CIO ORGANIZER NAMES FORD PLANT MEN AS KIDNAP GROUP

DALLAS, Oct. 27 (U.P.)—Immediate arrest of three Ford assembly plant employees here was ordered by Police Inspector Will Fritz today after Harry Bowen, 33, of Kansas City, former organizer for the CIO named them as members of a group which kidnaped and beat him yesterday. This development followed Gov. James V. Allred's angry assertion at Austin that he would "send every Ranger in Texas to Dallas" if necessary to stop such outbreaks of labor violence. The governor denied, however,

OLD AGE ARE WITHOUT AID FOR WINTER

AUSTIN, Oct. 27 (U.P.)—Texas legislators went home today empty handed to face 115,000 old age assistance recipients who may be without state aid this winter. The legislature ended its 30-day tax-raising session early this morning without providing new revenue for social security projects, or any other purpose. Stocks were turned back to permit adoption of $899,000 extra rural school transportation aid, obtained through re-allocation in the $5,500,000 rural aid bill. Long before formal adjournment, hope for passing a compromise tax bill were abandoned. The house refused to recede from its demands for more liberal old age assistance and senate representatives declined to grant the demand. Governor James V. Allred reiterated that he had no idea of calling another special session. He did not believe it could succeed where the present session had failed.

OLD AGE ASSISTANCE WARRANTS STOPPED

AUSTIN, Oct. 27 (U.P.)—Writing of warrants for payment of old age assistance for November was ordered stopped this morning by Chairman Claude Teer. Warrants are mailed the 16th of term adopted for payment. Teer hoped to complete arrangements for issuance of payment by that day if we pay $250,000 a month on our bank indebtedness, we will have to reduce the November payment about one-third," Teer estimated. He said he had telegraphed to Board Member John Wallace, who is in Wichita Falls to return for a conference. He also requested federal authorities for a conference.

Hollywood's Golfing Pal

Hollywood's John Montague, golfing pal of filmland greats, was found not guilty of a seven-year-old robbery charge last night by an Adirondack mountain jury at Elizabethtown, New York. Montague, Laverne Moore until seven years ago when he went to Hollywood, smiled broadly when the verdict that freed him was read.

Breck Court Order On Election Voided

EASTLAND, Oct. 27.—Holding B. H. Atchison, judge of 90th district court at Breckenridge, was without jurisdiction in granting an order for issuance of writs of injunction to restrain Eastland county officials from enforcing the dry result of the Sept. 8 Justice Precinct 5 election, 88th district court Tuesday set aside the Breckenridge court's action. The 88th court also adjudged that the order of Judge Atchison directing the clerk of the 88th court to issue temporary injunction is null and void and the clerk was directed to refrain from issuing "such writ of injunction in accordance with such order and that this case remain in status quo to all intentions and purposes as if order had not been granted by the said Honorable B. H. Atchison, judge of the 90th judicial district of Texas." The judgment of 88th court stated that he, B. W. Patterson, and George L. Davenport, judge of the 91st district court, both resident judges of the county, were neither absent, sick, inaccessible, nor were they unable, nor did they refuse to act upon the petition. Eighty-eighth court last Friday refused to grant the application for writ of injunction, holding allegations were insufficient to warrant issuance. An order for injunction was then obtained from Atchison. The case is styled W. S. Adamson, county judge, et al. Plaintiffs are beer retailers of the precinct whose voters favored prohibiting sale of all alcoholic beverages. The plaintiffs seek to have the election adjudged null and void. Milton Lawrence, Eastland, is attorney for the plaintiffs.

HOUSTON, Oct. 27 (U.P.)—Cecil Brott Warby, 29, paroled Illinois convict, was charged with robbery by firearms today after losing an 80-mile-an-hour auto race with police in a stolen car last night. Warby was accused of taking a car from L. W. Koonce, refinery worker, at pistol point, crashing into two other machines, and finally cracking up in front of the central fire station a few steps from police headquarters.

Fractured Skull is Price for Saving Cat

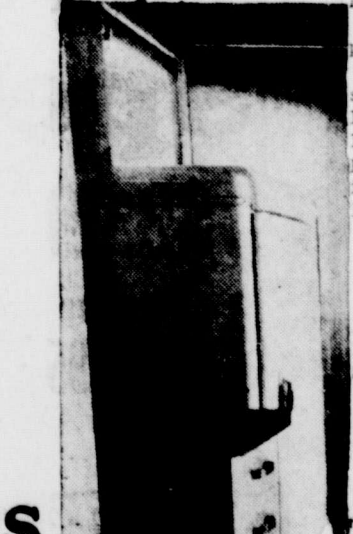

BELGRADE (U.P.)—Saving a black cat nearly cost the life of a Mehmed Mascho, a tramway conductor of Sarajevo. As his tramcar was rounding the corner of Voyvoda Stepe street, Mehmed saw the cat comfortably sleeping in the middle of the track. Uttering a shout to scare it away, Mehmed jammed on the brakes, bringing the car to such a violent stop that he struck his head against the iron work, falling senseless on the platform. Mehmed was taken to the municipal hospital with a fractured skull.

New Arkansas Senator and Family

This family group had every reason to look cheerful, as Congressman John E. Miller of Arkansas, shown with his wife and son, received word that he had defeated Gov. Carl E. Hostess Piqued Robert Taylor 5

HOUSTON (U.P.)—When is a hostess not a hostess? Take some of the instances listed by Miss Irene Martinez, hostess aboard a great Lakes-Gulf Coast airline through Houston. "Sometimes it is because of anticipated romance. "For instance, there was the day," said Miss Martinez "when I thought I was going to meet Robert Taylor. I heard he had signed him as a passenger. I primped a great deal for the trip, boarded the plane and looked for him. Finally I found him. He was 5 years old." Or it might be because of a diplomatic strain. There was the time when a young Mexican general informed Miss Martinez that he hated the United States. "He said he didn't know anything to order in the cafes but ham and eggs. "I told him about roast beef and fried chicken, pork chops and pastry. "I gave him a list of the names of foods in English and Spanish. "What about real romance?" Miss Martinez was asked. "It's there too," she said. "I think these gray and red uniforms we wear have something to do with it. Anyhow there've been three proposals in the last month." G. L. Dixon of Putnam was a business visitor in Cisco Tuesday.

SWIPES TRUCK 1 MILE NORTH ON HIGHWAY 23

Bryant B. Childs, about 40, of Harpersville, was instantly killed this morning at 1 o'clock when the car he was driving collided with a truck driven by Dave McClelland on Highway 23 at the curve just beyond Randolph College. The body was carried to the hospital by J. W. Westertfeld and J. T. Waddell, who were flagged as they were passing, where it was found his neck was broken, it was stated. According to police and Justice Joe Wilson, Mr. McClelland stated that he was driving south when he saw the car meeting him. He pulled out as far to the right as possible, getting both wheels of his truck off the highway. The smaller car struck him and disappeared, but looking around he saw it sitting up with the lights still burning. It had turned over and righted itself. It was presumed that Mr. Childs was returning to his home at Harpersville when the accident occurred. He is well known in Cisco. The deceased is survived by his wife, son, three daughters, and his father, S. R. Childs, who lives at 408 West 10th street, Cisco. The body is in charge of Neil Lane's funeral home. Funeral arrangements are pending the arrival of relatives it was stated this morning.

FARM BOY WENT TO TOWN, FIRED GUN, SPED AWAY

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 27 (U.P.)—Joe Luna, 19, a farm boy from Losoya, drove his wheezy jolopy to town for a two-fold purpose. His first, to visit a bar and second, to learn the big apple. He found the bar and the big apple, too, and it made him happy enough to celebrate. Joe's method of celebrating is what got him into trouble. He pulled his gun, yelled like an Indian and fired two shots at the ceiling. Bar tenders leaped at him Joe emptied his gun and ran for his car. Miraculously it started. He sped away. In the first block, Joe took tenders from two cars. In the second he smashed the rear of a third. He crashed headon with a Ford machine a little farther on, backed away and continued his flight. After two more cars and a switch engine, Joe gave up the chase and motorists surrounded him. "Just having a little fun," he said. Luna was booked on a pistol-carrying charge, drunkenness and negligent collision with a freight train.

Foul Ball Cost Cardinals $4,000

ST. LOUIS (U.P.)—A foul ball that Melvin Ott, Giant outfielder, knocked into the stands at Sportsman's Park in 1932 cost the Cardinals $4,000, the club has found. Mrs. Rose Olds, St. Louis, sued the St. Louis National League baseball club because the ball hit her on the nose, causing serious injuries. A jury in the second trial of the case awarded her the judgment. Mrs. Olds sued for $7,500. An earlier trial resulted in a directed verdict of acquittal for the club.

Economic Highlights

Mr. Roosevelt's announcement of a special session of Congress, to convene November 15, cannot be headlined as a surprise. As this column pointed out some time ago, men in touch with the White House were convinced that the President had determined on a special session months ago, and the only question was the precise date.

Asserted reason for the session is new farm aid legislation, with Federal hours and wages laws as runners-up in importance. But in the view of some commentators, the real purpose of the special session has not been officially announced.

Those who follow politics have noticed a rather remarkable change in Mr. Roosevelt's more recent speeches and public announcements. He has been much less critical than in the past of the groups which oppose his Administration's aims and methods. On his swing around the country, most of his major and minor talks were comparatively mild in tone and wording. It has been widely said by responsible newspapermen, that the speech he had originally planned to deliver at Bonneville was a slashing attack on the opposition—and that he changed his mind, once he got away from the always stultifying air of Washington, and substituted the calm and relatively dispassionate speech he actually delivered.

Mr. Mallon cites a "good friend of the White House" as authority for the statement that the president has: 1. Definitely renounced the plan of heavy government spending to bolster business and prices; feels that government spending must be reduced and the budget balanced, and that price rises must be halted. 2. Abandoned the Supreme Court reorganization measure. 3. Come to the belief that the government can do more for the country by returning to two of the original objectives of his administration—farm aid, and control of wages and hours. 4. Decided to center attention on international affairs (his widely-praised Chicago speech marked the end—here) to "cover removal of emphasis from old politics which have failed."

If all this is true, and there is certainly abundant evidence to justify the guess that it is at least partly true, the New Deal is not only undergoing a reformation but a revolution. This does not mean that the president has eliminated all the more "radical" phases of his past program—he still believes in big-scale government hydro-electric developments, a more strongly centralized government and increased power for the executive. It does mean that some of the theories which caused a major split within his own party, to say nothing of intensifying the opposition of the other party, may have been dropped overboard. At any rate, the theories detailed by Mr. Mallon, and held by other experts in the exciting political field, are worth thinking about. Whether or not they are accurate to any important degree will be proven by the special session, and by the regular session which convenes next January.

McDonald Giant Lens Nears Completion

AUSTIN, Oct. 27.—Information has been received here from Dr. Otto Struve, joint director of the McDonald Observatory of The University of Texas on Mount Locke and Yerkes Observatory of the University of Chicago at Williams Bay, Wis., that as a part of the McDonald Observatory equipment a new camera has been constructed by C. H. Nicholson of DuQuoin, Ill., which consists of a spherical mirror and a thin lens of ultraviolet glass. This camera works at a focal ratio of 1, and is therefore extremely fast.

"Dr. C. T. Elvey and I have used this instrument in recent weeks, photographing the night sky with infrared plates sensitive to radiation intermediate between the reddest visible rays and the heat rays," Dr. Struve reported. "We found to our surprise that the night sky is constantly luminous in an infrared light so that if our eyes were sensitive to these radiations they would see the sky as a luminous surface upon which the stars would appear relatively pale."

It is not yet possible to give a definite date for the completion of the 22-inch mirror of McDonald Observatory, according to Dr. Struve. He visited Cleveland recently and found that while progress is being made in finishing the mirror, it is not yet accurate enough to be used for photography. The amount of glass which remains to be removed is exceedingly minute, corresponding to a thickness of about 0.002 of an inch.

"The removal of this glass is accomplished by polishing the surfaces with a tool of aluminum covered with a small amount of beeswax," Struve announced. Tests made on October 15 indicate that while the shape is almost true to the specifications and while the mirror could even now be used for many observations it will be necessary to continue work for several weeks before we can make the final test."

Lone Star Announces Contest Winners

Ten winners for the first week of the 10-week $1,250 amateur photograph contest being conducted by Lone Star Gas System were announced by judges this week, according to H. L. Dyer, local gas company manager.

The winners are J. D. Hall, Jr., Denton; Mrs. Stanley Fairly and Mrs. Mary Parks, Waco; Robert Schultz and M. Truman Seale, Wichita Falls; Emmett H. Karrer, Fort Worth; Alfred B. Enrick, J. W. Blanton, A. G. Koenig, and George T. Hudspeth, Dallas.

Winning photographs depict comfortable and cozy living in Texas homes from bedroom to kitchen and play room. Scenes included gas radiators, floor furnaces, and radiant space heaters in conformity with one of the principal contest rules that some type of gas heating equipment be included in the scene submitted. Six of the ten winning photographs include children, adults, and animals, four were without any characters. All types of camera equipment from the inexpensive box type to more costly cameras were used in making the winning photos.

Contest rules provide that scenes include a home scene with gas heating equipment and that the photographer be an amateur and not a professional. The contest closes Dec. 18, when four grand prizes totaling $250 cash will be awarded the four best photographs submitted during the ten weeks. Each week $10 cash prizes are awarded for the 10 best photos submitted that week. A total of $1,150 is still to be awarded.

Texas Children Quit Farm for City

COLLEGE STATION, (AP)—Texas rural boys and girls are again looking in increasing numbers toward the bright lights of cities. Dr. C. Horace Hamilton, economist at the Texas A. & M. college has found in a study of rural population trends.

Rural births topped rural deaths in Texas by some 33,000 in 1936, but the farm-to-city movement surpassed the city-to-farm trend by 47,000 persons. Dr. Hamilton's report showed.

An additional 12,000 Texas farmers sought new pastures in other states. City goers and those moving to other states left a decrease of 26,000 in Texas.

WHEN A GIRL FALLS IN LOVE, THE MIDNIGHT SHOW

CHAPTER VI... "He may be heaven's own gift to the art world, and I'd still bet he hasn't a chance to earn three square meals a day unless he gets in a better place, where Mr. and Mrs. Money-bags can peek in. It won't help much if you and I and maybe the folks across the hall drop in to cheer him on, will it?"

On this particular afternoon, Jill had inveigled Patty, who was not in the least interested in art, into going with her to see Alan's pictures.

Patty's description had not prepared Jill for the new girl's strange attractiveness. Ardath was thin, with flaxen hair, which she wore coiled around her head like a cap, giving her a foreign look. Her eyes were a golden-gray, fringed by black lashes. It came to Jill suddenly that Ardath Holm was strikingly like a tiger.

JILL BY MARY RAYMOND

"Don't let's talk about leaving money to people," Jill said with a lump in her throat. "I couldn't bear to think of not having you, dad."

"Dad!" Jill cried, her eyes misty. John Wentworth's voice was husky, as he patted Jill's slim hands. "No worry your pretty head a moment. The old Rock of Gibraltar could be smashed, I guess. But I have an idea it never will. Our company is just about as strong. And it will be as long as men like Oscar Montagne believe in it."

He left the room. Jill sat soberly for a moment. She was ashamed of the little uneasy prickle along her spine. It was natural for Dad to like Mr. Montagne, who was always ready to come to his aid financially. Just as it was natural for her not to like Mr. Montagne's son, who counted on his father's money to make friends for him.

Health Officer Warns Against Common Cold

AUSTIN, Oct. 25— "Beware of the common cold," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state Health Officer, cautions the people of Texas. "This is the season of the year when colds are most prevalent, and their consequences more far reaching. The organism causing the disease is not known, but every individual is acquainted with its effects."

"Not a little of the susceptibility of catching colds can be overcome by a gradual acclimating to low-temperature and inclement outdoor weather. This hardening should begin now, and consist of regular exercise—walking is good—to be continued throughout the winter in weather of every kind. One should be careful to avoid wet stockings drying on the feet, over-heavy clothing and over-heated rooms."

"There are two broad principles to observe in the treatment and prevention of colds. The first says: Let every person with a cold consider it seriously. Every cold should be regarded as the possible beginning of a serious illness. That means seeking a physician's advice and explicitly following his directions. If he orders bed, then bed it should be."

be. Complete rest is a fine way to overcome a cold in short order.

"One's resistance to many diseases, including colds, can be raised by increasing one's vitality through observing the fundamental rules of health; plenty of fresh air, good wholesome food, neither too much nor too little, sufficient rest and avoidance of habitual over-indulgence of devitalizing stimulants including alcohol, tobacco and the like.

"The cold is a common disease," Dr. Cox repeated, "but every cold is important enough to justify careful attention and treatment for its immediate cure. Death-dealing pneumonia and tuberculosis may begin with colds that do not receive care and attention."
