

Lady Mules can't shake mini slump

By RICK WHITE
Managing Editor

Mandy Cleavinger was surprisingly upbeat Monday after Muleshoe High School lost its second straight game, 53-41, to Hereford at WJHS gym.

"As long as we're having fun and keep working hard in practice, we'll be alright," said Cleavinger, who scored a game-high 19 points for the Lady Mules. "It gets frustrating when we find it easier to quit working."

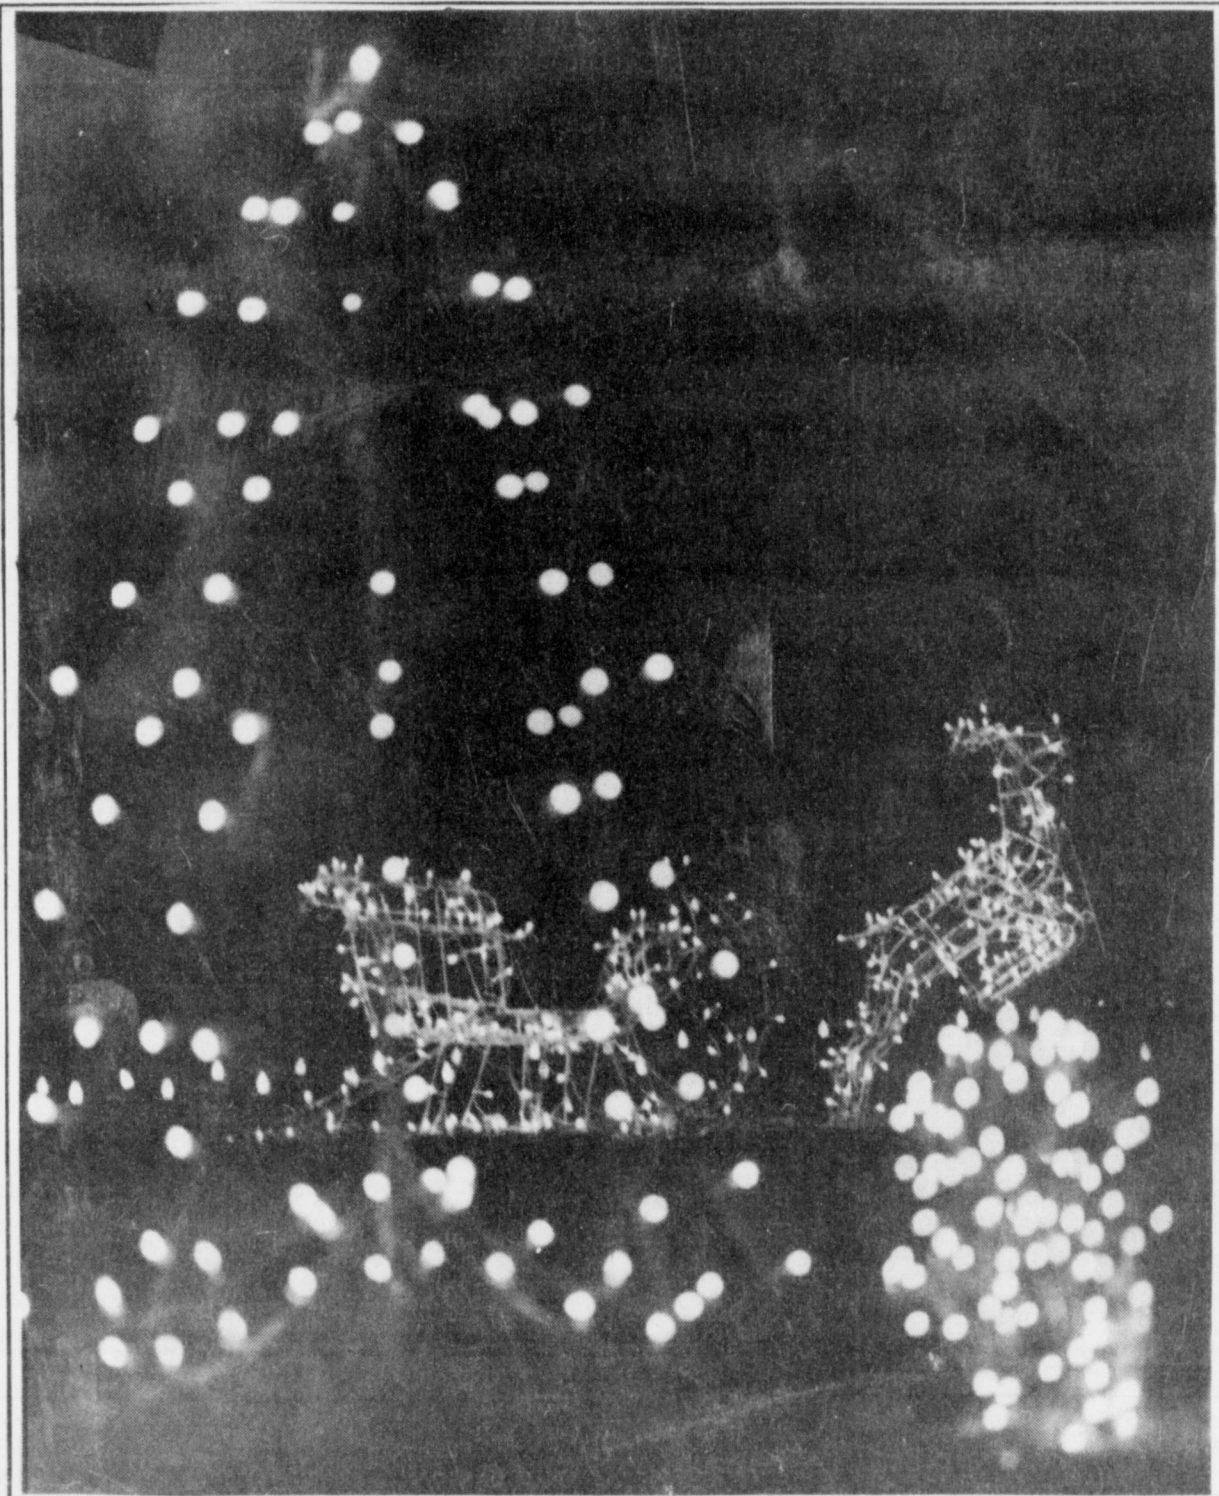

Muleshoe (11-4) hasn't played well since finishing third in the Canyon Classic in early December.

A prolonged shooting slump, not being at full strength, and quality opponents have all contributed to the Lady Mules' mini slump.

"We haven't played well in two weeks," Muleshoe coach Jim Gruhlkey said. "(The girls) know it. They keep asking, 'How do we get out of the slump?' We have to shoot our way out of it more than anything else."

Most of the Lady Mules have been fighting off colds and the flu the last few weeks.

Pheasant hunting time-honored tradition

By MARTHA TOLES FROST
City Editor

Pheasant numbers are down this season, but that doesn't seem to be deterring area hunters, whose purpose seems to be more comradere than hunting birds.

Dallas and Houston businessmen flooded area fields after attending the annual pheasant hunt breakfast put on by the Lions Club in Muleshoe Dec. 9, the morning the season opened.

Since then, pickup loads of men, women and youths—dressed in camouflage Army green or Desert Storm khaki—have braved the cold temperatures to pursue pheasants.

They are re-enacting the annual tradition—trudging up and down fields, stalking their prey, blocking the ends, shooting at an occasional jack rabbit, and generally enjoying the great outdoors.

For 12-year-old David Morris of Muleshoe—who was pictured along with other young hunters recently in Hunting Retriever magazine—pheasant hunting is an annual father-son ritual he has been involved in since he was seven or eight years old.

He speaks the jargon of the hunt. He knows his place in the strategy of flushing the birds. "You just walk it. You hunt all day. You clean at night," he said without explanation.

His father, Randy Morris, said sometimes there are as many as 10 people on the end of the field—out of shotgun range—blocking the escape of the pheasants. "The blocker gets the bird as it flies over," he said.

For Sammie Hall, who had hunters cleaning about 80 pheasants in her garage last weekend, the annual pheasant hunt involves cooking for a lot of people.

Learning by trial and error

Patty Collins, a fictitious teenager who chose to drink alcohol one dark and stormy night, died of exposure when she fell down in the freezing cold after a party.

The fate of "Bud Wiser," who served alcohol to minors that night, was decided in a mock trial at Muleshoe High School Monday by six jurors and judge Holly Hutton in John Gulley's senior government class.

In the "State of Minnesota vs Bud Wiser," the defendant was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor and with second degree manslaughter.

The possible consequences of contributing to the delinquency of a minor were 91 days to one year in jail and at least a $500 fine. Or both. The second degree manslaughter charge could result in not more than seven years imprisonment and not more than $7,000 in fines. Or both.

After the prosecution rested its case, due to the eminent approach of semester exams, the jury found Wiser guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, but not guilty of second degree manslaughter. Hutton sentenced him with a $700 fine and no jail time.

The purpose of the exercise, Gulley said, was to help students understand what really goes on in the legal system.

Cross-examination

During a mock trial at MHS, defense attorney Samuel Villarreal cross-examines witness Leo Gallegos. The State of Minnesota vs "Bud Wiser" rested its case Monday.

"The system is more complex than you might ordinarily think," said student defense attorney Tyson Montcrief.

"I would feel bad if I had to defend a guilty person, said prosecuting attorney Irene Logan. "It would be hypocritical."

Gulley said that in the adversarial system, lawyers' reputations are at stake. "They are obligated to do the best for their client, regardless of their feelings."

Defense attorney Samuel Villarreal, who recited a nursery rhyme with a straight face during his summation, said "I had to twist the truth—do some fancy moves to get my way—I didn't actually lie."

Prosecuting attorney Reagan McElroy was troubled by "going blank" and "not knowing what to ask" at times.

"Lawyers have to be logical and focused in difficult circumstances," Gulley said. "Some carry their notes with them so they won't forget a point."

When Mr. Gulley asked how many in the class would like to become lawyers, six students raised their hands.

McElroy said she would like to become a lawyer—if she didn't have to go through law school.

Some students thought being a lawyer would be boring and repetitive—others thought there would be something different every day. Gulley said, "Maybe we should have some lawyers come speak to the class."

Mr. Gulley asked the jurors why they decided the way they did.

Kim Griswold said it was Bud Wiser's "attitude" that convicted him of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

"He said he couldn't remember who he served alcohol to or how old they were," agreed juror Jacki Chapman. "He killed his reliability as a witness."

"I have to feed and water them the first weekend of pheasant season every year," she said. "They come to my house—about 40 of them. They have the time of their life."

It all started when her cousin from Midland began bringing the hunters in 1980. "They're kind of like family. They get together every year and swap deer hunting for pheasant hunting."

Every year, after the hunters leave, Mrs. Hall freezes the dressed pheasants and ships them in styrofoam boxes, if the hunters live too far away to carry the meat back with them.

The Parks and Wildlife Department attributes the 32 percent decrease in pheasant population in the northern 56 counties of Texas the last few

Vela in tune with her talent

ARLINGTON — Glori Vela, whose grandparents live in Muleshoe, was the subject of a feature story recently in the Fort Worth Star Telegram.

Two weeks ago, the 11th grader at Bowie High School earned fifth chair in the Arlington All Region Orchestra, ranking No. 5 out of 12 violists.

According to the story, before attending a summer camp for string players in June, Vela wanted to be a veterinarian. Now she aspires to a prime chair at the Dallas, Cleveland or Philadelphia Orchestra.

Attending the Killington Music Festival in Vermont with leading contemporary composers and top music students from all over the world.

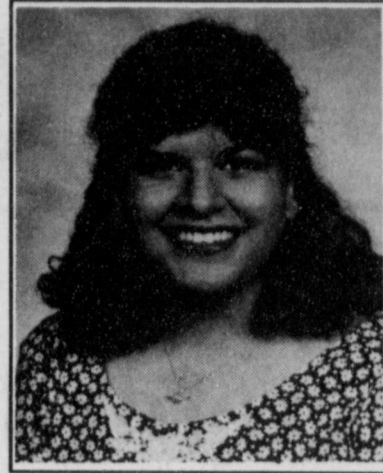

She auditioned for the orchestra camp, and her $2,800 tuition was paid through a scholarship from the Arlington Hispanic Advisory Council and from money raised through a garage sale sponsored by her school.

She told the Fort Worth Star that the experience exposed her to a higher level of playing, which helped her develop a better ear for music and a feel for the emotion involved in playing.

Vela, 17—the granddaughter of Joe and Susie Vela and E.T. and Chris Ford, all of Muleshoe—has been playing the viola (because she likes its mellow sound) since fifth grade.

Her mother, Christy Vela, says she's a perfectionist. Holly Burton, a music teacher at Bowie High School, says Vela is good enough and has the drive and enthusiasm to become a professional musician. The young violist, who is Senior guard Lauri Puckett didn't play Monday because of a 103 degree temperature.

"Maybe we just need some rest," Gruhlkey said.

And more forgiving opponents.

Hereford was ranked in the top 10 in Class 4A before losing to Randall last week. A 61-47 loss at Sudan Saturday started the two-game slide. Sudan is ranked second in Class 1A.

Both teams made the Lady Mules pay for every mistake.

Hereford (11-2) jumped out to a 13-4 first quarter lead Monday, sparked by back-to-back 3-pointers by Julie Rampley. Meanwhile, Muleshoe missed several easy shots early.

The Lady Whitefaces stretched their lead to 20-8 with three minutes left in the half.

Muleshoe cut the lead to eight by halftime, and to 26-23 early in the third quarter. Cleavinger scored nine points in the run.

Brandi Harrison's layup kept the Lady Mules' within five, 32-27, with two minutes left in the third quarter.

But Rampley picked

Harrison's pocket in the backcourt and scored following a Hereford miss on its next possession. Julie Cole converted an offensive rebound with 40 seconds left in the third quarter to give the Lady Whitefaces a 36-27 lead.

Rampley (18 points) hit her fourth of five 3-pointers early in the fourth quarter and Hereford led by at least eight points the rest of the way.

Hereford beat Muleshoe, 56-41, in the I-27 Tournament Dec. 8.

"When we don't score down our end, we're not picking it up at the other end," Gruhlkey said about this team's shooting woes. "It gets discouraging. And then we let down a little."

Harrison added eight points for Muleshoe and Kristen Nichols finished with six.

Senior guard Allyson Field again was in foul trouble. She's fouled out of the last two games

"We need her," Cleavinger said. "She's a playmaker."

After taking a break for Christmas, Muleshoe plays Farwell Dec. 28 in the first round of the Sudan Tournament.

Trial

"It was his responsibility to check on their ages," juror Rebecca Snell added.

McElroy said she was surprised that none of the jurors said they were swayed by anything the attorneys had said.

"That's the way it's supposed to be," Mr. Gulley said. "Jurors are supposed to listen to the witnesses and decide based on the evidence, which is 'in the bag,'" Gulley joked as he held up a blue plastic shopping bag.

"If you could change anything about the trial, what would it be?" Gulley asked the class.

"I would not have Tyson ask Bud Wiser any questions," said prosecuting attorney Johnny Rodriguez.

"I would remember what my point was before I sat down," said McElroy.

Gulley purchased the mock trial outline last year, and it is the second time he has tried the experiment in his government class. "But the students have to fill in the blanks," he said, "like the names of people and what they are going to say."

Mules continue growing pains in loss to Hereford

Featuring a fastbreak that threatened the new state speed limit and a potent inside game, Hereford dispatched Muleshoe, 79-52, Monday night at WJHS gym.

After falling behind by as much as 12 points early, Muleshoe got within 24-18 two minutes into the second quarter on an inside hoop by Jesse Gonzales and trailed 31-22 at the halftime.

The second half was a different story.

Hereford (7-7) extended its lead to 53-32 late in the third quarter behind the dominating inside play of Isaac Walker (24 points) and Michael High (19 points). The two combined for 12 of Hereford's 26 points in the third quarter.

"You learn a different level of basketball playing games like this," Muleshoe coach Ralph Mason said after the Mules got thumped by a Class 4A opponent for the second time in four days. "The young kids learn the importance of fundamentals and aggressiveness."

Canyon beat Muleshoe, 72-49, Friday.

Edward Olivas led Muleshoe (4-10) Monday with 13 points. Daniel Garbarino and Jesse Gonzales added eight points each.

Garbarino suffered a knee injury in the first half and didn't return. It was the same knee he had minor surgery on earlier in the season.

Mason said he could schedule lesser opponents, which would lend toward a better

LAZBUDDIE — After opening its season with nine games on the road, Lazbuddie felt right at home Monday night — until the last three minutes of the game.

That's when the Longhorns nearly blew a 13-point before holding on for a 63-60 win over Hart.

Hart (7-5) got within two points behind the long distance bombs of Jeremy Card, who hit three NBA-range 3-pointers in the last three minutes.

But Heath Brown, Josh Warren and Guy Nickels all hit two free throws down the stretch to preserve the win.

"We never really got after it," Lazbuddie coach Gary Grahn said. "But we survived it."

Jason Thomas led Lazbuddie (8-2) with 21 points. Justin St. Clair added 10.

Difference in 6-man final can be measured in Miles

SWEETWATER — In a season of staggering numbers, Dewayne Miles saved his best for last Saturday.

The 6-2, 215-pound senior rushed for a career-high 416 yards and scored eight touchdowns, leading Amherst its second straight state title, 72-48 over Milford.

Miles finished the year with 3,541 yards rushing and 90 touchdowns.

District 2-1A champion Amherst jumped out a 38-0 second-quarter lead in a rematch of last year's state championship game.

Milford pulled within 58-42 with a little less than six minutes left in the game.

But Amherst (15-0) answered with a 16-yard run by Tommy Traylor and a 40-yard run by Miles to put the game out of reach.

Chris Pendleton passed for 368 yards and six touchdowns for Milford (13-2) in the highest-scoring six-man championship game ever in Texas.

Sudan stomps Muleshoe, 61-47

SUDAN — Kassie Kenne took just three shots Saturday, but two were back-breaking 3-pointers to start and end the third quarter, giving Sudan a nine-point lead.

The Lady Hornets then picked apart a tired and foul-plagued Muleshoe in the fourth quarter, pulling away for a 61-47 win Saturday.

Senior Mandy Cleavinger, Muleshoe's leading scorer on the season, fouled out with four minutes left in the game, scoring a season-low five points. Fellow senior Allyson Field also fouled out. Both were in foul trouble most of the game.

Brandi Harrison scored 11 of her team-high 15 points to keep Muleshoe (11-3) close in the first half.

Muleshoe led twice in the game, 19-18, on Harrison's 12 footer, and 21-20, on a layup by Kristen Nichols.

But Breanne Baker scored four of her game-high 19 points and Shaun Weaver converted a backcourt steal into a layup as Sudan (12-3) took a 26-23 halftime lead.

Weaver, who finished with eight points, almost singlehandedly handled

Muleshoe's full-court pressure.

Heather Bourland's only 3-pointer midway through the third quarter gave Sudan its biggest lead of the game to that point, 38-25.

Muleshoe had one last rally left, clawing back to 38-32 on a three-point play by Nichols and four points from Melissa Williams (11 points).

Sudan maintained possession of the ball (two offensive rebounds) for the last 1:23 of the third quarter before Kenne hit a 3-pointer with five seconds left.

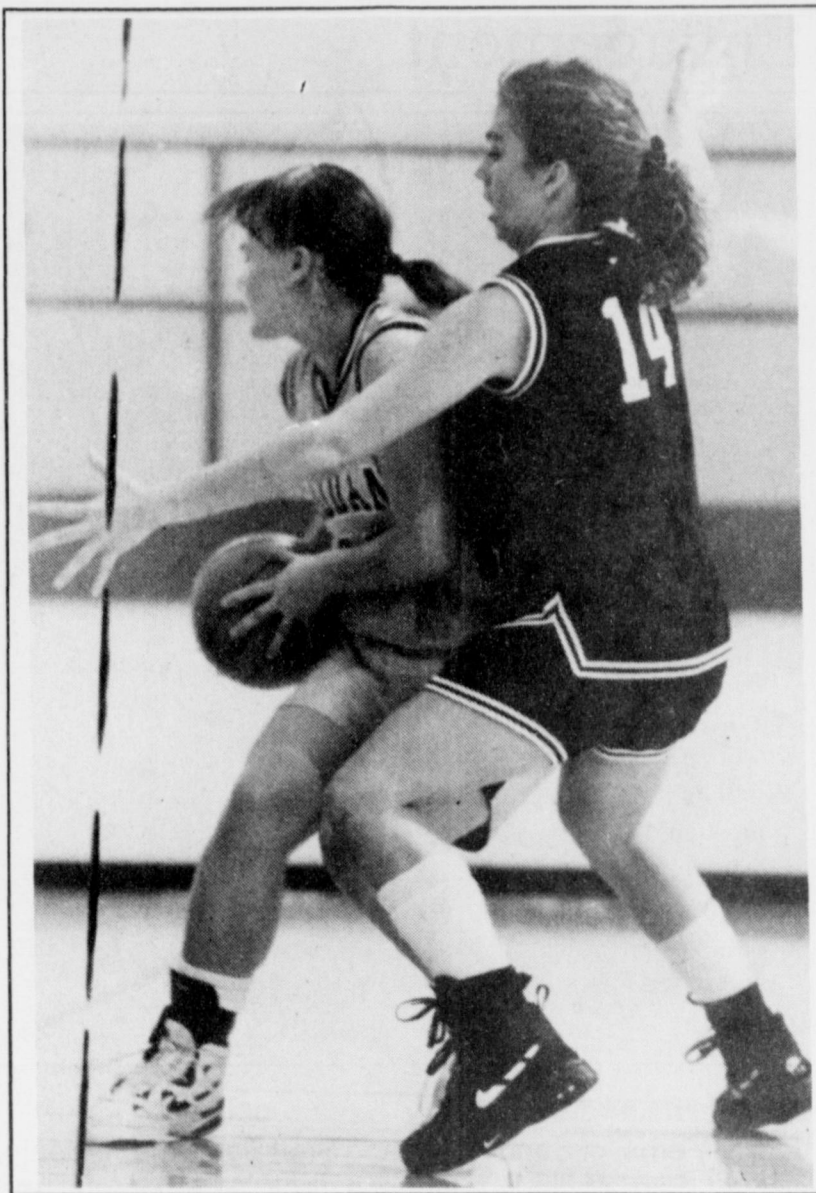

Bourland added 11 points for Sudan (12-3) and Caci Schovajsa finished with 10.

Featured Patient

Goldie Baker has lived in Muleshoe since 1948. She was married to the late E.O. Baker.

The Bakers had two children, Ruth Mallory of Indiana and the late Ruby Kerr. She has twelve grandchildren—one is Lindy Schuster of Muleshoe, and one great-grandchild.

Mrs. Baker really enjoys the girls from the Muleshoe Area Home Health Agency. They take very good care of her.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The recent lighted Christmas parade was a resounding success. Main Street in Muleshoe looks better than ever before. The decorations on the Mule Lot are creative and attractive. The Heritage Foundation Complex is an asset to be envied by any community.

The directors and members of both the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture and the Heritage Foundation can take great pride in knowing that their cooperative efforts are bearing the desired fruit. They are truly working for the betterment of our community and deserve our thanks and cooperation.

Sincerely,
Carolyn Johnson

Muleshoe Cattle Market

Saturday, Dec. 17th, 1995

732 head of cattle were sold.

The market trend was steady on stocker calves. Heifer calves were $1-$2 lower. Feeder cattle sold $1-$2 higher. There was a good demand for pairs and bred cows with fewer receipts. Packer cows sold $2-$3 higher finally. Remember, there will be no sales December 23rd & 30th. We hope everybody has a Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year!!

THE MOUSEHOLE CAT

The Mousehole Cat is a beautifully animated adaptation of Antonia Barber's picture book. Inspired by an old Cornish legend, it presents a story of courage and overcoming fear at Christmastime.

The story takes place in Cornwall, England, in the fishing village of Mousehole, so named because of the smallness of its harbor. Legend has it that once a cat named Mowzer lived there with an old fisherman called Tom. One terrible winter, no boat could go out to fish. Soon, with Christmas approaching, there was no food left in Mousehole. So Tom and Mowzer set out in their little boat to save the village.

The Mousehole Cat airs Tuesday, December 19th at 12:30 p.m., Thursday, December 21st at 12:00 p.m., and Sunday, December 24th at 9:30 a.m. on KENW-TV.

FATHER CHRISTMAS

A year in the life of Santa Claus — bearded benefactor and regular guy — and how he spends his off-hours is the premise of the delightful holiday special Father Christmas. The breathtaking animation is visually faithful to British author Raymond Briggs' popular books Father Christmas and Father Christmas Goes on Holiday.

So how does Santa keep himself occupied after Christmas eve is over? For one thing, he's enthusiastic about his hobbies — painting and bird-watching — and is devoted to his cat, his dog, and his beloved reindeer.

Father Christmas will be broadcast Monday, December 25th at 8:00 p.m. on KENW-TV.

CINCINNATI POPS HOLIDAY WITH ERICH KUNZEL AND MEL TORME

Singer/songwriter Mel Torme joins renowned pops conductor Erich Kunzel and the Cincinnati Pops Orchestra in a gala Christmas Eve concert celebrating the 50th anniversary of his beloved "Christmas Song." Marking the orchestra's first national television production, Cincinnati Pops Holiday features an exuberant mix of traditional carols, popular favorites, children's voices, and dancing.

Cincinnati Pops Holiday with Erich Kunzel and Mel Torme, airs Sunday, December 24th, 10:00 p.m. and repeats Monday, December 25th, 1:00 p.m. on KENW-TV.

Angel Tree

Once again, it's that time of the year. Most of us reflect on the wonderful blessings bestowed upon us this year. However, many in our own community are less fortunate.

The Leal's Angel Tree Project enables you to make this a memorable Christmas for some of these children. Please take an Angel from the tree. The red Angels represent a boy and the green Angels represent a girl. You will find information including sizes and needs for these kids. Please return the gifts, along with the Angel by Friday, the 22nd of December. On behalf of the children, thank you and God richly bless you this Christmas season.

Obituaries

Jason Redwine

Jason Dale Redwine
 MULESHOE — Funeral services for Jason D. Redwine, 21, of Hubert, North Carolina, formerly of Muleshoe will be at the Frist Baptist Church of Muleshoe, Friday, Dec. 22, with the pastor, Stacy Conner, officiating.

Burial will be in the Muleshoe Memorial Park under the direction of the Ellis Funeral Home of Muleshoe.

Jason died Dec. 18 in the Craven Regional Medical Center of New Bern, North Carolina where he had been stationed with the United States Marines since 1992. He was born Feb. 6, 1974 in Houston, TX.

He was a Muleshoe High School graduate, where he was active in FFA. He was a member of the First Baptist Church of Muleshoe. He was a member of the United States Marine Corp. He was married to Marcy Youngerman.

Survivors include his wife, Marcy; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Redwine of Muleshoe; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Redwine of Muleshoe; one brother, Jarrod Redwine of Muleshoe.

Jo Ann Kline

MULESHOE — Mass for Jo Ann Kline was said Monday, 11 a.m., at St. Ramon Catholic Church in Woodrow, with Father Joseph Augustine officiating.

Burial was in the Resthaven

Memorial Cemetery in Lubbock under the direction of the Ellis Funeral Home of Muleshoe.

Mrs. Kline died Dec. 16 at the Muleshoe Area Medical center after an illness. She was born June 19, 1940 in Lubbock County. She had been a resident of Muleshoe since 1980, moving here from Odessa.

She had worked as a waitress and was a homemaker. She was a member of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church of Muleshoe.

Survivors include two sons, Jeff Kline of Middleburg, VA and Scott Kline of Muleshoe; three brothers, William Joseph Angerer of Lubbock, Jim Angerer of Lubbock and Tom Angerer of Munday; three sisters, Grace Marie White of Lubbock, Evelyn Ziegenfuss of Muleshoe and Betty Tate of Lubbock; and one grandchild.

The family suggest memorials to the American Cancer Society.

Jack Gunnels

MORTON — Funeral services for Jack Gunnels, 78, of Morton were held Tuesday at the First Baptist Church of Morton with Dr. George Cooper of San Angelo and the Rev. Danny Jackson, pastor, officiating.

Burial followed in the

Morton Memorial Cemetery under the direction of the Ellis Funeral Home of Morton.

Mr. Gunnels died Sunday, Dec. 17, at his residence in Morton. He was born Dec. 16, 1917 in Haskell County. He married Wanda Igo on Aug. 29, 1941 in Morton.

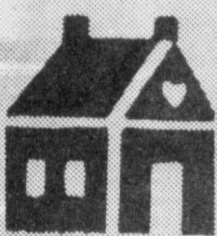

He had lived in Morton since 1939 moving there from Haskell. He was a member of the First Baptist Church of Morton. He was a veteran of WWII, serving in the U.S. Army.

Survivors include his wife,

Wanda of the home; one son, Jim Gunnels of Ballinger; two daughters, Rita Cox of Midland and Cindy Kuehler of Lubbock; two sisters, Juanita Brown of Lubbock and Grace Helton of Rochester; four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Casket bearers were W.M. Butler, Wayne Butler, J.C. Reynolds, Robbie Key, Bob Polvado and Ben Kuehler.

The family suggest memorials to the American Cancer Society, 2411 73rd, Lubbock, TX 79423.

Merry Christmas

NORTH POLE

Dear Santa:

I want a truck. I want a horn, I want a horn for my sister, a choo-choo train for my brother, and a drum for me. I want a car. I want two Barney's and two candy canes.

Craig Black

Dear Santa:

I want a new race car. I want, I think a gun that works. A push and button sword and a horn to blow in. I think an airplane to fly. And a choo-choo train to watch it go at my house and a push and button basketball.

Hayden Saylor

Dear Santa:

I want a Princess and Swan movie I saw it on TV. I want the one that floats over the bath tub and she stays up. My brother wants Godzilla movie and the toys. And I want a teddy bear and a playtime puppy and a playtime kitty.

Katlin Luscombe

Dear Santa:

Picture, teddy bear, doll baby, cane.

Amy Howard

Dear Santa:

A train and a bear. A little toy teddy bear. And I want a little toy doll and I want a rocking horse and a drum and a ball a bunch of toys. I made a bunch of Santa Christmas cookies at Rudy's house. And I want a spinner and a horn.

Jackie Bryant

Dear Santa:

My name is J.R. Young. I have been a good boy, I think. I am in Ms. Walker's room. I am 5 years old. I live with my Dad at Muleshoe Texas.

I want some toys, a bunch of toys. I want one candy. My Dad needs a new pickup.

That's all cause my voice is tired and Gail is writing for me. I love you.

J.R. Young

Dear Santa:

Toys. I not like Santa, Keefer likes Santa. I want to draw Santa in the picture. 10 toys. I like Santa. I like Kinder Korner Kids. Toys.

Gage

Dear Santa:

A bow and arrow. And two others. I'm getting my Dad one. I'm getting my Dad a real one. I want a bunch of race cars. I got a book race cars. I got one. That's all.

Jake Herington

Dear Santa:

How is Rudolph doing? Now I want goggles for Christmas. And I want a Godzilla. He is big. And I want some cowboy boots. And I want a choo-choo train. I'm not sure what Brett wants for him. I think that is all.

Austin Bamert

Dear Santa:

Toys. I don't know. Boots and some puzzles.

Matthew Bryant

Dear Santa:

A sticker, a baby, a Barbie, a puzzle, colors, a, b, c, d, and candies and a choo-choo, a bear, horn, a ball. That's all.

Daniella

Dear Santa:

I would like a red pickup (little one) and roller blades. That is all. Colton wants a little pickup too. He is eight months old. I have been good so you can come see me. I am ready for Christmas.

Love

Cassi Stegall

Dear Santa:

I have been good. I would like a race car track. I want one with two controls, even a Power Ranger and a snake (play snake). I might be on the cotton stripper when you come, just leave my toys at my house.

Thanks,

Riley Smith

Dear Santa:

I would like a Christmas bear and street sharks to play with. I can't think of anything else. I have a new stocking hanging in my house that you can fill up.

*'Twas the night before Christmas,
when all through the house
Not a creature was stirring,
not even a mouse,
The stockings were hung by the
chimney with care,
In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there.
The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugar-plums danced in their heads.*

Little Christmas Cowboy

He got his first horse at Christmas this year from good ol' Uncle Stephen.

For Wrangler-in-Charge, he looked pretty young but looks can be deceivin'.

He topped out his bronc 'fore cook lit the fire with lots of loud Ty Yi' in'.

And if he laid off or slighted the horse it weren't for lack of tryin'.

He rope broke him quick and taught him to bak and hold tight any bad actor.

No critter escaped the reach of his loop; Pooh, Big Bird or the tractor.

They covered the range from sofa to rug and ruled the carpet nation.

The dog and the cat soon gave him wide berth, such was his reputation.

Sometimes he would take his quiver and bow and wear a turkey feather.

"Me Indie," he'd say and chased buffalo. The plains went on forever.

When Sonny would buck, and he could sure buck, the kid might come un-seated.

"Me rodeo, Dad," then get right back on, scuffed up but undefeated.

Last night after chuck he readied for bed but since he'd not unsaddled

He patted his horse and asked, "Okay, Dad, me, Sonny, check the cattle?"

I mighta been green but I could detect a sucker play unfoldin'.

Just any excuse so he could stay up, each second saved was golden.

"Sure, get on yer horse," I prompted the kid. He sorta hesitated.

He wasn't quite dressed to mount up and ride, his inner mind debated.

He gathered his rope and steadied the horse then looked back for permission.

The boss held his gaze, then gave him a nod. He swung into position.

He let out a whoop and rode off to give the herd a quick inspection.

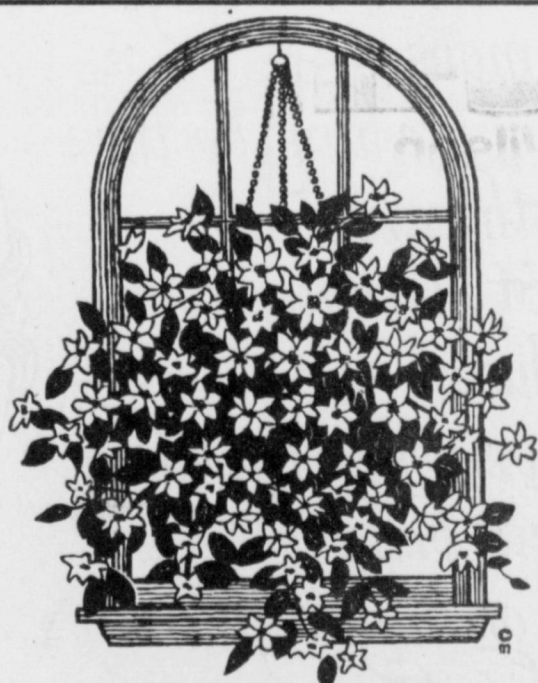

To be a top hand you go by the rules, the height of circumspection.

He'd already learned that young buckaroos must check in with their mamas,

'Cause she'd always said that real cowboys don't ride in their pajamas.

We're probably not on your Christmas list.

Most people might prefer not to think of a hospital over the holidays. But some will have to. There will be injuries and illnesses..... and babies will be born. And at this hospital, over the 24 hours of Christmas Day, some people will be doing just what we do every day, in case you need us. Some will celebrate Christmas with our own families early, some late, so we will be here if you need us. Most of you won't think about us at all, because you'll just know we're here. And that makes us very proud.
