Malady Turning Man to Stone

Holding up hands and arms which have gradually hardened and grown almost useless in the last two years, Luther Barrett, 42. Chattanooga "stone man," is pictured above. A rare disease, scleroderma, attacked him in 1935. First his hands began turning hard, then his arms and now his shoulders, right side and legs. Fatal when it reaches vital organs, the disease is incurable, doctors told Barrett.

The Golfer Plays The Game

Is golf going to take the place of baseball as our foremost national sport? You may scoff at the suggestion. But sporting goods manufacturers estimate that at least 2,000,000 Americans are golfers. And that is only the beginning. Anyone with his eyes open realizes that a golf craze is sweeping the country like a prairie fire. In popularity, golf is growing far faster than baseball grew in its early days. For everyone that plays golf, there are five who would play if they could. In the main, golf still is a rich man's game. The price of getting into a good golf club is prohibitive for the average man-and usually intentionally golf courses for the person of moderate means drives home coffee in a year if you buy Admiration in Cellophane bags at a price of about 4c per pound less than other methods of packing? It's an actual fact! That is, if your consumption of coffee is the small-family one of a pound a week. Of course, the more you use. Such a saving is real economy, because the Admiration you buy in moisture-proof Cellophane bags is the same as that put up in cans and jars-just as fresh, just as fragrant and just as delicious. Triplesealed bags, plus the fastest coffee delivery service in America, guarantee its freshness at all times.

Buy it in the bag and save the difference.
