Airport Manager Is FAA Examiner

Bailey County and the surrounding region now has its first Federal Aviation Pilot Examiner in history. The conference of the title went to Morgan Locker, local airport manager and owner of Muleshoe Flying Service. after he was selected for the designation by General Aviation Operations Inspectors.

The appointment was made through the Lubbock Inspector's office Monday, July 6, upon the completion of supervisory tests conducted by Robert Wisner, Burt Rhodes, John Wason, and W. E. Barkell.

Examiner appointments do not come on the proverbial "silver platter" and are designated only when the Federal Aviation Agency recognizes the need for the service in a specific location. Locker filed as candidate for the appointment some four years ago.

To qualify as an examiner, one must hold a commercial single and multi-engine rating, instrument and instrument instructor rating. The Muleshoe man holds all these ratings in addition to glider instructor and single engine sea plane.

In selecting its representatives, FFA obtains persons who are recognized a outstanding pilots in their area, and whose decisions command the respect of the flying public. These merits are required to insure that the qualifications, ability, performance, and impartiality of all designated, examiners are above reproach.

Locker, a veteran in aviation of 26 years, was required to

NEW PRICING IN COTTON ANNOUNCED

The announcement by the Secretary of Agriculture that "beginning August 1 the price quoted for the base quality of cotton, Middling 1 - inch, in each of the 15 designated bona fide spot markets will be the price at which this cotton is traded before Payments In Kind (PIKs) are made on the cotton" is certainly good news to producers.

In fact, keeping these quotations at the domestic level (before PIKs) instead of having them fall to the world level (after PIKs) was the primary objective of producer groups who fought to have PIKs made to the last handler rather than the first buyer. It was feared that should the PIKs be issued to the first buyer, all price quotations would be pulled down to the world price level, placing producers at a considerable disadvantage before the public and in legislative dealings.

It was announced on June 3 that the PIKs would be available to domestic users or other handlers in trade channels after the cotton leaves the hands of the farmer. Therefore, since all cotton will enter trade channels at the higher level, this will make prices available on a large number of transactions at the higher level, and these prices can be used by Quotations Committees and the Department of Agriculture in determining quotations.

Cotton Quotations are published daily by the Agricultural Marketing Service's Cotton Division, and if prices from which PIKs have already been deducted are used in developing these quotations, they will be adjusted upward to reflect the price before the PIK was made.

Salesman's Script

TORONTO (AP) — The Better Business Bureau in Toronto has a copy of a prepared spell that one door-to-door firm gives its salesmen.

The script tells the salesman everything from when to laugh to when to start a sentence disarmingly with "Golly, Mrs. Jones. . . ."

It lists 27 standard objections the customer might have to buying the product and 27 answers for the salesman to use.

Even the recently bereaved are not safe. The salesmen are told (Instruction No. 16) to say "We've had a death in our family too, so I know how you feel." Thomas Rimmer of the Toronto branch emphasizes that 95 per cent of businesses are legitimate. What concerns the Better Business Bureau is the remaining five per cent which go on year after year making a profit through shady operations.

The prepared spiel is common in the United States as well as Canada. The pitch is rehearsed

JOHN MOORE VISITS RELATIVES IN N. M.

John W. Moore returned this week after spending 4 days visiting his mother, Mrs. J. R. Moore, in Espanola, New Mexico. John reports that it rained most of the time he was there and he didn't get to do any fishing but the rest of the visit was very enjoyable.

Rimmer says you should be wary if the salesman says he's working his way through college, getting popularity point for a trip to Europe taking a survey, or if he offers bonuses, gifts, cut prices, something for nothing.

Their calls are not made at random. They know the best time. They generally choose a time of day when a housewife is busy and might sign up.

Once a contract is signed, he says, only a lawyer can help.

At one time the appointment came, close to being a reality when the Amarillo - Midland area was consolidated and the main office moved to Lubbock. It was only about six months ago that the FAA decided to make another station. Albuquerque and El Paso are the nearest examining station after leaving the Lubbock district.

This is the first appointment released in this vicinity in a number of years.

"I feel we are very fortunate to have Muleshoe as an examination center," Locker said, "and I will do everything in my power to meet the high standard set forth by the Federal Aviation Agency to maintain it as such and on the level required and in complete compliance toward the safety of flying and issuance of license to qualified pilots."

Again, Muleshoe will be put on the map in a much as Locker's certificate of authority will be registered with the FAA examiner's agenda and sent out to all airports designating Muleshoe as a fixed base for an examination station.

Palo Duro Canyon State Park

Etched deeply in the high plains of the Panhandle, just south of Amarillo, lies a spectacular gorge, widely renowned for its scenic beauty. This is Palo Duro Canyon, a great 15,000 acre state park of Texas. You enter it on a road which winds for miles along the bottom of the vast gorge. You see many remarkable formations such as the "Lighthouse" and "Balanced Rock" which have been formed by centuries of erosion which created the Canyon. As you drive slowly along the Canyon's beauty is enhanced by constant changes in delicate coloring. Coronado explored the Canyon in 1541, and in 1876 Col. Goodnight drove the first wagon train down a huge rock slide into its great gulf. Palo Duro Canyon is easily reached on major highways through many of our towns, and is a high spot in places to go and things to see in General Telephone Country.

Holmes To Attend A&M Fire School

Farm Bureau is sponsoring the attendance of some 140 volunteer firemen from 59 counties at the 35th annual Texas Firemen's Training School July 19-24 on the campus of Texas A&M University. Among them will be J. W. (Shorty) Holmes, Muleshoe.

Conducted by the Engineering Extension Service in cooperation with the Texas Education Agency, the school offers latest information on fire protection and prevention as well as fire-fighting techniques. Volunteer firemen sponsored by Farm Bureau will attend two special conferences on rural fire protection in addition to regular courses in the school.

County Farm Bureaus and the Texas Farm Bureau Mutual Insurance Co. of Waco pay all except $5.50 of the $57.50 tuition, which covers meals and lodging. This is the second year for the farm organization to provide training opportunities for volunteer firemen from small communities.

Texas Farm Bureau President C.H. DeVaney of Waco said this is a part of the farm organization's year-round rural fire protection program.

Other members of the local Volunteer Fire Department plan to attend.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm advises politician about television this week.

Dear editor:
Successful politicians as I understand it are supposed to be men who figure out what the people think before they know it themselves and then let them in on it, but I'm not sur this is always true.

Also, a politician is supposed to keep his ear to the ground, and maybe he does, but this may not be very helpful these days when half the people live above the ground floor.

I was thinking about this after I read an article telling about how the politicians, both Republican and Democratic, had been worrying about what they could do to live up their conventions, in order to hold the television audience.

Here we are, they said, with two or three days and nights of nation-wide, exclusive television and how can we be sure we can hold our audience?

Whately Aboard Navy Cruiser On Training Mission

USS PROVIDENCE (FHINC) —George S. Whately, seaman USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Q. Whately of 914 West Second St., Muleshoe, recently participated aboard the Navy guided missile cruiser USS Providence in a combined sea - assault and airborne combat training exercise called "LIGTAS" May 12 to June 10 under the direction of the South-East Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) in the Philippines.

"LIGTAS", meaning "Saved" or "Rescued" in the Philippine language, was sponsored by the United States and hosted by the Republic of the Philippines.

All member nations participated in the exercise which was part of a SEATO general counter offensive to be used if an "enemy" should invade South-East Asia and gain control. The exercise tested the effectiveness of the SEATO forces to assault and regain control of area behind the "enemy" advance.

The operation was designed to train allied force in the planning and execution of this type of assault. Closer working relationships and understanding among member nations was an important objective of this training.

"LIGTAS", the second training exercise this year and the 27th since 1956, was part of a long-term schedule announced by SEATO Headquarters in November 1963, to maintain joint military defense.

Commissioner of Health

AUSTIN — Are you under the impression that lightning never strikes the same place twice?

It so, you are sadly mistaken, and that mistake could cost you your life. Statistics show that lightning can and does strike the same place more than one time.

As a case in point, the Empire State Building is struck many times each year. One summer it was struck 15 times in 15 minutes.

A single bolt from one of the estimated one million annual thunderstorms is sufficient to cause injury, death or property damage.

Are you safe in an automobile? Yes if the auto is all steel. The steel shell of a car will lead the electrical charge down to the wheels, and from there the charge will jump to the ground. But a convertible does not afford protection.

If a thunderstorm develops

The greatest number of injuries and deaths occur to persons who are in rural or open areas. Campers, golfers and swimmers are most vulnerable. In an open area lightning will usually strike the highest object. Many people will run under a tree when caught in a storm, exposing themselves to great danger, as lightning often strike lone trees.

The bolt travels down the moist interior of the tree, building up extreme heat and pressure which causes the tree to explode. Also, as the electrical charge travels down the tree small streamers may depart from the main bolt, jumping to nearby persons or objects. Many golfers and others have been killed or injured in just this manner.

However a person standing in a large open area where there are no tall objects are equally vulnerable to a lightning strike.

Passengers in boats and swimmers are particularly good target for lightning. Water is a good conductor of electricity spreading the current in all directions until the power is depleted. Consequently, many fish are killed and persons are either killed or injured.

Are you safe in an automobile? Yes if the auto is all steel. The steel shell of a car will lead the electrical charge down to the wheels, and from there the charge will jump to the ground. But a convertible does not afford protection.

Four Rural Auto Accidents Here

The Highway Patrol investigated four rural traffic accidents in Bailey County during the month of June, according to Sergeant D. S. Lawson, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for two persons injured and an estimated property damage of $1,275.00.

The rural traffic accident summary in Bailey County for the first six months of 1964 shows a total of 24 crashes resulting in six persons killed, two person injured, and an estimated property damage of $20,752.00.

Mrs. J. W. Crim is in a Colorado Springs hospital and will possibly have surgery this week.

while you are out in the open, head for a building and stay inside until the storm is over. If there is no building available, head for a grove of trees, but avoid a lone tree. In an open area, lie down until the storm passes.

Area Crop Report

Fleahoppers are becoming heavier in some areas below the Caprock. Increasing numbers of counties are reporting light bollworm populations. Light weevil populations are appearing in many fields below the Cap. THIRPS. Very light to light thrips populations are reported from Deaf Smith, Floyd, Crosby, Hale, Garza, Bailey, Lynn, Hall, Wilbarger, Jones, Nolan and Dickens. Moderate to heavy populations are reported from areas of Briscoe and Jones counties. Most cotton which suffered damage earlier is now growing off well. Thrips present little or no problems in most cotton at this time. FLEAHOPPERS. Fleahopper populations are generally light and scattered over most of the area. However, buildups are reported in several counties. Light populations are reported from Crosby, Hale, Gaines, Garza, Lynn, Nolan and Dickens counties. Moderate infestations with counts up to 20 percent are reported in Briscoe, Dawson, Hall, Wilbarger, and Jones counties. Control programs for fleahoppers should be based upon careful checking. Both the number of fleahoppers present and damage should be considered. If the bottom crops being lost to fleahoppers, control will pay. However, expense will be encountered if populations are allowed to build up to high levels before control is started. Boll weevil infestations have been observed in two areas above the Caprock during the last 10 days. A few punctured squares were found this week in a field approximately 7 miles south of Crosby in Crosby County. These light weevil populations now appearing above the Caprock should be controlled at once in order to prevent a buildup and spread of the population later in the season. Most of these early populations are confined to fairly small areas and can be controlled without spraying the entire field. In order to avoid the heavy population and late season migration which occurred last year, good control measures must be carried out above and below the Caprock. The success of a diapause control program this fall may depend on how well weevil infestations are contained during the season. BOLLWORMS. Light bollworm populations are reported from Crosby, Gaines, Garza, Hall, Wilbarger, Jones, Nolan, Midland and Dickens counties. In general populations are still light although control has been started in a few areas. Beneficial insects are present in large numbers in most fields which haven't been sprayed and in many cases have suppressed early bollworm hatches. Heavy bollworm pressure usually begins during the latter part of July. Producers should be making regular and thorough field inspections for bollworms. Beneficial insects can not be depended upon to control heavy bollworm populations. OTHER INSECTS. Heavy grasshopper damage is reported in some fields of cotton in southeast Briscoe County.

For control recommendations, please refer to L-508, Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects in the High Plains and Trans - Pecos areas of Texas, to L - 218 Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects - both published by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Copies of these guides may be picked up at your county agricultural agents office. The information used in this "Cotton Insect Survey Release" was compiled from reports received from county agents, vocational agriculture teachers, personnel of Texas A&M University System, branches of USDA commercial cotton inspectors, chemical companies and others. We hope that everyone who does any field checking will send us a report of the situation as he finds it.

Shredding May Be Advisable

COLLEGE STATION, June — Hail damage to grain sorghum can be very devastating but it is sometimes possible to produce a crop from the regrowth if the damaged stalks are shredded, agronomist, Texas A&M University.

Success of this regrowth crop in the central and south central portion of the state, says the agronomist, depends primarily on these factors: insect damage, temperature and soil moisture, and disease.

Insect damage results primarily from the sorghum midge. The larva or maggot of his destructive fly feeds on the internal content of the seed, causing the grain heads to appear "blighted" or "blasted."

The first crop is usually harvested around July 15 in the Angleton area. If damaged by hail, the crop, shredded in the bloom stage, will require another 30 to 60 days before reaching this stage again says Spears. Although occurrence of the midge in damaging numbers cannot be predicted, it may be serious if soil moisture is adequate for host plants such as Johnsongrass or Sudangrass.

Spears warns that precautions should be taken to detect the midge and that promises of a good yield may warrant the use of an insecticide as a control measure. Among the approved Trithion, dazinon, toxaphene and parathion. Recommended instructions should be followed in their application and all restrictions should be carefully observed. Temperature and soil moisture conditions. Heat will often limit yields from a regrowth of sorghum as will poor moisture, comments Spears.
