

Ray's 'Ritin'

By RAY MARTIN

There are times, in this business of putting news into print, when we wish there had never been invented an institution known as "minutes of the last meeting." There's a reason for this dislike of "minutes" — it's too easy just to send the newspaper a copy of the secretary's minutes with the belief that such information constitutes a news story.

Seems somebody, way back there in the dark days of the past, decided that minutes of the last meeting should be written and then read as the first order of business at the next meeting of the club.

And the rule was that such material should be chronological. Minutes should begin with the opening of the meeting and close with the adjournment motion. Never, never must they be written in an interesting form and with the most important happening listed first. They should be written like the notes in a scale starting with middle C and work on up to the next C in sequence, if you get what I mean.

Having belonged to many clubs, I've sat through the boring reading of the minutes hundreds of times during my lifetime. They always run something like this: "The So-and-So club met Monday night, April 12, 1963, at 8 p.m. in the clubroom for their regular monthly meeting. The president presided. The minutes of the last meeting were read and Joe Bloo moved that they be accepted. Sam Smith rose to object to one statement in the minutes, and after a considerable discussion it was moved and passed that that section be amended. Then by a vote of 14 to 12 the minutes were approved.

"Next the treasurer made her report. She showed that the club has $144 in 1/4 bank and that bills now outstanding against the club total $324.44. There followed a discussion of ways and means of raising money. Lizzie Stoopnaegle moved that the club assess its members $15 additional fees. The motion was seconded by John Stoopnaegle. The measure was defeated by a vote of 24 to 2. "It was then decided that a committee would be appointed by the president to study ways and means of raising money and that they should report at the next meeting, May 14, 1963. He appointed Sally Jones, John Wayland and Clyde Dolittle to the committee. All are bankers.

"John Trimmore suggested that the club sponsor a junior baseball club during the summer months. There arose a discussion over who should head the club's team, but no one offered to take the job. The president then decided that the matter should be passed over to a later meeting of the club.

"Wylie Chowder offered the suggestion that the club suspend its summer meetings. A considerable discussion followed, but no action was taken.

"The president called attention (See RAY'S, page 5)

Parmer County to Seek Lake As Running Water Draw Project

Parmer county boosters of the elaborate Running Water, six-county flood control program will seek a multi-purpose recreational lake somewhere in the area of Bovina, it was learned Wednesday following a meeting at Hub community center Monday night.

Although the proposed lake is only a "dream" of backers at the moment, boosters will delve into the matter to see if the oversize lake can be built as a part of the over-all flood control program.

A. L. Black, a member of the Running Water Draw steering committee, presided at the Hub talk-it-over session. Flip Calhoun, Plainview, who is chairman of the steering committee and one of the strongest supporters of the entire program, was one of the speakers at Monday night's meeting. Mel Evans, manager of the Muleshoe Wildlife Refuge south of Muleshoe, told of the advantages of such a project, and showed slides of similar projects in other areas.

Meantime, the over-all program, which would put a series of de-attention dams all along the 100-mile troublesome creek, is "making splendid progress," Calhoun told the meeting.

He said that the March 20 meeting in Plainview with U. S. Army engineers from Fort Worth was "very successful," and that the engineers now have the matter

3 Teachers, Nurse Elected for Schools

Muleshoe school board named three new teachers and a nurse for 1963-64 school term at the board's May meeting Monday night.

Employed were: Inez Middlebrooks, for fourth grade teacher at Richland Hills; Jackie McAlpin, for fourth grade at Mary DeShazo school; Imogene Tiller, school nurse, and Elizabeth Black, art and history teacher for senior high.

The board accepted three resignations: Melvin Mackey, 7th and 8th grade, P. E. teacher and girls' basketball coach. He has accepted the position of basketball coach at Minco, Okla.

Saturday Closing Set

Bailey County Courthouse will be closed on Saturdays during June, July and August, it was announced Wednesday following a meeting of the county commissioners this week.

This will be the second summer that the courthouse has been closed on Saturdays. During the other nine months of the year the courthouse is open on Saturday mornings only.

Attorney to Ask Grand Jury for 'New' Indictment

District Attorney Jack Young will present a "re-worded" indictment to a district court jury tomorrow in the E. A. Flatt case which had originally been scheduled for trial last April 4. A "faulty" indictment handed down by the grand jury last November 29 had resulted in a postponement of the case when it was

Library Issue Aired for Board

Bailey County commissioners were given a complete report on the library situation at their session Monday when Mrs. Gil Lamb, chairman of the library board; Mrs. Vera Engleking and Bobby Airhart discussed the situation.

Need for more space was stressed. The library now is housed in one room at the courthouse, but the commissioners said they have no space available. The possibility of building an entirely new structure on the county lots west of the courthouse was discussed.

The commissioners bought a new Ford automobile for the sheriff's office, trading in a 1959 Ford. Muleshoe Motors was low bidder with an exchange price of $1,802.62, plus $98.10 for special equipment.

The commissioners also discussed the possible extension of FM 1760 to join with a new road being built from Portales to the Texas line. It will be necessary for the county commissioner from the western Bailey County district to procure an engineer to survey the route and provide the easements and grading.

At present, the two roads lack some 200 yards of joining. This area will be opened as soon as possible to join the Portales road. The new route, although only a "fair weather" roadway, will shorten the distance between Muleshoe and Portales by some 12 miles.

Green Hospital Here is Sold

Green Memorial Hospital has been purchased by three staff members of the hospital, it was announced today. The purchase was made from the estate of the late Dr. L. T. Green, Jr., who died recently.

The hospital will be owned by Dr. William Dean, resident physician at the hospital; Roy Kelley, laboratory technician, and Marshall Cook, hospital administrator. The Medical Arts clinic was not affected by the sale of the hospital proper.

250 Are Expected For Jaycee Banquet

Two hundred-fifty persons are expected to attend Saturday night's Jaycee banquet in American Legion hall when new officers for the club will be installed at elaborate ceremonies. Installing officer will be Jim Stamford, Plainview, who is vice-president of the state Jaycee organization.

Karen Jones, valedictorian of Muleshoe High school 1963 class, will be presented a $100 savings bond at Saturday night's banquet. The bond is to be given by Stamford; she won second in the Future Teachers of America contest sponsored by the State Jaycees.

Principal speech will be given by D. E. Scott, "Crossroads" columnist, who lives in Wellington. His column has been appearing in western newspapers for more than 10 years and now is seen by newspapers whose combined circulation is more than 1,000,000.

Scott was born "just over the Texas line in what is now Oklahoma," and was in newspaper work for 10 years. Later, for 20 years, he was a farm machinery dealer, and then returned to his original field, newspapers.

previously called up for trial by District Judge Pat Boone, Jr.

Flatt was originally charged in four grand jury indictments, and was freed on $2,000 bond in each case.

Specifically the former Muleshoe automobile dealer was charged with making false certificate as to an acknowledgement; fraudulent disposition of mortgaged property; false statement in writing, and giving a worthless check. Young said he asked that the original trial be postponed "since there might be some question about the original indictment's wording." That resulted in the second delay of the case which had originally been scheduled for trial 10 days earlier. At that time, Flatt's attorney had asked that certain First National Bank records be subpoenaed. Young objected, and moved that the subpoena be quashed.

The district attorney said he was not certain about the wording in the original indictment, adding that if the grand jury later (See ATTORNEY, page 5)

'Soil Sunday' Planned Here

Bailey county ministers will observe "Soil Stewardship" Sunday next Sunday when the theme will be "We Turn Our Eyes to the Future."

To tell the ministers something about soil stewardship in Bailey county, the Blackwater Soil Conservation District here staged a tour of the county Monday, visiting several farms near Muleshoe, when ministers were their guests. Afterward, they were guests at a luncheon. Sherman Inman, chairman of the board of supervisors, was host. Other members of the board are Virgil Nowell, Dan Darsey, E. N. McCall and C. K. Corbell.

To remind Americans of their responsibility to God and to society to conserve and wisely use these resources, the week of May 19-26 has been designated as Soil Stewardship Week throughout the nation. Soil and Water Conservation Districts, through their State and National Associations, are sponsoring the observance for the ninth consecutive year.

Stock Survey Cards in Mail

Postmaster Spencer Beavers reminds rural patrons of the Muleshoe Post Office to be on the lookout for Next Livestock Survey cards. Next week, mail carriers will leave survey cards in a sample of boxes along their route.

"USDA bases livestock and poultry estimates on replies to this survey," Spencer Beavers explains. "It is important for everyone who gets a card to fill it out and return it to the carrier. This way, USDA gets a representative sample of the area's livestock and poultry holdings.

Carriers assisting with the survey are: Babe Barbour, Route 1; Boyd Landers, Route 2; Paul Scott (See CARDS, page 5)

High Plains Director To Tell of Research

Bailey county boosters of the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway, 46 miles east of here, will attend a dinner at American Legion hall here tonight and hear Frank Moore, President, of the High Plains Research Foundation.

He will speak on the general subject of American Agriculture today, and will tell of the important part which research plays in the agricultural picture today. High Plains is an independent research and experimental station, financed by donations from West Texans.

The High Plains project was conceived in Muleshoe by agricultural leaders especially to deal with problems facing west Texas farmers and ranchers.

The dinner here will also include reports by fund solicitors in this area. Twenty-five persons met for a breakfast here last week to launch the fund drive, headed by Jack Little, a trustee of High Plains. The drive is moving forward with good results, High Plains officials said.

All trophies won during the school year also will be displayed. Second big year-end event will come Sunday when baccalaureate (See AWARDS, page 5)

Staffs of West Plains and Green Memorial Hospitals

This is National Hospital Week! A time when all the nation salutes the doctors and nurses and other members of hospital staffs required to supply the needs and comfort to those who are ill. Here in Muleshoe, two hospital staffs are on duty around the clock to take care of area people — from the smallest 'ills' to those of great disaster. Perhaps to really appreciate them is to see them in action, especially during an emergency. Not a moment can be lost, sometimes, and these people, charged with this great profession, meets this challenge well. From the first scream of the sirens, preparation starts to take care of the emergency. If at night, doctors are called by the nurses on duty and are at their station by the time the patients arrive. From then, until the situation is under control, they give their undivided attention to saving lives, making the patients comfortable and caring for their every need. Much time goes into the diagnoses of each case as patients pass in and out their doors, both in the doctors office and the laboratory. Each part, each person on the staff plays a major role in the welfare our citizens. — We salute you!

Educational Program On Phonics Presented By James M. Humphrey

"What is the most effective approach to the teaching of reading?"

That's the question which James M. Humphrey, Portales, N. M., asked his audience Thursday night at an educational program on Phonics, sponsored by the education for family living committees of Richland Hills and Mary DeShazo P-TAs. Forty-five attended.

Speaking of one of the most pressing problems that educators face today, Humphrey told of "the loud voices" heard in Joplin, Mo., and Champaign, Ill. which reacted some 10 years ago by building a program of reading skills through phonics in the reading program."

The dramatic story of Champaign schools seeking answers in an objectively investigated and experimented study showed clearly to those teachers that they should compare the traditional word-memory approach to the teaching of reading with an entirely new and different phonetic approach which had come to their attention.

The phonetic approach starts with the presentation of the long and short sounds of the vowels. Then it presents the sounds of the consonants and a few consonant blends along with a method of putting sounds together to pronounce words. In this way word analysis is begun before a sight vocabulary has been built. From the beginning of the program, published as "Phonetic Keys to Reading", provides a plan for the use of stories, and experience charts to emphasize the functions of words, phrases, and sentences in the reading process, and to teach that reading as a meaningful pursuit.

The first grade vocabulary in this program is 1,000 or more words, Humphrey said. Conclusions from a six-year study show that the primary groups studying phonics were superior in ability to recognize and use words, as well as in ability to comprehend what is read.

Mrs. Owen Jones, Richland Hills, introduced the speaker who is associated with The Economy Company, educational publishers, Oklahoma City. Mrs. C. W. Sanders, DeShazo, presented Humphrey with a gift of appreciation.

It was pointed out that the Muleshoe schools initiated the "Phonetic Keys to Reading" in 1961-62 in grades one and two, and year. Plans call for the continuation of the successful program in grades.

A school of instruction of the Phonetic Approach will be given by Humphrey August 26-29 in Muleshoe and the area and will be open to all interested persons. Supt. Neal Dillman announced.

RUBEY, our pen-named correspondent, wrote the following poem which we feel is most appropriate for us — the many busy mothers of this day and age.

We reprint it — to be a constant reminder that our offspring ARE the most important possession, and our richest blessing.

TIME FOR

How many times in everyday
My little girl runs in from play
And wants to know some little thing
And I'm annoyed by my off-spring
And, like as not I'll frown and say
Don't bother me, go on and play.

And then in just an hour or two She's back again with something new
I have so many things to do
You'll have to wait till I get through
Now later on, I'll take the time
But as for now, I don't have time

She goes her way and I go mine
And then quite suddenly I find
The days are long, with hours to spare
Hours a mother would like to share.
She's too big to sit on my knee
And I often miss her bothering me.

Come talk with me — oh child of mine
I can't now Mom — just don't have time.

Of all gifts there is no other
More blessed than that of "Mother"
Some day I know, I'll leave this world
I'll leave behind a grown-up girl
What kind of girl will she be then?
Will she have time to be a friend?

So, while I think on this today

Concluding Phase of Culture Study Given At AAUW Social

Mrs. R. E. Everett and Mrs. Ray Daniel presented the concluding program of the year's study of Woman's Role in American Culture Monday night at the May meeting of the local branch of the American Association of University Women.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Daniel, Miss Elizabeth Saylor and Mrs. L. B. Hall. The meeting was held in the Hall home.

"Self and Society" was Mrs. Everett's topic. She spoke of data revealing the facts that educated women normally get "into the middle of things" in this complex society; they adjust better than men to today's complex demands and interests; they form their opinions, then act and make their opinions count. Social changes since World War II have required women's roles be more specialized. They train their children to be more independent. Educated women are more qualified and interested in continuing their education, whether formally or personally, she said.

"College women face their future with pride, confidence and new values today," Mrs. Everett concluded.

Mrs. Daniel gave a symposium of the changing choices of college women. The longer life span, more equal professional and business opportunities, marriage and children, the combination of working and family, and individual choice made easier and wiser by the woman's contact with learning were topics discussed.

ed over a short business meeting. The balance of $60 was voted to be sent to the building fund for the national AAUW building in Washington, D. C. This final contribution from the local unit will be taken from their treasury.

A report was given on pending legislation by Mrs. Mabel Laughlin.

Present were Mrs. Everett, Mrs. Daniel, Mrs. John Watson, Mrs. Beddingfield, Mrs. Joe Costen, Miss Saylor, Mrs. Laughlin, Mrs. Ola B. Jones, and Mrs. Hall.

Pioneer Day — one of the most gala occasions for "Ladies Over 70" sponsored annually by the Friendship Club was held last Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Tye Young.

More than fifty women, past the 70 year mark, entered the home decorated in early day setting and were greeted by hostesses clad in costumes of their fore-mothers as they arrived, some even did steps of the dances in keeping with their memories of settling this wild-west portion of the universe to the tune of "Turkey In The Straw" and other numbers popular in the young days of Muleshoe and other far west frontier town kicking up both dust, rustic wooden buildings, a saga of the Westward Movement!

Bouquets in old fashioned baskets graced the tables where the honorees were seated. Horse-drawn covered wagons and other replicas of the settlers mode of life was used as decorations for the event.

The program began with the welcome address given by Mrs. Cecil Tate followed by the hostess group singing "Let Us Call You Sweetheart" changed to fit the occasion from the age-old number "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" and "Good Evening To You" A poem "Dear Mothers" was read by Mrs. Ray Griffiths in tribute to those who came before us "plowin' out the furrows" for the city we know now as "Muleshoe".

In dedication to these "lively ones" Mrs. R. D. Precure rendered a solo "Little Old Ladies" accompanied by Mrs. E. H. Kennedy at the piano.

At the conclusion of the formal program, many sacred numbers from the pages of yesteryears were sung by those attending. Special music was supplied by Odessa Slayden and Mrs. J. J.

to the fact that the time had come to name new officers for next season. He called for nominations. Mrs. Charles Banks, Mrs. Ruth Green and J. W. Thompson were nominated for president. In balloting, Mrs. Banks won the presidency by a margin of three votes.

Mrs. Riley Brown pointed out that the hour was growing late and she moved that the two defeated candidates be named vice-president and secretary respectively.

The motion was seconded by Mr. Brown and the motion carried, 26 to 0.

"The president then asked if there was any more business to come before the club, and W. B. Rice rose to suggest that the club permanently disband and give up its charter in view of its troubled financial condition. A discussion followed, and Rice finally put his suggestion into the form of a motion. It was seconded by Mrs. Rice. In a voice vote the measure carried, 22 to 6. The club was formed January 22, 1962.

"On motion of Mrs. Thompson and seconded by Mrs. Banks, the meeting was adjourned at 11:45 p.m. — Respectfully submitted by your secretary, Mrs. John (Lizzie) Hackett."

"That's what I mean by disliking minutes of the last meeting. They are so darned clock-conscious in their reports, starting at 8 p.m. when the meeting was opened by the president until it closed at 11:45."

Many a society editor has closed her typewriter permanently and gone back to the farm because she had to wade through too many minutes in order to pick up a story. Trying to find the important things in a story such as the one which I have just reproduced was hardly worth the effort.

But I'm living for the day when schools will teach club secretaries to make their reports sound like a news-story instead of a legal document. Sometime, someday, a teacher is going to teach pupils to condense minutes into interesting pieces of work.

Incidentally, the society editor who had a copy of the minutes of the club meeting which I have just reproduced, wrote something like this:

"The So-and-So club, which was formed Jan. 22, 1962, has decided to disband and will give up its charter. This action was taken at their April meeting, according to Joe Blo, the president."

under study. Backers of the program are seeking a high priority for the program, but that the fate of the project now rests in the hands of the engineers.

He said the group probably will not meet to study priorities before late summer; thus the program is temporarily at a stand still.

At the Plainview meeting, nine different phases of the program were presented. They included such things as: Result of the official survey; the conservation phases of the 106-mile long project; financing; New Mexico's interests; benefits which the control program would offer farmers; recreational possibilities; multi-county commissioners' views; and long-range benefits which would be derived from the control program.

The Parmer county group is the first to seek a recreational facilities along the draw. Most of the lakes would be of a low-dam type which would impound water during rainy seasons and release it in dry times. This would prevent flooding, especially in Plainview where Running Water has been a serious problem for several years.

However, under the Parmer county plan, one lake — the one proposed near Bovina — would be of a size to permit fishing and hunting.

New Mexico already has acquired land for such a lake to be built by the City of Clovis north of Clovis.

Boosters at Monday night's meeting pointed out that this area is lacking in recreational water facilities, and that an ideal spot for such a lake would be in the territory between Bovina and Hub.

The board also approved a 50-cent raise in pupils' fees for the first three grades, hiking the price to $3. This was made necessary, it was explained, to meet the higher cost of items purchased with these fees.

The board approved the athletic budget for next school year which includes all sports from the 7th through 12th grades. The figure was set at $12,400; however, for the past two years, athletics have paid their own way. A report was given on the possibility of reclassifying Muleshoe from Class AA to Class AAA in the interscholastic league, starting Sept. 1, 1964.

The division point is 400 average membership in the top four grades; average membership in Muleshoe high is 420.65. This means that if the breaking point is unchanged, Muleshoe will become AAA in the school year 1964-65.

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

IF YOU KNEW WHAT TINY LUND KNOWS ABOUT FORD DURABILITY... YOU'D BE OUT ENJOYING A '63 FORD

Ask Tiny Lund about Ford durability: He'll tell you how it helped him win America's toughest stock-car competition, the Daytona 500. Lund placed first in a Ford, with four other Fords right behind him for an unprecedented sweep of the first five places. Only the Fords were tough enough to stand the pace.

Greater durability is the reason Ford is able to offer a total-car warranty. Only a true total-performance car could offer as complete a warranty as this—with no strings attached:

"Ford Motor Company warrants to its dealers, and its dealers, in turn, warrant to owners as follows: That for 24 months or for 24,000 miles*, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by dealers of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials. Tires are not covered by the warranty; appropriate adjustments will be made by the tire companies. Owners will remain responsible for normal maintenance services, routine replacement of parts, such as filters, spark plugs, ignition points, wiper blades, brake or clutch linings, and normal deterioration of soft trim and appearance items."

You can't put a long-term warranty like ours on a short-term car. The '63 Fords have a better warranty because they're built better than any Fords in history. You see evidence of this extra toughness in Ford's outstanding competitive wins this year.

'63 Fords won the grueling Daytona, Riverside, and Atlanta 500's, and the demanding Pure Oil Performance trials. Only cars with total performance could roll up so many big wins.

Before you buy any new car, test-drive the solid, silent Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Remember: If it's built by Ford, it's built for performance... total performance.

COLORFUL AIR SHOW

Offering a program highlighted by a colorful air show, a luncheon open to the public, ground displays and an address by an Air Force General, the nation's military services will join in Armed Forces Day Saturday, May 18, at Reese Air Force Base, near Lubbock.

Open house on the base will be from 10:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. with the luncheon at 11:30 a.m. and air show at 1:45 p.m.

Brigadier General Plinkham Smith, deputy chief of operations for the U. S. Air Force, will be the luncheon speaker. He will speak at the Mathis Service Club at a luncheon arranged and sponsored by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Thousands of South Plains families are expected to visit Reese during the Armed Forces Day open house to see exhibits of the Army, Navy, Marines, Air Force, National Guard, ROTC and other units.

The air show will feature a fly-over of several F-100 fighter planes of the type which have thrilled residents of the world when flown by the internationally famous Thunderbirds.

Also featured will be demonstrations of Reese jet trainer aircraft, the T-37 primary trainer, T-33 basic trainer and the new T-38 supersonic jet which flies faster than the speed of sound. The trainers will fly over singly and in formation, demonstrating their capabilities, speeds and maneuverability.

Three members of the Lubbock Parachutists, all stationed at Reese, will make thrilling and colorful jumps from flying airplanes, landing in front of the grandstand area. One of the chutists, TSgt. Richard Nicholas, will make a 7,225-foot free fall before opening his parachute, tracking with smoke through the air to apparently soar.

The H-43 helicopter, versatile rescue aircraft, will maneuver overhead during the air show and will climax its performance by flying in formation to assist in extinguishing a fire started before the grandstand. The H-43 is to hover over-head as firemen work on the blaze, blowing heat and smoke away from the firemen so they can more easily approach a simulated burning aircraft and rescue persons who might be trapped in the plane.

The Texas Tech Army ROTC Tyrian Rifles, widely known drill team, will perform before the crown in colorful marching. The Rifles have been invited annually to perform in various parts of the Southwest.

On the flight line during the Armed Forces Day open house will be exhibits including several types of aircraft, equipment of the Army and National Guard, and signal equipment provided by the Texas Tech engineering department.

In a hangar will be a display of models of every type missile used by the Air Force, including the Atlas, Jupiter, Thor, Blue Streak, Titan I, Titan III and Athena.

Cutaway engines with moving parts also will be on display in a hangar.

The synthetic trainer and physiological trainer buildings of Reese will be open to the public. The MARS station will be open to send radio messages as visitors watch and displays will be offered by the Mobil Training Detachment and personal equipment section.

"Power For Peace" is the Armed Forces Day theme and at Reese AFB effort is being made to show the public as much as possible of defense equipment and power available for use. The day is set aside throughout the nation so the public may visit military installations.

NIGHT FLYERS

Bob Kelly, Bobby Murrell, Delbert Garner, Ed Little and Don Sanders have been flying Monday and Thursday night classes at the conclusion of ground school classes putting into actual practice what they are taught in class.

Most of their night training at the present is flying in and out-bound on Texico Omni and making touch and go landing at Clovis airport on the flights.

Corkey Green now has 8 hours flying time and is still going toward a private rating. According to his instructor, Jim Hays, Corkey is making a good student.

Folks around the city of Roswell streamed into Roswell Municipal Airport for a closer look at the Skimmer, a seaplane, flown there from Muleshoe Flying Service by Jim Hays and family recently.

Hays said after they circled and landed the road was lined with cars and the crowd numbered around fifty at all times while it was sitting there.

Mary Anna Bryant made her solo flight in the Cherokee May 7. Mary Anna is working on a private license.

Pat O'Brien, Bovina High school senior, spent over an hour flying Sunday afternoon. His training consisted of straight and level flight, turns, glides, stalls and climbing.

O'Brien is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Connie O'Brien.

NEW STUDENT

William Wooley, Causey, N. M. High School principal, took an orientation flight at the airport this week.

Wooley plans to continue flying after school is dismissed for summer vacation.

Jim Hays made two flights in the single place glider with Morgan Locker flying the Super Cub tow plane. Hays is working on his instructors rating.

James Foster, Clovis, N. M., returned Monday afternoon from a flight to Dallas and San Antonio in the Comanche.

Paul Scott has been flying again recently Scott was a World War II pilot.

Annual Texas Baptist Mother Is Also Bullard's Physician

BULLARD—A lady doctor who is the only physician in this East Texas farming community of 400 people has been named winner of the annual Texas Baptist Mother of the Year Award.

Dr. Marjorie Ferrell Roper, one of the few doctors in Smith County whose office is outside the city of Tyler, was selected for the state-wide honor by a special committee of the Baptist General Convention of Texas and the Baptist Standard.

The 41-year-old lady doctor is one of a vanishing breed — the general practitioner in a country community. Her office is located in a back room of the local drugstore, which is owned and operated by her father, O.L. Ferrell.

Special Mother's Day services May 12 at the First Baptist Church of Bullard honored Dr. Roper, who now serves as the church's organist and director of its Girl's Auxiliary, missionary organization for young girls.

As a homemaker, the doctor has four children — Danny, 17; Tommy, 13; Harriet, 11; and Richard, 8. Her husband, Leonard B. Roper, is superintendent of schools at Bullard, and serves as athletic director and basketball coach.

The Baptist mother of the year said she had wanted to be a doctor ever since she could remember.

In 1947 she began her practice in Bullard, where she was born and reared. She was valedictorian of her graduating class at Bullard High School, and attended Tyler Junior College, 10 miles north of Bullard. She is a graduate of the University of Texas in Austin and its Medical Branch in Galveston.

After internship and residency in Dallas hospitals, Dr. Roper served on the staff of the Children's Division of the Texas State Health Department, on the staff of a Veterans Administration hospital in Mississippi, and as a pediatrician in Longview.

At Bullard, she makes house calls at all hours among the people she has known all her life. Both she and her husband grew up in Bullard, where her father has been the local druggist for 42 years.

Her pastor, the Rev. Reese Sanders, said that although her influence in the community has been profound, her primary concern is her church and her home.

Dr. Roper said she has been able to combine her career as a physician with church work, and the responsibilities of rearing four children because she has "put the Lord first, and the other things seemed to fall into place."

In her church, she has served as Training Union Director, pianist, organist, president of the Woman's Missionary Union, Sunday School worker, Vacation Bible School worker, and is now organist and director of the Girl's Auxiliary.

All four of Dr. Roper's children are Christians and attend church regularly. Each as a pin for per-for the Cub Scouts, and has been director of polio drives and health improvement programs in the community. She is secretary of the Smith County Medical Association and is active in other community improvement programs.

The Texas Baptist Mother of the Year Award is jointly sponsored by the Baptist General Convention of Texas office of public relations, and the Baptist Standard, weekly state Baptist newspaper.

Gay Decorations Again Back in Favor As Homes Take on Much Brighter Hue

Decorative accessories, a far cry from the household junk available several decades ago, are helping to shape a new look of good taste in the American home.

Many accessories are imports, eight won awards given by the American Institute of Interior Designers.

The 1963 awards are for hand-woven tapestries from Sardinia; black porcelain bowls and planters, matte glaze vases, sterling silver and porcelain cutlery from Germany; Swedish serving trays with non-slip surfaces; cast iron casserole with white enamel interiors and teak handles, stackable bottles from Finland. There are hand-cut solid glass sculpture from Sweden and a number of new pieces of Danish silver. Winning towels made and designed in America are called "Snowflake-Stockholm."

Designs Outlandish

Though it was always possible for important American homes to choose accessories from antique shops, the average home 15 years ago was limited to a garish assortment of cheap ceramic figurines, wall plaques, ash trays, horns or a penguin's fins. Ship's wheel designs were likely to reveal grooves slated for tomato juice glasses. One outlandish design overlapped another.

One of the first to observe the unrealistic inequality of accessories and furniture in the home was Andrea Marangoni, president of an import company, who 13 years ago noted that "although Americans made the most beautiful furniture in the world, there was absolutely no line of good or 'such as mirrors, sconces or even ash trays."

"There was nothing but cheap and unimaginative stuff available," he recalls, "so I went to Italy and created a line of accessories, the first major accessory line launched here, I believe. The stores didn't want to fiddle with higher-price accessories at first, but soon realized they were wasting wall space, and that good decorative accessories could help in the sale of furniture."

Many Now Copy
Marangoni has stuck with tradition; designs supply a warmth that appeals to Americans, he says. He uses wrought iron, carved kiln-dried Linden wood, employs some gilding and deep pastel colors in antique finishes in wall brackets and hundreds of other accessories.

Many companies have copied his items verbatim, he says, others are copied for the lower-priced market. But Marangoni adds that this helps raise the level of which has long needed to further the cause of good design.

Today's Meditation

"For even the son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many."
— Mark 10:45

God's great and primary purpose is the saving of man. This is the reason He sent His only-begotten Son that He might die for the salvation of the sinner. The sinner is man. The animal, fish, fowl, and reptile do no sin; only man.

The astrological universe is the world's most marvelous example of a well-ordered and well-executed plan. Everything in the divine cosmos moves with the purpose toward a definite end.

God's purpose for man is redemption. Man's purpose for God is service. Man without God is like a bubble floating on its evast ocean, God without man in a mind without arms, legs, eyes, or series, the first major accessory line launched here, I believe. The stores didn't want to fiddle with higher-price accessories at first, but soon realized they were wasting wall space, and that good decorative accessories could help in the sale of furniture."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Gov. John B. Connally says he is giving a great deal of thought to the appointment of a successor to former Railroad Commissioner Wiam J. Murray, Jr.

He says he hopes to find a replacement before the Senate adjourns on May 24, so his choice can be confirmed.

The governor stated he also is working hard on appointments to his "Committee of 25." This is a committee which will be charged with an extensive study of education beyond the high school. He has personally interviewed every candidate. Aim is to pick people who have the respect of the public and the teaching profession.

MENTS — Governor Connally can claim a record of accomplishment with the 58th Legislature, which has carried out the following items on the list the governor laid out in his messages to the Legislature:

1. A bill authorizing the Texas Water Development Board to acquire water storage space in federa or oca reservoirs is ready for Connally's signature.

2. Revision of the antiquated state Code of Criminal Procedure probably will go to a Senate-House conference committee to iron out differences.

3. Loan regulation bill is near final passage.

4. A constitutional amendment removing the ceiling on welfare grants has passed the Senate and is ready for House action.

5. Padre Island National Seashore bill has been signed into law.

6. Proposed constitutional amendment repealing the poll tax passed the Senate and awaits House action.

7. A tax package — mainly increases in sales taxes on cars and clothes and a year-long extension of the corporation tax — has been signed into law.

8. A Senate-passed bill limiting governors to two elected terms now awaits House action.

9. Municipal annexation bill, which sets some limits on the powers of cities to annex territory, is ready for his signature.

10. Measure creating the Texas Tourist Development Agency has been signed into law.

Both houses also have passed the bill to create a 25-member Committee To Study Education Beyond the High School; bills giving San Angelo and Pan American colleges senior status and full state support; and the Game and Fish-Parks Board merger.

SOME EXCEPTIONS — Connally's plan to reorganize the State Banking Commission ran into banker opposition. But a bill allowing Connally to name one member to replace Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr probably will get through.

His proposal to give the governor authority to control budgets of state agencies within the total dollar limits set by the Legislature got a chilly reception from a House committee and hasn't been heard from since.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS — Proposed constitutional amendment by Sen. William Moore of Bryan to give women equal property rights was passed by the Senate back in January. It was then sent to a House committee headed by Rep. Jim Cotten of Weatherford. Cotten waited until the first week of April to hold a hearing, then never named a subcommittee to consider women's rights.

Finay, an impatient House, hammered by demands from impatient women voters, instructed Cotten's committee to bring the bill out for a vote. Cotten withstood all pressures — even a full-scale committee revolt — until the House took the bill away from him and sent it to the House Insurance Committee.

Some action is promised, but there's no word as to when.

WHITHER SHALL IT WAVE? — E Paso Sen. Fran Kowen's bill to forbid the flying of the flag of the United Nations on or in public buildings ran into what may be a fatal delay in the House.

Delay motion came on the heels of a speech by Rep. Howard Green of Fort Worth. He said legislators have received a flood of mail favoring the Owen bill, which attacked leading Texans like former Sen. Tom Connally, former president Dwight Eisenhower and Vice President Lyndon Johnson as being "tools of the communist conspiracy."

These men will live on in memory when their detractors are "lost in the junk heap of history," Green declared. Bill's House sponsor Rep. Water Knaupp of Amarillo, replied that "the mere fact that a lunatic fringe is supporting this bill is no reason to turn it down."

Further debate was postponed a week, which could mean indefinitely.

HOLIDAY CONFIRMED — For the first time since the reconstruction era, a Negro holds a state office as a member of a major board.

Senate confirmed the appointment of the Rev. C. A. Holliday of Fort Worth to the State Board of Corrections, despite early opposition to Connally's choice.

NAMED — The 15 people who will pick textbooks for consideration by local school boards have been given the oath of office.

Included were Alton O. Bowen, Bryan; Benton L. Brockett, La Marque; Wayne Craddock, Palestine; Avery R. Downing, Waco; Miss Marie Esman, El Paso; Mrs. Lonie Garretson, Pittsburg; Mrs. Frances Gavenda, Mc Aen.

Also Miss Nelda Jobe, Lubbock; Mrs. Christine Kirkpatrick, Denton; Mrs. Fannie L. Knight, Sherman; Dr. John W. McFarland, Houston; Larry O'Rear, Alice; Miss Alma Marie Rohr, Brownwood; Bill W. Sills, Fort Worth; and Arnold F. Whedbee, Beaumont.

Under a new ruling by the State Board of Education, citizens will have until September to protest the committee's selections.

STIFFER REQUIREMENTS — Board of Education also adopted its junior college study commission's recommendations to strengthen the requirements for communities seeking board approval of an election to create junior colleges.

New requirements state that certified proof that all board standards have been met must be filed 10 days before a hearing will be granted. New procedure will streamline the process somewhat, since it could cut down some of the local hearings and investigations necessary in past years.

OPERATORS WIN — Oil and gas operators won a battle when the House approved a measure making it illegal to transport more than a pound of mercury without proof of ownership.

This law is expected to cut down the thefts of mercury from automatic gauges on oil tanks and gas pipelines.

SHORT SNOOTS — Vegetable dealers will be required to purchase a bigger bond under a bill ready for the governor's signature.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes a look at a world problem this week

Dear editor: I've noticed that along about this time every spring there's considerable talk about banning further testing of atomic bombs and when nothing comes of it the world leaders shake their heads gloomily and say it forebodes evil days ahead.

I don't like to advise world leaders, although I've never seen a man yet who wouldn't undertake the job at the drop of a hat, me included, but it seems to me the idea of a ban is sound, they're just picking the wrong item.

Trying to ban the testing of atomic bombs is like trying to get a kid to give up bicycle riding the day after the Christmas he got a new one. Wait till he's old enough to drive a car and you can turn the trick without any trouble.

If the world leaders want to have a really successful disarmament conference, let them meet at some neutral place, say on this Johnson grass farm, and forever ban the use of the cannon ball. If this is too strong for some of the smaller countries just now coming into civilization, they can go a little further back and ban the use of the slingshot and the crossbow.

The trouble with the world leaders is they're trying to get ahead of themselves. How can you expect France for example to agree to atomic bombs when it hasn't even gotten one to go off yet?

If the world leaders would like to meet out here, I'll be glad to work up a list of weapons they can successfully get banned, and it won't be just primitive ones, either. For example, take battle-ships, new Guines would readily agree to ban battleships, since she hasn't got any. The United States would agree also, since battleships are now about useless in modern warfare. Open cockpit airplanes can be stricken off. And the list can be lengthened, but I'll hold

Parks managers have reported record attendance at state parks so far for 1963.

Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation notified Governor Connally that livestock producers and sportsmen have met and exceeded their $3,000,000 goal.

State Treasurer Jesse James reported that the General Revenue Fund was out of the red on May 7 for the first time since September 1, 1962. Fund balance was $222,402.87.

POWER TO PRESERVE THE PEACE!

"To be prepared for war," said George Washington, "is one of the most effective ways of preserving peace."

Today's counterpart of this philosophy is reflected in the massive shield of missile sites built or under construction in the farthest reaches of rural America. Many of these, and hundreds of other vital defense installations, are served by America's rural electric systems.

These locally-owned cooperatives and power districts were created by rural people who could not get electric service from established power companies. Today these systems operate 1 1/2-million miles of lines far beyond city limits, serve the growing power needs of 20 million rural people. And capital borrowed from the Rural Electrification Administration to build these lines is being repaid with interest.

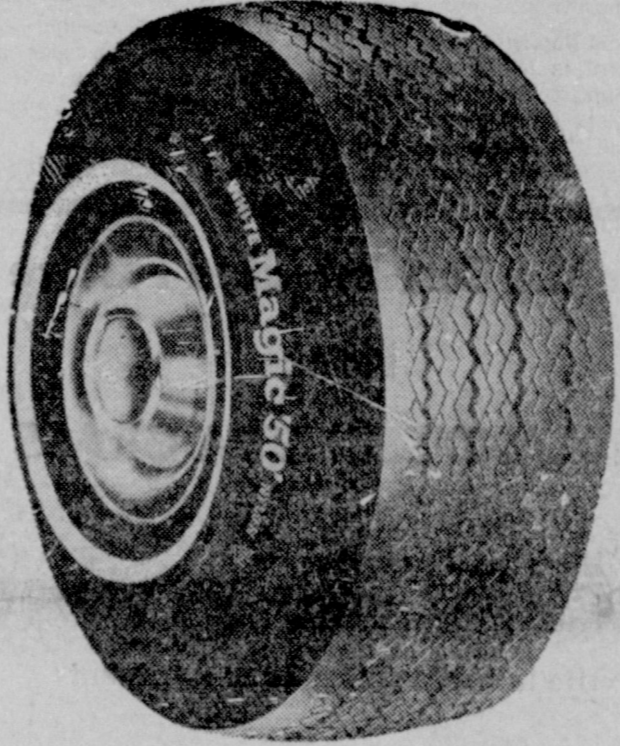

Because these lines are there, power is quickly provided for vital installations ranging from launching pads to tracking stations, from lighthouses to Air Force bases.

Rural electric systems are proud to play an important part in safeguarding peace at the home of all Americans.

So huge, said Tass News Agency, that the deposit can supply the needs of the world for several centuries.

IT'S FOR THE BIRDS

By MELVIN R. EVANS
Refuge Manager, Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge

The group of birds which are known as quail contain a large number of species. The two species of quail that are found locally are Bobwhite and Scaled Quail.

The time of breeding of these birds varies with the elevation, latitude, and amount of ground moisture that is available.

Nests are generally found in grassy areas and brush piles or shrubbery is generally present in the near vicinity. The nest generally contains from 12 to 14 eggs, and the incubation period is approximately 21 days.

The young are capable of flight in about two weeks.

The Bobwhite Quail is generally considered an agricultural area bird and the Scaled Quail generally frequent range lands. Both species prefer areas which contain windbreaks or brush piles which provide protective cover.

An adult quail seldom ranges over an area which has a radius of more than 1/4 mile in one day.

However, unmated males may move as far as 10 miles in an effort to find a mate.

The diet of this group of birds is predominated by vegetative matter and insects.

A population of quail in Texas generally has an approximate population turn over of 80 percent in one year. In other words, of the present population of quail in Bailey County, only approximately 20 percent of these birds will be alive one year from now.

Because of this, many game managers feel that it is not a good practice to plant quail in an area that already contains native stock.

The Texas Game and Fish Commission in their "Quail Management Handbook for East Texas" stated "restocking may seem desirable, yet the native stock in winter totals 25,000 birds of which 20,000 will be dead a year later.

Why buy and release 1,000 birds where 20,000 are going to disappear? Let us now consider the 5,000 birds that made it through the winter. These birds, depending on nesting and other habitat conditions will again increase the population to about where we started out.

WHO WOULD YOU TURN TO IF YOU WERE FEELING ILL?

Naturally you'd go to a doctor — a specialist in the field of medicine. However, if you're looking for the right place to save or to borrow to buy a home, the choice is much greater. But, if you want a specialist, this is where you'll come.

Olney Creates Home-grown Industry

When an aeronautical engineer and the business leaders of Olney, Texas, got together, a new home-grown industry was born. The product: an agricultural aircraft especially designed for crop dusting and spraying.

prise is evidenced by a plant expansion program which will double the factory size when construction is completed this Fall. It is another reason we say big things are happening in General Telephone towns.

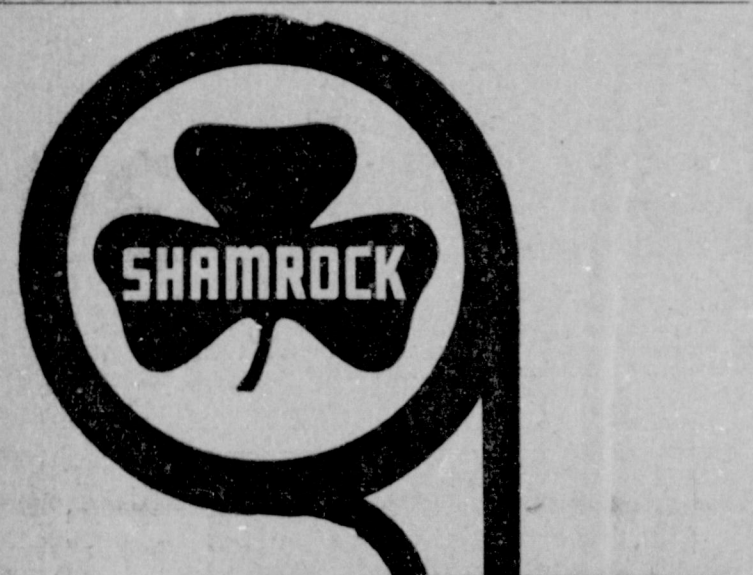

Now, 4 1/2 years later, Snow Aeronautical Company employs 57 skilled workers in this West Texas community of 3872, and has sold aircraft in many agricultural states of the Union and in seven foreign countries.

These towns are on the move. Community improvements are under way, local resources are being developed, new businesses, new industries are coming in. If your town seeks additional information about expansion perhaps we can help. Just write our Community Development Department, Box 1001, San Angelo, Texas.

Local Methodists Slate Conference

Bishop Kenneth W. Copeland of the Nebraska Area of the Methodist Church will be the principal speaker for the Northwest Texas Conference to be held this year at St. Paul Methodist Church, Abilene, May 27-31.

Representatives nominated by Muleshoe's First Methodist Church to attend the conference are Sam E. Fox, deegate, and Bo Bryant, alternate.

Bishop Copeland, a former resident of Corsicana, was in his twelfth year as pastor of Travis Park Methodist Church, San Antonio, when elected Bishop in June, 1960, at the South Central Jurisdiction Conference. Bishop and Mrs. Copeland visited the mission fields of southeast Asia last year.

Bishop Copeland, who was born in Bexar, Ark., received most of his schooling and had most of his pastorates in Texas; these include Corsicana, Cooper, Dallas and Wichita Falls.

The bishop graduated from Corsicana High School where he delivered the baccalaureate sermon for his own graduating class.

He received his BA from Southern Methodist University where he is a member of the Board of trustees, and an honorary doctorate from Southwestern University, Georgetown. He attended Westminster College, Tehuacana and East Texas State Teachers' College.

The Nebraska bishop was a delegate to the uniting conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, Methodist Protestant Church and Methodist Episcopal Church South, in 1939.

The Vice president of the Board of Christian Social Concerns, Bishop Copeland is chairman of the Division of Peace and World Order, and also on the board of trustees at Nebraska Wesleyan University. A noted author, he wrote "A Primer of Beliefs for Methodist Laymen".

Karen Jones Wins TWC Scholarship

ELPASO — Academic scholarships for the 1963-64 school year at Texas Western College have been awarded to 98 high school seniors.

Scholarships at TWC were awarded primarily on the basis of academic achievement, according to O. H. McMahan, associate professor mathematics and physics and chairman of the faculty committee which makes the awards.

Scholarship applicants must have a "B" grade average, plus other qualifications, in order to be considered, and those selected for scholarships must maintain a "B" average in order to continue on scholarships. However, so keen is the competition for scholarships that most of the recipients approach and "A" average.

Karen Jones, Muleshoe High School, — Spanish and Education — the daughter of Mrs. Norma Jones, Muleshoe; and David S. Jones, Midland, is a recipient.

RECORD DEER KILL

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Virginia hunters bagged a record 38,301 deer in the 1962-63 season, or 2,000 more than the previous record in 1961-62. Does were more than the previous record in legal kill in all but two counties east of the Blue Ridge Mountains.

TV TIPS

Friday and Saturday nights' motion pictures offer cheerful entertainment for the entire family.

Monday night at 9 p.m. Academy Award winner Ed Begley guest stars on "Ben Casey" as a doctor too involved with others to take care of himself.

Particularly timely in view of the astronaut flight temporarily scheduled for mid-May, is Thursday night's "Twilight Zone" episode at 8.

Senator John Tower Wednesday accused the Kennedy Administration of casting aside "The traditions of this Nation" in permitting the Communist takeover of Cuba.

In a VE day speech before the Senate Tower said the international standing of the United States because of Cuba, "Has slipped low indeed."

"This," said Tower, "is quite different from the speed with which the late, great John Foster Dues had the Red regime broken in Guatemala."

West Texas C-C Meeting Slated

ABILENE — The 45th annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be held in Wichita Falls May 24-25, featuring addresses by some of the top experts in the business and professional world.

Muleshoe will be represented at the meeting.

E. H. Danner of San Angelo, president of the West Texas Chamber, announced the convention dates and said, "We have prepared this year's program to cover the major issues of interest to business people in the West Texas area."

Headquarters will be the Kemp Hotel in Wichita Falls. More than 400 persons are expected to attend the two-day session of the WTCC.

Top ranking speakers will discuss industrial promotion, graduate education with space-related cultural problems in West Texas, the latest in stock feeding, problems in water pollution, federal taxation and expenditures.

For early arrivals on Friday, May 24, a special tour of Sheppard Air Force Base has been arranged, and visitors will see a complete array of missiles on display.

The formal program will begin at noon on May 24, and the Saturday luncheon on May 25 will close the convention.

One of the convention highlights will be the Friday night dinner where the names of several lifetime directors will be announced. The WTCC Board of Directors authorized the selection of these directors at its April meeting in Midland. Except for its past presidents, all of whom are lifetime directors, the WTCC has honored only two other individuals thusly — the late Amon Carter, Sr. of Fort Worth and W. P. Hallmark, who lives in Dublin.
