A QUICK READ OF THE NEWS

Brown wins football contest

Lazbuddie's Scott Brown aced the first week of the Journal football contest, missing only that pesky Colorado-Colorado State game that hoodwinked nearly all the week's 48 players.

Brown's wife, Claire, came in third. Sandwiched between them in second place was Richard Orozco of Muleshoe.

They each missed only two games, but Orozco was closer on the tiebreaker score, the Muleshoe-Portales game. Shirley Steinbock of Lazbuddie also missed only two but was further off on picking the tiebreaker score.

Men should take note, however, that of the five contestants who did intuit that Colorado State was going to whomp on Colorado, all five were of the female gender. They were Kelli Harris, Castle Crawford, Sheri Hawkins, Retha Tighe and Debbie Weir.

Other games that proved tricky for many of the entrants were the Anton-Bovina and UTEP-New Mexico contests.

Escapee sues police

A Swedish man accused of theft has a novel theory about an escape attempt that left him with a broken foot and injured back: It's the police's fault.

Jimmy Haakansson claims that if two police officers assigned to guard him in a Stockholm jail had done their job, he wouldn't have been able to leap through a courthouse window and hurt himself.

Now Haakansson, 39, is suing for $2,450.

Police allegedly left Haakansson alone with his attorney in a third-floor office to discuss his arrest on charges of receiving stolen property.

When police were out of the room, Haakansson jumped out the unsecured window and fell to the ground.

He wants damages from the state for the injuries he suffered. It was not clear when the government would rule on his claim.

Mules aim to improve efficiency at Denver City

By KEVIN WILSON
Journal Sport Writer

Under normal circumstances, three fumbles in a quarter would be devastating.

Fortunately for the Muleshoe Mules in last week's 31-14 victory over the Portales Rams, the fumbles came with the Mules leading by two touchdowns. And each time, the MHS defense was able to shut down the Rams without giving up a score.

MHS coach David Wood doesn't expect that to be the case this Friday when the Mules travel to Denver City to take on the 1-0 Mustangs. Denver City allowed just 79 yards in a 17-0 victory last week over Pecos and Wood knows the Mules can't afford similar miscues.

Wood said the Mules' fumbles in the opener against Portales were a combination of less experienced players getting playing time and first-week jitters. Wood doesn't expect to see the same results on Friday. Much of the Mules' practice time this week has been spent hanging onto the football.

"It (fumbling) stalled our drives," Wood said.

Wood said a similar performance won't be good enough to beat Denver City, a team the Mules defeated last year. Wood figures some embarrassment lingers on the Mustangs' part and revenge will likely be a factor this time around.

United's doors to open Friday

Ribbon cutting set for 9 a.m.

The long-awaited opening of United Supermarkets' 41st store location in Muleshoe is slated for Friday (Sept. 10) immediately following a ribbon-cutting ceremony Friday at 9 a.m. at American Boulevard and 9th Street.

Bailey County residents have eagerly anticipated the opening of the 24,650 square foot building since groundbreaking ceremonies last November.

The new store features departments and services that United is known for throughout West Texas, including fresh produce, quality meats, a deli, bakery, fuel station and pharmacy.

United will carry an extensive selection of fresh fruits and vegetables in its produce department, including specialty produce like mangos, cactus leaves and a wide variety of peppers, as well as ever-popular bananas, strawberries and other fresh fruits and vegetables. Special care has been taken to ensure a wide variety of

Via, Field are 'world champions'

Neither rain, nor hail, nor lightning could deter the competitors at the 7th annual Joe's Boot Shop World Championship Goat Roping.

After waiting out Saturday's rain and hail storm, Guy Walt Via of Lazbuddie and Jim Fields of Sudan put together a 3.54-second run to win the Joe's World Championship Shootout.

The run pushed into second a 3.77 turned in by Eddy Roby and Randy Davis just a few runs prior.

Both teams roped in the 30-49 age group and the two runs were the only sub-four second times of the day.

For their just over three and a half seconds of work, Via and Fields earned $160 each and a Floyd Mosier handmade world championship buckle. For second, Roby and Davis won $127 per man.

In its seventh year, the goat roping differed from previous years in that cash prizes were added. The event still featured the free roping all day in eight different age groups, with first and second place winners in each age category awarded American brand straw

Allred rules Rotary Roping

Eunice, NM cowboy wins two saddles and $2,055

The Muleshoe Rotary Club's annual Labor Day Team Roping was again a hit, as more than 800 teams competed for over $46,500 in cash and prizes last Saturday and Sunday at Dusty Rhodes Arena.

The two-day event continues to be one of the top team ropings in the Southwest, with competitors from at least five states competing.

The event is the top fund-raiser for the Muleshoe Rotary Club, which uses the money for its numerous community service projects.

In a partnership with CLT Roping Productions of Muleshoe, Rotarians and their wives provide the majority of the labor for the arena, concessions and administration and all get plenty of time to participate. Besides the work of seeking sponsors, food preparation and arena work prior to the event, the crews went from 2 p.m. Saturday to 2:30 a.m. Sunday, and from 8:30 a.m. Sunday to midnight.

On the roping side, 13 competitors won more than $1,000 each over the weekend. Leading the way was Jim Allred of Eunice, NM, who won two Jim Taylor trophy saddles and $2,055 in cash. Allred won the No. 9 with Travis Regensberg of Las Vegas, NM, and won the No. 8 with Clint McCloy. He also placed fifth in the No. 7 with Hoot Ellis of Abernathy.

Second on the money list was Cory Ayers of Smyer, who won $1,806. He won first place and a saddle in the No. 7 with John Copeland of Lubbock and was third in the No. 6 with Hoot Ellis of Abernathy.

The winners of Saturday night's No. 11 six-header earned the largest single playoff of the weekend. Guy Bryant of Grady, NM, and Garrison Nippert of Mangum, OK, combined forces for a $2.34 and won $1,378 apiece. The pair averaged 8.73 per run. Their 10.11 in the short round left them a .58 cushion over the second place team, Jerred Norris and Jerry Don Thompson, who won $1,141 per man.

The No. 11 provided no prizes, but enjoyed $1,000 in added money. Saddles were awarded to the average winners in the Nos. 9, 8, 7 and 6.

Joe's chicken roping champs to meet New Mexico winners

It was something new for Joe's Boot Shop, Muleshoe, Texas — and for the 55 teams that entered.

Along with Saturday's traditional World Championship on-foot goat team roping, Joe's Boot Shop added a new wrinkle — Muleshoe's first ever chicken roping.

The idea came from an article in the Dallas Morning News about a world championship chicken roping conducted earlier this year at a bar in Hachita, NM. Hachita is located in the bootheel of New Mexico, 43 miles east of the Arizona line and 45 miles north of the Mexican border.

Guidelines for use of the pass include:

- Good only for events sponsored by the district, including both district and non-district athletic events;
- Does not cover certain district or regional UIL activities, even though the events may be held in Muleshoe;
- Not acceptable for activities such as dinner-theater productions, suppers, etc.
- Covers only one admittance and is non-transferable;
- Not acceptable for department activities used as fund-raisers — unless its use is approved by the sponsor and/or principal.

Friends of Library to meet

The Friends of the Library's annual membership drive will be on the agenda for the group's meeting from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. Sept. 13 at the Muleshoe Area Library.

The wrapping paper should be shipped to arrive about Nov. 10, in time for the Fall Festival.

The deadline for items to appear in Around Muleshoe is 5 p.m. Monday for Thursday's edition and 5 p.m. Thursday for Sunday's edition. Items may be brought to the office at 304 W. Second, mailed to P.O. Box 449, called in to 272-4536 or faxed to 272-3567.

Three Way batters Meadow

Robert Rodriguez rushed for 146 yards and Jimmy James threw a pair of touchdown passes as the Three Way Eagles hammered Meadow 61-13 in the 6-man season opener for both teams last Friday.

Three Way powered to a 22-0 halftime lead and never looked back in the victory over the Broncos.

Michael Solez added a pair of scoring runs and Anthony Furgeson, Daniel Reeves, James and Chase Cannon all caught touchdown passes for the Eagles.

Three Way held the Broncos to just 133 total yards; 139 rushing and 62 passing. The Bronco's first score came on a 70-yard kickoff return by Eric Perez, a third-period touchdown that cut Three Way's lead to 28-7.

The Broncos added a second score on a five-yard run by Jake Davis to pull Meadow within 35-13 with 18 seconds to go in the third.

Three Way opened the scoring on a 7-yard pass from James to Reeves with 7:13 left in the first period. Rodriguez added a 24-yard TD run with 3:33 left in the first to make it 14-0.

James was on the receiving end of a 25-yard scoring pass from Monty Kirby to bring the halftime score to 22-0.

Rodriguez scored from three yards out in the third period to put the Eagles up 28-0. But Perez returned the ensuing kickoff 70 yards for a Meadow TD. Michael Mendez added to PAT run to cut the deficit to 28-7.

Rodriguez scored from 34 yards out with 1:28 to go in the third and Fernando De La Rosa caught the PAT pass from Kirby to put the Eagles up 35-7. Davis scored with 18 ticks left in the third for Meadow, but the Broncos never

Horse Liniment Eases Arthritis Pain

OCALA, FL -- An ingredient derived from hot peppers that decreases inflammation in racehorse's legs, is now recognized as safe and effective for human use. The ingredient has been formulated into a product called ARTH-Rx™ and comes in a strength designed for humans. Researchers are excited and say the formula can relieve arthritis pain for millions.

Developed by the Phillips Gulf Corporation, ARTH-Rx is a breakthrough in the treatment of painful disorders ranging from minor aches and pains to more serious conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, tendonitis, backache and more.

Although the mechanism by which ARTH-Rx works to relieve pain is not totally clear, scientists suggest that pain is relieved because ARTH-Rx intercepts the messenger substance that sends pain signals to the brain.

ARTH-Rx is available in a convenient roll-on applicator without a prescription. According to a spokesperson for the company, due to the overwhelming demand for ARTH-Rx, supplies are sometimes limited. ARTH-Rx can also be ordered by calling 1-800-729-8446, © 1999 PGC

The Mules are looking for an improved performance out of running back Chris Vela, who carried the ball 16 times for 83 yards Friday. They also need more efforts like the one given by Jeff Bruns, who was named the player of the week for the Portales game. Bruns scored the second of three MHS touchdowns that game in a four-minute span that put Muleshoe up 21-0.

"He just did it all," Wood said of Bruns, who also had an interception and several tackles defensively.

Wood said Denver City is well-coached and has a solid program year in and year out.

"They're pretty solid," Wood said. "Denver City's always well-coached. That's not to say that Portales wasn't well-coached, but Denver City has tradition behind it as well."

The travel isn't a big concern for the third-year MHS head coach, however.

"I never mind playing away," Wood said. "(On the bus ride), it helps us become more focused." Wood also figures that the Muleshoe faithful will be there in numbers to support the team as well.

Surprise may be a key element in the Mules' attack. Wood promised a few new wrinkles and the flow of the game will dictate what the Mules will use and when.

Game time is 8 p.m. at Denver City.

Cooler weather brings new visitors and the urge to work

By RONN SMITH
Editor

The advent of cooler weather has brought a whole different "feel" and different inhabitants to the garden.

As for the inhabitants, for me it's usually more a matter of hearing them outside the window than of having time to go out and see what they are.

That's been my entire experience with hummingbirds this summer: I'd hear them having their territorial disputes over the mimosa trees in the backyard, so I'd know when strangers showed up and tried to move in.

I've heard a couple of loud bird calls in the past week that were completely unfamiliar, so I know our fall migration must be producing some unusual species.

Then, on Sunday, I had a water sprinkler running on a big bed of bleeding hearts that went dormant without my knowledge. I was heading into the backyard to check on it when an unusually large bird flew up out of the spray from the sprinkler. It landed on a dead twig right above the sprinkler, and it was a black-billed cuckoo! I don't believe I had seen a cuckoo in these parts since I was a kid and my mother used to point out the "rain crows" — a few decades ago.

This is precisely the time of year to begin planting perennials, shrubs and trees so their root systems can get established while the weather is cooler but the soil is still warm. You can gain nearly a whole season's growth with many plants next year by planting now instead of waiting until the hot, dry weather is returning before you plant them.

It's also a good time to think about that water garden: If it's going to involve digging a hole, think about how much nicer it's going to be in late September or early October, when the mornings are cool but not yet nippy.

I guess the first plants most people think about for growing in water are water lilies (Nymphaea species), but many people dismiss them immediately on the assumption that they're all tropical. They aren't. In our climate, of course, tropical water lilies have to be taken into heated quarters during the winter, whereas the hardy species don't.

Even with the tropical types, taking them in for the winter isn't as much trouble as it might sound. They're grown in pots, and you just lift the pots out of the water and take them inside to winter quarters — maybe a half whiskey barrel.

The tropics do require to be kept at temperatures of at least 70, but hardy water lilies are just like any other hardy perennial — they go dormant and withstand winter outdoors.

Then, once you're past the tropical vs. hardy question on water lilies, there's the question of size.

There are dwarf and pygmy kinds that can live in water only 6 inches deep over their roots (which is all the tropics require, too). The more "standard" sizes need more water, up to possibly 2 1/2 feet, and then there are some huge things that can take deeper water — but the spread of their leaves across the water's surface is so broad that they're at home only in a fair-sized ponds.

Tropical water lilies The colors of the exquisite water lily flowers, of course, cover most of the pastels and some deeper shades — with light blue gaining rapidly in popularity, I think.

Strangely enough, one water-loving family that sounds very exotic but is hardy in our climate is the lotus clan. The flowers are unbelievable, the leaves unusual because they stand above the water rather than rest on it as water-lily leaves do, and then when the flowers fade they leave those exotic-looking seed pods that are featured in all the craft shops these days.

Lotus like sun and hot temperatures, and they don't take well to a lot of humidity.

Many of the lotus are subject to the same caution as the biggest water lilies: They need room. But there are many forms known as dwarf lotus and Chinese bowl lotus that can literally be grown in a good-sized waterproof pot so you don't need a pool at all!

Other common plants to try:

- Pickerel weed (Pontederia cordata) — upright grower with beautiful blue spikes of flowers;

- Sweet flag (Acorus species) — Iris-like plants, including some with green-and-white striped foliage, that generally produce yellow or cream-colored flowers. They are for the shallows, where water does not exceed 6 inches over the roots;

- Cardinal flower (Lobelia

cardinalis) — tolerates up to 4 inches of water over the roots. If you already grow it in a more conventional garden setting, then you know what a stunning display it is putting on right now. The species is one of the reddest of red flowers, and hummingbirds love it. There are cultivars with darker red or hot pink blooms, too.

- Frog fruit (Phyllanthus lanceolatus) — grown in a wide-mouth pot in shallow water. Foliage isn't exciting (to my eye) but the little flowers, held up above the leaves, are beautiful in their way, even if they aren't especially colorful.

Happy planting!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Criticism rebutted

Dear Editor,

In response to the recently published letter "Gone to the Dogs" (Sept. 2), I feel compelled to write in praise of the many hardworking individuals who serve in the various civic organizations and governmental entities in our community.

I am currently serving, or have served in the past, in several of these myself; therefore I have firsthand knowledge of the many, and mostly thankless, hours of work that these people joyfully contribute in an effort to make Muleshoe a better place to live.

Their efforts are not always popular, but they are always well-intentioned.

I for one am thankful to live in a community where the population of well-meaning, hardworking, caring people far outnumbers a vocal minority of bitter, complaining citizens who would rather tear down another's efforts than contribute anything of substance themselves.

Holocaust speaker

Dear Editor,

Thank you for the excellent coverage you gave to us about Mrs. Helene Shiver, the World War II Holocaust survivor.

Due to good publicity, we had a very good turnout Monday night (Aug. 31) to hear Shiver tell of her experiences as the only one of her family to survive at the Dachau death camp in Germany.

It would be wonderful if everyone in the United States could hear her tragic story and be reminded again how thankful we should be to live in America and without fear.

The in-store pharmacy, staffed by four registered pharmacists and two pharmacy technicians, will feature every modern convenience including on-line prescription refills, personal consultation, computerized blood pressure monitoring, immunizations and other patient care services. A wide array of over-the-counter medications and other health needs is available near the pharmacy window.

The new United store will also offer conveniences like photo finishing, U.S. mail drop, postage stamps, faxing, copying, cigarettes, Western Union money orders and wire services, and check cashing — all at the customer service center.

Regular operating hours each day are 7 a.m. to 10 p.m.

"We are delighted to see this day arrive," said Dominguez. "United Supermarkets is eager to serve the residents of Muleshoe and Bailey County, and to become actively involved in the community."

Entertainment, prize giveaways

United Supermarkets has planned a wide variety of activities for its grand opening and the public is invited to join representatives from United and the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce for the brief ribbon cutting ceremony at 9 a.m.

Shoppers will be able to enjoy food samples, drinks and entertainment. KMUL radio station will be on hand for several live broadcasts.

Outside, a large smoker with hot link wraps, sausage links, brisket wraps, barbeque sandwiches and turkey legs will serve up food from 11 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.

United Pharmacy will offer free cholesterol testing from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Popular western swing band "Blue Prairie" will perform from 4 to 6 p.m. on Friday. Tejano act Tony Techno Band will perform from noon to 2 p.m. on Saturday.

Customers can register for hourly prize drawings, daily $25 gift certificate drawings and a grand prize of a Cancun trip for two to be given away October 9.

Fuel station at new United

A self-service fuel station will be located in United's parking lot at American Blvd. and 9th Street.

"United began offering its customers the convenience of fuel in May 1997, and customer acceptance of this new service has been phenomenal," said Dominguez.

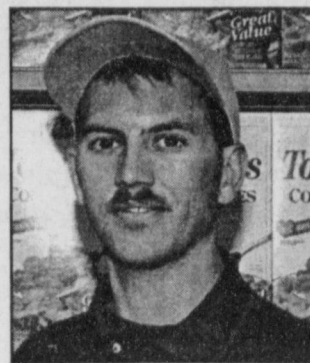

United offers clean, quality fuel with performance enhancing additives and detergents. The well-lit fuel station will operate with attendants during regular store hours, 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. Pay-at-the-pump service will be available 24 hours a day. Major credit cards, except oil company cards, and ATM/Debit cards are accepted.

ginning Monday, Sept. 13. The sale also includes the drug store's health and beauty aids departments.

"In making this decision, it was most important to us that the new owner be as committed to patient service as we have been at Damron Drug," said Damron. "We believe United's Pharmacies are among the most patient oriented in West Texas."

Earlier this year, United acquired Stataline Drug in Farwell from Donna Ratke, R.Ph. Effective Friday, the Farwell pharmacy location will close and Donna also will join the staff at the new United Supermarkets Pharmacy.

Kristi Spies, R.Ph., a Muleshoe native who has worked for United since February and has managed Stataline Drug since June, will be Pharmacist in Charge at the new United Supermarkets Pharmacy location in Muleshoe. In addition to Spies, Damron and Ratke, several other staff members from Damron Drug and Stataline Drug will move to the United Pharmacy. They include Bethany Boeckner, certified pharmacy technician; Loveta Briscoe, R.Ph.; Diamond Garza, pharmacy technician; and Jerrie Tims, support staff. Existing patient records of Damron Drug and Stataline Drug customers will be transferred to United Supermarkets Pharmacy in Muleshoe. Spies noted, "We are excited about the new resources we will have in our new location. The computer system will be state-of-the-art, and will allow us to better serve our patients' pharmacy needs." In addition to prescription services, United Pharmacy will have a consultation area, cholesterol testing, immunizations, DynaPulse blood pressure measurements and other services. As part of its grand opening United Pharmacy will offer free cholesterol screenings this Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. each day.

United Pharmacy will make deliveries in Muleshoe every day and in Farwell and Texico on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons. The pharmacy will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday. For prescription refills, patients may call 272-3169, or visit United's web site at www.unitedtexas.com. Out of town customers may call the pharmacy toll free at 1-877-271-1355. Customers entering the store will find the pharmacy counter near the front of the store. For added convenience, a drive-in window in the pharmacy allows face-to-face consultation between the pharmacist and patient.

Sam Damron's father, Joe Sam Damron, founded Damron Drug in 1932. Sam joined his father in the business following graduation from the University of Texas School of Pharmacy in 1948. He has been the owner and manager of Damron Drug since 1977. He is married to the former Elaine Jordan and has two grown daughters. Damron was appointed to the State Board of Pharmacy by Governor Dolph Briscoe and served in that capacity from 1972 to 1979. He was the board president in 1976.

"I want to thank the folks in Muleshoe for letting the Damron family serve your pharmacy needs for the past 67 years," Damron notes. "I look forward to continuing to serve our present customers, as well as many new ones as part of the United Supermarkets team."

Born and raised in Muleshoe, Spies is a graduate of Muleshoe High School and Midwestern State University. She graduated from Southwestern Oklahoma State University School of Pharmacy in 1996.

"We are excited to be able to serve the needs of patients throughout the area and invite everyone to come get acquainted with our staff during United's grand opening," Spies said.

Conference set to explore biotechnology industry for Texas

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL
AUSTIN — Developing a strategic plan that will allow Texas to become a national leader in agricultural biotechnology and allied life-science technologies will be the focus of a summit Sept. 29-30 at the Omni Southpark Hotel in Austin.

The Summit on Biotechnology for Agriculture, Food, Fiber, and Health is expected to attract scientists, investors, economic development specialists, policy makers, agricultural interests, food processors, consumers and natural resources leaders to develop an action plan to "capture the value of the bio-based economy that is being created through the applications of these technologies."

The event is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural and Natural Resources Summit Initiative, an apolitical forum begun in 1993 for people concerned about Texas' food, fiber and natural resources, and founded on the principle that Texans can find workable solutions to any challenge.

"The focus of the summit is on the development and the used of the technology for the economic benefit of the state," said Dr. John Mullet, director of the Crop Biotechnology Center at Texas A&M University and chair of the summit program planning committee.

"The scope will include biotechnology and allied technologies related to food, fiber and health product development," he said.

The conference will include general information sessions and breakout work groups.

The issues for discussion, organizers say, will include:

- The role of Texas universities in developing biotechnology and the diffusion of innovation to producers and consumers;
- Managing resources;
- Coordination of the marketing chain for biotechnology derived products;
- New alliances and organizational structures needed;
- Policies and institutions needed to facilitate the transfer of biotechnology from labs to commercial development; and

- Specific biotechnology applications and key technologies that should be emphasized in Texas.

"The application of biotechnology and allied life-science technologies to agriculture is reshaping agriculture and agribusiness at a scale that is revolutionary in scope," said Dr. Gene Nelson, Texas A&M University agricultural economics department chair and summit leader.

He said change will impact all sectors of the economy, but "above all, the future competitiveness of Texas agriculture and the high-technology sector in Texas is at stake.

Registration is $90 per person until Sept. 10, then $105 until Sept. 29.

More information is available from the Texas Agricultural and Natural Resources Summit Initiative, Room 113 Administration Building, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843-2142, (409) 845-2340, fax (409) 845-9938, or e-mail Joe Benningfield, jbenningfield@tamu.edu.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION
 Southwestern Public Service Company has applied to the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission (TNRCC) for renewal of Air Quality Permit No. 6029 to allow continued operation of Boiler Generator No. 1 at Tolk Station Power Plant. The plant is located south of U.S. Highway 70 on FM 2910 approximately eight miles northwest of Sudan, Lamb County, Texas. The facility will emit the following air contaminants: oxides of nitrogen, oxides of sulfur, carbon monoxide, volatile organic compounds, and particulate matter. A person who may be affected by air contaminants emitted from the existing facility may request a hearing. If the applicant demonstrates the existing facility will comply with all applicable air quality requirements, the applicant will qualify for issuance of a permit renewal. The subject of a hearing would be limited to applicable air quality requirements, which do not include issues such as water quality, noise, traffic safety, or zoning. If a hearing is held, it will be a legal proceeding similar to civil trials in state district court. To request a hearing, you must submit the following: (1) your name (or for a group or association, an official representative), mailing address, daytime phone number, and fax number, if any; (2) the applicant's name and permit number; (3) the statement "I/we request a public hearing"; (4) a brief, specific statement of how and why emissions from the facility would adversely affect you in a way not common to members of the general public; and (5) the location of your property relative to the facility.
