A decent sort of a market was had today for beef steers on heaviest receipts of the week, but there was less life to the movement and soft spots were in evidence, especially on medium and plain kinds. Considerable uncertainty regarding receipts for the day at this point prevailed during the forenoon hours. At the start an estimate of 2,200 cattle was hung up, but at nine o'clock a supply of 3,500 was posted on the bulletin board. This estimate, however, looked high and many of the traders were not looking for over 3,000, with some estimates as low as 2,700 and 2,800, late trains running heavily to hogs and sheep. A week ago 3,195 cattle were on sale here and a year ago the run was 2,326 head. The five markets early reported 23,700 cattle as against 25,500 a week ago and 17,600 a year ago.

Steers made up more than a sixty percent of the day's offerings. The supply offered a very fair assortment as to weight and quality, although nothing of strictly choice grade was available in the early part of the session. Buyers did not enter the competition very spiritedly and the feeling on the buying side was rather weak. A few nice handy weight steers and tidy yearlings were picked up quite readily at steady prices and there was also a small movement in fairly good beeves worth $6.50@7.00 in the early rounds at prices that varied very little from yesterday's level. Later the market was quotable steady ceipts of the week, but there was less ied very little from yesterday's level. Later the market was quotable steady to 10c lower, with the principal weakness showing on plain and medium classes, although a good many sales. of these kinds were rated very nearly of these kinds were rated very hearly steady.

The following prices on steers are quotable on the St. Joseph market:

Choice to prime, $7.50@8.25; good to choice, $7.00@7.50; fair to good short-fed, $6.50@7.10; medium to fair chort-fed, $6.25@6.50; common to medium, $5.50@6.25. Dressed Beef and Shipping Steers.

Trade in butchers' stock opened rather slow this morning and there was a lack of the snap that featured the market in this division on previous days of the week. Recelpts were of moderate proportions and light in proportion to the general supply. Buyers, while holding good orders, were out to weaken prices but general demand was too broad to make their efforts very effective. Prices ranged steady to 10c lower, the principal weakness falling on the plain and medium classes. The more useful grades of cows while slow in spots were generally steady and there was a minus quantity, supplies were too small to establish a market although no change was evident in clearing of the few odds and ends. Good to choice feeding steers are quotable at $5.75 \(\tilde{0} \) 6.00; medium to good grades at $5.50 \(\tilde{0} \) 5.75 \(\tilde{0} \) 6.00; medium to good grades at $4.75 \(\tilde{0} \) 5.25; common to fair stock steers at $4.75 \(\tilde{0} \) 5.25; stock heifers, fair to good, $3.75 \(\tilde{0} \) 6.00; medium to good grades at $5.50 \(\tilde{0} \) 5.75 \(\tilde{0} \) 6.00; stock steers at $4.75 \(\tilde{0} \) 5.25; stock heifers, fair to good, $3.75 \(\tilde{0} \) 6.00; stock steers at $4.25 \(\tilde{0} \) 6.00; stock calves, $4.25 \(\tilde{0} \) 5.00.

Offerings consisted largely of corn belt lambs with a fair sprinkling of Colorado fed stuff, with the general quality about on par with yesterday. Few sheep were included, a four-car shipment of wethers and a couple of decks of well-fatted ewes constituting the offerings in the branch. Only three cars arrived early enough to participate in the opening trade, and with several of the big packers out early in search of market with a consignment of longs.

THE FARMER'S JUNK PILE

Repair Work.

There is hardly a farm of any size but has a junk pile, and we all have more or less need of much of this junk in various ways in our farm op erations. Indeed, there are but ver few days in the year, especially the "busy season," when we do n resort to the junk pile in quest some handy or ingenious piece of casting, bolt, clip, rivet, etc., either for repair work or the making up of some new device to be used about th

To this end and knowing the handiness of many such pieces to us, we are very careful when we have an old machine go down or pass out of useful-ness, to save all parts which we think we might possibly use in the future.

Our junk pile, unlike many such piles of cast off material, is not scattered about the farm promiscuously, or drawn together in an unsightly, rusted heap in the corner of the barn lot; but instead we have a work bench with vise, carborumdum grinder, grindstone and other handy tools attached, and a large box near by holds all the odds, ends and valuable pieces of junk. When an old machine has been passed up for usefulness, it is drawn to the barn floor and stormy days are employed in taking it to pieces and sorting out all valuable pieces.

In the case of breaking plows, moware discarded and marketed for junk to our resident dealer. All bolts, taps, malleable pieces, hinges, rods, trusses, caps, braces and strap iron find their place in our junk box, whence we may recall them later on for repair work. As we do not wear out sufficient machinery to keep up in such materlal, we offimes buy at some public sale some old piece of machinery that is going at a bargain, bring it home and junk it for our own use.

The First Telescope And the Man Who Made It

HE moon is shining into the window so brightly tonight," said daddy to Jack and Evelyn, "that I want you children to take a good peep Would you suppose that it was covered with hills and mountains and valleys just like our earth?" "No, indeed!" answered the children. "We never would."

"If you had a telescope and looked at the moon through that you would see that the moon has mountains and valleys, though it is thought nothing grows there," said daddy. "It is only within a few hundred years that we have had telescopes.

"Before that people had all sorts of queer ideas about the stars. They thought the moon was just a mirror bung up in the sky. Now that we have telescopes so that we can look closely at the moon we know better. We know that the moon has hills and valleys and that the dark places are only the shadows formed where the valleys dip down below tall mountains. The moon mountains are very high. "The man who first found out these things was Galilei, an Italian, who was a teacher in one of the great schools in the Italian city of Padua. He lived a little over 300 years ago. "Galtlei made himself a telescope which would enlarge thirty times anything at which he looked. He studied the moon with his telescope, and then he told the people what he had learned. Some of them laughed at him, and some thought he was crazy or lying. "His telescope made a great stir, and he was for awhile very popular. Then he began to teach that the sun did not move around the earth, as people had always believed, but that the earth moved around the sun.

"This was too much for the people, who had always been taught the opposite. Galilei was arrested, and the court told him that he must take back what he had said about the earth moving about the sun. Galilei had a way It Often Furnishes Valuable Pieces for of making fun of people who were too dull to understand his teachings, and so he had few friends to take his part,

"Though he was such a wise man in some ways, he had not the courage to stand boldly by the truth. To get out of trouble he said aloud: "'I was mistaken; the earth does not move.' Then under his breath he whispered, 'Nevertheless it does move.' "After his death people learned that he was right about the earth and sun. Galilei knew he was right, but to get out of trouble he was willing to say that right was wrong. So Galilei was a coward, though he was one of the cleverest

Recently the senate passed a measure for the reduction of the number of drink shops, and it was understood that the chamber of deputies would adopt it. But when the matter came before the house, the deputies, adopting the views of M. Georges Berry, postponed the solution indefinitely by referring the senatorial measure to a standing committee.

During the debate Jules Siegfried mentioned that Paris has 30,000 public houses, whereas London has 5,600. Chicago 5,700, Edinburgh 340, and Moseow 244.

PAPER BAG

Great System Perfected by M. contest in Maryland waters between Soyer, Famous London Chef.

REVIEWED.

By Martha McCulloch Williams. In this final paper on my experiences with M. Soyer's paper bag cookery, it may be well to sum up briefly its claims and its performances.

In the claims, item one, economy, more than vital in the present state of finance high and low.

Item two, nutrition; things cooked in paper bags certainly set better upon the stomach and return more strength of mind and body than the same things cooked outside it.

Item three, prevention-the prevention of ptomaine and other obscure poisons, bred betwixt food and air. with three smaller bivalves clinging Not the willest microbe of them all can survive baking in the oven—and to keep the duck's head under water. after the baking the bag is thrown

Item four, increase and bettering of flavors, which means increase and bettering of food itself.

· A fine array truly. But not the whole tale of benefits. The whole might be tedious. Any way, in the little remnant of allotted space, other things press to be spoken.

Words of caution, for example. In cooking in paper bags mind, not your p's and q's, but the simple directions for use. Namely, to grease the bags well, not to overfill them, to fold over the open end three times and fasten the fold with wire clips, to lay and if by chance it breaks, to put it to finish the cooking.

Buy clips in several sizes. They are cheap and almost everlasting. Use them freely in fastening up the bags -they can be pulled off before the bag is thrown away and used over and over.

Do not be niggard as regards bags. Often it is better to use two or three small ones than a single one of medium or large size.

Coal and wood ranges are not so well adapted to paper bag cooking as gas ranges. Still, bag cooking can be done with any kind of heat-the knack lies in the regulation of it. The theory of paper bag cooking is this: A cold bag put into a hot stove gets warm very quickly throughout, and the paper of it crisps wherever it touches nothing but air. This quick and flavoring the food fiber. But if finesse to get him to take them. the heat is too long continued, it dethis destruction is accomplished.

There are several ways of doing went visiting. this. They may be used in combinaion or separately. Keep the door ajar until the test paper merely yellows. By that time the dampers should have done their work sufficiently. Close the oven door, leaving inside another strip of clean white paper. In three minutes look at it-if it is browning too fast, set the door again ajar, but if merely yellowing let the door stay closed.

This regulation of heat is a vital turned off, and what remains reduced as low as is safe.

In baking pastry and cake it is esvery close together.

Things cooked at full head of gasshould not be taken up until the gas Lte of gas flame will pay for many pounds of clay daily.

FIGHT OF DUCK AND OYSTER

Bivalve Conquered by Clinging to the Fowl's Bill Until the Bird Was Drowned.

Not long ago there occurred a lively a duck and an oyster. The oyster was victorious, but it was a fatal victory, for when the bivalve had killed MERITS OF PAPER BAG COOKING the duck there appeared a man who killed the oyster and ate them both.

The combat between the duck and the oyster was of the rough and tumble kind. The duck was large and full grown. It was of the diving specles frequently seen in those waters. Now when the oyster feeds it opens its shell so wide that the full oyster itself is plainly visible. The sight of such a morsel was too great a temptation for the duck. He made a headlong plunge, inserting his bill between the oyster's open shell.

Like a flash the shell closed on the Woman Who Could Not See the Tail of the Comma Went to Oculist.

Sometimes a comma makes a good deal of difference to the meaning of the sentence you happen to be reading. A woman who has reached the age of being called "Madam" by most shopkeepers, but whose friends always tell her how young and girlish she looks, was reading a newspaper paragraph. It didn't make any sense, so she read it again. Then she yanked the paper up close to her face, the filled bag always seam side up, leaned toward the window and studied it out in a better light. Then she saw instantly inside another bigger bag, the tail on the comma. What had lookall but a division of a sentence.

"I will not wait," said she to herself, "until I try to thread the point of a needle or humiliate myself by stooping to pick up a coin on a car platform and find it is a nail head worn smooth. I will turn my old age milepost as gracefully as possible. I wonder," said she with a sigh, "if the tail of that comma was perfectly plain, or was it blurred in the newspaper I was reading?"

Tribute to Amazons.

The magnificent example of the women of Dahomey should be made widely known wherever their more civilized sisters are to be found struggling for their rights. Frederick Martyn of the French foreign legion, who fought in the recent Dahomey campaign, tells us emphatically that "the female of the species is more deadly than the male." The Senegalese tirailleurs were attacked by the Amazons, and Mr. Martyn says that "any one inclined to sympathize with the Amazons on account of their sex and to look upon the combat between them and our men as unequal, may take it from me that their sympathy would be misplaced. These young women were far and away the best men in the Dahomeyan army, and woman to man were quite a match for any of us. They fought like unchained demons and if driven into a corner, did not disdain to use their teeth and nails." It may be an error of policy to make these facts known, and thus to stimulate a militancy already vigorous enough.

> According to Innes, who discusses the subject in "Transvaal Observatory Circular No. 5," the apparent absence of stars in this region is due to the occurrence of some absorbing medium, interposed between us and distant parts of the universe.

> Stars in the neighborhood of the dark region are enveloped in nebulæ; while just on the border of it there is a star which has been observed to fluctuate in magnitude between 11.0 and 12.2, and which was invisible during the years 1899-1901.

The latter fact is accounted for on the supposition that the absorbing medium was for a time in front of the star, but has since withdrawn from it.

CARDS TELL STORY

Collector Has Wonderful Collection of Pasteboards.

Philadelphia Woman Who Has Devoted Twenty Years of Her Life to a Unique Study-Has Packs From All Nations.

London.-An American woman who cards asked the superintendent of prints in the British museum not long ago who was the world's authority on cards and card collections.

"I want to consult the best book," she explained.

The superintendent took a volume from a shelf and gave it to her.

said; "the author of this knows more queer facts about playing cards than any other living person. She has the largest collection in the world herself. And this is the best book on the subject that has ever been written." The author is an American woman.

"The Devil's Picture Books, by Mrs. John King Van Rensselaer," the American visitor read. "But haven't you anything else? I've read this, and I wanted to know if there wasn't another authority I could consult. I am collecting material for a book."

"You'll find all there is to know about cards in that one," the man insisted, and his questioner sighed.

"I wanted to find out more," she said. "I know this book by heart. You see, I am Mrs. John King Van Rensselaer.'

The director gasped, and Mrs. Van Rensselaer proceeded to establish her identity by means of a letter from the Smithsonian institution in Washington. Then she began to search the print room of the British museum, where the card collection is kept, and to consult the museum's books.

Mrs. Van Rensselaer's collection, as ft now stands, is the most comprehensive and most valuable, as well as the TO BE THE RICHEST CHURCH largest, in the world.

"Playing cards, you see," Mrs. Van under three grand divisions. There are fortune-telling cards, gambling involved in the proposed merger. cards and the various kinds of educational cards. Educational cards are church, heads a committee of four not of particular interest and gambling cards are but the modern adaptation of the old fortune telling cards. These fortune-telling cards are by far the most interesting, and it is from them that one can read strange stories of the history of the world and he customs of the people.

Fortune-telling cards are an evolution of the great Egyptian mysteries. They were first brought into Phoenicia. Greece and Italy by the Egyptians or gypsies. I know that a great many people do not believe that the gypaies are descendants of the old Egyptians, but I do, and my study has confirmed "The use of fortune-telling cards may be traced back to the rites connected with Marduk, in the Bible, and his son Nebu. In chapter 17 of the book of Numbers the divine commands are given to consult the cards. The people believed in the fortune telling and the oracles, and the fortune-telling cards were an important feature in their life.

WOMAN BARS SILK STOCKINGS

She Advocates Police Rule In Making Poor Young Women Discard Fine Hosiery.

Washington, D. C .- If the women of Washington will follow the advice of Mrs. Olaf C. Guildin, chairman of the Home Economics of the Federation of 4.00 Women's Clubs, Major Sylvester's policemen will have their work cut out for them in making the young women forego the pleasure of wearing silk > movement at Fort Wayne, Ind., and had advised the women of Washington to appeal to the chief of police to heip make the young women of the working classes go without the extravagant garments for more suitable clothing.

> Not that silk stockings are not pretty, claims Mrs. Guildin, but the more luxurious sisters only set the fashion, and the poorer girls in their endeavors to keep pace are forced to go without proper dress. "I think they had better be dispensed with," said Mrs. Giuldin, in speaking of silk hostery.

MAN STARVED TO DEATH

Authorities Unable to Make a Louisville Prisoner Take Food-Was Thought Insane.

Louisville.-Voluntary starvation resulted in the death of Barney Hack, 58 years old, who died at the city hospital after he had refused for eleven days to partake of any food. Several years ago he fell from a ladder and received injuries about the head. He was placed in jail a short time ago by relatives, pending an investigation into his sanity. While confined in jail Hack sat with his hands folded

HE WAS A "PHONY" CARUSO

Mayor Carter Harrison of Chicago Annoyed by Telephonic Grand Opera.

Chicago.-Max Finkelstein, although a plumber by trade, was so sure he was Enrico Caruso that he called up Mayor Harrison and insisted on singing a few grand opera selections.

Finkelstein started early. At 8:30 in the morning the mayor's telephone rang. "Hello," said Mr. Harrison.

"This is Caruso," was the greeting is interested in the history of playing that came over the wire. "I will come over this afternoon and sing for you." "No you won't," said the mayor. "Good-by."

> "It was not long before the telephone bell rang again. When Mr. Harrison took down the receiver he heard the same voice.

"Listen to this," it said. "Umpte-"This is the highest authority," he did-di-do. That's grand opera. I'm coming over to your house and entertain your friends."

From that time until 2 o'clock the offer was repeated every few minutes. Finally Mayor Harrison's patience gave out. He called up the office of the chief of police and suggested that the man be found and locked up.

About the same time the police received a complaint from a confectionery store at Johnston and Maxwell streets that a crazy man was making the store his headquarters. Detectives hurried to the store and captured the disturber in the act of calling up Mayor Harrison for the purpose of singing a few grand opera selections.

Finkelstein at the Maxwell street police station gave his address as 815 West Fourteenth street. Judge Owen was called by telephone and gave instructions to have the man taken to the Detention hospital.

There Finkelstein insisted that he was not insane, and to prove that his head was sound began to beat it against the wall of his cell. He was put where he could do himself no

David C. Link, treasurer of Calvary which has been conferring since last spring with a like number of representatives of the Fifth Avenue organization with a view to uniting the two congregations. At a meeting held last Wednesday, according to Mr. Link, the project finally took the concrete shape doning and selling out the Fifth Avenue church property, valued at a minimum of $600,000, at No. 8 West Fortygixth street

The joint committees also took up the question of transferring the membership of the Fifth Avenue church bodily to the Calvary church, which has one of the largest and most complete edifices in the city on Fifty-seventh street, near Sixth avenue. The Calvary church is valued at more than one million dollars.

A year ago when the Rev. Dr. Charles F. Aked threatened to resign unless an adequate church edifice were provided, it took the Fifth Avenue Baptist congregation just twenty-eight minutes to raise $324,000 for the new building then talked of. The total was later increased to $422,000 within a few days.

TRIBE WANTS PAY FOR SQUAW

Indians Insist Upon Payment of Ten Ponies for Woman Put to Death.

Lake View, Ore.-Bige Archie, who was accused of killing his squaw at Plush, on the Klamath Indian reservation a few months ago, and who was found not guilty by a jury in the circuit court, will yet have to pay a penalty for the deed, according to rumors from the Warner valley. Bige is a Plute Indian, and his squaw was of the Pit River tribe. The latter tribe is not satisfied with the result of the circuit court trial. The Pit River Indians are now demanding that Bige and his friends pay over a suitable amount in payment for the wife, and in case they ST. JOSEPH. refuse to do so it is said that it will be a case of life for life and war, with Bige in the leading role. It is understood that Bige and his tribesmen are endeavoring to raise the money and valuables to quiet the wrath of the Pit Rivers, and hope for an early settlement. Ten ponies will settle the bill in full payment for the Check Hunted by 25 Men.

Philadelphia.-A check for 500 marks to Mayor Rudolph Blankenship from Berlin, which he inadvertently hrew into the waste basket, turned Philadelphia city hall topsy turvy. Dr. Edward McInail, the reform superintendent of the building, drafted 25 men, went into the cellar where all waste paper is dumped, and from 3:30 a. m. until 4 p. m. the search was prosecuted.

It was not until the last paper bin nad been reached that the slip of paper, worth $100, was found.

READ BIBLE IN ONE DAY.

Sixty Texans Take Turns at Three Hundred Words a Minute. Pecas, Tex., March 6.—Members of the First Baptist church here read the entire Bible from Genesis to Revelaions, in a day.

The reading commenced Sunday at 6 a. m. and concluded at midnight. Sixty readers participated.

They were compelled to read at "break-neck" speed, for there were 600,000 words to be pronounced. The average was 300 words a minute, more rapid than William Jennings Bryan talks. The readers had prac-ticed on the books assigned them for a week. The congregation, as well as the readers, were exhausted when the service concluded.

Statistics credit the state of Pen sylvania with having upward of 50, 000 automobiles.
