

Mr. Muleshoe . . .

By J. M. Forbes

One of the most likely topics for conversation when any group gets together these days is that of paving our streets. It is the subject most likely to come up when anyone discusses possibilities of improving our fair city.

One friend tells me Lovington, N. M., is paving every street in the city, with the property owners paying most of the burden; it's costing better than $5 a running foot. Sudar's paving, and there have a world of it, is said to have cost less than $2.00, not curbing. Many of our citizens want curbing, others say they are not going to insist on it.

In the opinion of this writer, nothing, not anything, is so important, needs to be done so badly.

Paving would permit the property owner to go to work on his yard and make Muleshoe one of the prettiest little towns in the west. With no grass growing, shrubs whipped about by the winds, no green showing anywhere, it's pretty hard for the home owner to make his premises attractive. Yet hundreds and hundreds of dollars have been spent by our citizens through the years in a vain effort to have lawns, shrubs, beautiful surroundings.

Arlie Thomas says the city officials and employees deserve a vote of thanks for their work on our streets, grading them, etc. We do the best we can all around but eventually we intend to pave. Most citizens, we think, are in the mood. We realize, however, that we can't have everything at once and sometimes it seems we do need everything at once.

Congratulations, graduates of our high school. This column congratulates you upon reaching the stage where you can begin really to educate yourselves. You have the fundamentals needed to begin to make yourself an educated person. Your teachers, parents, and we repeat here, that your education is just beginning, that education is a lifelong undertaking, and that if you go about your further education with that spirit, it will be a pleasure and, which is more, you will become a truly educated person.

We congratulate, also, the graduates of our grade schools upon having attained this first milestone, an important one, although the limelight is not so focused upon it as upon completion of high school. When you come to high school commencement day, will your class be as large as it is now? Chances are it won't, but you can try to be among those present on that happy day.

It has always been a mystery to the writer of this column why he ever tries to preach, anyway. Kids don't pay no attention to me to begin with.

Commencement Is Friday Night

Sixty-one members of the senior class of Muleshoe high school will be made happy Friday night, May 26, when they are handed their diplomas, signifying completion of four years of study. It is the largest class ever to graduate here, and the class has an added distinction, in that these seniors of 1950 are the first to be graduated from the new high school building, in which they have studied for only one month.

The spacious auditorium of the new building will be the scene of this graduation ceremony.

Mrs. Sam Damron will play the processional to begin the program. Rev. M. E. Robinson, pastor of the Main Street Baptist Church, will pronounce the invocation and saxophone quartet composed of Jo Addine Wagon, Helen Stovall, J. Ann Wyer and Janice Jordan will present special music.

Arlyn Kriegel, second highest honor student, will give the salutatory address. The salutatory address will read the class history. "Our School Today" is the subject of the address by Bill Green. Mary Jo White, top student of the class, will give the valedictory address, after which Jack Henderson, a member of the board of trustees, and Supt. W. C. Grandy will present diplomas.

Jarry R. Kirk, principal of high school, is scheduled to present awards and the senior class will then sing "Auld Lang Syne." Supt. Grandy will then give the benediction and Mrs. Damron will play the processional. It will be noted that the class will mostly give the program, there being no principal speaker slated.

Baccalaureate services were held in the auditorium last Sunday night with Minister Ebbert, pastor of the Muleshoe Church of Christ giving the baccalaureate sermon.

Recent Showers Boost Total To Nearly 3/4 Inch For This Year

The weather man has been tantalizing the people of this territory by sending over clouds that surely looked like a ground soaker was coming, and winding up by "settling the dust."

In recent showers, Muleshoe received enough to bring the year's total rainfall for the first four and one-half months to almost three quarters of an inch.

Last Friday night, May 12, Muleshoe received a shower amounting to .26 of an inch; the next day, Saturday, .03 of an inch fell; and Monday, the 15th, another shower deposited .16 of an inch of moisture, bringing the total for this wet spell to .45 of an inch.

Previously, until the first of May, a total precipitation for this year in Muleshoe had been .25 of an inch, bringing the year's total to Wednesday of this week to .70. But this is not all. Virtually no rain fell during the last months of last year; the precipitation in September was 1.81; in October 1.23; in November .19; and in December .31. The above figures serve to show why it's very dry most everywhere in this country.

However, some localities report nice showers at the time Muleshoe was receiving the dust settles, some having as much as 2 inches, it was said. Non-irrigated land likely is still too dry to plant, at least nearly everywhere. Some cotton is beginning to show across the fields on irrigated farms and on these farms feed crops in many places are up to a fine stand.

Summer weather prevailed on three days of May so far; high temperature Tuesday here, according to R. J. Klump, weather recorder, was 91 degrees.

RECEIVED HALF INCH

Johnny Glasscock said about a half inch of rain fell at his place, located about 7 miles northwest of Muleshoe Saturday afternoon. A very light shower fell Monday there.

Candidates Must File By June 19

Prospective candidates for county and precinct offices will have plenty of time to file for office in Texas, but they are reminded that June 19th is the last day on which they may file with the County Democratic Chairman for a place on the ballots in the July primary election.

It has been the sad experience of several candidates in Bailey County during the past few years to awake up to the fact that it was too late to attend to this important duty, with the result that his name could not be legally placed on the ballots. Some candidates, who have been barred from the ballot in the past, had labored under the impression that when he made his public announcement for office that that was sufficient. But such is not the case.

Candidates, under Texas statutes, are required to file their names with the County Democratic Chairman—who happens to be George Johnson in Bailey County—and pay their assessment for conducting the election before their names can be placed on the voting sheets.

Bond Election Voted Down

The proposed $100,000 bond issue of the Muleshoe school district was killed in election Saturday when the people voted 224 to 100 against it.

Purpose of the bond issue would have been to finance the construction of a gymnasium for the new high school building, to improve the grounds of the new school campus, and to renovate and rework the old high school building, now the junior high building.

More votes than usual were polled in Saturday's election, it being one of the largest in recent years. Without the benefit of the bond issue, some improvements will be necessary for the junior high school. A new heating system is one of the improvements that will have to be made.

Harold King, mayor, told The Journal that the city commission feels that any raise, however just and reasonable, should follow and not precede improvements in the type of service the Southwestern Associated provides in Muleshoe. He said the city officials recall that "for ten years or more" the obsolete condition of the phone plant here has been the subject of innumerable conferences on the part of various citizens with phone company representatives.

The commission is not willing to grant raises, he said, without better assurances than have been given that improvements now promised really will be effected. The city commission, too, does not like the proposal to install a dial system here when that system will be tied into the Littlefield switchboard and all LD calls will be routed through that city.

People Are Free To Act

The refusal on the part of the city commission to approve the rate raises proposed by the phone company does not preclude any action on the part of the patrons of the phone company, King said, and the commission will do nothing to prevent their taking action if in the judgment of the majority the commission is taking the wrong stand. If the people do approve of the raises, the city commission still will refuse to give official sanction to the changes, however.

In a statement made at the time request for an increase in wages was presented, the phone company produced figures showing that they had lost 451.93 on their Muleshoe operations in 1949. They cited advance in wages, and higher costs of materials they use as reasons for this loss.

The telephone company proposed new rates for business, residence, rural, and on subscriber-owned lines, and said that for residence users the new rates represented an increase of from less than one cent to two-thirds of a cent per day; for business users, they said, the new rates would represent an increase of three and one-third cents per day.

The telephone company last year announced in the press their plans to build a dial system in Muleshoe and to build an office building for their plant. So far as is known, no work on these projects has been started.

Here's WD finger-tip control for all trail-type equipment built for standard hydraulic control. This simple ram assembly meets ASAE specifications . . . and lets you make full use of the WD hydraulic system.

1. Raises or lowers headers or cutter bars without effort.
2. The one-way cylinder does not "freeze" the lift. Leaves it free to raise and lower over obstructions without damage.
3. Quick coupling—one hose, less bulk and weight to move from one implement to another.
4. Plenty of power for a quick, sure lift.

A small investment will make your farming a lot easier. Stop in and ask us about it.

Home Market Could Be Best

COLLEGE STATION, May 15—Last October 15 Texas producers received, on the average, $1.05 per bushel for corn and $1.67 per hundred for grain sorghums. Can they expect as much this fall? According to C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist of Texas A. & M. College, most of the USDA crystal gazers don't think so.

More corn and grain sorghums are being planted. Bates says the seed supplies of the better adapted varieties have been good and are being used. With average weather conditions and increased use of fertilizers, grain production could exceed the big crop of 1949.

Bates says plans should be made now for the most profitable use of the feed grains that will be produced. Market outlets for cash grains is not bright. Storage supplies are heavy. He points out that Texas corn producers are eligible for loans of about 70 to 75 percent of parity, as against the 90 percent loans in the corn belt, reason, Texas is not in the commercial area.

Last fall, at some local markets, corn prices were only 90 cents per bushel and Bates says some growers believe that prices will be even lower this fall provided production is up to expectations. Should this occur, he says growers might profit by either planning to take the government loan on a portion of the crop or feed it to livestock.

Favorable prices are in prospect for hogs, beef cattle and lambs, especially the earlier finished animals, says Bates. But most farms will need additional equipment such as, fences, water facilities, barns, feeding equipment and maybe more storage space before a feeding program can be started, he adds. Then there's the problem of securing quality feeder animals.

He says now is the time for planning these operations. It is not too early to begin getting things in shape for the jobs that must be done this fall and Bates suggests that you ask your local county agricultural agent for information on the type of program that might double the price you receive for your grain crops.

IT'S NOT UNUSUAL to find many radio stars participating in all sorts of vigorous sports as an after hour hobby. It is a surprise, however, to learn that lovely Joan Alexander, who plays the role of Della Street on the CBS "Perry Mason" weekday dramas, is not only an accomplished equestrian, but has also performed remarkable feats of horsemanship.

Joan Alexander, ship. Recently at New York's Madison Square Garden, Joan rode on a "Hunt Team" against powerful competition, and although her team didn't get "in the ribbons," Joan says she hopes to return to the Garden arena for another crack at those pretty colored victory symbols.

JUST ONCE A YEAR, NBC's Tuesday evening "Cavalcade of America" deviates from its usual pattern of presenting historical dramas and broadcasts one all musical program. The program is a full half-hour of choral singing directed by Frank J. Clark, Jr. and is repeated this year for the fourth time. Last year "Etude" magazine selected it as a top musical broadcast of the holiday season — which is a well-deserved honor for director Clark whose musical career includes soloist for Toscanini, choral directing and radio technique with Fred Waring and working with other top names in the musical world.

MUSKY, handsome Ralph Bellamy wins first honors as the busiest "detective" in New York, the only one who is "on duty" seven days every week from 10:00 a.m. until midnight. Playing the lead role in Sidney Kingsley's Broadway hit, "Detective Story," the star is on stage six nights a week. Then he rehearses every day, including Sunday, for his part as "Mike Barnett," the tough private detective who never carries a gun, in "Man Against Crime," telecast every Friday at 8:30 p.m. e.s.t., over a CBS-TV national network.

Rotary Hoe Is Designed To Cut Cotton Crop Cost

COLLEGE STATION, May 16—Next to harvesting, cotton chopping and hoeing are the greatest man hour consumers in the production of a cotton crop. In central Texas, for example, 22 percent of the man hours required to produce a cotton crop are spent on chopping and hoeing. According to Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton work specialist of Texas A. & M. College, cotton producers can reduce this time consuming operation by using rotary hoes and at the same time increase their income from cotton.

He says many farmers last year reported that they made savings up to 50 percent on these two items through the use of the rotary hoe. Figures taken from Elliott's 1949 annual report shows that almost 7,000 cotton producers in 81 Texas counties used the rotary hoe last year.

In commenting on the value of this tractor equipment for early weed control, he says one of the most common mistakes made by the tractor operator is that the ground speed of the tractor is too slow. For best results, he says the tractor should be operated in third gear at speeds up to 5 or 6 miles per hour. The picker wheels should be set so they will break the surface crust to a depth of one-half to three-fourths of an inch. This not only breaks up the surface crust but also tears up the soil so that seedling weeds and grass are exposed to the action of the sun and wind before they have a chance to come through the ground or before their root system becomes established.

He reports that most farmers slow down the tractor because they are afraid that they will cover up the cotton plants or tear up the soil to such an extent as to cause damage to the young plants, however tests, he says have proved that this is not true if the rotary hoe is properly adjusted.

Ground Water Conservation Units Would Bring Educational Help

(This is one of a series of informative articles prepared by the High Plains Water Conservation Association, of which The Bailey County Water Conservation Association is an associate member.)

By SALLA RODMAN

Creation of ground-water conservation districts, as authorized by the 51st Texas Legislature, would put into service need educational agencies to help the irrigation farmer figure how to make the most profitable use of his underground water supply.

As independent locally-controlled organizations of water users, districts could, for example, make investigations to find out which irrigation systems are the cheapest and most practical for use on the High Plains. By publicizing which system provided the best utilization of water with the least water, the cost of useless pumping and the waste of water could be avoided.

A district's investigations might also provide the answers to these questions: What size pump is best to use under the conditions of the ground-water basin in this particular area? How much and how long is it safe to pump without permanently damaging the water supply? How close together may wells be drilled without the danger of mutual interference ruining either farmer's investment in sprinkler or flood-type irrigation more efficient or more productive or cheaper in this part of the country?

Serving the farmers by making known which crops will make the most money with the least water would be another useful educational function of a district. Take alfalfa and cotton, for instance. Alfalfa requires nearly three times as much water as cotton, but cotton usually sells for more. And in addition, cotton can be produced for less, because less costly pumping is required.

Of course, a district could not tell its members what crops to plant or how much water to pump, but it could point out the most beneficial use of the water and the most profitable use.

Another function of districts would be to conduct experiments and carry out projects to re-charge underground water reservoirs, thereby making more water available for use and insuring a constant supply.

One of the principal ways of re-charging might be through wet-weather lakes. These old lake bottoms fill up after heavy rains, and much of the water evaporates before it can be put to any beneficial use. Experiments have shown that the underground water level adjacent to some of these lakes rises as the water seeps downward, whereas the water level is not affected further away from the lakes. The logical conclusion is that the rainfall is reaching the water table through seepage. By digging holes in the lake beds, or otherwise disturbing their surface, it may be possible to help more water get down to the water table.

Obviously, most farmers don't have the time or money to conduct such experiments. Through districts it could be done, and both individual and large-scale projects for re-charging could be carried out.

Junior High School Boys And Girls Softball Teams Have Good Year

Coach Geneva Stewart and her junior high school boys and girls ended their softball schedule with a splendid record. The girls lost their first four games but came back with six wins. In the finals, played on the home diamond last week, they won the first game from Bula, but Bula came back the next day to take a victory by one score 35 to 34. This gave the local girls six wins and five losses for the year.

Members of the girls team are: Bethal Willeford, rf; Oma Dell Gabbert, 2b; Barbara Lewallen, 3b; Shirley Parker, cf; Bobbie Bowen, ss; Cor Vinson, c; Patsy Templar, lf; Mary Lambert, 1b; Edith Johnson, ss; Marda Meason, p; Joyce Hunt, rf; Wilma Kelton, cf; Sue Hill, lf; June Dement, rf; Charlene Cox, 2b; Lynda McCormick, 1b.

Lewallen, the captain, led in scores with 41, four of them home runs. Gabbert was next with 38 runs, 4 of them homers. Each girl contributed a fine spirit and some very fine playing was displayed. We want to say thank you to Frank Cummings, Mrs. Ruth Page, and Mrs. Curtis Spivey for calling the games.

Boys Have Good Record
The boys likewise have a fine record with 8 wins and only 2 losses. Both losses went to Bula. The boys lost their final game by a 20 to 18 defeat. Boys line up consists of:

Bill Barnett, cf; Joe Edd Coffee, ss; Roy Harris, 3b; Harold Jones, p; Junior McKnight, rf; Travis Clements, c; Lawrence Jackson, lf; Billy Estep, 1b; Robert Richards, p; Johnny Williams, 2b; Burnise Lambert, 2b; Leon Harvey, rf; Jerry Fountain, cf; Billy Ellis, lf; Marvin Walton, ss; D. L. Morrison, ss.

Jones led with 17 runs, 6 of which were homers. Harris, the captain, ran a close race with Jones in getting 16 scores, 5 of them home runs. In the 10 games played the local team ran in 138 runs while our opponents got only 78. Both boys and girls have four things to attribute to their victories: fair play, teamwork, sportsmanship, and our coach, Miss Stewart, who has labored so kindly and faithfully with us.

Ramsey Announces For Lt. Governor

Ben Ramsey of San Augustine, backed by a long record of outstanding service in both the Texas House and Senate, has announced for Lieutenant Governor.

Ramsey resigned as secretary of state Feb. 9 to prepare for the state race, convinced that the thinking people of Texas must take a more active interest in the actual operation of their state government.

Ramsey has been a leader in advancing rural electrification in the state and in the farm-to-market road program. (Pol. Adv.—Paid for by friends of Ben Ramsey)

Laying Hens Are Of Short Life

COLLEGE STATION, May 16—Laying hens are not so fortunate as the "proverbial cat". They have only one life to live and the length of that life, says professor E. D. Parnell, department of poultry husbandry, Texas A. & M. College System, may well determine whether the poultryman uses black or red ink for his bookkeeping job.

If you're an average poultryman,

Parnell hopes you are not, you lost 17 percent of your growing turkeys and almost 20 percent of your laying chicken hens during 1949. That was on a national basis but the hens in Texas die sometime during their first year of egg production. Poultrymen, he points out, who suffer such flock losses are burning or burying their poultry profits with the dead hens.

He says there are lots of good drugs available to help with the fight against diseases but their use is only a part of the answer. Preventative practices must be used more widely, he believes so the poultry just will not have any excuse for getting sick.

Here are some practices that poultrymen have found mighty effective for preventing disease outbreaks, says Parnell. When new birds, unless it's day old stock, or when birds are returned from shows or contests, keep them isolated for a few days and watch them closely for possible disease outbreaks. If one occurs, never add them to the flock. Keep the young and old stock completely separated at all times. This is one place where segregation pays off. Such a practice may be hard to follow on many farms but it pays high dividends.

Use deep, dry litter in the poultry house. If the litter is kept dry and the mud puddles are eliminated, disease germs will have a hard time surviving on the farm. A good sanitation program plus close checking, immediate treatment or removal from the flock of all possible disease carriers, says Parnell will go a long way towards keeping a lot of the young hens that die every year on the job. And this in turn can materially increase your poultry profits.

WHERE WILL IT STOP?
Pointing to a report just made by the Census Bureau showing that Texas is one of the five states leading the nation in state government spending, the Council of Texas Retailers' Associations, is pushing a program "to help halt needless state spending and ruinous taxation," according to H. E. Dill, secretary of the organization. The Council's program is in behalf of more economy in the state government and opposes "a general state sales tax, a state income, or other similar taxes under misleading names that would really amount to a sales tax and would further burden consumers and business."

The Council, a federation of eleven statewide retail associations whose membership numbers some 26,000 stores and businesses in every section of Texas, has its program well underway to assist in arousing public attention to the taxation situation, Dill said.

"The cost of our Texas state government has more than tripled in 10 years and has more than doubled in the past 4 years," the Council's secretary emphasized. "The 1949 session of the legislature provided for state expenditures totaling more than $514 million in 1950, an increase of over $110 million in state expenses over 1948," he added.

"The state must choose between a substantial cut in expenditures or a heavy new tax bill, and Texans don't want a sales tax, or some kindred tax under a misleading name," Dill declared. "If the rate of spending established by the 1949 legislature two

RABSON DISCUSSES America's "Magic Circle"

Eureka, Kans. May 12. (Before describing the resources and opportunities of this section, I must pay my respects to the Pacific Coast. In some ways it and other sections exceed in attractions the "Magic Circle". I especially have in mind CLIMATE. With this apology, readers outside the following six states will forgive me for telling this story.)

Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Northern Texas make up the "Magic Circle" area of 400 miles diameter, located at the heart of the United States. The center of the "Magic Circle" is at Eureka, Kansas. Its annual income has increased in ten years from six to sixteen billion dollars, or an increase of about one thousand dollars a year for each man, woman and child.

AGRICULTURAL WEALTH
This "Magic Circle" is said to be the richest 400-mile radius for agriculture on earth. To the west is the greatest winter wheat area; to the east the greatest corn belt; to the north is the greatest cotton belt; and the center is one of the greatest beef cattle raising areas. This "Magic Circle" is rapidly becoming one of the richest vegetable, fruit, egg, hog, poultry, alfalfa, soybean and dairy products areas. It is an inexhaustible source of hay, straw and vegetable cellulose for the manufacture of wallboard, roofing, insulating material, paper, cardboard, films, plastics, thickeners, coatings, rayons and the many other magic synthetics of modern science. Almost 30% of recent prices, of the agricultural production of America, comes from the "Magic Circle". It is truly the greatest of the seven great bread-baskets of the earth,—three in Asia, the two in Europe and the two in North and South America.

MINERAL WEALTH
America's "Magic Circle" is the richest 400-mile radius in minerals. Under its western plains lie the greatest gypsum, salt deposits and gas fields, with a reasonable amount of oil production; to the north are the greatest bauxite and aluminum deposits; to the east the greatest lead and zinc mines; while to the south are the greatest sources of sulphur, coal and petroleum. There are vast deposits of cement and other building materials, such as glass sands, bentonite, dolomite, barites, tripoli, granites, sandstones, limestones and ceramic clays. Nearby are great reserves of volcanic ash, potash, nitrates and other fertilizers.

HUMAN RESOURCES & MARKETS
The "Magic Circle" is also rich in human resources. Fifteen million people live in the "Magic Circle", five million living on farms, and almost one million engaged as skilled or semi-skilled workers. Twenty-three percent of all public schools in America are located in the "Magic Circle", from which twelve percent have attended college. Selective Service Records show these Prairie States were the healthiest of all the U. S. Even the commanding generals of the last four great wars of American history came from the "Magic Circle"—General Grant, General Funston, General Pershing and General Eisenhower! People there think more about God and try harder to live by the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount. The little white churches work with the little red school houses developing a Utopia of government. Surrounding the "Magic Circle" are among the greatest markets of the earth. Within 500 miles of its circumference are fifty-five million of rich and intelligent customers. The world's best transportation system, consisting of 2,000,000 miles of highway, 165,000 miles of railroads and unlimited airlines spread from the "Magic Circle" to serve these markets.

SAD POPULATION TRENDS
Yet in the period from 1930 to 1940 more than a million and a half people moved away from these six great states! Only the birth rate saved them from a net loss during that ten year period. Its greatest loss was among its young people—many of them college men and women,—the topsoil of energy, imagination, ability and enthusiasm. The explanation is that most of the "Magic Circle" income is from agriculture and only very little from industry and business,—whereas, for the United States as a whole, just the opposite is true. Here, the richest agricultural, mineral and human area on the earth is losing population because it lacks the industry to convert its raw materials into finished products.

The "Magic Circle" "gives away" its wheat to Battle Creek at $75 a ton and then buys it back, as corn flakes or shredded wheat, at $500 a ton. It "gives away" hay and wheat straw at $15 a ton and then buys back paper and cellulose pulp products at $100 a ton. It "gives away" alfalfa at $15 a ton and buys it back from Detroit as vitamin pills at $1000 a ton. It "gives away" cowhides at $5 to $10 a hide and buys back shoes and fancy leather goods at $100 a hide. It "gives away" its petroleum at $2 a barrel and buys back flavoring extracts, synthetics and perfumes made from this oil, at $1200 a barrel. It "gives away" its salt at $3 a pound and buys back industrial chemicals and medical preparations, made with this same salt, at $2000 a ton. The "Magic Circle" destroys billions of cubic feet of gas for carbon black at 5c a pound and buys back shoe polish at $1 a pound! The "Magic Circle" ships a dollar's worth of volcanic ash to Chicago where a little soap is added and then it is shipped back to the "Magic Circle" in fancy colored boxes as kitchen cleansers at 100 times the price. The same comparisons likewise apply to what happens to all other agricultural and mineral products.

PRESENT OPPORTUNITIES
The immediate opportunities which I see here are in developing processed food products, coke and by-products, paving and roofing materials, furniture, paper, stone, clay and glass products; textile manufacturers, wearing apparel, electrical equipment, farm implements, stationary gasoline engines, chemicals, drugs, rubber goods, leather products, and many additional goods. To manufacture existing raw materials into these deficit products would require 10,000 additional plants, producing an average of $300,000 a year each, supporting 2,000,000 more people and providing investment for approximately $5,000,000,000 of new capital in the form of increased bank deposits, insurance funds and safe securities. But to put this over 100,000 more salesmen of character, intelligence and energy are necessary. These are the immediate need.

(This trip has again convinced me that Horace Greeley's famous advice: "Go West Young Man" continues to be good. Readers desiring to ask any special question should write Byron Dunn, President of the National Bank of Commerce, Lincoln, Nebraska, who is also President of the Magic Circle Educational Foundation,—a non-profit institution.

Cancer of the digestive organs kills more Americans than any other type, the American Cancer Society points out.

Springlake Coach
Mulder $500 Bond

Plagued assault charges were filed last Tuesday against Baker, coach at Springlake School, following an alleged fight between the coach and Newman.

S. T. Newman, high school principal at Springlake.

Newman was taken to the South Plains Cooperative hospital at Amherst for treatment of injuries received in the altercation.

Baker pleaded not guilty and was released under $500 bond. A few hours following the trouble between the coach and Newman, the Springlake school board relieved Baker of his duties for the rest of the school term. He resigned his coaching position several weeks ago, to become effective at the close of school this month.

The alleged fight between Baker and Newman occurred on Springlake school premises early Tuesday afternoon of last week.

67,000 Needless Deaths
 One out of every three cancer deaths last year could have been prevented by early detection and prompt treatment the American Cancer Society says.

DAY PROVES Honesty To Local Man

A rather unusual occurrence happened here last Thursday. A disabled veteran was selling artificial poppies here and approached a local man. He did not have the correct change so he gave the veteran a five-dollar bill to have changed, and he forgot who gave it to him.

After looking up and down the highway for the owner for some time and failing to recognize the man who gave him the bill, he and his supervisor left the bill at the Journal office and ran an ad in the paper for someone to claim it.

Friday afternoon Homer Foster described the bill and the incident and said that the five-dollar bill belonged to one of the men working for him, Horace May.

Mr. May now has his money back and the veteran's conscience is clear.

Saturday finds Trudy Marshall and Donald Woods in "Barbary Pirate." Sunday brings William Elliott and Marie Windsor to the screen in "Hellfire" filmed in tricolor in a scenic western setting. Roddy McDowell, one of the younger generation's favorite stars, will appear in "Killer Shark" Tuesday and Wednesday.

A new Warner Bros. sensation, "Backfire," starring Virginia Mayo and Gordon McRae, will show next Thursday and Friday at the Palace.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Soul and Body" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientists, on Sunday, May 21.

The Golden Text is: "My soul, wait thou upon God; for my expectation is from him" (Psalms 62:5).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord" (II Corinthians 5:8).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We must destroy the false belief that life and intelligence are in matter, and plant ourselves upon what is pure and perfect" (page 222).

Highway Department Operations Traffic Safety

(Article No. 2) BARRIER LINES FOR NO-PASSING ZONES

Take a look at the broken or dashed line in the sketches shown below and then look again. This is a barrier line for a no-passing zone, and it can be readily recognized on the road because it is yellow paint covered with thousands of small glass beads that reflect light from car headlights to make the stripe more visible.

This is a companion line for the center line on two lane roads and lane lines on three lane roads at points where you do not have a clear view of the road ahead for a distance of at least 1,000 feet, and there are some 23,000 miles of highways on the State Highway System on which such points are marked. The broken yellow barrier line is one of the big guns fired by the Highway Department in the battle for traffic safety. The Highway Commission recently provided ammunition in the form of a $500,000 appropriation for highway pavement markings during the year 1950.

What does the broken yellow barrier line mean? It means that you are violating the law when you cross a barrier line that is on your side of the center line, and you are subject to arrest and fine if you are caught. Even if you are not caught, it means that you are inviting a chance to shake hands with death.

Remember that it takes about 2,400 feet or six and one-half blocks for you to pass a car traveling 50 m.p.h. when you are traveling 60 m.p.h. and there is a car in the opposite line traveling toward you at 60 m.p.h. When the dashed line is in your lane you cannot see the roadway ahead for more than 1,000 feet, or three blocks, and blind flying is hazardous.

Last year's toll from violations of the broken barrier line was 22 dead, 109 injured, and $689,350 in economic loss. The accidents that resulted in this toll of deaths, injuries, and property damage cannot be justified on the basis of a mistake in judgment on the part of motorists—they were violations in which the innocent as well as the guilty paid the price.

Don't let your impatience get the better of you and try to pass when there is a broken yellow barrier line in your lane unless directed to do so by an officer, for you are not only endangering your own life but that of an innocent motorist as well.

Labor Advised to Save for Future With U. S. Bonds

Washington, D. C.—The Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin today urged American workers to participate in the Independence Bond Drive by buying a "share" of America in the form of a Savings Bond. He said: "Today millions of American workers have the good thrift habit of investing their savings in Bonds. Most of them are buying Bonds regularly through Payroll Savings Plans where they work. "I urge every American wage earner to save for his personal future security and, at the same time, 'Buy a Share in America,' by buying United States Savings Bonds regularly."

Chronic Disease Biggest Problem

AUSTIN, May 16—State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox believes chronic diseases represent the biggest problem facing health officials today. Recent statistics compiled by the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Texas State Department of Health, show: 1. One-third of all deaths among 15-29 year olds are due to chronic diseases, with tuberculosis being the leader. 2. "Well over half" the mortality in the 30-40 age group is due to chronic disease, with heart trouble, cancer and tuberculosis being the leaders. 3. "Almost 8 out of 10" deaths in the 45-59 bracket are caused by this disease classification, with the proportion rising to 85 per cent for those 60 to 74 years old. 4. For those 75 and over chronic diseases cause 82 per cent of the total mortality. The slight decrease in percentage over age 75 is because of the high susceptibility to accidents, pneumonia, and influenza among the aged. "When chronic disease is mentioned, all too many people think of the problem as being confined to the middle-aged or older," the

Code Committee Schedules Last Water Hearing

"The last Regional Hearing of Texas Water Code Committee in Houston May 24th and 25th will probably be the best attended meeting we have had thus far," Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg, Chairman of this Legislative Committee, stated in Austin yesterday. "From all sections of Southeast Texas have come requests from citizens desiring to appear before the committee at its meeting at the Rice Hotel in Houston. We are anxious to hear every citizen who desires to be heard and we will hold night sessions if necessary," the Senator said.

"The intense interest manifested by the people of Texas, and particularly in and around Houston, indicates to us that our work in revising the Water Laws was not begun a bit too soon," Senator

Kelley added. It is estimated that between 75 and 100 witnesses will be heard by the Committee at this meeting.

Colonel George Knapp and Victor Bouldin, host members at this meeting, report from Houston that they have been swamped with telephone calls from persons and organizations desiring information concerning the hearings which will begin at 9:00 a. m. and continue throughout Wednesday and Thursday, May 24th and 25th.

Anyone desiring to be heard by this Legislative Committee should notify either of those gentlemen or L. Hamilton Lowe, Executive Secretary, P. O. Box 2331, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas.

S. S. BENEFITS BASED ON WAGES REPORTED

Federal retirement and family insurance payments are based on the wages shown in each worker's account as reported by all employers during a working lifetime. That's why it is important that employees show each different employer their social security account number card, so that the name and number may be copied on the records exactly as it appears

ROBERT S. CALVERT OF AUSTIN

Announces his candidacy for Comptroller of Public Accounts, an office he has held by appointment by the late Governor Beauford H. Jester since the death of Geo. M. Sheppard in January 1949.

Calvert, a veteran public servant, has served nineteen years as Financial Statistician and Chief Clerk in the Comptroller's Office which he now heads.

A native Texan, born in McLennan County and reared in Brown and Nolan Counties, Calvert is seeking his first elective term for the office of State Comptroller. He is a World War I veteran, a member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Lions Club, and the Masonic Lodge. He is a member of the First Christian Church of Austin where he is presently serving as Chairman of the General Board.

get it 1 or 2 times out of a month and when I mention it to our carriers, they say, Well, there's lots of papers at the office with no name on them, see. We don't know where they go.

Please put my address on the paper as well as on the wrapper—with so much mail the wrapper comes off and they don't know where it belongs. I like the paper but I only get it once or twice a month. I get so mad I could fight. Please put my address on paper as well as on wrapper and oblige.

MRS. V. M. GILLEY.

Editor's Note: No we don't blame her. It is the first complaint like it that we have received, but we will try to wrap the papers better. However, the way the mailing list is arranged it would be very hard to put the address on both paper and wrapper, but we will see and anyway, Thanks, Mrs. Gilley.

Boll Weevil To Help Harvest Cotton This Year

The boll weevil and other cotton pests are getting ready to enjoy another year of high living at the expense of Texas cotton farmers. When the boll weevil lives high, the cotton farmer's income dwindles. This means that farmers have less money to spend for the things they need and for the little luxuries that go to make up good living. The boll weevil gets fat and the cotton farmer gets poor. Income of businesses patronized by the cotton farmer is reduced.

According to an unofficial estimate of the National Cotton Council, insect losses for the Cotton Belt last year totaled approximately $470,111,000.

In Texas these losses amounted to $39,635,000, or about $228 per cotton farm. Pests destroyed an estimated four per cent of the crop.

What percentage of this year's cotton crop will the boll weevil and his greedy running mates consume?

Our entomologists warn that in many areas the threat of boll weevil damage during this season

Ramsey Runs For Lt. Governor

AUSTIN, May 15.—Ben Ramsey of San Augustine, who has a long record of service in both houses of the Legislature, today formally announced his candidacy for lieutenant governor of Texas.

The tall East Texan resigned this spring as secretary of state in order to prepare to make the state race. He was appointed secretary of state in January, 1949, by the late Governor Beauford Jester and continued to serve under Governor Allan Shivers when he took office.

Ramsey began his political career in 1930 when he was elected to the House from San Augustine County. He served in the House four years and in 1940 was elected to the Texas Senate, where he served eight years.

The East Texas Senator has always been held in high regard by his fellow members of the Legislature, regardless of differences in voting, and the Senate demonstrated this in 1947 by electing him President Pro-Tempore of the Senate.

Ramsey, born and reared in San Augustine County, has been a leader in the advancement of rural electrification in the state. For the past ten years he has been attorney for the Deep East Texas Electric Cooperative, and during this time this pioneering rural utility has grown into one of the largest and most financially sound in Texas.

HERE'S A LESSON from Eve Arden, star-teacher of CBS Sunday show, "Our Miss Brooks." Eve wears this pure silk, black jersey blouse (¾ length sleeves and shirred effect draped front) with various skirts and jewelry for change of effect. Her favorite skirt is a heavy green satin one trimmed with pieces of black jet.

Freeman Melton Springlake Coach

The Springlake School Board met in regular session May 5, 1956, and elected Freeman Melton, Jr., as coach for the 1956-57 school year.

Mr. Melton's home is Wellington, Texas, and he graduated from West Texas State College, Canyon, in May. He is a veteran, having served in the Navy during the last war.

Mrs. Melton was also elected to serve as a teacher in the elementary school. Her home is Hereford, and she is also a graduate of West Texas State College.

REPRESENTATIVES OF THE GOVERNOR HERE THURSDAY

Marshall Formby, former state senator for this district, and J. J. Pickle, the governor's office in Austin were visitors in Muleshoe Thursday. They called on old friends here, met many others in their half day stay. Purpose of their visit was to help consolidate sentiment in favor of the reelection of Governor Allan Shivers. definite date in mind. Governor Shivers likely will visit the Panhandle during the campaign, Mr. Pickle said, although he does not at this time have a definite date in mind. Mr. Shivers became governor upon the death of Governor Jester, and is now offering for election to a full term.

Future of Hero's Son Protected By U. S. Bonds

Tulsa, Oklahoma — Six-year-old Bennie Ray Wagner, Jr., is a hero's son. He was presented the Silver Star for gallantry in action awarded posthumously to his father, Pfc. Bennie Ray Wagner, who was killed in action on Luzon, March 15, 1945. Every month a government allotment check arrives at his home in Tulsa. That is Bennie's check. And each month he and his grandmother go downtown to buy a U. S. Savings Bond in order that Bennie's financial future be as secure as possible. Little Bennie believes in the Treasury's Independence Bond Drive slogan, "Save for your independence." The boy's guardian, Herbert M. Gibson, a Tulsa insurance man, says that his blond young ward is well on the way to security and now owns $1,000 in U. S. Series E Savings Bonds.
