Around Muleshoe

On Tuesday, April 7 at 7:30 p.m. at the High School Cafeteria parents of Title I and Title I Migrant students will gather for an evening of Bingo. Prizes include three complete sets of the Young Students Encyclopedia, an electronic Spelling Bee and many other educational books, games and materials. There is no charge for the 15 games and refreshments will be served.

Pothole patching is currently in progress on Kakawate Road or Peanut Road. Watch out for open potholes, loose asphalt, and drifting sand when traveling on this road.

The Youth Activities Committee will hold their regular meeting on Monday, April 6 at 7 p.m. at the Bailey County Civic Center.

All interested persons are urged to attend.

Texas Tech University graduated 1,000 students at the end of the 1980 fall semester.

Report Analyzes Reagan Spending

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce reports that an analysis of proposed budget cuts shows they are aimed at wasteful spending not at those truly in need. "President Reagan's recommendations for spending reductions will in fact strengthen many of these programs by eliminating the fat and concentrating resources on legitimate applicants for help," the report concluded.

The business federation's analysis made these observations on specific programs:

Food Stamps. A 1977 study by the General Accounting Office found that 12 percent of outlays resulted from fraud, errors and misrepresentation by recipients. At current expenditure rates, that would amount to $1.2 billion a year.

Jobless Benefits. The federal government spends $160 million a year on jobless benefits for individuals who voluntarily leave the armed services at the same time it spends similar sums on military recruiting.

Trade Adjustment. Most of the benefits of this program to help workers who have returned to work.

Black-Lung Compensation. A General Accounting Office study found that substantiating medical evidence was lacking in 88.5 percent of approved claims.

Health Care. The presi-

WIFE, Commissioners Initiate Local Efforts

The Community Where Water Makes the Difference slogan may become a thing of the past if this ravage of our water is allowed to continue, said Mrs. June Saylor, local WIFE Chapter president.

With the possible depletion of Bailey County water Mrs. Saylor and Mrs. Morris Killough, Publicity Chairman, met with the Commissioner's Court on Thursday, April 2 to express the organization's concern.

The WIFE organization requested the cooperation of the court in co-sponsoring a county-wide meeting on this topic to be held in the Civic Center on April 13 at 8 p.m. It is Mrs. Saylor's contention that "Lubbock is mining Bailey County water and we urge all county residents to join in a coordinated effort to understand and attempt to combat the loss of our water."

Wayne Wyatt, manager of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District will be on hand to discuss the water resources and present facts that he has available.

OSHA To Review Cotton Dust Rule

The Labor Department's Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) has announced it will review its standard governing worker exposure to cotton dust to analyze the costs and benefits of the rule.

The agency will use its reexamination of this particular standard to explore the usefulness of cost-benefit analysis in setting worker health regulations generally.

Assistant Secretary of Labor Thorne G. Auchter, who heads OSHA, said that a review of the cotton President Reagan February 17, which requires federal agencies to assess the costs and benefits of major regulations.

"Cost-benefit analysis is an important tool in producing efficient regulation," said Auchter. "It is a way to make sure we choose the regulatory alternative that offers society the greatest net benefit. Decisions based on balancing of costs and benefits are made by everyone, everyday. Workers decide what job opportunities to accept, employers decide what salary and benefits much they are willing to pay for the products they want.

"Some type of cost-benefit analysis is implicit in all public health policy decisions as well," he continued. "Each time we as a nation say we are willing to spend a fixed sum of dollars to prevent an estimated number of injuries, illnesses, or deaths we have determined that the benefits are worth the expense. I believe a cost-benefit analysis can help us as federal regulators do our jobs more effectively. That's why we plan to

GUESS WHO.... Children at the Goodwill Center had a costume party Thursday at the center. Can you identify the children? The Goodwill Center has been functioning since 1950, and is sponsored by the Southern Baptist Church in Muleshoe. Children ages four and five receive kindergarten training. The Goodwill Center building was donated about 1970 by Kenneth Precure.

Jogger Safety Studied

While jogging has become the favorite pastime of many Americans, joggers expose themselves to various risk factors, says a Texas Agricultural Extension Service safety engineer.

A study by the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety shows that only a small proportion of more than 8,000 pedestrian deaths and tens of thousands of injuries involve joggers, says Dr. Gary Nelson. And the study reports that the health benefits of running outweigh the danger of being hit by a motor vehicle.

However, risk factors do exist that increase the likelihood of being hit by a motor vehicle while jogging, says Nelson. These include jogging after dark, jogging with other people, or jogging on roads with the flow of traffic.

Summer's around the corner. Fun's in store for Nancy Hutchins after losing 38 pounds.

Nancy Hutchins knows babies can bring a little something unexpected into your life: extra pounds. Weight that's tough to get rid of when you're busy caring for children—cooking for them, nibbling at the food they don't finish. By the time she'd had two babies, her weight had really become a problem. She was up to 151 pounds, more than her 5'6" frame could handle.

"My husband was too kind to say anything outright," Nancy says, "but he started dropping quiet hints like, 'You don't really need to eat that, do you?'"

Although she realized she had to do something soon, she wasn't sure what. When she heard about Pat Walker's from a friend, she was skeptical.

Could it possibly work for her?

The easy way to exercise

Nancy discovered that Pat Walker's is not a put-on-your-leotard-and-let's-exercise place. Pat Walker's exclusive passive exercise unit, called Symmetricon, requires only that you lie back and let it do the work. As it tones, tightens, and smooths your body, you have the sensation of a gentle, pleasant workout.

Privacy is the rule

Nancy especially liked the privacy of Pat Walker's. Because you don't work up a sweat, street clothes are perfectly comfortable and suitable. So you don't have to wear a leotard, or reveal your figure flaws to a roomful of other women. From your consultations about sensible eating habits with Pat Walker's professional counselors to your sessions on the passive exercise unit, every aspect of your reducing program is conducted in complete privacy. You're a special and valued patron at Pat Walker's, not a school girl in a gym class.

Results tell the story

Before long, Nancy was a believer. "When I began to notice how big the waistlines in my clothes were getting, I really got excited! I started out a size 14, and now I'm a 7. And let me tell you, I just love buying new clothes. My husband doesn't even complain when I buy another new dress—he likes me so much!"

Now thirty-eight pounds and 52½ inches (total) smaller than she was, Nancy Hutchins is delighted with her new look. You'll like yours, too.

The best way to find out what Pat Walker's can mean to you is to make an appointment for a free, no-obligation consultation at a Pat Walker's salon. We'll tell you in detail about the entire program... how much you can lose, how long it will take, how much it will cost. And we'll treat you to a session on the Symmetricon unit, so you can see how relaxing it is.

Come on. Call us. As Nancy Hutchins says, "If Pat Walker's can do it for me, they can do it for you!"

Miss Pam Davenport, Novosad Exchange Wedding Vows

MR. AND MRS. DENNIS NOVOSAD [nee Pam Davenport]

Miss Pamela Suzanne Davenport and Dennis Novosad were united in marriage Saturday, March 14 at 2 p.m. at St. John's Lutheran Church in Lariat. Pastor Herman Scheller read the double ring vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Meissner of Muleshoe, Marvin Davenport of Needmore and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Novosad of Needville, Texas.

Matching spiral candelabras with pink candles, baby's breath and greenery flanked the altar. Also matching basket arrangements of white stock, dusty pink carnations and burgandy mums with baby's breath. Burgandy candles decorated with hurricane globes and flowers matching the basket decor were placed in the windows.

The unity candle was decorated the same with taper candles, that the mothers lit upon entering the church. The bride and groom took the lighted tapers and lit the candle before leaving the church.

Miss Davenport was escorted by Calvin Meissner and given in marriage by Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Meissner, parents of the bride. She wore a formal length gown of white organza fashioned with a high neckline and full length split bishop sleeves.

The empire bodice had a cameo inserted in a see-through yoke, dusted with tiny pearls and silk embroidery. The a-line skirt flowed into a Cathedral train. A full lace panel formed the hem line of the skirt and train.

Her headpiece was a derby hat of Chantilly lace trimmed with silk roses and draped French veiling, which cascaded down the back.

She carried a bouquet of silk lillies, daisies, camellias and dahlias in pink and burgandy with baby's breath and silk ribbon streamers that tied her aunt's Bible into the bouquet.

In keeping with tradition something new was her dress and hat; something old was the pennies dated in the bride and groom's birthdays; something borrowed was a white satin Bible belonging to the bride's aunt, Mary Hanna; something blue was her mother's blue garter.

The maid of honor was Johanna "J.J." Jordan of Lubbock.

Bridesmaids were Gwen Neeley of Lubbock and Debbie Parmer of Muleshoe. The attendants wore burgandy stain sheen polyester formals with blouson blouse with a scooped ruffled neckline. Their flower headpiece and matching bouquets were made of the same flowers as the bride's except made into nosegays. The maid of honor's bouquet was a smaller version of the bride's with more pink added.

Flower girl was Misty Davenport, niece of the bride. She was dressed as a miniature bride and carried a basket of silk flowers.

Best man was Todd Clynch of Fort Worth. Groomsmen were Brock Bowers of Richmond and Mark Novosad of Needville, brother of the groom. The ring bearer was Darrel Novak, cousin of the groom of Houston.

Michael Davenport of Muleshoe, Marvin Davenport, Jr. of Houston, brothers of the bride, and Todd Novosad of Needville, brother of the groom, were ushers.

The groom wore a charcoal gray tails with vest and striped ascot. The groomsmen and bridal party wore gray matching tuxedos with vests and striped ascots. The ring-bearer wore the same as the groomsmen.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Meissner wore a burgandy formal with a soft pleated skirt and chiffon bell sleeves and a corsage made in the bride's chosen colors. The groom's mother wore a dusty mauve formal sundress with a burgandy chiffon sash and long sleeve chiffon three quarter length jacket made of tiny pleats with a wrist corsage in the bride's chosen colors.

Out of town wedding guests were registered by Cara Bass, from Sudan, Needmore, Morton, Lubbock, Littlefield, Anton, El Paso, Andrews, Ozona, Tarzan, Stafford, Needville, Richmond, Houston, Plainview and Clovis.

A reception was held in the Parish Hall following the ceremony. Members of the houseparty were Lisa, Kellye and Lori Novosad, sisters of the groom, Liz Kaltwasser, Diane Skipworth, Mildred, Donna and Vickie Haseloff, Donna and Mary Kalvas, Mary Alice Ramm, Terri Young, Cara Bass and Becca Campos.

For a wedding trip to Ruidosa the bride's travel ensemble was a silk cream colored belted chemise with burgandy pin stripes and burgandy gibbon girl bow. They will make their home in Lubbock, where the bride and groom are both employed with the Methodist Hospital as medical technologists and the groom is a pre-med student at Texas Tech.

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal supper at Leaf's Restaurant March 13 for the wedding party and out of town guests.

Housing. Occupants of federally subsidized rental housing have a limit of 25 percent on the share of their incomes that can go for rent. But housing costs of four million homeowners and 10 million other renters are more than 30 percent of their incomes.

Public - Service Jobs. While this program was intended to assist the hard-core unemployed, only 30 percent of those who enter it ever find a private-sector job. In 1969, 64 indictments were returned in 15 cities for embezzlement, kickbacks and bribery in the handling of federal funds under the public-service category of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act.

In addition, many communities use CETA funds for routing municipal services, rather than for training programs for the hard-core unemployed.

Federal Retirement. Pensions of retired federal workers are now raised twice a year to compensate for inflation. But the General Accounting Office has recommended a single annual adjustment, noting that, "Federal retirees are the only group we are aware of who receive unlimited cost-of-living adjustments twice a year. This is highly inequitable to others not similarly treated, is costly and should not be continued."

The Chamber report also drew these conclusions about Social Security programs:

Student Benefits. This program "duplicates other student-aid programs, based on need, that have increased from $284 million in 1965 to $7 billion in 1981. Two thirds of recipients of the student-benefit program would not qualify if need were the basis for obtaining payments."

Minimum Benefits. This plan was devised to assure low-income workers a retirement benefit greater than the amount they would be entitled to on the basis of their earnings. It has been widely used, however, by federal retirees to qualify for benefits in a relatively brief work period after leaving government service. The average federal retiree receiving aid under the program is already drawing $900 a month from a civil-service pension. Overall, 74 percent of beneficiaries under this program do not depend on it as a primary source of retirement income. Ten percent have spouses earning $14,000 a year or more.

Disability Program. More than 500,000 individuals drawing benefits under this program are no longer disabled.

to see how regulatory costs and benefits can be weighed in an actual case.

Auchter stressed that the cotton dust standard, issued June 19, 1978, should remain in effect during the agency's reassessment of the issues.

"Cotton dust has long been recognized as a major industrial health hazard," said Auchter. "During the past year, employers have been required to institute most of the rule's protective measures, including mandatory use of respirators to control exposure. The provision that cotton dust be controlled solely by engineering and work practice methods is not scheduled to go into effect until 1984. This gives us time to investigate the practicality of weighing the standard's costs and benefits which were not considered during the original rulemaking and, if warranted, make changes in the standard."

Auchter explained that past administrators of OSHA have maintained that the use of cost-benefit analysis would be inconsistent with the Occupational Safety and Health Act. "It's time to reexamine that traditional resistance to cost-benefit analysis," said Auchter, "and to help us do that, we need current data."

Auchter said the agency is requesting comments on the extent to which cost-benefit analyses should be used in setting worker health standards, as well as information necessary to conduct a comprehensive analysis of the cotton dust standard and any regulatory alternatives. In particular, OSHA needs: complete estimates of the cost of compliance with the cotton dust rule; other proposed means to protect exposed employees; and financial information on the strength of the textile industry, its structure and capital needs.

The agency also will accept comments on the need to consider enforcement issues involving the current standard, such as problems with the vertical chuturiator and Class III electrical hazards in textile mills, discussed in an October 10, 1980 Federal Register notice; and difficulties in applying partial shift use of respirators as described in the Federal Register December 10, 1980.

Comments should be submitted by May 15 to the Docket Officer, OSHA, Docket No. H-052B, Room 56212, Frances Perkins Labor Department Building, Third St. and Constitution Ave., NW, Washington, D.C. 20210 (phone 202/523-7894).

The OSHA cotton dust standard was challenged in a suit by industry and labor but was upheld October 24, 1979 by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia. That decision was appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court which heard oral arguments on the matter Jan. 21, 1981. The Court has been asked to decide among other issues, the role of cost-benefit analysis in setting toxic substance standards under the OSHA Act. Since OSHA itself plans to reconsider the role of cost-benefit analysis, the Solicitor General, on behalf of the agency, is filing a motion with the Supreme Court on March 27 for leave to file for supplementary memorandum on the agency's decision to reopen the rulemaking record.

An advance notice of proposed rulemaking on the cotton dust standard which discusses the issues in more detail is scheduled to be published in the Federal Register March 31, 1981.

Friday's Lubbock Avalanche Journal, the Texas Senate passed a resolution Thursday asking Congress not to locate part of the MX missile system in Texas.

The Senate approved SCR 53, sponsored by Hereford Senator Bill Sarpalius by a vote of 22 to 4. Sarpalius said U.S. Rep. Kent Hance of Lubbock has agreed to read the resolution in Congress.

SCR 53 requests that Congress not adopt a split-basing mode for the MX missile system. Under the split-basing proposal, part of the system would be located in each of four states -- Texas, New Mexico, Utah and Nevada.

Defense officials have stated that their primary choice is to locate the entire systems in Utah and Nevada.

Sarpalius said location of part of the system in Texas would take up several thousand acres of prime agriculture land in West Texas.

The measure now goes to the House for consideration.

You've got someone working on it for you in the Southwest. Southwestern Public Service is using Wyoming coal to make electricity in its new power plants. Because some of the old plants run on fuel that just plain costs too much.

Electricity could cost a lot more than it does. But thank goodness it doesn't — because of coal.

Donna Horn Wins At Area FHA

Donna Horn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hutton became the new secretary-treasurer of Area 1, Future Homemakers of America at the Area Convention in Lubbock March 28. Officers were elected from all over the Panhandle of Texas before a house of delegates. Donna competed for the office against qualifiers from Abernathy and Littlefield. The incoming officer candidates were interviewed by the outgoing officers and were asked questions concerning the office for which they ran.

The office of secretary-treasurer carries with it a tremendous responsibility. Not only are accurate minutes of all area business meetings required but accurate and efficient records of all monetary matters. Donna's new office makes her eligible to attend the FHA state meeting in San Antonio and the national meeting in San Francisco this summer.

The entire FHA chapter is very proud of Donna for achieving this great accomplishment.

Student Council Is Hard At Work

The Student Council had a busy February and March.

Four members helped with the Easter Seals Telethon in Lubbock, March 28 and 29. They answered phones, took down pledges and ran errands for this worthy cause. Participating were Darin Bratcher, Juanita Lozano, Crystal Taylor, Marle Cox, and Janet Shain.

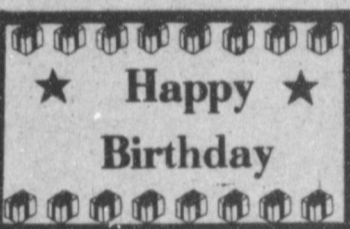

The Foreign Exchange Program was discussed. Students interested in going abroad for their Senior year of High School are to get in touch with Mrs. Lola Pylant. Also any family interested in boarding an exchange student in their home needs to talk with Mrs. Pylant.

Phone collections were made Wednesday, February 25, in all High School

Pledges are still being collected and a great deal of money is being turned in daily. DECA would like to encourage anyone who has not turned in his collections to do so as soon as possible.

Congratulations to the three winners and all of the participants in the Rock-A-Thon and to Muleshoe for its civic consciousness efforts.

While it's best to seed some vegetables directly in the home garden, others do best if transplanted.

In this area of Texas tomatoes, peppers and eggplant should always be set out in the garden as transplants. The reason for this is the weather. These vegetables are somewhat fickle when it comes to ideal environmental conditions for setting fruit. Bloom and fruit set must occur before temperatures get too high. Setting out transplants after danger of all frost allows these plants to bloom during ideal conditions and to set a bountiful harvest during optimum weather.

You can also transplant such so-called "cool season" crops such as cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli, lettuce and onions. This allows them to mature under ideal conditions and also saves growing time in the garden. Using transplants can lessen the garden growing time by several months or more. However, setting out transplants of crops such as okra, squash, cucumbers and melons offers no real advantage and is usually not a recommended practice.

What about the "how" of transplanting? Handle transplants like eggs! Make every effort to avoid undue stress to young plants. Be sure plants do not suffer from lack of moisture, wind damage or excessive heat prior to and immediately after transplanting.

Most plants that are available locally will be growing in plantable containers such as peat pots or peat cubes. If possible, plan to transplant during late afternoon or at least on a cloudy day. I personally think it's a good idea to set your transplants in a bucket or pan of water for several minutes prior to planting so the root system is thoroughly wet.

Determine the proper spacing for the crop and dig a hole 4 inches wide and 4 to 6 inches deep. Put about a cupful of water directly in the hole and allow it to soak in. Set the transplant in the center of the hole and fill in with soil. Make certain the peat container is completely beneath the soil level as it may act like a wick and rapidly dry out the root-ball, thus killing the plant.

Depth of planting is important and often beginners make the mistake of setting plants too deep in the soil. Set most transplants only slightly deeper than they were originally growing. If tomato plants are tall and "leggy", plant them as shown in the accompanying drawing. If plant roots are set too deep below the soil level, especially in heavy soils, they will be slow to grow and the plant will have to produce roots along the stem near the surface. The original roots may, or may not, grow eventually. Either way, the advantages of transplanting are lost and harvest may be delayed greatly.

When filling the hole with soil at planting, leave a slight depression around the plant to hold additional water from spot watering or from rainfall. Also protect young plants for a week or so from high wind and excessive heat. This can be done easily by placing a shingle, board, milk carton or some similar protection on the windy or sunny side of the plant. A can placed around the transplant when it is set in the garden will also prevent damage from pesky cutworms.

So much for the art of transplanting. Next I'll go into greater detail on how to grow tomatoes like you have never grown them before.

DRUG QUIZ

by Curt Scarborough, Ph.D. Used by permission; all rights reserved by DATE, St. Louis, Mo. QUESTION - Which of the following groups has the highest rate of drug addiction?

- a) Professional athletes
- b) Doctors and nurses
- c) Lawyers
- d) School administrators and teachers

ANSWER - Doctors and nurses have far higher rates of drug addiction than have all other groups of professionals says a report from the Texas Research Institute of Medical Sciences, Houston. Sondra K. Stickney, chief nurse at the institute's clinical research unit, says that addiction has been reported in approximately one out of 400 physicians. This compares to addiction rates among the general population of one out of 4,000.

Generally, accessibility to narcotics appears to be a key factor to addiction, but overwork, chronic fatigue, insomnia, professional frustrations, and domestic or marital instability also are cited as causes. Ms. Stickney notes that though outcomes vary (from 27% to 92%), the professional's recovery rate is much higher than the accepted 5% to 15% for the "typical" abuser.

Correct answer - b.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Creek discusses taxation this week, sort of.

Dear editor:

Regardless of what school they're attending, a large percentage of high school students come out knowing how to read, just as many kids learn how to swim without taking swimming lessons.

But one thing students don't learn and teachers don't even teach is the reality of taxation. Sure kids know there are such things as taxes, but that's mostly something grown-ups groan about and dodge whenever possible. They are not truly and painfully aware that their school buildings and their books are the results of taxation.

A friend of mine has hit on a way to bring home to young people the principle of taxation, particularly the income tax. He says it can be done through the redistribution of grades.

Say you have a student in the high grade bracket, averaging 98 or even 100, and another in the lower bracket, averaging 60. You take 10 points away from the former and give them to the latter, which brings his grade up to 70, and thus nobody ever fails.

The reality of taxation soon becomes a learned lesson, particularly to the upper bracket student.

Going a little further, however, if the lower bracket student, after he limps through school with upper bracket assistance, gets out into life and makes a lot of money, you'll find he has no use for the idea of redistribution. This is known as human nature, and so far the schools haven't gotten around to offering a course in that subject.

Yours faithfully,

J.A.

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

If your family likes fish, you might try this recipe on some special occasion. Use this for trout, red snapper, or flounder.

Stuffed Fish

- 2 c cooked chopped shrimp or crabmeat
- 1 3 to 4 lbs. boned trout or snapper
- 2 eggs
- 1 c cream
- 2 T butter
- 1/2 c chopped canned or fresh mushrooms
- 2 t chopped chives
- 1 T flour
- 4 T sherry
- salt and paprika
- 2 limes or lemons

Mix the shrimp or crabmeat, eggs, and 1/2 cup of the cream together. Melt butter and add mushrooms and chives. Saute until soft. Then add flour, stirring well until the mixture is bubbling. Add shrimp mixture and cook until thick. Place fish in a baking dish and stuff with mixture. Pour over the remaining cream, sprinkle with salt and paprika. Add sherry and bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. Serve with wedges of fresh lime or lemon and sprinkle with fresh chopped parsley for color.
Serves 6.

H&R BLOCK TAX TEST

Question No. 9

Income averaging can save you money. But only if you make more than $30,000 a year.
 True  False

What you don't know about income averaging could cost you money. H&R Block knows that no matter how much you make, if your income went up substantially last year you may be able to income average. We'll take advantage of this if it's to your benefit. The answer is FALSE, since there is no minimum amount of income required to qualify.

DOOR OPENERS

Keys and churches are door openers. In both cases, each require you to put forth some effort. The key you must insert in the lock and turn. Our Lord made the way to heaven even easier, for all that you have to do is present yourself and believe.

"For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: Not of works lest any man should boast: For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them."

BEYOND IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

If someone tells you the scorch of 1980 will be repeated in 2003 or 2026... listen. Based on the theory of temperature and precipitation cycles which tend to repeat themselves every 23 years, with extreme variations every 46 years, the record breaker of 1980 was predicted in August ... of 1934. The cycles are related, according to the experts, to variations in the radiation output of the sun - which are also cyclical. Forty-six years from the height of the drought of 1934 leads to 1980.
According to leading meteorologists, the record-breaking drought actually began in 1979 and ended with precipitation shortages in the fall of 1980 such as Missouri with only 19.77 inches of moisture by October 9, 1980.
Though the farmers may not be totally at the mercy of the wraths of nature, they are certainly susceptible to the cycles of nature.
