CATTLE.

Small Supply For Week Does Not Create Any Urgent Demand.

Only a few loads of cattle arrived today and among them there was not a full load of good fat steers, the best full load lot being of feeder grade. There were not enough, all told, to give trade a warming up and the little business done was on an unchanged basis compared with Thursday.

There has been some disappointment to the selling interest in the cattle trade this week. This has been general, and not confined to any one market. Supplies have been lighter at all points, the local falling off amounting to 5,000, while at five points the aggregate total of 105,500 is 34,000 less than for the previous week. Locally the market for strictly ripe steers has not shown any material change as to prices, but the demand has been indifferent and aside from the best qualities any change in prices has been toward a lower level. This has created a spreading out in the range in prices that can not be expected to narrow down materially, curtailing consumption of beef due to high prices can be charged with the unfavorable turn in cattle prices. Receipts are below normal for the season of year at all leading points, but the consuming public will have to become re-educated to higher priced meats before the markets can become normal.

Prices for fat heifers are on a fairly profitable level at present and there is nothing in sight to cause slumping markets, as it is generally admitted that cattle have been pretty closely marketed. However, there will be no narrowing down in the range of prices, as killers will be on the lookout from now on for cattle that show up grassy and will not pay dry lot prices for cattle that are green and washy.

Best cattle here this week sold at $6.70, with a fair showing at $6.40 to $6.60, but bulk of all fat steers have been graded and weights that sell at $5.75 to $5.80 with common to fair light killers at $5.00 to $5.50.

COWS, BULLS AND MIXED.

Not enough cows and heifers were on sale today to constitute a market. There was no spirit to trading, but offerings changed hands in good season at steady prices. Calves and bulls were quoted steady.

Unwiseness has been the leading feature of the week's trade in cows and heifers. Scarcity of good butcher and dressed beef cows has been noted and the market for this class of stock has ruled active on most days, closing steady to strong with one week ago. Bulk of the decent styles sold at $3.75 to $4.75, although a few odd lots sold up to $5.40. Medium cows, canners and cutters have been neglected and tendency of prices has been downward in these classes. Except for a little country demand for thin young cows, the market for the lower priced stuff would have been a good deal worse. Packers sidestepped canners and cutters at every opportunity and their purchases of these classes were made only under protest. Shippers are urged to hold back these common cows until the demand shows better tone. A lot of canners sold at $1.75 to $2.50 this week, the lowest since last fall when panic prices prevailed. The market for heifers, fairly active first part of the week, closes dull and 15@25c lower all along the line. Choice heifers sold up to $6.00 with mixed lots up to $6.35. Bulk of the decent heifers sold at $5.00 to $5.50.

Trend of prices in the bull market has been downward and a decline of 15@20c is quoted on bulk of offerings at the close.

Calf prices have shown no material change during the week.

SKIPS AND CULLS.

SKIPS AND CULLS. A Little taffy now and then is relished by the most modest of men. The following complimentary notice of The Journal's special edition of last Friday is from the Cropus Christi, Texas Herald, W. F. Baum's paper: The Herald is in receipt of a 24-page edition of the Stock Yards Daily Journal of St. Joseph, Mo., which is a "jim-dandy," a "cracker-jack" and all other things which the superlative terms of the English language is capable of calling it. This special edition is more interesting from the fact that the editor of the paper, Mr. W. E. Warrick, is at present in this city and it was he who changed the big name of an account of which is given in another part of this issue. Mr. Warrick's right hand man, Mr. Y. A. Hartman, deserves the credit for the fine edition of The Journal, for he it was who in the absence of Mr. Warrick, got up all the matter and brought the huge edition to a successful edition. We congratulate Mr. Warrick, Mr. Hartman and everybody connected with the paper for the splendid special edition, and they have our thanks for remembering the Herald with a copy.

SKIPS AND CULLS.

SKIPS AND CULLS. This is Arbor Day. If you did not plant a tree today, hustle around and plant two tomorrow. Posterity will need switches, fishpoles, fenceposts, baseball bats and other lumber. The above cash quotations are based on actual sales each day and are furnished by T. P. Gordon, cash dealer in grain, mill feed and hay.

SKIPS AND CULLS.

SKIPS AND CULLS. Speaking about fish and editors, the latest from Corpus Christi, Texas, is to the effect that W. E. Warrick caught a 60-pounder the other day. Any further doubts as to Warrick's ability to land things may as well be scattered to the four zephyrs.

SKIPS AND CULLS.

SKIPS AND CULLS. Here is what a prominent Kansas feeder ran up against at Kansas City, Mo., Washington county, was on the St. Joseph market Wednesday with a load of tidy-weight heifers which sold readily at $5.50, straight. A split shipment of the same heifers was on sale in Kansas City, selling at $5.25 with 10 head out at $4.00. After such an experience it is not a difficult task to guess pretty accurately the destination of Mr. Sol's shipments in future.

SKIPS AND CULLS.

SKIPS AND CULLS. Apparently the only trouble with the markets now is the slack demand and this has been brought on largely if not entirely, by the heavy advance in meat prices of late. It was natural that the higher price of beef, pork and mutton should follow the sensational advance in prices on cattle, hogs and sheep and it is also natural that there should be a decrease in the consumption of meat as soon as prices were advanced to any considerable extent. The old law of supply and demand will finally govern in spite of combinations and trusts and despite congressional investigation.

SKIPS AND CULLS.

SKIPS AND CULLS. Drovers Journal: Long-expected shortage of live stock marketings is materializing. The result of the excessive liquidation in midwinter weeks is plainly apparent in the arrivals of late at the six leading markets. Particularly this week there is a big decrease in marketing as compared with a year and two years ago. In the first three days this week combined marketing of cattle, hogs and sheep at the six leading points—Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Louis, St. Joseph and Sioux City—totals $9,000, a decrease of 35,000 compared with the same period last week, and 32,000 cattle, 24,000 hogs and 34,000 sheep in comparison with arrivals at the six points a year ago.

SKIPS AND CULLS.

SKIPS AND CULLS. LAMBS ALREADY ARRIVING IN CONSIDERABLE NUMBERS IN SOME SECTIONS OF THE WEST. Reports indicate both a large percentage and a heavy crop, as, owing to the high market last summer, many ewes were bred. Early lambing has been very successful, both under cover in the north and in Arizona. New Mexico, singularly enough, lags later than Arizona, although in the same latitude. The plains delegation arriving in April and that of the mountains in May. Both Arizona and New Mexico will raise more lambs than in several years.

SKIPS AND CULLS.

SKIPS AND CULLS. Washington lambing has been good, but in Oregon dry weather has been a handicap. Early lambing under tent and shed in Idaho has brought a large percentage, but the bulk of the Idaho crop comes during April in the western part of the state, and owing to the higher altitude, a month later on the east side. Idaho flocks have wintered well and lambs will be numerous. Montana is in much better condition than last year, when ewes were emaciated, owing to the hard winter, and that state will produce more lambs than ever before. Conditions fully as optimistic exist in Montana. Both these states lamb in May.

SKIPS AND CULLS.

SKIPS AND CULLS. As a logical result of recent prosperity in wool and mutton trade plans for a large crop of lambs were laid and a singularly favorable winter will further the intentions of the breeder. It doubtless means cheaper material for the eastern finisher.

SKIPS AND CULLS.

SKIPS AND CULLS. Now it is that nice, crisp, bright corn and cane fodder makes for satisfaction among the stock in the yards. Every animal eats and likes it. We certainly should increase our annual store of this cheap fodder.

LAKE MCKINNIE.

LAKE MCKINNIE. Garden City, April 10.—The largest lake in Kansas is situated in what has been called by unthinking people the "semi-arid" part of the state. It is Lake McKinnie, a mile and one-half wide and nearly six miles long, and forms a part of the Garden City irrigation system. Less than three years ago its site was a valley made up of prosperous farms, well covered with cattle and alfalfa stacks where, at times, the water is 25 feet deep. This feature of the new impetus which has been given to irrigation in the Garden City district is only one of the many improvements. The building of the immense reservoir known as Lake McKinnie involved an outlay of something like $350,000, and a corresponding improvement has been made in all the irrigation systems that are grouped around Garden City. Nearly forty miles of new ditches and laterals have been constructed, practically all the old canals have been cleaned out and put in first-class shape, and the aggregate amount of the outlay, including the government pumping project, is probably near $700,000 in the two counties of Finney and Kearney.

LAKE MCKINNIE.

LAKE MCKINNIE. The oldest irrigating ditch taking water from the Arkansas river is located in Kansas. Garden City was founded in 1878 and the Garden City ditch was built in 1879. From that time until 1883 the development of irrigation there was extensive, but with the hard times and lack of large capital to keep going the headgates rotted and the ditches were abandoned for the time being. The great Soule ditch, 110 miles long, built from Ingalls to a point east of Dodge City, was constructed with a couple of hundred thousand dollars in what is now Rochester, N. Y., in the sale of "Hot Bitters." Soule afterward bonded the ditch for a million dollars and took the bonds over to London, where he unloaded on a bunch of British capitalists; the ditch has never seen water or water since that time. Curiously enough, the canal, which is not likely ever to be utilized in the future, is only one shown off the official map of the state of Kansas sent out by the board of railroad commissioners. The other ditches were used more or less fitfully until the possibility of a sugar factory made necessary their general improvement. The sugar company purchased two of the canals near Garden City and acquired a controlling interest in two others, and much of the improvement which has been made, including the big reservoir, was done by the United States Irrigation company, the irrigation corporation of the Garden City sugar interests. This reservoir will hold 2,500,000 cubic feet of water, but, in addition, several smaller reservoirs will furnish their quota of reserve water, being filled when flood waters come down the Arkansas.

LAKE MCKINNIE.

LAKE MCKINNIE. An interesting fact not generally known in connection with irrigation in Kansas is that the oldest irrigation ditch in the west, outside of New Mexico, was constructed in what is now Scott county, about fifty miles northwest of Garden City. It is more than 250 years old. Some time not long prior to 1659 a number of Pueblo Indians left their settlement in what is now New Mexico and emigrated northeast, locating on a creek—now Lashley creek, in Beaver township of Scott county—where they built a fortified pueblo of red sandstone, and raised corn and other crops by irrigation. They professed the Christian religion and were evidently good agriculturists, as a large quantity of corn was found in the ruins. Whether they were exterminated by Indians is not known, but they disappeared before American white men knew of their work, and the destructive part of their dwellings were burned. Some of the parched corn, two and one-half centuries old, is on exhibition in the rooms of the State Historical society, and other relics are at the State university. The old irrigation ditch was used not many years ago by people living there to conduct water to their gardens.

Dr. C. M. McFarland of the local bureau of animal industry is spending a few days in Kansas City.

E. S. Leland of Troy, Kan., was a visitor at the stock yards yesterday. Mr. Leland was formerly postoffice inspector for this district.

D. Ward King, the celebrated good roads man of Maitland, Mo., was a guest at the St. Charles hotel for a short time yesterday.

Mayor Spratt yesterday signed the ordinance increasing the salary of the building inspector from $1,200 to $1,500, and the deputy city auditor from $1,200 to $1,800 a year.

Work on extending the Krug park car line to North St. Joseph, as the town being started by the Industrial Development company is known, is progressing rapidly. The laying of rails will begin some time next week. Trolley wires and poles are being erected at present.

Thomas M. Bradbury, secretary of the state railroad and warehouse commission, was in St. Joseph yesterday in conference with F. W. Maxwell, secretary of the Commercial club, relative to charges made for switching services.

WILL MEET TONIGHT.

Pythians Expect to Organize Suburb Body and Ask for Charter.

There will be a meeting of those interested in the organization of a Knights of Pythias lodge in the South End in Commerce hall, King Hill and Missouri avenues, this evening.

The matter was first brought up at a meeting of the South St. Joseph Business Men's club, when a member remarked that he thought a lodge could be easily organized in the suburb. Several of the Knights present immediately commenced to work on the plan and a meeting was held a week later, when more than twenty signified their intentions of becoming members. A still hunt for applicants was then started and it is expected that more than thirty will attend the meeting this evening and that the general lodge of Missouri will be asked for a charter.

Justice of the Peace Morris H. Craig of Hyde Valley is one of the promoters of the new lodge. He said yesterday that he is receiving many telephone calls inquiring about the proposed organization.

When the new lodge is formed in the suburb, it is likely that a movement will be started to aid the lodges upward in bringing the state home to St. Joseph, and also, in case this city lands the home, to put in a strong plea for the establishing of the institution in the South End. The suburb has many desirable locations and would be ready to assist in the effort to obtain the home for "Bigger St. Joseph."

IT'S ARBOR DAY.

No Celebration in Public Schools, However.

Arbor day was not observed by any special celebrations in St. Joseph today. A few of the more patriotic citizens who desire to see the city beautified, however, planted trees on their own account. None of the public schools celebrated the occasion by planting trees upon the school lawns, as has been done in several instances in the past.

Arbor Day was originated by J. Sterling Morton of Nebraska, in 1889, and is designated each year as the first Friday after the first Tuesday in April.

Oklahoma Gets Soaking. Tulsa, Ok., Apr. 10.—For seventy-two hours rain has fallen in torrents in this locality. The Arkansas river is rising rapidly and an overflow is threatened. Small streams are now out of their banks. This is the first thorough soaking this part of the country has received for fifteen months.

BUILDING ACTIVITY.

Permits Taken Out Yesterday Make It One of Year's Busiest Days.

Building operations, especially in the residence line, are taking on renewed activity. Especially is this true in the suburban districts where a number of medium priced but distinctively beautiful little cottages are being put up. North St. Joseph and the region west of Dewey avenue and north of Rosine street, are showing several new cottages just being completed and under course of construction. Charles Nowland, a contractor, is having a number of four and five-room cottages erected in this vicinity. The North St. Joseph Real Estate & Loan company is rushing work on several cottages on St. Joseph avenue. This company took out several permits yesterday for modern cottages. Among them were one on Thirteenth, between Jackson and Scott streets, frame cottage, cost $1,800; Mitchell avenue, between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets, frame cottage, cost $2,500; Gordon avenue, between Madison street and Broadway, frame cottage, cost $1,000.

Mrs. Maude Davis, Seventeenth street, between Faron and Roubidoux streets, was granted a permit for a $3,000 frame residence yesterday, while C. L. Thompson, Bellevue street, between A and Rosine streets, took out a permit for a frame cottage costing $1,050. J. R. Nichols will erect a brick residence at Sixteenth and Sylvan streets, costing $2,000, the permit for which was issued yesterday.

Mrs. W. F. Keller was granted a permit yesterday also for a $1,500 frame cottage on Main street, between Rosine and Cherry streets, making yesterday one of the busiest of the new year as far as the issuance of building permits is concerned.

WILL TALK BASEBALL.

Important Issues to Be Discussed Sunday.

For the purpose of lining up the number of teams in the five men, two men and individual events which will represent St. Joseph in the state meet at St. Louis the last of the month, a meeting of the St. Joseph Bowling Association has been called for Sunday afternoon at the bowling academy.

Several other matters of importance to the bowlers of the city and the members of the stock company which is behind the local alleys will be up for consideration and it is urged that all be present.

COULD NOT BE DISHEARTENED.

One Man's Philosophy Rose Superior to All Afflictions.

Brown's cheerfulness was a source of wonder and admiration to his friends. Either his religion or his philosophy taught him to accept everything as a wise dispensation. But then he had a large share of worldly goods, his friends argued, and nothing but adversity would shake his faith. Therefore, when a promising crop was washed away by a flood the neighbors were much astonished to hear him say, "It's all for the best. I was blest with an overabundance last year."

In the winter his house was burned to the ground. To his neighbors' solicitations he calmly responded: "The house never suited us anyway, so it is all for the best."

Other calamities befell Brown, but still he refused to be disheartened. The climax came when he was in a railroad accident. Both feet were so badly crushed that amputation was necessary.

Sympathetic friends gathered from all quarters. They dreaded to hear the lamentations they were sure would greet them, for even Brown could hardly be expected to pass this lightly by.

"Guess you are pretty well discouraged, aren't you, with both feet cut off?" ventured some one. "Do you think this is all for the best?"

But Brown nodded his head, smiling wanly, and said: "They were always cold, anyway."—Ladies' Home Journal.

SOLID FOR HUGHES

GREATER NEW YORK NAMES DELEGATES TO CHICAGO FAVORABLE TO GOVERNOR.

ONE DISTRICT IS OPPOSED

His Friends Predict the State Convention on Saturday Will Be Enthusiastically for His Nomination.

New York, Apr. 10.—A practically solid Hughes delegation to Chicago was chosen in Greater New York Thursday night. Of the 18 congressional district conventions, 13 instructed their delegates to "vote for Gov. Hughes for the presidency until he is nominated or his name is withdrawn." Two other delegations were instructed to "work and vote for Hughes."

The Ninth district, Manhattan, the Seventh district, Brooklyn, and the Fourteenth district, Queens, county, failed to instruct their delegates. The delegations unstructured are claimed to be for Hughes, with the exception of the Fourteenth district, where a resolution endorsing the governor's candidacy was voted down. In this portion of the city is the Aqueduct race track, and the opposition to the governor in the Fourteenth is credited to a disapproval of the governor's attitude in opposition to race track gambling.

In none of the conventions was an effort made to choose candidates favorable to the nomination of Secretary Taft. The secretary's name was, however, mentioned in several instances and invariably evoked applause.

The Hughes men were jubilant Thursday night and prophesied that the state convention to be held in this city on Saturday would be enthusiastic for the governor. This disaffection in Albany county could not, it was declared, stay the tide that had set in for Hughes.

Australians Feel Alarmed.

London, Apr. 10.—Australia's apprehension in the matter of possible aggression on the part of Japan was voiced at the meeting held in London Thursday afternoon of the Australian chamber of commerce by Thomas Price, premier of South Australia. Mr. Price was emphasizing the necessity of Great Britain giving a more tangible proof of her interest in the colonies. "You can not keep a colony by merely flying a flag over it, even the Union Jack," he said. "There must be sympathy and understanding behind the flag. With the awakening of the east, if you are going to retain Australia as a jewel of the British crown, some one has got to stand up and fight to keep it."

A Feud Among Custom Officers.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Apr. 10.—Herbert Wright, Canadian customs officer who was arrested Wednesday by Officer Rader and brought here Wednesday evening and arraigned before United States Commissioner Browning. The trial was adjourned until Saturday and Wright was released under $500 bonds and went back to Emerson. The conflict is the outgrowth of a feud existing between United States and Canadian officials at the boundary line, caused by the arrest of Officer Foulkes, on a charge of kidnaping in connection with a grain smuggling case.

Must Look Their Prettiest.

Washington, Apr. 10.—In order to present military service in its most attractive light and in that way encourage enlistment in the army, General Bell, chief of staff, has directed that all officers and enlisted men employed in the recruiting service wear their nicest military apparel, either the dress uniform or the white uniform, according to the season. The wearing of the service of olive drab uniform by recruiting officers or men is interdicted. Recruiting officers are reminded that neatness of dress and soldierly appearance are essential to success in recruiting and they are directed to relieve from such duty all enlisted men who are slovenly or unsoldierly in appearance.

Revolt Was Planned in Portugal.

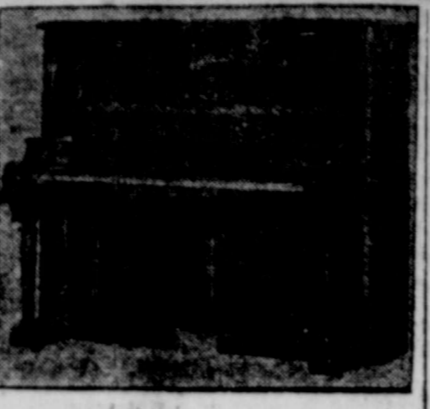

Paris, Apr. 10.—The Temps publishes a history obtained, it says, from an inside source, of a Republican plot in Portugal, confirming the existence prior to the assassination of King Carlos and the crown prince, of a veritable revolutionary organization, in which, it states, all the Republican leaders with the exception of Bernardino Machado were involved. New and interesting details are furnished in the article concerning the distribution of arms and bombs, and the support in the army which the revolutionists had secured.

WEDNESDAY'S BUSINESS

CATTLE.

Light Supplies Appear Equal to Demand, Prices Steady to Lower.

Supplies of cattle continue very moderate at all leading points, but are still apparently fully up to demands of the trade.

Local offerings included a more liberal proportion of steers than have been here on previous days of the week, and the quality was fairly good, but this did not stimulate trade.

Buyers were indifferent and slow movers from the start and bid lower prices on all classes of offerings. Sales were finally made at steady to a dime lower prices with best steers selling at $6.70.

There is hardly a question that the higher prices for meats, which have been given much prominent publication, have had something to do with the unfavorable turn in the market for live cattle.

Today the local buyers, in keeping with early reports from outside points, started out to force prices down a full 10 cents compared with yesterday.

Sellers did not want to accede to this and as a result it was well along toward noon before there was any considerable movement to the trade.

When hogs began moving toward the scales it was on a basis of 5@10 cents under Tuesday prices with the bulk sales showing around 7 1/2 @ 10 cents decline.

Prices ranged from $5.62 1/2 @ 6.00 with the bulk selling at $5.77 1/2 @ 5.95. The bulk yesterday sold at $5.85 @ 6.00, a week ago at $5.75 @ 5.90, a month ago at $4.40 @ 4.55, a year ago at $3.55 @ 3.70.

Receipts were moderate, but buyers toward common cows continue leading features in this branch of the market. Receipts today were heavier than on either Monday or Tuesday, but were within moderate bounds.

Quality was somewhat better than on previous days this week, but the showing of really stuff was liberal considering condition of the market for this class.

Buyers were stirring around in good season looking for desirable material and sellers had no difficulty in cashing good cows and heifers at prices fully in line with yesterday.

Heifers sold up to $5.85 for full loads, with bulk selling at $5.90 @ 5.95. A few odd head of cows sold above $5.00, but a useful class landed at $4.25 @ 4.75.

A range of $3.40 @ 4.00 took most of the medium to fairly good butcher cows. Trashy light heifers and thin, common cows are still mean sellers and trade in these classes was dull with a downward tendency of prices.

Good fat bulls were scarce and wanted at steady prices. Medium to common bolognas were slow, but generally steady.

Calf supplies were light with a scant showing of tippy light vealers. Prices were fully steady and the market had active tone.

Local receipts very light, but market easier. Hardly enough sheep and lambs arrived at this point today to give the market a test.

Outside markets reported further weakness and despite the small run, the local trade was weak to 10c lower in sympathy.

No good heavy weight lambs were offered and $7.20 @ 7.50 took bulk of the offerings. A small lot of wethers brought $6.50.

For the half-week local receipts of 5,600 indicate a shrinkage of around 5,000 compared with same period of last week.

At five points the total is 100,100 for three days, indicating a loss of 7,700 compared with first half of last week.

THURSDAY'S BUSINESS

CATTLE.

Fair Supply of Fat Steers Met Slow Reception From Buyers.

Supplies of cattle are still running light at leading points, total for the week at five markets reaching only 100,000 against 133,000 for the same time last week.

HOGS.

Market in Slumping Condition, Prices Another 5@10 Cents Lower.

Buying interests were bearish again today and, at the start, demanded a full 10 cent reduction compared with prices of yesterday.

While supplies do not seem to warrant a slumping market, the demand seems to have fallen off lately and apparently all that prevents a big break at this time is the fact of receipts being held down to a very moderate volume.

On the local market, the numbers of hogs arrived for the week to date is 5,000 less than for last week, while the 212,000 for five points for four days is 11,000 short of a week ago.

Quality is not as good as a couple of weeks ago and the showing of unfinished light weights was quite large today.

Prices ranged from $5.55 @ 5.60 with the bulk selling at $5.80 @ 5.95. The bulk yesterday sold at $5.77 1/2 @ 5.95, a week ago at $5.80 @ 5.95, a month ago at $4.40 @ 4.60, a year ago at $3.55 @ 3.70.

Receipts were moderate, but buyers toward common cows continue leading features in this branch of the market.

Quality was somewhat better than on previous days this week, but the showing of really stuff was liberal considering condition of the market for this class.

Buyers were stirring around in good season looking for desirable material and sellers had no difficulty in cashing good cows and heifers at prices fully in line with yesterday.

Heifers sold up to $5.85 for full loads, with bulk selling at $5.90 @ 5.95. A few odd head of cows sold above $5.00, but a useful class landed at $4.25 @ 4.75.

A range of $3.40 @ 4.00 took most of the medium to fairly good butcher cows. Trashy light heifers and thin, common cows are still mean sellers and trade in these classes was dull with a downward tendency of prices.

Good fat bulls were scarce and wanted at steady prices. Medium to common bolognas were slow, but generally steady.

WEDNESDAY'S BUSINESS

CATTLE.

Light Supplies Appear Equal to Demand, Prices Steady to Lower.

Supplies of cattle continue very moderate at all leading points, but are still apparently fully up to demands of the trade.

Local offerings included a more liberal proportion of steers than have been here on previous days of the week, and the quality was fairly good, but this did not stimulate trade.

Buyers were indifferent and slow movers from the start and bid lower prices on all classes of offerings. Sales were finally made at steady to a dime lower prices with best steers selling at $6.70.

There is hardly a question that the higher prices for meats, which have been given much prominent publication, have had something to do with the unfavorable turn in the market for live cattle.

Today the local buyers, in keeping with early reports from outside points, started out to force prices down a full 10 cents compared with yesterday.

Sellers did not want to accede to this and as a result it was well along toward noon before there was any considerable movement to the trade.

When hogs began moving toward the scales it was on a basis of 5@10 cents under Tuesday prices with the bulk sales showing around 7 1/2 @ 10 cents decline.

Prices ranged from $5.62 1/2 @ 6.00 with the bulk selling at $5.77 1/2 @ 5.95. The bulk yesterday sold at $5.85 @ 6.00, a week ago at $5.75 @ 5.90, a month ago at $4.40 @ 4.55, a year ago at $3.55 @ 3.70.

RYAN CHANGES HIS STATEMENT AS TO POLITICAL FUNDS.

Now States $500,000 Was Paid to Whitney—Does Not Know How It Was Used.

New York, Apr. 10.—Thomas F. Ryan Thursday threw cold water on the recently published story to the effect that he had testified before a special grand jury that $500,000 of Metropolitan Street railway money ostensibly to be used for the purchase of the Wall and Cortland street ferry line had gone into a political campaign fund.

"It was paid to Wm. C. Whitney," said Mr. Ryan. "He suggested that we put in $100,000 apiece for the company. This was in 1899 or 1900. There was no entry made in the Metropolitan Street railway books."

"Have you any other information except what Mr. Whitney told you as to the use of the money?" he was asked.

"No."

"As a fact, do you know to what it was applied?"

"Did you know that when the $500,000 was paid it was for the Wall and Cortland street ferry franchise?"

"I did not until I got notice from the Morton Trust company that $111,000 had been put to my credit."

Mr. Ryan then told of his connection with the company in 1903. The $111,000 was credited to him while he was away.

GOV. HUGHES TAKES A HAND IN THE ANTI-GAMBLING FIGHT IN NEW YORK.

SENDS A SPECIAL MESSAGE

Will Call An Election to Fill Senatorial Vacancy and Convene the Legislature in Special Session.

Albany, N. Y., Apr. 10.—Any expectation that a lull would follow the storm of Wednesday in the legislature when the senate by a tie vote defeated the anti-race track gambling legislation desired by Gov. Hughes, was dispelled at the opening of the session Thursday morning in dramatic fashion.

Almost simultaneously with the sending of the message to both houses the governor caused it to be made known that it was his intention to proclaim a special election, probably on May 12, in the Niagara-Orleans senatorial district to fill the vacancy in the senate caused by the recent death of Senator Franchot of Niagara Falls.

The announcement of the special election was the subject of more than ordinary interest in the legislature, especially because of the bearing this might have on the anti-gambling bills should they be presented at the proposed extraordinary session in view of the possibility that the bills might gain a supporter in the new senator.

The senate especially received the message with every evidence of surprise. A number of senators on both sides were absent and those who were there were plainly jaded by the long struggle of Wednesday.

Senators Grady and McCarren, who were leaders in the successful opposition to the bills Wednesday, took the occasion to make bitter attacks upon Gov. Hughes. Senator McCarren suggested "that a respectful message be sent to the governor advising him to mind his own business."

In the assembly the message caused no less of a sensation. After it had been read, Minority Leader Palmer moved that certified copies of the vote of the assembly on the anti-gambling bills be sent to the governor, "so that we shall have to stand no more lectures on that subject."
