

Cotton yields down this fall

The strippers are in the fields. The ginning season has been rolling along for several weeks. The outcome of this year's cotton harvest is being evaluated by local ginners.

"The weather this year hasn't been very agreeable. There was not enough underground moisture," said Charles Moraw of the Muleshoe Co-Op Gin. "This and some problems with worms have caused a slight shortage of cotton," he said.

"Yield has been down 10 to 20 percent overall this year," said Claude Gregory of the North Lazbuddie Gin Co. "I pay attention to other gins, and many of the gins that are usually ginning longer than we are have already finished."

"In other parts of Texas and even in Louisiana the farmers have experienced a drop in yield," Gregory added.

This trend of lower yields has been noted by other gins in this area, including Lariat Gin Co., Inc. and Maple Co-Op Gin.

These gins have predicted higher prices for cotton this year.

"Because of the cotton shortage this year, prices should be a little higher than last year," said Moraw.

MISD set for review by agency

The Muleshoe Independent School District has been scheduled for an on-site review by the Division of Accreditation of the Texas Education Agency (TEA) during the week of Nov. 26.

The review will focus primarily on student performance, the district/campus planning process, and the district/campus implementation of the decision-making process.

These three areas should address the educational and instructional needs of all students in the district. "They are taking a look at the whole program to keep things improving," said MISD Superintendent Bill Moore.

Members of the Agency review team will conduct a public meeting to hear from parents and community members of the school district Monday, Nov. 27 at 7 p.m. at the MHS library.

Parents and patrons may present written or oral comments at this time. Issues to address are student performance, the planning process and the decision-making process.

For more information or special arrangements for handicap accommodations call 272-3389.

Crop estimates adjusted downward

LUBBOCK — The latest United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) crop estimate was released Nov. 8 with estimated production from the Texas High Plains revised downward slightly to 2.74 million bales.

The previous estimate called for the area to produce 2.75 million bales. According to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, the revision continues to document the fact that the High Plains crop appears to considerably less than the area's last two crops.

Statewide cotton prospects also dropped to 4.8 million bales. PCG officials note that it wasn't that long ago that USDA's August crop forecast placed the Texas crop at 5.3 million bales and the High Plains at 3.0 million bales.

Adverse weather and severe insect pressure across the state have significantly altered this year's prospects.

"If the current estimate holds up we expect this year's crop will be at least 10 percent smaller than 1994 and we could see it drop even further," says PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson.

"With reduced yield expectations, quality will become an even bigger factor in determining what producers receive for this year's crop. Hopefully, we will continue to enjoy favorable weather during the balance of the harvest here on the High Plains."

Cotton stat sheet

Some facts and figures provided by the national Cotton Council at the 1994 Texas State Fair:

One bale of cotton will make 21,690 ladies' handkerchiefs or 8,347 men's. Other women's items include: dresses, 274; jeans, 6,436; skirts, 249; midcalf socks, 4,321; blouses, 773; sweaters, 379; and shorts, 733.

One bale of cotton will also make 765 men's dress shirts; 906 woven men's sport shirts, 543 work shirts, 2,104 boxer shorts, 484 dress trousers; 1,918 work gloves, 3,557 mid-calf socks, 215 pairs of jeans, and 1,217 t-shirts.

One bale will also make 3,085 diapers, 249 sheets, 1,245 pillow cases, and 690 terry cloth bath towels.

County Commissioners approve expenditures

By MARTHA TOLES FROST
City Editor

Bailey County Commissioners Monday approved a budget amendment to increase ambulance service expenditures to reflect the salary ($13,950) of an additional paramedic for Bailey County Emergency Medical Services.

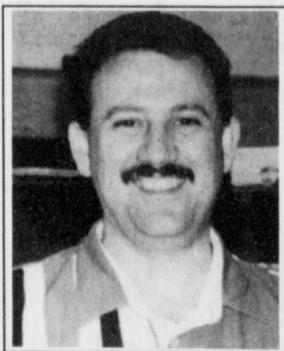

The amendment allows for benefits, including social security ($1,064.60), medical insurance ($3,432.44), retirement ($974.20), unemployment ($48.75) and life insurance ($80.30).

The amount is to be funded out of the non-budgeted surplus funds because "a grave public necessity exists to meet an unusual and unforeseen condition that could not have been included in the original budget through the use of reasonable diligent thought and attention," according to the budget amendment.

In other business, the Commissioners Court:

- Received a departmental report from the EMS that 41 calls were answered in the month of October. Of these, 22 were emergencies, three were no transports, and 16 were transfers. The average cost per call was $314.02, with $12,874.98 billed and

Bailey County Emergency Medical Services has a new full-time employee, Brad Gathright, who is not only a certified paramedic but also pastor of Richland Hills Baptist Church in Muleshoe.

The paramedic pastor feels there will be "no time constraints" to performing his dual professions—that they will work nicely together, in fact.

"Being a pastor and being a paramedic both involve caring about people, whether they go to your church or not," Gathright said.

His tentative schedule with the EMS is from 8 a.m. to 5

Farmers honor Ag pioneers

Centuries ago, Pilgrims established Thanksgiving as a time to express gratitude for an abundant harvest.

In 1955, National Farm-City Week became an annual, companion celebration to reflect on the blessings rural and urban residents and communities enjoy as a result of their long-standing relationship.

Donald Puckett, an agriculture producer and president of the Bailey County Farm Bureau, says the ongoing theme of the upcoming National Farm-City Week, Nov. 17-23, is "Partners in Progress."

"Farm-City Week recognized the interdependency between those of us who provide food and fiber, and our city neighbors who are a part of the cycle from farm to finished product," Puckett explains.

The Bailey County Farm

Bureau leader points out that farmers are dependent on communities, cooperatives and job-creating services, such as transportation, processing, advertising and marketing. Too, they count on consumers to ultimately select and purchase their goods.

"At the same time, virtually everyone in this country, and much of the world, relies on

High Plains Water District conducting soil survey

Personnel from the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 and the USDA-Natural Resources Conservation Service are now collecting data for the 1996 pre-plant soil moisture survey.

The survey is conducted each year to determine general pre-plant soil moisture availability and deficit trends within the 15-count Water District service area.

With this information, agricultural producers can conserve ground water by applying only the amount needed to bring the soil profile to field capacity during pre-plant irrigation.

"We are expecting the northern counties of the Water District to have fairly dry soil moisture conditions again this year," says Ken Carver, Water District Assistant Manager. "However, soil moisture conditions in the southern counties should be fair to good as a result of heavy September rainfall."

Three teams are now collecting data for the 1996 pre-plant soil moisture survey in the northern counties of the District.

Gerald Crewelge and Brian Houston are making soil moisture readings in Parmer, Bailey and Cochran counties. Jerry Funk is measuring soil moisture in Potter, Armstrong, and Randall counties. Glenn Blackmon and Arnold Husky are gathering data in Castro, Deaf Smith, Hale, and Lamb counties.

"Soil moisture conditions are measured first in the northern counties of the District in order to gather data before producers begin irrigating winter wheat," says Carver. Weather permitting, the entire data collection should be completed in early January.

Precipitation information will also be gathered from the rain gauges installed at each of the 300 permanent soil moisture monitoring sites.

Water District and USDA-NRCS personnel use neutron moisture meters to gather soil moisture data. Readings are taken at six-inch intervals throughout the five-foot root zone soil profile by lowering a neutron probe into a previously-installed aluminum access tube.

Area veterans salute as Freddy Anzaldua of Muleshoe lowers the old flag and raises the new at the Bailey County Veteran's Memorial in front of the courthouse Saturday. Veterans share memories at American Legion event

By MARTHA TOLES FROST
City Editor

More than 70 veterans and their spouses got together for an early morning breakfast Saturday at the American Legion Hall.

A mixture of armed services and experiences were represented.

Abel Arguello, who served in Vietnam, visited with Noe Anzaldua, who served in Germany. They talked about war and other more mundane subjects.

Freddy Anzaldua said he served in Greece and 30 days in Vietnam, although he was on a high security mission in Vietnam, so there is no official record of his ever having been there.

Clara Lou Jones was at the breakfast to remember her husband, Owen, who served in the Navy in the Mediterranean.

Holly and Ted Millsap were there. Ted served in the Navy off the coast of Korea during the Korean Conflict.

Phil Gillespie talked about three air strikes he and his flight crew made on the Japanese in the Pacific, during World War II. "I was so scared, I didn't know what I was doing. We crashed on the third mission; that's why I only flew three."

Recently Gillespie sat in a fishing boat, reminiscing with one of his fellow soldiers about what really happened. "He would think of things I'd for-

Passing on blame is saves jobs

BAXTER BLACK

ON THE EDGE OF COMMON SENSE

One of the most important traits of a good feedlot manager is the ability to assign blame. That is the reason they often employ consulting vets and nutritionists. It keeps them from having to fire regular employees.

Unfortunately, it also pits the veterinarian against the nutritionist in their everlasting battle to decide whether a problem is nutritional or medical.

The feedlot manager sat across the desk from his Nutritionist of the Month and his Vet de Jour. He spoke, "I've been looking at our death loss records and we've had a lot of bloats this month."

"Obviously nutritional," interjected the vet who sat back relieved.

"Now let's not jump to conclusions," said Super Nute. "I just read an article in the Academy of Sciences Journal where they suspect an esophageal thickening in mastodons during the last Ice Age which could lead to interference with normal rumen gas elimination thus contributing to an increase in bloat. And you know it's been a cool autumn."

"What!" said the vet.

Nute continued, "And not only that, you are aware that sudden decreased in atmospheric pressure may increase the gas pressure inside the rumen. I've been keeping daily records of the barometric pressure which proves my point."

The manager wiped his eyes. "In addition we're losing more weaners than normal to pneumonia this fall."

"Obviously medical," said the nutritionist, glad to be out of the hot seat.

"Well, yes," admitted the vet, "but I've not been able to culture any unusual organisms out of the lungs so they should be responding to our treatment. But they aren't which leads me to believe it could be something in the hay or possibly the supplement which is the initial causative agent. Maybe a mineral deficiency or ration imbalance."

"What!" said the nutritionist.

Merlin, the vet continued, "Plus the original insult may be the result of calves breathing ammonium fertilizer."

"Well, I'm breathing a lot of fertilizer in this room," said the manager. "How 'bout the increasing incidence of brainers?"

"Hemophilus," said Nute.

"Thiamine deficiency," said the vet.

"Bad eyes?" asked the manager

"Wheat chaff," said the vet.

"Viral," said the nutritionist.

"I give up," gasped the manager. "Oh, I see we had one die from trauma. He was hit by a feed truck."

"Definitely nutritional," said the vet.

"Yes, but as I recall," said Nute, "they ran over him in the sick pen."

Big second quarter propels Lady Mules to 60-51 victory

LORENZO — Mandy Cleavinger scored 11 of her game-high 25 points in the game-breaking second quarter to lead Muleshoe to a 60-51 non-district win here Tuesday night.

Cleavinger scored nine field goals and was 7 for 11 from the free throw line as Muleshoe won its season opener. Brandi Harrison added 13 points for the Lady Mules.

"I was real pleased," Muleshoe coach Jim Gruhlkey said. "We were real aggressive and got after them."

Muleshoe got its press cranked up in the second quarter, outscoring the Hornets 23-14, to take a 33-22 halftime lead.

Muleshoe took a 48-32 lead into the fourth quarter.

Bovina bounces Lazbuddie in season opener

LAZBUDDIE — Lazbuddie couldn't connect from the outside here Tuesday night and it cost the Lady Longhorns a shot at a winning their season opener.

Roxann Warren scored 11 points inside, but it wasn't enough as Bovina held on for a 34-25 non-district win.

"We got the shots we wanted, but they just didn't fall," Lazbuddie coach Carey Suddeth said.

Bonnie Quintana led a balanced Bovina attack with 10 points, mostly from the 15-foot range against a packed in Lazbuddie zone.

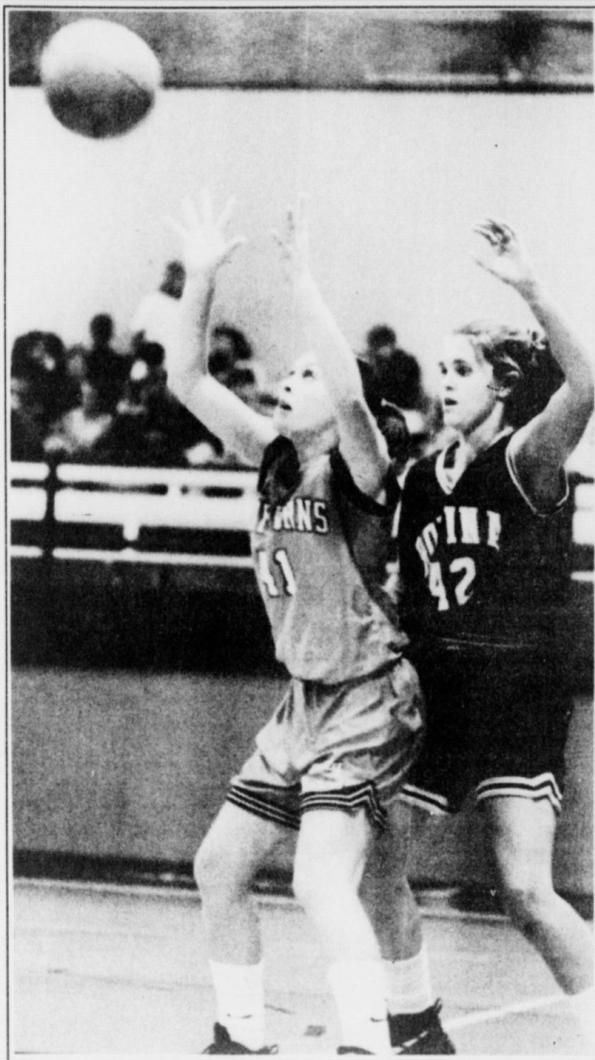

Post players Lori Beauchamp and Lisa Hromas added eight points each for Bovina (1-0), which held a decided height advantage inside.

"That's the way we have to play," Suddeth said. "We have to double team inside."

Heather Engleking, Holly Engleking and Katy Jones added four points each for the Lady Longhorns.

Holly Engleking's 3-pointer (Lazbuddie's only one) pulled the Lady Longhorns within 15-11 with two minutes left in

Shallowater in, Friona out

Michael Benton rushed for 256 yards and five touchdowns as Littlefield clinched the district title with a 41-7 rout at Dimmitt.

Littlefield (10-), 5-0) plays District 1-3A runnerup Amarillo River Road (6-4) Friday at Plainview in the Region I playoffs.

Dimmitt (3-7, 2-3) pulled within 14-7 midway through the second quarter on Richard Ewing's 63-yard run.

But Benton scored on a nine-yard run before the end of the first half, and added five- and six-yard touchdown runs after intermission.

Friona did its part to stay the playoff hunt, beating Floydada, 28-7.

But wins by Littlefield and Shallowater eliminated the Chieftains.

If Dimmitt beat Littlefield and Muleshoe beat Shallowater, it would have created a three-way tie for second between Dimmitt, Friona and Shallowater. A coin flip would have determined the second playoff spot. Littlefield had already clinched the top spot.

Andy Kendrick's 50-yard run highlighted a 15-point third quarter that gave the Chieftains (7-3, 3-2) a 21-0 lead.

Floydada (3-7, 1-4) scored in the fourth quarter on a five-yard touchdown pass from Zach Abshier to Vernon Cooper.

Shallowater (8-2), which rallied to beat Muleshoe, 6-2, last weekend, plays District 1-3A

Lueras 12th at Class A

GEORGETOWN — Daniel Lueras capped his cross country prep career with a 12th-place finish here Saturday at the Class A state.

The Lazbuddie senior toured the hilly 3,000-meter course in 18 minutes and six seconds.

"He could have run a little better," Lazbuddie coach Gary Grahn said. "We didn't know if he could stay with the top runners, but we set a goal of the top eight."

Lueras, the two-time District 5-1A champion, was eighth until late in the race, but struggled a little on the final hill and slipped to 12th.

"He just didn't have enough stamina," Grahn said.

From worst

to almost first

HOUSTON — Houston Davis High School, which gained national recognition for a losing streak that reached 80 games in 1993, has qualified for the state playoffs.

Houston Davis (4-4-1, 4-1-1 in district) plays in the postseason for the first time in 52 years this weekend.

The Panthers were 1-9 in 1993 and 3-7 last year.

Correction

Jeremy Tosh scored twice in the Watson Junior High 8th-grade Mules' 34-20 loss Thursday to Shallowater.

It was Tosh who scored the Mules' first touchdown on a five-yard run. Sunday's edition of the Journal incorrectly reported that it was Clint Black.

According to Puckett, modern science and technology have allowed U.S. producers, who comprise less than two percent of the population, to each produce enough food to feed 128.7 people annually.

Smoke signals

Puckett says it is only fitting that the week ending on Thanksgiving Day be set aside to observe the nation's rich agricultural heritage and its economic benefits.

"Most of all, Farm-City Week is a tribute to the accomplishments of rural and city folks who continue to work together in harmony to meet the needs of a growing nation," he observes.

As the holidays fast approach, we stop to reflect on the past. Time seems to fly and we never want to forget the people who we come in contact with and the impact they have on our lives. Our wonderful patients are some of the bright spots in our memory. It is also hard to think of the ones lost over time. But each of them are precious in the light of a New Year fast dawning.

In the New Year, we anticipate new patients and want to say Thank You for the opportunity to serve you, and a special Thank You to our present patients.

May God Bless you all!

Sitting Purdy in the community

By MARTHA TOLES FROST
City Editor

He's a doctor. She's a school board president.

Together and individually, they play prominent roles in their community.

Bruce Purdy, a 1967 Muleshoe High School graduate, met his wife Cindy—president of Muleshoe ISD Board of Trustees—when he was going to the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston.

(He was also accepted to dental school in Houston, but chose medical school.)

She was a graduate of Ball High School in Galveston. It was a blind date. He graduated from medical school the last of May, and they were married the first of June.

His residency was at Thomason General Hospital in El Paso, and she taught third grade. He has practiced obstetrics and family medicine in Muleshoe for 19 years. His parents are John and Frances Purdy of Muleshoe.

Cindy got her bachelor of science degree and MEd from Sam Houston State University and a degree in administration from Eastern New Mexico University in Portales.

"It was my dream from the time I was a little girl to be a teacher—to be an educator" she said. "I love to work with kids." She taught kindergarten in Muleshoe one year and has been on the MISD School Board for nine years.

Dr. Purdy was influenced to become a doctor by his mentor, Dr. Charles Pummill, of Muleshoe. He also likes to hunt and fish (with his sons) and to play golf.

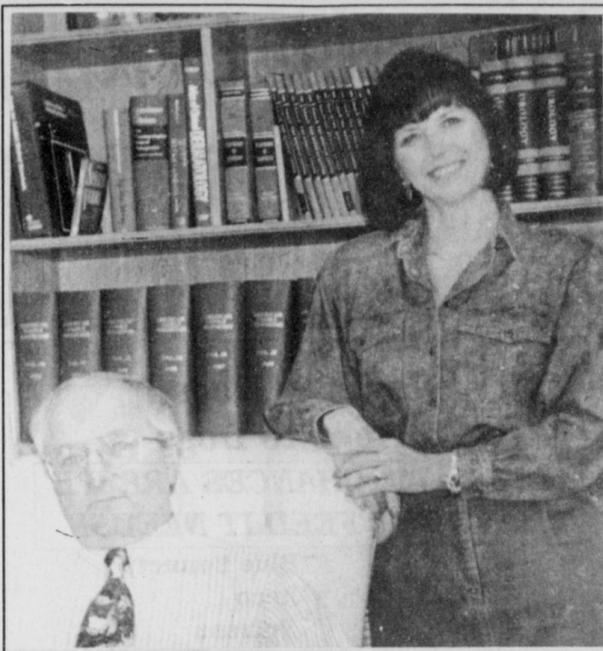

He has a management agreement with Methodist Hospital in Lubbock so he can "concentrate on being a doctor" and let someone else handle the business side.

"I just have to see the patients," said Purdy, who has six full-time employees, including a lab technician, two nurses, a business manager, an insurance specialist and a receptionist.

The Purdys are members of the First Baptist Church. Dr. Purdy is involved in Rotary and is a past president, while his wife is a member of Beta Sigma Phi, a service organization.

They have three sons—Aaron, 16; Tyson, 14; and Derek, 9. All three are active in Boy Scouts: Aaron is an Eagle Scout, Tyson is working on becoming an Eagle Scout, and Derek is a Bear Cub Scout.

Cindy Purdy sees herself as "mostly a full-time mom." But she takes time to be a state trustee on the board for Texas Association of School Boards (TASB). She also is a TASB representative for Region 17.

Bruce and Cindy Purdy

"I like the opportunity of taking our rural ideas to Austin, and I like to bring back ideas to our community."

As a school board member, she is interested in the changes that have been mandated by Senate Bill 1 and in determining how to implement mandates that are not funded.

Dr. Purdy thinks his wife's intelligence and her ability to get a problem out in the open are qualities that make her a good school board member.

"She can't stand conflict.

She wants it fixed," he said. "Very few things get by her. I can't even move a picture frame. She'll notice."

She loves being with people, and he helps make that possible by taking care of the family when she is away from home.

"He's one of my best supporters," she says, "and he's a great listener."

She describes her husband as a compassionate and caring man who loves his patients—a hometown boy who gives back to the community.

gotten. I'd think of things he had forgotten. We had more fun fussing..."

Clifton Finley also talked about being in the Navy in the Pacific. "When the invasions happened, that's when I realized I was in a war," he said.

Bob Phillips, who went to the Iwo Jima 50th reunion in Minneapolis Oct. 23, said 150 from his squadron have died since the war—16 last year and one this year, already.

Next year, his squadron plans to meet near Washington, D.C.

After the breakfast, several of the veterans went over to the courthouse to raise a new flag at the Bailey County Veteran's Memorial.

They saluted as Freddy Anzaldua lowered and raised the flags. Monday night, they went to the VFW building to raise a new flag there.

Three years ago, the American flag, which flies 24 hours a day at the VFW and is lighted, was stolen, along with the ropes.

So the veteran fixed it with steel cables and arranged it so a ladder would be necessary to take down the flag.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvin Stroud and granddaughter, Lessie Jones, from Lake Brownwood, spent the weekend with Arvin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Goldman Stroud. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pollard and Meagan Pollard visited with them Sunday.

Mrs. Rose Nichols was in Lubbock the past week to see her doctor and went by to visit Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dean Nichols.

Some of the Three Way women went to Morton Thursday to visit the residents at the nursing home.

Mrs. Oleta Stanley was admitted to the hospital in Levelland Thursday. Get well soon Oleta.

We were sorry to hear that Hermon Stanely Nichols' house burned in Littlefield. Hermon got burned some and is in the Littlefield hospital, and Stanley has been staying with the Dale Nichols during the weekend.

We had some of the old time West Texas rain, which was the bad sand storm. The worst one was Friday. That's what the old timers used to call them.

Kim Silhan, and little son, took Ellen Bayless to Lubbock Friday for Ellen to see her eye doctor. Allison and Kim did some shopping.

Ashley Layton went with the Three Way 3rd, 4th and 5th graders on a trip to Denver, CO, Saturday morning, and come home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Blackstone was in Lubbock Tuesday and visited her sister, Nell and Jim Coats.

Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Austin visited Mr. and Mrs. Orphus Tate and family Sunday, at Decatur.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Howard and Mrs. Lucille Butler of Littlefield visited their brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Key, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Paula Grant and children, Ashley and Chandler, and Paula's fiancée of Amarillo, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Nichols Friday and spent the night with them.

Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Snitker are home from a trip where they visited his mother, Cicie Snitker and Stanley Snitker, at Midland then visited a son, John Snitker, at Houston.

They also visited her realtives, Eva and Manuel Romas at Bay City. They attended a wedding of a niece at Mission and got to see a lot of her relatives. They said it was cold, and they saw lots of rain.

Ellen Bayless received a phone call from her daughter, Myrtie and Leland Finley, of Odessa Sunday morning. Leland's mother, Inez Finley of Wellington, has passed away. Her services were Tuesday at 2 p.m. in Wellington.

Letter to the Editor

Nov. 8, 1995

We are the parents of one of the members of the Sandia High School marching band that recently competed with your band in the Zia Marching Band Fiesta at the University of New Mexico.

We were quite impressed with the performance of your band. The band members, their parents, the director and your school should be proud of the dedication and teamwork exhibited by the outstanding program they presented at the festival.

While the performance was very well done and enjoyable, what impressed us most was the band director, Rob Lovett.

After the band's performance, he congratulated every band member individually. He either touched the arm or patted the back of every single member as he appeared to congratulate them.

We could not hear his words, but it was clear he was proud of each and every member. He then spoke to the entire band and then, we think, told them he loved them and let out a joyful cheer.

Your community is fortunate to have what appears to be such an outstanding, caring individual teaching its children.

On our behalf, please congratulate your band on its wonderful performance. We hope your visit to Albuquerque was enjoyable. We look forward to watching your band perform again next year, should you decide to return to Zia.

Sincerely,
John P. and Alice B. Simms

Muleshoe library receives 'Books on Tape' collection

The library has received "Books on Tape," a collection of books on cassette tape. The West Texas Library System (WTLS) has begun circulating audio books to its member libraries.

Like the WTLS videos, (20 titles every two months), and the Spanish book collection (50-75 titles every two months) which we have been circulating for several years, we will also circulate the (30) audio book titles.

These will be checked out for two weeks, just as our own books and tapes. The new System audio tapes usually contain at least two tapes, with some as many as eight tapes, and are split about 50/50 on abridged and unabridged readings.

Patrons have reported that they really enjoy the "listening stories" when they are on a trip, or going back and forth to work, so we are pleased to add this additional service.

The West Texas Library System is wonderful help to small libraries in our area. One of most appreciated services is interlibrary loans to our patrons.

If we do not have the items, we Fax the request to Lubbock, and about 90 percent of requests are filled! We also have consultants who come from Lubbock to help us with any problem we may have.

The library has been notified of our accreditation as members of the West Texas Library System for the year of 1996. To qualify, our library had to meet or exceed many standards of excellence in services to the public.

One of the criteria is that our library have two lay representatives each year who will attend meetings of the West Texas Library System, and discuss and vote on the many activities that the System provides for its member libraries.

Louise Agee and Kevin Smith, of Muleshoe, have selected as representatives for our library for a two year term, which began September 1995.

On Sept. 21, a meeting was held at the Mahon Library in Lubbock. Kevin Smith attended this meeting and orientation for new members.

We are very happy to have these two as our representatives. This is a good example of volunteers at work to serve their communities.

HECE News

Every community needs concerned citizens to address the problems it faces.

This year, the Home Economics Cooperative classes are accepting the challenge by getting involved in and planning several community projects.

Students work together to identify a need and then develop innovative projects to promote and support that need.

One successful project just completed was "Safe Halloween '95."

Students gave short presentations on safety tips for Trick-or-Treating or other Halloween activities at Dillman and DeShazo elementary schools. Elementary students were given a coloring page designed by HECE student Jesse Olivas after the presentation for a coloring contest.

Contest winners at Dillman were Derek Wiley and Brittany Williams; at DeShazo they were Calye Tunnel and Brandy Carveo.

The purpose of the program was to allow HECE students to learn about making a difference in the community by assuming leadership roles and a willingness to get involved.

Students participating in "Safe Halloween '95" included Charles Acosta, Yvonne Barra, Yvette Barraz, Linda Barron, Crystal Castro, Crystal Castorena, Kit Dominguez, Rosemary Franco, Candy Garcia.

Also participating were Jorge Garcia, Maria Garcia, Michelle Guerra, Mendy Johnson, Marthella Lewis, Shelby Murphy, Jesse Olivas, Rosa Ramirez, Lisa Rodriguez, Jennifer Rojas, Leticia Villalobos and Sarah Villareal.

Tips for curbing holiday spending

PLAINVIEW—Consumer Credit Counseling service counselors say people who have not formulated a sensible plan for their holiday spending are the most likely to have serious debt problems after the New Year. Now is the time to begin executing their strategies.

In Part 1, CCCS identified planning as the first and most important step in preparing for the holidays. This includes establishing a budget and spending plan, saving cash for purchases; reducing your reliance on credit; and having a plan for repaying debt.

The next step in preparing for the holidays is Working Your Plan. By establishing and utilizing a workable budget and spending plan and following strict guidelines for shopping and other expenses, consumers may achieve a more enjoyable holiday season free from worries of credit and debt problems due to overspending. CCCS suggest the following tips for consumers to avoid financial problems during the holidays:

- First, review your budget and make sure it is still reasonable. Can you afford the amount agreed upon earlier, or have unexpected expenses called for readjustments? Re-adjust and then stick to your budget. If you haven't established a budget start now.
- Prioritize how much you will spend on gifts for each person. Explore cost-saving alternatives such as making gifts, giving homemade baked goods, or even donating a small amount to charity in someone's name.

Jennyslippers learns about protective services

Sheryl Cates, executive director of Women's Protective Services (WPS) in Lubbock, spoke to Jennyslippers in Muleshoe Monday evening, Oct. 24, to inform members of work the WPS is doing and of its many needs.

WPS operates a shelter to provide a safe, secure place for women and children who are victims of family violence, Cates said.

A 24-hour toll-free crisis hotline is available to women suffering from abuse in the home, whether that abuse is emotional, sexual or physical.

A quarter is not required to call the crisis hotline number (1-800-736-6491) from a pay phone. So women leaving hurriedly from an abusive home can call for help, even if they aren't able to take any money with them.

Cates said WPS provides emergency transportation, food, clothing, shelter, medical attention, individual and group counseling services, legal advocacy, and counseling for children.

She listed several items on the WPS "wish list," including linens, bedspreads, pillows, mattress pads, cleaning supplies, toilet paper and blankets.

Cates told members that since many of the women and children coming to the shelter often come with only the clothes on their backs.

So items such as diapers, deodorant, toothpaste, toothbrushes, clothes, games, toys and even school supplies also are needed.

Serving 12 counties in the Lubbock area (including Bailey, Cochran and Lamb) since 1978, the protective services program is supported by volunteers.

WPS is funded by the Texas Department of Human Services, the Governor's office, United Way, churches, civic groups and private donations.

Cates suggested ways the Jennyslippers could help WPS with its needs. These ideas will be discussed at the next Jennyslippers meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 14 at the Carousel.

Also at the meeting:

- Jennyslippers worked on

Sheryl Cates

welcome packets. Members placed items donated by area businesses in bags provided by the Chamber of Commerce.

- Jennyslippers discussed the annual barbecue dinner scheduled for Friday, Dec. 1 and building a float for the Christmas parade.

Muleshoe Lions Club breaks new ground

The Lions Club welcomed two new members this month. But it was not a typical welcome ceremony.

Wanda Hooten and Shannon Martin were admitted as the first female members of the Lions Club Nov. 8.

Wanda was sponsored by her father-in-law, Robert Hooten, and Shannon was sponsored by her employer, Ronnie Holt.

"Our club has had an open gender policy for quite some time, but we had never been approached by women wishing to join our club," Lions Club president Stacy Conner, said. "We are excited to have Wanda and Shannon join with our club. We look forward to their enthusiasm and service in our club."

Conner added that "membership in the Lions Club is open to anyone in the Muleshoe community."

The Lions are an international club committed to the eradication of preventable blindness around the world, as well as numerous local projects. Locally, the Lions club works with school officials to secure vision aid for students who need assistance.

Cooperation encouraged during Family Week

National Family Week, Nov. 19-25, 1995, is an opportunity for individuals and families to celebrate bonds and to draw attention to needs according to Curtis Preston, County Extension Agent, Bailey County.

National groups, including the Cooperative Extension Service, the National Council on Family Relations, Family Service America, Inc., are linking together to encourage special attention to issues facing families in coping with change.

Texas families face many challenges, according to the recent report of the Texas Commission on Children and Youth: "Safeguarding Our Future—Children and Families First."

At the same time, Texas families and community groups are joining together to provide for improved access to medical care and human services, to enhance the quality of child and elder care, to work toward reasonable balances in work and family responsibilities, and to improve children and youth in constructive experiences which contribute to their growth and development.

Research indicates there are basic factors which make families strong and viable.

These include:

- Showing appreciation for others
- Spending time together
- Communicating openly
- Commitment to each other

- Devotion to values and spiritual reverence
- Ability to deal with crisis

Today's families need support of the community and the work place to meet their needs and challenges.

National Family Week is a good time to reflect and to respond to the goal of "Safeguarding Our Future—Putting Children and Families First."

The Student Community Action Club (SCAC) met on Oct. 16, 1995, in the home of Holly Hutton. Barak Harlan, president, opened the meeting and John Embry said the prayer.

Mark McGuire introduced the speaker, Emilio Estrada. Mr. Estrada told the club about his job in the Muleshoe Independent School District. Mark McGuire then presented Estrada with a boutonniere for being the October Citizen of the month.

The members then discussed the PTA Fall Festival with five members volunteering to help. The theme committee was voted on to decide a theme for the Christmas decorations at the Janes Ranch House.

The meeting was closed by the president and announced the next meeting would be Nov. 20 at 7:30 p.m. at Daniel Garbarino's home.

Kids Cooking with Dairy Foods

According to Jan Newquist, licensed registered dietician and program director with Associated Milk Producers, Inc. in Albuquerque, "It's important to take time to teach your children to cook — and spend time with them in food-related activities." Passing down family traditions and values, helping children develop fine motor skills, and teaching practical math/science applications are just a few of the many reasons why children should be taught cooking.

Newquist will be a guest on Creative Living on Tuesday, November 21st at 10:30 p.m. She will demonstrate some power packed dairy snacks for after school or anytime, and will discuss the kinds of things parents can teach their children about cooking.

Newquist stresses that it's important to have all ingredients, pans, and utensils ready before embarking on food activities, and to allow the child to do the actual preparation. Of course, safety and adequate supervision are of utmost importance.

The following dairy food recipes are easy to prepare, require few ingredients, and are power-packed with nutrients as well as flavor. Try them!

TINY PIZZA TRIANGLES

- 1 tablespoon tomato sauce
- 1 slice of American, Cheddar or Mozzarella Cheese

- 1/2 can frozen orange juice, thawed
- 2 tablespoons sugar (optional)

Combine all ingredients in a large plastic container with a tight lid. Cover and shake until smooth. Makes 2 portions.

MAC AND CHEESE CASSEROLE

CHEESE ROLL-UPS

- Lettuce leaf
- 1 thin slice of tomato
- 1 slice cheese

On a small leaf of lettuce place a slice of cheese and tomato. Roll up like a jelly roll. Makes 1 portion.
