Commissioners Approve Bid For Jail Renovation

In the recent Commissioners Court, the commissioners voted unanimously to clean up the Bailey County Cemetery by removing the old buildings, trash, tree limbs and etc.

The commissioners opened bids for the renovation of the jail. Revisions to the jail include renovation of two jail cells, at a cost of $26,672.50. The bid of Gearn Industries, Inc., for the jail renovation in the amount of $26,672.50, was accepted.

The commissioners approved the bills and payment.

They also voted to allow the Veterans Memorial Monument Committee to place a podium and register inside the courthouse, to be available for visitor registration.

The commissioners also adopted a resolution concerning obtaining a State Detention facility for Bailey County.

The resolution read:
Whereas, the location for a state detention facility in this area will greatly enhance the economy in providing jobs, payroll and many other financial and economic benefits to the area;

Whereas, the residents of Bailey County strongly supported Proposition No. 4 in the November 5, 1991, election by voting 80 percent for and 20 percent against;

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the Bailey County Commissioners Court that the Court fully support the efforts of the Muleshoe Area Industrial Foundation in requesting the Texas Department of Criminal Justice to consider Bailey County as a site for a detention facility because of its favorable location and the economic benefits that it would bring to this community;

Be it further resolved that the Commissioners Court of Bailey County, Texas, take such further action as may be necessary to facilitate the location of such detention center in Bailey County, Texas, and to assist the Muleshoe Area Industrial Foundation in obtaining for this community the location of a facility.

In other action, the commissioners appointed Bennie Claunch as Loss Control Director for Bailey County buildings and properties.

The county treasurer's reports for September and October were approved and the court canvassed the votes of the Constitutional Amendment election held on November 5. The election returns were certified and true and correct, as corrected.

During the October 31 session of the Commissioners Court, the commissioners voted unanimously to adopt the following Safety Policy.

The County Judge and County Commissioners are concerned with the safety of employees and the public. Injuries cause suffering and financial loss to employees, their families, and the public, and cause a drain on the county tax dollars which are needed to produce essential services.

The Commissioner's Court will make every effort to reduce the frequency of injuries. As a minimum, the Commissioner's Court supports compliance with all safety ordinances, regulations and laws.

The Commissioner's Court will create and monitor a method of accomplishing the objectives of this policy statement. This will normally be done through the efforts of the Loss Control Director/Coordinator and Loss Control Committee.

The commissioners also voted to provide workmen's compensation coverage for elected

Football Highlights

Two of the three oldest rivalries in college football will be renewed Saturday. Yale and Harvard first met in 1875 while Lafayette and Lehigh played each other initially in 1884. For the teams who have met the most times, Lehigh and Lafayette, this will be their 127th get-together. Lafayette leads the long series 69-52-5. Yale holds about the same edge over Harvard in their rivalry 58-41-8. (Sorry, trivia fans, Army and Navy were late-comers, not challenging each other until 1890.) Though none of the four is about to challenge anyone for the national championship, these are great traditional rivalries. The Engineers of Lehigh are heavily favored over Lafayette while Yale is picked over Harvard.

Rolling toward both the Big Ten title and the Rose Bowl, Michigan hosts Ohio State in the feature game in the conference, and the final game of the season for both teams. The Wolverines' 16-13 win over Ohio State last year was their 49th victory in the series against 33 losses. By winning, favored Michigan will represent the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl for the 4th time in the last six years. Their record, one win, two losses.

Our forecasting record through games of Saturday, November 9: 1448 right, 487 wrong, for a .748 average.

Mississippi and Mississippi State started their rivalry ninety years ago, Ole' Miss holding a 21-game edge. However, the resurgence of State's Bulldogs may bite into that lead. They're playing at home and are favored.

Tennessee is a big favorite in its traditional battle with Kentucky. The Vols have won 54 of the 86 games played between the two schools since 1893. Powerhouse Washington, playing at home, should roll by Washington State in their rivalry that started in 1900. The Huskies have won 53 of 83 games played. U.C.L.A. is favored over Southern California in another traditional match-up.

Moscow Balalaikas To Perform In Hereford

The award-winning virtuoso instrumentalists and vocalists of the Moscow Balalaikas bring their rich musical heritage to a premier U.S. tour, with performances of authentic Soviet classics on traditional Russian folk instruments, and a tribute to the popular music of the peoples of the world.

The ensemble, founded in November 1988 by Alexander Tsygankov (domra), Yuri Sidorov (accordion), Alexander Marchakovsky (balalaika), Inna Shevchenko (psaltery), Konstantin Avksentiev (balalaika-alto), Pavel Schevchenko (balalaika-bass), and baritone Evgeny Polikanin, rapidly gained acclaim among folk music enthusiasts throughout Moscow, and within a year of its formation, embarked on its first tour abroad. In December of 1989, the ensemble's concert in the Netherlands was recorded onto compact disc by the Koch International Company.

Although the major artistic goal of the ensemble is to promote Russian musical heritage, its repertoire and method of playing also embrace a large variety of different styles from all over the world, accounting for a most unusual program of universal appeal.

Each member of the group is highly regarded in the Soviet Union, and contributes his/her own distinctive creativity towards an exhilarating and unique performance.

Alexander Tsygankov is acknowledged as a leading domra player in the Soviet Union. Winner of national and international competitions, former soloist of the State Academic Russian Folk Orchestra, recitalist, and mega-recording artist, the distinctive feature of his performing style combines strong creative personality with mastery of the instrument.

Yuri Sidorov is one of the most popular accordion players in Moscow. Former soloist for the State Academic Russian Folk Orchestra, graduate student of Moscow Music Pedagogical Gnesiny Institute, an active teacher, recording artist, and soloist, this technically adept and expressive musician performs a repertoire ranging from Russian folk music to the most difficult works of Bach and Weber, as well as the original compositions of contemporary composers.

Alexander Marchakovsky possesses virtuoso mastery of the balalaika, the most beloved Russian folk instrument. A graduate of the Moscow Music Pedagogical Gnesiny Institute, the internationally renowned musician is also a well-known educator who teaches and works as an editor for educational programs broadcast on the All-Union Radio about performers of Russian folk instruments.

Inna Shevchenko plays an ancient Russian folk instrument (similar in appearance to a combination of a piano and autoharp) called the psaltery, and is an award-winning piano accompanist. She started accompanying at the age of seventeen, and is a graduate of the piano department of the Gnesiny Institute. Presently, she also works as a piano accompanist for the Mosconcert.

Konstantin Avksentiev is a balalaika-alto player who hails from a family of highly acclaimed balalaika players. He graduated from the Moscow Gnesiny School and Moscow Culture Institute. Former leader of the Ivan Surzhikov and Alexandra Strelchenko groups, he is known for his fine sense of rhythm and sensitivity to ensemble performance. He has toured extensively in the USSR and abroad.

Pavel Shevchenko is a balalaika-bass player who has performed with many ensembles throughout the Soviet Union and abroad. He has participated in the cultural programs of the World Festival of Youth and Students and the Goodwill Games of Moscow.

Evgeny Polikanin is a baritone known for his personal rapport with audiences worldwide. His diverse repertoire includes Russian songs, classical opera arias, and popular songs.

Jewelry: The Perfect Holiday Gift

"While it's generally conceded that the recession is over, people are still careful with their money," says Steffan Aletti, president of the New York-based Jewelry Industry Council. "No one wants to be stingy, but people are looking for value for their money. The days of conspicuous consumption, of spending for the sake of spending, of buying something just because it's expensive, are gone. This philosophy puts jewelry into the forefront of ideal holiday gifts, since unlike many consumer products, it comes in such a tremendous range of products and prices."

Cautious spenders will indeed find an ideal jewelry gift to fit the most modest budget; but shoppers to whom money is of little concern will find that there's virtually no limit to what can be spent.

From the romantic point of view, jewelry--miniature sculptures made of the earth's rarest and most valuable elements--make the most tender and intimate gift; and yet, because of its permanence and lasting value, jewelry is a gift that appeals to the most practical and hard-headed of us.

It's a tough time of year, and good intentions aside, most of us end up shopping down to the wire. Here's an easy way to shop for the holidays--and guarantee success in finding a gift that will be cherished:

1. Decide in advance what you want to spend on each special person on your Christmas list.

2. Go to your local jeweler or jewelry department and ask to see gifts in that specific price range. The salesperson should be able to show you a variety of products--earrings, chains, necklaces, pins, bracelets, charms, watches or rings for her; and for him, cufflinks, chains, bracelets, tie clips or tacs, rings, watches--all within your specified price range.

The metals, of course, can be silver, gold filled or gold electroplate, karat gold or platinum, plain, with diamonds, colored stones or pearls--the price limit you have set will largely dictate the amount of materials and their weight.

3. Knowing the person's lifestyle--formal or informal--and favorite colors should narrow the jeweler's selection to only a few pieces.

Finding the appropriate jewelry present is easy. And, there's also no better way to remind relatives and loved ones of what they mean to us, to show co-workers and business peers our esteem, and to demonstrate lasting friendship.

Underground Water District Collecting Data

Personnel from the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 and the USDA-Soil Conservation Service (USDA-SCS) are now collecting data for the 1992, pre-plant soil moisture survey, according to Willie Crenweige, USDA-SCS Commissioners...

Liz Tipps, Eileen Morton and Debbie Conner were appointed to the Bailey County Child Welfare Board.

In other business, Judge Marilyn Cox was authorized to advertise for bids on a new car for the sheriff's dept.

The court approved a letter to Sen. John Montford concerning the highway located between F.M. Highway 54 and F.M. Highway 298 leading to the Three Way School.

The commissioners also approved the job description for the position of Maintenance Engineer and the employment of Mark Green for the position effective Nov. 1.

Soil Conservation contracts for Kent Morgan and Alex Aguirre were approved.

On November 4, the Commissioners Court met in emergency session and appointed Jack Schuster as Alternate Election Judge in V.B. No. 7 due to Josie Baca being disqualified to act as Alternate Election Judge for the reason that she no longer resides in V.B. No. 7.

Jobs rate edges down a little in September.

Soil Scientist. The survey began November 14 and is expected to continue through mid-January.

The annual pre-plant soil moisture survey informs irrigators about general soil moisture availability and deficit conditions within the 5.5 million acre High Plains Water District service area. Information collected during the survey gives irrigators an idea of the amount of water that is needed to bring the five-foot root zone soil profile to field capacity.

Pre-plant soil moisture conditions have a great influence upon crop yield outlooks. Historically, above-average crop yields are more likely to be produced when the plant root zone is near field capacity at planting time.

Water District and USDA-SCS personnel use neutron moisture meters to collect soil moisture data at more than 270 monitoring sites across the District. Readings are taken at six-inch intervals throughout the five-foot profile by lowering a neutron probe into a previously-installed aluminum access tube. The resulting data from the 1992, pre-plant soil moisture survey will be used to construct maps illustrating the estimated soil moisture available for plant use and the amount of water that must be applied to bring the root zone soil profile to field capacity. These maps will be published in an upcoming issue of The Cross Section.

Soil moisture monitoring sites are selected by the District to represent typical dryland or irrigated farming conditions in a given area. Soil types and the saturated thickness of the Ogallala Aquifer, as well as crop water requirements, are among considerations influencing the site selection.

High Plains Water District personnel Jerry Funck and Arnold Husky, as well as USDA-SCS Soil Scientist Willie Crenweige, will be collecting data at these sites. Blue and white High Plains Water District trucks are easily identified, and personnel will be glad to answer questions from landowners while gathering the soil moisture data.

For more information about the 1992, pre-plant soil moisture survey, contact your local usda-Soil Conservation Service field office or the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, 2930 Avenue Q, Lubbock, 79405, or call (806) 762-0182.

Area Sales Tax Rebates Up

"Local sales tax rebates to Texas cities and counties are running $123 million or 10.6 percent ahead of total payments this time last year," State Comptroller John Sharp said.

"That's real money that's going into city and county treasuries for vital services to local residents," Sharp said.

This month's rebates to 1,065 Texas cities totaled $137.2 million for a year-to-date total of $1.2 billion, compared to 1990's year-to-date total of $1.1 billion, or a 10 percent increase.

Payments of $16.1 million to 105 counties brought total 1991 payments to $129 million, a year-to-date increase of 18 percent over last year's totals of $108.9 million.

Payments to counties are up in part this year because five more counties have started collecting the sales tax since this time last year, and one additional county has raised its sales tax rate since last November.

Of the total $153.3 million sent to Texas cities and counties, $125 million was sent through a direct deposit program that electronically deposits the money into local governments' bank accounts.

"It's a money-saving method of making payments, and it gives local governments instant access to their money," Sharp said.

The Texas Legislature recently passed legislation stating that all local sales tax rebates must be made through direct deposit and the Comptroller's Office is making the preparations necessary for the change.

Muleshoe in Bailey County received a check in the amount of $20,459.06 for the month of September 1991 as compared to $20,922.62 for the same period in 1990, reflecting a 2.22 percent decrease. Payments to date in 1991 are $198,454.31 as compared to $200,047.36 to date this time last year, reflecting a .80 percent decrease.

In Cochran County, Morton received a check in the amount of $4,901.72 for this period as compared to $4,469.50 for this same period in 1990, reflecting an increase of 9.67 percent. Payments to date are $54,899.50 as compared to $52,002.09 to this date in 1990, reflecting an increase of 5.57 percent.

Littlefield in Lamb county received a check in the amount of $24,165.32 as compared to $24,663.94 for this same period in 1990. Payments to date are $215,855.08 as compared to $209,501.93 to this date in 1990 reflecting an increase of 3.03 percent.

Friona's share of sales tax rebates for this period was $11,122.52 as compared to $10,885.64 for this same period in 1990. This reflected an increase of 2.18 percent. Payments to date are $104,803.39 as compared to $102,462.53 for this same date last year, reflecting an increase of 2.29 percent.

The city of Houston received $23.4 million as its November rebate, the largest payment in the state, to bring that city's 1991 total to $192.3 million. Dallas received the state's second largest payment almost $13 million, for a 1991 total of $113 million. San Antonio's payment for $7.4 million was the third largest in the state for a year-to-date sum of $65.7 million for the year. Fort Worth received $4.2 million for a total of $37 million this year, and El Paso received $3.3 million for a 1991 total of $29.3 million.

Hospital districts in Baylor, Ector and Reeves counties were sent a combined total of slightly more than $1 million, and city transit departments in El Paso and Laredo received a total of $1.9 million.

This month's payments include taxes collected on September sales and reported in October by businesses filing monthly returns. November's rebates also include taxes reported by business filing quarterly returns for sales made in July, August and September.

Shoppers pay the local sales taxes of up to two percent along with the state's six and a fourth percent state sales tax when they make a taxable purchase. Merchants then send in the taxes to the Comptroller's Office with their tax returns. The state keeps its share and returns to cities counties and other taxing entities their local portion of the sales tax.

Area voters must approve all sales taxes at the polls. Most local governments use the money raised for services such as fire fighting, road maintenance and law enforcement. City sales taxes may also be used for local economic development and property tax reduction.

News From The UIL

A proposal to allow three teams into the Conference 5A playoffs in volleyball, basketball, soccer and baseball won University Interscholastic League Legislative Council approval Tuesday. The proposal was adopted with the stipulation that each sport would reduce its regular season by one game.

If approved by the State Board of Education in November, the new proposal would go into effect next school year.

Commissioner of Education Lionel "Skip" Meno had expressed concern about the additional loss of school time and expenditures with the original UIL proposal because it mentioned only a reduction of one less playing date. Meno felt the proposal did not speak strongly enough to those concerns.

The addition, if approved by the State Board of Education, would allow those four additional team sports to join football in Conference 5A advancing three teams into the playoffs. Conference 5A football would continue to have two state champions but, volleyball, basketball, soccer and baseball would play into only one state champion.

"All the athletic associations indicated their willingness to drop a contest in the regular season in order to have three teams in the playoffs," said Dr. Bill Farney, UIL athletic director. "The commissioner indicated in his address to the Legislative Council his acceptance of that concession."

"What it (the reduction of one regular season game) actually means is that 241 schools will drop one regular season game so that 32 additional teams can make the playoffs," said Farney.

The reduction of one regular season game means volleyball would drop from 24 to 23 games, basketball from 22 to 21, soccer 16 to 15 and baseball 20 to 19. The limit on tournaments and tournament games is not affected by the new proposal.

The 24-member Legislative Council also decided to delay until 1994 changing the cut-off enrollment point from 75 for six-man football schools. The Council also instructed the UIL staff to release the Conference A basketball realignment in late January with all the other conferences rather than delaying the release until the summer.

"The Legislative Council choose to delay the implementation until 1994 because the expense it would add to some six-man football schools with the conversion of the field, possible addition of coaches and the lack of 11-man football experience," said Farney.

In other action dealing with athletics, the Legislative Council passed:

--delay issuing football shoes and socks by one day in August, 1992.

--conferences 4A and 5A baseball playoff games cannot be played before Wednesday of that week unless by mutual consent.

--require schools to get UIL approval if they plan to use non-SSOA certified soccer referees.

--prohibits coaches from organizing or administering nonschool baseball, basketball, football, soccer or volleyball teams during the school year.

--limit tennis and golf invitational golf tournaments to a maximum of one school day per tournament.

--permit a student to return money as well as other valuable consideration to regain eligibility.

--change the beginning date for soccer season to January 2.

--allow volleyball coaches to issue, or place in lockers, practice uniforms for students prior to the first practice date.

UIL staff was also instructed by the Legislative Council to study and survey charging admission for all scrimmages, permit (but not require) schools to charge admission for scrimmages and a central site for the football championships.

Like the three-teams in the 5A playoffs, all proposal passed by the Legislative Council during its three-day meeting must have State Board of Education approval.

Adding a vocabulary component to the high school spelling contest and placing an amendment on a referendum ballot to member schools that would eliminate the age rule for academic, music, and fine arts competition, highlighted the annual University Interscholastic League's Legislative Council meeting last week.

All proposals passed by the 24-member Legislative Council, must have Texas State Board of Education approval before going into effect.

"The vocabulary component is designed to help students learn more about words and their correct usage, thus enriching a student's work power," said Janet Wiman, UIL academic director. "We are just adding a new dimension to the event and renaming it the Spelling and Vocabulary."

If the referendum ballot on the age rule returns to the UIL with a favorable recommendation and if approved by the State Board of Education, the amendment would no longer prohibit a 19-year old from participating in academic, music and fine arts competition in league activities.

The Texas Education Agency initially asked the UIL to study the elimination of the age rule. The UIL staff determined that the justification for keeping the age limit in athletics-safety of participants - does not apply to academic, music and fine arts competitors.

"The Legislative Council, along with the Texas Education Agency, that the benefits to be gained by these students from participation in UIL events outweighs the negative effects, such as displacing other students who are following a normal four year progression," said Wiman.

Other proposals passed by the Legislative Council were to:

--allow the the same range of penalties for one-act play contest currently in force for most other UIL events, if directors solicit or accept professional aid.

--place the responsibility for interpretation of one-act play language and community standards rule in the hands of the administration of the producing school.

--eliminate the requirement to use a blind draw to determine places when unbreakable ties occur in individual speech contests in state meet finals only.

--establish a team competition for high school accounting.

--establish a team competition for high school literary criticism.

--allow for Sunday participation in UIL academic competition at regional and state level because of bad weather or if facilities are not operationally.

--allow students on a ninth grade campus to be combined with students in grades 10-12 for UIL music competition.

--specify that a student must earn a Division I rating at a current UIL region solo and ensemble contest to be eligible for the Texas State Solo and Ensemble Contest.

Report From Larry Combest

"We have officially cleared the air over Lubbock," said U.S. Representative Larry Combest (R-Texas) in reporting Wednesday's Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) final rule removing Lubbock from a list of cities violating the 1991 Clean Air Act because of the area's spring dust storms. In February, Combest brought the EPA dust pollution ruling to the public's attention as a prime example of ridiculous federal regulation that he would work to reduce. EPA's monitors had actually trapped sand particles from March dust storms, but classified the blowing sand as pollution.

"Since federal bureaucrats' edicts tend to take on a life of their own, I do not think any of us were ready to say the dust has truly settled until we saw this correction published in today's Federal Register," said

Combest. The Congressman praised the cooperation of the Texas Air Control Board with City of Lubbock staff members in adding common-sense facts to back up intervention by Combest and Senators Phil Gramm and Lloyd Bentsen. The final EPA rules published in today's Federal Register verify what agency representatives told city officials on May 21, 1991 about their intentions to correct the dust storm classification. Meanwhile, Combest's effort to reduce other burdensome federal regulations continues.

In the months since publicizing the costly problems of federal regulations, Combest's "Paperwork Reduction in Health Care Act of 1991," H.R. 2625, has been referred to the House Committee on Government Operations. H.R. 2625 sets a goal of reducing burdensome federal health care paperwork by five percent in each of the next five years.

American Education Week

CofC, Businessmen Say Thank You

School Employees Play Important Role

"It has often been said, 'If you want to see the future-just look inside a classroom', " said Carolyn Johnson, Chamber of Commerce manager. "How true this statement is!. The future of Muleshoe and our country is being created in the classroom this very day."

Realizing this, the membership of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture took advantage of this being American Education Week to let the personnel of our local school district know they are appreciated for the very important role they perform every day in their jobs.

A total of 42 individuals made up of business, industry, and civic leaders formed teams and went onto the campuses to talk with everyone employed by the Muleshoe Independent School District.

Each employee was presented a pen which was printed, "Educating Everyone Takes Everyone". In addition, they were presented a note of appreciation. "We realize the important role you perform in the field of education. What you do every day has a great impact on everyone and is truly the basis of Muleshoe's future.

On behalf of the membership of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, it is our pleasure to say "Thank You" and extend our sincere appreciation.

"We want everyone involved in the education process in our community to know how important they are to us," said Mrs. Johnson. "By the schools providing an opportunity for quality education today, we won't have to worry about the Texas economy tomorrow," she continued.

Students eating with Mrs. Barbara Finney in the Mule Rock Cafe (Lower Right) include: Jessie Gossett, Lorena Ronquille, Dupa Bhakta, Alma Gonzales, Omar Ramero and Denise Alvarado.
