Knox Declares U. S. Ready To Fight

Swiss Authorities Say Axis Ready For Invasion Attempt

German Concentration Of Troops On North Sea, English Channel Complete Preparations For Coup

Admit Italians Prepared To Start Major Offensive Toward Alexandria And The Suez After Large Reinforcements Are Moved Up

BERN, Switzerland, Oct. 5 (AP).—Signs of an imminent axis offensive against both England and the British Empire, dismissed at first as a smoke screen, were regarded by neutral and belligerent military observers alike here today as probably correct.

British sources have begun to credit what they first took as axis inspired reports that German forces on the North Sea and English Channel now have completed preparations for a smash at England and are only waiting the word "go."

Similar reports from the Mediterranean indicate the Italians also are set for a land drive across Egypt toward Alexandria and the Suez Canal and down the valley of the Nile from Ethiopia.

Spain, which the axis has pictured as sticking to her non-belligerent role, is believed in these quarters to be ready to try to seize Gibraltar with air and sea aid from Italy and land aid from Germany.

(Dispatches from Algiers, Spain, said 2,000 British troops landed today to strengthen the garrison of the "rock" sentinel of the western Mediterranean.)

Troops Moving Up. There are some of the reports many veteran foreign observers have added up to mean an axis offensive—perhaps in the coming week.

From Italy, accounts of travelers that German army engineers and specialists, even some Nazi troops, have been moving through the Brenner Pass toward Italian Libya.

From similar channels in Italy, that 500 Italian warplanes and 3,000 Italian fliers, navigators and air-crews now are in Nazi-occupied France and the low countries ready to bolster an attempt to invade England.

The axis press and radio, inclined in September to talk down an invasion attempt, has begun since the Brenner meeting between Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini to hint it is not so far off after all.

The axis powers are believed here to have based plans for an attack on Britain on all fronts before the United States elections November 5, primarily with an eye to America.

Whatever "surprises" the axis may plan, British military sources looked toward the winter, they said, with "reasonable confidence" as the Nazi air siege of London went into its fifth week.

Some German planes broke through the British defenses during the day, and the sky over London was red again last night, with the most thunderous anti-aircraft barrage heard yet in the British capital.

RAF Bombs Ports. But the British said the Germans had paid dearly for their attacks, losing 23 planes to nine British craft lost up to evening.

Cliff watchers on the channel coast said a mighty attack by British bombers had struck a line of flame from Dunkerque to Boulogne.

The Germans, listing railroad facilities, gas tanks, and all over England Saturday, British informants said they believed the worst of Germany's aerial storm had passed.

Some German planes broke through the British defenses during the day, and the sky over London was red again last night, with the most thunderous anti-aircraft barrage heard yet in the British capital.

Roosevelt, Willkie In New York State On Bid For Votes

By The Associated Press

Wendell L. Willkie talked strategy with Republican party leaders of New York yesterday while at the other end of the empire state Democratic Attorney General Robert H. Jackson was accusing the Republican nominee of "snobbery" in his campaigning.

State Republican leaders met Willkie as he stepped from his train at New York City and they hurried off for a day of conferences before the nominee headed out on a series of night speeches in Brooklyn. The conferences were a prelude to a scheduled chain of speeches and appearances in New Jersey and New England during the forthcoming week.

Jackson criticized Willkie in an address at Buffalo in ceremonies formally notifying Senator James C. McGowan of his renomination by the Democrats.

Willkie, Jackson asserted, is "talking down to his fellow Americans and they resent it further," Jackson said, there is "deep resentment" at Willkie's "sneers at President Roosevelt's education, sneers at his fine command of the English language, and sneers because the president is a member of a distinguished American family."

Willkie's presence in the politically important state coincided with a visit by the president to New York. When Mr. Roosevelt left the capital for a weekend stay at his Hyde Park home he was accompanied by an old adviser on presidential addresses and campaigning, Justice Samuel I. Rosenman of the New York Supreme Court.

In a speech dedicating three Dutchess County schools yesterday the president reviewed some of the record of his administration since its inception eight years ago. Among other things, he said: "There were some in those days (eight years ago) who chanted that nature had to run its course of misery, that deflation could not be stopped, and that the depression was only the working of natural economic laws in a system of free enterprise."

"The American government decided to reject this philosophy of inaction and irresponsibility and indifference to the destitution of its citizens. In its place was substituted a new doctrine—that the government owned a continuing responsibility to see to it that no one should starve who was willing to work."

ROTC Members Not To Register Oct. 16

AUSTIN, Oct. 5 (AP)—Members of the organized Reserve Corps are not required to register for selective service purposes on Oct. 16, the Adjutant General's Department announced today.

Reviewing requirements of the law, the department listed these classes as the only ones exempt from registration: Members of the armed forces of the United States, the active national guard, the reserve corps, coast guard, coast and geodetic survey, public health service, cadets and midshipmen at the U. S. Military and Naval Academies and cadets of the advance corps, senior division, reserve officers training corps and naval reserve officers training corps. Staffs of foreign diplomatic establishments in this country also are exempt.

TO CUT EXPENSES.

AUSTIN, Oct. 5 (AP)—Unpaid social security obligations and expanding Federal appropriations for defense purposes force the issue of curtailing "ordinary" state expenditures, several members of Texas' next House of Representatives opined today.

Property Of All Rumanian Jews Is Confiscated

Homes And Lands To Be Given Refugees Of Former Provinces

By The Associated Press

BUCHAREST, Oct. 5.—Rumania's month-old Iron Guard government put into force today the most sweeping of its many anti-semitic laws as its drive against foreign interests and the old regime flared up to new heat.

Under the new law all rural land and dwellings to which Jews held title automatically became state property today.

Occupants must leave their land and homes immediately. The property is to be turned over to Rumanian refugees from Transylvania, Bessarabia, and the South Dobruja. Areas Rumania recently has ceded to Hungary, Soviet Russia and Bulgaria.

The former Jewish owners will be paid three per cent annually of the value of the property as fixed by the government, but will receive none of the principal.

As the government clamped new restrictions on foreign-owned and managed corporations, Reginald Hoare, the British Minister, drove to Ploesti to investigate personally the case of 60-year old Percy Clark, a Briton and President of a Ploesti Oil Engineering firm.

The British legation has charged that Clark was kidnapped, "seriously maltreated," turned over to secret police and later released and placed under house arrest.

Mrs. John E. Tracy, an Englishwoman whose husband is employed by the American-owned Rumanian American Oil Company, was released today after 12 days' detention by police but a military tribunal prepared to try five other Britons, all oil executives, on what informed sources called "very serious charges," presumably alleged attempts to sabotage oil shipments to Germany. Commissioners to investigate the supervise the management of the 50 largest companies in Rumania with foreign connections, among them the American-owned and financed Rumanian Telephone Company, were named by the government.

Turner Receives Broken Leg In Odd Accident

J. E. Turner, Sr. was admitted to a local hospital Saturday morning suffering from a broken leg received in an odd accident.

Turner, County Road Superintendent, was just below the 15 miles southeast of Midland and had parked his truck on a small incline in order to open a gate. When he reached the gate, the truck had rolled upon him and pinned him to a post. When he managed to extricate himself, his right leg had been broken just below the kneecap.

The leg had swelled so much last night that attending physicians were unable to place it in a cast.

District Church Meeting Slated

The District is the largest of some eighteen districts of the Christian Church in Texas, reaching from Sweetwater on the east to Monahans on the west, to San Angelo on the south.

Rev. John E. Pickering, pastor of First Christian Church of Midland, is the President of the Convention, and also the executive member of the State Board for this District. James H. Goodman, local attorney, is the President of the laymen's league of the District and will preside at the Laymen's Banquet at 6:00 o'clock. E. G. Bedford will be one of the principal speakers at the banquet. J. Auld of Midland will bring the devotional at the evening session.

It is urged that all who desire to go call the office of the First Christian Church and a way will be provided.

AAPG Official To Address Geologists Here Tuesday

Ed W. Owen of San Antonio, secretary-treasurer of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists and division geologist for L. H. Wentz (Oil Division), will be guest speaker at a meeting of the West Texas Geological Society next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.

Owen will speak on reserves, proven undrilled locations, and well-spacing in West Texas and New Mexico fields.

Captains For C Of C Membership Drive

Captains of the two opposing sides in the annual membership campaign-contest of the Midland Chamber of Commerce to be held next Wednesday and Thursday, Daniel H. Griffith, left, and John P. Butler were snapped by a staff photographer yesterday as they compared prospect lists and discussed methods of attack to be used during the two-day drive. Since rivalry between the two sides is at a high pitch, it is suspected that neither captain divulged all particulars as to his respective plans of procedure. Each captain will have 20 volunteer workers under his supervision, members of the winning side to be the guests of the losers at a dinner Thursday evening.

Britishers Prepared For Any "Surprises."

State Deficit Reaches New High.

AUSTIN, Oct. 5 (AP).—Climbing to an unprecedented record, the state's general fund deficit today stood at $26,125,278. Willkie Defends His Patriotism.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP).—Wendell L. Willkie told a cheering Brooklyn audience tonight that "any man, no matter how high his position, who impugns the completeness of my patriotism is a coward and a cur."

Latin American Army Chieftains Now In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 5 (AP).—Latin American army chieftains on a flying tour of United States defense establishments reached this strategic southwestern military area late today for a two day inspection.

Ending their swing west and the first week of their trip the chiefs of staff and ranking officers of Colombia, Bolivia, Peru, Uruguay, Costa Rica, Panama, Honduras, Dominican Republic, and Guatemala, will quicken the tempo of their already fast pace to study Uncle Sam's major pilot training fields—Randolph and Kelly.

They also will review the second division at Fort Sam Houston here and watch a sham battle at Camp Bullis.

The officers landed at Randolph Field at 4:30 p. m. (CST) after a two-hour flight in perfect weather from Barksdale Field, La., where they were entertained at luncheon by General Frederick Martin.

They received his reassurance that the United States "takes its responsibility for defense of the Western Hemisphere."

"The General warned that unity we can be overpowered" but single none can make the Americas submit to their will.

"In the United States we are doing our utmost to be strong that we can help you x x x keep this hemisphere inviolate x x x," General Martin said.

Colonel Refugio Fabrega of Panama responded with the significant declaration that the Americas want peace but will fight together to protect their liberty.

Guard House To Be Used Springly On New Army Recruits

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP).—Instructions went out to army posts today to use the guard house as sparingly as possible when disciplining the men soon to be drafted for mass training.

Major General Leslie J. McNair, General Headquarters Chief of Staff, said all means should be used to avoid absenting men from training camps to harden and season them.

"While the highest standards of discipline are essential, disciplinary action preferably and where practicable will be of forms which do not involve absence from training," General McNair said. "Confinement especially is reduced to the minimum."

Other instructions issued indicated an intention to steel the ear-drums and nerves of recruits to the blasting sounds of war. They specified that when the stage of training in units is reached, blank ammunition should be used frequently to approximate actual battle sounds. Numerous firing tests with live ammunition also will be given.

Veteran officers suggested it was important that recruits become accustomed to battlefield tumult to minimize the peril of panic and confusion when troops are first under fire in wartime.

In his directive, General McNair advised that the army be prompt to reward with promotion and increased responsibility new soldiers who demonstrate qualities of leadership.

Answer To Japanese Official Is Given By Calling Up Reservists For Navy, Marine Corps Service

Fleet Construction Six Months Ahead Of Its Program Makes Calling Up Of Men Necessary; Will Make Nation's Navy Largest In 20 Years

By The Associated Press

After warning the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo axis, "if a fight is forced upon us we shall be ready," Secretary of the Navy Knox yesterday ordered 27,591 navy and marine reservists into uniform to give Uncle Sam's seagoing forces a personnel strength not possessed since the post-World War period.

A navy spokesman said the call was necessary because the fleet construction program was five weeks to six months ahead of schedule and the training schools were unable temporarily to turn out enough recruits to man the new ships.

A navy spokesman said the call for the reservists was necessary because the fleet construction program was five week to six months ahead of schedule and the training school were unable temporarily to turn out enough trained recruits to man the new ships.

The reservists called to duty have all received training which enables them to take their places aboard the ships immediately. Members of the volunteer reserves, consisting of specialists and men capable of being trained who have not been required to drill, were not called out because the need was only for trained men.

The reservists will be notified individually, by mail in most cases, when and where to report.

Secretary Knox in a speech to National Police Academy graduates said the triple alliance was "directed at us," but that the United States would not be "intimidated." The assertion was interpreted widely as an administration reply to Friday's assertion by Prince Konoye, Japanese Premier, that any U. S. challenge of axis plans to rearrange the world would plunge both sides into a "fight to the finish."

The Japanese leader's statement coincided with a Brenner Pass war council held by Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini in which those leaders apparently decided on future strategy to try to knock out Britain before that nation becomes more powerful with its own armament program and American aid.

The drive is being staged in the form of a contest with two sides competing on a point basis. Points will be given for new members listed, new members unlisted, increase in dues, dues paid in advance, and contacting of all prospects. Five hundred points will be awarded the side having the largest attendance at the kick-off breakfast Wednesday morning. Members of the losing side will be hosts to the winners at the Thursday evening dinner.

Captains of the two groups of volunteer workers are John P. Butler and Daniel H. Griffith. The two captains met Thursday afternoon and drew for workers, each side to be composed of 10 teams of two men each.

Full instructions as to the contest will be given at the breakfast Wednesday morning at which time prospect cards will be distributed. Several pep talks by civic leaders are also scheduled.

Arrangements have been made whereby persons not contacted by the Chamber of Commerce will be given applications for membership at the chamber of commerce office, designating which side is to be credited with the points involved.

Clarence Scharbauer, chairman of the organization's membership committee, yesterday urged all persons who are not at present members of the civic organization to join readily when called upon during the drive or to stop by the chamber of commerce office in Hotel Scharbauer an take out a membership. He said the chamber of commerce has played a highly important role in the growth and development of Midland during past years and that it is the duty of every Midland citizen to belong.

Present members of the chamber of commerce will not be called upon during the campaign, the standing memberships running from year to year.

Increased Allowables Granted 4 Oil Fields

AUSTIN, Oct. 5 (AP).—Four oil fields were granted production increases and the flow of one was cut back by orders signed by the Railroad Commission today.

The Taft field, San Patricio County, was reduced from 3,963 barrels daily to 2,674.

Increases went to the Corpus Christi field, Nueces County, which was exempted from remaining shut-down days; the Noelle field, Crockett County, upped from 40 to 200 barrels; the Southwest field, Taylor County, from 114 to 200 and removed from shut-downs, and the North Knox field, Knox County, from 736 to 1,091.

The commission ordered a hearing in Austin Oct. 15 on rules for the drilling, completion and operation of wells in the Talco field, Franklin and Titus counties.

School For Draft's Registrars To Be Held Here Oct. 14

A school for volunteer workers picked to register close to 2,000 Midland County men for the selective draft will be held in the court house Monday, October 14, County Clerk Susie G. Noble said Saturday.

Tentative plans call for an information booth to be set up in the lobby of Hotel Scharbauer the day of the school. The school will be held at the Chamber of Commerce, headed by Chas. Klapproth, head of the Advisory Board for this county. All information available to local citizens will be kept there for the public.

The rural schools that are needed for registration headquarters will probably close on registration day, but no official announcement had been made last night.

"This is one job we can't do haphazardly," Mrs. Noble said. "The success of the whole selective draft depends on the information given to both registrars and registrants and we want to make Midland County one of the best in the state. The job rests as much on the shoulders of the people of this city as it does on me."

Any persons desiring to volunteer their services is urged to communicate with the county clerk at the court house.

Civic Theatre To Hold Open Meeting Monday

Midland Civic Theatre will have an open meeting Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the Scharbauer Hotel Crystal Ballroom. Mrs. N. A. Lancaster, president, announced that everybody who is interested in drama is urged to attend. The purpose is to discuss their willingness to take part in Civic Theatre productions. The president continued her request by reminding all members that there will be important business to discuss in connection with the Patron Membership drive and with the staging of the first play of the year on October 25.

A program will also be presented during the evening.

YESTERDAY: Nick insists Sue Mary meet him at the office tonight. She fears a plot to invade her, keep her quiet, there is a call from the hospital. What if Joe dies? Terrible. Sue Mary dials the number.

SUE MARY FINDS HELP

Chapter XXIV
SUE MARY hung up the receiver and leaned forward over her typewriter, resting her shaking arms on the carriage. Word from the hospital was not encouraging, but at least Joe was alive.

"Mr. Stefanski regained consciousness for a few moments," a nurse told her sympathetically. "He asked for you, and then went off again. The doctors think they may operate to relieve the pressure. If they do, it will probably be tonight. You can call later, or if anything comes up suddenly, we'll let you know."

"But I could see him—" "You can see him, but he won't know you," the nurse explained. "And you can't stay for more than a few seconds. Mr. Stefanski needs absolute quiet now. But you must not worry."

The hands of the office clock seemed to fly now that she knew the doctors were to take some definite action on Joe's case. Before that, time had dragged; now each minute was precious and time flew. She couldn't work. She couldn't think. She finally told Miss Grant her head ached and she wanted to leave early.

At the hospital she stood quietly in Joe's room, looking down at his white face, the shock of blond hair showing beneath the bandage; at his hands, so big, so capable, and now so helplessly limp on the sheet.

She wanted to touch them. Wanted to lean forward and kiss his lips, but the nurse was beside her, murmuring that a doctor was coming in to change the dressing and she must go.

SUE MARY went across the street to a little park and sat on a bench until her trembling legs could carry her back to the apartment. She picked up a paper someone had discarded and stared at the headlines.

It seemed that she had been removed from the world itself these few days. None of the crises in Europe or here had existed for her. And yet, she told herself, you, yourself, are involved in a vital problem.

"G-men investigate alleged subversive group," she read. In an eastern city an inquiry was being made by Department of Justice officials in an effort to stamp out possible fifth columnists.

She looked up and found a sudden strength welling up within her. Federal agents—until this moment the words had been one connected with the movies and thrill stories. To be sure, it was in the news, but it had never been a reality to her.

The girls in the office kidded about the strange men coming and going, since the national defense program had brought so much activity to the law office. But G-men still were people in a little boy's world. Until this moment.

Now her thoughts began to crystallize. Government men with the power to handle all situations. The power to act and the ability to recognize truth. They would keep a confidence. They would listen and judge and not run off hysterically on a witch hunt. She stood up and walked to the hospital to find a phone book.

It was late afternoon and she wondered frantically if she could contact anyone at headquarters. She found the address and ran out to flag a taxi.

The big federal building was cool and dim and nearly empty. There was still one elevator running and she made herself walk slowly and quietly down the hall.

THE young man in the outer room was locking up his desk, but he didn't hurry her. He asked her name and a few questions about herself.

"What do you want to see Mr. Flanagan about?" he asked. "He's still here, but he's had a hard day, and so many people demand to see him. So many people come in here," he explained, patiently.

"They all think they have valuable information about spy-plots—" She nodded her head in agreement. "Yes, I can imagine that. You see, that's why I hated to come. I might be wrong, too."

"Only—well I didn't dare wait any longer. Something is to happen tonight. These people—I think they are doing something that will hurt the government and—nice people here in town. Maybe I'm wrong, but an organization $ belong to has a strange platform. I didn't know what it was all about. But I do now. And I'm beginning to wonder. It's called the Youth Progress Group."

"Youth Progress—" he repeated slowly. "Maybe you had better see him. We know that outfit."

SITTING across the desk from Mr. Flanagan, Sue Mary managed to get her facts in order. He was kind and calm. He listened and drew out the story with questions.

"We've checked on the Youth Progress Group, of course," he said. "We've never been entirely satisfied. We know their candidate for governor is radical and that the platform is one that would never go over in this country. But we are also sure they can't win in this election. Not unless a miracle should happen. But anyway, tell me what you know."

She told him. Slowly the whole picture came out.

"I didn't think much about it until I heard Nick and Vera planning to get the papers that young Mr. Ross Clark will have at the office tonight. He's not like his father. Young Mr. Clark, I mean. He's stupid and in debt and easily led."

"Nick and Vera mean to use the information to hurt Governor Russell Miller. And they believe it will be enough to hurt the whole campaign platform. Destroy the people's faith and help their own cause."

"And then—then—" she added, "there's the picket line at Smithson. Nick's mixed up in that, too. I saw his picture in the paper. He's trying to keep the trouble going on out there. I know that."

"The YP insist we don't need to spend money on national defense. They keep talking it and printing it in their paper. And they mean to hinder production whenever they can."

"And Joe—my fiancé—was hurt at the factory. He's in the hospital now. He was hit on the head when coming from the plant. Maybe—maybe he'll die."

"You can't let things like that go on. Those people are dangerous—" She was crying now and frantic lest he not understand and believe her.

"So that's their game. There have been so many things to check on these last few months that we haven't been able to do as much investigating as we would like." Flanagan's voice was calm, comforting.

"We know about this Nick Alexander—a young fellow with a leftist turn. There are so many of them: blind, dissatisfied, led by smarter, older men who can mold them into tools."

He came around the desk and gave her his handkerchief. "Now don't worry. We'll clean the whole thing up. You go to the office tonight just as Nick wants. And let

OUR COUNTRY

Last of 24 articles on "Our Country," written exclusively for NEA Service and The Reporter-Telegram by the nation's most famous authors.

By Katherine Brush
Author of "Young Man of Manhattan," "Other Women," "This Is on Me," etc.

NOT so very long ago, a few people in this country of ours decided to have a revolution. For one thing they were fed up with things that a demented old man at the head of some lazy and self-important ministers wanted to do their pockets, and they were also sore at the way he was going about it. The only miracle referred to by German experts in recounting the stunning victories by Hitler's armies from Poland to France is a miracle of training and staff precision to achieve coordinated application in battle. That is the lesson of this war, of the World War and of all previous wars.

Nazi militarists have noted a tendency in German public opinion—which they regard as dangerous—to expect miracles where mechanical robots do the fighting, not men. Before this war, a translation of an article in a Berlin technical military journal, "Military Oberblatt," appearing in Berlin last August. Its title is "Die Infanterie Im Blitzkrieg" and it came from the pen of a German professional soldier of rank.

He analyzed Nazi army victories from Poland to the final cracking of the French line on the Somme. Ainsie which brought France to her knees. This is his conclusion:

"They (the battles) have proved that the enemy's last resistance must be broken, as hitherto, by the infantry, and that in the last hundred meters of a charge the infantry must accomplish this result unaided (by tanks, aircraft or artillery) and solely by force of its own weapons. x x x It (the German infantry) bore the main burden of the struggle and proved to be queen of the battlefield."

The writer quotes from present German army regulations to govern training for "combined arms" as follows:

"The object of all arms is to allow the infantry to reach the enemy while still in possession of sufficient firing and attacking order to bring about a final decision."

If "in many places" in those battles the Nazi infantry came to grips with "an already crushed foe" due to effectiveness of Nazi aviation art tanks, the author adds, "this merely proves that our troops of all arms have been properly trained and not that the importance of the infantry's mission has diminished."

Because of that training, also, the writer adds, German infantry frequently reached its objective "with incredibly small losses" and was able to spring forward not pursued to exploit a tactical success and turn it into a smashing strategic victory.

"This necessitates bold and decisive action on the part of subordinate commanders, who can usually count only on their own respective arms and must wage the combat without relying on assistance of their neighbors," the article added. x x x "The commanders of even the smallest (German army) units were glad to assume responsibility. It was this fact that was new to our foes."

"They call it blitzkrieg and talk of our secrets. To us this quick success was due to our training."

BUT most of the other countries in the Old World weren't as clever. Feudalism was still the order, so those who were being oppressed turned to the west. They crossed the ocean by sail and by steam and they came to America—where opportunity and the right to work existed, and were recognized. And America grew—founded on a belief in freedom.

Now Americans are, without doubt, the most generous and idealistic people in the world. We hear of an earthquake, a famine, a flood somewhere, and immediately we jump to the rescue. It isn't because we're so darn wealthy; it's because we pride ourselves on being humanitarian.

SO that's why our backs get up when we see what is happening abroad. We firmly believe that such suffering is needless. We firmly believe that we have basically the right form of government. We firmly believe it, and we'll just as firmly defend our belief.

There's a revolution going on in Europe—a negative one—and the outcome will mean either a reversal of feudalism or a continuance of our way of life. America is for the status quo of democratic principles.

That is the American case. These are the tenets by which we live. These are the props that we refuse to have pulled out from under us.

him go through with his plan." Flanagan smiled and patted her hand. "Not frightened, are you?" "No—now that I know what to do."

INTERPRETING THE WAR

By Kirke L. Simpson, Associated Press Staff Writer

Thirteen months of up-to-date war in Europe, with Nazi blitzkrieg trimmings, leaves the question of British sea versus German air power unsettled; but has not changed a fundamental concept of how land battles are fought and won.

It is still bayonets that win battles, not machines. That is the essence of German blitzkrieg technique, of all military experience. The function of all other arms, from Roman chariots to 80-ton Nazi tanks, from rock-burping catapults to bomb dropping planes, is to help the foot-soldier to do his grim job.

The only miracle referred to by German experts in recounting the stunning victories by Hitler's armies from Poland to France is a miracle of training and staff precision to achieve coordinated application in battle. That is the lesson of this war, of the World War and of all previous wars.

"The object of all arms is to allow the infantry to reach the enemy while still in possession of sufficient firing and attacking order to bring about a final decision."

If "in many places" in those battles the Nazi infantry came to grips with "an already crushed foe" due to effectiveness of Nazi aviation art tanks, the author adds, "this merely proves that our troops of all arms have been properly trained and not that the importance of the infantry's mission has diminished."

Because of that training, also, the writer adds, German infantry frequently reached its objective "with incredibly small losses" and was able to spring forward not pursued to exploit a tactical success and turn it into a smashing strategic victory.

"This necessitates bold and decisive action on the part of subordinate commanders, who can usually count only on their own respective arms and must wage the combat without relying on assistance of their neighbors," the article added. x x x "The commanders of even the smallest (German army) units were glad to assume responsibility. It was this fact that was new to our foes."

"They call it blitzkrieg and talk of our secrets. To us this quick success was due to our training."

ROME, Oct. 5—A denunciation of the Turks as "servile satellites" of the British and "the American colonies which stand beside them was made today by Virginia Gayda, one of the most authoritative of Fascist Journalistic spokesmen.

Despite these bitter references to British-allied Turkey, however, Gayda—had nothing specific to say as to the next military moves of Germany and Italy, beyond declaring proudly:

"The two axis powers are resuming their war operations, never interrupted, with the greatest intensity. The effect will be seen soon."

An intensified attempt to drive the British out of Egypt and seize the Suez Canal was expected in foreign circles as Fascist observers forecast a strong fall offensive against Britain.

The conquest of Egypt is considered of such importance the possibility of the Germans aiding the Italians in a quick thrust there was seen by some. Hitler, these sources said, might help the Italians with planes, other equipment and supplies, if not troops.

France might be involved in axis plans for the Near East, some on-lookers thought, although both Italian and German circles discarded rumors of a possible peace settlement and alliance with France.

France's conquerors, it was suggested, might be able to obtain the use of air bases in Syria by some arrangement short of an actual treaty.

Mattress Making Demonstration Opens Saturday

The cotton mattress demonstration for Midland was initiated Saturday with 12 mattresses being made for Midland families under supervision of women of the Westside Home Demonstration Club under general direction of Miss Alpha Lynn, county home demonstration agent. Through courtesy of officials, the work is being done on the grounds of the county warehouse on S Pecos street.

Forty-eight mattresses remain to be made in demonstrations during this week, Miss Lynn said, while 49 have been previously made in the county. A total of 110 mattresses will be made. Two other families which had been certified for mattresses have moved away and releases will be obtained on the making of these.

Each mattress contains 50 pounds of cotton and is built by the family which has been certified for it. Cotton and ticking are supplied by the Federal Surplus Commodity Corporation. The commissioners court supplies mattress needles and thread for the making.

Mattresses have been made at Warfield, Pleasant Valley, Stokes, Valley View, Stephenson, Cotton Flat, and Prairie Lee communities. Throughout the county, home demonstration clubwomen have aided in the project by supervising the work and Westside clubwomen are in charge of the work in the city of Midland. Those assisting Saturday morning were Mrs. Marion Holder, Mrs. M. W. Randolph, and Mrs. S. A. Dehmann, with others helping in the afternoon.

In every case in which mattresses have been made, they have been needed, Miss Lynn declared. An example of the good which the project is accomplishing was cited in the case of two mattresses which were made for families living in a tent and two trailers. These families had been displaced from their farm by tractors and had turned to cash work for a living. Work on their mattresses had to be hastened in order that they might leave for another town where cotton picking and the possibility of steady work awaited them.

Answers Draft Questions

Capt. Ernest Culligan, above, Chief of Public Relations for the Joint Army-Navy Selective Service Committee, has to answer all questions about the draft. Perhaps you can think of a busier person these days.

HINTS FOR HOME OWNERS

Bedroom Arrangement
FAH officials caution prospective home builders to arrange bedrooms with special consideration as to privacy. Bedrooms should open directly on a common hall. Wise planning of the openings in bedrooms is vitally important to insure proper placing of beds and other furniture. Adequate ventilation is essential, and sunlight should be afforded at some time during the day.

Wall Color
Dark walls soak up light just as a sponge soaks up water. A dark-walled room which is not exceptionally well illuminated by daylight is bound to require more electric light in the evening. With dull dark walls light is dim and struggling. With clean light walls both electric bulbs and daylight spread their radiance in full strength.

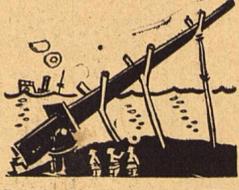

Cleaning Varnished Floors
As a rule, varnished hardwood floors that have never been waxed should not be washed with water. However, if they are badly soiled they may be gone over with a cleaning wringer from slightly soapy warm water, followed by a second wiping with a rag moistened with clean water. Wipe dry immediately and polish with an oil-treated mop.

Replace Electric Fuses
Blown-out fuses may be replaced by the home owner without much trouble. The current should be cut off at the main switch, with care taken not to touch any of the metal parts. Fuses of the same rating as the ones to be replaced should be used. It is not wise to use any substitutes such as coins. The capacity of fuses is plainly marked on the metal rim around the face or on the contact end.

Hitler vs. Hoople . . . Nazi Super Weapons Rival "Our Boarding House" Inventions

If you think Major Amos B. Hoople's automatic calf brander is a slightly impractical invention, give ear and eye to some of the things the Nazis have claimed . . . Their SUPER bomb was possibly on the level . . .

But when they brought out a SUPER long-range cannon to fire at interior England from across the channel, people who know classified it as the old Malarkey or its equivalent in any language . . .

And the next little item was this SUPER airplane apparatus by which plane crews see right through the clouds and fogs. Trouble is that you can see through that story without any device at all . . .

And the blowoff comes with the SUPER soldier who skis. Idea is that these guys are trained to use cork "water-skis" to gelandsprung and christiania across the English Channel for the invasion.

Derringer Muzzles Detroit With Five Hits To Cop Decision

Three Hurlers Are Rapped Hard By Red Hitters

By Judson Bailey
BRIGGS STADIUM, Detroit, Oct. 5 (AP).—The courageous Cincinnati Reds came back onto even terms in the 1940 world series today by muzzling the Detroit Tigers, 5 to 2, on the five-hit pitching of big Paul Derringer.

As usual the bell cow of the Cincinnati club was Bill Werber, who went to the plate five times and got on base four—with two singles and two walks.

He waited out a pass to start the game and after he had been forced by Mike McCormick, little Ival Goodman slammed the first pitch into the left field corner for a double and a run. Goodman went to third on an infield out and scored himself when Pinky Higgins let a grounder by Jim Ripple get through him for an error.

Trot was touched for two more singles in the second without damage, but in the third Goodman led off with a sizzling single to right center and on the hit and run went to third as Frank (Buck) McCorrick singled to right. Ripple doubled to score Goodman and send the bespectacled right-hander plodding to the showers.

Clay Smith, who went to the rescue, squeezed out of the jam by forcing two players to pop up, purposely passing Billy Myers to fill the bases and then making Derringer lay down an easy grounder.

The Reds kept right on making trouble, however, Werber again walking to open the fourth, going to third as Mike McCormick lined a double into right and scoring after Goodman had lifted a long fly to Hank Greenberg in left center. Smith then managed to hold Cincinnati in check for two frames but was removed for a pinch hitter in the sixth and the Reds went to work on Lefty Archie McKain for their final run in the eighth as well as singles in the seventh and ninth.

Two were out in the eighth when Werber needed a single through the box and went to second on a wild pitch. Mike McCormick came up with another single to bring Werber home.

The Tigers' runs came in the third and the other in the sixth neither touched off an inspired rally such as Detroit produced to win the first and third game of the series.

With one out in the second inning Barney McCosky waited out a walk, went to second on an infield out and came racing home as Greenberg hammered a double along the left field foul line.

Rudy York walked as Derringer took care to keep good balls away an then Bruce Campbell struck out. In the sixth stanza two were out before Campbell singled sharply to right and came hurrying home as Higgins let a tremendous fly against the right field screen for a triple.

Derringer walked catcher Billy Sullivan, a left-handed hitter, and Earl Averill, pinch-hitting for Smith, filed out to end the uprising.

Hardin Simmons Beats Arizona Club
TYLER, Oct. 5 (AP).—Hardin-Simmons Cowboys unleashed a powerful ground attack here to corral the Arizona State Bulldogs of Temple 17-0 before 12,500 fans at the sixth annual Texas Rose Festival grid classic.

The defeat toppled the Bulldogs from the nation's unbeaten, untied clubs, and the victory was the third straight no losses for season for the Cowboys.

Faced by Owen Goodnight, Moon Mullins, and L. B. Russell, the Abilene, Tex., team piled up 12 first downs to four for the Arizona eleven, including one on a penalty. The Cowboys macks ran up yardage while a strong line held the Bulldogs in check.

Wayne Pitts, highly touted Bulldog back, was throttled most of the game, but managed to slip through for a few good gains. The best Bulldog showing came in the first quarter when the Arizona crew drove to Hardin-Simmons' 21 before the Cowboys braced.

OHIO STATE BARELY WINS
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 5 (AP).—Golden-haired, golden-toed Charley Maag, six-foot three-inch tackle, booted a field goal with 21 seconds to play today as Ohio State, battered and bewildered by fast and fighting Purdue, to beat the Boiler-makers 17 to 14.

CALIFORNIA WINS
BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 5 (AP).—Outclassed completely for two periods, University of California turned on a surprising display of upset the second half for an upset 9-6 football win over St. Marys College today before a crowd of 45,000.

PITT BEATS MISSOURI
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 5 (AP).—Once mighty Pitt splurged some of its lost prestige to overcome passing old time power to overcome passing Paul Christian and his Missouri Big Six champions 19-13 before 26,000.

Aggies Overwhelm Tulsa Hurricane To Tune Of 41-6

By Ray Neumann.
SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 5 (AP).—Overwhelming power and ground and superiority in the air gave the potent Texas A. & M. College grid machine an easy 41 to 6 victory over a stubborn Tulsa University Hurricane here today.

The 1939 national champions managed for two markers in the first half and then went down the embattled Tulsans who rallied but once to tally in the final period. The Hurricane fought valiantly but failed to deliver in pay-off territory.

A crowd of more than 20,000 packed the beautiful new Alamo Stadium in sunny weather. It was the first appearance of a Southwest Conference team here in many years.

The Aggie scoring was well balanced, no man crossing the Tulsa goal line more than once. The Texans got 108 yards on the ground to Tulsa's 85 but a massed 200 yard aerial route to the Oklahomaans' 115. To this the Farmers added 124 yards by running back intercepted passes.

Shortly after the starting whistle, Tulsa was forced to punt out on Texas A. & M.'s 38 after which the Aggies commenced their first scoring drive. DeLoach Moser raced around end for nine, then crashed over guard to the Tulsa 39. Marion Pugh sliced through tackle for nine and a nicely timed pass, Pugh to Jim Thomason, added another first down on the Tornado's 26. Pugh then cracked through tackle for 13 and Moser, swinging wide to the left, ran over standing up. A holding penalty nullified the placekick for point and Pugh passed to Elvis Simons for the point.

Late in the second quarter, John Kimbrough, all-American fullback last year, intercepted a pass and dashed 20-odd yards to the Tulsa three where he was run out of bounds. Pugh got a yard and Kimbrough plunged over. Pugh placekicked the point.

Bagley, Gillespie Carry Frogs To 20-0 Victory Over Arkansas

By Felix R. McKnight.
FORT WORTH, Oct. 5 (AP).—Wee Dean Bagley and Kyle Gillespie, the Texas Christian tumbleweeds, steered the rapidly reviving ghost of other great Christian teams to a 20-0 rout of the University of Arkansas in the southwest conference opener here today.

Vastly underrated by the pre-season guessers, the Christian team that last week humbled Centenary, 41-6 snubbed the odds today and twice drove into a vicious, southerly wind to score on uninterrupted marches of 78 and 89 yards, winding up both with spectacular passing plays.

But the Christians weren't too dependent upon their famed aerial antics, tossing only nine. Six of those, however, were completed, and three of them went for touchdowns on heaves of 45, 18 and 17 yards.

To Bagley and Gillespie goes credit for most of the 269 yards TCU rolled up, but another hero—a tragic forgotten boy—flashed back from obscurity for one brief moment to get the wildest cheer of the day.

Big Jack Odle, the lad they said only a season ago would carry on the great line of Sammy Baugh's and Davey O'Briens at Texas Christian, but who quietly folded in mid-season after an injury and dropped into the shadows, slipped into the game as a reserve fullback.

On a routine buck straight over guard the bronzed kid suddenly burst through the massive Parker line and hit the secondary at full speed. He veered to his left, spun off a tackler and streaked for the sidelines. Three Arkansas men dived at him and he kept going. Finally 40 yards downfield, two reclad Razorbacks dropped him.

On the next play he cracked center again and simply powered for eight more yards. But he didn't get up that time. Injured, they carried him off the field. The fans cleared his fogged head with screams.

Arkansas, stout on the defense at times but lacking the fiery offense that has featured its play for many seasons, muffed the only good scoring chance it got. The Christians, still the opportunists, made good on most of their's.

Mustangs Defeat North Texas Club By Score Of 20-7

By Harold V. Ratliff.
DALLAS, Oct. 5 (AP).—Ray Mallouf and Johnny Clement pitched strikes in the pinches. Clint McCain turned in some dazzling runs and their Southern Methodist University mates crashed in on the breaks to beat a gallant North Texas State Teachers College eleven 20-7 today before a crowd of 12,000.

Action was scarce in the first half as a blazing sun beat down but the crowd was in an uproar over the driving finish of the green-shirted boys from Denton.

The stubborn North Texas line halted everything SMU tried in the first period but early in the second the Mustangs took to the air and with Ray Mallouf on the firing line marched to a quick touchdown.

Mallouf flipped a 33 yard pass to Bill Thomas who dodged his way 17 yards for the score. Thomas added the next.

The next Methodist counter came in the third period, a 13 yard pass by Clement to Roland Goss setting up the score as the climax of a 43 yard march. From the North Texas 30, McCain rapped guard for four then sliced through tackle and cut back through a bevy of North Texas players for the touchdown. Thomas missed the goal.

The Methodists got another shortly afterward, this time on a break Johnny Riola, the 147-pound backfield star of the North Texans who for the day was the defensive terror, tried to pass but Clarence Booth batted the ball into the air and Ted Ramsey gathered it in. Ramsey dived toward the goal but fell on the North Texas 21. Next interference was ruled on a pass from Rick Miller to Kelly Simpson, giving SMU the ball on the North Texas 9 yard line. Miller plunged twice to carry it over and Johnson kicked the goal.

Visions of last week's garrison finish when North Texas almost caught Baylor arose as the Teachers began drive of their own with only minutes to play. Bobby Dodd intercepted Miller's pass and ran to the SMU 24. Riola passed to Clayton who lateraled to Sheffield and the latter ran to the 14. Clayton then flipped one to Rev. Steward for a touchdown. Nace Forgas added the point.

NORTHWESTERN WINS, 40-0
SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 5 (AP).—Northwestern University's footballers came East to open their season today, and found everything in readiness for them except a football team.

The girls were pretty, the sun was bright, and the turf in Syracuse's Archbold stadium was springy and green. The Syracuse football team, however, was only green and soggy, so Northwestern had practically no trouble at all in winning by 40-0.

NAVY WINS
ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 5 (AP).—Navy capitalized on a first period fumble recovery and a 64-yard scoring drive in the third quarter today to trounce the University of Cincinnati's Bearcats, 14 to 0, before a crowd of 18,000.

Crain Paces Longhorns To 13-6 Victory Over Indiana Eleven

By Harold Harrison.
BLOOMINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP).—Indiana's aerial attack clicked everywhere except deep in enemy territory today and a more versatile University of Texas team, led by Jack Crain, handed the Hoosiers a 13 to 6 setback in their football opener. The crowd numbered 17,000.

For the Longhorns it was victory No. 2 of the current campaign. They beat Colorado last week.

After turning back two Indiana threats in the first period, Texas scored in the second quarter after Malcolm Kutner blocked H. Hursh's attempted quick kick and the Longhorns recovered on the Indiana 16. R. L. Harkins went over from the two-yard line and Urban Sanders added the extra point by picking up his blocked placekick attempt and running it across the goal.

Crain smashed over right tackle in the third period for the second Longhorn touchdown after he had intercepted one of Hursh's passes on the Indiana forty four and twisted his way to the six.

A 42-yard march brought Indiana its touchdown in the final quarter. Harold (Red) Zimmer led off a 20 yard run and passes from Mickey McGuire to Ray Dumke and Howdy Elliott, plus a penalty on Texas for unnecessary roughness, gave Indiana a first down on the one-yard line. Dumke scored around right end but the try for point failed.

Indiana had the edge in first downs, 15 to 9, out only three of them came from rushing. The Hoosiers gained only 11 yards net by completing 19 of 35 passes. Texas gained 106 yards by rushing; only 48 by passing.

Crain's dashes through the Indiana line and the booming Texas punts, which averaged 43.5 yards, kept the Hoosiers back on their heels much of the time.

Minnesota Defeats Cornhusker Eleven

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 5 (AP).—Minnesota's Gargantuan Gophers smashed another barrier in their challenge for 1940 gridiron glory today by defeating Nebraska's potent Cornhuskers, 13 to 7.

Great line play paid off for Minnesota.

Bulldogs Win Conference Opener by Defeating San Angelo

Blocked Punt, Run Gives the Team 7-6 Victory

A band of Midland high school Bulldogs that time after time turned back scoring opportunities in the first half finally crashed one of them in the third quarter and came through with a 7-6 upset win over a larger San Angelo Bobcat team Friday night on Lackey field.

The Bulldogs were inside the Bobcat 10-yard mark no fewer than five times during the evening but could never push over a score.

The lone Midland score came about midway of the third period when left tackle Selman Cocks of the Bulldogs blocked an attempted punt and it was scooped up by Mike Buffington, the Bulldog right tackle, and carried 18 yards for a touchdown. Big Windell Williams, Bulldog quarterback, booted the ball straight through the posts for the winning margin.

The Angelo counter came a couple of minutes later when a little substitute halfback named Lonon faked a kick from his 23 yard marker, broke through the left side of the Midland line and raced all the way to the far end of the field. His attempt at dropkick for extra point failed and the score was 7-6—the way it was when the game ended.

There was no doubt as to which was the superior club but the Bulldogs missed more opportunities than a card sharp playing with a bunch of blind men. And it wasn't the fault of the line. The outplayed and outfought a heavier bunch of boys all night and game fortune gave them a break when she allowed the touchdown to be made by a lineman.

If Midland had an individual hero for the evening it was Cocks. The husky youngster either blocked or partially blocked four San Angelo punts. Furthermore, he was making shoestring dives for Hill, Bobcat fullback who has been highly touted as a ball carrier, so often that he gave the overgrown fullback a minus sign on yardage.

The entire line stood out. Herbert Rehders made two or three bad passbacks but made up for it by some lusty tackling at opportune moments. Buffington was in on every play. "Boog" Edison and little Bill Hall, the guards, didn't miss anything and Lester and Bratton at ends were doing everything demanded of them.

Williams completed only seven of the 19 passes he attempted and several times hurried the ball when "sideline quarterbacks" thought he should have continued his line busting tactics. White, probably of his crippled knee, was not up to his usual form and Gordon Bigham, out of practice for a week because of illness, showed the effects of it. Only slight Odie Kelly was up to par among the backfield men.

The score does not nearly indicate the superiority of the Midland team. Early in the first period Williams completed a pass to Bratton over the goal line but the Bulldog end was forced to step over the end zone marker to make the catch and the score was nullified.

Late in the third period Kelly took a punt and made a dazzling return of 64 yards for a touchdown only to have it canceled when officials ruled one of the Midland boys roughed the Bobcat punter.

"Gendy" Green Shags Pass For Bulldogs

End "Gendy" Green, substitute on the Midland Bulldog squad, is shown above being borne to ground after taking a short pass from Wendell Williams. Quarterback Chase of the San Angelo Bobcats is shown applying a massage treatment to Green's face as another Bobcat bears down on Green's back. Halfback Dodson is shown looking unconcernedly on.

Stanton Drops 26-0 Decision To McCamey

McCAMEY, Oct. 5. — The McCamey Badgers stamped the Stanton Buffaloes here Friday night in a 26 to 0 rout paced by the two tallies made by Choate.

McCamey started off in the first quarter with a score by Choate, and after a scoreless second frame, Fleming gunned one to Bushwar for the second pay-play. In the last quarter, fullback Dave Jones piled around right end to another tally, and Jones grabbed the bladder later to scoot 46 yards for the final Badger blow as the double-stripe.

Late in the third period Kelly took a punt and made a dazzling return of 64 yards for a touchdown only to have it canceled when officials ruled one of the Midland boys roughed the Bobcat punter.

Rice Sophs Lead Team To 25-0 Win Over Gentlemen

By William T. Rives. HOUSTON, Oct. 5 (AP). — Rice Institute's band of sophomores, full of the old college try and a generous portion of Coach Jess Neely's magic, shoved the Owls off to a smooth start of the 1940 season tonight, drubbing the Centenary Gentlemen, 25-0.

The youngsters tore off 266 yards rushing while the best the Louisiana crew could do was a single yard, and picked up 140 yards through the air.

Centenary managed to scrape up three first downs while the Owls puffed up 21, despite the fact almost the entire squad saw action.

Coach Neely showed his adaptation to the southwestern style of open attack. Two of the Owls' touchdowns came via the air.

Tennessee And Cornell Again Strong This Year

By Herb Barker.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP). — Two of last year's football powers, Tennessee and Cornell, moved into the forefront of the 1940 national rankings today along with the mid-western Big Four of Minnesota, Ohio State, Michigan and Northwestern, as the day's one real full-fledged upset was engineered by the Diplomats of little Franklin & Marshall College of Lancaster, Pa.

The Diplomats invaded Hanover, N. H., with an ably speedy team and handed Dartmouth's Ivy League Indians a stunning 23-21 setback with a brilliant sophomore back, Billy Manotti, leading the way.

Meanwhile Tennessee's volunteers, beaten by Southern California in the last Rose Bowl game, hammered out a decisive 13-0 victory over Duke in a game in which the highly-touted Blue Devils from the Southern Conference reached Tennessee territory only once.

Cornell, unbeaten a year ago, dealt Colgate an unmerciful 34-0 beating in its first 1940 start with Hal McCullough's passing a major factor in the rout.

Ohio State, Michigan and Minnesota all won after bitter fights and discovered another Western Conference entry, Northwestern, evidently would have to be reckoned with.

Bill De Corveonit and Don Clarke Bill Daley carried Minnesota to a 13-7 victory over Nebraska's apiece, Northwestern touched Syracuse under a 40-0 count.

Charley Maag's field goal from the 12-yard line in the last 21 seconds of play enabled Ohio State to trip Purdue, 17-14, after the Boilermakers had rallied sharply in the second half to tie the score at 14-14.

America Tom Harmon scored all of Michigan's points as the Wolverines won over Michigan State's pass-minded Spartans, 21-14, before 65,000 fans.

Fine line play and the excellent running of George Franck and Sophomore Bill Daley carried Minnesota to a 13-7 victory over Nebraska's corn-huskers, Big Six power.

Wisconsin made it a great day for the Western Conference by trouncing Marquette, 33-19, and Indiana's Hoosiers found Texas more than it could handle and the Longhorns punched out a 13-7 decision.

Notre Dame opened its season against A. Stagg's College of Pacific outfit and won a routine 25-7 victory, spotting the visitors an early touchdown.

Despite Syracuse's rout and a 19-14 set-back clever Virginia administered to Yale, the East did pretty well in intercollegiate games. Pitt's power offense Paul Christman's passes and the Panthers turned back Missouri, 19-13. Princeton, holding off Vanderbilt's penn closing thrust, won 7-6, while Penn romped at Maryland's expense, 51-0.

Notre Dame opened its season against A. Stagg's College of Pacific outfit and won a routine 25-7 victory, spotting the visitors an early touchdown.

Williams, of the Little Three, came close to duplicating Franklin & Marshall's upset feat but finally bowed to the Army, 20-19. Fordham looked none too strong in a 20-7 defeat of West Virginia, and New York University worked out a proper against well-coached Lafayette, 9-7.

Tulane's disorganized forces dropped a Southeastern Conference decision to Auburn, 20-14, while Kentucky and Georgia rolled up big scores over Southern Conference foes. Kentucky whipped Washington & Lee, 47-12, and Georgia walloped South Carolina, 33-0.

In Southern Conference games, Clemson handed North Carolina State its first defeat, 26-7; North Carolina tripped Davidson, 27-7; Wake Forest rolled over Furman, 19-0, and Richmond defeated Georgia Tech, 13-7.

Texas Christian hung up a 20-0 count on Arkansas in a Southwest Conference duel, while Texas Aggies and Southern Methodist, picked to battle for the championship, won over non-conference rivals, The Aggies. No. 1 team in the Nation a year ago, trounced Tulsa, 41-5, and Southern Methodist rolled over North Texas Teachers, 20-7.

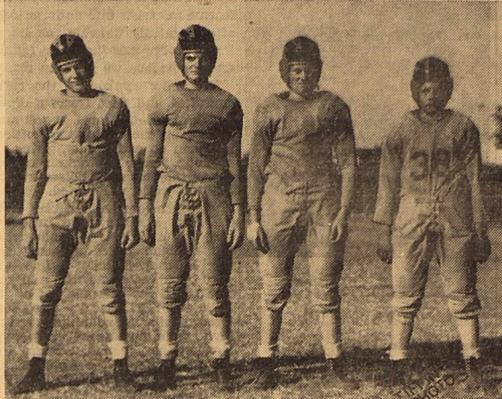

The year's first Big Six contest saw Iowa State nose out Kansas, 7-0. Oklahoma barely survived Oklahoma A. & M.'s closing drive, 29-27. Kansas State bowed to Colorado of the Rocky Mountain Big Seven, 7-6.

In the far west, Oregon State and Southern California played to a scoreless draw although the Trojans almost pushed over a touchdown in the closing minutes of play. Stanford, continuing its fine showing under Clark Shaughnessy, defeated Oregon, 13-0. California, routed by Michigan a week ago, showed a surprising reversal of form in beating St. Mary's Gaels, 6-6.

In the Rocky Mountain Big Seven, Utah continued its spell over Brigham Young, 12-6, while Wyoming held Colorado State to a 0-0 deadlock.

Odesa Defeats Lamesa By 20-0. ODESSA, Oct. 5. — Triple-threat Billy Hogan led the Odesa Broncos to a smashing 22-0 victory over the Lamesa Tornadoses Friday night.

Reading left to right they are Bill Stickney, Charlie Kelly, Jack Noyes and Tommy Richards. Kelly and Noyes are co-captains. Richards received a leg injury in yesterday's defeat of the team by Odessa and may be out for several days.

Notre Dame Finds Little College Of The Pacific Tough

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 5 (AP). — Notre Dame, perennial contender for the national football championship, swept over the venerable A. A. Stagg's little College of the Pacific today, 25 to 7, opening the 1940 campaign with an impressive display of power and deception.

Stagg, beginning his 51st year as a coach, put a courageous and smart eleven on the field, but was overpowered by the abundant talent of the fighting Irish.

A crowd of 30,000 spectators thrilled to the first quarter scoring drive of Stagg's underdog machine.

Alternating a smooth passing attack directed by Dale Halbert with a tricky ground game, the Golden Tigers drove 60 yards against the Irish regular in the opening period. Dwayne Mears scored the touchdown on a center plunge from the one and Emil Seifert placekicked the point.

Wink Overwhelms School For Deaf

WINK, Oct. 5. — The Wink Wildcats, scoring once in the first, second and third quarters, and twice in the fourth, overwhelmed the Texas School for the Deaf, Friday night, 23-12, on steady ground attacks. The Wildcats were outweighed about 14 pounds to the man, but their advances were made the hard way, bullying down the field.

CHISOX BEAT CUBS

CHICAGO, Oct. 5 (AP). — On three consecutive singles after two were out in the ninth, the White Sox edged out the Cubs, 3 to 2, tonight in the fifth game of the Chicago City series before 37,383 fans in Comiskey Park. The victory gave the Sox a three to two advantage in the series.

Bull Pups Drop 6-0 Decision To Odessa In Season's Opener

The Midland Junior High Bull Pups dropped their opening game of the season Saturday morning when the Odessa Juniors scored in the final few minutes of the game and capped a 6-0 decision on Fly Field in Odessa.

A flat zone pass thrown by Charles Kelly, Bull Pup quarterback, was intercepted by Harvey of the Odessa club and he returned 55 yards for the lone score of the day.

Coach L. M. Freels of the Bull Pups saw his offense hurt on the first play of the game when Fullback Tommy Richards was injured and had to view the rest of the game from the bench. Halfback Jim Watson was also injured during the game and had to be withdrawn.

Kelly in the backfield and Noyes and Stickney in the line showed up principally for the Midland boys. However, the entire Bull Pup line was tough throughout.

Starting Midland lineup: LE, Stickney; LT, Cook; LG, Noyes; C, Watson; RG, Stephens; RT, Whitmire; RE, Estes; LH, J. Watson; RH, Hale; FB, Richards; QB, Kelly.

The Bull Pups will meet the San Angelo Junior High team here next Saturday afternoon at 2:30 on Lackey Field.

Citizens Urged To Sign For Extension Studies From Tech

Through the medium of the proposed extension classes from Texas Technological College at Lubbock, Midland citizens are being offered the opportunity of enjoying some of the advantages of a college town.

So believe officers of the Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the plan for the classes. But, they point out through their spokesmen, Manager Bill Collins, there must be an enrollment of at least 25 persons in any class before Texas Tech professors will agree to make the long trip to Midland each week to teach the course.

At a recent conference of a group of interested citizens with Tech officials, tentative plans were made for a class in speech and one in economics. So far the enrollment in each class has been small. Unless others interested sign up soon, the chance of having the courses taught here this winter may be lost.

Collins urges that anyone interested in either course (or groups interested in other courses) communicate immediately with the chamber of commerce office. Payment of the fee of $15 should accompany application for enrollment in the classes.

Knox Declares the United States Is Ready For Anything

By Edward E. Bomar

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Secretary Knox ordered 27,591 navy and marine reservists into uniform today after pointedly warning the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo axis that "if a fight is forced upon us we shall be ready."

The order applied to the entire organized and fleet reserves of the navy and marine corps. It will swell to 239,281 the number of officers and men on active duty, giving the seagoing forces a strength in personnel they have not possessed since the post-world war period.

Shortly before he issued his order, the navy secretary said unequivocally in an address to graduates of the national police academy that the Japanese-German-Italian alliance "is directed at us," and that the United States would not be "intimidated." His remarks were widely interpreted as an administration reply to yesterday's assertion by Prince Konoye, the Japanese Premier, that any challenge of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo axis would tumble the United States into a "fight to the finish."

"We are the largest obstacle in the path of the totalitarian powers," Knox said. "Should Great Britain fail to stem the wide of ever-advancing tyranny we shall find ourselves surrounded by these international brigands, whose greatest victory would be the destruction of the United States."

"Never understanding us they suppose our people can be brought under their iron rule. Both as an American and as an official of the navy I know differently. If a fight is forced upon us we shall be ready for them. We have never lost a war yet."

Just back from an inspection of the fleet, Hawaiian and West Coast defenses, Knox asserted that the American sea force was the "most powerful, most efficient fleet in the world today, fully capable of upholding the American tradition of victory at sea, which has done so much to establish and continue us as a free people."

Asserting that "our mode of life has never been so challenged as it now is," Knox said that under the circumstances an adequate navy "demands that we be able to meet enemies far from our own shores and defeat them in both oceans—simultaneously if necessary."

Heritage Of 36th Division Shown In The National Guard

FORT WORTH, Oct. 5 (AP).—Heritage of the old Thirty-Sixth Division is reflected in the present National Guard bearing its name. Col. Ernest O. Thompson, officer of the present day Thirty-Sixth and a member of the Railroad Commission of Texas, told the veterans at their reunion banquet here tonight.

"The Thirty-Sixth Division today is the outstanding National Guard Division in the nation," Col. Thompson said, "and it has been made so because sons, nephews and other kinsmen of you men are only trying to live up to enviable reputation you made overseas."

Col. Thompson told the veterans that the idea George Washington and his Congress had in mind when they formed the idea of citizen soldiery has materialized with the recent passage of the selective service act.

"In the past the armed forces depended on volunteers," he said. "Now everybody is subject to service. Such, in my opinion, is true democracy."

"In order that our nation not be in constant peril we must prepare ourselves adequately."

Aide Of Almazan Asks Registration

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 5 (AP).—Francisco Cardenas, representative of Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan, claimant to the Presidency of Mexico, said here today he has sent an airmail letter, containing a new application for resignation under the foreign agents act, to the department of state, Washington, D. C.

Earlier in the day, the department of state announced that Cardenas' application had been cancelled because his resignation statement contained "surplusage inimical to the foreign policy of the United States."

The former governor of Nueva Leon, Mex., said he had been instructed to eliminate any "descriptive or qualifying phrases."

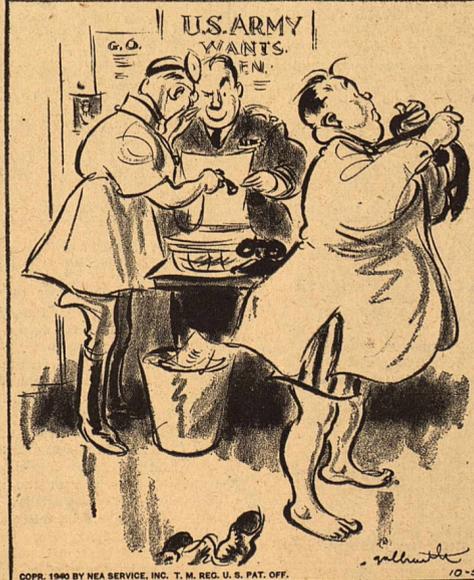

In his first application, Cardenas had identified himself as representing the revolutionary party of national unification of Mexico and Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan, "as legitimate president-elect of Mexico."

Beached Tanker Is Held In Galveston

GALVESTON, Oct. 5 (AP).—Tugs were at work all day today pumping water out of the flooded engine-room of the Panamanian tanker Panamanian, as she lay aground in the Roads of Galveston harbor, but the work had not been completed early tonight, and completion of an underwriters' survey was awaiting the completion of the pumping.

The vessel, which loaded 65,000 drums of gasoline for Japan at the Galveston harbor port of Texas City, had her engine-room flooded about 2 o'clock Friday morning as she lay at anchor in the roads. It is believed that the flooding resulted from faulty functioning of the steam condensing system. Tugs were called to the vessel, and she was moved to a shallow place and beached.

Cast Announced For Production Of "Our Town"

Mrs. Wilmer B. Stowe Saturday announced the casting of the Civic Theatre play, "Our Town". The characters, Thornton Wilder's unusual drama are as follows:
Stage manager—Joe Seymour
Dr. Gibbs—John R. Hoover
Joe Crowell—Roy Roten
Howie Newsome—Walter Wilkinson

Mrs. Gibbs—Elma Graves
Mrs. Webb—Josephine Dickey
George Gibbs—Dalton McWilliams
Rebecca Gibbs—Helen Armstrong
Wally Webb—Edward Dean Richardson

Emily Webb—Nancy Pitzer
Mr. Webb—U. A. Hyde
Simon Stimson—Roy De Wolfe
Mrs. Soames—Virginia Jeffers
Constable Warren—Ben Murray
Sam Craig—Laurence Liberty
Joe Stoddard—Merritt Hines

Mrs. Stowe said that the action of the play was laid in a small New Hampshire town in the years from 1901 to 1913, but that the action is used as illustration for a narrative told by the Stage Manager to a contemporary audience. She described it as very difficult to produce because imagination must be lively not only for the actors to portray the characters, but for the audience to understand the portrayals as the actors present them. There is no scenery, and properties are used sparingly. The work of imagination is made easier by consuming the lighting effects.

"It is the story of America living, loving, and dying," said Mrs. Stowe, "and arises from the experience of everyday people." With the exception of a few colloquialisms, a few names, and the choice of political parties, the story could be that of similar families in Midland—in Cheyenne or Walla Walla. Mrs. Stowe further described the play as human and real.

The production is scheduled for October 23 in the Yucca Theatre. Tickets may be purchased from committee members of the Midland Civic Theatre, or at the Yucca on the date of the production.

Interested is invited to attend.

Class In Thought Control Helps Hundreds Back To Healthy Lives; Work Explained In Series Of Articles

On Monday, Oct. 7, The Reporter-Telegram starts a new series of articles under the heading "Your Nerves." The author is Mr. Winfred Rhoades, the Thought Control Clinic of Boston Dispensary. Work of the clinic and dispensary is described in the following article.

THE Boston Dispensary was started in 1796 for the purpose of dispensing medicines to people who were sick but were not able to pay for treatment. It was the second free dispensary in this country, and is supposed to have been the third in the world. Its office was the corner of a drug store.

Today the Boston Dispensary is the central unit of the New England Medical Center, and has on its staff more than two hundred physicians and almost as many workers in the fields of social service, nursing, dietetics, laboratory work, and other activities. Its clinic covers about every kind of medical need.

In connection with the Joseph H. Pratt Diagnostic Hospital, the Floating Hospital for children (which now floats in bricks next door to the Dispensary), and the Tufts Medical School, it forms a center in which physicians and patients in all of northern New England can look for diagnostic and treatment help.

In addition it offers "refresher" and "catch-up" short courses to physicians whose regular practice keeps them remote from the large centers and the latest medical developments, and sends out members of its staff to distant places for consultation work and for lecturing to local groups of doctors.

It also carries on an extensive home visitation work in the crowded districts by which it is surrounded, and even in remote sections of the city where there are poor people who are unable to pay for a doctor, and 56,402 such visits were made without charge to 28,487 patients in the year 1938.

THE institution of Group Psychotherapy was the idea of Dr. Joseph H. Pratt, one of the most distinguished graduates of the Johns Hopkins Medical Schools, when, after many years of work as a consulting specialist in Boston, he became chief of the Medical Clinic at the Dispensary.

In addition to his private work with individual patients, his work as a consultant, his tasks as chief of the Medical Clinic, his deep connection with the Tufts Medical School, and now his responsibilities as head of the Diagnostic Hospital, Dr. Pratt finds time to bring together patients who are suffering from a psychoneurosis and to give them every week the benefit of his wide and deep knowledge and the infective inspiration of his forceful personality.

It was on April 11, 1930, that three patients met with Dr. Pratt for the first session of what came to be called, as the result of a remark made by one of them, the Class in Thought Control. There are now three of these classes meeting weekly, one in the morning, one in the afternoon, and one in the evening, each under a different leader. At the morning class there will be gathered together 30 to 40 clinic patients in addition to private patients, visiting physicians, social workers, and other guests.

"When tonics, sedatives, physiotherapy, placebos, and even operation fail to alleviate the patient's symptoms," says Dr. Herbert I. Harris in a report upon the class method, "the needs of a long and thorough psychanalytic and emotional re-education." That is what the class aims to do.

Perhaps at this point a bit of definition will help the general reader. Physiotherapy is treatment of symptoms by natural forces such as heat, electricity, water, and fresh air. Psychotherapy is treatment by use of psychological laws and principles. A placebo is a medicine which is prescribed merely for its psychological effect, and which of itself has no curative value. A psychanalytic is a therapeutic examination of the patient's emotional life, past and present, so that both he and the physician who treats him may have a thorough understanding of the conditions that led to the development of the symptoms. Emotional re-education is the corrective that is applied to the patient's faulty and harmful mental and emotional habits. A syndrome is a group or series of symptoms connected with a certain condition of sickness.

The result of the Class in Thought Control work, during the more than ten years of its operation, has been to lead hundreds of suffering individuals back into reasonably healthy, psychologically more robust, and more nearly normal habits of life. "Starting with the classic triad of headache, insomnia, and fatigue," to quote Dr. Harris once more, "the symptoms extend to every part of the body, and imitate those common to every syndrome in medical experience."

THE class procedure includes, after the first formalities of seating and roll-taking have been completed, instruction and practice in the art of muscular relaxation, the reading of a brief written report from each member who is present, an informal but thoughtful and practical and thoroughly scientific talk on symptoms that have a neurotic basis with instructions upon how to deal with them, plentiful illustration from case histories, and finally, a verbal testimonial from class members who have received help and whose story of improvement gives encouragement to the new members of the group.

Dr. Pratt regularly conducts the morning class, Dr. Harris the afternoon class, and Mr. Rhoades, the writer of the forthcoming series, "Your Nerves," the evening class.

Although a layman, Mr. Rhoades has had extensive experience both with doctors and with patients. More than twenty years of severe personal sickness gave contacts with many doctors and hospitals and gave first-hand knowledge not only of the physical sufferings of the sick, but, more importantly, a vital understanding of their fears, their doubts, their discouragements, their practical of their fears, their doubts, their questionings, their struggles, their baffling setbacks, and, finally, their power of learning how to stand up to life no matter how hard it is.

To this practical experience has been added intensive study by psychotherapeutic methods extending over many years, experience as a worker with patients at the Clifton Springs Sanitarium in New York, and finally connection from its early year, with the Thought Control work at the Boston Dispensary. Mr. Rhoades's books, "The Self You Have to Live With" and "Meeting the Challenge of Life," set forth the ideas that are taught at the Thought Control classes and also used in the personal work with individuals.

We, the Women

By Ruth Millett

SHE is an attractive looking, intelligent woman who does her job well. Yet, the man who could advance her in the organization says she will never go much further than she is already. Why?

His answer is "She's a cold fish. She has acquaintances, but no close friends. Nobody has anything to say against her. But no one has a great deal to say for her. She is the kind of person who you see often tucked in routine jobs. Her personality lacks warmth and magnetism."

The Shell Can Be Broken

THAT executive is right. There are lots of people—both men and women—who never get the most out of their ability, looks and brains because they never break through a shell of reserve to meet others on equal ground.

Usually they are extremely polite. Usually they are nice people underneath their shells. But it takes so long to see what is behind the shells that most people never bother.

It wouldn't be easy for any one of these persons to come out from behind the shell. To go out to meet other human beings. To let others know they like and admire them. But people determined to break their own shells can do it. It could be done in easy steps. First smiling warmly, rather than politely.

Then by coming right out and saying the nice things they think. There's no benefit to you or to the other person if you think he's pretty swell, but never let him know it.

Better to Say Something He May Regret
ALSO they could sometimes make the first gesture toward friendship, instead of holding back and waiting to be singled out. And they could overcome their distrust of people. No one can have really close friends if he believes in keeping his "business" to himself.

It is much better to tell something he may possibly regret than to go through life being close to no one outside his own family.

True Charm Will Outweigh Beauty, Brains And Clothes

By Alicia Hart
NEA Service Staff Writer

BEAUTY isn't enough in a woman. Beauty plus fine clothes are not enough. Even beauty plus fine clothes plus brains aren't enough. A man said that yesterday. And he's an attractive man who is anything but a confirmed woman-hater.

"Altogether too many of you women seem to think that if you are good to look at, you don't have to worry about having or not having a warm, friendly personality, about being nice to other people," he explained.

It's Worth Repeating

"No matter how good looking she is, I don't think any bright girl should assume that her beauty will make up for bad manners, complete lack of charm."

All of which has been said many times before, of course. But right at this time of year, when most of us are concerned with new fall permanents, clothes and makeup, it seems particularly appropriate.

It might be well for every woman to remember that the new evening dress and the chic way she wears it won't make for lasting friendship among those she meets at a party. Good looks attract attention, but it's charm, friendliness and warmth of personality that make people want to have you around.

Refurbish Your Personality, Too

YOU want to look your best naturally. But if you have spent more time this fall worrying about your wardrobe and your hair than you have about correcting some annoying personal faults and trying to figure out why you have plenty of acquaintances but almost no real friends, you had better reorganize the way you spend your time.

Furthermore, this is a fall when the sweater you have just finished knitting for the Red Cross, or the funds you have collected for some European relief charity, will turn more admiration your way than the rumor that you are willing to spend the time and energy it takes to be known as the best-dressed woman in your set.

MIND Your MANNERS

T. M. Roe, U.S. Pat. Off.

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Should a hostess seat a house-guest next to the baby in a high-chair at breakfast?
2. Should guests who come for cocktails be taken to see the small children in their room?
3. Should children be allowed to interrupt conversation at the dinner table?
4. Should guests expect to handle a small baby, pick him up, hug and kiss him, etc.?
5. How much is too much talk about your own child when you are out in company?

What would you do if—
Friends come to dinner after your small baby is asleep and they want to see him—
(a) Wake him?
(b) Say you are sorry he is asleep and you don't want to disturb him?
(c) Let them see him asleep, if they are willing to tiptoe into his room and take a look and tiptoe out?

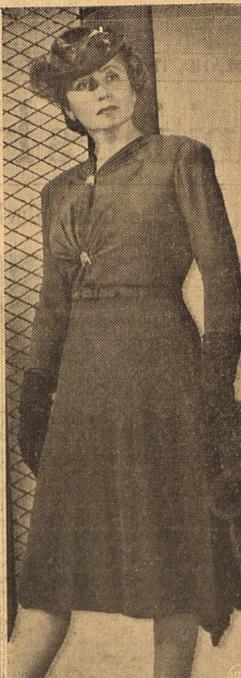

Answers

1. No. The baby is all too likely to be disturbed.
2. Not unless the guests ask to see the children.
3. No. Though they should be allowed to contribute to the conversation.
4. No.
5. One "cute saying" is enough for a proud parent to repeat to the same people in one evening. Best "What Would You Do?" solution—Either (b) or (c).

FREQUENTLY we hear someone say, "That was a tough break." Do you know that in probably 70 per cent of such cases, the declarer would have made his contract if he had counted his tricks?
When the declarer lost his contract on today's hand, he said to his opponent, "Nice defensive play you made on the diamonds." The play had gone as follows:
Declarer won the opening lead and ruffed a heart, returned to his hand with a trump and ruffed his last heart. He led the king and queen of diamonds, South won the second and exited with a heart. Declarer had to open the club suit and thus lost three club tricks and the ace of diamonds.
Why bother with the heart ruff? Why not lead the diamonds, and when South returns a heart, dummy ruffs and then leads the jack and nine of diamonds. West discarding two clubs. Thus the most he can lose is the ace of diamonds, a club and the ruff of the diamond on which West makes his second club discard.

Will Take Part In World-Wide Communion

Today has been set apart as a day when all the churches of the world are asked to observe the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

The First Presbyterian Church, under the ministry of the Rev. W. J. Coleman, is participating in this world-wide unifying service at the 11 o'clock hour. In connection with this observance, the pastor will bring a brief, pointed message of importance to all parents and teachers on: "What a Child (in These Changing, Trying Times) Has The Right to Expect."

All who are not definitely committed to worship in some other church are invited to attend this service at the Presbyterian Church.

Bonfires Create Team Spirit

The value of a bonfire is to show the spirit of the school. It gets everyone pepped up for the coming game. It helps the team when it gets everyone so excited over it and wanting it to win the game. With the band and pep squad marching around the fire, playing and yelling, how can anyone keep from getting excited over the game?

If everyone brings a box to help make the bonfire, it makes him feel he has a part in it. He gets in the spirit and yells all the more. It makes him want to come to the game and see his school win. It makes the team want to win all the more. A bonfire is really valuable to have the night before a game to get everyone in the real spirit for a victorious football game.

Keep Off the Grass!

No—it is not Hitler nor his troops of whom I speak, but of the Midland High students. It's getting pretty serious when yards and lawns are invaded by herds of tramping madmen who try to stamp out something which God intended should live.

Not only are the lawns of the schools beaten down—but yards of nearby residents have seen the oncoming students, homeward bound, "cut-the-corner" until nothing but dusty wreckage is left.

I should think that with all the patriotism and school spirit shown this year, we could not only willingly, but deliberately, KEEP OFF the grass. So I say—"Let's keep a campus of which we can be proud!"

"The hearts of the students of Midland High School are situated anywhere from the waist to the neck," says Mr. Lackey after watching the salute to the flag.

Teachers Visit Canada And New York During Vacation

During the summer vacation, Miss Ella Lunday and Miss Gladys Pinson, both teachers in Midland High School, made a tour through part of Canada and the eastern part of the United States.

They went by Kansas City and Chicago and entered Canada at Port Huron. They saw Niagara Falls from the Canadian side where they remained overnight to see the brilliant combinations of lights that are displayed on the Falls for about two hours. They visited the Canadian National Park near Niagara.

From there they went to the second largest city in Canada, Toronto. There they saw the famous University of Toronto and the Provincial Parliament Buildings. They also saw the world famous Casa Loma, which is a duplicate of an old world castle that was built by a wealthy Canadian.

They visited the capital of all Canada, Ottawa, where they saw the Parliament Building and walked around on the grounds, but were not permitted to enter it because of war conditions. It seemed strange to them that not even the employees at the Parliament Building are permitted to enter the Parliamentary Library. They considered Ottawa the most attractive city of Canada that they visited. They heard a concert played on the Carillon which is in the tower atop one of the parliament buildings.

They then took a trip through the south lake region to Montreal. The speech and dress of Montreal indicated that it was more French than the cities they had previously been in. All school children in Canada are required to take both English and French.

They returned to the United States at Montreal and went to New York City. The most outstanding thing they did there was take a boat ride around Manhattan Island and tours through the foreign sections of the city. In China Town they saw a real Chinese temple which was originally an open den but where religious services are held now. They visited several art galleries in New York, but the most interesting one was the Metropolitan Art Museum.

They visited the National Capitol and the Library of Congress in Washington.

To them, Virginia was the most outstanding state for beauty. Miss Lunday and Miss Pinson say that they were exceedingly impressed by the politeness and courtesy of the Canadian people.

"Life Is Pleasant," Writes Miss Vaught

Mr. Shiflett has received the following letter from Miss Ina MacVaught, who is in Caripito, Venezuela, South America, now.

"I arrived in New York, August 18, and had to wait there for the tanker. While I was waiting, I saw the sights of New York.

"We left from Carteret, New Jersey—out by the Statue of Liberty and then nothing but water until we reached Caripito.

"The first sight of the camp was really a thrill. We got off the boat at sunset and took a short ride on a miniature train through the jungle. We stopped at the Terminal offices for customs, maintenance, and field work. From there we came up to the residential part of the camp, situated on a series of hills with quite impressive mountains in the background. At the foot of the hill, outside the camp is a native village but as yet I haven't visited it.

"There are lions, tigers, and other varmints lurking in the brush but I haven't been looking for one. The two teachers had a baby tiger cat for a pet last year. Madre de Dios! The teacher at Quiriquire found a poisonous snake coiled between the screen lattice work of the school door, but with an indomitable spirit she went to the hospital for chloroform!

"The climate is not bad at all. There has been much rainy weather since I have been here but the rainy season is over about December and then it is supposed to be quite cool. Flowers, shrubs, and trees grow in abundance, but one can't go out and pick a banana just any time. They have their season here just as in the states.

"We have a very comfortable club, the center of the social life. There is a swimming pool, golf course, prolight tennis court, a library, and a movie twice a week. The films are about a year old but very good. The news reel is in Spanish.

"The school has four teachers—two Americans and two Venezuelans. My room is quite large and has two ceiling fans, and I have eight pupils in grades 6, 7, and 8—and no Catoico or Latin Tournament.

"I am taking two lessons a week in Spanish—in the most advanced class. The company hires a teacher from the Berlitz school in New York to teach employees and their families.

"There are about 300 or 400 Americans in camp and so you see it isn't so lonesome, in fact, life is very pleasant!"

Storage Space Is Absolute Necessity In Modern Home

Storage space is an absolute necessity in a house, no matter what its size.

One of the limitations of many apartments is the relatively small amount of storage space available. Every family has numerous possessions which must be stored. Closets in bedrooms and single closet for storage of linens is not enough, either in an apartment or in a house. The average family must, in addition to the clothing and linens, store such things as trunks, luggage, old toys, tennis rackets, golf clubs, odd pieces of furniture, seasonal accessories and decorations, winter supplies, utensils and tools not in use all the time, and hundreds of other small and large items.

In houses of traditional design storage space is usually provided either in a basement or an attic. In most modern houses, even those which are not of so-called, "modern" design, both attic and basement have been eliminated. This is justifiable if adequate space for storage is provided in other parts of the house.

A sizeable utility room which is also used as a laundry will provide some space for storage. Additional space can be made available in other parts of the house or in the garage. Being above ground, the garage affords a certain amount of light and air and is probably better for storage than the basement. If the garage is attached to the house, it may also be more convenient than attic storage space.

Dr. Hereford Speaks To Students Tuesday

Dr. E. E. Hereford of Lubbock, Reverend H. D. Bruce, and Ewell Bone of Graham were guests at the assembly program Tuesday morning.

Dr. Hereford addressed the assembly concerning the resemblance between the spark plug and human lives. He brought out three very good points which were: To cooperate, keep clean, and have a purpose. Mr. Bone sang the hymn, "Pass It On."

Dr. Bruce invited all of the high school students to attend the revival at the First Baptist Church.

Sixteen Students Try Out For Debate Team

The students of Midland High School who were interested in debating met last night for the first time. Under the direction of J. C. Moore the students will start work soon. The debate team will be chosen by Mr. Moore from the following students: Kenneth Williams, Foster Hedrick, Curtis Hines, Ernest Allen, Marguerite McCracken, Tad Crane, Geneva Thompson, Elith Wemple, Lucy Willis, Carolyn Oates, Colleen Doss, Pauline Wingo, Louise Lemley, Nellie Brunson, and J. B. Harris.

The subject chosen by the Interscholastic League for debate this year is: Resolved that Texas Should Increase the Natural Resource Tax.

Superintendent Lackey Has Request For Book

Superintendent W. W. Lackey this week received a request from the University of Texas library for two copies of his book of poems, "Flowers and Fruits," to be placed in the Texas collection of the library. The request came from J. D. Matlock, who is in charge of the Matlock, taught home making in the Midland high school three or four years ago.

Pep Squad To Have New Uniforms For Game Oct. 12

Small Homes Need Flexible Design

No dwelling can make a satisfactory home which provides merely for the mechanics of living, according to Federal Housing Administration officials. In any house, no matter how small, there must exist a sense of comfort in its appointments and a feeling of charm in its appearance and setting. Standards of design must make for an attractive interior as well as exterior. While it may be necessary to reduce the small home to a minimum in size, it can nevertheless be a well-proportioned home with its openings and arrangements treated with imagination and skill.

The drawing here shows the interior of a small home which falls within the $3,000-$5,500 price range. While not offered as a perfect model, it does illustrate what careful planning and good design can do to make a home more livable. In each room the furniture fits snugly into an attractive arrangement, but because of the flexibility of the plan still more arrangements may be made without disturbing the orderliness of the house.

Both bedrooms have large closets, which home owner surveys indicate is not a universal distinction. Corner windows in the bedrooms give more wall space for furniture arrangement, yet do not curtail the light and ventilation. The home is compact and small, but few, if any, of the essentials for gracious living have been omitted.

Music Will Be Theme Of 1940-1941 Catoico

"Music will probably be the theme of the Catoico this year because of Mr. Lackey's love for music and because we do so much singing in school," said Miss Ruby Catching, faculty sponsor.

A committee has been appointed to see the photographers of Midland to get prices on pictures.

The candid camera takers are at work and one never knows in just what pose he will get snapped.

The snapshot editors, Kenneth Williams, Mary Sue Cowden, and Louise Cox have asked that all students who have cameras take pictures and submit them to the committee.

Band Personnel Numbers 56 This Year

At the present, the full band of Midland High School consists of 13 clarinets, 10 cornets, 4 trombones, 5 horns, 3 baritones, 3 basses, 10 saxophones, and 8 in the percussion section. With the new uniform and the additional new players the band hopes to be a better band and really show the people of Midland that it has a real band, Director M. A. Armstrong said.

The band has one new member, Polly Pattison, in the percussion section.

Colleen Doss Chosen President Of Home Making Club

The home economics students met in the clothing laboratory Tuesday afternoon to elect new officers for the Home Making Club.

Students chosen to fill these offices were: Colleen Doss, president; Louise Terry, vice-president; Jacqueline Theis, secretary; Peggy Jean Gard, treasurer and Charlene Crowley, reporter.

Colleen Doss was selected to go to the area meeting of the Home Economics Club in Sweetwater, Oct. 12, as a voting delegate.

Interior Planning Important Factor In Home Building

The relation of the exterior design of a house to the interior plan is an important factor for prospective home builders to keep in mind.

The type of interior plan selected necessarily modifies the exterior design of the house, and the placement of the house on the lot has a similar bearing on its outward appearance.

Many types of traditional design require a "balanced" floor plan. A Colonial plan, for example, is generally designed around a central hall. The two main rooms, the living room and dining room, are placed on either side of the hall at the front of the house. This practice permits the architect to balance the number of windows on each side.

Whatever the types of exterior design selected it should be changed and modified to fit the desired floor plan, if necessary. If large windows are needed for light airy rooms, it will not be possible to use a true replica of architectural types that require small windows. It is far better to change the exterior design in such a way as to obtain the features desired rather than to modify the interior plan.

Adequate Rooms Play Large Part In Making Home

Adequacy of size and efficiency of rooms in serving their needs play a large part in making a home desirable.

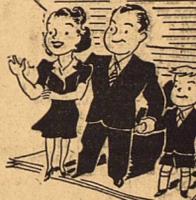

Among some conditions considered objectionable:

1. Sleeping quarters with insufficient privacy.
 2. Dark or poorly ventilated rooms.
 3. Bathrooms not readily accessible or accessible only through a major room.
 4. Kitchen inadequate for ill-arranged for food storage, food preparation, and dish washing.
 5. Insufficient provision for hanging clothes or for storage of linens, baskets, and brooms.
- In addition to these considerations, the relative adequacy of the provision for laundry work is examined if future occupants are likely to have laundry work done in the home. The space available for drying and access to outdoor drying is judged, in addition, to the presence or absence of laundry trays and convenient outlets.

Huge Flow By Halfway Pool Well In Western Lea And Staking Of Three Tests In Eddy Feature New Mexico

HOBBS, N. M., Oct. 5. — Surpassing all estimates, North Shore Corporation No. 1-A The Texas Company-State, north-edge well in the Halfway pool of western Lea County, gauged natural flow of 420 barrels of oil in three hours to claim top interest this week in Southeast New Mexico.

Eddy County continued to hold attention as a trio of interesting wildcats were started.

Fred Turner and D. C. DeVito, both of Midland, Texas, are moving in machine on No. 1 DeVito, a Delaware test 330 feet from the south, 1,650 from the east line of section 12-23s-25e. It is slightly over one-half mile west of E. Paul Moran No. 1 Ramuz, recently abandoned test which showed a promising amount of oil in the Delaware sand.

Rigging Up Machine

Machine is being rigged up for E. L. Fulton et al No. 1 Edith Johnson, new Eddy wildcat 2,310 feet from the south and east lines of section 22-19s-27e.

Third Eddy wildcat to be staked during the week is Truett & Tallmadge No. 1 Rudahl, 2,420 feet from the south, 490 from the east line of section 8-20s-24e.

The first flowing well for the Halfway pool, North Shore No. 1-A Texaco-State, ran 2-inch tubing to 2,500, five feet off bottom, after drilling plug from 5 1/2-inch casing cemented at 2,494 feet. It swabbed water and oil load for eight hours then kicked off and was allowed to flow into pits for an hour and a half. Turned into tank, it gauged 142 barrels the first hour, 142 the second and 136 the third, flowing through open tubing. Tubing then was choked to 1 5/8-inch opening, and the well flowed five barrels an hour for eight hours, with 500 pounds pressure.

Ventura Test Abandoned

The North Shore producer found main pay at 2,505 feet, also the total depth, in an horizon higher stratigraphically than the pay zone of other wells in the pool. It also is the first well in the Halfway pool to show any appreciable amount of gas, volume being estimated at 10,000,000 to 12,000,000 cubic feet per day. Location is 990 feet from the north, 2,310 from the east line of section 16-20s-32e.

Ventura Oil Company No. 1 H. L. Low, northeastern Lea deep wildcat, has been abandoned at total depth of 6,300 feet. It ran high structurally but found the lime section too dense to produce, although several streaks of oil-bearing formation were encountered. No water was struck by the wildcat. Original contract called for depth of 6,000 but Shell Oil Company, Inc. and Phillips Petroleum Company donated $5,000 to carry it 300 feet deeper. Location was 660 feet from the south, 1,980 from the east line of section 26-13s-37e.

Martin Yates, Jr., Basset & Birney et al No. 1 Fedell, Eddy wildcat in section 35-18s-26e, indicated over a half-mile west by southwest extension of the new Dayton area, near Lake McMillan in Eddy, when it flowed an unestimated amount of oil by heads while cleaning out after shooting with 420 quarts of nitro from 1,040 to 1,150 feet. The well logged shows of oil from 1,047 to 1,054 feet in sand, from 1,118 to 1,124 feet in lime, and from 1,124 to 1,139 feet in sand. It is bottomed at 1,180 feet in sandy lime.

Flows Sulphur Water

Nell H. Willis of Carlsbad and George T. Abell of Midland No. 1 M. E. Hale, Eddy gas strike in section 12-20s-30e, encountered sulphur water from 1,823 to 1,824 feet and flowed one barrel of sulphur water per minute. At last reports, operators had drilled to 1,935 feet in lime, but it is understood that they plan to plug off water and gun-perforate 7-inch casing opposite sandy lime zone from 1,540 to 1,560 feet which showed 6,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day.

Well will be completed as a gas-er to hold lease, but it is said that BTU content of the gas is only 550.

Great Western Producers Inc. No. 1-D State, wildcat in northwestern Lea, is drilling past 4,097 feet in lime. Top of solid lime originally was picked at 3,678 feet, but later correlations have placed the marker at 3,628 feet. Located 660 feet from the south, 810 from the east, line of section 30-12s-32e, No. 1-D State logged oil and water in red sand from 3,025 to 3,035 feet, but 7-inch casing was cemented at 3,048 feet, through the sand.

Lea Well Cleaning Out

Stanley Weiner et al No. 1 Saunders, southeastern Lea wildcat, 660 feet out of the northeast corner of section 20-21s-38e, is shutdown for repairs at 3,980 feet in lime.

Krupp-Flaherty Oil Company No. 1-C Moberly, in section 21-26s-37e of Lea, is estimated good for several hundred barrels daily as it cleans out after shooting with 20 quarts from 3,130 to 3,134 feet and with 260 quarts from 3,170 to 3,225 feet. Total depth is 3,254 in sand.

Married People Are Said Best Bets To Keep Out Of Prison

EAGLE ROCK, Calif., Oct. 5 (AP). — Married people have fewer problems than unmarried and are more successful in avoiding prison, insane asylums and the undertaker, Dr. Paul Popenoe, general director of the Institute of Family Relations, declared today.

"The extraordinarily high rate of insanity, suicide and imprisonment, and the short span of life, of the single, divorced and widowed as compared with married persons, is the best possible evidence that those serious or marriage do not lack of the Institute of Family Relations, declared today.

With Hilda Mae, former John Dublin filly, he won two first at Albuquerque and Tucumcari, and was barely nosed out in a $500 allowance race.

Little Ute, the O'Brien horse, won first at Lincoln, Nebraska, a first at Albuquerque and three seconds at Albuquerque and Tucumcari.

Valdee, the big chestnut, has won consistently in allowance and handicap races, with a first at Billings, Mont., and another at Great Falls.

Bobby Strange, riding for Bloss, is developing into one of the coming jockeys of the west, having won 25 races in sixty days. At Lincoln, where some of the country's leading riders participated, he was second leading boy. Bloss predicts that Strange will be known nationally in a few seasons.

A national cotton marketing quota of approximately 12,000,000 bales, the same as is in effect for the current year, has been proclaimed by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard.

REFERENDUM PROCEDURE SAME AS IN 1939

Voting procedure in the cotton marketing quota referendum, Dec. 7, will be the same as last year.

All cotton producers in the state will be given the opportunity to vote in the referendum to decide whether quotas will be in effect in 1941. George Slaughter, state AAA committee chairman, said. In last year's referendum, 82 percent of the cotton producers voting in Texas favored quotas, while 91 percent of the producers in the nation voted "yes."

County AAA committees will be in charge of all arrangements for the referendum in their counties, the chairman said, and the voting will be handled just as in any regular election. Each committee will choose three farmers to serve as election officers in each community. Voting places will be provided in all communities where cotton is produced, the county committee designating the places and providing ballot boxes. Voting places will open at 9 a.m., December 7.

All voting will be by secret ballot. To be effective in 1941, cotton marketing quotas must be approved by two-thirds of the farmers voting in the nation. If approved, quotas will apply to all states, counties and communities where cotton is produced.

Soon thousands of Texas tenants will be on the move and thousands of Texas landlords will be selecting new tenants for 1941.

Four out of ten Texas tenants and sharecroppers will move this year. At least part of the blame for this situation can be placed on the forms of leasing or rental agreements in use in Texas, almost all of which have four common faults: failure to put the terms of the lease on paper; short—usually one-year—leases; heavy emphasis on cash crop farming; and failure to encourage improvement of the farms.

The need for introducing or adding cattle, sheep and swine on tenant farms, the necessity for soil conservation and soil improvement measures in most sections of the state, and the need for crop rotation extending over a period of years all make it imperative that the turnover in tenants be slowed down.

That is the way Tyrus A. Timm, extension economist in farm management, sums up the situation in announcing that the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Texas A.&M. College extension service have worked together to prepare five lease forms calculated to meet almost all situations.

The forms include a Standard Flexible Farm Lease, a Flexible Share Lease, Flexible Sharecropping Agreement, and supplements to the share and sharecropping agreements.

"We realize, of course, that these lease forms are not in themselves the solution to the tenant problems as a whole or to individual problems between landlord and tenants, but they are instruments through which these problems can be approached in a definite and concrete way," Timm pointed out.

Bill Ryan, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Ryan, has received his 4-H Club beef calves from the J. Waddell herd at Kermit.

Calves are being fed by Midland County 4-H Club boys from the following herds: Roy Parks, "C" Ranch, W. G. Chaney, A. G. Bohannan, Donald Hutt, all of Midland, Alton Cook of Garden City, and Jim Waddell of Kermit.

Wayne D. Little, field assistant of the Fish and Game survey, formerly of the bureau of biological survey has been stationed in Midland to carry on rodent control.

Silverfish or fish moths can be controlled by dusting derris powder where they are feeding.
