TERRIFYING TORNADO

Meridian, Miss., Visited by Disastrous Wind Storm.

DEATH LIST IS LARGE

City Was Struck at a Late Hour in the Afternoon and Buildings Demolished as if They Were Made of Feathers.

Mobile, March 3.—A long distance telephone message from Meridian, Miss., states that at 6:30 on Friday afternoon a tornado descended upon that place and destroyed every business house but one on Front street, also visiting other portions of that city. Property loss is over $1,000,000.

Two large wholesale stores, several smaller ones, part of the principal hotel, the electric lighting plant, and all the small property between the Mobile and Ohio railroad and the business part of the city were badly damaged. Twenty men were caught in one restaurant and several were killed. Two stories of the Young Men's Christian Association building were wrecked and other buildings suffered in the upper stories.

The negro tenement district, north of the city, was demolished and the debris caught fire, threatening a new building, but the local fire department with the help of hundreds of citizens overcame this after a hard fight. They were assisted by the torrential rain following the tornado. The city is in darkness. The path of the storm was about 600 feet wide and one mile in length.

A long distance message to the Item from J. D. Breaux, service man of the Cumberland Telephone company at Meridian, gives complete details of the tornado.

During a heavy rainstorm, a storm cloud developed in the south and moved on the city, striking Front street, the business section, with full force. The wind was blowing probably seventy-five miles an hour. The tornado passed over in about two minutes and during that period three or four whole squares were devastated. A conservative estimate places the number of buildings blown down at between thirty and forty. Among the heaviest losers are the Meyer-Neville Hardware company; Tom Lyle & Co., wholesale dry goods and groceries; Josh Moore, wholesale dry goods and groceries; New Orleans and North-eastern freight depot and other buildings. The Grand Avenue hotel was considerably damaged. The guests in the latter escaped and no one was injured.

The city is in total darkness, the electric lighting plant having been put out of business.

D. E. Bennett, Claud Williams and Frank Woodruff, employees of the Myer-Neville Hardware company, were buried in the debris when that building went down, but Mr. Bennett made his escape while the other young men are still beneath the ruins.

The Mobile and Ohio passenger station and the freight depot were destroyed, and fire near the compress did much damage. Great confusion reigned and it was impossible to estimate the loss or account for the missing Friday night, the loss being estimated at from fifty to two hundred dead with scores of injured, some of whom will die.

Rain followed the death dealing wind and all trains due at Meridian were stalled. The Western Union Telegraph company reports fifteen miles of wires down and the Postal also suffered great damage.

The Armour packing plant is the only building left standing on Front street and the roof of it is gone.

Several large fires broke out and despite the heavy downpour of rain, burned fiercely.

At 4 o'clock Saturday morning it was estimated two hundred lives had been lost and twice that number were injured. About thirty bodies are reported burned.

The cyclone broke over the city as the people were returning from work and many were struck with flying bricks and timbers. It moved from northeast to southwest, making a clean sweep of the city.

Meridian has a population of 20,000 and is the largest manufacturing center of Mississippi.

BALLARD'S HOREHOUND SYRUP

PERMANENTLY CURES CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA, SORE THROAT, HOARSENESS, WHOOPING COUGH AND CROUP

DO NOT DELAY

Until the drain on your system produces permanent disability. The human breathing machinery is a wonderful system of tubes and cells. To have good health it must be kept in good order. A COLD is considered of no importance, yet if it was known by its proper name of "throat inflammation," or "congestion of the lungs," its dangerous character would be appreciated. When a cold makes its appearance use at once Ballard's Horehound Syrup which will speedily overcome it.

WHOOPING COUGH and CROUP Require Prompt Action. SNOW LINIMENT applied to the throat and chest gives wonderful relief, while Ballard's Horehound Syrup will rapidly stop the violent paroxysms of coughing. IT IS THE ONLY COUGH REMEDY THAT WILL POSITIVELY CURE WHOOPING COUGH AND CROUP.

BEST FOR CHILDREN

Mrs. Mand Adams, Goldthwaite, Tex., writes:—"I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup and find it the BEST medicine for croup, coughs and colds. My children use it and it is pleasant to take and quickly cures."

It is better to shoot high than not shoot at all.

Pay your debts, or give some valid excuse why you don't.

"Be sure you are right then go ahead."—Davy Crockett.

Merkel claims that over twelve thousand bales of cotton have been received there this season.

Some people are so busy attending to other people's affairs that they actually have no time to look after their own.

All the religion in the world is not stored up in your church, neither is all the honesty and civic righteousness found in your political party.

The cranks make the world go round, they say, and the cranks sometime put a spider in the dumpling of bogus reforms. It takes all kinds of people to make a world.

If you don't want your own corns mashed keep off other people's corns was the advice given by a sage ever so long ago. It was good advice then 'tis good now.

The price of cotton still falls. Perhaps it is best. Fifteen cent cotton now would probably mean ruin for the farmer this fall and mainly benefit the speculators now, as few farmers have any cotton on hand.

The Grim Reaper is abroad in the land. The high and the low, the rich and the poor, the old, middle aged and youth fall before the White Reaper. Truly the poet says, "The world is full of farewells to the dying."

One of the unsolved mysteries that will go on down through all time, perhaps, is the question, "Who struck Billy Patterson?", but says a New York paper the question of who struck Tom Patterson is easily answered, it was Senator Bailey.

In the death of Ex-Governor Jas. S. Hogg, Texas loses one of her most devoted sons and the people their best friend. We did not always agree with Gov. Hogg, but all recognized his sterling honesty and unswerving devotion to the right as he understood it. Time has demonstrated that Governor Hogg was right on nearly all, if not all, his proposed measures of reform. He was a grand man and a true patriot.

In the Bell county local option campaign the pro speakers are making free use of church houses to expound their theory. The antis have as much right to use a church for their speakers as the pros; if not, why not? This may sound strange to some but it is true nevertheless. THE STAR contends that no political party or faction has any right to use a church building to hold public meetings, no matter how specious the plea to the contrary.

The Legislature has been called in special session to bind up bleeding section 120. It is a pity that about 150 sections of the bill could not be eliminated, but under the Governor's call the legislature can not change the law. THE STAR is in favor of a compulsory poll tax payment; in favor of a fair ballot and honest count; but believe it rank usurpation for the legislature to dictate to the people how and when they shall nominate candidates for office.

No Christian can live up to the high standard set for them by the world. Why is this? Because all are human.

As there are less than five thousand prohibitionists in Texas, if the whole job lot had returned to the democratic party they would cut no ice, but they have divided and the "straights" refuse to homoligate with the democrats.

Speaking of the rumpus in the prohibition party and Cyclone Davis' return to the democratic fold, the Hall County Herald says: "Cyclone Davis will cut a figure as a democratic spell-binder. He has now been on all sides of all questions." Cyclone has tackled many difficult jobs, but his present job, to make a prohibition party out of the democratic party of Texas he will find the hardest job of all. Cyclone won't stay long in the democratic fold, and THE STAR predicts that he will bolt inside of two years.

The man or boy who will remain idle long because the work or the pay does not suit them will find life a rough road to travel. To the man, woman, boy or girl who is not afraid or ashamed of honest labor, life is not a burden. False modesty about work has made a fool out of many an otherwise sensible young man or woman. Honest labor is honorable, not a disgrace. Idleness is a sin and often leads to ruin. An idle brain is said to be the Devil's workshop. Choose some honorable calling in life and stick to it through thick and thin.

Other towns are moving in the interests of the Y. M. C. A. but Baird is still asleep. An association of this kind in Baird would be as great a help to the young men as in other towns, but everybody in Baird is so busy with other work, fads or fancies that no one seems to have any thought of such things as a Young Men's Christian Association. If THE STAR fails in arousing interest in this line we will try to get up an Association of back sliders and uncompromising reprobates. The latter ought to be popular, but perhaps no man would admit that he belonged to either crowd.

When Cyclone Davis gets out as a democratic spell-binder somebody is going to ask him some embarrassing questions about the mean things he said about the democratic party a few years ago. The party is no better nor any worse than it ever was, but whatever maybe said about it, it is not, never was, nor will it ever be a prohibition party. If it does it will cease to be democratic. The democratic party has always opposed sumptuary legislation of every kind. This does not mean, however, that the party is opposed to local option, when a majority, of the people want it. Should the party favor laws that would prohibit a man using intoxicating liquors, or so shape the laws that one could not buy liquor then it would cease to be a democratic and become a prohibition party.

BISHOP GARRETT.

THE STAR is requested to announce that owing to the illness of Bishop Garrett he will not fill his appointment at Baird next Sunday. This is a disappointment to many who desired to hear Bishop Garrett, who is justly ranked as the greatest pulpit orator in Texas.

Rev. C. B. Meador requested THE STAR to announce that no services would be held at the Methodist Church Sunday owing to Bishop Garrett's appointment, but as the Bishop will not be here we presume Bro. Meador's first announcement will stand.

Alex McWhorter and Mr. Jurden are in town today.

IMMENSE FIRE LOSS.

One Million Dollars' Damage Done By Conflagration. Austin, March 6.—The 268,000-acre ranch of Major George W. Littlefield, in Lamb and Hockley counties was burned over by a prairie fire. Two hundred thousand acres of grass and 250 head of cattle were burned. According to Major Littlefield's advice the fire started 100 miles northwest of his ranch and burned to it, making a loss of over $1,000,000. He says that the only redeeming feature is that it is springtime and that the grass will grow in about forty or forty-five days.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The Teachers' Institute of Callahan County convened at Baird March 2d, and 3d. House called to order by Prof. Darden. Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Meador of the Methodist Church. Bro. Meador always has something good in store for the teachers. He forcibly impresses upon the minds of the teachers their great responsibility and their influence over the rising generation.

In pursuance of the program the subject, "Good Manners" was discussed by Miss Chassie Coffman, of Baird. Her essay was complete as a production and her manner of reading was pleasing and interesting. She would have the teachers make earnest appeal to the better nature of the children praising those who do well that others might see the glory of the good children and work for the goal themselves. The teachers should strive to find something good to commend of every student. The paper was highly complimented by all who were present.

Next on program was a lesson in grammar conducted by Prof. Powell, of "the Hub of the Universe", Clyde.

Next to hold the floor was the Hon. W. R. Ely, who discussed the subject of School Laws and the necessity of their intimate relation with the school teacher.

Prof. Varner and his Physiology class are to be commended for the interest manifested in their lesson and the correct and logical answers given to various Physiological Phenomena. Physiology lesson No. 2 under the tutorage of Prof. Dilworth of Dudley, caused the teachers to wish they had studied their lesson more carefully and efficiently.

To understand the next part of the program it is necessary for one to go back a score of years and see the boys and girls lined up around the wall, some with books open behind them others with the hardest words copied on a piece of paper or in the palm of the hand. If Prof. Bennett had been down stairs after the spelling match he might have heard the words, "I don't like that old teacher. He is partial. I know I spelled my word right and he made me sit down and Susan missed hers and he just let her stand there."

Herbert Spencer's theme "What knowledge is of most worth" was ably discussed by Prof. Walker, of Putnam. This closed the regular work for the first day.

At about 8 o'clock Friday night had one taken a bird's eye view of the little city they might have seen the fair sex in company with pedagogues and proteges traveling towards the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Miller in the north part of the city. By 8:30 the guests, composed of editors, lawyers, doctors, bankers teachers and business men of every vocation, had arrived and one of the merriest times of the season was spent in drinking "punch" and not forgetting, however, in their "intemperance" to lend a listening ear to the many songs and beautiful music rendered by the guests at large. At 10:30 after expressing appreciation for the enjoyment of the evening and bidding host and hostess good night, the teachers returned to their respective homes to enjoy a few hours of peaceful slumber before the work of the next day.

Saturday morning Prof. Darden of Cottonwood, opened the discussion of County Superintendent, Prof. Maxwell, of Dallas, and Prof. Barton of Ft. Worth, spoke on this question and highly endorsed the idea of creating this new office.

The lesson in Physics on the subject of Specific Gravity was practically taught by Prof. Smith of Baird College. By having water, stones and blocks at his command he illustrated in the simplest way Specific Gravity and the Buoyant force of liquids. Much practical good was obtained from Prof. Smith's lesson.

Physiology lesson No. 3 was conducted Prof. S. T. Walker, of Eula. We can only commend the teacher in the lesson for his knowledge of the subject and leave it with him for his commendation of his pupils.

Consolidation of Rural Schools was discussed from all standpoints by both teachers and trustees.

The Five Day Institute was decided upon for the next time instead of three Institutes of three days each. After business meeting the Institute adjourned to meet the first week in 1907.

The Institutes in Callahan County this year have been the best in their history. In all instances the work of the Institutes have passed off in perfect harmony. All teachers have manifested great interest in the work by their presence and the active part which each and every one took in the work.

Although the Institutes of this year have been the best in their history, let us not be content with present conditions but let each teacher put his life into his profession and with diligent hands put in motion the great wheel that will roll our Institution the coming year to a higher plane than ever before. Then let us strive to raise our profession to the exalted place it should justly occupy and by our works prove ourselves worthy of the profession.

JAMES S. HOGG DEAD.

Distinguished Texan Passes Away at Houston.

DEMISE A SURPRISE.

For Eight Years He Occupied High Official Positions, Serving Two Terms Each as Attorney General and Governor.

Houston, March 3.—Hon. James Stephen Hogg died at the residence of Judge Jones, one of his partners, at 11:30 o'clock today.

Governor Hogg was found dead in bed.

The demise of this distinguished Texan came as a surprise, although it was known his health had by no means been restored by his recent trip to Colorado.

James Stephen Hogg was born at Mountain Home, near Rusk, Tex., March 24, 1851. He learned the printer's trade and worked some time at it, also publishing a newspaper at Cullman, also being justice of the peace.

In 1875 the governor was admitted to the bar. In 1878 he was elected county attorney of Wood county, and in 1878 district attorney of the Seventh judicial district, composed of Wood, Upshur, Gregg, Van Zandt, Henderson and Smith counties. In 1882 he was re-elected.

In 1884 he removed to Tyler and in 1886 was nominated by the Democratic state convention for attorney general of Texas, being elected at the fall election. In 1888 he was re-elected.

In 1890 he was nominated and elected governor of the state, and in 1892 re-elected after the most memorable campaign in the political history of Texas, defeating Judge Clark of Waco.

After the expiration of his gubernatorial term the ex-governor resumed the practice of law, forming a partnership with Judge Robertson at Austin. He also became interested in the Beaumont oil field, acquiring a handsome competency.

For the past year or two Governor Hogg's health has not been good, and he paid a visit to Colorado last year, hoping to regain it. Recently he moved to Houston and formed the law firm of Hogg, Watkins & Jones.

Mrs. Hogg has been dead several years. There are four children—Miss Ina, Will, Tom and Mike.

Governor Hogg was probably the best known man in the state, having a large personal acquaintance in every section. He was a forceful speaker, a lawyer of ability and a friend in the true sense of the term.

Jan. 26, 1905, the ex-executive was en route to Houston on an international and Great Northern road. When at Anchor there was a collision. He was violently jerked, his neck being injured. Since then he had been almost constantly under the care of physicians. While en route to Mineral Wells some months ago on reaching Fort Worth he was taken seriously ill and remained several days at a hotel in that city. A suit against the railroad company has been pending some time.

Baker from a man at Rutland, Vt., who said he had heard of the wickedness in Louisville and desired to do missionary work here. Postmaster Baker forwarded a city directory with a letter, saying that the directory contained 250,000 names, and he was certain that this plan would afford everybody in Louisville a square deal.

Funeral of Late Governor Hogg Attended by Vast Concourse.

Austin, March 5.—The remains of the late James Stephen Hogg lay in state Monday surrounded by beautiful floral tributes from various cities. All departments were closed, the supreme court adjourned and many business houses closed their doors while the funeral services were in progress. Thousands of people looked for the last time upon the face of the distinguished dead, and few were the eyes that were not bedimmed with tears. The funeral services, which were simple, were held in the senate chamber, and were conducted by Revs. J. A. French, pastor of the First Baptist church, and S. H. Werlein, pastor of the Tenth Street Methodist Episcopal church, South. Both pastors paid touching tributes to the high character of the Lone Star's great son.

The procession to the city of the dead was one of the longest ever witnessed in this city. The honorary pallbearers were Governor Lanham, ex-Governor Sayres, Chief Justice Gaines, Associate Justice Williams, Judge Denman, Henry Marsh, Colonel T. M. Campbell, O. T. Holt, Colonel R. M. Wynne, Waller Baker, R. N. Stafford and R. M. Johnston.

The active pallbearers were Major G. W. Littlefield, Judge J. H. Robertson, R. W. Finley, John Lovejoy, W. R. Hamby, John W. Robbins, John D. McCall, ex-Senator Chilton, N. W. Finley, E. M. House, E. R. Kone, Joseph Nolle, W. T. Campbell and Jeff Johnson.

At the cemetery, beside the remains of the dear wife who some years ago passed away, and whom he loved as few mortals do, the honored civilian was laid to rest. His grave and that of his dear companion were covered with numerous floral remembrances.

Rhame, Tex., March 5.—Boys brought here from New York have secured homes with farmers in this vicinity.

SAID HE WAS SORRY.

Negro Who Outraged and Murdered Miss Lear Executed.

Shreveport, March 1.—Charles Coleman, the negro who outraged and murdered Margaret Lear near here last week, was legally executed in the parish jail at 12:37 o'clock Thursday.

No excitement attended the execution, public feeling having subsided since the conviction of Coleman last Saturday. Governor Blanchard arrived at 10 o'clock and shortly after signed the death warrant. All preparations had previously been made for the hanging. Coleman confessed to the murder of Miss Lear and also admitted having killed a negro at Cypress, La., two years ago.

The hour of the execution was kept a secret, and the announcement was only made when it was over. Military and police kept the curious crowds away from the jail until Coleman paid the forfeit.

A great crowd gathered around the rope cordon at the jail, which the militia still guarded, and when it was learned the trap was sprung great cheers were sent up.

Coleman was locked in his cell for some time Thursday morning with different ministers, among them being some of his own race. One of these conducted him to the foot of the scaffold, and Coleman did not lose a particle of his nerve. He walked with a slow, but steady step, and took his position on the scaffold when motioned to by the hangman.

When asked if he had anything to say he replied: "I am guilty of killing that little girl; I am sorry of it. That's all I have got to say." He smiled once when the hangman touched his chin and pointed upward. The cap was placed over his head and rope adjusted. Just as the hangman placed his foot on the trigger Coleman exclaimed: "Good-bye." The trap flew open and his body shot through. He was pronounced dead in thirteen minutes, his neck being broken.

One of the murdered girl's brothers witnessed the execution.

DWELT ON GRAFT.

Judge Scott Resents the Idea That Texas Is Honeycombed.

Waco, March 5.—In charging the grand jury Monday Judge Scott of the Fifty-fourth district court spoke for an hour on alleged graft in Texas, resenting the idea that the state was honeycombed in that way. He said some newspapers were claiming graft existed everywhere, and said these papers were recant to their trust if they did not expose the cases, as libel laws were so framed that papers could safely do this, and that they could not hide behind the claim that libel laws were too strict.
