Roosevelt Rejects Plan of Governors For Price-Fixing

EFFORTS ARE PROMISED TO HIKE LEVELS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 4 — President Roosevelt flatly rejected today the proposal of middlewestern farm state governors for immediate inauguration of a price-fixing program.

The announcement of the white house stand was made in a prepared statement.

"The president and the department of agriculture recognize the very great difficulties which the farmers of the northwest face during the next several months," the statement said, "and will exert every possible effort to bring about an increase in prices without exerting the compulsion of the individual farmers which the governors' plan apparently contemplates."

The agriculture department, the statement added, is in complete sympathy with the governors' objectives, namely, raising farm prices. The governors were invited to sit with the department or send representatives here any time they wish "in order to explore every possible method to improve the situation in respect to each agricultural commodity."

The result of the conference has been "a 100 per cent failure," Gov. Langer of North Dakota said as fate of the governors' plan was sealed.

Would Make Senate Probe Permanent

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 4 — Senate stock market investigators who have been blasting some booming reputations with revelations of go-as-you-please banking practices suggested today that the senate be given authority to act as a permanent policeman over American financiers.

The objective would be protection for American investors and bank depositors.

The current investigation is scheduled to end next month, but republican and democrats alike believe American bankers should be kept within the shadow of senate subpoenas.

Finds New Location To Be Prosperous

Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Stephenson, returning last night from San Angelo after several days spent in arranging offices for Dr. Stephenson in his new location, found former Cisco people doing well and San Angelo busy. Dr. Stephenson returns this afternoon, to begin his practice there. Mrs. Stephenson and their two children will remain here until the close of the current school semester.

Dr. Stephenson is moving to San Angelo after 15 years in Cisco. He was reared near there and is well acquainted over the area.

RABIES CASES DROP.

FORT WORTH, Nov. 4.—Rabies cases have dropped here 75 per cent under last year's outbreaks since the passage of an ordinance requiring vaccination of all dogs. Dr. A. H. Pickler, city health director, announced. Dr. Burke Brewster, county health officer, reported a similar decrease in Tarrant county.

Widow Is Held In Death Quiz

Doubt cast on the theory of suicide by hanging in the death of Vernon W. Dodge, business leader and former judge of Flint, Mich., has caused the arrest of his widow, Mrs. Mira Dodge, 48, above, for questioning. Mr. Dodge's body was exhumed for a test on poisoning. Mrs. Dodge was arrested after she refused to make a statement to police.

MAX ELSER TO BE BURIED AT 10:30 A.M. TODAY

Meats, broiled meats and fish, one hot succulent vegetable simply dressed with salt and pepper and a little butter, a plain green or fruit salad with French dressing, and if dessert must be served, a fruit whip or ice or a snow pudding—all these are delicious and low in calories. Bouillon and consommé have almost no caloric value and make excellent soups at this time of year. The calories should not total over seven hundred per guest. It is help you to remember that lives, and ripe ones particularly, are the calory count rather than the fat content. One olive adds as many calories as a slice of celery. Take all these things into consideration and serve accordingly.

The following menu averages out 650 calories:

Two Questioned in Death of Woman

TWO QUESTIONED 18
SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 4.—Two men were questioned by police today in connection with the slaying of Helen McGinnis, 30, whose battered body was found at the edge of the city last night in an area frequented by itinerants.

Frank McGinnis, a soldier, who was at one time stationed here and who was married in 1926 to the dead woman, and McGinnis' companion, Francis McDuffy, were questioned.

Charity Board to Meet Monday at 9

The executive board of the Cisco Charity and Welfare association will meet tomorrow morning at 9 in the association headquarters in the Morris Simon building. Chairman J. T. Elliott announced Saturday. The association will continue its drive for canned goods particularly fruits, and used clothing throughout this week, the headquarters to be open from 1 to 5 each afternoon to receive contributions.

WILL CARRY THEFT PROBE BEFORE JURY

FORT WORTH, Nov. 4.—Investigation of an alleged north Texas theft ring will be carried before a Tarrant county grand jury here next Tuesday. Ranger Sergeant Osoba said today.

Osoba said he was working under orders to ignore rumors about political pressure to stop the inquiry and would proceed, "letting the chips fall where they may."

Rangers have collected evidence against a score of persons, he said. Charges of receiving and concealing stolen property have been brought against a former sporting goods-store employe and a druggist here.

Evidence against them probably will be presented to the grand jury. Osoba at the same time said his men had learned that the triple-slaying of three men here last July resulted from the theft of $150,000 in narcotics and not from division of loot of the $72,000 mail robbery as believed by local officers.

The slayings resulted, he said his men learned, after a member of a gang reportedly headed by O. D. Stevens, went to a Dallas hotel to purchase narcotics from a dealer and learned the narcotics originally had been stolen from the gang itself.

Library to Observe National Book Week

Despite the business depression, the Cisco public library has added 376 books to its shelves for the year ending September 30, 1933. It was announced Saturday. More than 7,000 were read during the year, an average of 20 books per library day. This patronage shows that this institution is appreciated by the people of Cisco.

"National Book Week" begins November 12 and during the week the Twentieth Century club invites the public to visit the library and especially to call Thursday afternoon, Nov. 16, from 3 to 6 o'clock, when they will have open house for the men, women and children of the city.

A very good book as a gift during the week will be welcome.

Finds Belief Jobs Can Be Bought Wide

By GILBERT DRAPER
United Press Staff Correspondent
MONTREAL, Nov. 4.—Hope that Canada and the United States will reach a reciprocal trade agreement soon, has been abandoned in Canada as a result of recent developments.

The confused international situation being created by President Roosevelt's adoption of the NRA plan and Premier Bennett's refusal to establish a Canadian parallel, shattered the high hopes held a few months ago that the two countries soon would reach a trade agreement.

In fact, recent developments indicate that instead of closer relations, the difference in opinion may split the existing trade relations wide open, with the United States attempting to force Canadian producers either voluntarily to adopt a code similar to the NRA for their own operations, or lose their places in the United States market.

Treaty in Prospect.
A few months ago it was believed that events were pointing to a definite and rapid approach of a U. S.-Canadian trade treaty. Negotiations were proceeding swiftly and shortly before the NRA went into effect in the United States general opinion here was that an understanding was imminent.

Adoption of the NRA by President Roosevelt, however, has upset the comparative basis of industrial costs in the two countries, sweeping away prospects of an agreement. It is understood that United States producers, operating under the NRA policy of higher wages for shorter hours of work, are finding themselves at a disadvantage in respect to Canadian competitors and are demanding that Canadian producers adopt their scale of costs, or face the alternative of being excluded from the market by higher tariff barriers, or quota regulations.

ORNAMENTAL GATE.
PECCOS, Nov. 4.—An ornamental stone gateway is to be built as an entrance to Rotary field, high school gridiron, by the Peccos Rotary club.

Brady to Entertain Pecan Growers Ass'n

BRADY, Nov. 4.—The annual two-day pecan show of the West Texas Pecan Growers association will be held here here in November or in December, it has been announced.

Exhibits of every kind of pecan grown in West Texas will be put on display. The program committee group is headed by H. G. Lucas, Brownwood.

Chairman of the association is W. F. Willcan of Bend.

Arraignment of 5 in Holdup Postponed

WACO, Nov. 4.—Arraignment of five men charged with robbery in connection with the $1,600 burglary of the First National bank at West Texas has been postponed until Thursday when it is anticipated that Q. R. Miller, one of the defendants, will make another attempt to have his bond of $5,000 reduced.

TEXAN FATHER AT 75
EL PASO, Nov. 4.—A 75-year-old man is the father of an eight-pound boy, according to a birth certificate filed with the city registrar. The father is Juan Valvenera. His wife is 22.

New Randolph President and Family

Dr. David F. Tyndall, brother of the late Dr. John W. Tyndall, whom he succeeds as president of Randolph, is shown here with Mrs. Tyndall and their daughter, Horte. The family reached Cisco Thursday, and are making their home in the parsonage apartment of the First Christian church, of which Dr. Tyndall also has accepted the pastorate. He will preach there this morning and this evening. Dr. Tyndall relinquished the pastorate of the Second Christian church of Savannah, Ga., to take the place made vacant by the automobile tragedy which cost the life of his brother near Altus, Okla., early in September.

Post Office Moves Into New Quarters

Removal of the Cisco post office from its old location in the Spencer building to the new government-owned structure at E avenue and Sixth street, was completed Saturday and this morning mail will be delivered from the beautiful quarters which have been in preparation for seven months.

Access was allowed to boxes in the old building until 6 p. m. yesterday. Keys for boxes in the new quarters were delivered at a special window there which was kept open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Saturday.

The brick and steel structure that house the office was constructed by the H. W. Underhill Construction company of Wichita, Kan., at a cost of $75,000, exclusive of furnishings.

Completion was celebrated by an "open house" program from 7 to 9 Friday evening when hundreds of Cisco citizens were shown through the building by the post office personnel. The Lobo band, directed by G. W. Colburn, gave a concert in front of the building.

Not all of the equipment and furnishings have been received for the building. Postmaster Craddock said, but enough is in place to enable the office to carry on business efficiently. The missing furnishings include desks for certain of the departments, in the absence of which tables are being employed.

Some minor touches to furnishings and appointments are yet to be done. B. Bressner, government supervising architect, was in charge of the project for the government. He will remain in Cisco for an undetermined length of time, to attend to such details as may require attention.

LAY-OFF PLAN ADOPTED FOR FORD PLANTS

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 4.—Employees of the Ford Motor company will be laid off one week each in rotation, in order to bring their average working weeks over a three-month period to 35 hours, the Ford company announced today.

While Ford officials would not comment on the point, it was understood wages were to be paid only for the 35-hour week average. Previously the men had been working on a 40-hour week average.

Ford officials insisted their action was based on a desire to comply explicitly with the NRA code and some observers saw no new conflict in it between Ford and the recovery administration. But others interpreted a remark of a Ford official in connection with the announcement of the plan that the NRA embodies "prohibition against work" as at least emphasizing the disagreement between Ford and the administration of the recovery act.

OFFERS MEANS TO KEEP MEN AT WORK
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 4.—The NRA today offered Henry Ford a means of avoiding the lay-off which he has announced for his Dearborn plant workers beginning next week.

Administrator Johnson's statement said if Ford really wants to retain any of the men he is laying off, the NRA "will be glad to consider an exception permitting him to continue them all in employment."

Senator Kendrick Dies Late Friday

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Nov. 4.—John B. Kendrick, pioneer western cattleman, conversationalist and statesman, died at sundown Friday at the age of 76. For the last 16 years he had been United States senator from Wyoming.

Hundreds of messages of grief were received today from almost every state in the union.

OPPOSE USE OF SCHOOL GIRLS TO SELL TAGS

DALLAS, Nov. 4.—Members of the Dallas Council of the Parent-Teachers association and two executive men's organizations are at odds over the question of "exploiting sex appeal of high school girls" in tag day campaigns.

The Parent-Teachers council vigorously denounced the practice of sending young girls on the streets to sell tags for patriotic organizations, and recommended tag day campaigns be eliminated.

Considerable danger exists for adolescent girls in chance acquaintances they make on the streets during the campaigns, the council declared.

Member of the American Legion and Disabled American Veterans, voiced surprise and vehement disagreement with the stand of the parent-teachers group.

"We provide a chaperone for every 10 girls who sell tags," asserted J. J. Murray of the Disabled American Veterans.

"I've never heard of any complaints of over-aggressiveness on the part of the girls or of their ever being ill-treated."

"I fear the parent-teachers are being misinformed," added T. H. Owens of the American Legion. "The girls aren't misused."

The rub, the council made clear, lies largely in the fact prizes are offered in the campaign. With that inducement for the girls who win are the ones who play up most to the men.

So far as Laurence Melton, chairman of the Dallas post's central council, is concerned, the Armistice Day poppy sale will go on.

"We don't like this way of raising funds," he said, "but it appears to be the only adequate means at our disposal."

He discounted the danger to the girls and said they regarded their work in the campaigns as "a patriotic duty."

Noted Writer for Magazine Dies

Soon after leaving ship he received word of his daughter's death, so he prepared to return the next day.

MOFFETT WILL SPEAK TO OIL INDEPENDENTS

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 4.—One of the petroleum industry's largest, and most significant meetings of the year will be held in Tulsa November 13 when three of the outstanding figures in the day's oil news will address the convention of the Independent Petroleum association.

James A. Moffett, President Roosevelt's appointee to the planning and coordinating committee of the petroleum code, will be the featured speaker at the banquet on the night of the one-day convention. The other two principal speakers will be Wirt Franklin, Oklahoma oil man and chairman of the planning and coordinating committee, and M. L. Benedum, also a member of the committee.

Moffett's address is expected to reveal for the first time to the oil men the active inside steps which have been taken by President Roosevelt's group on the solution of problems confronting the oil industry. The three speakers have been in Washington since they were summoned there several weeks ago by President Roosevelt and Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, and it will be their first trip away from the nation's capital to reveal their work.

In view of this fact, oil men are of the opinion that the Tulsa meeting will be one of the largest held in many months. This belief is expressed by the mid-continent leaders because of the speakers who will be present, as well as the wave of optimism which has spread over the entire industry.

Virtually all railroads have announced special rates to be effective several days prior to the Tulsa meeting. These will be in effect for not only attendees at the Independent Petroleum association, but also for the Royalty Owners convention which will be held in Tulsa on the same date.

Temperatures in the panhandle were anticipated in the panhandle of Texas last night and stock warnings were issued. Freezing was expected to reach Dallas by Sunday night. East Texas is due to have freezing weather.

Rain turning to snow was predicted for most sections of the state exposed to the blast. Amarillo early Saturday morning recorded a temperature of 38 degrees and the mercury continued falling throughout the day. Light frosts extended to Austin, Del Rio, El Paso, and Abilene Friday night.

Temperatures of 10 above at Sheridan, Wyo., 22 at Denver, and 32 at Santa Fe, N. M., were reported from the path of the cold wave which was said to be inspired by frigid winds sweeping over the snow-clad Rockies under compulsion of an area of high pressure.

Mobley Hotel Under New Management

The Mobley hotel this week goes under new management. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Oulther, lately of San Antonio, will operate the institution.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Donica, who have been operating the hotel for more than a year, and their son, A. C. will move to Gorman temporarily pending other plans. Mr. Donica is interested with his son-in-law in oil holdings in that area.

Mr. and Mrs. Oulther are not strangers to Cisco, having lived here in 1926 and 1927. Mr. Oulther is an oil operator who drilled wells in Calahan and Eastland counties while here and in Brown county after removing to Brownwood from Cisco. He lived three years there, later going to the Rio Grande valley where his fruit crop this year was destroyed by the windstorms.

They invite their friends to visit them at the hotel. The dining room of the Mobley, which was maintained by Mr. and Mrs. Donica, will be closed, the new proprietors announced.

AU REVOIR.

Cisco has received with deep regret news of the death Friday afternoon at Fort Worth of Max Elser, Sr., whose 82 years of life embraced the period of the transition of the old west into the new and whose experiences encompassed some of the most meaningful and, of course, interesting episodes of that transition.

"Three Cornered Moon"

JACK HOLT

Max Elser distinguished his declining years with a virile interest in the world about him and a mind that kept its vigor long after the frailties of age had robbed his body of its once abundant energy. Keyed to a pace of progress in three-quarters of a century of active association with the development of a new land, he was impatient with contentment and delay, alert to opportunities his advanced years denied his own use, and earnestly concerned for the welfare of the community in which he made his home.

He watched with rebellious sadness the ravages of depression here and elsewhere, and spent his last years battling for a courage and vision in community enterprise to overcome its problems and restore to normal prosperity the land and people that he loved so fiercely.

MRS. ROOSEVELT CALLS FOR RELIEF WORK.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt opened the campaign under the auspices of the 1933 mobilization for human needs and generous contributions by "the well-to-do Americans in particular." In her foreword she said it was the job of the well-to-do ones to help Uncle Sam to take care of the needy unemployed.

Mrs. Roosevelt declared it the duty of the women of America to educate the people into the importance of relief needs, a job they are especially fitted for.

But the board rejected these specifications for bids must be sufficiently general to permit competition in the bidding.

Forgotten Sweetheart

home the ring of a telephone was shattering the stillness. A voice answered and she heard her own voice speaking. Then, "Mr. Robert Weston has left New York."

A dreadful pause. "How long will he be away?" "I couldn't say, miss. He has gone on a yacht cruise."

"A yacht cruise!" Joan stared at the telephone, not seeing it clearly. After a while she went into her bedroom, closed the door and began, mechanically, to undress.

In bed she pressed her face against the pillow. Fighting hard against the tears that gathered in her eyes, she thought of the man who had been so dear to her.

There were never any evasions with Bob. He scorned them. He would not say "Joan, may I come over?" when he knew that she was waiting for him.

She glanced down at her wrist watch. Eight o'clock. He was just finishing dinner. There might be guests. She mustn't be so nervous, or impatient. She must wait.

The telephone rang and she ran to answer it breathlessly. But it was only a reporter from a morning newspaper asking about Pat and Barney and about their marriage.

Joan heard her voice, hard with disappointment, answering, "But there aren't any more facts. It's all been in the papers already. She was trembling when she put down the telephone.

At 8:30 Mrs. Blake suggested that they go out to a movie. She spoke casually, as though happy news were not trembling in the balance for Joan. All the king's horses could not have moved Joan from a vicinity of that telephone.

At nine o'clock the living room which had worn such a gay, expectant air drooped forlornly, like a woman deserted by her lover. Joan could not bear the thought the silence suggested. Bob must be coming!

Her heart pounded at the thought. Of course he would come. She couldn't doubt that he loved her, remembering the light in his eyes, remembering his stormy response to her whisper, "You found me!"

AFTER a while Joan made a decision bravely. She would telephone Bob. Too much unhappiness had come about through pride and conventionality. She would talk over everything. All the foolish little things of which estrangement had been built would topple like a house of cards.

She found the number and dialed it. Somewhere in that big

Stella, a little aw by Mrs. Waring's tales of Joan's triumphs, had undertaken to show the full extent of her culinary talent in honor of "Miss Joan."

Stella had done the marketing and the chicken Mrs. Waring had spoken of had miraculously become five vegetables, a salad, homemade ice cream, and—as a final triumph—a huge white cake.

As Stella enumerated all this Mrs. Waring gasped. But she was pleased to have Stella enter into the spirit of the occasion. "They don't have real food in New York restaurants," Stella said. "That child's hungry."

She added, "Miss Waring, I was reading the cards today. The first thing I turned up two cards — queen of clubs—that's the light-hearted young man who was here or dinner one night."

"It's train time, Benny," Mrs. Waring called.

"I'm ready," Benny put his head in the door, his unruly hair smoothed down by extra brushing, his mother smiled at him. She spoke eager to see Joan when her eyes fell upon Benny, looking so much stronger. It would make Joan so happy to see Benny walking toward her with his shoulders back, his face tanned from being out of doors.

They found Bill and Sara at the station, waiting for them. "You'll never guess who just passed by," Sara said. "Dick Thornton and his bride! They were married this afternoon and are leaving on a two weeks' honeymoon."

"Dick married!" Mrs. Waring exclaimed.

"Yes, I told him Joan was coming in on the New York train and he said to give her his regards. The girl he married is a cute little thing but really not in Joan's class."

Mrs. Waring was silent. Dick Thornton had been so constant, so devoted for years. Somehow she had counted on a renewal of that romance row that Joan was coming home. Disappointment clouded for a moment her excitement over her daughter's home-coming.

"Joan's been foolish," Sara was saying complacently. "Men don't hang on without encouragement while girls play around and have careers. There's always some other girl waiting to grab a good catch like Dick."

"Joan probably wouldn't have looked at him," Mrs. Waring said. But her spirits were dampened. Dick was one of the town's most promising young doctors.

"Well, if Joan doesn't look out she'll be an old maid," Sara replied.

"No girl as pretty as Joan would ever be an old maid," Benny spoke up with spirit.

The laugh that followed broke a tension. And then they heard the train coming. They saw Joan walking toward them, looking very smart in her blue suit. Looking thinner, too. And tired.

Loboes Keep Record With Mavs Unbroken

The tradition that denies Eastland a football victory over the Cisco Loboes was extended another year Friday afternoon, but it took an aerial kick against the embattled goal line array of the Mavericks to do it.

And, at that, it began to look as if the Loboes were not going to take enough touchdowns for the count. It required two scoring passes chalk up the needed six points in the tense final moments of the game, as offside penalties were invoked to nullify other successes.

St. John, half-back, emerged from a blocking position to fire the football guns that blasted out the victory. Twice he punctured Eastland defense with his tosses on respective occasions Barker and Rutledge converted. But Barker's brilliant run that netted 54 yards, including the distance traveled by the pass, was wasted effort, as a thrilling play, as the rushing Cisco backfield ace took toss and eluded tackler after tackler, almost stumbling, before he was loose for the dash across the end.

Winning Score. Rutledge's catch of the pass that netted was equally good, as the stand secondary swarmed about him, but the distance that the team had to travel for the touchdown was only eight yards. He dodged over the line standing up.

On another occasion a penalty nullified a certain touchdown. Garrison, Eastland star, had kicked from behind his goal line to Barker who returned the ball across the goal in another brilliant exhibition of broken field running through the entire Eastland team, but a penalty for roughing the kick behind the goal took the ball in Cisco and gave it to Eastland their 20-yard line. That same penalty was invoked again later in the contest.

Eastland First. Eastland scored first in the game, by sneaking through right tackle cutting right around the Cisco secondary to traverse the seven yards. The score represents the first touchdown an Eastland team scored on Cisco since 1924 and first time that a Maverick team led a Loboe team since 1922.

The counter was the result of art football tactics on the part of Garrison, whose quick-kick from his yard line soared over Barker's head and rolled dead on the Cisco goal.

the water logged ball to the 50 yard line from where Garrison returned it nine yards, Page and Rutledge bringing him down. The Maverick quarter faced a pass and ran for nine yards. Hart failed of a first down by inches and St. John intercepted Garrison's pass. McMahon kicked and Hart recovered the fumbled ball on Cisco's 44. Simmons took a pass for 17 yards, placing the ball on Cisco's 23. Garrison ripped off left tackle for 10 yards and a first down. He picked up three more, putting the ball ten yards from the goal. Merritt, Page and Timmons stopped Simmons for no gain, and St. John knocked down a pass in the end zone, giving the ball to the Loboes on their 20. Barker made nine and Harrison three. Harrison tossed to Barker, 100 low, and on the next play fully intercepted the attempted long pass and ran to the seven yard line from which the visitors produced their score.

Cisco Counter Attack. Cisco returned to the fray with a series of smashing off tackle drives, reverses and spinners. Beasley, who had taken Harrison's place, ripped off one 17-yard run while Barker smashed out consistent gains. Repealed by the sturdy Eastland defense and a 10-yard penalty line Loboes called upon McMahon's boot to give them the advantage of a punt out on the Eastland four-yard stripe. Garrison, kicking behind his goal, was roughed and although Barker ran the punt back almost, it not across the goal line, the run was not allowed and Eastland got the ball on their 20.

But Garrison lost a yard; Graves, who had relieved Timmons, spilled Simmons for no gain, and the Mavericks drew a 15-yard penalty to their four-yard line. Barker returning Garrison's punt to the Eastland 23.

Harrison, who had gone back into the game, relieving Beasley, spun through the line for seven yards and Barker smashed off tackle for eight more, making it first down on the Eastland nine. McMahon picked up three in a drive at a guard and then Barker, with perfect interference, circled left for the touchdown. The kick was wide.

Kept Offensive. From that moment the Cisco boys took the offensive and, with one exception, kept it. The exception occurred during the third quarter when a determined Eastland drive up the field netted two first downs in a row. The drive came to grief when Page threw Garrison for an eight yard loss and forced a passing attempt which Harrison interrupted by intercepting the Eastland quarter's toss and running it out on the Eastland 11-yard line. The Eastland defense staved off a score.

Another Roughing Penalty. Twice, earlier in that period, McMahon had booted to within the Eastland 20, once on the 19 and once on the five yard line. The latter kick produced the same situation that cost Cisco an earlier chance to score. Garrison kicking from behind his goal, was roughed, giving the ball to the Mavericks on their 20, from which point their drive originated.

The Cisco team opened the fourth quarter with a passing campaign that finally produced the score. Alternated with Barker's dashes from short-man position, the Cisco attack was varied enough to cause the visitors considerable difficulty. Early in the quarter St. John passed to Barker who made another thrilling but useless run for a touchdown.

But the Cisco team sustained its drive and did not relinquish the ball even after that reverse. Barker and Beasley in smashes at tackles and runs around ends, aided by an eight-yard pass that was allowed because of interference and one seven-yard run by St. John, carried the ball to the eight yard line where line plays were halted. Rutledge, however, scored when he took St. John's over-the-line toss and dodged over.

The game ended with the Loboes in possession of the ball on the Eastland 15 and driving for another score.

The Cisco line played a consistently strong game, holding the visitors' gains from running plays to 72 yards against 246 for Cisco. First downs were 15 and 8 in favor of Cisco. Rutledge and Page at ends; Graves, Timmons and Brown at tackles; Blackburn and Merritt at guards and Littlepage at center each was outstanding in his work.

Starting lineups were: Eastland—Taylor and Chick, ends;

A Policeman and a Bishop

Henry Ford, Dearborn, Mich.

On a downtown corner the traffic policeman stepped over to the curb where a Ford V-8 was standing.

"That's the car that makes the boys down at the Police Garage get up early mornings," he said.

"How is that?"

"Well, you see we have two kinds of scout cars and flyers, and the boys hustle down early to get the Fords. If you're not there first you must take out the other make of car."

"But why do they all want the Ford?"

"Safer. Easier to handle. Takes the corners better. A car with Ford springs doesn't lean over or tip on a curve or a quick turn. A police flyer has to be a safe car."

It was pleasant to find a layman placing his finger on this exclusive feature of the Ford car, namely, the Ford transverse springs. They are used in our car for the very purpose he described, to perform their triple function of providing comfort, stability and safety.

The Bishop came down from the Northwest to Michigan and eventually arrived—as every Detroit visitor does—at Dearborn.

"I thought we had pretty nearly all the Ford cars in the world up where I came from," said he, "but I can scarcely see anything else around Detroit."

The Bishop is not the first to say that, and what he observed has a meaning.

People in this Detroit area know cars in a different and more penetrating way than perhaps is possible elsewhere. This is the acknowledged automobile producing center of the world. Nearly ninety per cent of all cars produced in the United States are made within a radius of 100 miles around Detroit.

Hundreds of thousands of workmen moving from shop to shop know the methods used on each make of car, and by word of mouth they spread complete first-hand information of manufacturing methods among the people. Suppliers also know which manufacturers insist on first quality of materials and workmanship. This information also leaks out.

That is, the people hereabouts KNOW THE CARS. And they buy nearly twice as many Fords in Wayne County, the central area of automobile manufacture, as any other make. We are naturally a little proud of that fact.

But, then, we are never doubtful of the result when the decision is in the hand of a buyer who knows.

SISTER MARY'S RECIPES

BY SISTER MARY, NEA Service Writer

PERHAPS the greatest impediment in one's fight against over-plumpness is the bridge luncheon, that wily foe of dieting. The dieting guest fears that she may offend her hostess if she fails to partake of the tempting, rich food usually served, but she knows that if she yields she breaks down her carefully guarded diet and undoes the work of weeks of stern "reducing."

But bridge luncheons do not have to be so injurious to diets. The thoughtful hostess of today plans her menus with her reducing friends in mind and combines selectability with a minimum of caloric content. The dieting guest can do her share by skimping on breakfast the day the bridge club meets.

There are a few general suggestions in mind when planning her breakfast and winter luncheon menus.

Crackers Instead of Rolls

In the first place, take stock of calories. It's the fats, starches and sugars that increase the caloric count at such an alarming rate. This includes in the food list bread-stuffs—particularly hot buttered rolls so popular on luncheon menus—cream sauces, mayonnaise, whipped cream, very sweet desserts made with yolks of eggs, and rich cake and pudding sauces. Angel food cake is not too good since it's made mostly of whites.

Instead of hot rolls try serving toasted crackers. A diet cracker is said to have about one-fourth as many calories as an buttered piece of bread the same size as the cracker. You can add a great variety of wafers and crackers, and "biscuits" on the market, one to suit any need and taste, and it will pay to study them and make use of them.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, cereal, cream, scrambled eggs, toast, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON: Vegetable soup, toasted crackers, pear green or fruit salad with French dressing, and if dessert must be served, a fruit whip or ice or a "snow pudding"—all these are delicious and low in calories. Bouillion and consommé have almost no caloric value and make excellent first courses at this time of year. The calories should not total over seven hundred per guest. It may help you to remember that olives, and ripe ones particularly, increase the caloric count rather extravagantly, one olive adding ten to fifteen calories, but radishes and celery have very little caloric content. So when you add up the calories, take all these things into consideration and serve accordingly.

Foods Low in Calories

Fruit cocktails (unsweetened), jellied meats, broiled meats and fish, one hot succulent vegetable simply dressed with salt and pepper and a little butter, a plain green or fruit salad with French dressing, and if dessert must be served, a fruit whip or ice or a "snow pudding"—all these are delicious and low in calories. Bouillion and consommé have almost no caloric value and make excellent first courses at this time of year. The calories should not total over seven hundred per guest. It may help you to remember that olives, and ripe ones particularly, increase the caloric count rather extravagantly, one olive adding ten to fifteen calories, but radishes and celery have very little caloric content. The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The great truth in the Science of being, that the real man was, is, and ever shall be perfect, is incontrovertible; for if man is the image, reflection of God, he is neither inverted nor subverted, but upright and Godlike" (page 200).

RANDOLPH NEWS

Randolph faculty and students welcome Dr. and Mrs. David Tyndall and daughter, Miss Hertz. Dr. Tyndall and family arrived Thursday evening from Savannah, Georgia. A short talk was given by each member of the family in chapel Friday morning. The family are making their home in the parsonage of the First Christian church, of which Dr. Tyndall has also accepted the pastorate. He will preach at both the morning and evening services today. Miss Hertz will be a member of the senior class at the high school.

Tuesday evening the students of Randolph held their annual Halloween party in the college auditorium. The auditorium was attractively decorated in the Halloween colors. During the evening various games typical of Halloween were played. About the middle of the evening the grand march, led by Howard Martin, was held to determine the best dressed couple. Frances Bruce and Miss Pat Horn were awarded the first prize and Bevington Reed and Miss Nina Smith, second.

Ransom Camp of Seymour, former student in Randolph college, was a visitor at the college this week.

Dean and Mrs. Isaacks left Friday for Dallas where Dean Isaacks attended a meeting of the registrars. They returned to Cisco Saturday evening.

H. R. Garrett was in Dallas on business Friday and Saturday.

Leo Pitts left Friday for Mineral Wells. He is expected to return Monday.

Harold Sharpe left Friday for Dallas for the week-end. While there he will attend the S. M. U. Texas game.

Mrs. H. R. Garrett was able to leave the hospital Thursday evening. She and the baby are both reported to be doing well.

Miss Audy Gentry is spending the week-end at her home in Breckenridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hardison of Savannah, Georgia, arrived Thursday evening to make their home here.

Dr. Lee Clark is spending the day in Caddo where he is preaching at the First Christian church.

C. A. Cox of Dallas visited Ether Blewins, Monday.

Miss Ova Brown, former student of Randolph, was a visitor at the college Saturday. Miss Brown is now a student in T. W. C. Fort Worth.

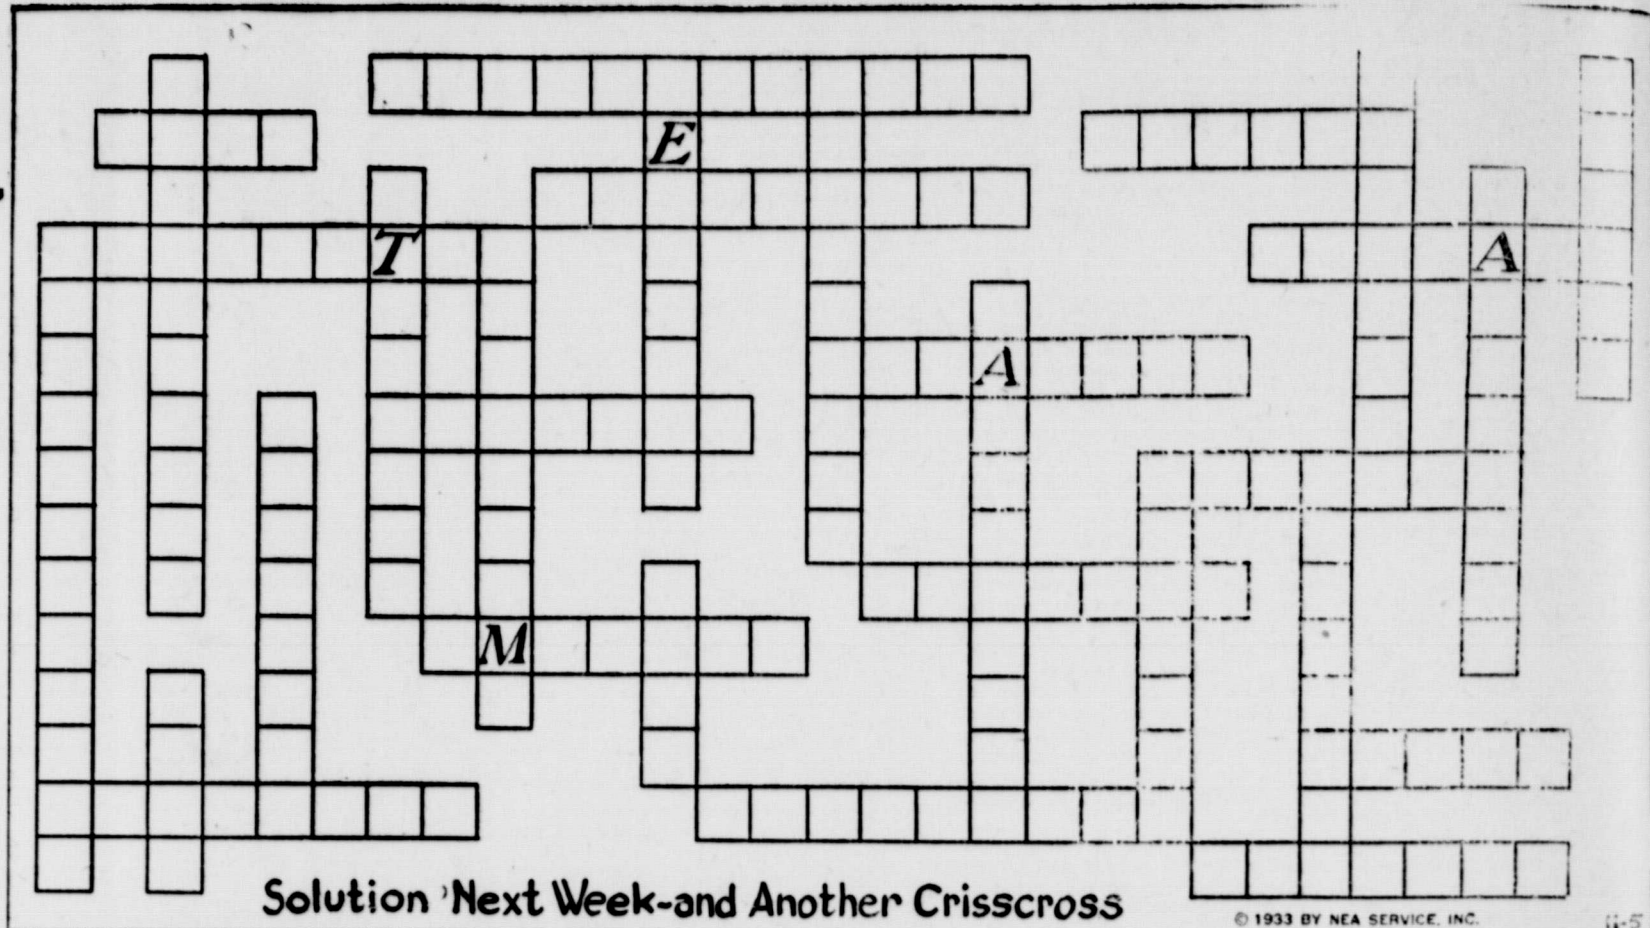

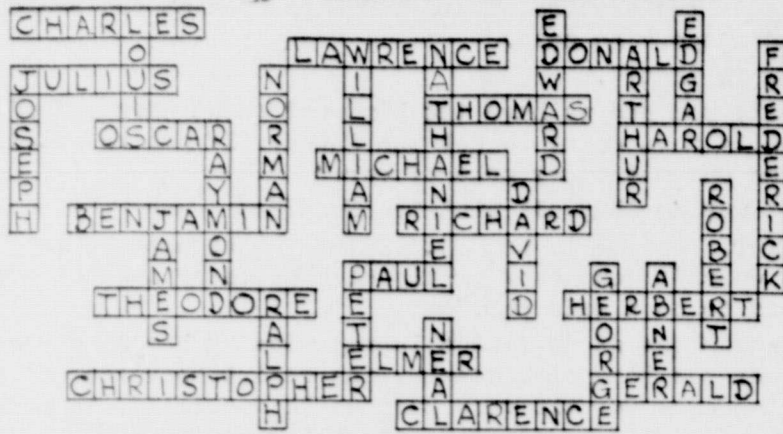

Miss Miller of the extension department of the University of Texas visited the college Saturday.

Alman Martin of Lubbock, has returned after a week's stay in Lubbock to resume his class work.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

ruzzle in building
NOW that Primo Carnera has been thrown up as a well-constructed heavyweight champion, Madison Square Garden proposes to build a new threat against him.

That rather obviously seems to be the intention, since Head Man John Reed Kilpatrick of Madison Square Garden avers there will be "no compromise and no sacrifice" with Jack Dempsey, acting in behalf of a brawl for Max Baer.

First Effort Fails

IF the recent Perroni-McCorkindale activity was meant as a foundation for the carrying out of the intention of building a contender for the Ponderous Pisan, the lads had better tear down and start on a new basis. Neither of those will stand up.

Perroni, a promising young fighter before an accident sent him hurtling through the windshield of an automobile, does not seem quite heavy enough for the groundwork. He lost a disputed decision to McCorkindale and the loss of even a disputed decision to a British heavyweight never will get by the building inspectors.

McCorkindale is, after all, Mrs. Hemingway, a British heavyweight who, sooner or later, will be found some place under the arena hunting for the ropes.

Such Sacrifice!

THE Garden may not compromise with Promoter Dempsey, for

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

WHEN asked if he would be willing to let Jack Dempsey share in the promotion of a Carnera-Baer bout, Colonel Kilpatrick said Madison Square Garden certainly would not. When asked if Baer would be required to tie himself up for future fights under Garden auspices providing he accepted the Carnera engagement, Colonel Kilpatrick said he certainly would, which Max probably would not do, especially if advised by Promoter Dempsey unless it should turn out that Dempsey becomes matchmaker for the Garden in which event Jimmy Johnston would get the gate.

whom Baer is signed to fight, but there is no certainty that the other part of Kilpatrick's declaration, "no sacrifice will stand up." The Garden certainly did sacrifice financially on the Perroni-McCorkindale bout.

Now Jimmy Johnston insists on a further experiment by matching McCorkindale with Jack Sharkey Nov 17 if that is to be labeled an effort to create a contender for Carnera, for gosh sake, also whether are we drifting?

Another Sharkey-Carnera? Please, my nerves!

FATTENED LAMBS.

BILLINGS, Mont., Nov. 4.—Sugar gar. More than 120,000 lambs will be made fat lambs as well as sub-federal ratings consisting principally of sugar beet pulp in the Billings and Hardin areas of Montana this fall. Beet sugar plants in the two cities now are grinding the 1933 crop and preparing the pulp feed for the lambs.

SPECIAL NOTICE

Maybelline

IS HARMLESS

IT IS NOT A DYE, but an absolutely pure perfectly harmless mascara

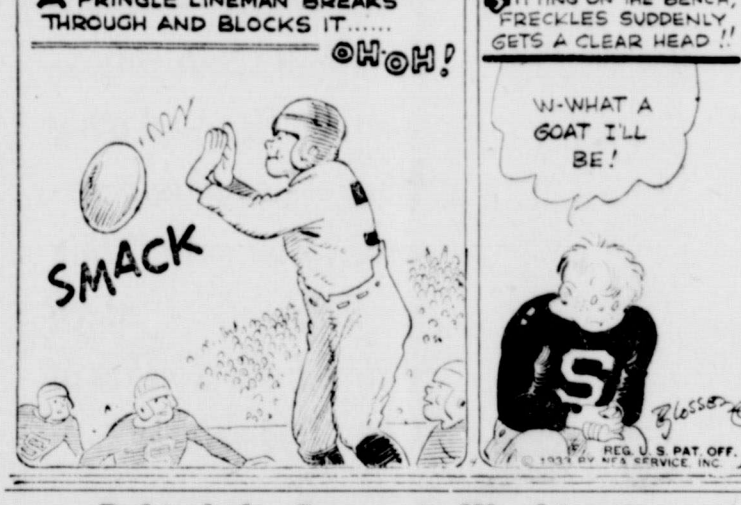

Do not confuse Maybelline mascara with eyelash dye. Maybelline is simply a harmless water color that instantly and beautifully enhances the eyelashes. It has been used consistently for sixteen years by millions of women in all parts of the world with absolute safety and satisfaction. Insist on genuine Maybelline eyelash darkener and be assured of absolutely harmless, non-smarting, tear-proof mascara. Black or Brown, 75c.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—There are no hard feelings between Presidents Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull over the Moley incident.

The president has taken pains to make clear his anxiety to have Hull here for the Russian recognition conferences with Maxim Litvinov, as well as at the opening of the Pan-American conference in Montevideo Dec. 3.

There was some question whether steamer sailings would permit Hull to keep both dates. He probably can. Early reports indicated that Hull would not sit in with Roosevelt and Litvinov, and Washington gossips have imagined a coolness between the White House and Hull since the latter insisted on Moley's resignation as assistant secretary of state.

Ambassador Sumner Welles, until recently regarded as our ace diplomat in Latin America, will get to Montevideo if the Cuban situation straightens out in time. But his prestige has been somewhat tarnished by the upset of his plans for Cuba and his presence at the conference isn't considered as important as it was.

His friends in the State Department wish he had returned here soon after the overthrow of Machado.

THE sleepy old Interior Department—sections of it, anyway—is being crowded out of its nice big building by the expanding public works administration, which operates on night and day shifts because of room shortage.

The office of education received a five-day notice to move to a less attractive federal building, and it was followed out by the substitute homestead division, the oil administration, and the citizens' conservation corps.

PWA will employ about 1500 persons before it's through. More than 600 already work under the roof of the Interior Department.

THE Buy Now campaigners of NRA found their chief problem was convincing white collar workers that higher prices were good for them.

The problem hasn't been solved completely, but NRA's official answer to the salaried worker whose salary hasn't been raised is that if the previous trend of wages and prices had continued, bringing bankruptcy to labor, capital, and raw material producers, the white collar worker wouldn't have his present job.

THERE are about 80,000 species of flies and a new species is discovered almost every day, according to Dr. J. T. Greene, the Smithsonian Institution's expert on flies. Most of them are to be found among the 4,200,000 insects in the Smithsonian collection.

Fish are competitors with hogs, the Farm Recovery officials decided, summoning representatives of the seafood industry to a hearing on the porkers. "So that all interested parties may be heard." Other competitors in popular taste, it was decreed, were sheep, cattle, poultry, eggs, and vegetable oils.

MAXAS TREE HARVEST.

MAXVILLE, Mont., Nov. 4.—Cutting of 25,000 Christmas trees will be started soon in the Maxville area by a California contractor. Permit for the cutting was issued by the United States forest service. All the trees are to be of the Douglas fir variety, and will be shipped to eastern and southern points.

BIG ATTRACTION

SUNDANCE, Wyo., Nov. 4.—Devil's Tower national monument, near the entrance to the Black Hills region, is becoming one of the show places of Wyoming. More than 11,000 visitors were at the monument during the summer. The Tower is a huge granite pillar which rises 1,000 feet in the air.

NETTED 5 CENTS

NEWTON, Mass., Nov. 4.—Four times burglars broke into the office of the Strangman Manufacturing company and four times they left empty-handed. A fifth break netted five cents.

CLERK FOR 45 YEARS

FALMOUTH, Mass., Nov. 4.—William H. Hewins, 92, has been town clerk and treasurer here for 45 years.

Cooperative Use Pays Well

Here is a lesson in the value of co-operation.

Time was when every community had its own small, isolated electric power plant—if it had any electric service at all.

That was before it was technically possible to link up groups of towns and provide them with power through widespread systems of electric transmission lines.

Today many communities share each power plant. Thus they utilize the facilities more efficiently and receive a higher grade of service at a much smaller cost. The small town's new industrial importance is a direct outgrowth of this improvement in power supply.

The West Texas Utilities Company is rendering this dependable, inexpensive and elastic type of power supply to 125 progressive West Texas cities and towns.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule... and adds only a small amount to your total bill?
