Mrs. Block resigned in order to assist her husband in the automobile business here, and Mrs. Prather is resigning because of pregnancy.

The group also approved the employment of three teachers to join the local system next year. They are:

Mrs. Patsy Walker, who will be a first grade teacher at DeShazo; Mrs. Margaret Durben, 7th grade language arts; and Mrs. Bob Breckenridge, 5th grade teacher at De Shazo.

Employee Training Offered By C of C

A four-step method of training employees will be offered to Muleshoe businessmen, starting July 20.

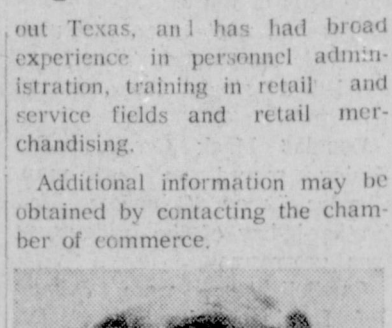

The four-day course, "How To Train An Employee," is sponsored by the chamber of commerce and brought to this locality by the Distributive Education Program of The University of Texas and the Texas Education Agency.

Meetings are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. July 20-23, at a place to be announced later.

Roger Abernethy, president of the chamber, urges all supervisory personnel, who are directly connected with training employees to register now. He pointed out that well-trained employees enjoy their work, resulting in greater productivity.

Sessions will be conducted by Mrs. Mary Frances Bowden, supervisory and management training specialist from the University. Mrs. Bowden regularly conducts similar programs throughout Texas, and has had broad experience in personnel administration, training in retail and service fields and retail merchandising.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the chamber of commerce.

ASCS Substitute Offered In Wheat

So that summer fallow operations for next year's crop may take place promptly, USDA has announced that substitution between wheat and feed grains would be authorized in 1965 programs.

This announcement was made Saturday by the ASCS.

Especially in much of dry land Great Plains and Pacific Northwest area, wheat is usually planted on land tilled in preparation for seeding in autumn for winter wheat crop following year. Summer fallowing takes place extensively in May and June.

Agricultural Legislation makes provision for this substitution in could not be put into effect for 1964 because of time element involved. Reason for substitution of wheat and feed grains for 1965 is to permit greater flexibility in farm operations.

Substitution will apply on individual farms only if farm has both feed grain base and wheat allotment. Producers will need to meet at least minimum diversion

City Tax Receipts At 95%

The collection of Muleshoe city taxes is running at a good rate with about 95 percent of 1963 taxes collected to date, reports the city tax collector's office.

This percentage was not reached last year until about the close of September, records of the office show. Delinquent tax income has shown a good increase with a current low keyed campaign on for collections.

Thrip Attack Growing Here; Co. Agent Recommends Spray

The Muleshoe area cotton crop has been invaded by an army of thrips.

The crop damaging bugs first made their appearance here June 5th and in the last 24-to-48 hours the buildup has reached serious proportions, according to a report from County Agent J. K. Adams Tuesday.

Heavy infestations of thrips in area cotton may delay plant maturity anywhere from a few days to weeks.

The thrips usually cause heaviest damage from plant emergence until early squaring. Serious damage may occur for longer periods.

The first sign of thrip damage to cotton is noted on leaves, and terminal growth, which becomes wilted, wrinkled and blackened.

The number of thrips and occurrence varies here from season to season, according to the county agent, who urged all planters to immediately inspect their cotton crops and treat them as soon as possible if they detect any sign of thrips.

The recommended method of treating thrips in this area is application of L-508. Eight different insecticides and mixtures are also acceptable.

It is strongly recommended that control measures begin as soon as damage is apparent on seedling plants. Sprays should be applied at seven day intervals if infestation persists.

If difficulty is encountered ridding the plants of the thrips, it is recommended that the planter substitute methyl parathion 6.10 at 0.25 lb per acre for DDT.

For further information and assistance contact J. K. Adams, county agent.

Earth C of C Moves Against School Job

Earth chamber of commerce last week joined the Olton chamber of commerce and agriculture in an effort to call a county-wide election to abolish the job of county superintendent.

The Earth C-C has endorsed the action, that originated at Olton, and will circulate petitions asking an election on the issue of abolishing the school post as a fulltime function.

The signatures of more than 1,000 qualified Lamb county voters are needed to call the special election. About 300 have been obtained by the group. Plans are to circulate the election in all parts of the county.

The Earth Chamber has been a leading spokesman for the move to eliminate the office, which he terms a "rubber stamp position."

"We're gaining more support all along. This movement is within the realm of our responsibility to promote good, efficient government in this area."

Board of directors reaffirmed the chamber's move in a meeting early last week.

If an election is called, it would seek to abolish the full-time job of county superintendent. The county judge would then assume the duties of the office as ex-officio county superintendent.

The change would effect a considerable saving in state school funds, its proponents say. The $8,400 salary paid to County Superintendent C. Roy Stevens would

Commissioners' Court Meets For Three Hours

Bailey County Commissioners Court met for more than three hours Monday and according to the official minutes completed two orders of business: They approved a trip to Texas Tech by Jean Martin, home demonstration agent and voted to transfer $5,000 from the General fund to the officers salary fund.

Although it does not appear in the official record of the meeting, a recent story appearing in the Journal papers on the collection of past due Farm Labor bills by the county came under rather intensive discussion.

Details are unknown.

Lazbuddie Club Members Hear Psychiatrist

Dr. Mary D. Bubliss, child psychiatrist of Plainview and director of the South Plains Guidance Center, Lubbock, told the Lazbuddie Young Homemakers Club and guests Monday night that the three universal fears of children are fear of mutilation, fear of abandonment and fear of being unloved.

New techniques of psychiatry used at the Lubbock clinic include the patient to doctor, as well as group therapy-patients to patients, patient to the team of psychiatrist, psychologists and social worker, and patient to family group.

"Ten years ago with the advent of tranquilizers and following World War II, psychiatric treatment changed from the mental hospital treatment persons with behavior problems to the therapy," Dr. Bubliss stated.

"Preventive psychiatry is important to modify disturbed thinking before disturbed thinking changes the person's behavior, sometimes drastically. When behavior becomes outrageous to the community then hospitalization may be necessary. Psychotherapy treatment is the 'talking treatment; using words as tools to break through to prevent the growth of the thinking disorder," the noted doctor said.

A spirited question and answer period followed her informative talk. Dr. Bubliss gave professional ideas of ways of handling various child-behavior situations better in her responses to the mother's inquiries.

A social hour was held following the program. Frances Walton and Jeanine Wimberly were hostesses. Refreshments of lemon pound cake, punch and tidbits from a pineapple fresh fruit tree were served.

The Young Homemakers Club of Lazbuddie announced a complete slate of officers for coming year. Taking office as president in September will be Marilyn Engelking. Other officers will be Jeanell Smith, first vice-pres-

AUSTIN — Officially, summer doesn't arrive until the later part of June, but you couldn't tell it by the weather.

Hot weather is here for the summer, but if you follow a few simple health rules your summer can be a bit more bearable.

First of all avoid heavy, fat-loaded meals. They are difficult to digest during hot weather. Emphasize fruit and vegetables on your summer menu rather than protein foods — eggs, fish and meat — which your body needs for fuel during winter months.

Perspiration helps cool the body, but at the same time it drains the body of vital fluids. To replace these fluids, drink plenty of water or other liquids. Fruit juices are a pleasant way to make up the loss. But don't gulp down large amounts of ice water when you are overheated.

The body also loses salt through perspiration. Replace your salt loss at meals, or if your work or exercise causes you to sweat profusely, take salt tablets — about one every half hour with a glass of water.

Parents can place extra salt in children's diet with salted nuts or crackers plus a little added salt during meals.

Your clothing plays an important role in keeping cool. Loose, light clothing is highly recommended for summertime wear. Normal body temperatures are dependent on the evaporation of sweat.

Avoid wearing clothes that inhibit evaporation. Also, remember that white or light colors are cooler than dark ones, since they do not absorb hot sun rays so readily.

Exercise is an essential part of a well-rounded, healthy life, but it can easily be overdone in the summer. Use common sense and start gradually if you are initiating a summer exercise program. Also, confine any long periods of hard yard work or active tennis games to the cooler parts of the day.

Swimming is one of the best summer sports, provided the proper safety rules are followed — including not swimming alone, getting chilled, waiting at least an hour after meals and avoiding tiredness.

All in all, summer can be one of the most enjoyable seasons of the year . . . provided you use your head as well as your body.

KNOW YOUR INSECT ENEMY HIGH-FLYING 'HOPPERS'

Grasshoppers get way up in the air when it comes to the subject of food! Various species are strong fliers, and adults sometimes gather in giant swarms moving hundreds of miles and destroying crops and range plants wherever they pause. Individual hoppers have been snared in airplane traps at altitudes around 1,000 feet, but entomological history reveals that hordes in migration have reached heights nearing the one-mile mark.

The most spectacular example of the high fliers in this country occurred in 1874 when migrating swarms of Rocky Mountain grasshoppers swept the Great Plains causing such a food shortage that it was dubbed a national disaster.

An observer in Nebraska reported that one of the invading waves of hoppers averaged half a mile in height and was 100 miles wide and 300 miles long. In places the column (seen through field glasses and measured by surveying instruments) was nearly a mile high — an estimated 28 million per cubic mile.

Many species travel long distances on the wing. Locusts, or grasshoppers, have become an international problem in certain parts of the world. They breed in one country and migrate hundreds of miles to another to devastate crops.

Coming back down to earth, we find that government surveys keep a sharp eye on hatching, development and flying hoppers to help growers plan their control programs. Researchers recommend spraying infested areas with a pesticide when the insects are "plentiful and stable, hatching is complete and egg deposition hasn't started."

Growers report excellent, long-lasting control of hoppers with a newer carbamate insecticide called Sevin, that is safer to use than many other insecticides. They find that drift problems are minimized using this material, and treated crops can be fed to their livestock without harmful residues showing up in meat or milk.

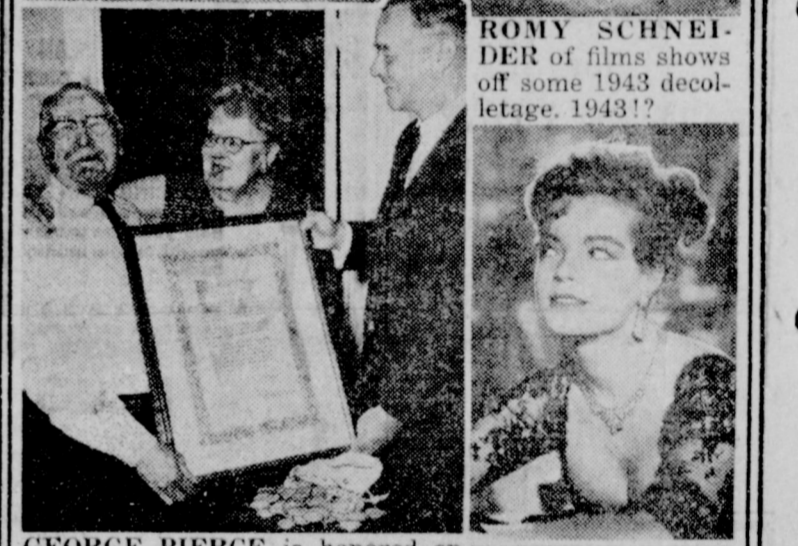

Reports indicate that a ton of alfalfa per day in each 40-acre field can be eaten by hoppers when the population reaches 15 to 20 per square yard. That is why entomologists tell growers to be alert early to infestations and apply controls to hatching areas, roadsides, fence rows and headlands before these high-flying pests move to adjacent crops.

Closed End Terraces Prove Their Worth Here

By C. J. ROBINSON

During past years level closed end terraces have proven themselves as worthy tools for soil and water conservation. Terraces built in the proper manner will definitely help a farmer under dry land conditions or sprinkler irrigation to prevent erosion and help to hold the water on the soil.

The latest development in terracing is to build the complete terrace from the back side or lower side. To do this, one would not disturb the soil on the upper side of the terrace, but would get all of his soil for the terrace from the lower side.

An advantage of a terrace built from the back side would be that it eliminates the channel in front of the terrace. Also, this method helps to more nearly level the area between the terraces. This tends to control erosion problems before they begin.

The holding capacity of the terrace is the same, except the water is stored over a larger area with less depth. This puts water on more land and less chance for crops to be drowned out.

The most simple way to build a terrace of this nature would be to use a bulldozer with a front-end blade. The bulldozer should make two to three pushes from the same area at the lower side of the terrace. The number of pushes will depend upon the size of bulldozer and the blade. The push made each time by the bulldozer should be staggered so as to leave the soil uniform. After the needed amount of soil has been pushed up for the terrace, then the bulldozer should straddle the piles of soil to smooth it out to get the desired height and width. With an experienced operator of the bulldozer one can expect a nice smooth terrace with no channel in front of the terrace.

A terrace can be built from the backside with a typical Hancock elevated graded terracer or with a maintainer. The only problem would be that a dead run would have to be made in order to keep from using soil from both sides. A greater area of soil would have to be disturbed in order to build the terrace to the desired height and width. Also it would be cheaper and more economical to use the bulldozer.

One disadvantage to this type of terrace is that it usually cost more to build the terraces from one side. This added expense is due to the cost of the operation of the bulldozer. This added expense is greatly over-shadowed by the fact that one gets more uniform water distribution over a larger area. The only other disadvantage of this type terrace would be that the back side of the terrace will be slightly steeper than a conventional built terrace. This can be overcome as one continually farms the terrace. In gently sloping land one would never notice the added slope of the back side of the terrace.

In areas where terraces built from the back side have been used, farmers are greatly enthused and satisfied with this type terrace. This is due to the greater and quicker return in dollars for the money spent on building the terraces.

If anyone has any questions or would like to know more about this type of terraces, contact the Muleshoe Soil Conservation Work Unit for advice and help in this matter.

Since all Lamb county school districts are now independent, and do not depend on the county office for aid as dependent districts did years ago, the office no longer has a fulltime purpose, McReynolds' group argues.

Stevens has disagreed with this position, but declared that if Lamb county voters abolish the office "I'll have no crow to pick with them."

The county superintendent's present term runs to January 1, 1965. A vote to abolish it would be effective only after that date.

What marketing certificates will be issued to program cooperators in a manner similar to this year's crop on the smaller of:

(1) normal production of acreage allotment, multiplied by domestic and export allocation percentages to be announced at a later date by Secretary.

(2) wheat acreage planted for harvest multiplied by normal yield. Number of certificates allocated to a farm will not be increased because of substitution of wheat for feed grains.

For wheat producers in compliance with program requirements, total production of wheat will be eligible for price support loans even though wheat acreage is in excess of wheat allotment because of substitution provisions.

Feed grain production of program cooperators will be eligible for price support loans when such crops are grown in place of wheat. If price support payments are authorized as part of 1965 feed grain program and feed grains are substituted for wheat, price support payments will be limited to normal production of the feed grain base less diverted acreage - (not less than required minimum diversion under feed grain program.)

An oat - rye base will be established for eligible farms for purpose of substituting wheat in lieu of such crops if producers so request. It won't be possible, however, to plant corn, grain, sorghum or barley in lieu of the oat - rye base.

Vietnam Equipment

Sometimes it takes a single dramatic incident to alter the course of major events. And it appears this may be the case in South Vietnam. For months there have been mutterings of complaint about the obsolescence and short supply of arms and equipment furnished the U. S. "advisors" in Southeast Asia. The situation was starkly spotlighted by a published account of how two Air Force pilots died when the wings fell off their trainer-type planes on combat missions. That triggered demands by the House Armed Services Committee for a full accounting of the equipment situation and inspired strong criticism on the Senate floor. One influential member of the Senate Armed Services Committee was even prompted to label the situation a "shameful betrayal" of the country's fighting men. At least by coincidence the Pentagon promptly said it had some 75 Navy bombers already on the way to Southeast Asia, and the White House dropped a hint it would be asking for more money to support the South Vietnam operation. How much this will affect existing policy can't yet be assessed, but it's safe to say it will do a lot for the morale of those being asked to risk their lives.

24-Year Draft

It's been almost 24 years since Selective Service Director Lewis Hershey pulled the first number out of the fishbowl to crank up the modern-day military draft. In the ensuing years it has funneled millions of young Americans in and out of uniform, supplying the man-power for two major conflicts and a variety of cold war flare-ups. And in the process of furnishing that sinew for defense it has served also to expose one of the country's most serious weaknesses — the shamefully high rate of physical shortcomings in today's youth. The draft has had its drawbacks, to be sure. It has been an inconvenience to those who have been called to serve in peacetime. It has meant the taking of lives of those called in wartime. But it filled the need for the country's security, since the strength of the armed forces has never been successfully maintained on a voluntary basis since the depression days of the 30's. President Johnson is entirely correct in suggesting the system may need an overhaul after all these years. It's doubtful, however, that he'll find it dispensable under present conditions or until some other suitable substitute can be devised.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhill's Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm reflects on certain job opportunities in his letter this week.

Dear editor: For two of the easiest jobs I can think of, I'll nominate public opinion poll taking and long range weather forecasting.

Take public opinion surveys. Out in California last week these experts, after going through their complex soundings, were predicting how the Californians would vote in a presidential preferential election, and they said that considering only the voters who had made up their minds, Rockefeller would beat Goldwater.

This is what I'm talking about. As everybody knows, it was the other way around when the votes were counted, but the public opinion pollsters were left untarnished because they'd already said they weren't predicting how the undecided voter would vote.

On this basis, I can sit here on this Johnson grass farm and take a public opinion poll of any place on earth, and can predict for example that Casius Clay will be elected dictator of Cuba, excusing the 99 per cent of the voters who haven't made up their minds yet.

Or take long range weather forecasting. I got hold of two different farm magazines yesterday and one of them said June will be wetter than normal, the other that it'll be drier. It's hard to see how they both can be right.

If I could get a job predicting the weather for both magazines, dry for one and wet for the other, I know I could be right 50 per cent of the time, and that's pretty fair predicting in any league. In half a day, I could draw up predictions for every month in the year for the next 20 years, and any time I can do 20 years' work in half a day, I'm in favor of it. It's even better than taking 20 years to do half a day's work.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Patricia Locker-Jim Nelson United In Marriage

In a candle lighting ceremony at the Bula Baptist Church Friday evening, Miss Patricia Locker and Jim Nelson were united in marriage.

The Rev. R. D. Thommarson, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony before an improvised altar of greenery and white baby mums forming an archway. On either side of the altar were baskets of white gladioli and double seven-point candelabra.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Locker of Bula and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nelson of Littlefield.

Mrs. Doyle Winfield of Lovington, sister of the bride, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Miss Linda Dale as she sang D'Hardelot's "Because," Singer's "Whither Thou Goest," and Malotte's "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted to the altar by her father, Miss Locker wore a formal length gown of white ribbon, re-embroidered Chantilly lace, and bridal satin. The lace bodice featured a Sabrina neckline and long petal point sleeves. A controlled bell skirt of bridal satin was accented at center back by two flowing panels, which formed a brush train. Her tall pillbox of beaded crown and double bow held a tiered veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a white Bible covered with lace and satin and topped with white gardenias and stephanotis. She wore a blue garter on which was sewed her baby ring, and a 1964 penny was in her shoe. For something borrowed she carried a handkerchief belonging to her grandmother. Her only jewelry was a string of cultured pearls, the groom's wedding gift to her.

Miss Joyce Thompson of Bula was maid-of-honor; and bridesmaids were Misses Sheila Martin and Janey Blackmon of Littlefield, and Miss Melva Lynn Ross of Sundown. They wore street length sleeveless sheaths of white satin brocade, with scooped necklines, and cummerbunds that extended to the back where they were accented with obi sashes. Their wedding-ring headresses were of matching fabric with illusion veils. Miss Thompson carried a bouquet of red roses, and the bridesmaids carried single long stem red rosebuds.

Little Miss Sherry Winfield of Levelland, niece of the bride, served as flower girl. Her dress was formal length of white lace, taffeta, and organza. The lace bodice featured a sweetheart neckline. The colonial skirt hung in three tiers of organza edged with lace. At the waist she wore a small corsage of red roses.

Neal Walker served as best man; and groomsmen were Bill Ed Blackwell and Keith King, and Michael Steffy of Lubbock. Ushers were Alvin Locker of Lovington, brother of the bride, and Doyle Winfield of Lovelland, brother-in-law of the bride. They also escorted the mother of the bride and her grandmother, Mrs. Etta Locker of Sudan.

Honor escorts were Rex Nelson of Friona, cousin of the groom who escorted the groom's mother; Bill Nelson of Littlefield, brother of the groom, who escorted his grandmother, Mrs. E. B. Luce; and Dennis Nelson, of Farwell, cousin of the groom who escorted Mr. Nelson's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Blanche Nelson.

Candle-lighters were little Misses Lana Locker, of Lovington, New Mexico, niece of the bride; and Cathy Nelson, sister of the groom. They wore identical dresses of the same material as those of the bride's attendants. The bodice featured a scoop neckline above full gathered skirts.

Mrs. Locker, the bride's mother, wore a dark beige two piece dress made of lace with bone accessories and a corsage of white French carnations. The groom's mother wore a dress of beige arnel with a scoop neckline and a skirt of pin point crystal pleating. Over it she wore a loose overblouse with dolman sleeves. Her hat was of shell pink organza and she wore beige iridescent patent accessories. Her corsage was of frosted pink French carnations.

Miss Carol Nelson, of Oakley, Kansas, cousin of the groom registered guests in the church foyer. Her dress was identical to that of the bride's attendants.

A reception followed the wedding in the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Neal Walker presided at the register. Misses Wilma Jo Blankenship of Littlefield and Jan Elzey of Lubbock, and Mrs. Alvin Locker of Lovington, sister-in-law of the bride, assisted with the serving. The bridal table was laid with white lace over satin with a Colonial ruffled skirt, lighted with tall white tapers in crystal candelabra, and centered with the bridesmaids' rose buds arranged around the maid-of-honor's bouquet of red roses. The three tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Strawberry punch and cake were served from crystal appointments.

Numerous out-of-town guests were present, including the brides aunts and uncles: Mr. and Mrs. E. N. McCall and Dolores of Enochs; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kelly of Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Locker and Roy of Muleshoe; and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Robinson of Sudan. Her cousins: Mr. and Mrs. Robert George and children of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Merton Kelly and son; and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Kelly and children all of Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Kendrick and children of Muleshoe; and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Testerman and daughter of Sudan. And her great-aunts and uncles, Mr. and Mrs. Zeke Wise of Portales and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Knight of Fort Sumner.

Members of the groom's family present from out of town included his aunts and uncles, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Nelson and David of Farwell, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack A. Nelson and Roger of Friona; his cousins, Mr. and Mrs.

Fred Smith and sons of Dumas; and Mrs. Esther Pack, Mrs. Mamie Schlumph, and Mrs. Nan Bromegon of Wichita Falls, and his great aunts and uncles, Mrs. Bess Crump of Memphis, Mr. S. W. Brewer of Fort Worth, and Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Cloud of Houston.

Other out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Moore and Lee Ann, Colorado City; Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Campbell of Midland, and Rev. and Mrs. John Abbott and John Marshall and Miss Gloria De Vargo of Espanola, New Mexico.

For a wedding trip to Colorado the bride chose a beige linen suit with matching accessories. With it she wore the gardenia corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will at home at 416 East Thirteenth Street in Littlefield where Mr. Nelson is associated with his father and grandfather in the Luce and Nelson Implement Company.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Nelson are 1962 graduates of Littlefield High School and are Juniors in Texas Tech University where they will resume their studies in September. Mrs. Nelson is a student in

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — State Democratic party leaders here have completed advance preparations for a June 16 Texas party convention which could turn into a doneybrook or go off smooth as silk.

Action will take place at Houston's big coliseum and the swank Shamrock Hilton Hotel convention headquarters.

Delegates and alternate delegates who will cast the 2,834 authorized votes (some counties are sending up to 15 times their authorized strength) will be quartered in 27 hotels scattered all over Houston.

Big job is selecting delegates to the August national presidential nominating convention in Atlantic City and picking Texas national Democratic committee representatives.

Big argument is whether the convention will go on record as favoring the as-yet-unwritten national Democratic platform.

Gov. John Connally, who claims a two-thirds to three-fourths margin of control, prefers that delegates remain silent on the liberal national program. He wants to write his own state party platform at the September state convention along moderate - to - conservative lines. Sen. Ralph Yarborough and State AFL-CIO President Hank Brown argue the convention not only should pledge its support to President Johnson (there is no argument about that) but to his liberal program as well. Some 26 per cent of the convention's seats are in contest. Austin Attorney Will D. Davis, chairman of a State Democratic Executive Committee sub-panel on credentials, has instructed heads of 14 rival delegations from seven counties to send him advance written briefings on their positions.

Hearings will begin Monday (June 15) at 9 a.m. in the Shamrock. Recommendations of Davis' group will be passed along to the full SDEC, which will decide in an 8:30 a.m. Tuesday (June 16) session which delegations will be seated. The convention opens at 10 a.m.

Rival fund-raising events are scheduled Monday (June 15). The pro-Connally SDEC will stage a $10-a-plate dinner to finance the convention. Yarborough's Gulf Coast friends have scheduled an appreciation dinner for the senior senator at the same time. If President Johnson has any preference about how things should go, he apparently kept silent on them during his recent trip to Texas. Aides maintained to the end of the visit he did not discuss politics with his old friend Governor Connally, Senator Yarborough or anybody else.

CONGRESSIONAL REDISTRICTING 8 Texas Legislative Council study committee has set three hearings to gather firsthand advice from the homefolks on how to form 23 Texas congressional districts of equal population. Dates are July 9, July 10 and July 17.

They will be held in Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston. Others apparently will follow. Legislators, political party spokesmen and the general public from counties where the meetings will be held and surrounding counties are invited to attend the sessions and give their views on how best to comply with federal court redistricting orders, said Committee Chairman Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr warned the committee that the 1965 Legislature must solve the congressional redistricting question. Carr said, "The more you base it on any other considerations, the greater risk you run of having to go through the same thing again in the courts." LOAN REGULATIONS ADOPTED — Small loan company advertising of such terms as "lowest costs," "quickest service" and "easy payments" is "misleading" under new state regulations. All advertising claims by lenders are subject to the test of absolute accuracy.

Regulations were adopted after public hearings here and go into effect on July 1. Regulatory Loan Commissioner Frank A. Miskell has announced.

Miskell lists other regulations as: No strong arm collection practices permitted. . . . Companies must keep detailed records showing all charges on loans. . . . Borrowers must be furnished copies of insurance policies purchased in connection with loans. . . . Money collected in premiums must be turned over to the insurance companies promptly.

COURTS SPEAK — State Supreme Court in a Sweetwater case said cities, by ordinance, can establish compulsory retirement ages for policemen.

The high court also: Held oil field truckers don't have to haul pipe at lower rates set by the Railroad Commission in 1962 until a court attack on the rates finally is settled.

Set arguments for July 8 on Dallas County Flood Control District's suit to keep the city of Irving from annexing district lands and on appeal of Dr. Daniel William Scott Jr. of Houston from revocation of his license by State Board of Medical Examiners order.

Court of Criminal Appeals urged to reverse the murder conviction and death sentence of Carl Junior Hackathorn, 19, for slaying Mrs. Bebbie Jewel Nuttycombe, 18, of Dallas.

That court also was called on to order a $100,000 bond reduced to $10,000 on Samuel Spivey, another 19-year-old, charged with robbery by firearms in a bizarre Houston robbery-torture case.

The attorney general's office asked federal court to dismiss state appeal of an interstate commerce commission order permitting higher passenger train fares in Texas.

STATE SCHOOL SITE — The big question of location of a newly approved West Texas State School for the mentally retarded will not be settled until September, according to most recent reports from the Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools. Board's site selection committee, made up of C. E. Bentley of Abilene, former Lt. Gov. Walter Woodul of Austin and Jesse M. Osborn of Muleshoe, has been visiting some 30 West Texas towns which are competing for the school.

BIG SHOPPER — The idea of a $6,900,000 grocery bill would be enough to cause the average housewife (or her husband) to swoon, but that was the size of the State's grocery bill for fiscal 1963. When the overall item is digested, it points to thrifty shopping.

The $6,900,000 fed some 40,000 inmates of state eleemosynary institutions, such as state hospitals, special school, medical schools and correctional institutions. Cost of feeding each person under state care is about $173.68 per person. . . . and that shopping triumph should be enough to make the housewife green with envy.

State Board of Control, "Housekeeper for the State," and its technique of conquering soilage and waste problems to the point that it is looked on as a model by all the other states, Canada and Puerto Rico.

Purchasing Chief Sam G. Cook believes that inmates of Texas institutions are probably the best cared for and best fed of any in the country. He says it is because the state purchasing law lends equal importance to acceptance of the "lowest" and "best" bid from food wholesalers.

AIRPORT AID SOUGHT — Texas Aeronautics Commission is seeking $450,000 in state aid to help build local airports during the next two years.

At budget hearings here Commission spokesmen and representatives of towns over the state argued for a program to insure at least one airport in all 254 counties. Thirty-five now have none.

Commission requests a $1-100,000 budget for the next biennium, including the airport program and $200,700 for an agency headquarters building at the Austin Municipal Airport. All funds except the building cost would come from aircraft fuel taxes.

AG DECISIONS — Attorney General Carr has: Ruled that a county clerk should not accept for recording in the Deed Record a certified copy from another court of record, where the seal of the court has not been affixed thereto.

Held state highway funds cannot be used to finance a Texas travel exhibit at sports and vacation shows under either the laws; Concluded that the party whose candidates for governor received the most votes in the 1962 general election will have first spot on the general election ballot this year.

HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT PLAN — State Highway Commission authorized a $166,000,000 improvement program to get more safety and less congestion on 2,067 miles of primary and state highways.

Of the amount authorized, $131,000,000 is earmarked for construction, and $15,000,000 for right-of-way. About 65 per cent of the cost is expected to come

State Park, Eisenhower State Park and Lake Whitney State Park. . . . Land Commissioner Jerry Sudler reports that ears of 40-652 acres of state-owned land brought $1,730,090 to the University of Texas permanent fund will bid big tract leased in Andrews, Martin and Reagan counties and highest bid on a single parcel in Ward County. . . . Late reports from State Treasurer Jess James shows a drop in state taxes from $8,331,687 for May, 1963 to $7,299,642 for May, 1964. . . . Texas unemployment dropped to 147,000 in April, lowest since October, 1959, reports Texas Employment Commission. . . . In order to protect the legions of un-der-sized brown shiners being driven from the bays by sudden cool weather and local heavy rains, the Parks and Wildlife Commission issued an emergency order, resetting the 45 day closed Gulf shrimp season for the period June 5 through July 19, inclusive. . . . Oil operators in Andrews and Martin counties will be banned by Texas Water Pollution Control Board order from use of unlined surface pits to dispose of salt water but can file for exceptions. . . . Biologists for the Parks and Wildlife Department are urging increased harvest of deer (especially does) during the 1964 hunting season in the mid-coastal area because three years of drought seriously have reduced the range-carrying capacity and caused death by starvation among many deer herds.

Bible Pressure

Supreme Court decisions on prayer and Bible reading in public schools and House Judiciary Committee hearings on the subject have prompted a deluge of mail on Capitol Hill.

As one lawmaker put it: "This is the most mail I have received since coming to Congress, and that includes the day MacArthur was fired."

The mail has put great pressure on the House committee which is charged with consideration of 147 bills that have been introduced on the subject.

Representative Emanuel Celler,
New York Democrat, who chairs the committee, is strongly opposed to any amendment designed to reverse the court's decisions.
He persistently refused to hold hearings but pressure brought to bear by the mail forced him to schedule hearings which began in April.

Another pressure facing Celler is a discharge petition filed by Representative Frank Becker,
New York Republican, the most spirited proponent of amending the Constitution. The petition would discharge the committee from considering the legislation.
Some 165 lawmakers have signed it; 218 are needed.

Celler's tactic is to prolong the hearings with the hope of marshalling his forces and persuading committee members to vote against reporting a measure to the floor. He feels member would have a hard time opposing it if it reaches the floor.

Consensus of opinion in Washington is that the committee will not recommend an amendment.

The committee could recommend adoption of a resolution - expressing the sense of Congress that voluntary prayers and Bible reading in schools is permissible.
