MISD Board And Visitors Given Tests

Tougher Tests Facing Students In Future

To graphically demonstrate that testing for students is getting harder and harder each year, Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum Elizabeth Watson gave tests to members of the school board, administrators and others present for the Monday night meeting of the MISD Board of Trustees.

Mrs. Watson distributed work books with answer sheets on the Early Warning Diagnostic System to those present, and gave timed tests.

In the Mathematics workbook typical questions included:

Which would be the best estimate of the diameter of a button from a coat?

Answer choices included:

- A 2 millimeters
- B 2 centimeters
- C 2 meters
- D 2 kilometers

Another question was:

A chocolate pie is cut into 10 equal pieces. Each piece weighs 100 grams. What is the total weight of the pie, expressed in kilograms?

Possible answers were:

- A 0.001 kg.
- B 0.1 kg
- C 1 kg
- D 1000 kg

Another question:

Josh is using a recipe that calls for 1 1/2 cups of yogurt, but his container of yogurt is measured in ounces. How many ounces of yogurt should he use?

- A 9 oz.
- B 12 oz.
- C 18 oz.
- D 24 oz.

And, in the 'Writing' workbook was the following:

For numbers 1-7, read each passage. Some sections are underlined. The underlined sections may be one of the following:

- Incomplete sentences
- Run-ons
- Correctly written sentences that should be combined.
- Correctly written sentences that do not need to be re-written Choose the best way to write each underlined section. If the underlined section needs no change, mark 'D Correct as is.'

1. A Our landlord won't allow us to have a dog, Emma is a perfect pet.

B Since our landlord won't allow us to have a dog, Emma is a perfect pet.

C Our landlord won't allow us to have a dog, Emma is a perfect pet.

D However, our landlord won't allow us to have a dog, Emma is a perfect pet.

2. A Whistling, she comes and sits on my lap.

B When I whistle she comes and sits. On my lap.

C Comes and sits on my lap when I whistle.

D Correct as is.

After working on the test, those taking the test were informed that they had just taken a test administered to eighth graders.

Mrs. Watson explained that testing for the students is expected to become harder and more demanding as the years go on. And, the tests are proving that students really must study harder and pay Cont. Page 6, Col. 1

'Horror' Video Shown Rotary Explaining New DWI Laws

Members of the Muleshoe Rotary Club viewed a 'horror video' Tuesday for the regularly scheduled program. Dave Marr was in charge of the program and introduced Muleshoe Police Chief Wayne Holmes.

Chief Holmes said the video he was presenting on Texas DWI Laws and DWIs was through the courtesy of the Bailey County Sheriff's office.

Chief Holmes said that each year at least 40,000-50,000 people are killed on the nation's highways and roads. "Why is it all right to kill people with motor vehicles and not all right to kill them with guns or knives?" questioned the chief. "We lose more people, killed by drunks in vehicles, than anything else."

The video started out featuring a horrendous vehicle accident in 1983 near Houston, where seven members of the Burch family were killed.

Included were a wife and grandmother; her daughter; her daughter's mother-in-law; all three of the daughter's children and a 12 year old niece.

The videos depicted the vehicles after the crash, and showed that the Burch car was almost unrecognizable as a vehicle. It was smashed and literally torn apart.

According to a sheriff's deputy who was the first on the scene, the odor of alcohol from the other vehicle involved overpowered the smell of gasoline, transmission fluid, coolant and other fluids with strong odors.

He found just two of the little girls still barely alive. One died before rescuers got there and the other died a short time later

Carrie Kindle Outstanding Student Athlete

Carrie Ann Kindle of Maple has been recognized as the winner of the KCBD-Dr. Pepper Outstanding Student Athlete Award for the week of March 18, 1991. The recipient of the award is nominated by his or her high school principal. To be considered for the award, a student must display excellence not only in athletics, but in classroom and student activities as well.

Carrie, a senior at Three Way High School, is involved in the National Honor Society. She is an All-American Scholar and winner of a National Science Merit Award. Carrie has been actively involved in numerous organizations throughout her high school career.

She is currently head cheerleader, class secretary/treasurer, assistant editor of the Annual and homecoming queen. She has made the honor roll for the past four years.

Carrie has served as captain of both the basketball and volleyball teams. She has earned All-District honors in both sports.

Carrie is also a member of the track team and was awarded the Fighting Eagle award two years in a row.

Three Way High School Principal Ron Walker says of Carrie, "She is an outstanding young lady and excels in anything she attempts. She is the kind of young person we can feel comfortable with when her generation is in control of our nation."

Carrie is the daughter of Sharon and James Kindle.

in surgery.

The husband and grandfather found out about the accident on the 10 o'clock TV news. He made a bewildered trip to a sheriff's substation to find that virtually his entire family had been wiped out.

"It wasn't a pretty way -- the way they died," he said. "It wasn't pretty a'tall. In fact, it was pretty cold."

In discussing the accident, the sheriff's deputy at times lost control, before continuing to discuss the accident that claimed the lives of seven people.

A spokesman said that was the impetus to make stiffer DWI laws.

Indian Fire Burning Says 'Bad' Crop Year

By: Scott Robinson

Every farmer spends a lot of time wondering about the weather, especially during the early spring. The spring is a critical time for their crops, and each farmer worries about what effect 'Mother Nature' will have on their corn, cotton, and wheat yields.

And, the news from the Crim homestead this year is exactly what every Parmer County resident fears: a poor crop season lies ahead.

Every year on March 22, the second day of spring, Weldon Crim predicts the weather for the upcoming season by reconstructing an ancient Indian custom.

The forecast is made by putting wood and limbs into a teepee shape and igniting it at sunrise on the second day of the season. The direction in which the smoke blows predicts the season's weather.

"Heap of bad medicine," says Crim. "In the olden days, the chief would advise that the farmer load up the wife and kids and move to Oklahoma."

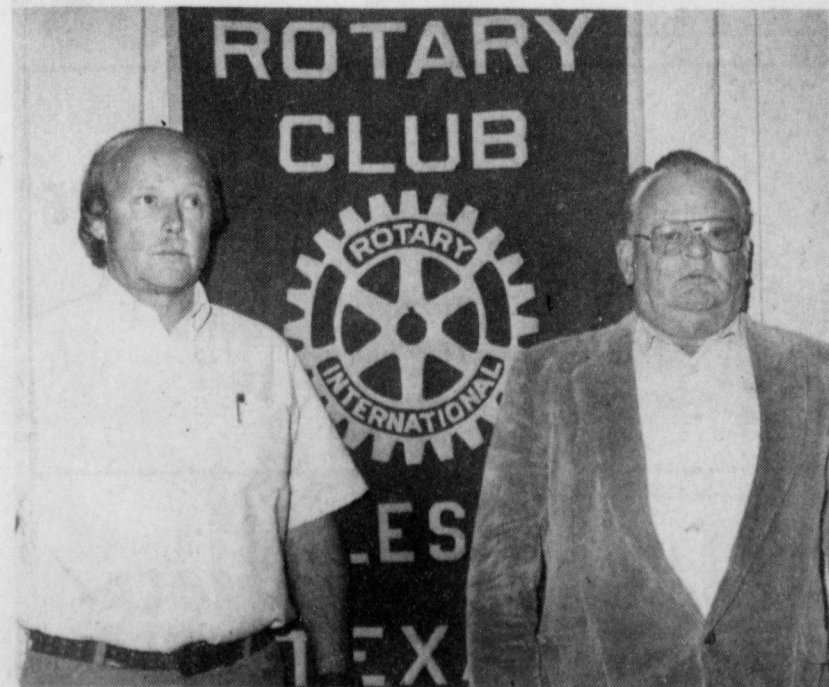

Crim is the third generation of his family to conduct the Indian ritual, called a "fire burning."

His grandfather, Taylor Crim, learned the tradition from watching the Indians near his residence in Van Horn, Texas. He noticed that the Indians set smoke fires on every March 22, but none of them would discuss Cont. Page 6, Col. 1

'HEAP BAD MEDICINE' SAYS FORECAST--Last Friday morning, Weldon Crim, left, made his annual Indian weather prediction at Lazbuddie in a 'fireburning.' He says it will not be a good crop year. Pictured with him is his son, Rodney, who is learning the ancient Indian technique. (Journal Photo)

CHIEF OF POLICE PRESENTS PROGRAM--Tuesday at noon, Muleshoe Police Chief Wayne Holmes presented a video on Texas DWI Laws and DWIs to the Muleshoe Rotary Club. He was introduced by Dave Marr, who was in charge of the program for the day. Chief Holmes explained some of the newer and tougher DWI laws in the state. (Journal Photo)

From The Senate

By: Teel Bivins

In today's global economy it seems that most public policy issues that impact agriculture emanate from Washington, D.C. Whether it is the administration making grain deals, or announcing an agricultural embargo, or Congress enacting a new farm bill, it seems that we producers in the Crown of Texas tend to focus on Washington to learn what might happen next in our agri-business ventures. But remember, "when the Texas Legislature is in session, no man nor his dog is safe." There are a number of issues and bills pending before the Texas Legislature that can and will impact agriculture on the High Plains.

With Texas facing a serious financial crunch, talk of tax reform is in the air. Producers need to be particularly alert to what types of tax reform that may be engaged in. While many people fear the dreaded "I" word, a state income tax, application of a gross receipts tax or removal of sales and ad valorem tax exemptions could be just as disruptive for agriculture. Implication of a value added tax also could have serious implications for producers.

Another major issue that has potential indirect impact on agriculture and direct impact on rural Texas is funding public education. To the extent any solution places heavier emphasis on a property tax, ag producers could be seriously hurt. Also, if I and my other colleagues from rural areas are unable to convince the rest of the Texas Legislature that children in sparsely populated rural school districts are entitled to the same quality education as those in urban areas, our small rural communities could be dealt another devastating blow.

There are also several specific ag bills pending before the Legislature. Some are old fights and some will be new ones. There is a bill that calls for central notification or "central filing" in order to perfect agricultural liens. Bankers are for it and producers are against it. The battle has raged since 1985 when Congress passed the federal clear title legislation. Therein the states were given two options banks could use for perfecting ag liens. One is favored by the producers, referred to as pre-notification, and the other, central filing, is favored by the bankers. The problem is that Congress has left no room for any middle ground compromise.

Senate Bill 405 by Senator Lyon makes it a crime to store, hold, scatter or distribute any toxic substance that could kill or injure wildlife. While the bill has a noble purpose it does not allow for acts of God that could create toxic substances such as corn contaminated by aflatoxin.

Another bill would move the "link deposit" program from the Texas Department of Agriculture to the Governor's office. This program which is essentially a guarantee fund for low interest loans for young farmers seems to have worked well at TDA. I question the need for the change.

The piece of legislation that could have the single greatest effect on agriculture, and other industries in Texas for that matter, is a bill that would create the Texas Natural Resources Commission. The Commission would consolidate into one agency the Texas Air Control Board, the Water Commission, the Water Development Board, the Structural Pest Control Board, and the Department of Health's Division of Solid Waste Management and Occupational Health and Safety.

Such a major consolidation has the potential in resulting in substantial cost savings in the operation of these agencies, while at the same time allowing "one stop permitting" for those who would be regulated by such an agency. The bill, as introduced, has several features that concern me deeply. However, the authors have assured me that the bill, as filed, is merely a shell.

They have assured me that agriculture will have a seat at the table in negotiating the details of this legislation. Those of us who make our living in agriculture take a back seat to no one when it comes to protecting the environment. As long as the bill is grounded in sound scientific fact and fair procedural mechanisms, I believe that agriculture can stay at the table and work proactively for the environment.

So for those of you who are accustomed to watching Washington for developments in ag policy, cast an eye to the South. There is a lot going on in Austin that can affect you and agriculture.

BIBLE VERSE

"Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do."

1. Who made the above request?
2. Upon what occasion?
3. Who were "they" to whom he referred?
4. Where may this verse be found?

Answers:

1. Jesus.
2. As he hung on the cross on Golgotha, or Calvary.
3. The Roman soldiers, who crucified Him specifically, but generally to the Jewish leaders who had caused his death.
4. Luke 23, part of the 34th verse.

Texas Senate Week In Review

In the frenzy to meet the Texas Supreme Court's April 1 deadline for equalized public school funding, the Conference Committee on Senate Bill 351 met Thursday and voted favorably on the final draft. The compromise bill established 195 county education districts to levy taxes to operate the state's Foundation School Program.

It also establishes capped tax rates at $1.50 per $100 valuation, and a multi-tiered program that includes the foundation program, equalized enrichment, facilities and debt service funds. The conference committee plans to meet Monday, March 25, to sign the final committee report.

On Wednesday, March 20, the Senate finally passed the Sunset legislation relating to the restructuring of the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation. The Sunset Advisory Commission was established to review state agencies for their necessity, effectiveness, and efficiency every twelve years.

Senator Gonzalo Barrientos of Austin, sponsor of Senate Bill 352, has served as chair of the Sunset Advisory Board for the past two years. After attempting to amend the legislation on Monday, March 18, to include increasing the board size, the Senate agreed on Wednesday to require at least one board member to be from a rural area, and for no two board members to reside in the same area.

Also on Wednesday, March 20, the Senate Natural Resources Committee, chaired by Senator Bill Sims of San Angelo, heard testimony on Senate Bill 1099, sponsored by Senator Steve Carriker of Roby relating to permitting hazardous waste facilities.

The legislation provides for more local input into siting decisions and extends the moratorium on commercial hazardous waste facilities until new guidelines can be established by the Texas Water Commission. And among those testifying in favor of the legislation was Governor Ann Richards. The bill was referred to a special subcommittee chaired by Senator Car-riker.

On Tuesday, March 19, the Senate did not convene due to the tardiness of a large number of senators. After the Secretary of State, Betty King, called the roll and found there was no quorum, Senator Carl Parker moved adjournment until 11 a.m. the next day.

Lieutenant Governor Bullock promptly announced there were no objections and adjourned until the following day. He had expressed earlier in the session his desire to begin promptly each day.

Art Show Scheduled Here

Fifty to sixty pieces of art will be displayed at the First Bank in Muleshoe on Wednesday and Thursday, April 10 and 11, during their regular banking hours. The artwork represents artists from three galleries including Altermann and Morris Galleries, Dallas/Houston; Canyon Art Gallery, Canyon; and Rice Fine Art, Amarillo.

A collector for many years, Richard Rice of Rice Fine Art heads the event. He was able to assemble a significant collection of art during a 14-year period in which he taught school in Texas. Eventually his interest in art became greater than his interest in teaching and he decided to become a fine arts dealer on a full-time basis.

Canyon Art Gallery is owned by Mary Elizabeth Cornette and was opened in 1965. Her gallery has represented many outstanding artists including Porfirio Salinas, Fremont Ellis and G. Harvey.

Altermann and Morris Galleries was founded by Tony Altermann, who has been in the art business since the early 70's. The gallery is recognized nationally for its two major art exhibits--the American Arts Classic in Houston and the Collectors Sale in Dallas.

The combination of the three galleries inventory makes an impressive presentation which covers western, wildlife, landscape, impressionist, and figurative art. Watercolors, oil, drawings, bronzes, and limited edition prints are included in the show.

Prices of the artwork range from $200 to $38,000.

Some of the major artists that will be showing are: Paul Calle, R.D. Enright, S.D. Greer, G. Harvey, Tom Lovell, Frank McCarthy, E. John Robinson, Robert Summers and Robert Wood, all nationally known artists.

The show will be at the bank in Bovina on Friday, April 12.

HOW IS A NEWSPAPER LIKE A WOMAN

"Because every man should have one of his own and not run after his neighbors."

A few weeks ago the Journal offered a year's subscription to the one sending in the best answer. The above offered by Miss Alda Scott, Baileyboro, is deemed by the judges to have been the best submitted, and Miss Scott's name has been placed on the subscription list this week.

Numerous other answers were submitted as follows: some of which were excellent and all quiet applicable.

"Because back numbers are not much in demand; because they are good advertisers; because they tell everything they know; because it likes to tell the news; because it likes to be popular; because it likes to look nice; if they know anything they usually tell it; and they always have the last word and carry the news wherever they go.

ASKS CAR OWNERS TO SECURE TAGS SOON AS POSSIBLE

Stating that only 261 automobile license tags had been sold to date, Sheriff Raz Renfrow urged car owners to get their tags as soon as possible, so as to avoid the last minute rush. "Although it is convenient for them most any time," Mr. Renfrow said, "Many people will wait until the last day to secure tags, and this adds extra work which could be avoided."

There are approximately 1750 tags to be sold in the county, 1,250 of them passenger car tags. Of the remaining 500, there are 200 for commercial trucks and 300 farm truck tags. Very few of these truck tags have been taken to date.

1951 COURTHOUSE BURGLARIZED Burglars seem to have plenty of nerve in this area, for Wednesday they broke into the court house and "blew" the vaults in the county clerk's office.

No money was contained in the vaults at the time of the burglary. The vault in the county clerk's office was entered and papers were scattered all over the floor when it was discovered the next morning. The knob was knocked off the treasurer's vault.

They did not bother the vault in the sheriff's office which contained more than $4,000 at the time.

Entry was made through the south door of the court house. Officers of the sheriff's department were checking fingerprints and other clues left by the burglars.

SNEAK RAIN AND SNOW SPELLS PROVE COSMIC RIGHT, WRONG

Sneaky storms buried Muleshoe under a mantle of snow Thursday night and again Saturday night. In both cases rain turned to snow and surprised local residents (and all weathermen) with wet snow.

The moisture was the first measurable amounts for March. We picked up .38 from the Thursday night affair and an additional .70 from the Saturday and Sunday accumulation.

Normal moisture for March in Muleshoe is .56. The rain and snow of the past week vaulted us into the wetter than normal category with 1.08. This bears out Cosmic's earlier prediction for a wetter than normal March in Muleshoe. Cosmic failed to foresee the snow, but anticipated the moisture.

more attention in class.

Visiting with the MISD Board were Bill and Sandy Adling. He is the architect for the addition to be built to Watson Junior High School, and Mrs. Adling is an interior decorator.

They presented proposed colors for the inside of the new addition, and following a discussion the colors were approved.

Adling also told the board that in the near future, the contractors would be putting up construction fences, and start moving materials on-site very soon. Preliminary work will be starting in the near future.

To be constructed are new science rooms, a computer room and extension to the media center.

Board members also voted for three positions for directors to the Region XVII Educational Service Center, and the ballots will be returned to Lubbock.

Discussed was the Management Assistance Program, and approval was given for the team to start interviews on April 24.

It was explained that this will not be an evaluation of personnel, but an overall assessment of the efficiency of the operation of the school system. Every level will be considered, from administrative to janitorial.

Superintendent Bill Moore then discussed a Campus Improvement Committee, which will include teachers, parents, and community members.

The committee will be evaluating school campuses to see that they are keeping the school policy of Excellence in Education.

the happenings.

So Taylor asked a shepherd in the area and he was told the significance of the fires and what the Indians were trying to accomplish. Years later when Taylor began farming, he began using the "fire burning" to forecast the weather himself.

Taylor Crim died in 1937, and his only living son, J. W., carried on with the tradition. J. W. began conducting his version of the ritual in 1922, but he did not go public with it until 1952.

After that, the forecast became quite a public affair with many residents from the local area coming to see the "fire burning." J. W. became known as the "weather prophet," and the tradition became a legend in the county and area.

J. W. continued his burnings until his death in 1980. Three years later, his youngest son, Weldon, went public with his version of the family tradition.

"The burnings are part of our family, and I expect my kids to continue the tradition," says Weldon.

He also says there is another reason for carrying on the ritual.

"Everybody is interested in the weather, but no one can do anything about it."

And -- unfortunately this year for Parmer County and area farmers, Crim is exactly right.

report given, MISD had assets of $3,221,696 as of March 25, 1991.

Assistant Superintendent for Business Tom Alvis told board members that MISD would be "liquid" enough with operating funds "If funds are cut off by court order on April 1. He said there would be enough funds to complete the current school year, and said fund balances for the school are "just about where they are expected to be at this time of the school year."

Alvis said tax collections are 88.71 percent complete, compared to 88.03 percent at this time last year. Some $1,736,350 has been collected to date this year, compared to the figure of $1,587,190 at the same time a year ago.

Board member Sam Harlan told the board that Margaret Johnson will be in Muleshoe on April 8 to become the Chief Appraiser for the Bailey County Appraisal District.

Board President Cindy Purdy reported on "thank you" notes received and welcomed candidates Arnold Price and Pearl Fluellen to the meeting. She invited the candidates to accompany the board to the South Plains School Board meeting on April 23 in Lubbock. She also said she had been asked to be vice president of the South Plains School Board next year, and asked board permission to take the position. Approval was given.

Superintendent Bill Moore discussed workshop information and handbooks. He also said TASB had endorsed the concept of a state income tax, but suggest that school districts still "hang on" to a modified property tax. He also talked about a concern for every spring, which is a decision to detain children or advance them. He said the school is looking at pilot programs to help teach children at their developmental potential.

Supt. Moore also said the career committee is working, and will soon have proposals for educators to advance to Levels II or III on the career ladder.

He briefly discussed a proposal for the school, along with Three Way School and the county purchasing a "drug dog," citing long-range savings. The dog would be kept by the Bailey County Sheriff's office, he added.

The superintendent also said he would like to involve all members of the board of trustees in handing out diplomas at graduation.

Tom Alvis reported on the reimbursement for funds spent on the underground tank removal, and said he expects the reimbursement check from the state in the near future.

He said the self-insurance health plan for the school is in the best shape it has been in since the school started it.

Mrs. Watson also asked Bob Graves, principal of Watson Junior High and David Wyer, principal of MHS to report on open house.

Bob Graves told the board approximately 85 percent of the report cards were picked up by parents during open house. He said the Student Council helped by handing out brochures and showing parents around the school.

Dr. Wyer said he had a turnout of about 58 percent. Several people picked up the report cards early, and some came the next day, he said. The remainder of the report cards were mailed to parents. The high school principal said the MHS Student Council also helped during open house.

Several other reports were given before the board had an intermission before going into executive session to discuss contracts and personnel.

Then, the video graphically showed what happened in a DWI arrest. First, there is a roadside sobriety test. If the officers' suspicions are shown to be probable, the suspect is handcuffed and placed in a patrol car.

A tow truck is called for the driver's vehicle and the patrol car heads for jail.

Persons 17 and over are headed for jail -- those under 17 years of age to a detention home.

Upon arrival, more sobriety tests are given.

If a person fails the intoxilyzer machine, with .10 the legal 'drunk stage,' they are searched, booked, fingerprinted and a mug shot taken.

Persons who refuse to take the intoxilyzer test will find their driver's license automatically suspended for 90 days.

Then, the suspect is jailed with everybody else who has been picked up that night -- for whatever reason.

Next, comes a bond, and then a trial, where the sentence is two years probation (if no injuries are involved) and report to the probation officer each month as well as pay probation fees.

He or she may also be required to report for DWI school and/or provide community services.

There are also devices that can now be placed in vehicles that will not allow the car to start if alcohol is detected inside the vehicle.

Plus, the person then has a permanent criminal record.

Also, the costs for being arrested and going to trial will be as much as $3,000-$6,000.

It was noted that the most often killed in alcohol-related accidents are those drivers and passengers under the age of 21.

Chief Holmes reminded that the 'real loss' cannot be measured in dollars and urged people to stop and think before drinking and getting behind the wheel of a vehicle.

Jay Feagley was winner of the Polio Plus drawing.

Visiting Rotarians included Chris Gikas of Farwell and Bill Pope of Roswell, N.M. Other guests were Bobby Burge, Lubbock; Joe Monahan, Dallas and Rotary Ann Judy Watson.

Sgt. Charlie Simmons of the DPS regional office in Plainview, said "In Bailey County, our troopers investigated one fatal accident and four personal injury accidents in January. They also investigated one fatal accident, and no personal injury accidents in February. In the January accident, one person was killed and nine persons injured. In the February accident, one person was killed and no persons were injured."

Enhancement

For Wildlife

Takes Planning

By: W. A. Givens
SCS Technician

Lesser Prairie Chicken are making a comeback in Bailey County. We are seeing more of them since there has been so much acreage planted to grass.

Prairie chickens prefer rangeland where buffalo grass and a slight rise in the ground is located for their courtship area. Prairie chicken cocks will drum in the same area year after year for hens.

Prairie chickens feed largely on grasshoppers, but in winter, feed on corn, maize, etc.

Bob white quail like brushy range areas, hollows, fence rows and corners near fields.

Blue quail like more open range, old farmsteads as well as corners and fence rows. Insects make up about 40 percent of a quail's diet. Weed seeds and small grains make up the rest.

A pheasant's diet is similar to quail and prairie chicken but pheasants have a preference for cultivated land.

Land owners interested in attracting or increasing the number of birds on their place need to remember food, cover and water are essential. Do not burn off playas and tailwater pits. Leave 2-4 rows of grain unharvested for a food plot and brush piles undisturbed.

If you have any questions on wildlife enhancement, call or come by the Soil Conservation Service office at 105 E. Ave. D in Muleshoe.

Programs and services of the Soil Conservation Service are offered on a nondiscriminatory basis without regard for race, color, national origin, age, sex, religion, marital status or handicap.

erosion on their cultivated land. Wind stripcropping is an inexpensive way to meet the conservation requirements of the Food Security Act and also stay eligible for USDA benefits.

Windstrips are narrow strips of grass or high residue crops that are properly spaced throughout a cropland field to reduce wind erosion. The spacing of the strips varies with the soil type; for example, the sandier the soil, the closer the strips are placed together. Windstrips should be planted perpendicular to the most erosive winds and should be maintained throughout the critical erosion season.

Studies in West Texas showed that windstrips are an effective way to protect bare cropland fields from excessive wind erosion after crops are harvested. Windstrips can also offer valuable wind protection for emerging crops in the spring; therefore, the need for "sandfighting" tillage operations is greatly reduced.

Approximately 150 farms in Bailey County will use windstrips to control wind erosion in order to meet the conservation requirements of the Food Security Act.

Producers who have questions about windstrips are encouraged to call the local Soil Conservation Service at 272-5124 or come by the office located at 105 E. Ave. D in Muleshoe.

Born Dec. 30, 1904, in Ponder, Tx., she had been a resident of Sudan since 1940, moving there from Lubbock. She was a homemaker and a member of the Sudan First Baptist Church. She married Ira Legg on Dec. 17, 1921. He died June 4, 1955. She married Herman Welkener on July 15, 1961, in Sudan.

Survivors include her husband, Herman Welkener; six daughters, Marie Allen of Littlefield, Jo Quesenberry of Amarillo, Dorothy Breedlove of Slaton, and Myrtle "Mutt" Hanna, Ann Hill and Geneva Whitten, all of Sudan; a step-daughter, Kathy Politis of Roswell, Georgia; a step-son, Edward Welkener of Alexandria, Virginia; two brothers, Howard Pegram of Boerne and Joe D. Pegram of Cincinnati, Ohio; 22 grandchildren and 36 great grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by a son, Ernest "Pal" Legg in 1990.

The family suggests memorials be made to the Sudan Ambulance Fund.

The Childress Volunteer Fire Department of Childress, Texas is hosting the third annual Official Texas State Championship Domino Tournament April 6, 1991.

The members of the fire department would greatly appreciate your mentioning the tournament in your newspaper as a public service announcement.

Persons interested in participating may receive information by contacting Childress Volunteer Fire Dept., P.O. Box 81, Childress, Texas 79201.

Chris Griggs of Sudan was one of the Cardinal Cheerleaders from Trinity Valley Community College honored with a reception Thursday, Feb.
28 at Cain Center by the Athens Chamber of Commerce.

Each cheerleader was presented with an engraved key chain and pen set.

The cheerleaders and their advisor Connie Russell were honored for their unprecedented third consecutive national title at the National Cheerleaders Association in Dallas Jan. 5.

The South Plains College occupational therapy assisting program has scheduled pre-entrance exams beginning this month for the fall semester.

Pre-entrance tests will be given March 26, April 1 and April 9 in the Student Assistance Center on the third floor of the library building. A $10 pre-paid registration fee is required.

Prospective applicants for the program need to schedule interviews with Lori Burkahrt, program instructor, and testing sessions with the guidance and counseling office. They should also bring high school and or college transcripts for the interview, said Burkahrt.

The TEL Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church had a salad supper on March 11 at 6 p.m. in the fellowship hall of the church. Hostesses were Ollie White and Louise Gatewood who used the St. Patrick's Day theme to decorate and to serve green mints as a treat.

Ida Rene DeLoach brought the program to order, and Alva Sturdivant brought the blessing before giving the devotional on Happy St. Patrick's Day. Others present were: Frances Gardner, Rene Cole, Rosie Snow, Thelma Vinson, Jean Harvey and Elsie Cate.

The Guild Circle of the United Methodist Women met Monday,
March 4th in the home of Patty Vincent.

Joann Gaston gave the opening prayer and Nellie Williams

the business meeting.

Members present were:

Caroline Hawthorne, Verenna
McAdams, Glenna Harrison,
Mae White, Frances Potter,
Jackie McAlpin, Joann Gaston,
Mary Smith, Grace Lopes,
Bonnie Newman, Eloise Curry, and Patty Vincent.

HEALTHY BEAUTY

Do you have a cabinet full of cleansers, toners, eye creams, and conditioners? If so, you are not alone.
For most women, breaking through the many myths and misconceptions about beauty can be time-consuming and expensive. THE NEW MEDICALLY BASED NO-NON-SENSE BEAUTY BOOK offers practical, inexpensive and scientific advice. Here are ten hints that will help.

1. Daytime foundation or moisturizers that include a sun screen make good sense. If you'll be in the sunshine for more than 30 minutes, increase protection with a traditional sunscreen.

2. Proper brushing is essential to the hair and scalp. The brush should be firm, with evenly-spaced, natural bristles set in a layer of rubber.
Brush with a firm and regular stroke until the scalp feels warm and tingly.

3. Some fingernails, despite careful and proper treatment, remain weak and prone to splitting and peeling. A nail wrapping provides support for those nails.

4. The key to a beautiful smile and healthy teeth lies in controlling plaque, a colorless, sticky substance containing bacteria which accumulates on the teeth. Many toothpastes and mouth washes, particularly those containing fluoride, are additional weapons against the problems plaque can produce.

5. Here's a weekly facial plan for mature skin: Remove eye makeup with a rich eye care cleanser. Gently steam face for five minutes with medium heat. Cleanse rest of face with gentle scrubbing grains. Rinse with lukewarm and cool water. Apply a gel mask and remove. Apply astringent. Apply moisturizer.

6. To prevent the "mask of pregnancy"—those brown patches on the face caused by increased melanin production, always wear a sunscreen, even for short walks on a sunny day—an oil-free one for oily skin, a moisture-rich one for dry skin.

7. Blow-dry the hair from back and underneath first. This will give lift and volume to the hair as well as maintain style.

8. Be careful about applying lip moisturizers too often. They could be responsible for occasional outbreaks of acne around the mouth and chin.

9. Oatmeal soap will cleanse and soothe irritated and inflamed skin.
10. Do not be afraid of standard cosmetic products
