ATHLETES SHATTER 29 AREA RECORDS IN 2nd ANNUAL JUNIOR OLYMPICS HERE

Bovell Services Held Here

If the title "Mr. Muleshoe" had even been awarded here it probably would have gone to William T. Bovell whose funeral services were held in the First Baptist Church Monday.

Bovell would probably have received the title in recognition of his services to the city and area, not only as a public official and businessman, but also for his consistent kindness and open-handed generosity in helping untold numbers of local persons when they were in difficulty.

He served the city as Mayor and alderman for over nine years of his life. Long-time residents tell how the city was in financial difficulty, which many thought was the end of the road for Muleshoe, when he took over as mayor in the early 1950's.

A few years later the city was not only solvent, but had purchased such capital equipment as a new fire truck, street sweeper and garbage truck. Many bonds had been retired and a city hall was being planned.

His assistance to Muleshoe area businessmen and farmers when they needed it most is well known. Open handed in assisting area social and other projects, Bovell was a quiet, behind the scenes giver and thus received little publicity. But he was always there — ready to help.

Bovell died at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Medical Arts Hospital at Littlefield. His life was snuffed out in its prime as the result of an automobile accident Monday.

He had lived in Muleshoe since June 1947 when he moved here from Socorro, N. M.

He was the owner of Bovell Motor Supply, a veteran of the Marine Corps during WW II, a Mason, Scottish Rite, Shriner and member of the Chamber of Commerce.

He and his family attended the Presbyterian Church here.

Approximately 350 persons attended the funeral, which was one of the largest in recent memory here. Flowers banked the entire altar and overflowed the church.

Rabies In Muleshoe Area: Clinic Planned

Several cases of rabies have been found in the Muleshoe area, and the city is taking quick action to prevent the possible spread of the disease among the area's dog population.

The rabies have so far been found only in wild skunks in the area. No dogs have been reported as infected yet. However, the city feels the danger of possible dog infection is definite and recommends all dogs be vaccinated. It is set up a special vaccination clinic at the city hall.

A veterinarian will be there from 1 to 5 p.m. May 14 and from 1 to 5 p.m. May 28th.

According to city ordinance regulating the keeping of dogs in the city, all must be vaccinated by a licensed vet.

Aside from the law on the matter the danger to children could be great. The mortality rate for children bitten by rabid dogs and contracting the disease is almost 100 percent.

City Refuses All Bids For Street Program

The city council this week refused all bids on its extensive city streets seal-coating program.

The action came during a meeting of the city council after one unsuccessful bidder stated he had over bid for the job because he had misunderstood the bid request. The statement was made after all bids were open.

The executive had bid about $22,000 for the job, which he later told the council should cost about $16,000.

Since the lowest opened bid was about $18,000. The council voted to refuse all bids and re-advertise the project.

The council had previously set aside $25,000 in the budget for the project.

The city is advertising for new bids this week. They are scheduled to be opened May 22nd.

Mighty "M" Band Back Triumphant

Muleshoe Mighty "M" Band returned home Sunday night, after Music Festival in Corpus Christi.

The Band competed in concert performance and sightreading. The soloists and ensembles which made a first division at Regional contest also competed.

Their ratings were: First division winners — Susan Birdsong, and the clarinet trio composed of Susan Birdsong, Kathy Moore, and Kathy West; second division winners: Linda Scott, Joe Fowler, Neil Finley, Linda Timmons, the cornet trio composed of Linda Scott, Tonyne Welch, and Linda Griffiths; and the flute quartet, composed of Sandra Scott, Sherry Stancell, Ellen English, and Diane Avery.

We had no solos or ensembles who rated under a second division.

Since classification was based on current enrollment, the Band was entered in Class AAA competition, and received a first division rating in concert and a fourth in sightreading. The head adjudicator for the contest was Dr. William D. Revelli, Dean of Bands at the University of Michigan.

The other two concert judges were Charles Peters of Joliet, Illinois, and Manly Whitcomb of Florida State University.

The Band had been apprehensive about this particular contest for several reasons; first, because

The average family in Russia lives with three other families in a three room apartment and shares the kitchen and bath. Due to a lack of refrigeration the homemaker spends 2 to 3 hours daily shopping for food. group of life in Cuba from the time Castro took over until she fled to the United States. She said that Castro won over the children with cookies and crackers, the adolescents with military uniforms, and the young people with promises of European vacations. Miss Ramos also told of having money, but being hungry because there was no food to buy. Those attending the meeting from Bailey County were: Mrs. Gordon Murrah, Mrs. J. C. Wells, Mrs. Harold Mardis, Mrs. Wylie Bowers, Mrs. Wylie Baker, Mrs. Albert Davis, Mrs. Garlon Crosby, Mrs. J. M. Helner and Jean Martin.

Sponsor Compliments Band Students And Director For Conduct, Ability

Open Letter To The Band Parents of Muleshoe High School Band — In the venacular of the teenager, I have just had a "blast". Not so much from taking a trip, as from being with and learning from our youngsters. People, they are a credit to our community, our school, to you, as parents, and to their band director. If you could have been along, I'm sure you would feel the same pride which I feel and justifiably, so I take this means to share my pride with you.

In the first place, for almost twenty percent of our high school enrollment to have the appreciation of the art of music to the extent they would work and earn the money for such a trip is manifestation of their fine training in music, which they received under the direction of Kathy Phillips. My hat is off to her. And the fact they are eager to use the musical knowledge gained for themselves, to bring honor to their school, is shown in their willingness to give up time from more frivolous activities to spend hours and hours practicing, that they might achieve these honors. Their record speaks for itself, and if you haven't seen their trophies and awards, you owe it to yourself and your child to do so.

The most impressive incident of this entire trip, to me, was the practice session scheduled in San Antonio on the way down. Here these kids were, so tired from riding all night they were dragging their tracks out, but they felt they needed to keep in shape, and to smooth out some rough spots, so they spent two hours unloading instruments, practicing, listening to criticism from the Jefferson High band director, and reloading the instruments, all without a grumble or complaint, when frankly I was so tired and hungry by then since it was nearly noon, I couldn't see how they had the energy to get even one off-key note out of those horns!

One thing I discovered. Those kids and Miss Phillips speak a language I don't know, as do all band members and directors. The director there at Jefferson High was invited by Miss Phillips to offer criticism. Band people call a spade a spade, for they know full well constructive criticism can be helpful, and pupil and director alike take it as such for they know too that any praise they receive are just as sincere, and if they have tried to profit from the criticism, then the praise means even more because they feel they have really earned it. Speaking of praise. Let us here at home give them a little more of it. It is human nature to enjoy it, we all do. Yet I'm afraid we are rather careless about this.

especially during and after their performances at football games. Most of us just sort of coast along and rest during this time so we can yell and cheer our heads off during the last half of the game. I doubt that anyone enjoys a game any more than I do, or cheers any louder, but I must admit I felt a deep shame when once our band member said to me, "Mother, why don't the fans cheer more when we come on the field? I get goose bumps all over when we yell and run onto the field to take our places, if the fans would only give us a big hand." I couldn't answer her question, but I could make certain I wasn't visiting the person next to me during this time which I hadn't realized was so important to my child.

So if by chance you had thought of this band trip as a pleasure trip, then you were right. Those kids certainly got a great deal of pleasure out of it. Their training in music has enabled them to find pleasure in the fine art of music. They had the pleasure of giving a fine performance before some of the most renowned band directors in the field. Everyone of them would probably tell you this pleasure was worth the sweat and tears that went into the preparations. They had the pleasure of listening to and seeing the performances of many other fine bands, choirs and ensembles in concert. Everyone of them would probably tell you too, that getting out of casual clothes into more appropriate attire on a hot day, leaving the motel and its pool to ride the bus for more miles to hear these fine performances was adequate "compensation". Fun? Of course they had fun. Teen-agers being teen-agers can have fun doing most anything, and it was fun for me just to be along to see them enjoy themselves. Sight-seeing? Yes. Fortunately, the of the outstanding points of interest was convenient to several interest in the heartland of Texas History. I haven't the slightest doubt that in the three or four hours spent at these places, these kids gained a greater appreciation for a subject which they had studied and that any further study will be more meaningful for having been there. I heard some of the pupils say they were seeing the ocean for the first time. (perhaps the last, too). This in itself is a worthwhile experience. Undeniably, this trip contributed to their training, physically, morally and mentally.

I feel even more my responsibility to let our school officials and administrators know we appreciate a program of this sort and prove it by working with them to maintain and improve it. Incidentally, the band boosters are doing a great deal along this line, but they can't do it alone without the help of every band parent, nor should they be expect-

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — Gov. John Connally has moved into the plushest working quarters ever occupied by any of this state's governors.

Last week workmen put finishing touches to the first overall remodeling of the offices in 76 years. Until now Texas governors have been tending to state business in cramped and poorly arranged offices.

Construction has been under way since last January. Capitol visitors once again are welcome all day in the mirrored and flag-draped gubernatorial reception room.

The governor occupies a large, gold-carpeted, crystal-chandelier-hung office. He also has an adjoining conference room, small kitchen unit and shower cabinet.

Gold carpeting runs throughout the second floor suite. Modern ceilings, lighting and air conditioning have been installed, and the fine old woodwork sanded and refinished to its original state.

Redecoration of the governor's downstairs offices will not be complete for 30 days. Meanwhile, part of his staff will continue to occupy temporary quarters on the Capitol's first floor.

APPOINTMENTS — Mrs. Richard M. Kleberg Jr. of Kingsville and Dr. Hesiquio Rodriguez of Harlingen were named by Governor Connally to six-year terms on the Texas A & I College board of directors. Connally re-appointed John F. Lynch of Houston to a new term on the board.

Mrs. Kleberg and Dr. Rodriguez succeed J. H. West of Bishop and the late O. E. Van Berg of Mercedes.

SCREWORM ERADICATION — The financial fate of the Southwestern screwworm eradication program should be apparent by May 8. That's when the appropriation bill embracing eradication plans is supposed to come out of the agriculture subcommittee of the U. S. House appropriations committee.

Pierce Johnson of Austin, attorney for the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, says $2,750,000 in federal funds, to be matched by local funds. But S-WAHRF officials have asked Congress to put up all $5,500,000, since the screwworm has been eradicated in Texas, and maintenance of a barrier to prevent migration of screwworm flies from Mexico is an international program.

SOIL CONSERVATION — Planning costs for watersheds on Upper Bosque River, Hondo Creek and Donahoe Creek cost the Texas State Soil Conservation board $134,938, according to State Auditor C. H. Cavness' report on the past two fiscal years.

Cavness said the Board spent a total of $552,930 on its continuing efforts to conserve state soil resources and reduce effects of flooding in small watersheds.

MOSQUITO ERADICATION PLANNED — First allotment of federal funds — $174,198 — in a five-year, $750,000 program aimed at wiping out the mosquito in Texas was received by State Budget Director Bill Cobb.

Texas State Department of Health will administer the program. The federal government, co-signee of a Pan American Health Organization agreement to stamp out yellow-fever-carrying mosquitoes, is underwriting the plan in a nine-state area, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Mosquito abatement and education teams now are being organized for assignment in key areas of Texas. Dr. James L. Goddard of the U. S. Public Health Service said the mosquito must be eliminated from the U. S. to prevent its spreading to other western hemisphere nations.

BUILDING BOOMS SLACKS — Despite a spring boom in apartment building, issuance of building permits in Texas in March dropped 8 per cent from March, 1963.

UT Bureau of Business Research thinks a slump in non-residential construction accounted for the overall drop.

TOURISM EXPANDING — Two Texas officials predicted tourism in the state is going to start booming.

Governor Connally said tourism will become the "fastest-growing Texas industry." He called the state's new advertising program "one of our soundest investments in the economic and recreational future" of the state.

J. Weldon Watson, executive director of the Parks and Wildlife Department, said the fact that a Texan is President makes Texas more popular with visitors. Many of them want to know "how close such and such a park is to Johnson city," said Watson. He sees tourism and park use as having a "mighty impact" on the Texas economy.

BANKING - LOAN HEARINGS SET — State Banking Board will hear application on May 13 for charters of Peoples State Expressway Bank and Trust of State Bank of Brownwood; and Bank of Marshall; Southwest Dallas. Action is due at that time on applications of Texas State Bank of Abilene and Royal Bank and Trust Company of Dallas.

Savings and Loan Commissioner James O. Gerst set a June 17 hearing on the application for Trinity Valley Savings and Loan Association at Madisonville. Proposed directors are from Midway, Normangee, North Zulch and Buffalo, as well as Madisonville.

TOO SLOW FOR PENSION — Some long-time Harlingen firemen who recently decided they want to participate in the Firemen's pension plan waited too long, according to Attorney General Waggoner Carr. Carr ruled that the 1957 Firemen's Relief and Pension Fund Act provides that a fireman forfeits his right to participate if he failed to enroll, and the 1963 firemen's pension law covering fully-paid firemen in part-volunteer departments embodies the same terms.

GOLIAD MEMORIAL PLANNED — Governor Connally named a Texas committee to work with a Mexican group on plans and financing for a suitable memorial at Goliad to Gen. Ignacio Zaragoza. The general's victory over French forces on May 5, 1862, is celebrated throughout Mexico. General Zaragoza was born in Goliad.

The Texas Legislature in 1961 accepted the birthplace of Zaragoza as a state park historical site but provided no funds for developing it.

Good Neighbor Commission Director Glenn Garret heads the Texas planning group. Other members are Parks and Wildlife Director J. Weldon Watson, Tourist Development Agency Director Frank Hildebrand; and Historical Survey Committee Director George Hill.

COURTS SPEAK — Supreme Court in a 7-2 decision refused to direct that military servicemen who enlist out of state be permitted to vote in Texas.

The majority held servicemen have no "federally-protected right" to vote where they are stationed. El Paso-based Sgt. Herbert N. Carrington, who enlisted in Alabama, brought the suit, challenging a state constitutional provision which limits servicemen stationed in Texas to voting in the county where they resided when they entered the service.

In a dissenting opinion, Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert and Associate Justice Clyde E. Smith said the ruling denies some servicemen the right to vote in all elections. They further contended the state constitution violates the equal protection clause of the 14th amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

Same issue is soon to be tried in federal court at San Antonio where two other servicemen have filed suit.

Third Court of Civil Appeals upheld district court ruling against an AFL-CIO suit charging Texas Employment Commission with "pro-employer lobbying." Court's new opinion said TEC members have a duty to advocate needed changes in unemployment compensation laws. Court also held former Commissioner J. J. Pickle (now congressman) acted within his authority in recommending amendments.

Supreme Court agreed with lower courts which nullified incorporation of Mayhill near Denton.

Court of Criminal Appeals ordered a new trial for ex-Railroad Commission engineer L. D. Murphy. He had been sentenced to two years on a charge of conspiring to bribe a fellow worker to make a false report on a slanted oil well.

TIPS...

FROM THE OFFICE OF HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT

As school draws to a close many young people are choosing careers. Plans are being made for college next year and for the years following college. I would like to suggest home economics as a career for forward looking young women. Don't stop reading yet. There is more to home economics than teaching. The home economist is no longer the too plump old maid with the run in her baggy stockings and a petticoat showing. She is the smartly dressed young woman who may be involved in extension work, teaching home economics, working in a test kitchen for a large food company, or buying clothes for a large department store. These are only a few of the possibilities for home economists.

On an average home economists earn more annually than any other women except women chemists. There are always jobs open for home economists.

In the fall of 1962 alone, there were 1,845 Texas High School programs to have been staffed with a homemaking teacher.

You might say, "but I don't plan to work all my life." Maybe you don't. Homemaking is a dual role, that you learn, for the profession can also be used at home with your family. No other profession better prepares you for your job as wife, mother, nurse, cook, housekeeper, shopper, and laundress than home economics when you plan your career.

Four Herbicides Are Recommend By CA

Several herbicides for pre-emergence use in cotton are on the market this year - some for the first time. Whether one or all will work on your farm under your particular conditions is a question with no stock answer.

County Agent J. K. Adams, says four of the herbicides listed by Texas A & M University specialists this season are recommended on a trial-use basis only. These four are Trifluralin (triflan), Prometryne, Norea (Herbace), and DCPA (Dacthal). Until more is known about the performance of these chemicals under

Texas and more localized conditions, it's best to use them only on a very small acreage. And be sure to follow the label instructions exactly, Adams cautions.

Bill Gunter, Area Extension Agronomist, says the term "trial basis only" means farmers who are interested in trying these new chemicals should restrict their use to a few rows. New herbicides are coming on the market each year and they will continue to play an important role in decreasing the cost of cotton production in this area.

"However", says Gunter, "until research has proven conclusively that one or all of these chemicals has a definite place on local farms under local conditions, they should be used on a limited trial basis only."

CIPC and diuron are recommended for use on Texas farms, having been used by research workers and farmers for several and according to label; these two have given good results on many farms across the state, reports Frank Elliott, Extension Cotton Specialist, of College Station.

According to Elliott, recommendations of chemicals for use on cotton fields are developed after doing research, reviewing data and observing on-farm test plantings across the state.

"Before a chemical can be recommended in Texas, we must know what it can and can't do under most all circumstances", says Elliott. "Recommendations are based on results of research work for more than one year. This serves to make sure that different and changing weather conditions, soil types, and other factors are given ample time to assert their effects."

"If this in-depth research and evaluation weren't the basis for recommendations, it's possible a chemical might make the recommendations because it 'looked good' one year. Also, it might well work the other way. A chemical might not make the recommendations because of an adverse year, even though it might have proven out in succeeding years," adds the specialist.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

By J. Frank Peery

THREE KINDS OF HUNGER

There are at least three outstanding kinds of hunger in the world today — hunger of the body for food, hunger of the mind for truth, freedom and a better way of life, and hunger of the heart for love. Hunger of the mind has brought about a world in ferment resulting in such achievements as putting men into the orbit of space, crossing out distance so that now countries in any part of the world are close neighbors, and the discovering of medicines that give more years to life.

Although food for body and mind are essential, they are not enough; man wants to know that he matters, that he is wanted. Thus, he needs to satisfy his hunger of the heart for love. Of no real abundance are food and a functioning mind without love.

Concerned as is the church of Jesus Christ in all three of these hungers, we must devote special attention to the hunger of the mind and of the heart. We call to mind Pentecost, that day when the Spirit of God came in power on the waiting members of the early church. So mighty and so dynamic was that event that it was spoken of in terms of wind and fire. We know that wind purifies while fire purges, warms and unites. Early Christians realized that Jesus had been taken from them only in a physical sense. They knew that wherever they went there He was also. So, they preached the great things that God had done in Christ. Thousands heard, rejoiced, believed and loved.

The first Christians went to work with the Old Testament in their hands. A few decades later, the New Testament was their main weapon. Therein was the record of great things God had done, the story of His love for mankind. The Gospel has the answer to the hungers of man's mind and heart. Today, the church through the Bible seeks to make Christ known throughout the world as the only one who can satisfy man's hunger for the eternal.

The task is becoming more difficult every day. One difficulty, even with the age of speed, is the sheer size of the world in which we live. Another difficulty is the population explosion — more people but less missionaries, preachers, and teachers. Illiteracy still presents a staggering barrier. Where the Christian force is failing and absent the communist force is at work. The communists know that the power of the pen is greater than the over two billion dollars a year bomb, else they would not spend over two billion dollars a year to print and disseminate their literature among the newly literate peoples. The Christian answer is to distribute God's word and

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor: I wish to thank you for pointing out to the people the deliberate twisting of the news by unscrupulous and irresponsible news media. Christian teaching tells us that, "The means justifies the end". Communism says, "The end justifies the means". Are we ethically Christians or Communists? I choose to be a Christian. Electric COOKING is Cleaner

Electric cooking doesn't guarantee that busy fingers won't splatter food but it is a nicer way to cook. Flameless electric cooking means no soot, no dirt, no pilot light, no obnoxious fumes and no smoke. Electricity is safer - - cooler - - cleaner. It's the modern way to cook.

Start them early at your house. Miss Homemaker of 1980 deserves the best. Cooking with dependable, efficient, economical electricity from the BAILEY COUNTY Electric cooperative means cooking at its best.

* The same goes for electric heat too.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER FROM SENATOR JOHN TOWER
 Committee on Banking and Currency, Labor and Public Welfare

The legislative situation this week is much like it was when I made my last report to you a week ago. The Senate is still debating the Administration's Civil Rights proposal, and I have taken part, on several occasions, in that debate. As I have told you before, I am opposing the bill as it is now written. I believe it would cause more ills than it would cure.

I would like to discuss a few other items briefly. I am happy to report that thirty Senators, from both sides of the political fence, have joined with me in sponsoring Senate Resolution 308. As I told you last week I introduced this resolution to give the Library of Congress authority to compile and publish, as a public document, selected speeches of General Douglas MacArthur.

I also introduced an amendment to the National Labor Relations Act, that would permit an employer to go out of business at his Band...

Second, because the contest itself has a reputation for having such high standards that it is extremely difficult to make a first division; and last because Dr. Revelli, though respected as probably the greatest band director in the country, is also famous for being one of the most critical and exacting judges.

However, all three judges did give the Band a first division rating, and Dr. Revelli's criticism sheet was concluded with the following remarks:

"This is a very excellent performance; giving evidence of considerable musicianship on the part of both the director and her band — Fine taste, the legato is beautiful, as is the interpretation — particularly in the expressive sections. A splendid performance indeed."

The concert ratings of all AAA Bands entered ran as follows:
 Andrews — II
 Muleshoe — I
 Pineville, La. — III
 Vidor — II
 Monohans — I
 Cuero — IV
 Snyder — I
 Jonesboro, La. — II

own choosing. It seems incredible that the need for an amendment like this could arise in this country, but it has. This has grown out of a labor dispute in which the right of a businessman to go out of business was contested by a union. The union stated that one of the reasons the businessman wanted to call it quits was to keep from doing business with the union.

This case is now on its way to the Supreme Court. The Solicitor General has joined the union in asking the Supreme Court to hear the case. If the position sought by the union and the Solicitor General is adopted by the Supreme Court, it is quite obvious that the National Labor Board would become the ultimate arbiter of whether a man faced with an unprofitable business can be forced to stay in business until his capital and resources are exhausted.

My bill was co-sponsored by Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona. It was given the number S.2744. It would amend subsection (a) of Section 8 of the National Labor Relations Act by adding these words: "Provided, however, that nothing in this Act, or in any other statute of the United States, shall be construed to prevent an employer from permanently going out of business, in whole or in part, for any reason, or to render permanently going out of business, for any reason, an unfair labor practice."

Another case involving the National Labor Relations Board that seems of tremendous importance to me, and about which we have heard very little, is also on its way to the Supreme Court. And, like the case mentioned above, this also seems incredible to me.

On May 13, 1963, the employees of a company in South Carolina voted 245 to 171 against joining a union. The National Labor Relations Board invalidated the election because it said "third parties" in the community took too much interest in the election. This "community interest" involved "speeches, editorials, radio broadcasts, newspaper advertisements, leaflet distribution, and visits to homes of employees."

I believe a worker ought to be allowed to join a union if he wishes. By the same token I believe he should have the right to stay out of a union if he wishes. And, of course, that is the right to work principle, but even in states that are not a right to work

Christian Family Month Observed

St. John's Lutheran Church of Lariat will join the more than 5,000 congregation of the Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod in observing the month of May as Christian Family Month, reported the church's pastor, the Rev. Herbert F. Peiman.

The theme for this year's observance suggested by the Family Life Commission with headquarters in the Lutheran Building, 21 N. Broadway in St. Louis, Mo., is "Spirit-filled Homes Are Strong Homes".

It is the opinion of many Christian students of American home and family life that an overemphasis on "Mothers Day" may turn this nation into a matriarchy, and that many of the ills of modern society will not be corrected until the father has been restored to his God-given role as head of the family, stated the Rev. Oscar C. Feucht, head of the church's Family Life Commission.

It is for this reason that our Commission suggests that the first Sunday in May be designated as "Christian Fathers Sunday", Dr. Feucht continued. This is not to replace the National Fathers Day on June 21, but to lay emphasis on the order which God established at creation and never reversed or abrogated; but which runs like a golden thread through both the Old Testament and the New, and finds its climax in the words of the apostle Paul in Ephesians 5, 23. "The husband is the head of the wife even as Christ is the head of the church".

What God in His word teaches about the role of the father has been found by leading sociologists and family counselors to be the only basis for a solid and well integrated home, stated the 71 year old pastor of the Lariat church, who has done considerable research and study on this topic.

For his Christian Fathers Sunday service, which will be held at 10:30 A. M., the Lariat pastor has chosen the theme, "Father's Whom Jesus Loves". Thoughts for this sermon will be drawn from the story of Mary, Martha and Lazarus as recorded in the 11th chapter of the Gospel of John, especially the 5th verse, where he read, "Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus".

Every Bible student knows that Jesus loves all men: loved them enough to suffer the bitter agony of the cross for their redemption, Peiman commented, but the above quotation from John's gospel speaks of a special kind of love evoked by the attitudes and the spirit that prevailed this fine Christian family.

If the churches of America could instill this same spirit in the hearts of the fathers of the more than 6 percent of the families of our country which claim church membership, America would be an entirely different nation. Divorces would disappear, juvenile delinquency would no longer be a problem, and the overcrowded prisons would be more than half empty, Peiman asserted.

The Lariat pastor concluded his comments with the statement, "Fathers whom Jesus loves! Fathers filled with the Spirit of God!

What a revolution for good that could start in American home and family life."

Three Way Women Attend Levelland District Meet

The Woman's Society of Christian Service held a District Meeting at the Methodist Church, in Levelland, on Thursday, April 30. In charge of the meeting was Mrs. Criswell of Denver City, district president. Outstanding speakers were Joyce Hill, missionary to Argentina, and Barbara Sommerville, deaconess and director of a Latin-American community center in Lubbock. A special feature of the morning service was a "style show", in which the local society presents each modeled a hat which demonstrated the projects of the different societies. One "hat" looked like a church and demonstrated painting the church; one had doll babies which signified a nursery established; the Three Way display was of a nativity scene to model the large outdoor scene made on the church lawn last Christmas. The latter was worn by Mrs. Rayford Masten, local president. Others attending from Three Way were Mrs. H. W. Gravin, Mrs. R. L. Reeves, and Rev. Ruth Cooper.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm reflects on crises this week, but he doesn't say which ones.

Dear editor:

I had read all the newspapers I had on hand and was watching television. I forget which program it was, which bears out what some people claim, television programs are remembered not longer than ten minutes after they're over, but they say it as criticism while I think it's an endorsement, as I have seen very few program I'd want to remember any longer than that; at any rate, if this sentence is still holding together and if not you can prop it up, I've got more important things to do, I was watching television when the western finished and a news program came on and President Johnson was holding a news conference standing on a bale of hay, which shows the difference between me and the President. If I had an extra bale of hay, I'd feed it to my cow.

At any rate, some reporter asked him if he thought another crisis is developing over Cuba and the President said he hoped not, adding, "I don't need another crisis."

On this, me and the President are on equal terms. We both have all the crises we need. His may be bigger than mine, but any time you're confronted with a crisis there's not any answer to, size doesn't matter.

However, I have been reviewing some of the crises I've had and some the nation has had, and have discovered that generally me and Washington use about the same system of attack. We both deplore the thing and do what we can and eventually the crisis moves away and a worse one moves in.

The only system I know for handling a crisis is the one used by a man I was talking to the other day. He doesn't keep up with them.

He doesn't read a newspaper, watch television or listen to radio. "Why should I find out about all these new problems when I've got more old ones than I can handle?" he asked.

I don't look at it this way. I like to read about brand new world crises. It gets my mind off the old ones I've had around here for years.

After long years of reading every proposed solution to the farm problem that any of the experts ever brought up, not so much to see what their solution was but to see if they knew what the problem was, I have finally found what easily could be the real answer to the farm problem.

According to an article I read this morning while I was waiting to see if my tractor was going to decide to start, an expert in Washington has proposed that Congress pass two farm bills, one for commercial farmers and one for low-income farmers. The more money you make, the less help you get, and vice versa, especially the latter.

That's the answer, except that I'd like to see written into the bills the absolute guarantee that each farmer could decide for himself what category he comes under. I don't want any expert in an office in Washington telling me whether I'm a commercial farmer or a low-income farmer, and I don't want any complicated set of rules defining me.

Furthermore, and this is the most important provision I want included, a farmer shouldn't be required to classify himself until the year is over.

It's no trick at all to start the year off in January as a commercial farmer and wind up in December as the other kind.

You just can't look at a man's farm, the number of acres in it, the sort of house he lives in, the kind of car he drives, and tell for sure whether's commercial or low-income at the moment. About as many people drive to the bank in new cars as old to have their notes extended.

I hope you'll use your influence if you can find it somewhere there in the office to get these two bills passed, but understand I don't look for any action until the civil rights issue is settled. I hope we both live that long.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.
