Ella Boole Lauds Hitler as Dry

Dropping her gavel with a bang, Dr. Ella A. Boole, world president, is pictured here as she opened the international convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Boole mentioned in her opening speech that Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany, never uses alcoholic liquors in any form.

DRAFT LAWS AGAINST DOG RACE FUTURES

AUSTIN, June 9. (AP)—Theatre "Bank Night" as usually operated today was declared a lottery by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, highest state tribunal in criminal cases.

The decision written by Associate Justice O. S. Lattimore affirmed a conviction and a $100 fine against H. S. Cole, picture show operator at Bonham.

Judge Lattimore noted that the State Court of last report in both civil and criminal cases are in accord, citing the decision of the State Supreme Court in litigation between the City of Wink and Griffith Amusement company as a proof that bank nights are a lottery.

The case was one of typical bank night operation. It was based on a charge that Miss Elizabeth Johnson received a $25 prize at a picture show when her name placed on a register was called at a Tuesday night performance which she attended.

"The reports of the court," Judge Lattimore said, "are replete with the sad story of the efforts of man to invent schemes to circumvent the lottery laws, but none seems to this writer more potently characterized than the one now under consideration.

"The fertile brain of him who devised this scheme seems to have been able only to offer as a defense the proposition concerning the book called a 'register.' We are not concerned with the name, but the game."

Judge Lattimore did not think it would remove the plan from lottery even if shown that someone outside the theatre heard his name called, entered and received the prize. In the case he decided, Judge Lattimore said: "The appellant charged the patron 25 cents for seeing the show, and for getting her chance at the prize. He determined the ownership of the prize by chance and he awarded the money to the winner."

House and senate committees drafted laws against dog racing and futures contract. Governor Alfred notified supporters in his fight for repeal of the parimutuel racing law to witness the signing of the bill that will outlaw race bets.

RED FRONT TO BATTLE NANCE HERE TONIGHT

Nance and Red Front play in the city league tonight at the soft ball field and since both teams have new suits, much enthusiasm should accompany the games. Play will be called at 8:25.

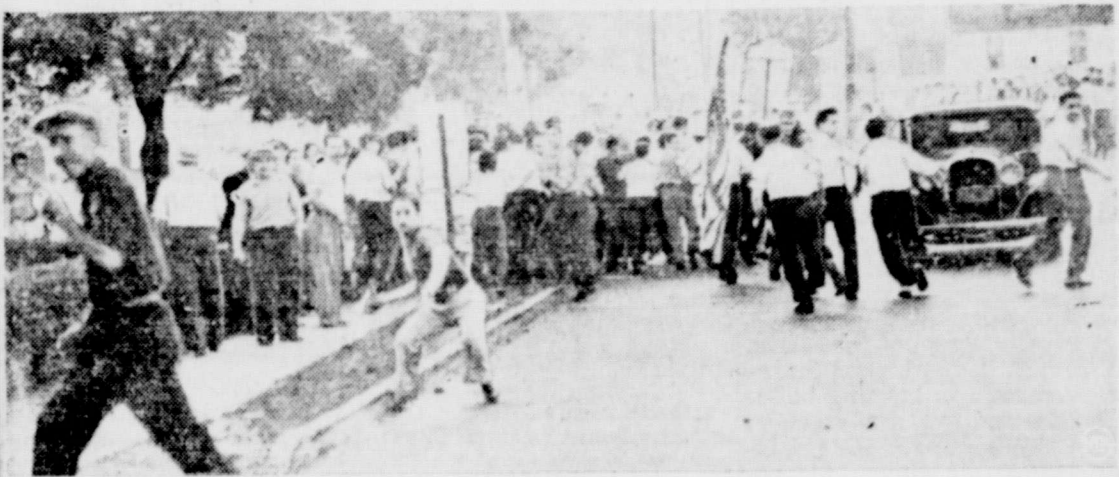

Red Front stands at the head of the scoring to date with a 667 while Nance has a 333. Both will fight doggedly for an upper place in tonight's tiff.

Some have misunderstood concerning charges of 25 cents for cars. Any number of persons coming in the same car may see the game for that amount. A charge of 10 cents only applies where one or two persons come by themselves, it was stated.

Grandstands Going Up on New Stadium

W. F. Wilson, contractor for the new stadium here, reports that work will be resumed on the stadium Wednesday, Thursday the steel on the south side will start going up. Also on the same day the wood-work on the press boxes will start being put in place. Eight trucks will begin Thursday to haul soil to be placed on the field.

30 Hurt When Police "Iron Out" Laundry Strike Riot

His companions reluctantly flee from the gas bomb attack of sheriff's deputies and 100 state police, but the crouching man in the center foreground above refuses to retreat. He has picked up an unexploded gas bomb, to hurl it back at the officers. The battle started when 500 striking laundry workers resisted efforts of 700 employees of a Little Falls, N. J., laundry to pass through picket lines. Pictured below at the entrance to plant is the struggle that precluded the riot in which more than 30 were injured.

Methodist Committee Meeting Quotas

The committee on missionary activities for the First Methodist church, of which W. B. Statham is chairman, met Tuesday night to lay plans for the second lap of the drive to procure $10,235 as their quota for benevolence set them for the year.

As the first half of the year ends, $567 have been collected, it was announced, and they propose to have the remainder by October 1, it was stated by Rev. Joe Patterson, pastor of the church.

Other members of the committee are: Mrs. J. E. Crawford, secretary; Mrs. John Shertzler, treasurer; O. L. Stamey, Mrs. Brown, Garland Nance, R. W. Merket, Wyatt Jacobs and C. E. Hickman.

Breck Wins First Of Oil Belt Games

The Breckenridge Hanlon Oilers won over the Cisco Gas Corporation all-stars last night by a score of 6 to 3.

Cisco all-stars, representing the Cisco Gas Corporation, threw a mighty scare into the Hanlon Oilers from Breckenridge here last night. Old lady luck was certainly frowning on the fighting bunch of Cisco Gassers or the score would have been reversed.

Starting off with a bang by getting the first three Hanlon men out, Cisco opened up her half of the first inning by launching several hits and scoring two runs. As the game was almost half over and the hard-hitting Oilers had been held scoreless this two-run margin was looking mighty good. The fifth inning came around and Hanlon got a man on by an error, and Hart came up with a double to center field, McKinnon, Oilers right fielder.

SLIGHT SHOW OF DEAD OIL BUT NO GAS

Touching the Ranger lime at about 3,745 to 3,754, the Bearman test in south Cisco showed a slight presence of dead oil today. Drilling is continuing with the hope of uncovering a gas pressure and oil flow equal to the expectation and wish of those who have been watching the test with intensive eyes for the past few days.

The Eastland lake sand brought disappointment with water instead of the oil expected from what was known of the Luce well a few hundred yards to the southeast. Setting of casing and further drilling uncovered a dry Marble Falls lime followed by lime shale which edged into the Ranger sand this morning.

A slight showing of oil whetted the hopes of Cisconians today that drilling may burst into a gas pressure and strong oil flow before the evening is far advanced.

This small showing is about the depth that the Hickok Airport found its first strong gas pressure and oil showing which later was either drowned or else was a small pocket from a greater hidden pool not yet uncovered.

Drilling will continue to 3,900 feet unless pay is found sooner, it is stated.

DANCE WILL BE BIG FEATURE IN GOLF TOURNEY

Invitations for the Cisco country club's sixth annual invitation tournament dance are being mailed out today, said Rex Carrothers, chairman of the entertainment, who with his committee members are planning to make the event commensurate for guests who will be here at that time to take part in the annual golf tourney held in Cisco June 18 to 20.

Jack Amling and his Crazy hotel orchestra will make music and a committee is already planning the decorations which are to add an air of enchanted loveliness to the dance room.

The grass greens are being well kept and the golfers say no better course is to be found anywhere in this section than will be offered for guests at the sixth annual event to be staged here at that time. Committees have plans for the event well in hand and nothing will be lacking to make it an outstanding event for the year.

Committee handling plans for the entertainment features which include the dance to begin at 8 o'clock Saturday night, is composed of the following: Rex Carrothers, Mrs. J. C. Hanrahan, Nick Miller, Charles Sandler, W. W. Wallace, and Earl Conner, Jr.

Some Fish Stories That Sound Large

Some big fish stories are being told and the proof in some cases bear out the tales of those caught in the lakes and nearby streams.

G. W. Gordon brought the head of a fish to our office this afternoon which was caught by his 12-year-old son, James, and a boy companion, which was one of a string of five, the smallest of which weighed five and one-half pounds and the largest 8 pounds.

O. L. Stamey and T. C. Williams, ex-school teachers, are telling tall stories of catches made by them yesterday and Clyde Mancill is said to have caught a 10 pounder.

WEATHER

EAST TEXAS—Mostly cloudy; showers in northeast and north central portions; cooler in northwest and northcentral portions tonight. Thursday partly cloudy.

HOLLYWOOD'S FAMOUS THROG AT JEAN HARLOW'S FUNERAL

HOLLYWOOD, June 9. (AP)—Funeral services for Jean Harlow were held today in the flower bedecked Wee Wee of the Heather chapel at Forest Lawn cemetery.

Two hundred of Hollywood's most famous crowded the chapel. More than 1,000 curious fans jammed around the chapel. They were orderly and offered no problem to scores of police guarding the gate.

The star lay in a silver and bronze coffin covered in a huge blanket of gardenias, the final joint tribute of her mother, Mrs. Jean Bello and William Powell, whom gossip said was to be her fourth husband.

Hundreds of floral pieces backed the chapel and were piled outside. Funeral services were opened by Jeannette MacDonald who sang "The Indian Love Call." Miss MacDonald was followed by Mrs. Genevieve Smith, Christian Science reader who was closely associated with Mrs. Harlow.

Mrs. Smith took the theme "God is Our Strength, Love and Refuge." She read the 20th Psalm.

Mrs. Smith's voice broke several times and she stopped suddenly to ask a silent prayer.

The services lasted 23 minutes. Mrs. Smith concluded with a tribute to Miss Harlow. She said: "Her outstanding attributes were love and courage. I know she is saying to each one of us 'I love you. Please be brave.'"

Women in the audience wept as Nelson Eddy, screen star, concluded the rites with "Sweet Mystery of Life," another of Miss Harlow's favorite songs.

SCOUTS LEAVE FOR JAMBOREE IN WASHINGTON

Thomas Wilson and Robert Christie are making preparations to leave Cisco one June 24 to attend the National Jamboree at Washington. Thirty-six of the Comanche Trail Scouts taken from this and surrounding counties will go in a group. There will be about 25,000 scouts representing every corner of the world at the encampment.

Thomas and Robert plan to be gone for about 14 days. After leaving Washington the Scouts will go to New York City, Niagara Falls, and will probably go through Chicago. "The Jamboree is about the only thing they could plan to get a representation of all the scout troops," Thomas said.

"The Comanche Trail Scouts plan to present an Indian pageant as a special event on the program. Each boy participating will make his own costume. One of these costumes will be presented to President Roosevelt. It is thought that this will be the largest and best Jamboree in history.

Lions Hear Talk on Soil Erosion Work

Henson Williamson, brother of Chapman Williamson, manager of the Laguna, spoke on soil erosion at the Lions luncheon today. R. D. Holt (superintendent of Sanderson schools, was a guest of Lion Coach Cooper.

Mr. Williamson told of the work in the San Angelo country, where he is in the engineering department of soil erosion. He told of the draining of rainy weather lakes that covered as much as 1,500 acres bringing the land in to tillability. Terraces and crop surfacing held the soil from weathering either by wind or floods.

Mr. Holt expressed his pleasure in being present in a Lions group.

Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Curry and daughters, Helen and Mildred have returned from Dallas where they attended the wedding of their cousin, Mrs. William Moody, the former Miss Louise Moore. Rev. Curry officiated at the wedding.

Death is Permanent

The destruction of the Hindenburg has once again brought before the eyes and minds of the world the terror of sudden, uncontrollable fire. Millions of persons, reading the news accounts and viewing the ghastly photographs of the doomed airship and its victims, have been gripped by a shudder of horror.

The unfortunate part of it all is that these lessons are so quickly forgotten, and that a large part of the public virtually refuses to adopt safety measures of long standing need, which would prevent thousands of individual tragedies whose cumulative total of death, injury and property damage is infinitely greater than that caused by the infrequent major disasters that are headlined in the newspapers of the world.

For example, six thousand persons in the United States—exclusive of the 1,500 who die annually in burning buildings—the yearly of burns and scalds, and practically every one of these deaths is preventable. Children are the principal sufferers, thanks to the carelessness of adults.

Death by fire is just as painful and horrifying—whether it occurs in a home or in a spectacular disaster. Think of this before you throw kerosene on that bakky fire. Remember, death is a permanent proposition, and no amount of money will bring back life to a charred body.

Farmers Have the Power

As Governor Lehman of New York recently said: "The farmers have all the power to solve every major problem." This power lies in cooperative organization to dispose of farm produce to the best advantage, and to raise it most economically and scientifically.

It is a fact that the tens of thousands of farmers belonging to well established marketing cooperatives have gone far ahead of unorganized farmers in the last decade. Such cooperatives provide what individual farmers lack—mass bargaining power, equal in size and strength to that of wholesalers and distributors.

OUR WANT ADS PAY BIG DIVIDENDS

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—There seems to be no immediate prospect that the administration will officially promote consumer co-operatives, as some business men have feared.

Last year, when Roosevelt appointed a committee of six to study the co-operative movement in Europe, there was some discussion, among American merchants and tradesmen who feared the committee's study might be a prelude to an active government program aimed at extending the movement in the United States.

The committee has returned and made its report without drastic recommendations. Some members urged the extending to consumer co-operatives the same kind of credit and the government gives to farmers' purchasing and marketing co-operatives. Establishment of an information service for co-operatives, similar on a small scale to what the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce is to industry, was recommended.

No action has been taken on the reports, but they serve as a reliable source of information, and to some extent have helped stimulate co-operative enterprises among Washingtonians in their position as consumers and private citizens.

The newest "co-op" is the Rochdale Restaurant, Inc., behind whose establishment Chairman Jacob S. Baker of the President's committee has been a moving spirit.

Operating on Rochdale co-operative principles, it sells shares of stock at $5, limits purchases to 40 shares per member, allows but one vote per member, can pay a maximum 4 per cent dividend on shares, returns most of the profits to patrons and pays union wages.

The Washington Consumers Club has 480 dues-paying members. Its aims and activities include promotion of co-operatives and legislation for consumer protection, co-operative library and

MAJOR BOWES' AMATEURS WILL APPEAR AT MAGNOLIA LOUNGE

DALLAS June 9—The best talent of Major Bowes' amateurs will appear under auspices of the Magnolia Petroleum Company, at the Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition which opens June 12. This announcement was made by Fred M. Lege, Jr., vice-president in charge of marketing.

The amateurs to be presented five times daily at the Magnolia Lounge on the exposition grounds will be selected by Major Bowes personally. Every Thursday night from 7 to 8 o'clock, during the exposition period, Major Bowes will include a Magnolia talent search in his nation-wide broadcast. From these programs the best acts are to appear at the Magnolia Lounge in the Exposition grounds. Wally Sharples will come direct from New York to act as master of ceremonies for the Dallas performances of the Major Bowes amateurs. To accommodate the acts scheduled to appear here beginning June 12 when the exposition opens the Magnolia Lounge has been remodelled to provide an adequate stage and additional seating capacity. The air-conditioned lounge is located near the Grand Avenue entrance to the grounds.

Workers' Campaign Checks Grasshoppers

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—State and federal workers have begun a campaign to control the grasshopper infestation in Texas this year. R. R. Roppert, state leader in the grasshopper control work said the pests likely will be as numerous as in 1924.

Federal sources have allotted 120,000 gallons of sodium arsenite, 250 tons of mill run feed and 750 tons of sawdust for the work in Texas. Hardest hit sections in the state are the Panhandle, the northwestern and the central portions.

CHAPTER XII
WITH Pats' scream for help and Don's forward lunge Rosie shrieked and threw herself upon him in a frenzy of disappointed rage. She kicked and scratched and bit and her magenta nails left four deep welts on Don's cheek.

The onslaught gave Bradlovich time to recover. Snatching a heavy candlestick from the mantel shelf, he rushed at Don. Then Pats went wild. Hurling herself into the fray, she caught the lawyer's uplifted arm and the candlestick crashed to the hearth. She too kicked and clawed. Her glasses fell to the floor and were trampled under scrambling feet.

The hated wig slipped over one eye and recklessly she ripped it from her head. Then her eye caught the full impact of Rosie's sharp elbow as Don furiously thrust her aside.

Momentarily stunned by the blow, Pats gave ground, her heel caught in a rug and she went down just as Don landed a telling blow on the exact point of the lawyer's chin. With a groan he folded up and sank to the floor.

As she fell Pats' head struck the leg of a table and she struggled in a fast blackening pit. As through a fog she saw Don deliberately throw the inert Mr. Bradlovich into the corridor and push his protesting client after him. With darkness engulfing her mind, she heard the slamming of the door.

The next thing she knew, it couldn't have been more than a moment later, Don was beside her on the floor, his arms holding her closely. "My Goldlocks," he whispered.

DON moistened his lips. He moved his eyes an inch from her face and darted them back as if experimenting with optical illusions.

"Where'd you come from?" he wanted to know, still in a hushed voice. "I've been here all the time, Don, darling, you're hurt," she exclaimed contritely. Pulling a handkerchief from his pocket she gently held it to his cheek. He seemed unconscious of himself. He sat down on the floor beside Pats and they both leaned against the couch.

Blackeye Pea Festival July 30

CELEBRATING the birth of the humble blackeye pea, this town will sponsor an East Blackeye Pea Festival on July 30, calculated to place the blackeye pea on the same plane of usefulness with the tomato, the onion and the sweet potato.

At the same time Centerville emphasizes the commercial value of blackeye pea cultivation, introduced into this area last year.

The festival will come in the middle of the season, when threshing machines are running dry and complete plans for the celebration are being perfected now.

ROUBAIS, France, June 9 (U.P.)—France is making a careful check of the falling off of births during the World War as the military classes of 1936 and 1937 are being called up by the army. What these figures reveal is an alarming situation.

ANNIVERSARY FLOOD IN JUNE SAW 13 DAMS

AUSTIN, June 9 (U.P.)—Second anniversary of the disastrous floods on the Colorado River in June 1925, saw the turbulent stream harnessed by three of the 13 dams that eventually will control its flow.

Unlike its namesake flowing through the Grand Canyon of Colorado, the Colorado river of Texas winds most of its way through territory subject to overflow.

Biggest storage of flood waters is being made in Buchanan Lake, backed up by a huge dam named for the late Congressman J. P. Buchanan, Brenham, Texas, who was active as chairman of the House Appropriations Committee in getting $20,000,000 federal aid for the project.

A lake nine miles wide and 20 miles long will be created behind the concrete retaining dam 137 feet high and more than 11,000 feet long.

Storage begins in rivers and streams feeding into the Colorado before it breaks into the coastal plain below the state capital at Austin and furnishes irrigation for thousands of acres of rice fields.

One of the earliest dams is on Pecan Bayou, near Brownwood. Several years ago water was permitted to flow across two thirds of the state from Lake Brownwood to save the rice crop in a threatened drought. Then it was found the Brownwood locks could not be closed. New gates have been installed and those for the other dams will be designed to prevent such an incident again.

Power projects incident to the flood water storage have been delayed pending decision in an injunction suit by private power interests.

er, the next man up, hit a sharp double into the left field, scoring the man on base. This ended Hanlon's scoring until the seven inning when three errors were forced in one run. In the eighth, two errors and one hit, scored two more runs, ending Hanlon's scoring for the night. In the last of the ninth inning Cisco staged a rally, scoring one run and having two men on base when Preston popped out.

The large crowd present got their money's worth by seeing as good a ball game as will be played anywhere.

Cisco's all-stars have the Oil Belt league notice that they will be plenty tough from now on.

Bevins, Cisco hurler, pitched a great game and kept the hits well scattered.

TORNADO DOES MUCH DAMAGE IN JACK COUNTY

TERRIN, (Jack County), Texas, June 9 (UP)—Residents today began removing debris scattered by a tornado yesterday which cut a path ten miles wide, smashing buildings and leveling crops, but injuring none.

Hailstones some described as "big as teacups" and a torrential rain accompanied the tornado.

Practically every building in this town of 500 persons was damaged. The Holiness church was demolished and the Church of Christ pushed off its foundation.

Charles Johnston of the Mineral Wells Index, who drove through the district, said leaves were blown from all trees.

"Hailstones in some places in the highway were 6 inches deep," Johnston reported. "Corn fields were ruined and wheat torn from the shocks."

The storm came from the northeast, striking the ground a few hundred yards north of Terrin. The tornado swept through the town, went on for 10 miles flattening crops, then lifted from the ground.

Lost Sisters United By Dallas Woman

DALLAS, June 9 (UP)—Miss Ethel Rucker wasn't exactly jubilant recently over the title "Sherlock" her fellow employes at the Dallas Chamber of Commerce had dubbed her but she did bask in the contentment of knowing she had brought together sisters who hadn't seen each other since 1913 and probably had saved the life of one of them in a New Mexico hospital.

Two weeks ago a letter scrawled in longhand was received by Miss Rucker from a woman in a Roswell, N. M., hospital asking for help in locating her sister in Dallas.

"I called her sister's husband but he couldn't help as he and his wife were separated," Miss Rucker said. "He told me she was working in a factory under a different name. After checking the factories, I located her."

"After I told her of her sister's condition she immediately got in touch with her sister, whom she had heard of in many years."

THE histories of Massachusetts and Nova Scotia are inextricably linked by the names of "Louisbourg" and "Grand Pre." Both of these spots are located in Nova Scotia and are yearly the scenes of pilgrimages by many Americans. In 1745, under the command of a Boston merchant named Pepperell, 4,000 untrained troops from Massachusetts captured Fort Louisbourg on Cape Breton Island, then the strongest French fortress in North America. Two pictures of this Fort as it exists today are shown above. In 1745 also, Col. John Winslow of Massachusetts undertook the expulsion of the Acadians from Grand Pre, Nova Scotia, many of the exiles settling in Louisiana where their descendants still live. The story of this tragic chapter of history was told by Longfellow in his "Evangeline." Her statue is shown as it is to be seen in front of the church at Grand Pre.

Ford Launches Newest Lake Ship

UNDER the watchful eyes of Henry Ford, the motorship "Green Island," first major vessel to be completed at a Great Lakes shipyard in more than six years, makes a dramatic splash as it slips from its cradle into the waters of the Detroit River. Commissioned to join the 28 other vessels of the Ford Motor Company fleet, the "Green Island," 2200 tons, will ply the waters of the lakes and canals between the famous Ford Rouge Plant and eastern seacoast Ford branches. Significant as the world's first all-welded ship, the new vessel is powered with two Diesel engines.
