

Cisco Junior College Wranglers Beat Howard Payne University

Scoring in every quarter, the Wranglers of Cisco Junior College earned a 34-to-21 victory over the junior varsity of Howard Payne University of Brownwood in a non-conference football game at Chesley Field Thursday night.

The Wranglers had a total of 408 yards, including 293 yards passing, for their night's work. Howard Payne had 318 yards, including 240 rushing. Cisco threw the ball 29 times with 15 completions and one interception, while the visitors passed only 15 times with five completions.

Penalties hampered the Cisco offense. They were called for penalty 16 times for a total of 152 yards. Howard Payne's biggest problem was turn-overs. They lost the ball six times on fumbles and once by interception.

The Wranglers had two long TD runs cancelled by penalties - one on their first offense play of the game and again on their first play after the half.

Cisco scored twice in the first quarter. A long pass took the ball to the two-yard line after the TD run by James Dixon was called back. Dixon then scored and Eric Edwards converted. Also in the first quarter, QB David Dacus passed to End Leslie DeHorney for 11 yards and a TD. Edwards again kicked the extra point.

In the second quarter, Cisco recovered a fumble on the HP 35 and a short pass and a HP penalty gave Dixon the ball on the 8 for a TD. The extra point was good again. Late in the period, the Wranglers were stopped on their 35 and Edwards kicked a field goal from mid-field. Howard Payne scored in the second quarter when a reverse play was good for 50 yards to the Cisco five. The fullback (whose name was not on the program) plunged over and the extra point was good.

In the third quarter, Dacus again passed to DeHorney for a 75-yard touchdown play and Bobby Nino kicked the extra point.

Howard Payne scored twice - first on a 25-yard reverse play by Patrick Hall and then on a short plunge after a punt return of 45 yards to the Wrangler two. The first PAT attempt was missed and after the final score, a run for two points was good.

The game's final score was a field goal by Edwards from the 40-yard line.

Andre Horton, defensive back from Austin LBJ, was one of the top defensive performers. He had seven tackles, a fumble recovery and an interception. Darrell Robertson, defensive end from Winona, also had a good night with six tackles and a fumble recovery. Other top tackle makers included, Anthony Curley, Mark White, Yerrett Long, Mike Miller, Eric Almond, Cedric Showels, Jerry Childress, Jay Bowmer and Earl Simpson.

Keith Darrow, sophomore linebacker from Sulphur Springs, was taken to the hospital by ambulance after sustaining a knee injury.

Citizens Should Be On Look Out For Fugitive

A police search was still underway Friday for a young colored man who attempted to rob Munden's Discount Center in a daylight holdup last Tuesday afternoon. Police Chief Billy Rains reported.

Mr. Rains asked the public to be alert for a muscular colored man with a short afro hair cut. He was driving a red Chevy Malibu with yellow stripes and was dressed in a green T-shirt and white shorts.

"We haven't been able to find anyone who saw the car after the man drove away from Munden's," Mr. Rains said. His description was broadcast throughout this region.

Mrs. Linda Keck was on duty as checker-casher when the man "put something in my back and told me to open the safe," she reported to police. She shut and locked the safe as they went into the store office. The would-be hold-up man "exploded" and left hurriedly.

Munden's Foiled Robber On Crimestoppers List

On Tuesday, September 23, 1986, at approximately 1:40 p.m., an unknown black male entered the Munden's Discount Store located at 1002 Conrad Hilton Ave. in Cisco. The subject walked around in the front of the store for a minute or two.

The clerk asked him if she could help him and he replied no. Then he stuck something in the clerk's back, and demanded that she go over and open the safe and give him all the money. During the process of the robbery the clerk slammed the safe door shut and would not open it.

The suspect was described as a black male 19 to 21 years of age, 6'3" tall, heavy muscular build like a body builder, with short afro hair style. He was wearing a solid green muscle t-shirt with white stripes and he fled the scene in a possible early model (70's) Chevrolet Malibu, red in color with yellow stripes down the side of the vehicle, also described as having a racing hood scoop on the front.

Crimestoppers will pay $500.00 reward for information leading to the arrest and indictment of the person described in this crime.

The Crime Stoppers telephone numbers to call are 629-3161 or 629-3182. Let us remind you again that you are not to identify yourself when you call in. You will be given a reference number, and when you see it publicized that the persons reported committing the crime has been indicted, then contact Crime Stoppers again, identifying yourself by the reference number you were given, and make arrangements for the payment of the reward.

There is a new sign painted on the south side of Tiny's Grocery, 2108 Conrad Hilton. The sign has the name of the store and some items they carry and then a cartoon character of store owner, Jesse (Tiny) Escovedo. It is really an eye catching way to tell the name of his business.

Some of the buildings surrounding the Mobley in the Cisco Historical District are so beautiful and they have so much history of Cisco in them. After word gets around about the Mobley, Cisco will be getting tourist in to see it.

Spotlights & Sidelights

ROOTS?

Did you ever think about writing an autobiography? Do you feel any obligation toward your own posterity? My predecessors always have interested me, and our youngsters are more interested than I have been. Haley really started something with his "Roots," didn't he?

I've been keeping family journals for years, but I wish I'd started earlier, and I definitely regret the diaries I burned. I'm ruefully sure there was nothing particularly sensational in them...maybe that's why I burned them.

It hasn't been that long since Agatha Christie died, but it's been awhile since she started writing her autobiography in 1950. She didn't "finish" it until 1965 when she was seventy-five years old. I believe she lived another ten years, at least, but I don't care enough to check it out.

Agatha's leisurely chronicle of her life and times is partly responsible for this attitude. The publishing date in the paperback copy I have is 1977, and I'm just now getting around to reading about the lady whose writings have entertained me so much over the years.

My reading speed on "Agatha Christie" is not great. Usually, books vanish down the maw of my mind at about the same rate a train disappears into a tunnel. Not this one.

This book impresses me as selective as much as chronological. And I like the selections. I am in no hurry for this book to end—which is just as well as there are 644 pages in it. I have not got past her first husband yet, but there are indications that the seams of matrimony are straining.

"Hercule Poirot," her tidy little Belgian detective, has come on stage, but my favorite, "Miss Jane Marple," has not. She may be in existence; but in the chronicle, which does not stick to chronological order, Miss Marple, with her modest reasoning to explain quite immodest murders, has yet to appear.

For whatever reasons, Agatha Christie's story of her life as she has recorded it has given me an urge to get our various bits and pieces of my family history and string them together so our grandchildren can have a more realistic view of OUR way of life.

Family history has interested me for a long time, but I did not write it down when I should have. For instance, all those things my grandparents told me when I was spending summers with them: sure, I'd forget! Yeah, well...Some of the yarns I do recall, but not nearly as many as I heard and wish for now.

From my own experiences with my elders—bittersweet as well as sweet—I urge all you youngsters to make notes and tapes before memories get too scatty—your own as well as your elders.

However, don't write a tale off too quickly as the product of senility. Many of the yarns my mother spun in her last year (her ninety-first) were dreams, and she said so. Many of them were not. I knew enough of some of the places and people she talked about to find out what the things she did happen. Ida, even as Agatha, was selective in her memories.

My own memories may be just as selective, but I've tried to be fair and record the downs as well as the ups. I do notice that the journal gets neglected when I'm extra busy on "things" or when I've been out of kilter with the world in general. How will the kids know which? Perhaps they'll be selective readers.

Oh, well. Back to Agatha and the times she recognized as long gone. I feel a trace of nostalgia, but of many of my own long-gone times, I feel the only proper comment is "Good riddance!"

Area News Briefs

RANGER
Amy McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith McDonald, is the First Place winner in the State of the 1986 4-H Record Book Contest. Amy, a member of the Ranger Trailblazers 4-H Club, has received numerous awards in the past. A recent one was the coveted "Santa Fe" Award for overall work, in which she won a $750 scholarship and trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago. At the present time she is attending Tarleton State University.

The patrol of I-20 by Ranger policemen brought considerable comment from local citizens during this week's City Commission meeting. The Police Department has said that a patrolman is on duty in Ranger while another is on the Interstate. The matter of whether or not the two miles of I-20 that is patrolled was in the city limits was brought up by Bob Green, owner of Quality Food Mart. Barbara Wheat, City Secretary, said this area was in the city limits.

City Commissioners are asking the citizens of Ranger to make donations to the Police Department to purchase a police car. Donations can be made at City Hall or the First State Bank in Ranger.

The Ranger Times has selected three members of the Ranger High Football team as "Players of the Week". They are Dean Ishmael, "Most Valuable Player", Mario Avila, "Offense", and Rex Griffin, "Defense". These were selected for especially outstanding performances during the Ranger-Gorman game. Dean is a Senior at RHS, an outstanding athlete, and an Honor Student. Mario adds a special energy to the team with his speed and stamina. Rex is a great defense, and is expected to continue to give strong backing to the team.

This weekend (Saturday) was a great day in Ranger, and included a lot of "Roaring Ranger" celebration. The Roaring Ranger Riding Club hosted the big parade at 10 a.m. Saturday. This Club was organized in April, 1986, and has represented Ranger well this year. Officers of the RRRRC are Captain, Calvin Ainsworth, Lt., Dwight Rogers, Sec.-Treas., Donna Driscoll, Wrangler, Mary Rogers, and Carral Boss, Billy Ainsworth. Leaders of the Club say they are looking forward to 1987, and encourage all interested riders to join the group.

CISCO
Al Anderson's Band was selected as "Outstanding Nursing Home Volunteers for 1986" by the Ombudsman Task Force of West Central Texas Council of Governments. Marie Culpepper awarded the Band this certificate at the Valley View Lodge, Eastland, during the September birthday party for residents. Anderson, violin and guitar player, leads his band in a program every second Tuesday night each month at Valley View. He also plays for many other community affairs. The countless hours of music he gives bring joy to many.

An agreement to settle a $250,000 law suit filed last school year by a Dean against Cisco Junior College was reached at a called meeting of the Board of Regents this week, according to Dr. Henry E. McCullough, CJC President. Dean Gerald Bint of the Vocational-Technical School met with the Board in Executive Session and an agreement satisfactory to him and the College was reached, Dr. McCullough said. Terms of the settlement were not released.

The family of the late George Fee will be helping the Texas Highway Department keep the litter off Highway 183 where it runs through the Fee ranch. This attractive stretch of road is several miles northeast of Cisco. Bill Fairchild, grandson of George Fee, has agreed to keep that three-mile portion of the highway clean of litter for one year. This is part of the state Adopt a Highway Program, which is receiving wide support from throughout the state. The Fee family has formed the George Fee Foundation in order to perform this service.

RISING STAR
The Rising Star City Council, in its September meeting, decided to accept a 15 yr. contract with Brownwood T.V. Cable Co. Bob Nevill appeared at the meeting to explain why a Contract of this length was needed. A motion was made and the 15 yr. contract carried unanimously.

The $24,000 goal for a new ambulance for Rising Star is getting nearer. Recent donations swelled the fund to $21,494.20 as of Sept. 22. Recently the Saturday Club donated $722.00, the entire proceeds from their Sesquicentennial Quilt. The Trail Blazers Association gave $208.42. Other donations and memorials have come in the area.

The Rising Star Future Homemakers of America have adopted two miles of state Highway 36 through the town, extended one mile east and one mile west. According to Ted Kirby, maintenance construction foreman for the Highway Department of Eastland County, the FHA have volunteered not only to pick up litter but to transport all the filled litter bags to the dump ground.

EASTLAND
State Rep. Jim Parker has indicated that he will introduce a local bill in the next session of the Legislature which will re-establish jurisdiction for the Eastland County Court. This would lighten the case load in the 91st District Court, which is considerable. He also indicated that provisions would be included to provide a county attorney to help process the misdemeanor cases at a county level rather than through the District Court.

Eastland County Commissioners decided to continue the employment of Bill Hart as Attorney Pro Tem on the Debra Garcia murder case after a report from him Monday. Hart, an Eastland Attorney, told the Commissioners that the State Attorney General's office had given the opinion that his employment is legal. Several Attorneys have filed motions in an attempt to have Hart removed as special prosecutor. Hart was hired in March, 1985 to make a special investigation of the case.

Plans are in high gear for the Eastland County Fair on Oct. 4. Numerous pretty girls of all ages are filing for the Second Annual County Miss Pageant, and others are involved in the Fair Queen Contest. The 10 a.m. Parade is supposed to be the biggest and best ever, with numerous floats already set to go. The Arts and Crafts Booths in the Courthouse are expected to draw a big crowd after the Parade. A full afternoon and evening of varied entertainment is scheduled.

Wednesday, Oct. 1 at 3 p.m. in the Women's Clubhouse the Eastland Music Club will hold the first of its 1986-87 series of programs. Jim and Lyndell Cockburn, musicians from Ranger, will present a study and demonstration on Texas music. They will sing and play cowboy songs, early Texas songs, and other assorted numbers. Don't miss this interesting Friends of Music presentation! Adeline Meredith will lead out as President of the Club, and the Yearbook Committee will host a reception.

BAIRD
Callahan County Commissioners have announced budget cuts amounting to $78,500 for the coming fiscal year. The cut became necessary after the county lost $56,000 in Federal Revenue Sharing Funds and Approx. $10 million in tax value, due partly to the oil slump. In addition to this, the county is expected to contribute $57,000 to the state-mandated Indigent Health Care program. The cuts in Callahan County will be felt in a number of ways, including cuts in salaries and benefits of county employees, a cut in jail food, and in the jailer's car allowance. County residents will have to pay to dump their own trash at the Abilene landfill, no more bounties will be paid on coyotes, and telephone expenses for the county will be cut.

Cisco Lions

Fish Fry

Tickets are on sale for the Cisco Lions Club's annual fish fry at the high school cafeteria from 5 to 7 p.m. Friday, Oct. 3, according to an announcement by Olin Odom, club president. The fish fry will be part of annual homecoming activities for Cisco High School students.

The football teams of Cisco and Albany high schools will meet at 8 p.m. Friday at Chesley Field. There will be a downtown parade at 3 p.m. Friday as part of the homecoming program. Chairman Ivan Webb of the fish fry committee reported that tickets are $3 each if purchased from members of the Lions Club. The tickets will cost $3.50 at the door.

County Popover Classes Resume Monday

Eastland County Popovers classes will resume Monday, September 29th at their regular scheduled times. Under the new ownership and management of Marilyn Beggs and the new coaches, Eastland County Farm Bureau members and others will have an opportunity for special insight into farm affairs management when Vernie R. Glasson III speaks to the County Convention on October 4. The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. on that date at Siebert Elementary.

Glasson, public affairs director of Texas Farm Bureau, grew up on a cotton and grain farm on the Texas Gulf Coast. He has worked with the Farm Bureau on local, state and national levels for more than 10 years. A graduate of Texas A&I University in Kingsville, Glasson also served with the U.S. Air Force in Vietnam.

His first work with the Texas Farm Bureau was that of a Fieldman in 18 Rolling Plains counties. That takes in a number of counties west of here, from Abilene along the caprock.

Next he became the Texas Farm Bureau Associate Director of Commodity Activities, working out of Waco. In 1975, he became assistant director of national affairs for the American Farm Bureau Federation in Washington - a farm program lobbyist who dealt with seven southern state delegations.

In 1979 he was promoted to AFBF Director of National Affairs, in which he was chief lobbyist for the national organization in charge of the Washington, D.C. operation. This included implementing AFBF policies with the Congress and Executive branch of government, and managing a lobbying staff.

Glasson went to field services for the American Farm Bureau in 1982, in which he managed Farm Bureau programs with seven State Farm Bureaus. The Texas Farm Bureau managed to persuade him to come back to his home state in March, 1984, and become public affairs director for the state organization.

He coordinates, manages and directs public affairs programs involved with national legislation, state legislation, farm-labor member communications, legal affairs, and research policy development for TFB. Besides this important guest speaker, the Farm Bureau Convention will include the election of new directors for the County. Major farm issues will be discussed, and Eastland County Farm Bureau President Bob Shults and other officers will give reports. A barbeque dinner will also be served.

New Chemical Testing On County Roads

On the afternoon of Sept. 22 the Eastland County Commissioners went out between sessions of the Court to observe a new road surfacing material which Richard Robinson, Comm. Pct. 1, had spread on dirt roads in the Eastland area.

This material, with the trade name of Sta Dust, is distributed by the Kaiser Chemical Co. Its main ingredient is magnesium chloride, which was found in an abandoned oil well near Gail, Texas, west of Snyder. Sta Dust comes in the form of a clear, liquid material, and spreads evenly across the roads. The Texas Railroad Commission approves its application. Once on the roadways the material turns darker. The Commissioners said that the dirt roads they observed appeared greatly stabilized by the treatment. They were interested in the possibilities of the product.

Richard Robinson reported that the Pct. 1 crew made these applications on Sept. 11 and they "were sure looking good". Rain on one roadway had failed to dislodge the surface, he said. Among the roads to receive treatment so far are one near Eastland, one behind the Elementary School, about three-fourth of a mile of roadway west of Eastland near Sunshine Trailer Park, and a road near Lakeside Country Club. "We will definitely be watching these applications, and making plans to use more if all continues to work out," Robinson says.

Hills To Which We Continually Resort

By Ruth Schaefer Stewart
Part Three of Three Parts
Natural Bridge Caverns
A few miles down the road we saw signs pointing to the Natural Bridge Caverns. We decided to go there while in the area. It was an exceptionally hot day and we were looking forward to going into the cool cave. The entrance is via an air conditioned gift shop. The tour was announced and we made our way to the patio, where the lady guide met the group. She led us down an asphalt sidewalk with hairpin turns until we finally reached the large area near the natural bridge. It was a sturdy rock which spanned the two canyon-like walls. The softer supporting material had long been eroded away, leaving the natural bridge connecting the land masses.

Entering the cavern, we continued to walk on the downgrade pavement. The damp cave is still alive with new formations continually building. We were cautioned not to touch the nearby stalagmites and other formations.

We enjoyed seeing the Throne Room, Sherwood Forest, the Cathedral Hall, and the room larger than a football stadium.

The cave chandeliers, columns, soda straws, strips of "bacon", "fried eggs" filled our imaginations with the humorous to the sublime.

Bats had once lived in the cave as evidenced by the stains on the ceiling and the large deposit of guano in one area. Surprisingly, there was no foul smell, just the pleasant cave smell throughout.

As we walked on the trails some drops of pure filtered water splashed on our heads and shoulders. There was one place in which the walkway was attached on the wall of a crevasse. We looked in awe at Purgatory Canyon and the creek at the bottom. Splunkers must have been in suspense as they saw the semblance of shoe!

The coolness may have been the main clue that it wasn't true. One could do some soul searching in such a place, however.

In one place we traversed the crevasse and then climbed a steep stairway to the last room of the tour. An elderly gentleman had quite a difficult time making the ascent. When he finally arrived at the top, our tour guide used a "walkie talkie" to call for assistance. In a few moments a golf cart came, did a turn-around, and took the grateful tourist to the top. We all decided that this tour definitely required a good set of legs.

(A few years ago we went on a trip to Innerspace Caverns near Georgetown and we discovered that it was very accessible to wheelchairs ... but that is quite another wonderland story.)

Wanda's Corner

Wednesday night on the news a statement was made that the second largest industry in Texas is tourism. That could mean a lot of money coming into Cisco in the very near future from the Mobley.

People might think about restoring some of these buildings to open up shops and get some of this tourist trade.

Cisco Junior College has some slides on how some other small towns renovated their downtown area and the economy really took an uphill climb. The Cisco Chamber of Commerce also has booklets on this subject.

A new manager at Town and Country Food Store out by I-20 was named a couple of weeks ago. Linda Hammack has worked for the Town and Country company for about five years. She moved to Cisco from Copperas Cove about a year ago and began working in this T&C then. She has one daughter, Audrey who is a sophomore at Cisco High School and two sons, Clifford and Ariess who still live in Copperas Cove.

The City of Cisco has really been busy in paving the streets here in Cisco, on both east and west sides. It sure is nice to have so many of the streets paved. There are quite a few left to go, but not as many as there was three years ago.

In the Cisco-Early football story a mistake was made about who made the last touchdown. Steve Abbott, scored both times for the Lobos.

My son informed me that I had down the wrong name. Sometimes I just don't know what comes over me while I'm typing.

The Cisco Service Club is going full speed to get ready for this year's Halloween Carnival. The Carnival will be held in the Armory, south of town on Hwy. 6, on Saturday, October 25.

This year the Cisco High School Senior class will help work the booths in the carnival, and the ladies of the club will work in the Spook House. The theme this year of the Spook House will be "Terror in The Isles" and they will use scenes from old movies. This should be pretty interesting.

The New Life Tabernacle church in Cisco will be in charge of the food at the carnival. Anyone who has eaten a lunch they have prepared or eaten at their church suppers know how good this will be.

The Cisco Civic League will also be working in the carnival. The Service Club worked in the Folklife Festival held here last spring and now the Civic League will swap working hours to repay them.

It's nice to see these two clubs give a joint effort and work together to bring our Community some great entertainment.

Everyone needs to make plans to attend this year's carnival.

Janet Parsley To Be Honored With Shower

Janet (Love) Parsley will be honored with a come and go bridal shower Tuesday, Sept. 30, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the home of Vonda Anderson, 711 E. 22nd Street. All relatives and friends are cordially invited to attend.

Kiwanis Club Held Breakfast Meet Thursday

Kiwanis Club met Thursday for their regular breakfast meeting, and October 7 was set as the date for installation of officers. The meeting will be at 7 p.m. at the Colony Restaurant with Cleve Cullers, district governor for this district, as installing officer and guest speaker.

The annual Kiwanis Club rummage sale will be held Oct. 19. This annual sale is one of Kiwanis' major fund raising projects.

A membership drive will be initiated during October. The club voted to change its meetings from 6:30 a.m. Thursday breakfast meetings to 12 noon luncheon meetings on Tuesdays. They will continue to meet at the Colony Restaurant. The first luncheon meeting will be October 7 and all interested persons are invited to attend.

Jesus' Friends To Begin New Sessions October 2

Jesus' Friends will begin its 1986-87 sessions Thursday, October 2. There will again be two sessions each Thursday. The morning session is for children ages 3 and 4. The afternoon session is for kindergarten through third grade.

The morning session will be from 9:30 to 10:45. The afternoon session will be from 2:30 to 4.

Jesus' Friends is a children's ministry sponsored and staffed by members of Redeemer Lutheran Church. All children of the Cisco area are invited to attend. In Jesus' Friends the love of Jesus is shared with the children through Bible stories, songs and hand-crafts.

Registration forms will be mailed to an individual if a call is made to the Church of office at 442-2090, or call Laura Ziehr at 442-1735. Parents may register their child on the first day. The Child Care Center has forms for the children.

CARING FOR YOUR EARS

Your ears are one of your most important links to the world. Normally, the ear is a self-cleaning organ. Earwax forms only in the outer part of the ear canal, lubricates the skin of the ear canal, and traps dust and other foreign particles, preventing them from entering the eardrum.

A number of factors may cause the earwax to build up—overproduction by the glands, an abnormally shaped ear canal that may trap the earwax. Wax buildup can cause the ear to itch, a ringing in the ears or partial loss of hearing.

It's important to remember not to try to get at the earwax by inserting cotton swabs, hairpins, fingernails or other objects into the ear canal. You may unclog your ear—or help prevent it from getting clogged—by using an earwax removal system available in your drugstore.

Murine® Earwax Removal System offers the only complete, medically approved way to safely remove wax. The two-part system has both clinically tested drops to loosen hardened wax, and a unique bulb syringe to wash wax away.

You may want to use it as part of your personal grooming routine once or twice a month. Instructions are on the package. If you find your earwax buildup requires weekly removal, you should talk with your doctor to find out why.

Lights From The Christian World

By Josephine Cleveland

"And Behold there arose a great tempest in the sea, inasmuch that the ship was covered with water, but he was asleep" (Matthew 8:24).
It was a beautiful day when Jesus and His disciples boarded a boat on the Sea of Galilee. Jesus slept while the disciples enjoyed a day of rest. Then suddenly a storm arose and began to lash against the boat. At times the storm became so severe that the waves covered the ship. They feared for their lives. They hurried to Jesus and awoke Him.
"Save us!" they cried, "Or we will die!"
Jesus awoke from sleep. He asked them why they were so fearful. He told them, "Have faith." Then He commanded the storm to stop. Immediately the sea became calm.
The disciples marvelled at this. They had learned a valuable lesson. Jesus could do all things and He was worthy of their trust.

Friend, ask Him to help you. Trust Him in every situation in your life. David, the great king of Israel tells us, "Come, behold the works of the Lord" (Psalm 46:8).
Isaiah 30:15 is saying, "In quietness and confidence shall be your strength." Know that the turbulence you felt within your inner self shuts out the One who has the power to calm the storm. Jesus is saying to you, "Be still and know that I am God." So friend, be still, be quiet, and be confident for He shall be your strength. It is His promise to you.

The Idea That Didn't Die

It was January, 1961, and the 57th Texas State Legislature had convened in Austin. Price Daniel was Governor, and young men with the names of Gus Muter, Ben Barnes and De La Garza were beginning their political careers. John F. Kennedy was President elect and Lyndon B. Johnson Vice President elect of the United States.

Scott Bailey of Cisco, a freshman Congressman from District 76 (Eastland, Callahan and Shackelford Counties) drafted a Resolution dealing with a Tariff on oil imports into the United States. The Texas economy was down, for the State revenue depended a lot on the production of oil by independent companies.

There was even some talk of having to vote in a sales tax to pay for state expenditures. But as Congressman Bailey rose to give his Resolution he did not notice an over-powering amount of interest in his ideas. He gave the speech as follows:

RELATIVE TO IMPOSING DUTY ON FOREIGN OIL IMPORTATIONS
H.S.R. NO 69

"Whereas, conservation of oil resources is vital to the welfare of this state and to national defense and that existing practices of selective purchasing of oil lead to discrimination, destruction of property and waste, and

"Whereas, The fact that the importation of foreign crude oil into Texas has reduced the reasonable market demand in Texas to the extent that production of domestic wells has been necessarily reduced from their more effective rate, and

"Whereas, many stripper wells have been prematurely abandoned there-from, and that a serious waste of the natural crude oil of this state exists by reason thereof, and

"Whereas, there are hundreds of wells throughout the state of Texas without pipeline connections, representing millions of dollars in invested capital, with poor financial return and in some counties it is not now possible to sell enough oil to pay operating costs, and

"Whereas, small farmers, land owners and royalty owners in the State of Texas are being deprived of much needed bonus and rental monies, and

"Whereas, Unemployment is increasing at an alarming rate throughout the oil industry and State revenues are decreasing at such an alarming rate that new and burdensome taxes will probably be inflicted upon the people of Texas, and

"Whereas, Millions of barrels of foreign oil, costing approximately One Dollar ($1) per barrel, are being merchandized throughout the United States on a Three Dollar ($3) per barrel market, thereby increasing profits of the major oil importing companies to the financial detriment of the great State of Texas and its people, and

"Whereas, due to this unwarranted influx of foreign oil many of our Texas fields are operating on an eight (8)

day per month basis, and
"Whereas, Today the independent producer stands at the crossroads of financial bankruptcy and unless the noose placed around his neck by the world oil cartel is loosened it will lead to the gradual decline and ruination of the greatest single industry in this great state of Texas, now therefore be it
"Resolved by the House of Representatives.... that Senator Ralph W. Yarborough be requested to introduce and sponsor legislation imposing an import duty of One Dollar Fifty Cents ($1.50) per barrel on the foreign oil importations that are creating grave financial evils, and be it further
"Resolved, That the Clerk of the House be directed to transmit a copy of this Resolution to the two (2) Senators from Texas and to each of our Representatives in Congress and that we hereby urgently request their full cooperation and support in this proposed legislation so import to Texas."

Most of the people listening had to agree that this was a good speech from Congressman Bailey. There were some excellent points to it. But it really wouldn't have a ghost of a chance in Washington - not with this Administration. Too many people against it - consumer groups, not to mention the big oil companies. We couldn't afford to raise the price of oil!

So the Resolution was temporarily referred to the Temporary Committee on Rules. Scott Bailey recalls a final swipe at his ideas in the Resolution from one of the large newspapers in Dallas. Time went by. Bailey served out his term and did not go back to the House of Representatives. The area of the 76th District was changed, with Eastland County placed with Stephens and Palo Pinto counties..

When Eastland County Judge John Hart died, Scott Bailey was appointed to fill his unexpired term. He was interested in the work, and continued to run for the office each time one of his terms was up.

Eastland County was pleasant enough, but events in the world outside were cataclysmic. The War in the Viet Nam began its torturous course. John F. Kennedy, Martin Luther King and Robert Kennedy were assassinated. Men walked on the moon, and Nixon walked right into Watergate.

Perhaps the biggest story of all concerned oil, and the way the Middle East began to relate to the rest of the world. At times it seemed that America was almost a hostage to their demands. But the price of oil soared to about $40 per barrel, and independent oil companies were able to profit with other corporations.

Even in the good times Texans began to speak out for an oil import fee. Echoes of Judge Bailey's speech began to be heard in meetings of TIPRO (Texas Independent Oil Producers and Royalty Owners), and West Central Texas Oil and Gas Association meetings.

None of the Presidents, including President Reagan, ever supported a Tariff on imported oil. Various Texas representatives, however, began to line up in favor of it: Congressman Stenholm, Kent Hance, Senator Lloyd Bentsen and others spoke in its favor. Phil Gramm held out against it. Bill Clements, when Governor, always worked hard for the Tariff, as has Governor Mark White. Currently this is one issue on which they both agree.

There have been many sessions of the Legislature, since that 75th held more than 25 years ago. But now there are some striking similarities in state conditions, such as a big shortfall in oil revenue. For oil prices started falling last January, and Mid-east nations still call the shots.

Maybe someone will make Scott Bailey's Resolution again. How about in the National Congress this time?

Born in Weatherford, she was a longtime Cisco resident before moving to Lubbock in 1977.

She was the widow of Robert Bruce Scott and was a member of the Methodist Church.

Texas Independent Petroleum and Royalty Owners (TIPRO) has expressed a great deal of concern regarding the valuation of mineral interests for the purpose of taxation.

Leslie Tugman, in charge of Government relations for the Association, has led out in compiling information from a special study of the appraisals in all counties.

A call to Miss Tugman brought some of her data to the Eastland County Newspapers. A lot of her information comes from the 1985 Property Value Study of School and Appraisal Districts by the State Property Tax Board.

She has come up with the "Twelve Worst Counties" in the state in regards to mineral appraisal.

No. Eastland County is not among them!

According to this chart, however, Eastland County doesn't have a great deal to boast about. It is reported as having it-minerals appraised at a 102% median ratio in 1985. No figures from the 1986 appraisals have yet been published by this group.

A letter with her chart of the "Worse Counties" included a number of statements on mineral taxation.

"While properties are to be assessed at 100% of fair market value as of Jan. 1, the State Property Tax Board has found that historically oil and gas properties have been assessed at over 100% while other classes of property have been treated more favorably," Miss Tugman says.

"The name of the appraising firm is listed next to each of the twelve worst counties," she adds. "While at first glance it may seem that Prichard and Abbott is responsible for the majority of the inequities between property classes, that may be because they appraise a majority of the counties in the state.

Appraiser's rankings are as follows: P&A appraised 7 of the 12 worst counties and 106 counties statewide, TYP appraised 3 of the 12 worst counties and 58 counties statewide, Capitol appraised 2 of the 12 worst counties of 57 counties statewide.

COEF: Coefficient of Dispersion or measure of variability. A low COEF shows relatively low variation and consequently more uniform appraisal of properties. A higher COEF shows a greater degree of variation and less uniform appraisal of property.

10% MD: Percentage of observations within 10% of the median. This shows the percentage of prop. rtes tested by SPTB that have individual appraisal ratios within 10 percent of the median appraisal ratio. This is also a measure of appraisal uniformity, since a higher number reported in this column reflects a greater degree of equality in tax appraisals.

25% MD: This measure is similar to the previous column, except that it is based on the percentage of properties within 25% of the median appraisal ratio.

J.C. Penney Grand Opening Open House For Girling

Set For Sept. 29 - Oct. 1

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Carey announced the Grand-Opening of their new J.C. Penney Catalog Store.

The store has a display of fine Penney merchandise, and a catalog order desk to take your order.

The Carey's have been in business in Eastland for the last three years. The first year was in the old Montgomery Ward Store at 214 W. Main. They moved to their present location on Hwy. 80 East (The Miracle Mile) two years ago.

Since that time they have

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Carey with their new display of J.C. Penney merchandise. The Carey's are having a J.C. Penney Grand-Opening Sept. 29 thru Oct. 1.

Home Health Care Is Tuesday

added a video library, a tire department featuring Michelin and Firestone tires and an appliance department featuring Maytag appliances.

The Careys' extend a warm welcome to all, to come by during their grand opening.

It's "Open House" on Tuesday, September 30, for Girling Home Health. This office serves a wide area, and Nancy Clark, R.N. is in charge. The location is in Shady Oaks Shopping Center, Highway 80 East, and the Open House hours are 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. The public is cordially invited to come out and visit.

Mrs. Clark is well known in Eastland, having worked with the Home Health Care in the area for about five years. She began work with Girling at a location in Breckenridge on May 30, 1986, and moved the office to Eastland on July 4. This move was in order to better serve the people of this area, she says.

Around 70 people are now served by Girling Home Health. Thirty are cared for by Home Health, where skilled nursing is required, and more than 40 are under primary care. The Girling services operate with the idea that many people prefer to stay home during an il-ness or disability - provided they can have proper care in this setting.

Services include skilled nursing under the direction of a family physician. This can include medication, the changing of dressings, bed patient care, stroke care, blood pressure and blood sugar checks, physical therapy, and a number of other nursing duties.

Primary Care covers the less serious illnesses, and involves light or part-time patient care. It may also include house cleaning, cooking and shopping. These are extremely important things for the client's well-being.

Nancy Clark makes regular visits into the homes of the patients, and stays in touch with these individuals by phone. She mentions that she could use more R.N.s in Girling Home Health at this time, for the service is growing.

The Girling Services are paid for by Medicaid or Medicare if the patient is eligible, or by private insurance or private pay if desired. The company works closely with the Department of Human Resources as to eligibility.

Mrs. Clark plans to offer blood pressure testing and blood sugar screening as a free service at various times around Eastland County, mainly when the food commodities are distributed. The schedule will be announced as it is finalized.

"It is really great to be back in Eastland in Home Health Care," Mrs. Clark says. "I feel like we are offering a service which is really needed here. People appreciate having good care brought to their homes, for that is where they want to stay as long as they can."

Medical Perspectives

CHILDHOOD IMMUNIZATIONS

The once common illnesses - diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis, polio, measles, mumps and rubella - have been reduced by at least 90% in this country since the initiation of universal vaccination beginning in childhood.

We must, however, guard against a false sense of security. When pertussis (whooping cough) vaccination programs were curtailed in Japan and Great Britain several years ago, both countries experienced a marked resurgence of the disease within a short time.

Pertussis remains a very serious illness with a high incidence of permanent neurological damage.

It is probably that polio epidemics would still occur if the general immunity of the American public were not maintained by immunization programs that begin in the first year of life.

Though in the past, viewed as a common childhood illness, measles is still associated with instances of serious illness and even death. In 1984, three deaths occurred at a college where for religious, students never received the vaccine.

Recommended routine immunizations for normal infants and children include the combination diphtheria, tetanus and pertussis vaccine (DTP), the oral polio vaccine (OPV) and the combination of measles-mumps-rubella vaccine (MMR). For most normal infants, the first dose of DTP and OPV should be given at 6-10 weeks of age, the second dose at two months later and the third dose two months after that.

Ordinarily a tuberculosis skin test is one at one year of age. MMR is given at about 15 months of age, one time only. A booster of DTP and OPV is then given at about 18 months of age and again prior to entry into school (4-6 years). The combination diphtheria-tetanus vaccine (DT) should be given then every ten years to maintain immunity.

Parents should expect some fever and irritability as well as some local soreness and swelling at the injection site for as long as two days after receiving the DTP vaccine. There have rarely been more severe reactions to the vaccine, usually the pertussis portion.

Children with certain neurologic conditions should not receive the pertussis vaccine. If there is a question about this, discuss it with your local physician. The rare child has had a severe reaction to the DTP vaccine; for example, fever over 105, collapse, inconsolable crying for more than three hours within 2 days of the vaccine, seizures within 48 hours of vaccination or severe change in level of consciousness should not receive any further doses of the pertussis vaccine. Any such reactions should be reported to the child's physician.

The polio vaccine has very rarely been associated with the onset of paralysis. Children with certain immuno-deficiency diseases or who live with someone who has such a disease should not receive the OPV.

The measles-mumps-rubella vaccine has reduced the incidence of measles and mumps by more than 99%. It is common to experience a rash, fever, swelling of the salivary glands, swelling of the neck glands and aching or swelling of the joints after 1 or 2 weeks. There are rarely more severe reactions. Certain children who have a condition which lowers their resistance to infection (cancer or leukemia, for example) and those who are allergic to an antibiotic to called Neomycin should not receive the vaccine. Vaccinating a child whose mother is pregnant is not dangerous. In general any child who has a fever or illness more serious than a cold should have their vaccination delayed.

A vaccine directed against disease caused by Hemophilus type b was released in 1985. Hemophilus is a common cause of childhood bacterial meningitis, pneumonia, infections of the blood, throat, bones, joints and soft tissues about the face and eye. Hemophilus meningitis has a mortality of 5% among children under 5 years of age. The risk of acquiring the disease is thought to be higher in those who attend day care centers. Children who are at high risk may receive the vaccine at 18 months of age. Routine immunization should be done at 2 years of age, but may be given up to the age of 5 if not given previously. The vaccine has been shown to be very safe and to have minimal adverse effects. It should not be given within 3 weeks of a DTP vaccine.

If you are unable to afford the recommended immunizations for your children, there are programs through which your physician may obtain free immunizations for certain needy individuals, or your local public health facility may provide these. This is an extremely effective way of protecting the public health and should not be neglected.
