Sanger Bros. Finds Three Old Timers
 Texans live a long time. That's the opinion of E. P. Simmons, president of Sanger Bros., Dallas, after a state-wide search for 90 year old Texans whose birth-dates coincided with that of Sanger Bros. disclosed three oldsters who were also born on November 7, 1857.
 In observance of the occasion, Mr. Simmons sent birthday greetings to the three old timers and asked each what they would like for a 90th birthday present. Mr. B. S. Montgomery, White-wright, Grayson County, decided he would like an easy chair and an ottoman. Both were presented, to him on his birthday at a party attended by three of his ten grandchildren.

 Mr. G. F. Bumar, McKinney, Collin County, shut-in, asked for a battery radio to help him pass the time.
 The third 90 year old, Mrs. W. E. Pinkston, Chireno, Nacogdoches County, has not yet told Sanger Bros. officials what she wants for her gift.

Lettuce Success As Plains Crop
 Hereford—John Paetzold, who has been a leader in the development of diversified farming under irrigation in the Hereford area, has pioneered a commercial crop of lettuce this year. Although the first freeze last week nipped the crop when only about a third of the harvest had been completed, he declares that he believes lettuce will prove to be a good crop to follow up early plantings of Irish potatoes. Mr. Paetzold planted six and a half acres of lettuce early in August on land from which spring potatoes had just been harvested. He irrigated the crop once a week and produced a successful crop ready for harvest by the middle of October. Difficulty in securing laborers for the harvest delayed marketing of the crop with the resulting loss of two-thirds of the lettuce produced.

 He was the only farmer in the county to plant lettuce in an experimental planting carried on this year by a group of Plains farmers, with the crop centering around Monroe, north of Lubbock, where a successful crop has been reported. Lettuce on the Paetzold farm was producing about 250 crates to the acre on the first cutting and Paetzold estimated that it would have produced between 350 and 400 crates of excellent heads if harvesting had been started early enough.

 He declares that he will try lettuce again next year as a follow-up and he believes that enough will be planted in the county to support a local marketing center.

GRISSOM WINS STATE HONORS IN DAIRY CONTEST
 C. W. Grissom, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Grissom of Oklahoma Lane and member of the Oklahoma Lane 4-H Club, has been selected state winner in the Dairy Production contest.
 His award for this distinction is a $25 Bond, given by Kraft Food Company and a chance to compete for sectional and national honors, which include a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress for the winner, in Chicago in December.

 C. W. has been in club work for nine years, and at a recent Farmer County Dairy Show and Fair his cow was Grand Champion in the Milk Production contest.
 C. W. also won the Santa Fe

OLD-FASHIONED THANKSGIVING

Turkey and cranberries, and a table setting of harvest fruits are all symbolic of Thanksgiving, and this arrangement of small pumpkins and gourds adds grapes and persimmons for color contrast. Candlesticks in keeping are made from big rosy apples by cutting a hole into the core and whittling until the candle fits the hole.
 Equally traditional on this holiday is hot mulled wine, offered for refreshment when friends come to call. Sugar and spice and everything nice are combined in this recipe, to make a fragrant spicy beverage that expresses genuine hospitality.

Thanksgiving Cheerio
 1 cup sugar
 3 cups boiling water
 2 bottles Cresta Blanca Claret
 6 strips lemon peel
 6 inches stick cinnamon
 18 whole cloves
 Dissolve sugar in boiling water. Add lemon rind, whole cloves, and stick cinnamon. Boil together for 15 minutes. Strain into double boiler and add wine. Heat piping hot but do not boil. Serve flecked with nutmeg. Serves 10-15.

black spots when our rose bushes, it's easy with the dusting of rose leaves are of trouble.

Mul Enter the M can recognize the disease by the dark brown or black spots, some very small, some nearly as large as a dime. The leaf usually turns yellow and drops off the plant. When that happens, it's a good idea to get rid of the dead leaves, because rain or water splashing will spread the disease to fresh growth and it will start all over again.

Black spot may cause the bush to die limb by limb. It usually starts at the stem of a bloom and goes down the plant until it reaches the root.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Tyler has developed an excellent formula for controlling the disease. It is 10 per cent copper and 90 per cent sulphur. It's usually sold as copper sulphur dust, or rose dust. A plain cotton-dusting sulphur after each rain will help control the spots.

Remember, if your roses have

Pioneers of World Air Routes

Representing a fifth of a century of progress in international air service, and over 7,000,000 passengers carried overseas, Pan American World Airways this year celebrated its 20th Anniversary. Captain Basil Rowe, above, one of the 129 of the airline's pilots who have flown over 1,000,000 miles, has logged over 3,500,000 miles and the equivalent of almost three consecutive years in the air since his introduction to flying in 1917.

The 1927 crossing of the 90 miles of open water between Key West, Florida, and Havana, Cuba, in a wooden-winged, three motored Fokker (shown right above) flying at 85 M.P.H. and carrying only 8 passengers is a far cry from today's globe-circling in luxurious Constellation, D-C-4 and Boeing Stratocruiser type Clippers. This route was only the first for Captain Rowe and other Pan American pilots as they stretched their pioneer services to South America, China, the Central Pacific, the North Atlantic and Africa.

Today's establishment of round-the-world service is the line's latest first. Soon it is to be joined by the first domestic route to fly high-speed, long-haul, non-stop express flights within the U.S., linking their coastal terminals if a program now pending before the Civil Aeronautics Board is approved.

Bromfield Says Conservation Of Soil Is A Must

Lubbock—Louis Bromfield, noted author, lecturer and practicing farmer, warned an audience of approximately 1000 persons in the Lubbock Senior High School auditorium November 13 that American civilization as we know it is doomed unless agriculture builds up its declining per-acre yields and practices soil conservation. His talk here climaxed a day-long visit of over 150 of the nation's leading business mer, warned an audience of approximately 1000 persons in the Lubbock Senior High School auditorium November 13 that American civilization as we know it is doomed unless agriculture builds up its declining per-acre yields and practices soil conservation. DES MOINES—One of the most amazing features of the 1947 Iowa State Fair was the almost complete lack of flies, mosquitoes and other insects. Fairgoers throughout the country know through experience that pests of this type are quite prominent at fairs due to the attraction of outdoor eating establishments, animal barns and manure piles. These insects are a definite menace to public health. This year the Iowa State Fair decided to do something about the situation and, in turn, set a precedent which could well be followed by other state and local fair groups. The fairgrounds were sprayed this year with Cook-Kill. The spray was used on most of the buildings, eating places, toilets, garbage dumps and manure piles, while Chloridane, the basis of Cook-Kill, was used in overall spraying from the air. Following this anti-insect campaign, an inspection party consisting of city and state health authorities, chemists and entomologists visited the sprayed area, and here are the results they found: Screenless eating establishments contained no flies or cockroaches, race horse barns were free of flies and other insects, manure piles and garbage dumps had no trace of the usual flies and insects. Dairy barns and swine barns were free of insects. The 100 acre camping ground was free of all insects, more than 20,000 fair guests ate and slept unmolested by pesky bugs and insects. Visitors at the fair were relieved of any worry concerning insect-spread diseases. The results obtained were so conclusive that the Des Moines city health director immediately began preparations for a city-wide insect control spraying program.

ple who live in this great country out here have an opportunity to set a pattern for the remainder of our great nation to see," he said.

He went on to point out how East Texas has lost 75 per cent of its productive capacity within recent years, and how land that once produced three bales of cotton per acre now only produces 3-4 bales per acre. That similar exploitation could reduce the productivity of the South Plains was heavily emphasized by Mr. Bromfield.

Gonser Sale Put Back To Nov. 24

Rain Monday caused postponement of the L. D. Gonser sale of dairy cattle at his place 6 miles north, 1 west and 1-2 north of Lazbuddie. From the site of the old Syndicate Hotel the place is 4 miles south, 1 east and 1-2 south.

A drizzling rain fell during the day and Col. W. D. Wanzor, the auctioneer, and Mr. Gonser decided it would be best to postpone the sale. It will be held, therefore, the coming Monday, November 24.

A list of the fine dairy cattle he will offer is to be found in this paper.

NOTICE

A Bazaar will be held at the Lazbuddie School house on Friday night, November 21, sponsored by the W.S.C.S. All proceeds will be used for church work.

Vegetative Cover

A vegetative cover is obtained by the use of grasses and other plants to break the force of rainfall with their leaves and stems and to hold the topsoil in place with their underground network of roots. Generally speaking, the most important single factor in preventing soil erosion is the production and maintenance of a complete vegetative cover for the soil.

Permanent vegetative cover should be used in gullies, the control of which is the first step in a well-planned program. When gullies start forming, the land is retiring itself from cultivation. The gullies can be healed in many cases by erosion-resistant plants whose thick tangle of leaves and stems created thousands of little dams which retard and trap part of the sedimentation from the run-off. Grass and legumes are used for this purpose. Frequently dams, brush and other obstructions are placed in the gullies to retard the water and give vegetation a better chance to take hold.

Generally, land on steep slopes and hills should be permanently in grass. Such land can be more productive in the long run as pasture than in cultivation. Naturally waterways on the farm should be permanently seeded to grass.

"As agriculture production per acre declines and costs increase and as our population increases, we are moving along the path that brought ruin to the Chinese government, economy and civilization. If we pay higher prices in subsidies rather than in cash across the counter, we are taking money out of the pockets of our citizens through increasing taxation—either visible or invisible. We thus constantly decrease our purchasing power. We drain away capital that should be employed under the free enterprise system to bolster the system's economy in providing employment, and developing real wealth. We tax ourselves more and more in order to hold down living costs. We devour our economic vitals to do so, and we bring ourselves constantly nearer totalitarianism. A democracy is a luxury—England didn't go Socialist because she wanted to. England moved toward the left and Socialism because she had to."

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. These are veal riblets, one of the best well-known economy meat cuts.
Q. Where does the cut come from, and how is it identified?
A. The veal riblets are cut from the veal breast, which is a long flat cut containing the breast bone and rib ends. To make the riblets, the breast bone is removed, and the breast separated into riblets by cutting between the ribs.
Q. How should this cut be prepared?
A. Since veal riblets contain little fat, they are more tender when cooked by the moist heat methods of braising or cooking in liquid. To braise, brown the meat first in hot fat, then add a small amount of liquid, cover, and cook slowly until tender, about 1 1/2 hours. If the riblets are to be cooked in liquid, as for a stew, brown in hot fat, add enough liquid to cover the meat, cover tightly, and cook until tender, also about 1 1/2 hours. In either method of cooking, vegetables may be added just long enough before the end of cooking time so that they are tender.

New Styles Merely Onslaught
On U.S. Purse, Author Declares

Fashion changes which have brought the radically new styles to the United States are merely another onslaught by foreign designers on the American pocketbook in the opinion of Philip Wylie, noted author, and observer of the contemporary American scene.

And just as long as American women submit to these foreign dictators they can't afford to look down their noses at Ubangi women for inserting a plate in their lip, he declares.

"For modern fashion has become a big business, controlled not by milady's real desire for novelty, her good taste and proper love of ornament, but by a mere commercial greed of the most cynical and exploitations variety," Wylie says in an article in the November issue of Cosmopolitan magazine.

"The world of fashion has one purpose; to make as much money at it can, as fast as possible, from Mrs. and Miss America. Thus, the changing fashions no longer follow cultural tendencies, but, if anything, precipitate such tendencies.

"Designer" is a very good name for those who promote the fraud; they have designs on one thing; America's pocketbook."

Fashion designers who have designs on the American pocketbook have one tried and true formula, according to Wylie, who asserts:

"Each new style has been one that has made milady's extant wardrobe obsolete. Fashion's aim has become to shame American women into constant buying without any real need at all. The technique of mass panic has been mercilessly employed, through advertising and high-pressure public relations, to keep the ladies afraid that what they have in the way of clothes is forever too long, short, wide, narrow, plain or ornate.

"Today it is impossible for a woman to be dressed 'correctly' for more than a few months without new clothes."

"American women should be bright enough, in Wylie's opinion, to apply the brakes on an exploitation of themselves which periodically makes them look absurd, often injures their health, and constantly sabotages their bank accounts.

"A few new attitudes are needed," he asserts. "First would be a general appreciation of the fact that any dress or garment which is beautiful to wear is always beautiful, faddish or not. Next should come the simple admission that anything which restricts natural functions is both criminal and hideous. Finally the public should perceive that women who sedulously follow fashion today, are, one and all, prize suckers on history's greatest sucker's list."

BLACKWATER VALLEY SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

A conservation survey was completed last week on a farm owned by C. W. Grandy.

R. S. Williams of Lubbock made application for soil conservation assistance on 177 acres of land located near Bula.

Topographic surveys have been completed on 320 acres owned by A. J. Jones and on 320 acres owned by J. T. Huckabay. Both farms are located near the West Camp community. These surveys will furnish information for planning improved methods of irrigation water application.

A complete plan of conservation operations was worked out last week with Tom Drinkard, tenant on a 160-acre farm owned by Urbane L. Childers of Odessa, Texas.

TO BE HERE NOV. 28

Elliott W. Adams, Social Security Administration Representative, will be in Muleshoe at the Post Office at 9 a.m. on Friday, November 28, 1947, for the purpose of answering any questions you may have on Social Security; discussing possible benefits and taking claims from persons who seem to be entitled to benefits; and taking applications for Social Security account number cards.

Some employees who have moved and who have lost their social security account number card seem to think it is compulsory to secure a duplicate card from the office where they secured the original. The facts are that any field office of the Social Security Administration will be glad to accept an application for a duplicate and thereby save the applicant time and ex-

Muleshoe Study Club Met In Holt Home

Muleshoe Study Club met in the home of Mary Frances Holt, Thursday, November 6, for a very enjoyable evening.

One of the most interesting programs of the year was given. Starting with roll call, each member answered by describing a scenic wonder of the U. S. and followed by discussions on "The Geographical Growth of the United States," and "Territories and Possessions," which subjects were ably given by Hope Fling and Mickey Lewis.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE THANKSGIVING SERVICES

Thanksgiving Day services are held each year by The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and its branches throughout the world. The order of service includes the reading of a Lesson-Sermon on the topic of "Thanksgiving" and opportunity as afforded for testimonies of gratitude to be expressed appropriate to the occasion. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

The Golden Text is "O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt his name together" (Psalms 34:3). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "He loveth righteousness and judgment; the earth is full of the goodness of the Lord" (Psalms 33:5).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Are we really grateful for the good already received? Then we shall avail ourselves of the blessings we have, and thus be fitted to receive more" (page 3).

A MAN OF THE WORLD

Yes, and we mean in an important sense, for the eyes of the World are upon him.

He is the American farmer.

He, alone, among the farmers of the major nations, is able to feed his own countrymen and hungry millions in other lands. Last year he sent 20 million tons of food abroad while maintaining our own diet level—already the best in the world.

This high production efficiency—achieved by the persistent application of new tools and scientific discoveries—must be maintained in months to come. For food is still fighting for peace.

And so is steel.

Steel companies, which already have set new peacetime production records, are spending more than one billion dollars on improvements and expansion to meet the needs of reconstruction abroad and our expanding economy at home.

Through steel and farm production lies a great source of American strength. And only the strong can hope to keep the peace.

Big Improvement
Farm Practices

Lubbock — Agricultural practices will probably be improved 75 per cent by the next generation of farmers who, in their youth, have had advantages of specialized agricultural educations in colleges, and of participation in 4-H and FFA activities, according to Louis Bromfield, noted author and proponent of soil conservation.

Bromfield and more than 150 other national leaders in business finance, industry, nutrition and land saving, visited Texas Technological College recently while on a tour covering Texas agricultural and industrial centers.

Texas Technological College and other schools that teach agriculture are playing a vital part in furthering soil conservation, Bromfield stated, pointing out that conservation does not end with preventing soil erosion, but also includes building up the soil by sound agricultural practices.

"Only about 10 per cent of today's farmers are really good farmers," he said, "with some 30 per cent more capable of being classed as fair. The remaining 60 per cent, frankly, are very poor."

"It is up to today's youth, with its improving knowledge of sound
