas and the nation through a "Commitment to Education" initiative.

According to Texas A&M President William H. Mobley, the new program will begin by building on Texas A&M's strengths, focusing on existing programs, aggressively pursuing selected high-impact projects and leveraging collaborative efforts with other parts of The Texas A&M University System (TAMUS). The program is expected to attract federal and business support.

Dr. Dean C. Corrigan, a nationally prominent educator who recently stepped down as Texas A&M's dean of education, will head the program in the new position of president's deputy for educational leadership.

Cornerstones of the program — which will center on Texas A&M, but also involve other TAMUS academic units — will place even greater emphasis on math/science education, minority recruitment and retention and adult literacy.

"Texas A&M is actively seeking to repair the leaking educational pipeline from kindergarten through Ph.D. by produce higher percentages and numbers of our citizens capable and competent to meet the future demand of our state and nation, Mobley said.

Frank C. Conahan, Assistant Comptroller General:

"We believe that it would be prudent to reduce the pace of funding and production for the B-2...until the critical performance elements of the aircraft are adequately evaluated."

EXENCIONES DE RESIDENCIA

PUEDEN REDUCIR LOS IMPUESTOS QUE PAGA POR SU CASA

Una exencion de residencia le ayuda a reducir los impuestos sobre la propiedad que tiene que pagar por su residencia reduciendo el valor que se utiliza como base para calcular sus impuestos. Por ejemplo, si su casa esta valorada de $50,000 y usted recibe una exencion de residencia de $5,000, usted va a pagar impuestos de residencia como si su valor fuese de $45,000.

Usted puede recibir una exencion de residencia si usted era el dueno de su casa el primero de enero y la usaba como su residencia principal en la misma fecha. No importa si su residencia es una casa, un condominio o una casa remolque.

Hay exenciones que cualquier persona que es dueno(a) de su residencia puede usar para rebajar sus impuestos escolares. Exenciones adicionales se ofrecen a duenos de residencia que estan incapacitados o tienen 65 años o mas. Otras exenciones pueden ofrecerse a propietarios por distritos escolares, condados, ciudades y distritos escolares.

Solicite todas las exenciones que usted puede recibir en la oficina local del distrito de valoracion en la direccion que se cita abajo.

Si usted recibio una exencion para su residencia actual en 1989, usted no necesita solicitarla para 1990 a menos que el jefe de valoracion pida que haga una nueva solicitud.

Sin embargo, si usted cumplio 65 años o quedo incapacitado antes del primero de enero haga una nueva solicitud para recibir exenciones adicionales.

Si usted no ha recibido una exencion para su residencia actual o si se cambio de casa haga una nueva solicitud para 1990.

Usted tiene que hacer su solicitud antes del 1 de mayo de 1990. Comuniquese con su distrito de valoracion antes de esa fecha si necesita mas tiempo para hacerla.

Para tener mas informacion usted puede recibir una copia gratis del folleto Los Derechos, Remedios y Responsabilidades del Contribuyente de Impuestos en la oficina del distrito de valoracion o puede pedirla del Consejo Estatal de Impuestos sobre la Propiedad (State Property Tax Board) en Austin.

Congressman Talks About Census Impacts

By Congressman Larry Combest
The 1990 Census is more than just a head count for the statistics books. The population count of states and counties effects representation in the Statehouse in Austin, and the House of Representatives in Washington, D.C. The Census Bureau count may result in three additional seats for Texas in the U.S.

Congress in 1992. Federal funds are also at stake, since 87 percent of all federal grants are based on population formulas.

From the 106 million census forms mailed to homes during the next couple of weeks, the nation's resources could be better targeted at parts of the country where caring for those in need has put a strain on local agencies. Texas now ranks next to last in total federal grants awarded. While you are completing your tax form, recall that for every $1.61 Texans send to Washington, Texas gets back only $1. An accurate count in the 1990 census could help bring more money to our part of the country.

The census count could also give Texas a significant advantage in the Congress. The increased population of the state is expected to qualify Texas for three additional congressional seats. Texas now has 27 representatives, just behind New York and California. A delegation that already works closely together in the interest of the state will have its hand strengthened by the addition of three more members.

Most households will receive a 14-question census form that should take about 15 minutes to complete and return by mail. The questions are basic: race, age, marital status; the longer census form going to a few homes will ask additional questions on ancestry, education, income, and living conditions.

Census workers will make follow-up visits to households for forms that were not mailed back to the Census Bureau. You can help save millions of dollars by mailing your completed form instead of waiting for a census enumerator's visit. The law protects the information you give to the Census Bureau; even protects the information from the Internal Revenue Service,
Federal Bureau of Investigation
the courts and the Immigration Service. A complete count is important to funneling federal funds to Texas, influencing representation in Congress, and gauging just how fast the country is growing. By being counted, you can help guarantee that Texas gets the funding and the representation you deserve.

Dow Theory Forecasts

One of the hardest decisions in running any portfolio is knowing when to sell. The second-hardest decision is knowing what to sell.
Currently, the Dow Theory is bearish, indicating that the primary trend of the market may be down at this point.

Given the bearish signal by the Dow Theory, should one sell? If so:

- * Sell laggards and more speculative issues.
- * Sell part of holdings in stocks in which you have a very large exposure.
- * Consider selling large holdings in equity mutual funds. Investors sometimes forget that these investments will undergo severe price drops during bear markets.

The trouble with most public speakers is that they have nothing to say.
