It will require considerable time in changing from a seven to an eight column paper, and part of our material not coming as soon as expected, we will issue no paper next week. Hereafter THE STAR will appear as an eight column paper, and we shall spare no labor or expense in making it one of the best papers in the West.

- All work together. A happy New Year. Talk up your Town. Talk up your County.

The year with three aces (eights) 1888. Help your neighbor—with kind words if nothing more

The prosperity of one is the concern of all, or should be. Daniel Manning, Ex-Secretary of the Treasury, died last week.

The 'old year' is dying; the 'new year' is coming—Wake up!

Governor Marmaduke, of Missouri, died at Jefferson city yesterday.

The number of fights, fires and accidents incident to the holidays, are unusually large.

Begin the New Year right, subscribe for THE STAR, get the County news and be happy.

J. W. Campbell & Co., of Abilene, was closed yesterday by attachments amounting to $15,000.

No man was ever as bad as his enemies painted him. And scarcely one as good as partial friends would make him appear.

Europe is crying "peace! peace!" and arming all the time, probably to keep the piece—of territory stolen from some one else.

The Prince of Wales is mad because the papers reported him present at a pugilistic display between Sullivan and Ashton. The Prince should not kick if Sullivan and the other slugger can stand it.

There is a fine prospect for a general scrimmage in the old world in the near future. Ship the dynamites and blood-thirsty anarchists over there and let them blow each other up to their hearts content.

Hot campaign. What a nuisance it is for them that it is, if they had their campaign the summer there is no telling how hot it would get down there. Fights, riots and bloodshed generally is the order of the day. So far only four men have been killed in the number of broken heads will never be known. For a real pig-up-and-make-things-whoop unpaing, Louisiana is certainly entitled to the cake.

By far the youngest of the four Presidents that the French republic has had during the sixteen years of its existence is M. Carnot, whose election, ten days ago was satisfactory all around. The first president, M. Thiers, was 74 years of age when elected in 1871 and in his seventy-seventh year when he resigned the office. Gen. MacMahon was over 65 when he became president in 1873, and nearly seventy when his presidency ended. M. Grevy was 64 when elected president in 1877 and 74 when he resigned a fortnight ago. But M. Carnot was born as late as 1837, and consequently only 50 years old when raised to the presidency. M. Carnot is comparatively young among the rulers of Europe. Queen Victoria is sixty-ninth year of her age. Kaiser William is in his ninety-first year. Francis Joseph is in his fifty-eighth; Christian IX is on the verge of seventy, and Leopold II is close to fifty-three. The two younger rulers besides M. Carnot are Alexander III, who is twenty-two, and Humbert IV, who is three.

"Welcome the coming, speed the parting." The old year is dying, with it let every passion, prejudice and ill feeling, whether individual, political or of whatever kind, die. Forgive and forget every injury. It is human to err, but divine to forgive. Welcome the coming year with its new hopes, new inspirations. Turn over a new leaf, resolve to do better, and to accomplish more for yourself and for your fellow men in the coming year than in the past. THE STAR wishes you one and all a happy and prosperous New Year.

The Masonic fraternity only make public displays at funerals and on the two St. John's days, except by special dispensation, one of these days was Dec. 27. On this occasion they had a grand parade in Baird in which about sixty master masons marched to the court house where two of their members, Messrs. Rushing and Webb delivered before a large mixed audience elegant and chaste addresses. After the speaking the masons and members of their families repaired to the lodge room where there was served an elegant supper. The evening was one long to be remembered by the brothers of the "mystic tie" and their families. There were many masons in attendance on this occasion.

Obituary. It is with sincere sorrow that we record the death of Rev. Wm. E. Burke, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

Mr. Burke came to this place from Filton, Mo., two years ago being in poor health.

He hoped the change to a milder climate would prolong his life; and, for a time it seemed to do him good; but finally he broke down entirely after his last sermon and after a most trying illness of six weeks, passed away. A few days before his death he sent for the writer and gave him, after expressing his entire resignation and desire to go home, messages of thanks and love to his people and of hope that they would meet him in the better world.

Mr. Burke spent his life in the service of the church in Missouri Arkansas and Texas.

It is with deepest regret we part with our beloved pastor and friend, whose labors with us have been so beneficial and so highly appreciated by all. He was the most Christian man, it has ever been my lot to know.

Oh! man of God no longer mortal, Thy spirit now receives its rest; Thy soul hath passed the heavenly portal, And dwells secure among the blest. No longer now do earth's dark shadows, Hang lowering o'er thy trembling life; But walking now in Heavens' bright meadows, Thou'rt ever free from care and strife. The holy angels now do greet thee, The saints in glory grasp thy hand, Thy Heavenly Father now doth meet thee, And bids thee Welcome to that land.

The Texas Institute. This college, located at Belle Plaine, has recently been under the management of Prof. Onias of Sherman. The Prof. arrived here late in the fall and brought an able corps of teachers and a number of students from Sherman and other points. He leased the college property for ten years and opened school only hoping to sustain a small loss the first year. The school was made a success from the first day and we learn that the Prof. thinks from the present outlook that he will end the first ten months with a small profit. The great trouble was to start the ball in motion successfully; this, however, has been done and the Belle Plaine College is no longer an experiment. The young ladies are instructed in the new college building, presided over personally by Judge Onias and his accomplished lady. The boys are taught in the stone building formerly used for a mixed school. This school though understood to be a denominational school under the auspices of the M. E. Church south, is one where every denomination may safely place its wards, as the leading idea of its principal and professors is to impart to the youth of both sexes under good and wholesome regulations, a thorough education. The institution is chartered and will emit diplomas. The thermometer ran down pretty low on Tuesday night and on Wednesday morning stood at 18 degrees above zero. THE YEAR is, owing to unavoidable delays, one day late this week.

Correspondence. BAIRD, TEXAS, DEC. 27th, 1887. EDITOR OF THE STAR.—Seeing a letter in an issue of THE STAR from "X. 10. U. S." on free trade, I thought your readers might be glad to see a few ideas from the other side. Now, how any honest, non-partisan thinking man can believe that free trade will benefit this country, is more than I can see. I ask why should we take the contract of building up foreign countries at the expense of this? Take the T. & P. railroad, and I am informed that every steel rail on it was made in England, trace them back to the ore and coal mines and see how many men have been employed in making them, the money that should be circulated in this country, going to England to fatten up some lord or scion of nobility, and his serfs doing the work for about sixteen cents a day, eating meat once a week, wearing wooden shoes and starving his family. If those free trade countries are so much better, I say why in the name of common sense don't they stay there? An Irishman said, "why, begorra! in the old country we can get a chicken for a penny," when asked why he did not live on chicken, replied "be jabbers, we had to go to America for the penny." I don't care if flour is a nickel a hundred, if you haven't the nickel you can't get it. What will become of our cotton, iron, steel and wool factories? Is our flour cheaper there when we ship millions of bushels? Is meat any cheaper when we send whole train loads of beef there? What is the cause of all these riots in Trafalgar square, London, Dublin, Berlin and other places, you see in every daily paper? The answer is: starvation, but I don't see why we should feed them. The Democratic party cry out "free trade," but in the same breath yell "stop foreign immigration." Oh consistency thou art a jewel. Civil service reform was the issue when Mr. Cleveland was elected, when they saw there was nothing to reform and no rascals to turn out, they must have some wonderful thing to do, and so they tackle the tariff but may be Conklin will see his mistake in time and not carry New York next time. If that is democracy, for the love of all that is good, for me and my people, let us not be.

X. 10. U. S. ED. Putnam Correspondence. PUTNAM, TEX., DEC. 27, '87. KLY STAR,
Mr. Sam H. Gilliland, of Tecumseh, was in town several days this week.
Kelly Kendall and Wm. Edwards came in from the west on the delayed train Tuesday night.
Mr. E. D. White, who has been up at Cheyenne and other points in the Panhandle, returned yesterday.
Mr. B. F. Williams, of Putnam, called at THE STAR office and deposited $1.50 for a year's subscription, yesterday.
Mr. Andy Young and Mr. Dick Hoff paid us a pleasant visit yesterday. They both subscribed for the best paper in the county.
Mr. D. P. Hadley, we regret to learn is very sick. Drs. Wilson and Powell both were called to attend him last night.
J. F. Flowers, of Ft. Worth, the biggest and best looking drummer on the road sent us three subscriptions to THE STAR yesterday. May his shadow never grow less, nor his rations ever be diminished.
Mrs. J. E. M. Hedley, of Tecumseh, came in Sunday, and took the train Monday for Abilene, where she will spend the holidays with her parents Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Olds.

A. J. Harris had the fore finger on his right hand badly crushed at the depot yesterday evening while coupling cars.
There were several pony races on the Baird race track Saturday and as is frequently the case, some of the boys bot on the wrong horse.
Last Saturday was a busy day in Baird. The races, people laying in Christmas goods, consequently the merchant and everybody else was happy.
J. A. McWaters and two sons, T. M. Oliver and Wm. Ellis, came last week from Deer river, with a fine lot of deer hams etc., and readily sold them at good prices.
The board of District Trustees of the M. E. church south will meet at Baird tomorrow (Friday) and the quarterly conference of the Baird circuit meets Saturday.
All the merchants report a splendid trade last week, the best in fact for years. The sale of Christmas goods was notably large. This is a good indication that people are getting in easier circumstances.
Justice Lane's court seems to have caught the spirit of progress, and is on a genuine boom this week. As to whether the Christmas festivities has anything to do with it or whether it is something that happened prior to that time, the STAR reporter has been unable to find out as the witnesses are all dumb as oysters.

Assessor W. E. McDermott and B. A. Odell, of Caddo Peak, were in town yesterday.
Messrs. Ph. Schwartz & Bro., magnanimously tendered the use of the Opera House to the Belle Plain College entertainment on last Monday night free of charge. This was a grateful act and will doubtless be appreciated by the friends of the college.
A HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL GREETING!
1887. 1888.
As the season of 1887 draws to a close, allow us to extend to you our best wishes and heartfelt thanks for favors during the past season, with the hope of receiving a continuation of the same during the ensuing season.
May our business relations always be as pleasant as they have been heretofore.
Wishing you much joy, health, wealth and prosperity,
We are
Yours very resp'ly,
Ph. SCHWARTZ & BRO.,
Dealers in Dry Goods, Notions, Boots, Shoes, and, in fact, everything belonging to a first class Dry Goods house. Our motto will always be "Fair treatment, good goods and lots of them for as little money as possible."

New Year's Greeting to my Patrons.
The old year has nearly passed away, and ere it entirely drops to sleep in the lap of its successor—the bright new year—I take this method of informing my friends that I am thankful for and appreciate the liberal patronage that they have given me in the past. This patronage I have tried to merit. I have endeavored by fair dealing, reasonable prices, and keeping a good stock of everything pertaining to my line to build up a good business—one which will supply the wants of the public. In this I have been reasonably successful. In the future, as in the past I will continue to merit a full share of public patronage.
Wishing you, one and all, a happy, prosperous New Year,
I am Yours Obediently,
HARRY MEYER.
Judge B. R. Webb is quite sick.
There was a difficulty late this evening near Stewart's restaurant, between Marion Barnhill and Sam Hunter a fireman on the railroad, in which Hunter received a very severe cut in the stomach. Barnhill immediately disappeared and up to this writing has not been captured. The doctors do not think Hunter's wound is necessarily fatal.

As Christmas came on Sunday, the banks at Baird observed Monday as holiday.
As we go to press we learn that the Callahan County Bank has sold out to the First National, we are unable to get particulars.
Married.
Mr. Lee McCammon and Miss Nancy May were married on Wednesday the 21st inst. THE STAR extends congratulation to the happy couple.
Our School.
We are reliably informed that about a dozen of our young people will go to the Belle Plain school early in January.
Our school here seems to be wanting in its attractions from some cause. This should be corrected.
There is no good reason why Baird should not only educate her own children but our town should attract pupils from other neighborhoods.

Miss Willie K. Gillespie successfully closed her first months music school here and left for a short vacation to spend a few days with relatives and friends in Dallas. We learn she will return next week and resume her labors in the stone church. We heard many deserved compliments passed on the renditions of the Christmas tree musical performance. The songs were well rendered and the instrumental exercises by Misses Rice and Rushing were remarkable for accuracy. These girls, it is needless to say, are pupils of Miss Gillespie's music class.
The STAR wishes its friends and readers, one and all a prosperous and happy New Year.
Our Notion Department is complete. Come and see.
