BULGANIN AGAIN FAILS WITH IKE

All Artesia Civil Defense Operations Respond To Alert

Last night's surprise Civil Defense alert was for communications only, according to Maj. J. L. Richardson of state CD headquarters, but Artesia was notified that it was an draft alert and all sections turned out, Maurice Phillips, CD director here said today.

William Chandler Dies Thursday

William Thomas Chandler, 208 1/2 E. Mission, died at 12:30 p.m. today at the Elmer Convalescent home. He was born in Arkansas, March 27, 1907, came to Artesia in 1948, was agent for the Missouri Pacific Railroad for several years, a member of the A. F. & A. M., Dumas, Ark. Survivors include two sons, Julian Chandler, Artesia, and James Chandler, Kittridge, Colo.; seven grandchildren, one sister, Mrs. Lee Godfrey, Dumas, Ark., two brothers, J. E. Chandler, Dumas, Ark., and N. J. Chandler, Dumas, Ark. Funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the Elmer Convalescent home. The body left Artesia by train this morning.

Two Local Firms Incorporated

Operation Commissioner John R. H. announced today in Santa Fe that two organizations in Artesia were granted licenses of operation this week. The firms are as follows: William L. P. G. Corporation, capital stock of $100,000; O. W. A. B. Gilmore and A. W. H. H. filed the application for incorporation. The company will deal in oil, minerals, and livestock.

Methodist Youth Responses Drive

The Methodist Youth Fellowship groups of the First Methodist church have postponed until next Saturday a goodwill drive originally scheduled for tomorrow. Last Saturday the groups distributed sacks to homes in the city, were to pick them up tomorrow.

Taulbee To Head Local Scout Drive For Membership

Floyd Golden, president of the Conquistador Council, will launch the Conquistador Council membership drive at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Nickson Hotel. As chairman of extension, Rudolph Sparks of Carlsbad organized this Boy Scout camp. Each district has selected a chairman to work with Dr. Golden to obtain membership sufficient to organize new Cub packs. Scout packs and Explorer units. Call on Taulbee, Artesia high school principal, has been named chairman for Artesia.

Push Hour Case Brings Wish For Australia Escape

SAN FRANCISCO — Truck driver Clarence Payne paid a $5 fine and then told municipal Judge Charles Peery he was going to Australia and become a member. Sighed the judge: "There are certain times, particularly during the 5 o'clock rush hour, when I wish I was in Australia too."

MEET POSTPONED
SANTA FE — A meeting of the Public Welfare Board, scheduled for today, was postponed until next Tuesday because of road conditions, the office of director Harry Hintz said today.

Santa Fe Cars Leave Track At Fort Sumner

FORT SUMNER (AP) — Twenty-five cars of a wrecked Santa Fe Railway freight train were being removed from the company's line today. They piled up late yesterday about 300 yards north of town, smashing a section house at the site but officials said no one was hurt. A railroad spokesman said the line was expected to be reopened about noon. Meanwhile trains were being re-routed over other lines. L. W. Bryant, Fort Sumner policeman, said flatcars and box cars were scattered. He said the engine and two cars behind it remained on the track. The next 25 were derailed, but those behind it, extending back to the Fort Sumner yards remained on the rails. Bryant said the jackknifed cars "took out a three or four-room section house," but no one was in the building. He said "everything from cigarettes to farm equipment" was strewn around the mass of wreckage.

Phillips said that about 90 men were reported alerted last night. All but four section leaders heard and recognized the signal, two blasts of the fire alarm, and called in, he said. Four men had to be called. Phillips termed the alert about 60 per cent effective, which he judged pretty good, everything considered. Phillips, himself, suffered a minor accident while rushing to police headquarters during the alert. His car skidded on the snow and collided with another car that was stopped for a red light at Fifth and Main.

Four of Artesia's ham radio operators were alerted and participated in last night's test, Phillips said. All Artesia CD sections were alerted and had their men reported and standing by within one and one-half hours, Phillips said. An all clear was never received in Artesia after last night's test, he stated.

Historic Revolt Put Down 109 Years Ago At Taos

Maj. J. L. Richardson of state CD headquarters termed the results better, from the communications standpoint, than in a more comprehensive test a week ago during a mock enemy air attack. Last night's test, starting at 5:34 p.m., was for State Police communications and Radio Amateurs Communications Emergency System networks. Richardson said the State Police received acknowledgements from all except two points within five minutes. Although there was no detail on the radio hams' performances, Francis Gormley, director of RACES, said the hams generally traced in a better performance this time.

Foremost Dairies Hearing Is Set By Commission

WASHINGTON (AP) — A hearing has been scheduled for March 27 on anti-trust action taken against Foremost Dairies, which operates in New Mexico and other states. The Federal Trade Commission said the Jacksonville, Fla., company has absorbed 39 other dairy firms and 25 of their subsidiaries since 1951 in a "constant and systematic elimination of actual and potential competitors." Thirty acquisitions were attacked under the Clayton Anti-Trust Law. Charges covering the nine others, all Florida firms, were brought under the FTC Act as being "an unfair method of competition."

Clovis-Artesia Game Cancelled, Now Set Feb. 14

The basketball game scheduled for tonight between Clovis and the Artesia Bulldogs has been cancelled because of snow. Verlon Davis, Artesia coach, said today that the game will be held Feb. 14. Also cancelled was the Artesia contest with Highland High of Albuquerque set for tomorrow night. This game, Davis said, probably will not be played this season. A basketball queen was to have been crowned and loyalty night honoring Artesia seniors was to have been held before the Highland game. Both events will be held later at dates still to be decided.

Rites Set Tomorrow For Comedian Burns

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bob Burns, the Arkansas bawdoo player, will be buried on a 1932 car from the Ozark "country folks" of his philosophical humor. The comedian, 65, died yesterday of cancer. He had been in a coma six days. Private funeral services and interment will be conducted tomorrow at Forest Lawn Memorial Park in nearby Glendale.

Worst Storm Of Winter Settles Over East Side After Killing Two Men In Northern New Mexico

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
New Mexico's worst storm of the winter settled over eastern New Mexico today after killing two men in the northern part of the state and piling near-record amounts on mountain waereads. The heaviest snowfall in the memories of many old timers dumped more than 12 inches on Carlsbad, nine inches on Artesia and unusually high amounts on other eastern New Mexico cities. Snow was expected to continue along the eastern side of the state through late afternoon, whipped into drifts by bone chilling north winds.

The winds took over where the snow left off in some sections, piling 2 1/2 to 3 foot drifts along the Carlsbad-Artesia highway and 4 foot drifts at Hobbs. All highways in the state were reported passable, with the exception of the Carlsbad-El Paso highway where only heavy busses were getting through. Traffic was routed through Pecos, Tex. Two men froze to death in the Albuquerque area. Sylvan F. Greenwald, 41, left his car after an accident and died before he could reach shelter. The body of George Sanchez, 60, a shepherd, was dug from a drift near the Rio Puerco 10 miles west of Los Padillas. Skies were clearing over the northern half of the state today, but highways were packed with snow and very slippery. Hundreds of minor accidents were reported on city streets and highways in the state, but there were no reports of deaths or major injuries. On the Colorado line, the storm boosted the snowpack on Cumbres to 124 inches, near the all time record. The record for the pass was 152 inches. The pass is a major contributor to the runoff in the Rio Grande Valley. U. S. Engineers emphasized there was no threat of a flood for the Rio Grande Valley despite the heavy pack. More than 4 million dollars has been spent for flood control work along the Rio since the last flood. With wind whipped snow still falling hard today, storms reported five inches on the ground this morning. Oil field drilling in Lea County was curtailed. Carlsbad had 12 inches, and had already melted 7 of an inch of moisture from earlier falls. Old-timers were comparing the storm to those of 1887, 1906 and the last bad one in 1951, when eastern New Mexico caught the brunt of unusual snow. In 1906, an early November storm dumped 48 inches in the Carlsbad area, freezing sheep herders, sheep and cattle. Roswell, also with a record or near-record snow, recorded eight inches officially, with another inch this morning and snow still falling hard. Schools were closed at Carlsbad and Portales, where snow was 8 or 6 inches on the level and drifting badly. Bus service to Hobbs schools was suspended early today and schools were closed at Tatum, Jal, Monument and Lovington. Nine inches of snow fell at Artesia, and the U. S. Geological Survey reported ice on the Pecos River for the first time since 1950. The Pecos was running 78 feet, "very deep" for this time of year. Temperatures were forecast to rise generally over the state tomorrow, with clearing skies in the north today. The cold was expected to continue through tonight. ### West Europe's Worst Storm Of Century Kills 71

LONDON (AP) — West Europe's worst cold wave of the 20th century continued today with at least 71 persons dead and hardship spreading from the British Isles to Turkey. Government forecasters said little relief could be expected for the next few days. Exposure, heater fires or storm-caused accidents accounted for the death toll as temperatures ranged down to 37 degrees below zero. Blizzard-swept France counted the highest number of dead—26. The temperature in usually mild Paris dropped to 5 above zero yesterday for a 75-year low. Other weather deaths included: (Continued on Page Four)

Valentine Vanities Actors Defy Snow For Rehearsals

Candidates in the Valentine Vanities Princess contest continued their rehearsal next week by the Artesia High School music department. Performances will be presented Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights at 8 p.m. All state scenery and art work for the show has been done by the department of the school, under the direction of Leonard Wither and Wilbur Ahlvers. Carolyn Warren has done the backdrop depicting Toyland. Tickets are being sold by Valentine Princess candidates and students of the music department.

New Message Said Relash Of Earlier Peace Pact Request

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — A new appeal from Premier Bulganin failed today to melt U. S. opposition to a Soviet-American "friendship treaty" which this government holds to be needless and perhaps risky.

Jury Frees Hughes On Two Counts

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal court today acquitted Paul H. Hughes on two counts of a six-count perjury indictment. The government apparently abandoned further action and he went free immediately. The jury of 10 men and two women told Judge Archie O. Dawson it was "hopelessly deadlocked" on the remaining four counts. The jury deliberated 11 hours. The trial started Jan. 16. U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams told newsmen it was "inconceivable that the government would move for a new trial."

House Committee Demands End To Growing Postal Money Losses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today recommended $2,973,900,000 in new funds for the Post Office Department. At the same time, it demanded that something be done to curb the growing postal deficit. The new money allotted subject to approval by the House next week and later by the Senate is for use during the fiscal year starting July 1. It is $26,100,000 less than President Eisenhower requested. It was included in a $3,618,699,000 appropriation bill to finance also the Treasury Department and the Tax Court. The over-all total was $31,173,000 below presidential requests but $252,179,500 more than the three agencies were given for the present year. Most of the increase over current year allotments was for higher salaries voted for federal employees last year by Congress. The bill was the first of the big annual money measures to emerge from the committee this year.

Accused Slayer To Face Pioche Murder Witnesses

LAS VEGAS (AP) — David Cooper Nelson, charged with murder in New Mexico, today was to face witnesses from Pioche, Nev., concerning a fatal shooting there. New Mexico State Police took Nelson in custody yesterday in the slaying of Ralph Rainey, 48, Santa Monica, Calif., whose body was found Jan. 10 near Budville, N. M. They will wait a day or two while Nevada officers question him in the shooting of John Valente at his Pioche home Jan. 4. Rainey had been shot in the head. Capt. Bob Scroggins and Patrolman Ed Bell of the New Mexico State Police arrived in Las Vegas Wednesday to take charge of Nelson. The Las Vegas sheet metal worker had waived extradition. Questioning of Nelson in Valente's death was the latest in a string of incidents in which the Las Vegas man has been questioned. He was charged in Las Vegas (Continued on Page Four)

The new appropriations figures do not include an estimated $20,400,000,000 in permanent appropriations and trust funds, largest of which are seven billion dollars for interest on the national debt and $7,300,000,000 in social security receipts which go into the treasury. The committee noted that the interest on the debt is expected to be 200 million dollars more next year than this year. Estimating the postal deficit—the excess of operating costs over operating revenues—at 479 million dollars, the committee said "some action must be taken to get postal rates" more in line with the cost of handling the mail. It said existing rates are "woefully inadequate." Eisenhower, who has been advocating higher rates for the last three years, prodded Congress again this week for increases to add about 406 1/2 million dollars yearly to postal revenues. Legislation to boost postal rates has been pending in Congress since last year, but its current prospects are dim.

American Legion Officials Plan Visit To Artesia

Hershel Doyle of Cincinnati, Ohio, a national representative of the American Legion, and Keru Aldrich of Hobbs, department commander, will visit the local post Monday at the regular meeting at the Veterans Memorial building.

A covered - dish supper will be served at 6:30 p.m. with meat, bread and coffee furnished. Auxiliary members are preparing the meat, and each is urged to bring a covered - dish.

The Auxiliary will hold its regular meeting following the supper.

University Women, KSVP, Library To Sponsor Quiz Kids

American Association of University Women, radio station KSVP, and the public library will sponsor the following quiz to quiz students in their weekly radio "Book Quiz" Saturday at noon.

Charles Maudlin and Tommy Giles from Miss Hazel Bockenstein's Central School room, while from the same school as Miss Helen Gurman's room will come. The following students will also take part: Marilyn Jay and Elizabeth Kreykoper.

From Miss Zelma Jess Knoll's room at Hermon school comes Leah Trenchley and Kathleen Sue Burch.

Miss Lois Netherby will again act as quizmaster. Due to so many qualified finalists there will be another fourth grade section of the "Book Quiz" on March 4.

Friday Night TV Programs Just Grew Bad

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK—There comes a letter from James L. Fickel of Columbus, Ohio, who writes: "Why is Friday night television so very poor? Why isn't some effort being made by one of the networks to break the half-hour monotony with a good 60-minute show?"

A good critic I've discussed the Friday subject with has assembled with fear when pressed, for an opinion? Why?

Well, Mr. Fickel, I never knew a critic to tremble with fear. But you raise a good question, one that I and many others have wondered about.

First of all, I think there are three generally good regular half-hour programs on the principal networks Friday evenings. Quite apart from the Friday night fights, which draw big audiences, I personally like Ethel and Albert (ABC-TV); Line-up (CBS-TV) and Ed Murrow's Person to Person (CBS-TV).

Before those shows I agree it's pretty monotonous fare. After checking around with some responsible people on the networks I'd say that practically no one denies the general fact. You also can be assured that there is no "plot" to deprive us of a generally higher level of Friday night programs.

Like Topsy, it seems that the situation just grew. Almost since the inception of television the networks never have had any trouble in finding sponsors for Friday nights. People who sell the things we might buy on Saturday are happy to advertise them on Friday evening. So, in the minds of planners, there grew the idea, "Well, we don't have to worry about Friday night."

Many Friday night programs that started with nerve seem to have grown tired. In the words of one network official, "They're showing battle fatigue."

The cause could be a general lack of attention by the public by radio, by the networks themselves.

Ah, though there are no signs a remedy is possible that evening programs will still get on the Friday night front. Don't you see about the hottest night of the week on television, the Friday night? It's the only night in the week when the television audience is sufficient to draw a sufficient number of viewers to greatly affect what we see on television.

Button-On Cafe Curtains New Note In Window Decor

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

CAFE CURTAINS can give a lift to almost any window in the house. Smart and easy to make are button-on curtains which have special fashion interest in their novel use of buttons and their gay multi-color trim.

An effective color combination is to make curtains of yellow Indian-head cotton trimmed with coral buttons and rickrack on the tabs and rows of bias binding and rick-rack in brown, coral and aqua across the bottoms of the curtains. Local sewing center experts advise use of four time-saving sewing machine attachments—the buttonholder, the multi-slotted binder, the edge stitcher and the zig-zagger.

To estimate the amount of material needed for a pair of the curtains, first measure the distance from the curtain rod to window sill in the window sill. Then subtract two inches from its length to allow for the button-on tabs across top; and add four inches for the seam at top edge and the hem a bottom edge. Using fabric 36 inches wide, double the final measurement to determine the total yardage needed for each pair.

To make a pattern for the scalloped facing at top, it is suggested you cut a strip of paper 4 1/2 inches by 36 inches. Measure in 1 3/4 inches from each short edge and mark, to allow for side finishes. Now divide the distance between these two marked points into five equal sections, placing a mark every 6 3/4 inches straight across the pattern. Connect these points with a curved line, using a round bowl or plate as a guide for marking; to outline a series of scallops about two inches deep.

Using scalloped paper pattern as a guide, cut material for facings. Cut lengths of material for curtains. Turn a one-inch hem in side edges of curtains; then turn a three-inch hem in bottom edge and stitch. Press hems. On the facing, turn under the bottom edge 1/2 inch. Also turn under the side edges 1 1/4 inches so that the facing fits curtain. Edges'itch and press.

Place the right sides of curtain and facing together and stitch 1/2 inch from scalloped edge. Trim this edge to within 1/8 inch of stitching and clip curves. Turn facing to wrong side and press. Slip stitch curtain and facing together at side edges.

Using the buttonholder attachment for the sewing machine, make a buttonhole in the point of each scallop, starting 1/2 inch below the top. Decorate the curtain with rows of bias binding and rick-rack as desired. Use the edge-stitcher attachment for your sewing machine to stitch the bias and rick-rack together as they are being applied to the curtain.

To make the tabs on which the buttons will be sewn, cut long strips of fabric 1 1/8 inches wide, allowing six inches of material for each tab. Using a double thickness of material, bind edges together with bias binding, employing the multi-slotted binder for the sewing machine. For applying the rick-rack to the tab strips, use the edgestitcher or the zig-zagger attachment for the sewing machine.

Cut the long trimmed strips into six-inch-long tabs. Fold each tab in half, to form a loop; sew on button, one inch from cut edges. Overcast raw edges together. Slip loops over curtain rod, and button curtains to loops.

A variation of this idea, employing the buttonholes as slots for the curtain rod rather than for use with buttons on the looped tabs, is another quick and attractive way to make cafe curtains. Make the curtains as described above, but eliminate the tabs. Then, using the buttonholder attachment, place a pair of buttonholes in the point of each scallop. Slip the rod through these openings when hanging the curtains. This method requires no button-rings or clips and gives the finished curtains a crisp, perky look.

Student Plan For Marriage Often Works

AP Newsfeatures

If you're trying to get up enough courage to tell Mom you'd like to get married, don't despair. It seems more parents are giving students permission to wed these days, and most young people work it out so they can finish school even without their new responsibilities.

How is it done?

Well, it looks as if papas and mamas put their heads (and pocketbooks) together and help their offspring work out the plans.

One philosophical mother even confessed she was rather relieved at the thought of wedding bells. "I've been worrying about Jane going to college anyway, ever since I read statistics that her chances of marrying would decrease with each passing day. I almost missed my own opportunity to marry and I didn't want that to happen to her."

Some papas hold out until the prospective bridegroom has promise of income from the sweat of his brow if he expects the family to float him gifts or loans. It seems they want to be shown.

One student relates that his parents encouraged his marriage because his marks were good and since he was studying medicine they felt assured of his success. Both families helped foot the bills for that couple.

In another instance the girl took a business course and found a job as a stenographer. Her husband completed his last college year with funds from father and an uncle. A grandmother paid the rent.

Typical is the industrious student who worked at the local gas station part-time while his student-wife worked as a librarian part-time. They didn't stop there either. They lived in a small house rent-free in return for being caretakers of an estate.

One young working wife took a job near her husband's campus. She works as a clerk in a nearby store and waitress in the local restaurant. Her income of $70 a week helps pay part of his tuition also.

City students, it seems have an easier time of swinging the student job idea than suburbanites. Part-time jobs are easier to find in the city and it is easier to find one that fits into the school schedule as a rule.

If you've been having a problem with Mom and Dad on the marriage idea, one student suggests you show this plan which helped her move to her folks that she was a good marriage risk.

1. Encourage the boy to some degree by doing something in your own house time.
2. Let your own parents on your side.
3. After you've sold your parents, suggest they help you meet the young man's folks.
4. Sell the "easy parents" first, then get them to help soften up the other two and be sure to have a softening-up period before you say your hand.
5. Resist with all your might any plan that involves you living with in-laws or living apart. If it is the only solution it is better to delay the wedding.

Lab Is Proud Of Two Women

CROTON, CONN—Woman's place, says the builder of Uncle Sam's atomic submarines, is in a shipyard laboratory.

The Electric Boat Co. Division of General Dynamics Corp. is proud of two counts of the four women scientists on its payroll.

Not only do they handle their exacting tasks efficiently, but they also could easily hold their own in a beauty contest with the company's array of pretty typists and stenographers.

This is how they earn their daily bread and contribute to the success of the Nautilus, the Sea Wolf and other yet-to-be built ships in the atomic submarine fleet.

Mrs. Agnes Summers, bachelor's degree from Western College for Women and an M.S. in physics from the University of Connecticut, an expert in sound and vibration reduction who works at cutting down the noises emitted by submarines. Mrs. Summers has an outside job, too. She does consulting engineering for her husband, Frank a building contractor.

Miss Mary MacDonald, with a master's degree from Hunter College where she used to teach, does stress calculation operations on piping systems, determining what forces and stresses will have to be handled by systems carrying hot, radioactive fluids.

Miss Marilyn Alfieri, from Connecticut College just across the Thames River in New London does what the shipyard calls "programming" work, preparing problems to be fed into electronic calculators.

Miss Marjorie Liberman, fresh out of college last June, does analytical work in the chemistry laboratory, testing metals to be used in ship construction and radioactive materials from atomic propulsion plants.

Some Biblical scholars speculate that Jesus might have worked as a carpenter when Herod Antipas, son of Herod the Great, rebuilt Sepphoris, less than five miles from Nazareth where He lived.

Organizations Devote Time To Male Fashions

By DOROTHY ROE
Associate Press Women's Editor

It seems everybody is spending a lot of time worrying about the appearance of the American male these days—and high time too, as any American female will agree.

With the current concentration on glamorizing father, there soon will be no excuse for any solvent man going around looking like a refugee from a rummage sale. And perhaps women may reasonably expect that when they dress for dinner their men will do likewise.

Two new organizations are devoted to the sole purpose of improving the dress habits of U.S. males. One is the Men's Fashion Authority, an association of 27 manufacturers of everything from man wears, from underwear to overcoats and sport shirts. The other is the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, representing all segments of the men's and boys' wear industry. Both feel that here is large room for improvement, when you consider the business they're in.

"There are millions of men who feel that it's a mark of distinction to wear exactly the same kind of clothes they wore at college for the next 50 years," says Alfred Shapiro, president and founder of the MFA. "They go around with crew-cuts and so-called Ivy League suits until they die of old age. They are eternal sophomores."

"Then there are the men who go all-out for the casual look, and as a result go to their offices looking as if they were dressed for a long, happy day cleaning out the garage. These are the boys of the sloppy sports coats and unpressed slacks, the unshined shoes and screaming socks."

Shapiro believes, however, that all this can be changed by a little subtle suggestion, in which, of course, the wife or girl friend should play a part.

His theory is that most men pretend indifference to clothes because they feel this is the manly thing to do, when actually they are deeply interested in looking as well as possible. Witness the time most men spend on selecting just the right cut of a collar or color of a necktie. With some well-directed encouragement, Shapiro thinks men will enjoy dressing for the occasion, and will discover that they don't have to be sloppily to be comfortable.

Service Groups Asked To Assist Lunch Program

SANTA FE—A drop in the federal school lunch allotment and a gain in number of meals served are working a hardship on New Mexico schools, the Education Department has reported.

Service groups, P-TA and other organizations are being asked to help out by sponsoring free lunch in communities where there are substantial numbers of children unable to pay for the food.

Working-age groups in the United States increased only 3.8 per cent from July 1, 1950 to July 1, 1955 compared with an increase of 19.7 per cent among the children under 14 and people more than 65 years old.

2 Dishes Spring From Combination Of Kraut, Apples

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

That Pennsylvania Dutch combination of apples and sauerkraut "goes good" with pork chops and with frankfurters. Team the chops with the apples and sauerkraut in a skillet. To serve with the frankfurters, cook the kraut and apples separately.

AMISH KRAUT AND PORK CHOPS

Ingredients: 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 4 loin pork chops, 1 can (1 pound and 3 ounces) sauerkraut, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion, 1 medium-sized apple.

Method: Melt butter in 10-inch skillet; add pork chops and brown well on both sides. Stack pork chops on one side of pan. Turn sauerkraut (including juice) into skillet; sprinkle with brown sugar and onion; mix well. If apple is red-skinned, peel may be left on; core and dice. Add apple to skillet. Arrange chops at bottom of pan with sauerkraut around them. Cook slowly until pork chops are thoroughly cooked; to test for doneness, cut a small slit near bone—meat should be white. Pork chops will take 30 minutes to 1 hour to cook thoroughly, depending on thickness. Makes 4 servings.

Note: A smaller can of sauerkraut than the one specified may be used. Some of the fat from the chops may be tried out and used instead of the butter or margarine called for, if desired.

SAUCY SAUERKRAUT

Ingredients: 4 medium-sized apples (pared, cored and diced), 1/2 cup water, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 can (1 pound and 3 ounces) sauerkraut (drained).

Method: Mix apples, water and sugar. Cook over moderate heat, stirring occasionally, until apples are soft. Add sauerkraut and heat to serving temperature. Serve with frankfurters and rolls. Makes enough for 8 frankfurters.

Children Need Leisure, Too

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
AP Newsfeatures

Joan was 9. Her mother brought her in to me for a complete examination. "I don't know what's the trouble with the child," said her mother. "She is tired and cross, but she doesn't go to sleep when she goes to bed. She nibbles at her food and I think she has lost weight recently."

Joan did look pale and wan, and my records showed a loss of 4 pounds in the last 4 months. However, the examination did not show anything organically wrong with Joan.

I questioned Joan's mother about the child's life. This is what I found.

Joan got up at 7 a.m. with her parents. Dad had to be at work at 8:30. Joan never wanted much breakfast. She made her bed, then she practiced the piano from 7:30 to 8:30. Then she went to school, about a 15-minute walk.

Joan was a good student, but lately her teacher had been complaining that she wasn't paying attention in class.

At lunch time Joan helped serve the trays in the school cafeteria. This left very little time to eat her own lunch, but she wasn't very hungry anyway.

After school Joan had something to do every day. Monday and Thursday she had a music lesson and dashed away from school to get there in time.

"Joan is really very musical," her mother pointed out. "She is going to play in a school assembly next month."

Tuesday afternoon Miss Frisby, the science teacher takes a group on a nature trip whenever the weather is good. Joan just loves those trips and never wants to miss a one.

Wednesday is Joan's day to help her room teacher.

Joan's been making lists of all their books and at the next P-TA Joan is to give a little talk about what new books they'd like to have.

Friday is Brownies. Joan's mother is a den leader. Joan dashes home to help mother with the meeting.

Every night there is homework to do that has to be sandwiched between TV programs that must be seen.

Saturday morning there is art class at the Church and they hope to have a dancing class later in the year. Sunday, of course, there is Sunday School.

Joan is very much interested in movies. Sometimes mother lets her go to an early show on a school night because there doesn't seem to be any other time. "She doesn't go to sleep anyway when she gets to bed early," justified her mother.

Is it any wonder Joan was tired, tense, worried about not having time to go to the movies, wanted to or time to go skating? Children need leisure to leisure to just play without doing something. They need unneeded time to use as they want. If Joan could just relax a she'd eat and sleep and get roses back in her cheeks and vim back in her school work. She needed no medicine. The diagnosis she had was hyperactivity, and can't be cured with pills.

I suggested one music lesson week and ease up on the practice. There's no rush in her becoming an accomplished musician immediately. Let her "play" at the piano as she feels inclined and reduce the grind of practice. Certainly no Saturday art classes—and how about making the Brownie meetings once in a while or even once a month on no job at lunchtime.

Cincinnati Takes Starch Out Of Experts In Beating St. John's

By Associated Press

A classy Cincinnati club, with a powerhouse guy named Phil Wheeler, left the selection committee of the National Invitation Tournament crying in its beer today over what might have been.

The Bearcats looked great in beating St. John's of Brooklyn 33-78 at Madison Square Garden last night. Wheeler scored 37 points. But for all the raves, Cincy (14-3) is beyond reach of the NIT because of NCAA probation.

The NIT has decided to skip any teams not acceptable for the NCAA championship tournament.

St. Louis also left the NIT a bit gloomy last night, coming from 11 points back to edge Wichita 90-88 on two free throws in the last 52 seconds by Jim McLaughlin, who scored 36. That gave the Billikens a 5-0 record in the Missouri Valley Conference and trump card in the title chase that leads to the NCAA Tournament.

The NIT would much rather have the Bills wind up second in the Missouri Valley—and pay a return visit to its shindig.

St. Louis, which also defeated Cincy, along with Indiana, is rated No. 11 in the nation and was one of three ranked teams in action last night. Louisville (No. 5) hit 47 per cent from the field and 23 of 24 foul tosses to wallop Toledo 93-64. Morehead (Ky.), however, upset 18th-ranked Marshall 108-103 in overtime. Morehead is No. 1. Marshall, No. 2 in national of fence rankings.

Tenley Albright Proved Courage In Skate Test

Editor's Note—The following story on Tenley Albright's battle against pain to win the Olympic gold medal in figure skating was written for the Associated Press by her coach, Mirabel Vinson Owen, herself a former skating champion.

By Mirabel Vinson Owen

CORTINA, D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP)—Tenley Albright's Olympic crown that she wears today is not only a tribute to her talent but to her sheer courage as well.

To carry the full weight of a country's expectation of victory in such competition as this is difficult enough. But to triumph with a badly injured leg takes the kind of guts not many people have.

Tenley fell and spiked her right leg just below the ankle bone with her left skate two days after the American team arrived here two weeks ago. What is not known and what only her father, her mother and I could know is the close margin by which she was able to skate at all.

If Tenley had not been able to bear pain with unbelievable fortitude, she would not have had mobility in her right foot to do the exacting school figures Sunday and Monday and the even more taxing free skating program yesterday.

By the nature and timing of the injury, Tenley's leg never really had a chance to get well.

Two days after the accident, her father, Dr. Hollis Albright, a well-known Boston surgeon, arrived here and the next day with her foot heavily taped Tenley was back on the ice taking her first strokes.

So much was well known but only we knew that in her impatience to get back in full training she badly over did it several days later, practicing for five hours and wearing the heavy tape for 15 hours without relief.

Such overexertion in the middle of last week set her back in one sense but helped her in another as she needed mental reassurance she could physically make herself go through her full routine when the crucial moment arrived.

And that, in a sense, is the secret of Tenley's greatness as an athlete.

At an early age she found what she set her mind to do she could eventually do. During those two weeks preceding the competition she never let thought of defeat or inability to skate enter her head.

Aggie Gridders Lost To Classes

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Nine Texas Aggie gridders have been lost to the 1956 football squad via the classroom route, the Texas A&M Athletic Department announced yesterday.

Included among those who will be scholastically ineligible next fall were two lettermen, two varsity squadmen and five freshmen prospects.

The lettermen are Donald Grant, Corpus Christi quarterback, and Darrell Brown, Dayton tackle. Varsity squadmen are Carlos Esquivel, Edinburg halfback, and Garry Martin, Orange guard.

Freshmen named included Ronnie Haines, Beaumont back; Lawrence Hill, Eagle Pass lineman; and Dickie Milam, Big Spring lineman.

Former Lightweight Champ Is Beaten

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Don Jordan caught Brooklyn's Paddy DeMarco with a clean one-two last night to score a surprise fifth-round technical knockout over the former world lightweight champion in a scheduled 10 rounder at the Olympic Auditorium. A State Athletic Commission doctor said DeMarco's jaw was broken.

It was a big win for Jordan, who entered the ring a 1-2 underdog. A crowd of 6,322 paid $15,250 to see him stop the former champ. Jordan weighed 139, DeMarco, 140½.

Top Skyline Scorers Matched As Utah, Wyoming Lock Horns

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Skyline Conference's No. 2 and 3 basketball scorers, Art Bunte of Utah and Joe Capua of Wyoming, are matched at Laramie Saturday in one of the season's top individual duels.

Capua, 5-10 guard who sizzled the nets with 35 points against Colorado A&M last week, looks like the only offensive threat Wyoming (1-4) can throw at the front running Utah Utes, (6-0). Capua's league average is 22.4 points a game, just below Bunte's 24.8.

Wyoming Coach Ely Shelton is shaking up the Cowboy lineup in an effort to give Capua some help. Three sophomores have been named to join Capua and junior Dave Bradley, a 6-8 forward who'll be shifted to center in place of Ed Huse, who's being benched.

The league's leading scorer, Tom Roybal of New Mexico, will test his 28.3 points-a-game average against Brigham Young University at Provo Friday.

The Cougars (3-1) will be out

Dashing Plumber Takes Third Olympic Medal For Austrians

By TED SMITS

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP)—Toni Sailer, the dashing ski jumper from Austria, completed an unprecedented Alpine "triple slam" today and America's veteran Art Tyler drove his four-man bobsled into championship contention in the Winter Olympic games.

The 21-year-old Sailer, already winner of the giant and special slalom events, tore down Mt. Tofana's perilous, ice-crusted course in two minutes, 52.2 seconds to beat 85 rivals in the men's downhill race.

Americans made a poor showing. Ralph Miller of Manover, N. H., tumbled on a sharp serve, and Magvin Melville of Salt Lake City, Utah, also fell during his descent. Wallace (Bud) Werner of Steamboat Springs, Colo., was far back in three minutes, 5.8 seconds.

Tyler, a 40-year-old Rochester, N. Y., physicist who has been risking his neck for years on the death-defying bobsled runs of the world, shot his oak and steel machine down Tofana's lightning-fast chute in record-breaking time to finish third behind two Swiss sleds at the half-way point of the four-man competition.

The first two of four runs were staged today with the final two runs tomorrow.

Jackson, Baker Bout Could Be A Dull Affair

NEW YORK (AP)—If Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson can't arouse Bob Baker to a "shoot the works" effort at Madison Square Garden tonight, the cause is hopeless.

Bulky Bob, the No. 2 heavyweight contender in the latest Ring (No. 1 in NBA), admits he looked bad while beating Nino Valdes Dec. 7 at Cleveland for his 13th straight. "I was winning and didn't extend myself," he explained.

The Hurricane is an expert in "extending" opponents. He jabs, dances a jig, does arm exercises, and sprints. In fact, he usually is so busy doing things that an opponent is completely overwhelmed.

After Nino Valdes put the crusher on his budding career by stopping him at the Garden, Jackson won nine straight including two decisions over Ezzard Charles. Then Jimmy Slade decided him in 10 rounds at Cleveland Oct. 28. He hasn't fought since.

Baker's victory string started after he was stopped by Archie Moore in Miami March 9, 1954. He beat Rex Layne three times last year but flunked the big test when he and Valdes were matched with the understanding that the winner, if impressive, might get the title shot at Champion Rocky Marciano in the summer. Baker won in a dreary match that practically eliminated both men.

If he should knock out the Hurricane in sensational fashion, he could move close to a Marciano match again.

A decisive victory by the Hurricane, a 2-1 underdog, would send him to the top of the heap. He's now ranked third.

NBC will broadcast and telecast the 10-rounder.

Santee Drops Entry From Three Meets

NEW YORK (AP)—Wes Santee, America's controversial and fastest miler, has withdrawn, apparently by request, from three of the top indoor track and field meets of the season, including the Millrose Games at Madison Square Garden in which he was scheduled to meet unbeaten Ron Delaney in the Wanamaker Mile tomorrow night.

In almost identical telegrams to promoters of the Millrose meet, the New York A. C. Games on Feb. 18 and the National AAU championships Feb. 25, Lt. Tom Rosandich, coach of the Quantico Marines, cancelled Santee's entry because of "personal business."

Santee, a lieutenant in the Marines, is stationed at Quantico.

While "personal business" was given as the reason, America's chief hope for the Olympic 1,500-meter title obviously has decided to forego further running until final decision is reached regarding his amateur standing.

Santee, reached at Quantico, said the "personal business" had nothing to do with a leg injury, which sidelined him until last Saturday when he ran fourth behind Delaney at Boston. Delaney was timed at 4:06.3 and Santee in 4:08.

While declining to comment further, the former Kansas ace did indicate his withdrawal was the result of a request by a seven-man AAU investigating committee.

The charges against Santee allege he received exorbitant expenses for competing in four California meets last spring. He was absolved of wrongdoing by a split vote of his local Missouri Valley AAU executive committee last fall. But the case was reopened at the AAU's national convention at Louisville in December.

Bill Veeck Certain Ted Williams Was Trying To Worry Doby With Tales Of Chicago's Outfield

By GAYLE TAYBOT

MIAMI (AP)—The one and only Bill Veeck was encouraged, naturally, in the Presidential Suite, whence could be seen all this city's off-shore islands and an important segment of the Atlantic Ocean. The man who introduced dwarfs and Satchel Paige to the American League was chuckling over something he had just read.

"This is wonderful," he said.

"Ted Williams says he feels very sorry for Larry Doby because Larry has been traded from Cleveland to the Chicago White Sox and from now on will have to play half his games in Comiskey Park. The centerfield background is so bad at Comiskey Park, Ted says, that Doby probably won't hit worth a cent unless they close the whole section off, which you and I know they're not going to do."

Wasn't it possible, we suggested mildly, that the pride of the Boston Red Sox was leveling, that he really did feel sorry that one of his chief slugging rivals would be handicapped?

"Look, Veeck said, carefully, "did you ever before hear anything about the Comiskey Park background being bad for hitters? Neither did I, and I think I had more than a casual interest in such things while I was running the Cleveland Indians and the St. Louis Browns. I never heard one of our players complain about it."

"But you know what'll happen

Lionel Herbert Leads Golf Meet With Sharp 68

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The golfing Herbert brothers, Lionel and Jay, have long been regarded as something of a mystery by their professional brethren.

Both are exceptionally fine players, with picture form and competitive instincts. The mystery is why neither has ever won a major tournament.

Well, today one of the brothers from Lafayette, La., Lionel, stood atop the heap as the field of 150 or so players went into the second round of the $15,000 Phoenix Open.

He put together a 35-33-68 round yesterday, the best of only nine scores under par. Jay was 1 over par at 72.

Such professionals as Cary Middlecott (72), two-time winners Jimmy Demaret (73) and Lloyd Mangrum (74), 1955 winner Gene Littler (74), and U. S. Open Champ Jack Fleck (79) were taking a backseat to the lesser renowned Lionel Herbert. But the tournament picture was still uncertain.

Ten players were within three strokes of the leader. Most of them were dark horses, while a scattering, such as Bo Wininger, at 69; Jack Burke, Johnny and Arnold, at 70, could be regarded as definite threats.

So it was up to brother Lionel, who plays out of Erie, Pa., to produce another good round. Or for brother Jay to come through with one of his own. Oddly enough, the two generally wind up within a stroke of each other after 72 holes.

Giants Sign Pair Of Former Miller Players

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Rigney, new manager of the New York Giants, will have a couple of his old Minneapolis players on hand when the team begins spring training.

The Giants announced today they had signed contracts from Eddie Bressoud, a shortstop, and outfielder George Wilson. This makes 24 Giants in the fold.

Bressoud, 23, an ex-mariner from Los Angeles, was with the Giants last spring, and was farmed to the Minneapolis club which won the Little World Series. A fine fielder with a rifle l.m. Bressoud is a good clutch hitter. He batted .251, had 19 homers, 85 doubles and 74 runs batted in last season.

Wilson has been up with the Giants before, and in his last three years with the Millers hit 92 homers and drove in 285 runs. In 1955 he hit .307, and batted in 99 runs. He is playing ball in the Dominican Republic Winter League.

Money Problems Force Aggies To Drop Sports

SAN CRUCES (AP)—Officials of the New Mexico A&M College say money problems have made it necessary to drop track, baseball, and tennis this year.

A joint statement by President Corbett and Athletic Director Presley Aknew said funds for athletics already have been expended and dropping spring sports the only way to put the athletic program back on a sound financial basis.

For the past two years the school, a member of the Border Conference, has had only a skeletal schedule in baseball, track and tennis. Last year it dropped golf "lack of interest."

The college said "other reductions will be made" by curtailing football and basketball scouting.

Infant porpoises are born underwater and must swim to the surface seconds after birth for their first breath of air.

Checks Being Returned

THE number of welfare clients in the state has dropped considerably since the relative responsibility law and the property men law passed by the special session of Legislature went into effect in the state.

Many of the welfare clients have requested they be dropped from the rolls—more than half of them in the state—and some checks have been returned.

Recently comment is these individuals have explained they no longer want to be on the welfare rolls. That has resulted in a good many asking why they were ever on the welfare rolls.

It is likely that a good many others will request they be dropped from the rolls since relatives under the law must provide for their kin if they can. Others will be dropped off because they do not want the property they own to be used to help to pay back to the state the welfare funds that have been paid out.

There, of course, has been a great deal of objection voiced to the two state laws passed in New Mexico. Most of this is because apparently those receiving help seem to think they should remain anonymous and they can receive the help without any questions being asked.

It is unfortunate that we did not pass these laws we have now passed when we set up the welfare program. Had that been done the welfare rolls would not have been as large as they are today and some of the money paid out would already have been returned.

We believe that when our governmental agencies are asked to pay out public funds—and welfare funds are provided by the taxpayers and they have a right to know where and how they are spent—they have a right to conduct an investigation. They are doing that now.

No one, of course, wants to deny a needy and deserving case but those seeking aid from the welfare must establish they have no other source for these funds and they likewise must submit to a rigid investigation.

Only in this way can the list of welfare clients be held to the minimum number as it should be. The department was never created and established to provide aid for those who think they need it, expect or just demand it. It was created for those actually needing this help and it is up to them to prove they do need it.

Chances are with out present laws we are going to reduce not only the number of welfare clients on the rolls but also reduce the funds that will be needed for welfare programs.

Doctors Apparently Differ In Viewing Ike's Recovery

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's recovery from a winter of flu again may also have to do with the opinions of his doctors.

They seem in disagreement now on when he can feel whether he is physically able to try for a second term. And one of the doctors is either in disagreement with himself or for some reason has changed his mind since December.

Last December Eisenhower's White House doctor and friend, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, said the President's chief medical consultant, Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston heart specialist, told newsmen:

"After a physical checkup in mid-February, Eisenhower should be able to limit himself to about six days of running on the cycle machine to run for a second term. If necessary Eisenhower would have been 4 1/2 months past his physical checkup."

"It takes longer," Snyder said. "He should have more time—all the time he needs. He is not in a position yet to know whether he can go ahead and hit the ball."

At a news conference Dec. 10 Snyder was asked: "At what date will you be able to pronounce recovery? How much longer would the convalescence have to go?"

Snyder said: "Well, I think if I were in the President's berth and could improve the situation from my viewpoint, from my knowledge as a physician, that I would not be able to make such a determination for two months."

He was asked: "Are you now saying that it will be at least mid-February before the President's recovery will be complete enough to determine whether he would be physically able to run for a second term?"

Snyder replied: "I would say that... I wouldn't do it before mid-February."

On Dec. 17, seven days after the Snyder news conference, White held one and said Eisenhower's doctors would make their crucial test in mid-February.

He said he wanted Eisenhower to resume "pretty much his full job" about Jan. 9 and "four or five weeks added on to that would be the time that we doctors would think desirable for that more or less final test."

He was asked: "Would you think your mid-February examination will determine whether or not he has made a complete recovery?"

After four consecutive days of below-freezing temperatures, most rivers of the Continent were sheets of ice. Boat traffic was halted, crippling movement of badly needed fuel and food. Water and gas mains ruptured. Electric power station broke down under abnormal demand for heat in homes and factories.

The 37-below reading was reported at Katenbrunn, West Germany. Mediterranean resort towns along the French and Italian Riviera were covered by snow, which fell as far south as Naples.

Across the Mediterranean, Bone, Algeria, reported its first snowfall in 10 years.

Wind gusts of more than 95 miles per hour added to the misery of the shivering population in Trieste.

The Budapest radio reported the Danube River frozen over its entire reaches and said all rail traffic in Hungary was halted by deep snow.

Torrential rains and heavy snow hit Turkey. Near Izmir an irrigation dam collapsed on a crew of construction workers, leaving three known dead and several missing. A coastal vessel with a crew of seven was presumed lost in the stormy Marmara Sea off Turkey.

The temperature in Britain sank to 5 degrees above zero yesterday, the coldest day of the century. Storms kept fishing vessels in their ports.

solution of the German problem." American authorities said they did not understand what Bulganin meant by this bait. In the same message he renewed a charge that the United States, Britain and France seek to establish "militarism" in all Germany.

Another new element was an invitation by Bulganin for Eisenhower to submit his "thoughts" on provisions of a friendship treaty. He gave assurances that they would receive "the greatest attention."

This was a clear bid for the President to enter into active negotiations on a treaty.

Bulganin cited a record of Soviet activities which he said demonstrated peaceful conduct. And he contended that the United States and other Western powers are increasing their arms spending while the United States is building up military bases near the borders of Russia. By contrast he declared that Russia has reduced its armed forces by 640,000 men, cut its military budget, withdrawn from the Porkkala base in Finland and pulled its troops out of Austria.

As for Dulles' recent "brink of war" statement, Bulganin said: "It is a well known fact that very recently a statement was made in the U. S. A. in favor of a policy that would keep the country 'on the brink of war.'"

Bulganin said this violated the "spirit of Geneva."

"Officials said Bulganin had distorted Dulles' statement. Dulles has explained he was talking in a controversial Life magazine article, about a necessity of facing up to actions by Communist nations which forced the United States to the 'brink of war.'"

The Bulganin statement was assured of careful and detailed study. Authorities said there always is a chance that Soviet moves of this kind may be truly aimed at bringing about better relations. No such design was detected, however, in initial studies of the message.

As propaganda it apparently has two aims:

1. To present the world with a new Russian peace statement immediately after the conclusion of the Eden-Eisenhower talks and thereby perhaps divert attention from the results of those talks.
2. To provide a propaganda cover for the Eisenhower reply of last Saturday to Bulganin's first letter proposing the friendship treaty.

with kidnaping Loren Tracy, a former Las Vegas bartender and forcing him to drive him to North Las Vegas after wrecking a car belonging to Kenneth Short.

Short, North Hollywood, Calif., electrical engineer, has been missing 11 days after starting on a drive from Kansas City to his home.

After his arrest, Nelson was charged with car theft, and the FBI said his fingerprints were found in Rainey's bloodstained car, abandoned at Low, Utah, as well as in Short's car.

Las Vegas Detective Lt. William O'Reilly said Nelson was observed talking with Valente in a Piche tavern the day Valente was slain. Valente was found in the bathroom of his home. He had been shot twice.

Truman Claims Eisenhower Has Made Shambles Of Bipartisanship In Nation's Foreign Policy

By JAMES DELVIN
NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman says President Eisenhower's Republican administration has made a "shambles" of bipartisanship in foreign policy.

This, he adds, is "the thing that worries me most in the political scene for 1956."

In a speech reminiscent of his "give 'em hell" tactics in the 1948 campaign, Truman addressed 2,600 wildly applauding partisans at a $100-a-plate dinner last night. The dinner launched the Democratic 1956 presidential campaign in New York state, which has 98 of the 1,372 votes at the party's national convention next August in Chicago.

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, an open candidate for the presidential nomination, and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, an "inactive" candidate, also delivered slashing attacks on the GOP.

"Responsibility for bipartisanship in foreign policy rests squarely on the administration in power—in the White House and nowhere else," said Truman. "It is impossible for anyone else to bring it about."

He said Republicans excluded Democrats from formulation of foreign policy because they had charged the Democrats with treason and they want "to be in a position to do it again."

They have described him and Gen. George C. Marshall, his secretary of state, as "traitors," said Truman.

"If we're traitors, the country is in a hell of a fix," he said, departing from his prepared text.

In another departure from his planned remarks, he said: "From here on, I'm going to state the facts no matter who gets hurt."

He said the Eisenhower administration policies "are leading us into a situation of growing danger where the balance of strength may shift strongly against the free world."

He described the situation in Europe as "more precarious than it has been since 1947."

"We have lost heavily among the millions of uncommitted people of Asia," he said. "We seem to have no strategy for defending the Middle East against Communist subversion."

He said the Republicans are "desperate" concerning this year's election campaign.

"They know," he said, "they don't have a chance with anyone except Ike; and the pressure they are putting on him to run in spite of everything is just positively indecent."

He said the Democrats are "going to give the American people a chance to vote for a president—and not a regency or a part-time chairman of the board."

Farmlands in Iceland which have been covered by ice for 600 years are now again in use as the glaciers retreat.

SANTA FE (AP)—Rabies vaccination of Albuquerque's estimated 20,000 dogs would be compulsory if a proposal of the Bernajillo County Health Department goes through. Dr. Frank C. Diver, district health officer, will submit the proposal to the city commission next Tuesday, State Health Department sources said.

But, say the Sicilians, for business and durability there's nothing like the crop down here.

That's why you practically never see a girl with a pony hair-do in Sicily. Her hair's got to market.

Counterfeiter Gives Reason For Forgery

TOKYO (AP)—A commercial artist, arrested today on charges of counterfeiting more than 2,000 thousand-yen notes, gave this excuse:

"I designed them and had them printed for a motion picture studio for use in a scene where a crazy man was to throw money out the window.

"They were so good, it seemed a shame to waste them on a movie."

A thousand-yen note is worth $2.78.

Nearly three quarters of Americans over 65 years old have incomes of less than $1,000 a year.

Know YOUR Schools

DID YOU KNOW that there is a noticeable absence of this teacher shortage problem in Artesia? The people of Artesia are to be commended for their understanding of the situation and their willingness to take action to combat it by offering salaries which will attract and retain high quality teachers. While pleasant climatic conditions and other such factors play a part in inviting teachers to Artesia, the salary schedule here, while not the highest in the nation, is set up to allow school personnel to maintain a comfortable standard of living. This is true in many towns in many states. Teachers are still human and many will seek places which afford them financial security. The absence of the problem of teacher and classroom shortage in Artesia does not relieve us of the national situation.

Worst Storm —

in New Mexico early today was a bitter 10, below zero at Zuni to 18 above at Glenwood.

Zuni also caught the most snow, piling 14 inches on the ground.

Measured in actual water content, the U. S. Weather Bureau listed Albuquerque .10 inch; Socorro .09, Roswell .41, Glenwood .03, Hobbs .03, Columbus .16, Truth or Consequences .40, Grants .02, Zuni .16, Clovis .13, and Alamogordo .16.

Snow depths early today included Albuquerque 2 inches, Socorro 2, Roswell 8, Carlsbad 12, Hobbs 5, Columbus 3, Truth or Consequences 3, Las Vegas 5, Santa Fe 4, Otto 4, Grants 5, Zuni 14, Raton 3, Clayton 1, Alamogordo 4.

State Police and the Highway Department reported all major highways open to traffic although snow, ice and generally slick conditions made extreme caution necessary anywhere in the state.

Only urgent traffic had any business on the roads, a highway spokesman said, reiterating that "It's still a good day to stay home."

The State Police said traffic was moving through everywhere, and the Kansas City travel bureau had been so informed, after cautioning westbound traffic earlier.

The Roswell highway district, one of the heaviest hit by yesterday's storm, reported all traffic going through, with chains. Las Vegas reported Highway 64-87 icy from Clayton through to the Taos hill, with chains required.

The Albuquerque highway district's weather office said the worst conditions this morning were apt to be south of Highway 66. The 24 hours ended this morning brought very little snow to the northern third of the state, but moderately to locally heavy in the south, especially in the southeast part of the state, it said.

No melting was expected anywhere in the state today.

While more blacktop probably was showing on the roads today, there are still many slippery spots and stretches of snow-covered road with the result that "extreme caution still is necessary, just like yesterday," the highway spokesman said.

Need Money? You Can Sell Hair In Sicily

PALERMO, Sicily (AP)—A way to make money. Women are doing it all over the world. The hair-do of a Parisienne. Sicily furnishes much of the raw material for the world's toupees and false tresses—particularly those requiring luxuriant hair.

Hair brokers wander from village to village, buying the black locks of Sicilian women and selling them to processors in cities. Thousands of women make a practice of growing their hair like a crop, marketing it when it reaches saleable length. The woman gained specialized training in the industry by her ability to grow ultra-long hair, with a yard and a half long.

Earnings are meager, even the fastest growers—but the earnings are meager down here. A six-months growth might bring 6,000 lire ($10) from the market broker.

Center of the industry is Palermo. Here in the heart of the oldest part of the city is the establishment of the Brothers Curcio, which employs 60 workers and processes about 70 percent of Palermo's total hair production.

It's a painstaking process. Workers first sort the hair according to color, then unknit it and card it like wool. It's then dyed by length, thoroughly washed, then sorted out for quality through another cleaning process and finally packaged in lots of 100 grams each to be sent to the client.

Most of the foreign shippers go to the United States, Australia also listed as a buyer. In Europe, France, Austria and Germany are the best customers.

Actually, Sicily isn't the place in Italy where hair is grown for market. The lighter hair of Piedmont women is much in demand, although there's less sale.

But, say the Sicilians, for business and durability there's nothing like the crop down here.

That's why you practically never see a girl with a pony hair-do in Sicily. Her hair's got to market.

Benjamin Franklin retired at age 42.

The GLAD Way

Too long have we thought of The Way of the Cross as the "sad way." There may be sad moments along every noble path, but not all great ways are sad ways. The path of motherhood may have sad turns but it is a satisfying path. The path of education climbs some difficult and steep places but it is a thrilling way. Isaiah talked about the highway of God, where faithful servants passed on good errands. The way of the Cross is the way one takes when he serves God. It is not the "Sad Way" but rather the "Glad Way." Jesus came by way of the Cross, and the Book of Books on which the cross is planted, tells us to "take up our cross and follow." Whether atop the church steeple or on the highest mountain, it is The Glad Way. Heaven and God are at the end of that way. It is today aglow with the light of forgiving grace. It challenges the weak to walk by faith and offers pardon to those who fall at its foot. It is where Jesus prayed, "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do." It is The Glad Way.

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that family and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today decline the offers of state in their perilous times. Then we ask our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.
