Ray's 'Ritin'

By RAY MARTIN
Cinderella Louise Derfendorfer, our dachshund, is in a bad way, and must soon undergo surgery, the doctor says. She's suffering from a bad case of kidney stones, and to make matters worse, she's running temperature from a bad case of tonsillitis.

The little gal hasn't been feeling too well the last few days, and has even given up her favorite sport, barking at the postman. We knew something was wrong when she let the postman pass two days in a row without raising her voice once in protest over his use of the sidewalk which she has always assumed was our exclusive property, and should not be used by other people, even the postman.

She's also lost interest in food, another of her favorite activities. She doesn't even bother to beat the two cats to the food tray at meal time, and twice lately she has let two stray cats, out exploring for food, go by without even a mild bark.

THAT BIG, BIG DAY! — There'll never be another day just like last Monday for John Wesley Aduddell, 218 W. 5th. That was the day he started school for the first time. Here's he's stopped at the front door to the school as his mother, Mrs. Jack Aduddell, gives him a final once-over. A teacher is shown in her classroom in the background. (Journal Photo & Engv.)

School Opening Enrolment Hits 1,842 Mark, 95 Above '61 Start

Muleshoe school enrolment topped last year's starting figure by 95 with increases shown in all schools except junior high, figures released Thursday by Superintendent Neal Dillman revealed.

This was only five below the increase which the superintendent had predicted for the system.

First day's enrolment total was 1,842 as compared with last year's 1,747. Both this year and last year, "handicaps" were noted: Last year the system opened unusually early — August 27 — while this year the first day of school was on Labor day. He said the two factors probably balanced off each other.

Usually enrolment gains are shown throughout the first few days of school, and another spurt in attendance is noted during October and November when cotton harvest is under way. This is due to an influx of transient cotton pickers who put their children in school while they are in this area.

Comparing this year's opening-day attendance with the same date a year ago, 1962 was still in the lead. On that date last year, enrolment had reached 1,783. However, schools had been under way for a week at that time.

The attendance increase, other than in Junior high, was noted throughout the system, with no one age or grade group apparently showing ahead of the overall average.

C-C Urges Early Return of Ballots

Members of Muleshoe's Chamber of Commerce were urged this week to return their ballots to the Chamber office at the earliest possible moment, rather than waiting until the September 26 deadline.

Ballots were mailed last week to all members of the Chamber in order that they might cast their votes for four new directors and for candidates for the offices of president, vice-president and treasurer.

Candidates for the four director posts are: W. F. Birdsong, Lester Howard, Karl Freyer, Truman Lindsey, Charles Lewis, James Glaze, Red Simmons, and George Bragg.

Officer candidates include: Bob

Indicted Attorney Says He Won't Quit

By RAY MARTIN
Editor, The Journal

County Attorney Karl Lovelady, indicted on three counts last Thursday by district court grand jury which also asked that he be removed from office, will not resign because he feels he has not "violated any law, and nothing against me as yet has reflected on my office as county attorney."

District Attorney Jack Young, on the other hand, said "some action must be taken," on both the indictments and the grand jury's request that Lovelady be removed.

Specifically, the indictments include one charge of giving a worthless check for $50 and two charges of embezzlement. The worthless check charge is a felony, the embezzlement indictments misdemeanors. The check case must be tried in district court, while the misdemeanors will be handled by the county court.

What action will be taken—and when—was not known Thursday. Young said that although District Judge E. A. Bills has called a jury session of court for September 24, he "doubts that the check charge can be scheduled on that term of court since the date is so near at hand."

The worthless check indictment grew out of an allegedly worthless check given June 16, 1962 to Piggly-Wiggly grocery store here. Lovelady said he paid off the check last week "before the indictment was returned," but that he did not pick up the check. He said it had already been turned over to Young.

Lovelady charges that he knew "nothing about the cases against me until the day after the grand jury returned its indictments." He says he "happened to be in the courthouse on Friday morning and Dee (Dee Clements, sheriff) said, 'Karl, the grand jury returned indictments against you.'" He says he was not called before the

Cotton, Grain May Set New County Marks

Bailey County may wind up the rather erratic 1962 farm season with record productions of cotton and grain sorghum on irrigated land and with dryland yields that also may turn out far better than had been expected in July. In the case of dryland farming, weather will be the important factor — too much wet, cold weather or an early frost will be the main factors in the production picture for such areas.

In fact, the weather may be an important factor in final figures for all areas of the county. If October 28 average date, or heavy rains between now and the maturing period of cotton, could dim the prospects for record yields.

As of now, however, the picture is a bright one.

"Boosted by bountiful rains, dryland crop yields are indeed promising," sums up J. K. Adams, county farm agent, who added that a grand total for the county might be cut somewhat by unplanted dryland acres. "There were some 25,000 acres of dryland farms which were planted late this year, due to dry weather early in the summer," he explained, "and thus our overall total output may be determined by those late-planted lands." He added that the "question mark in the entire picture, in fact, is in those acres."

He said that the insect picture (See YIELD'S, page 7)

Light but Fast Muleshoe Team Meets Littlefield in Opener

With a young, inexperienced but fast club, Muleshoe will blast the lid off its 1962 football season Friday night, when the Mules meet a "pretty good" team from Littlefield in a non-conference tilt. The game will be played at Benny Douglas field, starting at 8 p.m.

Thirty-seven Mules will be in uniform, but there will be only four veterans in the starting offensive lineup, and the average weight generally will be lower all-around than the boys Muleshoe will meet throughout much of the season. The red beef vs. speed contest will come when the Mules meet Dumas, rated as one of the top teams in the Panhandle, later in the season.

Head Coach Bill Taylor and his assistants have picked a tentative offensive starting eleven, with Kenny Heathington, a 160-pound junior, as the likely quarterback. Others in that tentative backfield lineup include 130-pound Jimmy Cabrera and Jerry Gilbreath, 155-pound senior, as the right and left halfbacks, and Clifford Gray, 150-pounder, as fullback. Heathington and Gilbreath shoe meets Littlefield.

Club members are buying the mix and bacon for the supper, and members of the senior high school cafeteria staff will assist in preparing the pancakes and bacon, Kerr said. Boy Scouts are handling advance sales, and will receive 25 percent of the profits.

"We hope everyone in town will turn out for this pancake supper," Kerr said. "It will be a convenient way for fans to provide themselves and their families with a good supper before going to the ball game," he said. "It's only a stone's throw from the cafeteria to the football field."

$1-A-Throw Pancake Supper Set by Lions

Muleshoe Lions Club, with Boy Scout units helping in ticket sales, has scheduled a pancake supper at the senior high school cafeteria Friday night as a fund-raising venture, it was announced Thursday by Ernest Kerr, chairman of the pancake committee.

"All the pancakes you can eat" will be the theme for the supper, which will start at 5:30 and continue as long as pancake eaters are on hand, it was explained.

Cost will be $1 per plate for adults and 50 cents for all school-age children. The event is being planned at this time especially as a prelude to the opening football game of the season when Muleshoe meets Littlefield.

Club members are buying the mix and bacon for the supper, and members of the senior high school cafeteria staff will assist in preparing the pancakes and bacon, Kerr said. Boy Scouts are handling advance sales, and will receive 25 percent of the profits.

"We hope everyone in town will turn out for this pancake supper," Kerr said. "It will be a convenient way for fans to provide themselves and their families with a good supper before going to the ball game," he said. "It's only a stone's throw from the cafeteria to the football field."

Youth Center Names Officers

New youth officers have been named by the Muleshoe youth center with Smitty Aylesworth as president, Jerry Hutton as vice-president, and Sherry Smith, secretary.

They succeed officers who have served during the summer and now are returning to school.

The center set a new all-time attendance record last Saturday night when 175 youth attended a dance with the Five Counts, Clovis, providing the music.

Tootie Middlebrooks, adult president of the center, said the center will be open this Friday night after the football game with Littlefield, and on Saturday night the center will be open for sub-teens.

Next "live" music dance will be Saturday, Sept. 15 when the Kados of Portales will play.

Courthouse to Remain Open on Saturdays

Saturday holidays for the Bailey County courthouse are over until next spring, and starting this coming Saturday, all county offices will remain open until noon, County Judge Glen Williams said.

During the summer months, the courthouse has been closing on Saturdays, it was explained. Many courthouses in the state are closed on Saturdays during the summer months, and a number are open only five days a week the year-round.

Going first to Gail, the only town in Borden County, they were guests of Mrs. S. E. Skeen, a sister of Mrs. Lovvorn.

Mrs. Skeen joined them on a trip to San Antonio where they visited with another sister, Mrs. S. G. Smith.

While in San Antonio, they toured historical San Jose Mission, Brackenridge Park and the Alamo and three of the city's air bases.

Near Kelly Field they went through a large aircraft, the X-C 99, which is being displayed by the Disabled American Veterans. The plane, the largest in the world, has a wing span of 222 feet, is 187 feet in length, has six 3,500 h.p. pusher motors and has a freight capacity of 100,000 lbs. The plane was used for 10 years by the U.S. Air Force in military duty and could fly 400 fully equipped soldiers. After a wing was damaged, the plane was repaired enough to fly it back and it was donated to the D.A.V. to be displayed. Due to the heavy cost of repair as it should have been, the Air Force decided it wouldn't be worth it to put it back in running condition. The plane is so heavy that it broke up several hundred feet of the runway when it was landed at San Antonio.

The group left San Antonio on Sunday going to Austin, where they saw the Capitol building, to Waco and on to Dallas. Just out of Dallas they saw the Jack Coe Memorial Children's Home.

In Dallas they visited Mr. Lovvorn's sister, Mrs. Mae McGaa and children and his mother, Mrs. F. M. Lovvorn.

Personal Income Hits New Record

Personal income, the most comprehensive gauge of consumer purchasing power available on a state basis, totaled $414 billion for the country as a whole in 1961, a rise of $15 billion, or 4 percent over 1960 according to Harry C. Meyers, Manager of the Dallas Field Office of the U.S. Department of Commerce.

Nationally, per capita income last year amounted to $2,263 or 2 percent above the previous record of $2,215 attained in 1960, Mr. Meyers stated.

In Texas, the rise in personal income was up 6 percent in 1961 over 1960, against the rise for the nation of 4 percent. Total personal income for Texas in 1961 was $19.5 billion, up a billion dollars, from $18.5 billion in 1960. Only seven other states: Kentucky, Mississippi, Arkansas, Arizona, Colorado, Nevada, and Hawaii outranked Texas in gain in personal income between 1960 and 1961.

Nevada led all states with a 10 percent increase, followed by Arizona with an 8 percent increase.

Colorado, Hawaii, Mississippi, and Kentucky came up with increases of 7 percent, while Texas, Maryland, Iowa, Tennessee, North Carolina, Utah, and California increased 6 percent in 1961 over 1960.

Details on personal income for 1961 are presented in the August issue of the Survey of Current Business, copies of which may be obtained from the U.S. Department of Commerce, Dallas Field Office, 500 South Ervay Street, Dallas 1.

They moved to Muleshoe in 1950 from Fredrick, Okla. and he is a retired farmer.

Due to illness, their children were unable to be with them on this occasion as they had planned.

Patrol Has 153 Staff Vacancies

Monthly examinations are now being given to fill the 153 vacancies in the uniformed services of the Texas Department of Public Safety, according to Major Harry Hutchison, Regional Commander of this region for the Texas DPS. The commander said this new method of recruiting has not been used in the entire history of the Texas Department of Public Safety prior to this year. Entrance examinations were formerly given two or three times a year, now the examinations are given the second Saturday of each month throughout the state of Texas.

The cities in this region where the entrance examinations are given include Lubbock, Amarillo, and Wichita Falls. Dec. 8, 1962 will be the last date for entrance examinations to be given for entrance in the next student patrol school, a sixteen week training period which will begin at the Department of Public Safety Law Enforcement Academy in Austin February 26, 1963.

When all benefits are considered, as well as the fact that these jobs offer a career of service to their fellow Texans, we regard them as outstanding opportunities for young men. They will have an opportunity to attend the best state police academy in the nation, to receive training in police science and administration under the direction of some of the nation's foremost professional authorities.

Hutchison said that upon successful completion of the 16 weeks training course, graduates will become commissioned officers and will be assigned to the field. The salary while in training will be $331.00 per month and will increase to $395.00 or $412.00 per month upon graduation, depending on the nature of the patrolman's assignment. Longevity pay increment of $19.00 extra per month will be added for each five years of service for each of the Highway Patrol, License and Weight, Driver's License, and Motor Vehicle Inspection. In addition, uniforms and equipment will be furnished, and the officers will participate in the state retirement plan. There are other personal benefits they will have, such as job security, annual vacations, sick leave and insurance. and not enough cats, he figured.

And there was Weepy, our toy terrier. I saw a sign on a road just outside Fort Smith, Ark., advertising terrier for sale at a bargain price. Seems the dog-selling business had gone to the dogs at the moment.

I bought her and took her home. Sambo was in his prime at the time and he was not very happy over the addition of a dog to the family. Weepy was young and playful and Sambo considered her antics to be most undignified. He spat out his disgust at every chance, although he later accepted Weepy as a necessary evil, like sales taxes and school bells.

Weepy, as do most dogs, liked to ride. At the time I was a traveling editor and she went with us on trips. In fact, she became a widely-traveled dog, visiting many states with us. She knew her way around many a hotel and motel, but to save her she didn't know where she was when she got a block away from home.

That's why eventually when she was about six years old, I guess—she wandered out into the busy street and—well, we buried her under the pine tree in the back yard after a tearful ceremony. The next spring there were two volunteer zennias that came up on her grave.

As I said there were many pets between those years when the daughter swapped her kindergarten dress for a wedding gown. Some lasted only a short time, some long enough to have their own cards at the vet shop where we took our pets for their various and sundry ailments. In fact, there were enough of those trips that the vet was able to buy himself two Cadillacs, one for himself and one for his wife.

But now its Cindy Lou who is ailing. We had thought of having something done about mama's decaying teeth, but that'll have to wait awhile now until we see what Cindy's ailment costs.

By the way, why doesn't some enterprising insurance company come out with hospitalization insurance for pets?

merchants to cover the payments. It is on two such charges that the embezzlement cases are based.

One of the checks was for $17.20 dated April 10, 1961, and the other for $13.50 for a check dated April 21, 1961. Each constitutes a separate grand jury indictment. Lovelady has posted $500 bond in each case and a $2,500 bond in the felony action.

Lovelady said that early last year when he first took office he hired an extra girl "at my own expense to try to collect the checks which the merchants had brought me." He said such action was "as Karl Lovelady, the attorney - not as Karl Lovelady, the county attorney," adding that "I did so out of the goodness of my heart because I wanted to help the merchants in this matter."

He admitted that he had "always been careless about financial affairs, and that sometimes I did get behind on that special account in the bank where I put the money collected from worthless checks."

He said: "I didn't know about still being behind on any of those checks, and the indictments - all three of them - came as a complete surprise to me last Friday when Dee met me in the courthouse."

The grand jury, in its recommendation to District Judge E. A. Bills, said, "We, the grand jury for the August 15th district court make this recommendation: The honorable court take necessary proceedings to remove County Attorney Karl Lovelady from his office. We feel that there has been sufficient evidence presented to us to ask for this action. This action by unanimous vote." The recommendation was signed by all the jurors with Ernest Kerr as foreman, and Arnold Alcorn, secretary.

Informed of the action last Friday morning, Lovelady first told County Judge Glenn Williams that he would resign, but later in the day he returned to say he had changed his mind.

Asked why he changed his mind Lovelady gave this written statement: "I don't feel I have violated any law and nothing against me as yet has, reflected on my office as county attorney, and nothing has been done by law to show or prove that I have neglected my duties as county attorney, so therefore I am not going to resign as county attorney and especially I wouldn't resign now until my name is cleared."

He said he was "shocked over Jack's handling of the entire affair," and in another statement said: "Regardless of the way the situation has been handled, which to me and my family is a direct attack, an effort to completely ruin us, discredit me and bring shame and disgrace on me and my family - regardless I still, right now, cannot bring myself to state or even say that I would do Mr. Young the same way."

Had Lovelady resigned, the county commissioners at their meeting last Friday, probably would have named an interim county attorney. That board, however, now is powerless to take action until the district court has acted on the indictments or the grand jury's recommendation.

Lovelady has been here for 14 years, has a daughter 11 and a son 2 years old. He served in the state senate from 1941 until 1945, and prior to that time was county judge of Bosque County from 1937 to 1941. Lovelady, now 48, was the youngest county judge in the state at that time, he said.

The county attorney charged "politics are involved in this situation since I support the Republican candidate for governor and for representative from this district."

He has been active in many affairs in Muleshoe and was instrumental in getting the Babe Ruth Park built here "just because I am greatly interested in children and their welfare."

Recently he issued a statement urging enforcement officers to crack down on violators of the relatively new Sunday blue law, although he said that "personally I don't believe in such laws," adding, "nevertheless, the law is on the books and should be enforced."

ed."

Lovelady helped sponsor the first farm-to-market road program in Texas, and was co-author of the state soil conservation act. He served on several finance committees while in the state senate.

If Lovelady should be removed from office before the November general elections one of two actions could be taken: The county democratic committee could select a candidate if there is sufficient time before the election or voters could write-in their choice with the high individual receiving the position.

Hundreds Due To Take Polio Vaccine Here

Several hundred Bailey County folk, ranging in age from six weeks up, are expected to take advantage of the mass polio immunization day here Sun., Sept. 16, Dr. Ray E. Santos, chairman of the drive here, said Wednesday.

The SOS day here is part of a four-county one-day immunization project which also will be carried on in Lamb, Hockley and Cochran counties. The project here will be staged at Junior High school from noon until 6 p.m.

The project, sponsored by the Bailey County Medical Society, will make the vaccine available to all whether they are able to pay for the service or not. However, the Society is asking that all who can contribute 25 cents. The doctors have estimated the cost at around 12.5 cents per dose.

Committees were announced last week who will be in charge of the program. Three doses are necessary for immunization.

A coupon which appeared in last week's Journal should be filled out and brought to the headquarters before-hand, he said.

who has done a good job in the past quarterbacking the Littlefield outfit. Gary Schojova is another of Littlefield's veterans back who will be seen again this year. Braden is a returning tackle.

As the tentative starting lineup indicates, the Mule team this year will be light, averaging around 165 pounds on the line and between 145 and 150 pounds in the backfield.

One of the toughest problems facing the coaching staff here is the lack of reserve players. This may mean the coaches will be hardput for replacements, but the overall "good" speed qualities may overcome some of the handicaps to the 1962 Mule edition. "We'll get there fast enough," Taylor says, "because we will

"is not alarming, although farmers in the West Camp area should be on the lookout for infestation of boll worms."

He explained: "We can hardly imagine an invasion of bollworms at this very late date, but, of at this very late date, but, of course, such a possibility exists."

He said that there "would not be much point to spraying to kill half-grown or fully grown bollworms," since such an undertaking would not be effective. He recommended that spraying be done in areas where 4 to 5 percent of the worms were small or where the overall bollworm damage amounted to as much as 5 percent. He said some increase is in the number of these pests is being noted in the West Camp area, and he hopes to have an extension entomologist visit the area soon "just to see what conditions are really like."

Not only are cotton and grain sorghum prospects bright, but the year's vegetable outlook is good. Tomato harvest is under way. Demand is brisk and 400 acres planted to this vegetable are producing a near-record crop. In general the crop is confined to the western part of the county with Ernest Locker as one of the big producers.

Irish potatoes were an important cash crop this year with production records bright. Most farmers reported 200 sacks of No. 1 potatoes produced to the acre. Demand is good with prices around $3 per sack at the close of the season.

have speed, but it remains to be seen just what we'll do when we get there."

Mostly the team will be made up of last year's "B" squad and lads brought up from the '61 freshman ranks.

Muleshoe's first six games will be non-conference affairs which should give the coaches time to shape up a pretty fair outfit by the time the AA series start. First Conference game will come on Oct. 12 with Olton, followed by Morton on October 19, October 26 is an open date, followed by Friona and Dimmitt.

The team went through a tough workout both Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon, with lighter workouts in prospect for today and Friday.

The coaches pointed out that fans will notice two major rule changes this year. When a punt is killed inside the 10-yard zone, it will be dead where it is killed instead of being returned to the 20-yard stripe as in the past. Then the penalty for illegal shift has been reduced from 15 yards to five yards.

Ticket sales for the 1962 games has been brisk, and a big turnout is expected for the opener.

Off The Runways

By DORIS KINSER
Journal Staff Writer
(Editor's note: The Morgan Lockers and the Roy Neal family returned from a flight to Little Torch Island, located in the Florida Keys where they spent two weeks vacationing. The story is related by Gail Locker.)

VACATION ON LITTLE TORCH KEY, FLORIDA
By Gail Locker

We were in the Aztec ready to take off in the direction of Little Torch Key, Florida on Monday, August 13, and just as we left the ground I noticed dark clouds all about and was momentarily shook up until I had time to consider the fact that Daddy had a flight clearance from the Weather Bureau and sure enough, we were airborne just a short time when the weather cleared and the air was smooth.

Our path of flight took us over Dallas, Shreveport, La., Jackson, Miss., and after about 4 hours in the air, we landed at Selma, Ala. for breakfast and refuel.

From there, the flight on to the Keys was made non-stop and we buzzed Little Torch Island some thirty minutes ahead of our schedule, arriving there about half past one. We landed the plane on Summerland Key at a small airport, went to Little Torch by car and enjoyed an afternoon of spear fishing and a fish fry that night. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Neal and children, Lubbock, joined us there flying in the following day.

The order-of-the-day for the next two weeks was skin diving, spear fishing, deep sea fishing, boating, swimming and diving for lobster and exploring the floor of the gulf, bringing up coral shells as A&M College, who coordinates the program for Texas A&M. "This cooperative program," states Craig, "is designed to make the services of specialists available to conduct short courses under the supervision of public schools. Such a program will enable teachers of vocational agriculture to provide improved educational services to farm people." Specialists are now available in the fields of beef cattle, insect control, farm management, farm swine production, tractor maintenance, dairy cattle, and oxy-acetylene welding.

One of the most interesting objects which we brought up was a piece of coral entwined with lines wires, and swivels from fisher's rods. The coral had formed over the lines, wires and swivels and became a part of the formation. Nylon cords were also intact, preserved by the salt water, and coral had begun to form over them.

We also brought back a large wool sponge found growing some twenty-five feet under water. It was the largest of this species to be found in that vicinity in many years. It will hold 16 quarts of water and is the best type of sponge found in the area which was once reputed to be the sponge capitol of the world until a Greek colony of commercial sponge divers were allowed to work there and they soon exhausted the supply. Now, after a long period of time, large specimens are being brought from the depths. We also caught between 60 and 700 lobsters.

We soon learned that Warner Brothers were filming "P.T. 109" on an island about 2 miles from Little Torch. The film is based on President Kennedy's experiences in World War II. We spent quite a bit of time watching the stars, camera men and all the activity of this movie on location. We anchored our boat and watched the filming of some of the scenes on water. All this was an exciting, added attraction, for a Florida vacation.

We all went to Key West one day and rode the Conck Train which takes you on a tour of Key West and narrators tell about the history of this old city along the route.

There is still a lot of Cuban refugees coming into the coastal area. They come by boat ranging in length from 8 to 12 feet up to 60 feet, or by any means available to get there. They dock all along the Keys and the mainland and go to Miami where they are processed then become a part of what they call "Freedom Fighters." The vessel they arrive in are confiscated and sold at public auction and the money goes to a Florida advertising firm that has a judgement against Cuban government for approximately 2 million dollars. The attack on the Cuban Hotel, Incar, was made while we were there.

Little traffic goes into Cuba, however, an attempt was made by two young men to steal a plane from Marathon Airport to fly to Cuba on the pretense that they would be flying locally. They were arrested by the Border Patrol while the plane was being serviced. So we taxied our plane nearer the Summerland airport owners home.

Sunday, August 26, was our last day on Little Torch, the Roy Neal family left that morning flying back to Lubbock and we made the most of the day by swimming all afternoon.

At 6:30 a.m., Monday, we took off from the Keys and flew back to Selma, Ala., where we picked up the Comanche that had been there for several weeks for repairs and flew both planes back to Muleshoe arriving about 2 that afternoon.

Short Course For Adult Farmers, Showing Welding Methods, Held

A farm welding short course for adult farmers is being held through Friday under the sponsorship of the Muleshoe High School Vocational Agriculture Department, according to Neal Dillman Superintendent and Bill Bickel and Don Gilbert, teachers of vocational agriculture.

C. B. Edwards, welding specialist with the Vocational Agriculture Division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Agricultural Engineering at Texas A&M College, will do the instructing in the course. He is headquartered at Texas A&M College.

Edwards holds two college degrees, a B.S. in Agricultural Education from Texas A&M and an M.S. in Agricultural Education-Animal Husbandry from Oklahoma A&M; and in addition, has several graduate hours at the University of Texas. Mr. Edwards has had experience as a vocational agriculture teacher and as supervisor of state schools. He has organized T&I programs and supervised the operation of several shops. Mr. Edwards has been with the Adult Specialist Program since its initiation in 1958.

"Many welding short courses in various parts of the state have been taught by Edwards and all have met with outstanding success," according to Walter Labay area supervisor of vocational agriculture, Plainview, Texas. Arrangements for adult education short course in welding and in other fields are made through Mr. Labay's office.

The short course at Muleshoe is scheduled to begin Sept. 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the vocational agriculture building. During the dates the short course is in progress, Edwards will be available to assist farmers with individual problems and to provide on-the-farm instruction, according to Bill Bickel.

Farmers interested in attending the short course should write or call the superintendent of schools, Dillman, or the teacher of vocational agriculture, Bickel or Gilbert. THE SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER

He's Not Worried About Plan To Move two Million Off Farms

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has found out about the suggestion to reduce the farm population, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:
A lot of farmers around the country I understand are up in arms because the Committee for Economic Development, a group of 200 leading industrialists and business executives, having studied the farm problem, has come out with the pronouncement that the way to solve the problem is to move two million farmers off the farms in the next five years.

It seems to me that what the Economic Development Committee is saying is that if you move two million farmers to town, the ones still left may not make any more, but there'll be less of them to complain.

I have thought about this proposal all week now and I find it doesn't disturb me, mainly on account of I ain't going. The reason I'm not going to a city is that in the first place I like it out here on this Johnson grass farm, and in the second place, where would you find a city so hard up it'd need me?

I know it's kind of galling to a farmer to look up from his problems and have some city people tell him the only solution is to move in with them, but the Committee for Economic Development could have come up with a lot worse solution.

For example, what if they had decided the solution was the other way around, that more city people ought to move to the country? If there's anything that'll make a farmer madder than telling him he ought to make room for city workers in the country.

What some people don't understand is that, as bad as the farm problem is, it's not as bad as farmers make out. We make it sound worse than it is mainly to keep city people from crowding in on us.

Solving the farm problem by moving two million farmers to town is like solving the problem of under-paid school teachers by cutting the number of teachers in half.

I suppose there are some farmers who wouldn't object maybe to moving to town, but the trouble is they've already looked around a little in town, studied the financial status of a lot of town people, and had just as soon stay in the frying pan as jump in the fire.

If you can't quite make ends meet anyway, why move to town when you can do it just as well in the country?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER FROM SENATOR JOHN TOWER
Committee: Banking and Currency Labor and Public Welfare

Senator John G. Tower (R-Texas) today, in his weekly report to Texas Constituents, commented on the passage by the senate of the Agriculture Bill and outlined his reasons for opposing enactment of this legislation. The text of his report:

This week, the big news in the Senate is that we passed the Farm Bill. As you are probably aware, I have been a consistent foe of this very complex and complicated farm legislation that imposes a great deal in the way of controls on the farmer. For the most part, it is regimentation and the manifestation of a trend toward the nationalization of the production of food and fiber in this country.

The purpose and intent of farm bills enacted over the years by Congress has been, of course, to raise farm incomes. Unfortunately, this effort has too frequently overlooked basic economic factors. The farm problem has been compounded by efforts to solve an essentially economic problem by resorting to political panaceas. The farm problem has gotten in-olved in the political arena, has become a political issue. Votes are sought, political capital is all too frequently made, of the farm program. So immersed in politics and politicians is the farm problem that rational solutions are very often ignored.

What has occurred over the past few years, is the creation of a patchwork of laws, which are often temporary expedients to meet crises of a rather temporary nature. Too often, some of these "temporary expedients" we have adopted have found their way into the statute books permanently. For example, the programs which were enacted during World War I were enacted for the purpose of stimulating farm production to meet the demands of food and fiber which were created by the fact that we were involved in a great world war. Those incentive programs, unfortunately, were kept in force after the war, and have been, in large measure, responsible for the problems that we have now. In other words, the farm programs themselves have, because they come into conflict with certain basic and natural economic laws, become perpetrators of our current farm problem. The farm programs have, in fact, become a part of the problem.

American agriculture is passing through a period of very great change. We've learned a lot about applying science to the technology of farm production. Now per man productivity on the farm is about three times what it was twenty years ago. Because of increased productivity, we are able to produce more on the farm. Actually this is a good thing. It makes the United States a country of abundance—which stands as one very striking example of the difference between the success of the free enterprise system in this country and the failure of Communist regimentation in Soviet Russia, where there is a grave deficiency in the production of agricultural goods.

I proposed an amendment to the Bill which would call for the Secretary of Agriculture to present a plan for phasing the government out of controls, subsidies, and market quotas, over a period of four to six years. I ask only for the presentation of a plan for the Congress to consider. It was, however, rejected. It is my hope that, someday, we can seek some non-political solutions to a very grave economic problem—our farm crisis.

I'm sorry this Farm Bill passed this week. It is, in my estimation, a bad bill. I think you corn and grain people are not going to find much in it you can like. You stock people aren't going to like it either.

Four Texans Go Blind Every Day, Survey Reveals

The irreplaceable gift of sight is being lost to one American every 20 minutes.
 If that figure, estimated by the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, holds true for all population segments of the nation, it means four Texans are blinded every day.
 September is Sight-saving Month throughout the land.
 Even as you read this, some man, woman, or child is standing on the brink of permanent darkness, about to join the 392,500 other Americans who are already enduring the bleak enormity of blindness.
 What causes blindness? There are two major contributing factors: disease and accidents. Neglect exaggerates both of these. Blindness brought on through neglect really is no worse than that caused by an accident or disease. But somehow it seems worse. It's so unnecessary.
 If all children were given a thorough eye examination prior to entering school for the first time, and if all visual defects were corrected or placed under treatment at that time, a major step in the prevention of blindness in childhood would be taken. One of every four school children are said to need some form of eye care.
 But a single examination is not enough. A child grows quickly. His eyes, like every other body organ, are constantly changing. Sometimes the change is for the worse.
 At least half of all cases of blindness occurring from year to year could be prevented through use of the sight-saving knowledge

Suit to Decide Water Depletion As Tax Matter

The main brief in the groundwater depletion case, styled Marvin Shurbet, et us, v. The United States of America, was filed on August 6 with the U. S. District Court in Amarillo. The suit is being sponsored as a test case by the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District.
 On August 27, attorneys for the water district filed with the court what they term a "reply brief." This brief is a reply to the government's main brief.
 The suit seeks to establish ground water in the Southern High Plains of Texas as a depletable natural resource within the definition of the term as used in the federal Internal Revenue Service's tax code.
 Should the court rule in favor of Shurbet, and such ruling is upheld on appeal, then he and other ground water owners throughout the area will qualify for a federal income-tax deduction during those years when a decline in ground water levels is experienced. Only those who can show a cost in their water and who are using the water to produce income would be eligible.
 The water district will make public additional information concerning progress of the case as developments become known.
