Definite School Opening Plans

CLASSES WILL START SEPT. 12

Three announcements of vital interest to school children and patrons were made this week by Superintendent C. Wedgeworth:

First, all grammar school and high school classes will be held this year under less crowded and in even

Ninth Ira Year As School Chief Begun by Taylor

Elmer L. Taylor began his ninth year as superintendent of the Ira Independent School as the school opened its doors for the 1938-39 term Monday. Transfer of about 60 students from Canyon and Bison gives Ira increased enrollment totaling 308 this week.

Addition of three and one-half affiliated credits last year brings the number of units to 19 1/2. Five school buses are being used to pick up students from the surrounding communities this year, one has been added since last year.

Faculty includes two new teachers, W. T. (Pat) Falls, a home-community boy, who completed college work at West Texas State Teachers College, Canyon, this summer, and Herschel Dunn of Coleman, an Abilene Christian College product. Dunn was elected late Wednesday to replace a teacher in high school who resigned this week.

Other faculty members, returning for at least the second year, are the following: High school Principal E. W. Baldwin, Margaret Dell Prim, Jo Halley; grammar school—Principal Earl Horton, Marie Casey, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Baldwin, Mrs. Ben F. Thorpe.

ON ACTIVE LIST

Word form Senator Morris Sheppard and from the assistant director of the PWA at Washington, received Tuesday by local school authorities, indicates that the Snyder school rebuilding project has been placed on the "active" list.

This step is generally considered as equivalent to prompt acceptance of a PWA project, and President J. G. Hicks of the school board said yesterday that notice of final approval is expected within a short time.

ery way better conditions than were possible after the school building burned last spring.

Second, the entire faculty has been selected, and the full list will be published in next week's Times.

Third, instead of losing any high school affiliation because of adverse conditions last spring, four and one-half new credits have been added, bringing the total to 41 units of affiliation.

Begins September 12. Monday, September 12, is the opening day of school. Full plans for an opening program will be announced in a few days.

Eight buildings will be used for school work, instead of the five buildings used last spring, eliminating crowded conditions and other disadvantages.

The first grade will go to the First Baptist Church. Only three teachers will work there, in contrast to five last year.

The second grade will have classes in the First Christian Church.

The third grade goes to the First Methodist Church, where two teachers will have classes, in contrast with three teachers there last spring. Dark inside rooms will thus be eliminated.

Other Grade Changes. The fourth grade will meet in the First Presbyterian Church.

The fifth grade will go to the American Legion hall, three blocks west of the square on the highway.

Transfer of the fifth grade from the gymnasium to the legion hall leaves plenty of room in the gym by placing two class rooms in the bus storage space, the buses being brought to town for storage. Bur-lap partitions in the gym are being replaced with ship-lap partitions.

High school classes, with the exception of home economics, will be held in the old school building. Home economics work will be held in the present home of Willard Jones, just north of the campus, complete equipment for full courses to be placed there soon.

New Equipment Added. New seating, blackboard and teacher equipment is being added in all the buildings, and Superintendent Wedgeworth says every effort is being made to make teachers and students comfortable and their work convenient and pleasant.

That last spring's school session was successful despite adverse conditions.

It's Tonight!

Monday and Tuesday the big-batted, big-talking, big-singing, big-colored gang of rodeo advertisers from Snyder strutted their stuff in no uncertain manner in a number of West Texas towns.

They stopped on the square a few minutes, when they returned, to give a sample to home folks.

But the sample wasn't enough, and many folks have been clamoring for more. Therefore, this (Thursday) evening at 7:00 o'clock, on the courthouse lawn, the entire gang will give a root-in', tootin' program similar to the one given along the advertising route.

Everybody is urged to come out in cowboy regalia, ready for a regular pre-rodeo pep rally. After the rally, folks will be invited to hop in their cars and go out for an inspection of the rodeo grounds.

Press Leader

At Seymour last Saturday, during annual convention of the West Texas Press Association, Douglas Meador of Matador was elected president of the newspaper group. He is best known for his column, "Trail Dust," which won first place recently in a state-wide contest.

FLOOD APPEAL AGAIN SENT TO COUNTY FOLKS

Snyder and Area Practically Deaf To Request for Funds to Aid July Sufferers

Fourth urgent appeal for Scurry County to send donations to the Red Cross for the aid of Texas flood sufferers came to Mrs. Carrie Line, local chairman, early this week.

So far, Snyder and Scurry County have turned practically a deaf ear to the appeal, despite the fact that Brady and a large portion of Central and South Central Texas continue to need thousands of dollars for rehabilitation.

Only $4 had been turned over to Mrs. Line yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. R. O. von Roeder gave $2, Mrs. J. T. Patterson gave $1, and the Times Publishing Company gave $1.

Contributions may be left with Mrs. Line or at The Times office. More than $100,000 is needed to meet the relief need resulting from the disaster, say Red Cross officials.

The total of the quotas assigned to all Texas Red Cross chapters amounted to only $76,750, so much of the help is coming from outside Texas.

Texas is lagging far behind in contributions to the Red Cross, in relationship to the amount spent in Texas since January 1, 1935. A total of $366,000 has been spent in Texas disasters during this period, only $123,000 of this amount coming from Texas and the remaining $243,000 coming from other states.

Good Registration For Annual Session Of Area Druggists

Registration for the three-day business and entertainment session for the West Texas Pharmaceutical Association, being held in Abilene Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, reached 225 late yesterday. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Stinson of Snyder and son, Billy Joe.

The Stinsons will again play outstanding parts in the West Texas druggists' meeting, since he is a past president and now on the board and Mrs. Stinson is past president of the auxiliary.

Gerald C. Allen of Robert Lee is president this year, and he is presiding for all business sessions at Abilene. Dr. W. J. Danforth, secretary of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association, presented the outstanding address last night.

Football Suits for Backs-Ends Monday

Football suits will be issued Monday morning, August 22, to backs and ends of the Fizer squad, announces Coach Red Hill. All other players will get suits on the following Monday.

Backs and ends will be given special training during the coming week, and the entire squad will get special workouts the following week.

SILO CONTEST BEING PUSHED IN ALL AREAS

Scurry County Chamber Commerce Announces Contest That Will Run Eight Weeks

Everybody is talking "Save Your Feed"—and save it we must, as it means a million dollars or more for the county during the bad years to come.

Tons of this wonderful feed crop are already beginning to pour into trench silos in every section of the county, and plans for many more are underway. The trench silo—an old practice just being brought back into usage—is declared to be the best, cheapest rat-proof, storm-proof, fire-proof, sand-proof barn known to man.

Contest Eight Weeks. The "Save Your Feed" program is being pushed by the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce, with an eight-week contest and 200 posters that are being placed in all parts of the county.

At a CC board of directors meeting Monday night, it was decided to begin the contest Saturday, September 10, and continue it through October—eight weeks in all. Feed from the new crop, or new silos dug prior to the opening of the contest will accumulate against the first award, September 10.

The contest will be staged by precincts, and one cooperating man in each precinct will receive the weekly prize, and the grand prize at the close of the contest.

Thermometer Up Soon. A huge thermometer, to be placed on the corner of the Times building in a few days, will indicate the progress of the contest from week to week.

Attractive cash prizes, to be announced next week, will be given weekly, and a large cash prize at the end of the contest will go to the precinct that is the over-all winner.

"We are wasting too much feed on our farms and ranches. We must change this practice if and when we are to rightfully expect a profit from our operations." Thus declared E. R. Eudaly, trench silo expert, when he was in Scurry County a few days ago.

FEATURES FOR SECOND RODEO

In addition to regular attractions—cow milking, bronc riding, calf roping and steer riding—the second annual Scurry County Rodeo will feature several specialties.

The ever-popular steer bulldogging event has been added this year, and some of the best performers in West Texas are coming to get the job done right.

"Silver King," J. I. Stewart's educated horse, is already here, with his master, from Big Spring. John Lindsey and his trick mule, well known among rodeo fans, will do the clowning. D. M. Cogdell, local youthful trick roper, has some new stunts this year. A junior steer riding contest is also in the offing.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Graham and Mrs. I. W. Boren visited last week with friends and relatives in Ft. Worth and Ennis. They returned Saturday.

WORMS ARE COMING

By LUKE BALLARD, County Agent. The leaf and boll worms are after our cotton crop in earnest, and they are going to get it unless a constant fight is put forth by every cotton grower in the county.

The county has very good prospects for a normal cotton yield in spite of the heavy cost of replanting. We cannot longer afford to stand by and wait for these cotton enemies to destroy our crop just because we think we might "get by." Better get busy and save the cost of your feed and labor.

The spray system, using calcium arsenate at the rate of five to eight pounds to 50 gallons of water, is the most effective process or ammunition to use in this fight. The poison mixture should be continuously stirred during the spraying operation to avoid settling of the calcium arsenate.

When using tractors for pulling the spray equipment, watch the speed or you will find that you have not done a good job of spraying. Driving too fast thins out the poison application, thereby reducing the results to be expected and increasing the cost of a job not well done.

The use of white arsenate is not recommended, since there is danger of burning the cotton. But if it is the only poison available it may be used by diluting with equal parts of dry lime or sal soda and boiled thoroughly before spraying.

Lead arsenate may be used also as a poison spray, although it is much more expensive and does not give any better results. The same mixing proportions as used with calcium arsenate are recommended.

Let's keep continuously after these cotton enemies and do not take it for granted that you can win this war without a fight.

HOOK 'EM, COWHAND!

Fred Wolcott Goes To Town in Berlin With Hurdle First

The 110-meter hurdles was a walkaway for Snyder's and Rice Institute's Fred Wolcott last week in the two-day competition between crack American and German athletes at Berlin's Olympic stadium.

The local boy's triumphs against Europe's best and his clean sweep of long and short hurdles in U. S. competition, make him easily the world's No. 1 hurdler of 1938.

The American team in Germany led the crack German team with ease in the two-day meet.

Fred was clocked in 14.1 seconds. Allan Tomlich, who was considered the greatest American hurdler until Wolcott came along, was five-tenths of a second slower.

Wolcott was this month featured in "Texas Parade," a magazine devoted to general Texas progress. He was pictured as he skimmed over a hurdle, and the author of the article, beneath the picture, suggested that Fred's speed might have been attained while chasing jack-rabbits in West Texas.

SIX-MAN GAME

Two class C football teams of this area have withdrawn to take part in a six-man league this season. Hobbs and Sylvester in Fisher County are the squads that have decided to go the six-man route.

NEW SIMS PLACE

C. J. (Shorty) Sims, local barber for a number of years, several days ago accepted a new place in the first chair at the Pierce & Hill shop, north side of the square. He and the proprietors invite new and old friends to visit him in his new location.

FIRST COTTON OF YEAR FROM W. S. CUMBLE

Polar Farmer Nets More Than $140 Total from 576-Pound Bale, Ginned Wednesday

First bale of cotton ginned in Snyder this year came from the Polar community in Kent County. It was grown by W. S. Cumble on the old T. V. Cumble farm.

The bale was ginned early Wednesday morning by the Browning gin. It weighed 576 pounds and was strict middling, 15-16ths.

Snyder merchants, through the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce, Wednesday morning and early Wednesday afternoon raised a premium of $66.10 for the first bale. This is one of the largest premiums raised in recent years, last year's total having been $60.75.

Hugh Taylor buys it. Hugh Taylor, local groceryman, who usually buys the first bale here, cracked down with one of the biggest over-market prices he has ever paid. He gave Cumble a check for $69.12, at 12 cents a pound on the bale. The market price on the cotton was slightly less than eight cents.

When Cumble added his premium money of $66.10, his seed check for $5.00 and his cotton check of $69.12, he found he had received $140.22 for his 576-pound bale. That is slightly more than $90 more than the market value of the bale.

"I guess I feel about like some of those candidates must have felt when they won in the first primary," Cumble said. "I am certainly grateful to Snyder folks for their liberality."

Cumle started picking over his 42-acre patch, on the old farm place of his father, last week. He saw he couldn't make it last week, but he pulled his whole family to work early this week, and finished the bale late Tuesday.

He picked almost over the 42 acres one time to get the big bale. The patch will probably yield no more than seven to 10 bales, he says. Worms have done little damage, but lack of moisture in that particular locality has helped hold down the yield. Fleas are beginning to damage young cotton there, he said.

Cumle has been trading in Snyder for more than 30 years. His father, the late T. V. Cumble, was well known throughout Kent and Scurry Counties.

How They Donated. Premium donations were as follows: Browning Food Market $10, Times Publishing $2, Louder Motor Company $2, Snyder National Bank $2.50, Bryant-Link Company $2.50.

GROUNDS AND ACTORS RARIN TO GET GOING

Best Cowhands in Game Coming to Compete for More Than $1,000 in Awards

Backed by the most enthusiastic advertising that has been given any Scurry County event in years, the second annual rodeo of the Scurry County Rodeo Association is ready for four fast and furious performances.

One visit to the Wolf Park grounds will convince you that the show equipment is far better than last year. The judges' stand has been moved to give it more privacy and a better view. One of the large cottonwoods has been cut down to make way for an enlarged arena and better chutes. And all pens and chutes have been improved.

Four Performances. There will be four performances—Friday and Saturday afternoons at 2:00 o'clock and both evenings at 8:30 o'clock. Admission will be 25 and 50 cents.

Spectators will be much more comfortable than they were last year. The north stand has been completely rebuilt, and will have a top. The south stand is being repaired.

Concessions, in general charge of Dean Cochran, will be better located and better handled than last year, say rodeo officials. Ample parking space has been provided, and parking will be systematized to assure a minimum of confusion.

Great Parade Plans. Advance reports indicate the daily parades and the grand entries will be better than ever before. The parades will be held at 1:00 o'clock each afternoon, forming from Snyder Laundry toward Wolf Park, and coming onto the northwest corner of the square.

The town is decked in bunting. Merchants are preparing to close their doors a portion of the time during the first afternoon in order to give their employees and customers an opportunity to see the first big show.

Leaders Work Hard. Headed by Joe York, arena director, officials of the rodeo association and others have worked hard to make the show a success.

J. M. Stewart is president, J. C. Dorward is vice president and H. H. Eiland is secretary-treasurer. Bill Miller will be in charge of parade plans. Jim York and John Cox are timekeepers for the wild cow milking. Vaughn Harris and Weldon Johnson are pickup men.

A number of other workers have also volunteered their services in many ways to make the big show click at every performance, from parade to grand entry, from first performance to final announcement of prizes.

Harry Holt Here to Push County Rodeo

Harry Holt, who writes "Chousin' Around" and general farm and ranch news for the Abilene Reporter-News, was in Snyder Tuesday to gather information concerning Scurry County.

The material will be used in a "Salute to Scurry County" portion of the paper, published primarily to advertise the Scurry County Rodeo.

Holt said an effort will be made to put a Reporter-News into every Scurry County home.

Rural schools opening Monday included Canyon, Crowder, Turner, Bethel and Ennis Creek.

R. M. Gilliland, principal at Bethel, is the only new teacher in these county schools, and he is not really new, having taught in the county several years ago. W. M. Smith, in Snyder Schools last year, returns to rural school work this year as principal of Ennis Creek. Several other teachers have moved within the county.

Primary teacher at Bethel is Ethel Lynn Hays, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Glass are at Turner, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Letwith remain at Crowder, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Goolsby will teach at Canyon, and Gladys Wiman is beginning another year as primary teacher at Ennis Creek.

PLAINVIEW OPENS. One of the first county schools to open is Plainview, at which classes will begin next Monday. An opening program, to which friends and patrons of the school are invited, has been arranged by Principal W. F. Cox. Mrs. Cox and Miss Polly Harpole are the other teachers.

Double Ring Ceremony Read Friday For Local Couple by Rev. Jameson

Before an improvised altar of greenery, pink gladiolus and pink and white tulip bows, Ruth Yoder became the bride of Henry O. von der Hoff of Wilmett, Illinois, in a double ring service at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Yoder, Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Rev. C. E. Jameson of Colorado officiated for the service, said by candlelight.

Pre-nuptial music was given by Mrs. A. C. Preuit, pianist, who played "The Rosary" and "Indian Love Call," and Mrs. John E. Sentell, soprano, who sang "O Promise Me" and "Because." Mrs. Preuit played accompaniment for the vocal selections, also, and the wedding march from Lohengrin.

The bride entered on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a wedding gown of white lace, fashioned with fitted length and a slight train. Her floor-length veil was fastened to a cap of seed pearls with tiny pink roses, and she carried an arm bouquet of "Better Times" roses.

Her costume carried out all of the traditional, "something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue." She carried a lovely handmade lace handkerchief, made for her own wedding 30 years ago by Mrs. Joe Caton.

Virginia Yoder, the bride's sister and her maid of honor, wore pink net, and the bridesmaids, Frances Chenault and Alta Bowers, were dressed in blue and white net dresses. All three carried arm bouquets of Burbank daisies tied with tulle to match their frocks.

Mrs. Preuit wore powder blue net, and Mrs. Sentell chose a printed crepe frock, both with corsages of gladiolus. The bridegroom's mother wore a black chiffon dress with lace yoke, and Mrs. Yoder was dressed in dabbonnet lace.

A. V. Johnson Jr. of South Charleston, West Virginia, was best man. Hal Yoder of Amarillo and Lyman Yoder of Snyder, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

An informal reception for members of the wedding party and a few other guests was given, following the service, to compliment the newlyweds. The tiered bride's cake was cut and served with iced punch, with Mrs. Hal Yoder presiding at the punch bowl.

The couple left immediately for a brief wedding trip. Mrs. von der Hoff traveled in a printed Bemberg sheer crepe dress with a full-length coat of bright blue and black accessories. Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of the Illinois College of Chiropractic in Chicago, with Doctor of Surgical Chiropractic degrees.

Dr. von der Hoff's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Otto von der Hoff, of Wilmett, Illinois, and Miss Yoder's sister, Mrs. George Fisher of Hollywood, California, arrived here by plane Thursday for the wedding. Other out-of-town relatives and friends present, besides those in the wedding party, were: Mrs. Hal Yoder and sons, Tommy and Terry, of Amarillo; Mrs. O. P. Thrane of Mrs. R. C. Herm and daughters, Hattie and Gertrude, returned home last Wednesday after spending several weeks with their son and brother, Otello, and wife at Charleston, West Virginia.

Entertaining rooms were decorated with summer flowers. A miniature bride and groom centered the dining table and lighted pink candles in crystal holders were on each side. Combination place cards and favors were tagged green cellophane baskets of vari-colored candies.

Vivian Chenault and Tharon Howe of Denison, guest of the Chenault family, assisted with the serving. Twenty guests were present.

The bride's sister, Dewee, and Ivan Flynn of Lubbock were the couple's only attendants. E. Edwin Young, dean of music at the university, gave the wedding music, and accompanied Mrs. James K. Polk as she sang. Mary E. Head, dean of women at the university, presided at the refreshment table during the reception, which followed the ceremony.

"I'M TOUGH!
I EAT QUAKER OATS EVERY DAY!"

WHY is it you so often find the sturdiest, healthiest youngsters and grownups have been "brought up" on Quaker Oats? Because oatmeal is the richest of all whole grain foods in strength-giving proteins. Proteins, you know, are the vital food elements best for building muscle, firm flesh, and lasting strength. It's richer than other thrifty cereals too in phosphorus for teeth and bones, in iron, and in important Vitamin B₁, the nerve-digestive-appetite vitamin which children and every body need supplied to them every day! So serve delicious Quaker Oats often to help fill out your growing boy or girl with the sturdy "tough" kind of muscular flesh and improve your own general well-being. Quaker Oats saves money, too... often cuts breakfast costs to half of more expensive foods... and you can have it ready in only 2½ minutes! Get a package of Quaker Oats at your grocer's today!

Nine-Day Trip by Hobbs Youngsters Includes Hike Into Grand Canyon

Seventeen boys from the Hobbs Independent School have just returned from a nine-day tour, school-sponsored, extending from their school campus to the Grand Canyon in Arizona. Accompanying the high school boys on the trip were N. J. Guillet, superintendent, and C. Littlepage, vocational agriculture teacher.

The boys left Hobbs School early in the morning Monday, July 11, in a school bus. Traveling by way of Lubbock, the first night was spent in the Sandia Mountains near Albuquerque, New Mexico. Next day they revealed in colors and wonders as they visited the Painted Desert, where spongy, blue, brown and reds soon were enlivened by the brilliant colors in the Petrified Forest. They left the forest in a state of wonder—they were told that the forest was once the bottom of an ancient sea.

Visit Meteor Crater.
The same day they visited the immense meteor crater northwest of Winslow. One hundred feet above the surrounding prairie the boys gazed from the bus into a crater more than a half-mile in diameter and more than three miles in circumference. Once the hill, up which the bus had brought them and which formed the lip of the crater, had been built by an explosion brought about by the immeasurably hot meteor encircling water in the ground. The steam caused an immense hole to be blasted with solid rock more than 100 feet high on all sides.

First view of the canyon came late the second day of the trip from the observatory point at the eastern extremity of the Grand Canyon National Park. Greater than any of the boys had ever imagined, they turned in early that night in preparation for their trip down the next day.

Arising early the morning of July 13, food for four meals was packed by each boy, rolled into his blanket and carried over the shoulder. Thus, the 19 West Texans started down the Kiabeb Trail about four miles east of the village.

Sights on the Trail.
On the way down the imprints of extinct reptiles and ancient plant life were patterned in the solid rock. Two layers of sandstone told the geologists that the region had twice been a desert, and two layers of limestone indicated that the area had been covered by ocean waters twice. Shelled oysters in quantity down the trail a way told the story of a frightened mule, which kicked one of his mates over the cliff the evening before. Everything taken into the canyon goes by mule packs.

Alternately walking and resting the school group reached the suspension bridge across the muddy Colorado River about 8:30 o'clock, with no casualties greater than blistered toes. Exploring, fishing and swimming were enjoyed in the Colorado and the snow-chilled Bright Angel Creek, whose swift current carries tons of rock into the river each day. The river uses these rocks as effectively as a stone mason uses his hammer and chisel, for it is the rocks that the river carries along that has enabled it to cut its path a mile deep through solid rock.

Bright Angel Trail.
Return journey up the canyon to the bus was made over the Bright Angel Trail, which had been blasted from the rock cliffs of the inner gorge and parallels the river for about four miles. Reaching Indian Gardens, the travelers placed their remaining food on the tables, rolled in their blankets and went to sleep. Remaining bread crumbs were eaten during the night by deer that were so tame that several of them permitted the boys to pet them as they munched the crumbled bread.

The following morning, after lightly breakfasting on canned tomatoes, the upward four and one-half mile trip was resumed with speed of travel set by the individual. They emerged from the canyon in groups from 8:00 to 10:00 o'clock. July 16 found the West Texas school bus descending the 1,500 feet of hairpin curves into the scenic wonderland of Oak Creek Canyon. About 30 or 40 miles further they entered Arizona's famed copper mining districts. Jerome, a town of around 4,500 inhabitants, hangs high on the mountain side.

Occupants of three-story houses in Jerome were able to enter any floor directly from the ground, and others with front door on the ground are propped at the back with stilts 20 to 30 feet high. No inducement could make the visitors remain when they learned that the town sinks several feet each year into the immense cavity that is the mine directly under the town.

From the highway over the Superstition Mountains the boys looked out and down on the desert chollas, mesquite, yucca, bunch grass, sage and greasewood, so familiar to readers of Western stories. The mountain drive was pleasant and cool, but the heat of the desert was oppressive. Night of the sixth day found the Hobbs party in the irrigated districts near Phoenix.

July 17 afforded a swim in the waters above the Coolidge Dam, and again climbing the Superstition Mountains they visited other mining towns.

White Sands Visited.
First feature of the next day was a stop at the White Sands, a region encompassing more than 1,000,000 acres of pulverized gypsum dunes. Eyes of the group were dazzled by the reflection of the brilliant New Mexico sunlight from the unbelievably white dunes. After driving through the beautiful Lincoln National Forest, a visit to the bottomless lakes of Roswell, depth of which is estimated at more than 1,500 feet, was interesting.

Arriving home July 19, the Hobbs boys and two teachers boast a trip of 2,300 miles in nine days. Expenses of each boy for food and lodging was $5.25. Board of education of Hobbs School believes that such a trip affords educational opportunities that can never be found in the classroom. Their donations to the annual trip is the bus, gasoline and oil necessary.

Boys, Girls on Trip.
Boys making the trip were: Jerry Beavers, Scott Bavousett, Preston Horton, Clay Garrison, Clyde Garrison, Marcus Hamilton, John Akers, Gardner Carney, Harold Anderson, Clarence Anderson, Bob Etheredge, English Dooley, Lee Blythe, Junior Henderson and Carroll Hodges.

High school girls returned from a similar trip June 22. Chaperones for the girls included Taullee Rice, home economics teacher, Edith Engle, girls' coach, Mrs. N. J. Guillet, high school English teacher, and her husband and Littlepage.

Pecos was awarded the 1938 convention over the bids of Mineral Wells and Colorado.

The convention at Seymour was the best attended and the best programmed since 1930, according to officers of the association. More than 100 persons registered. Highlights of the entertainment were the fish fry given at Lake Kemp Friday evening by Judge James A. Stephens of Knox County, boating, swimming, aquaplaning and other activities on the lake, and an old-fashioned square dance. Chief speakers were Vernon T. Sanford, manager of the Oklahoma Press Association, who presented the OPA "Grass Roots" Campaign for securing local and national advertising; H. Merle Woods, El Reno, Oklahoma, president of the OPA; Mrs. Walter Ferguson, writer of "One Woman's Viewpoint" for Scripps-Howard newspapers, and H. C. Wheat Light But Cotton Promises A Normal Yield

Says the Santa Fe Railway's agricultural report for West and North-Texas, as of August 1:

"In general, Texas wheat yields were disappointing, and with harvest finished, it is evident that total production has fallen under that of last year. The last official estimate was 35,397,000 bushels, which is quite a contrast to prospects earlier in the season.

"Account of low prices and the recent Federal loan announcement, the wheat movement so far has been rather slow, much of the crop being held on the farm or in local elevators. Many farmers are planning to take advantage of the wheat insurance program for 1939.

"Cotton, although late, is in splendid growing condition, the stand is good and fields are clean. With plenty of moisture and a favorable late maturing period similar to that of 1937, there is a chance for a normal yield, but not a normal crop, as the acreage has been greatly reduced.

"Grain sorghums and sudan grass are fully up to normal, and the general outlook for a feed crop is very promising."

"Scurry County Rodeo Association will conduct its second annual program Friday and Saturday at Wolf Park, Snyder, said a goodwill delegation of cowboy songsters and musicians in Lubbock Monday.

"Cow punchers dressed in regulation range regalia, with an occasional colorful silk shirt, played and sang to a large crowd.

"Given a motorcycle escort here, they went to Brownfield after arriving in mid-afternoon from Slaton.

"The second annual rodeo will be advertised in 'dozens of West Texas towns,' said J. M. Stewart, who has been re-elected president of the association. 'Prize lists are longer and the best riders and bucking stock is expected.'

"GOOD REVIVAL"

It was a "good revival" that Rev. M. W. Clark closed at Camp Springs Sunday night, after a week's services. He was assisted by Rev. Ira T. Hucklebee of Hermleigh, the Camp Springs pastor.

Forty-One Baptized By Baptist Church

Climax of the First Baptist Church revival was baptizing of 41 persons at the close of the Sunday night service. Practically the entire lower floor and balcony were filled as Pastor Ira Harrison baptized the converts in the spotlighted baptistry.

Sixty-nine persons were either converted, joined the church, or both, during the two-week meeting. Rev. B. M. Jackson of Enid, Oklahoma, did the preaching and Gene Spearman, educational director, conducted choir and congregational singing.

The pastor and members of the church request The Times to express their appreciation for the full cooperation given the meeting by other denominations and by the citizenship as a whole.

C. V. Terrell In Snyder To Push State Candidacy

C. V. Terrell, railroad commission chairman, brought his candidacy for reelection to Snyder Wednesday, declaring he was receiving a landslide of endorsements from all sections of the state.

"Of course my endorsement by W. Lee O'Daniel has received the widest publicity, but it is only one of many I value highly and appreciate much," Terrell said.

"The leading newspapers of the state—Fort Worth Star-Telegram, Dallas News, Houston Post and many others—also have endorsed me. So have John Wood, Bob Stuart, O. C. Christie, and Gregory Hatcher, all eliminated in the first primary when I led my ticket by the wide margin of 33,000 votes.

"This landslide of opinion and support in my favor by people who know best the responsibilities and duties of the railroad commission can mean but one thing. They not only recognize my qualifications. They fear a change because it would likely damage the state as a whole."

Terrell briefly sketched his achievements during his first two terms on the commission, naming lowering of freight rates, conservation of oil, furtherance of education, maintenance of profitable conditions in the eight great industries the railroad commission controls, reduction of gas rates, and other achievements in the interest of all the people of Texas.

"W. Lee O'Daniel gave me his endorsement for many reasons, but the best was that he knew that I would be of real assistance to him in paying the $30 pensions," Terrell said. "I have only met Governor O'Daniel once. That was at Fort Worth 10 days ago at his invitation.

"He asked me how I stood on pensions, and I told him I had been a staunch supporter of $30 pensions for years. He didn't say anything then about endorsing me. I didn't hear he was going to do so until I was in Greenville campaigning, and then only about 10 minutes before O'Daniel began his broadcast in which he endorsed me."

Could You Tell How We Balloted in July

Could you come within a few thousand of telling results of the July primary in the offices in which there are still contests? For the benefit of those who would like to know—and especially for the benefit of those who are interested in W. Lee O'Daniel's political pushancy—The Times publishes the figures: Lieutenant governor: Brooks 251,560, Stevenson 221,815, outstanding 382,480; attorney general: Woodul 291,415, Mann 276,196, outstanding 304,709; railroad commissioner: Terrell 347,550, Sadler 216,547, outstanding 373,928; land commissioner: McDonald 382,356, Giles 206,110, outstanding 218,050; Supreme Court: Critz 312,355, Davidson 303,442, outstanding 187,113; Court of Criminal Appeals: Graves 299,187, Stephens 274,374, outstanding 212,061.

Ginners Praise Reciprocal Pact, Hit Tariff Walls

This country's high tariff was bitterly assailed Thursday by speakers at the annual West Texas Ginners Association at Abilene. Burrus Jackson of Hillsboro, chairman of the state-wide cotton improvement committee, led the attack by terming the tariff a "two-edged sword" that is pointed at cotton growers.

The reciprocal trade treaty which Secretary Hull has been fostering was praised by Jackson, who said the only American opposition is found in the manufacturing areas of the North "that have profited off the South long enough."

W. J. Ely of Snyder, West Texas president, presided over the gin sessions, which attracted a record attendance of 341. H. A. Roland of Anson was named to succeed him, and Ely was named to the state ginners' board.

Wynona Keller of Snyder, recently crowned "Goddess of West Texas" at the Sweetwater bathing revue, was presented as "Sweetheart" of the ginners' group.

Buck Kornegay of Winters, past vice president, also was named to the state board, and his place was filled by Aubrey Kaufman. Ray Grisham of Abilene was named secretary, replacing Will Dorn of Colorado.

Convention speakers included M. E. Heard, head of the textile engineering department, Texas Tech; D. A. Bauden, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, F. C. Litch, gin specialist, and John Thompson of Dallas, secretary of the Texas Cotton Growers Association.

Scurry County attendants, in addition to Ely and Miss Keller were: A. W. Arnold, Austin Erwin, L. G. Ely, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Browning, Ab Perry, Bill Nichols, Harry Lee.

To the Voters

Remember August 27 is election day again and also remember that I want your support on that day. I really need the job, and can get it done in a manner that will be pleasing to you all.

My opponent is a perfect gentleman in every respect as far as I know. But did you all know that he has had the job two terms (four years) already? That seems to me enough for the time being, at least. I surely will appreciate it if you will give me due consideration and cast your ballot in my behalf.

Your friend,
BOB TERRY.

School Consolidation

An unfounded rumor is being circulated over the county that if I am elected county superintendent that I will try to consolidate every small school in the county. I have made no political promises to anybody, because I could not truthfully take the oath of office, if elected. If I had made any promises in exchange for votes. However, I have clearly stated my position on consolidation, when asked to do so.

I am for democratic government of school affairs in each community, and believe that should be satisfactory to everyone.

I solicit your support on my merits of honesty and square dealings with the people in my section of the county.

Yours truly,
RUFUS MIZE.

ARMY MARCHES TO HILLBILLY MUSIC AS W. LEE VISITS CAMP

From Camp Bullis, where Company G, 142nd Infantry, is stationed, comes an interesting letter concerning the summer camp. Ernest E. Birdwell is the author.

The Times force sadly admits that it forgot to send the annual bundle of papers to camp. But since the infantrymen forgot to send The Times any news last week, the forgiveness will probably be mutual.

The newsy letter reads:
Not Like Palacios.

We arrived in Camp Bullis Sunday morning, August 8, to find a camp site altogether different from the camp at Palacios. Instead of seeing nothing but flat ground in one direction and the Gulf of Mexico in the other, we could see only cedar-covered hills surrounding us in every direction.

We are situated about 20 miles northeast of San Antonio in the Leon Springs Reservation, of which Camp Bullis is a part. A permanent camp is being maintained here for CMRG and ROTC camp, each summer, and for the regular army troops, which use it for summer training purposes.

Our camp was soon established after our arrival, with the usual bustle. Of course the rookies had to be initiated into the camp routine, but everything moved along rather smoothly.

Preparatory Training.
Monday morning we started our preparatory training for the big maneuver to take place later in the camp. We left bright and early for the hills on a short practice combat problem. After returning to camp the real battle started against the chiggers and wood ticks. The wood ticks were a new experience for most of the boys, as they had never seen them before and at first were quite disturbed.

Tuesday morning we went on a small regimental maneuver and were out all night. We returned the following morning to prepare for the big review for Governor Allred, Governor-Elect W. Lee O'Daniel, Governor Marland and Governor-Elect Phillips of Oklahoma. We marched to specially selected mountain music, including "Please Pass the Biscuits, Pappy." The big review included all of the 36th Division.

To the Big Maneuver.
Saturday morning we all trucked and left for the big maneuver, where we were in bivouac near Boerne. We spent the next few days preparing for the big battle Wednesday. We are a part of the defending force which engaged in battle with the attacking force, composed of the regular army troops from the regular army posts of this area.

The two opposing forces are known this year as the Blues and the Browns, the Browns replacing the Reds due to the insistence of one of our foreign neighbors. The attacking force is attacking from the general direction of our southern border, and their supposed objective is San Antonio. It is reported that if the big maneuver is lacking in realism the ration supply may be held up for a short time.

Our new officers are functioning in their roles as capably as veterans, and our camp routine has been as smooth as can be expected under unfamiliar conditions, including sleeping on hay mattresses on the floor of our tents, and not being able to bathe except during certain hours of the day.

25,000 Men in Area.
There are in the vicinity of 25,000 men concentrated in the Leon Springs Reservation area, composed of Texas National Guards, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona National Guards and the regular army troops. Every phase of our national army defense is represented down here.

Our boys will return to the camp area Thursday morning, and will be paid Thursday afternoon—which will make the day doubly happy for them. By that time the war will be fought and won, and we will begin to make preparations for the Mann's the Man!

Gerald Mann, an experienced, capable attorney, is worthy of your vote for attorney general in the second primary. He was well ahead of four opponents in the first primary, winning a runoff place in the same vigorous manner that he made touchdowns for SMU, worked his way through law school, and blasted the securities racket while he was secretary of state.

District Fat Stock Show at Big Spring

County agricultural agents and committees of the seven counties of the district fat stock show area for Four-H and FFA boys met in Big Spring Monday to make plans for the next show. Dates for the show will be February 27 and 28, 1939.

County Agent Luke Ballard represented Scurry County at the meeting. Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, headed by Jimmie Greene, secretary, was host to the group for lunch Monday.

Cash prizes will remain the same as this year, and possibilities for an auction sale in connection with probably be worked out soon, Ballard says. A fat pig class will be added to the fat beef calf and fat lamb classes for the 1939 show.

FLUVANNA MEETING.

The series of evangelistic services conducted by the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches of Fluvanna, and the vacation Bible school held in connection with them, came to a successful close last Sunday night. Rev. E. P. Swindall of Garden City was the visiting preacher. The Bible school reached a total enrollment of 70.

WILLIAMS ARM LOST IN CRASH

Fred Williams, a well-known resident of Scurry County, is in a Sweetwater hospital, following what was termed as a "freak accident" last week. The local man lost his right arm in the accident.

Williams and his brother-in-law, Luther Edmondson of Dermott, were sitting in a truck, Williams with his arm hanging out the cab door, when another truck backed into their machine broadside. Williams' arm was so badly crushed that it was removed just below the shoulder later at a Sweetwater hospital.

Local relatives and friends say that he is doing fairly well this week. His wife, the former Polly Merrill of Snyder, arrived immediately from Dallas to be at the bedside.

Mrs. Romfh: "But surely you didn't come right out and tell Jim you loved him?"

Elsie: "No, mother, he simply had to squeeze it out of me."

Re-elect Judge RICHARD CRITZ for a FIRST FULL TERM as Associate Justice SUPREME COURT of TEXAS

THE HIGH QUALITY and great amount of Judge Critz's work on the Supreme Court while serving an unexpired term is attested by the fact that he is the choice of nearly all the Judges and Lawyers of Texas.

Judge Critz came from the ranks of the people. As a boy he worked on a farm for wages, and all that he has been attained in spite of poverty and hardship and as a result of his own effort. Judge Critz was a country lawyer in Taylor, Texas, and never represented any large corporations or vested interests.

Hook 'Em, Cowhand!

The appeal of the rodeo will probably never die, especially in this semi-cattle country, where ridin' and ropin' continue to be part of a cowhand's way of making a living.

Current Comment

When Senator Morris Sheppard accepted the chairmanship of the Special Committee to Investigate Campaign Expenditures, he little dreamed he would be left with many a headache; but as he went in a huddle last week with Senators Walsh and White, Sheppard saw at once the path of all primary investigators was to be strewn with thorns.

Hearts of Stone?

Do you know what would happen if Deep Creek and Dry Creek, which encircle Snyder, should within a short time receive twice the amount of water that they received a few weeks ago?

In Tennessee, however, political conditions were so bad some crack sleuths were sent into the hog and hominy state to ferret out some very "delicate facts." Kentucky's Governor Happy Chandler reputedly drank some "poisoned rose water by mistake," which whipped Blue Grass voters into a frenzy.

Editorial of the Week

THINKING TOGETHER
Texas has a world of problems that ought to be tackled by somebody. In other words, there is a big job of thinking to be done—too big a job to be done by any one man.

We feel rather ashamed of a certain Texas group for stirring up a propaganda furore by claiming the much discussed Buchanan Dam contributed to damage done by the July flood in the Colorado River territory.

Mad Dog!

When is a mad dog? Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, answers the question by declaring: "The mean dog that suddenly becomes friendly may transmit hydrophobia or rabies."

The Abilene Reporter-News replied editorially Friday to a certain Hollywood critic lamenting the fact "there are no more beautiful co-eds today in our institutions of learning."
