Godfrey Singer Awarded Divorce In Florida

BUNNELL, Fla., (AP)—A Florida circuit judge has awarded a divorce to Dorothy McGuire, the Arthur Godfrey singer once romantically linked with crooner Julius La Rosa. Judge George W. Jackson signed the decree Friday. It becomes final upon filing today, said Joseph Hirschman, attorney for the husband, Air Force Sgt. John Henry Brown. Brown originally brought suit Aug. 16—seven months after she announced their reconciliation—and Dorothy filed a countersuit on Aug. 30. Both charged cruelty and Judge Jackson appointed an examiner to take testimony. Details of the testimony were not announced. Hirschman said no financial or property settlement was involved and Brown will not contest the decree. Miss McGuire, 27, married Brown in her home town of Miami, Fla., July 30, 1951. They have no children. Brown was in Korea when La Rosa's romance with Dorothy—one of a singing sister trio—was reported in 1954. Godfrey fired the crooner but denied the romance had anything to do with it. La Rosa declared he would marry Dorothy if she could gain her freedom and Brown returned to this country to win her back. She announced a reconciliation Jan. 19 last. La Rosa said last week he plans to marry Rosemary Meyer, 24, secretary to another crooner, Perry Como. Money coins have been made of leather, lead, tin, glass, earth and glue as well as gold, silver, copper and nickel.

links with a pendant Monaco gold coin. The prince, 32, and Miss Kelly, 26, parted Saturday for the first time since their engagement. She is en route to Hollywood to complete a motion picture commitment. He is driving to Florida for deep sea fishing. Miss Kelly said Rainer will decide where the wedding will be held, soon after April 1. "After we're married, my emphasis is going to be on our marriage," she said when asked about future movie-making plans. "Certainly, Rainer will be the head of the family. Shouldn't a husband always be the head? ... No, I don't think European men are more romantic than American men." She said an incident at the Monte Carlo ball in New York Friday night upset her but did not cause a quarrel. A dark-haired woman rushed up to the prince at the party and kissed him on the cheek. In New York yesterday, Senator Graciela Levy Castillo of Ecuador identified herself as the woman who did the kissing. She said the kiss was meant as a token of good wishes and that she had known the prince several years. "Yes, I was upset," Miss Kelly said. "And I don't think that Rainer liked it either. Rainer said that he did not know the lady who did the kissing."

Pope Approves Drugless Method Of Reducing Childbirth Pains

By FRANK BRUTTO VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII has approved a drugless method of reducing the pains of childbirth. The head of the Roman Catholic Church said in an address yesterday the method, commonly known as "childbirth without fear," violates neither Holy Scripture nor morals. He described it as a "psycho-prophylactic" method in which the mother's natural forces alone are called into action. The pontiff told a congress of more than 1,000 gynecologists that he had received information on the subject and had been asked to pass judgment on it from the religious and moral viewpoint. The method approved by the Pope calls for intensive instruction of the expectant mother in the processes of childbirth. Repeated appeals are made to her emotions not to permit feelings of fear, and during labor specially trained personnel assist and remind her of what she has learned. The pontiff said the method already is used extensively in Russia and China and is finding favor in Western countries, particularly in the United States and France. He explained that the "new method opposes itself" to the fact accepted by men that women must give birth in pain. Advocates of the new method, he continued, assert that normal functions of the human organism when accompanied properly are not accompanied by any painful sensation, and normal childbirth, being a natural function, therefore should be without pain. Outlining the aim and task of painless obstetrics, the Pope said: "By applying scientifically acquired knowledge, it must first dissociate the associations already existing between the normal sensations of contractions of the uterus, and the pain reactions of the cerebral cortex. In this way, negative conditioned reflexes are suppressed. At the same time, new positive reflexes must be created to replace the negative reflexes." He added that "from 85 to 90 per cent of births taking place in this manner are said to have been painless."

Grace Kelly Says She Loved Prince Of Monaco On Sight

CHICAGO (AP)—Grace Kelly, blonde actress told some 70 reporters her romance with Prince Rainier III was love at second sight. Smiling happily, the honey-blonde actress told some 70 reporters and photographers yesterday how she met and was courted by the handsome monarch of tiny Monaco, whom she intends to marry after Easter. "I've been in love before—but never in love like this," she said. She met the prince at his palace in Monte Carlo last May, she said, but didn't date him and didn't feel at all romantic about him. It was a different story Christmas Day at the home of her wealthy parents in Philadelphia. Prince Rainier had Christmas dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Austin of Margate, N. J. Miss Kelly's aunt and uncle. After dinner the Austins brought him calling at the Kelly home. "Then it apparently was love at first sight, or rather second sight," Miss Kelly said, smiling. "Rainier proposed sometime during Christmas week after asking my father's permission." She held up her hand, showing the engagement ring of rubies and diamonds, and another gift from Rainier—a bracelet of heavy gold

Pros Have Fun, Boys Learn In All-Star Game In Hawaii

BY FRANK PITMAN
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nine games are booked this week in the Skyline Conference football race and when they are over the superiority of Utah Brigham Young is likely to be pronounced.

Utah (8-3) opened defense of its championship last week with two victories. The Redskins have a chance of picking up two more on their journey to Denver Thursday and to New Mexico (2-7) Saturday.

Brigham Young (9-3) bowed in a 73-64 victory over Montana. The Cougars will be at the Provo Friday for Colorado A&M (6-7) and Saturday for Utah and BYU, the No. 1 and 2 fishers in the league last season.

Utah and BYU, the No. 1 and 2 fishers in the league last season, are campaigning with about the same teams as a year ago. On the other hand, the Redskins have a record of last week's play in the league's teams—with the possible exception of Montana.

Utah turned back Utah State 55-15 at Salt Lake City Saturday. Gary Bergen, Morr's Buckner and Art Bunte earning unshared heroics for the Aggies who tied score several times, the last 51.

Any doubt as to the low level of Wyoming's basketball fortunes was erased Saturday at Laramie where New Mexico smacked the boys, 80-71, for the Lobos' Skyline basketball triumph.

Wyoming New Mexico 62-57 by Rocky caused most of the noise with a 37 point performance that smashed a War Memorial Field House record of 30 goals previous night by Wyoming Joe Capua.

Denver's in-and-out club was 65-51 that as the Pioneers dropped 65-51 decision to Wyoming at Laramie Friday and then came back with a 73-57 triumph over Colorado A&M at Fort Collins Saturday. The previous night the Aggies had beaten New Mexico, 52.

50th Annual NCAA Meeting Underway Today

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 50th annual convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. NCAA opened today with consideration of the University of Miami's probation confronting the administrative council.

The Florida school, placed on probation for violation of various NCAA tenets in October, 1954, was to explain its present position at a closed council session.

On the opening agenda also were two roundtable discussions on the recruiting problem, with athletic directors and faculty representatives taking part. The NCAA Television Committee was expected to present its report on the results of the 1951 program tonight, plus recommendations for a 1956 schedule of college football telecasting.

The Miami problem, with Vice President James M. Godard presenting his school's views, was considered likely to occupy the council's closed session most of the day. The university was placed on probation originally for paying the transportation costs of prospective athletes to the campus, for conducting tryout sessions and for granting excessive financial aid in the form of providing transportation to athletes' home at Christmas and summer vacations.

The probation originally was for one year and would have expired last October. However, the council at that time expressed itself as "dissatisfied" with corrections made, according to Walter Byers, NCAA executive secretary, and the probation was continued until the present convention.

Three Schools Place Two Men On Texas Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Champion Stamford, runner-up Hillsboro and rugged Breckenridge each placed two players on the Class AA all-state schoolboy football team with Merlin Priddy, Hillsboro's great back, the nearest to unanimous selection.

Priddy, 190-pound senior, who led the Eagles to the finals, recorded 96 points from the selection committee of Texas Sports Writers Assn. That was only four points under the possible maximum.

James Shillingburg, Kermit guard, was next in the voting with 89 points.

Stamford's all-stars were Joe Wash, brilliant tackle, and Mike McClellan, hard-running back. McClellan, was the only junior to make the team.

Hillsboro placed Priddy and center Robert Himmel.

Breckenridge contributed Bennett Watts, quarterback, and Jerry Payne, end.

Don Meredith, Mt. Pleasant back who made the team in 1954, played six brilliant games before suffering a broken collar bone last season. He was given honorable mention.

Boxing Managers Guild Ready To Submit To State Officials

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Its back broken, its morale shattered, the once-defiant New York Boxing Managers Guild was ready today to surrender unconditionally to the State Athletic Commission.

The guild's board of governors scheduled a meeting late today, and one informant told the Associated Press the organization would be voted out of existence.

Just four days ago the guild voted 66-0 to defy Julius Helfand, chairman of the State Athletic Commission, who ordered the guild to dissolve by Jan. 16 because he alleged some of the pilots were consorting with criminals.

But the swift-moving developments that followed the guild's vote led to an abrupt turnaround. They included:

1. The International Boxing Club headed by Jim Norris, the biggest promoter in the country, aligning itself behind Helfand.

2. The refusal of the Maryland state commission to sanction bouts by the London Sporting Club, which has been operating at St. Nicholas Arena here.

3. The resignation of Al Weill, manager of heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, from the guild.

Said one guild member: "Most of us were badly advised when we were told to refuse to testify at the recent hearings Helfand conducted. Everyone knows that the International Boxing Guild—the parent body to the New York local ran things. But we needed it for the fine things it did in negotiating television and other contracts."

"We will ask Helfand to form an organization acceptable to him. Certainly if our members are 'clean' he cannot object."

Bobby Gleason, manager of heavyweight Nino Valdes, said he would try to revive the old "Ring Board of Trade," which would act as a managers' association.

REVIEW OF THE YEAR—By Alan Maver

San Francisco, Dayton Should Have No Trouble Winning Again

By BEN OLAN

San Francisco and Dayton, the mighty and the high among the nation's college basketball teams, should have little trouble extending their unbeaten streaks this week.

But don't bet on it.

Particularly after the hectic action over the weekend, when four of the top 10 teams—including the second-ranked North Carolina State—were beaten. The Wolfpack, after 23 straight successes, dropped a 68-58 decision to Duke. If top-rated San Francisco wins both its games this week it will equal the collegiate record for consecutive victories—39.

The Dons play Santa Clara tomorrow and Fresno State Friday. Neither is expected to spring the big surprise, but Santa Clara has shown improvement in winning its last three games.

Dayton's tall Flivers, led by seven-foot center Bill Uhl, were easy winners over Iowa Saturday 83-64. They'll take their 11-0 slate into Buffalo's Memorial Auditorium Saturday night against Canisius.

The standings of the Big Ten are likely to be scrambled tonight. Purdue and Indiana head the pack

Sul Ross Puts Perfect Record On Line Friday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The big games in the Lone Star Conference came up on Friday and Saturday when Sul Ross put its perfect season record up against Stephen F. Austin.

Sul Ross leads the loon with a 10-0 record while Stephen F. Austin is right behind with a 10-1 mark.

This week Lamar Tech plays McNeese State and Texas A&I meets Louisiana Tech Monday. Tuesday Southwest Texas plays Stephen F. Austin and East Texas goes against Louisiana Tech. Wednesday Lamar Tech takes on Sam Houston. Friday East Texas plays Texas A&I and Stephen F. Austin tangles with Sul Ross. Saturday East Texas tries A&I again, Sam Houston gets Southwest Texas and Stephen F. Austin plays Sul Ross again.

Santa Fe Skier Tops In Two Classes Sunday

SANTA FE (AP)—A 17-year-old Santa Fe youth was top man for both the senior and junior classes in the giant slalom ski event here today.

The race was held at Sierra de Santa Fe ski area Sunday.

John Dendahl, long a protege of Buzz Bainbridge, owner of the ski lodge, was high point skier for the three-quarter mile course. His time was 55.2 seconds.

Winner for the same race in the senior class over 32 years of age was John Kinsloving of Albuquerque, who raced as an independent with the time of 57.2 seconds. Second place in the senior class went to Vern Strubing of the Los Alamos Ski Club, for his time of 1:00.2.

Frank Francisco of the El Paso Ski Club, took third place honors in the time of 1:01.1.

In the junior class, Santa Fe's John Denhal was the undisputed winner with Bill Nordhaus of Albuquerque, second with a time of 1:04.3.

Dorothea Dunakin of Santa Fe, took third place with a time of 1:11.3.

Bainbridge said the weather was perfect for the race even though he had expected snow conditions to be less than satisfactory.

Border Action Still Surprising

PHOENIX, ARIZ. (AP)—Border Conference basketball continues to be surprising. The dark horse which pushed to the front of the race after it opened last week is Arizona State College at Tempe.

New Mexico A&M shared the top position in all games with last year's co-champion, West Texas.

Texas Tech lost the conference opener of the Boffs 72-71.

Arizona State faces Texas Tech Tuesday and West Texas Saturday. Both games are at Tempe.

Hardin-Simmons will meet West Texas at Canyon Tuesday and the Aggies Friday.

Arizona faces Tech's Red Raiders at home Wednesday and visits Arizona on Friday.

Tatum Like 'Br'er Rabbit Going Back To Patch' In Changing Jobs

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Jim Tatum, "like an old Br'er Rabbit going back to the rabbit path," has quit the job that earned him a reputation as one of football's master tacticians to become head coach at the University of North Carolina.

He announced his resignation yesterday as football coach and athletic director at the University of Maryland to take a job that will pay less, but lighten the load of his responsibilities.

Terms of Tatum's contract with UNC were not announced. But Jake Wade, North Carolina's athletic publicity director, said the salary will not exceed the $15,000.

limit placed on the position by the State Legislature.

And Tatum said, "I'm not going down there as athletic director and coach, only as coach. You ought to get some idea from that, that Carolina can't afford to pay me as much as Maryland was." He received $18,500 yearly at Maryland.

"The job as football coach and athletic director got to be so mammoth at Maryland," he said, "I felt I was spreading myself too thin."

"I just didn't have the time any more to run both jobs right. I lost touch more and more with my team, especially with my quarterback Frank Tamburello, and it was hurting them and their performance."

"And with all due respect to my other coaches, when Warren Giese left for South Carolina Giese resigned last week to become head coach at South Carolina. I lost someone who had taken a great deal of the load off my shoulders. His loss really hurt."

Tatum also said, "Now my family and I will be right in the heart of our home country and this may be the last chance to return there. I had the opportunity once before and turned it down. Sometimes I regretted it."

The Salk vaccine, developed with March of Dimes funds, is a medical milestone. Since it is not 100% effective, however, much more money is needed for research projects now underway at many universities across the land. Langrum's 200 Kill Worth A. Open Lead

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lloyd Mangrum held a solid lead of five holes going into the final round of the $30,000 Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament today. While he did not predict victory, he added:

"Five strokes is a mighty comfortable lead, barring someone such as the picture as 65 surfer of a field cut down from 150 to 115 at the 48-yard, par 36-35-71 Rancho Miral golf course."

Nearest to the 41-year-old Mangrum, seeking his fourth win in event and the $6,000 that goes with it, were Tommy Bolt and Jerry Barber.

Mangrum broke par for the third night yesterday, scoring a 67 for a new tournament record—184 for 54 holes.

Bolt cooled off from the spectacular 63 of Saturday, taking a 71, and Barber got into the hole with his second straight 67, tying them both at 205.

The two tied, the Mangrum speeded, the 54-hole record of 205 set by Jimmy Demaret in 1939 and Jimmy Thomson in 1938, both on other municipal courses, Griffith Park.

Thomson holds the full tournament record, 273, set in 1938. "I hope to do better than that," Mangrum commented.

The next nearest challenger Cary Middlecoff, who shot a 67 for 207, and one stroke behind were Dutch Harrison 70 and Barnum 72.

Carlos Ortiz, Ray Portilla Battle Tonight

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Monday night fights still set out of New York's St. Nicholas Arena for at least this Monday night with a match between 190-pound Carlos Ortiz of Puerto Rico, unbeaten in 12 bouts, and Ray Portilla of New York.

The St. Nick's promoters, anxious to continue promoting here after their Baltimore fiasco, have an 16 match up for approval of the New York State Athletic Commission but it hasn't been on the official okay yet. The match would pit John L. Sullivan England against Tony Johnson New York.

Promoter Tex Sullivan hopes to lighten it all out in a conference with Commissioner Julius Helfand today.

Ortiz can fight only eight rounds because of his age under New York rules. With 12 straight victories, nine by knockouts, he will be favored over Portilla.

Mont will telecast.

Values Of Education

WITH ALL THE DEMANDS being made for more money for education there are doubtless those who wonder whether education is worth the price. Then, we always have those youngsters who wonder whether a college education is worth the time and the cost.

Money returns from higher educations have been compiled by the Kiplinger Washington agency that prove very interesting. They point out that the average elementary school graduate will earn $165,000 but the average college graduate will earn in his or her life time some $268,000.

That, of course, is a pretty convincing argument that it does pay to give the time and the estimated $9,000 for the college education.

But America faces some real problems both in providing facilities and instruction in public schools as well as in colleges during the next 10 years. The elementary schools will show an increase in enrollment of some 23 percent or up some 6.6 million in the next 10 years. That is above what we have today. The high schools are expected to show an increase of 55 per cent more than today and will be up some 4.2 million. Colleges are expected to show a 40 per cent increase over the enrollment of today and be up some 1.1 million students.

The problem in taking care of these students, of course, is one of money. And the only money we have or can get comes from taxes. So it appears we can't and won't settle our problems today or tomorrow because that problem extends far into the future and it will continue to be a problem because of our increased growth in population as a nation.

Not only the public schools have difficulties but the private colleges, it has been estimated, will need some $800 million a year for the next 10 years. Today these private colleges receive about one million in a year from private sources in the way of gifts and donations.

Whether the federal government will be asked to aid and help the colleges remains to be seen. No one wants that but all indications point to the fact the colleges are going to have to have some help from some source or other.

Most of us are willing to agree that if the college student can earn $268,000 in a life time, against $116,000, that an elementary school graduate can earn, that the education is worthwhile, and we must make it possible for our young people to acquire college educations.

President's Indecision About Running Again Not Surprising

By JAMES MARLOW Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—President Eisenhower's statement that he hasn't made up his mind about running again wasn't surprising. It would have been surprising if he had said he has already decided to seek reelection.

His doctors say they won't know until mid-February whether he can stand another four White House years. They say he can't. For him to say now, before the medical verdict is in, would be poor judgment, at the least.

Because of what he has said already it would not have been surprising if he had told his news conference yesterday this term is his last. Based on what he said yesterday and previously, a good case can be made out that he will not run.

Eisenhower clearly felt, even before his heart attack last Sept. 24, the heavy burden of the presidency on a man now 65 years old. And he still feels it.

Last Aug. 4 he told an Ohio Republican delegation that the eroding effect the presidency has on a man might be the deciding factor in his decision on seeking a second term.

He pointed out then that no man had reached 70 while president. Eisenhower would be 66 by the time he began a second term in 1957 and 70 years and 3 months old by the time he finished it in 1961, if he lived that long.

Yesterday he told his news conference, that—looking back on all the jobs of his life, including his military responsibility in World War II—the presidency is "the most wearing . . . although not necessarily the most tiring."

He said yesterday he would begin today to take on the full duties of the presidency. But he also said "I have done many things in the past because I didn't have that sense of fatigue — and I have to be careful of myself."

Last Aug. 4, almost two months before his heart attack, he told a news conference the state of his health in 1956 would be an important factor in his decision about running again. He was reminded of this yesterday. He said it was correct.

Then he said the following, which could be interpreted as meaning he is concerned about his chance of surviving another four years in the White House — con-

Like Able To Run Again, Doctors In Poll Claim

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Among 246 heart specialists giving definite answers in a poll on President Eisenhower's health, three out of five say he is physically fit to seek a second term. The others say he is not.

Results of the poll were published today under copyright by U. S. News and World Report, a news magazine. The poll was conducted for the magazine by the research organization of Benson-Benson, Inc., Princeton, N. J.

The American Medical Assn. had questioned the propriety of the poll and urged doctors not to answer.

Questionnaires were sent to the 444 doctors certified by the American Board of Internal Medicine as heart specialists. Of this number, 275 or about 62 per cent replied. Twenty-nine of these did not give direct answers.

The two questions asked and the replies, as given by the magazine: "Based on what you have read about the nature of the President's illness, and assuming a normal convalescence in the next few months, do you think Mr. Eisenhower can be regarded as physically able to serve a second term? Yes: 141, or 60.3 per cent; No: 93, or 39.7 per cent.

"Do you think a man who has suffered a heart attack can be regarded as physically able to serve a term as president? Yes: 152, or 64.4 per cent; No: 84, or 35.6 per cent.

No names of physicians were used by the magazine, nor did the research organization ask that replies be signed.

The Journal of the AMA, in an editorial published last Friday, said the questionnaires "should be tossed into the wastebasket." It said among other things that "the questions are very definitely slanted politically and that 'consultation without examination is absurd.'"

Presumably most if not all of the replies received were in the mail before the AMA Journal appeared.

The magazine said it published the results of the poll, along with the comments of all the physicians who responded, as a public service. In defense of the basis for the survey, it noted there had been widespread publication of technical data on the President's Sept. 24 heart attack, including the extent of damage, blood pressure, pulse rate and electrocardiograph readings.

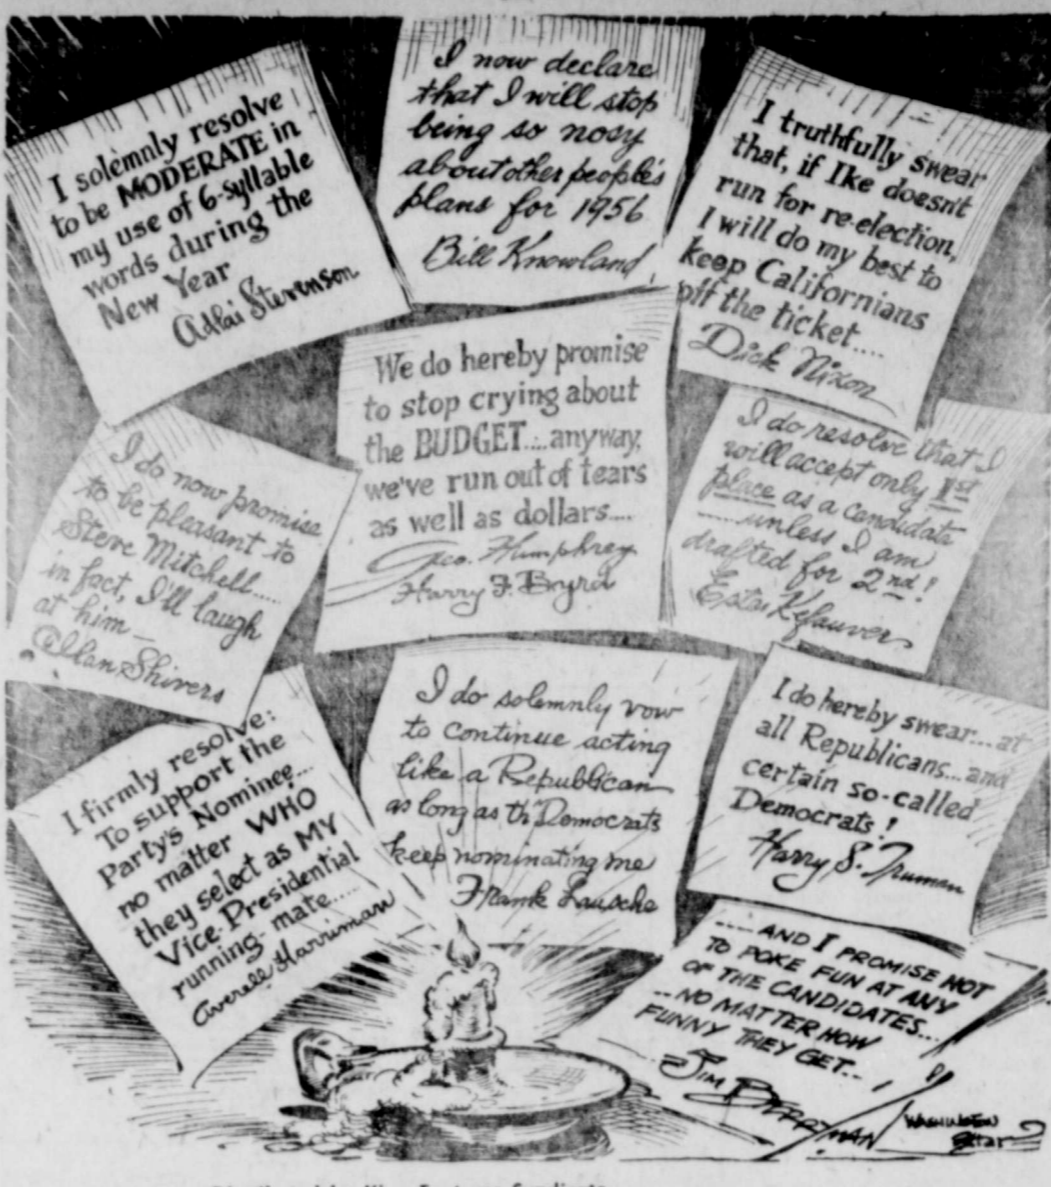

U. S. News and World Report said the difference of opinion as to Eisenhower's fitness to undertake a second term "indicates that his own doctors may not give Mr. Eisenhower a clear-cut answer as to whether he should or should not campaign."

Eisenhower told a news conference at Key West, Fla., yesterday that he has not made a final decision.

TRAVEL INCREASE

ALBUQUERQUE, Jan. 8.—Travel to two national monuments in New Mexico showed large increases in 1955, said John M. Davis, general superintendent of southwestern national monuments. He said Chaco Canyon showed an increase of 45 per cent over 1954, and the Gila cliff dwellings had an increase of 29 per cent.

and declining prices. He said: "The attack on the surplus must go forward in full recognition of the fact that farm products are not actually marketed when delivered to and held by the government. A government warehouse is not a market. Even the most stable commodities cannot be added forever to government granaries, nor can they be indefinitely held. Ultimately the stockpiles must be used."

Eisenhower said it is unthinkable to destroy food. Hence, he said, it is necessary that means be found to move the commodities into use at home and abroad.

In outlining his recommendation for a soil bank, Eisenhower said the most pressing need today is to "work off our surpluses so that our basic program of 1954 can succeed in gearing production to prospective markets at fair prices."

The 1954 program featured flexible price supports. Under the soil bank, Eisenhower suggested what he called a three-pronged attack.

The first phase would be designed to meet the "immediate need to reduce the crops in greatest supply" by an acreage reserve program. Under this program farmers would be encouraged to plant less than their regular acreage allotments through the offer of government surplus stocks as an incentive payment.

Eisenhower emphasized, however, that this program is not proposed as a device to empty government warehouses so that they might be filled again.

"There is," he said, "a basic corollary to the acreage reserve program. In future years we must avoid, as a plague, farm programs that would encourage the building up of new price-depressing surpluses."

In proposing to give government-held surpluses to farmers who indent their planting allotments, Eisenhower said it would be "grossly unfair to require farmers to bear the full burdens" of this effort to readjust supplies to market needs.

"Just as other readjustments from war were shouldered in considerable part by the nation as a whole, so should this," he added.

Eisenhower gave this explanation of how this phase of the acreage reserve plan would work: "A farmer, with an allotment of 100 acres of wheat, for example, may choose to plant only 80 acres and put the remaining 20 in the acreage reserve. This acreage allotment will not be affected. He will agree not to graze or harvest any crop from the 20 acres put into the reserve.

"In return for this cooperation in the temporary acreage production program, he will receive a cashable certificate. The certificate will be equal to a percentage of the value of the crop he would have normally harvested from the 20 acres. This percentage will be set up at an incentive level sufficiently high to assure success of the program."

Eisenhower said the certificate could be redeemed in cash or commodities.

The president said this plan has many virtues. He said it will help remove the "crushing" burden of surpluses.

He said it also will reduce the "massive and unproductive" storage costs on government holdings. And he said it will ease apprehension among friends abroad over U.S. surplus disposal operations.

Agriculture Department officials said the program for underplanting of present allotments is aimed at cutting wheat acreage from about 55 million to 43 million and cotton acreage from 17 million to 14 million.

Such a reduction could be expected to cut 1956 output below market needs. The deficit in market requirements would be drawn from surplus stocks, whether by withdrawals to compensate farmers in kind or by direct sale of government stocks.

The second part of the soil bank plan would provide for diversion of additional acreage from crops to conservation purposes. Payments would be made to farmers who left idle additional land. Eisenhower estimated that 250 million-dollars from the agricultural conservation program would be made available to help pay the cost of diverting land from crops to conservation uses and that some 350 million dollars would be proposed for payments this year to help compensate farmers for loss of revenue from land which would be put under this program.

Eisenhower said the conservation phase of the soil bank program would provide soil and water resources for the benefit of this and future generations, as well as provide in time an increased supply of much-needed forest products. He said it also would reduce "the undue stimulus to livestock production, and consequent low livestock prices, induced by feed grain production" on land which the present program shifts to such crops.

The third segment of what Eisenhower called this three-pronged attack is the surplus disposal program.

Eisenhower said that despite "vigorous" efforts to dispose of surplus stocks during the past fiscal year, the government investment in price-supported commodities increased by about one billion dollars to slightly more than seven billion dollars.

"Because the problem continues to be so serious and stubborn, the secretary of agriculture is appointing an agricultural surplus disposal administrator who will report directly to the secretary," the President said.

Eisenhower said the administration whenever possible will continue to ease or eliminate controls over farmers. For commodities on which price supports are discretionary, he said, it will continue to support prices at the highest levels possible without accumulating new surpluses.

In this connection, Eisenhower said he had been advised by Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan that he would also reduce the "massive and unproductive" storage costs on government holdings. And he said it will ease apprehension among friends abroad over U.S. surplus disposal operations.

Convincing People To Sew Made Refugee A Millionaire Rapidly

By HAL BOYLE NEW YORK (AP)—Leon Jolson is a refugee who became a millionaire by convincing even policemen retary Benson that 1956 price supports for soybeans and flaxseed will be higher in 1955. The President made several recommendations for specific major crops.

In the case of wheat, Eisenhower urged that producers who use all their wheat for feed, food or seed on their own farms be exempted from federal marketing quotas. The Senate has passed such legislation but not the House.

As another step toward reducing wheat surpluses, Eisenhower urged that Congress authorize the sale, for livestock feeding, of limited quantities of government-owned wheat of less desirable milling qualities.

For cotton, Eisenhower recommended changes in the formula for computing price supports. The changes in the formula for computing price supports. The changes would be designed to bring about a somewhat lower dollars-and-cents level in price guarantees.

At present, farm law designates middling seven-eighths as the standard grade for parity and price support calculations. This grade currently takes in less than 5 per cent of cotton production. Eisenhower would base calculations on the average grade and quality of the crop. Farm officials have estimated such a change would lower price supports by 2 to 3 cents a pound and make cotton more competitive in the world market.

Eisenhower said the present cotton program has shortcomings because rapidly advancing technology permits farmers progressively to produce more on each acre. He suggested that control limitations beginning in 1957 be based on quantity allotments rather than planting allotments.

Recommendations for rice were similar to those for corn. Farm officials have said present U. S. prices are above those of many competitors in world markets.

In the case of peanuts, Eisenhower said efforts toward stabilizing prices have met with serious difficulties because farm law sets a minimum peanut acreage allotment.

"With improving technology, this minimum acreage will normally produce more peanuts than the market will absorb at the support price," Eisenhower said.

He recommended eliminating the minimum national acreage allotment.

that they could do home sewing. His success is one of the spectacular of any, achieved the hundreds of thousands of lives from totalitarian terror have found a new life in America.

Jolson and his wife, Ann, here in 1947. They were stateless penniless and childless. On sons' left arm he bore the tattooed numerals symbolizing the three years he was imprisoned in Nazi concentration camps before he escaped and joined Polish underground movements.

Today at 42 Jolson is an American citizen, has two children, heads the $50,000,000-a-year Schiff and Elina sewing machine corporations.

But for a short time after arrival he and his wife had to exist on a $90-a-month check from a private relief organization. Jolson learned the English language.

What could he do to earn his way in this strange land? He had been a sewing machine company representative in Poland, was amazed to find how few American women did home sewing.

He decided there was a big market here, and that he would back into the only business he knew.

"There is already too much competition in it," they told him. "Besides American houses are different from European houses. They aren't interested in acquiring the technical skill to do home sewing."

Jolson thought they were wrong. He felt that by importing an American model sewing machine he required less operating skill could make a go of it. In 1949 started his own business on $2,000 borrowed capital.

"I was scared stiff," he recalled. "But his business mushroomed $2,000,000 in sales by the end of the first year. By 1953 they reached $45,000,000. His new account for about a tenth of the $500,000,000 American sewing machine industry.

"The do-it-yourself movement was a great factor, Jolson said. "Home sewing used to be largely to homes in the lower income classes. Now it's gone to high society.

"Many men have taken up sewing. We even have policemen sewing clothing for their children. Jolson now imports only 25 per cent of his sewing machine parts. The rest are manufactured in this country. The machines assembled in plants here and in Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

First Polio Virus Crystals

An outstanding recent achievement of March of Dimes research has been production of these pure crystals of polio virus by scientists at the University of California in Berkeley. They are the first crystals ever made of a virus that will make human beings sick. They are important because they indicate that polio virus is like a chemical in many ways, and that in turn suggests that polio can be fought with chemical means—either a drug or a chemically prepared vaccine. The research that made knowledge of these crystals possible has been supported by $783,695 in March of Dimes funds since July 1, 1949.
