Paper Asks Removal Of Girlie Magazines

A girlie magazine which has been removed from many magazine racks across the nation as a health hazard, is still on sale in some Muleshoe stores this week.

The magazine, "Escapade," contains an article on a "Do It In Hallucinations." Although it is written in a tongue-in-cheek manner, many believe some teenagers or older readers may take it seriously and attempt to produce the hallucinations. The result, according to health departments, could kill or blind the user.

The article contained on pages 15-16 of the magazine, is entitled "Mirage" and has several swirling, blurred pictures of girls.

A paragraph says, "This magazine, in cooperation with a famous university, invited you to participate in a test of your 'mirageability.'"

"The ink used in printing this issue has been mixed with diphenylphoramy-2-benzate, a powerful hallucinogen.

"Dissolve any two pages in methyl alcohol and drink the result. Then look at the pictures printed on these pages. What, if anything do you see?"

A basic knowledge of chemistry would allow any reader to know the mixing of a hallucinogen with printers ink successfully is not possible.

However, may not know this and attempt the experiment. Methyl alcohol is POISONOUS. It can kill or cause blindness if taken in the quantities stated in the article.

In Albuquerque, the city health department seized and burned over 1,000 copies of the book, Dr. B. O. McDaniel, Muleshoe health officer, had not yet seized the magazine when contacted by the Journal as a public service Monday.

However, on hearing of the article, he acted immediately and stopped further sales of the magazine in the area.

$175,000 Church Building Slated For Muleshoe

The local conference of the First Methodist Church voted Sunday to proceed at once with the erecting of the new education building and Fellowship Hall at an approximate cost of $175,000.

Groundbreaking and the beginning of construction is hoped for by mid-summer.

Architects engaged are Atchison, Atkinson and Cartwright, Lubbock.

The top floor will consist of the Fellowship Hall with a seating capacity of 200; a parlour, an all-modern kitchen and four class rooms.

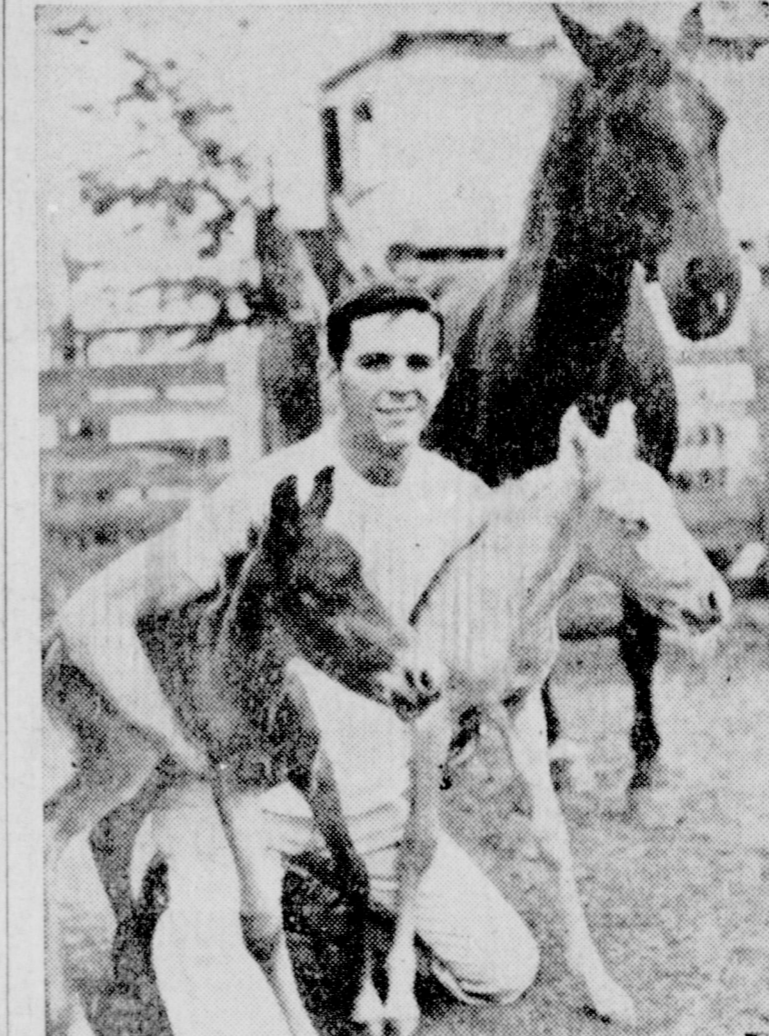

Six class rooms will be located in the basement.

The conference group also voted to move the old Fellowship Hall off the grounds and present it to the local Methodist Spanish congregation.

Fun! Fun!

One of Muleshoe's leading furniture stores, Lanes, has instituted a local contest which will give about $800 in prizes to some ingenious and popular persons.

The details are a bit too complicated to explain in the limited space available here, however full details may be obtained at your convenience by dropping by the store.

RARE PAIR — Proud of her twins, Dolly watches her "obstetrician," Larry Sanders show them off. Dolly's frisky family, each about half the size of a single foal, weighing about 35 pounds apiece, were born near Grand Prairie, Texas. Larry's wife, Mrs. Paula Sanders, an art teacher, was in the seventh grade when she got Dolly, now estimated at between 15 and 20 years old. The son favors his palomino sire and the filly is a carbon copy of Dolly. (AP Photo)

It's A Lot Of Mule But It May Stop'em

Muleshoe's tourist season has started.

"Although the area will probably not ever become known as a tourist 'mecca,' a substantial number of tourists do pass through Muleshoe and some stop for the night.

The local chief asset in what might be called cut, tourist trade is that the town is located on two main highways, U. S. 70 and U. S. 84.

Muleshoe has excellent public relations along both routes, through chamber of commerce activities.

The tourist industry although small here does bring in a fair amount of money to the area. Statistics show that every family who stops in Muleshoe for the night leaves behind about $26 spent for lodgings, food other items. Multiply that figure by 100

However, the chamber and many local businessmen feel that the city is losing many tourists who travel on to another city because of the area's lack of a "Tourist Stopper", outstanding eating facilities and the lack of tourist courts with swimming pools.

Thus far nothing is in the wind in the way of improved eating facilities or motels here. However, the chamber is becoming active in attempting to obtain a tourist stopper.

So far over $2,500 has been raised to erect a "Mule Memorial" somewhere along a highway.

Artist have been contacted to submit drawings of the proposed life-size mule statue.

Further attempts are being made today.

It is difficult to state what the cost may be. Some recent artist estimates go as high as $25,000.

That's a lot of mule, but it might possibly stop a few tourists. If it stops them at the rate of 100 a month, it will pay for itself in three and one-half years (based on 3-month tourist season of 100 tourists a month). After that the ride is free.

Jaycees Name Bill Claybrook To Honor Roll

This week's regular meeting of the Muleshoe Jaycees featured a speech, "Ten Points For A Better Local Jaycee Club," by Bud Miller, state director.

Bill Claybrook was named Jaycee-of-the-month. The award was based on his outstanding work on the recent annual Jaycee banquet. Under new club policy a new Jaycee-of-the-month will be named on a regular basis.

In other business, the group voted to operate the concession stands during Muleshoe's annual July 4th Celebration.

Merchants

Douglas Haynes, Piggly Wiggly manager, will chair today's 10 a.m. meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Retail Committee at Paul's Cafe.

According to Haynes the group will discuss plans for the proposed cotton promotion here this fall.

LAND JUDGING — Joe Adams, Bill Harbin, Bruce Little and Verlyon Scoggin holding their winning ribbons immediately after the recent Texas Tech Field Day.

Local Babe Ruth League Short Of Cash To Complete Fence

Babe Ruth Little League baseball supporters are experiencing difficulty in obtaining money to erect a fence around the park here.

Presently the group has about $50 in the treasury earmarked for the fence and need an additional $400.

Representatives of the group re-been able to pay $35 on it. A quest all businessmen who have pledged financial assistance to the group to carry through with their pledges as soon as possible.

In other areas of improving the ball park the group has purchased a loud speaker system. Its hope to replace the money through donations.

Muleshoe Area Public Library's Trustees and Friends of the Library met with the city council this week and requested the governmental body support the public facility to the tune of $5,990 for the first ten months of operation.

Rev. J. Frank Peery, president of the board of trustees, who acted as spokesman for the group explained that the library was in need of city assistance in the area of operating expenses only. All capital improvements which are expected to total about $23,000, will be provided by the FLA, ESA, Muleshoe Study Club, Jaycees and many other interested individuals and groups.

Eventually, after indebtedness is paid off by volunteer monies, the library building and its contents will be presented to the city of Muleshoe as a gift.

However, because the various civic-minded groups have already taken on the momentous job of providing necessary capital equipment, the city's help is needed in operating the facility.

Presently, there are no check out or in library reading or research facilities available in the Muleshoe area. The old inadequate library which was located in the county courthouse has been closed and its books integrated into the new library's collection.

The total number of volumes available to Muleshoe residents now totals over 7,000 but are presently available to the public one-half day every third week when the bookmobile stops at the courthouse here.

If the city can see its way clear to assist the library, it is expected full daily library services will be available here about June 1st.

matter of whether or not Muleshoe residents would use a library here enough to make such an expenditure worthwhile, Rev. Peery pointed out that the bookmobile program had exceeded all expectations — and it had only just started.

Last week book demand was so strong that the bookmobile which had access to over 6,000 volumes ran short. It was necessary for the state to rush an additional 1,000 to Muleshoe to fill the demand which is still growing.

Some urgency is felt in the request as the FLA is planning a summer children's reading program which can not proceed until a qualified librarian is hired. Another pressure is felt in the probability of difficulties in hiring a first-class librarian to settle in the area. The fact is there are more openings for qualified librarians than there are librarians.

The budget requested of the city council, which will probably reach a decision this week, follows:

Librarian salary, $3,450.
Clerk's salary, $400.
Books and periodicals, $1,160.
Maintenance, $100.
Telephone, $120.
Travel and Training, $120.
Dues and subscriptions, $30.
Utilities, $270.
Social Security, $140.
Total, $5,990.

Thus far the volunteers have committed themselves to supply: at no cost to the city: Building, $12,500.
Remodeling, $7,100.
Equipment, $2,500.
Total, $22,100.

The county commissioners have previously committed the county to pay one-fourth of the $14,000 annual operating budget of the bookmobile program when the state program ends. The county cost should be about $4,500 a year.

New Style Weddings Coming?

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. — A shapely brunette who wore only a veil and shoes, and a 23-year-old sailor clad only in a sun-tan were married Saturday under the palms.

None of the 200 or so guests, also nude, got to kiss the bride. The simple civil ceremony was conducted in the sunshine with no more excitement than accompanies any wedding, except for butterflies lit by the handful of reporters who undressed in public to witness the event.

The only untoward moment was when the bride's father got literally up in arms about a low-flying plane and its ogling occupants before the wedding. He hauled out a rifle and waved it menacingly until the plane flew away.

Besides the veil, which hung to a strategic length down her back, the bride, Sissy Dawson, 16, also wore high-heeled white patent leather pumps.

The groom, Charles Morrow, a sailor stationed with the U. S. Navy at Key West and a nudist since he was 4 stood at the foot of the steps leading to a nearby swimming pool as his bride walked about 25 feet to the open-air altar, decorated with red gladiolus and yellow mums.

A murmur ran through the audience. The best man, an octogenarian known only as Uncle Dick, held the ring in his hand, having no pockets. The ceremony was performed by a lawyer. He was the only one clothed. Most of the guests stood.

After the wedding, Sissy slipped into a white lace dress and

They met here about two years ago.

Her father runs the nudist camp, which is about 15 miles south of Palm Beach.

Reporters were invited, but only if they attended in couples — "It keeps down trouble," said Dawson — and wore no clothes.

We drove 3,243 miles to make a point about our Super Turbine transmission

You can do it on the way to the grocery store.

Would we drive a Buick with a Super Turbine transmission* all the way from Pasadena to New York City just to win Class C in the Mobil Economy Run? Of course. And just in case anyone failed to get the message, we did it twice again. And won Class D and Class G. In all, Buick entered 4 classes, and won 3—more than any other make of car. (Remember when people used to think Buicks used a lot of gas?) Did we make our point about the Super Buick Motor Division

Turbine transmission? You bet. Obviously you aren't planning to drive 5,243 miles to prove your new Buick is economical. And you can't expect to get as many miles per gallon as the experts in the Economy Run. Still, it is nice to know you can win the economy run around town. And the good looks prize at the same time. See your Buick dealer about it. No doubt he'll think of a number of other reasons to drive a Buick. *Optional at extra cost.

SERPENTINE PASSAGEWAYS and vast subterranean chambers inside Texas Longhorn Cavern in the Highland Lakes area of Central Texas evoke this look of wide-eyed amazement from a youthful visitor to the cavern. Reputedly the third-largest cavern in the world, Texas Longhorn annually attracts more than 45,000 visitors who express, in varying degrees, similar reactions to the cavern's underground marvels. Parts of the cavern are named for Texas outlaw Sam Bass who used the cave for a hideout in the 1870's and is alleged to have buried a $2-million treasure there. The cavern is focal point of 708-acre Texas Longhorn Cavern State Park located near Burnet, just off U.S. Highway 281 on Park Road 4.

Most Modern Ammonia Plant To Have Output Doubled

More fertilizer to come: The world's first computer-controlled chemical plant, Monsanto Company's facility at Ludwig, La., will nearly double its output, used largely for agriculture, when a major expansion program is completed in April of next year.

In January, 1960, the Monsanto plant near New Orleans received world-wide attention as it became a "push-button operation" with the various processes for ammonia production taking place automatically. While the innovation improved efficiency as expected, the application of a computer to control ammonia production involved highly complex electronic systems and required more rather than fewer personnel.

A much larger computer will be installed to operate the expanded plant. With its new capacity, the unit will make approximately 1200 tons of ammonia per day. This output, together with that produced by Monsanto plants at El Dorado, Ark., and Muscatine, Iowa, will hike the company's total ammonia available to farmers of the Midwest and South to 500,000 tons annually. Use of the low-cost nitrogen material by the nation's farmers is expected to run seven per cent ahead of 1963's record high.

Note the elevated banks of input and output instrumentation lines across top of picture. These lines connect the various process facilities with the "brain" located in the computer control room.

Local Builder Donates Land For Ballpark

Billy Morrison, an officer of Morrison Construction Company, builders of the Country Club Addition here, has this week deeded almost eight acres of land to the Muleshoe Little League for a ballpark.

The deed allows the athletic group full use of the land for a ballpark so long as the local group is actively playing ball. If the league should become inactive here or disband the land will revert to the company, according to Morrison.

More and More Americans Cured of Cancer

Yarborough In Washington

Dear Fellow Texan: On my return to Washington this week, I testified before the U. S. Tariff Commission, a fact-finding body, to strongly urge a cut-back on imports of foreign-produced beef, and to show the Tariff Commission how heavy imports of beef are hurting our domestic livestock industry.

The Tariff Commission will reach a decision on the extent of meat imports damage to the livestock industry in the United States, and will make its recommendation to the Senate Finance Committee as to whether or not imports should be curbed. I strongly support the position of the cattlemen in Texas and other meat-producing states, that the 11 per cent rate of imports is far too high and must be reduced.

The situation in Texas, which I reported to the Tariff Commission and which exists in other western and southwestern states, should be convincing. Texas livestock producers have lost more than $22 million in values in beef on the hoof in the past two years alone, based on the estimate of Secretary of Agriculture Freeman that American farmers lost $17 million due to the 1962-63 drop in beef prices.

I am co-author of S. 2525 a bill to sharply reduce foreign beef imports.

In 1962 and 1963, Texas farmers marketed 3.6 million head of beef cattle, 13 per cent of the nation's total. There are 180,000 farms and ranches with cattle in Texas, and much of this land is good only for grazing.

It is up to the Tariff Commission to recommend to the Senate Finance Committee that a reasonable import quota be established giving full consideration to the massive losses already inflicted on our domestic industry.

I have also recommended and voted for laws this year to require labeling of meat so the American housewife will know when she goes to the store to buy whether the meat is produced in the United States or elsewhere.

We are fighting on several fronts to help our domestic livestock industry survive.

Light industry has been expanded in Cyprus in recent years.

LOSING A WAR

There seems little doubt any longer that we are losing the war in South Vietnam. And here seems little doubt that our policy in that country has been a highly debatable one or some time.

In getting tied to the dictatorial Diem with its religious persecution, we ditched our wagon to a hopeless cause, and in obsolete and intolerant philosophy. After that, there was no good way out of the wamp.

The two governments which have followed the Diem dictatorship have not been able to arrest steady communist gains and it actually seems as if the Vietnam soldiers lack the resolution and conviction to win — in battles against the communists. This morale problem may be a fatal handicap.

Many people in the United States strongly questioned the decision of President John F. Kennedy to send Americans directly into the battle and now more than a hundred have been killed. How long will we continue, it now being obvious that we are not winning?

It is a painful situation for the Johnson Administration, through the President himself is not as squarely on the spot as the late President Kennedy would have been, since it was he who decided on direct intervention of our military, even if in a limited degree.

We have been losing the war in South Vietnam even through some of our State and Defense people have uttered misinformed or over-optimistic statements to Congress in the past year, rosy statements contending we are winning the war.

One of these days we are going to learn our lesson in the Far East — that these people are marvelous at spending our money and fighting wars which drags us into them, and which we have no hope of winning, finally. And even when we do win, governments are overthrown often and cheaply and the picture may change overnight.

Whether any additional American lives should be sacrificed in South Vietnam is certainly a grave question at the moment.

MEMORIAL PACKET — Will Davis, right, of the State Democratic Executive Committee presents House Speaker Byron Tunnell a President Kennedy Memorial Packet. The packet contains President Kennedy's inaugural speech and the three last speeches delivered in Texas. Washington Notes

Washington, D. C. — An appropriations logjam as serious and frustrating as that which stalled adjournment of last year's Congressional session to almost New Year's Day is shaping up as a likely byproduct of the Senate civil rights wrangle.

It seems inevitable unless committees are allowed to meet while the Senate is in the increasingly-long sessions already developing as the battle rages.

So far unanimous consent for such meetings has been blocked by Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon but it can be expected somebody else will interpose the same thing if he relents.

Progress of several major measures has already been slowed to a standstill as a consequence and the situation will get worse as time passes. Some subcommittees so far are attempting to keep things going by early morning meetings but that is not expected to last much longer as the Senate meets progressively earlier and stays later.

So far both the Senate and House are ahead of last year's pace on appropriations measures but that is no particular feat since in 1963 eight major departmental money bills were delayed until December and the foreign aid bill did not finally clear until the final day of that month.

This time the House has already cleared four appropriations measures and hopes to have all 12 out of the way by early June.

Senate Committees have some preliminary spadework out of the way on several but no final action has been taken on any of them on that side of Capitol Hill from North Texas University, Denton.

Overgrazing Causes Vigor Loss On Pasture And Rangeland Grass

Overgrazing Causes Loss of Vigor and Production in Grasses on our pasture and rangeland in Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation district are beginning their growth. Now is the time to determine how well livestock numbers and grasses were balanced during past growing season. If numbers and grass were balanced, at least 200 pounds grown last year should now be on the ground.

Management such as this is basic for providing a grass reserve which yields a number of benefits. Grasses, like all green plants, live and grow on food manufactured primarily in their own green leaves. Ranges, pastures, lawns, or other grass crops can flourish and conserve soil only as the individual plants have an opportunity to make food for their own growth.

Plant food is manufactured in the leaves and not, as many people suppose, draw from the roots or the soil.

The plant gets the "raw material" to make food from the soil and the air. Because the plants "food factory" is above the ground, grazing, mowing, or clipping promptly stop production to the extent that green foliage is removed.

Research shows that many grasses will not maintain their maximum vigor when more than one-half their leaf surface is removed by frequent grazing or mowing. Repeated removal of green foliage causes a corresponding reduction in root growth. Top growth that is small cannot feed a large root system. It also cannot supply enough food for continuous growth of stems and leaves.

Thus the man that values his grasses to it that his "food factory" is large enough. Everywhere grass must have adequate leaves and stems to keep proper plant vigor.

Farm Bureau Queen Contest Is Slated

Bailey County Farm Bureau announced recently that the Texas Farm Bureau board of directors has authorized a queen contest as part of this year's state convention activities and designated the TFB Young People's Committee as sponsors under the supervision of the state staff.

A copy of the rules and regulations were recently sent to all county Farm Bureau presidents. The contest is open to all single girls between the ages of 16-22 (as of Sept. 1, 1964) who are daughters or sisters of Farm gaged in agricultural production.

that will be used in county, district, and state contests. Each contestant will be required to speak approximately one minute on "Why Are You Glad Your Family Belongs to Farm Bureau?"

County contests must be held prior to the district eliminations which are scheduled for the period of Aug. 27 through Sept. 27. The district winners will participate in the state finals which will be held during the annual TFB convention Nov. 8-11 in Houston.

The state winner will be awarded $500 to defray expenses for herself and a matron escort to attend the annual AFBF convention in December in Philadelphia, Pa., and she will reign during the coming year as "Texas Farm Bureau Queen." In addition, all district winners and an attendant for each will receive an expense-paid trip to the state convention, and each will receive a beautiful wrist watch, compliments of the Texas Farm Bureau.

Purpose of the contest is to provide recognition for the outstanding farm and ranch girls of Texas.

Beat Midges By Planting Grain Early

Plant grain sorghum early and beat the midge. This tiny insect has greatly reduced grain sorghum yields on many Plains farms for the past four years. Estimates of yield reduction in late-planted grain sorghum in 1963 ranged from 0 to 100 percent reports county agent J. K. Adams.

Greatest yield losses consistently occur in sorghum which blooms after the first week in August. Getting the seed in the ground early is the best insurance against midge damage.

The sorghum midge did not cut yields of grain sorghum hybrids planted on or before May 15 according to research data from South Plains Research and Extension Center Lubbock. But when planting dates were delayed past June 1, significant and usually severe yield reductions resulted.

Bloom dates for the three year test period revealed grain sorghum blooming after the first week in August. Newman also emphasized that should periods of extended cold, wet weather prevail, growth of grain sorghum planted as late as June 1 could be slowed and might bloom after the second week in August. In short, getting the seed in the ground by May 15 is considered best. If not possible, don't delay planting past June 1.

MULESHOE, TEXAS PH. 2310

AUSTIN, Tex. — Conservative tone of the Texas Legislature was little changed by May 2 primary results.

Thirteen members of the Senate won renomination.

There will be two new Senators. Former Rep. Jack Hightower of Vernon will replace veteran Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe who is retiring. Success or to Sen. Frank Owen III of El Paso, who did not seek re-election, will be decided in the runoff between Rep. George Cook of Odessa and former Rep. Pete Snellson of Midland. The winner still must face Republican opposition on November 3.

Democratic incumbents in State offices polished off their primary opponents, and turned to the job of running against their Republican opponents in the November general election.

The two primaries results in two runoffs, to be held on June 6.

Republicans George Bush and Jack Cox, both of Houston, will vie for the right to face Sen. Ralph Yarborough in November for the U. S. Senate seat Yarborough now holds.

Democratic Congressman - at-large Joe Pool of Dallas will be in a runoff with Robert W. Baker of Houston for nomination to that statewide office.

Outside the U. S. Senate race, all Republican primary candidates for state office were unopposed.

TRIAL COVERAGE DISCUSSION SET — A State Bar subcommittee will meet here on June 12 with the state's major press associations to discuss coverage of court trials.

Representatives of United Press International Managing Editors, Associated Press Managing Editors, Texas Daily Newspaper Association and Texas Press Association have been invited to the first of three conferences. Radio and television broadcasters and be invited to confer with the Bar's Coverage in subsequent meetings.

The subcommittee has instructions "to study and make recommendations concerning proposed standards of conduct or statements of principles governing parties involved in news stories related to prospective or pending litigation, civil and criminal."

HIGHER EDUCATION BOOST — The Committee of Governing Boards of State Colleges and Universities called for "a giant step" to upgrade higher education in Texas next year.

In a new brochure, the voluntary group of regents from different institutions terms 1965 a "year of destiny" for education.

Meanwhile, Gov. John Connally's Committee on Education Beyond the High School got together to edit its preliminary draft of a report on how to achieve that "giant step" necessary to make Texas colleges and universities best in the U. S.

TEXTBOOK COMMITTEE NAMED — The new State Textbook Committee was sworn in on May 8.

Group, which will read and evaluate 250,000 school textbooks before making recommendations to the State Board of Education, is made up of:

Edsell F. Bittie, Texas City; Mrs. Edna B. Bron, Austin, Henry Bennett Cooksey, Longview; Durward Grubb, Abilene; Mrs. Steve Rose Harris, Denton; Mrs. Ruth Hicks, North East San Antonio; Fred W. Hunter, Beaumont; Mrs. Evelyn Kidwell, Mt. Vernon; Smith Markham, Richardson; James W. Martin, Arlington; Bruce E. Oberholzer, Mexico; Mrs. Fay Richey, Bonham; Manuel Salinas Jr., Fallfurris; Mrs. Hester Still, Amarillo; and Keene C. Van Orden, San Angelo.

JUDGES APPOINTED — Governor Connally named James F. Parker Sr. of Beaumont associate justice of the Ninth Court of Civil Appeals to fill the unexpired term of W. T. McNeill, deceased.

Connally also appointed Charles attorney, judge of the 10th District to fill the unexpired term of Judge Luther Gribble, deceased.

Both appointees are Democratic nominees for the judicial posts. Connally said earlier he would appoint winners of the party primaries to the unexpired terms.

SCABIES ORDER EASED — California has eased a dipping order for Texas cattle, reports Animal Health Commission Director Dr. R. G. Garrett.

Only those cattle shipped to California from the counties of King, Lynn, Stonewall, Terry, and Yoakum need to be dipped under the new regulation, Dr. Garrett said. All cattle still need a permit from California and an inspection certificate certifying freedom from scabies.

MENT PLACES DRAWN — Three constitutional amendments to be voted on at the general election on November 3 will appear in this order on the ballot.

No. 1. Amendment to remove authority for transfer of one percent annually of the permanent school fund to the available school fund.

No. 2. Requiring advance publication of bills to create conservation and reclamation districts or amend finance powers and boundaries of existing districts.

No. 3. Authorizing the Legislature to provide for vendor payments for medical care for citizens 65 and over who are not an old-age assistance and are unable to pay for medical services (and including glasses in medical services provided).

Place of the proposals on the ballot was determined by drawing numbers in the office of Secretary of State Crawford Martin. The State of Texas is looking for hundreds of "missing persons" who have left possessions ranging from a 5-cent piece to a $239.62 unclaimed payroll check in various depositories for seven years or more and failed to provide forwarding addresses.

In a final effort to find these people, before their property is escheated by the State, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has filed a lawsuit in the 53rd District Court of Travis County, entitled: The State of Texas vs. R. E. James Gravel Co. and others.

Names of the "missing persons" filled three and one-half newspaper columns in the May 1, 1964, Austin American, to fulfill the requirement for advertising for missing owners of property subject to escheat. Persons with any claim to the property listed should file their answers to the suit in the 53rd District Court before June 8.

OPINIONS — The "Calcutta Pool," a betting system used in some sporting events, such as horse races, golf tournaments, tennis matches, skeet and trap shooting, is illegal, according to Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr. He says the Calcutta Pool system constitutes a lottery.

Carr also held a district court may not commute (shorten) the sentence of a parolee, since state law vests the power to grant reprieves and commutations in the governor.

In another opinion, Carr gave the state insurance board a go-ahead to prevent insurance firms from offering credit as a customer come-on.

FARM TO MARKET ROADS — State Highway Commission announced "a sweeping program" to build more than 1,000 miles of new farm-to-market roads in 166 Texas counties.

With 37,143 miles of FM roads now in the state, the estimated $23,000,000 project would bring the AUSTIN — Can you get food poisoning from frozen food? If frozen food thaws out, should it be destroyed? Can you refreeze meat that has thawed out?

These questions persist although frozen foods have become an integral part of modern living. But properly stored, handled and prepared, frozen foods will serve you and your family well.

Food poisoning, originating from frozen foods, is a rarity. Processors are careful to prepare and freeze their products at the peak of freshness, insuring that bacteria are at a minimum. The very act of freezing the food suppresses the ability of the bacteria to multiply. Not until food temperatures rise and conditions become favorable to growth of the bacteria do they begin multiplying.

And what about frozen foods that have thawed out... must they be destroyed? Not necessarily. After all, they must be thawed before they can be cooked and eaten. If foods have been thawed only for a short time, they may be safely eaten. The important question is how long have they been thawed out and how high the temperature has been. If the temperature went total to more than 38,075 miles.

The sprawling Farm-to-Market system began with a 6-mile stretch built in 1936 between Mount Enterprise and Shloh in Rusk County. Commission's goal is 5,000 miles of FM roads.

SHORT SNORTS

A May 5 oil and gas lease sale of state-owned lands (124,795 acres) brought $476,000 to the public school permanent fund, swelling it to $557,000,000. State Treasurer Jesse James reported April 3-May 5 income of $430,000 wiped out a $38,400 deficit in the state's general fund.

Angew state plan for hospital construction under the federal Hill-Burton Act now is available for inspection in the State Health Department. Another open enrollment period has been authorized for Texans 65 and over to obtain health insurance under the Texas 65 insurance plan at costs ranging from $9 to $19 a month. Texas' 58 parks may draw as many as 80,000 visitors this year. State Securities Board authorized sale of $27,400 in securities in Texas during March.

no higher than 45 degrees, the foods may be maintained at this level safely for several days but should not be refrozen.

Is it ever safe to refreeze meat that has thawed out? Refreezing meat is permissible if the meat was fresh at the original freezing and if it was thawed for only a short period. There may, however, be some degrading of flavor and quality with the second freezing. The risk in refreezing cured or smoked meats is greater. These meats may be slightly spoiled even though there is no discoloration, off-odor or other signs of spoilage.

To preserve the quality of frozen foods, store them at the lowest possible temperature, and when you transport them from the store to your freezer, do so as quickly as possible. Rising temperatures cause chemical food's flavor and quality.

Can you tell about the quality of frozen food simply by looking at it? Loss of quality — result

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm won't get anywhere with his idea this week, but we sometimes doubt he's trying to get anywhere.

Dear editor:
A prominent folk singer, well I say prominent, she's prominent with people who go for folk singing, which I'm not one of, who has been making a lot of money lately has announced she's not going to pay a sizeable portion of her income tax because that portion would go for national defense and she's opposed to war.
This introduces a brand new idea in tax paying, and I hope you'll keep up with this singer's luck with the Internal Revenue Service and let me know how she comes out.

It had never occurred to me you could ear-mark your tax payments, but it opens up vast opportunities. For example if you are a Democrat and don't like Republicans, think they're bad for mankind, you could withhold your tax payments anytime a Republican is in office and resume them when your side is in. By the same system, if you're a Republican and a Democrat is in, you could decline to pay, and this way about half the people would escape taxes, regardless, and practically everybody would be pulling for the other side to win. With Democrats pulling for Republicans to win, and Republicans pulling for Democrats to win, just as a tax dodger, you think politics would be any more confused than it generally is?

Say, when my subscription to The Muleshoe Journal comes due, don't be surprised if I pay only 80 per cent of the regular amount. I never do read the society news anyway and see no reason for paying for something I don't use.
As I understand it, President Johnson is concerned over the high cost of food to consumers and the low cost to producers, or, in other words, why the farmer gets less and the housewife still pays more, why beef on the hoof can drop $6 a hundred and still rise 2 cents a pound when it gets in the supermarket display counter.
I am in favor of this, and while I wouldn't have time to serve on the committee, I think I can explain part of the trouble.
The trouble lies with the farmer. He has never succeeded in growing beans in cellophane bags. The supermarkets caught on long ago that beans in a shell or just beans in bulk have no eye-appeal. No impulse-buyer pushing a shopping cart down an aisle is going to stop to scoop up a sackfull of loose beans. They've got to be sealed in cellophane with a brand name and a price tag marked 2 cents off before a housewife will respond.
Clearly, the fault lies with the farmer, or more accurately with the agricultural experiment stations and possibly the Department of Agriculture. Instead of figuring out ways to grow twice as many beans on the same stalk, the agricultural scientists ought to be working on a variety that'll come up inside a plastic bag already sealed with scotch tape.
Or take cattle. A rancher can get a steer to market for a certain price, but when the processors get hold of it, that's when the cost mounts up, and by the time the steaks get to the meat counter wrapped in cellophane, there is no connection between what the rancher gets and the housewife pays. Clearly, the rancher is getting too little and the housewife is paying too much.
Something ought to be done about this, but you try selling live steers inside a supermarket and see how far you get. You'd never get one wrapped satisfactorily in cellophane.
Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Lopez Platoons Catchers But The Quick Hands Of Martin Catch Butterflies

By FRAN KECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor. It seems like only a few months ago that Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox was saying "Camilo Carreon will be our No. 1 catcher someday," and "we're going to make a catcher out of J. C. Martin because he doesn't hit enough to play first or third." Sherm Lollar, now a Baltimore coach, was the catcher two years ago. He had power but had the slows in his legs, and Lopez was looking to the future. The catching on the White Sox never jelled the way Lopez had figured for he hasn't had a receiver work 125 games a year since 196. But he has two fairly good ones in Martin and Carreon to share the tools of ignorance. "J. C. came as a catcher last year but he didn't hit," Lopez was saying while Martin and Carreon were awaiting their turns at the batting cage. "Cammy (Carreon) did well, hitting .274.

"I use J. C. against right-handed pitchers because he bats left-handed, and we use Cammy when the other team pitches southpaws. But when Hoyt Wilhelm gets into a game I use Martin." Confusing? Not at all. Lopez was a catcher who worked 1,918 games. Nobody on his team is going to break that record. Seriously, Lopez is the senior American League manager with 38 seasons and he knows catchers must work hard to earn a living.

While Carreon was batting, Martin was asked about his first full year as a catcher and what he had to learn switching from first base to catcher at age 25.

"I had to learn how to call the game and how to set the batters up," Martin says. "You get a little tired bending over (Martin is 6-foot-2) and you have to learn how to live with it.

"It is pretty hard to catch Wilhelm. He throws that knuckle ball pitch and it darts like a butterfly. He has it perfected so that nobody knows where it's going. I never know where it's going.

"The only other time I caught a knuckleballer was in the minors (Savannah) in 1962 but Taylor Phillips didn't throw it as much as Hoyt does. I have no complaints, you understand. I like catching."

Martin went up to hit and Carreon took a breather. "J. C. catches Wilhelm because he has quicker hands," Carreon admits.

Carreon, born in Colton, Calif. 27 years ago came Aug. 6, is the games in '62 and last year batted .274 in 11 games. But he hit only two home runs.

Martin hit only .23 as a first baseman-third baseman in 1961 and that's why Lopez had Les Moss, an ex-catcher, work with him as a catcher at Savannah in 1962. He hit .328 there but that was Class A. Last year J. C. hit .25 in 105 games and hit only five homers.

Lopez looks for Martin to be a better hitter this year. "He was concentrating so much on his catching that his hitting suffered," says the 55-year-old Tampa native.

"I think I'm swinging better this spring," Martin offered as Lopez left.

Lopez always had good catchers. In Cleveland he had Jim Hegan, now a Yankee coach, and in Chicago he had Lollar. He won pennants in both places. Now the White Sox manager would like to get a third pennant, and he's perfectly satisfied to make a run at the Yankees while two-platooning his catching.

"Martin did a great job just catching Wilhelm," says third base coach Tony Cuccinello.

Wilhelm appeared in 55 games last season and the more he works in relief the happier Joseph Clifton Martin of Axton, Va., and Hillsdale, Ill., will be. J. C. still will be allowed to use the oversized catcher's mitt Paul Richards brought into baseball when Wilhelm pitched for Baltimore.

He needs every bit of the leather to catch Wilhelm, the 4-year-old knuckler who tilts his head one way while his pitches dart like a lost butterfly.

Today's Meditation

The word "meditation" means to think upon a particular subject and to reason it out. Most of the time when we claim to be meditating on a subject we are in actuality worrying over a problem. Now meditation is good and good for us. But worry is not good regardless of how you look at it.

Jesus commanded His disciples in John 14:1, "Let not your hearts be troubled, ye believe in God, believe also in me."

Here we find our Saviour speaking to troubled hearts or worried hearts and minds. Christ does not intend those who are His disciples to be worried or perplexed by the events which transpire in their lives. He speaks peace through His Word to troubled hearts today. The Bible is the answer to your troubles.

Many counselors have come into existence in the last quarter of a century for the one purpose of giving advice to troubled people. People are by nature always in trouble. But the solution to men's problems, and I mean all problems of all men, is found in the Bible. Open your Bible and let Jesus speak to your heart today. "An open mind in an open Bible". There is no other way.

pen Bible". There is no other way.

Talent Find Details Studied By Local FB

Bailey County Farm Bureau is today working on details of plans for its annual Talent Find. Finals will be held in conjunction with the 1964 TFB convention scheduled for Nov. 8-11.

Winners in Bailey County will go to district competition and then proceed to the national competition if they win.

Recently rules and information pertaining to the two programs were received here. A Talent Find will be held on the order of the previous Talent Find programs that have been conducted the past several years. This is not a contest, but simply an exhibition of talent. An act or number considered appropriately representative of Texas will be selected for participation in the national Talent Find to be held at the American Farm Bureau Federation convention in December.

Speech Activity Revised This year's speech program will be a deviation from the Talk Meet which has been conducted in the past and is being termed a "Discussion Meet." Contestants will not make individual speeches, but will participate in local conditions. Attention is called to the provisions of the Acts of the 53rd and 44th Legislatures of the State of Texas covering the wage scale and payment of prevailing wages as established by the Owner, and all Federal Wage and Hour Legislation if such is applicable.

Information for Bidders', plans, and specifications are on file in the Office of the City Manager at Muleshoe, Texas, and are open for public inspection. A set of such documents may be obtained from Douglas Engineering Company, Engineers, P. O. Box 832, Littlefield, Texas.
