Wind Stripcropping Alternative To Control Wind Erosion

Wind Stripcropping is one alternative producers in Bailey County can use to control wind erosion on their cultivated land. Wind stripcropping is an inexpensive way to meet the conservation requirements of the Food Security Act and also stay eligible for USDA benefits.

Windstrips are narrow strips of grass or high residue crops that are properly spaced throughout a cropland field to reduce wind erosion. The spacing of the strips varies with the soil type; for example, the sandier the soil the closer the strips are placed together. Windstrips should be planted perpendicular to the most erosive winds and should be maintained throughout the critical erosion season.

Studies in West Texas showed that windstrips are an effective way to protect bare cropland fields from excessive wind erosion after crops are harvested. Windstrips can also offer valuable wind protection for "sandfighting" tillage operations is greatly reduced.

Approximately 200 farms in Bailey County will use windstrips to control wind erosion in order to meet the conservation requirements of the Food Security Act. Producers who are going to use windstrips need to plan ahead before they prepare their land for the new year in order to incorporate windstrips into their farming practices. Producers who have questions about windstripping are encouraged to call the local Soil Conservation Service at 272-5124 or go by the office located at 105 E. Ave. D in Muleshoe.

Programs and services of the Soil Conservation Service are offered on a nondiscriminatory basis without regards for race, color, national origin, age, sex, religion, marital status or handicap.

Update Given By United Blood Services

The Muleshoe Advisory Board of the United Blood Services of Lubbock recently met and were given the results of the 1991, blood drives held here in Muleshoe.

Total donations in this area for 1991, was 25,098 units, with the total usage being 27,084.

Muleshoe's first blood drive for 1992, will be Thursday, March 31 at the First Assembly of God Church. Muleshoe Church of Christ will sponsor a drive on Thursday, July 9 and the First United Methodist Church has a drive scheduled Thursday, December 10.

Wet Weather Calls To Area Cotton Harvest

With cotton harvest almost complete it has been halted once again by a slow gentle rain, which began falling Sunday and continued into the afternoon of Tuesday.

Della Puckett at Muleshoe Co-Op Gin told the Journal Monday morning that they expected to get caught up Monday. To this point they have ginned 18,328 bales and expect to gin a total of 23,000 to 25,000 bales, but there is still a lot on the stalks.

The Pleasant Valley Gin is completely caught up, but Willard Tibbets, manager of the gin, stated that they still have 200 to 300 bales still in the field. Up until this time they have ginned a total of 3078 bales.

In the Lariat area, the Lariat Gin has ginned a total of 3300 bales. Younda Martin reported

Three Way FFA members attending will be Cynthia Bennett, Melissa Bennett, and Marc Tucker.

Bailey County 4-H's attending will be Ben Angeley, Buck Angeley, Jonathan Bennett, Katie Black, Lynsie Black, Jacen Claunch, Jon Bryan Cowart, Jason Harmon, Krystal Heathington, Myndi Heathington, Jill Hodges, Lori Hodges, Suzy Hodges, Amy Hooten, Cade Hooten, Heather Hooten, Keila Kennedy Ky Kennedy, Jonathan Kindle, Keith Kindle, Brittany Kirby, Monty Kirby, Russell Pollard, Scott Pollard, Larry Robertson, Rebecca Robertson, Joshua Tooley, Robin Tooley, Wade Wilson, Brittany Young and Jennifer Young.

A variety of animals are shown in the junior show division: market steers, market swine, market sheep, market poultry, beef and dairy heifers, breeding sheep, goats, commercial steers and breeding rabbits.

The four market animal categories represent animals raised by the exhibitor as food sources. Top animals in each of these categories are eligible for their individual market auctions. Total money paid in 1991, at the four junior show auctions exceeded $3 million.

"This week of junior show competition represents what the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo is all about--great youngsters putting their hearts and minds into the future," said Steve Woodley, Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo assistant manager.

In addition to the upcoming livestock show competition, a series of lectures, seminars and live animal demonstrations again will be on the calendar for the month of February--the International Livestock Congress. Held Feb. 16-18, at the Sheraton Astrodome Hotel, this school focuses on lectures and

News From Bob Bullock

Lieutenant Governor Bob Bullock has pledged his commitment to resolving the long-standing fight over products liability by asking all parties to meet on a regular basis until the next legislative session in an effort to solve the issue.

Speaking to members of the Texas Chamber of Commerce at their annual conference, Bullock called product liability one of the most important issues facing the next legislature convening in January 1993.

"Products liability is an issue I would like to see settled next session," the lieutenant governor said. "The legislature, and the Texas Senate in particular, have been criticized for not passing a products liability law, and I've been criticized for not getting a bill through last session."

Bullock notes that the fight has been going on in the Texas Legislature since 1977. There have been 55 products liability bills introduced, and only two have passed. He said he found it strange to be blamed for not accomplishing in his first four months in office what others had not been able to complete in 15 years.

"To get the issue to the forefront, I have asked all sides of this issue to meet monthly from now until the session begins," Bullock said. "I sat on the first meeting and I thought it was a very productive one."

The lieutenant governor stressed his determination to resolve the issue this session.

"I told them that if they couldn't come to an agreement, my staff will write a bill," he said.

Past products liability bills have been written to try to clarify for manufacturers and consumers alike what their responsibilities are, without reducing protection for consumers.

Bullock also said he would like for the two sides in the battle for trucking deregulation, rates and regulatory authority to "sit down and talk...but to date I have not been successful in bringing them to

Funeral Mass

Held Monday

Funeral mass for Evarista Perez, 79, of Olton was held Monday, February 3 in St. Peter's Catholic Church of Olton. A vigil service was held at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, February 2 at St. Peter's Catholic Church with Father Boni Sebastian officiating at both services.

Burial was in Olton Cemetery. Perez died at 12:55 p.m. February 1 in the Lamb Health Care Center in Littlefield after a lengthy illness.

She was born in Miery, Noriega, N.L. and had lived in San Marcos before moving to Olton in 1950. She was married to Manuel Perez. They married April 5, 1926. He died in 1957 in San Marcos.

She was a homemaker and a member of the Catholic Church.

Survivors include four sons, Fortunato, Manuel and Henry, all of Olton and Frankie of Muleshoe; two daughters, Antonia Zamora of Lazbuddie and Carla Saucedo of Olton. She had 30 grandchildren and 36 great grandchildren.

The family suggests memorials to the Olton Volunteer Ambulance Association.

the table."

Acknowledging that the big battle of 1993 will be finding money to run the state, Bullock promised to oppose any increases in taxes next session, short of a court ordered mandate for education--an issue now before the Supreme Court.

Popular Children's Names

The Bureau of Vital Statistics of the Texas Department of Health has released a list of the ten names most frequently given to newborn boys and girls of Texas residents.

State Registrar Richard B. Bays, who is chief of the bureau said that, "Calendar year 1990 was the first year that these names were available for publication in our annual report."

The 10 most popular names for boys born in 1990 were: Michael, Christopher, Joshua, David, Matthew, Justin, Jose, John, Daniel and James.

Girls born during the same year were most often named: Ashley, Jessica, Amanda, Brittany, Sarah, Stephanie, Samantha, Lauren, Jennifer, and Elizabeth.

The Texas Department of Health (THD), and local health agencies are observing Texas Public Health week in Texas, Feb. 2-8, as proclaimed by Gov. Ann Richards.

This year's theme for the annual observance is "Celebrate Your Good Health!"

Dr. Robert A. MacLean, Acting Texas Commissioner of Health, said, "If a person enjoys clean air, safe water, non-contaminated food, dependable emergency medical care and modern disease control services, then he or she has reaped the benefits of the state's public health programs."

During Public Health Week community leaders have been urged to help promote the health services available to their populations and to discuss emerging public health issues.

"The week is an opportunity to take stock of their health resources and protections, and to compare their programs with those of other cities," Dr. MacLean said.

Among some of last year's local activities, the Tyler-Smith County Public Health District offered free health screenings at senior citizens center, while the Tyler media aired public service announcements. Meanwhile, the Beaumont Health Department sponsored a variety of activities, including free items and services (such as birth certificates and T-shirts) offered to the public during the week.

Eye Bank Promotes Donation of Eyes to Others

The Muleshoe chapter of Lions Club met Wednesday, January 29. Mike Caldwell presided in the absence of Richard Edwards. Jack Young gave the invocation.

Kevin Noack introduced the program by bringing Marilyn Haight, R.N., who directs activities of the Lions Great Plains Eye Bank, located in Lubbock. It was established in 1974.

An eye bank recovers donors' eyes after death, evaluates them for transplant, and distributes them for surgery. All eyes not suitable for transplant are used for valuable research or education concerning the prevention of blindness.

Haight mentioned that the eye bank became more active in 1974. One of the activities now planned is the 4th annual "Sight Saver" Golf Tournament at the Elm Grove Golf Course in Lubbock scheduled for April 25. Funds earned from this tournament will be used for educational programs.

New publications for educational programs including a new brochure are providing resources that the eye bank never realized were possible.

"We are busy at the eye bank these days," Haight says. Tissues numbering 189 are representing a recent increase. Fifty percent of these tissues are surgical quality.

Processing of tissue for surgery transplants and sending them to South and Central America is common practice, according to Haight. "We are also happy to receive older tissues."

"Better and different use of the donor's gifts is being promoted," Haight says.

During the last four months, one donor every other day has been common practice. Paperwork has been rather heavy, according to Haight.

"The eye bank is more than just a project," Haight notes. "Eye tissue donation should be discussed openly and not just after a crisis time like a fatal auto accident."

Regarding the eye donation topic, Haight comments that it should be a subject about which an individual says, "Yes, I believe in it." After the new piece of legislation House Bill 271 has been passed, several changes in the process of donating and accepting organs will occur.

Signing driver's licenses for donor registration is a new possibility. "This is red flag saying that I want to be a donor," Haight says.

"Think about organ donation. This will bring a difference in the recipient's lives. Eye, skin and bone tissue have options for being donated with the owner's permission."

Haight gave several examples of cases in which donations have been made. One such case was that of a 20 month old baby and its malignant condition.

The Great Plains Eye Bank works with 36 hospitals in a 22 county district.

J.B. Douglas, Lions member, asked if the eye bank handles any organ. Haight responded by saying that the Great Plains Lions Eye Bank, Inc. works with Life Gift Organ Donations Procurement Center of West Texas, another organization.

Kenneth Evins asked whether or not anyone ever gets the whole eyeball. Haight answered that this is not possible, but that several portions of the eye are used.

L.T. Johnson, former director of the eye bank, was called upon by Haight to make a comment. "I don't know what it's like to be blind, but at one time my eyes had to be taped shut for four days. Sight at that time gained a new meaning for me," Johnson says.

It was personally meaningful for both Johnson and Haight to meet some of the eye bank recipients.

"This is the most important project that the Lions Club does," Haight comments.

Haight also related the story of Medical Director David McCartney, Surgeon in Mexico. He is in the process of screening patients with 200 surgical procedures and needs financial help. He is talking 25 individuals to Mexico in efforts relating to the project, called Vision Futuro. It is scheduled for March 14 to 24.

"I am thankful for the opportunity to serve and work for you," Haight comments.

Accompanying Marilyn Haight at the Lions Club meeting was Linda McBroom who is a coordinator for LifeGift.

Individuals with questions about donations can send questions to Marilyn Haight, R.N., Great Plains Lions Eye Bank, P.O. Box 5901, Lubbock, Texas 79417. Phone is 743-2242.

A Few Minutes Can Save Hours

At tax time, the old adage that "time is money" comes to mind. In this case, taking a little time to ensure accuracy and legibility means a faster processing time and speedier refunds for you, and saves processing and correspondence time and costs for the government.

Some of the more significant tax errors made by taxpayers last year included:

- Entering an incorrect social security number.
- Not entering the standard deduction or entering an incorrect amount.
- Entering an incorrect name on the name line.
- Wrong entries for estimated tax payments.
- Using the incorrect tax from the tax table or not entering the total tax.
- Arithmetic errors made when figuring a refund or amount of tax owed.
- Not checking the box to indicate dependency status.
- Filing a duplicate return when none is required.

Accurately filed tax returns help prevent delays and benefit everyone, both in time and money.

Sheriff Discusses Jail Topics

Muleshoe's chapter of Rotary met in its regular session Tuesday, January 28 at the Bailey County Civic Center with about 40 attending.

President Randy Field introduced eight visitors as well as Jerry Hicks, Bailey County Sheriff, who spoke to the group on topics related to the jail system here.

Hicks gave a brief history of the Bailey County jail saying that Rotarians may know little about their jail even though it is a part of their community.

Jokingly Hicks commented that there may be a "couple of Rotarians" who are well acquainted with the jail.

Discussing the early days of the Bailey County jail, Hicks said that the stairway to the third floor of it was quite narrow and he was amused when thinking of drunks going up these stairs.

An incident involving the jail came readily to Hicks' mind. It involved a case that one of the deputies was investigating, a burglary at the Dolly Cup Drive-In. The criminals broke out of the jail, committed the burglary, then broke back into the jail.

Early days in the jail saw a situation where there was no jailer. The procedure at that time meant that at 5 or 6 p.m. the prisoners were fed and locked up and no one saw them again until the next morning. At one time during this period, an inmate had a heart attack and died overnight.

Hicks showed slides of Journal photos of the inside of the jail that ran in one issue of the newspaper. As a result of this, the ministerial alliance started a campaign to clean up the jail and involved several others in the community in doing so.

The result of this effort was that Bailey County was forced to build a new jail and law enforcement center. Dee Clements was sheriff at that time.

Hicks pointed out that the Sheriff's office was in the office of the District Clerk for many years.

The sheriff also showed a blueprint of the jail to Rotarians in attendance. He pointed out that when juveniles are detained they must go to Lubbock and cannot be held overnight in the county jail.

Capacity at our jail is between 18 and 22 prisoners.

Every year there is an inspection conducted by the state jail inspection team. They ask the various ways that prisoners are classified and separated. Overcrowding is not a problem here, notes Hicks.

Fifty percent of the cells are recommended as single cells. "We decided to knock out a wall," Hicks says.

He also gave a discussion of the fact that the day room has to have a shower, according to standards.

"Running the jail is a no-win situation because of the way the rules are. The AIDS problem is 'driving us up a wall,'" he says.

Several questions were posed by Rotarians listening to Hicks' talk. Kid Castleberry asked a question regarding taking prisoners from other regions. Hicks noted that we had taken several prisoners from other places such as Castro County. The other counties pay $20 per day for each prisoner.

Hicks mentioned that several of the cases recently handled through the jail system tend to "point out what a joke our system is getting to be."

Bill Liles asked about the number of employees currently at the jail. He also asked if there is a system whereby prisoners are asked to go out into the community and work. Hicks acknowledged that this system is used.

Hicks said though that "the prison system is not working." He noted that the TV is the best babysitter for prisoners and that cartoons are popular.

Terry Hutto asked Hicks about the food that is served at the jail. "At first, we served nothing but TV dinners, but if someone is jailed for 11 months, that gets kind of old. Yesterday, Hicks said that he located some food had been left from Desert Storm. Dave Marr, city manager, brought this to our attention. This will help our menus considerably."

Look At 1991 Pay Slips

If you work and receive Social Security benefits, take a look now at your final 1991 pay slips or your W-2 forms. If your 1991 earnings are over Social Security's annual limits, you will need to report them to Social Security.

The 1991 earnings limits are $9,720 for beneficiaries who are age 65 through 69 and 47,080 for beneficiaries who are under 65. The earnings limits do not apply to people who are 70 and over the entire year.

We used your estimate of 1991 earnings submitted when you applied for benefits (or when you filed last year's annual report) to figure out the Social Security benefits you would be paid in 1991. The purpose of this year's annual report is to enable us to compare your actual earnings to your estimate to see if you have been overpaid or underpaid. If you were underpaid, you will get a check for the additional benefits. If you were overpaid, we usually deduct the overpayment amount from your future benefits, unless you prefer to make a refund.

In addition, the report must also include an estimate of the earnings you expect to make in 1992. Again, your benefit check will be adjusted to reflect any excess earnings anticipated.

If our records show that you expected to have earnings over the 1991 limits, we will send you an Annual Report of Earnings form in the mail automatically. If you do not receive a report form in by the end of February, you can call our toll-free number to have one sent to you. Instead of filling out the form, you can give us your earnings report over the telephone if you choose.

You must return the earnings report to us by April 15. There is a substantial penalty for not filing an annual report of earnings on time. You can be penalized up to a full month's benefits for nonfiling, and also be required to repay any overpayment.

Filing a Federal income tax return does not take the place of filling an annual report with Social Security. Note that the 1992 earnings limits are $7,440 for beneficiaries under 65 and $10,200 for beneficiaries who are 65-69.

Description Of A Heart Attack

February is American Heart Month. During the month, AHA volunteers will be providing information to Texas residents on what every generation needs to know for a heart healthy lifestyle. One of those messages is the warning signs of a heart attack.

You've heard of it. You might fear it. You may have even had one. So what's a heart attack?

It occurs when the blood supply to part of the heart muscle is severely reduced or stopped. This usually happens when arteries that supply blood to the heart muscle are blocked by obstructions that include deposits of fat and cholesterol. A blood clot lodged in a coronary artery can also cause a heart attack. In both cases, the heart muscle is damaged and death can be imminent.

During a heart attack, the body usually send out warning signals that your heart is starving for oxygen.

"An uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of your chest for more than two minutes is one signal," says Laura Seales, Board president of the American Heart Association Bailey County Division. "Chest pain that spreads to your shoulders, neck or arms is another. Lightheadedness, fainting, sweating, nausea or shortness of breath may also occur."

"Sometimes the signals may subside, only to return later."

More than 300,000 Americans die each year due to heart attacks before reaching the hospital. So don't ignore the warning signals. Act immediately.

The American Heart Association, Bailey County recommends you call the emergency rescue service if you're having chest discomfort lasting two minutes or more. If you can get to a hospital faster by car, have someone drive you. Do not drive yourself. Find out which hospitals in your area offer 24-hour emergency cardiac care. Select in advance the facility nearest your home and office and tell your family and friends so they will know what to do.

"Keep a list of emergency numbers next to your telephone and in a prominent place in your pocket, wallet or purse," Seales adds.

If you are with someone who is experiencing the warning signals that last for two minutes or longer, insist on taking prompt action. Expect the person to deny the possibility of anything as serious as a heart attack. Call the emergency rescue service, or get to the nearest hospital emergency room with 24-hour cardiac care. Give mouth to mouth breathing and chest compression (CPR) if it is necessary and if you are properly trained.

For more information, contact the American Heart Association, Laura Seales, local board president.

The American Heart Association is the nation's largest voluntary health organization dedicated to reducing disability and death from cardiovascular diseases and stroke, which annually kills over 50,000 Texans.

Last year the AHA spent more than $193 million for research support, public and professional education and community programs.

We regret to report that many New Year's resolutions have already been forgotten.

ARTIST OF THE MONTH--is Joannah Gartin. Here Lena Ruthardt of the library admires one of Gartin's paintings. Gartin has attended arts and crafts shows since 1985. Early teachers of Gartin include Danny Gable of Canyon and Mike McCullough of Albuquerque and Laverne Elliott of Clovis and Mary Selfridge of Amarillo. Gartin comments that there is difficulty now in finding teachers for watercolor painting. Watercolor is now almost as popular as oil painting, she says. Gartin believes there are "lots of nice artists in this region and into parts of New Mexico. Number of these artists is greater than in the past." In this painting Gartin used a new air brush technique. Gartin's use of watercolor board no. 114 makes her comment that it takes paint differently than paper would. Gartin shows her work in Santa Fe on the Plaza and in Old Town Albuquerque. She is hoping to move some of her paintings to shows in Canada. (Journal Photo JA)

Or your money back.

Avon introduces Anew.
It's not a moisturizer.
It's a new chance for your skin.

Gee, wouldn't it be nice if you could wave a magic wand and take ten years off your skin?

You can't. Nobody's got a magic potion. Not even us. But we have got a really remarkable new cosmetic treatment that's had women raving all over the country.

Anew isn't a moisturizer. It's a way to bring back the natural health and beauty of your skin.

And we're so sure it works, we'll give you your money back if you don't think it works for you.

What makes Anew so special is a new ingredient you may have read about in the beauty magazines called Glycolic Compound, which is derived from the stalk of the sugar cane plant.

Dermatologists have documented its results. And Avon is the only major cosmetic company with the rights to this patented beauty advancement.

The way Anew works is by helping to remove the build-up of dead, dry surface skin, letting newer, fresher, healthier-looking skin emerge.

In just two weeks, your face looks smoother and glowing. With continued use, fine dry lines and discolorations become less noticeable.

Women who have used Anew really found that there was a significant improvement in the smoothness and texture of their skin.

But don't take our word for it. See for yourself.

Call 1-800-858-8000 or your Avon Representative.

It may not be magic, but then again, who knows?

Earned Income Credit Expanded to Benefit More

There are new rules affecting the earned income credit (EIC) for 1991 that make the EIC even more beneficial for more taxpayers, the Internal Revenue Service says. The new EIC consists of:

- (1) a basic credit—for one child, the credit may be worth up to $1,192 and for two or more up to $1,235.
- (2) a credit for a child born in 1991—that could be as much as $357, and
- (3) a supplemental credit—for up to $428 if you paid health insurance that covered at least one qualifying child.

Generally, the earned income credit is a refundable tax credit available to working families who earned less than $21,250 and have a child who lived with them for more than six months during 1991. The child must be your son or daughter, grandchild, stepchild, foster child or adopted child. A foster child must live with you for the whole year. To claim the credit, you must file a tax return and attach a Schedule EIC to your Form 1040 or Form 1040A. For more information, call the IRS at 1-800-829-3676 to order free Publication 596, Earned Income Credit.

Standard Deduction Increased. Because of the increase, it may be to your benefit to take the standard deduction this year even though you itemized deductions in the past. Use the Standard Deduction Chart in your tax package to figure the correct amount.

Local Farmers To Benefit From Lower Rates

Interest rates went down February 1 for nearly 30,000 farmers, ranchers and rural homeowners in Texas, Alabama, Louisiana, and Mississippi who do business with local Federal Land Bank Associations (FLBAs).

The variable interest rate for agricultural, rural housing and farm related business loans fell to 8.9 percent, down from the previous 9.50 percent rate. Michael R. Davis, president of the Farm Credit Bank of Texas, estimated the reduction could save borrowers in the four states more than $10 million in one year. The new rate applies to both existing and new variable rate loans.

Interest rates for new fixed-rate loans of 3, 5, 10, and 15 years also dropped. Since these rates are priced weekly, Davis recommended borrowers contact their local FLBA offices for the rates in effect after February 1.

These rate reductions translate into improved cash flow for FLBA borrowers and, in turn, a better bottom line for their agricultural operations this year," said Davis. "For rural homeowners and buyers, the rate reductions mean less cash out of pocket each month.

The Farm Credit Bank of Texas provides loan funds to 49 FLBAs in Texas, Alabama, Louisiana, and Mississippi. FLBAs make long-term agricultural and rural housing loans through locally-owned and operated offices. Additional information on FLBA loans is available through the local offices.

At the Needmore Co-Op Gin, Wanda Shafer reported that they were almost finished, if the weather would clear. She said they had ginned 5,000 bales and still had approximately 400 more bales to go.

Limit on Itemized Deductions. If your adjusted gross income is more than $100,000 ($50,000 if married filing separately), you may not be able to deduct all of your itemized deductions. Read the Schedule A instructions in your tax forms package. Also, personal interest (such as interest you paid on car loans and credit card balances) is no longer deductible.

Report From Larry Combest

For the good of our country, politics should be put aside for the next month and a half while Congress and the President work on behalf of the American People. The President, in his State of the Union Address, offered that pause in politics to give Congress time to pass several incentives to help the economy. Congress could help first-time homebuyers with an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) penalty-free withdrawal and an additional $5,000 tax credit for the purchase of a new home. Crucial help could come to 60 percent of those with incomes under $50,000 if Congress would cut the tax rate that discourages the sale of capital investments such as homes, small businesses and farms. There must be a pause in politics for the President and Congress to work together.

Last year, however, "Congress agreed with the President on only seven out of 100 key budget issues. Clearly, when Congress blocks the President 93 percent of the time to insist on its own plan, the President's proposals stand little chance. On the key economic issue of overspending at the federal level, the tide of red ink washes down from the direction of Capitol Hill. Last year, Congress spent more than the President requested on 59 program areas in the budget.

The President's 1600-page, six-pound, eight ounce budget weighs in with both good and bad spending ideas. I support the President's proposal for a 10 percent increase in education, broadening pre-school "Head Start" programs to more than 779,000 additional low-income children, and repeal of many of the high taxes, high regulation, redtape and wasteful government spending that has placed a drag on the economy. A partial repeal of the high tax on American-made boats and airplanes will stimulate sales to help those factories and the jobs of workers. An additional $1,000 increase in the earnings limit would allow working seniors to earn more without penalty to their incomes. However, I cannot support the $20 billion proposed for foreign aid, nor the nearly $352 billion projected federal deficit. A Balanced Budget Amendment and Presidential Line Item Veto Authority are among the drastic actions needed to bring the budget back into line. The federal government still continues to spend $1.59 for every $1 it collects.

Neither the President nor Congress should expect to get their way 100 percent of the time, but for the taxpayers' sake, both sides of this divided government must work together for the good of the country. The President's pause in politics runs through March 20th. It is a "deadline" only to those who have no intention of working together to put politics on hold.

Balanced Diet Key Factor To Health

Whether a person is a professional football player or exercise only once a week, food is key factor in athletic performance--but too many advertised products mislead and misinform, according to a registered dietitian.

"Everyone needs to eat a balanced diet, which provides energy to complete an exercise routine and all the nutrients necessary for tissue growth and replacement after a workout," said Dr. Mary Kinney Bielamowicz, nutritionist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "However, there are too many misleading advertisements and fad diets that can cause consumers to stray from the healthful choice."

Many people who put their hopes in health products that claim to build their muscles and give them stamina often end up with a diet that lacks some important nutrients but has an excessive amount of others, she said. Nutritional practices based upon half truths and misconceptions can even be dangerous if taken to the extreme.

Bielamowicz said some of the most common myths about how to get energy include:

*Eating more protein helps build more muscle--Protein is important in building and protecting muscles, but high-protein diets or supplements have proven to increase muscle mass. Without proper exercise, excessive protein is often converted to fat and stored. Excessive protein intake may also strain kidney function.

*Eat a lot of carbohydrates before each workout--A high-carbohydrate diet is not necessary for a regular workout. If preparing for a long-distance event [lasting an hour or longer] such as a marathon or bicycle race, a high-carbohydrate diet may be needed--starting several days before the event. For events lasting less than 90 minutes, a high-carbohydrate diet for one day can adequately fuel muscles.

*Drinking sports drinks before and after exercise is essential for replacing lost body fluids--During activity, perspiration causes loss of water and minerals such as sodium and potassium that are normal body function. Under usual circumstances, the average American diet contains more than enough sodium to make up for losses. Supplements are not needed unless circumstances are unusual, such as participating in a triathlon in intense heat.

*Consuming foods or beverages high in sugar before exercising provides extra energy--If you eat a food high in sugar 30 to 60 minutes before working out, it may actually have a negative effect on your performance. The short-term energy boost could lead temporarily to hypoglycemia, which limits the brain's ability to use its fuel (calories) to boost muscular function and mental drive. Symptoms of hypoglycemia include feeling light-headed, disoriented, shaky, sweaty and fatigued or having blurred vision and heart palpitations.

*Beverages that contain caffeine and alcohol stimulate the nervous system and provide energy--Drinks that contain caffeine and alcoholic beverages have dehydration effects, which offer no benefits to a person who works out regularly or an athlete in benefits to a person who works out regularly or an athlete in training.

Think Prevention Says AHA

And if you think heart disease is only a man's disease, statistics destroy that long-held myth, too. More men may have heart attacks, but women are twice as likely to die from them within the first few weeks. And women are more likely than men to have a second heart attack during the first four years after the initial one.

True, the statistics are gloomy, but the forecast is getting brighter," says Laura Seales, president of the American Heart Association, Bailey County. "That's mainly because of medical advances and changing lifestyles.

From 1979-87, age-adjusted rates for women declined 20 percent for coronary heart disease, 26 percent for stroke, and more than 14 percent for all cardiovascular diseases.

So think prevention. Learn about your risk factors--and which ones you can control

Some risk factors cannot be changed. These are:

Age--The older you get, the more likely you are to develop heart disease.

Sex--More men have heart disease and develop it earlier than women. But women narrow the gap after menopause.

Race--Cardiovascular death rates of black women are much higher than those of white women. That may be mainly because of higher blood pressure levels.

Heredity--If your close blood relatives had heart disease, you're more likely to develop it.

You can control these risk factors:

Smoking--It's the most preventable cause of death and the most significant risk factor for heart attack. Cigarette smoking puts extra strain on and causes temporary changes to your heart. It also causes a shortage of oxygen in your heart.

Women smokers are more than twice as likely as non-smoking women to have a heart attack. And women smokers increase their risk of heart attack and stroke even more than they use oral contraceptives.

So if you don't smoke, don't start. Quit if you do.

High blood pressure--Blood pressure is the force exerted by the heart when it pumps blood through the arteries. It's too high if you have a series of readings over 140/90. The first number, called systolic, is the pressure while your heart beats or contracts. The second, diastolic, is the pressure in the arteries while your heart is filling and resting between beats.

"Even women who have never had high blood pressure may develop it during pregnancy," Seales says. "And more than half of all women older than 55 have high blood pressure."

So have your blood pressure checked often. You can help control it by eating a healthful diet, exercising regularly and limiting how much sodium you use. You also may need to take medicine.

High blood cholesterol-- cholesterol is a fat-like substance found in human and animal tissue. The higher your blood cholesterol level, the more likely that fats and cholesterol will build up in your artery walls. This process is called atherosclerosis. It slows blood flow or blocks off blood vessels completely, causing either a heart attack or stroke.

Get your blood cholesterol level checked by a health professional. If your level is too high, your doctor can help you control it. You first must reduce the cholesterol, total fat and saturated fatty acids in your diet and lost weight if necessary. You can reduce saturated fatty acids by eating less animal fat, coconut, palm and palm kernel oils. And you can reduce cholesterol in your diet by eating less fatty meat, egg yolks, and whole-milk dairy products. If you inherit high blood cholesterol, your doctor may prescribe cholesterol-lowering drugs.

Other risk factors contributing to heart disease include alcohol, diabetes, high blood triglycerides, obesity and perhaps stress. Recent studies suggest that new oral contraceptives with lower doses of estrogen are safer than high-dose pills that increase the risk of heart disease. The good news is that you can control all of these factors.

So think of heart disease as a killer of women that you can fight. Denial can be deadly. For more information, contact the American Heart Association, Bailey County president, Laura Seales.

The AHA is the largest health agency dedicated to reducing disability and death from cardiovascular diseases and stroke, which kills over 50,000 Texans a year.

Last year the AHA spent more than $193 million on research support, public and professional education and community programs.

Tax Breaks for Single Parents

Everyone can use a break now and then. At tax time, single parents may take a tax break. If certain qualifications are met on their federal income tax returns, they are eligible to use a special filing status and certain income tax credits.

Many single parents qualify to file their tax returns as "head of household." This status gives a larger standard deduction which reduces the amount of income being taxed. Also, depending on the amount of taxable income, income may be taxed at a lower rate than that of single or married-filing-separately filers.

To file as head of household, the parent must be unmarried, or considered unmarried, on the last day of the year. The parent must pay more than half the cost of keeping up his or her home. His or her spouse must not have lived in the home during the last six months of the tax year. Also, generally his or her child must live in that home for more than six months of the year. The child does not have to be the parent's dependent unless the child is married or a foster child.

Other breaks available to single parents come in the form of tax credits. These credits are applied directly against any tax owed, and one credit--the earned income credit (EIC)--may even be refunded if no other taxes are owed.

The EIC is available to low-income parents who have at least one qualifying child living with them. It is based on earned income, such as wages, tips and certain nontaxable amounts. This year there are additional amounts of credit for those who:

1. have more than one qualifying child,
2. pay for health insurance for their children, and/or
3. have a qualifying child who was born during 1991.

A second credit, which can reduce the amount of tax owed but cannot be refunded if it is more than the tax, is the dependent care credit. Generally, this credit is available to parents who pay another to care for their children so the parents can work.

Due to the expanded EIC, parents may have to make a choice this year. If they qualify for both the additional EIC for a child born during 1991 and the dependent care credit for that same child, they will have to decide which gives them the greater benefit. They may take only one of the two credits for that child.

Parents can find more information in the instructions for Form 1040 or 1040A and in Publication 17, Your Federal Income Tax. Both can be ordered by calling toll-free, 1-800-TAX-FORM (1-800-829-3676).

Lost Tax Forms Can Be Replaced

Copies of federal income tax returns from prior years not only serve as good financial records, but also can be a guide for filling out future returns as well. Previous years' returns are especially helpful when financial situations stay almost the same from one year to the next.

Also, copies of prior year tax returns can be very useful if a change or amendment has to be made to previously filed returns, or if later there are questions about the returns.

If prior year tax returns are lost or destroyed, copies can be requested from the IRS by completing Form 4506, "Request for Copy of Tax Form," and mailing it to the service center where you sent the return. There is a charge of $4.25 for each year's return.

Choose the Form that Fits

Continuing tax changes make it possible for many taxpayers to file simpler returns. Although you may receive in the mail this year the same type of form you used to file last year, you should review your tax situation to see if filing a different form is necessary or more beneficial.

Generally, use the green "EZ" form (1040EZ) if your filing status is single; you are under 65; you are not blind; you claim no dependents; your taxable income is less than $50,000 and is only from wages, salaries, tips, taxable scholarship and fellowship grants, and certain interest of $400 or less; and you do not itemize deductions, claim any adjustments or credits, or owe any other taxes than amounts from the tax table.

If you do not qualify to use Form 1040EZ, use the pink "short form" (1040A) if your income is only from wages, salaries, tips, taxable scholarship and fellowship grants, certain interest, dividends, pensions, annuities, IRAs, social security and unemployment compensation; your taxable income is less than $50,000; you do not itemize deductions; your only adjustment to income is for certain contributions to an IRA; your only credits are the credit for child and dependent care expenses, credit for the elderly or disabled, and the earned income credit; and, your only other tax is for advance earned income credit payments.

From a tax savings standpoint, use the blue "long form" (1040) if you have itemized deductions that exceed your standard deductions and have adjustments to income or credits that you cannot take on Form 1040A or Form 1040EZ. You must use Form 1040 if your taxable income is $50,000 or more; you had certain types of income such as capital gains, self-employment earnings, rents or royalties; you item-

Choosing the simplest tax form that fits your tax situation:

- may save you time if you are able to use one of the shorter forms,
 - reduces the possibility of errors,
 - could get you a faster refund if you can file Form 1040EZ, and
 - can put your tax dollars to better use; filing simpler tax forms helps the IRS reduce the cost of processing and storing the returns.

you choose the best form. If you

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,
I am a sophomore in college but I am worried about this summer. I got so bored last year with nothing to do and ran around with some people who aren't my type.
I am looking for a job, but jobs are hard to find and there are others who need them more than I do. What would you suggest?

Answer:
There is no reason for anyone to feel bored because they lack work to do, especially if finances are no problem.
Have you considered volunteer jobs? Talk to your local Red Cross officials.

I once tutored two small boys all summer
who were in the class with some of my young sons. They had failed promotion and as they came from disadvantaged homes could not afford special care. The satisfaction I gained was immeasurable.

Dear Louisa,
My small daughter
came home from school
several days ago weeping because one of the children there had told her that I was not her real mother. She is an adopted child and we have had her ever since
she was a tiny baby.
No child could be loved more. I told her that her friend hadn't realized what she was saying--that I was the only mother she (my child) had ever known-- that I felt sure that God had meant for me to have her because we were so much alike and that she should be very proud to know that of all the children in the world she was the one I wanted--in other words

she was a chosen child not just anyone who happened to be born.

This explanation
seemed to make her very happy and she has not worried about the matter since. I thought I would pass this on to some other mother who has a dear little adopted son or daughter.

Answer:
It is always a good idea to tell children before they start school
that they are very special as they have been "chosen" as you express
it, by their "real" mothers. You seemed to have handled the situation very well.

Dear Louisa,
Is it possible to be in love with someone sixty years--my childhood sweetheart? I married the other boy and I was only 15 years old. I have not seen him in 57
years.

Answer:
You would probably get an awful shock if you were to see your childhood sweetheart as he is today.
He may be a very fine, handsome man but he is an old man and the person you have been dreaming about is the young boy you knew
many years ago.
There are all kinds of love and the love that comes with companionship and sharing the trials of life and rearing children with the help of a man is far different from first love at the age of 15.

Louisa.

This unique, patented, double-banded steel wheel gives flotation equal to the standard rubber tire. Its open center and straight traction lugs allows movement of soil from the pressure of the bands to flow inward. This soil then remains untouched by the mini-MAX TRAX which builds a bridge between the two bands.
