Muleshoe residents pay tribute to Selena

By Helena Rodriguez

Two representatives from KMUL Radio in Muleshoe were among thousands of people from across the nation and world who went to Corpus Christi Monday to pay final respects to slain Tejano superstar Selena Quintanilla Perez.

Roy Anzaldua, a sales representative and disc jockey and Martha Alvarado, a disc jockey and program director for KMUL, both went to Corpus Christi and conducted live remotes from the scene, which were aired on KMUL Monday.

Many Selena fans also showed support for the 23-year-old Grammy winner in Muleshoe by picking up pink ribbons which were being distributed by KMUL and placing them on their car antennas in her memory.

KMUL also joined hundreds of stations across the nation who paid tribute to Selena Friday, the day she was shot, by conducting an all-night musical program of her recordings.

"I was one of her fans and it was a shock when it came out on TV that she had been shot and 15 minutes later she had

Chamber Banquet plays to sellout crowd

Geezinslaws, steak and shrimp dinner big hits with crowd of 300

The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture's first attempt to use its annual banquet as a major fund raiser was a hit, with a sellout crowd wolfing down steak and shrimp, then giggling themselves silly at the antics of the Geezinslaw Brothers.

At $50 per person, the banquet was at first glance viewed as a little out of line as compared to the typical chamber banquet with a meal and speaker for about $20.

But with the success of a similar event in Earth, the Muleshoe Chamber board of directors put a pencil to it and came up with a formula that would not only make the banquet worth the ticket price, but make it an event the community would look forward to each year — all-you-can-eat steak and shrimp and first-class entertainment.

In addition, the banquet was seen as a major fundraiser and sold on the fact that the Chamber must each year seek donations for various projects like Mule Days and the Fourth of July. With this year's banquet clearing in the $6,000 range, enough funds are available that when combined with dues structure, the directors won't be forced to "nickel and dime" members all year long to fund promotional events.

"Sports fans, it was great!" said Chamber president David Tipps. "I'm amazed at how much fun we had."

The chamber directors and their spouses served the meal, which was prepared by Victor Leal and J.B. Commerce and Agriculture's Douglas, who put a special touch on the aged rib eyes donated by West Tex Feed Yard. Also cooking were Mark and Eileen Morton, who put a Cajun flavor on the shrimp, corn and potatoes. The potatoes were donated by Bruce Barrett and Cliff Black.

The Muleshoe High School cafeteria was decorated with a huge world globe flaunting the "world tour" of the Geezinslaw Brothers, the Austin-based country music and humor duo often seen on The Nashville Network (TNN).

Each of the specially decorated tables in the cafeteria told its own story. Miniature road signs carrying the name and population of several Texas communities adorned each table, along with literature from each local chamber of commerce in places like Poth, New Braunfels, Kountze, Yoakum and Paris available to those at the tables. It was a mini-tour of Texas without leaving the cafeteria.

Door prizes were awarded through drawings and through questions about the various Texas communities. Most of the prizes consisted of Muleshoe T-Shirts with $20, $50 and $100 bills attached.

One of the high spots of the light-hearted event was the grand prize drawing. Robin McClanahan was the lucky — or unlucky — win-

Eastern Star chapter honors 3 members

Three longtime members of the Muleshoe Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star were honored for their service to the order during a special meeting at the Masonic Lodge Friday evening.

Virginia Wyer was honored and presented with a pin for 60 years of service. She was initiated into the Order on Feb. 5, 1929. Anna Lucy McAdams was presented with a 50-year pin Friday night. She was initiated into the Order on Feb. 15, 1945 and Cecil Davis received a 25-year pin. Davis was initiated into Eastern Star on April 4, 1967.

Wyer has held offices of Warder, electa, association matron and was elected Worthy Matron and was installed on July 6, 1937 to this office.

During her years, she initiated 12 new members, one of which was her husband. Many good things were accomplished during her term of office, including money-making projects to help fix up the Lodge Hall. Wyer was presented with a certificate and pin by Worthy Matron Laverne Hinkson.

School board elections to be held in Three Way, Lazbuddie

Elections for school trustees will be held in Three Way and Lazbuddie on Saturday, May 6. One race in Three Way will be contested.

In Three Way, Jarrod

Sowder and Murray Davis have both signed up for a place on the ballot for one open seat. The seat is currently held by Jack Lane but he will not seek re-election.

Marvin McCaul will be running unopposed for the additional school board seat up for election. McCaul was appointed to the school board to replace Mickey Sowder who resigned due to health reasons last year.

The General Election Day in Lazbuddie should be quiet as two incumbents are the only two people who have signed up for two places on the ballot in the May 6 election. Rick Seaton, school trustee and Tommy St. Clair, school board secretary, will both run unopposed in the at-large election.

County and district clerks attend seminar

COLLEGE STATION — About 500 county and district clerks and deputy clerks took part in the 23rd Annual County and District Clerk's Continuing Education Seminar in College Station March 27-29.

Participating in the seminar from Bailey County were Billie Downing, county clerk and Nelda Merriott, district clerk.

"The continuing education seminar provides valuable information and current procedures of the office to county and district clerks," said Nelda

Merriott. "It is designed to update participants on duties and responsibilities of their offices, helping them become more capable and effective in serving the public."

"You Are An Elected Public County Official" was the theme for the 1995 educational program.

Participants took part in general sessions and workshops on topics that included Working With a Jury, Working Effectively With the Legislature, Processing Juveniles, Budgeting and Purchasing and Optical Disk Programming.

Updates were given on Information Probate, State Jail Felonies/Penal Code and proposed and pending legislation.

Downing said, "Another added bonus of the seminar is that it provides the opportunity for new officials to network with those who have been in office awhile."

"Talking with others who hold the same office from different counties helps one learn how to handle similar situations and problems if and when they arise."

For several years, Merriott has arranged for a chartered bus which is travelled on by clerks starting from Amarillo to College Station. This makes for more idea sharing.

The seminar was sponsored by the V.G. Young Institute of County Government of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the County and District Clerk's Association of Texas, in cooperation with the Texas Association of Counties.

She moved to Odessa many years ago but has kept her membership at Muleshoe.

McAdam's husband Horace pinned her pin on her Friday night.

Davis was appointed Sentinel of the Chapter in 1968. He was a faithful member until sickness in his family prevented him from attending. He was always a hard worker for the Chapter.

His wife Lois was present Friday to pin his pin on him.

Guests were present at the special meeting Friday night from Canyon, Plainview, Dimmitt and Muleshoe chapters. Entertainment was provided by a group of young women singers from Lazbuddie United Methodist Church. "It was hard to believe. She was a popular girl for her age and she was like a role model for a lot of teenagers," Pena said, "It is sad to lose someone with a lot of potential at this early stage."

"But like I have said, her memory will keep going on and we will keep on playing her music."

Pena said that KMUL received a lot of response from listeners all over the Panhandle this weekend.

Selena – through her music and tragic death – opens doors for Hispanics

The news sent a chill down my spine, but it was more like a shockwave across my whole body. The tragic death of Tejano music super-star Selena Quintanilla Perez. It certainly hit San Antonio, the Tejano music capitol of the world, like an earthquake and saddened the hearts of people everywhere.

Perhaps many of you are not familiar with Selena. But for the millions of Hispanics in the United States, Mexico and abroad, an explanation of her talent and accomplishments is not needed. Her voice filled the radio airwaves with a vivid intensity and energy that has never been felt in the Hispanic music market.

As a Houston sociology professor was quoted as saying in a story printed in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, "Something bigger than an individual has died – an era, a style of music."

The loss of Selena has left many Tejano music fans like myself feeling a sudden void and emptiness.

Very few things surprise me anymore with the world we live in. But when someone comes along that makes such an impact on a lot of people – like Selena – it makes you stop and think real hard. How could something like this have happened?

Though I have never met or even had the opportunity to see Selena perform, it was enough to bring tears to my eyes. My first thought was, "She has come so far so fast and had so much going for her.

Commentary

By Helena Rodriguez

How will any other person ever be able to bring what she did to the Hispanic music industry?" It is certainly a tragic loss.

At the age of 23, the life of Selena may seem like another tale of a rising star whose promising career was cut short by a tragic and premature death. But for the Tejano music industry, and the millions of listeners, the impact is more severe. It was a first.

Selena began her career in Corpus Christi, the place she called home, and took the Spanish music industry by storm, sending her albums this past year to platinum status and capturing a Grammy Award. I was a fan of hers long before that, when she came out with her first major hits like "Dulce Amor" (Sweet Love).

To date, there was no one else who could match her. She captured the Tejano Female Entertainer of the Year award four years in a row.

If I had to chose, I couldn't begin to pick which of Selena's songs are my favorite, "Techno Cumbia," "Fotos y Recuerdos" (Photos and Memories); "Amor Prohibido" (Prohibited Love); "Bidi Bidi bom bom," and the list goes on and on.

Like the rest of the Tejano music world, I was also looking forward to the release of her first all-English album this summer. I knew Selena would be the first Tejano star to hit mainstream America. I have a feeling that the four English songs she has recorded will still be released and I will not be surprised if they are mega hits.

Perhaps the most shocking part of the whole incident seems to be the senselessness of her death and how fast it all happened. By the single actions of one person and in a span of less than an hour, a powerful image that brought out the best of modern Hispanic culture, is gone.

Though this certainly has been a tragic week, I can say that this incident has brought the Hispanic community closer and brought out the best everywhere, as people united to pay tribute to Selena.

Thousands of pink ribbons were fanned from cars, along with headlights and candlelight vigils which were held throughout the nation in her memory. Radio stations were jammed with dedications to her and played her music all weekend. Thousands of cards were sent to the Quintanilla family, including condolences from Julio Iglesias and Madonna.

If anything good comes out of all this, perhaps it is the spotlight the whole incident has brought to the Tejano music industry, which is considered one of the most explosive musical genres in the United States today. Maybe the Hispanic culture will finally find a place in mainstream America and on primetime TV.

Many may not think anything of this or be aware of it, but to date, there has not been one successful prime time television show portraying the Hispanic culture in today's modern America. Many attempts have been made but none have been successful. I can count about a dozen successful shows that have been successes portraying Black Americans, but not one single show depicting Hispanics has made it.

One explanation for this offered by my mom is that perhaps it is "because we are such a diverse culture. Some people speak Spanish, some English, some both, some are lighted skinned with blond hair and blue eyes and others are dark skinned. Some have roots of Mexican and/or Indian ancestry, while others are Cubans, Puerto Ricenos, and what have you."

Selena was able to span all of these cultural differences and appeal to Hispanics of all backgrounds.

I feel that Selena – through her music and death – has essentially opened doors for Hispanics and our culture. She has opened the doors to mainstream America.

The romantic cowboy

There's nothing like an evening of calving to promote the romantic image of the cowboy. Right, ladies?

Don invited a nice woman out to his ranch one evening for candlelight, wine and canned bean dip. This dinner date coincided with calving season. After an hour of civilized conversation about French painting, the European Common Market and the condition of the rodeo arena in Ponoka, Don invited his date to go with him to check the cows.

She didn't exactly squeal with delight but he explained how scientific livestock raising had become. "Almost like visiting a human hospital maternity ward," he said, authoritatively.

They drove his Bronco out into the calving pasture and immediately spotted a braymer cross cow tryin' to calve. "We'll watch her for a few minutes to see if everything comes out okay," suggested Don sliding an arm around her shoulders.

They sat in the warm cab, moonlight mixing with Don's elaborate discourse of bovine parturition. After half an hour he decided to assist the cow. Partly for the cow and partly to show off.

The calf appeared to be hip locked.

His date prepared to see Marcus Welby save the day. Don drove up to the head end of the cow and left the headlights shining in her eyes. Sneaking out, he slipped around behind her. He slid the nylon obstetrical straps over the calf's protruding front feet. At first tug the cow arose like a bee stung buffalo!

She whirled to mash Don. He was jerked off his feet but clung to the straps as the cow chased him like a dog chasin' its tail!

He was alternately upright, flat out, levitating, scooting, skiing, sliding, screaming and squirreling as the three to them circled like a shaky ceiling fan.

His only hope of survival was to hang on and stay behind the helicoptering cow. She managed to land enough blows to win the round and tromp his fallen hat to a pulp.

On one mighty jerk, the calf popped out. Don executed a complete cartwheel and landed on his back. The cow rolled him once and headed off into the darkness.

His date, who had watched Don's calving technique from the cab was no impressed. "Less than professional", she had commented as he climbed in the cab after giving the departed cow a four alarm cussing.

Don tried to regain his composure and recapture the mood by explaining that he had been in control the whole time. However it was not very convincing what with the big glob of manure plastered on the side of his neck and the piece of placenta dangling from his ear.

The New Explorers

"The Sounds of Discovery"

Deep beneath the ocean's surface is a symphony of sound, once unavailable to the human ear. But the technology of acoustics is now opening an entirely new underwater universe to scientists. The New Explorers chronicles these remarkable advances which are expanding scientists' knowledge of whale migration and communication in "The Sounds of Discovery."

First, host Bill Kurtis joins an international crew that attempts to successfully implant the first satellite tag into a sperm whale. If successful, the tag will transmit a signal to a satellite that will enable scientists to track the migration route of the elusive sperm whale at and below the ocean's surface.

Then, Bill Kurtis goes below the ocean's surface aboard the U.S. nuclear sub, the USS Montpelier, with Dr. Chris Clark. The Navy has allowed Dr. Clark to utilize its previously classified hydrophone network to search for the "acoustic signature" of whales instead of enemy subs. With this new technology, Dr. Clark hopes to decipher the meaning of the whale songs that can be heard for thousands of miles.

"The Sounds of Discovery" on The New Explorers will be broadcast Wednesday, April 5th at 8:00 p.m. on KENW-TV. It repeats Saturday, April 8th at 7:00 a.m.

Pioneer Round-up to be held

The Plainview Business and Professional Women's Club has announced Saturday, May 20 as the date for the 1995 Pioneer round-Up. This will be the 67th year the Club has sponsored this annual event.

The theme chosen for this year's event is "Those Were The Days".

The Pioneer round-Up was started as a method of honoring pioneers of this area. This continues to be one of the purposes of the event, but in addition, it has become an entertainment feature for people of all ages in Plainview, Hale county and surrounding areas.

Mrs. Hinch has appointed committees for the Round-Up and chairman of each committee is as follows: Program, Doris Lindsey; Reception and Afghan, Doris Henderson; Square Dance, Helen Burleson; Food, Nancy Fowler; Tickets and Placemats, Lynda Reagan; Serving and Door, Nelda Barbian; Concessions, Doris Washington; Country Kitchen, Bula McGowen and Wilma Courtney; Housing Jodie Hinch; and Registration and Publicity, Jo Ann Clements.

Activities will be held in the Ollie Liner Center on the south edge of Plainview. The reception will be held in the meeting room at the Center which begins at 10:00 am. on Saturday morning.

The Saturday evening's program will begin at 6 pm. when the chuck wagon supper will be served until 7:30 pm. in the large assembly room at the Ollie Liner Center with the program to follow.

A square dance will conclude the day's activities.

All local and area people are invited to their Pioneer Round-Up for a day of entertainment and to honor those pioneers who came to this country many years ago.

BUCKLE UP!
It's smart.
It's the law.
It's enforced.

Mules take second in Mustang Relays

SHALLOWATER - The Muleshoe varsity and junior varsity boys teams traveled to Shallowater last Saturday, April 1 to compete in the Mustang Relays. The Mules captured three meet records and broke one school record at the Shallowater meet and also took the second place trophy as a team.

Several individuals were credited with personal best that helped the Mules to take the second place trophy. Coach Johnson remarked that the team is really starting to come together.

With the district meet only one week away, the boys are putting forth the effort that it takes to do well at the district meet.

Daniel Garbarino had a good day in Shallowater. He broke the meet record and the school record in the triple jump with a 43' 11" leap. His 39.83 time in the 300 intermediate hurdles was also a meet record breaker. Garbarino was also a member of the mile relay team that took second place.

Jesus Flores was also breaking records on Saturday. He ran the 800 meter run in 2:00.65 to take first and set a meet record. Jesus also placed first in the 400 meter dash and ran on the mile relay team that took second.

Charles Acosta added to the team points by taking second place in both the 3200 and the 1600 meter runs. "Charles is starting to come on in both of his races and that is going to help us at the district meet," said Coach Johnson.

Riley Byers had his best meet of the year. He brought his times down in the 110 meter high hurdles to 17.01 and placed sixth in the event. Byers also ran a 11.84 in the 100 meter dash, his best time of the year. Riley's hard work in practice is starting to pay-off for him according to Coach Johnson.

Creg Cortez, a member of the second-place mile relay team, ran in the 400 meter dash and the 800 meter run as well.

John Bryan Cowart was also a member of the mile relay team that took second place and he ran the 800 meter run.

Miguel Garcia was on the Mule's second place mile relay team and ran the 100 and 200 meter dashes.

Chad Johnson finished in second place in the shot put and took the third place slot in the discus.

The specialty runners for the "Iron Man Relay" were Edward Rodriguez, Raul Del Toro, Ryan Clapp and Monty Roberts. The members of this team are most comfortable in the shot put and discus rings, but they took to the track for the Iron Man Relay (400 meter relay) on Saturday and took fourth place. Clapp and Roberts threw the discus and Rodriguez was in the shot put event.

The next varsity meet is April 8 in Denver City. The day starts at 10:00 a.m. with the 3200 meter run and the field events start at 1:00 p.m. Finals will begin at 5:00 p.m.

Junior Varsity

The junior varsity boys finished in sixth place with 60 points on Saturday.

Payton Rennels, Toby Villa, Justin Lee and Johnny Flores took first place in the 400 meter relay.

Johnny Flores finished second in the 400 meter dash while Jacob Gutierrez finished second in the 1600 meter run and third in the 3200 meter run.

Ricko Aguirre took second in both the shot put and the discus.

Other team members are Carlos Del Toro, 3200 meter run; Miguel Garcia, 100 and 200 meter dashes and the mile relay; Cory Williams, 1600 and 800 meter runs; Andres Martinez, 800 meter run; and Raul Del Toro, shot and discus.
