Airport Land In Real Estate Sale

Alien Haley, Muleshoe, has purchased a tract of land adjacent to the Plainview highway running approximately from the Lenau addition across the rear of the airport buildings to the curve on Highway 70.

According to the Warranty Deed, $1,000.00 was paid to E. K. Warren by Alien Haley for the land described as follows:

A tract out of the SW-4, Section 53, Block Y, W. D. and F. W. Johnson Subdivision No. 2, Bailey County, Texas and further described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point in the easterly right-of-way line of U. S. Highway No. 70, which point is 40' Northeast of Lot 12, Block 1, Lenau Subdivision to the City of Muleshoe, Bailey County, Texas;

THENCE in a Northeasterly and Easterly direction around curve along said right-of-way line to a point in the Southeast boundary line of State Highway No. 28;

THENCE in a Southwesterly direction and along said State Highway No. 28 right-of-way line to a point, which point is 40' Northeast of the Northeast corner of Lot 10, Block No. 1, Lenau Subdivision, Muleshoe, Texas;

THENCE in a Northwesterly direction parallel and with the Northerly boundary line of Avenue F to the place of beginning.

The City of Muleshoe presents a well, city water tank and pump house on the described lands, according to Mayor W. B. LeVeque.

It seems to be consensus of opinion among City officials that the land sold to Haley by Warren had previously been sold to the City of Muleshoe in the original airport deal between the City and Warren.

A survey of the land is being planned by the City.

August Bond Sales Announced

M. D. Gunstream, Chairman of the Bailey County Savings Bonds Committee, announced that the county's August Savings Bond sales totaled $5,790.00. Sales for the first eight months of this year were $40,619.00 which represents 46.6 per cent of the 1964 sales goal.

Total sales in Texas for the first eight months of the year were $100,643,333 or 67 per cent of the state goal. Savings Bond sales have increased approximately $900,000 compared to the same period in 1963.

"In a recent brochure the Treasury Department stressed the tax advantages of buying E Bonds. While the interest is subject to Federal income tax, the reporting of E Bond interest may be deferred until the bonds are cashed or reach final maturity. This means that the owner of the bonds can choose to cash his bonds in years of lower income. This fact makes the E Bond particularly attractive to the late investor and for those persons either planning retirement or supplementing an existing retirement program." Chairman Gunstream stated.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Everett and a sister Jan Everett all of Muleshoe.

Pallbearers were Bobby Joe Tucker, Gary Tucker, Joe Phillips, David Cresap, Jack Eichenberger and Fred Eichenberger.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses without setting the Viet Nam problem this week.

Dear editor: I guess you've noticed that Viet Nam has crowded out the farm problem as an issue in the Presidential race and I think I know the reason why.

Nobody knows the answer to either problem but Viet Nam is a lot further away and somebody has the answer to a bunch of problems, the one furthest away is the one to pick.

Speaking of the farm problem, I read the other day that a political speaker campaigning for one of the main candidates said his man didn't have the answer to the farm problem but if elected he would appoint a committee of leading farmers to sit down and figure out a workable program.

I don't believe the candidate knew this man was going to say that.

In the first place, if any farmers, leading ones or not, knew what kind of program would work they'd have suggested it long ago. The last thing a farmer would want to do is offer a solution to the farm problem himself. It's one thing to wake up every morning mad at Washington and another thing to wake up mad at yourself.

Why do you think the Secretary of Agriculture is always somebody who's not a farmer? You're not going to get a farmer to go in there and hunt for an answer in Washington when he couldn't find one on his farm.

You take me, I don't know what the answer to Viet Nam is, but I'd rather try to tell you than to tell you what the answer is to the farm problem. It's true I don't know what's going on in Viet Nam, but what makes you think I know what's going on on this Johnson grass farm?

Things are a lot more comfortable when you leave the Viet Nam problem to the farmers and the farm problem to Viet Nam.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

DRAMA IN THE COURTROOM We've all seen a great many courtroom dramas in the movies, on the stage or on television. Too many, some may say, but there's no denying the drama to be found in the courtroom. A theater seat or a comfortable chair in front of the TV screen is the closest many of us ever get to a courtroom. It's from such a vantage point that most of our ideas come today about court procedures and how a trial is carried on. Stage and screen trials normally present only the highlights and take many shortcuts in the interest of brevity and audience appeal. Often an attorney is pictured making objection after objection to the questions and answers as witnesses testify. He makes these objections vehemently, pompously, or sarcastically — and often in a voice louder than necessary — according to the demands of his role, and depending upon whether he's on the side of the villain or the hero. The judge then raps for order, and booms out, "sustained," or "overruled," and those of us in the audience usually are at a loss over why he made his decision. In a real courtroom it's true that attorneys protest against what's being done or said, as a means of assuring a fair trial, and the judge must allow or disallow each objection. The principals in the real courtroom are just practicing common sense when they follow the "rules of evidence" in placing facts before the judge and jury. If there's to be a fair trial and a just verdict, there must be true facts.

Evidence in the courtroom may take several forms, but two are most common. Answers to questions from a witness under oath are the best-known type of evidence. Exhibits — written records, letters, "the murder weapon" and other physical objects having to do with the case — are the next most common. "Depositions, or written statements, from a witness who for some reason is unable to appear personally in court, are sometimes admitted as evidence in certain cases.

Perhaps you've heard: "A trial is not a contest of learning, skill, or tact between lawyers, but a proceeding to find out the truth according to the evidence received and the law as explained by the judge."

That's about the size of it and that's the way each of us wants it to be if ever we are placed on trial or taken to court for even so much as a speeding ticket.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Today's Meditation

"John - As a Man"

Scripture Reading: Acts 3:1-11; 4:13-22

We say that a youth becomes a man at twenty - one. Yet, some have said that a man is only an approximation of himself until he is thirty. When Jesus ascended, John was about thirty years of age.

John shared in the experience of Pentecost (Acts 2:1-8). A tongue of fire stood above his head. After Pentecost, John was filled with the spirit of God. The religion of his youth merged in the new experience. All that had been kindled by his contact with the Master burst into flame.

By the influence of God's spirit John became a man of strong conviction. They called the Apostles BOLD men. That's what great religion does to a man; it puts his feet on solid rock. When crisis comes he says, "I believe in God!" When the earth shakes he says, "I trust in Christ!"

By the influence of God's spirit John became a man of noble vision. By the influence of the spirit of God John became a man of power. By the influence of God's spirit John became a man of witness for Christ.

When John met Christ deep down in his heart, he became a man. What manner of man are you?

Here's why it's smart business to harvest your cotton with a HESSTON V-22

PROFITS INCREASE WITH THIS BRUSH HARVESTER
(some call it a flexible roll stripper)

Whether you call it a brush harvester as Hesston does... or a flexible roll stripper, as some others do... the Hesston V-22 Cotton Harvester with its unique brushing action gets more cotton and cleaner cotton than the best solid roll stripper available. Hesston works in cotton making up to three bales; it will strip shoulder-high, irrigated cotton, and it has proven its efficiency in open and storm-proof varieties, rank stalks, and bumble-bee cotton. The reason is Hesston brush action. The two-row V-22 has rotating nylon brushes with alternating rubber paddles. It is available in either the trailer model or new 1,000-lb. capacity basket model with exclusive front dumping... hydraulically. The vertical air stream elevator has green boll separating efficiency up to 97%. Not only is the V-22 profitable, but it is a trouble-free machine to own. It is available for a variety of tractors. Compare the V-22 with any other. You'll see the difference in the field; you'll receive the difference at the gin.

Dear Fellow Texan:
It has been my privilege to serve as chairman of the Senate for the past five years. Our committee has advanced forty-two bills through the Senate, which have now become law.
I attended the great American Legion National Convention held recently in Dallas, and reported on some of these bills that we have passed — laws expanding the rights of veterans, their widows and orphans, laws broadening Le housing, education and hospitalization rights, and creating new rights for disabled veterans and orphans of the Korean conflict, and those killed or disabled in Viet Nam.
One of the best known and most important of these bills, advanced to final passage by our committee, is R 8009.
This is the Nursing Home Care Bill, which opens 4,000 beds for nursing home care for veterans. My committee also advanced to final passage a law expanding the War Orphans' Educational Act. We extended it to children of veterans who died as a result of disabilities incurred on active duty. We extended this educational assistance also to children of permanently and totally disabled veterans.
Both the nursing home care and war orphans' extensions had the strong support of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. These organizations, the Disabled American Veterans, and other groups, have played an important role in building grass roots support for these bills.
With jurisdiction over veterans hospitals, medical care and treatment of veterans, our subcommittee seeks to provide veterans with the best medical benefits possible.
It was my privilege to author the bill extending the home, business and farm loan guaranty program for veterans of World War II, as well as the bill which extended the eligibility of World War II veterans for GI loan guaranty benefits.

I am continuing to work for any Cold War GI Bill. The five million Cold War GI's are the forgotten Americans. Only 44 per cent of our young men serve in this Cold War. The 56 per cent who don't serve are able to get ahead of the veterans in education or in jobs, while the service men are delayed. The fair thing to do is to pass The Cold War GI Bill as an act of justice. These are some of the things we have achieved in Congress and some of the unfinished work.

Texans Have Major Roles in National County Agent Meet

Texans played major roles in program activities connected with the 49th annual meeting of the National Association of County Agricultural Agents. The meeting was held in New Orleans, La., October 4-8. Travis County Agricultural Agent Elmo Cook, president of the Association, was the busiest of the 2,000 or more county agents, their friends and co-workers in attendance. Cook and other association officers arranged under the theme "The County Agent and Agribusiness" a program which they believe gives those attending a real insight into scientific and economic trends in agriculture. Agribusiness accounts for 40 percent of all employment in the nation.

President Cook has traveled extensively during the past year representing the association and participating in meetings and discussions vital to work of agents with farmers and businessmen related with agriculture. Two other Texas county agents, John E. Bursleson of El Paso County and A. S. Milikien, Dal-

Small Grain Seed Needs Protection

Chemical seed protectants can prevent many disease problems on small grain caused by fungal and bacterial organisms on the seed coat.

With the fall planting season here, Wendell Horne, Extension plant pathologist, advises growers who save their own seed or buy untreated seed to apply such protectants before planting to insure a vigorous and healthy stand. Most commercial seed companies use a seed treatment.

Seed-borne fungi and bacteria destroy the seed in the soil or attack seedlings as they struggle through the soil. Such diseases are referred to as seedling blights, says Horne, and often result in a significant loss of stand.

Mercury-type seed treatments such as Cerasan and Panoger have been highly effective as protectants for small grain seed. These materials may be applied in a rotary seed treater made from a 50-gallon drum or they may be applied with machinery devised for that purpose.

Some fungi are also borne within the seed and are not affected by chemical treatment. Loose smut of wheat and barley is an example of this type of

The Eiffel Tower was financed by subscription, cost about $1,500,000 paid for itself in less than two years and has never been in the red since.

In modern dairy barns, grain stored in large bins over the milking parlor is metered out in exact amounts to each cow as she is milked.

On the markets and prospects for markets scene, F. Sadler Love, Secretary - Treasurer of American Textile Manufacturers Institute, says this: "The August figures for cotton consumption, just released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, show that for the month of August - just last month - cotton consumption was running at a rate which was more than two thousand bales a day over August of last year. The current USDA estimate of consumption for the 1964 - 1965 cotton year is a million bales over the figure for last year, now 9.6 million bales as compared with 8.6 million bales last year."

He made that statement September 30 as a part of the principal address to about 300 people attending the Plains Cotton Growers annual meeting, and he added that, "It is too soon to make long - range claims for the new program, and we are aware that there are negative factors, including cotton stocks that are too high, but the idea we want to convey is simply this: the textile mills see new hope in cotton's future, and this hope is being reflected in increased consumption." The address was liberally spiced with humor and presented in language that cotton producers could appreciate and readily understand, and many of those present expressed their appreciation for it.

Roy Forkner, cotton producer and ginner of Lubbock was installed as the new Plains Cotton Growers President; John D. Smith of Littlefield as the Vice President, and L. D. (Don) Anderson of Crosbivton as the new Secretary - Treasurer. We look forward to continued progress through the 1964 - 65 year under the leadership of these new officers and the new directors.

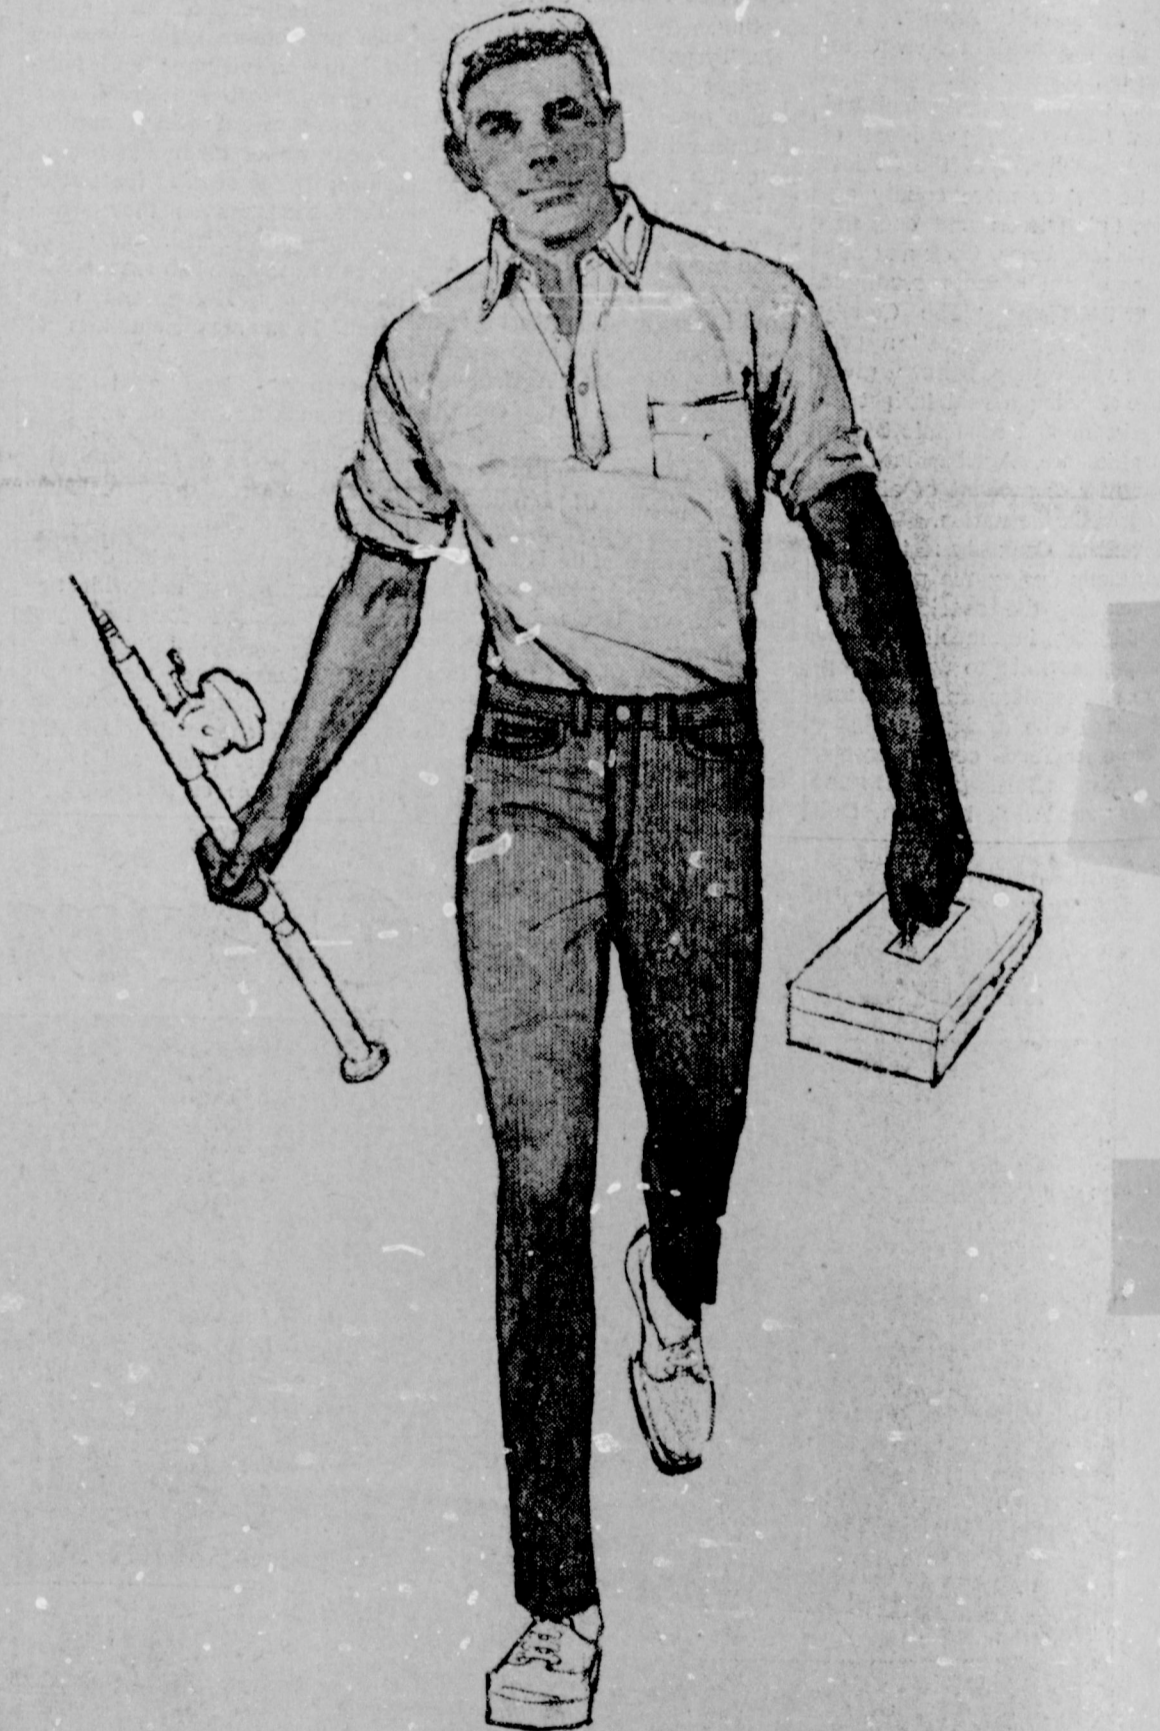

Continuing on the pleasant side, the boll weevil spraying program is proceeding at a much faster pace now that the weather has improved. Under favorable conditions, The 12 plans now in operation can cover from 40 to 45 thousand acres in a single day which would allow coverage of the entire control zone in from 5 to 7 days. Inclement weather prevailed however, during the first two weeks of operations and it has taken slightly longer than anticipated to complete the first phase. Spraying for the second time got underway October 1 in the Alton area and officials report that the program is proceeding accord-

The Department has, however, given assurances that all precaution will be taken to prevent our fears of marketing disruption from becoming reality. Following a meeting with cotton producer representatives from across the belt, U. S. L. A. officials said that sales prices will be set to encourage movement of 1964 crop into export and domestic consumption through normal commercial channels rather than from CCC inventory, within limit of legal requirements. It is sincerely hoped that the Department will be able to administer the program in such a way that the full intent of this statement will be carried out.

The Cleveland Browns had the best exhibition game record among Eastern Conference Football League teams this summer. They won four out of five games.

Yankee reserve infielder Phil Linz and Met pitcher Tracy Stallard shared the same New York apartment during the baseball season.

The Phillies beat the Mets 12 times in 18 games this year.

SH - H D Tips

Food stores may be a jungle to some shoppers who fight their way through once a week and have a miserable time doing so other shoppers look forward with friendly anticipation to the shopping trip and thoroughly enjoy it.

Oddly enough, it is often the shopper who dislikes shopping that takes the longest time, has no shopping list, and ends up with the most "impulse" purchases in the shopping cart. Impulse items need not be a problem to the informed shopper she knows where to look for items on her shopping list and won't be as easily attracted to the message of the impulse purchase.

The difference in these two shoppers is mainly a matter of planning. A shopping list of foods needed, arranged in the same order as the foods appear in the store, helps save time. And chances are that the shopper will arrive home with all the items she went after.
