ALLRED WON'T SUBMIT ECONOMY TEXT

NO NEED FOR FURTHER CALL SAYS ALLRED

AUSTIN, Oct. 19 (U.P.)—Governor James V. Allred today notified the house of representatives that he will not submit the topic of economy appropriation to the special session of the legislature.

At a press conference he announced also that he has no idea at the present time of calling another session after this one expires October 26.

"I see no occasion for another session," said Allred. "I have no hope that the legislators would do more at another session than at this one. There are still seven working days to do this job. I've done my part already."

Allred thought the senate tax bill by its reallocation of revenues would force a restoration of the recent cut made in the state ad valorem school tax.

"I wonder how the real estate owners will like that," he said.

It was expected that hearings on pending appropriation reduction would be dropped. The house appropriation committee had postponed direct action on a $5,000,000 departmental reduction and the state delayed hearings on educational and judiciary appropriation tax.

BAYLOR FREE OF DEBT FOR FIRST TIME

DALLAS, Oct. 19 (U.P.)—Dr. J. T. Harrington of Waco, chairman of the Board of Trustees of Baylor University said today that for the first time since its establishment in 1845, Baylor soon would be free of debt "due to the excellent management of President Pat M. Neff."

Collects Blue Law Statistics for Fun

JEFFERSON, O. (U.P.)—County Recorder Wilford Cox makes a hobby of collecting odd items from old county records that date back as long ago as 1812 and reflect the severity of the rigid "blue" laws.

One of these items stated that "Calvin Knowlton is guilty of riding on the township of Morgan Sabbath day evening previous to sunset to see his sweetheart." Knowlton, according to the record, was fined $1.

Another case, concerning Jonathan Warner, one of Jefferson's first citizens, said that Warner was fined 75 cents and costs "for raking eight cocks of hay on the Sabbath day on July 11, 1812."

ARMY TO BEGIN CAMPAIGN FOR VACCINATION

EL PASO, Oct. 19 (U.P.)—The army will begin a campaign next month to vaccinate 150,000 Civilian Conservation Corps against pneumonia. Surgeon General Charles R. Reynolds of Washington, D. C., said here today.

DOG FOND OF RASPBERRIES

MT. CARROLL, Ill. (U.P.)—Sport, a small dog owned by Adolph Eshelman, enjoys gnawing at a bone as much as any dog does. But he has developed an appetite for other foods strange to dogdom. One of these is raspberries.

Roosevelt Abandons Balanced Budget Plan

HIGH INCOME WON'T DELETE BIG FIGURES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (U.P.)—President Roosevelt abandoned hope today of a laymen's balanced budget in this fiscal year and presented the country with alternatives of quick economy or higher taxes to bring expenditures within federal revenues.

Mr. Roosevelt's October budget report confronted the nation with its eighth consecutive deficit and pointed the public debt toward a new 37 billion high mark.

Mr. Roosevelt acknowledged that the treasury gold sterilization policy probably would force the public debt considerably beyond the $37,119,556,732 figure indicated in this budget summary, but sterilized gold is rated a prime asset and available always to reduce the debt at its fact value. Mr. Roosevelt's reference to gold was interpreted to mean that the treasury would continue to buy all metal offered here at new deal prices.

Trimming revenue estimates and increasing his spending schedules, Mr. Roosevelt looked toward a gross deficit of $895,245,000 on June 30, 1938, the close of this fiscal year. He estimated the second largest federal income in treasury records. The net deficit included $200,000,000 for statutory debt retirement will be $695,245,000.

Revised budget estimates were made public here last night as Mr. Roosevelt in a community from Hyde Park wired:

"We all agree that unless federal taxes are to be greatly increased, the expenditures have to be brought within the existing tax receipts."

The two presidential statements were expected to arouse an economy storm in the special session to convene on November 15. They appeared in the midst of the most ominous stock market slump since the new deal took command.

Rare English Books In U. S. Libraries

CAMBRIDGE, Eng. (U.P.)—Fourteen United States libraries soon will have copies of about 4,000 English books published before 1550, through the medium of microfilms.

Prof. R. F. Hutton informed the conference of libraries and information bureaus, which met here recently, that the British museum is already making microfilms for the American project. More than 400,000 pages will be copied. The cost will be about a farthing (1.2 cent) per page.

A paper by Watson Davies, president of the American documentation institute, suggested that if the principal libraries and information centers throughout the world will cooperate, the resources of any library may be placed at the disposal of scholars anywhere by means of microfilms.

Police Chief Bans Wedding Parades

LOGAN, O. (U.P.)—A wedding is a very happy event, agrees Police Chief Theodore Walker, but he believes it no occasion for endangering the lives of sane and non-participating citizens.

He decreed: "Blissful brides and grooms and hilarious attendants must call a halt to their post-martial parades through the city, with horns tooting madly, a half dozen cars speeding in an unbroken line, loud cheering and other manifestations of unusual happiness."

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

AIRLINE VICTIMS ALL DEAD IS REPORT OF SEARCH PARTY

Kangaroo Court Convicts Freshmen

The high school was witness to a Kangaroo Court today. The seniors tried the freshmen for their misdemeanors during Freshman Week.

The court consisted of: judge, L. M. Yarbrough; prosecuting attorney, Bobby Bacon; defense attorney, James McCrary; chief of police, Hanning Wade; court clerk, J. M. Hazelwood; deputies, Bill Hanson, and Ramon McBride; jury, Marcus Lee Hill, foreman, Betty Jo Hicks, Nanela Bible, Alice Estel Spencer, Margie Meates, Wynema Bond, Kay Phillips, J. L. Stafford, Vernon Steyer, Tommy LaMore, Paul Johnson, Lavon Hill.

The court was in session and as the judge entered the court the student body stood up. The court was then called to order and freshmen called to the stage.

One by one they were sworn in by the court clerk. They then faced the judge and their crimes were read to the court. The prosecuting attorney brought up all the bad points about the freshmen, and asked the jury to please convict them. The defense arose and asked the jury to please look at the scared freshmen. He asked the jury to please find them not guilty. But the jury, being all seniors, found all the freshmen guilty and their sentences were various and sundry.

The entire freshman class was asked to come to the pit and give a yell for the seniors. The court in turn gave a yell for the freshmen and the session ended amid much laughter and back-slapping.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Lawson Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Fop I. Beasley of McCamey and Bill Webster of San Angelo.

Economic Highlights

President Roosevelt's speech on world affairs, in which he castigated dictatorships and proposed a virtual quarantine of bellicose powers...

Mr. Roosevelt's suggestion is as simple as it is revolutionary. In effect, he said that it might be necessary to place a towering commercial wall around the nations which are responsible for today's war scare and war prospects.

The president did not mention any country by name. But it was obvious that he was referring to three powers: Japan, Italy, Germany.

The world effect of such a declaration of potential policy would have been nowhere near as great had it come from the head of any other country.

The president's attitude, roughly described, is that we could not escape being involved in a major war, that we must therefore cooperate to prevent war.

The strength of an alliance between the democracies and the U.S.S.R. is impossible to exaggerate. From either the economic or military standpoint, they are immensely superior to the dictatorships.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Life gets to seem terribly complicated when you sit and listen to lawyers discuss the merits and demerits of Albert Levitt's suit to have Justice Hugo Black disqualified as a member of the Supreme Court.

Facially, Levitt's case seems quite simple to many laymen. The Constitution says that no senator or representative, during his elected term, shall be appointed to any office the emoluments of which have been increased during that term.

This year Congress passed the Summers-McCarran bill permitting justices to retire on $20,000 a year, providing they have reached 70 and have served 10 years.

Previously there was no provision for retirement pay for justices, although when a justice resigned Congress customarily voted him his salary for life.

Levitt says the emolument of Supreme Court office was increased and that Black hence is ineligible. Then he makes his second point, which also has been made by Senator Borah:

Justice Willis Van Devanter's retirement did not create a vacancy on the court. So there was no seat for Black to fill, says Levitt.

CAST OF CHARACTERS PRISCILLA PIERCE—heroine, young woman attorney...

Yesterday, city of Cisco's whole trade story of Jim's misfortune from him. Then he leaves for Amy's office to examine her file of evidence against Worth.

CHAPTER XXX

HEEDLESS this time of any danger to herself, Cilly rushed into the bedroom and carefully investigated the open window.

She knew, beyond the shadow of a doubt, that she had not opened it. Someone from the outside had reached over and pushed the window up, very quietly, so that in the excitement of talking with Jim, she had not noticed.

Suddenly, Cilly saw the reason for that window having been opened so stealthily.

The man wanted to hear what was being said!

He might have recognized Jim, seen him come to the house. He might—oh, a thousand might-haves—been... The thing was that he had heard the entire case against him. Whatever suspicions had lurked in his mind were realities now.

He had heard Jim's complete story. He had heard about the evidence against him in Amy's safety deposit box!

STRANGELY, Cilly did not realize at the moment that she was in the same danger, since Jim had told her everything. All she could think of was that Jim must get to the Cannon Building before this man who had listened at the window...

If only Sergeant Dolan were here, to go with her! But she couldn't wait for him. Every minute was important.

She thought of the officer upstairs in the vacant apartment. But he had orders to remain there...

In the end, she left a message with him for Dolan. Would the sergeant follow her to the Cannon Building, just as quickly as he could? It was important, tremendously important.

Building in half the time it would take a taxi, even though every second of the trip would seem an eternity.

For the first five minutes of the trip, she was in an agony of suspense. It was as if the car were a prison, holding her back against the seat and beat a mad tattoo with her feet to speed the train forward.

Then, quite suddenly, every muscle in Cilly's tense body relaxed. For a long, breath-taking moment she sat there, very calm and very still.

She knew who the murderer was!

AS the train rared its way under the river, she went back in her mind over the whole case. The pieces fitted together in a perfect pattern. What a blind fool she had been! What a stupid, unreasoning fool!

She recalled the events which followed Amy's death on Sunday night; she remembered standing in the kitchen before going to bed. And then, the most important piece of evidence in the whole case, which she had completely forgotten until this minute...

The dumbwaiter. She had heard it descending slowly; passing the level of her own kitchen and continuing down to the basement. That was how the murderer had left the house. It was all so clear now.

Mrs. Downey had heard him running down the stairs from the roof. He had reached the second floor, entered Apartment 2-A. And from there he had taken the dumbwaiter...

Fourteenth street... Pennsylvania Station. Cilly got off the train and flew up the stairs. The Cannon Building was just around the corner.

THE lobby was empty. Usually a night elevator man remained on duty... Yes, one of the cars was coming down. Casey, the night man, stepped out.

"Hello, Miss Pierce!" he exclaimed. "This a queer time to be coming to work now, isn't it?" Cilly dragged him back into the car. "Hurry, Casey," she cried, "I've got to get upstairs... Did you just take someone up?"

"Just this minute, ma'am. A young gentleman, it was, saying he wanted to go to your office... He had the key and all... Was he alone?"

PRAIRIE STATES PRODUCE MORE FINE LIVESTOCK

By CARL LUNDQUEST United Press Staff Correspondent

KANSAS CITY, No. Oct. 19 (AP)—The return of prosperity to the livestock industry will be celebrated at the 39th Annual American Royal Exposition, which opens here Oct. 16.

Because of the strong comeback which the livestock industry has staged during the past year, the American Royal this year assumes a more significant position than ever before.

More than 1,800 head of purebred cattle, swine, sheep, draft horses and mules have been entered for competition, according to Andy M. Paterson, manager of the exposition.

All Sections Represented The 1,800 animals will represent breeders in 21 states in every section of the nation.

Chief cause for optimism among breeders is the renewed demand among livestock farmers for purebred animals as foundation stock during the depression years.

Great interest centers in the purebred cattle section. Hereford herds which dominate in the Southwest lead with 34 breeders entered.

Chief contender for cattle honors will be the Harper & Turner herd from Sulphur, Okla.

Other leading Hereford exhibitors are Combs & Worley, Pampa, Tex.; Wyoming Hereford Ranch, Cheyenne, Wyo.; Herbert Chandler, Baker, Ore.; Hillandale Farms, Muscatine, Ia.; Jenny Wren Farms, Lawrence, Kas.; C. M. Largent & Sons, Merkel, Tex.; Mrs. Ethel Mars' Milky Way Farms, Pulaski, Tenn.; and Otto Fulscher, Holyoke, Colorado.

Mathers Brothers, Mason City, Ill.; T. Worsey Jones, Shelbyville, Ind.; Eni-Bar Farms, Grain Valley, Mo. and Tomson Brothers, Wekarnas, Kas., are the outstanding Shorthorn contenders.

Names traditional with brilliant show ring performances make the Angus show loom as one of the best in history. Among the competitors will be S. C. Fullerton, Miami, Okla.; Condon & Battles, Yakima, Wash.; Elliott Brown, Ross Hill, Ia.; J. Garrett Tolan, Pleasant Plains, Ill. and James B. Hollinger, Chapman, Kas.

Other sections of the show, fully so colorful and lacking only the numbers of the cattle division will be featured throughout the entire week. Entered from eight states are 20 sheep breeders with eight swine producers from three states.

The draft horse section has attracted 20 exhibitors from 11 states in the three sections for Percherons, Belgians, and Clydesdales. Six exhibitors will display mules.

"My dear Priscilla," he gloated, "nothing you have ever done has pleased me more. Now I have the two of you here together, the only two people in the world who stand in my way..."

Cilly thought of Lot's wife, changed to a pillar of salt as she turned to look back. In her case, however, she had become a column of solid ice the moment she turned to see Harry Hutchins.

But Jim was all fire now—all fire and fury. He sprang forward, heedless of the gun. Cilly heard the safety catch click. Only a second now—

She shut her eyes, afraid to see Jim go down before her... then she heard the shot, intermingled curiously with the sound of crashing glass...

More mothers use VapoRub than any other medication of its kind—they have proved it by use in their own homes. It was first used in the world's largest cold clinic. No "dosing"—just massage VapoRub on throat, chest, and back at bedtime.

Almost at once, its poultice-and-vapor action starts to loosen phlegm, relieve irritation and coughing, help break local congestion. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

Student Lives in Portable House

LAWRENCE, Kas. (U.P.)—Ralph Reber, 19-year-old farm youth, has built a one-room portable house near the University of Kansas campus to live in while he is completing his college work.

The structure cost $60. Reber did not have enough money to live in a fraternity house while at school and it cost too much to board at a private house. So he convinced the idea of building a hut near two of the largest fraternity houses.

The house is 7 by 14 feet and large enough to accommodate two occupants. Reber plans to get a roommate. There are two folding bunks in the structure, a study desk, an oil stove and electric lights.

Reber was graduated from the Whitmore, Kas., high school last year and worked on a farm and for a railroad during the summer. He earned $90.

If the youth decides to change schools, all he has to do is jack up the house, slip some wheels under it and it becomes a trailer.

Rubber Insulation Is Sound Deadner

LONDON (U.P.)—Buildings of the future will be quieter and cleaner if methods developed at the National Physical Laboratory are adopted.

Chief among discoveries, made by the Building Research Board during the past year is the "floating floor." This is made of slabs of concrete, insulated from the main structural floor by small pads of rubber. These slabs can be raised at will whenever the rubber pads need renewal.

Another important "find" is a novel method of coloring stuccos in buff, yellow, reds, greens and blues. In other words, buildings can be given colored "skin." The value of this discovery is that concrete structures need no longer have that white appearance which so quickly turns to a dull gray.

A new method of cleaning discolored buildings also has been evolved. A fine spray of water is directed against the surface for a period depending on the condition of the stone. Then the soot in-

Death Valley Life Do Without Water

BERKELEY, Cal. (U.P.)—Twenty-six distinct species of mammal life ranging from coyotes to mice inhabit Death Valley according to Dr. Joseph Grinnell, curator of the museum of vertebrate zoology at the University of California.

Dr. Grinnell, who proved that all is not death on the arid sands of Death Valley, said the animals seem to thrive on the waterless plains. They are endangered only by the inroads being made into the valley by man, he added.

The doctor said that although water holes are very scarce in the valley, few of the animals discovered up to this time seem to have any need for water.

Dr. Grinnell warned hunters that the valley will not stand much hunting or trapping if the wild life is to continue.

Preparations For Baptists

EL PASO, Oct. 19 (U.P.)—Preparations are being speeded in this picturesque border city to welcome 5,000 Baptists expected to crowd Liberty Hall, the municipal auditorium, for the annual session of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, Nov. 8 to 13.

The entertainment program for delegates from 3,018 churches will have its climax at an unprecedented underground convocation to be held Nov. 14 in the Carlsbad Caverns, in New Mexico. Baptists of New Mexico will join in the impressive services to be held underground.

Leaders of the denomination will report on foreign missions, which now are discussed in the Far East on home missions, civic righteousness, Christian education, hospitals and care of orphans.

A special report will be made on the summer evangelist campaigns held throughout the state in which denominational leaders estimate that 100,000 members were added to Baptist churches in Texas.

Dr. Wallace Bassett, crusading Dallas pastor, is prepared to attack gambling and liquor traffic in his speech on civic righteousness. Texas Baptists have been active in the last year particularly against horse racing, betting on which was outlawed last summer by the Texas legislature.

On the day before the general sessions begin, pastors and laymen will hold their annual conference to exchange ideas and formulate plans for future effectiveness.

The Rev. E. D. Head, Houston pastor, will deliver the convention sermon, keynoting the program of the denomination which claims 650,000 members in Texas.

Among other speakers will be Dr. George W. Truett of Dallas, president of the World Baptist Alliance; F. M. McConnell of Dallas, editor of the Baptist Standard; and Dr. L. R. Scarborough, Fort Worth, president of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Dr. J. B. Tidwell, head of the Bible study department at Baylor University, Waco, is president of the convention.

Baptist women of Texas will hold their annual auxiliary sessions Nov. 8 and 9, and will hear addresses by Mrs. Eugene Salter, missionary to China; Mrs. George W. Truett, who will tell of her tour of foreign mission fields on a round-the-world trip; and reports of the Women's Missionary Union.

PINS MARK DEATH MAP

MADISON, Wis. (U.P.)—Rows of tiny pins—each one representing a traffic accident—cover a huge map of Wisconsin on display in the rotunda of the state capitol. The map was prepared by the state highway commission to emphasize the frequency of automobile accidents.

Crustations can be brushed off with a soft brush.

IT REALLY HAPPENED IN FOOTBALL!

BACK in the early days of football, when Alabama Poly was playing Georgia Tech, the Alabama fullback punted, and the ball went almost straight up into the air, breaking all altitude records. While the 22 men stood in a mass, waiting for it to descend, a small boy on the sidelines added to the confusion by tossing his own football into the air. There was a wild scramble for both footballs. A Tech man finally got one, a Poly player the other... but Tech had the real ball.

Representatives Will Call on Merchants

By MRS. SUTTON CROFTS
Business and professional people of Cisco, please have out your latch string tomorrow, for you're receiving company! Some of the mothers of the West Ward children, armed with their official membership card so that you will know they are not sailing under false colors, will start their rounds to give you your one and only annual opportunity to contribute to the welfare and advancement of this school.

Specifically, they are asking you to duplicate your generous gifts of last year to the Country Store—anything you have on hand and care to give will be acceptable, whether it be tangible articles or credit slips and if it is hard to find an article that would be suitable the ladies will be most happy to "take the cash and let the credit go."

Don't be disappointed if they don't get to your place of business on the first day of the campaign, because they won't slight you for long. This will give you plenty of warning too, so that you can be out or hide in the attic if you have a mind to, but the P. T. A. knows its friends too well to expect any of that.

So be thinking over your assets tonight, and think what you can spare to help the West Ward accomplish its program of making improvements and getting needed supplies for this year. And don't forget, whatever you give you will get back double in gratitude and good will, to say nothing of the pleasant publicity for the names of our benefactors will be published in acknowledgement at the close of the drive.

SOCIALIST HEAD OF BRIDGEPORT SEEKS 3rd TERM

By JACK ZAIMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 18 (U.P.)—Tail gangling Jasper McLevy, New England's first Socialist mayor, will seek a third term No. 2 as Bridgeport's chief executive on a record of conspicuous and constructive accomplishment, a record of pledges faithfully kept.

He renewed his battle against private ownership of public utilities, stating in his platform that he "is constantly watchful for the first ripe opportunity to attack this problem in the same spirit that it has attacked and solved so many other desperate municipal problems."

McLevy prepared to open an immediate re-election campaign following his nomination at a party convention. In addition to heading Connecticut right wing Socialists, the mayor is head of the Social Democratic Federation, a national rightist Socialist group.

The record of the Socialist Party during the past four years, McLevy's platform said, "Stands as a ringing challenge to its opponents in the present campaign. Platform pledges were not made merely to catch votes but with the determination to carry them into practice is now a matter of and successfully they were carried into practice is now a matter of undisputed record."

Seven Accomplishments

1. Complete reorganization of municipal government to eliminate waste, inefficiency and corruption.
2. Introduction of the merit system and civil service.
3. Itemized accounts of all public expenditures.
4. Strict adherence to the city charter.
5. Return of home rule.
6. Opportunity for expression of public opinion at common council meetings.
7. Planned government to build for the future as well as to meet the needs of the present.

Major Parties Attacked

The platform charged that "at present public utilities are protected by a stone wall of special laws passed for their benefit through the joint friendship of Republicans and Democrats in Hartford. The two old parties who, by their united friendship for the utilities have created and maintained high utility rates cannot not dodge their guilt."

"During the next two years," it was said, "the Socialist Party solemnly pledges itself to discharge the responsibilities of office in the same serious, progressive spirit that his characterized its four years in office."

"Its efforts will continue to be devoted to the responsibility of giving the people of Bridgeport clean, scientific government, for the benefit of the masses for whom all governments are created and not for the few who either make a business of holding public office or of controlling those who do so."

"We are glad to stand and be judged by our record."

"Our job department is complete—let us figure on your next job. We can save you money."

Nursery Children Go To Circus Grounds

A group of forty-two bright-eyed and eager young children left the WPA nursery school on Avenue D south of Cisco, in a great big school bus, specially provided for their transportation Monday afternoon. They were bound for the circus grounds to see the lions, the big elephants, tigers and camels.

Mrs. Thelma Halstead, superintendent of the nursery school, accompanied them, as well as several of the other nurses who assisted her in keeping them together.

It was impossible, Mrs. Halstead said, to get them into the actual performances, but they were thrilled and excited, nevertheless, at being at the grounds.

A school bus was sent to pick them up and return them to the nursery. They went to the grounds right after their lunch and before their naps. It is hardly to be expected that many of them slept after having such a thrilling time.

Greyhound's Super-Coaches Now in Service to El Paso, Los Angeles, Fort Worth, St. Louis and East

Greyhound's new Super-coaches are now in operation between Fort Worth and El Paso. Besides providing the finest of all high travel on this run, it completes a transcontinental Super-coach from coast to coast.

Greyhound's Super-coaches are so utterly different from any other type bus used in the industry that they involve radical changes in almost every detail.

The most important single change has been the placing of motor in the rear of the bus. This arrangement means quieter operation, less vibration and complete absence of exhaust fumes. It gives more space for passengers and adds to the riding comfort.

Another noticeable feature is the new high, comfort level for over the tops of passing private cars.

Special consideration has been given to the baggage space, large compartments, water tight and dust proof, have been built on the floor of the coach for suitcases, trunks and large parcels. The baggage rack on the roof has been eliminated.

The interior is modernistic and luxurious. A new system of lighting consists of a continuous circle of frosted glass tubing running entirely around the ceiling.

Deeply-cushioned individual chairs have been entirely redesigned for use in the new Super-coach. They can be made to recline in optional positions for sightseeing, reading, relaxation or sleep.

Greyhound's new Super-coaches are modern and different, but every respect they adhere strictly to the high traditions of safety, reliability which Greyhound has established in its nation-wide system.
