How Much Makes a Drunken Driver?

How much whisky makes an unsafe driver? Two jiggers? Dr. Rollo N. Harger, professor of biochemistry and toxicology at Indiana University, gave that estimate to highway traffic experts at the National Safety Congress.

Based on studies made with a new type "chemical breath smeller" with which he seeks to replace the "policeman's nose test," Dr. Harger said that three ounces of whisky was sufficient to fog the brain and render an automobile driver unsafe. This amount of liquor increases an individual's reaction time—the time required before muscles obey the orders of the brain. Thus it appears that we need a new definition of intoxication in its relation to the operation of an automobile. To a person accustomed to alcohol, two or three drinks may produce no visible effect. The driver may seem sober in speech, actions and appearance. That same driver, turned loose on the highway with a car, is a menace to life and property.

Police reports from various representative states indicate that liquor is a definitely proven factor in ten to twenty per cent of automobile accidents involving fatalities and serious injuries. It is certain that liquor is an unseen factor in a much higher proportion of cases—cases where it is impossible to obtain legal proof of drinking.

One basic rule of safe driving must be, "never operate your car after you have taken any liquor whatever, even though it be but a glass or two of beer." Alcohol and gasoline must be kept apart. The citizen who drives his car after a few cocktails, in the belief that he is perfectly sober, is basically as serious a public menace as the roaring drunk who goes careening down the streets and highways.

Dr. Harger describes successful experiments that have been made in developing chemical tests for intoxication. Every police department should keep up with the march of the times and take advantage of the new tests and machines that eliminate the human elements and make the determination of intoxication a scientific fact. Eliminate the drinking driver and we will have taken a long step toward highway safety.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
 NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Whether the Supreme Court's prestige has suffered because of the court's acquiescence in Hugo Black who now seems firmly planted in his new seat, possibly is a most important question.

Opponents of Mr. Roosevelt, nearly all of whom have vociferously protested Black's appearance as the newest justice, are insistent that the Alabama's presence there has given the court a terrible black eye and lowered public respect for the previously sanctified processes of justice.

Whatever the truth or error of this conception, it seems especially interesting to those here who recall that early in the year the New Dealers were frankly saying—although not for quotation—that they did hope to crack the Supreme Court's prestige to a point where the people would lose faith in its infallibility and where parliamentary government, meaning Congress, would be supreme.

So if you believe the opposition, it appears that the New Dealers won a victory there, although they certainly are not boasting of it on the same basis.

Many lawyers are inclined to believe that, after the Black expose and resultant hue and cry, it may hereafter become perfectly good taste to polite society to talk about the personal backgrounds and moral prejudices of some of its other members. At any rate word comes from the inside that there will be further administrative propaganda efforts.

Any attempt to disqualify Black from sitting in individual cases are likely to be met with attacks on Justice Pierce Butler and Justice Owen J. Roberts. Butler was an outstanding railroad lawyer and among his clients was the Great Northern Railway.

As a justice, however, he did not refrain from writing far-reaching opinions on public utility valuation standards, and last year he read an opinion which saved the Great Northern $10,000,000 in taxes which had been assessed by North Dakota.

Roberts, Hughes and Van Devanter, who concurred with Butler had all represented railroads in private practice.

On the other hand, it is not to be inferred that justices necessarily have a bias in favor of former clients. They merely fail to "sit out" when former clients bring cases, as Justice Brandeis did at the time of the adverse minimum wage decision of 1923, because he himself had been active for minimum wage legislation.

But the court doesn't like to be told that any justice isn't qualified to sit a particular case, and that's one reason for guessing that such tactics against Black won't get far.

IN the afternoon, Jack—who had been following Sylvia about like a constant shadow—took her out in a boat.

Barry, sitting gloomily on the pier, watched them start off.

"You are wise to take your handsome life guard along with you," Barry said. "Another storm might come along. Maybe that's what he hopes will happen."

Sylvia's face flushed. It was poor sportsmanship for Barry to pretend that Jack's bravery was a spectacular gesture.

It was late when they returned. "Everybody will be wondering about you," Jack said. "If it were not for that, I'd keep you out here to watch the moon come over the lake."

"Let's," Sylvia's voice was eager. "They will know no harm could come to me on a lovely evening like this—not with someone who swam the lake with me in a cyclone."

"It was fortunate for me that you came when you did," Sylvia said in a serious tone. "I'm wondering how it could have happened."

"I suspect things are meant," Jack's earnest tone matched her own. "It all seemed to have worked out. I didn't come on the party because I expected a classmate to be in town several days. But he had to leave today, so I drove over here."

"And then you heard me call for help," Sylvia's voice urged him to repeat the story.

"Yes, I had slowed the car down for the turn. At first I thought I was imagining things. But I stopped the car, and next time I heard you call quite clearly."

"I didn't call until I realized I couldn't make it in," Sylvia said. She shuddered a little.

"Stop thinking about it, Sylvia," Jack spoke gently. "I'm going to take you inside where it's cheerful. I've kept you out too long."

HAWAII ROUSED BY GROW MORE FOOD CAMPAIGN

By ROBERT L. SPENCER
 United Press Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25 (UP)—Although Hawaii is the most elaborately fortified American territory, defense of the islands could be made ineffective in the event of an extended naval blockade, according to an announcement by the U. S. Department of Commerce.

The department's annual report concerning Hawaii's purchases from the United States revealed that the territory produces less than a third of its essential food-stuffs. High army officers admitted this lack of sufficient home-grown food was one of the greatest obstacles to effective defense of the little group of islands.

A naval blockade, shutting off all imports from the United States and from other countries, would place the territory's 400,000 inhabitants in a state of near-starvation, officials observed. They pointed out that the islands normally have sufficient essential foods on hand to withstand a blockade of several months.

General Stresses Weakness

Major-General Hugh A. Drum, former commander of the Hawaiian department, U. S. Army, has pointed out the necessity for immediate development of a greatly increased local food supply, if the civilians and troops stationed on the fortified rock were to function at peak efficiency in the event of a siege by a foreign power.

In an effort to correct this weakness in the island defenses, military authorities have asked the cooperation of civilian groups in a concerted campaign to increase production of foodstuffs.

As a part of the army's plan, officers have been detailed to each of the major islands in the group. They will study farming conditions and prepare plans for increased production in event of an emergency.

Officials revealed that partial success of the plan has been noted during the past year. Shipments of fruits and vegetables from outside islands to Honolulu have increased perceptibly, they said.

However, they pointed out, this slight increase has not been sufficient to offset to any great extent the territory's dependence upon other parts of America for a balanced supply of foodstuffs to fill her needs.

Canned Vegetables Imported

Statistical items revealed in the Department of Commerce report show the need for more locally grown products. Among the more staple items the territory purchased from the mainland during the past fiscal year were: 13,000,000 pounds of condensed milk, 2,403,000 pounds of butter, 6,738,000 pounds of fish, 1,788,000 dozen eggs, 66,417,000 pounds of California rice, 151,700 barrels of flour, 2,000,000 pounds of other cereals and 8,454,000 pounds of onions. In addition, 15,718,000 pounds of potatoes and 8,454,000 pounds of canned vegetables were imported.

Besides these staple foods the report showed nearly a thousand other items of merchandise which amounted to a cash value of nearly $65,000,000 which Hawaii purchased from the American continent.

Until these tremendous importations of foodstuffs are lessened, the army and navy defense machinery cannot operate at its maximum efficiency in case of emergency, Hawaiian officials agree.

Gardens Pay Women and Girls Well

Gardens that have paid are the reward for farm women and 4-H club girls in Central Texas, according to reports of county home demonstration agents in that part of the state.

Four-fifths of a pound of vegetables from each foot of row space planted was my reward for selection of ground for my garden, and for selecting good seed, using a little barnyard manure, and hoeing the weeds out about once a week," said Trudie Haney, garden cooperator for the Woodbine 4-H club in Cooke county. She planted 51,921 row feet of vegetables consisting of bush beans, pole beans, lima beans, carrots, lettuce, cabbage, english peas, mustard, squash, Irish potatoe, tomatoes, beets, sweet corn, onions, cucumbers, field beans, radishes, and okra. She gathered 13,685 pounds of produce and values it at $537.55.

Frances Huey, garden cooperator of the Union Grove 4-H club in Cooke county, gathered 1,456 pounds of leafy, green and yellow vegetables from 1,200 feet of row space planted to bush beans, lima beans, field peas, carrots, cabbage, english peas, and lettuce. This makes 200 feet of row space for each member in their family of six. She has canned 19 containers and helped her mother can several hundred containers.

Ara Mae Black, demonstrator for the Ewing 4-H club in Coryell county, states that the cash value of her garden is about $1.00. She has canned 6 quarts of tomatoes, 15 quarts of mustard, and 29 quarts peas.

"You must constantly fight insects if you want good flowers or good vegetables."

"How do you fight insects?" persisted the woman.

"There are three general classifications of plant enemies," explained the exhibitor. "There is the chewing insect, which eats the plant; and there is the fungus which blights and mildews."

"But how is one to know which is which and what to do for each?" asked the woman despairingly.

"You can use a general mixture that will get all three," answered the exhibitor. "Arsenate of lead will poison the chewing insects, nicotine and Bordeaux mixture will kill the fungi. Your dealer can supply you with these ingredients and tell you how to mix them, and you can put on the compound with a spray pump."

"Raising flowers is like raising children," went on the exhibitor. "The more intelligent the care, the better the results."

AUSTIN, Oct. 25—Building permits in Texas during September increased slightly over the like month last year, but were moderately below those of the preceding month. The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research stated in its survey of the building industry. Permits granted during the entire third quarter of the year were slightly below those of the like period last year.

Reports from 39 Texas cities show total permits during September of $4,353,000, an increase of 14 per cent over September last year but a decline of 7.6 per cent from August. Aggregate permits for the third quarter were $13,121,000, a decline of 2.6 per cent from the corresponding period last year.

Cities in which permits during both September and the third quarter were above those of the corresponding periods last year were Abilene, Amarillo, Big Spring, Brownsville, Cleburne, Dallas, Del Rio, El Paso, Harlingen, Tyler, Waco, Snyder and Graham.

Boys Raise Pure Bred Sows and Pigs

Central Texas 4-H club boys know the advantages of spending their energy toward raising quality hogs in their demonstration work, county agricultural work, in that section report.

Number of Coryell county 4-H boys purchased and used registered sows in their 1936 demonstration. These gilts were deposited into excellent sows and bred good quality registered boars so this year's litters would be the highest quality required by buyers breeding stock. Alton and El-Quickie have sold all of their litters of poland chinas, two pigs to other Coryell county 4-H boys. Elmo King sold three from his durco litter of five. King sold five of his nine pigs, and Travis Harper sold from his excellent litter of six piglets. He has also sold seven pigs from another litter of six piglets, which he raised this

Ben Murphy, Rosanky 4-H club member of Bastrop county, reports that he made a profit of $34.88 above feed costs for labor and investment on his hog demonstration started in the fall and winter of 1935-36 with a 40-pound pig which he kept for a brood sow. He sold the sow and her pigs for $43.38 and has one pig left which he estimates to be worth $7. His feeding expense was $15.50.

Bathtub Trick Saves Boy in Lake Plunge

FORT WORTH (U.P.)—Four-year-old Don Smith perhaps owes his life to a trick he learned in the bathtub at home.

Playing around a pier where his parents were fishing, Don reached for a pole which had fallen into the water and tumbled head-first into 14 feet of water.

Heavy clothing and water-filled boots held the child on the bottom until Turney Estes jumped from his boat and brought him up. When they tried to pump water out of the youngster, there wasn't any water.

"I held my breath like sister taught me when she ducked me in the bathtub," Don told his parents.

PEOPLE PAST 40 EAT TOO MUCH, WARNS DOCTOR

By JOHN U. TERRELL
United Press Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO Oct. 25 (U.P.)—Public Enemy No. 1 is not a gangster or gangster's son. He's something rather indescribable who goes by the name of O. Ver Eating. You've probably met up with him.

Dr. Victor G. Heiser, noted globe-trotting health officer, who has spent more than half a century battling diseases which could wipe out cities and armies with one infectious sweep, says that the habit of over-eating has created the greatest national crime wave America has ever known.

Dr. Heiser has chased typhus and malaria and plague all over the world. Now he's home to warn America that it has problems far greater to consider than epidemics. And he's telling the middle-aged and old-age groups that while inter-organisms have been licked, nothing has been done to protect

'MOUSEBITE' SCHOOL EXCUSE

TWIN FALLS, Ida. (U.P.)—Infection from mousebite ranked at the top of the most-out-of-the-ordinary reasons for being absent from school in Twin Falls county, Mrs. Doris Strady, county superintendent of schools said. Second most unusual reason was that of "falling off a horse."

Stop FOOT ACHES AND PAINS

Such common foot troubles as hurting corns, callouses, bunions, weak or fallen arches—can be quickly and inexpensively relieved. Dr. Wm. M. Scholl, world noted Foot Authority, has perfected an appliance or remedy for the relief of all these common foot troubles.

Warns Old People

"At last the gates have been opened and we are slowly discovering that a great percentage of our oldsters are digging their graves with their teeth," he said. "I don't think there is any question but that over-eating is the greatest national crime today. We continue to think in terms of pies and biscuits rather than in terms of make and age ailments are born of stomachs that are too full."

The doctor has no patience with dietary fads. Eating habits must be established during youth, and the whole problem is not only one of research but of education, he says.

PRECINCT VOTE ON BEER IS IN THE COURT

B. H. Atchison, judge of 90th district court at Breckenridge, granted Friday the application of beer retailers in Eastland county justice precinct 5 for an order enjoining putting into effect a commissioner's court order declaring sale of alcoholic beverages in precinct 5 prohibited as shown in an election Sept. 18.

Milton Lawrence, Eastland attorney, filed the case for W. C. Caraway, Gorman beer retailer, and others against commissioners court, county Judge W. S. Adamson and Criminal District Attorney Earl Conner, Jr. in 88th district. Lawrence's application for an injunction was first presented 88th district court, which after consideration and argument hearing was refused, and denied by Judge B. W. Patterson, upon insufficiency of allegations to warrant order for issuance of injunction.

J. H. MITCHELL SAYS NAVY DAY IS OCTOBER 27

America will celebrate navy day October 27, the birthday of President Theodore Roosevelt, great American supporter of proper naval defense, said J. H. Mitchell, head of Cisco's Veterans of Foreign Wars, today.

The United States emerged to the status of a world power during Theodore Roosevelt's most active political life and we have an abundance of proof that the influence of sea power on history was ever-present in his mind when he dealt with international relations.

Americans are a peaceful people—slow to anger and with a fervent desire to enjoy the fruits of their civilization and the benefits of their democratic form of government. But it is believed that there are thoughtful citizens, today on Navy Day—who wonder by what means we may preserve an economic equality in overseas markets, and above all keep the peace. What international machinery will assure us of adequate security? Is there an effective means of enforcement for any such machinery that exists today?

It was with this fact in mind that the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, at its 38th National Encampment in Buffalo, N. Y., this year, went on record in support of a naval defense that will guarantee the protection that a great nation committee composed of E. E. Lay, Oden and L. C. Cooksey were adopted. They included appreciation for program participation of Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent of schools; Austin; Miss Lillie Martin, head of the primary department of Baylor University, Waco; H. E. Robinson, Brownwood, deputy state superintendent, and others.

P. B. Bittle and the Eastland school board were thanked for the use of the building and arrangements for the meeting, and the program committee commended on its speakers for the meeting.

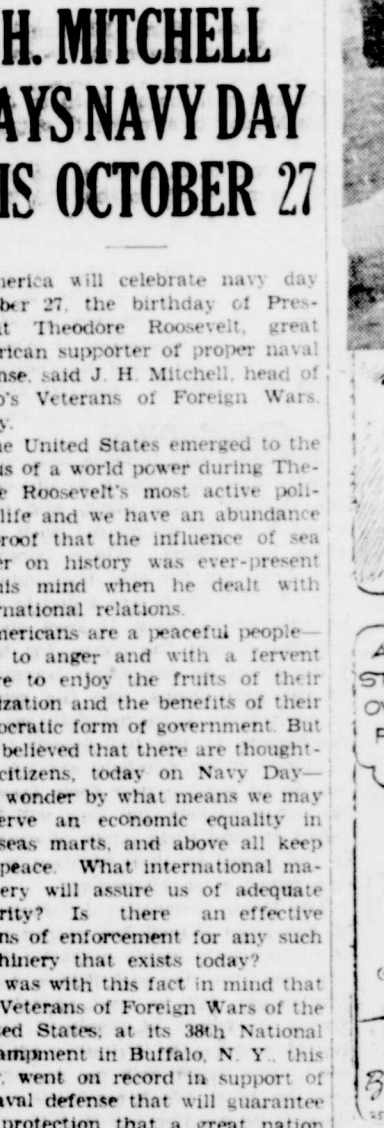

The teachers also went on record that the legislature be urged to make sufficient appropriation to provide in the teacher retirement act and that the legislature make an emergency appropriation to supplement the transportation fund, rather than deducting from the appropriation set aside for high school tuition, salary and vocational aid.

Late of the county meeting will be set by the executive committee (composed of Bittle and other directors elected at the session).

PROFIT IN SHEEP PASTURE

HALE CENTER, Texas (U.P.)—Winter sheep pasture is a problem in the short-grass area of West Texas, and farmers in this area make a nice profit by pasturing sheep for the winter. It has been estimated that 18,399 head of sheep are already on pasture near Hale Center.

Country Store
Will Be Held
Saturday Night

By MARY CROFTS
The West Ward P.-T. A. wishes to announce the exact locations and hours of its main events of the big Halloween celebration, so that nobody will miss out on the fun and profits.

The main event, the "Country Store" will be located in the same building it was last year—the old (not the new) Cisco Laundry, next to the Cisco Banking Co. building on Sixth street. The store will be open for business at 8:30 sharp, which is after the Grammar School play at the City Hall. The P.-T. A. knows from experience that such bargains as it offers will not last long, so be sure to be on time if you want to get your share. And remember, every item sold costs the buyer only one dime—ten cents!

The fun-fest preceding the opening of the store (beginning at 7:30 and continuing until store-opening time) will center around Mrs. E. P. Crawford's office building and Mr. Jenson's Music Store just across the alley. For those not familiar with the "main drag" of Cisco this office building is at 610 Avenue D. Outside the entrance, on the sidewalk, will be the big free apple-bobbing contest, with Miss Swift of the West Ward faculty presiding, and two stalwart fifth grade boys to help her keep order. Just inside the entrance and to your left, you will find the two other exciting booths, first the fortune-telling booth, where a mysterious gypsy will tell you your past, present and future for a nickel, and well worth the price. Behind her quarters, the spooky den where a blood-curdling post-mortem will be held over poor Mr. Jones. This attraction is free for all, but only those with strong constitutions are advised to taste its thrills.

The West Ward Rhythm band will form its parade at the corner of Ave. D and 8th, a little before 7:30 and will march down to Jenson's Music Store, where it will perform at 7:30 sharp. A section of the pavement in front of the store will be roped off so that the "little ones" will not be in any danger of being crushed in the crowd that is sure to gather to hear and see. This attraction also is free to the public and it is asked that the audience help the committee to protect the children and their instruments from any damage—and let them and their mamas through when the company disbands.

Merchants and parents have responded most generously to the call for Country Store stock, and the event bids fair to go off with an extra loud bang. Those parents who have not yet sent their donations to the school are asked to do so this week. There is keen competition among the rooms for the prize given to the room bringing in the most items and the score of each room is posted daily on a blackboard in the hall beside Mr. Bradley's office. Mothers are asked too to be looking over their favorite candy recipes, for they will be asked to send their batch of candy to the school by their children Friday morning or afternoon.

The Home Economics department of the High School has kindly offered to donate candy made by the students Thursday and Friday, too. The candy will be sold at tables placed in front of Penney's and Garner's stores on Saturday afternoon. The tables will be presided over by West Ward teachers, and there is no need to say that it will go fast, so don't forget to come around early for yours.

Young People Given
Hallowe'en Party

A Hallowe'en party was given the Young People's Department of the First Methodist Sunday School in the Banquet Room of the church Saturday evening.

To enter the room, each member was required to go through a long tunnel which led to various places in the department, where Misses Mildred Curry, Joyce Ranbolt, Lottie Practer and Ralph McCanlies were the committee in charge of the evening entertainment.

Miss Joyce Ranbolt was the pianist furnishing music for the occasion.

The Freshmen, or new department members, were brought in and initiated. A fortune telling booth was also there, with a beautiful Gypsy lady, Miss Lela Latch, to tell the fortune of each one present.

Refreshments were served to about thirty young people and visitors. Last, but not least of the entertaining features of the evening were old familiar games which were played in a lively manner on the lawn by the happy group.

Sponsors present were: Misses John Shertzer, J. E. Crawford and Rev. Joe I. Patterson.

through," said Rep. G. C. Morris of Greenville, who made the motion to refer the bill to a conference committee.

Morris was author of the original bill which the house used as a basis for the omnibus measure.

"To delay until this afternoon might have the effect of killing the bill," said Morris.

A new attempt to legalize liquor sales by the drink was defeated in the senate. Senator Weaver Moore moved to take up the house bill out of regular order. The vote was 19 to 10 in favor of just one short of the necessary two-thirds.

Aid, to re-allocate rural school aid, so that more of the annual $5,500,000 appropriation will be available for transportation was passed finally. A minor amendment only requires it to go back to the house.

Set Pot to Boil

The students of Cisco high school gathered in the halls of C. H. S. this morning and gave yells for the Lobos, for winning the game Friday against Brownwood. At chapel period Prin. O. L. Stamey made some announcements. He asked the student body if they would like to go on a special train to Abilene and they cheered for 5 minutes. Then the pep leaders were called to the stage and they led a few yells and the students practically raised the roof of the auditorium. Miss Deaton, the music teacher, came on the platform and led the students in some songs, "Eyes of Texas," "Billy Boy," "Row, Row, Row Your Boat," "Scotland's Burning," and the Victory song were sung. Mrs. Tryby was called on to make a speech but she said she had rather wait until later in the week and give a real pep talk and get every one pepped up about Abilene.

THE BEST YEARS OF A MAN'S LIFE, FOR SPORTS, ARE BETWEEN THE AGES OF TWENTY-FIVE AND THIRTY.

DR. H. C. LEHMAN of Ohio University, in analyzing the ages of sports champions, discovered that the best age for baseball is 25. Amateur golf champions are from 25 to 29—professionals between 30 and 34. Automobile speed kings reach their height at ages from 25 to 29.
