Superintendent of Schools Bill Moore told the Journal Tuesday morning that after a complete investigation into a brawl last week involving three high school students he has ordered the students to attend an alternative education program which will last from 10 to 15 days. After this time the boys will be allowed to continue their classroom education, but will be confined to the school campus for the remaining of the school year. "We tried to be fair to the students" said Supt. Moore. On Monday afternoon, Supt. Moore told the Journal that this kind of behavior can not and will not be tolerated, the students are in school to learn.

not to fight. in reference to articles being run in other area papers, Supt. Moore said "I wish they would mention our students going to state (One Act Play) instead of putting so much emphasis on this incident." The cast for the One Act Play left Wednesday morning for Austin where they will compete in state competition.

During the last meeting of the Muleshoe School Board, it was decided that in addition to the four regular weeks of summer school, four weeks of enrichment courses will be added in July. These enrichment courses will include Art, beginning Conversational Spanish and Computer, all will be held at DeShazo Elementary School. There is no charge for the regular summer school but a small fee, to cover cost of material, will be charged for the enrichment courses. Flyers are being sent out to parents, according to Supt. Moore.

The grading policy for the first grade was also discussed. It has been recommended to the board to change the grading from numbers to letters for the first grade. "The state tells us what the scale will be. The second grade will remain graded by numbers."

It has been proposed that the number of credits for graduation be increased from the present 48 to 51. By adding four elective subjects, the students are currently able to accumulate 48. Two new electives has been added, Principals of Marketing and Retail Merchandising, making it possible for the students to accumulate 25 regular credits and 26 advance credits.

The Management Assistance Program to be conducted by the Region XVII ESC was also discussed at the board meeting.

Another topic of discussion was the Special Education Content Mastery program to be implemented in 1991-91. "The Special Education students will remain in regular classrooms and receive special education tutoring. The Content Mastery teachers will work closely with the class room teachers. This program will be implemented in DeShazo Elementary, Watson Junior High and High School and will effect 17 students at DeShazo, 35 at Watson Junior High and 25 in the high school.

Wilson, Smith Receive DECA/HECE Scholarships

DECA and HECE...for the 90's and Beyond was the theme for the annual DECA-HECE Banquet held Tuesday, April 23.

DECA and HECE students, along with their school advisors, honored their employers and parents at the Barbecue feast held at the Civic Center.

Gena Sharp served as mistress of ceremonies for the evening, with Shawna Smith giving the invocation. Welcome to the guests of the banquet was by Michele Holmans and Marsha Wilson recognized the guests, including parents, employees, friends and the students.

Adela Villa recognized members of the Advisory board, including Dorothy Hanes-chairman, Ray Day, Maxine Donaldson, Ed Cox, Rob Donaldson and Jeanine Gunstream.

Marilyn Stone from the Region 17 Education Service Center was guest speaker at the banquet. Her topic was "Jobs and Careers for the 90's and Beyond."

Ms. Stone spoke about the average length of time for a male in the pay work force was 43 years while for a female it is 36 years.

She said, "to look for something interesting in the work force, something that you like and to follow those opportunities." She went on to explain that experts predict that by the year 2000, 22 percent of the workforce will be high income jobs with an income of $45,000, 12 percent will be middle-income jobs, and 66 percent will be low-income jobs with an income of less than $13,000.

Ms. Stone stated that "it is important for kids to educate and re-educate themselves. She left the students with a quote of "if you plan to fail, you fail it first."

Dorothy Hanes presented this year's scholarships to Marsha Wilson for HECE and to Shawna Smith for DECA.

DECA advisor Lola Pylant presented the Outstanding DECA award to Shawna Smith, while Gena Sharp was given the Outstanding Marketing Education award.

HECE advisor Linda Tanksley gave the high point junior and senior awards to Alicia Corrales, junior and Adela Villa, senior.

Sally Guzman was presented with the Outstanding HECE Student of the Year.

Also presented a "Certificate of Appreciation was Mrs. Maggie Martinez from Mrs. Tanksley.

Area Groundwater Shows Some Decline

Bailey County groundwater levels declined an average of 1.14 feet in 1990 in 82 privately owned wells measured by the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 in its 353,900 acre service area within the county. This decline indicates a reduction of 60,516 acre-feet of water from storage in the Ogallala Aquifer last year in the portion of Bailey County within the Water District boundaries.

Groundwater levels within the Water District's Bailey County service area decreased 0.41 of a foot during the 10-year period from 1981 to 1991. An average decrease of 0.30 of a foot was recorded during the five year period from 1986 to 1991.

Groundwater depletion can be compared to the credits and debits in a checking account. For example, recently-updated computer models operated by the Texas Water Development Board in Austin show a "balance" of about 6.28 million acre-feet of water in storage within Bailey County as of January 1, 1990. "Withdrawals" or the groundwater depletion during 1990 in the portion of Bailey County served by the Water District, totaled 60,516 acre-feet. This depletion gives producers an idea of the "ending balance" in the Bailey County groundwater "account."

With this information, Bailey County producers can better understand the rate of water depletion within their county and can work toward implementing more efficient irrigation practices.

Groundwater levels in the Ogallala Aquifer within the 5.5 million acre Water District service area had an average decline of 1.06 feet from January 1990 to January 1991. This is a net reduction of about 872,795 acre-feet of groundwater from storage in the Ogallala Aquifer within the Water District service area.

Groundwater levels stabilized for the first time in the Water District's history in 1985.

Depth-to-water measurements revealed an average groundwater level increase of 0.50 of a foot in 1986; an average rise of 0.90 of a foot in 1987; an average of 0.51 of a foot in 1988; and a decline of one foot in 1989.

A network of 1,030 privately-owned observation water wells is used to determine the annual change in the quantity of water in storage in the Ogallala Aquifer within the High Plains Water District. The depth-to-water measurements are taken in January and February of each

ARNOLD PRICE

Arnold Price Files For Local School Board

Arnold Price has announced his candidacy for School Board Trustee in District 1.

He has lived in Muleshoe 12 years and is the father of three children, now in the Muleshoe School System. As a concerned parent and business owner, he is vitally aware of the need of a sound education system. "Our children are our most valuable resource and a quality education is the foundation for all their future" Price said.

"In visiting with many community people, I feel I share many of the same concerns and will do my best to address them fairly" he continued.

"Your vote and support will be appreciated in the election Saturday, May 4th at the High School Cafeteria" Price commented.

Three Way School

To Hold

Hold Cookout

Three Way schools will hold their semi-annual hamburger cookout and the end of school Chapter I, II and migrant PAC meetings on Monday night, May 13. "All students, parents, taxpayers, and other interested persons are invited to attend" said Don W. Parker, superintendent of schools.

The board of trustees will do the honors with the grill in preparing the hamburgers.

Don Parker, superintendent; Ron Walker, principal, and other persons will address the end of school functions, committees, and parent advisory groups.

Parker and representatives of the Region XVII Education Service Center will address other items of interest concerning the district including:

The new Countrywide Educational District which involves all the schools in Bailey and Cochran counties for taxing purposes; the proposed 1991-92 school calendar and the 180 day student attendance requirement; and other recent legislative action taken in Austin.

Hamburgers will be served beginning at 7 p.m. with the Chapter Meetings held at the time announced by the federal programs personnel.

Services Available For Cancer Patients In Muleshoe

The American Cancer Society in Muleshoe announced at the noon meeting of the local unit Thursday that it has a variety of services available to cancer patients without charge.

"A lot of people don't know about what we can do for cancer patients right here in Muleshoe" said Jerri Savuto. "And all we need in most cases is permission from the patient's doctor."

Loan equipment such as hospital beds, wheel chairs, walkers, and commode chairs are available as well as gift items including eggcrate mattresses, sheepskins, bed pans, pillows and other comfort items.

"We also try to help patients and their families with literature and information on other agencies," said Savuto. "Sometimes they want to know more about cancer or they need to know what assistance might be available here."

Savuto said that when most people think of the American Cancer Society, they think of cancer research. "It's true that the American Cancer Society puts millions of dollars into cancer research, but we also feel its important to work with local people and help cancer patients."

Anyone needing more information on the services available for cancer patients may call Savuto at the Muleshoe Area Medical Center 272-4524 or at home 272-4887.

State Teachers Association President Issues Statement

The Texas State Teachers Association and the Comptroller of the State of Texas send a warning today to all local school districts which be using the new school finance law as an excuse for making devastating cuts in their instructional programs, staff or their salaries and benefits.

Specifically, at our request, Comptroller John Sharp has agreed to put local districts on notice that they will be placed on a "priority list" for thorough performance reviews, or audits, if they intend to cut teaching positions and programs directly related to student instruction before trimming administrative and all other non-essential costs.

Senate Bill 1, passed in the last legislative session grants the Comptroller the authority to conduct independent performance reviews of local Texas school districts.

The state's new school finance law is presumed to be constitutional by the lower courts. It narrows the gap between the rich and the poor districts and it brings $1.3 billion in new money into the system and that is a significant amount by anyone's standards.

It is, however, clearly a mixed bag and some of the wealthier districts already have responded to Senate Bill 351 with threats of serious staff cuts. Districts such as Deer Park near Houston and Alamo Heights in San Antonio have already "pink slipped" some teachers and instructional programs.

Before an administration recommends cuts in instructional programs, it should first make deep cuts in its own budget, such as cancelling all out-of-district travel, reducing the district's automobile fleet budget by one-third, and even cutting off the air conditioning in the central administration headquarters for two months of the year.

The ratios of administrators to teachers and administrators to students are unjustifiably low and should be examined on a district-by-district basis.

In many, many districts the amount of money spent for non-instructional purposes -- including for extravagant physical facilities -- and the amount of money stockpiled in so-called "surplus" accounts is outrageously large. According to the Texas Education Agency's 1990 PEIMS report, nearly two-thirds of the state's school districts have some $1.96 billion squirreled away in "rainy days" accounts. That rainy day is here in these districts.

Finally, we believe that many districts have historically failed to efficiently use their available resources on the personnel who are the most important to the students in the classroom -- the teachers and the support staff who work with the teachers to serve children.

The average local school administrator salaries in this state compare very favorably with the averages in other states, while the average Texas teacher salary has slipped to 35th in the nation.

In total employee benefit packages, Texas ranks 49th. We think that is worth examining.

TSTA believes that in virtually all cases, significant cuts in the instructional program, including the staff, of course, are unwarranted and that capital expenditures should be examined first.

In any event, any budgetary belt-tightening should be aimed at preserving the quality of the instructional program. Teachers and other classroom necessities must be the last target for cuts, not the first.

We will be working closely with Comptroller Sharp and will be reporting the budgetary actions of districts which appear to have abandoned the first priority of any school budget--the instructional needs of the children.

Letter To The Editor

I just wanted to take this opportunity to thank everyone for the support and prayers given to me and the other troops serving in Operation Desert Storm. Your thoughts and support during this crisis will always be remembered. I'd also like to thank the Jenny Siippers for the things sent to me and the Press for the newspapers. Thank God for sending us all home safely. Thanks again to all of Mulshoe.

Sincerely
Sgt. David Beseda

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

State Representative Mark Stiles of Beaumont, introduced bill (H.B. 2022) which is a slap in the face to those Texans who have chosen to live in the rural areas of our state. The bill if passed, would allow emergency ambulance in counties of less than 20,000 population to be staffed by only ONE individual with minimum training. There are 254 counties in Texas and, of those, 150 of them have a population of less than 20,000. To those Texans who live in counties of greater population and believe this law will not affect you - think again! - you probably do not spend your entire lives in one area nor do your families and friends. If you travel, you do not have to go very far before you find yourself passing through one of these counties.

Texas already has the lowest standards in the country for minimum ambulance staffing, requiring two personnel with only 40 hours of training. This bill, if made into law, would be a state and national embarrassment by reducing the standard to only one person. The sad part about this is that Mr. Stiles' bill sailed unopposed through the House on April 18. This shows a definite uncaring attitude on the part of our elected Representatives. As a long-time paramedic with a volunteer emergency medical service, I have no idea how only one person is going to drive an ambulance and provide proper life-saving care of a patient at the same time. If this bill becomes law, E.M.S. in Texas will be set back 30 years in a large portion of the state.

Everyone who reads this letter needs to contact his or her State Senator, as well as the offices of the Governor and Lt. Governor, to show concern for our fellow Texans. Demand that your Senator vote NO on this bill. It could literally make a difference between life and death.

Sincerely,

Tom Vaught, paramedic

Accent On Health

Nearly every Texan benefits from at least one of the services provided by the Texas Department of Health's (TDH) Bureau of Laboratories.

At the bureau's central facilities in Austin, more than 2.5 million specimens are tested every year.

The bureau's main laboratories not only support such TDH programs as communicable disease control, environmental protection, dental health, and sanitation, but also serve other agencies, such as the Texas Water Commission.

The labs also act as a general diagnostic center for private physicians, particularly those whose private and local laboratories are not equipped to perform rare or complex testing. With the bureau's help, physicians throughout the state are assured prompt, accurate results while diagnosing thousands of cases.

Dr. Charles E. Sweet, director of the bureau, said that the labs are organized into three separate divisions: chemistry, microbiology, and support services.

He said that the chemistry lab performs both environmental and clinical testing. Environmental testing in 1990 included analysis of more than 130,000 water samples from throughout Texas for toxins and impurities. Clinical testing includes chemical analyses of human specimens, such as some 700,000 blood samples from newborn babies each year.

"The microbiology lab," Dr. Sweet said, "is actually four labs, specializing in bacteriology, virology, parasitology-entomology, and serology. Their tasks often overlap, since each may be needed for a full analysis of a sample sent to us," he said.

Bacteriology testing detects gonorrhea, tuberculosis, and contamination in water and other samples. Virology tests reveal the presence or absence of rabies and other viruses and help local areas of the state identify infectious outbreaks and epidemics.

Dr. Sweet explained that the parasitology and entomology labs identify microorganisms which cause illness and sometimes the microbe carriers, such as infected mosquitos and ticks.

The serology lab tests blood samples for clues to numerous diseases. According to Dr. Sweet, often the presence of a given disease, such as syphilis, is detected not by identifying the syphilis spirochete itself, but by isolating the blood antibody created by the body to fight the disease. The serology lab also conducts two different types of tests for the blood antibodies which indicate exposure to the virus that cause acquired immunodeficiency syndrome (AIDS).

The bureau's third specialty is the work its support staff, which manages the mass record-keeping and correspondence, the bookkeeping, and reporting.

STATE PRESIDENT INSTALLED--Cory Collins was installed as Texas State Teachers of America State President, Monday, April 15 in Austin. Shelley Sweatt, state advisor, helped with the installation. Collins was accompanied to Austin by his sponsor, Kerry Moore. (Guest Photo)

MHS Student Council Wrap-up

Our 1990-91 MHS Student Council has had a very successful and productive year. The officers who served this year are: President, Steve Garcia, senior; Vice-President, Patricia DelToro, junior; Chaplain, Courtney Graves, junior; Secretary, Wendy Bland, senior; Treasurer, Patricia DelToro, junior; Parliamentarian, Eric McElroy, sophomore; Historian, Andy Crawford, junior; and Reporter, David Ramirez, sophomore.

The Student Council has worked very hard to improve our school and community Projects successfully completed have included working with Whittle Communications to have television sets in each classroom at no expense to the school system. In exchange for viewing ten minutes of news and advertisements, the schools have the equipment for educational use. Another project included sending packages to our troops in the Persian Gulf during the crisis. Many letters of appreciation made this project gratifying.

The council has raised school spirit throughout our athletic seasons through the sale of beat tags and spirit links as well as having class competitions. Members have been active in Community "Safety Project" presentations as well as "SMILE" activities regarding information on alcohol and drug abuse. Fund raising activities have included selling squeeze bottles during basketball season and Valentine candy in February. Student Council members attended the 1991 District Convention in Lubbock in January where they attended leadership workshops and campaigned for office.

Five members of the council will be attending the 1991 TASC Annual Conference in Austin, May 2-4. The students are Courtney Graves, Tiffany Angeley, Audree Anzaldua, Wendy Bland and Mickey Trussell.

We would like to express our appreciation to all Student Council members for a very successful year.

Scholarship Winner Gives Secret To Success

Love of music motivates Jeremy Bruns to excel: "I have always loved music and now see my work as a result of God given talent that I have been fortunate enough to possess. It's like it was planned that I should become an organist," Bruns says. Bruns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bruns of Muleshoe says "it's up to me now to do my best to develop my talent, then do the best that I possibly can."

I didn't fully realize this until I took the job as organist at First Methodist Church, Muleshoe." As a sophomore at Muleshoe High School Bruns says he knew then that he would have to practice a lot more and spend much more time actually working on the music "if I was to succeed in that job," he notes.

When asked what teacher helped him most in his effort to succeed in the music world, Jeremy would not name a favorite instructor. "Both Elaine Damron and Judson Maynard contribute much to my development." Mrs. Damron instructed Jeremy in his early piano work. "I was in the eighth grade when Mrs. Damron's efforts to get a pipe organ at First Methodist Church bore fruit." In Bruns' junior year in high school, Mrs. Damron told him it was time for a change of instructors. At that time he began instruction with Judson Maynard, professor of organ,

Tryouts Rescheduled

Kerry Moore, Muleshoe High School speech teacher, announces that tryouts for the Mule-Pex Production have been rescheduled for May 16-17 in the high school auditorium.

They are set for 7:30-9:00 on each evening. Seven women and five men will make up the cast. Six characters between the ages of 12 and 25 are needed, as are six characters ages 40-60.

Rehearsals for the production will be three or four nights each week in June. The production itself will be presented July 2 and July 5.

harpichord and more carrillon at Texas Tech University.

Bruns will soon enter a group of his students in a National Piano Playing Guild Audition. Advice he is giving this group is practice. "When you are as talented as these students are and have as much desire to succeed as they do, practice is all it takes," says Bruns. "If they pass my test and their own, they will have little trouble measuring up in the Guild Auditions," he notes.

The young organist, who has recently been awarded a $5,000 four-year organ scholarship by the Texas Tech University School of Music, says he likes "All periods of music, but especially Bach." During his performance at Hemmie Hall April 27 Bruns performed works from Mozart, Frank and Messiaen as well as many from Bach. Bach's Trio Sonata and his Fugue in G minor were on Saturday's program. "One of the most interesting and helpful selections of music are the set of choral preludes found in "The Little Organ Book" by J.S. Bach," according to Bruns.

Several Muleshoe families including three ministers and their families attended the Senior organ recital of Jeremy Bruns held at Texas Tech. Morale was high among all members of the audience and a definite uplift was a result of the afternoon concert. It was evident that the young artist had spent hundreds of hours of practice in preparation for the performance.

Jeremy notes jokingly that he must have something in common with Bach because both he and Bach have the same initials.

PAULINE GUINN

Pauline Guinn Named Volunteer Award Recipient

Muleshoe's chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons awarded Pauline Guinn its Volunteer Award for Community Service in its session Friday, April 26. A group of about 40 people gathered for lunch at the Bailey County Civic Center.

Leon Lewis, president of Muleshoe's AARP, reports that the organization has been active in giving contributions to the local Meals on Wheels and has given regularly to the activity fund of the nursing home. "Our organization is a member of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce," reports Sammie Ethridge, vice-president.

Organized since April of 1975, the group looks forward to participating in the plans by the Veterans Memorial Fund to erect a monument to the veterans of all wars on the Bailey County Courthouse lawn. It is expected that the monument will in place by July 4.

Mrs. Guinn received the award as a result of volunteer work that she has performed during the last several years. Giving advice to the younger generation, Mrs. Guinn says, "The secret of a productive life is keeping busy." Guinn is a graduate of Phillips University in Enid, Oklahoma. Jennyslipper News

Mary Ann Ramirez called the Jennyslipper meeting together at noon Tuesday. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Evelyn Peat, and a treasurer's report was given.

Ms. Ramirez read a letter from the Olton Chamber of Commerce, concerning a luncheon held Wednesday. She also read a letter from the women's division of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce inviting the group to a luncheon on May 1. A letter was also read from Roosevelt County Chamber of Commerce, Portales. Plans are being made for Heritage Days of Roosevelt County and they were inviting the Jennyslippers to take part in these activities.

Mrs. Ramirez announced that the MAC committee has invited the Jennyslippers to sponsor a booth on the second Saturday of the month, these booths are to be in front of the stores on Main Street. These booths will be available for the months of May, June, July and August.

Everyone was reminded of the Women's retreat held Friday and Saturday and Evelyn Peat reported that 222 women had registered.

DILLMAN STAGES PET SHOW

Kindergarten classes of Dillman Elementary held a pet show Friday, April 26 in the school yard. All sizes and varieties of pets were brought to school by the children and shown. Mrs. Alan Dropps' class was instrumental in getting the event organized.

The show, an annual affair, gave children who exhibited pets an opportunity to tell others about the details of their pets while showing them what it's like to live at home with them.

Tops Club

TOPS chapter No. 34 met at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, April 25 in the Heritage Thrift Shop. Leader Laverne James called the meeting to order. The TOPS pledge was recited and the fellowship song sung. Mrs. James led the group in a prayer.

Betty Jo Davis, weight recorder, called the roll with 17 members answering to the amount they had lost or gained. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Aurora Mata, secretary, and they were approved as read.

Charlotte Campbell was named best loser for the week. Runners-up were Orvdie Burris and Joy Harp, tied for first; and Zanea Kelley, second.

Mrs. James gave a program on "Be Nice To Your Self."

The meeting was adjourned with the singing of the good-night song.

Mrs. Harp received a gift for being best loser for last week and losing again this week.

were confirmed by local civil defense officials, who also commented that there may have been more spawned by the menacing clouds which crossed over Muleshoe before dipping down three miles northeast of the city on the R.O. Gregory farm for their first stop.

Swooping over a farm and mud-blasting it, along with uprooting massive trees and taking along the windows of the house, the first tornado hit hard at the D.B. Head farm inflicting heavy damage to two houses, one of which was twisted around on the foundation, damaging the other, bombing one heavy barn, splitting the trees in a small orchard as though they had exploded, twisting around large trees, snapping off highline poles and depositing debris down the road as it made its way northeast.

Another tornado inflicted damage along the southwest-northeast path, leaving twisted, crumpled sheet metal, lumber, highline poles and tree limbs. Thirteen month old Jerald Mendoze was hospitalized from severe head and facial lacerations from yet another tornado which cut a path through a trailer house where he resided with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Egberto Mendoza, on the Bill Hunt farm approximately three miles southwest of Lazbuddie.

The large trailer house was moved about 30 feet from its foundation, twisted and crumpled. The west half of the trailer was torn from the base and scattered across a plowed field.

DPS Encourages Early CDL Testing Soon

DPS Director Colonel Joe Milner cautions that the Texas truck and bus industries are going to find themselves without properly licensed drivers on April 1, 1992, if they do not contact their nearest DPS Driver License office to schedule commercial driver's license (CDL) testing as soon as possible.

The DPS began issuing CDL's on September 17, 1990. However, as of March 29, 1991, only 50,000 CDL's had been issued (an average of 370 licenses a day.) "Texas has approximately 962,000 commercial drivers who must be tested before their current license expires or April 1, 1992, whichever date comes first," Colonel Milner said. In order to license the remaining 912,000 CDL drivers before the deadline, DPS must average testing and issuing licenses to 3,648 drivers each working day.

More than two-thirds of the drivers hold Class A and B licenses that will not expire until after the April 1, 1992 deadline. However, after that date the drivers cannot legally drive a commercial motor vehicle without a CDL. The drivers will be given credit for each full year of validity on their present Texas driver's license when obtaining a CDL. The cost of the CDL is $40. There is no fee for making application or taking as many tests as are necessary to qualify for the CDL.

"Drivers operating vehicles exceeding 26,000 pounds, or transporting hazardous materials, must obtain the new CDL," Colonel Milner indicates. Also, drivers who drive buses designed to carry 16 or more passengers (including the driver) must have a CDL. Drivers of school and church buses are included. Exempt from the CDL requirements are farmers (when they are driving within 150 miles of their farm), military personnel, recreational vehicle drivers, emergency vehicle operators, and fire fighters when operating fire-fighting vehicles or equipment.

"The DPS can test at the truck or bus company if the company has at least 15 drivers available for testing," Colonel Milner said. The DPS official believes that the DPS Driver License offices will have long lines of commercial drivers waiting to be tested as the April 1, 1992 deadline approaches if CDL test scheduling is not increased immediately.

Farm/Ranch Estate Planning Seminars Slated

"The seminars are being conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, as part of a continuing effort in farm and ranch management," notes Dr. Wayne Hayenga, Extension Economist. "They are designed to help farmers and ranchers learn how to reduce taxable estates and learn new methods for passing their operations to the next generation."

Titled "How to Lower Your Estate Tax Burden," the seminars are slated for: Houston, May 7-8, 1991; Fort Worth, May 13-14, 1991; and San Antonio, May 15-17, 1991.

"Of major importance is how every farm estate will be affected by new estate tax rules," points out Hayenga. "The best tax planning of the past may be the worst under the new law," including deductions, expenses and tax rates. Among these are wills, by-pass trusts, gift disclaimers and ways to own property.

There will also be a separate segment of the program devoted to treating beneficiaries fairly.

Another discussion will center on estate planning tools for agriculture and will deal with corporations, partnerships, selling part of the business to heirs, and oil and gas interests.

The second day of each seminar will be devoted to special estate tax rules for agricultural estates. These include special farm land valuation, deferred estate tax payment rules, life insurance, "flower" bonds and other

Texans Could Add Billions To Economy

Texas could add billions of dollars and tens of thousands of jobs to its economy by processing more of the raw foods and fibers grown in the state, according to the Texas Agri-Business Electric Council.

The growing awareness of this potential economic boom by leaders of business, agricultural and state government is an encouraging sign, said Greg Boggs, agricultural marketing consultant with Southwestern Public Service Company. SPS, along with nine other Texas investor owned electric utilities and Texas A&M University, compose the council.

The potential for ag-processing has been documented by a recent study done by the SPS economic development department. The "Target Growth Study," listed 80 industries which would fit well into the SPS service area. One-quarter of those industries were related to agriculture processing, including such industries as textile mill production, confectionary production and grain mill production.

SPS Economic Development Manager Cheryl Pink said the study demonstrates that ag-related industries should continue to be encouraged to locate to the area. "Communities have been working hard and will continue to work hard to attract such industries," Pink said.

"As the cooperation of state and local governments increases, our chances of attracting one of these ag-related industries also increases," Pink added.

Governor Ann Richards earlier this month related that Texas produces a significant amount of the nation's cotton, but most of it is processed elsewhere into clothing and other goods. In fact, according to a 1989, study by the Agri-Business Electric Council, Texas grows one-third of the nation's cotton, but ships 92 percent of its crop out of the state to be processed.

Boggs said Gov. Richards is to be commended for encouraging emphasis on more ag-processing in Texas. "Think of all the jobs that never would have been created if we had shipped all Texas' crude oil out of state to be turned into gasoline and other petroleum products," Boggs said. "Yet, that's just the sort of thing we're doing with much of Texas' huge agricultural resources."

Texas Agriculture Commissioner Perry knows that the value added by processing is significant," said Boggs "and it's money the Texas economy is losing. For example, the value of corn is more than doubled when turned into corn masa flour for making tortillas and other Mexican-food products. And one dollar's worth of milled corn becomes ten dollar's worth of corn flakes cereal."

The Agri-Business Electric Council is fighting to change the situation. It has produced feasibility studies of increasing the Texas processing of corn, rice, timber and natural fibers, including cotton, wool and mohair. In addition, the council may do feasibility studies of processing vegetables, leather and other agricultural products. For copies of future and existing studies, contact Greg Stark, executive director of the council, at Texas A&M University.
