Surge In Prices Fuels Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer prices soared another 1 percent in March, the government said Thursday, adding to concern that inflation in the economy is out of control...

The annual rate of price increases during the first three months of the year was 13 percent, the worst quarterly burst in inflation in 4 1/2 years. Consumer prices increased 1.2 percent in February...

March, up from 68.1 cents in February and the largest monthly percentage increase since July of 1975. Alfred E. Kahn, President Carter's anti-inflation chief, told the congressional Joint Economic Committee the March price report was bad and said, "we still have some bad months ahead..."

severe with its present anti-inflation policies. And he said, "The public is becoming increasingly concerned that powerful interests in this country act as if they recognize no responsibility to the public..."

Although Carter has said he does not want such authority and would not use it if he had it, McGovern maintained that "flexible and selective controls can and should be concentrated on the largest and most influential sectors of our economy..."

Unless the administration wants such authority, it is unlikely that the Congress will approve it. Kahn said authority for controls would be "counter-productive" now, reflecting concern in the administration that businesses will raise prices as high as they can...

Ex-City Secretary To Testify In Her Embezzlement Trial Today

By TRAVIS BROWN
Avalanche-Journal Staff
CLOVIS, N.M. — A former Texico, N.M., city secretary today will defend her plea of not guilty to charges she embezzled city funds.
The week-long trial of Clara Wiehl is expected to conclude today with her testimony, followed by the 9th District Court jury's decision.

Mrs. Wiehl, 49, was indicted on 16 counts of embezzlement, 16 counts of failure to deposit public money and six counts of tampering with public records.

In the state's case against Mrs. Wiehl, District Attorney Bill Bonem tried to prove how she was accepting customer payments for water bills, and depositing the payments in her bank account.
An audit of the Texico city finances detected a $27,000 deficit. Mrs. Wiehl, however, was charged only for the amount detected missing between October 1977 and March 1978, between $5,000 and $6,000.

Mrs. Wiehl served as the city's secretary, bookkeeper and treasurer for 14 years. She resigned March 10, 1978, after an audit was ordered.

Except for the defendant's testimony, defense attorney Dan Buzzard concluded his defense Thursday with the testimony of five character witnesses for Mrs. Wiehl.
The brief court session Thursday morning was recessed early because 9th District Court Judge Ruben Nieves had to be in Santa Fe for a hearing in the afternoon.

The Texico city council ordered an audit of city finances after 23 water bill stubs and a cash receipt sheet were found by water superintendent Billy Lee Hammet in a city hall waste basket in late February 1978.
Accountant Dutch Rains, who conducted the audit of city finances, told the court that his audit revealed $27,574 more posted on individual city water account cards than was deposited in the bank.
Bonem attempted to prove that Mrs. Wiehl had accepted payments from city water customers and then deposited the money in her bank account.
Rains and an accounting machine expert testified that funds could have been diverted by using the accounting machine to mark individual accounts paid, and then destroying water bill stubs that recorded payment.
About one-third of customer water payments were made in cash, said Marie Christian, acting city secretary.
Under cross-examination by Buzzard, Rains testified that he could not determine who made the false entries in the city's financial ledgers that showed money received.
In defense of Mrs. Wiehl, her attorney tried to show how several other city hall employees also accepted water customer payments and also operated the city's accounting machine.
The state's case ended with the presentation of Mrs. Wiehl's bank statements from October 1977 to March 1978. The statements showed deposits totaling more than $5,700.
Testimony in Mrs. Wiehl's behalf Thursday included that of Helen Hill of Texico, who told the court she had seen the water superintendent operating the accounting machine.
Another witness for Mrs. Wiehl, James Harvey of Clovis, told the court he had dated her for 15 years. He said he has given as much as $500 per month to Mrs. Wiehl during that period.
Also testifying on Mrs. Wiehl's behalf was her brother, Tom Casey, an internal auditor for a Houston mortgage and trust company.
Casey told the court that he had checked the city's records and disagreed with the auditor's figures in 10 instances.

Robbery Motive Suspected In Double Murder

BIG SPRING (UPI) — Robbery may have been the motive Thursday in the slaying of a Big Spring woman and her teen-age son, whose nude bodies were found face-down on a dirt road, authorities said.
The victims — both shot in the back of the head with a small-caliber weapon — were identified as Ann Reaves, 38, and her son, Tracy, 15.
Howard County Sheriff A.N. Standard said a man on his way home about 1 a.m. Thursday found the bodies in the road, five miles northeast of Big Spring. The victims wore shoes but their other clothes had been discarded nearby.

Standard said he had no suspects in the shooting.
Mrs. Reaves — who managed one of two Reaves service stations — arranged to meet an attendant about 11:30 p.m. Wednesday to exchange large bills for small ones, authorities said.
When the woman and her son failed to appear, the attendant said he notified the woman's husband.
Charles Reaves told authorities he drove to the station where his wife and son worked but could not find them. Reaves said he drove to a beauty school looking for them, then headed toward the police station to report them missing. Reaves said he found his wife's discarded purse while driving to the station. Officers later found Mrs. Reaves' blue 1976 Chevrolet hidden behind a sewing plant near the service station. Forensic experts combed the car Thursday for clues, Standard said.

A money bag containing credit card receipts was found about two miles from the bodies and some cash was recovered, authorities said.
The bodies were moved to Abilene for autopsies.

Senator Seeks Removal Of Trade Restrictions

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. trade sanctions against Uganda were an "un-challenged success" in driving Idi Amin from power and should be lifted now, Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., said Thursday.
Hatfield proposed legislation to remove the sanctions, which he campaigned for last year.
The senator said that after the sanctions were imposed last October, the price of gasoline rose to more than $50 per gallon on Uganda's black market, the country's currency dropped to one-tenth its previous value and coffee production fell by 75 percent.

Defenses Against Floods Weakening As More Flee Path Of Rising Water

By The Associated Press
The swollen Red River flooded parts of Minnesota, North Dakota and Canada with new misery Thursday, prompting an order that thousands evacuate their homes in Manitoba as the besieged area near Grand Forks, N.D., neared exhaustion behind sandbagged dikes.

The dikes appeared to be holding but the people maintaining them were tiring, and officials urged 700 more people in East Grand Forks, Minn., to evacuate.

In the South, meanwhile, clearing skies didn't ease concern that flooding there would hurt fishing in the Gulf of Mexico when cresting rivers reach the sea in the next few days.

Continental Airlines Slates New Routes

Beginning Tuesday, Continental Airlines will have flights between the West Coast and the South Pacific, Tom O'Donnell, the airline's regional director, said. Sydney, Australia, Auckland, New Zealand, Pago Pago, American Samoa and Nandi, Fiji are the new destinations added to the airline's route.

Lubbock passengers can fly to Los Angeles to connect with the new South Pacific service, and O'Donnell said round-trip fares from Lubbock will be as low as $629 to Australia or $649 to New Zealand when advance ticketing requirements are met.

Stopovers in Hawaii, Fiji and American Samoa will be allowed with minimum and maximum stay requirements.

In East Grand Forks, where the Red River has flooded for 10 days, Civil Defense director Orley Gunderson said he was scrounging for volunteers to send to an all-but-marooned area of about 1,000 homes called The Point, where the Red and Red Lake rivers join.

Many university students were exhausted to the point of sickness, he said, and one small dike was weak and in need of shoring up.

But bad as things were on The Point, there was more potential danger to life in other parts of Grand Forks and East Grand Forks.

The Point sits higher than those low-lying areas, some of which by Thursday were behind dikes holding back water as high as a home's second floor. And some of those dikes, though reinforced by sandbags and clay, were becoming waterlogged.

As a result, 700 more residents were urged to leave Thursday in a 24-block area of East Grand Forks — even though officials said there was no imminent danger of a breach in a nearby dike.

The Red River was already at more than 49 feet, nearly 21 feet above flood stage, and was not expected to crest, at 49.5 feet, until Saturday.

In all, 270 homes had been flooded and 1,400 people had been forced out of homes in the area by the time the new evacuation was urged Thursday.

Meanwhile, floodwaters were spreading over the flat, fertile Red River Valley, engulfing many farm homes.

And after that, the north-flowing waters reached Canada — where Manitoba Premier Sterling Lyon ordered people to leave towns, villages and farms in its path.

"The situation is serious and worsening," Lyon said in a broadcast announcement Wednesday. His evacuation order could affect as many as 10,000 residents from south of Winnipeg to the U.S. border.

In the South, meanwhile, parts of Louisiana reported the first blue skies since late last week, and the National Weather Service said the Pearl River would crest at the Gulf of Mexico within 24 hours.

Warm Days, Cool Nights Forecast

Mild afternoons and cool nights are forecast for the Lubbock area through Saturday as a weak high pressure ridge continues to drift slowly eastward.

The weak system will allow winds in West Texas to remain light and variable today as the mercury reaches into the low 70s this afternoon and falls into the 50s tonight.

Temperatures again will climb into the low 70s Saturday, but a slight warming trend should begin showing the mercury higher by Sunday.

The National Weather Service expects temperatures to begin climbing into the 80s Sunday afternoon and predicts that afternoon highs through Tuesday will continue to be in the 80s. Overnight lows should be milder, but should remain in the 50s.

Winds were gentle across Texas Thursday except in the El Paso area where gusts up to 23 mph were reported.

State temperature readings taken at 4 p.m. Thursday ranged from 93 at McAllen to 69 at Dalhart.

Couple Up In The Air Over Tree House Ruling

HACKENSACK, N.J. (AP) — A judge ruled Thursday that a couple must pay a $20 fine for illegally building a treehouse.

Bergen County Court Judge Charles R. Di Gisi refused to hear additional testimony on Edward and Judi Self's appeal of a Ridgewood municipal court decision. And he charged the couple $10 for court costs.

But Mrs. Self said the family would not give up.

"We're not going to roll over and play dead," she said. "It's been a very frustrating time. It's just unbelievable."

The family was fined for having the structure built in a backyard tree without a building permit. When they went to the building inspector, they couldn't get a permit because a treehouse is not listed in the building code.

Luke 15:1-10A, The Living Bible

Dishonest tax collectors and other notorious sinners were all gathering to listen to Jesus' sermons;

2. And the Jewish religious leaders and the experts on Jewish law complained because He was associating with such people — even eating with them!

3, 4 So Jesus used this illustration: "If you had 100 sheep and one of them strayed away and was lost in the wilderness, wouldn't you leave the 99 others to go and search for the lost one until you found it?"

5 And then you would joyfully carry it home on your shoulders.

6 When you arrived you would call together your friends and neighbors to rejoice with you because your lost sheep was found.

7 Well, in the same way heaven will be happier over the one lost sinner who returns to God than over the 99 others who haven't strayed away!

8 Or take another illustration: A woman has ten valuable silver coins and loses one. Won't she light a lamp and look in every corner of the house and sweep every nook and cranny until she finds it?

9 And then won't she call in her friends and neighbors to rejoice with her?

10 In the same way there is joy in the presence of the angels of God when one sinner repents."

Panel Votes To Eliminate Homestead Exemptions For Elderly

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee voted Thursday to revise the House tax relief bill by eliminating proposed homestead exemptions for elderly and disabled Texans who have an income that exceeds $10,000 a year.

The finance committee voted 9-2 to substitute its own version of a bill implementing the 1978 Tax Relief Amendment, which voters adopted overwhelmingly.

Sen. Carl Parker assailed the 1978 amendment, however, as a "flim-flam," and Sen. Tom Creighton said the amendment — if carried out by the Legislature — "will bankrupt every political subdivision in Texas."

The substitute bill stripped $430 million in state money that the House had provided to reimburse school districts for revenue losses resulting from mandatory property tax cuts.

Sen. Grant Jones, committee chairman, assured his colleagues, however, that reimbursements would be covered in a school finance bill being written by the Senate Education Committee.

Jones, D-Abilene, also admitted he had forgotten to ask the Legislative Budget Board for an estimate on how much the Senate bill would cost the state.

"In all honesty, I flat forgot to get a fiscal note," said Jones. He promised one would be made available before the full Senate votes on the bill.

R.H. Gibbons, a Fort Worth-area resident representing 500,000 elderly Texans, had urged the committee to erase its requirement that citizens with annual incomes of $10,000 and over could not qualify for a $10,000 homestead tax exemption.

The 1978 amendment automatically exempts $5,000 of the market value of each owner-occupied house in Texas from school district property taxes.

"The people feel very much deceived" by the income provision, said Gibbons, legislative director of the Texas Senior Citizens Association.

He said he had had 500 letters of protest since "the income limitation was introduced." The same provision in the House was removed by a committee. Said Gibbons, "$10,000 is not half enough." The Senate bill tracks House provisions in establishing a method for taxing farm, ranch and timber land on its crop-producing ability instead of its market value. It provides for exempting two cars or light trucks per family or individual from property taxes but states communities may tax automobiles if they desire.

It also would limit state spending increases to the percentage of growth of the state's economy as determined by the budget board. "The bottom line is that middle-Texas and middle-America are going to end up paying the dudgum tax bill," said Creighton. "The people paying the brunt of taxes are going to get socked again."

First Offender Receives Sentence

A 72nd District Court jury Wednesday sentenced John Wayne Jennings to seven years in prison after he pleaded guilty to the Sept. 21, 1978, burglary of a habitation.

The jury deliberated about 1 1/2 hours before returning the sentence.

Although Jennings, 19, was eligible for probation because the burglary was his first conviction, Asst. Criminal District Attorney Hollis Browning asked the jury to return a 35-year sentence. Browning's request was in accordance with the criminal district attorney office's new, tougher punishment stance on convicted burglars.

Jennings' attorney, Dennis Strouble, had filed an application for probation and the defendant took the stand during the punishment phase of the trial seeking a probated sentence.

Jennings pleaded guilty before the jury of taking two television sets from a neighbor's home.

Barnhart Confirmed For New Post...

AUSTIN (AP) — State Republican Party Chairman Ray Barnhart won unanimous Senate confirmation Thursday to a seat on the Texas Highways and Public Transportation Commission.

Barnhart promised to resign his GOP post and give up involvement in state-wide party politics if his appointment by Gov. Bill Clements won Senate approval.

Senators confirmed Barnhart without debate.

The 51-year-old former legislator from Pasadena was named to succeed Reagan Houston of San Antonio whose term expired. Barnhart was Ronald Reagan's state campaign manager in 1976.

Chet Upham, a Mineral Wells natural gas producer, is Clements' designate to succeed Barnhart as state GOP chairman. The State Republican Executive Committee must meet 30 days following Barnhart's resignation to name a successor.

Senators also confirmed the following appointments:

Denver Fred Wendorf of Dallas, Antiquities Committee.

B.C. Lively of Polk County and A.W. Cullum III of Dallas, Trinity River Authority board of directors.

Charles L. Price of Houston, 125th District Court Judge.

Dr. James Know Peden of Dallas, State Board of Medical Examiners.

Lewis E. Bracey Jr. of Uvalde, Sidney M. Wieser of Lampasas, James H. Simms of Amarillo, Texas Industrial Commission.

Robert H. Dedman of Dallas, State Board of Control.

Stanley Eugene Neely of Dallas, State Commission for the Deaf.

...And Resigns Post In State GOP

AUSTIN (AP) — Ray Barnhart resigned Thursday as state Republican Party chairman shortly after being confirmed by the Senate as a new member of the Texas Highway and Public Transportation Commission.

The resignation went to Dorothy Doehne in San Antonio, state party vice chairwoman, who has 30 days in which to call a special meeting of the committee to elect a new party chairman.

Party sources indicated the special meeting likely would be the latter part of May.

House Approves Crime Victim Compensation Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — The state — using money taken from the pockets of criminals — would pay victims of violent crimes for their injuries under a bill approved by the Texas House on Thursday.

A 91-43 vote advanced the bill (SB21), and a final decision will be made later. Senators must approve House amendments before the measure can reach Gov. Bill Clements' desk.

Victims of criminal violence or their survivors could receive up to $50,000 from the state for medical or funeral expenses, lost wages and rehabilitation expenses.

To qualify, a victim would have to report the crime within 72 hours.

Only victims whose economic losses resulted in financial hardship for themselves or their families could collect.

Hospital emergency rooms and policemen would have to inform victims of the availability of financial help from the state.

The Texas Industrial Accident Board, which decides workers' compensation claims, would administer the crime victim program.

Money for compensating victims would come from court costs of $10 paid by persons convicted of serious misdemeanors and $15 paid by convicted felons.

Rep. Stan Schlueter, D-Salado, called it a "pay as you go provision. We are going to make the people who perpetrate crimes put up $10 or $15."

He said the requirement to report crimes within 72 hours "will help our people in law enforcement find out about these crimes being committed."

Rep. Bob Maloney, R-Dallas, asserted the bill might be an unconstitutional grant of public money to individuals and said he was "most concerned that this will begin a philosophy in this state of state-subsidized insurance."

"This is a switch from the Robin Hood theory of robbing the rich and giving to the poor. This is taking from the poor and giving to the poor," Maloney said of the court costs to build the compensation fund.

Rep. Gerald Geistweidt, R-Mason, called the bill "a method of socialized law" that would penalize people who "had foresight enough" to buy insurance.

"It only helps those who will not help themselves," Geistweidt said.

The House added an amendment requiring criminals who write books or articles about their escapades to put the royalties or fees into the criminal compensation fund. They could have the money back in five years if it was not used to pay their victims.

Senate Approves Strip Mine Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — Senators rejected attempts to protect potential farm land from strip mining Thursday before passing a comprehensive mining and reclamation regulation act.

Sen. Grant Jones, D-Abilene, fought off amendments to the House-passed bill, which goes to the governor.

"It would only make it more difficult to provide permits where there are needed the most," Jones said of attempts to include potential farm land within protected categories of acreage.

Sen. Ron Clower, D-Garland, said the bill would not require mining companies to rehabilitate grazing and timber land after withdrawing lignite and other ores.

"The 62 lignite counties with 36.5 million acres, where strip mining is likely to occur, also include 5.8 million acres of potential prime farm land," Clower said.

Senators rejected Clower's amendment and passed the bill 29-0.

Jones said during committee hearings that the bill conforms to the 1977 federal Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act.

Federal law gives control of surface mining to individual states provided their regulations are approved by the Department of the Interior.

The proposed state act by Rep. Tom Craddock, R-Midland, would give the Texas Railroad Commission authority to grant or revoke surface mining permits.

Mining companies would be required to restore land to its original state.

Jones said companies would be required to segregate the top soil and different dirt levels if prime farm land were mined. Following ore extraction, the strata would be replaced.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air California had the highest rate of passengers denied seats among domestic airlines in January, according to the Civil Aeronautics Board.

According to CAB statistics, Air California averaged 44.8 involuntary denied boardings per 10,000 passengers during the month. The next highest rate was Continental, with 10.3 involuntary denied boardings per 10,000 passengers, and the average for all domestic airlines was 4.5 per 10,000.

Overall, the CAB said, fewer passengers were denied seats in January than in the same month last year. Some 33 percent of the bumped passengers gave up their seats voluntarily in exchange for compensation.

Airlines sometimes sell more seats than are available on a flight in anticipation that some passengers will not show up.

Montford Announces 'Tougher' Policies

By KAY BELL
Avalanche-Journal Staff
Extending his "war against crime" to new fronts, Criminal District Attorney John Montford Thursday announced tougher policies to combat burglaries, aggravated rapes and hot checks.

sentences on first convictions for burglaries of habitations.
His office will seek the maximum penalty, 99 years or life, for persons with prior burglary convictions.
This policy, Montford said, became effective Thursday.
The district attorney pointed out that house burglaries for the first three months of 1979 have increased 13 percent over the same period last year. Property losses so far this year, he said, have amounted to more than $800,000.

"This crime, perhaps more than any other, reaches the greatest percentage of our citizens," Montford said. "Unlawful entries constitute a threat to us all."
"Residential burglars strike at random, throughout our county. No area has escaped."
Montford also noted that many burglaries are committed by teen-agers, but said the youthfulness of the offender will not be a factor in prosecution.
"Young people who are by law declared adults, as with all the rest of us, must be prepared to accept the responsibilities the law imposes and the consequences of its violations," he said.

announced a similar tough stance on armed robberies shortly after taking office in January.
Thursday policy announcements, specifically the check and burglary procedures, were timed to coincide with the Lubbock County Crime Prevention Council's upcoming programs.
"Our office wants it known that we intend to back LCCPC's Operation Identification program with tough, aggressive prosecution," he said.
Sheriff C.H. "Choc" Blanchard, chairman of LCCPC, also was present at the news conference and outlined the procedures the group will use in marking valuable property.
The group now is seeking volunteers from each neighborhood in the county to conduct a door-to-door campaign to mark property usually stolen.
Blanchard said volunteers, wearing identifying badges, will be in charge of distributing metal engravers and chemical marking pens to their neighbors, along with instructions on how and where to mark the items. Also included will be a list of items law enforcement officials recommend be marked with the owner's drivers license number.
Mal Cleland, president of LCCPC, noted that the district attorney's hot check policy will become effective the day of LCCPC's day-long Business Crimes Symposium.

Suspect In '77 Christmas Eve Slaying Seeks Venue Change

Attorneys for Jim Gordon, charged with the Christmas Eve 1977 shooting death of William Drew Young, Thursday were given 10 days to file a brief citing arguments for a change of venue in Gordon's murder trial.

Among witnesses called by Anderson Thursday were representatives of Lubbock's three television stations, The Avalanche-Journal, radio stations KRLD, KLLL and KFYO and local attorneys.

District Judge Thomas L. Clinton agreed to take the venue change request under advisement after listening to testimony from 13 defense witnesses and five prosecution witnesses during a day-long hearing Thursday in his 99th District Court.

Jim Bob Darnell, first assistant district attorney, opened the state's case against the change of venue at 3 p.m., calling to the stand two men who had served on the jury during the trial of Kenneth Wayne Herndon, who also was charged with killing Young.

The criminal district attorney's office has 10 days after the defense brief is filed in which to file a brief against moving Gordon's trial.

Other prosecution witnesses were Jack Bryant and Lee Rice Jr., investigators for the district attorney's office, and Jess Foster, deputy in charge of the central jury room.

Gordon, 43, is one of three men charged with Young's death. The former nightclub owner was a key witness in trials of the other two defendants, and his attorney, Gerald Anderson, told the judge that the amount of publicity and details of Young's death brought out in those trials will prevent empanelment of an impartial jury.

Herndon, 36, was convicted of the murder Feb. 16 and assessed a life prison term. A September 1978 trial of Herndon ended in a hung jury.

The third defendant, Kenneth Owen Jayson, was convicted of participating in the slaying in April 1978, and received a 25-year prison term.

"I hope all parents will confer with their children and discuss the seriousness of this matter. It will be too late to assess the seriousness once it goes to court."

A similar prosecution policy for aggravated rape cases also was announced during the morning news conference.

Montford said his office will seek a minimum sentence of 35 years for a first conviction of aggravated rape and the maximum 99 years or life penalty on subsequent convictions. This policy, too, became effective Thursday.

Beginning May 3, a new policy concerning hot checks will be instituted by the CDA's office.

Rather than processing insufficient funds checks individually, Montford said, his office will begin next month "aggregating" such checks.

"If a person accumulates a total of $200 in hot checks," he said, "we will seek felony indictments from the grand jury."
Montford, whose pledges to crack down on crime won him the DA's office,

Billy Carter Leaves Alcoholism Center

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — President Carter's brother Billy, who declared this week that he is an alcoholic, has left the Navy's alcoholism treatment center here without fanfare and is reported looking for rest and privacy. Neither the Long Beach Naval Regional Medical Center nor Carter spokesmen would disclose Carter's whereabouts Thursday. Tandy Rice, Carter's Nashville booking agent, said the once-celebrated beer drinker wants to be left alone for a while. "He just needs some private time," Rice said. Carter left the Naval hospital without fanfare Wednesday evening, escaping reporters. At a Monday news conference Carter described himself as a recovering alcoholic and vowed never to drink again. Carter said then he hoped to end his seven-week stay at the hospital on Friday and would be returning home to Georgia for a month's rest. The hospital said Carter, who was admitted to the Alcohol Rehabilitation Service center March 6 as a voluntary patient, was released at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. He was admitted to the renowned treatment center under special authorization by the Secretary of the Navy. Carter told the news conference he would pay the $12,100 hospital bill himself.

WRONG ROLES

Female parts on the English stage were always taken by boys until the Restoration. In 1662 Charles II issued a license granting women the privilege of acting upon the stage. The first actress to perform in public was Margaret Hughes.

No Blues Sung During 'Blue' Gas Sale

CHICAGO (AP) — When Al Farmer opened his service station at 7 a.m. Thursday, motorists had lined up for eight blocks to buy his gasoline — at 33 cents a gallon.

The promotion was heavily advertised and funded by a radio station, which also kicked in a free breakfast for motorists hanging for a bargain.

"I just thought it was time the motorists got a break," said Farmer, 31, who has operated his Amoco (Standard) station on the South Side for eight years. "I don't think gasoline prices should be as high as they are."

"I'm tired of hearing about who's going to be first at $1 a gallon," he said. "I'd rather hear about who is going to have the lowest price. Let 'em try to beat 33 cents a gallon."

Farmer says the gasoline cost him 71 cents a gallon, and he normally gets 92.9 cents a gallon for it — but he had help funding this bargain day, one of five he's run in the last two years.

Most of the tab, including sausage-and-roll breakfasts served to some of the early bird motorists, was picked up by radio station WJPC, which had advertised the gas special and which plastered a WJPC sticker on each bumper of cars being filled up.

Farmer said about 50 motorists an hour filled up at the two pumps with what Amoco calls its "Blue" unleaded gasoline until all the 4,500 gallons were gone. Many trucks and vans lined up.

"We could only handle about 50 an hour because they had let their tanks run nearly dry and all wanted fill-ups," said Farmer. "Some had been waiting to get in for three hours. A half dozen ran out of gas while in line and had to be pushed in."

curb had to wend its way around the block and enter the station at the right. The wait was about three hours. Al's bargain was tied in with an ad campaign with a local radio station. (AP Laserphoto)

Everyone seemed happy to start the day so cheaply."

Farmer said Amoco salesmen "squawked a lot about the cheap gasoline and said it could cause a lot of trouble."

Farmer's station has eight pumps and says he pumps an average of 2,000 gallons a day. He normally gets 92.9 cents a gallon for the unleaded "Blue," 95.9 for premium unleaded and 85.9 for regular — about average for the Chicago area. Only the unleaded "Blue" was selling at bargain prices Thursday.

An Amoco spokesman said a dealer has the right to sell gasoline at his own price, but added that "Farmer apparently has now used up his allocation of Blue gasoline for this month and will not get more until next month."

"With an allocation program, talk of energy conservation and the rising prices of gasoline, the selling of gasoline at 33 cents a gallon is confusing to the public," the spokesman added.

Six Youths Arrested For Killing Polar Bear

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Police have arrested six people in the death of a polar bear at a St. Paul zoo. A key piece of evidence was a live duck found in the car of one suspect.

Police said the duck was taken early Tuesday from Como Zoo after a group of people smashed the polar bear's skull with a concrete brick and broke the neck of a goose.

Como zookeeper Thomas Hedlund said he was "99 percent sure that this is our bird. He's been at the zoo a long time."

House Fire Kills Four Children

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Four children died early Thursday when fire swept through their home on the city's south side, firefighters said. The victims were identified as Adam Boyd, 2, Jeffrey Gibbs, 3, Veronica Boyd, 5 and Matthew Boyd, 7. Their parents, Isaac Boyd, 28, and Loretta Gibbs, 27, escaped the fire and were taken to Mansfield General Hospital for treatment on injuries suffered in getting out of the house.

The children's bodies were found in two bedrooms of the home, officials said.

That's why they grabbed him — he's missing a wing and can't fly."

The duck wasn't discovered until a detective, arresting a suspect, heard a scratching sound inside the car. A search warrant was obtained, and the duck was discovered trapped inside a wheel well.

The six suspects, who range in age from 14 to 20, were taken into custody Wednesday after police received a telephone tip. A seventh suspect was being sought.

The suspects were not immediately charged.

Kuma, the dead female polar bear, died of bleeding around the brain. She was worth $5,000 and had borne five cubs at the zoo in 23 years.

The polar bear is on the endangered species list.

St. Paul Police Sgt. Steve Roscoe said the group had been spraying the polar bears with water from a nearby fountain.

"That broke," said Roscoe. "Then they were aggravating the bears by pelting them with rocks." Roscoe said the rocks were not big enough to cause an injury, but someone picked up an 8-by-12-inch construction block and threw it at Kuma. The goose's neck was broken by a member of the group to show the others how to do it, said Roscoe. After the killings the duck was taken from its cage. "The person intended to keep it as a pet," said Roscoe.

Fed Pressured To Hike Interest Rates

NEW YORK (AP) — Pressure on the Federal Reserve to tighten monetary policy by pushing up interest rates appeared to grow Thursday as the Fed reported a sharp increase in the nation's money supply.

Fed Chairman G. William Miller has been resisting pressure from the Carter administration to tighten policy further, saying the economy is already slowing and that further action could force a recession.

"Mr. Miller has given every indication he's not going to tighten," said William Gibson, a vice president of Smith Barney, Harris Upham Co., "but I think the Fed will be forced by events before the second quarter is out."

The Fed said M1, the basic money supply including cash and funds in checking accounts, rose $4.1 billion to a seasonally adjusted average of $365.6 billion in the week ended April 18.

M2, a broader measure which also includes most savings accounts, rose $4.2 billion to $891 billion.

After showing little or no growth for six months, the money supply has been spurting for the last month.

David Jones, a vice president of Aubrey G. Lanston Co., said the latest numbers may have been increased by people putting funds into checking accounts prior to paying taxes due April 15, but that even after adjusting the figures for that, "we have had a marked escalation" of the money supply.

Jones said he believes the Fed will continue to concentrate on signs the economy is slowing, and will tighten only if it appears to be rebounding from the slowdown in the first quarter, when the real gross national product rose at an annual rate of only 0.7 percent.

"This would be a reinforcing reason to tighten should the Fed see signs of a spring bounceback," he said.

The Fed has been pushing short-term interest rates higher in recent months in an attempt to slow inflation by making credit more expensive and thus curb the amount of money in circulation. Treasury Secretary Michael Blumenthal, however, has been pushing for further action.

Other monetary indicators for the week ended Wednesday included:

—Member bank borrowings from the Federal Reserve System averaged $851 million, up from $824 million. The Fed increased its holdings of government securities by $3.551 billion.

—Federal funds, the interest rate on short-term loans of uncommitted reserve funds among banks, averaged 10.09 percent, up from 9.96 percent the previous week.

—The three-month Treasury bill rate averaged 9.20 percent, down from 9.54 percent. The average rate on 90-to-119-day dealer-placed commercial paper fell to 9.47 percent from 9.50 percent a week earlier. Commercial paper is a short-term, unsecured corporate loan.

—The Federal Reserve Bank of New York reported commercial and industrial loans at major New York City banks rose $115 million in the week ended Wednesday, compared with a rise of $180 million a week before and a gain of $113 million a year ago.

—Net borrowed reserves totaled $660 million, up from $613 million a week earlier.

—The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis reported that the monetary base — the total of member bank reserves held at Federal Reserve banks and cash in bank vaults and in circulation — declined to $145.3 billion from $145.4 billion a week earlier.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

By BILL DOYLE

Q. How can I get price quotations on "peppy stocks?" Years back, the "Pink Sheets" were available in brokers' offices and anyone could look up prices of such stocks. These days, brokers no longer have Pink Sheets available to their customers.

A. I suspect you are asking the wrong brokers or the brokers you are asking don't want your business. The "Pink Sheets" are still published, every business day, by the National Quotations Bureau.

For the benefit of all readers, we had better explain that the thing we are talking about gets its name because it is printed on pink, legal-size paper. It is about as thick as a small city telephone directory.

Each day's Pink Sheets carry the previous business day's bid and asked quotations on virtually all stocks which are traded in the over-the-counter market, as well as the names of the brokerage firms "making the market" in each stock.

The Pink Sheets list everything from very high-priced stocks to "peppy stocks" — those trading below $1 a share. The sheets are sold only to brokerage firms which are members of the National Association of Securities Dealers. You and I can't buy them.

You don't see Pink Sheets laying around brokerage offices in the same quantities as you did years ago. This is because instantaneous quotations on many over-the-counter stocks are now available from the computerized information network known as National Association of Securities Dealers Automated Quotations — NASDAQ, for short. You won't find many penny stocks on NASDAQ. For penny stock quotations, you'll have to ask your broker to let you see the Pink Sheets. If you're a good customer, that should present no problem.

Q. After reading in your column that there is a limit on the amount of Series E, U.S. Savings Bonds a person is allowed to buy each year, I checked our E bonds. I discovered that we bought $34,100 worth in 1978 and $46,500 in 1979. The bonds are in my husband's name "or" my name. We did not know about the limit when we bought the bonds. What should we do?

A. Write to Commissioner, Bureau of the Public Debt, U.S. Treasury Department, 1435 G St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20226. Explain your situation, as you did in your letter to this column.

A Treasury spokesperson tells me the department is "pretty lenient and usually grants relief to people who made honest errors" about the limit on purchases of savings bonds.

The Treasury must certainly be lenient — considering the bundle of E bonds you bought in good faith. I see no good reason for the limit on E bond purchases. That limit has been $10,000 face value a year — $20,000 for bonds held by two people in "co-ownership form" — since 1974. It varied all over the lot in previous years.

Q. I would like to buy stocks from a broker whose office is in an adjacent state. Is there any rule against this? Or, must I do business with a broker in my home state?

A. You can do business with any broker you like — as long as that broker is registered as a broker-dealer in the states in which the transaction — or any part of the transaction — takes place.

This means that a brokerage firm must register with the state securities authorities in the state where its office is located and in every state in which it solicits business or accepts orders. And regulations do vary somewhat from state to state.

Most big brokerage firms are registered in all states. Most small and medium-sized firms are registered in their home states and nearby states.

Doyle welcomes written questions, but he will be able to provide answers only through the column.

Dollar Mixed In Trading; Gold Drifts Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — The dollar was mixed in late New York trading, after slipping against most major currencies abroad Thursday. Gold drifted lower.

Dealers said trading volume was light and the market appeared to shrug off news that the nation's basic money supply was up sharply by $4.1 billion and a statement by a West German banking official prompted a late flurry of dollar selling. But the developments came near the close of most trading for the day.

Otmarr Emminger, president of the West German Bundesbank, was quoted as saying certain elements currently working in favor of the dollar could disappear soon. Dealers interpreted that as indicating the West German central bank might be interested in a stronger mark and less willing to support the dollar as it has in the past.

In late New York trading the dollar was little changed against the mark at 1.8912 marks to the dollar, compared with 1.8907 on Wednesday. Other late rates included: 4.346 French francs, off from 4.35; 1.7115 Swiss francs, down from 1.7118; and 218.1 Japanese yen, up from 217.85. The British pound rose to $2.0517 from $2.0407. The Canadian dollar fell to 87.45 U.S. cents from 87.54.

Gold prices faded in Zurich to $242.375 a troy ounce from Wednesday's late $242.625. In London, Europe's other main bullion center, the price was $242.50, down from $242.75.

In New York one dealer said Thursday's report that the nation's basic money supply was up sharply by $4.1 billion and a statement by a West German banking official prompted a late flurry of dollar selling. But the developments came near the close of most trading for the day.

Otmarr Emminger, president of the West German Bundesbank, was quoted as saying certain elements currently working in favor of the dollar could disappear soon.

The British pound was steady in London, winding up at $2.0425, compared to $2.0427 the day before, when it fell more than two cents on word of polls showing the Labor Party gaining as next week's election approaches.

Texas House Passes Pension Finance Bill Based On Tag Tax

AUSTIN (AP) — Texans would pay $1 more for automobile inspections, with most of the money going to raise retirement benefits for state police, liquor agents, Capitol guards and game wardens under a bill passed by the House on Thursday.

Senators now must decide whether to accept House changes, including the one financing the pension increase with higher vehicle inspection fees.

The House version of the bill (SB42) would raise the inspection fee from $4 to $5 and apply 85 cents of the increase to pensions.

The Senate would have financed the higher pensions with a special tax collected when vehicles are registered.

An officer with 20 years' service could retire at age 55 under the bill. If an officer retired with 20 years' service, his benefits from both the regular state employee retirement plan and the supplemental benefits would total half his salary.

Pensions would run as high as 80 percent of an officer's final average salary for those with 40 or more years' service.

'Who Dunit' Facing Infringement Suit

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC-TV's new mystery quiz show, "Who Dunit," is the subject of a copyright infringement suit filed Thursday by a man who claims it was pirated from his original 15-year-old script.

The suit was filed in U.S. District Court in Manhattan by Herb Citrin, who asked the court to enjoin further airing of the program and to compel the National Broadcasting Co. and Marble Arch Productions Inc. to turn over to him all profits from the show.

Citrin attached a copy of his original script, entitled, "Who Dunit." The cover page described the work as "A mystery quiz game intended for television presentation."

Citrin said the current television show was "largely copied" from his copyright work.

George Hoover, NBC vice president for press and publicity, said the network had no immediate comment on the suit because its lawyers had not seen the complaint.

Mutual Funds Net Assets Jump To New Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — The net assets of mutual funds jumped by $4.5 billion to a record $65.1 billion last month, the second largest monthly increase in history, the Investment Company Institute reported Thursday.

The institute, which is the trade association representing about 98 percent of the mutual funds, said all types of funds except growth-and-income and municipal bond funds reported increased sales in March.

An increase of $2.4 billion was reported in the assets of money market funds, boosting the total to a record $18 billion compared to $5.6 billion a year ago.

Sales for other than money market funds during the month rose to $523.1 million from $450.9 million the previous month. Total net assets for these funds rose to $47.1 billion compared to $46.1 billion a year ago.

Gasoline Crunch Not Affecting Vacation Plans

Gasoline crunch or no gasoline crunch — Lubbock residents are not intending to stay home for the annual summer vacation. Random interviews indicate that some Lubbockites will hit the road in vehicles that favor better miles-per-gallon, but there are other temporary vagabonds that have no plans at this time to change their life style — regardless of the price of gasoline.

The same attitude may be true in other areas of the country. Nationwide there are approximately six million recreation vehicles in use today. These camping vehicles range in size from less than 10 feet in length to more than 30. They sleep from one to eight persons. Many are self-contained, just like a home. Others have only a few of the necessities of living, but are designed to be used in campgrounds which provide many comforts such as showers, modern toilets, and other conveniences. Some vehicles only provide convenient shelter for the primitive camper.

Recreation vehicles (RVs) come in many sizes, shapes and colors, with prices from $2,000 to $50,000 and more. Basically, there are five types of RVs — travel trailers, fold-down camping trailers, motor homes, truck campers and vans.

Fold-down camping trailers and small truck campers are receiving a lot of attention because of the cost of gasoline in relation to miles-per-gallon of a vehicle.

Fold-down camping trailers are lightweight units with either soft (canvas) or hard (plastic or fiberglass) sides that permit folding into a low profile. They can be towed easily behind any auto, and stored in standard garages. Base construction is aluminum or fiberglass, with a single axle. The sides fold or slide outward to provide remarkably large living areas, usually with double-sized beds. Most are complete with stove, LP gas supply, ice box, water system, and both 110-volt and 12-volt electrical systems.

Truck campers are carried in the beds of pickup trucks, and can be removed easily using jacks, releasing the truck for travel or work. Most pickup units are self-contained, varying in length from eight to 12 feet. Prices range from $2,000 to $5,000, excluding the truck.

J.T. Ellis at Modern Chevrolet said that many pickup customers are showing an interest in miles-per-gallon. "We don't have a six cylinder standard size pickup on the lot that is just plain vanilla," noted Ellis. "A month and a half ago we also had about 16 LUV pickups. Then this gasoline thing hit and all of a sudden the LUVs were gone. We received two more, and one of them sold yesterday."

Ellis explained that many outdoor oriented pickup owners have their vehicles outfitted with a special cab for camping comfort.

Jack Solomon at Holiday Travel Trailers said, "We've noticed a substantial increase in interest for cabs for the smaller pickups. We just got in a shipment of 30 cabs about three weeks ago, and I think we've got about four or five left at this time." He added, "We are getting ready to order again."

But, many outdoor oriented travelers are not changing their life style because of the higher price of gasoline. Billy Sims Trailer Town continues to move out the larger trailers that require large vehicles for towing.

Billy Sims noted, "Our main line is our tent campers, travel trailers and fifth wheels. We've had a super fifth wheel year so far, and we don't see any let up there. We haven't seen any decrease in any segment of our market." He added, "We have two stores in Odessa; our small store was up a little, and the big store was average. Here in Lubbock, we had the best March we've ever had."

Sims said, "We have people in four cylinder compacts come in and ask about the largest self-contained trailer they can pull. Well, that size of car can't pull a self-contained trailer. They need to go to a tent camper. Most anything can pull the little fold-up rigs. But, your pickups, suburbans and vans are your ultimate answer for tow rigs."

Travel trailers, towed by another vehicle, range from 10 to 35 feet in length, and are usually eight feet wide, with one or two axles. They are flexible because once you reach a destination, you can disconnect them and use the tow vehicle to roam the countryside at will.

Motor homes are self-powered units, ranging from 15 to 30 or more feet. Conventional units are constructed on large truck chassis, and range in price from $14,000 to $50,000 and more. They, of course, have all the luxuries of home.

Are RVs rich peoples' toys? Not at all. There is a price range, and a unit, for every walk of life, every individual and every family. When it comes to good living, the RV way is surprisingly inexpensive. Folks who use their units only on weekends and vacations find they spend comparatively less than when traveling by auto, and eating at restaurants and staying at hotels or motels.

For additional information, a colorful 20-page booklet entitled, "The Way To Go," dealing with all facets of RVing, and other literature on RVs, can be obtained by sending $1 to the Recreation Vehicle Industry Association, Box 204, Chantilly, Virginia 22021.

Renting a recreational vehicle is a good way to sample the enjoyment of family camping fun before investing in an RV. Many KOA Campgrounds offer rental of units for on-site use or for towing down the road to other scenic destinations.

KOA also has an exchange program for families who want to go camping, but don't want to own a recreational vehicle. The exchange program was developed to overcome the shortage of commercial rental units during the peak summer and holiday seasons.

RV owners send a fee of $10 to KOA and in return receive a rental packet containing information and guidelines on how to rent their RV, plus appropriate sample legal agreements and forms. Their names and specific data about their RV are then placed on a computerized list.

Families who would like to rent an RV send $5 to KOA, Inc. In return, they receive a sheet showing the names, addresses, phone numbers, types of RV and rental rates of rental families near them. For more information, write: Marketing Department, Campgrounds of America, P.O. Box 30558, Billings, Montana 59114.

The Lubbock KOA has a free handbook that designates sites where RVs can be rented. The Lubbock firm is also a convenient place to check out the set up and use of a recently acquired RV or tent.

Spending patterns are changing with the increasingly higher cost of living. Projections show that camping in 1979 will be more popular than ever. The family that shuts off home appliances and leaves second and third cars in the garage in favor of the simpler life of an RV vacation will probably save vital energy as well as dollars.

ROOMY COMPACT — The Coleman Concord fold-out tent trailer weighs 890 pounds (curb weight) and can be towed by compact cars. Among its features are on-board water supply with stainless steel sink, and a built-in gas hot plate. The Concord sleeps five on four-inch foam mattresses. The dinette table can be used inside or outside. When folded for travel, the trailer top is 47 inches above the roadway.

BUDGET PLEASER — A motor home enables many travelers to save money even with the higher cost of gasoline. RVers spend less money per day on the road and at their destination than a family that stays overnight in motels or hotels and eats all meals in restaurants. This motor home by Coachmen has a refrigerator, four-burner range with oven, and the option of twin beds or double bed with dresser.

DOUBLE DUTY — Any pickup becomes more versatile with a topper. Many tops, made of acrylic material and reinforced with fiberglass, are both durable and lightweight. Some campers are styled for minimum wind resistance, and feature large windows for an unobstructed view for the driver. Interiors can be designed and furnished to provide varied camping comforts.

West German Court Bans Swastika Use On Models

KARLSRUHE, West Germany (AP) — The West German Supreme Court ruled Thursday that a toy firm can be prosecuted for selling model airplanes decorated with the Nazi swastika.

It said a West German distributor of the British-made models was in violation of a law prohibiting the display or distribution of the swastika — the insignia of the Nazi Party that is banned in West Germany.

Caribbean Volcano Spews Additional Gas, Steam

KINGSTOWN, St. Vincent (AP) — Soufriere volcano sent billows of steam and gas into the air again and more blasts are expected, officials said Thursday.

Premier Milton Cato told the eastern Caribbean island's 100,000 residents in a radio broadcast there "was no need to panic."

The crater rumbled late Wednesday. Volcanologists were not available immediately to comment on the intensity of the blast but it appeared to be one of the strongest in three days.

Tech Ag Faculty, Students Honored

Seven students and one faculty member in the Texas Tech University Department of Agricultural Engineering have been recognized for outstanding achievement. Students honored include: Byron B. Hannabas, Lubbock; James L. Cromer, San Saba; J. Scott Eudy, Turkey; Kathy Scott Smith, Houston; Suzanna Ruth McCurry, Cypress; Phillip J. Bednarz, Wilson; and James H. Waller, Albany.

The ASAE Student Honor Award went to Cromer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Cromer of San Saba. This award is made available to the student branch by the national organization. Its presentation recognizes campus and miscellaneous activities. Cromer also received the faculty's Scholastic Achievement Award in Agricultural Engineering. Earlier he was named outstanding scholar of the Texas Tech College of Agricultural Sciences for having achieved the highest grade point average of any student in the college.

Eudy, branch secretary and son of Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Eudy of Turkey, was awarded the Jack Higgins Memorial Scholarship. The endowed scholarship was established by Mrs. Jack Higgins, friends and relatives to perpetuate the memory of a former Texas Tech agricultural engineering student. The recipient must be a junior or senior agricultural engineering major with special qualities of scholarship, leadership, character and sincerity of purpose.

Cotton Futures

NEW YORK (API) — Cotton futures No. 2 closed 50 cents a bale lower to $1.15 higher Thursday. The spot average price for strict low middling 11-16 inch spot cotton advanced 144 points to 59.16 cents a pound Wednesday for the ten leading markets, according to the New York Cotton Exchange.

Livestock

AMARILLO (API) — Trade fairly active throughout the Panhandle through afternoon Thursday. Slaughter steers firm to mostly 1.00 higher, heifers steady. The day's improved trade activity prompted primary by sharply higher carcass beef trade sales on 14,800 slaughter steers and 7,100 heifers.

Livestock Futures Reach Limit Level In Trading

CHICAGO — Cattle futures closed the daily limit level of 150 higher across the board with most contracts buyers over Thursday on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange. Sales totaled 33,776 contracts. All contracts posted new highs for the season, up eight cents from recent lows. Aggressive buying followed higher beef prices with a leading local buying both futures and carcass beef. The cash connected commission house was a net buyer after early selling.

Prices were higher from the start and rose to the best levels in more than one month, up 8 1/2 cents from recent lows. The reduction in local beef stocks, along with limit higher cattle and firmness in cash bellies, brought fresh buying. Wholesale bacon was up 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 cent at 46 1/4 to 54 cents a pound, f.o.b. river.

Panel To Include NRC In Nuclear Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nuclear Regulatory Commission postponed a decision Thursday on a recommendation to close eight nuclear power plants as the head of a presidential commission said the NRC will be one target of its investigation into the Three Mile Island accident.

The NRC announced that it would delay until today a decision on a recommendation by staff specialists who have called for closing atomic power plants similar to the Three Mile Island facility.

The NRC staff proposed Wednesday that the power plants, located in Arkansas, California, Florida, South Carolina, Ohio and Pennsylvania, be closed for safety reviews and modifications because they pose an "undue risk" to public safety.

But operators of the plants have told the NRC that closing the facilities may lead to power shortages and blackouts and the commissioners, in delaying a final decision, asked for further consultation with the power industry.

Meanwhile, President Carter's special 11-member commission investigating the Three Mile Island accident opened its hearings and panel chairman John G. Kemeny told reporters the NRC itself is a target of the probe.

"We have to get information from the NRC. We can't do anything without it. But we also have to investigate the NRC," Kemeny told reporters.

NRC Chairman Joseph Hendrie appeared before the special panel as it began its investigation and he promised "total cooperation in every possible way."

Hendrie said the NRC is conducting its own investigation of the Three Mile Island crisis, but will provide the presidential panel any information it seeks. He suggested that the staffs of the two groups cooperate.

Hendrie was critical of his own agency's inability to get immediate information from inside the crippled Three Mile Island reactor during the crisis at the power plant near Harrisburg, Pa.

"One of the urgent questions we have to deal with is why didn't we know earlier and more accurately what was going on inside the machine," Hendrie told the presidential panel.

The NRC chairman said plant officials apparently "didn't realize the sort of circumstances they were in" in the first two days after the March 28 accident.

Hendrie, in promising a "sweeping investigation" of the accident, declared: "We have clearly a responsibility to understand where our proceedings, the way we license these plants, have failed to prevent the Three Mile Island accident."

William H. Wilcox, head of the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration, told the commission that the Three Mile Island accident demonstrated that federal and state officials are not prepared to cope with such an emergency.

"The Nuclear Regulatory Commission lacks both the carrot or the stick to encourage adequate state and local governmental preparedness for radiological accidents," Wilcox said.

He also said federal agencies have not given enough priority to reviewing state emergency plans for such accidents and in the Pennsylvania case state disaster plans were "so vague as to be of little value."

al commission to begin meeting at least two or three times every two weeks and that an effort was underway in Congress to give the panel subpoena power and authority to require witnesses to testify under oath.

At the NRC, Harold E. Collins, assistant director of emergency preparedness, said 11 states so far have developed nuclear emergency plans and obtained NRC "concurrence." He said the states are Alabama, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Iowa, Kansas, New Jersey, New York, South Carolina and Washington.

The nuclear units built by Babcock & Wilcox, the firm that constructed the Three Mile Island plant, which the NRC staff wants closed are three reactors at the Oconee plant in South Carolina; the Rancho Seco plant in California; the Crystal River plant in Florida; Arkansas Unit 1; the Davis-Besse plant in Ohio; and the Three Mile Island Unit 1 adjacent to the reactor hit by the March 28 accident.

Air Force Major Killed In F-105 Crash

JACKSBORO (AP) — The pilot of an F-105 jet fighter-bomber was killed Thursday when the aircraft crashed about 15 miles northeast of Jacksboro.

The plane was en route from Carswell Air Force Base in Fort Worth to the Fort Sill, Okla., gunnery range when it went down about 9 a.m., said base spokesman Maj. James Odom.

The pilot was identified as Maj. Carl G. Decker, 41, of Colleyville, a 16-year Air Force veteran. He is survived by his wife, son and two daughters.

The supersonic F-105 crashed near the Jack County community of Cundiff. Odom said the plane was carrying 1,028 rounds of 20-millimeter cannon ammunition for target practice and was also loaded with six, 25-pound practice bombs. The F-105 can fly at twice the speed of sound and carry both conventional and nuclear weapons.

Arrests Less Frequent In Big Drug Bust

TYLER (AP) — The number of arrests in a widespread drug bust climbed slowly Thursday and the police chief said it would be a "slow process the next several days" rounding up the rest.

Police are looking for 121 persons and by Thursday afternoon "about 90" had been picked up, said a spokesman for the Smith County Jail, where those arrested were taken.

About 75 local and state law enforcement officers began the roundup Wednesday afternoon after a grand jury returned indictments against 121 persons.

About half of those arrested were bonded out later, the jail spokesman said.

Police Chief Willie Hardy said 50 were charged with felony counts of selling cocaine and two were accused of delivering heroin. Others face felony indictments alleging delivery of a variety of illegal drugs, including marijuana and methamphetamine.

Hardy acknowledged Thursday the Moslem mathematicians used the cipher, or zero, 200 years before it appeared in 12th century Europe.

roundup was getting harder as the word got out, although he said at first his men did not encounter much difficulty in locating the suspects.

Hardy said several of the ones wanted were major drug suppliers in East Texas.

Two undercover Tyler police officers spent eight months developing the case, which Hardy said was "without a doubt the largest drug raid in East Texas."

"We feel like it will make a big dent in the narcotics traffic here."

Three Mile Island Operator Cuts Dividend In Economy Move

NEW YORK (AP) — General Public Utilities Corp., in a series of moves designed to "conserve cash resources on all fronts" in the wake of last month's accident at its Three Mile Island nuclear power complex in Pennsylvania, Thursday announced a reduction in its quarterly dividend from 45 cents to 25 cents a share.

The dividend cut sent the value GPU's stock lower. At the 4 p.m. EST New York Stock Exchange close, GPU had dropped $1.375 from Wednesday's close to $10.375. It stood at $19.625 a share last October.

GPU also said the salaries paid to its officers and the fees paid its directors are being reduced by unspecified amounts.

Last year, according to the company's latest proxy statement, GPU Chairman William G. Kuhns earned $254,725 in salary, bonuses and other compensation.

GPU said it also is suspending its dividend reinvestment and employee stock purchase plans. Overall, GPU said it wants to slash its operating and maintenance spending in 1979 by 10 percent.

In a related matter, GPU said its first-quarter earnings dropped by 7.4 percent from those of a year earlier to $35.7 million, or 59 cents a share. But the company cautioned that "no provision for any loss resulting from the nuclear accident ... is included" in the results because the amount, "if any, is not presently determinable."

Agency Opposes AT&T Request For Rate Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House Office of Consumer Affairs urged the Federal Communications Commission Thursday to reject a request by AT&T for authority to earn a higher rate of return.

American Telephone & Telegraph Co. has petitioned the commission to allow it a 10.38 percent return on investment instead of the 9.5 to 10 percent now authorized. Its earnings last year were calculated by both the company and the FCC at 10.02 percent.

AT&T said it would not raise rates to the average telephone user, but would meet higher costs of operating and borrowing capital through more aggressive promotion and internal savings.

"Granting AT&T's request is an affront to the established regulatory process," said Esther Peterson, director of the consumer office. "It is an attempt at retroactive ratemaking which violates accepted principles of utility regulation and has no foundation in law."

AT&T has asked that the FCC act without holding public hearings. Mrs. Peterson said this would limit public scrutiny and disallow opportunity for public participation.

The utility holding company's dividend action came at a directors' meeting, the first since the accident March 28 at the Three Mile Island No. 2 reactor. The company said "the burdens created by the ... accident should be shared by stockholders, customers and employees."

The quarterly dividend reduction "reflected a substantial sharing" by the company's 177,000 shareholders, GPU said.

GPU, which has paid continuous quarterly dividends since 1946, said the new dividend would be payable May 25 to shareholders of record on May 11. The company's first-quarter profits were on revenues of $384.9 million. In the first quarter of 1978, GPU earned $38.6 million, or 65 cents a share, on revenues of $345.8 million.

A dividend reduction or suspension had been widely anticipated. But Kuhns said the move "should not be viewed as an indication of our estimate of the current or future earning power of the GPU common stock equity."

Analyst Kenneth Hollister of Dean Witter Reynolds Inc. said the board's decision amounted to a compromise between reducing the dividend or suspending it altogether, as Consolidated Edison Company of New York did in 1974. The Con Ed move led to a wave of utility stock sales on Wall Street.

A dividend suspension would mean GPU "could not sell securities anymore," Hollister said. But the company revealed it is in the midst of attempting to raise money through a security sale. GPU said "discussions are underway" for the "possible issuance of securities." In addition, GPU said it is "negotiating with a group of banks for a $400 million revolving credit agreement."

GPU did not reveal the names of the banks, and did not say whether its anticipated security sale would involve stocks or bonds.

GPU's need for cash has become acute since the power plant accident, termed the worst in the history of U.S. nuclear electricity generation.

The company has been paying out $27 million each quarter in dividends. But it has been spending $800,000 a day — nearly one-fourth of its 1978 average daily revenue of $3.6 million — for replacement power since the accident.

The power is needed to replace electricity lost by the shutdown of the No. 2 plant as well as the closing for maintenance of its neighboring plant, Three Mile Island No. 1. The plants are operated by Metropolitan Edison Co., a GPU subsidiary.

The $750 million No. 2 plant went into operation last December, and it is not known when, if ever, it might reopen. GPU also has not said when the undamaged No. 1 station will resume operations.

GPU, which serves 1.5 million customers in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, already had moved to curb expenses by halting construction of all new generating stations, including a nuclear plant in Lacey Township, N.J. It also cut maintenance spending at existing plants.

While GPU has been seeking to conserve cash, it has faced rough going before state utility regulators.

A $49 million-a-year rate increase granted to Metropolitan Edison recently was frozen for at least six months by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission.

The new rate schedule had been based in part on the assumption that Three Mile Island No. 2 would be operating, but Metropolitan Edison had offered to forego $16 million of the rate boost after the accident.

In addition to freezing the Metropolitan Edison increase, the Pennsylvania commission temporarily cut $25 million from a $66.2 million rate boost won by another GPU unit, Pennsylvania Electric Co. Pennsylvania Electric owns 25 percent of the damaged power plant and had sought the higher rates to help pay for its share of the station's construction costs.

GPU has said, however, it may seek to pass some of the financial impact of the accident on to consumers through existing power cost adjustment clauses. Hearings on "base rates and energy adjustment charges" begin before the Pennsylvania public utility commission May 2. In addition, GPU's Jersey Central Power Light Co. plans to ask New Jersey authorities next week for new rates allowing the utility to deal "with the impact of the ... accident."

Israeli-Palestinian Truce Observed

By The Associated Press
Syrian and Israeli fighter jets streaked ominously over Beirut on Thursday and Christian militiamen lobbed mortars into two southern Lebanese villages after an Israeli bombardment of Palestinian camps in Sidon.

The truce was called after four days of cross-border shooting that erupted when four Palestinian raiders attacked the coastal Israeli town of Nahariya early Sunday. Four Israelis and two of the raiders were killed.

banese Christian forces stopped Fabre at a roadblock and confiscated his camera and film. The film was given to Israeli authorities who said it contained photos of Israeli military installations. Israel forbids photography of its bases.

Gasohol Bill Given Texas Senate Okay

By JOHNNY HOLMES
Avalanche-Journal Staff
STATE legislators battling to make Texas the eleventh state to enjoy the benefits of the commercial production of gasohol won a major battle Thursday, but admitted a hard road still lies ahead.

ing to Margaret Spearman, Price's legislative assistant.
Price's legislation exempts gasohol from the five cent state motor fuels tax; authorizes five grants of up to $4 million each for the construction of grain alcohol plants; and authorizes the state to spend $20 million to build a pilot gasohol plant.

Free State Declared
Lebanese Christian militiamen led by the Israeli-backed dissident army Maj. Saad Haddad, declared a "Free Lebanon" in a small enclave near the border April 19 to protest the dispatch of Lebanese troops to the U.N. peacekeeping forces in the south.

Oil Profits Tax Sent To Solons

supporters attempted to revive it with another vote Thursday.
But Republicans boycotted a committee meeting; not enough members were present, and no new vote was taken.

"Unjustified Profits"
Before details of his "windfall profits" plan were made public, Carter said the tax "is the only thing that stands between the oil companies and a huge bonanza of unearned, unnecessary and unjustified profits."

The administration has described the windfall tax as a 50 percent tax on excess oil company profits, indicating the government would collect half the profit resulting from Carter's decontrol of oil prices.
But White House officials made clear Thursday that a substantial portion of decontrolled oil, such as oil flowing through the Alaska pipeline, will not be subject to the "windfall" tax.

$15.4 Billion Seen
White House domestic policy adviser Stuart Eizenstat said oil companies are expected to reap in gross revenue about $15.4 billion over the next three years "directly from decontrol."

Because so much oil will not be taxed, however, the 50 percent "windfall" tax actually will take in only $3.3 billion for the government. Since the windfall tax would be deductible from federal income taxes this would reduce by more than $1.2 billion the amount of federal income tax paid by the oil companies over the first three years, according to Treasury Department figures.
Thus, the "windfall" tax would net only about $2 billion more from the oil companies than they would have had to pay under existing tax laws, according to the Treasury Department.

Net Additional Income
In addition to the $3.3 billion windfall profits tax, the oil companies would pay $5.1 billion in regular federal income taxes and $1 billion in state taxes, thus leaving $6 billion in net additional income to the oil companies out of the $15.4 billion total over the three years, Eizenstat said.
He said oil exempted from windfall taxation includes that from relatively small wells, from worn-out wells that can be recovered only through expensive recovery techniques and from oil flowing through the Alaska pipeline.

Meets Key Democrats
Carter met earlier in the day with key Democratic members of the House Ways and Means Committee agreed on a legislative strategy for handling the tax proposals.
Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., chairman of the tax-writing committee, said he is confident the House will act speedily to pass the tax and set up a special trust fund to finance energy resource development.

Ullman predicted the House bill will conform basically with Carter's wishes, although "not exactly the way the president wanted."
In an April 5 address to the nation, Carter announced he will gradually lift price controls on domestic crude oil starting June 1. The aim is to discourage consumption through higher prices and encourage greater development of domestic energy resources.
The president said the congressional battle over his proposals "will be a classic confrontation between the common and public good against the enormous power of a well-organized special interest."
Asserting that the industry will seek tax loopholes "you can sail an oil tanker through," Carter said:
"This will be an excellent opportunity for the Congress to prove to a sometimes-doubtful public that in such a test... the people's interest can prevail."
Ullman said leaders of his committee and Carter are agreed on a strategy intended to insure speedy action on the tax proposal.

Restrictions Cloud City Loan Market

restrictions announced Thursday by Fannie Mae definitely will have a negative effect on the VA and FHA loan market in Lubbock, say local lenders.
But lenders have differing predictions as to how much the restrictions will affect the availability of government-approved home loans in Lubbock.
"The interest rate restriction on Texas mortgages basically is going to shut down the VA and FHA market in the state," said Roddy Stargel of Gibraltar Savings. "About 35 percent of the Lubbock home loan market is involved with government-approved loans and I do not know of any alternative at this time."
But John Neal of Sentry Savings Association did not paint such a gloomy picture.
"We usually can shop several places in order to sell our mortgages, but Fannie Mae's decision sort of cramps our style," Neal said. "We still will be able to make some VA and HA loans, but we will have to sell our mortgages to other sources."
Neal listed the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation and the Government National Mortgage Association as other loan money resources, but he noted that Fannie Mae probably was the largest mortgage buying source.
"Texas is a capital deficit area," Neal added. "We do not have enough money in the state to meet current loan demands so we must look for a vehicle to capture some money and bring it back to Texas. By selling our mortgages to Fannie Mae we could bring additional money into the state."
"The loan restrictions announced by Fannie Mae will keep several billion dollars of loan money out of the state and the restrictions will seriously hamper our efforts to make home loans," Neal said.

Clements To Review Home Interest Lid

pushes interest rates up," he said. "And some claim that if usury limits are raised, the interest rate will go to the maximum. That's just not true."
Pope said that while Texas has been reluctant to raise its usury limit to 12 percent, his home state of North Carolina raised its limit from 7 to 8 to 10 percent.
"Then several months ago, the state eliminated usury for a trial period to determine what would happen," he said.
"With no limit at all now, the home mortgage rates in North Carolina range from 10 1/4 to 10 3/4 percent, depending on the amount of the down payment."
Clements also said he is disappointed over the cold shoulder given several of his pet bills the past week, but still has "a keen sense of optimism."
"We've just started. We're not finished," Clements told a news conference Thursday, particularly on budget matters.
He said the $20.3 billion spending bill just passed by the House was "totally unacceptable... because of the dollar total and because of some of its provisions."
However, he added: "The appropriation process is barely under way. It will be settled in conference committee... I am not unhappy at all as far as the budget is concerned."

Food, Beverages Soar

— Entertainment, 0.9 percent and 6.1 percent.
— Other goods and services, 0.6 percent and 7.5 percent.

Tapering Foreseen
But he said he expects some "tapering" of inflation in the next several months. Previously, he had said he would consider the administration's wage and price guidelines a failure if progress in restraining inflation isn't evident by summer.

Another one of Carter's top inflation advisers, Barry Bosworth, told The Associated Press in an interview that if inflation does not begin to cool soon, it is likely to get much worse as workers demand steadily higher wages to keep pace with steadily rising prices.
"I think the country is in for an explosion of price increases" if that happens, he said.

As the gasohol war is fought in the Texas Congress, scientists at Dow Chemical in Houston say they have gotten a special grant from the Texas Energy Advisory Council to study making alcohol for gasohol from algae.

Whooping Crane Chick Hatches

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A rare whooping crane chick was hatched Thursday at the San Antonio Zoo from one of three eggs being tended by bantam jungle fowl hens acting as foster mothers.
The chick is "doing fine," said David McKelvey, senior aviculturist at the zoo. It is not yet possible to determine the sex of the chick, he said.
Ektu, mate of the late Crip, produced eight eggs last month, five of which were fertile. Crip died last month after living three decades in captivity.
One chick died last week after poking its beak through its shell. Another egg was sent to the Patuxent Wildlife Research Center in Maryland for incubation.
There are only about 100 whooping cranes remaining. The species nearly became extinct in the 1940s.

Solons Refuse Earlier Vote

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)— Pressure by the Democratic National Committee to shorten the presidential primary marathon collapsed Thursday amid the shouts of New Hampshire lawmakers fighting to save their state's status as having the earliest presidential primary.
"I was astounded, I was appalled — anything — I was so surprised when I saw this bill, I couldn't believe it," said House Majority Leader Marshall French, R-Meredith, on Thursday. His reaction was to a bill, requested by the Democratic National Committee, to move the state's primary to mid-March.
State law specifically sets it on the second Tuesday in March, or earlier than any other state.
Democrats introduced the measure to conform to a DNC request that all primaries fall within a 13-week period.
Rep. Peter Hildreth, D-Laconia, said that if the change were not made, the state Democratic party could be liable to a legal challenge by the DNC and the outcome of any primary could be dissolved.

— Begin validation procedures for bonds to be sold in 1980 immediately after the 1979 sale.
— Review the financial plan for bond financing annually and establish an annual capital improvements budget.
Cunningham also suggested users of city services begin to pay for those services so the city recovers the cost of providing the service.
The service charges need to be changed so services are "not being subsidized through taxes," he said.
That suggestion came after Cunningham said revenues to operate the city's General Fund "will become increasingly inadequate at the (current) $1.12 tax level."
Cunningham attributes that to the re-

Tech Terrace Park Streets Barricaded

By SYLVIA TEAGUE
Avalanche-Journal Staff

The street on the perimeter of Tech Terrace Park will be barricaded for 90 days as a result of Lubbock City Council Action Thursday.

Following a deluge of complaints from residents who live near the park, council members decided to seek a permanent solution by placing barricades on Flint Avenue at 23rd and 25th Streets, and on Gary Avenue north of 25th Street and south of 23rd Street.

City Manager Larry Cunningham said the barricades will be placed on the street on a "test basis until such time that we know it is a good solution."

The barricades will be modified with railroad spikes and wire at a cost of $650 to the city to prevent their removal.

Presently police officers are manning the barricades at a cost of $1,200 per weekend.

Council member Bud Aderton questioned testing the barricades when Texas Tech classes were about to end, but Cunningham said he had been told residents have similar traffic and noise problems around the park "11 months out of the year."

If council members decide after the 90 days that the barricades have solved the

Search Continues

For Owner Of Cash

Lubbock police and District Attorney John Montford Thursday night were continuing their investigation into the ownership of $36,200 in cash found by a nine-year-old boy in a trash dumpster Monday.

Police believe the cash belongs to James Earl Jeffreys, the 73-year-old owner of Southwestern Electric Supply Co., because he reported being robbed of several items found in the dumpster along with the cash.

Jeffreys said his 2103 62nd St. home was burglarized of some jewelry and a camera, along with "at least" $1,000 in cash Monday afternoon. Some jewelry and a camera and a briefcase matching Jeffreys' description were found in a dumpster behind Bavies Elementary School.

traffic problems, they will consider purchasing more attractive permanent barricades which range in cost from $3,000 to $3,500.

Councilman Bill McAlister asked to receive a status report at the end of the 90-day test period, but Mayor Pro Tem Alan Henry said he would rather have an indefinite extension at the end of the test period.

"I don't want to hear about it any more," Henry said.

Also this morning council members approved increased rental rates in the Municipal Auditorium-Coliseum.

Most base rental rates in the auditorium would jump 20 per cent and Coliseum base rates would increase from 6-20 per cent.

The new rates will go into effect May 1 for all users except Texas Tech, which will begin paying the higher rates September 1.

This is the first substantial rate change since 1975.

In addition to the higher rates, council members approved McAlister's motion that all city rates be reviewed annually. Previously, council members had asked that city fees be subjected to annual scrutiny.

Council members agreed to reduce the $2 licensing fees for dogs to $1 during the annual May 19 rabies clinic sponsored by the Lubbock Humane Society.

The Humane Society had asked that the licensing fee be waived entirely and that animal shelter personnel not be required to work in the rabies clinic.

However, council members felt the 50 per cent reduction of the licensing fee was adequate and asked that the animal shelter continue its participation in the clinic.

Cunningham recommended the continued participation of the animal shelter because the city would have to rely on the license receipts completed during the clinic in locating owners of loose dogs.

Council members may begin contracting with the Chamber of Commerce to operate the Convention and Tourism Bureau, freeing the city's money and efforts to promote city facilities for conventions and other activities.

Following meetings with chamber officials, Councilman Bill McAlister and Councilwoman Carolyn Jordan suggested the city pay the chamber $40,000-$45,000 a year to promote Lubbock as a convention site.

This year the city contributed $90,000 to the operation of the Convention and Tourism Bureau from the Hotel/Motel Tax, while the chamber paid $50,000 for its operation.

Mrs. Jordan and McAlister said they favor the city hiring a person specifically to promote the Civic Center and Auditorium-Coliseum, allowing the city to save about $30,000 over the current method of funding the bureau.

Mayor Dirk West said he doubted the change would save any money, but Councilman Bud Aderton countered "the objective is not to save money, but to get more use (of city facilities)."

Mayor Pro Tem Alan Henry said he would prefer to contract with an organization which would put a "high priority on promoting the Civic Center."

However, council members agreed to null the proposal over and get City Attorney John Ross to point up any legal problems with the suggested plan at a future council meeting.

A plaque memorializing all five Lubbock firefighters who died in the line of duty will be placed in the entry of the new Central Fire Station under construction at 18th Street and Avenue K, council members decided.

The plaque will list the names of Larry Tucker, Kenneth Haggard and Eddie Swafford, who died fighting a blaze on March 25, and the names of Waylon Jack Jenkins who died in 1957 and J. Neuel Bryant of died in 1928.

The fire station is expected to be completed in June, and the plaque will be dedicated at that time.

The city will continue its participation in the South Plains Manpower Consortium, council members decided Thursday.

Earlier this week, other consortium members from Lubbock, Hale and Garza Counties reached the same verdict and voted to retain the South Plains Association of Governments as the administrator of the local Comprehensive Education and Training Act funded program.

All consortium members, including the council, agreed a written contract outlining SPAG's duties and responsibilities should be drawn up to avoid past problems with the operation of the CETA job training program.

Also council members: —Made an alley adjacent to Parsons Elementary School one-way from west to east, after deciding at the last meeting to pave the alley.

—Approved a contract with the Cultural Affairs Council to underwrite any losses of this weekend's Lubbock Arts Festival from the Hotel/Motel Tax up to $10,000 which is in the special projects fund.

The port of Murmansk in South Lapland is so far north that its polar nights last about 60 days each winter.

At Wit's End...

By ERMA BOMBECK

A magazine recently surveyed a group of teenage girls in which 80 percent of them said that a pleasing personality and a sense of humor were the prime consideration in accepting a first date.

Oh sure, and I'll bet the boys said the same thing. They always do.

Being touted for a blind date by reassuring the blindee "she has a wonderful personality" is like being named Miss Congeniality in the Pillsbury Bake-off. It's a kiss-off. Who cares?

I'm no dummy. When I was in school I saw boys date girls with waists bigger than their IQs. I sat next to a girl once who had the personality of a leftover, but she was definitely assembled at the factory. She took the History of Russia course only because the class was at 9:30 a.m. and she got the morning sun on the right side of her body. (This worked out perfectly with The Wit and Humor of Ho Chi Minh, which she took because it had a window with a western exposure so that she could tan the left side of her body.)

She had a date when she had her teeth cleaned.

I pegged her as one of the few who would never diagram a sentence in her lifetime, but would somehow overcome this handicap.

Frankly, a pleasing personality and a good sense of humor bears too great a stigma to ever overcome. Mothers used to say that when they were trying to palm off a girl who breathed through her mouth and had a nice tooth.

Or when they were trying to set up a boy who raised earthworms and had a collection of Barbie dolls in his room.

In all the years I was in the dating marketplace, not once did I hear a boy or girl say, "Wow! Would you get a load of that pleasing personality and check out that sense of humor."

Worse, no one ever described a blind date as "really stacked and looks like a prom queen, but don't hang up — underneath it all she has a pleasing personality and a sense of humor."

I'm skeptical. I think surveys reflect what the participants want to believe is true. Face it. Guys don't go out with a pleasant personality and a sense of humor.

They marry it though.

CHRISTIAN WOMEN'S CLUB LUNCH
The Lubbock Christian Women's Club will meet for a luncheon Tuesday at 11:30 a.m. in the Lubbock Country Club. A style show, "The Lighter Side of Fashion," will be presented. Music will be provided by trombonist Don Lucas. Marion McElhane, a doctor's wife from Austin, will be the speaker. For reservations or cancellations call Judy Meador, 799-3448 or Barbara Foster, 799-7538 before noon tomorrow.

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Your response regarding "harmless" tickling of children gave me the courage to write this letter to my father — and to all other fathers who may see themselves as they read it.

Dear Dad: You wonder why your kids show you very little affection? This letter might give you a clue:

Yesterday my little sister screamed suddenly. You had given her a "love pinch" as you passed. When I was her age, it was worse. You would grab and tickle me until I was in tears. Then you'd ask, "Where should I bite?" "You wouldn't let me go until I named a place and let you bite me HARD. You also enjoyed giving me a sudden swat across the backside as I lay on the floor reading or watching TV.

Although you often punished us physically when we misbehaved, we never held it against you. Your surprise attacks however, which were supposed to be signs of affection, were never interpreted as "love."

It's too late for us older ones, but may be if you get the message now, it might help with the others. — Long Memory

Dear Memory: Glad you wrote. It gives me an opportunity to tell all adults who launch sudden "playful" attacks on children under the guise of "fun" — that there's real hostility buried under there someplace. The kids know it even if the adults don't. I hate to be a bore, but I suggest counseling for people who get their kicks this way.

CONFIDENTIAL To Should I Do It In Louisville? NO! You need this dame like a fish needs a bicycle.

Are your parents too strict? Hard to reach? Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How to Get More Freedom," could help you bridge the generation gap. Send 50 cents with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Hyperkinesis Continues During Adolescence

NEW HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP) — Children do not automatically outgrow the symptoms of hyperactivity, report two physicians at the Child Development Center at Long Island Jewish-Hillside Medical Center here.

Recent studies have reversed the assumption that childhood hyperkinesis is outgrown at puberty, say Dr. Jeffrey Mattes and Dr. Rachel Gittleman-Klein.

As children with this disorder enter the teen years, they say, some of the signs of hyperkinesis may diminish, but other symptoms such as poor concentration and impulsive behavior may remain to make life even more difficult than usual during adolescence.

"Hyperactive children often do poorly in school and have trouble making friends because of their impulsive behavior," Dr. Mattes explains. "These problems deprive them of the sense of achievement and the self-esteem that is so important to healthy development."

"If these children receive help early, it is possible that some of the later difficulties can be avoided," he adds. "Treatment does not cure the condition but it does alleviate many of the symptoms." Such treatment may include medication, behavior therapy, psychotherapy, tutoring and remediation in academic studies, counseling of parents and continuing consultation with the child's school.

Cross-Stitch Samplers Make Wonderful Gifts

If you've ever set out to create some beautiful handcrafted items but found yourself bogged down with color charts, stitch charts, stitch directions and too few strands of the most-used-color-of-thread, don't throw in the creative towel! Cross-stitch is a simple-to-complete yet elegant-looking introduction to the art of needlework. It's easy to do whether you monogram an apron, add a decorative touch to a skirt, or make a lovely wall hanging.

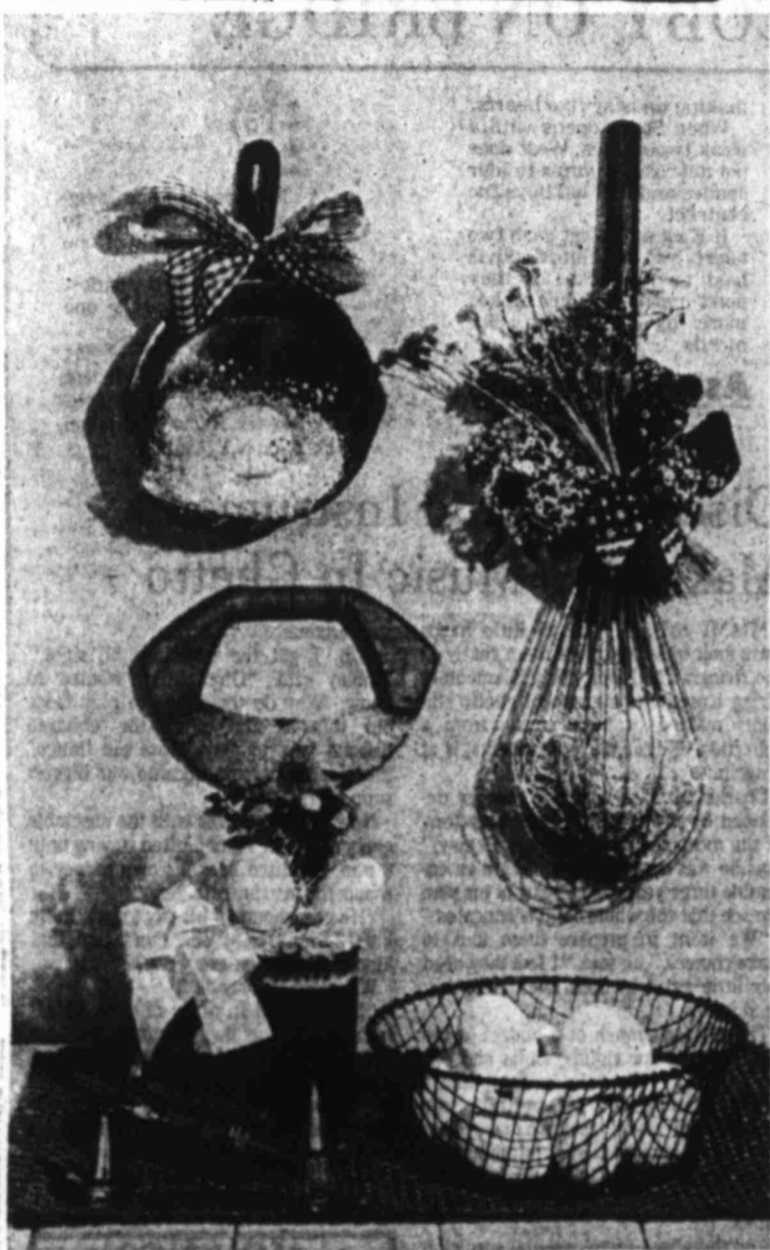

Can't make your own original creation? Nonsense! If you can make the letter "x" you can create a cross-stitch sampler. Simply plot out your design on a piece of paper the exact size you'll want it to appear on the cloth you'll be working with. Decide how many "x's" you'll need to complete each part of your decoration and you're in business. (Of course, you'll have to trace your design on the cloth before you can begin.)

Completely designed in cross-stitch, this lovely wall hanging combines an inspiring gardening philosophy, the rainbow's beautiful colors, and an array of spring's creations. The kit comes complete with easy-to-follow instructions, stamped design on cotton fabric, embroidery thread, and a needle and finishes to 16" x 20".

Decorations Made From Old Objects

Don't throw it away! Turn old and discarded objects into wonderful decorator pieces for your home. As you do your Spring cleaning, hold on to those old pots and pans or empty spice tins...they can become wall plaques for your kitchen or breakfast room. Also, you can hunt antique shops for some classic advertising posters & labels, campaign buttons, clothing articles, etc. Learn how to transform these items and kitchen utensils such as sifters, ladles, coffee pots, cookie cutters and other items like an old mailbox, shoe or birdcage into planters and quaint room decor.

This 15-page booklet offers color pictures and step-by-step directions to help you decorate with your collectibles. Some of the special techniques reviewed are clean-up of old items, preserving baked goods such as bread stick & pretzels for display, removing the content of an egg leaving just the shell, and use of paint, decals and ribbons.

Man Found Guilty Of Poisoning Son

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — A father who said he poisoned his 23-month-old son with boric acid to "force my wife to come home" has been found guilty of assault with intent to commit murder.

Superior Court Judge Corinne Grand handed down the verdict Wednesday and ordered Andrew J. Charette, 30, of Central Falls held at the Adult Correctional Institutions in Cranston until sentencing June 1. Charette could be sentenced to up to 20 years in prison.

Charette called police and two hospitals after he fed the child the acid in his Woonsocket apartment Oct. 4, 1976. The child recovered after four days on the danger list at Rhode Island Hospital. The father said he was upset with his wife, who had gone on a date with another man that night.

Area Artists To Exhibit Works In Kerrville

KERRVILLE (Special) — When the official state arts and crafts fair opens in Kerrville, May 26, local artists will exhibit their work along with about 225 of Texas' finest artists and craftspeople.

Stinson Behlen, who crafts musical instruments, Charles Luck, a woodworker, Ann and Woody Orr, jewelers, and Star Shelton, who specializes in hand woven clothing, won their places from a field of over 600 applications in the statewide, juried competition.

Behlen, of Slaton, has handcrafted the finest dulcimers, mandolins, folk fiddles, banjos, harps, Indian mouth bows and Aztec drums for over 20 years. He reports that he has made over 3800 dulcimers and earned 12 triple blue ribbons and has returned to the Texas Arts and Crafts Fair by automatic invitation for the past eight years. All of Behlen's dulcimers are built from fine woods to give them that certain haunting tone.

Charles Luck has made woodworking his hobby for about 15 years, and has specialized in Mesquite wood for over a year. He is employed as Terminal Manager for Benton Oil Company in Lubbock and has two sons. His wife, Tallulah, is employed at the First State Bank in Shallowater.

Crafting jewelry for approximately three years, the Orrs report that they are now specializing in chokers and earrings. Jewelry making is a hobby from Ann and Woody who are both employed at Texas Tech University. Planning to travel to craft shows all over the country after retirement, the Orrs have exhibited their work as far away as Natchez, Miss.

Largely a self-taught craftsman, Star Shelton has been weaving for three years. She is a graduate of Texas Tech University with a degree in clothing and textiles who now specialize in garments of natural fibers such as wool, cotton and silk. A winner of the first place award in the textile division at North Texas Regional Fair. Star has studied with internationally known craftspeople, and attended workshops in Colorado.

The dates for the Kerrville fair are May 26, 27 and 28, and the event will be held on the tree-shaded Schreiner campus. All entertainment is free to fair ticketholders. For a free, color brochure write to: Texas State Arts and Crafts Fair, P.O. Box 1527, Kerrville, 78028.

Bermuda Stamp Sold For Record $75,000

NEW YORK (AP) — An 1856 one-penny Bermuda stamp was sold for $75,000, the highest price ever paid for a British West Indies stamp, according to Harpers of New York Inc., Manhattan stamp auctioneers.

Red on bluish woven paper, it was described as the only copy dated 1856 and its estimated value in advance of the auction was between $40,000 and $50,000.

Actress Has Mixed Emotions Over Ending Role As Faith-Healer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actors often say they have feelings of exhilaration and sadness when they come to the end of making a movie.

Ellen Burstyn was feeling both emotions the day she finished "Resurrection." She had returned from the final location scenes in the mobile home she had occupied for three months. It was driven through the gate of Universal Studios and parked on the back lot, where she served champagne to her immediate four-woman crew of co-workers and talked with a visitor.

"My last day," reflected the actress. "At least I didn't have to face the sad partings. I'll do that when we have the 'wrap' party Monday."

"Resurrection" comes from an original screenplay by Lewis John Carlino. It concerns a woman who loses her husband and almost her life in an auto accident, returns to her Kansas roots to recover and finds she has the power to heal other people. Burstyn said she was attracted by the intention of producers Renee Misael and Howard Rosenman "to bring to the public consciousness the image of a female spiritual character."

"Everyone was inspired, first of all by the script," Burstyn observed. "It was a difficult thing to do, and I believe we all were pressed to perform better than we thought we could."

"I had a liking for the figure of Almee Semple McPherson," said the actress, "and I almost did a movie about her. I was more interested in the power that she wielded (as a Los Angeles evangelist) than the commercial parody that she became."

"She had a radio station, a huge church, a welfare program. She was a real leader, and I was interested in that side of her character."

The Edna McCauley that Burstyn portrays does not claim her healing power comes from Jesus Christ and she resists any church affiliations. "She is unexploitable because she is a pure being. But of course, the world reacts to unusual power; for every force there is an answering force."

As with "Alice Doesn't Live Here Anymore," which won her the Oscar as the best actress of 1975, Burstyn entered the preparation of "Resurrection" in its early stages.

"My work is acting," she remarked, "but in the past few years, I have tried to create the kind of work that I want to do. I believe Jane Fonda has done the same thing. It's just a question of bringing everything together and trying to make it work."

The next project she has helped bring together is "Silence of the North," a real-life story of a woman who homesteaded in the Canadian wilds. She plans to start the film at the end of September. "After that, I don't expect to be as eager to act," she said.

What then? Besides helping prepare films, she might direct them. Burstyn took part in an American Film Institute project that allowed women to direct short films.

"It was a revelation," she remarked. "The thought never would have occurred to me to direct a film if the AFI hadn't given me the opportunity. I haven't found a feature to direct yet; it takes two years and you have to be certain of your commitment. But I'm getting ready for the transformation."

'I Know Why The Caged Bird Sings,' Tells Story Of Black Poet's Childhood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings" tells the melancholy and confusing childhood of black poet-author Maya Angelou, a young woman pulled hither and yon by relatives.

It is not a happy story, yet, surprisingly, neither is it sad, because she finds strength and love in Momma, her paternal grandmother, and inspiration in books and poems.

The two-hour film, adapted by Leonora Thuna and Miss Angelou from her autobiography, airs Saturday on CBS.

"I would imagine the unhappiness began with the child being uprooted and being sent to a strange place with strange people," said Esther Rolle, formerly of "Good Times," who plays Momma. "Her grandmother was like a haven for this little paper boat being tossed about. It was the only anchorage she had."

As small children, Miss Angelou and her brother were shunted off to their grandmother by their divorced parents, only to be reclaimed years later in a futile attempt at a reconciliation that ends in rape and murder.

Newcomer Constance Good is superb as young Maya, as is John M. Driver II as her brother, who seems to prefer the flashy lifestyle of his parents to the drab Arkansas town where his grandmother runs a rural general store.

Diahann Carroll is the mother, Vivian, a party-loving card dealer in a St. Louis gambling din. Ruby Dee is the maternal grandmother, a grand dame who wields power like a precinct captain. Paul Benjamin is Vivian's boyfriend, Freeman, who makes the fatal error of turning his attentions to young Maya.

After she is raped, and Freeman is killed in retaliation, Maya feels such an overwhelming sense of guilt that she vows never to speak again. Only after she returns to Arkansas, where a teacher (Madge Sinclair) plunges her into the world of books, does she regain her voice.

It is an excellent cast and an excellent production, filled with little details that illuminate the characters and their lives.

Miss Rolle said she could not understand the scarcity of black drama on television, particularly in view of the high ratings of "Roots," "Roots II" and "Backstairs at the White House." Nor could she understand why "Caged Bird" was held for nearly a year after its filming in Vicksburg, Miss.

HUG FOR MOMMA — Esther Rolle, right, who portrays Momma, the proud owner of a general store in a small rural black community, gets a hug from Constance Good, who plays her granddaughter in CBS-TV's movie, "I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings." The movie, based on Maya Angelou's book about a young black girl growing up in the South during the Depression, will air in Lubbock at 8 p.m. Saturday on Channel 13. (AP Laser-photo)

"Producers, directors, everybody tells you there's no market for black drama. To do anything you have to do a musical. You know, they had a heck of a time selling the first 'Roots.' You see blacks dancing, singing, as comics, and the general assumption is that's all they can do. I thought 'Roots' put that old wives' tale to rest, but it didn't."

Miss Rolle, at home in Baldwin Hills, where her living room offers a panoramic view of Los Angeles, had just returned from a tour of her one-woman show, "Ain't I a Woman."

She said she's at a loss to explain why CBS canceled "Good Times." "This was one of their lifelines. CBS doesn't have that many hits. They did a job on us, moving us around and pre-empting us to make sure an audience never knew where to find us. There was just no respect for me as a star of the show in not letting me know what was going on. And I've had no offers from CBS."

"That's why I plunged into my one-woman show. There's no one else to do it but me. If I sat around waiting for them I'd grow bitter."

She calls her show a dramatized lecture, incorporating words from Susan B. Anthony and Sojourner Truth. She said she was inspired to put the show together because of what she saw as a misplaced emphasis on men in American history.

Husband, Wife Both In Business Of Producing Films—Separately

SEPARATE HUSBAND—WIFE MOVIE PRODUCERS — Alex Rose and her husband Fred Weintraub pose recently at Fox Studios in Los Angeles. Rose and Weintraub are both movie producers, but unlike most husbands and wives who produce movies, they produce movies separately. Rose recently produced "Norma Rae," and Weintraub has just finished "The Promise." (AP Laserphoto)

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "In all your years in Hollywood," asked Fred Weintraub, "have you ever interviewed a husband and wife who produced movies — separately?"

The answer is an unqualified no. Married couples have occasionally produced movies together, but Fred Weintraub and Alex (short for Alexandra) Rose are unique. Both are represented in movie theaters this spring. With her partner, Tamara Asseyev, Mrs. Rose has produced "Norma Rae," the 20th Century-Fox drama about efforts to organize a textile mill in a small Southern town. Martin Ritt directed the film, and Sally Field stars in a much-acclaimed performance.

With his partner, Paul Heller, Weintraub has produced "The Promise" for Universal Pictures. The melodrama was directed by Gilbert Cates and stars Kathleen Quinlan, Beatrice Straight and Stephen Collins. The film has drawn some critical scorn for its overwrought dramatics, but it has also attracted ever-increasing numbers at the Radio City Music Hall, where it was the Easter attraction. "The picture has been called 'The Golden Weeper,' and I like that," said Weintraub. "We set out to make a tear-jerker. Judging from the lines at the Music Hall, we succeeded. People all over the world are schmalzy; they like a good cry."

"The Promise" was an easy sell, he added. He and Heller concocted a short story about a girl who is disfigured in an accident. They told it to Universal boss Ned Tanen, who gave them a go-ahead.

The project was enhanced by a Dell paperback that sold 2 million copies, and the film was produced for a modest $2.4 million.

"Norma Rae" was tougher to get off the ground, Mrs. Rose reported. She and Miss Asseyev were attracted to the story of a young woman union organizer in the

THE NEW SAINT — As part of its assault on NBC's late night empire, with Johnny Carson on the throne, CBS as part of its CBS Late Movie Series, will bring back the series "The Saint," starring Ian Ogilvy, shown as he appears in a scene from "Upstairs, Downstairs." South as early as 1973. They had little luck selling it until Ritt became interested. Even then, the project was rejected by two studios before Fox took it on.

"We thought 'Norma Rae' could be a female 'Rocky,' and we never lost faith," said Mrs. Rose. The major problem was casting the lead role; such stars as Diane Keaton and Jill Clayburgh declined. Sally Field was down the list because she was not "bankable" — not enough of a star to attract the financing. She is now.

Even with a difficult location in Alabama, "Norma Rae" was produced for $4.5 million, a half-million over budget. That, of course, made Mrs. Rose and Miss Asseyev heroines at Fox.

Alex Rose, 34, and Fred Weintraub, 51, have been together eight years, married for six. She is dark-haired, slim and lovely, a native of Green Bay, Wis., educated at the University of Wisconsin and the Paris Institute of Political Studies. He is bearded and chunky, from the East Bronx and the University of Pennsylvania.

They met at a Hollywood party — a cliché that neither would probably allow in one of their film scripts. Both were already well along in their producing careers. Weintraub had been creative services vice president at Warner Bros., where he helped develop such films as "Woodstock," "Kluge" and "The Summer of '42." With Paul Heller he produced the Bruce Lee hit "Enter the Dragon," as well as "Outlaw Blues" with Peter Fonda and most recently, "Horn" with Steve McQueen.

Mrs. Rose graduated from the Roger Corman school that had produced dozens of film makers. She worked in sales for his New World company, hustling everything from "Lady Frankenstein" to Ingmar Bergman's "Cries and Whispers." She and Miss Asseyev produced a modest success, "I Wanna Hold Your Hand," which they are now adapting into a TV series.

Mrs. Rose and Weintraub have no plans to work together.

"We have different interests in different kinds of pictures," he explained.

"We sometimes consult each other on scenes — 'What do you think of this?' one of us will ask," she added. "But I think it's important to keep business out of home life."

Actress Alleges Malpractice

PARIS (AP) — Movie actress Brigitte Bardot appeared in court Thursday to testify in her suit against the American Hospital in Paris, which she claims failed to do all it could to save her mother's life.

Miss Bardot arrived in a white Rolls-Royce automobile, looking sun-tanned and dressed in a black suit. She refused to talk to reporters, who were kept away from her by a police cordon.

Miss Bardot, 43, claims the hospital, in the northwestern Paris suburb of Neuilly, failed to send a competent doctor to treat her mother when she suffered cardiac problems in the wake of an operation for an intestinal tumor. Mrs. Anne-Marie Bardot died Aug. 1. Her age was not known.

Miss Bardot testified for three hours behind closed doors before a judge in the Paris suburb of Nanterre.

In her original complaint to court, she wrote that she was at her mother's bedside with three friends when the patient suffered "what seemed to be difficulties in her cardiac rhythm."

She said she called for a doctor, but none showed up and half an hour later her mother was dead.

The hospital denies Miss Bardot's charges, insisting it is very strict about having expert doctors close by their patients.

Miss Bardot eluded reporters awaiting her exit by driving away in her lawyer's automobile and leaving the Rolls in the hands of her chauffeur.

English Group Makes It Big In Spite Of Being 'Conventional'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — They don't play disco and they certainly aren't heavy metal rockers. They don't sing about politics, wear flashy costumes or do the kind of kooky stunts that make for cute publicity photos.

About the only thing that Dire Straits has done — for public consumption, at least — is put out one album's worth of understated, back-to-basics rock music. It was all the maverick British foursome needed to establish itself as the hottest new group this year.

Dire Straits is the kind of band that should make publicists wonder about their function in life. Its debut album was released here with a minimum of hype last October.

As late as January, a complimentary Rolling Stone review concluded regretfully that the disc's "sober lucidity reeks of rapid obscurity." But by then, a lot of radio disc jockeys were giving the off-beat single "Sultans of Swing" a whirl. Soon both the single and the album were spreading like a California brush fire in midsummer.

A U.S. tour, rather unambitiously booked in smaller clubs, sold out, and there's little question that much larger halls could have been filled to capacity. And by the time the band left for home in early April, the album had gone platinum (sales of 1 million) and had climbed to the No. 2 spot on Billboard magazine's album chart.

By all rights, Mark Knopfler — the group's songwriter, vocalist and lead guitar player — ought to be displaying an ego the size of a prize-winning watermelon. But in an interview at the end of the U.S. tour, the slim 29-year-old whose growly voice has invited repeated comparisons to Bob Dylan came across much like his music: unpretentious, not given to excess and thoroughly appealing.

He's the kind of guy, for example, who won't feign modesty and surprise over the album's phenomenal success here.

"We sort of greased into it from the same thing happening in every other country," he explained, noting the album's monster sales in Europe, Canada and Australia. "You see, it came out here quite a few months after it came out everywhere else, so we were kind of used to it by then."

A lot of people view Dire Straits as a textbook case of instant success. But Knopfler, who has known failure in the highly competitive music business, doesn't believe such an animal exists.

A onetime journalist who chooses words carefully, he's reluctant to talk at all about his first efforts. For a while, he gave up trying and worked for three years as an English teacher, a period he describes as "a rebuilding time."

But he returned to music, joining forces in London with his brother David on rhythm guitar, David's roommate

John Illsley on bass (Mark soon moved into their flat) and drummer Pick Withers.

"Even then, when I felt that the circumstances were right for it to happen," Knopfler insists, "even then it needed a hell of a lot of effort."

"John and I particularly drove that band through from the beginning, made it happen. ... We even organized our own gigs in the beginning, and we'd get tickets together and hire a place or whatever."

The turning point came in the fall of 1977, when they submitted a tape to a

London disc jockey they admired to get his opinion. The disc jockey liked it so much he began playing it on the air, and soon inquiries came in from record companies.

Dire Straits' second album, Communiqué, is due for release in June, but Knopfler isn't sitting around worrying whether it will make as big a splash as the first effort.

"Couldn't care less, really," he says emphatically. "I don't think about awards, I don't think about trying to write a No. 1 record. I think about making good records and making people feel good."

ABSENTEE OWNERSHIP OPPOSED
WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for the U.S. Catholic Conference urged that federal rural development policy include a commitment to discourage further consolidation in the agricultural sector and to discourage absentee ownership of agricultural land. "The movement towards consolidation in agriculture and towards absentee ownership of the land erodes whatever economic power remains in the hands of rural people and, if carried far enough, would permit the rise in non-metropolitan America of a sort of landed gentry," said Bishop George H. Speltz of St. Cloud, Minn.

Narrow Road Separates Greek Cypriot Refugees From Homeland

REFUGEE RIDE — Two school boys ride the bus in Akhna Forest refugee camp on Cyprus. They live in poorly constructed homes that are cold in the winter and hot in the summer. The mention of Turks to the Greek Cypriots leaves a sour taste, like the bitter lemons that grow so profusely on the island. (AP Laserphoto)

 "No, we can't live together again," he said. "We don't trust the Greeks anymore, and if the Turkish army had not arrived they would have killed us all."

The history of sun-splashed Cyprus, with its ancient Greek and early Christian ruins, dates back to 2000 B.C. The Turks arrived on the "Island of Aphrodite" in 1571 and dominated the place until the British took over late in the 19th century.

But the Greek and Turkish communities remained fiercely exclusive, with no intermarriage between the Christian Greeks and the Moslem Turks, and very little socializing. An independent nation was established in 1960, but no sense of national unity ever developed.

Bloody intercommunal fighting broke out over the years. Greek Cypriots were demanding Enosis, union with Greece.

The Turks decided to invade the island in 1974 in a quick, bloody war that gave them a third of the island, including the modern city of Famagusta, and the idyllic north coast resort of Kyrenia.

Today, the United States and the United Nations are trying to bring both sides together and agree on the withdrawal of the invasion troops, the return of property, and a restoration of trade and other ties between the two peoples.

But with one third of the population refugees, tempers are on edge. Even though the people of the Akhna Forest could be resettled elsewhere, in housing superior to their ramshackle temporary huts, they refuse to go.

"We stay here to defy the Turks," said Eleni Kalou, tending flowers outside her green plywood house, her child playing at her feet. "We have visited the president in Nicosia to remind him that we want to go home soon."

Priest Papa-Lambros said, "We know our side is fair and just. The United States should press Turkey to leave us. Our committee sent President Carter a telegram of congratulations after his election, but he didn't respond to us. Does that mean he doesn't care about our fate?"

The United Nations has spent $100 million on refugee assistance since the 1974 war, 80 percent of it on the Greek side of the island. A total of $50 million has been spent on new housing on the Greek side, but not a penny has gone north for housing.

"We won't give money for Turks to build on Greek property," said the chief of the U.N. High Commission for Refugees, Alfred Zur Lippe-Weissenfeld. But U.N. money has provided food, health and social services in the north.

Particularly galling to the Greek Cypriots is that the Turkish invasion has pushed them out of some of the prettiest land in the Mediterranean.

Greek Cypriots cry openly sometimes when you mention places like Bellapais, a uniquely beautiful village on a north coast mountainside, and Kyrenia, with its 12th century port.

Many argue that Turkish mainland politicians are preventing an adequate settlement and that the Turkish minority that makes up about 20 percent of the population would be willing to live with the Greeks again.

But the depth of the problem is apparent in a visit to the less prosperous Turkish side of the island. For every story of war atrocity on the Greek side, the Turks have one to match.

But at least one Turkish refugee from the fighting takes it all in stride. He is Torgut Osman, 75, found wearing traditional black pantaloons tucked into his knee-high socks and a green kerchief on his head. Formerly a shepherd in the south, he now lives in Kyrenia.

"I don't miss my land," he said. "After all, it's the same island, isn't it?"

Wine Fraud Probe Launched

DIJON, France (AP) — French authorities formally opened a judicial investigation Thursday into allegations that a Burgundy wine vintner shipped more than 50,000 bottles of ordinary wine to the United States under prestigious labels.

The judicial inquiry, to be carried out under a Dijon magistrate, followed allegations from the French service for the control of wines and liquors against vintner Bernard-Noel Grivelet.

The wine scandal allegedly involves about $1 million worth of wine, shipped under such prestigious labels as Chambolle-Musigny, Morey-Saint-Denis and Chamberlin Clos de Beze.

Top quality Burgundy wines such as these sell for about 100 francs a bottle, about $23. Ordinary wine goes for about three to five francs, about 70 cents to $1.16.

Boy Orchestrates Sea Rescue

TORRANCE, Calif. (AP) — While his mother slept, a 13-year-old ham radio operator helped coordinate the rescue of three men whose boat was sinking a continent away, Coast Guard officials say.

A fishing vessel with three Florida men aboard started to sink 75 miles south of Jamaica early Wednesday, said Coast Guard spokesman Chuck Schneider. Using a battery-powered radio, the crew issued an SOS which was picked up in New Zealand.

Michael Davis of Torrance was trying to contact an East Coast point at about 1 a.m. and heard the exchange.

"I knew that it (the New Zealand operator) couldn't do much," Michael said later. "The guy that was receiving had the wrong longitude and latitude, so I asked the guy (on the boat) for the right longitude and latitude and called up the Coast Guard in Long Beach."

The guard's search and rescue branch in Long Beach relayed the call to the Coast Guard in Miami.

"But Miami couldn't get in touch with the boat because they didn't have any ham gear," said Coast Guard spokesman Garth Groff. "So Mike Davis stayed on the air and acted as a relay between the ship and the Coast Guard until the sun started to come up (on the East Coast)."

By that time, Groff said, closer ham operators took over.

A Coast Guard cutter reached the floundering vessel Wednesday evening and took it into Montego Bay, Jamaica. The three men aboard — owner Leonard Hutchinson, David Dalquist and Sergio Perez, all of Key West — apparently were not injured.

"The boat was taking on water, out of fuel, in danger of sinking," Groff said. "I don't know how he (Michael) knew what to do, but he handled the whole situation by himself with no adult assistance."

BUSINESS CRIME
SYMPOSIUM.

Scheduled at the Civic Center
Lubbock, Texas

Morning session is 9:00 'til 12 noon.
 Afternoon session, 1:30 to 4:30

"LEARN HOW" Seminars on:

- Bad Checks
- Shop Lifting
- Employee Theft
- Counterfeit Money
- Internal Security —

Property Identification
 • Deceptive Trade Practices

One of the featured speakers on the program will be Mr. Frank W. Abagnale, Jr., perhaps the greatest and most publicized "con-artist of all time." He has a magnitude of experience in the field of forgery, check frauds, and employee thefts. Since paying his debt to society, he now devotes his life to the prevention and detection of these "white collar" crimes. He is informative, entertaining and well worth your time to hear his lecture.

Sponsored by the Better Business Bureau Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, and Retail Merchants Association of Lubbock in cooperation with Lubbock County Criminal District Attorney and law enforcement agencies.

PLO Orders Capture Of Deposed Shah

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI)—Yasser Arafat has ordered the Palestine Liberation Organization to capture Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi and deliver him to an Iranian government, a top PLO official said in an interview Thursday. The shah currently is living in exile in the Bahamas. "We hope to have the honor to arrest the shah," Hami Al Hassan, chief of the PLO office in Tehran, said in an interview with the political weekly publication Javan and the newspaper Kayhan. Al Hassan was quoted as saying the order to apprehend the shah had come directly from Arafat, PLO chairman. "But our task has been made difficult since the shah left Morocco for that. The shah, who flew out of Tehran at the controls of his own plane, first went to Egypt, then Morocco and on March 30 went to Paradise Island in the Bahamas where he has remained under tight security. "Inshallah, our brothers will succeed in their mission," the PLO spokesman said. Al Hassan arrived in Tehran at the head of a powerful PLO delegation after Khomeini's revolutionaries overthrew the shah in mid-February. Khomeini gave the PLO the former embassy of Israel, after expelling all Israeli diplomats. Arafat was the first prominent foreign figure to see Khomeini after the takeover. Al Hassan said the shah's arrest was "one of the greatest desires of Imam Khomeini." Khomeini has repeatedly said the shah would be tried if caught. Government officials have also spoken of a trial in absentia, but have not begun it since authorities hope to have the shah there personally. The shah and Empress Farah left Morocco March 30 for the Bahamas, where local officials said he, his wife, children and 30 aides, were expected to stay about three weeks, before possibly coming to the United States. But on April 19 President Carter reportedly informed the shah his presence in the United States would not be welcomed until U.S. relations with Iran's new regime had stabilized.

North Central, Southern Airways Merger OKayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The merger of North Central Airlines and Southern Airways into a new carrier named Republic Airlines was approved Thursday by the Civil Aeronautics Board. The board by a 4-0 vote directed its legal staff to draw up an order permitting the consolidation, which would link two strong regional carriers into a network stretching from the Caribbean to Canada and from New England to Southern California. North Central Chairman Hal N. Carr said he was pleased with the board action, adding that "Republic Airlines will be a strong, competitive carrier offering improved service to 12 million passengers annually." He said the new airline will serve 150 cities in 26 states on a 24,000-mile route system and will have 8,000 employees. The board said it would adopt the order May 10 and forward it to President Carter, who will make the final decision because international routes are involved. The president has 60 days to act on the order after it is received at the White House. The North Central-Southern case was one of several airline merger proposals before the CAB, and the one most observers believed had the best chance of winning board approval. The two carriers do not compete on any of the same routes, and their merger

Ford First-Quarter Profits Up

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. profits rose 28 percent to a record in the first quarter of the year, with all the improvement coming from overseas operations, the No. 2 automaker said Thursday. Profits were $595 million or $4.97 a share compared with $466 million or $3.93 per share in the first quarter of 1978. Sales rose 26 percent, from $9.97 billion to a record $12.6 billion. The previous first-quarter profit record was 1975's $483 million, $4.10 per share. Ford said its profit from U.S. operations fell from $1.85 to $1.83 per share in the quarter, but earnings from operations outside the United States rose $1.06 per share, or 51 percent, from $2.08 to $3.14 per share. Sales in the United States rose 19 percent from $6.5 billion to $7.7 billion, but the profit margin on those sales fell from 3.4 percent in the 1978 quarter to 2.9 percent because of "continuing adverse effects of inflation on costs, as well as substantial outlays necessary to develop new vehicles with improved fuel efficiency and reduced emissions," Ford said. Overseas, sales rose 39 percent from

COMPETITIVE STOCK MARKET INDEXES

Utilities Lead Drop

NEW YORK (AP) - Nervousness over the future of nuclear power pushed utility stocks lower Thursday as the stock market retreated in the face of discouraging inflation news.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, which advanced in each of the past four sessions, dropped 6.49 to 860.97. Declines led advances among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues by nearly 2-1, and Big Board volume rose to 32.40 billion shares from 31.75 million Wednesday.

The Commerce Department said consumer prices rose by 1 percent in March after gaining by 1.2 percent in February. White House inflation-fighter Alfred Kahn warned that there will be "bad months ahead" but said he didn't think inflation would reach double-digit levels for the whole year.

After the stock market closed, the Federal Reserve said the nation's basic money supply shot upward by $4.1 billion in the latest week. Analysts said the Fed, which has eased its monetary policy recently, may be forced to tighten again, forcing interest rates higher.

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission again postponed its decision on a possible closing of eight atomic power plants for safety reasons.

New York (AP) - Thursday's national average of NYSE stock prices and volume continued to fluctuate as volatility continued on other markets.

Librarian Bribes Youngsters To Read By Giving Them Cookies

By BARBARA RIEGELHAUPT
LOS ANGELES (AP) — If reading a book could be as much fun as eating a chocolate chip cookie, reasons librarian Dennis Martin, wouldn't kids rush to get their hands in the bookshelves?

Martin says he's proven the answer is "yes." And he's convinced that the success of his "Super Reader" program — in which kids were awarded sweet treats for reading library books — showed that the nation's reading "crisis" can be resolved if the right technique is used. The technique: bribery.

"I think children should be paid for learning how to read," Martin says matter-of-factly. "My message is that if you set up a learning environment that is appealing to the children, that has their self-interests clearly spelled out to them — in other words, what's in it for me — you're going to get them to perform."

In Martin's case, what was in it for the kids were half-pound bags of the trendy Famous Amos chocolate chip cookies as payment for reading four library books and turning in questionnaires about them.

It sounds simple. But that philosophy of offering youngsters outside rewards to do things they are supposed to want to do for the joy of learning is among the most controversial issues in education today.

"It's a lively topic," says Dr. John McNeil, head of reading specialists in the UCLA School of Education. "Generally, extrinsic rewards are not regarded very positively as compared with building reading programs where kids read for their own benefit. In the long run, I suspect you won't be creating committed readers."

But Delwyn Schubert, reading clinic director at California State University at Los Angeles and author of "Improving the Reading Program," is much less critical.

"I do feel extrinsic rewards have their place," he says. "You can liken many youngsters who are poor readers to old pumps. They have to be primed a bit. In Mr. Martin's case, the cookie is like the primer. Then once the youngster gets to reading, maybe he will read for his own sake and the reward will be intrinsic."

For the three months the program was in operation, circulation of children's books at the Holy Park library in suburban Hawthorne increased nearly 86 percent. More than 500 children earned bags of cookies.

Martin admits he doesn't know if the level of reading continued after the program was ended late last summer, but he says that is a study he would welcome.

"The (reading) problem is so bad that a great majority of children from schools in our service area are not capable of reading at their grade level," says Martin. "We wanted to see if we could change the trend."

The numbers, he says, are clear-cut evidence that the program did succeed in doing that. So he has little patience for criticism.

"We had the complete support of the local public schools, teachers and parents," he says. "They knew how disturbing the problem was that so many of these children are getting into the upper grades without being competent independent readers."

Martin's library is in a predominantly minority community, and he says he believes minority youngsters have been especially shortchanged by the educational establishment.

"This compulsory school education seems to be failing a large percentage of these children," he says. "It's not coming through on its promise to educate. We're at the library showing we can create a learning environment in which children can have a good feeling about reading and we found that they responded in a remarkable way."

UCLA's McNeil says the quick, and possibly temporary, successes of punishment and reward programs distract educators from the central problem — how do you make reading enjoyable for children so they will want to do it?

"So much of the schools' present program is just a series of tasks kids are asked to do," he says. "They are isolated skills, such as recognizing consonants or long or short vowels. These tasks are not seen by the child as useful for their own purposes. Therefore, motivation becomes a problem.

"I'm not saying there may not be some children that the extrinsic reward program may work with," he says. "But in general, I don't think the results are good. It's a simple, easy way out just to bribe somebody. It'll never be an answer to our reading problem."

Tax Benefits Set For Solar, Wind Energy

AUSTIN (AP) — Businesses and homeowners could install solar or wind energy devices without having their property taxes increased under a bill passed by the Legislature on Thursday.

A voice vote in the House sent the Senate-passed bill (SB204) to Gov. Bill Clements for signature or veto.

If signed by Clements, the bill would take effect Jan. 1.

The measure would exempt from taxation the increase in the value of a property resulting from installation of such solar and wind devices as hot water heaters and electrical generators.

HEARTLINE: Being a widow on a fixed income, I am constantly on the lookout for any money savers. I live in Illinois and am becoming aware of an increased number of service stations which advertise gasohol instead of gasoline. I know nothing about gasohol but, if it will save me some money and not injure my car, I would try it. What can you tell me about it? — K.S.

The oil crunch in the U.S. has sparked renewed interest in gasohol (a nine-to-one mixture of gasoline and 200-proof grain alcohol).

The gasohol business is booming now in the Midwest, but whether the new fuel catches on nationwide depends in large part on subsidies from the federal government.

Some 500 filling stations (mostly in Iowa and Illinois) sold 6 million gallons of gasohol in January — up from 2.6 million gallons the previous month. Nebraska and Missouri plan to build gasohol plants to increase supply but, at the moment, the U.S. only has the capacity to supply 200 million gallons a year, which represents less than two-tenths of one percent of total gasoline demand.

Farmers favor gasohol because it is seen as a good way to use surplus corn and grain; the Iowa Corn Promotion Board, which expects to spend $125,000 to boost the fuel, is distributing bumper stickers that read, "Pass Arabian Gas — Buy Gasohol."

Motorists seem to be happy with the fuel's performance. Gasohol contains between two and four points more octane than gasoline, which helps eliminate pinging.

Gasohol is competitive in price with premium unleaded gasoline. The ethanol necessary for the blend sells at the plant for more than twice as much as gasoline, but various tax advantages offset the difference. Iowa has knocked seven and six tenths cents off state taxes, and Nebraska five cents. The National Energy Act also exempts gasohol from the four-cent federal tax on gasoline through 1984.

There is still some controversy over whether gasohol really saves energy. The chairman of the American Petroleum Institute's Alcohol Fuels Task Force says that it takes more energy to make alcohol than the alcohol contains. Others aren't sure. One Department of Energy spokesman said, "It depends on how you do your accounting — you can wind up with less energy out than in, or the other way around."

As far as savings to the consumer, do some comparative shopping and also check on your state's tax laws and leniencies concerning gasohol.

HEARTLINE: May an individual continue to receive an employee disability annuity from the Railroad Board if he does some work after it begins? — L.A.

It depends on the type of annuity he is receiving and the kind of work he does. No employee annuity is payable for any month the annuitant works for a railroad or for his last non-railroad employer. If he is receiving either a total or occupational disability annuity, his annuity is not payable for any month in which he earns more than $200 in employment for hire or in self-employment, but the withheld payments will be restored if annual earnings are less than $2,500. If he earns $2,500 or more in any year, he loses one month's annuity for each $200 earned over $2,400, counting the last $100 or more as $200. However, he will not lose his annuity for any month in which he earns $200 or less. He also may be assessed certain deductions as a penalty for failing to make timely reports of earnings. But, sometimes, earnings may raise a question about recovery from disability even if they amount to less than $2,500 a year.

Annuitants who have been found to be totally disabled are subject to additional restrictions. Work in nine months of one year, whether or not consecutive, will usually be sufficient to show that the individual is able to do some work. If so, the individual's annuity may be terminated or adjusted if the individual has recovered from disability.

ANOTHER SUB FOR CUBA
WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon officials say the Soviet Union has given Cuba its second submarine in a continuing buildup of Premier Fidel Castro's small navy. U.S. officials said the Whiskey-class submarine, a diesel-electric powered boat dating back to the 1950s, was towed across the Atlantic to Cuba by a Soviet tug.

Hawks Even Series; Spurs Fall

By The Associated Press
Steve Hawes and Eddie Johnson scored 12 points apiece in the second half Thursday night to give the host Atlanta Hawks a 104-86 victory over the Washington Bullets and deadlock their National Basketball Association quarterfinal series at three games each.

The series will end Sunday at Landover, Md., where the Hawks have recorded two of their playoff victories over the defending NBA champions.

Atlanta took an early 8-6 lead in the game and never trailed thereafter. The Bullets did come back to gain two ties early in the second quarter before Atlanta went ahead to stay on a 12-foot jumper by Johnson to make it 35-33 with just over 7 1/2 minutes remaining in the opening half.

Hawes poured in 10 points during the third quarter, most of them in the 20-foot range, when Atlanta took charge, consistently holding a 10-point lead throughout most of the period.

Johnson, who tied John Drew for scoring honors with 22 points, got 10 of his total in the final quarter, including six in the last three minutes when Atlanta ran the clock each trip down the floor.

Washington's Elvin Hayes led all scorers with 24 points, but Bobby Dandridge, leading scorer in the series, was held to only 15 points.

SIXERS 128, SPURS 97

Julius Erving hit 32 points, 24 of them in the second half, and four other Philadelphia players were in double figures Thursday night as the 76ers thrashed lethargic San Antonio, 120-97, to cut the Spurs' lead to 3-2 in their best-of-seven NBA playoff series.

Erving, making an unusual start at guard to enable Philadelphia to use a larger lineup, got 16 points in the third quarter as the 76ers built up leads of as many as 23 points.

The anemic Spurs, who led the NBA in offense this season, did not score in the first three and a half minutes of the game, and managed a paurly 17 points in the first quarter. They shot only 22 percent in that period.

Philadelphia held a 50-38 lead at half-time and increased that margin to 85-64 at the end of three quarters. The 76ers led by as many as 27 points in the final period.

San Antonio managed to sink only 26 of their shots from the field in the first half. San Antonio's high-scoring George Gervin, the NBA's scoring champion at nearly 30 points per game, did not score until he hit a pair of free throws with 8:56 remaining in the second period.

WHEN TIME AND space run short... Larry Bird has reaped basketball honors from Boston on west. Latest among them is the annual John Wooden, on its way to becoming the basketball equivalent to the Heisman Trophy. But, seems that although notified weeks in advance, Bird declined at the last minute to attend the Los Angeles banquet given in his honor. And no one from his school attended. Responses such as this could cause the luster on his shiny career to dull rapidly.

Notice who coached the region-winning Class AAA girls golf team? Ed Lee Reno, the former Sonora running back who was voted the outstanding schoolboy footballer the year he came out...

TEXAS FEEL IT'S still in the running for 6-11 Victor Mitchell, a juco at Amarillo College who is still under national letter jurisdiction of North Texas State. But, to help land Mitchell and get NT to release him, it's rumored that UT is dangling a three-year basketball series in front of coach Bill Blakely. Will be worth watching to see if UT gets Mitchell and NT gets the games... Jerry Turner, the former Estacado footballer? He's not at U. of New Mexico and has found a football home. As a freshman, he was a center. Last year a defensive tackle. Now, he's stepped in as a regular at defensive end.

Someone recently ribbed Lee Trevino about his old golf clubs: "I ain't never had nothin' new in my life. I was 9 years old when I was born..." Western Texas' Nodia Vaughn was named MVP in the recent juco women's all-star basketball game held at Waco. But, post-season honors are nothing new for the Snyder school; men's coach Nolan Richardson was named the Texas junior college Coach of the Year for the second time...

DAVE WILLIAMS, THE guy who has brought U. of Houston 13 national golf championships, has made it known he would like to succeed Harry Fouke as the school's AD... Arkansas shifted Randy Wessinger, a highly sought QB out of Sherman, from his favorite position to cornerback during spring drills, and he intercepted a pass to set up the winning field goal in the big spring game. Nothing has been said about the shift becoming permanent...

Delrick Brown came out of Houston's spring training as the No. 1 quarterback, with Terry Elston second and Darrell Shepard, the Odessa standout, third. And, says Brown, "The '79 team has the potential to be better than last year..." Ever hear from the Toy Cannon, the Astros' Jim Wynn? He's now playing with Monclova in the Mexican League...

REMEMBER THE LOMBARD team, winning state girls basketball championships at Hale Center and Nazareth? Well, last week at Giddings, in Central Texas, Monte Land's boys won the 25-AA track championship and his wife, Carolyn, led her girls to the regional track crown. And both titles came after the two were notified last March that they were not being recommended for coaching positions at the school next fall... James Mays' 1:47.14 time in the 800 meters in last weekend's meet at UTEP brought him the SWC's No. 1 ranking in the event. However, Rice's Bruce Gingrich ran 800 meters on a sprint medley relay — and was clocked in 1:45.7...

Johnny Vestal is now Tech's all-time baseball thief. Vestal, going into the series with UT tonight, has stolen 42 in his career at Tech, one more than Randy Walker collected in 1969-71...

Conaway Seeks Regional Crown

By JIM FERGUSON
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff

It took Curtis Conaway no less than three days of serious soul searching before reaching a decision where or not to run the mile or the half mile in the District 4-AAAA meet.

No blood beaded on his forehead, but almost.

He eventually opted for the 880-yard dash, figuring his chances of winning a state title in that event was a whole lot better than they were in the mile.

But first to even get to Austin, the Monterey senior must either win or place second in the Region I-AAAA meet which gets underway at the Texas Tech track, starting at 11:30 a.m. today with the field events. The running prelims are scheduled for a 3-30 p.m. start, while the finals are set for 1:30 p.m. Saturday. Also getting underway at the Tech field is the Region I-AA meet.

In Levelland, the Region I-B meet starts today and runs through Saturday. While at Odessa, the A and AAA encounter is set. No prelims will be run in the AAA competition since only eight tracksters qualified for the meet. The finals are set in Odessa for 2 p.m. Saturday.

Conaway admits that the competition in the 880 at the region meet "is going to be a heck of a lot tougher than in the mile". And, believe it or not, that's the primary reason he chose run it, instead of the mile.

"I could have won the mile (at region) without any problem at all," said the Monterey senior who won the regional mile title last year. "But because of the lack of competition I'd have gotten in it (the mile), I chose the half instead."

"I figured it will take a 4:08 to win in Austin and since I haven't been below a 4:15 this year I knew it would be tough to win down there. I've got a lot better chance in the half... a lot better."

Perhaps the top miler ever to come off the South Plains, Conaway is no slouch in the 880, either. He is currently ranked second behind Sergio Oaxaca of El Paso Ysleta. Conaway has a best of 1:53.2, while Oaxaca leads the entire state with a 1:52.8.

The two are expected to battle for the top two places during Saturday's finals.

"It should be a heck of a race," said Conaway, who has run the half in competition only twice this year (once when posted the 1:53.2 at the Hobbs Relays and the other at last week's district meet). "I might get beat, but there's no way I won't be going to Austin."

Oaxaca and Conaway won't be the only top tracksters competing on Tech's all-weather surface. In all, no less than 20 cinderman competing here are currently listed among the state's best.

TOUGH LUCK — David Hughes, an El Paso Coronado golfer, shows his despair after a putt lips the cup and then rolls past it. Hughes fired a 76 Thursday at Meadowbrook in the first round of the AAAA Region I meet. His Coronado team is currently in second place and Lubbock Monterey is third— one stroke back. Richards Paces Astros' Victory

By The Associated Press
Pitcher J.R. Richard blasted a home run and Craig Reynolds drove in three runs with a double and a single Thursday to lead the Houston Astros to a 6-2 victory over Chicago, snapping a five-game Cub winning streak.

Richard, 4-0, hit his first homer of the season and the eighth in his career in the third inning of loser Lynn McGlothen, 2-2. Richard allowed only three hits and struck out six but left the game after five innings when he suffered a slight back strain.

The Astros added two runs in the fourth on run-scoring singles by Bobby Watson and Alan Ashby. Reynolds doubled home a run in the fifth and singled in a pair in the sixth.

BREWERS TAKE TWO
Cecil Cooper homered and Charlie Moore lined a two-run single in a three-run Milwaukee seventh inning as the Brewers rallied to defeat the Detroit Tigers 5-1 in the first game of a doubleheader.

The Brewers also won the second game 7-5.

ROYALS 5, INDIANS 4
Cleveland relief pitcher Sid Monge threw a bases-loaded wild pitch in the bottom of the ninth inning and Willie Wilson streaked home to lift the Kansas City Royals to a 5-4 victory over the Indians Thursday night.

Chaps Put Win Streak On Line

FORT WORTH (Special)—Lubbock Christian College, riding a three-game winning streak, travels to Texas Wesleyan today to begin a pair of weekend baseball doubleheaders.

That's that, you say? A three-game winning streak? That's right. It's the longest Chap streak since the month of April has not been at all kind to Larry Hays and his crew.

LCC, now 36-17 and 12-4 in Texas Athletic Conference play, has won only 11 games this month against nine losses, hardly a banner streak for a Chaparral team.

Still, they are ranked 10th in the national NAIA poll this week and they're No. 1 in District 8.

Last time TWC and LCC hooked up, it was in Lubbock, and the Chaps took it on the chin, losing three of four. But the Rams used an ineligible player, forcing them to forfeit the three wins and putting the Chaps three games in front of the TAC pack.

Hays will feel fortunate to come out of this weekend with that lead intact.

He knows it's extremely possible that TWC will sweep the Chaps, as it did Midwestern last weekend on the road in Wichita Falls.

To avoid that, Hays will probably pitch Gary Swann (1-0 and 0.00 ERA in conference) and Kevin Burke (2-0 and 4.14) today and Chris Cook (1-1 and 4.45) and John Ross (1-1 and 3.50) on Saturday.

Leading hitters for LCC are Tim Leslie with a .424 batting average, 61 RBIs and 15 homers. Following right behind is Steve Brigante, 339, 54 and 13. Richard Bowles is at .329 with 32 RBI and 27 stolen bases. He has only been caught twice.

Kenny Toney is batting .329 with 50 RBI and 10 homers and freshman Scott Wolf stands at .319, 22 RBI and three homers. Last season's freshman-of-the-year, Bobby Doe, has tailed off somewhat. He's hitting .307 (versus last year's average of .353) with 21 RBI (29).

EP Eastwood, Kermit Take Golf Leads

Loosen those neckties men and open up those short collars, boys — because things are a little bit tight at the Class AAAA regional golf meet at the Meadowbrook Golf Course.

Myers, stayed near the Yellowjackets with a score of 310. Slaton is in third with a score of 318.

The Class AAAA individual race is even tighter than in the team races. Ten golfers turned in scores between 71 and 73 to dominate the lead.

Barry Terrell of Pampa; Clark Colville of El Paso Eastwood and Ron Clark of Bryan each shot a 71.

Two strokes off the pace is the Monterey duo of Cliff Baggett and Brian Sheffield — each with a 73.

The Coronado Mustangs finished the first day of play with a 311 — good enough for eighth place.

The action winds up today with shotgun starts beginning at 8:30 a.m.

Seeded Teams Falter At B Net Tournery

LEVELLAND (Special) — Seedings and favoritism didn't mean automatic victories here Thursday, as the Class B regional tennis tournament got under way.

Seeded teams fell in both singles and doubles of the boys' regional.

Antonio Lechuga of Tornillo fell to Bill Tankersley of Wellman, 6-4, 6-4, in a match where a favorite was beaten in the first round. And, Arturo Hernandez of Fort Hancock lost out to Klondike's Todd Airhart, 7-3, 7-6, in the quarter-finals.

Robert Garcia of Fort Davis, also seeded, advanced, however, clipping Union's Greg Wilkes, 6-1, 6-4.

In doubles, the team of Keesey Miller and John McKnight of Fort Davis continued to win and in this morning's semifinals, as is the top-ranked Nazareth team of Jimmy Huseman and Stanley Hoelling.

However, the seeded teams of Brad Calverley-Jorge Patina of Garden City and Martin Lemon-Mark Bechthold of Booker fell.

Today, the semifinals are scheduled to begin at 9:30 a.m. at South Plains College, and the finals will be at 11:30.

Raiders Nab City Crown
Mackenzie Junior High won the overall and boys and girl championships in Division I, and Alderson followed the same pattern to the Division II title in the city tennis meet which wound up Thursday.

Mackenzie girls totaled 217 points, with Evans second at 185. And the Mackenzie boys scored 220 to 156 for Evans. Overall, Evans finished second and Wilson third.

In Division II, which had Alderson, Matthews and O.L. Slaton, Alderson was first and Slaton in boys, girls and overall.

The final city championships:

Tech Women Crush ACU

Texas Tech women wound up their dual-match season with a 7-2 win over Abilene Christian University Thursday.

The victory — Tech's second in as many days — brought the Raiders' record to 14-10-1 for the year.

Raider Relay Team Enters Drake

DES MOINES, Iowa (Special) — Ranked as one of the top teams in the nation, Texas Tech will throw its two-mile relay team against units the best in the Midwest today in the Drake Relays.

The gigantic track meet hits full speed today, after having had events — including the decathlon — earlier this week.

Tech is one of 17 teams invited to compete in the speedy two-mile relay today. Heading the list of favorites is Iowa State, which won last week's Kansas Relays. ISU has the best time in the country this year, followed by UTEP, Texas and Tech. UT and the Raiders will be in today's field, but UTEP is competing at the Penn Relays.

JAMES MAYS

Tech's unit of Robert Lepard, Greg Lautenslager, Ricky McCormick, and James Mays won the Texas Relays two-mile event two weeks ago in a time of 7:23. However, coach Corky Oglesby feels it will take a 7:20 to win here today.

The field here also includes Nebraska, Oklahoma, and Notre Dame.

Mays will be anchoring, and last week, the sophomore from Hereford turned in the best 800 meters in the Southwestern Conference this spring, running 1:47.14 at El Paso. "This is such a loaded field, I think it will be tremendous if we place," said Oglesby prior to leaving Lubbock. "There are so many of these good teams that haven't run outdoors much this season. "But with Mays, I feel that if we give him the baton in good shape, we will do well."

After today's competition, the same Raider foursome will run the distance medley Saturday. Tech finished third in the event in the Texas Relays Saturday. Mays will run the opening half, Lepard the quarter-mile, Lautenslager the three-quarters, and McCormick, Tech's record-holder in the 1500 meters, will anchor on the mile.

Wayland Meet Draws Top Teams

By DON HENRY
Executive Sports Editor

PLAINVIEW — Wayland Baptist College coach Gary Goodin is quite proud of the field for today's annual All-College Track Meet: "Just making it to the finals is an honor in itself."

Goodin had in mind such events as the 110-meter high hurdles, where the top two performers in the NAIA will be hooking up — along with the Missouri Valley Conference champ. . . Or the high jump where Eastern New Mexico's Joe Sooter has cleared 6-10 but is not the favorite.

Or the 100 meters, where six people have run 10.4 or better, topped by West Texas State's John Thomas and Charles Cook of Western New Mexico, who have run 10.3.

The meet has drawn teams from WT, Eastern New Mexico, Lubbock Christian, Texas Tech, Western New Mexico, New Mexico State and McMurry. And the Buffaloes will be the favored team.

The Buffaloes will bring a full team, while Tech is short four individuals competing today in the Drake Relays.

WTSU brings in a stable of sprinters, headed by Thomas, plus a distance crew of Kenyans.

And then there is Zach Cummings, the defending MVC high hurdles champion Cummings will battle WBC's Frank Postel and ENMU's Mike King, both of whom have run 13.8s this season and rank 1-2 in the nation among NAIA schools. Postel defeated King in a meet at Hereford last week.

The high jump list is headed by Roy Dally of NM State who has cleared 6-11 this year. Sooter has gone 6-10, and WBC's Randy Pool has leaped 6-8 indoors this year.

Dennis Diaz of New Mexico State, record-holder here in the shot put, will be on hand.

Texas Tech's Dean Crowell will be among the favorites in the intermediate hurdles, and Raider Greg Brogdon, a walk-on from San Antonio, will challenge Thomas and the other sprinters in the dashes. Brogdon has run 21.4 and 10.4 in the 200 and 100 meter events this spring.

Andrew Luma, the Tech record-holder in the triple jump, will be trying that event and the long jump if not both red by shinsplints. Luma had to miss last week's action because of the problem.

Competition gets under way in field events and the 10,000-meter run this afternoon. Tonight's finals will start at 8-10 with the masters' mile. That is an event open to any person. Entrants can enter, predict a time, then the winner is computed on the person who runs closest to his or her predicted time.

Derby Hopeful Takes Easy Stakes Victory

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Trainer Bud Delp had wanted Thursday's Blue Grass Stakes to be a hard workout for Kentucky Derby candidate Spectacular Bid. But it was anything but work for the colt.

Delp said after the race he asked jockey Ronnie Franklin what he thought. "He laughed and said he (Spectacular Bid) was playing," said Delp.

"He's smart and getting smarter every day," said the trainer. "He was playing out there. He got the lead and he knew that's all he had to do."

But Delp said he is not worried that Spectacular Bid's tendency to loaf on the lead will hurt him in the Derby May 5 at Churchill Downs.

"He won't loaf," Delp said. "If there's a horse to beat, that's what he's gonna do."

Playing or not, Spectacular Bid was just too much for three rivals in the Blue Grass, winning his 10th consecutive race.

He galloped home seven lengths in front of Lot o' Gold, who also is headed for the Derby. Bishop's Choice was another eight lengths back and 10 1/2 lengths in front of Pianist.

Spectacular Bid ran the 1 1/4 miles on a fast track in 1:50 and paid $2.10 with win betting only as the overwhelming favorite of a crowd of 19,235 on a cold, windy day.

Bishop's Choice broke on top but was quickly replaced in the lead by Pianist. Pianist led the field around the turn and into the backstretch. Bishop's Choice was second. Lot o' Gold third and Spectacular Bid fourth, but there was little distance separating the four.

Lot o' Gold, ridden by Darrel McHargue, shot into the lead on the inside midway down the backstretch but Spectacular Bid, moving on the outside, immediately took the lead away and kept it. With Franklin tapping him three or four times down the stretch, he drew off easily.

The victory was worth $79,667.

Conner 'Drives Way' Into NO Open Lead

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Frank Conner, who played pro tennis before turning to the golf tour, fired a 7-under-par 65 for the first-round lead Thursday in the $250,000 New Orleans Open.

"Just one of those days when everything went right," said the 33-year-old Conner, who birdied 5 of the first 8 holes he played on the 7,040-yard Lakewood Country Club course.

"I was driving well. My irons were going right at the flag and I was putting good," he said. "It's a great combination — a combination I haven't had very often in the past."

Conner, possibly the only man who has played in the U.S. Open in both tennis and golf, was a decided outsider coming into this event. He hadn't qualified for the final two rounds in his last four starts and, in four years on the golf tour, hadn't made traveling expenses.

"This was the best golf I've ever played," he said. "I've had scores this good before, but I've never played this well."

The stocky man from San Antonio, who was ranked ahead of Dick Stockton on the tennis team at Trinity University, held a 1-stroke lead over veteran Jim Colbert and Doug Tewell, tied for second at 66.

HAPPY COUPLE—John Keller and his wife Kathy both wear broad smiles Wednesday night as Keller won the 10th annual Berl Huffman Courage Award, given to the outstanding Raider baseball player each year. The Keller's have been married only since last summer and apparently it has helped the Tech outfielders performance. (Staff Photo By Gary Davis)

Raiders Seek Courage For UT

AUSTIN (Special) — Centerfielder John Keller won the 10th annual Berl Huffman Courage Award as the outstanding Texas Tech baseball player on Wednesday night, but all of the Raiders are going to need some of that courage this weekend.

The Raiders open a three-game stand with the league-leading Longhorns today with a single game at 7:30 p.m. The powerful Horns are 42-5 on the year and 17-1 in SWC play.

The Tech stats are hardly as glamorous, 9-12 in SWC and 16-20 overall. But nonetheless the Raiders are coming off their biggest wins of the season, a pair of victories over the Texas Aggies last Saturday. And the Tech pitching staff looked better than it had all season — or at least since SWC play began — in notching those victories.

Mark Johnston picked up his fifth SWC win of the year in the opener against the Aggies, a new single-season record for a Raider, and he had strong relief help from Bobby Kohler.

Robert Bryant also turned in a strong mound performance against the Aggies but couldn't make the trip to Austin because of illness.

The Raiders still have an outside — actually microscopic is a better word — at landing a berth in the SWC postseason tournament. To qualify among the top four the Raiders would have to sweep all three games from the Longhorns and hope that Texas A&M loses all six of its

SOFTBALL TOURNEY
PECOS (Special) — A 32-team men's slow-pitch softball tournament is scheduled here May 5-6, and entries are now being accepted ($75 entry fee). Inquiries should be dispatched to Jim Edwards, (915) 445-4624 or 447-2282. The top two teams in the tournament will be invited to the U.S. Slow-Pitch Softball Association's world tournament at St. Louis in August.

remaining games with Arkansas and Texas.

It would be something of a history-making event. Since the Horns have been playing in their new $3 million, AstroTurf-covered Disch-Falk Field complex in 1975, they have never lost to the Raiders.

Offensively the Raiders are led by Larry Selby and Keller. Selby leads the team in runs scored (32), hits (51), doubles (11) and batting average (.375). Keller leads in triples (4), home runs (7) and RBIs (41).

However the Longhorns feature one of the best pitching staffs in the nation.

"Texas may have the best pitching staff in the nation," said Tech mentor Kal Segrist. "There are guys down there that aren't playing that could be all-SWC candidates somewhere else."

MHS Duo Faces Tough Task

The Monterey doubles team of Kurt McFarlin and Kenneth Coulter will face a stiff challenge in the Region I-AAAA tennis action that begins at 8 a.m. at the Lubbock Tennis Center.

Nonetheless the Plainsmen team is seeded No. 3 in the doubles bracket—making them the highest placed Lubbockites in the competition.

Coronado singles players Greg Wright and Tony Gibb are the only other city players to qualify for the regional action.

In addition to the AAAA competition, the Region I-AA playoffs are also getting underway today. All championships should be decided by Saturday afternoon.

"I'd say there are at least four or five doubles teams with a chance to go to state," said Monterey coach Steve Thomas. "But Midland high definitely has the

No. 1 team in the doubles."
But that doubles team played separately in the singles ranks for most of the year before the Midland coaches made the shift just before the 5-AAAA district meet.

Jeff Bramlett and De Chaud, originally from South Africa, are the Midland netters that have everyone worried. El Paso Coronado has the No. 2 seed in the doubles bracket, followed by Coulter and McFarlin.

In the singles action Sam Rivera, of El Paso Irvin, owns the top seeding and Frank Gundrich (Amarillo Tascosa) is rated No. 2.

"I guess the Midland coaches figured they had a better chance to win state by moving those two boys into doubles," said Thomas. "That may be true but it has sure made it tough to get out of this regional doubles bracket.

"We'll just have to see what we can do. My boys have played pretty well together this year."

Funk, Mulligan Meet In Feature

Dory Funk Jr. will take on Black Jack Mulligan in the main event on tonight's wrestling program at Fair Park Coliseum. The card begins at 8 p.m.

In a tag-team bout, Ricky Romero and Takachiho will go against Akio Sato and John Tolos.

Preliminary bouts will have Manny Fernandez taking on Grizzly Boone, James Dillon against Ron Garfield and Dennis Stamp against Alex Perez.

BAKE McBRIDE

Bake Ready To Shake With Phillies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bake McBride has a sore lower back, but the Philadelphia Phillies' outfielder is about to get a pain killer in the form of a multi-year contract worth more than $1 million.

The Associated Press has learned that the Phillies probably will announce the contract officially no later than their return May 15 from a West Coast trip.

Personnel director Paul Owens has been negotiating since last February with McBride's agent, Tom Reich. Reich is the agent who negotiated Dave Parker's $1 million-a-year contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

McBride, 30, is a seven-year major league player with a lifetime batting average of .306. He's fast and considered one of the National League's better defensive rightfielders. He hit only .289 last season in an off year for the Missouriian.

Owens has been anxious to complete the McBride negotiations, because the outfielder is in his option year and could become a free agent after the 1979 season if he doesn't sign a new contract.

"I'll trade him before I'll lose a Bake McBride (in the re-entry draft) for an amateur draft choice," Owens said sometime ago.

Owens, however, confirms that he and Reich are very close to agreement.

"We only have to finish some mechanical problems," Owens said before Wednesday night's game with the Los Angeles Dodgers. "We haven't gone official (the announcement), but we're pretty well agreed."

Owens said the contract would run over or five years but backed off when asked about the amount of money involved.

"You know I don't negotiate contracts in the newspapers," Owens said.

McBride admitted in spring training that his opening demand was in the $400,000 per year area, but that he was pliable on the money — the security was more important. An educated guess is that the settlement is somewhere between $250,000 and $300,000 a year.

McBride is part of one of baseball's top outfielders, with Garry Maddox in center and Greg Luzinski in left.

McBride, a quiet, sensitive type, played it straight when asked about the progress of his contract negotiations.

"I don't know what's going on," said the outfielder. I called my agent today (Wednesday) and he's supposed to call me back. I haven't the slightest idea. I haven't heard anything about the contract.

"I'm trying not to think about it (the contract)," McBride noted. "I'm trying to concentrate on playing baseball."

That's why I have an agent. Let him do that (negotiate)," McBride said.

McBride's biggest problem right now is a tight lower back. He says he pulled a muscle going up the steps of the dugout.

PRO'S WATCH A PRO—Sam Snead blasts from a trap during warmup Thursday for the start of today's Legends of Golf Tournament, featuring 32 golfing greats of past years ranging in age from 50 to 76. Watching as Snead blasts are, from left, Jackie Burke, Jr., Lionel Hebert, Gene Sarazen (hidden behind Snead), Bob Rosburg and Julius Boros. (AP Laserphoto)

'Legends' Open Tourney

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Old man Julius Boros, who has cured his back problems, and Argentina's Roberto de Vicenzo represent a severe challenge to defending champions Sam Snead and Gardner Dickinson in the second annual Legends of Golf Tournament beginning Friday.

"My back feels better than it has in four years," said Boros Thursday before a practice round. "I started doing exercises six months ago and it really has helped. I wish I had started the exercise years ago. I think we have a good chance. I'm playing well."

Snead and Dickinson split a $100,000 first place prize in 1978 with a 17-under par best-ball total over Onion Creek Country Club's par 70 6,584 yards where the premium is on accuracy off the tee.

Snead birdied the last three holes as the Americans outlasted Australians Kel Nagel and Peter Thompson by a stroke. Nagel is paired with Walter Burkemo in this 54-hole tournament because officials discovered that Thompson was 48 last year. The rules state a player has to be 50.

Art Wall, former Masters champion who has had 35 aces, joined the field for the first time this year to team with former U.S. Open champion Tommy Bolt.

"You have to pick Snead and Dickinson but Wall and Bolt should be tough along with Chick Harbert and Bob Toekl," said Boros, two-time winner of the U.S. Open.

Boros and De Vicenzo were third last year at 13-under.

"We had an exciting finish last year and it should be that way again," said Boros. "I thought it was great the way Gene Sarazen started making all those birdies when the television lights came on. He went all day without a birdie until he got on TV. He's amazing."

Sarazen has been teamed this year with just-turned 50 Bob Goalby, the former Masters champion. Goalby shot a 5-under-par 65 Wednesday in the Pro-Am.

Lakers Leave Questions Unanswered After Upset West To Leave Los Angeles?

SEATTLE (AP) — A lot of questions are being asked now that the Seattle SuperSonics have eliminated the Los Angeles Lakers from the National Basketball Association playoffs.

Just how good are this year's Sonics? Can they go all the way and capture their first NBA title? What's wrong with the Lakers? Is Jerry West through as the Los Angeles coach?

Some of these questions were answered in the aftermath of Seattle's 106-100 victory over the Lakers Wednesday night in the noisy, sold-out Seattle Center Coliseum.

The triumph gave the Sonics the best-of-seven Western Conference semifinal series, 4-1. Seattle will defend its conference title against the winner of the other conference semifinal matchup featuring Phoenix and Kansas City.

The Suns took a 3-1 series lead into Friday night's fifth game at Phoenix.

"Any team this far in the playoffs has a chance to take it all," Laker guard Lou Hudson said of the Sonics.

"I think Seattle is very strong. They don't beat themselves," West said. "They have a very strong back court, especially if Freddie (Brown) can play like he did (Wednesday night). And they have such good strength inside. They should give most teams they face problems the rest of the way."

Brown, the veteran Sonic guard who broke a bone in his left hand April 1, jumped off the bench and shot Seattle back into Wednesday night's game with 10 third-period points, including a go-ahead basket at the end of the quarter.

Ron Boone, whose 16 points helped the Lakers to a 59-53 first-half lead, said Seattle is "the kind of team that can whittle a good team down. They're a team that will come out and make you play a helluva game to beat them. They create so much. They're definitely a championship team."

Sonic guard Dennis Johnson echoed the feelings of his teammates after Wednesday night's game.

"We never think we're going to lose. Playing our game, we're always confident," he said.

West declined to confirm a weeks-old rumor that he would resign as coach at the end of the current season.

"I'm still the Laker coach as far as I know," he said, adding that he would announce his plans in a week to 10 days.

Several Laker players, however, have said West told them months ago he was quitting.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, the 7-foot-2 veteran center who led Los Angeles during the series in scoring, rebounding, minutes played and, probably, frustration, conceded the Sonics were the better team in the series.

"We weren't consistent enough to be the best," he said.

"We've had a lot of criticism from everybody over the way we play," the Laker center said. "But one thing nobody can criticize us for is how we play. We played hard."

CART Takes Indy Battle To Court

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The dissident Championship Auto Racing Teams took their bitter feud with the U.S. Auto Club to court today and asked a federal judge to order that six disqualified teams be allowed to participate in the Indianapolis 500.

The request came in a lawsuit filed in U.S. District Court by CART, the six teams and the eight drivers affected by USAC's decision last week to disqualify them from the annual May classic.

The CART suit asked for a hearing no later than May 2 to ensure a decision before the scheduled May 5 start of practice for the Memorial Day weekend race.

The suit said if the teams are unable to practice, others teams already qualified for the race will have an unfair competitive advantage.

The suit came after negotiations broke down last week and Indianapolis Motor Speedway president Joe Cloutier told Pat Patrick, president of CART and owner of one of the six barred teams, that USAC indeed had authority to reject the entries.

The USAC ruling last week rejected 15 entries from the six teams on the grounds they were "not in good standing" with USAC. Drivers affected included former Indy 500 winners Al Unser, the defending champion whose picture is displayed on the tickets to this year's race, Bobby Unser, Gordon Johncock and Johnny Rutherford.

The suit alleges that USAC's action was a violation of the U.S. Constitution, interstate commerce regulations and federal anti-trust laws.

The disqualified teams and drivers would suffer immediate, irreparable harm and lose large sums of money if they are barred from the race, the suit said.

Tom Binford, chief steward of the race and one of the few men trusted by both sides, said going to court may be only way to settle the dispute.

"There's only one way to get that thing reconciled, and that's for Tom Binford to do it," Patrick said. "Binford understands our problem."

Inflation Not All Bad: Social Security Payments Set For Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a silver lining to the clouds of inflation, the nation's 35 million Social Security beneficiaries will get a 9.9 percent cost-of-living increase in July. The hike will boost the typical retired worker's monthly check to $283, a $25 increase.

The record automatic increase, triggered by the latest rise in the consumer price index, will cost the Social Security trust funds $10.2 billion in fiscal 1980, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare said Thursday.

The maximum benefit for a 65-year-old worker retiring this year will shoot up by $50 a month, to $563. The average retired couple will get a $43 increase to $482 a month.

Supplemental Security Income benefits for 4 million needy persons who receive them also will climb by 9.9 percent, at a cost to the Treasury of $415 million. That program is funded by general revenues.

In a statement, HEW Secretary Joseph A. Califano Jr. said, "These automatic increases help the elderly and the needy of our nation to cope with the terrible effects of inflation. This we must do, for these citizens — many with fixed and often meager incomes — cannot be left alone to fend for themselves against the corrosive impact of inflation."

But Califano added that the record size of the increase "speaks loudly to the fundamental need for the president's anti-inflation program."

The Social Security system's trustees, including Califano, predicted in their April 16 annual report that the cost-of-living increase would be 9.8 percent.

Califano said the Social Security system will be able to pay the benefits because of the increased payroll taxes that Congress approved in 1977.

Social Security for retired and disabled workers, their families and survivors, will absorb more than $113 billion in federal funds in fiscal 1980, or more than 20 cents out of every $1 the government spends.

Benefits go up automatically when the consumer price index climbs 3 percent or higher from year to year. It was computed on the average index figures for urban wage-earners and clerical workers in the first quarter of 1979 over the same period in 1978.

Last year's cost-of-living increase was 6.5 percent. This increase eclipses the previous high of 8 percent in 1975, the first year that increases were tied automatically to the index. Social Security benefits climbed 6.4 percent in 1976 and 5.9 percent in 1977.

The maximum federal payment for an individual receiving Supplemental Security Income benefits will jump $19 to $208 a month, and for a couple it will reach $312, a $28 increase. Many states supplement these benefit checks for the poor.

Congress boosted Social Security benefits 20 percent in 1972 at a time when they were much lower, and provided for future automatic increases. When the increase hit 8 percent in 1975, then-President Gerald R. Ford tried to limit it to 5 percent to combat a recession. But his proposal died in Congress.

Social Security Commissioner Stanford G. Ross has said the Carter administration had no intention of trying to keep this cost of living increase within the president's anti-inflation guideline of 7 percent.

The Social Security Administration gave these other examples of new monthly benefits starting in July:

For a mother and two children, benefits will go up $60 to $674 a month. For an elderly widow, up $24 to $267. For a disabled worker with a wife and children, up $58 to $639. For all disabled workers, up $29 to $320.

Retirees who get the minimum monthly Social Security benefit of $122 will get a $12 increase to $134. But the minimum will remain frozen at $122 for those who are just now retiring. Congress froze it in 1977 because of complaints that some well-off retirees, including retired federal workers, worked just long enough under Social Security to qualify for benefits and the minimum gives them far more than they were entitled to.

Feds Succumb In Babysitter Disagreement

SHATTUCK, Okla. (AP) — Working mothers and their employers howled when the state welfare department told Shattuck housewives they had to be licensed to care for other women's children.

Wednesday, the government threw in the towel, apparently ending the dispute that had this northwestern Oklahoma town of 1,600 in an uproar.

The issue in the battle was whether the homes of women who babysit for working mothers should be considered day care centers subject to government regulations.

The dispute caused a shortage of babysitters. Some mothers had to seek help in nearby towns, and at least one was forced to quit work when she was unable to find a sitter.

Denise Smith, who cares for children in her home, said she had been told she was committing a misdemeanor by operating without a license.

Then a department representative called to tell her she could keep watching children without complying with day care center rules, she said.

The representative "told me she would leave Ellis County alone — she wouldn't hassle us any more," said Mrs. Smith.

Officials of the welfare department say that anyone who regularly keeps a child for pay is supposed to have a license.

"If they don't choose to be licensed, we can't make her take a license," said Pauline Mayer, executive assistant to the welfare department director. "The only thing we can do is make a referral to the district attorney."

Assistant District Attorney Joe Jackson said that after a deluge of calls from mothers he told state officials that home sitters qualify under a provision of "informal arrangement."

"I just hate to think of prosecuting someone for keeping children in their home. I hope it's all over," Jackson said.

The question apparently arose when a former day care center operator complained the housewife-babysitters were unfair competition.

Coralee Pshigoda, who operates the town's largest day care operation, says she isn't concerned about that.

"There's plenty of kids to go around," she said.

Motorcycle Helmet Rules Considered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government, studying the danger of riding motorcycles without wearing a helmet, wants your opinion.

Since 1976, 26 states have repealed or weakened laws requiring motorcyclists to wear helmets — and motorcycle deaths have skyrocketed. Deaths went up 24 percent in 1977 and another 10 percent last year, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

The agency is preparing a report on the problem for Congress and it is seeking information from individuals, motorcycle manufacturers, trade groups and cycle organizations.

The deadline for sending in comments is May 8 and the address is Docket 79-07, Room 5108, Nassif Building, National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, Washington, D.C., 20590.
