The Hospital Auxiliary Gift Shop is now handling crafts as well as the regular gift items. They also have reduced prices on numerous items—some to half price. The Gift Shop is open Monday mornings 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. Tuesday afternoons 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. and Thursdays 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. They will welcome your visit to the shop.

High school sophomores interested in serving as Congressional Pages for the 1990-91 school year can now apply to Congressman Charles Stenholm's office. Eligible students are those who reside in the 17th Congressional District, will be juniors in September 1990, and have a "B" average in four major courses, excluding electives.

"The Congressional Page program offers young people a unique opportunity to see how Congress works," said Stenholm.

If you are interested, you'll need to apply before the deadline, January 23, 1990. Applications will be forwarded to a Selection Committee who will notify finalists by February 28, 1990. Interviews will be conducted in Abilene on March 24, 1990 and pages will be selected on that date. Application forms and additional information are available from the Congressman's Abilene office at (915) 673-7221.

We received in the mail a subscription renewal and note from Ciscoan Glen Carr of San Angelo. The note said, "Hello to everyone in Cisco. Remember the good ole days 1964 up to '65 - Palace Theatre and Joy Drive In. Hello to all." You may remember that Glen worked at both theatres during those years.

Linda Pointer, manager of Mott's, reports they will be open until 8 p.m. from Friday, Dec. 15, to Saturday, Dec. 23. And they will be open Sunday, Dec. 24, (Christmas Eve) from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Dee Wilson brought the following in to share with our readers. It is entitled "Down The Road To Trouble," and is reprinted as follows:

Alcohol and moving vehicles don't mix. Federal statistics show that nearly 24,000 people were killed in alcohol-related traffic accidents last year. That was one alcohol-related death on our highways every 22 minutes. A report from the Surgeon General's Workshop on Drunk Driving suggests that public and private efforts to curb drinking and driving have helped to reduce the number of fatal crashes. But the reports says that drunk driving continues to be one of the country's most serious public health problems. Two of every five Americans will be involved in an alcohol-related crash at some point in their lives.

Brrrr! Temperatures dropped to around 15 degrees Tuesday morning. The temperature was 27 degrees at 5 p.m. Monday but the strong north wind made the chill factor -10 degrees. There was little wind blowing Tuesday so the 15 degrees seemed warmer than the 27 degrees. Forecasters called for continued cold throughout the rest of the week.

We are working on our special Christmas edition which will be published Sunday, Dec. 17. It will include Santa Claus letters from children and season's greetings from local businesses. The Santa letters are unique, to say the least. We try to print them with the spelling and punctuation just the way the children wrote them.

The Cisco Elementary School choirs will sing Christmas carols at the First National Bank again this year. The choirs are directed by Gina White.

The schedules for the performances are as follows: Wednesday, Dec. 13- 9:30 a.m., fourth grade; 1 p.m., fifth grade.

Thanks, Mr. Kennedy, for the poinsettia. It's beautiful!

Cisco Lions Club Welcomes Two New Members At Meet

The Cisco Lions Club met for its regular weekly luncheon meeting Wednesday, Dec. 6, at Tradition's Restaurant.

The meeting was called to order by Lions Club President Ronnie Ledbetter. The opening consisted of the Lions "roar," songs, pledge of allegiance to the U.S. flag, and prayer. It was then our great pleasure as a club to call on Lion Winston Heidenheimer to carry out the installation of new members Frank Young and Ray Hatten. Lions Club pins and packets were presented by Vice President J.V. Heyser to Frank Young, and Millard "Lefty" Young pinned Ray Hatten. A special report was then given on Earl Ray, Lions Club member who is in Humana Hospital in Abilene.

The program was presented by Lion Jim Manning, pastor, First Baptist Church, which consisted of Christmas music sung by Doug Bromley, Bill Austin, Brenda Thomas and Pat Owens. The music and singing was great and we appreciate these for coming and Lion Manning for pulling it together.

First Baptist Church To Present Christmas Music

The First Baptist Church will present an evening of Christmas music on Friday, Dec. 15, and Sunday, Dec. 17. Each performance will begin at 7 p.m. Mary Austin and Martha Davis will play prelude music on the organ and piano beginning at 6:45 p.m. They will be followed by the Handbell Choir, Monday Musicians (Children's Choir), and a Youth Ensemble. Shirley Wheeler will accompany the Monday Musicians and the Youth Ensemble. Each one of these groups will present a short program of Christmas music.

The Sanctuary Choir of 30 voices will present "A Christmas Festival," a musical of traditional songs and carols of the Christmas season. This musical will feature Teresa Winnett as soloist on "Gesu Bambino," Pat Owens as soloist on "I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day," and Doug Bromley as soloist on "O Holy ly Night."

Some titles that the choir will be singing besides backing up the soloists will be "Carol of the Bells," "One Small Child," "Come On, Ring Those Bells," "We Wish You a Merry Christmas," and "For Unto Us A Child Is Born" from Handel's "Messiah." The Sanctuary Choir will be accompanied by Jeanna White on the piano, and Janice Shepard on the organ, and is directed by Doug Bromley.

An added feature to First Baptist Church's beautifully decorated auditorium this year is the addition of a "Poinsettia Tree" that sits in the Baptistry in the shape of a Christmas tree and holds more than 40 poinsettia plants.

First Baptist Church would like to invite the community to celebrate the glory of the Savior's birth through music. Both performances are free and open to the public.

Junior High Gifted And Talented Students Enjoy Guest Speakers

In concurrence with a study unit on Legal Procedure and the Law, gifted and talented junior high students received a visit from 91st District Judge Jim Wright during their homeroom G/T class last Wednesday. Judge Wright discussed various aspects of his profession, ranging from the court system itself to how he became a judge. His interesting exploration of the field was followed by a question and answer period for the students.

Judge Wright's visit was an excellent beginning to a series of such guest appearances. During the next two weeks, students will have the opportunity to meet and learn from Kenneth Payne, game warden, Mike Siebert, attorney, Lyndell Underwood, police chief, Emory Walton, district attorney, and Nancy Hughes, staff attorney for the Court of Appeals. After the Christmas holidays, students will visit the 91st District Court to see the legal system at work, and then with the help of Nancy Hughes, the class will stage a mock trial of its own.

Many thanks to these community members for their time and involvement in junior high enrichment.

Calvary Baptist Church To Have Christmas Cantata

Calvary Baptist Church will have their Christmas Cantata during the regular worship service at 10:45 a.m. Sunday, Dec. 17. Entitled "A Christmas Rhapsody," the cantata will be directed by David Williams, director of music at Calvary Baptist Church.

Narrator will be Baylis Pope. Featured soloists will be Celia Shackelford, Tim Hull, Rae Jean Webb, Debbie Pope, and Melody Watts. Rev. Ronnie Shackelford, pastor, has invited the public to attend.

Would it be reasonable to deprive the community of the crucially-needed hospital? Is it reasonable to disregard the employees and the sizeable contribution the hospital makes to the local economy through its payroll and its local purchases which pour some $600,000 yearly into the local economy? Would it be reasonable to let a beautiful, modern facility sit vacant as a target for vandalism while we continue to pay a hospital tax to retire its indebtedness?

People For Progress Urge Reason In Hospital Case

E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital is a valued asset to the town of Cisco and to area residents. Despite the financial shortfall being experienced by all rural hospitals, the hospital has maintained quality medical care and a 24-hour emergency service. Lives have been saved because it was here, and inestimable time and money have been saved by patients and their families who have used the local hospital rather than going out of town for treatment.

There are those among us who would see the hospital close rather than pay the temporary 28 cents tax rate recently adopted by the hospital board.

PEOPLE FOR PROGRESS ask them:

PEOPLE FOR PROGRESS see a reasonable, common sense approach. We see the potential for building the hospital into a medical center, serving a vast open territory by diversifying its services and bringing in new medical personnel to supply additional services.

That is exactly what an able, widely-experienced administrator at E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital and dedicated board members are working toward - and with considerable success to date. But they need your support. You can help make it happen by voting AGAINST a tax roll-back.

History Book To Arrive Soon

The Eastland County History Book should be arriving any day now. The publisher has promised to have the book out before Christmas.

Committee member Roy Lee Smith recently made a trip to the Metroplex to proof read the final segment so that it could be printed. But the book is so large, it had to be printed in sections, and putting those sections together and binding them is quite a job.

Smith said that the new book, which has been delayed about a year due to problems with its huge size, may not arrive in Eastland until the week before Christmas. Committee members will then make sure that each copy is delivered to the person who ordered it.

The Eastland County History Book is the largest county history that the publisher has ever attempted to publish, and it has required many days and nights of volunteer work by the committee members, but it is also a dream which is finally coming true. And it should be here for Christmas.

CLASS MEETING

The Dorcas Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Paul Harper for the noon Christmas luncheon Thursday, Dec. 7. Mrs. Dale Phippen gave the blessing for the meal.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. Boyd Tabor, president, presided over the business meeting. Reports were given as readings of the minutes, the financial statement and ministry report.

The class song, "Have Faith in God" was sung. Mrs. Ralph Snyder gave the prayer for the business meeting. Instead of gift exchange, the members brought an offering for the "Lottie Moon Offering" for the church.

Mrs. Paul Harper brought the devotion on the Christmas Story entitled "Maggie's Gift Story" from the book "Angel and Other Strangers" by Katherine Paterson.

The class members chose names of shut-ins to be remembered for a Christmas package.

Fifteen members were present: Mmes. Dale Phippen, Elaine Shelton, Sam Brewster, John McIntyre, Dary Edwards, Roy McCoy, Kenneth McKieeny, Jack Dennis, James Matthews, Carroll Louder, Maezell Crocker, Boyd Tabor, Jean Tabor, Paul Harper and Ralph Snyder.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

Twenty-four people braved the cold weather Thursday night and enjoyed a Christmas dinner at the United Methodist Church in Moran.

Gayle Johnson gave the invocation. Following the meal, Christmas Carols were sung and Rev. James Carroll brought the Christmas Story.

Gifts were exchanged from a beautifully lighted Christmas Tree. The church was decorated in keeping with the Christmas Theme.

It is beginning to look like Christmas with all the Christmas decorations being put up in Moran. People are getting in the festive mood, and enjoying the season. Christmas cards are arriving each day and people are shopping. School will be out and the children will be on the move. Hope all of you have a Merry Christmas and Santa Claus is good to each of you.

Moran and community had winter weather Monday with below freezing temperature. Winter has finally gotten here after a beautiful summer day on Sunday.

Elma May Huskey spent the weekend in Fort Worth and Burleson with her nephews and families, and enjoyed a pre-Christmas dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Dunaway.

Funeral for Mrs. Addie Lee Isham Dumas was held at the Moran Cemetery Friday with Rev. Jack Clark, pastor of the Baptist church, officiating.

Mrs. Isham, the former Addie Lee Harris, was born Dec. 29, 1910, and passed away Dec. 6 at her home in Dumas.

Hardin-Simmons To Offer Courses In England Soon

In January 1990 Hardin-Simmons University will offer for the 12th consecutive year, six hours of business courses in London, England. BSAD 6399/4399, International Business in London and FINA 6399/4399, International Finance in London, may be taken for graduate or undergraduate credit, and will be taught by Dr. Ron Presley, dean of School of Business, and William C. Curtis, assistant professor of finance.

Course content will consist of a reading list assigned for each course in December and to be read before the trip, class discussions before the trip, one-week of business visits in London, and a term paper for each course, to be completed after returning to campus.

During the week in London, students will visit financial and business institutions unique to that city. Businesses visited in past years include the BBD, Unilever, Harrod's Department Store, Asprey's Jewelers, Rolls Royce Motor Cars, The Bank of England, Lloyd's of London, The London Stock Exchange, and the London branches of several American banks.

"The objective of these visits is to expose the student to an international business environment, allowing comparisons between the British businesses visited and more familiar American firms," said Curtis.

Both courses may be taken for graduate credit, but only three hours graduate credit may be accumulated in London.

For more information, contact William C. Curtis, Drawer C, HSU Station, Abilene, Texas 79698 or call (915) 670-1357.

A Thought For The Day.....

If you would increase your happiness and prolong your life, forget your brother's faults. Forget the slander you have heard, forget the temptations, forget the fault-finding, and give more thought to the cause that provoked it. Forget the peculiarities of your friends, and only remember the good points that make you fond of them. Forget all personal quarrels you may have heard by accident, and which, if repeated, would seem a thousand times worse than they really are. Obliterate everything disagreeable from yesterday; start with a clean sheet for today, and write upon it, for sweet memory's sake, only the things which are lovely and lovable.

There is an old Chinese proverb which states: 'Think of your own faults the first part of the night when you are awake, and the faults of others the latter part of the night when you are asleep.'

Something to think about? We think so! .....

Supplemental Security Income Program Described

If you have limited income and resources, supplemental security income (SSI) may be able to help. Glyn Hammons, Social Security manager in Abilene, said today.

SSI is a Federal program administered by the Social Security Administration, but financed from general revenues, not from Social Security taxes, Hammons said.

It makes monthly payments to eligible aged, blind, and disabled people. People who receive SSI may qualify for other benefits too, such as Medicaid, food stamps, and other social services.

You may qualify if you are 65 or older, or blind or disabled, and a lawful resident of the U.S., and you meet certain income and resource limits. Some income and some resources are not counted in determining eligibility for SSI. The house you live in and your car, for example, are usually not counted in the resource limit.

For more information or to make an appointment to apply for SSI, call 1-800-234-5772. The Abilene Social Security office is located at 142 S. Pioneer. The office is open weekdays 9:00-4:30.

Sea World Penguins To Chill Rose Bowl Parade January 1

Six Sea World penguins will enjoy an icy Antarctic holiday trip down the streets of Pasadena in the 1990 Tournament of Roses Parade. Unlike their more than 1,000 living cousins at Sea World parks across America, these penguins stand 17 feet high and display a rainbow of floral colors. The float, named "Birds of a Feather Skate Together," will be seen by more than one million curbside spectators and 125 million television viewers January 1.

The theme of the 101st annual Rose Parade is "A World of Harmony," and Sea World's float depicts the harmony of nature through pairs of twirling penguins. The penguins are dressed for the Antarctic winter as they glide across three icy ponds. Harmony is further conveyed as the penguins encounter two puffins rowing a small kayak alongside the main float. Although the penguins and puffins travel together down the parade route, the two species are not believed to have ever encountered each other in their natural environment. Penguins live in the Antarctic and puffins in the northern Arctic.

Sea World entered the Rose Parade for the first time in 1989. That year the park's float "Jump For Joy" was awarded the Tournament Special trophy. "We had such a great response to our float last year we couldn't wait to appear again. The Rose Parade, like Sea World, represents the best of traditional family entertainment," said Sea World's Bill Thomas, senior vice-president of marketing. "Penguins are an important part of Sea World. We have re-created the Antarctic in Penguin Encounters at the Sea World parks in California, Texas, Florida and Ohio."

Penguins present a special problem to float builders. Their natural black and white coloration does not lend itself to a very colorful presentation. Tournament of Roses officials require external float surfaces to be of natural plant materials only. No dyes or synthetic materials may be used. To bring color to the birds float builders created fanciful, animated penguins.

Drawing on years of experience and ingenuity, a team of craftsmen from Festival Artists in Azusa, California, designed the ice skating penguins. The backs and arms of the birds are decorated with purple chrysanthemums while their front sides are covered with white carnations. Yellow mums with red, orange and hot pink carnations cover the hats and scarves of the penguin's winter wear. The snow and icicles that make up the ponds the birds skate upon are fashioned from white and starburst mums, white carnation petals and white dendrobium orchid sprays. Shaved coconut creates the white dendrobium orchid sprays. Shaved coconut creates the white sparkle on the revolving snowflakes. In all, more than 150,000 flowers are included on the float.

In addition to the 62-foot long flat, Festival Artists designed a small satellite float to travel alongside Sea World's main display. Huffin and Puffin, two tufted puffins, row a kayak made of cornhusks. The eight-foot-high puffins are covered with chrysanthemums and carnations. This small float is a self-motored vehicle that requires the driver to lie flat throughout the entire 2.5 mile route.

In addition to this floral artistry, "Birds of a Feather Skate Together" is one of the most animated floats in the parade. Nearly every element moves. Icicles twirl at the base of the skating ponds, penguins spin in circles and the puffins row their small kayak.

From the preliminary drawings through final flowering, more than 45 people spent eight months working on Sea World's parade entry. For these craftsmen, the reward comes on January 1 with the pageantry, equestrian splendor, musical delights and floral beauty that is the Rose Parade. The 1990 Tournament of Roses Parade will be televised on ABC, CBS, NBC and FOX networks as well as independent stations in the United States and around the world.

Carbon News

By Dorothy Jackson

The weather man says we may need our "long johns" by mid week. For the last month or so we have been on a yo-yo string with our weather, cold one day, and hot the next. I believe next week is when winter really starts, so says the calendar.

Sunday night Dec. 17th at 7 p.m. the annual Christmas program will be presented at the Baptist Church. After the program I believe old St. Nick will come by to visit with all the boys and girls. Even if you are not a member of our church, come and visit with us on this special time.

Mrs. Faye Smith was seriously injured as she attempted to cross the highway Friday morning. She stopped her car and was crossing the highway to talk to her daughter on the other side of the road, when she was struck by a passing car.

If you do not have your Christmas shopping finished by now, you may have trouble getting in and out of the stores, as I was in Abilene Saturday, you did good if you even found a place to park your car, needless to say it was hard to even walk in the mall.

Last Monday night at Sidney the Jr. High boys beat Sidney. Tuesday night the Carbon High School boys beat Gordon. They played in the Cross Plains tournament, the girls were beaten out, the boys played for consolation Saturday night but lost. Wayne Moody made all tournament.

Dec. 15 high school will play Brooksmith here at 6:30 p.m. Last game til after holidays.

This is a slow week as far as activities go. All people are busy with Christmas things. Classes will dismiss at 2:30 Dec. 19th for the Christmas holidays and classes will resume Jan. 2, 1990.

You are invited to attend the Magic of Christmas December 14, at 7:00 p.m. at the Carbon School.

HISTORY BOOKS ARE COMING

By the time you read this, the Eastland County History book may be published. The history book committee expects to hear any day now from the publisher that the books are ready.

Persons living out of the county who paid postage will receive their books in the mail direct from the publisher. When the books are received here, persons living in the county can pick their books up at Camp Inspiration which is located one mile west of Eastland on highway 80.

There will probably be only one day the books can be picked up prior to Christmas. That date will be set as soon as the committee finds out the books have been published. The committee hopes that Monday, December 18th will be the day they can be picked up at Camp Inspiration. Remember, that date is tentative so please check the newspaper and listen to the local radio stations for the exact date and time.

If you haven't heard anything by early Monday morning, Dec. 18th, please call 629-1102. You will receive a recorded message giving further details on the delivery.

There will be extra books for sale if you haven't already purchased one. The committee plans to be at Camp Inspiration from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on the date of delivery.

Too often, people have what they consider a 'good time' consuming alcohol and then get behind the wheel of an automobile-only to be involved in a terrible tragedy! Not long ago, a man in Kentucky went out to have a good time. Before the night was over, his car had hit a school bus head-on. Twenty-eight children burned to death inside the bus because the man thought he could drink and still drive. Think about yourself and your loved ones before you make the foolish decision to drink and drive. Care enough about life and living. Drive sober!

Smoking directly affects cholesterol levels, says the American Health Foundation. Tests indicate that each cigarette per day raises total cholesterol by half a point; quitting brings it down again.

People who take aspirin and non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drugs in arthritis-fighting doses are more likely to be hospitalized for ulcers, the British Medical Journal reports. (The Food and Drug Administration now requires warning of this on labels.)

Instead of surgery to remove gallstones, doctors at Mayo Clinic have been injecting ether into the gallbladder to dissolve the stones.

Combination of medications seems to slow the progress of diabetic kidney failure and may even prevent it. Reported in the British Medical Journal, the treatment uses captopril, an antihypertension drug, and a thiazide diuretic. United States tests are starting.

Liquid dosages of acetaminophen should not be used interchangeably. Drops for babies have 500 mg. per teaspoon, children's elixir only 160 mg.

In between those dates, the company will perform in Colorado City, Sweetwater, Coleman, Abilene, Albany and Eastland.

"A Christmas Carol" will be performed in Eastland at the Majestic Theatre on Dec. 20 at 7:30 p.m. Adults tickets will be $5, with children/students $3. You may call the Majestic at 629-2102 for further information.

This delightful adaptation reaffirms the true meaning of Christmas in a way that children of all ages can relate to. "This is a play," Artistic Director Glenn Bennett says. "The interesting aspect of this adaptation is that it shows how anyone, in any walk of life can lose sight of the meaning of Christmas. In this play, Scrooge is lucky and gets a second chance," he added.

The cast and crew consists entirely of Texas Tech theatre students. Peter Contreras, from Lubbock, plays the role of Ebenezer Scrooge. Thomas H. Matlock, from Plainview, and DeeAnn Mason, an Artesia, N. M. native, portray the Cratchets. Tiny Tim is played by Kip Yates of Arlington. The role of Fred, Scrooge's nephew is played by Richard Dalton of Houston. Cast in multiple roles are Michelle Jones, Meredith A. Lucio and Dru Mouser, all from the Ft. Worth area. Finally, Benjamin Stewart from Lubbock has the role of Scrooge's deceased business partner, Marley. The company is held together by Stage Manager Joel Baumgart, also of Lubbock.

"The cast has been rehearsing now for over six weeks and is ready to perform in front of an audience," Mr. Bennett stated. The actual planning of the tour began many months ago. The Managing Director, Victor Mashburn originally of Abilene, began assembling the company in April. "A lot of hard work has gone into this production," Mr. Bennett said. "We are all very excited about presenting live theatre in these towns of West Texas."

Christmas ANNOUNCING Poetry PAINTING FOR FREEDOM

CHRISTMAS BELLS
by Bob Harbin

Oh hear the Christmas bells ringing Sending a message through out the land
Telling of the birth of our Lord and Savior
In a little town called Bethlehem

The Angels watching over Him
While the little baby sleeps
In this world of heartache and sorrow
There may at last be hope,
joy and peace

The beautiful stars up in Heaven
Sends down its holy light
To bless our little Jesus
While he sleeps through out the night

So lets keep Christ in Christmas
That all the world can hear
The beautiful Christmas bells
Not only now, but through out the year.

An Ideal Christmas Gift

Anna Laurie Harle
The Artist

The strange and exciting story of an artist who sold her works all over the Southwest at the turn of the century to help free her doctor son from a Mexican prison, may very well have a local connection, because some of the paintings are believed to be privately owned here.

Her beautiful pastoral oil-on-tapestry paintings have brightened homes and churches throughout the Southwest and brought joy to their owners since the turn of the century.

Very few know of the despair that accompanied each painstaking stroke of her brush. Certainly, every painting had its message, but the strange, remarkable, untold story of Anna Laurie Harle and the calamity in her life that motivated her is a much greater picture. She painted with a purpose.

And before her story was finally played out over international borders, she would have become involved in the sphere of diplomatic relations, political lobbying and even into the arena of helping finance a foreign revolution.

Texas and American national officials up to and even including the President got to know her well, and foreign revolutionaries felt her influence. She was a mother praying, fighting and laboring for her son, Dr. Charles Harle, who she believed had been wronged.

Mexican legend Pancho Villa would prove to be the pivotal key in re-uniting the fragile artist and her physician son who had been a long-time prisoner in a Mexican dungeon.

Putting all the pieces of the strange puzzle together began with Gaynell O'Brien's determination to identify the painter of a tapestry she had acquired during the disposal of the furnishings from a large home nearby.

The trail took many turns: crumbling newspaper files, fading memories, interviews, letter writing, days of cemetery and library research and finally, the National Archives. None of the informants knew the whole story. A piece was added here; a new name turned up there; many other paintings came to light and, little by little, the story of Anna Laurie Harle unfolded.

Truly, it was a classic example of international intrigue that was so much a part of Southwestern History in the early 1900s. The thoroughly documented account reads today like pure fiction, but its principals actually lived it in a very personal way.

There are believed to be hundreds of the paintings by Mrs. Harle throughout the Southwestern States; many hung in major churches, and were proud, prized possessions of those who had decorated stately homes. Since then, they have been passed from generation to generation. Now with the publication of this material, their value will be enhanced by knowledge of the story behind the paintings.

She was a highly trained Southwestern pioneer artist; her son, a pioneer doctor who first practiced in

The painting that launched the search

Mexico, where their troubles began; and their combined story is the kind of pioneer experience that helped forge this great area. In the later stages of this epic, Dr. Harle rode with Villa as his personal physician.

Historians, art-lovers and those who find strength and enjoyment from seeing real people solving real problems, will find the pages of this book intriguing.

The curious initial search for the artist-of-the-old, unsigned tapestry painting turned quickly into a personal and Texas-Mexico history as the mystery surrounding the artist unfolded.

Many of the artist's work were produced herein, and photographs of the principals round out the story. Readers who know of other paintings which they believe might be Harle's are encouraged to correspond with the authors through the publisher.

The complete story with reproductions of the paintings and photographs of the principals has just been released in a book named "Painting For Freedom" by H.V. and Gaynell O'Brien through Times Publishing Co., Box 29, Eastland, TX 76448, at $12.95, plus $14 tax and $3.99 shipping and handling.

Sherry Johnson Wins $1,000 In Yamaha Elite Angler Program

In Cypress Calif., Sherry Johnson, Carbon, Texas, won the Eastland County Bass Club 14th Annual tournament, held September 10, at Lake Leon, and was awarded $1,000 in the Yamaha Elite Angler Program. Johnson beat 152 other anglers to win the tournament and collect the $1,000 prize.

Anglers can win two $1,000 bonuses during the 1989 program, and the angler with the most wins in each region of the country at the end of the season will compete in a nationally televised Fish-Off to determine the 1989 Yamaha Elite Angler. Yamaha's Top Elite Angler will win a Yamaha Big Bear ATV and a deluxe trip to April Point Lodge in British Columbia, via Canadian Airlines. Second prize includes a trip to April Point Lodge, via Canadian Airlines, and a 4 wheel drive Yamaha ATV, YFM 250 hunter's version. Third place wins a Yamaha TW 250 trail bike.

Except for first year tournaments, most others are eligible for the Elite Angler Program. In order to be eligible a tournament must have a minimum of 45 entries in an individual tournament and 25 boats for a buddy, team or saltwater tournament. Also, tournaments must be open to anyone.

The Yamaha Elite Angler Program awards $1,000 to Yamaha outboard and Yamaha stern drive owners who win approved tournaments using their Yamaha motors. The engine must be purchased retail and still be under the original two-year factory warranty with the name registered on the warranty.

Johnson runs a Skeeter powered by a Yamaha 150 Pro V. She purchased her motor at D & B Marine in Brownwood.

For a complete set of 1989 Yamaha Elite Angler rules and guidelines, contact Yamaha Tournament Headquarters, 7950 E. Acoma Dr., Suite 102, Scottsdale, AZ 85260 or contact your nearest Yamaha Outboard dealer. Call toll free 1(800) 526-6650 for his location.

Spotlights & Sidelights

By Julia Worthy

The miracle did not occur at 34th St. this year. It happened right here in Texas, and I'm walking around with it. Curious? I hope you are. This is the story from my point of view, and "view" is the crucial word.

For more than ten years, I have known I had a cataract in my left eye, but I never did see much from my left eye anyway.

When I reached the point that light or dark was all I could see from my left eye and the distance vision in the right one was fuzzy, I quit driving. This hurt, as I learned to drive in a Model-T truck long before I had to have a license.

But I didn't call for an appointment, through Dr. Cleveland had provided recommendations and directions more than two years ago. I could still read and write, and I didn't really mind those pastel pictures on TV.

My family's impatience with the situation finally got to me, plus not being able to read the letter Vanna kept turning! I called for an appointment—and had to wait several weeks, which didn't help my cold feet any.

After the initial meeting with Dr. Cameron at the Abilene Eye Institute and Cataract Surgery Center, I had a date for August 1.

All is not like the TV ads with thirty or forty minutes, tra-la. That time is the estimate for how long it takes to remove the cataract and replace it with the lens that provides sight.

The time before and the time after surgery is what adds up. There are many tests and measurements, neither onerous nor painful, and the day before the deed is done, there is a physical with special attention to blood pressure and allergies.

The next day, it takes longer to get ready for the O.R. than the advertised 30-40 minutes. We were back in Eastland for lunch—even with the left eye giving Dr. Cameron a bad time. (At the time, my back hurt more than my eye ever did.) I had to go back for a check up the next day, then another in a couple of weeks, and still another September 23.

Then Dr. Cameron asked,

"When do you want to do the right eye?"

Oh, Wow! I was walking around wall-eyed with one "good" eye and one "bad", but I thought I'd have to live with them until next summer. Not so.

Surgery for the right eye was scheduled for October 3. It went according to the book (almost like the TV ads). The left eye hadn't, but I told you I never had much cooperation from it. However, the extra time it took was well worth the time and the backache as it now tests 20/30, and it never had done that well before. My right eye is 20/20! I will continue to wear glasses because of the 20/30 and because I am now farsighted instead of nearsighted...sounds crazy and may not be technically correct, but I now put on glasses to read and I used to take them off. I'll not be "released" until January 3, but I believe my miracle is permanent.

This was written to urge anyone whose outlook is not what it used to be to get help. I had not realized how many things I missed—how much I did not see. I'm sure I was a menace before I ever took myself from behind the wheel, but I thought I was just fine.

Though I cannot praise AEI and Dr. Cameron enough, I am sure other facilities are just as caring, just as painstakingly careful, just as efficient as they are.

Do get help. Do let an expert decide.

Do NOT let finances stand in your way. Medicare and a supplemental policy covered almost all my expenses, but whatever your monetary question, there is an answer.

Transportation is available. I imposed on friends, but after I could see again, I read a sign on the AEI wall that says a driver (with vehicle!) can be provided when needed.

Loss of sight is a huge frustration. There are no statistics for how many areas of life are affected when sight is failing.

If someone you know can't read this, read it to him! Help him, or her, toward a happier viewpoint.

Remember, all miracles don't happen on 34th St.

Local Bass Club Elects Officers

The Eastland County Bass Club is proud to announce a couple of long overdue additions to its family tree. For the first time in ECBC history women will be holding a couple of offices. Elections were held at the December meeting and the following offices were filled for the 1990 year. President Tommy Maynard, First Vice-President (Tournament Director) Jimmy Johnson, Second Vice-President (Entertainment Director) Terry Wilson, Secretary Treasurer Carlotta Wilson, and Reporter Terry Wilson. The Board of Directors elected were: Rick Browder, Jackie Maynard, Ira Pennington, and Clinton Love-

lace. As you can see two women have filled the long awaited void.

To complete this move the ECBC has also added a separate women's division to all twelve of its club tournaments. Complete with separate entry fees, payback, and the angler of the year. The women will be able to fish in the mens division also by paying both-entry fees. Each tournament's weight will count towards the classic and the top six. But unless both fees are paid in each tournament they will only be allowed to compete for one angler of the year award.

Other items of interest voted on at last weeks meeting were: 1. Motion to change calendar year from Jan to Jan, instead to be Sept. 1, to Sept. 1. This motion passed. There will be a short year for January 1, 1990 until September 1, 1990 to establish this. 2. Motion to postpone the 1989 awards banquet till March. This passed. 3. Motion to award 10 trophies at years end instead of 3 monthly tournament awards. These will be awarded by pounds and hundreds caught during club events. This passed. 4. To change lake choice to a popular vote of members present at the monthly meeting. In order to vote members must first pay their entry fee. This passed. 5. Tournament dates may only be changed by a majority of members present at the meetings. This passed. 6. Motion to eliminate the 100 mile fishing radius. This passed. To conclude the meeting drawings were held for door prizes and due to the low attendance each person present was drawn for two door prizes.

1990 looks to be a very productive year for the ECBC. If you haven't joined yet make plans now to attend the January 4, 1990 meeting. For more information you may contact President Tommy Maynard at 629-3550.

Late as normal here area few stocking stuffer ideas for that bassin man or woman on your shopping list. Jigs (preferably Stanley or Penetrators), spinner baits (Stanley or Strike King), fishing line (best buy Berkley Trilene), jars of pork rind (Berkley Strike Rind), worms looks (true turn brite) worm weights, crankbaits (Storm or Bomber) running baits (Bill Lewis Rat-L-Traps), bait spray (Berkley Strike or Fish formula.) The list goes on and on, but if you really want to fill that stocking to the rim why not put in a quality LCD or LCR graph fish locator.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department fishery surveys show largemouth bass populations at 1,090-acre. Lake Weatherford have improved dramatically during the past three years.

Biologist Bruce Hysmith of Denison said the lake located between Ft. Worth and Weatherford is not known as a bass fishing lake, but recent electroshocking surveys indicated excellent production.

The catch rate jumped from 44.5 bass per hour in a 1986 survey to 113 per hour this year. "The percentage of the sample greater than 12 inches long increased by 25 percent and the number of bass 15 inches and longer almost doubled," Hysmith said.

Eastland Telegram - Ranger Times - Cisco Press - Rising Star

Thursday, December 14, 1989

Reproduction was excellent in 1989, judging from 38 percent of the electroshocking catch being fish less than eight inches long.

Biologists attribute the improvements in bass population to two factors. The daily bag limit of five, and minimum length limit of 14 inches apparently has allowed the quality of bass to improve, while recent high water levels created a good environment for spawning and survival of young bass, Hysmith said.

Anglers also can expose good fishing in the future because the department stocked 114,400 Florida-strain bass in 1988.

Terry Wilson

Head Injury Experts Offer Holiday Toy Safety Tips

On Christmas morning, nothing brings a bigger smile to a child's face than a pile of new toys under the tree. But nothing brings tears faster than a toy that is broken or dangerous.

To help keep the holiday a happy one this year, New Medico head injury experts are urging parents to select gifts for the kids that are both fun and safe.

"More than 600,000 children in the U.S. were injured by toys last year, according to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, and a large number of those resulted in head and brain injuries," said Dr. Art Robarge, executive director of New Medico-Texas. The Lindale facility, located near Tyler, is part of the nationwide New Medico Head Injury System and specializes in the care and treatment of head-injured individuals.

One problem arises with toys that seemingly pose no obvious danger - balloons.

"We strongly urge parents to keep balloons away from small children," he said. "In recent years, over 100 children have suffocated by sucking balloons into their mouths when trying to inflate them, or swallowing pieces of broken balloons while parents weren't watching. The thin balloon fabric is easily drawn into the throat, blocking the air passage."

Other holiday toys that can be swallowed easily include balls, marbles, whistles, and baby rattles. Baby rattles and teething devices, in fact, should be no smaller than two inches in diameter.

"Always check any toy carefully to make sure that it is well-constructed and does not have detachable small parts that can lodge in a child's nose or windpipe," said Robarge. "Children may be unable to free such a blockage, which can cause a brain injury in a short period of time from lack of oxygen."

Even if it doesn't cause death, this type of injury may require specialized treatment to overcome such disabilities as memory loss, speech problems, paralysis and behavioral disorders.

New Medico also urges parents with infants to be careful about possible strangulation hazards. Crib toys, stuffed animals and other items used by babies should not have cords or strings dangling from them, which can easily choke a child. In addition, crib toys should not be tied or suspended across the tops of cribs or playpens once children are old enough to grab them.

"Young children can pull themselves over a dangling crib toy and get caught there," he warns. "At such an age, unfortunately, they're often unable to free themselves."

Certain toys for older children - such as bicycles and skateboards - obviously require caution during use. Head injury experts strongly recommend that both children and adults wear approved helmets when bicycling, and approved headgear and protective, padded clothing when skateboarding.

"We hope that following a few simple guidelines will make the holidays a special - and safe - time for everyone," said Robarge.

The New Medico Head Injury System is the nation's largest network of head injury treatment programs, with 36 facilities across the country. Staff provide specialized care for individuals of all ages and for all levels of head injury, from coma to independent living. The company provides information on head injury and rehabilitation facilities through its head injury information line, 1-800-CARE TBI.

Helpful Hints

Holiday Party Pointers

Here's how to enjoy your holiday parties more: Spend more time with your guests, exchanging news, laughs and presents—by spending less time in the kitchen and on clean-ups. How? First off, do much of your cooking the night before the big event. Many dips and side dishes keep very well in the refrigerator. You can heat up those hors d'oeuvres you made last night and arrange them on a pretty platter just before serving.

An ideal holiday gift for many of your friends is something that you might also want to give yourself with so you'll have it on hand for cleaning up those spills on rugs and couches after the party's over. Called the Bissell Carpet Machine Plus, it's quick and easy to use, thanks to parts that snap together in minutes and a powerful suction action that immediately pulls dirt and liquid out of your carpet. Water is fed to the unit through a 50-foot hose that attaches right to your faucet. The water then mixes with cleaning solution and is sprayed into the carpet to extract deep down dirt, restore color and brightness.

Another plus: The remarkable upholstery head. This smaller cleaning head can be great for upholstery in the home, car, camper or for any smaller areas for quicker clean-up.

For those times when you just want to sweep up a few carpet specks—such as before your guests arrive—there's the Bissell Carpet Sweeper. Its double brushes make clean-ups fast, and you'll appreciate the low-profile design for clean-ups under tables and couches.

Sarah Hendricks (seated) holds a 'Century Ranch' Family Land Heritage certificate which was presented to her by Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower (right). Members of the Hendricks Family have resided on the ranch near Kokomo in Eastland County for more than 100 years. Her nephew, Gary Norris (left), escorts her.

HENDRICKS RANCH JOINS CENTURY 'CLUB'

On November 16, Sarah Hendricks Tuggle was honored by the Texas Department of Agriculture when she was presented the family Land Heritage certificate by Commissioner of Agriculture Jim Hightower.

The Hendricks Ranch is located in the Kokomo community and was founded by the late S F and R A Hendricks in 1888. Sarah Hendricks currently owns the property.

Samuel Farris Hendricks was born in 1855 at Fomey, Texas. His mother died when he was nine months old. His father, Albert Hendricks, remarried to Sarah Watson, a widow with four children. They moved to Gladewater, Texas at age 14.

His father died in 1869. His stepmother remarried.

When Samuel Hendricks was 17, he left home to make his way in the world, which was hard with no relatives in Texas to turn to. He went to Denton in 1875 to work for John Y. Yates, and in 1879 he married Rachel Ann Yates, daughter of John Y. and Tibaith Yates.

They owned an 80 acre farm in Collin County. He took a job in Denton in 1884. A child's disease hit Denton killing nearly all children. They had two boys to die in infancy and the disease took two little girls, one eighteen months old and one three years old. Jim Hendricks was age five. The doctor said the only chance for Jim was to travel.

Mr. Hendricks sold the family farm. With a team and covered wagon, they headed for Abilene, Texas. In January 1887, when they got to a rock well near a bridge south of Eastland, they camped because of a blizzard.

Mr. Hendricks bought a farm in the Kokomo community in 1887 from J. D. Wright. Mr. Hendricks and his neighbors went back to Collin County, got his horses and cattle and moved into the home of Kokomo.

After moving to this area, little Jim soon got well. Six children were here. One baby girl died in 1890; the other children were Jim, Jennie, Jess, Dollie, June, and Sarah.

Mr. Hendricks raised horses, mules, hogs and cotton for market. he was one of the first to grow peanuts in stacked. Mr. Hendricks would cut and haul wood for the old steam thrasher. After thrashing, the sacks of nuts were dried in the sun until dry enough to sell.

During the depression, Mr. Hendricks sold his peanuts for twenty five cents a bushel.

Mr. Hendricks passed away June 8, 1937. Mrs. Hendricks died June 3, 1949. Sarah is the lone survivor and has lived on the Hendricks Ranch all her life.

Accompanying Sarah to Austin to receive the Heritage award were her nieces and nephews, Mrs. Patsy Norris Collins of Ranger, Mrs. Leta Norris Hogan of Gorman, Mrs. Carol Norris Skinner of Midland, Gary Norris of Carbon, Bill Collins of Wataenga, and Brad Collins of Ranger.

The family had to pick out sticks before the seeds could be planted. In a few days they were up. All the kids had to hoe the peanuts. At digging time peanuts were plowed up by team. The family shook them by hand and stocked them with nuts inside. When they were dry enough they were hauled and

Rescue Line For Women

Q. How can I overcome grief and start the helping process?

A. (continues from last time.) Triumphant survivors think and behave in ways that lead to recovery. So can you.

- You can open yourself to finding and receiving encouragement from the available sources.
- You can recall individuals and events in your past that can provide strength, hope and encouragement in difficult, discouraging times.
- You can allow yourself to care for other people, become attached to others, and be vulnerable with those who are trustworthy.
- You can open yourself to serendipitous events.
- You can know and use to our benefit the power of a symbolic achievement.
- You can use rituals and symbolic acts as an aid to healing.
- You can reach out to help others while you yourself are still hurting.
- You can find a variety of fitting ways to say goodbye frequently and fully.
- You can find the people who will help -- friends, family, peer support groups, role models, professional helpers, neighbors, authors, treatment programs, wig or prosthesis makers, carpenters, advice givers.
- You can accept the best life within reach.
- You can do the best that you can.
- You can go forward, knowing the sorrows and hardships you've had to come through -- but looking ahead far more than looking back.

STOP DRUNK DRIVERS
BEFORE THEY STOP YOU

Statistics show, you or someone close to you will one day stop a drunk driver on the road. Whether we like it or not, we are all "under the influence" of people who will drink too much and then get behind the wheel. And even though the laws are cracking down to catch offenders and drinking ages have been raised in most states, your best protection is to know your own limitations with alcohol. Make sure your family and friends are also aware by learning the facts, and not allowing anyone to drive while intoxicated. Don't wait until you or someone you know stops a drunk driver on the road, before you discover the sobering consequences of mixing alcohol and driving.
