England's Prime Minister Resigned Today

MANY CABINET CHANGES ARE TAKING PLACE

LONDON, May 28 (UP)—Stanley Baldwin resigned as Prime Minister today. Neville Chamberlain succeeded him and the British cabinet underwent an extensive reorganization. Baldwin, the country squire who has guided the country through a critical period, retired to the House of Lords as an Earl and also was created a Knight of the Garter. His wife was made a Dame Grand Cross of the British Empire. Ramsey McDonald, veteran laborite who retired as Lord President of the Council, refused an Earldom. Premier Chamberlain presented his new cabinet to the king this afternoon. Viscount Halifax, who was Lord Privy Seal, succeeded MacDonald as Lord President of the Council. Captain Anthony Eden was re-appointed foreign minister. Sir Samuel Hoare moved from first Lord of the Admiralty to Home Secretary. Sir John Simon, war secretary, became First Lord of the Admiralty. Leslie Hore-Belisha, who was minister of transport, became war secretary.

New Prime Minister Of England

Neville Chamberlain immediately organized his new cabinet and presented it to the king, after his appointment today as Prime Minister to succeed Stanley Baldwin resigned.

C. I. O. UNION WINS SUPPORT FOR STRIKERS

CLEVELAND, May 28 (UP)—The CIO steel union won additional support today in its strike for a signed contract with three big independent steel companies. Joining the 60,000 to 70,000 already idle in a three-day strike, 900 employees of two Republic subsidiaries walked out in Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania, and Cumberland, Maryland. Union pickets were unable, however, to force the closing of four of Republic's big producing units which remained in operation at Warren and Canton, Ohio, Chicago and Buffalo, New York. The company said 23 of its 60 furnaces were producing. The tie-up of the other two companies involved in the strike Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company and Inland Steel Corporation was virtually complete.

MAN WOUNDED IN PICKET LINE

WARREN, Ohio, May 28 (UP)—One man was wounded by pistol fire in the picket line at Republic Steel Corporation plant here. Police said a WPA worker was shot by a man who was not a Republic employee.

LONGSHOREMEN CALL WALKOUT PROTEST

SAN PEDRA, Cal., May 28 (UP)—Work halted at Los Angeles harbor today as union longshoremen called a four-hour walkout to protest the killing of William Gregg, 38, longshoreman by a policeman during a waterfront brawl. The block where Gregg fell from bullets from the gun of Patrolman William Redding was rubbed off. A wreath lay on the spot where he died. A guard stood at attention with an American flag. Union leaders said they hoped to have Redding indicted for murder.

Wife-Murderer is Electrocuted Today

HUNTSVILLE, May 28 (UP)—Lonnie Joiner, 38-year-old wife murderer, was electrocuted in state prison today after confessing the crime to Warden W. W. Waid. "I want to thank you and the other people for all your kindness to me," Joiner said, "and I want to say I'm guilty." Joiner, father of three children, pleaded guilty at his trial to shooting his wife with a shotgun during a drunken spree on January 27. He said he had been drunk for three days.

Water Collections To Be Enforced

The city commission is publishing some rules regarding water payments, which it says, are necessary in order to maintain the purity and healthfulness of the city water standard, and to maintain the distribution of same. During the past year the city has been rather lenient in water collections but finds itself compelled to be more rigid in enforcement of water regulations beginning June 1, it was stated. The new water treating plant is now in operation and Cisco can continue to boast of her almost 100 per cent purity of water supply.

Pueblo, Col., on Rim Deep Snow Country

PUEBLO, Col. (UP)—Apparently the deep snow country is in Pueblo's own back yard. According to a report received by F. J. Pech, supervisor of the San Isabel National forest from Val Staley, superintendent of the St. Charles dam project near San Isabel City, there was a fall of his own back yard.

"WE ARE THREE YEARS OLD TODAY"

FARM CLASSES VERY BUSY ALL SCHOOL YEAR

T. G. Caudie and his farm boys classes have been quite busy during the past few days rounding up their years work and budding pecans in and around Cisco. Trees on the Shepard lot across from the post office were budded this week. Other pecan trees and orchards have been treated recently. No class in the history of this work in Cisco has worked more faithfully and conscientiously than these agricultural and stock judging teams. Three things have stood out in their program as follows: 1. Restoring and maintaining soil fertility. 2. Improving plants. 3. Improving livestock and poultry. Boys in these classes are: Bernie Allen, Gayle Bailey, Benjie Black, Jesse Cleveland, Walter Dolgener, Almus Fannin, Carl Graves, J. M. Hazelwood, Junior Hedrick, Weldon Isenhower, Howard Johnson, Glenn Jones, Howard Mayhew, Charley Bob McPadden, Thurman Mosley, P. M. Munn, Elvis Nelms, Wayne Sparks, Durwood Thomas, Edward Wende, Joe Whitehead, Claxton Wilson, Bob Hill.

Viking Assisted by Coastguard Cutter

HONOLULU, May 28 (UP)—A U. S. coast guard cutter reached the yacht Viking 500 miles west of here in the Pacific today with medical assistance for George Baker, chairman of the board of the First National City Bank of New York, who was stricken with peritonitis while on a vacation cruise. Dr. F. J. Zaugg, of the U. S. coast guard service was transferred immediately to the yacht. Laughing and gay on the eve of their third birthday, the Dionne quintuplets show you how to approach your fourth year as the most famous children in the world. These close-ups show the bright eagerness with which they approached the gala birthday celebration and another summer of happy outdoor play; five happy, healthy, normal little girls.

SCRANTON WINS LEAGUE GAME FROM JAYCEES

Scranton team replacing Nick Miller's team, resigned from the league, defeated the Jaycees last night at the soft ball field by a score of 10 to 8 in a game exciting and full of interest from the start. The grandstand was filled and the crowd was larger than usual. Sawyers of Scranton got a home run and a single out of four times up; Bailey got a homer and a triple; W. Bailey hit a homer to lead the hitting attack for the night. Boyett of the Jaycees, Belov of Scranton, Blackburn and Stamey of the Jaycees, all turned in out.

U. S. CONSUL'S APARTMENT IS IN AIR RAID

VALENCIA, Spain, May 28 (UP)—The apartment of Milton Wells United States consul, was damaged today during a terrific air raid on the temporary loyalist capital. An unofficial check showed 42 persons killed, 67 gravely wounded, 45 others less seriously injured, and at least 30 buildings wrecked. Among those who emerged into the streets in their night clothes was Norman Thomas, American socialist leader, who is visiting in Spain.

TEN TOWNS IN CONTEST FOR NEW HOSPITAL

AUSTIN, May 28 (UP)—Lively competition for the new West Texas hospital for the insane is expected. The State Board of Control already has notice that Lubbock, Sweetwater, Big Spring, El Paso, Laredo, Amarillo, Abilene, Ralls, Colorado and Lamesa will offer sites. Inquiries have been made also by Tahoka, Snyder and Post.

FISH HATCHERY MAY BEGIN WHEN WPA LABOR IS READY

D. C. Harper, manager of the Cisco fish hatchery, said he did not know just when the $25,000 improvement at the hatchery would begin but thought that they would be guided somewhat by the release of labor now being used on the football stadium. However, since this county has been placed in a new WPA district with Fort Worth as the headquarters this may change the status and labor may be brought from some other section in the district without being compelled to await the re-

'SEVENTH WAS OUTSTANDING,' TEACHERS SAY

Ruby Kent and Fern Hart will have the honor students number on the Grammar school graduation program tonight at the high school auditorium 8-15 when Principal C. C. Duff will present the class to Superintendent R. N. Cluck who will deliver the certificates of promotion to the high school to the largest group to be graduated to the high school at any one time since 1932. The 82 members of the high seventh grade class who are to receive their graduation certificates tonight at the high school auditorium compose what Principal Duff and his teachers call "an outstanding class." Last year the Grammar school graduates were so distinctively different and individualistic in all their commencement exercises that they were dubbed the "distinctive" class and were so designated all through their freshman year during this term now closing at the high school. But the class this year is outstanding in many respects, Mr. Duff says. In the first place their work has been of a high quality. Rare talent has been displayed by many students; there are a number of exceptionally good pianists in the group; a number play the violin unusually well; the essay winner came from this group, as did the county winners in declamation and arithmetic. There are girls in class that have shown wonderful promise in sketching, which would develop into commercial art in a big way should those talents develop and native ability train. And it is unofficially stated that this is the largest class to graduate at one time since the class of '32. For both terms there were more graduates from Grammar school in '36 than this year but the number at the close

Senate and House Agree on CCC Bill

WASHINGTON, May 28 (UP)—Senate and house conferees today agreed on a compromise bill to extend the life of Civilian Conservation Corps three years.

QUINTUPLETS CELEBRATE 3rd BIRTHDAY

CALLANDER, Ont., May 28 (UP)—The Dionne Quintuplets celebrated their third birthday today under the watchful eyes of nurses who said "no" whenever they reached for a piece of cake. Tonight Marie, Emilie, Cecile, Annette and Yvonne may say "Hello" to the world in a nursery broadcast from 4:30 to 5:00 p. m. Central Standard Time over a National Broadcasting company network but they may revolt and say nothing. Dr. Allen Roy DeFoe, the country physician who arrived at the home of Olivia Dionne on May 28th, 1934, to take part in a medical miracle, issued the "no sweets" order. As a special treat the quints were permitted to indulge in their love for fancy bows and laces, bright socks and new shoes. Their dolls also were dressed up. Five birthday cakes were on the nursery table, and Marie and her sisters were permitted to get close enough to poke fingers at the icings but they couldn't taste it.

ALLRED'S DEMAND FOR RACE REPEAL GETS FIRST SETBACK

AUSTIN, May 28 (UP)—A setback was given Gov. Allred's demands for immediate repeal of the state primaral betting law today when the senate refused to take a repeal bill from its committee on criminal jurisprudence and consider it as a committee of the whole. Vote on the proposal of Senator G. H. Nelson of Lubbock, author of the repeal bill, to hasten action by omitting the usual committee, was 13 to 13 with one pair, a majority was required. Both houses adjourned until Monday morning. Nelson offered the only repeal bill in the senate. Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth, who presented a senate vote on repeal at the regular session, immediately opened this session's opposition. The house temporarily left six bills with its State Affairs Committee scheduled to meet this afternoon. Speaker Robert Calvert of Hillsboro, ruled Thursday that bills for county local options on race track betting and repeal bills to take effect at distant dates came within Gov. Allred's call.

'Share Pusher'

The United States is not the only nation that has trouble with the unscrupulous stock promoter. England is now suffering from a wave of "share pushing"—high pressure methods of selling worthless securities. And, as in this country, the "share pusher" takes heaviest toll from those least able to lose.

The "share pusher" has grown so bold in Britain that the Board of Trade recently printed several million leaflets warning the public against him and urging that investors protect themselves by consulting reliable bankers and reputable brokers.

England's present experience should be heeded seriously in this country. Those having funds to invest should resist mere rosy sounding propositions and only purchase well investigated securities, through orthodox channels. As the British Board of Trade pointed out, this may be done by consulting reliable bankers and reputable brokers. Also, in this country, if one buys securities listed on the boards of the large stock exchanges he may be sure that they represent legitimate industries enterprises that will not "evaporate" overnight. The large exchanges impose very strict regulations for the protection of the investor. Corporations listing their securities must provide complete public records of assets, liabilities, and other pertinent information relating to their financial condition. Officials of the stock exchanges are alive to changing conditions and are constantly tightening any loopholes that may appear in already stringent regulations. A high standard of business ethics is maintained at all times.

Under modern conditions the American "share pusher" should find extremely lean pickings. There is little excuse for even the most innocent of investors being victimized by his persuasive methods.

Fighting Flower Enemies

To check plant lice or aphids on roses or other plants spray with nicotine sulphate. Use a level tablespoonful to a gallon of water and enough soap to make suds.

A tablespoonful of carbon disulphide in an ant hole will destroy ants. Make a hole in the nest with a sharp stick, pour in the disulphide, and stop up with wet clay. To combat eating or chewing insects apply stomach poisons such as Dutox, derris, rotenone, or arsenate of lead. Put on as a dust or liquid of lead, according to directions on package.

If hollyhock leaves show rusty spots on under side dust with finely powdered sulphur. By keeping climbing and other roses and hardy philodendrons well dusted with fine sulphur mildew can be largely prevented. The hard gray bags on arbutus vines and other shrubbery are where the bag-worms were last season. They are gone now but small ones, about a quarter of an inch long, are liable to appear at any time. They are fresh and green and contain worms. Clip these as soon as they appear and burn them. Then spray or dust the shrubs with arsenate of lead to prevent further damage.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—One of the most interesting developments in the Supreme Court battle may be a surprise administration move to throw the issue into the House.

Whether this strategy will be employed depends largely on whether Roosevelt decides to keep on fighting with no material compromise and whether he can get what he wants from the Senate.

If Supreme Court members of the Social Security Act, the administration in the Senate, you may expect a shift of battle-ground.

Presumably it would be necessary to launch an administration drive for 218 signatures necessary to get the President's bill out of the House Judiciary committee and onto the floor. The bill was promoted in the Senate instead of the House because Chairman Hamilton Summers of the House Judiciary committee refused to cooperate with the White House.

Majority Leader Sam Rayburn privately boasts that he can deliver a majority of a hundred votes for the President's plan. All members of the House were elected in November's Roosevelt landslide, and all will be up again for reelection next year—a fact which tends to strengthen the administration's hand there.

The idea of administration leaders is that they could jam the full original plan through the House, get the best possible bill in the Senate by whatever compromise might be necessary, and finally fight out the issue in conference committee. That, at least, would be a logical sequence of events if Roosevelt decided to bull the issue through but found his position weak in the Senate.

At recent nose counts, sub-

CAST OF CHARACTERS PATRICIA WARREN, heroine, secretary to Don Monteray, actor-playwright. TRISSY WARREN, Pat's cousin and roommate in New York. DON MONTERAY, Patricia's script-composer. ROSAMOND AKERS, Patricia's rival.

Yesterday, Pat, adopting a stage makeup, decides to substitute for her cousin as secretary to the actor, Don Monteray. Her cousin leaves to wed in Minneapolis.

CHAPTER II

PATS took Trissy to the depot on Monday morning. It had been a week-end of hilarity, sudden tears, gay conversation and long doubtful silences. When the train finally thundered out of the sheds and Pats was left standing alone, she felt her first dreadful moment of panic. Gone was the necessity of convincing Trissy that her plan was perfectly feasible, gone too was any confidence she might have felt in the wild scheme. The imminent prospect of facing Don Monteray caused little shudders to run the length of her spine and now the whole affair seemed preposterous, fantastic.

Pats was dressed for the part. The sun glasses had been replaced by horn-rimmed spectacles which, decidedly tinted, gave her eyes a reddish owl-like appearance. All the way down Park avenue she practiced the prim pursing of her lips, forcing herself to play the part of the competent, self-effacing secretary she was to be. Determinedly, she submerged her own sparkling personality. The thing to do, she kept telling herself, was to pretend that Don Monteray's suite was merely a stage set, that the curtain was about to rise. Thinking that made it easier.

Reaching the Avalon she walked briskly through the lobby, conscious that Trissy's jacket hung absurdly from her straight shoulders, that her skirt was much too wide and sagged a little, that her dark blouse, without a touch of relieving white, accentuated the grayish yellow of her skin, that her cotton gloves were dispiritingly ugly. At Don Monteray's door she hesitated. The sound of voices came from within, one shrilly feminine and insistent, the other distracted, pleading. "But I tell you Mr. Monteray is in his bath," came the distracted voice. "He hasn't had his breakfast. He's engaged for the morning." The voice had a nasal quality, a decidedly British accent. The valet without a doubt, Pats knocked timidly, then again more firmly. Ignored, she opened the door and walked in.

BEYOND the foyer, in the center of a beautifully furnished living room, stood two persons, the valet, slightly stooped with deferential servitude, and a woman with a florid, aggressive face. "I intend to see Mr. Monteray," she repeated for the third time in Pats' hearing. "I insist upon a personal interview with him." Placing her hat and coat on a chair, Pats stepped calmly into the room. With a pleasant nod to the surprised valet she addressed the woman.

"If you'll sign these, please," she said primly. "I opened a personal letter by mistake."

Pats looked about her. The foyer was literally filled with unopened mail, fan letters, she correctly surmised. As she frowningly surveyed them the valet appeared again.

"Has she gone?" he hissed. "Yes." Then "I am Miss Warren, the new secretary."

He bowed formally. "I am Sims, Mr. Monteray's man."

Pats nodded gravely although a laugh ached in her throat. The curtain had indeed gone up. The preliminary business was well underway. She asked a few questions and Sims answered them. It seemed the previous secretaries had occupied a desk in the living room. A very bad arrangement, very bad according to Sims. Very annoying to Mr. Monteray. With his help Pats moved the desk to the foyer and found that the living room door could be locked. As they rearranged the new office Sims talked.

"It's the girls and women, Miss Warren. They won't let Mr. Monteray have any peace. He's trying to write a play for himself and he can't make any headway. His nerves are very jittery if I might say so, miss." Worriedly he repeated, "It's the girls and women."

"I'll attend to them," Pats promised with more assurance than she felt. "He doesn't want to see anyone nor talk to anyone. These are his orders." Sims spoke emphatically and she nodded agreement.

SHE decided to tackle the mail and he showed her desk drawers filled with stationery, stamps and photographs of Don Monteray. It seemed his feminine public demanded photographs and Everyone will have the blues this summer, since this all-time favorite is the one color which can be won with equal success by any type of person. Blondes, brunettes and red-heads at Texas State College for Women are choosing their favorite shades.

Although blondes have known for centuries the effect they can achieve in blue and titan-haired ladies have not been insensible to the charms it bestows, the surprise of the season comes in the new blues for brunettes.

Coronation blue is probably the most becoming with dark eyes and hair. Its warmth, a quality lacking in most shades of the color, gives life and richness to brunette complexions. Even a lighter shade than Coronation is good with some dark hair, but hair, but experimentation is the only sure way to test whether or not it will "click."

Red-heads still cheer for green, but a cold, rather unusual greenish blue will perform the same wonders for them. They can get by with others—powder, ice, cornflower and medium blues—but Miss Auburn should not waste time with those when the greener tints are made so specially for her.

Golden hair and blue eyes are linked all too often with powder or "baby" blue. Many blondes are missing the opportunity of wearing a darker hue which would emphasize their hair and skin and still bring out the color of their eyes.

DIAMOND STUDDED KEYS SENT; OPEN $75,000 JEWELLED LOCK

DALLAS, May 28 — Twenty-one diamond studded keys, which fit a $75,000 jeweled lock to open the Pan American Exposition on June 12, are being sent as gifts to the presidents of the 21 republics of the western hemisphere.

The first of the keys was sent by armored truck to the airport bound for Washington Saturday night for presentation to President Franklin D. Roosevelt. The key was to be received in Washington by Texas senators Tom Connally and Morris Sheppard, who will present it to the President.

Dr. Francisco Castillo Najera Mexican Ambassador to the United States, in Dallas during the weekend, received the key for President Lazaro Cardenas of Mexico from director-general Frank L. McNeny. Present at the ceremony in the director-general's office at the Exposition were Josephus Daniels, United States Ambassador to Mexico and Adolfo Dominguez, Mexican consul. By today Ambassador Najera will be in Mexico City, and will make the presentation of the invitational key to President Cardenas.

The presidents of the two Americas have been invited to attend or send their personal representatives and fit the original keys into the jeweled lock, which must be turned 21 times before it unfastens. Duplicates of the invitational keys will hang on strands of pearls from the lock at Pan America, to be used by specially appointed delegates if original keys are absent.

Temperature of Top Soil Reaches 175

MINNEAPOLIS (UP)—Think of the poor, lowly earthworm when it becomes hot this summer. Temperatures reach 175 degrees a few inches beneath the earth's surface, it was revealed in the annual report of Dr. Raphael Zou, director of the Lakes states forest experiment station at University of Minnesota farm.

The information was obtained from thermometers buried in the surface soil last summer. The difference between the above-and-below temperatures was due to the earth's capacity for storing heat, Dr. Zou explained.

"Many plants do not die from lack of moisture during a drought as is generally believed," he said. "They are simply cooked to death."

Nuisance Noises are Listed by Attorney

FORT WORTH, May 27 (U.P.)—City Attorney R. E. Rouer was at least what noises to exclude as "nuisances" when drafting an ordinance to make Fort Worth a quieter city.
"Of course, there is no end to noise that might be included," said Rouer. "There is no halfway ground for such an ordinance. You have to stop all the noises or none at all."
Then he recited the following noises that were "nuisances" against the public welfare:
1. Playing radios, phonographs, or musical instruments with such volume to annoy persons, particularly between 10 p. m. and 7 a. m.
2. Operation of loudspeakers and amplifiers.
3. Keeping an animal or bird causing frequent or long continued noise.
4. Sounding of a horn or signal on an automobile, motorcycle, street car or other except as a warning.
5. Operating vehicles so out of repair or lead-d in such a manner as to create unnecessary grating grinding, jarring or rattling.
6. Sounding steam whistles except as a signal to begin or end work or as a warning.
7. Using exhausts without mufflers.
8. Construction of buildings, repair work or demolition at any time except between the hours of 7 a. m. and 6 p. m. on week-days or in cases of emergency on special permit by the city council.
9. Operating compressed air devices under the same conditions.
10. Excessive street noises near schools and hospitals.
11. Shouting by peddlers, hawkers or vendors.
12. Use of sound devices to attract attention.
If the 12 listed group of noises were not inclusive enough, Rouer's ordinance would outlaw "any unreasonably loud, disturbing, unnecessary noise which causes material distress, discomfort or injury to persons of ordinary susceptibilities."
Penalty for violating the ordinance is a fine of $200, with each day considered a separate offense.
The city council adopted the plans verbatim.

Chemical Test is Introduced at Trial

FORT WORTH, May 27 (U.P.)—A chemical test to determine whether automobile drivers have enough alcohol in their systems to be classed as "intoxicated" was introduced at a recent trial by Dr. Preston M. Nesbit of Arlington.
The defendant, a 31-year-old man from Grand Prairie, Texas, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated and was sentenced to five days in jail and fined $50.
Dr. Nesbit said he tested the defendant's breath March 31 immediately after his arrest by highway patrolmen. The driver was ordered to blow up a toy balloon. The breath thus imprisoned was passed through an acid solution of potassium permanganate, Dr. Nesbit testified.
The physician said that prior tests proved that the subject had consumed enough alcohol to become "drunk" if the solution was discolored by less than 300 cubic centimeters of air from his lungs. In this case the solution became discolored when 225 cubic centimeters of the man's breath had been passed into it.
Dr. Nesbit said that the lower part of a human's lungs collect alcohol in a relative proportion to the amount in the blood.
The chemistry test for intoxication was originated by Dr. Rolla H. Harper of the University of Indiana School of Medicine, Dr. Nesbit said.

Popeye Toys Given Cisco Youngsters

There's a new toy in store for Cisco youngsters and it is easy to obtain—all that is necessary is to mail to Crystal White Kansas City, Kan., five wrappers from Crystal White soap and they in turn will send you a "Popeye" bibat. There is real fun for every boy and girl who gets one of these bibats. It is a sturdy wooden paddle with "Popeye's" face on it and a lively rubber ball attached by a piece of "extra-stretchy" elastic rubber. Every time the ball is batted with the paddle it comes right back again.

There is no limit on the number of Popeye bibats sent to a family. The only requirement is to send five Crystal White soap wrappers for each bibat desired.

Crystal White is the creamy white family bar soap that gives rich, thick, long-lasting suds, even in hard water. It has been used in homes throughout the nation for many years.

TO WOMEN:

If you suffer every month you owe it to yourself to take some of Cardol and find out whether it will benefit you.

Functional pains of menstruation have in many, many cases, been eased by Cardol. And where malnutrition (poor nourishment) had taken away woman's strength, Cardol has been found to increase the appetite, improve digestion and in that way help to build up a natural resistance to certain ailments suffering. Where Cardol fails to benefit, consult a physician.

Ask your druggist for Cardol—pronounced "Card-ol".
