WACO - The president of Texas' largest farm organization said Friday that the private property rights issue is moving to "center stage" in Austin, and it's "long past time."

House Bill 2591 by Representative Susan Combs (R-Austin) was filed Thursday. Senate Bill 14, sponsored by Senator Teel Bivens, (R-Amarillo) is expected to be filed Monday, following extension of Friday's bill filing deadline.

Bob Stallman, President of the Texas Farm Bureau, said the private property rights bills will be among the most important issues considered by the legislature this session.

"It's absolutely certain that citizens and landowners are waking up to the fact that one of the basic principles upon which our country was founded is the right to own, use and enjoy private property," Stallman said. "If those rights are infringed, you're tearing at the very fabric of our society."

Bivens says the legislation asserts three basic property rights concepts. First, both bills call for a takings impact assessment before government engages in certain activities. Secondly, the legislation defines what a taking actually is.

"The Fifth Amendment of the Constitution says the government cannot take your property without paying for it," Bivens said. "We've had Supreme Court cases that further enunciate that doctrine, and we intend to take that cases law and put it into the statute."

Finally, Bivens said, in those cases where a taking must occur, landowners would be compensated for lost value and lost income.

"It's my hope that this legislation will put state agencies and local governments on notice that there will now be a

Ground breaking

A ground breaking was held Monday for a new McDonald's Restaurant which will be built on American Blvd., between 13th & 14th Street, next to the Alco Store. Tractors have begun plowing through the ground at the site, leveling off the surface where the restaurant will be built. The restaurant is expected to open in a couple of months.

County tables landscaping proposal; to examine other needs

The Muleshoe Heritage Foundation is currently in the process of landscaping the grounds at the Heritage Complex and Bailey County Coliseum Manager Kevin Smith would likewise, like to dress up the adjoining area at the coliseum, adding park benches, trees, a gazebo and other enhancements. But during a discussion at a meeting of the Bailey County Commissioners Court Monday, some county commissioners felt there were other things that should be worked on at the coliseum first, including air conditioning and heating.

"Footage is what we need in that coliseum" said

Commissioner Bennie Claunch. "I also feel we need to consider other plans because we may need this property (beside the building)."

Claunch said, "We still need to decide what we're going to do with the Extension Service Office and we could need a place to put ambulance services in the future. I am not in favor of doing this."

Smith proposed the landscaping project to enhance the area and tie in with what the Heritage Foundation is currently doing. He also felt using summer youth in the JTPA (Job Training Partnership Act) program would be an added advantage.

Smith said he felt the timing was right since the Heritage Foundation is putting in a sprinkler system, which would allow the coliseum to utilize its trenching system. Smith said he felt it was a simple plan which would require low maintenance. He also said the coliseum could receive free consultation from a master gardener program on landscaping.

County Commissioner Butch Vandiver said he felt landscaping the coliseum was a good idea but felt that local organizations should get involved. Smith also talked about the possibility of soliciting donations.

Bailey County Judge Marilyn Cox said, "I don't feel we are ready to make any decisions yet on what to do with the property (next to the coliseum)." The matter was tabled until the county can come up with some kind of plan and access future needs of the facility.

However, the coliseum does hope to have two JTPA employees this summer and participate in a community service project the JTPA youth are now required to do. This will include making some improvements at the coliseum this summer.

In other business Monday, the court discussed the Farm to Market road 1731 project. Commissioner Joey Kindle reported that landowners whom the county needs to get right of ways from have been contacted and some appraisals will be done. He said he expects it to be about another month before work on that road can begin.

Bailey County Extension Agent Curtis Preston updated the commissioners on a proposed boll weevil referendum by the Plains Cotton Grower's Association. The Extension Office will conduct a two-hour informational meeting on the Boll Weevil Referendum Fri-

Commissioners sign resolutions to be sent to Austin

Several resolutions were signed by the Bailey County Commissioners Court during a meeting Monday.

The commissioners passed a resolution regarding possible legislative action on the workers compensation pool. The resolution they signed states that the court formally opposed any state legislation that provides for state regulation or oversight of local government workers' compensation pools. The resolution states that the Counties Workers' Compensation Fund has provided excellent benefits to counties through the effective oversight of local elected officials, instead of through hired state bureaucrats.

The court also signed a resolution regarding possible legislative action on the Whistle Blower's Act.

The resolution states that the court supports the passage of Senate Bill 422 and House bill 175 by the 74th Legislature meeting in Austin. The resolution states that the Senate and House of Representatives need to come to the aid of all government bodies, local and state, to alleviate problems that exist in the Whistleblowers Act, including deletion of punitive damages, limitation of actual damage to Texas Tort Claims Act and establishing venue in the

Benefit dinner to be held Monday for Shaw family

Friends, neighbors and church family will host a benefit Mexican pile-on dinner for Donna and Eugene Shaw of Muleshoe. Donna, who was diagnosed with cancer about four years ago, is currently undergoing radiation treatments in Lubbock.

The Shaws just celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary on Sunday and have been active in the local community.

"They (the Shaws) have always been very supportive of youth and community activities," said Nelda Hunt, who is helping to organize the Mexican dinner.

Donna is a bookkeeper at West Camp Gin and Eugene is a farmer. They graduate from Muleshoe High School in 1955 and have two children, Delia Davenport of Wolfford and Darin Shaw of Phluergville, Texas.

Donna was chosen by Channel 6 of Muleshoe to play Santa Claus in 1993 and the Shaws were named "Outstanding Young Farmer of Texas" in 1974.

The Mexican pile-on dinner will be held Monday from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Muleshoe Church of Christ Fellowship Hall on 20th & American Blvd.

Donations will be accepted to help defray medical expenses for Donna.

mechanism by which land-owners can be compensated if these entities engage in activities that rise to the level of a taking," Bivens said.

Representative Susan Combs (R-Austin), the House sponsor, says the takings assessment is critical to a meaningful property rights law.

"That's very much a part of the philosophy of 'look before you leap', because there are often times consequences to regulations that are very serious," Combs said.

Stallman, a rice farmer from Columbus, said that regulators at the state and federal levels have gone too far, and it's time to "pull back the reins and respect the rights of property owners."

Neither the House or Senate bill has any affect on federal regulations, but similar bills have been introduced in Congress. Combs said, however, that a strong state property rights law is a good preventive measure.

"You can slide down the slippery slope of more and more regulations until land-owners become so bound up and tied down that they no longer have any effective use of their property," Combs said.

Stallman echoed those concerns, saying, "We want to lay out clear principles and clear law that indicates that state agencies must respect property owners rights."

Both bills affect the actions of the state and local governments, but do not affect the actions of the federal government. Similar legislation has passed the U.S. House of Representatives.

Neither Senate Bill 14 or House Bill 2591 has a specific formula for calculating compensation, and it is likely that the courts will develop compensation formulas when regulatory takings occur.

Stallman said Texas farmers and ranchers are very optimistic that a meaningful private property rights bill will pass the Legislature and eventually be signed into law by Governor George Bush.

The commissioners approved amending requirements for granting easements under county roads. Commissioners agreed to now tell people and state on easement contracts that utility companies must be contacted prior to

Raising elkhorn

When you hear the term 'fertility clinic' what comes to mind? Possibly middle age urban women bein'fed herbal concoctions and soaking in perfumed spas while their husbands watch old James Bond movies and chew on an elk antler.

With the exception of the movie, that same description could be applied to 'fertility' clinics 2,000 years ago in Beijing. Elk antler is still very much in demand in the Orient. Not just as a fertility enhancer but for a variety of ailments from boils to memory loss.

A group of Canadian and American stockmen are in the business to supply this clamoring for the elk antler. Game ranching itself is nothing new but it is growing in numbers as farmers and ranchers search to diversify.

Elk rasing is well suited to a lot of livestock operations. The animals have to be worked, treated, wormed, vaccinated, bred, fed, pastured and managed not unlike other ruminants. Fencing, of course, and 'workin' facilities have to be specially adapted...like fencing in kangaroos.

Elk velvet is the whole horn sawed off a bull in the velvet stage. The market last fall for velvet was $45.00 per pound. "A fresh horn from a mature bull weighs 10 pounds. The live market for breeding animals is high. Yearling heifers brought an average of $3750 last fall. Yearling bulls sold at $1300. Young cows and mature bulls went for $5000 and up.

Other species like llamas, ostriches, emus, pot bellied pigs, buffalo and catfish also have made inroads in livestock operations as alternative sources of income. Like the elk, proponents for these species promote the practical benefits, i.e. meat, milk, feathers, hide and tallow. But they are quick to point out that eggs or breeding males are very valuable and therefore, a good investment.

Elk have a value over and above elk burger and market speculation; antlers. The magical mystical elkhorn that, as the brochure says "has been prescribed in countries such as Asia, China and Russia for virtually every disease known to man".

In our country the F.D.A. requires proof before miracle products can be advertised as such, so promoters of elk velvet conclude with the disclaimer that we "can not and do not make any medical claims for the product however...we will let the facts speak for themselves."

But then again, megadoses of Vitamin C, jogging, garlic, ginseng, yogurt, lean meat, broccoli, plenty of rest, mama's chicken soup, Sunday school and comfortable bed slippers are all accepted as beneficial to your health but are difficult to substantiate scientifically. So, I've started taking my elk antler drops and will be watching to see if my hair comes back in and my roping improves.

It is fascinating to me that the quality that separates elk raising from other alternatives is an unproven, yet widely accepted belief that elkhorn is good for your sex life.

Talk about selling the sizzle. Or pizzle, maybe I should say.

TCTA urges members to vote in TRS election

All active members of the Teacher Retirement System of Texas should have received a copy of the TRS News within the last few days or will soon.

Included in that mailing is a ballot for the purpose of filling a position on the TRS Board of Trustees. The three candidates receiving the highest number of votes will be recommended to the governor, who will then appoint one person to fill a six-year term.

Alice Liles, president of the Muleshoe Classroom Teachers Association, would like to alert TCTA members, as well as other concerned teachers to the fact the ballot is included in the mail-out.

Liles said it is important to have teacher representation on the board who would voice teachers concerns and work for the benefits of retired teachers as well as look to the future benefits of currently active teachers.

"This ballot could be easily overlooked and discarded and it is important that teachers respond in order to have a voice in their retirement system," she said.

Host families in Muleshoe sought

How would you like to learn all about a foreign country's culture, traditions and lifestyle without ever leaving your own home? Mary Mccorkle of the Dallas area, Local Coordinator for the AIFS Foundation's Academic Year in America (AYA) high school exchange program, is presently interviewing families in this part of Texas to host an international student during the 1995/96 school year.

Mary has the applications of several boys and girls, ages 15-18, from Germany, Brazil, Hungary, Poland, Russia, Spain, or any one of 30 countries across the world. All have studied English, have their own spending money and full medical insurance.

Families who host AYA students have the unique opportunity to share their traditions and values with a foreign student, and in exchange learn the language and customs of another country.

Interested families are invited to choose the boy or girl who would best fit with their lifestyles and interests, and hosting can be for 5 to 10 months. In addition, host families are awarded up to $800 in scholarship funds to be used on certain travel/study abroad programs.

Whether you have young children, teenage children or no children, you may qualify as a host family if you can provide a bed, a place to study, two meals a day and, most importantly, an open heart.

Interested families can find out more about hosting a student by contacting Mary Mccorkle at 214-348-5799, or Regional Director Katherine McDonald at 800-322-4678 ext. 5423.

MHS FHA students attend a leadership conference

Fifteen Future Homemakers of America (FHA) students represented Muleshoe High School at the Regional 1 Leadership Conference in Amarillo March 3-4.

Delegates for the 43-member high school organization were: Andy Ruiz, Carlos Del Toro, Rolando Estrada, Lissa Leffler, Jamie Bohler, Brenna Farley, Casie Height, Yvonne Bara, Angela Castorena, Cynthia Villarreal, Toni Davis, Jolene Espinoza, Connie Espinoza, Raquel Sierra and Kimberly Villa.

These delegates attended leadership sessions, workshops on current topics, assisted the competition "Star Events" and cheered as Lissa Leffler was elected regional vice-president of recreation for an area that covers 67 Texas counties.

FHA's mission is to promote personal growth and leadership development through home economics education.

They focus on roles of the family, preparing for a job, community service, creative and critical thinking, interpersonal relationships, practical knowledge and vocational preparation.

FHAers stated that, "As we work toward the accomplishment of our goals, we learn cooperation, take responsibility, develop leadership and give service."

Muleshoe FHA is currently working on an Easter project for the nursing home and preparing for the state leadership conference which will be held in Ft. Worth in April.

Bass speaks to SCAC about chamber history

On Feb. 20, the Student Community Action Club (SCAC) met in the home of Barak Harlan. Due to the one-act and baseball, not very many members were able to attend, but the group made due with who arrived.

Audra opened the meeting and the prayer was given. Daniel Garbarino then introduced the guest speaker and February citizens of the month, Harvey and Marie Bass.

Mr. Bass spoke on many things that have happened. He talked about the first chamber of commerce, SCAC women of the year and bringing Lee Horsley to Muleshoe for the 4th of July.

All of these things happened because of dedication. He said the point of his talk was to teach the club members that they can have anything they want. They were presented with their corsages and it was time to eat. While eating, the group decided that with fundraising money, they would like to recreate the old loft out at the Heritage House, but if that didn't go through, they could take on another room.

The project for this year is an auction of baked goods and other items over Channel 6. The date is pending. The meeting was then adjourned by Audra Lee.

Amazing Grace with Bill Moyers

Amazing Grace with Bill Moyers tells the story of the hymn, "Amazing Grace," and the people who draw strength from it. "Amazing Grace" is one of the most popular and enduring hymns in the English language. Across distances of time, nationality, and society, it has become a courier of the spirit of millions of people.

Ironically, the lyrics of "Amazing Grace" were written by an English slave ship captain, John Newton. In the 18th century, he came to faith after surviving a storm at sea. When he wrote the hymn that made him famous, he had become a country preacher.

Today, the song continues to serve as a source of inspiration and strength for many people, including singer Judy Collins, opera star Jessye Norman, singer Johnny Cash, and folk singer Jean Ritchie. The program features their performances as well as their insights about the hymn's impact in their lives.

Amazing Grace with Bill Moyers airs Tuesday, March 14th at 8:00 p.m. and Saturday, March 18th at 11:00 p.m. It also repeats Tuesday, March 28th at 12:00 p.m.

Vince Gill & Tammy Wynette on Austin City Limits Specials

Two of country music's most talented artists are featured this month on Austin City Limits Specials. Superstar Vince Gill and veteran Tammy Wynette each display their considerable skill in back-to-back performances.

Country music's most highly awarded artist performs his best-known hits in Vince Gill in Concert. The reigning Country Music Association (CMA) Entertainer of the Year sings the songs that have made him famous, including "Victim of Life's Circumstances," "Tryin' to Get Over You," "What the Cowgirls Do," and many more.

The "First Lady of Country Music" showcases country songs in Tammy Wynette in Concert. She performs "Your Good Girl's Gonna Go Bad," "D-I-V-O-R-C-E," "Singing my Song," "That's the Way It Could Have Been," and — her favorite among all the songs she's written or those written for her — "Til I Can Make It On My Own."

Vince Gill in Concert and Tammy Wynette in Concert, Austin City Limits Specials, will air Saturday, March 18th at 8:15 p.m. and 10:00 p.m.

SPC police academy top in state

LEVELLAND—The South Plains College police academy has been ranked number one in the state, according to a report in Close Up, a publication of the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education.

The number one ranking was based on SPC's 100 percent pass rate of the state peace officer licensing exam and the fact that SPC's academy graduates also had the highest average test score on the exam.

"Our students had an average test score of 90.7 on their first attempt at taking the state exam," said George Lawless, chairperson of SPC's Professional Services and Energy Department and professor of law enforcement.

"I feel that we have one of the best academies in the nation, and I think these statistics prove that point very clearly," he added.

In test averages, SPC's police academy topped 11 other police academies, including the El Paso Police Department,

University of Texas Systems Academy, Tarrant County Jr. College and the San Antonio Police Department which also had 100 percent pass rates on the state exam.

SPC offers a summer and evening police academy in addition to criminal justice and law enforcement technology programs.

For more information, contact the SPC Law Enforcement Office at 806-894-9611, ext. 291.

'Texas' to celebrate 30th anniversary

Where can you find explosive entertainment, song, dance, and a romantic tale of the real Old West? It's all in "Texas," the musical drama played nightly except Sunday each summer under the stars in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park near Amarillo and Canyon, Texas.

"Texas" turns 30 years old in 1995, and exciting new additions to the show promise to dazzle even the most faithful audience members. From June 7 through August 19, new special effects, choreography, costumes, and fireworks will highlight this anniversary bash.

According to Director Neil Hess, "even though the basic script never changes, it's important to keep the show fresh for our repeat visitors and thrilling to first timers. I'm most excited about changes planned in both overtures. We're remixing music for these scenes, which will have a multi-cultural flavor. Colorful new costumes will portray the vast contributions Hispanic and Native American settlers made to the Panhandle area."

Other exciting additions include a new artificial oak tree that will now burn when lightning crashes into it during the famous "Texas" storm scene, a new church for the dream scene, and spectacular new banners that will add colorful action both in front of the theatre and in the show. Finally, the already breathtaking fireworks finale will be expanded each night adding to the anniversary celebration.

Showtime is 8:30 p.m., time to sit back and enjoy what has become an internationally acclaimed musical drama. It all begins with the stirring sounds of a lone bugle from high atop the canyon wall. Nature slowly brings down the lights. Two horsemen, bearing American and Texas flags, appear on the canyon rim, then a cast of 80 performers bring "Texas" to life on stage beneath a towering 600 foot canyon wall.

For the next two and half hours, spellbound visitors watch as cowboys ride the range, Indians leap from rocks, and magnificent song and dance fill the stage. This western tale pits farmer against rancher. Gun shots ring out as the conflict builds and the fight for progress moves steadily forward with the approaching railroad.

Mother Nature's temper and romantic young love add spice to this story of bravery and determination set in the late 1800's.

State of the art technical effects make it all possible. Spectators are riveted when a prairie fire leaps onto the stage and a simulated thunderstorm sends them searching under their seats for umbrellas.

Light and sound combine again when a roaring locomotive appears headed straight for the audience. Later, thousands of star strobes sparkle against the colorful canyon walls as horses and riders gallop across the canyon floor proudly carrying the six flags that have flown over Texas.

Pulitzer prize winning author Paul Green wrote "Texas" more than 30 years ago, and its popularity has steadily grown throughout its 30 year history. The Institute of Outdoor Drama recognizes "Texas" as the best attended outdoor musical drama in the nation.

For more information call the "Texas" office at (806) 655-2181 or write to P.O. Box 268, Canyon, Texas, 79015.

Better Business Bureau

Could your long-distance phone service be switched without your knowledge or consent? Yes, it can and it continues to happen to unsuspecting South Plains residents and businesses.

The practice of "phone slamming" is illegal and you have the right to be switched back to the original company at no charge. However, depending on the company's policy, customers may have to pay for any long-distance charges incurred while using the unauthorized long-distance service.

To protect yourself from phone slamming, regularly check your long-distance charges that appear on your phone bills. And for customers or businesses that are tempted to sign up for a new car or vacation at a counter display, you need to read the fine print especially if they require a signature. It may be an authorization to switch your long distance and say that a portion of your charges will be going to a charitable organization.

Check it out first by calling the Better Business Bureau at 763-0459.

Promises of "fast refunds in 1-4 days" might grab your attention if you are anticipating a tax refund. You should realize that when you opt for electronic filing tax preparation that advertises refunds within a few days, you will not get a fast refund.

You may get your check in the advertised number of days but it will be a loan, not a refund.

This is because the Internal Revenue Service cannot process your return and issue your refund within the short time periods advertised by some tax preparers.

Tax preparers who advertise these almost instant refunds are really arranging a loan in the amount of your refund to be paid back from the proceeds of your refund.

Certain quick-refund advertising can violate IRS advertising guidelines, such as processing your return with a period of 1-4 days. To comply with IRS regulations, the ad must explain that the refund amount is really a loan and cannot specify a number of days.

Tuesday afternoon our home and hearts were warmed by a visit from the Sunshine Kids of the Ave. D Church of Christ. The young people visited and served popcorn to the residents.

Wednesday morning Buster Kittrell hosted coffee/spudnut time. Following this event, Bro. Cliff Hargrove of the First Baptist Church of Sudan came for a time of devotional. Buster Kittrell and Lois Killingsworth directed the hymns and music. Jim Claunch, Ruby Garner and Tennie McCormick joined us for the special times.

Wednesday afternoon Viva Louis from Medford, Ore. Irene Splawn Garner. Ruby Garner and Jean O'Brien participated in the sing-a-long with Glenda Jennings and her puppets.

Lazbuddie FHA students attend regional meeting

Several members of the Lazbuddie Future Homemakers of America, along with advisor Barbara Lust, attended the regional meeting in Amarillo March 3-4.

Those attending were Rachelle Rice, Janis Hernandez, Jennifer Hill, Eva Jo Alcalá, Adolfo Mata and Blas Martinez.

In the STAR Events competition Rachelle Rice won first place in Job Interview. This will entitle Rachelle to compete in the state event on April 27-28.

The job interview event involved using home economics skills to develop a portfolio, participate in an interview and communicate a personal understanding of job requirements and the ability to perform them.

In addition, Lust was chairman of the Parliamentary STAR Event. The six Lazbuddie members helped in conducting this event.

Lazbuddie celebrated National FHA week Feb. 13-17 with activities for each day. This included locker signs and secret pals, Red and White Day, Earth Day, Teacher Appreciation Day and the sale and delivery of balloon and flower valentines.

The chapter is also creating a time capsule in honor of the National 50th anniversary of FHA.

Lazbuddie's FHA chapter is a very active organization dedicated to the family and community. Barbara Lust and her FHA chapter effectively set up the YES program in Lazbuddie in 1991. This is a worthwhile project involving youth and senior citizen interaction.

Lust and high school counselor Gwen Warren are working toward re-establishing the YES program with Lazbuddie's FHA and National Honor Society organizations.
