COURT ERROR REVERSES HENRY CASE

JUDGE FAILS TO PROPERLY CHARGE JURY

Chief of the opinion of the court of criminal appeals at Austin on which the court reversed the findings of the lower court which assessed the penalty of Raymond Henry at 90 years for the killing of H. L. McBee at Rising Star in May, 1933, has been received by R. E. Grantham, attorney for Henry. The point on which the former decision was reversed and remanded was the failure of the lower court to properly instruct the jury on the law of circumstantial evidence, no direct evidence showing the character and size of the instrument used (the truck) nor that McBee died from the results of these purported wounds which testimony would necessitate a charge on such evidence. The point on which the former decision was reversed and remanded was failure of the lower court to properly instruct the jury on the law of circumstantial evidence, no direct evidence showing the character and size of the instrument used (the truck) nor that McBee died from the results of these purported wounds which testimony would necessitate a charge on such evidence. Attorney Grantham states that the state has 15 days from the date of the decision, March 31, on which to file a motion for a re-hearing, if none filed or if over-ruled, the clerk of the court of criminal appeals will forward a mandate to the clerk of the trial court and the cast will be set for trial. The amount of bond for Raymond Henry will be determined. Attorneys in the case are: R. E. Grantham, Cisco; L. H. Fiewellen, Ranger; and Frank Sparks, Eastland.

Presbyterians Begin Encampment Building

ROCK VENEER USED TO COVER PRESENT UNIT

Presbyterians began work at Lake Cisco today on the encampment project which has been hanging fire as it was expressed for several months. Actual work of veneering the unit already built with native stone was to start with Joe Clements, as supervisors, said Rev. M. H. Applewhite when questioned this morning. The Presbyterians have abandoned the WPA project and have substituted their own private plans with church funds to take the place of the government project that was contemplated. Different churches over the district are supplying funds to build their own units for encampment use during the summer months. A. D. Schmid, resident engineer for the highway department and member of the local church, has surveyed the grounds and is preparing a plot showing lots and arrangement for the summer camp units that are to be built now as fast as arrangements can be made. Present plans call for native stone and veneer construction for the various church buildings. Considerable funds have already been appropriated for use in the encampment building and other friends are aiding with supplementary funds. This will augment Cisco's already splendid recreational facilities at the lake and will entice people from all over the Fort Worth district to spend a vacation period in church recreational work at Lake Cisco.

King Leopold Smiles Again

Victim of profound grief ever since the tragic death of beautiful Queen Astrid, his consort, a year and a half ago, King Leopold of the Belgians has seldom appeared in public in happy, relaxed mood. However, there is a twinkle in his eye and a slight smile on his lips as he waits his turn in a golf match at Ascot, England. His partner is Pamela Barton, British women's links queen.

LABOR LEADER WILL WORK TO END STRIKES

A promise by John Grophey, CIO official, to aid in ending sit-down strikes today, high-lighted a general brightness labor picture. Grophey promised to use the CIO's influence to stamp out sit-downs in industries where satisfactory union agreements have been obtained. His statement came while both house of congress were preparing to consider the situation resulting from labor's use of the sit-down technique. Reports from Lansing, Mich., indicated that a statement in negotiations to end the strike 60,000 Chrysler employees might be broken within 36 hours. In Houston, Texas, the CIO prepared to seek collective bargaining agreement with the Humble Oil Company, its first test of strength in its attempt to unionize the oil industry. San Francisco WPA officials ordered work relief projects resumed, despite strikes for a wage increase.

Stepping Up for a Tall Story

When Robert Wadlow, 19, was interviewed in his Omaha hotel room, the girl reporter had to climb a stepladder to get up to his level, for the young Alton, Ill., giant stands 8 feet 7 inches tall—and is still growing. Robert had just signed a contract to appear with a circus, working six weeks in New York, Brooklyn, and Boston only, in a "dignified" act.

About Our Friends

ADD A LITTLE SALT
A man met an acquaintance who returned from a town where he had been a great storm. "You didn't tell anything about the storm," said the acquaintance, "I just whitewashed that." You just double the damage papers reported and you will tell the story about right. The man, stirred up by this information, went home and told his wife about the way the papers had soft-pedaled that damage. She listened unimpressed. "You know that," she said, "you know that you know if you divide everything by three you will get it about right." "Folks will listen to the talk of a fellow whom they know is extremely careless with facts, and if he says a thing appeals to them they will believe him implicitly. They will soak everything he says and go on and tell it as though they had their data from some unimpeachable authority. The biggest liar in the county to a man and retail some of the most colorful yarn about some eminent citizen and that man will work over the report and roll it lusciously off the end of his tongue to somebody else. Individual whose word is as good as his bond, and whose bond worth anything, will tell of the money folks are making in place way off somewhere, and men who ordinarily wouldn't believe him under oath will pick up and start right off for that place. A chap who has never been known to accomplish anything in his life, to telling the truth, will go home for a year or two, and come back and tell his people about the great things he has accomplished or is to do in his new field, and will listen wide-eyed and

Warning Issued on Grain Plowing

Eastland county farmers who intend to plow under small grain as a part of the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program are warned by the county agent that unless they file a statement with the county committee by April 15 the small grain turned under will be classed as soil depleting. Blanks for this purpose can be obtained from any community committeeman or from the county agent's office. Small grain turned under green after making at least a month's growth helps earn a class II or soil building payment but it does not class as soil conserving as it did in the 1936 program.

Methodist Baptismal Service Inspiring

The Baptismal service which was held Sunday morning at the First Methodist church was reported as one of the most inspirational, effective and beautiful services ever conducted. The service included family groups of prayer and there were 16 professions of faith who were taken into the church at this hour. They were accompanied by their parents who took the vows of the ritual along with the children, for continuance in Christian ways as a means of example for their children to follow. Those joining the church were: Charles Yates, Jr., J. C. Paschall, Horace Brown, Walter John Leuch, Jr., Betty Catherine Flaherty, Doris Jean Stirling, A. D. Anderson, Jr., Dick Anderson, Patty Jean Boyd, Dorothy Dale Slaughter, Betty Lou Muller, James Gorman, Jr., John McCanlies, Marcell Harrison, Mildred Louise Jordan and Mayonne Lomax.

LOBOES LAUNCH FOOTBALL WORK FOR NEW TEAM

The inspiration for winning football team for this Fall looked Monday as a momentary melee of football candidates reported to Coach Cooper for Spring practice. About thirty candidates for the team presented themselves. Among the candidates were several big husky boys who gave strong indication that the Cisco Loboes will be hard competition as contenders for District Three title in this Fall's grid schedule. Track Boys Delayed The boys on the track squad have not reported for football yet, but will as soon as the track season is over. A good many boys were not able to get equipment and they will be out as soon as equipment can be found. Some of the outstanding prospects that are now working out for track are Vernon Steyer, M. Harrison, Bob Bacon and Thurman Mesley. Steyer is a smashing and elusive runner of last year's team. Bacon and Harrison are two young men. Bacon has the attitude to snatch passes and should develop into a regular end. Coach Cooper put his charges through a stiff workout for the first day, although the entire session was devoted to running, calisthenics and passing. The shoulder blocking was employed and dummy tackling was taken up. Adopt T. C. U. Tactics The Loboes are to adopt the T. C. U. formation and gain much yardage by powerhousing with its intricate reverses from double wing back. The end and tackles will pull

MISSING PLANE SIGHTED TODAY ON MOUNTAIN

BERQUEQUE, N. M., April 6 (UP)—Major A. D. Smith, Transcontinental and Western Air Division lieutenant, reported by radio his plane that he had sighted the missing Douglas transport on a wooded slope of Mt. McNary, Arizona. Major Smith radioed that the missing since Saturday on a from Burbank, California to New York, apparently had crashed, was circling around the 700 peak trying to get low enough to determine the fate of the eight men aboard the snip. Smith said he landed near the wreckage and notified two officials that he was returning to Winslow, Arizona to pick up Major Victory Benson, who was flying a Douglas transport plane, to aid Smith. They flew back to the scene of the wreck and map a course for a search party. Major Smith said he could determine no signs of life.

COURT RULING RE-VITALIZES MANY LAWS

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 6 (UP)—President Roosevelt advised congress today that the supreme court validation of the Washington State minimum wage law likewise validated a similar District of Columbia law that has been dead 14 years. President Roosevelt sent to congress a ruling of Attorney General Homer S. Cummings's upholding the theory that the supreme court action last week revitalized the old and inoperative laws of New York, Ohio and Illinois and 13 other states to establish minimum wages for women, or minors, or both. Although Texas is the largest producer of cattle, there are only three small commercial tanneries in the state, according to a survey completed by the Texas Planning Board.

Ranger Will Get New Post Office

WASHINGTON, April 6 (UP)—A low bid on $42,439 for construction for a post office at Ranger submitted today by the Bonded Construction Corporation of New York. Next lowest bid was $44,500 offered by James I. Barnes of Springfield, Mo., and third, $44,645 by Quisile & Andrews of Fort Worth. A total of 17 bids was received.

TAX REMISSION VETO OVERRIDDEN

AUSTIN, April 6 (UP)—Governor James V. Allred's veto of the Harris County's tax remission for flood control was overridden by the Texas senate today. Vote was 18 to 7. If the house follows the senate lead and also overrides the veto it will be the first time since 1929 that a Governor's veto has been overruled.

ALLRED VEToes TWO BILLS, ONE IS OVERRIDDEN

AUSTIN, April 6 (UP)—Governor James V. Allred's veto of the Parson and Parole bill passed by the Texas legislature was sustained in the Texas senate today. A motion to override the veto was voted down 19 to 10.

CITY OFFICIALS RE-ELECTED FOR ANOTHER TERM

It is easy to announce at 3 o'clock this afternoon the result of the election Mayor J. T. Berry and Commissioners W. J. Foxworth and H. A. Bible are candidates to succeed themselves without opposition in the city election today, held at the city hall. A large vote showing and support of their former administration would be appreciated by the candidates, but a small vote would not necessarily regulate their administration, because many of their friends who are need of voting since there is no staunch supporters will not feel the opposition and there is no remote possibility of any write-in candidates that would endanger their reelection. The small vote at last Saturday's trustee election, perhaps the smallest in late history of Cisco voting, was uneventful for the same reason—no opposing candidates. Polls will close at 7 o'clock this afternoon. Asa Skiles is judge of the election and he has selected an ample number of assistants.

Eastland Ranchers In Range Program

About 46 Eastland county ranchers have signed a total of 38,432 acres of range land for participation in the 1937 Range Conservation Program to date according to a statement by Elmo V. Cook, county agent. Appraisal of these ranches will be started within a few days by T. E. Castleberry, county range supervisor. Mr. Castleberry was in Denton the first part of the week attending a school for range supervisors at which time latest methods were taught to supervisors from this part of Texas on how to determine carrying capacity of range land. Cook advised all ranchers who intend to participate in the range program to make their application within a few days as a date will be set soon after which time no applications will be accepted.

Explosion Kills Two Lease Workers

Future for Young Men!

Can a young man become a businessman and keep his ideals? Are there places in business for those who are not "hard-boiled"? These are questions which face many a graduate this spring.

Not only is there a place for idealism in business, provided it is of the practical, intelligent type, but also there is not much place for anything else. The hard-boiled rule-of-thumb type is giving way to the engineering type. The demand is for management, and management in its various aspects is about the most idealistic calling I know of. The man who thinks only in terms of profit or salary will make a very poor businessman.

Thirty years ago, the answer probably would have been "No." Business and idealism were kept in separate compartments. The typical businessman drove a sharp bargain. A competitor was an enemy. Customers were victims to be plucked. Men did things in business they would not have thought of doing in private life. There is the story of the old deacon who called down to his clerk: "Sam, have you sanded the sugar?" "Yes, sir." "Have you watered the vinegar?" "Yes, sir." "Have you weeded down the prunes?" "Yes, sir." "Well, then some up to prayers."

But a change has been coming—a change that is well nigh revolutionary. It is not only the rapid advance in technology. Our world has come of age, as Siegfried said. We are no longer living under frontier conditions. The old individualism has given way to organized groups with a sense of common interest.

There have evolved group standards of fair practice, enforced by public opinion. Good ethics is recognized as good business. The underlying philosophy has changed. A satisfied customer is a firm's greatest asset. Instead of its being true that in a business transaction one man gains what the other man loses, no transaction is considered legitimate unless both gain.

Businessmen no longer are ashamed of their vocation. They take a pride in the particular economic service they render society. The weekly service-club meetings reflect the new spirit. They may have produced their Babbitts, but they have also produced men with the courage of their ideals.

What is a Boy?

What is a boy? Apt answer appeared not long ago in a quotation from the bulletin of the Rotary Club of Louisville, Ohio, published in an editorial in the Rotarian Magazine. It is especially appropriate as communities throughout the world prepare to celebrate Boys' and Girls' Week, April 24 to May 1.

"The person who is going to carry on what you have started. He is to sit where you are sitting and attend to things which you think are so important, when you are gone. You may adopt all the policies you please, but how they will be carried out depends upon him. Even if you make leagues and treaties, he will have to manage them. He will take your seat in Congress, assume control of your cities, states, and empires. He is going to move in and take over your churches, schools, universities, corporations, councils, and prisons. All your work is going to be judged and praised and condemned by him. The future and destiny of humanity are in his hands, so it might be well to pay a little attention to him now."

BUSIEST GUIDE AT CORONATION IS SEVEN-AND-HALF LANGUAGE MAN

LONDON, April 6. (AP)—One of the busiest men in London during the Coronation celebrations will be William Cawthera, 48, who speaks "seven and a half" languages. He is an interpreter for the London Transport board whose job will be to translate the babel of foreign visitors. He speaks fluently French, German, Spanish, Italian, Dutch, Danish and Russian. He knows enough Japanese to answer simple questions, that being his "half" language. One of the left sleeves of his official blue coat are sewed tiny silk flags of the nations whose tongues he speaks. Cawthera, an apple-cheeked Yorkshireman, has been greeting and aiding foreigners in London for 14 years. He worked as interpreter and guide to foreign visitors for the London General Omnibus company before assuming his present duties. He has had some novel experiences, and holds some novel news, in connection with his work.

TRAILER ADVENTURE

By Nard Jones

BEGIN HERE TODAY
MARTHA HUFFMAN and BETTY BLANKS began a trip up the west coast to demonstrate the new Airstream trailer. They picked up CHARLIE MALE, handsome young hitch-hiker. Neal tells them he is to meet a friend, JACK SPEDDON, at the Long Beach auto camp. But at Long Beach, Neal disappears from the trailer and Speddon drives away with Betty, falling to return.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XII
MARTHA stared at Neal, the color draining from her lips. "Do you . . . mean that?"
"I do. There's a good possibility that these messages from Betty are perfectly genuine. In them she's given you definite instructions—and the best advice is to follow them." He touched her arm. "Why don't you go to your room and rest up for a few minutes? Then we'll have some lunch."
She shook her head. "I don't feel like eating."
"I'll call you later, then. Meanwhile, try to forget this. There's not a thing to be done right now."
Long after the boy had left her luggage and disappeared into the hallway, Martha stood motionless by the window, staring down at the busy traffic of Market street. Conflicting thoughts cluttered her tired brain, and she felt somehow empty and gone. Yesterday at Del Monte she had managed to forget her troubles a little, and in the gaiety of the Ball room she had convinced herself that everything would turn out right, and that here she would find Betty.

At last, from sheer nervous exhaustion, she dropped onto the bed. The drone of the city lulled her into a fitful sleep—a sleep filled with nameless fears, with dreams in which she saw the face of Speddon and heard Betty's voice crying out to her.

She was awakened by the soft buzz of the room's telephone. She was startled to see that the falling dusk had already darkened the windows. Still trembling from the effect of her nightmare, she took up the receiver.
It was Neal. "How about dinner?" he asked.
Martha hesitated. Why should she go on with this man, not knowing how or why or whether he was misleading her? Yet he claimed to be a friend—and she so needed friendly advice and help. There surged through her, at the thought of dining alone, of staying in this room, a terrible loneliness. "All right . . . I'll be down in a moment."
"There's a nice cocktail lounge on the second floor," Neal said. "It's called the Comstock. See you there in 10 minutes?"
"Yes . . ."
In spite of herself, Martha was grateful for the soft cheery lights of the cocktail lounge, and the bright, deep chairs. She was grateful for the presence of Gerry Neal. He had changed into a comfortable, smart-looking suit of easy tweed. Certainly, Martha told herself, he looked anything but dangerous. One would take him for a young investment banker, perhaps, but never for a man living deviously by his wits and through harm to others.
When the waiter had set the thin-stemmed glasses on the table, she said suddenly, "Why don't you tell me what you know about Betty and Speddon?"
Neal's smile faded. His eyes grew serious as he answered, "I'd like to, Martha. I really mean that. But—well, it just wouldn't be—shall I say, 'good business'?"
"And that business is what?"
"I can't tell you that now, either." He raised his glass. "Let's drink to an early solution of the mess we're in."
BUT Martha refused to accept his evasion. "You do admit that you know more of what's happened than you've told me, then?"
"Well . . ." frowning, he set down his cocktail. "I've told you I'm acquainted with Speddon. I've admitted that you and Betty may be involved in something which can have serious consequences. I've explained my disappearance from the trailer." He smiled disarmingly. "The bitter truth is that I've only one piece of information that you yourself don't know. I wish it were more—much more."
"But that one piece of information might be the key to the whole thing?" Martha pressed.
"It might. Right now I can't say."

Quaint French Town Coppersmith's Home

VILLEDIEU-LES-POELES, Fr.—The art of coppersmithing has been the main industry of their quaint Normandy village for seven centuries now, and throughout this time its secrets have been father to son to the proverbial 21st generation. The village industry began in the 13th century when the Knights of Templar formed a commandery here and instructed the villagers in the ancient science of fashioning copperware. Today 50 families still practice this ancestral art, and the vases, beakers, flacons, jugs, etc., which they make are objects of beauty sought by peasants and tourists alike.
There is no mass production in the village's special industry, and every bit of copperware that comes from Villedieu is distinctive.

Students Design Without Training

School Students Get Youth Aid in Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP)—Since the National Youth Administration program was inaugurated in Hawaii 830 students over 16 have received support enough to remain in school, school officials report.

"The value of this program is widely recognized in this part of America," said Oren E. Long, superintendent of public instruction. "It has helped us solve many difficult problems."

NEWTON, Mass. (AP)—Paul Campbell, 21-year-old University of Maine junior, took time out from his studies to build a home.

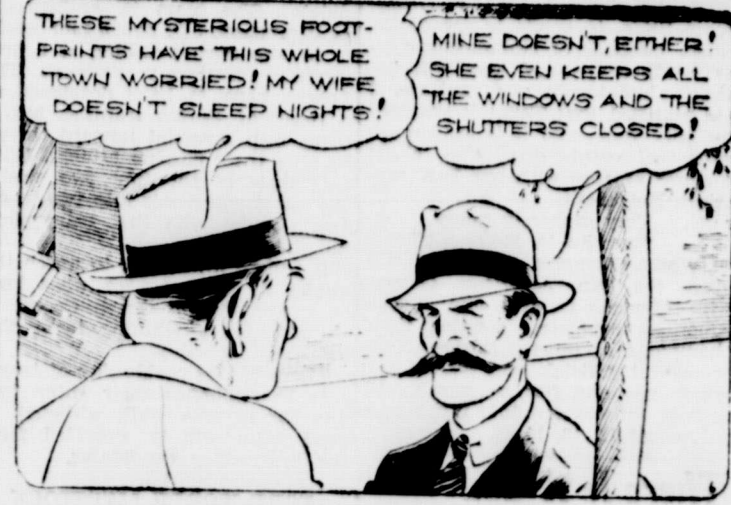

With no architectural training or knowledge of blue-print drawing he planned his house, hired carpenters, contractors and had the foundation and frame built.

Remaining in sole charge he finished the modern air-conditioned home. The house has a chimney outside and a garage.

"You can do things if you make up your mind and stick it through," Campbell said.

WRITES FOR POSTOFFICE CHIEF SUNDAY

LAND, April 6—Services for Van Geem, 87, former Eastland postmaster, who died Saturday of illness brought about by age, were conducted Sunday morning at the First Baptist church with the pastor, Rev. Cartledge officiating. Burial was at Eastland cemetery.

The death of Van Geem, a resident of Eastland since 1875, was the death of one of two charter members of the First Baptist church of Eastland. Now, Mrs. John Cox, mother of Ed T. Cox, of Eastland, is the sole charter member of the organization.

Members of the former postmaster's family, Charles M. Geem and John S. Van Geem, and John S. Van Geem, assistant postmaster at the office.

Geem came to Eastland in 1875 and established a store. Since then he has lived in Eastland until his death.

Geem was born in Buffalo, N. Y., on August 10, 1849. He was educated in the common school system and as a boy showed a faculty for self-reliance, evidenced by his leaving home early in 1870, at the age of seventeen. He traveled through Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Missouri and preached Harrison county in Texas. He lived at Marshall several years and while there he was a mechanical teacher. He then worked as a general mechanic in Eastland several years. Geem became an employe of Eastland postoffice in 1906 and several years was assistant postmaster after the beginning of Wilson's administration in 1913 he was appointed postmaster until April 1, 1922, when he was succeeded by A. H. Johnson.

Leather Tanning for Eastland April 22

A leather tanning school will be held at the Pickering Lumber yard in Eastland on Thursday, April 22, beginning at 9 a. m. according to an announcement by Elmo V. Cook, county agent. The school will be conducted by M. K. Thornton, extension leather specialist.

Everyone interested in home tanning or leather work is invited to attend the school which will continue until about the middle of the afternoon. Cowhides will be shown in all stages from green hides to finished chrome leather. Some useful articles will be made from part of the finished leather, such as lines, back-bands, and halters.

Face leather will be made from an alum tanned calf hide and sheep and goat skins will be tanned for glove and purse leather.

The tanning of leather at home is one of the most profitable activities that can be practiced. It is profitable from three standpoints.

1. It will insure the individual an adequate supply of much needed leather and permit him to maintain his harness and equipment in good shape.

2. It permits the individual to convert hides into a high priced material. This will make available for the home the difference for extra and needed convenience.

3. It will serve to lengthen the number of days of farm labor. The time of farm labor is at present largely used for producing the absolute necessities and requirements for maintenance. If we can add a few days to productive effort the additional days of labor will result in profit.

The cost of chemicals to tan a large cowhide runs from $3 to $4 and the finished leather will weigh from 25 to 40 pounds.

Ann Sothern says: "I like Luckies—they're smooth on my throat"

"I like Luckies because . . . well, just because I like them, that's all! They're an old standby of mine. They taste grand and they're as smooth as can be on my throat. I suppose Luckies get along so well with my throat because they're what you call a light smoke. I like them—and I'm glad to put it in black and white."

CO-STARRING WITH GENE RAYMOND IN FORTHCOMING RKO RADIO PICTURES "THERE GOES MY GIRL"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Miss Sothern verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.

1936 FARM CHECKS EXPECTED DAILY; 1937 FARM SIGN-UP IS ACTIVE

Agricultural Conservation payments of $42,000 due 500 Eastland county farmers for 1936 are expected to arrive any day now, according to information received from C. E. Bowles, district agent of the Extension Service by Elmo V. Cook, county agent.

While waiting for their 1936 checks, 230 Eastland county farmers have signed work sheets making them eligible to participate in the 1937 Agricultural Conservation program.

During the next two weeks any farm in Eastland county which has not already been covered by a 1937 work sheet may be eligible for earning a 1937 payment by the owner or tenant, either one of whom may sign a work sheet. Work sheets will be available in the county agent's office, Eastland every day and at Ranger, Cisco, Rising Star, Carbon, and Gorman on certain days each week until the sign-up closes. Special sign-up days for each of these places for the next two weeks, April 12 to 23 are as follows:

Each Monday at Rising Star, Higginbotham's.

Each Tuesday at Cisco, chamber of commerce.

Each Wednesday at Carbon, Carbon Trading company.

Each Thursday at Gorman, Higginbotham's.

Each Friday at Ranger, chamber of commerce.

Each day at the county agent's office, Eastland.

The county agent has advised that if any group of 10 or more farmers wishing to sign work sheets are unable to appear at one of the six places indicated above, a clerk with work sheet blanks will be sent to the community for half a day upon request of the farmers.

Every one of the 2450 farms in Eastland county is eligible to earn a 1937 payment if a work sheet is signed before the final date set. However, the work sheet is not a contract nor an agreement and those who sign are not bound nor obligated in any way. A work sheet MUST be signed before a farm can earn a payment.

Many Eastland county farmers have erroneously thought that farms which have been abandoned or not worked for a year or more cannot take part in the 1937 program. This is not true as ALL FARMS are eligible to earn a payment regardless of whether they were in the 1936 program.

If all Eastland county farmers should take part in the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program they would earn a total of approximately $200,000 to $250,000 according to an estimate by Cook. These totals do not include payments that may be earned by ranchers for cooperating in the range program, which is also a part of the Agricultural Conservation Program.

The grouse is sometimes called the fool-hen because of the absurd confidence it sometimes displays; but the grouse hasn't anything on some folks; the average man will believe the greatest liar, if the liar tells him something he wants to believe.

As a man progresses and becomes more and more familiar with human nature he learns to carry a little salt shaker with him all the time, and he adds a medium of sodium chloride to everything he hears.

ODOR TO WARN MINERS

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Some day skunks may be extinct, but not their odor. Scientists at the Eastman Kodak Company have manufactured a chemical called "butyl mercaptan" which has the same odor. Organic it is to be used in mine shafts to warn of fire.
