Fine Estrada $2,000, 90-Day Jail Sentence On False Work Claim

Isidro N. Estrada, an Artesia plasterer, today was handed a $2,000 fine, sentenced to the Eddy County jail for 90 days and ordered to pay $65 court costs after pleading guilty to charges stemming from what was termed the "flagrant" case of false unemployment compensation claims reported in New Mexico.

Justice of the Peace Fort said this morning he took the length of time over which the claims were made, plus their large number, in meting out the stiff penalties. He also said Estrada earned $97.50 during one of the weeks in which he sought and received payments. At a November hearing before an ESC referee Estrada admitted the fraudulent claims and was later barred by Fred C. Barron, executive director of the ESC, from receiving unemployment payments for one year. Barron also ordered repayment of the $915.

Admitted Red Cites Role As FBI Spy

ALBUQUERQUE, (AP)—A 45-year-old laborer, Cleve Owens, an admitted former Communist from Oakland, Calif., has reported the existence of an active Communist cell in Albuquerque. Owens said he had been active with the organization here since 1953 and was at the same time a paid informant of the FBI. Owens made his disclosure in a sworn statement to Bob Brown, managing editor of the Albuquerque Journal, following a New Year's Eve party here at which Owens said he had told Albuquerque Communists that their activities were well known to the FBI.

President Okays Tax Slice If Does Not Cause More Debt

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the budget will be in balance this fiscal year and next. He declared, however, a tax cut would be justifiable only if it would not put the government into the red again. Eisenhower told Congress the nation's outlook is "bright with promise" even though Soviet leaders have shown they "are not yet willing to create the indispensable conditions for a secure and lasting peace."

Mrs. Wilcox To Seek Reelection As County Clerk

Mrs. R. A. Wilcox today announced her candidacy for re-election and reelection as Eddy County Clerk. A Democrat, she was appointed to the office October 1, 1953, upon the death of her husband, Rude Wilcox, and was elected for a full two-year term in 1954.

MRS. WILCOX

In announcing Mrs. Wilcox stated she seeks reelection on her past performance as county clerk. "I am proud that the Eddy County Clerk's office is generally regarded as one of the best run in the state. My objective has been to combine efficient and economical management of the office with courteous and fair treatment of all persons having business with the office. The County Clerk not only keeps all records of the county, but acts as secretary of the Board of County Commissioners, supervises elections, has charge of election materials, prepares all vouchers and performs many other clerical duties. Experience in performing these important duties benefits all taxpayers and voters. If reelected, I pledge to continue the same standard of service and courtesy long associated with the county clerk's office."

Thieves last night broke into Eight Ball Pool Room, 510 W. 1st, and took an undetermined amount of money from a music machine and a juke box. The police said today that nothing else appeared to have been touched. The building was entered through a window into the room at the north end of the building. The music machine was not broken into but was opened by someone who apparently knew something about the machine, police said.

Upper Colorado Commission In Capital Meeting

SANTA FE, (AP)—The Upper Colorado River Commission convened here today for a meeting. A New Mexico official said might possibly bring agreement on power revenue credits in connection with the proposed big development. Representatives of the four commission states—Wyoming, Colorado, Utah and New Mexico—attended. John H. Bliss of New Mexico said today's session was the newest in a series which have been held in an effort to get agreement by all four states on a formula for dividing surplus power revenue credits among the four states on an equitable basis. A tentative agreement was reached at a Cheyenne meeting some time ago, Bliss said, and he added a hope that today's session might lead to a final agreement.

Budget Bureau Releases Money For Water Line

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM) says he was informed yesterday that the Budget Bureau has released $3,700,000 for the construction of a water pipeline from Bonito Lake to Alamogordo and Holloman AFB. Chavez said he received the information from Asst. Air Secretary Lyle Garlock. The money was appropriated during the last session of Congress and is now made available for use by Army Engineers to begin construction of the pipeline. The Army Engineers district office at Alamogordo will ask for bids on the project. Water from Bonito Lake was formerly the property of the Southern Pacific Railroad. The proposed pipeline will extend for 70 miles from the lake to Holloman AFB.

Garcia Not Certain Cross-Head Would Have Avoided Accident

HOBBS (AP)—State Mine Inspector John Garcia says that he cannot say for sure whether a missing cross-head safety device could have prevented the mine disaster Tuesday which took the lives of two men and injured three others. "I don't know whether the accident could have been prevented if the cross-head had been in use," Garcia said, "but it should have been in use."

Dial-A-Prayer Becomes Full Time Service

The Artesia Ministerial Association yesterday assumed permanent sponsorship of the Dial-A-Prayer program, which has been carried on in Artesia for almost a month on an experimental basis, according to Wayne Dougherty, manager of the local telephone system. Since the curious have been weeded out, calls for the prayer service have settled down to a steady 300 per day, Dougherty said. Under the new sponsors, the Dial-A-Prayer number will remain the same, Sherwood 6-4884. The service has been highly popular in the East where it originated at Scarsdale, N.Y. When the service was initiated in Artesia, as high as 2,000 calls a day were reported. Many of these were from curiosity seekers. Dougherty said that so far as he knows the service is the only thing of its kind in operation in the mountain states. A different prayer by a different minister is featured each day. By dialing the above number and listening, a complete prayer is heard. Under the sponsorship of the Ministerial Association the service will be conducted from a set-up in the study of the Rev. Oran E. Gilstrap, 510 W. Quay. There will be no interruption of the service during change over which will take place some time tomorrow.

Labor Official Scores Lack Of Mine Inspectors

SANTA FE (AP)—A State Federation of Labor official has scored the Legislature and the Finance Board for failing to provide money for a third deputy mine inspector solely for the potash industry. W. S. Roberts, secretary of the federation, said miners in the potash basin have complained of lack of enforcement of laws and orders governing health and safety of the miners for several years. His statement followed death of two miners in a potash mine accident near Carlsbad. Roberts said the Legislature cut an appropriation which would have allowed for a third deputy mining inspector and the Finance Board turned down a later request for funds. He added that "this costly accident... should be a new awakening to the workers of our state to the many industrial accidents (13,930) reported the last fiscal year to the commission and the need for a comprehensive health and safety code."

Former NuMexer Pitcher Apprehended At Dayton To Face Federal Check Charges

Arthur Alcorn, former pitcher of the now-defunct Artesia Nuts baseball team of the equal-defunct Longhorn League, Wednesday was apprehended in Dayton, O., and must face charges violating the National Stolen Property Act. FBI Agent D. A. Bryce said Alcorn was charged in a federal warrant issued in Roswell Dec. 22, passing about $1,200 in forged checks in Artesia and Roswell. Bryce said the charges were in a complaint filed before Commissioner J. Perry Bean in Roswell. The Federal Bureau of Investigation was called into the case by Deputy Sheriff Ike Funk on Dec. 22 after he traced Alcorn to Dayton. Funk was the first law enforcement official called into the case. According to the charges Alcorn issued checks on the Uranium Drilling and Exploration Co., of Grand Junction, Colo., and were drawn on non-existent accounts in that firm's name with the United States National Bank in the same city. A check showed that such a firm exists but that it never had an account with the U.S. National Bank. FBI records show that Alcorn is an ex-convict and served time at Leavenworth Federal Penitentiary for violating the Dyer Act (interstate transportation of a stolen automobile). He also was reported to have been jailed at least 11 times in cities across the nation. The forged checks allegedly were issued to the Quality Liquor Store here for $310; to Gamble's Artesia Store for $210, and to a pair of Roswell firms in the amounts of $424 and $200. Alcorn's last residence was reported to have been in Hobbs.

President Promises Many-Sided Assault To Bring Prosperity Back To Farmers

By OVID A. MARTIN WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower promised today a "many-sided assault" on farm problems to help farmers gain an "equitable" share of the national prosperity. Details of this attack on the politically controversial issue of declining farm prices and income will be outlined in a special message to Congress Monday. In his State of the Union message, Eisenhower gave this outline: The recommendations will include proposals for a soil-bank plan designed to reduce the size of an over-expanded farm plant as well as a "new attack" on the problem of crop surpluses. He said: "Virtually all sectors of our society are sharing in these good times. Our farm families, if we

State Senator Concerned About Way Magazine Money Is Spent

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A state senator told State Auditor J. D. Hannah today he was "concerned" that some of the money appropriated for New Mexico Magazine was not being used for the purpose intended. Editor George Fitzpatrick, on the other hand, said the state might be saved much money by his activities.

State Sen. Guido Zecca (D-McKinley) suggested to Hannah that Fitzpatrick has been "making trips over the state" and sending out printed material containing personal views on the controversial plan to merge New Mexico Magazine and Sun Trails Magazine. Zecca said both would be contrary to the purposes of the appropriation to New Mexico Magazine.

Fitzpatrick replied: "The only thing we've sent out have been letters explaining the magazine's position on the merger. We did, of course, also send out some newspaper editorials, several of which we reproduced on one sheet. The editorials explained the merger situation. I made one trip to Taos, to accept an invitation to appear before the Taos Chamber of Commerce board of direc-ors to explain the merger. The few dollars we spent to explain the merger might possibly save the state many thousands of dollars."

Zecca's letter to Hannah was another move in the battle over the merger proposed by Publisher Thomas Summers of Sun Trails. Fitzpatrick has fought the plan as laid down by its advocates.

"I suggest," Zecca wrote, "that before approving any travel and per diem for recent trips you satisfy yourself these were actually made in the interest of the magazine."

Teacher Standards Set For Discussion

Sen. Anderson Backs Reelection Bid Of Fernandez

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson has thrown his support behind Rep. A. M. Fernandez, who yesterday announced he would seek reelection to Congress.

Anderson also endorsed the reelection bid of Rep. John Dempsey, who had announced earlier. A third Democratic candidate for Congress against the incumbents is Atty. Gen. Richard Robinson.

"Mr. Fernandez in his statement has indicated that he values the uninterrupted effectiveness of his teamwork and the benefits it brings to our state," Anderson said.

"His decision, coupled with Congressman Dempsey's earlier announcement that he too will be a candidate for re-election, offers New Mexico an opportunity to continue the state's team in Congress."

In New Mexico congressmen are elected at large. With no district designations, that means the two men with the most votes win their party's nomination.

No Republican candidates have announced.

Speculation that more candidates might enter on the Democratic side was plentiful. Observers said others might be encouraged to run in hopes a split vote may catapult them into office.

Fernandez will be seeking his eighth term. He was first elected in 1942. He made his announcement from Washington in a telegram to a Santa Fe newsmen.

Actress Speaks Here Tonight To Knife, Fork Club

Betty "Mom" Roadman, a Hollywood character actress of a dozen roles, who spent seven months in the islands of the Pacific with an entertainment unit and where she received the nickname "Mom" from the boys she there, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Knife & Fork club, tonight at the Veterans Memorial Building.

"Mom" Roadman has lived in Hollywood some 28 years, during which she says she has "absorbed a lot of atmosphere." Actually she has done much more than that. She played in such box-office hits as "The Man Who Came to Dinner," "Hitler's Children," "The Life of Mark Twain," and many others.

Her talk here, however, will definitely not be on Hollywood, the movies or the theatre. She prefers to discuss "Democracy in Action," a more or less personal story based on what she saw of "her boys" during her extended stay in the Islands of the Pacific.

Indian Tribes Seek Millions In Land Claims

ALBUQUERQUE — Fifteen Indian tribes in New Mexico are seeking millions of dollars in claims for land taken from them by the white man as the frontier rolled to the East.

All have submitted claims for the land they lost.

The tribes are the Navajos, the Mesquero and Jicarilla Apaches, and the pueblos of Laguna, Acoma, Isleta, Jemez, Zia, Santa Ana, Cochiti, Santo Domingo, Santa Clara, Nambe, Zuni and Taos.

They hope for the same success as the Utes of Colorado, Utah and New Mexico who received 32 million dollars from the federal government in 1950 for land seized by the pioneers.

In one joint complaint, Jemez, Zia and Santa Ana pueblos claim about 400,000 acres of land in Ojo del Espiritu Santo Land Grant in Sandoval County. They argue the King of Spain granted the land to them in 1600.

The claims were filed in compliance with a 1946 congressional act granting the nation's Indians five years in which to start legal action in such demands.

Indians of the United States have already won 25 such cases.

Murder Charge Filed Against Alamo Husband

ALAMOGORDO — A murder charge has been filed against James Earl White, 30, of Alamogordo, a Dist. Atty. C. C. Chase.

White is charged in connection with the shooting Monday of a 20-year-old wife, Georgia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hargrove of Cloudcroft.

A coroner's jury Wednesday found that Mrs. White died of gunshot wound inflicted by her husband.

White is being held in the County jail pending arraignment. White had spent part of Monday hunting rocks with friends in a mountain near Orogrande. Police said he had been drinking heavily.

Things Return To Normal In Food Stores

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 things are getting back to normal this week in the nation's food stores. The old standbys, beef, lamb, once again head the list of specials at the meat counters that the family has had its holiday turkey and ham, the housewife will find that various types of beef roasts and steaks are featured in many areas. While beef prices generally remain unchanged, one major chain is offering pot roast and boneless chuck at four to six cents a pound below last week's prices.

There also is little change in the prices of loin veal chops and leg of lamb, both of which have been good buys in recent weeks. Some other meats are heading higher now that the holiday season is over. One chain has upped prices of loin pork chops four cents a pound in Boston, Pittsburgh and Chicago, and 10 cents a pound in Philadelphia. Frying chickens also will cost from two to 10 cents a pound more than last week over much of the country. Eggs too are generally higher.

Some food industry sources point out that this is a good time for the budget-minded housewife to buy beef. They explain that the wholesale price has risen somewhat during the past week but that this probably will not be reflected at the retail level to any great extent for another week or so.

The Department of Agriculture calls beef "one of the leading foods on the list of plentiful for January." It says that beef production in 1955 reached a record 13,600,000,000 pounds, and the average use of beef attained a new high of about 81 pounds per person. This year's output of beef is expected to remain at a high level, the department says.

In the vegetable market, potatoes edged up a bit during the past week, but produce men still regard them as outstanding buys. Canadian turnips and iceberg lettuce also are placed in this category.

Listed as good buys in vegetables are onions, cabbage, bunched carrots, cauliflower, cucumbers, peppers, sweet potatoes and bunched beets.

Higher-priced vegetables include celery, beans, broccoli, corn, radishes and squash.

Best values in fruits are apples, limes, oranges, grapefruit, and tangerines. One Eastern chain is featuring extra large pineapples from Cuba.

About 14 million tons of U.S. hay, one-eighth of the crop, was sold in 1954.

Radio Custodian Wins New Life After 34 Years

By BOB THOMAS

OLYWOOD — This week Bill begins a new life of after 34 years of caring of the most famed studios in Hollywood.

A bit, crazy-faced man of parts, has retired as superintendent of Samuel Goldwyn Studios. He takes with him a wealth of memories about a lot which has been a rich segment of Hollywood history.

He was winding up his duties at the studio, Sam reflected on the years there: "I came to take over the place in 1922. Broncho Billy Anderson built the studio a couple of years before, then Doug Fairbanks and Mary Pickford took it over. Goldwyn moved in in 1928. He placed over then, and again in 1933.

"I've seen just about every Hollywood working here. Griffith made 'Topsy and Beau' here. Harold Lloyd did 'Crazy.' Doug made most of his great pictures — 'The Iron Horse' and 'The Black Pirate.' We've had them all, from William S. Hart to Marlon Brando."

Sam pulled out a drawer that contained the name plates for stars' dressing rooms. "I've always kept them," he said. "You never can tell when they might be coming back."

Sam flipped through the cards and read off the names: John Barrymore, Frederic March, Rod Taylor, Vilma Banky, Gary Cooper, Eddie Cantor, Groucho Marx, Ronald Colman, Loretta Young, etc., etc.

"I have my favorites among them," he replied. "But I did not like the bigger they are, the more they are. The ones I liked were generally small-time actors."

Sam looked back with fondness at the days when Doug Fairbanks was a live one. He was bouncing around and playing jokes. He was full of fun, and Sam thought that was why Mary broke up."

Smaller Chickens

AND RAPIDS — Poultry list Edward F. Godfrey says that chickens who make breakfast eggs are probably will weigh less than four pounds each and five to seven pounds like those today.

They told a poultry producer that feed will be more important and hens will consequently be smaller and able to lay 240 eggs annually.

COSTLY HEARING

ANTA FE — It costs $598 to have a hearing committee get together for a two day session. Jack Holmes of the Legislative Council supplied the figure. It includes per diem of nine dollars for a two day period in Santa Fe.

Understanding Needed

MANY A YOUTH is serving time in a reform school or a state institution today who could have been a fine and useful citizen had he been given the understanding and help he needed, sought and deserved.

We talk a great deal today about juvenile delinquency. We hear the stories about our boys and our girls. We often times want to just forget these things and charge it to the times; the conditions; or to the world of today.

These boys and girls fundamentally are not different from those a few years ago. They have the same ambitions; they have the same desires; and they grow into the men and women of tomorrow.

And juvenile officers are doing a good job on the whole in helping boys and girls. We recently heard of a case of a young lad who had gotten into a little trouble—nothing serious, but trouble. He knew what he had done was wrong; he was ready to pay society for that; and he asked no one to forgive or forget it.

A check into the boy's case disclosed he came from a broken home. He was a little confused; he had done one or two things that were wrong and this was embarrassment to his father. So when he got into this trouble he didn't care too much because he knew his dad wouldn't understand anyway.

Yet if that father had been more patient; more understanding; had trusted his son; had been a pal to him—what happened probably wouldn't have occurred.

That is true in far too many cases today. Children come from broken homes where the parents have forgotten their responsibilities to the children they have brought into the world and they can't see the children's problems because they are thinking only of themselves.

So the children get into trouble and no one seems to care and they go from bad to worse.

What our youngsters need today more than anything else, we believe, is more parental guidance; more parental understanding; more parental discipline when that is needed, but most of all understanding and love.

Boys and girls don't deliberately go out and hurt their parents unless they have hurt themselves. Far too often there is not only an attitude of "I don't care," but there is an attitude of getting even. Let's all be a little more understanding and we will have fewer problems with our children.

Magnifying Glasses Needed To Distinguish Fact From Fancy

By JAMES MARLOW Associated Press News Columnist

WASHINGTON (AP)—The voters will need magnifying glasses to distinguish facts from fancy nine months from now when the presidential campaign is getting up steam.

That's the time Democrats and Republicans will make their loudest claims on what each side has done for the country in the Congress session which opened this week.

On a few issues the voters may be able to put the full blame or credit on one side or the other. On most legislation they probably won't be able to tell clearly who did what.

This is going to add to the voters' confusion:

1. Democrats and Republicans are pretty evenly matched: In the Senate, 49 Democrats, 47 Republicans. In the House, 239 Democrats, 203 Republicans. There are two vacancies.

2. In many ways the programs of the two parties will be pretty similar. And on much legislation voting won't be along straight party lines.

Since the Democrats outnumber the Republicans, Eisenhower will have to depend on some Democratic support to put across any of his programs at all.

That will give the Democrats at least some credit for anything the Republicans claim. But, since this is a presidential election year, the Democrats are going to try for their own programs.

This might seem to simplify matters for the voters but—in this period of American prosperity both parties are pretty conservative. There will be no social revolutions offered or passed in 1956. But some Democrats and Republicans are more conservative than others in the two parties.

The result will be: batches of Republicans and Democrats lining up on certain pieces of legislation against other batches of Democrats and Republicans.

claims they'd like to make in the campaign, both sides will offer alterations and amendments to each other's ideas. In this way both sides can make claims to almost any program passed.

accumulated surpluses of crops in eratic administration, Eisenhower urged, however, that farm problems not be made a "field for political warfare."

"Too much is at stake," he said. Democratic critics contend administration farm policies have been ineffective. They hope to make those policies a major election issue.

Eisenhower said the objective of his program will be to help bring production into balance with existing and new markets, at prices that yield farmers a return in line with what other Americans get.

He said he will urge a soil bank plan to alleviate problems of land diverted from surplus crops to other crops and an overexpanded farm plan.

"This will include an acreage reserve to reduce current and acute serious difficulty, and a conservation reserve to achieve other needed adjustments in the use of our agricultural resources," he said.

"I shall propose measures to strengthen individual commodity programs, to remove controls where possible, to reduce carry-overs, and to stop further accumulations of surpluses."

He said also he will recommend larger appropriations for research to develop new farm markets, new crops and new uses for farm products.

The President said he will call for support in Congress of previous recommendations for aiding low-income farmers. He said the government must press forward on a program to meet drought problems in the Great Plains.

the Communist party in Albuquerque or have been interested in secret government installations in New Mexico. He said that their chief function has been one of education, raising funds for the purchase of Communist propaganda and the raising of funds to combat lynchings in the South.

"Some of my contacts were in El Paso," Owens said, "where I contacted a Communist party leader of that area to see if it would be possible for her to come to Albuquerque and have a meeting with a party group from this area."

At no time was she ever able to make the trip to Albuquerque. "Another of my contacts was in Bayard, N. M., in Local 890 of the Mine-Mill Union. I was to get any type of information whatsoever, regardless of how remote it might be, of any union or political nature. And I was to report this back to the FBI agents in Albuquerque."

Owens said the Communists in Albuquerque have been advised to stay away from the military bases and from Los Alamos.

"I have had no interest in the bases," Owens said, "although I worked in Kirtland Air Force Base for 13 months when I first came out here, doing construction work."

Owens did not say in his statement how many of the Communist party members have their homes in Albuquerque at the present time. He did say that there are several "radicals" or "progressives" who have regularly attended social functions with the Communists.

Owens' wife—also in a statement to the Journal—claimed that she, too, was urged to join the Communist party by the FBI. She said she never did, but said she was paid small sums for information by the federal agency at various times.

In addition to keeping the FBI informed on activities of the Communists and "progressives" in Albuquerque, Owens said he also traveled about the state for a time contacting persons "with liberal views."

The activities of all these people were reported to the FBI. In addition, Owens said he reported on union and political matters and groups, including Labor's League for Political Education.

The FBI has said several times that it has no interest in, and that it steers clear of, union or political matters.

A 1951 law requires registration with the secretary of state by "every Communist organization, affiliate of the Communist party or supporter or advocate of Communist doctrine, of any persons or organization which believes in, teaches or advocates the overthrow of the government of the United States, or the state of New Mexico, by force or by any illegal or unconstitutional methods or means."

The office of the secretary of state said that in the five years since the law became effective, not one Communist has registered in New Mexico. The law carries a fine of $500 to $5,000 and a prison term of three to 10 years for anyone failing to comply.

President Okays Tax Slice

(Continued from Page One) approved. Eisenhower said he hoped "progress toward statehood" for Alaska also could be made at this session.

7. Revision of the immigration law so the number of persons admitted to this country each year could be based on the 1950 census rather than that of 1920. Eisenhower also asked amendment of the 1953 Refugee Relief Act so more immigrants can come from Greece and Italy and from the ranks of Iron Curtain escapes.

In his message, delivered to Congress while the President continued recuperation in Key West, Fla. from his heart attack, Eisenhower declared:

"I expect the budget to be in balance during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1956.

"I shall propose a balanced budget for the next fiscal year ending June 30, 1957."

He said present "burdensome" taxes "should be reduced when we prudently can."

He added, however, "under conditions of high peacetime prosperity such as now exists, we can never justify going further into debt to give ourselves a tax cut at the expense of our children."

Eisenhower began his message with a review of progress he said had been made in the three years since he took office. In summary, he said:

"Our country is at peace. Our security posture commands respect. A spiritual vigor marks our national life. Our economy, approaching the 400-billion-dollar mark, is at an unparalleled level of prosperity. The national income is more widely and fairly distributed than ever before. The number of Americans at work has reached an all-time high. As a people, we are achieving even higher standards of living—earning more, producing more, consuming more, building more and investing more than ever before."

"Virtually all sectors of our society are sharing in these good times. Our farm families, if we act wisely, imaginatively and promptly to strengthen our present farm programs, can also look forward to sharing equitably in the prosperity they have helped to create."

"War in Korea ended 2½ years ago. The collective security system has been powerfully strengthened. Our defenses have been reinforced at sharply reduced costs. Programs to expand world trade and to harness the atom for the betterment of mankind have been freed from governmental wage and price controls. Inflation has been halted; the cost of living stabilized."

"Government spending has been cut by more than ten billion dollars. Nearly three hundred thousand positions have been eliminated from the federal payroll. Taxes have been substantially reduced. A balanced budget is in prospect. Social Security has been extended to ten million more Americans and unemployment insurance to four million more. Unprecedented advances in civil rights have been made. The long-standing and deep-seated problems of agriculture have been forthrightly attacked."

"This record of progress has been accomplished with a self-imposed caution against unnecessary and unwelcome interference in the private affairs of our people, of their communities and of the several states."

"If we of the executive and legislative branches, keeping this caution ever in mind, address ourselves to the business of the year before us—and to the unfinished business of last year—with resolution, the outlook is bright with promise."

The President said many measures "of great national importance," which he recommended to Congress last year should be adopted now. He mentioned school and highway construction, health resources, foreign trade, policy, amendment of the Taft-Hartley labor relations law, extension of the wage-hour law to additional groups, occupational safety legislation, and construction of an atom-powered merchant ship to tour the world as an illustration of atomic energy's peacetime uses.

Turning to world affairs, Eisenhower said the Geneva conference of foreign ministers last October "demonstrated conclusively that the Soviet leaders are not yet willing to create the indispensable conditions for a secure and lasting peace."

Nevertheless, Eisenhower said, the East-West conflict "has-taken on a new complexion."

"Communist tactics against the free nations have shifted in emphasis from reliance on violence and the threat of violence to reliance on division, enticement and duplicity," he continued.

Eisenhower said the free world has scored "major gains in collective security during the last year—such as the addition of Germany to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the developing of mutual security pacts in Southeast Asia and the Middle East."

Moreover, he said, the United States has laid its disarmament program "squarely before the bar of world opinion" and will persevere in seeking a general reduction of armaments "under effective inspection and control."

Much remains to be done in the coming year, he said, and added: "In Asia we shall continue to give help to nations struggling to maintain their freedom against the threat of Communist coercion or subversion. In Europe we shall endeavor to increase not only the military strength of the North Atlantic Alliance but also its political cohesion and unity purpose. We shall give such assistance as it is feasible to the recently renewed effort of Western European nations to achieve a greater measure of integration, such as in the field of peaceful uses of atomic energy."

"In the Near East we shall spare no effort in seeking to promote a fair solution of the tragic dispute between the Arab states and Israel all of whom we want as our friends. In Latin America we shall continue to cooperate vigorously in trade and other measures designed to assist economic progress in the area."

Eisenhower urged Congress to approve United States membership in the Organization for Trade Cooperation and to foster foreign trade by further simplification and improvement of the U. S. customs system.

Then he urged Congress "to sustain and fortify" the mutual security program of foreign aid in order to fight "poverty and unrest."

Eisenhower also proposed a "substantial" increase, to be spelled out later, in appropriations for

Police Query

Witnesses In Simmons Death

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)— Sheriff's officers questioned witnesses again today in a Dec. 26 shooting in which John Milton Simmons, 47, Hobbs, died.

Asst. Dist. Atty. H. Leslie Williams said medical laboratory reports indicate Simmons did not shoot himself.

Another man, Wilfred Segura, 26, Albuquerque, was wounded in the face.

Simmons was found fatally wounded near the home of Felipe C. DeBaca of Albuquerque.

The U. S. Information Agency in order to increase international understanding of the truth about America.

On the home front, Eisenhower as expected asked Congress again to extend the Defense Production Act. He also renewed a request for legislation giving better medical care to dependents of those in the armed services, together with a "more equitable" survivors' benefit program.

He said other recommendations include career incentives for medical and dental officers and nurses and increases in the proportion of regular officers, will be submitted later. The President touched on these other main topics:

RESOURCES CONSERVATION He said a "comprehensive" water conservation program will be submitted to Congress at this session, and he asked speedy action on such programs as the Colorado River storage project and the Frying Pan-Arkansas project.

DISASTER ASSISTANCE He said an experimental program of federal flood damage insurance should be started, and that he would offer detailed recommendations later.

AREA REDEVELOPMENT He said he will submit later a program of federal technical and loan assistance to communities for redeveloping chronic unemployment areas.

SOCIAL WELFARE He proposed extending old age and survivors' insurance programs to additional workers; increased child welfare services; and a considerably increased amount of federal aid to medical research. He said, too, provision should be made "by federal reinsurance or otherwise" for extending voluntary health insurance coverage—particularly among older persons and those in rural areas.

LABOR MANAGEMENT He said he will propose legislation to assure "adequate disclosure of the financial affairs of each employee pension and welfare plan and to afford substantial protection to their beneficiaries."

He also called anew for broadening minimum wage law coverage and for strengthening eight-hour laws for workers subject to federal wage standards on federal and federally assisted construction and other public works.

War Of Sexes Always Reaches Climax When Leap Year Arrives

By HAL BOYLE NEW YORK (AP)—The war between the sexes always reaches a crisis during leap year.

The old saying that "love will find a way" doesn't hold true this year. There are only 17 million possible husbands available for 20 million possible wives.

In this mathematical dilemma neither Congress nor television can dream up a giveaway program that will award every young and old maid what she wants—a real live mate.

It's a time when every smart girl becomes her own kangaroo, and leaps "thar' fustest with the mosdest." But in seeking a husband she must beware her tactics don't boomerang. The only real rule of the matrimonial chase is "catch as catch can." But as some over-anxious ladies have already learned to their regret, some lures work better with the wild male best than others. And some don't work at all.

What is the best way? There is no one best way. It depends on the prey, if I should use such a word. As I see it, the market divides itself roughly into four general classes: (1) Elderly childless widowers; (2) Middle-aged widowers with children; (3) Veterans, professional bachelors, and (4) Young amateur bachelors.

Let us consider them in turn. It is a well known fact that elderly widowers tend to turn their hearts to widows. Any girl interested in reaping one of these gaffers, therefore, should first be a widow herself. There are several techniques in how this can be done, but each woman is on her own, and in this problem will get no help from me. I'm a married man myself.

To win a middle-aged widower with offspring you must do two things. First, write the U. S. Children's Bureau for the pamphlet on how to get along with children. Apply this knowledge to his kids.

Cry once on his shoulder at a sentimental movie, but once. Every man likes to see his wife has a soft heart, but man ever married Niagara Falls.

Fullmer Takes Castellani In Bloody Battle

CLEVELAND — At last, a victorious fighter who doesn't want to take on the champion next.

Brawler Gene Fullmer, winner of a split decision over Rocky Castellani last night in a blood-splashed 10-rounder at Cleveland Arena, says he'd much prefer another crack at Argentinian Edouard Lausse to a middleweight title fight with Sugar Ray Robinson. Fullmer dropped a decision to Lausse last November.

"I just don't like to have someone running around who has beaten me that's all," Fullmer declared in his dressing room after his bruising charges won the nod over Castellani's clever counter-punching. "I'll get to Robinson in time."

Last night's nationally televised bout left many of the 1,487 arena spectators, as well as the judges, in disagreement as to which fighter should have won.

Castellani, despite blood streaming from a deep cut over his right eye from the sixth round on, was fresh at the finish and appeared to have Fullmer in trouble the last two rounds.

Fullmer, however, was willing to take the best Castellani could offer. Bleeding himself from a gash across his hairline, he kept driving in to the end on leg, that steadily lost steam after the eighth round.

Through most of the fight the pattern was the same—Fullmer charges, flailing with both arms. Castellani caught many of the blows on his gloves and elbows and countered with hooks and uppercuts.

Judge Herb Williams scored it 96-92 for Fullmer. Referee Lou Parker saw it 97-94 for Fullmer and Judge Charley Bill dissented with a 95-92 vote for Castellani.

The 27 card had it 97-93 for Castellani.

Fullmer, 24, of West Jordan, Utah, weighed 157½. Never knocked out, the victory was his 34th in 37 professional fights.

Castellani, 29, of Cleveland, weighed 150. He was the third-ranked middleweight behind Robinson and former champion Bobo Olson and the defeat was his first in his last 10 fights.

Dayton Meets Rugged Dukes After Layoff

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

Seven-foot Bill Uhl and his Dayton Flyers return to action after a week's vacation tonight against tough Duquesne in an effort to extend their undefeated string to 10 games.

Dayton is No. 3 in the Associated Press poll, ranking behind San Francisco and North Carolina State.

After tonight's game, the Flyers must tangle with Duquesne again at the tail end of the season. Next month they play Memphis State, incidentally, has gone over 100 points in four times this season. It vanquished Miami (Fla.) 79-71 in the Senior Bowl semifinal last night and will meet Spring Hill for the title tonight.

Lloyd Aubrey made Notre Dame history last night when he broke the Irish field house scoring record with a 43-point binge in an 83-69 victory over Butler. The Irish zipped to a 43-34 halftime lead.

Maryland warmed up to its George Washington battle tonight by clubbing South Carolina 76-57. Coach Bud Millikan of the Terps had a long look at his second stringers.

In another AAC contest, Lefty Davis scored 26 points to lead Wake Forest to four times this season revenge victory over Duke. Only last week, the Deacons dropped a 64-52 decision to the Dukes in the Dixie Classic.

Other noteworthy events last night: Biggest upset — Belmont Abbey's 84-82 over Richmond. Undefeated — Temple won No. 7, turning back Lehigh 81-48. Streaks — St. Bonaventure won 59th in a row at home, whipping Le Moyne 80-70.

Seton Hall, practically always a power, made a fresh bid to get in the top 20 by setting down Loyola of Baltimore 69-54 for its ninth victory in 10 starts.

Oklahoma City polished off Tulsa 58-50 to reverse a result of last week, while Kansas State smothered College of the Pacific 67-36.

Paul Brown, Buddy Parker Add Rivalry To Senior Bowl Tilt

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—The natural rivalry of Paul Brown and Buddy Parker was never more apparent than today as they went about preparing opposing squads for Saturday's Senior Bowl game.

Both had the air of men with the will to win.

Both have virtually dominated pro football during the past six years.

Brown's Cleveland Browns have won six straight divisional titles and three world championships. Parker, although his Detroit Lions fell from the peak this past season, won three divisional championships in five years and two world titles.

The major difference noted in their coaching of the Senior Bowlers was that Brown devoted most of the early practice to individual tutoring of the players while Parker turned more to drills featuring team play.

Brown worked his South quarterbacks, Bob Hardy of Kentucky and George Herring of Mississippi Southern, repeatedly on a handoff or pitchout. Parker put his offensive and defensive units together early and turned loose his quarterbacks, Jerry Reichow of Iowa and Jim Haluska of Wisconsin.

Both coaches turned largely to pass patterns in yesterday's workout and Reichow and Haluska looked a bit more effective than Hardy and Herring on their aerials.

Rough Weekend In Store For Bulldogs

The Artesia Bulldog cagers are going to really have to buckle down and show their stuff if they are to come out on top in the two games they play this weekend, against Alamogordo, which has beaten them once in tournament play 61 to 47, and against Hobbs, which last week racked up 124 points against Monahans, Tex.

Coach Verlon Davis said today that in the Friday game at Alamogordo the Bulldogs are going to be up against a full court press, which has been the team's biggest bugaboo all along. The coach anticipates some difficulty in moving the ball down court.

The Alamo boys are none too big, although a couple of them are six-footers, and there are two smaller boys who are very good floor men, Davis said. In general, Alamo has a good hustling club, and one that shot very well in round-robin tournament play against the 'Dogs in December.

Coach Davis said here this morning that he plans to start Bob Cerny and Charles Snow forward; Clyde Chaney at center; and Dwane Sewall, a boy who is being moved up from the B Squad, as one of the guards, in the game with Alamogordo. The coach said he is not yet certain who he will start as the second guard.

In meeting the Hobbs Eagles here Saturday night the Bulldogs will be up against a high-scoring team, but Coach Davis pointed out that Hobbs lost three games in a row against Santa Rosa, Berger and Amarillo while on a road trip just before Christmas.

Kim Nash, an outstanding six-foot-one ball handler, will set the pace for the Eagles.

Friday and against the Hobbs B Squad here Saturday.

The Bulldogs have dropped five games out of the last six played, counting last week's Alumnit tilt. Against other school teams the 'Dogs have won four and lost four so far this season.

Coach Davis blames recent Bulldog losses to poor ball handling and a weak defense. The coach said his boys have been throwing the ball away too much during recent play.

The Bulldogs will leave for Alamogordo tomorrow afternoon and return after the game.
