BABSON BUILDING A HOME NOW

New Boston, N. H., Nov. 24.—Although I have written about housing more than once recently, a number of readers are asking me to tell them specifically what I think about building new homes NOW in view of the recent Federal Reserve cut back of credit privileges.

DON'T LET HIGH PRICES SCARE YOU

Readers are writing me that they would like to build a home; but they are not large wage earners and prices are now so high that they are afraid to act. My answer to these people is that it is O. K. to build now if you want a home to live in (not to rent). Also, if you can pay at least one-quarter down with a 15 year payment plan on the balance even though it does cost a lot to build a new home today with present high prices of building materials and labor.

Roger W. Babson

materials, however, are not going to come down very soon. Those who decide to postpone building their new home until prices readjust themselves to something like pre-war values, will be obliged to wait a long time. This is a growing country whose population and economy have expanded mightily in the last ten years. So long as it continues to grow and so long as our living standards advance, we cannot expect a return to the lower price level of years gone by. Let us look ahead rather than backward and not be afraid to invest in the future of America.

THIS IS NO TIME TO BUILD RENTAL UNITS

Note that I advise building now only if you want a home to live in. I do not believe it wise to build homes to rent at this time. Even if we avert another global war, the change-over to an economy planning and spending will have a considerable effect upon construction and real estate. Thus, it appears that rent controls are here to stay for awhile longer and even be tightened in some strategic areas. Certainly, events since June 25 clearly indicates that substantial relaxation of these rent controls is now unlikely, and sharper restrictions may be invoked if the war should spread.

NEW HOMES

There, however, are exceptions to every rule and, while I do not advocate building homes for rent now, a person may be justified in building now a two-family house with the intention of living in one half and renting the other half. In fact, I have just completed a two-family house here in Boston with that idea in mind. Be sure there are separate heating systems and that the water and electricity are on separate meters. Have two modern kitchens and two bathrooms.

BE REALISTIC IN CHOOSING LOCATION

Those who plan to build new homes should select the land as carefully as the materials. If possible, have enough good land for a "kitchen garden". Do not build in or near the big cities mentioned in the new book "Effects of Atomic Weapons", reviewed in the August 21 issue of TIME MAGAZINE. The book itself can be secured for $1.25 from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C. For three years I have warned of the danger of living in these cities.

As this danger becomes more acute, more and more people will try to move their residences from these bomb-vulnerable cities, thus adversely affecting real estate values in those cities and raising values in rural sections. High taxes, also make it wise to avoid the larger cities as locations for new homes. Best bets for new homes today are cities under 50,000 population with preferences to the smaller towns and rural areas. The dangers from those bomb-vul-

smaller the community the better your chances for clean, healthily living in the American tradition

BUILD A PRACTICAL HOME

I advise readers who have never built before to do some careful planning before spending their hard earned cash. Do not be carried away by impatient contractors, but insist upon a fixed contract price, avoiding "cost plus". Know what you want and make sure you will get it before you commit yourself. Aim for a home that will be structurally sound as well as pleasing in appearance. Think of the future before you build. A four-room cottage with doll-sized rooms may look like a dream house now, but it will turn out to be an awful headache if you try to raise a family in it. Nor will it have anywhere near as high a resale value as a more orthodox unit with adequate living space.

(The opinions of Roger W. Babson are published in this paper every week.)

Girlstown Benefit At Lubbock 16th

A "Welcome to Hollywood" show will be presented by Alpha Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi at 10:00 a. m. on December 16th in the Lindsey Theatre, with proceeds going to Girlstown, U.S.A.

The State organization of Beta Sigma Phi sponsors Girlstown, which opened March 13, 1949 at Buffalo Gap and then moved to its present site nine miles south of Whiteface July 13, 1949. The home for homeless and neglected young girls is directed by Miss Amelia Anthony.

The "Welcome to Hollywood" show will be patterned after the "Welcome to Hollywood" show conducted by Jack McIlroy in Hollywood, California. There will be orchids, the Wishing Ring, the Good Neighbor Award, "Thought for the Day", "Elders' Guest" and other features including prizes and surprises.

The Good Neighbor Award in Hollywood is given daily to a person or persons who have been outstanding in doing good deeds for others. A Good Neighbor Award also will be given on the program in Lubbock. Letters of nomination may be mailed to "Welcome to Hollywood", Box 203, Lubbock, Texas. Judges will select the Good Neighbor for the day. Letters expressing the "Thought for the Day" also may be mailed to that address.

TODAY'S meditation

The Upper Room THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

"... I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision" (Acts 26: 19.) Read Matthew 12:46-50.

Tama, a Japanese girl, experienced a very deep sense of the meaning of Christ. She wanted to help other young people to find him. She decided to prepare herself to do Christian work. She worked and saved her money to go to the mainland to college.

When she talked of her plans to members of her family, who were all Buddhists, they said, "You cannot do this. We will give you two days to decide. If you persist, we will have to disown you."

Two days later her father brought her to the house of the missionary. Without bitterness, she said, "They do not understand. This is God's will for me; it is what I must do. I could never be happy if I were untrue to my highest and best. Along with many others in the mission fields, Tama is paying a great price for her Christian faith. She seems now to have lost her family. Who knows, however, but that someday she may win her family and others to Christ. Even so, she will always possess the deep sense of having been obedient to her heavenly vision and the demands of the Gospel.

PRAYER

Our Father, teach us to obey. Strengthen us by Thy Spirit give us courage through Thy power. May our love for Thee keep us faithful to Thee this day and every day. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

"Glad obedience has its own reward."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

I Have A "Close Squeak"!

Spent last Saturday morning wandering all over the house. Wherever I went—upstairs or down—I kept hearing a "squeak." Couldn't find out where it was coming from until noon-time when the missus came home from her weekly shopping.

"Listen," I says to her, "hear that squeak?" I started walking real quiet-like across the kitchen and there it went again! "Joe Marsh," she laughs, "that is nothing but your suspender clips rubbing back and forth when you walk!" And darned if it weren't!

From where I sit, I'd have bet.

Many and ingenious are the ways Texas boys have found for earning all or a part of their college expenses in order to secure an education. The old standby jobs of janitor and mess hall waiter have long been popular with working students at the A. and M. College of Texas, while others have found new and novel ways of their own after the standard jobs were filled. One of the Southwest's leading auctioneers today worked his way through school as a student auctioneer at A. and M. A present member of Congress divided his working time between the horse barns and mail delivery. Many biology students have earned extra money catching poisonous snakes for study or to "milk" them of their poison for sale to manufacturers of medicines. One enterprising lad raised beavers on the campus and sold their pelts. Records of working students at A. and M. show that on the average their grades are as good, if not better, than those of boys who do not have to earn a part of their own expenses.

More than 70 persons attended the Lions Club Ladies' night last Tuesday night at the American Legion Home and heard Charles Dean, Plainview lawyer and former district attorney, blast Communism and the United States trend toward Socialism. Topic of the address was "Nothing in a Nutshell."

Entertainment for the program was several vocal selections by Charles Signor of Plainview, former member of the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra. He was accompanied by Jim Roberts, also of Plainview.

Barbecued chicken and steak with all the trimmings were served to those attending.

Rev. Baine, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was guest speaker at the regular luncheon of the club Wednesday noon at Gerald's Cafe. His address was around the Thanksgiving theme and he gave the history of Thanksgiving and pointed out some of the more interesting and lesser known traditions of this day. He also gave a number of reasons we should be extremely thankful for living in America today.

Boys' Ranchers Plan For Holidays

Each of the 132 boys at the famous Bay's Ranch near Amarillo, Texas, is eagerly looking forward to the Christmas Holidays. To a few of the boys, it means a chance to go home to visit families, relatives, and friends.

To the boys who have no home to go to, it means a big Christmas party at the Ranch, complete with tree, gifts, and turkey dinner. It will also mean a few special privileges for the day.

For many of these boys, it will be their first real Christmas. Never before have they had the chance to enjoy the holidays with a family or to know the fun of opening presents on Christmas morning.

It is planned to give each boy a Christmas box containing two pairs of levis, one pair of dress shoes, two plaid shirts, two pairs of heavy socks, two suits of underwear, a box of candy, and an appropriate gift. The box will also contain esentials such as a comb, toothbrush, and tooth paste.

Many of the younger boys plan to ask Santa Claus for roller skates as there is now plenty of space available for skating. The boys themselves have poured more than 100 feet of concrete sidewalks between the ranch buildings, which offer good surfaces for roller skating.

As each week passes, the excitement grows, and staff and directors are working to see that all the boys at Boys' Ranch have a truly Merry Christmas.

Caldwell Home Scene Of Weiner Roast Nov. 9

On Thursday night, Nov. 9, the S. C. Caldwell entertained thirty-eight members of the Church of Christ and their families with what was intended to be a wiener roast over a bonfire, but as that was the night of the first freezing norther, they found out you could roast wieners very effectively in the house in the oven broiler.

There were quite a lot of cakes and pies and other things to eat, so there was quite a feast, despite the weather, even if the children did have to eat in the basement instead of out of doors. Games were played and Minister Randol and Mary Jeter favored the group with several readings.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Boren and Junior, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Caldwell, Mrs. Opal Eubanks and children, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Boydston, Thomas J. Randol of Texico, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. ## Mrs. Moore Is Honored At Tea

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Muleshoe Methodist Church sponsored a book review and tea honoring Mrs. Bill Moore Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 15 at Fellowship Hall.

The harvest motif was carried out in the decorations. The lace covered table was centered with an autumnal arrangement featuring the horn of plenty with fruits by red and yellow candles. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Mrs. F. B. Pierson gave the devotional and Rev. H. W. Hanks led in prayer. Mrs. O. N. Jennings spoke words of welcome and presented Mrs. Jay Wyer whose review of the book "So Sure of Life" by Violet Wood so impressed the group that the time slipped by unaware, as she so efficiently painted a word picture of the life and work of Robert F. Thomas as Smoky mountains of Tennessee. This was a joyous and fruitful work though often filled with tears and hardships.

During the social hour the society presented Mrs. Moore a lovely buffet ensemble as a token of their esteem and appreciation of years of service shared with them in their work.

Mrs. O. N. Jennings presided at the silver service and Mrs. C. R. Farrell, Mrs. I. F. Willman, and R. I. Palmer assisted in serving. The public was invited and the women of the First Christian Church were special guests.

Conservation Ass'n. Officials Say Local Water Control Is Threatened

LITTLEFIELD, Nov. 28—Official spokesmen for the High Plains Water Conservation and Users Association charged today that the preliminary report of the Texas Water Code Committee, if adopted, would in effect "throw out the present underground water conservation law and vest control in the state."

W. O. Fortenberry of Monroe, president of the organization of irrigation farmers and other well users in 14 High Plains counties, said the association would do everything in its power to head off adoption of those portions of the Code Committee's recommendations which will affect underground water use.

The association sent out a call to all of its members to mobilize county organizations "with men and money to protect our present private ownership of ground water." Members throughout the High Plains were urged to contact their county associations for instructions.

"If we can head off adoption of these recommendations, we may save ourselves a bigger fight later on," Fortenberry said.

The well users' group will be represented, he said, at the Code Committee's public hearing in Austin Dec. 11, which the committee has scheduled before making its final report to the governor and 52nd Legislature.

In Littlefield, Arthur P. Duggan, Jr., chief attorney for the High Plains association, declared that "this committee was originally created to study surface water laws and their revision exclusively, but their preliminary report issued Nov. 1 deals with 'all water resources' of the State of Texas."

"From start to finish, this report deals with all water resources of the State of Texas—it sets forth the objectives of conducting an inventory of all water resources, of reorganizing the administrative agency and vesting in it broader powers of regulation and control of all water resources; prevention of waste of all water resources, and so on."

The key paragraph cited by Duggan is a proposed constitutional amendment which is a revision of one introduced in the last session of the legislature. The original amendment dealt with surface water only. The revision brings in all water resources.

The newly-added subsection in the amendment reads: "For the purpose of aiding and providing for the conservation and distribution for beneficial uses of the water resources of the state, including all waters of streams constituting a part of the state's boundaries, the Legislature shall be authorized to provide for the collection of use fees for the diversion or use of flowing fresh water by persons, by corporations both public and private, and by political subdivisions . . ."

A Tax On Ground Water
Duggan charged it would amount to a tax on ground water use to finance building of river dams and other surface water projects.

"In effect," the attorney declared, "it would destroy all the work we have done in the past three years."

He referred to the successful mobilization of High Plains farmers three years ago when they defeated a bill in the state legislature to give title and control of underground water to the state; and to subsequent passage in 1949 of House Bill 162, "The Underground Water Conservation Law," which incorporated all the farmers' ideas about title and control to the groundwater.

The recent law hinges on two points. First, it declares that the water under his land belongs to the individual owner and its use cannot be allocated or taken away.

Second, the law lays the framework for organization of underground water conservation districts, run by locally-elected boards, and assigns districts the powers of conserving, preserving, protecting and re-charging the reservoirs over which they have jurisdiction.

Some progress has been made towards organization of districts on the High Plains. But since August, when the important first step of designating reservoirs and taking under advisement by the State Board of Water Engineers, no further action has been possible.

"We'd be holding elections to create districts right now if we knew what the boundaries of our districts are," Duggan said. In fairness to the Board, he pointed out that they lack funds to obtain maps needed to complete their survey on ground water resources.

Local Powers Deleted
In its report the Code Committee recommended that the jurisdiction over elections creating multi-county districts, deleting the powers of the county commissioners' courts.

Under the present law, the commissioners courts may call elections to create one-county districts, while the State Board has jurisdiction over elections creating multi-county districts.

"What we really need," Duggan said, "is an amendment to allow us to create districts along county lines instead of following lines of the underground water reservoirs. If it was a function of the commissioners' court, we'd be holding an election right now."

Duggan also pointed out that the Code Committee's definition of "artesian wells" is "ambiguous enough to include every windmill and irrigation well on the High Plains." That would bring irrigation wells under the meaning of stringent regulations now on the state law books but not being enforced at the present time.

Value of the High Plains water resources has been figured at 300 million dollars, from the real estate angle alone. Water suitable for irrigation is found under three million acres of farmland on the Plains and the water rights alone are valued at an average of $100 an acre. More than 15,000 wells are scattered over the area.

Quail Hunting Season At Hand

Austin, Nov. 28.—Quail hunters in most of the state may look forward to improved quail hunting this fall, states the Executive Secretary of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

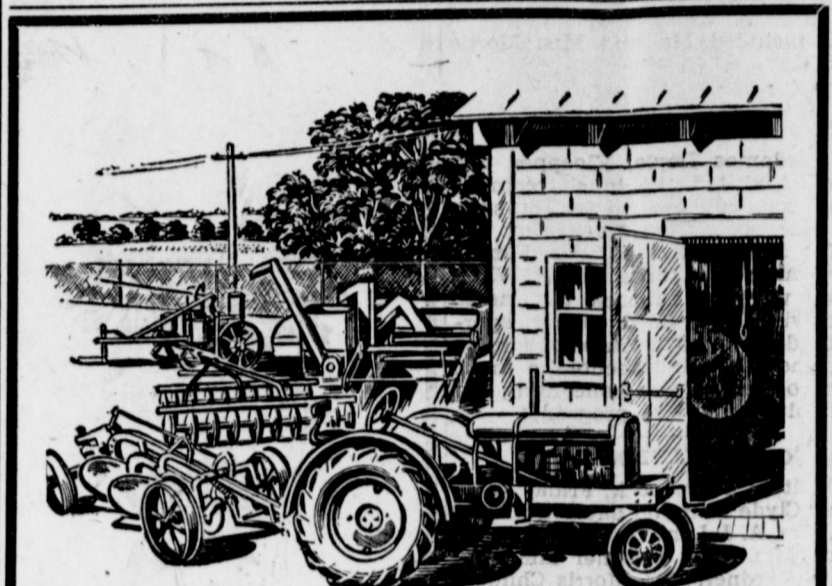

The quail hunting season for the state is from Dec. 1 through Jan. 16, both days inclusive, with a bag limit of twelve per day or thirty-six per week. However, in the twenty-eight county area of the Panhandle, only ten birds per day may be taken with a possession limit of twenty. West of the Pecos the season is open only during Dec. and the daily bag limit is twelve, with not more than twenty-four in possession. There is no open season on Mearns quail. The Executive Secretary explains that counties have special quail laws and urges hunters to check the local regulations before they go hunting.

Wildlife biologists of the Game Department are conducting studies of quail populations through examination of quail wings again this year. The executive Secretary requests hunters to cooperate in this work by sending one wing from each bird they kill to the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission in Austin. A study of quail wings will show the percent of young birds and indicate the production and survival for the year.

Yule Trees Can Be Fire Hazard

That Christmas tree you are planning to set up in your home could be a major fire hazard unless you take a few precautions, the National Board of Fire Underwriters warns.

Tests made by Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., demonstrated that Christmas trees of average size are easily ignited and burn furiously. The blaze could easily start a dangerous fire in the home.

Engineers of the National Board offer the following suggestions for making your Christmas tree safe:

1. Choose a small tree. It will be less hazardous.
2. Wait until a few days before Christmas to set up your tree.
3. Keep the tree outdoors until ready to set it up.
4. Place the tree in the coolest part of the house.
5. If a radiator is near the tree, shut it off.
6. Do not use cotton or paper decorations unless they are flame-proofed.
7. Do not place electric trains around the tree.
8. Do not use candles. Use electric lights instead.
9. Make certain wires are not frayed. Choose lighting sets bearing marking which indicates listing by Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc.
10. Do not plug or unplug the lights beneath the tree.
11. Do not leave tree lights burning when no one is in the house.
12. If needles near the lights turn brown, change the location of the lights.
13. When needles start falling, take the tree down and discard it.

Level out the Wrinkles This Fall with an EVERSMAN AUTOMATIC LAND LEVELER and DIRT MOVER

Every farmer knows how costly rough fields can be... the high spots burn out, the low ones drown out. Uneven fields waste irrigation water, wash out crops, cause lots of extra back breaking labor.

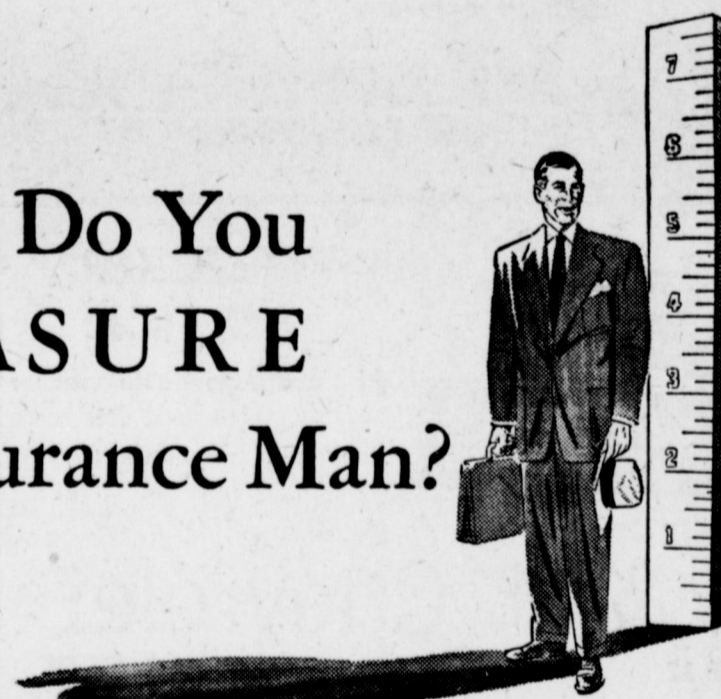

That's why it will pay you to iron out the wrinkles this fall with an EVERSMAN. The EVERSMAN levels land AUTOMATICALLY—when wheels go on high place blade lowers to take a cut, when wheels go into a low place blade raises to release dirt—breaks clods, firms and packs the surface, forming a finely pulverized seed bed as the machine moves along.

Same machine is fastest dirt mover on the market today for power required. Excellent for rebuilding fields. After dirt is moved it can be graded down and AUTOMATICALLY LEVELED with the same machine. Here's an ALL-PURPOSE machine used for dirt moving, leveling, for maintaining contours, soil conservation work and preparing seed beds year after year. Come in today for full details. Plan to do your dirt moving and land leveling this fall.

How Do You MEASURE a Life Insurance Man?

WHAT we mean is this—if you are about to invest in life insurance, on what basis do you choose your agent? Don't let it be a first-come first-served hit-or-miss process of selection. Measure him, and be sure that—

- He represents a financially sound, well managed company.
- He understands your particular life insurance needs.
- He knows his business well and that you can accept his counsel with complete confidence.
- He will provide continuing service in planning and adjusting your insurance program throughout your lifetime.

The confidence of Texans in Southwestern Life and its agency force has been well demonstrated for 48 years. Texans, by their investments in Southwestern Life Insurance, have made this the largest life insurance company in the nation operating exclusively within one state (Texas).

Today a quarter million Texans own more than 800 million dollars of Southwestern Life insurance. These figures are important; they strongly support the conclusion that Southwestern Life agents measure up!

Cotton Support Policy Is Told

The government will support prices of the 1951 cotton crop at a level of about 25 per cent below current prices which have soared to a 30-year peak.

Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan announced that the support level for next year's crop will be at 90 per cent of the Aug. 1, 1951, parity price.

This is the same as the 1950 crop support level in terms of parity, and is the highest level permitted under the scale of sliding supports which goes into effect on basic crops next year.

May Bring Protests
The announcement may stir up protests from some cotton growers who feel their product should receive higher supports than any other commodity next year. They argue that a price of 35 cents a pound is necessary to meet the government's production goal of 16,000,000 bales.

Recent cotton prices have averaged between 38 and 40 cents a pound. The 1950 support level in terms of current parity—would be 28.68 cents a pound.

Current cotton prices are high because the 1950 crop totaled less than 10,000,000 bales. The crop was held down by production controls which have been abandoned for next year. The government has called for a huge crop to insure enough supplies for domestic and foreign needs and an adequate reserve stockpile.

ARE WE GOING WITH THE WIND?

"WELL, DOCTOR, WHAT'S THE LATEST?" we asked as we cashed a check for our family physician. "It's a busy time," he replied wearily. "Two cases of dust pneumonia out near the gyp hill. One of them, the mother of five children, can hardly be expected to pull through. The other is a baby."

"Too bad there isn't some method of vaccination," we thought. And then we remembered something that Ernest Teffort said last fall:

"Vaccinate your fields against erosion and you will protect your own property from deterioration, your children from poverty, and your grandchildren from starvation."

If an ounce of preventive is worth a pound of cure, then there is a ton of opportunity for this community to correct some of the evils which accompany misuse of natural resources, of which dust pneumonia is only one.

As a bank, we believe that money invested in a project tending to preserve the balance of nature will increase the happiness, health, and prosperity of our friends and neighbors, and is money well spent.

You'll feel the EXTRA POWER of the new

FERGUSON TRACTOR

How can a tractor so compact, so easily handled, put forth so much power for the heavy jobs? Two reasons! FIRST—is the Ferguson System of Linkage and Hydraulic Control. It takes advantage of natural forces in linking implement to tractor, making them one single "self-propelled" unit, and automatically increasing traction for the harder pulling. At the same time, the work of raising, lowering, carrying and controlling depth of the implement is done for you, hydraulically.

SECOND—This power, so fully utilized, is supplied by the "farm-type" overhead valve engine of Ferguson and Continental Motors design. Engineered and built for low operating cost, with longer hours of running on the many different kinds of work you'll find the New Ferguson can do.

Together, this combination gives you a farm machine with more than enough power, yet easily controlled, flexible for the wide range of farm requirements.

Whether you judge tractor performance by how easy it makes your work, the time saved, or by how much it lowers your cost of production, ask us to arrange your demonstration. You'll find the New Ferguson is the modern farm machine for you.

Pofitable Returns For Livestock Man Is Aim Of Pasture Improvement

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 28.—Profitable returns is the idea being stressed in the pasture improvement investigations that are now being conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, says Dr. R. C. Potts, associate professor of agronomy in charge of forage investigations.

Recent experiments show that pastures produce as much livestock feed per acre as high yielding corn or sorghums on comparable land, according to Dr. Potts. He says that improved pastures produce total digestible nutrients equal to a 75 or 80 bushels per acre corn crop. On irrigated land, as far as cash income is concerned, pastures compare favorably with cotton.

Studies of comparative costs show that the cost of 100 pounds of digestible nutrients from pastures is $1.26; from hay, $1.70 from silage, $2.07; and from concentrates $4.23. Dr. Potts points out also that the return per man hour of labor is much higher than from cultivated crops—six times as much as from corn and nine times as much as from oats.

Dr. Potts says that success in today's improved pasture program depends upon the use of correct pasture plants. The new deep-rooted grasses and legumes recently selected show much promise. Madrid clover, one of the most important of these, is valuable for fall to spring grazing in Texas if it is combined with oats.

Bur-clovers, crimson clover white clover, perennial lespedeza, and new introductions such as coastal Bermuda hold special promise for pastures in Texas. Even Johnson grass, traditis a scourge of the cotton fields is a good pasture plant when combined with certain legumes and properly fertilized and managed.

Planting shotgun mixtures of 15 to 20 grasses at high seeding rates, hoping to obtain a stand of suitable plants, is poor practice, says Dr. Potts. He says that simple mixtures, usually one grass and one legume, are all that are necessary to do the job. Specific information regarding suitable pasture mixtures are available through the local county agent's office and other farm agencies.

Dr. Potts adds that plenty of fertilizer is another must for productive pastures. Large initial applications may be necessary to insure good stands of the desirable pastures will also be needed after the pasture is established to replace nutrients removed from the soil.

Grass land management begins with a farm wide plan to fit livestock needs and make full use of soils and climate, says Dr. Potts. Although the plans may differ from farm to farm, they have certain features in common. Here again is a chance to ask for assistance from local agricultural experts in planning a program that is fitted to the farm, the land, and to the farmer.

Fumigate Stored Grain Is Advice

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 21.—Farmers who are still moving sorghum grains into their bins are reminded of the precautions necessary to prevent this grain from being damaged by insects. Grain already in storage also should be checked regularly for insects and J. A. Deer, assistant entomologist for the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, reminds farmers that insect pests of stored grain continue to do damage after other insect activity is reduced by cold weather.

Deer recommends that the bins be thoroughly cleaned before the grain is moved in. If constructed of wood, the bin should be sprayed at the rate of two gallons per one thousand square feet of floor space. Emulsions of water suspension consisting of two and one-half percent of DDT or chlordane are good sprays for this purpose. Deer says that a water suspension of DDT can be prepared by mixing ten and one-half pounds of 50 percent wettable DDT in 50 gallons of water.

Remigation of stored grain is most effective within one month after it is placed in the bins, says Deer. He states that grain should be as dry as possible when stored—not more than 12 percent moisture.

Deer says that insects are likely to be found near the surface of the grain bin. Therefore, their presence can usually be determined by sifting a sample of the surface grain. He points out that the temperature of the grain also is an indication of its condition.

Apply fumigants from the outside of the bin with a bucket pump or other type sprayer. Make sure that the fumigant is evenly distributed over the surface of the grain. Deer warns farmers of the danger involved in applying fumigant with a sprinkling can.

Fumigant Vapors Dangerous

When breathed in a concentrated form, the fumigant vapors are very dangerous. Deer advises that the person doing the fumigating avoid inhaling the vapors and try to keep from spilling the fumigant on the skin and clothing or in the shoes. Remove wet clothing at once and wash the skin with soap and water to prevent blistering.

Ten gallons per 1000 bushels of grain of a mixture of one part carbon tetrachloride and three parts ethylene dichloride is a good fumigant mixture to use. Carbon tetrachloride may be used alone as a fumigant at the rate of eight gallons per 1000 bushels of grain, or a mixture of four parts carbon tetrachloride and one part carbon disulfide may be used at the same rate of application.

Deer suggests that farmers talk over with their county agents the problems of controlling insects in their stored grain.

Christmas Tree Canyon To Blaze

CANYON, Nov. 27.—The lights will go on again this year at Palo Duro State Park when Christmas Tree Canyon will have its second annual showing. Last year a score or more of live cedar trees were decorated with Christmas lights and several Christmas scenes were prepared. The interior of El Coronado Lodge was especially decorated for the Christmas season. The event attracted large crowds and many asked that it be made an annual Christmas attraction.

Business firms or organizations are invited by park officials to have a part in the event again this year. Park employees will aid in setting up any Christmas scene or in lighting any tree that groups care to sponsor. The Christmas decorations which last year extended from the entrance gate to Mesa Mecca below El Coronado lodge may be extended to other areas of the Canyon if cooperative participants desire.

An added attraction this year will be a trio of buffaloes and two real old Texas Longhorn Steers which will have their own special Christmas Season decorations in the form of a tableau depicting the Christmas of a lone cowboy in the Palo Duro during the late "Seventies."

Insect Damage $107 Million

Bryan, Nov. 22.—Insect damage to the 1950 cotton crop in Texas amounted to approximately $107,035,000, destroying 11 per cent of the total harvest, according to an unofficial preliminary estimate compiled by the National Cotton Council, George G. Chance, chairman of the Texas unit of the Council, said here today.

"Insects kept approximately 456,000 bales of cotton and an estimated 187,000 tons of cottonseed off the market this year. Based on average prices, this lint would have brought Texas farmers some $91,119,000 and the seed would have meant an additional profit of $15,916,000," the Council spokesman said.

"Throughout the Cotton Belt," Mr. Chance said, "an estimated 16.5 per cent of the crop, valued at approximately $598,565,000 was destroyed. In dollars and cents, losses in 1950 were second highest on record, exceeded only by 1949 when damage amounted to more than $617 million."

Chairman Chance announced that the National Cotton Council will hold the fourth annual Cotton Insect Control Conference in Memphis, December 7-8, to discuss insect damage in Texas and other Cotton Belt states. This conference at the Hotel Peabody will bring together state and federal entomologists, representatives of the insecticide industry, agricultural education workers, and cotton industry leaders to plan an integrated program of cotton insect control for 1951.
