Tornado Destroys Lazbuddie Home

around Muleshoe

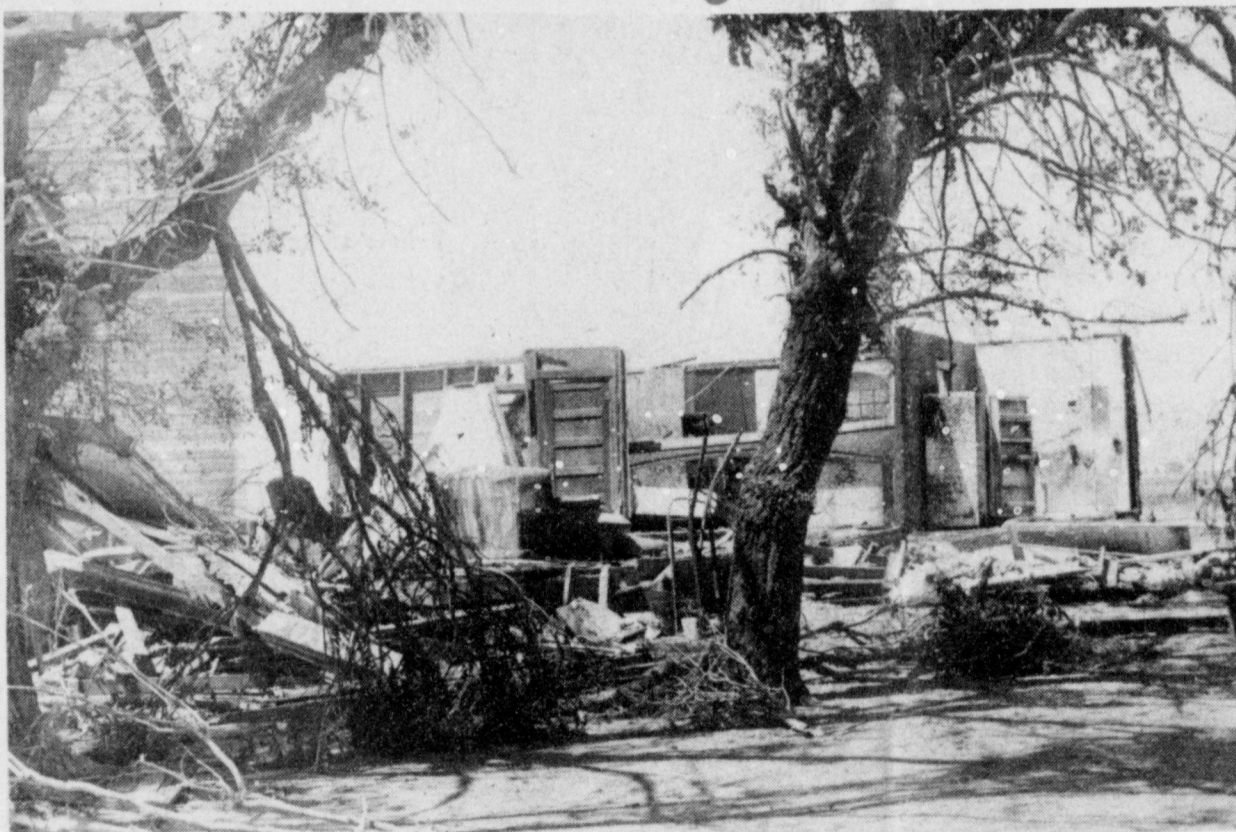

Lisa Noble, 1989, valedictorian of Muleshoe High School, is the recipient of a Hazlewood scholarship in mathematics at Texas Tech. It will carry a stipend of $1000 for academic year 1991-92.

This is continued evidence of the superb job being done by your staff in Muleshoe High School, in preparing students for college" said Ronald M. Anderson, chairperson.

The eighth annual Fellowship of Christian Athletes Banquet will be held May 18 at 7 p.m. in the Muleshoe High School Cafeteria. The program will be presented by the athletes and awards will be given for athletic achievement and Christian leadership.

There will be another meeting to plan the Progress Reunion on May 19 at 2:30 p.m. at the Progress Baptist Church. Anyone interested in helping is urged to attend.

The Athletic Banquet is scheduled for Friday, May 17 at Cont. Page 6, Col. 1

Bula Community Also

Suffers Heavy Damage

Friday night's storm left Roger and Debbie Johnson and their family homeless when a tornado struck near the Lazbuddie community about 7:30-8 p.m.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and daughters, Shyla 10 and Marli 3 years, were home they escaped serious injury by taking refuge in their basement. Johnson was treated at the scene for a cut on his head and scratches on his back, while his wife and children were unhurt. A son was at a FFA Convention in Amarillo at the time of the tornado.

As only a very close community could, their neighbors, about 200, gathered Saturday morning to help salvage any of their possessions they could. The Johnsons' lost almost everything. "Our washer and dryer were not damaged and our stove was beat up but it still works" Johnson said.

Monday night when the Journal talked to Johnson on the phone, he said "the people here have been supper nice, just fantastic. Skip and Debbie Magby opened their home to us where we spent three days." Other neighbors responded with food, clothing and money. The Red Cross responded with money and paid one month's rent in their new home, belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Redwine.

"Even a tire shop in Muleshoe, I don't even remember the man's name, put two tires on my pick-up."

Students from the Lazbuddie school volunteered to go out on Tuesday afternoon and gather up the scattered wood and burn it in a pit.

The Johnsons' had only lived in the Lazbuddie community three months, moving to Lazbuddie from Post. "We left a lot of good friends in Post, but we have met a lot of new ones here the last few days" Johnson continued. Friends in Post also responded with money and clothes.

Johnson said that when the tornado struck without warning Friday night, his wife had been cooking supper when the front door suddenly blew open. When they finally got it to stay shut they got the girls down stairs. Upon going back upstairs, they found the wind had stopped blowing. There was complete silence. Johnson said that was what concerned him the most.

Then they heard the roar. Johnson said that he grabbed his wife, pushed her toward the stairs and almost went back to turn off the stove, where she was cooking, before going to the basement. "If I had, I would never have made it." Brick from the crumbling chimney hit him in the back of the head.

There were a few anxious moments when the Johnsons' got to the basement, their oldest daughter had taken the youngest one under the stairwell for added protection. With no electricity, the Johnsons' couldn't see and when they first called out, the girls didn't answer.

Speaking of being trapped in the basement, Johnson said "it was a little scary for a while, I was worried about our landlords, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Mimms." "I knew they didn't have a basement." "I scratched some of the mud from a window and I could see their house still standing some 100 to 150 yards away."

The Johnsons' were trapped for about an hour before being rescued.

Even though the Johnsons' lost almost all of their possessions Johnson said "We are just thankful we are all alive and no one was seriously injured."

The Journal also spoke to the minister of the Lazbuddie Church of Christ. He stated that the Johnsons' had received about enough clothes and etc.

Tax Check Shows Increase

"The state's moderate but stable economic growth is one good reason there is more than 10 percent increase in sales tax rebates for Texas cities and counties thus far in 1991, when compared with the first five months of last year," State Comptroller John Sharp said Friday.

Sharp made the comments as he sent over 1,000 Texas cities, counties, city transit and hospital districts checks totaling $147.1 million in monthly sales tax rebates.

Five-Area

Telephone, Bank

Awards Scholarships

Five Area Telephone Cooperative, Inc. and First Bank of Muleshoe awarded four $600 scholarships to area graduating seniors.

Those receiving scholarships included: Casey Wayne Bradshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bradshaw, of Lazbuddie.

Nathan Demel of Whiteface, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Demel.

Carrie A. Kindle from the Three Way High School also received one of the scholarships. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kindle.

Stacy Knowlton of Muleshoe High School is also one of the scholarship recipients. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Knowlton of Muleshoe.

These scholarships may be used in any college, university, trade school or technical training institute of the student's increase of 0.93 percent over this same period. To this date last year they had received checks totaling $23,625.84 and to date this year $23,845.12 showing an increase of 0.93 percent.

The city of Houston received $21.6 million, the largest payment in the state, to bring that city's 1991 total to $87.9 million. Dallas received the second largest payment, $12.9 million, for a 1991 total of $52.7 million. San Antonio's check for $7.3 million was the third largest in

This month's checks include taxes collected on March sales and reported in April by businesses filing monthly returns, and also includes taxes reported by those filing quarterly returns for sales made in January, February and March.

Another reason this month's checks are up slightly is that some cities have raised their sales tax rate since last May, and more counties now levy sales tax.

Sharp issued local sales tax rebates this month totaling $131.1 million to 1,065 Texas towns and cities, a hike of 3.7 percent over last May's payments. This brings the 1991 city rebate total up to $528.5 million, 10.6 percent over last year's total payments at this time. City sales tax rates range from one percent to two percent.

Muleshoe's check for this period showed an increase of 2.95 percent from the same period last year. This month's check totaled $20,195.02 as compared to the same period last year. Muleshoe also showed an increase for the year from $89,343.26 up to $94,172.00 an increase of 5.4 percent.

In Lamb county, Littlefield also showed an increase for the period from $21,905.76 to $25,446.65 an increase of 16.16 percent. Payments for the year also show an increase from $92,934.23 to $100,678.47, an increase of 8.33 for the year.

Friona, in Parmer County, showed a decrease of 23.53 percent for this period. Their check was for $11,956.60 down from $15,635.98 at this date last period. For the year checks have totaled $49,357.56 as compared to $49,506.49 for this time last year, showing a decrease of 0.30 percent.

In Cochran County, Morton received a check in the amount of $4,443.02 as compared to $4,998.72 for this same date last period. Down some 11.12 percent. For the year, they show an increase of 0.93 percent over this same period. To this date last year they had received checks totaling $23,625.84 and to date this year $23,845.12 showing an increase of 0.93 percent.

'Jewel Of Nile' Junior, Senior Banquet Theme

Jewel of the Nile was the theme of the Annual Junior Senior banquet Saturday night, May 11. Hosted by the 1990-91 Junior Class, the banquet got underway at 7 p.m. in the Bailey County Civic Center.

A life size mummy in a coffin, greeted the guests as they entered. In one corner, a girl sat with a man standing at her side. Another girl fanned them with a fan, like the ones used in Egypt.

A large mask was placed at the front of the coliseum. Three different sized pyramids sat on one side of the mask and black camels, and black palm trees were on the other side.

Centering the stage, a tent sat by the side of a pond with live fish, accented with greenery.

Patricia Del Toro gave the welcome, with Blain Ferris giving the senior response. Courtney Graves gave the invocation.

The Blue Gose catered the meal which consisted of fawagih (fruit), Khubiz (bread), jibneh (cheese), salata (salad), lahim moshive (shisk kabob), ruzz (rice), jaz kaig (walnut cake) shai we qahua (tea and coffee).

The program and menu were printed on the placemat.

Dinner music was presented by Muleshoe High School band director, Carlos Acevedo. He directed, Carlos Acevedo. He on the saxophone. The second half of the program was a video presentation by Acevedo. The video was a tribute to the Senior Class of 1991, depicting high school life at Muleshoe High School. The video was titled "I Won't Forget You."

Patricia Del Toro also gave the farewell.

Junior class officers were: Patricia Del Toro, president; Adrian Pineda, vice president; Courtney Graves, secretary; Ronda Scott, treasurer; and Erin Kelley, Student Council Representative.

Senior Class officers included: Blain Ferris, president; Marsha Wilson, vice president; Monica Swint, secretary; and Kristi Trusty, Student Council Representative.

Immediately following the banquet, a prom was also held in the coliseum, hosted by the parents of the juniors and seniors.

Does Crime In Texas Pay?

Since 1980, the rate of serious crime in Texas has risen by 29 percent while the national rate was dropping almost 4 percent. The Dallas-based National Center for Policy Analysis says the rise coincided with a steep decline in the expected punishment for a crime.

The expected punishment for a serious crime in Texas has dropped by 43 percent since 1980, and a criminal can expect to spend less than a third as much time in prison as in 1960, a recent NCPA study said.

"We have more crime in Texas because crime pays," said Morgan O. Reynolds, a Texas A&M University economist and Senior Fellow of the NCPA who conducted the study. "For an increasing number of people, crime is a very lucrative occupation."

According to the study, a potential criminal in Texas can expect to spend only 7.4 days in prison for committing a serious crime today, compared with 13 days in 1980 and 24.1 days in 1960.

Expected punishment, as defined by Reynolds, takes into account the probabilities of arrest, conviction and imprisonment, and the median time actually served in prison.

- The expected punishment for murder is two years, rape 5.3 months, robbery two months and aggravated assault 8.2 days.

- For burglary, it's 6.7 days, for motor vehicle theft 2.8 days and for larceny less than one day.

"Most crimes are not irrational acts," Reynolds said. "People compare the expected benefits of crime with the expected costs. The reason crime has increased is that the expected cost of crime is so low."

Reynolds compared Texas in 1980 with California, which had fewer state prisoners than Texas and a 21.6 percent higher crime rate. When California began increasing its prison population faster than the rate of population growth in the state, the crime rate began going down.

From 1980 to 1989, California's prison population rose 255 percent and the crime rate fell by 13.7 percent. Over the same period, Texas increased its prison population by only 39 percent and had an increase in the crime rate of 20.7 percent.

The NCPA study acknowledged that the cost of building and operating prisons is high, but said the cost of not creating more prisons appears to be much higher in terms of the social cost of increased crime.

Reynolds said the state government, which is already planning to boost prison capacity, could reduce the costs of building and operating prisons by turning more of the job over to private enterprise and by relaxing restrictions on private employment of prisoners.

The report also proposed alternative punishment for violent offenders to free prison space for violent criminals, exploring the use of abandoned or less-used military facilities for minimum security prisons and abolishing the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, which has created more legal privileges for criminal defendants than the federal courts.

Money Talk

By Stanley James

The dollar has been strengthening in the last few months, even though interest rates have been lowered—which usually discourages foreign buying of dollars.

Is a strong dollar a good sign for the stock market? Not necessarily. A strong dollar makes foreigners pay more, in their currency, for U.S. products and stocks. A strong dollar makes imports here cheaper—not helpful to the U.S. economy.

Thus the strengthened dollar is probably not what has produced the increase in the Dow Jones market average.

It could even help slow economic recovery in the United States.

Many think any further rise in the dollar's value would not be a positive sign for the stock market.

Job Seekers Be Wary Of Overseas Employment Ads

Your Better Business Bureau has been receiving calls recently from consumers interested in alleged nursing and other skill-type jobs in Saudi Arabia and the Middle East.

With the rebuilding of the Middle East since the Gulf War, there are many companies offering job opportunities and are asking consumers to pay a substantial amount, sometimes up to $300, advance fee for their services. The BBB/South Plains offers this general advice to consumers interested in seeking work overseas:

1. Extreme caution is advised;
2. Job seekers should be wary of ads for positions overseas, especially if the company requires an up-front fee;
3. Consumers can expect bonafide offers to be put in writing so that they can look over the contract and know all the terms and conditions BEFORE sending in any money;
4. American companies with contracts to find qualified persons to fill available positions do charge a fee for their services which is often refunded when the individual is hired;
5. Be especially wary of promises of high earnings; One company, worldwide search, our of North Miami Beach, Florida, has placed ads in local newspapers and when called, offer to send a contract, get the applicant a work permit, visa, all paper processing, and do all travel arrangements for $250-$300. Some local nurses have been promised that all travel is free, as well as room and board in a military-type barracks. The nurses are promised they would work 6 days a week on ten-hour shifts and earn about $1000 a day. They further promise that the applicant would pay no taxes on their income up to $70,000 and that the employment contract is for six months to one year.

BBB/Miami reports they have known about WORLDWIDE SEARCH since September 1990 and the company states they have been in business since February, 1981. According to the company, they offer resume consultation, composition and presentation to firms who do business overseas. Job Placement is not guaranteed.

T.D.H. Guards Texas Drinking Water Supplies

The Texas Department of Health (TDH) and other government and private groups concerned with drinking water observed the fourth annual National Drinking Water Week, May 5-11.

According to James Pope, director of the TDH Division of Water Hygiene, "The observance is meant to enhance public awareness of drinking water issues. The public awareness of drinking water issues. The public should recognize that the health, safety and quality of life we enjoy depend upon drinking water quality."

Pope said that the drinking water in the U.S. is "the best on earth," thanks to advances in purification and high government standards. "However," he said, "the problems of providing safe drinking water are becoming increasingly complex."

He explained that only 25 years ago, "we didn't have the technology to detect everything that was in our drinking water. But with today's sophisticated testing instruments we know more about our water than ever before."

TDH and other water quality authorities use their advanced technology to ensure the safety of treated water and curb a growing list of would-be pollutants in the state's water supplies.

BBB/Miami files show they have received no complaints. Many firms offering overseas employment are simply advisory services and may not actually be able to secure a position for you. Usually, the up-front fees are non-refundable. For more specific information about possible jobs available overseas, consumers may write to: Gulf Reconstruction Center Information Office, U.S. Department of Commerce, 14th & Constitution Ave., Room 2041, Washington, D.C. 20230. Consumers may also wish to check with the Texas Employment Commission and the Internal Revenue Service if promised no taxes on earnings.

It is the opinion of BBB/South Plains that with the numbers of companies offering these services PLUS the numbers of people answering the ads, the chances of getting a job in Saudi Arabia or anywhere else in the middle east is extremely slim; and consumers should REMEMBER, THAT WHEN IT SOUNDS TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE, IT USUALLY IS!

News is not what happens; it is what is reported.

Emotions are valuable, but civilization teaches self-control.

technology to ensure the safety of treated water and curb a growing list of would-be pollutants in the state's water supplies.

The TDH Water Hygiene Division has enforced authority in Texas of the Federal Safe Drinking Water Act of 1974 and its amendments of 1986. The Act mandates national guidelines for preserving and improving drinking nationwide.

According to Pope, since the law requires testing for and control of many contaminants not previously regulated, many municipal water systems throughout the U.S. will need modernization.

Among the Water Hygiene Division's duties are:

- Inspecting the state's 7,246 public water systems to protect the safety and quality of drinking water. Inspectors submitted more than 9,322 water samples for chemical testing at the TDH laboratories last year.
- Monitoring construction, operation and maintenance of public drinking water systems.
- Certifying more than 10,535 water works operators statewide.
- Reviewing engineering plans for new and existing water treatment systems, completing 738 reviews last year alone.

• Maintaining chemical and bacteriological sample records from all public water systems, totaling some 321,335 such records by the end of 1990.

• Providing technical assistance (above 30,000 times in 1990) to owners and operators of both public and private supply systems.

IN FASHION

One of the most versatile garments for one's wardrobe is the classic, white menswear-style shirt, which is slightly oversized.

Tuck this shirt in walking shorts or jeans for great casual wear. On the beach, worn over the bathing suit, and belted with a colorful scarf it's eye-catching.

Use the shirt as an unbuttoned jacket over a brief top and shorts to give a modest amount of coverage.

A gifted mind is one that easily discovers plausible excuses.

Eyesight Quiz

How much do you know about eyesight?

True or False:

- Reading in dim light can damage your eyes;
- Watching television too close or too long will damage eyes;
- too much reading of fine print will impair your vision.

If you answered "true" to any of the above Lubbock Prevent Blindness wants you to know that your knowledge of eye health and safety could use some updating. In fact, there are many other myths with more dangerous consequences. What you don't know could cost you your vision.

May is Sight-Saving Month. Sponsored by Lubbock Prevent Blindness, this national public awareness campaign encourages people to separate fact from fiction about preserving sight.

Unfortunately, many people are misinformed. According to a recent Gallup Survey, 54 percent of the population mistakenly believe it is possible to correct eye damage caused by glaucoma, one of the leading causes of blindness in the United States.

The fact is, once glaucoma begins its slow and often unnoticed destruction, vision that is destroyed cannot be restored. Regular eye examinations are the primary weapon against blindness from the disease. High risk groups are particularly susceptible to glaucoma. People at high risk include African-Americans over 40, diabetics, older adults, people with a family history of glaucoma, the extremely near-sighted, and those who have had previous eye surgery or eye injuries.

The Sight-Saving Month campaign theme, "Don't be Blind to the Facts", was designed to replace some of the misconceptions about eye care with good hard facts.

For more information on Sight-Saving Month, or any aspect of eye health and safety, call the Lubbock Branch of Prevent Blindness at 797-6701.

Dawn Branscum became the bride of Mickey Merriott in a candlelight ceremony at 7 p.m. April 12 in the Calvary Baptist Church of Muleshoe. Rev. Rick Michael, pastor of the church, read the double ring vows. Rev. Earnest Merriott of Littlefield, grandfather of the groom, assisted in the ceremony and gave the wedding prayer for the couple.

Parents of the couple are Lexie and Joan Branscum of Earth and Lonnie and Nelda Merriott of Muleshoe.

Grandparents of the couple are: Mrs. Lillie Belle Maxcey of Earth, Mrs. Lucille Branscum of Muleshoe and the Rev. and Mrs. Earnest Merriott of Littlefield.

Musical selections were sung and pre-recorded by the bride. They included "Wind Beneath my Wings", "We've Only Just Begun", "Love is Alive" and "Where Did We Go Right?"

Vows were exchanged before two spiral votive candelabras, each featuring a large cascade of aqua and mauve roses and trailing ivy.

The "Wedding Song" was sung as the bride entered on the arm of her father. During the lighting of the unity candle, "You Needed Me" was played. Rev. Earnest Merriott gave the closing prayer. The bride gave a rose to the groom's mother and the groom gave a rose to the bride's mother, as they retired. The recessional was played by the church pianist, Janice Snell.

The unity candle was displayed on a brass pedestal and bore a large cascade of aqua and mauve roses with ivy.

Pew markers were mauve satin bows. The foyer of the church contained a tall white pedestal with a large bouquet of roses with trailing ivy. The registration table was covered with white lace. Also on the table was a crystal votive candleholder vase with a mauve candle and trailing mauve roses and ivy. A Precious Moments china picture frame contained a picture of the couple. Sawnya Welch, cousin on the bride, registered the guests.

The bride's gown was of white bridal satin covered by sheer silk illusion, with an applied lace bodice and a stand-up collar. The back extended into a formal train. Her veil was of fingertip length of sheer silk illusion edged with applied white roses. Her cascading bouquet of aqua and mauve silk roses was enhanced by baby's breath, ivy and satin ribbons. Iridescent highlights complimented the bouquet.

The bride wore a pearl and diamond necklace, a gift from the groom, and wore a lucky penny in her shoe. She also wore a blue garter made for her by Connie Alanis.

Maid of honor was Debi Freeman of Muleshoe. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jae Kerr, sister of the bride, from Houston and Mrs. Glenn Branscum, sister-in-law of the bride, of Bedford.

The attendants wore pink satin dresses with full skirts and floral bodices which came to a "V" in the front and back. A large bow accented the bodice in the back. Full puff sleeves complimented the style and they carried bouquets of aqua and mauve roses. (Smaller versions of the bride's bouquet.)

Kristi Pederson of Canyon, daughter of the bride, served as flower girl. She dropped rose petals from a white wicker basquet.

Brian Rudd of Muleshoe served as best man. Groomsman were Gary Merriott, brother of the groom of Amarillo and Tom Ladd of Muleshoe.

Ushers were Nick Black of Muleshoe and Glenn Branscum, brother of the bride, of Bedford, TX.

Trey Pederson of Canyon, son of the bride, served as ring bearer. Candlelighters were Miss Sonya Freeman of Earth and Miss Angela Freeman also of Earth.

The candlelighters and flower girl wore aqua dresses identical to the attendants.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The cake was multi-tiered. The bottom was a bubbling fountain surrounded by ivy. The second tier was centered with a bouquet of aqua and mauve roses. The three-tiered top displayed a Precious Moments cake top with a musical revolving miniature bride and groom in a bridal arbor. A stairway descended to a second cake which sat on pedestals above greenery and baby's breath. A bouquet of roses centered the cake and miniature bridesmaids and groomsmen in pink and white stood on the staircase. Pink sherbet punch and nuts and mints were served from crystal and silver appointments. The bride's bouquet accented the table.

The groom's table was also covered in white satin with a double skirt. The groom's chocolate cake was designed by Tom Ladd and baked by his wife, Gwen. It portrayed Mickey's hobby of model airplane flying and depicted two men flying planes. One miniature plane was in a tiny tree, another nose-dived into the chocolate frosting and the third was stuck in the high-line wires. Coffee was served from a silver coffee service. Three mauve candles were lighted in silver candelabra.

Serving at the bride's table was Tammy Nash and Ronni Bennett. Gwen Ladd and Alice LeBleu, aunt of the groom, served at the groom's table.

Following a wedding trip to Las Vegas, Nevada, the couple are at home at 1826 W. Birch in Muleshoe.

The bride is a graduate of Springlake-Earth School and attended Lubbock Christian University. She is a member of Mule-Plex Productions and also the Jennyslippers. She is employed at the Heritage Inn as a desk clerk.

Merriott is a 1977 graduate of Muleshoe High School and attended Amarillo College. He is a member of the Muleshoe Kiwanis Club and president of the Muleshoe Radio Control Club. He is also a member of International Miniature Aircraft Association. He is employed at Higginbotham.

Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Leon LeBleu of Surprise, Arizona, uncle of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Jack LeBleu of Howe, uncle of the groom; Rev. and Mrs. Earnest Merriott, grandparents of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Virgel Merriott, uncle of the groom of Lubbock; and their granddaughter, E'Lisa Hallford of Chicago, Ill. and William Tanner of England.

The rehearsal supper was hosted by the parents of the groom and was held at the Old Depot. Aqua placemats were used and the tables each had a vase of roses.

A bridal luncheon was hosted by Tammy Nash and Judy Michael in the Nash home on Friday morning, April 12. The tables were covered in white linen and a large bouquet of roses sat at the end of the table. The group enjoyed a quiche lorraine and chocolate puffs with strawberry cream, specialties of the hostesses.

Miss Lenau, Bell United In Marriage

Charlotte Lenau of Columbia, Missouri, and Richard J. Bell IV were married at Linn Memorial United Methodist Church in Fayette, Missouri Sunday, May 18 in a candlelight ceremony. Charlotte is the granddaughter of Julian Lenau of Muleshoe and Mr. and Mrs. D.B. Lancaster of Austin. The father of the bride, Charles W. Lenau, Professor of Civil Engineering, University of Missouri, Columbia, Missouri, gave the bride away.

Linda L. Lancaster, mother of the bride, is Development Director for KOPN Public Radio (89.5 FM) and a realtor for Gaslight Better Homes and Gardens in Columbia, Missouri. Both are Muleshoe High School and Texas Tech University graduates.

The groom is a business graduate from Central Methodist College in Rayette, Missouri. The bride is a cosmetologist with Bravo Hair Stylists in Columbia, Missouri, where she is pursuing a career in nursing.

Friends and relatives of the couple celebrated the nuptials with a reception when live music was provided by the Cameline Consort and a DJ dance followed at the Rod and Gun Club in Boonville, Missouri. After a brief honeymoon to Lake of the Ozarks, the couple will be at home in Boonville, Missouri.

May Designated Better Hearing, Speech Month

May is Better Hearing and Speech Month. If you or someone you know has a speech language or hearing problem, make this the time to seek the help of a qualified professional. The result should be rewarding. Call toll free 1-800-638-TALK or, locally, Terry Young 272-7546 or Debbi Hutto 272-7541.

About 22.6 million Americans, one out of every 10, suffer from some kind of speech, language or hearing disorder. In fact, communication disorders are this nation's most prevalent handicapping conditions.

Fortunately, however, help is available. Speech-Language pathologists and audiologists are professionals trained to treat speech, language and hearing disorders. The earlier a problem is diagnosed and treatment begins, the better the chances for improvement, and for the afflicted person to be able to lead a normal, productive life. However, it is never too late to seek help. Mrs. Annie Glenn, wife of Senator John Glenn of Ohio, did not overcome stuttering with the help of speech-language therapy, until she was in her 50's.

Plainview Round-up

Complete plans for the 63rd Pioneer Round-Up are taking shape, according to Alice Doyle, president of the sponsoring organization, the Plainview Business and Professional Women's Club. The Round-Up will be held Saturday, May 18 and the theme is "Pioneers-The Backbone of America".

The traditional square dance will conclude the activities and the guest caller will be Jimmy Gouge of Amarillo. Helen Burleson is Dance Chairman.

Gouge began his square dancing in 1978 and in 1983 attended Panhandle Callers and Teachers Association caller training school and began guest calling and teaching lessons for a group at Mesa Petroleum and at Polk Street Methodist Church in 1984. In 1985 and 1988 he was chosen club caller for Saints and Spinners and for Whirley Birds in Amarillo.

Gouge has had bookings in Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Oklahoma and Kansas. This will be his fifth year to call in Red River, New Mexico for a week.

Gouge and his wife Jo, served in nearly every office at the club level, and served in the local association. As a caller he has served as Secretary, Treasurer, and is currently serving a term as Vice President of the Panhandle Caller and Teacher Association. He is currently serving on the sound committee for the Toptex association.

Mrs. Burleson and Gouge cordially invite all square dancers to attend the Pioneer Round-Up and participate in the square dance which will begin at approximately 9:00 p.m. on Saturday night, May 18 at the Ollie Liner Center.

Ms. Doyle states the price of the tickets is $5.00 (tax included) which covers all activities beginning with the supper at 6:00, the program at 8:00 and the square dance which follows; or $2.00 (tax included) after 8:00 p.m. without meal. Tickets may be secured from any member of the Plainview Business and Professional Women's club or at the door.

J.H. Martin brought in another good irrigation well on his land just one-half mile north of Muleshoe, it being drilled by John Kropff, local well driller. The hole is eight inches in diameter and 93 feet deep. The first water was struck at 14 feet and from there on down to the bottom of the hole, the formation is heavy red sand interspersed with small streaks of gravel, and sufficiently hard to not need any casing at all.

Tuesday afternoon a group of Muleshoe High School students, accompanied by Prof. C.L. Sone, were visitors at the Journal office to see what it's all about. They were shown first through the editorial department and later were taken through the mechanical department and press room. Various features of the linotype machine were explained. Bobby Jones of the Journal explained procedures to the students. Those visiting were Billy Beavers, Juanice Brooks, Alwyn Chitwook, Delbert Watson, Marshall Morris, L.C. Gully, Billy Joe Stevens, Deon Awtry, Joe Smith, Calvin Embry, Bert McGee, Hennie Long, James Warren, Ira Thomas, Eugene Black, Clifford Bordon, Dorothy Jones, Connie Gupton and Prof. Sone.

They are still in need of bedding, sheets, pillow cases and blankets, as well as towels and small appliances.

In talking to Mimms, he told the Journal that he was notified by the Lazbuddie Volunteer Fire Department that a tornado was headed his way. He was also tracking it on the TV. He knew that several tornados were spotted near Lazbuddie. Mimms stated that he tried to warn the Johnsons' to get in the basement.

"When I saw water and mud go straight up in the air I knew it was time to take cover. He and his wife crouched down in the hall. They could see shingles being blown off the house and trees uprooted.

Bula and Pep communities were also struck by a tornado Friday night, leaving a long path of destruction. Several homes, two barns, a cotton gin and a housing complex were heavily damaged at Bula.

Ninfa Peacock, who lived in the complex stated that she was next door when she saw the roof being blown off one of the apartments and everything inside being sucked out. Ms. Peacock stated that she saw the twister coming, it was a large funnel between two clouds.

the state for a year-to-date sum of $30 million, and Austin followed with $5.7 million, adding up to $23 million for the year.

Checks to 105 county governments totaled $13.5 million, up 9.8 percent from last May's payments. This month's checks to counties brings their 1991 total to $57.8 million, or 21.3 percent higher than last year at this time.

The El Paso City Transit Department received a monthly payment of $1.5 million and hospital districts in Baylor, Ector and Reeves counties were sent a combined total of $986,451.

Merchants collect the state's 6 1/2 percent state sales tax and all local sales taxes and send them to the Comptroller's Office with their tax returns. Businesses file returns monthly, quarterly or annually, depending on the amount of sales tax they collect. The state then retains its share and returns to cities, counties and other taxing entities their local portion of the sales tax.

All local sales taxes must be approved by area voters. Most local governments deposit the money in their General Fund to pay for services such as fire fighting, road maintenance and law enforcement. City sales taxes may also be dedicated for specific purposes, such as economic development and property tax reduction.

Texas Farmers Shuffle Deck

All across Texas farmers shuffled their cards before dealing out planting intentions for the state's major crops of cotton, wheat, grain sorghum, corn and rice.

Crop prices, changes in federal farm programs, water use and presence in some corn-producing areas of damaging aflatoxin all played a part in sometimes sizeable shifts in crop acreage, say specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and commodity group leaders.

Crop watchers are projecting at least a million more Texas acres will be planted in cotton this year. Meanwhile, wheat and corn acreages each will drop ten percent to 15 percent, grain sorghum acres will rise slightly and rice will remain steady.

We'll probably have 6.75 million acres in cotton, and it could go up to seven million," said Dr. Carl Anderson, Extension Service economist and cotton marketing specialist at College Station. Last year Texas planted 5.6 million acres of cotton.

The increase should more than offset reductions in acreage in California this year, Anderson said. California planted about 1.7 million acres of Upland cotton last year. This year's acreage in that state should be around 800,000 acres, "but their yield is well over two bales an acre," Anderson said.

A good price for cotton last year, compared to low prices for wheat and some other crops, is a major factor in Texas' anticipated increase in planting, Anderson said. Reduced set-aside and "flexible acreage" provisions of the new federal farm bill give farmers new planting options. Cotton planting may be extremely heavy in the Blacklands between Dallas and Waco, in the cotton producing area north of Lubbock and in southern portions of the Rolling Plains, he said.

Across Texas, acreage planted to wheat last fall is down 10 percent, reported D.G. "Bill" Nelson, executive vice president of the Texas Wheat Producers Association at Amarillo. But in the Blacklands, wheat acreage is down 25 percent, and in the highly productive Panhandle-South Plains region it is off 15 percent.

"We anticipate that much of that will go to cotton," he said. In the fall of 1989, producers planted 6.9 million acres of wheat. They harvested 3.5 million acres of that. Some producers think about three million of this year's 6-million-acre wheat crop will be harvested.

"That would give the state a 90-million-bushel crop" compared to the 1990 yield of 130.2 million bushels, Nelson said.

Corn acreage will probably be about 1.5 million acres, 10 percent to 15 percent below last year, said Carl King of Dimmitt, chairman of the Texas Corn Growers Association and executive director of the Texas Corn Producers Board.

King said problems with aflatoxin in some of the corn-producing counties, government programs and cost of production were reasons for the reduced acreage. He noted that the High Plains, which produces 65 percent of the state's food corn, wasn't troubled by aflatoxin last year, but some farmers are "shuffling around on their flex acres."

Nationwide, sorghum is expected to be planted on 12.5 million acres, an increase of 18 percent, said Jack Eberspacher, executive director of the National Grain Sorghum Association in Abernathy.

Last year, Texas producers planted 2.95 million acres of grain sorghum and harvested 2.6 million. Yields averaged 52 bushels an acre for a total of 135.2 million bushels.

Eberspacher said the anticipated increase in plantings reflects agreement on federal insurance for the crop as well as a shift by corn growers troubled by aflatoxin and other producers wanting a more water-efficient crop.

"Rice won't show any major change from last year," in Texas, predicted Dr. Travis Miller, Extension Service agronomist and specialist in small grains.

Last year, Texas planted 355,000 acres and harvested 353,000, with an average yield of 6,000 pounds an acre. The crop is planted in 20 counties on the Coast Prairie early to late acreage is then fertilized and flooded to produce a ratoon crop, a second crop on the same plants.

Smile!

The most fascinating personality trait is the smile.

There's the genuine, greeting smile. There is the smile of derision, or condescending smile.

There's the nervous smile, forced and obvious, so often heard at parties, and restaurants, in groups.

There's an aggressive smile and laugh, used after a cutting remark. It pushes home the cut, overpowers the reply.

There's the sweet smile of mercy, sympathy, and love.

There's the intoxicating come-on smile. There is the smile (and tears) of joy, often exhibited by parents.

There's the smile of pure amusement. There's the spontaneous, uncontrolled smile (and laugh) of total mirth. There's the smile of encouragement.

Most of us could smile more--sincerely--with good results.

Ophell McDonald

Funeral Services

Held At Farwell

Funeral services for Ophell McDonald, 82, of Lubbock, Texas will be conducted at 2:00 p.m., Thursday, May 16 in the Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church of Farwell, Texas with Rev. W.T. Perry, former pastor of Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church and Rev. Larry L. Heacock, pastor officiating.

Burial will be held in Muleshoe Memorial Park under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home.

She died at Methodist Hospital, May 13, at 4:59 p.m. She was under the care of Dr. Paul Walters of Lubbock.

Mrs. McDonald was born September 30, 1908 in Gilmer, Texas.

She had been a resident of Farwell since 1953, moving there from Lazbuddie, Texas in 1943. She had previously lived in Brownfield prior to moving to Lazbuddie.

She married Johnny H. McDonald on January 29, 1925 in Brownfield, Texas.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Johnny H. McDonald on August 3, 1974, one son, Melvin McDonald in 1931 and one daughter Joy Anderson in 1986.

She was a member of the Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church and the Hospital Auxiliary at Farwell Convalescent Home.

Mrs. McDonald was a homemaker.

Survivors include, four sons, Leroy McDonald, of Hereford, Don McDonald, of Muleshoe; Billy McDonald, of San Antonio; and Jay McDonald, of Farwell, two sisters, Lucille Compton, of Eules, Texas and Verna Lindley, of Arlington, Texas.

She is also survived by 23 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

The family suggests memorials be made to their favorite charity.

Consumer Credit Counseling Service To The Rescue

Kay Bailey Hutchison Texas State Treasurer Kay Baily Hutchison answers questions about personal finance and state government. These questions are compiled from timely issues of concern facing Texas and Texans. Answers, however, are not intended to replace the advice of reputable financial advisers or other professional counselors.

Q. Recently, I have found it more and more difficult to make my paycheck stretch to cover all my bills. If I'm not paying late charges on credit card payments, I'm delinquent on my utility bills. Every month, I hate to open my mailbox because all I ever seem to get are bills. Is there anyone out there that can help me get out of debt? I read and hear about services that offer to help, but they always seem to want money. If I had money, I wouldn't be in this mess.

A. Consumer Credit Counseling Service might be an alternative for you. This non-profit organization is a division of Child and Family Service Inc. and is funded by the United Way. The service offers free counseling on personal debt management and also provides free seminars on how to live within your means. If you find that you need extra help, they can put you on a personal debt management program. What they'll do is evaluate how much money you make per month and then deduct your living expenses from this amount. With the money left over, they can help you pay your creditors. CCCS will contact your creditors and inform them that you are in their program and, hopefully, you won't get phone calls from them. On a monthly basis you pay CCS a lump sum that will be distributed to your creditors.

Most CCCS agencies do not handle utility bills like phone and electric bills or car payments, but they can advise you on how to handle these bills. To find the nearest CCCS agency, call 1-800-388-2227.

If you have a question, write Texas State Treasury, P.O. Box 12608, Capitol Station, Austin, 78711.

WASHINGTON NOTES

Medigap Insurance

To protect consumers and to reduce confusion among the elderly, the nation's insurance commissioners have chosen nine private health insurance policies to supplement coverage provided by the federal government through Medicare.

Peacekeeping Force

The U.N. Security Council unanimously established a 1,440-member peacekeeping force to monitor the Iraq-Kuwait border and the withdrawal of U.S. forces from southern Iraq.

Purple Potatoes Pique Pigmentation Palaver

Purple potatoes appear peculiar, but they are perfectly palatable. Spud-wise, purples are in the pink.

People have been seeing unusually colorful potatoes in supermarkets this spring--the flesh immediately beneath the golden skin is purple. But not to worry; this condition occurs naturally and poses no threat, said a vegetable specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"I've received an unusually large number of phone calls from throughout the state about it," said Dr. Frank Dainello of College Station. "There's nothing wrong the potato, and the purple color makes no difference in cooking quality or taste."

Usually the purple potato is a variety called Russet Nugget, although other varieties may show the same discoloration. Many of these potatoes are coming into Texas from Colorado, where abrupt weather changes in temperature and moisture during fall harvesting contributed to the purple coloration.

"The color is a naturally occurring plant pigment similar to that found in many fruits and vegetables such as radishes, beets or red apples," said Dr. Creighton Millier, a potato breeder from Texas A&M who helped develop the Russet Nugget variety.

To maintain the quality of potatoes at home, Miller suggested, tubers should be stored in a cool, dark, well-ventilated area. The ideal temperature for potato storage is 45 to 50 degrees.
