Farmer's Given Tax Options

"The way farmers fulfill the 1964 Income Tax Regulations will determine their net farm income for 1964", says John J. Seibert, Area Extension Farm Management Specialist, Lubbock. "Changes in this year's internal revenue code can be beneficial to the tax payer where certain qualifications are met."

The payment rate schedule on taxable income has decreased from that of 1963. This means less tax is due for those who have the same taxable income as 1963.

Farm people over 65 years of age can have an additional tax advantage if they have sold their personal residence during 1964. Part of the gain can be excluded from taxable income if the sales price exceeded $20,000, or all of the gain can be excluded if the sales price was under $20,000. This exclusion applies to a one-time sale of residence after the taxpayer is 65 years of age and if the home was used as a residence at least 5 of the last 8 years preceding the sale.

Taxpayers sixty-five years of age or over may deduct all medicine and drug expenses from income for tax purposes. Prior to 1964, the amount deductible was that amount in excess of 1 percent of the adjusted gross income.

Individuals with large fluctuations in income may be eligible for the income-averaging provision. If "averageable income" is more than $3000 (excluding capital gains, wagering gains and income from gifts and bequests, etc.) a taxpayer's tax liability may be reduced.

The "blackout" period experienced by alcoholics is not a period of unconsciousness. It is similar to amnesia or loss of memory.

Delegates Enjoyed Hawaiian Trip

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The following is a continuation of a story of a Hawaiian trip made by three Bailey County women who attended the National Home-maker's Convention and made sight seeing tours of the Island. They were Mrs. Gordon Murrah, Mrs. Ceila Hicks and Mrs. Jack Little.)

On Saturday, October 31, the women took the HATS aerial tour of the eight Hawaiian Islands.

Leaving Honolulu at 6:10 a.m. they boarded the plane on the "AP" island tour with the Captain and second officer of the craft narrating the legends and major scenic highlights of the trip.

From the air they saw Pineapple Island and "Island of Death". Approaching the coast of Hawaii on the Kona side, they landed for breakfast at the Kona Inn and a limousine tour of Kailua Kona.

Airborne again, they viewed Captain Cook's Monument, The City of Refuge, Black Sands Beach, Volcano Hauna Loa, the Lava Desert Kilauea Volcano and its awesome fire pit "Halemaumau".

The second landing was made at Hilo and were met at the plane by a limousine and Hawaiian guide. Here, they toured the Orchid Gardens, Paintbox Falls, the Fern Forrest, Tidal Wave damaged area and other points of interest.

Departing, they flew over the makaua Coast bound for the island of Maui for a view of Hotel Hana Mauo, then along the Waterfall Coastline where many waterfalls poured from the mountains sheer bluff and disappeared before it reached the ground due to high winds, and continued on to Garden Islands of Kauai where the next spot was

While there, they made a motorboat excursion to the Fern Grotto or Evergreen Cave, and then continued their aerial trip south from Kauai to the Islands no one sees, Mithau, the Forbidden Island. There lives the only remaining group of pure Hawaiians who are not exposed to the world. From the air the tourists could see the quaint villages, salt lakes and wagon trails, fully 200 years old; its inhabitants said not to have known World War II ever came about or any other happenings of the universe.

There is no communication from the outside to the island.

While staying at the Hawaiian Hilton Hotel during the Convention days, the Muleshoe women were as alarmed as native Hawaiians when a torpedo ran aground on the beach. A 10½ foot long torpedo - shaped object churned the water and made its way onto the beach just below the hotel.

The Coast Guard said the object, a "target simulator" was accidentally launched from the cutter Vering Strait when it was seven miles off shore.

Due to malfunction of unknown origin, the target simulator veered off course and ran aground.

The motor kept running for about five minutes. It was spotted by Dr. Richard Morton, Oronia, Calif. The Muleshoe women said the Coast Guard and police officers cordoned off the area and halted the unwelcome object away amid panic and confusion.

Another tour of interest was a visit to Pepee Harbour where they saw the U. S. S. Arizona and U. S. S. Nevada and the Monument built on the deck of the Arizona for those who died aboard.

Mrs. Little, Mrs. Murrah and Mrs. Hicks returned to Lubbock by jet impressed with time, very jet impressed with the scenic state of Hawaii and their experiences while there.

LIBRARY TRAVEL

By GEORGIA PENA, LIBRARIAN
Now books have been arriving at a steady rate for the High Plains Library Bookmobile from the Texas State Library in Austin.

If any of you young readers are wanting to make some marionettes for the Tule Tide season that is fast approaching, come to see us next time we are in your community and see the new book "Marionettes, Easy To Make, Easy To Use" by Edith Acklerly.

"Keen Teens," "101 Ways To Make Money" by Stookie Allen tells industrious teenagers how one boy went into business making chairs out of barrels; how a girl created a successful business making trout flies; how another boy figured out a way to extract gold from sea water, and how many other teens are corraling the cash!

For the nurses - to be "Trudy Wells, R. N. Pediatric Nurse" will provide an insight of how rewarding the nursing profession can be.

Now for the adults who are a good "who done it" - Carolyn Butler's "The Murdering Kind" should provide thrills a plenty. In this same caliber is "The Misty Curtain" by Lucy Cores.

Take a select handful of cats, dogs, roosters, snakes, and kids, kids, kids. Mix well, adding one slightly harried housewife with a delightful sense of the incongruous, and you have the stuff laughs are made of. Peg Bonland's "Don't Panic Mother" gives one a look at causes of panic for every mother, but which she sees for what they are: tempests in teapots and very funny ones at that.

Among the new assortment of books just received is a book which we have recently had several requests for, "The Spy Who Came In From The Cold."

Several of our other new titles are:

"Accent On April" by Betty Cavanna,
"The Dog Who Came To Stay" by Hal Borland,
"Wuthering Heights" by Emily Jane Bronte and "The Red Badge of Courage" by Stephen Crane.

City Police report the arrest of one for drunk and one for theft.

Weather Lowers Cotton Quality

The rain and extremely heavy dews the past week lowered the quality of the cotton classed at the three South Plains Classing Offices of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, according to W. Palmer, in charge of the Lubbock Office.

The harvest was continuing to gain momentum until interrupted by the mid-week rains. Samples received at the three U. S. D. A. Classing Offices at Lubbock, Brownfield and Lamesa declined sharply on Friday and Saturday. Sample receipts at the three offices were averaging 15,000 daily early in the week.

The U. S. D. A. Classing Offices at Lubbock, Brownfield and Lamesa classed 57,670 samples during the week ending Saturday, November 7th. This brought the season's total for the three offices to 164,809. At this date last year the three offices had classed 236,030 samples.

During the past week, approximately 60 percent of the cotton classed at the Lubbock Classing Office were in the White grades with 30 percent of all cotton classed being Middling or better. This was a sharp decline in the percentage of the higher grades from the previous week when 51 percent of the cotton classed was Middling or better. During the past week, approximately 40 percent of the cotton classed was in the Light Spotted and Spotted category with Middling Light Spotted making up 27 percent of the total.

Average staple length declined slightly again the past week. The average length was 40.3 thirty - seconds of an inch compared to 39.4 thirty - seconds of an inch one week earlier. During the past week 40 percent of all cotton classed at the Lubbock Office was J-32 and longer. The previous week 45 percent was J-32 and longer.

Microaire readings continued to decline slightly but were still very good. Eighty - eight percent of all cotton "miked" in the Lubbock Office was in the desirable category of 3.5 and better.

The U. S. D. A.'s Agricultural Marketing Service reported continued increased tadin gin new crop cotton prices for White grades ranged from CCC loan levels to 55 points over the loan. Light Spotted grades were still in greatest demand and were bringing from 20 to 130 points over CCC loan rates.

Prices quoted in the Lubbock market for the most predominant qualities were 28.75 for Middling 15 - 16, 29.35 for Middling 31 - 32 and 30.25 for Middling 1 - 4 inch, 27.65 for Strict Low Middling 15 - 16, 28.10 for Strict Low Middling 31 - 32 and 28.70 for Strict Low Middling 1 - 4 inch. (Continued From Page 1)

The Methodist families of this first organization in the Bailey county Methodist Church were: W. M. Wilterding, John Wilterding, R. B. Canfield, J. T. Lindsay, Elmer Grush, a Mrs. Miles, Edward Barnhill, A. C. Gaede and Mrs. W. H. Kistler. The last two still live in Bailey County and attend the Muleshoe First Methodist church. Miss Dottie Wilterding, who attends the YL Methodist church, was the first organist and was Sunday School teacher for many years. John Metzler, who ran the store and was first postmaster at Hurley, led the singing at the Community Church while Miss Dottie played the organ.

MOVE TO MULESHOE
In 1913 the coming of the Santa Fe Railroad brought many changes. One was the formation of a new town named Muleshoe and when the railroad did not pass through Old Hurley, the land company decided to move in the spring of 1913 the Community Church building down to Muleshoe, where the train stopped.

The heavy timbers made it a terrific task to move the oak structure through sand so deep the teams could not get through with such a load to James, so it was left in the sand until Muleshoe was established.

As the town and community grew so grew the church. The building was remodeled many times -- in 1929 it was stuccoed; larger -- and in 1942 the recently moved Fellowship Hall was built.

The ministers who have served Methodism here are: V. H. Trammel, J. P. Swinney, A. H. Hussey, W. M. Pierce, D. C. Ross, C. A. Duncan, Raymond Van Pandt, George S. Fort, Preston Florence, I. D. Farmer, Payne, W. B. Hicks, E. C. Raney, J. F. Luker, R. S. Watkins, Jim Sharp, R. N. Huckabee, George Turrentine, T. C. Willott, W. B. Vaughn, T. F. Craft, H. W. Hanks, Clarence Stephens, Edwin L. Hall, Horace Brooks, and the present pastor J. Frank Peery.

For the groundbreaking ceremony, the scripture reading was given by Stanley Black and the benediction was given by I. W. Haney. Members of the building committee are Sam Fox, Roy Whitt, Myron Pool, II, Mrs. Bernard Phelps, Mrs. Ray Edwards, Mrs. Pat Bobo, and Horace Edwards.

Plans Announced For Taking Bailey Agriculture Census

Plans for taking the 1964 Census of Agriculture in Bailey County were announced today by Marvin Vann, newly appointed census crew leader for the county.

The job will be done in three stages, the crew leader said. First will come recruitment and training of enumerators to count all farms in the county. About one enumerator for each 150 farms will be needed.

Shortly after November 19, the Bureau of the Census, an agency of the U. S. Department of Commerce, will start the second stage by mailing agricultural census questionnaires to all rural boxholders in the county. This will give farm ranch operators, who are required by law to file out the forms, a period of time to consult their records and fill in answers to the questions.

In the final stage, enumerators will visit each farm in the county to collect the questionnaires. At the time of this visit, the enumerators will help farmers complete answers to any questions the farmers may have had difficulty with. Enumerator visits are scheduled to begin in this county on November 23. Enumerators will take about three weeks to complete their work, the crew leader estimates.

The Census of Agriculture is taken every five years in the years ending in "4" and "9" to gather up-to-date information on the nation's agricultural resources and production. Such information is vital in making decisions affecting many segments of the U. S. economy. Data gathered include the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock inventory, information on farm equipment and facilities, farm products sold, and use of fertilizers, insecticides, and herbicides.

For the groundbreaking ceremony, the scripture reading was given by Stanley Black and the benediction was given by I. W. Haney. Members of the building committee are Sam Fox, Roy Whitt, Myron Pool, II, Mrs. Bernard Phelps, Mrs. Ray Edwards, Mrs. Pat Bobo, and Horace Edwards.

A door prize will be given. Menu consist of turkey, dressing, green beans with new potatoes, Cranberry salad, fresh tomatoes, dessert, tea and coffee. Tickets are $1.50 and may be purchased at the door or from any member of the Women's Golf Association. An afternoon of bridge is planned as entertainment.

3rd Steckley's R-106 yield 7,467 lbs. per acre; 4th PAG-665 yield 7,272 lbs. per acre; 5th, Texas 660, yield 6,870 lbs. per acre; 6th, PAG 515, yield 6,706 lbs. per acre; 7th, Lindsey 551, yield 6,368 lbs. per acre; 8th, NK222, yield 5,892 lbs. per acre.

The importance of these demonstrations in aiding farmers to select the proper variety for growing on good soil with plenty of fertilizer and irrigation water can be measured in terms of dollars. The highest yielding variety outyielded the lowest yielding variety by 2,014 pounds per acre. This means that a farmer with a half section of grain sorghum of the winner would harvest $12,245 more sorghum than the same half section would produce from the lowest yielding variety.

College was frequently suggested. Special emphasis was placed on the need for enforcement of existing sanitation ordinances to include trash and garbage collection.

Continued development and expansion of the Muleshoe Area Public Library, a more liberalized new home loan construction program, the establishment of modified zoning ordinances, and providing needed housing were also suggested.

Much discussed were projects to improve living conditions and housing facilities in the Latin American and Negro sections of the city. A street improvement program was suggested for these areas.

Suggestions in the field of agricultural development included livestock facilities for stock shows and agricultural fairs, continued expansion of rural telephone service, additional farm-to-market roads to specifically complete the network of roads affecting Farmer and Bailey counties' traffic into Muleshoe.

A better relationship and understanding between agriculture and business including immediate attention to the existing Bracero Labor program that is scheduled to end December 31, 1964. This was the most discussed need of agriculture, and an appeal was issued to the business community for assistance to add their support to the extension of this legislation.

An educational program to encourage more use of local farm labor, adequate housing facilities for local and migratory labor, a modern labor camp and housing facilities were suggested.

Improved marketing facilities for locally produced farm products -- a marketing association was discussed.

Many suggestions were made that the chamber strengthen its effort to locate small adaptable industries to create new payrolls.

Improvements suggested as needed in the business community included adequate and controlled traffic and parking -- off-street parking was urged, as were cooperation with communities in the trade area, additional trade expansion programs and improved public relations through local merchants' efforts.

A complete report and analysis of all suggestions made will be included in the survey compiled by the Community Services Department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for the Chamber's Board of Directors.

Chamber President, Roger Albertson, pointed out that future chamber work programs will be based on the suggestions in the report.

Ralph Duncan, veteran chamber executive and manager of the WTCC Community Services Department an observer in the sessions and will compile the survey. Results of the suggestions and the new chamber work program will be announced at the annual chamber dinner in January.

A like program was conducted in Muleshoe in 1954 when 700 suggestions for improvement were made, an ad survey points out that more than 70 per cent of the suggestions made at that time were being worked on.

Groups at their meeting chairmen were as follows: Farm Service Business, Buck Johnson and Jacque Baker; Housewives and Clubwomen: Mrs. Bernard Phelps and Mrs. Sam Damron; Agriculture and Livestock, Bill Jim St. Clair and Jim Koeneman; Services and Trades, Clyde Henry; Retailers, Douglas Haynes and Earl Harris; High School Seniors, Gil Lamb and Tonye Welch; Employees, Larry Hall; Professional Dr. W. F. Birdsong and Alex Williams, Teachers, Neal Dillman.

Mayor And Mrs. LeVeque Attend Waco Board Meet

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. LeVeque of Muleshoe, district commissioners and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Brewer of Hobbs, New Mexico, heard the challenge of children who are without a choice Wednesday and Thursday during the annual meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the Methodist Home in Waco.

Feature speakers for the two day meeting were Attorney General Waggoner Carr of Texas, Bishop Kenneth Pope of Dallas, Bishop Eugene Slater of San Antonio, Bishop Paul E. Martin of Houston, and Dr. William Dickson, pastor of the Highland Park Methodist Church in Dallas.

The Board of Commissioners represents the Methodist Home in each District of the Church in New Mexico and Texas and leads in gathering the annual Christmas offering.

The Methodist Home, founded in 1890, cares for over 500 children each year. Children separate ed from their parents by death or other causes live in a home-like atmosphere in cottages staffed by trained home parents, find counselling with a qualified chaplain and case workers, attend public school as part of an overall program of being a part of the community and are encouraged to do their very best in each endeavor.

Since its founding 75 years ago some 9,000 children have been aided by the Home says Superintendent Hubert Johnson. The Methodist Home is supported by a Christmas Offering taken each December.

The cancerous growth of crime in Texas and the rest of the nation will destroy America from within unless we take immediate action to curb it, Texas Attorney General Waggoner Carr warned in a speech at the Methodist Home here Thursday.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Methodist Home's Board of Commissioners, Mr.

Carr said the most alarming increase in crime was occurring among young people.

"Crime in the United States has increased 2,000 per cent in the past 10 years," he told more than 200 of the Home's Commissioners and guests.

"This is four times as fast as the population is increasing," he added.

"And in Texas, crime among our young people is growing seven times as rapidly as the state's population."

Concerning the Texas crime rate, he said:

Forty per cent of the states 12,600 convicts are 17 to 24 years old. More than half the burglaries in Texas are committed by teenagers under 18.

"History tells us that the lawlessness has ruined many great nations," he said.

Turning to the Methodist Homes role in child care, the Attorney General praised the 73 year old Home for helping young people develop into law abiding citizens.

He told the Homes Commissioners and staff:

"You can take pride and credit in what you're doing. The whole world can be changed by the effect you have on one boy or girl. This is the answer to all problems in our country."

Mr. Carr said that the Texas Government is also taking the initiative in trying to correct the increasing crime rate among teenagers.

He cited the state-sponsored Teenage Youth Conference which has been held the past two years in Austin and was attended by more than 1,100 of the states leading teenagers both years.

"We are trying to impress the state's teenage leaders, who will be the adult leaders of tomorrow, with the crisis in crime and ask them to help us," he explained.

S-Sgt. Gabbert Receives USAF Safety Award

Staff Sgt. R. L. Gabbert, son of Mrs. W. C. McMahan and a 1955 Muleshoe High School graduate, received the top 465th Bomb Wing Individual Safety Honors at ceremonies recently at Robins Air Force Base, Georgia.

In a congratulatory letter from Col. James M. Keck, wing commander, Gabbert was commended for the suggestion of modification of plans of a radio transmitter part, producing over 1,000 volts of electricity, with a plexiglass cover to be used during repair and testing of the equipment. The plexiglass cover greatly reduced the danger to which radio technicians are exposed.

S-Sgt. Gabbert is a member of the 465th Armament and Electronics Maintenance Squadron where he works on B 52 G Bomber type aircraft, also KC-135A Strato Tankers as an airborne radio repairman. He entered the air force, following graduation here in September 1956, having just completed his eighth year

Rare Cranes Watch Asked

The Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife has asked hunters in the Central Flying states to be on the lookout for the rare whooping cranes whose migration from the far north to their winter home on the Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas Gulf Coast is now in full swing.

At last count, nine of the huge white birds had arrived safely at Arkansas, according to Refuge Manager P. B. Shields. On October 31, two adults and one young bird were observed on the Kivwin National Wildlife Refuge in Kansas. On November 1, these same three birds had moved on south to the Quivira Refuge, also in Kansas. On November 3, this traveling trio were testing on the Salt Plains National Wildlife Refuge near Jet, Oklahoma, where on lone whooper had been seen on October 6.

Under normal landing conditions the brakes of a modern jet airliner absorb enough energy to stop simultaneously 432 automobiles traveling at 50 miles an hour.

TIPS... FROM THE OFFICE OF MOM DEMONSTRATION AGENT

Cotton with the look and feel of leather is stealing the show in coats, suits, and sportswear for all ages. The fabric is treated with a silicone resin finish to achieve the smooth leathery look. Grains are created in working the fabric and last the life of the material. The fabric, which is washable and can be drycleaned, will not crack, peel or stiffen, even in cold temperatures. Although it is water repellent, the micro-porosity of the fabric allows the garment to breathe while resisting wind and rain. This new fabric is naturally crease resistant yet it can be ironed. Occasional stains and spots are easily removed with a damp cloth or cleaning fluid. Designers are scrambling for yardage of the impostor which is available in red, green, navy, black, white, and assorted shades of brown. Imported from Italy, Belgium, Spain and West Germany, the fabric is trademarked under the names of Aerpel, Cardoba, Haledora, Leethacolia, Leathskin, and Wampelt.

HUNTING TRIP

Are you planning a trip deer hunting? If you are lucky enough to get a deer you will need to know how to field dress it. In the past, many successful deer hunters learned the hard way that quality venison depends primarily on how the deer is handled from the time of the kill until it is placed in the freezer.

A free leaflet, available in the county extension office on how to field dress a deer. Write or phone 3-9130 for a copy of this leaflet.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — Gov. John Connally remains the dominant figure on the statehouse scene. He received over 1,800,000 votes in the general election, to lead the Democratic ticket.

An overwhelming majority of Texas voters like the Demo ticket headed by native son, Pres. Lyndon Baines Johnson.

Republicans were left with little to be encouraged about. However, GOP leaders insisted their party has "the zeal and spirit to make a fast comeback" and will begin the 1966 campaign immediately.

Statisticians for the two political parties have gone to work to explain the tremendous Democratic sweep of Texas. One logical explanation of Johnson's landslide simply was the 400,000 more Texans than ever before appeared at the polls. And apparently they were about all Democrats. Turnout was some 88 per cent of the qualified voters, also a new record in this century in Texas.

President Johnson received 64 per cent of the 2,700,000 Texas votes cast (to 36 per cent for Sen. Barry Goldwater). This represented the largest total in a presidential race since the late Franklin D. Roosevelt's 71 per cent margin for a fourth term in 1944.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough defeated GOP candidate George Bush by carrying nearly 56 per cent of the total. But Bush got more votes than any previous Texas Republican candidate for senator. The Houston oilman was the first GOP senate candidate to rack up more than a million votes.

Republicans, although better organized and financed than ever, lost every statewide and congressional race and all legislative races except one. GOP Frank Cahoon of Midland won. In the scramble the Republicans lost two congressmen, Bruce Alger of Dallas and Ed Foreman of Odessa, and nine members of the Texas Legislature.

Makeup of the Legislature in general remains conservative-moderate. Leadership will continue in the hands of Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and House Speaker Byron Tunnell. The latter is assured another term as speaker on strength of member pledges.

Texas voters also approved all three state constitutional amendments on the ballot.

In so doing they knocked out legislative authority to transfer one per cent of the permanent school fund to the available school fund; authorized the Legislature to enact a program of medical aid to the aged not on welfare rolls but having difficulty paying their doctor bills; and required bills creating or substantially altering conservation and reclamation districts to be published in newspapers and cleared by Texas Water Commission.

AT HOME — President Johnson closed out his campaign and celebrated his landslide victory in the Central Texas congressional district where he got his political start.

Final speech of his nationwide vote hunt was made to 100,000 at an Austin rally in front of the State Capitol.

He voted at his old precinct in Johnson City on election day.

Johnson returned to Austin to make his first statement to the nation after the election — a call for American unity and a pledge to work for a government offering equal opportunities to all.

CHANGES — Some Texans leaned to their dismay that, if they had moved from one county to another within the last six months, they lost their right to vote.

Others found that if they had moved from one precinct to another in the same county, but had failed to transfer their poll taxes by the Thursday before election, they had lost the right to vote.

These situations naturally led to talk of making changes in the law or of lawsuits to set aside the laws which cut off rights to vote on technicalities.

SALT WATER — District Judge Herman Jones heard three days of evidence as to whether the Texas Railroad Commission or the Texas Water Pollution Control Board should regulate the disposal of the salt water which comes to the surface in oil and gas wells.

Oilmen contend it should be wholly under the Railroad Commission. Users of surface and ground water contend that the new Pollution Control Board has the authority, and should exercise it, to prevent pollution.

After filing on briefs and oral arguments, Jones will reach a decision about November 20.
