Saudi Arabia hikes its crude oil price to increase its crude oil prices by an amount to be announced later, Saudi Oil Minister Sheik Ahmed Zaki Yamani announced today.

The Saudis, largest oil producers in OPEC and key source of U.S. imported oil, have been under pressure from other members of the cartel to raise their $30-a-barrel basic price to the OPEC base price

Yamani told reporters the size of the increase would be announced after he had consulted other members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

He said there would be a broad agreement on prices, "a loose one as we are used to since 1979." Referring to other OPEC members, he said, "There will be many who won't increase (their prices).... They will stay at the same level, and others might go up."

There had been speculation the Saudis might agree to raise their price to $32 a barrel if other producers promise not to hike their prices still higher.

On Sunday, Venezuelan Oil Minister Humberto Calderon Berti predicted the 13 nations could work out a pricing formula for 1981 if Saudi Arabia agreed to match the OPEC benchmark price of $32 per barrel. They were unable to achieve a unified pricing policy at their meeting last September in Vienna.

Calderon Berti said the war between OPEC members Iran and Iraq would help dry up the world oil glut, stemming from economic recession and conservation, that has prevented OPEC hard-liners from getting the top dollar prices they sought for

"We are sure we are going to have a deficit in the first quarter of next year," Calderon Berti said. "In my opinion we will have to restore equilibrium in supply and demand."

He said oil consumption this year by non-communist countries was about 25 percent less than in 1979. But he said 1981 consumption should return to 1979

Calderon Berti said quarterly price increases of 2

BALI, Indonesia (AP) - Saudi Arabia has agreed to 3 percent in real terms next year to cover inflation might be possible if there was unified pricing.

"If they (Saudi Arabia) move to $32, we would be happy to apply the formula," he said. "We are satisfied that we could stay with this for the year.'

Heart blamed in death

SNYDER — An autopsy report released today on the death of 15-year-old Midlander Theodore "Teddy" Terrazas showed the youth died of "ventricular fibrillation" and an enlarged heart, according to Dan Callaway.

Callaway, justice of the peace in Scurry County here, said he received the report this morning from Dr. Martha Madsen in Midland, who conducted the autopsy.

Terrazas, a member of the Midland High School junior varsity basketball team, was playing in a game Dec. 6 here in the Snyder Invitational Tournament. According to reports, he thought he was hyperventilating and came out of the game. He later collapsed on the bench and was taken to eogdell Memorial Hospital here where he died.

Terrazas was a sophomore at MHS.

Congressional pay hike said dead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican congressional leaders declared the pay raise "dead."

Congress may reach a compromise on the sensitive issue in time to keep a large chunk of the federal government from going broke at midnight tonight.

Senate Republican Leader Howard Baker told reporters today that the pay raise has become so politically sensitive that it has become "institutionally impossible" for Congress to address the issue.

Iran lays blame on U.S.

Bani-Sadr points finger at us

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) - Iranian President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr today blamed the United States for the delay in freeing the 52 American hostages and said Washington must be prepared to return every penny of Iranian wealth before the standoff can be resolved.

The Majlis (Parliament) has asked for the return of our money and if there is any obstacle it is in the answer that America gives," Bani-Sadr told a news conference for foreign reporters in Tehran. "The principle reason for the delay lies in the hands of those who hold real power in the United States.

He did not elaborate, but said any U.S. decision to withhold a portion of Iranian assets "clearly will not lead to a solution.

Bani-Sadr was commenting on the delay in Iran's response to the latest U.S. clarification of the four conditions proposed for release of the 52 hostages, held now for more than 13 months. He said the fault for the delay rests with the United States for failing to state in clear terms its acceptance of the demands adopted Nov. 2 by the Parliament.

"Of course, I am not speaking only of the money that was stolen by the Shah and his relatives. I am speaking also of the money that belongs to the Iranian government and is in the U.S. banks or the banks that are under U.S. control.

Iran has demanded the return of the wealth of the late Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi and his immediate family, withdrawal of pending U.S. lawsuits against Iran, release of more than $8 billion in Iranian assets frozen in U.S. banks and a U.S. pledge of non-interference in Iranian affairs.

The U.S. government is reported to have explained the legal obstacles to its fulfilling the first two demands-but reportedly said the other two conditions could be met without difficulty.

Last week, Executive Affairs Minister Behzad Nabavi, chief of the government commission studying the hostage issue, publicly rejected the U.S. position that the U.S. courts must decide who is entitled to the shah's holdings in the United States.

"This point must be cleared up, that is whether they (the U.S. government) will return the money to us. I do not think our people will accept a solution which would result in the loss of one penny of their money," said Bani-Sadr, who is not directly involved in the hostage negotiations.

Woman killed near Andrews

A couple of encouraging triumphs noted in people's war against numbers

Score one — no, make that two — tiny and temporary triumphs for everyone who has ever screamed in frustration: "I'm a name, not a number!"

They're everywhere — from birth to death.

Consider: -Almost 270 million Social Security numbers have been issued since the system began in 1936.

-The American Automobile Association says 144 million people in the United States have drivers' licenses — numbered, of course. Those people drive 116 1/2 million passenger cars — with numbered registrations

The industry wants to stop stamping prices on individual packages, relying instead on the "Universal Product Code" — a combina-tion of lines and spaces, which can be "read" by a computerized scanner at the cash register. Consumers, however, have resisted. When it comes to prices, they want to keep the numbers.

HOLLOMAN AIR FORCE BASE, N.M. -- Bells sounded sharply in a trailer home parked in a guarded, fenced-off area here and two Air Force pilots, in full flying gear, raced to a hangar less than 50 yards away.

The pilots climbed into combat-ready F-15 aircraft, America's air "superiority" fighter planes of the 1980s. Ground crews made last-minute checks. The planes rolled on to a runway and were airborne less than five minutes after the bells had sounded.

The pilots, Maj. Herbert Johnson, 36, of Red Lodge, Mont. and Capt. Michael Brooke, 34, of Simi Valley, Calif. had "scrambled" without warning in an actual test of the battle readiness of the Air Force's 49th Tactical Fighter Wing.

Two of the wing's 70-plus F-15s and two of its pilots, sleeping and eating close to their planes, are on constant alert here. Most of the remainder of the wing's planes can be airborne on short notice, officers claim, despite a worrisome shortage of spare parts.

'That's great," he said. "We don't want any hangar queens.'

If the wing is ordered overseas on an emergency basis, it was pointed out, its F-15s would be refueled en route in mid-air. The plane has a "ferry" range of 3,450 miles when equipped with extra fuel tanks unsuitable for combat operations.

"The F-15 is the best air superiority plane in the world and the Russians will tell you that without blinking an eye," said Col. Dortch, an F-105 pilot during the Viet Nam War. "I wouldn't want to fight it. The most advanced Soviet plane is no match for the F-15.

So far only Israel, which has 25 F-15s---the U.S. Air Force has more than 600---has flown the F-15 in combat. Israeli Air Force F-15 opponents have been MIG-21s of the Syrian Air Force. In June 1979 a flight of six Israeli F-15s and two Israeli-built "Kfir" fighters attacked eight to 12 Syrian MIG-21s and downed five of them without loss.

'The Israeli F-15 pilots are the only ones in the world who can be compared with the American pilots, and they may have an edge on us," Col. Dortch said. "They fly them more than we do. They have a special sense of urgency. Given that, my pilots could do as well."

Shulman, who left a post as special adviser to the secretary of state and now teaches at Columbia University, made his prediction in an interview on

NBC-TV's "Meet the Press." He said Soviet intervention might take a more "ambiguous" form than "a 30-division movement across the border." The Soviets, he said, might send troops to Poland on maneuvers or let Polish armed forces apply the force. The United States, he added, should consider any of these tactics an invasion. Shulman said the Carter adminstration and the leaders of Western Europe have done a good job of closing ranks on the issue of an invasion.

But if the Soviets do something short of invasion, he said, Western unity might be weakened. Shulman also called it a "myth" that the Carter administration has been "soft or conciliatory toward

U.S. learned lessons in the Egyptian desert

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for the 101st Airborne Division says U.S. Army assault troops learned some lessons last month while maneuvering in the Egyptian desert for the first time.

For example, sand sucked up by the troops' helicopters wore away caps on the tips of their rotors blades as the helicopters hovered 10 feet above the ground. That was solved by putting plastic tape over the blade caps to absorb the sand's impact, Maj. Larry Bates said in a telephone interview from Fort

An air-ground force of 1,400 troops, including a 700-man battalion from the 101st, took part in the two-week exercise. One of the objectives of the exercise was to give helicopter pilots experience in

Cancer program broke

ATLANTA (AP) - Georgia's cancer treatment program has run out of money, forcing the Department of Human Resources to turn away low-income patients, officials say.

Carol Steiner, manager of the cancer aid service, said 400 to 500 poor patients would have to be turned away between now and July 1.

The Soviet MIG-25, the renowned "Foxbat," has a maximum speed of Mach 2.8, according to U.S. sources, apparently making it the fastest fighter plane in the world. The MIG-25 also has a two-engine thrust approximating that of the F-15. But the Air Force says the MIG-25 would face defeat if engaged by an F-15.

The new Russian planes fly very high and very fast, but they have sacrificed structural strength for speed," said Col. Dortch. "This won't let them turn like the F-15. Also, we used to have to get behind an enemy-to shoot it down with a heat-seeking missile. But with the F-15's AIM-9L Sidewinder we can shoot from above, below and in front. What bothers me, though, is the possibility that an adversary will acquire the same capability."

In addition to speed, other aspects of the F-15, including its computerized radar weapons-control system, remain classified and Col. Dortch said that it would be a "grave development" if an F-15 fell into oviet hands intact.

Col. Wayne R. Topp, 45, of Billings, Mont., the wing's Deputy Commander for Operations, noted that Soviet fighter tactics differ markedly from those of his unit.

'In the Soviet air force the boss is on the ground and those kind of tactics work very well," he said. In the U.S. Air Force, however, he said that more emphasis was placed on confidence in the pilot to make his own decisions. "If we wade into them in Europe," he "added, we're just gonna raise hell."

Col. Topp's remarks appeared to reflect a general attitude observed among pilots here. Despite an awareness that they would face a numerical disadvantage in an engagement with Soviet air forces, the pilots expressed universal confidence that the technical qualities of the F-15 would offset this.

'That's the American' fighter pilot's ·lifestyle," Col. Dortch said. "We stay younger longer. We're fighter people.'

Holiday and tempers

Christmas shopping in Midland's many fine stores can be a lot of fun and an exciting experience.

But sometimes in the hustle and bustle of holiday shopping, shoppers and store clerks alike can lose tempers and react sharply to mistakes or inconveniences.

That's sad because this is the season of love for one's fellow man, understanding, peace and tranquility. It should not be marred by unpleasantness.

Most Midland stores are crowded with shoppers now and will continue to grow moreso daily as Christmas approaches. That means lines at check-out points likely will be long. Short waits may be necessary for some shop-

Furthermore, the heavy volume of business being experienced by most stores likely will mean that some shoppers will not be able to find wanted items - or exactly what is wanted - at their first stop.

These and many other factors can combine to test the tempers of shoppers.

On the other hand, store clerks have a difficult job to do and shoppers should recongize this fact. Often the clerks work long hours under rush conditions that can frazzle the nerves and bring on the "grumps."

Patience and understanding will help both shoppers and store clerks get through this holiday shopping season with a minimum of confrontations.

Our observations have indicated that for the most part store clerks in the Tall City have been patient and helpful. Most shoppers seem to be courteous and understand-

Let's all work at keeping it that way and keeping our tempers subdued. It will make this Christmas season much more enjoyable and meaningful for all of us.

This month was the 39th anniversary of Pearl Harbor. It is disconcerting to realize how many adults were not alive when the Japanese vindicated Billy Mitchell's contention that airpower was superior to battleships with a vengeance.

To those of us over 39, 39 does not seem so long ago. Yet there were no jet planes, no atomic bombs, no radar, no intercontinental rockets, no television, and no instant cameras on December 7, 1941.

In 1941, most of the veterans were the guys who fought in the trenches with the likes of Alvin York in 1917-18. Most Americans didn't know where Japan was, much less anything about the Japanese. Many Americans though all Japanese were short, had bad eyes and buck teeth. They were sure we could mop them up in six months or so.

Practically everybody's attention had been focused on the war in Europe where the German army was cutting through the opposition like a hot knife. INSIDE REPORT:

President-elect Reagan passed his first test in Senate

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON - Gen. Alexander Haig's chances to be secretary of state were fading into oblivion when Senate Democratic leader Robert Byrd unwittingly came to his rescue with an attack perceived by Republi-can senators as endangering not merely one Cabinet prospect but Ronald Reagan himself.

Haig seemed finished after Senate Republican leader Howard Baker pped Reagan's agents a private emo detailing Senate confirmation oblems posed by Haig's Watergate background. It was then that Byrd jumped to the attack. Always eager for his regular Saturday news conferfor his regular Saturday news conference to yield a headline, Byrd scored in the Sunday newspapers of Dec. 7 when he warned that Haig would face deep trouble in Senate confirmation.

Seasoned Washington operatives on the Reagan transition team quickly relayed word to the president-elect back at Pacific Palisades: He simply could not let Bob Byrd pick his Cabinet for him. Having smelled a little blood in previous small victories over Reagan, the Senate sharks were ensuraged to attack again. Furthermore, throwing Haig's carcase over-board would only prompt fresh attack from senatorial carnivores. Just as the Soviet Union can be counted on to test a new American president, so does Congress. The attack on Haig, regardless of its merits, was a test of Reagan's willingness to stand up to senatorial bullying If he would not stick to the man he had selected for secretary of state, he scarcely could be expected to confront senatorial arrogance in years to

That selection had been pondered by Reagan's closest advisers long before the election. Haig was by no means the choice of the right. Antidetentists feared his old connection with Henry Kissinger and resented his ambiguous testimony in the 1979 Senate ratification hearing on SALT

Even after industrialist George Shultz took himself out of consideration, Haig was not secure for the State Department. One of Reagan's most trusted advisers paid the presidentelect a confidential visit to warn of the luggage carried by the general: the Kissinger connection, his role in arranging the Nixon pardon and those ours and hours of recordings of confidential discussions between President Richard M. Nixon and his trusted chief of staff, Al Haig, over Water-

Reagan persisted. He admired Haig's record as NATO commander and liked him personally. Haig was set for the State Department when the New York Times of Dec. 4 carried a column by Anthony Lewis condemning Haig as a "careerist" with "no feeling for American constitutiona-

That caught the eye of Sen. Baker,

He delegated his legislative assistant, Howard Liebengood (soon to be Senate sergeant-at-arms) to list the arguments that would be raised against Haig in confirmation hearings. The Pentagon report, which was militarily to an invasion of Poland.

The mood in the Republican cloakroom grew sour. Senate Republican Whip Ted Stevens told associates that putting a military man in the State Department was bad policy. The mood was transferred to Reagan's own aides. "Why do we need this rock in our knapsack?" asked one. As the weekend of Dec. 6-7 approached, Haig's prospects were adjudged at no better than 50-50 by Reagan insiders. But more than Haig was at stake. In the month since the election, Reagan had permitted himself to be shoved around by the Senate grandees. He had acquiesced in plans (later scuttled) to pass a tax cut not his own; he had not pressed his own opposition to lame-duck passage of the "superfund" bill against toxic wates; he had permitted Senate opposition to force out his choice as Treasury secretary, William Simon.

While Jimmy Carter's defiance of Congress proved fatal, subservience by Ronald Reagan would have the same result. The abandonment of Haig would have branded Reagan nearly two months before Inauguration Day as a president who can be bullied. That was when Byrd came to the rescue, with so frontal a challenge to Reagan as well as to Haig from the leader of the Senate's Democratic minority. Whereas private memoranda by Howard Baker could not be depicted by Reagan agents as undermining presidential authority, public threats by Bob Byrd certainly could.

Reagan's men now argued with Republican senators that it was intolera-

By good luck mostly, Reagan had survived a severe congressional test. There is no serious doubt that Haig will be confirmed, possibly without much trouble. Even in death, the slain ex-Beatle, like Elvis Presley and John Kennedy before him, could not escape the de-mands of his public. And even at Sunday's 10-minute silent prayer vigil, vendors hawked Lennon paraphernalia.

New Yorkers bought buttons, balloons and Tshirts before the silence began with an announced equest: "Please turn off all radios. Please stop any sale or vending of any merchandise."

The merchants and manufacturers of celebrity souvenirs were quick to put their wares on the rack last week. Mourning fans snapped up the trinkets, many reluctantly. And everyone was just a little bit embarrassed to admit that a memory was being

Train derailment causes evacuation

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) - Forty-eight families went home early today in a suburban neighborhood southwest of Louisville after an evacuation caused by a seven-car derailment on an Illinois Central Gulf

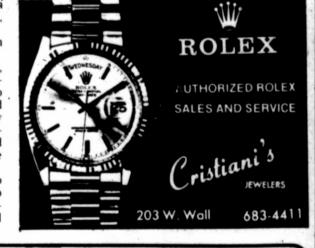

One of the derailed cars carried 33,600 gallons of a hazardous chemical but developed no leaks, author-

Lake Dreamland firemen and Jefferson County police went door to door late Sunday night telling people within a half mile of the derailment to evacuate, a fire department official said. The families were allowed to go home after about three and one-half hours.

A shelter for evacuees was set up at Butler High School several miles from the scene, police spokesman Bob Yates said.

Equipment arrived late Sunday to right the only car presenting a potential danger — a tanker loaded. with butadiene. Officials said the rail car was partially submerged in mud

Butadiene is an explosive chemical used in the manufacture of synthetic rubber, and is classed as hazardous by the U.S. Department of Transporta-

Bandits shoot nine in robbery

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A routine late-night closing at a shopping center restaurant ended in a bloodbath when two armed robbers herded 11 customers and employees into a meat locker and opened fire, killing three people and wounding six others.
"It was somewhat of an execution," Los Angeles police Sgt. Jim Anderson said Sunday. "All of them were ordered into the back room, put in a meat freezer and shot.'

The killers, described in police teletypes as two men in their mid-20s, escaped with an undetermined amount of cash and valuables seized before the shootings. There were two customers and nine employees in the Bob's Big Boy Restaurant when the shootings occurred about 3 a.m.

Pronounced dead at the scene were David Burrell, a 20-year-old customer, and Aphrodite Agtani, 23, a waitress and the mother of a 4-month-old child. Ahmad Mashuck, 20-year-old restaurant cashier, died later at Cedars Sinai Medical Center.

The other customer, 17-year-old Tami Rogoway. The other customer, 17-year-old Tami Rogoway, and two employees — Evelyn Jackson, 23, and dishwasher Cesario Luna, 45 — were in critical condition, the two women at UCLA Medical Center and Luna at Cedars Sinai and Luna at Cedars-Sinai.

TWENTIETH CENTURY STUDY CLUB

Twentieth Century Study Club met in the Midland Woman's Club for its December meeting, with Mrs. Donald McClurg presiding.

Mrs. Jim Pullig presented a program on "Needlework for Christmas." She showed many examples of gifts and decorations using crewel, cross stitch, quilting, needlepoint, latch hook and regular sewing.

Dr. A.O. McBrayer, senior minister of St. Luke's United Methodist Church, spoke on "Christmas Christian Symbols." To represent some of the symbols, he used Chrismons, which are made of tin.

The club joined in singing Christmas carols with Mrs. R.L. Denton accompanying on the piano. Hostesses were Mrs. Robert Castor, Mrs. Herb Pearce, Mrs. Tom Cook and Mrs. Vance Hendricks.

Tell something about the family, out don't brag (i.e. Lynette is such a darling; John is so handsome). If you made a trip, mention it, but don't flaunt your bankroll.

Use simple words, not hard to un erstand ones.

We have the letter printed on suit-ble paper at a fast print shop and use it in place of the usual greeting card. A personal note can be added to each ne if desired.

By JOY STILLEY AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — As 1980 drew to a close with the Equal Rights Amendment still stalled - 35 of the needed 38 states having so far ratified it — the nation's women could take some comfort in the fact that more women than ever would hold seats in the 97th Congress.

There will be 21, including Paula Hawkins, R-Fla., who joins Nancy Kassebaum, R-Kan., in the Senate. However, Mrs. Hawkins, 53, does not support the ERA and favors a constitutional ban on abortion.

And the nation lost its only two women governors: Democrat Dixy Lee Ray, 66, of Washington, defeated in the primaries; and Democrat Ella T. Grasso, 61, of Connecticut, who resigned, citing physical problems stemming from cancer of the liver.

With women having already broken the sex barrier in almost every field, it might seem that there would be no more worlds to conquer. But as the 80s opened, there were still some "firsts" recorded.

In history-making ceremonies, the first women graduates of the four U.S. service academies received their commissions, ready to join their male counterparts in every area of military activity except combat duty, from which they are barred by law.

THEY WERE THE 227 women who had stuck it out through four years of tough training alongside the men as members of the class of 1980, the first to include women after the military academies went coeducational in Receiving their hard-won diplomas at the Military Academy, West Point, Y., were 61 female cadets, while at the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md., 55 women completed their service education. The Coast Guard Academy in New London, Conn., graduated its first 14 women ensigns and at the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, 97 women were commis-

A Navy enlisted woman also made military history when Petty Officer 3rd Class Anne Michelle Mooney, 26, became the first female Department of Defense test parachutist. Her qualifying 22nd jump at the Naval Weapons Center, China Lake, Calif., was from an altitude of 7,000 feet and lasted 4½ minutes.

In Hollywood, 35-year-old Sherry Lansing broke tradition as she was named president of 20th-Century Fox Productions to become the first female studio chief

"I am very excited by the challenges of the job," she said, "but I hope as the '80s progress, the appointment of a woman to a major post will not be so newsworthy, that it will become natural for women to have high positions in every industry.'

ORGANIZED LABOR ALSO admitted a woman into its high ranks when Joyce Miller, president of the Coalition of Labor Union Women, was unanimously elected to the executive council of the AFL-CIO. She is the first woman to serve on the 35-seat policy-making council since the federation was formed nearly 25 years

'She's a very feminine filly, a tall, rangy filly," her trainer, LeRoy Jolley, said of Genuine Risk, who joins the filly Regret, 1915 winner, as a thoroughbred racing legend.

"We're doing our best to get the association into the 20th century," said a U.S. Golf Association official as Bronwin Russell made hisotry in the 80-year-old U.S. Open Men's championship. Wearing a too-large mustard, yellow jumpsuit that all caddies wear in the event, she became the first female in that job.

AT THE SAME TIME, Betsy Rawls went out on the course to become the first woman to serve as a rules official in an Open for men. In the 35th annual U.S. Women's Open golf championship, 24-year-old Amy Alcott won by nine strokes with a record score of 280, 4 under par for the 72 holes, breaking the former Open mark by four strokes.

A teen-age tennis whiz appeared on Wimbledon's Center Court when 15year-old Andrea Jaeger, the youngest seed in the 94 years of the event, became the youngest quarterfinalist in the tourney's history. In that match she lost to Chris Evert Lloyd, 25, who in turn was defeated by Evonne Goolagong, 28, the first mother to win Wimbledon in 66 years. But, later, Lloyd won the U.S. Open singles crown for the fifth time in the past six years.

Jaeger, the youngest semifinalist in U.S. Open history and the youngest player to break into the top 10 on the Women's Tennis Association rankings, added to her list of honors when she was named the women's tennis rookie of the year for 1980 by Tennis Grete Waitz, 27-year-old schoolteacher from Oslo, Norway, bettered the world record she set last year in the L'eggs Mini Marathon. In the 1980 running of that event, she finished the 6.2-mile course in 30:59.8, shattering her 1979 record of 31: 15.4. Later in the year, she was the women's champion in the New York City Marathon for the third consecutive year, setting a women's record of 2:25:41.

Marguerite Yourcenar, 76-year-old novelist, poet and translator, entered a world inhabited only by men for more than 300 years. A U.S. citizen born in Brussels, Belgium, of a French father, she joined the 40 members — "The Immortals" elected for life - of the French Academy. The prestigious group was founded in 1635 by Cardinal Richelieu to supervise the language and intellectual life of France.

Pauline Frederick, United Nations correspondent for NBC News from 1954 to 1974, won the Paul White Award, the first woman to receive the highest honor of the Radio-Television News Directors' Association.

DR. ELIZABETH YAMASHITA, a professor of journalism at Northwestern University, was appointed the first woman chairperson at the School of Journalism at Michigan State University

Shirley Colgrove, publisher of the Alief, Texas, Advertiser Advocate, was elected president of the National Association of Advertising Publishers, the first woman to head that association of shopper papers.

In the Netherlands, Queen Beatrix, 42, was invested as her country's sixth sovereign when her mother, Juliana, abdicated on her 71st birthday after a 32-year reign.

Dame Naomi James, 32, of New Zealand, one of 88 starters in the Observer Singlehanded Trans-Atlantic Race, broke the previous women's record by more than three days with her time of 25 days, 19 hours, 12 minutes, from Plymouth Harbour, England, to Newport, R.I.

The National Research Council reported that women received a record 28.6 percent of the 31,200 doctorates awarded in the United States last year, compared with 1965, when only 10.5 percent of those getting doctoral degrees were women.

THE WOBURN, MASS., school district agreed to hire women as custodians to resolve an employment discrimination suit filed by the Justice Department, which charged the district with violating the 1964 Civil Rights Act by hiring only women as house workers and only men for higher-paying custodian jobs.

But women were still facing exclusion when delegates to the 1980 Rotary International convention voted against opening membership in the service organization to them

Some equality they didn't want was approached by women on the health front, according to a report by the Surgeon General on the consequences of smoking for women. It noted that the rate of lung cancer among women, once much lower than among nen, had risen dramatically.

Deaths during the year included: Alice Roosevelt Longworth, 96, outspoken daughter of President Theodore Roosevelt and inspiration for the song, "Alice Blue Gown," who reigned as "Princess Alice" in the nation's capital for 80 years; Wilhelmina Behmenburg Cooper, 40, Dutchborn model who later ran her own modeling and talent agency.

JANE FROMAN, 72, actress-singer who made a comeback after suffering serious injuries in a 1943 plane crash while she was on a USO tour; Barbara Britton, 59, actress who appeared on Broadway, in films and on TV shows, most recently in "One Life to Live"; Joy Adamson, 69, author of "Born Free," the story of a lioness she raised from a cub.

Jessica Dragonette, believed to be about 70, soprano who was a star for 22 years in the early years of radio; Lillian Roth, 69, actress and singer who related her struggle against alcoholism in her book, "I'll Cry Tomorrow"; Helen Gahagan Douglas, 79, actress and former U.S. Representative who lost the race for a Senate seat in 1950 to Richard Nixon; Jacqueline Cochran, 73, pioneer speed pilot, first female aviator to break the sound barrier and the former head of

Dolls have become one more in the ever-expanding category of decorative arts - collectWASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter says he is sorry Nancy Reagan was quoted as saying she couldn't understand why the Carters didn't move out of the White House early to give her time to redecorate the family quarters.

"She didn't say that," the president said. "I think it's distorted. She's been very nice about the whole thing. I'm sorry it was quoted that

Carter's remarks were made Sunday as he left St. Patrick's Protestant Episcopal Church, where his 13-year-old daughter Amy was among the performers at a violin recital. The president was asked to comment on a report that he "hit the roof" when he heard about Mrs. Reagan's reported

An unidentified aide had been reported as saying Mrs. Reagan couldn't understand why the Carters didn't take up residence in Blair House, the government guest quarters across the street from the White House, for a few weeks so she and the president-elect could redecorate their new living quarters before Inauguration Day, Jan. 20.

Mrs. Reagan's press secretary, Robin Orr, issued a statement denying the report and adding that Mrs. Reagan had said she might break tradition by moving out early four or eight years from now to make room for Reagan's successor. Ms. Orr's departure from the Reagan staff was announced within 24 hours of that statement.

Reagan rests while aides work on Cabinet

By OWEN ULLMANN ociated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Ronald Reagan is spending this week in relative isolation while a coast away his aides are working to complete the presidentelect's Cabinet.

Reagan still must fill seven of the 15 Cabinet-level positions, including secretary of state. Aides said Sunday that further selections would not be announced before Tuesday.

Reagan, who returned from a six-day trip east on Saturday, has a very light schedule for this week, with most of his time to be spent alone with his wife, Nancy, at their Pacific Palisades home.

The Reagans planned to visit their Santa Barbara ranch today and then return home tonight. The only other activities scheduled for later in the week were private dinners elsewhere Tuesday and Thursday evenings and the delivery of a Christmas tree Thurs-

Liberal organizations 'fighting back'

By MARK S. SMITH Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Liberal organizations, far from giving in after last month's election debacle, are fighting back, buoyed by dramatic surges in membership and contri-

"We're going on the offensive," says Harry Margolis of the Americans for Democratic Action.

"The anesthesia of the Carter years is over," says consumer advocate Ralph Nader.

"People have responded by pulling together," says the president of the National Organization for Women, Eleanor In organization after organization, liberal spokesmen say

At the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, officials say that in the six weeks since the election, more than 17,000 members have been added to the total of already," even though there's been no formal solicitation.

Several organizations report that many who had let their memberships slide have been re-enlisting. Money, too, has been flowing in.

The American Civil Liberties Union sent out a special appeal for contributions based on what it saw as "the enhanced threat to civil rights" posed by the election results. So far, the organization reports receiving 3,000 responses. Although the money hasn't been tallied, with estimates of $20 to $25 per envelope, it adds up.

"It has been coming in at a very encouraging rate... significantly greater" than other special appeals, says Assistant Director Florence B. Isbella.

The motivation behind the liberal renaissance appears to be a fear of what the Reagan administration and a Republican Senate might do together.

'You bet it worries us," says David Cohen, president of the public interest lobbying group Common Cause. Cohen says a "small sampling" of membership returns after the elections "shows it running...slightly better than in the summer

"The realization that Mr. Reagan and his associates will be placing consumers' and workers' interests below that of big corporations' demands has galvanized more people and support," says Nader. "The constituencies that support these causes fear that there's a kind of Dark Ages coming.

"I think the liberal community does feel threatened," adds Ms. Isbell of the ACLU. "People are writing to us as they send cans for Common Sense, a new, liberal political action in their checks, saying they feel the upsurge in the Moral Majority does represent a major threat. Some are comparing it to McCarthyism.'

What action do you take? A .- You have a very fine hand and should make a strong effort to get to game, but you really do not have a convenient rebid. If you try a jump shift in spades and happen to strike partner with four spades, he might insist on a spade contract. Since a jump to three clubs might be passed with your side in the wrong strain, we would compromise with the slightly unusual jump to three hearts-an action that normally shows four trumps.

What action do you take? A. - You have forced partner to bid, and he might have a weak hand with four poor hearts. Still, you have better than minimum for your takeout double, and you should take some action. For the moment, content yourself with a bid of two diamonds. This adequately describes your extra values. If partner has five hearts and anything of value, he will bid again and you can then make a move. Don't raise partner with only three hearts.

Stock market gains

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market showed a modest gain today in a carryover of buying from last Friday's rally.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, up 8.70 on Friday, rose another 2.30 to 919.45 in the first two hours today.

Gainers held an 8-5 lead over losers among New York Stock Exchangelisted issues.

American Broadcasting led the active list, off 11/8 at 27 % in trading that included a 297,200-share block at 27. On Friday the company said it would show a small profit or an operating loss in the first quarter of 1981.

The NYSE's composite index gained .53 to 74.69. At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up 3.03 at 336.51.

Volume on the Big Board totaled 18.47 million shares at noontime, up from 17.53 million at the same point

Workers get $5 million settlement

FLORENCE, S.C. (AP) - Twentyfour years after a textile mill closed following a union representation election, 427 employees and the survivors of 126 others have agreed to accept a $5 million settlement in one of the longest labor disputes in U.S. his-

"I don't feel like it's fair, but I'm going to have to go along," said Douglas Boan, 60, of Darlington, who worked at the plant for 19 years, starting at age 17.

"A number of people have died, and they never got justice. If we don't accept it, the older ones who are still around aren't going to realize anything. I think everybody feels it isn't fair, but we have to go along with it," Boaff said

"It took 24 years of waiting," said Scott Hoyman, executive vice president of the Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers Union. "What has happened here is probably the strongest argument for having a stronger federal labor law."

The dispute ended Sunday when former employees of Milliken & Co.'s Darlington Manufacturing Plant voted 472-8 to accept the payment plan drawn up by the National Labor Relations Board.

Awards range from $50 to $36,000. Milliken, then known as Deering-Milliken, closed its only plant in Darlington in 1956, saying the facility wasn't holding its own financially.

But the union charged that the shut down was meant to punish employees who had voted a month earlier for union representation and to discourage union activities at Deering-Milliken's 26 other plants.

Hoyman said the awards should have been larger and sooner.

'My own view, of course, is that morally and ethically they're entitled to a great deal more. There isn't any payment to make up for the delay. I hope soon that the federal Labor Act ean be strengthened to prevent such extraordinary delays in the future,' Hoyman said.

Harry Wittschen of the union said the settlement checks would be sent out in about a year.

One of the largest awards - $29,553 - went to 80-year-old Thelma Swann. who spearheaded the fight for the

John S. Dority, 73, who worked at Darlington Manufacturing for 20 years, said following Sunday's vote, 'It's good. It's what I've been waiting for for 24 years.'

Had the settlement been rejected, the dispute would have been thrown back to the courts, starting a process that could have taken three to five years to resolve.

Former Darlington Manufacturing worker Carl Weatherford said the closing "about paralyzed the town. That mill was the backbone of Darlington. When you take that much money out of a little town like Darlington, it hurts everybody." Darlington has about 10,000 residents.

The ACTWU had sought total back pay for the Darlington workers about $20 million - and the case has been the subject of years of litigation before the NLRB, federal appeals courts and the U.S. Supreme Court.

Flights delayed due to landing rights.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Pan' American World Airways' commercial service between the United States and China, which was to begin today, won't get off the ground until sometime next year because of a landingrights dispute with Japan, the airline

Bob Joyce, Pan Am's director of public relations for the western region, said Tuesday the State Department requested the delay. Joyce said negotiations have been scheduled by the U.S. and Japanese governments. He said it was hoped regular service could start Jan. 28 and full service, three flights a week, by April 28

'The Japanese government is questioning whether we should be able to pick up passengers in Tokyo," he said. "The Japanese government is going to want to negotiate better treatment (for its carrier), or additional landing rights."

The prime rate: Where will it go from here?

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — When the prime rate hits 20 percent you begin to lose your perspective as well as your shirt. You know that 20 percent is high, but how high? Well, would you believe it was 2 percent in 1949? Losing one's economic reference point is common today, because most of the usual measurements of economic health are bouncing around like a dinghy in a squall, leaving most people unaware of their whereabouts.

It took 17 years, until 1966, for the prime rate to reach 5 percent. But in less than 8 months this year that same measure of borrowing costs fell from 20 percent to under 11 and then back to 20 percent.

Where it will go from here is really a matter of guesswork. There are some who foresee 30 percent, and others who say the rate is now close to its top. But even bank chairmen, such as Walter Wriston of Citibank, have found the rate moving opposite to their just-issued forecasts. Whichever way it moves, however, you may be certain that nobody for a very long while will have any good idea of where the prime rate 'should' be. That assurance is gone as surely as the 2 percent prime.

More familiar, but equally confusing these days, is the consumer price index, a measurement that as recently as 1959 through 1965 never rose as much as 2 percent in a year. Even in 1967 it rose only 3.4 percent. That latter year is an important one, because it is now the base year for determing relative prices. For most purposes you can pick any year and say it's prices equal 100, and then measure future changes from it. Since the federal government chooses to use 1967, we are able to calculate that prices today are at an all-time level of 254.1, or that they were in October. That is, according to Federal officials, retail prices today are about 21/2 times what they were in 1967. Nevertheless, the once slow-moving CPI is so volatile now that its rise in just one month sometimes exceed the changes for entire years during the early 1960s. In fact, so swiftly do prices change today that few people can say what a can of beans "should" cost.

They find it difficult also to relate to the size of federal budgets deficits, to increases in retail sales, to declines in productivity, to the low rate of savings ... maybe even to their own paychecks.

Simply for the sake of perspective, consider this contrast: In fiscal 1974 the federal budget deficit was $4.7 billion, but in fiscal 1980 it was $59 billion, and the combined deficits since 1974, including the anticipated deficit for fiscal 1981, will exceed $300 billion. Such contrasts give some indication of direction, and probably serve as navigation guides of a sort. But now hear this: All those big budget numbers are to some extent distorted by inflation. And for rough calculations, the CPI just referred to is a measure of the distortion. Those budget figures, as you will recognize on reflection, include a lot of inflation. The dollar used to measure deficits today is not the dollar used to measure deficits yesterday. Its like measuring the depth of the snow with a 12-inch foot one day and a 10-inch foot the next. And the same distortions apply to the level of retail sales, to the measurement of gross national product, and of course to the nation's income. Your paycheck proves that when you take it to the store. No wonder at all that people feel adrift in unchartered waters. All the buoys have lost their anchors and the landmarks have faded into the mists. And we sit here lost, wondering when the fog will lift.

Fight inflation by tearing up credit cards, group urges

WASHINGTON (AP) - "Rip up your credit cards," the nation's largest consumer organization advises.

"Credit cards are attractive because they are so easy to use. The problem is that credit payments can become too large very quickly and substantial interest charges accompany the unpaid balance. While credit cards may be convenient, by encouraging impulse buying they can ruin your monthly budget.

"Tear them up and toss them out. advises the Consumer Federation of America in a new pamphlet, "Inflation Fighters Guide." The federation says following its advice can save a consumer hundreds, perhaps thousands, of dollars each year.

Another tip is to shut the door to salespeople.

"Salesmen are trained to stay in your home until they have made a sale: It's always easier to say no at the door than in your living room,' the pamphlet says.

The federation of consumer groups also suggests buying used products inflated just by its 'newness.' Check newspaper classified ads and commu-nity bulletin boards or place an ad yourself. Garage and yard sales offer excellent bargains.

Other advice in the pamphlet: —Shop co-op stores. "Because of their nonprofit status, they offer lower prices and better customer treatment than most merchants.'

-Compare and negotiate. "It is easiest and most economical to compare prices by phone. Use the Yellow Pages to identify those merchants selling the brand you want, then call the stores to find the lowest prices. You can try to negotiate even lower ones.

-Complain when dissatisfied. "When you think you've been treated unfairly, be an assertive consumer complain until you receive satisfac-

"because the price of the new one is Cut your own taxes through proper advance planning

By LOUISE COOK Associated Press Writer

Nobody likes to think about taxes especially during the holidays. But a little thought and some simple actions between now and the start of the year could cut your 1980 income tax bill.

Timffig is a major factor in easing the burden and the key question involved is whether you itemize deduc-

The standard deduction - called the zero bracket amount - is $2,300 for single people and $3,400 for married couples. If your deductions for things like medical expenses, state and local taxes and interest expense are more than the standard amount, it pays to itemize: There is more to making the decision than simple addition, however. You may be able to speed up or slow down your spending so you can itemize in one year and still get the full advantage of the standard deduction in the next year. You have to estimate some expenses and plan ahead, but the effort could save money. Here's how it works:

Suppose you and your spouse expect your 1980 deductions to total $3,200 and you estimate that your 1981 deductions - the ones for the return you'll file in 1982 - will be about the same. That's a total of $6,400 in deductions. You would appear to be better off taking the standard amount each year and getting $6,800 worth of deductions.

Suppose, however, that you can shift some of 1981's estimated deductions to 1980. Perhaps, for example, you can pay a medical bill for $300 at the end of December instead of the beginning of January. Perhaps you can make a major purchase - on which there is a substantial amount of sales tax - this month instead of next. Maybe you can mail a charitable contribution before Christmas rather than waiting until after Jan.

Assume you shift $600 worth of deductible spending from 1981 to 1980. You now have $3,800 in deductions for the return that must be filed by April 15. On your 1981 return, you use the zero bracket amount. You get a total of $7,200 worth of deductions - $400 more than you would have if you used the standard amount both years.

If you are in the 20 percent marginal tax bracket, an increase of $400 in the value of your deductions saves you $80; if you are in the 50 percent bracket, it your tax bill by $200. The timing principle works the same way if you want to delay spending instead of speeding it up. You have to figure out in which year you will get the biggest advantage from an increase in deductions. There are several things to consider - including the talk in Washington of a tax cut that could affect the amount you will have to pay on your 1981 income. The size of your income - and whether you expect it to change next year - is important in deciding how to use timing to increase deductions. The higher your income, the higher your tax bracket and the greater the value of a deduction. If you expect your income to increase sharply next year - because of a new job or a second income - you might want to delay deductible spending. If, however, you expect your income to decrease sharply — because of retirement, for example — it is probably wiser to speed up spending.

Spare tools

BURLINGTON, Mass. (AP) — Every car on the road should have emergency tools such as screwdrivers, electrical tapes and wrenches, advises Dick Berggren, editor of a car-racing magazine.

"Even if you don't know how to fix the car, this may enable someone else to do quick repairs that can save you aggravation and possibly a towing fee," he said.

"Spraying lug nuts with rust penetrant several times a year will allow for faster changing of tires," he

Chester Marcol boots field goal to spark Oilers

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) - It wasn't quite what Chester Marcol said he had dreamed, that he had kicked a game-winning field goal for the Houston Oilers against his former teammates. But it was high drama nonetheless Sunday

"This is all right," Marcol smiled. "This was much better, more enjoyable. I could relax a little this way."

Marcol, cut by the Green Bay Packers Oct. 8 and signed by Houston Saturday, kicked a 27-yard field goal and made one of three extra-point attempts to help the Oilers to a 22-3 National Football League victory

Marcol clearly was not the star of the game for the Oilers, who at 10-5 surged into a first-place tie with Cleveland in the AFC Central Division, improving their chances of making the playoffs. Earl Campbell rushed 36 times for 181 yards, boosting his NFL-leading total to 1,731 yards, his personal high for a season. Campbell scored two touchdowns, one set up by a 46-yard run by Rob

Quarterback Ken Stabler completed 15 of 22 passes to seven different receivers for 143 yards. Safety Vernon Perry and linebacker Daryl Hunt forced Packer turnovers deep in Oiler territory. But it was Marcol who was mobbed by sportswriters. Twice an NFL scoring champion during his nine-year career with Green Bay, he had gone on an 11-day drunk and spent 24 days in an alcoholism rehabilitation center after being fired by Packer coach Bart Starr.

The Oilers telephoned Saturday, saying regular kicker Toni Fritsch was sidelined with leg and back injuries.

The Oilers worked out Marcol on the Packer practice field after their arrival from Houston and signed him for the rest of the season. "This was one of the greatest feelings of my career today," Marcol said, glowing over his reception by Houston. "I felt so relaxed, so terrific. I have never been treated as warmly by anyone in my life as by this team. and I was in Green Bay nine years." "I was drunk for a lot of days not long ago," he said. "When I can conquer something that can knock me down like I had happen, I can roll with the punches. Whatever happens, happens. The Oilers told me that if Toni Fritsch is healthy, he'll play, but they'll give me a shot next

"He's on our team," Oilers coach Bum Phillips said. "Anyone on our team has got to be in our plans for next year. He's got a good leg and he's a good kid. I thought the kid did a tremendous job today. I'm real pleased

The Oilers took the lead for good with a touchdown on their first series, a 78-yard, 15-play drive.

Vikings, Falcons capture titles

By The Associated Press The Minnesota Vikings and Atlanta Falcons have clinched division titles, and with a victory tonight the Los Angeles Rams can join them - as well as Philadelphia and Dallas — in the National Football League play-

That's in the nice, neat National Conference, where everything is done in proper, orderly fashion. Even the New Orleans Saints, whose play in losing their first 14 games had prompted some fans at the Louisiana Superdome to wear paper bags over their heads, wiped out their winless embarassment by edging the New York Jets 21-20 Sunday.

BUT OVER in the American Conference, it's an entirely different story. If NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle says he wants parity and downto-the-wire races, he's certainly got it

With one week left to go in the regular season, not a single division championship has been decided. What's more, not a single team is even assured of a playoff spot.

Seven AFC clubs head into the final weekend in contention for the five playoff berths - Buffalo, Cleveland, Houston, Oakland and San Diego, all with 10-5 records, and New England and Pittsburgh, both 9-6.

In the NFC, Minnesota won the Central Division title for the 11th time in the last 13 years and moved into the playoffs by beating the Cleveland Browns 28-23 — but it didn't come easily. The Vikings needed a onehanded grab by Ahmad Rashad of a deflected, desperation 46-yard heave by Tommy Kramer after time had expired to overcome the Browns.

"If you keep plugging away, some-times good things happen to you," said Rashad, who caught nine passes for 142 yards. "I was playing for the tip, not the pass. Fortunately it

DIVISION TITLES may be old hat to the Vikings, but not to the Falcons. Atlanta, which previously had clinched a spot in the playoffs, won the first AFC West championship in its 15-year history by beating the San Francisco 49ers 35-10 behind three second-half touchdown passes by Steve Bartkowski.

Despite the victory, Atlanta's ninth in a row, there was no great celebra-

"The champagne comes after the Super Bowl," explained Falcons Coach Leeman Bennett.

The Saints weren't drinking champagne, either. Their celebration took the form of a long, loud sigh of relief after Tony Galbreath's two 1-yard scoring dives in the them over the Jets.

'That goose-egg is something that nags at you," said Saints quarterback Archie Manning, "We didn't want to be the first team to lose 15.

Of course, to avoid that dubious distinction the Saits will have to beat New England next week. But at least they won't go 0-for-the-season, as Tampa Bay did in 1976 when the NFL had a 14-game schedule. The Bucs tackled by Carl Allen of St. Louis in first period of NFL game in Philadelphia Sunday. (AP Laserphoto).

went on to lost 26 in a row before winning their first game - ironically, against the Saints.

Meanwhile, Buffalo and Cleveland missed chances to wrap up AFC division titles by losing Sunday.

The Bills dropped a 24-2 decision to New England. They still lead the Patriots by one game, but must beat San Francisco next week to win the division. If the 49ers win and New England beats New Orleans, the Patriots would win the title because of a better record within the division.

By losing to Minnesota, Cleveland blew a chance to wrap up the AFC Central and dropped into a tie at 10-5 with Houston, which beat Green Bay 22-3. If those teams finish in a tie, Cleveland would be the division winner because of a better conference

THE DEFENDING Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers, meanwhile, kept their slim playoff hopes alive by beating the Kansas City. Chiefs 21-16. The Steelers' only hope to make the playoffs is to beat San Diego in their season finale and hope New Orleans upsets New England.

The Detroit Lions also kept their faint playoff hopes from dying by 27-14. It may be only a short reprieve, can take the final NFC playoff spot by beating the Dallas Cowboys tonight.

In other Sunday games, the Oakland Raiders edged the Denver Broncos 24-21, the Philadelphia Eagles beat the St. Louis Cardinals 17-3, the the Cincinnati Bengals trimmed the Chicago Bears 17-14 in overtime and the Miami Dolphins defeated the Baltimore Colts 24-14.

On Saturday, San Diego beat Seat-

Minnesota's Tommy Kramer completed 38 of 49 passes for 456 yards and four touchdowns, setting club records for completions and passing yardage. He hit Rashad with a 12vard scoring strike with 1:35 to play to bring the Vikings close, then lofted his prayer pass that was tipped by Cleveland safety Thom Darden near the 5-yard line and grabbed by Rashad with his left hand as he backpedaled into the end zone.

virtually the same lineup the past six weeks except for center John Fitzgerald, who missed the Oakland game on Dec: 7 with a foot injury. Robert Shaw, the Cowboys' No.1 draft pick from Tennessee, will play if Fitzgerald isn't ready.

When Roger Staubach retired as the Cowboys' quarterback after the 1979 season, many wondered how well understudy Danny White would fit

He's fit in so well that the Cowboys led the NFL in scoring with 405 points going into this weekend's games. In the 19-13 victory over Oakland a week ago, White hit 14 of 26 passes for 159 yards while Tony Dorsett carried 25 times for 97 vards.

The victory gave the Cowboys an 11-3 record, fied with Philadelphia for first place in the National Football Conference East Division. The Rams. at 9-5, trailed Atlanta by two games. The Rams, who lost to Pittsburgh in the last Super Bowl, were hoping for a wild-card bid to the NFL playoffs.

The Rams lead Dallas 8-7 in theirseries. Five of the last eight meetings. have been in playoffs, Dallas leading in that category 3-2.

In addition to White, a preseason question mark for the Cowboys was their revamped defensive secondary, but the group has meshed well.

Also for the Cowboys, Ed "Too Tall" Jones returned at defensive end after a brief fling at boxing.

Lopez, Strange pocket $36,000 each with win

LARGO, Fla. (AP) - Missing a short putt by inches weighed so heavily on Nancy Lopez-Melton that she quietly vowed it would not happen again. Next round, she came back fighting, belting long, hard iron shots and left the putting to partner Curtis

The strategy and determination paid off as the duo claimed a 2-stroke victory in the Mixed Teams Golf Tournament on Sunday to pocket $36,000 each.

Time after time, Lopez-Melton put the ball on the green close to the flag in the final round. Strange sunk five birdies in their 6-under-par 66 finish in the 72-hole J.C. Penney event.

What sparked the 22-year-old golfer from Cinncinatti was a bad putt on the 18th hole in the third round.

They dropped into third place, two strokes back, going into the final round.

"I was miserable. I thought if we lose by one, that's going to come back and haunt me," Lopez-Melton said.

"It made me want to hit the ball close to the pins so I would not have to putt. I just had to forget it."
Said Strange: "I drove well period. Nancy hit the fron and I had to putt. Usually it's the other way

It was the first victory for the pair, playing together since 1977 when they won the runner-up spot. They battled from a fifth-place start, putting together rounds of 70-65-67-66 for the four days over the 7,015-yard course at Bardmoor Country Club. Strange sunk birdies of 10, five, eight, and seven feet and one tap-in, leaving the last — an eight-footer on the 17th hole — to his teammate.

Forty eight teams entered the fifth annual $400,000 tournament on Florida's Gulf Coast.

In second place, tied at 18-under 270, were early leaders Gibby Gilbert and Sandra Spuzich, and Craig Stadler-Lori Garbacz, whose hot 8-stroke pickup on the field Sunday was overshadowed by the winners'

Each of them won $17,600. Stadler-Garbacz had rounds of 68-71-67-64 and Gilbert-Spuzich had 66-66-69-69, falling behind with three bogeys.

There was a tie for third place 1 stroke back between the brother-sister team of Ray and Marlene Floyd, and Fuzzy Zoeller and partner Alice Ritzman, who took a 1-stroke lead after Saturday's third round. Each received $9,325 in prize money. The Floyds shot 66-71-67-67. Zoeller-Ritzman had 67-68-65-71 with two bogeys on the last round.

Alone in fourth place were Jerry Pate and Hollis Stacy, with 71-65-69-67 for a total of 272 and $8,000 each. Trailing 1 stroke behind were partners Peter Jacobsen and Jan Stephenson with rounds of 68-66-68-71 to win $7,200.

Defending champions Dave Eichelberger and Muriel Breer were in ninth place at 11-under-par 277.

Lamar on long cage win streak

By The Associated

There's no place like home for the Lamar University basketball team. The Cardinals have won 35 straight games at home with a pair of nonconference wins this week over Texas Southern and Texas A&I. Lamar has not lost in Beaumont since Feb. 15. 1978 when McNeese State hit a last-second shot for a 76-75 victory. The 35game string ties the school record. Senior guard Mike Ol-liver once again led the Cardinals netting 40 points in the two games, including 27 against Texas Southern. He is mark he should hit in his next outing against former Lamar Coach Billy Tubbs who is now at Oklahoma. Southwestern Louisiana also had a perfect week, sweeping to championship honors for the fifth straight year in its own Bayou Classic Saturday night. The Ragin' Cajuns downed fellow Southland Conference member Louisiana Tech 69-64 in the finale after getting past Virginia Military 80-52 in the first. round.

Freshman Alonza Allen came of the bench to hit 15 of his team-leading 19 points in the second half as the Cajuns overcame a 33-29 halftime deficit. Allen was named the Most Valuable Player in the 18th annual event.

Louisiana Tech got to the finals by downing Western Michigan 75-62 in overtime, overcoming a 14-point disadvantage in the second half. Earlier in the week the Bulldogs split a pair of games, falling to Texas Tech 67-47 and downing Hardin-Simmons 51-48.

Lanier paces Bucks over Spurs

By The Associated Press

Bob "Man Mountain" Lanier of Milwaukee, 6-feet-11 of bone and muscle, not only scores, but San Antonio Spurs Coach Stan Albeck says Lanier also obliterates one-fifth of his team when he's on the court.

"Lanier was a definite factor to-night," Albeck said Sunday after Milwaukee beat the Spurs 115-98. "You can't even see George Johnson when Lanier's in front of him, and George is 6-foot-11.' Lanier scored 25 points, and Quinn

Strikers gain pair

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) - The Fort Lauderdale Strikers have acquired two defenders from the Houston Hurricane, which is dispersing its players since it has folded-as a North American Soccer League franchise, the club reported today.

Team General Manager Tim Robbie late Sunday signed Mark Stahl, 27, a six-year veteran and Tedd Hamilton, 20, a second-year pro.

Houston is slated to distribute its players among the NASL starting today in Tampa, where the league also will hold its annual draft.

Jets head toward oblivion; Wings show signs of life

By The Associated Press

The Winnipeg Jets are the worst team in the National Hockey League and they keep streaking toward oblivion. The Detroit Red Wings are the second worst team in the NHL, but are showing signs of life.

For Winnipeg, life in the NHL this season has been a slow death. The Jets won their third game of the season back on Oct. 17, beating Chicago 6-2. They haven't won since and, on Sunday night, they tied the league mark for consecutive games without a victory by losing to the New York Islanders 5-4.

This one is 27 games without a win, tying the NHL record set four years ago by the Kansas City Scouts, who were 0-21-6. The Jets are 0-20-7 in that Winnipeg gave it a good effort Sun day, twice rallying from two-goal deficits as Danny Geoffrion and Morris Lukowich each scored twice.

School says Exxon to hold checks

HAWKINS, Texas (AP) - Officials of a small church school established 68 years ago in East Texas say they may have to sharply curtail operations because of a reduction in royalty checks by Exxon.

The school's attorney said the royalty checks make up 23 percent of the budget at Jarvis Christian School, an institution operated by the Disciples of Christ.

Exxon, accused by the U.S. Department of Energy of overpricing its products, has said it will withhold 40 to 45 percent of monthly royalties cial aid? Will the students be able to until next October. If the DOE charges are true, the company has been paying too much to the 2,200 royalty holders in the Hawkins oil field, including Jarvis Christian School, Exxon says.

Nearly all of the school's 612 students are on some type of student aid program, which gets its funds from royalty payments, said attorney John C. Hardy

"It's a pretty serious situation for a small private college," Hardy said. "The main problem is operation of the school. Can they continue finan-conntinue at Jarvis or any other school? What happens to those who are well into a degree program if their program is dropped for lack of money?" Hardy asked.

A federal judge last Tuesday rejected the request of the school and three other royalty owners that Exxon be forced to pay full month-

Federal witness program flawed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government's program to protect witnesses in organized-crime court cases is plagued by security breaches, false promises and inadequate assistance from agencies such as the Social Security Administration, investigators told Congress today. Yet, despite the problems, about three of every four persons in the Witness Security Program say they still would have enlisted if they had known in advance how their lives would be affected, staff attorney Gregory Baldwin said in testimony prepared for the permanent investigations subcomittee of the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee.

These conclusions, the result of an eight-month investigation, were to be presented during the first of three days of hearings into the program.

The program, established in 1970 to aid federal prosecutors in their war against organized crime, has provided new lives and identities for about 3,500 witnesses and 8,000 of their dependents. Included in the group are about 250 prisoners.

The subcommittee arranged to hear later today from one such witness and the widow of another who participated in the program and later committed suicide

Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., subcommittee chairman, was expected to ask photographers not to take pictures of the two as they entered and left the room: Arrangements were made for the two to testify from behind opaque shields to conceal their identities.

In his prepared testimony, Baldwin, the staff counsel, said a large number of witnesses are generally satisfied with the program run by the Justice Department and U.S. Marshals Service. But he said the program is underfinanced and many problems exist. In one case, he said, a witness's mail, addressed to his former hometown, was given to a marshal to be mailed from a city other than the one where the relocated person was living. But the marshal mailed the letter from his office, in the same city where the witness lived. "The witness's location was thus exposed and he had to be relocated a second time," Baldwin said.

Another problem lies in providing to a relocated witness the identification needed to establish his new life, Baldwin said.

Despite recent improvements, Social Security cards take up to three months to arrive. Social Security officials still do not transfer a witness's earnings record from his old number to his new one.

In addition, several states refuse to supply new birth certificates for wit-

Lack of identification makes it difficult for a witness to establish credit under his new identify. As a result, they feel betrayed and punished by the government because of their cooperation," Baldwin said.

He also said many prisoners who enter the program and testify against targets of organized crime investigations receive promises that are never

They are told that they will receive favorable parole consideration, that their families will get financial aid and that they will be protected for as long as they are in prison.

"In an overwhelming number of instances, these are misrepresentations," Baldwin said.

Feds say future of Chrysler won't be left for Reagan

SOUTHFIELD, Mich. (AP) - The future of troubled Chrysler Corp. will be decided by the federal government before President-elect Ronald Reagan takes office Jan. 20, according to a Carter administration official.

"I think the decisions that Chrysler needs for its future will be made before Jan. 20, based on the timetable they have proposed to this administration," William J. Beckham Jr., deputy secretary of transportation, said Thursday night.

Chrysler, particularly hard hit by the current downturn in the auto market caused by soaring interest rates. has said it will shortly apply for more government-backed loans. At first the company said it would request $200 million, but now it says the figure is Beckham's boss, Transportation Secretary Neil Goldschmidt, is a nonvoting member of the Chrysler Loan Guarantee Board, established by Congress a year ago to oversee issuance of guarantees of up to $1.5 billion in loans. Chrysler has drawn $800 million so far

Beckham said he believed the incoming administration "at least for that part, the billion and a half," would honor the government's commitment to Chrysler.

" But because of the timetable, the new director of the Office of Management and Budget, Rep. David Stockman, R-Mich., "probably will not be an actor, a key actor, in the decisions on the billion and a half," Beckham said. Stockman was the only member of the Michigan congressional delegation to vote against loan guarantee legislation last year.

Beckham's remarks came in a television interview, "Spotlight on the News," taped Thursday night at station WXYZ for broadcast Sunday.

Acme Marketing is Home Spa distributor

Over 5,000 homes in Odessa and Midland now have a Home Spa water purifier. By running your water through the activated charcoal filter in the Home Spa, you get delicious purified water for less than two cents

Acme Marketing, Inc., the national distributors for the Home Spa, gives you a guarantee in writing, stating that if you are not completely satisfied with the performance of the Home Spa, you can return it for a full refund - no questions asked.

The Home Spa is one of the most efficient, economical, portable and simple-to-operate water purifiers on the market today. The activated charcoal filter does the work. It is much larger than filters in units that attach to faucets and others that sell for four and five times as much.

The Home Spa filter removes the chlorine that is used in city water to kill the bacteria. Although chlorine may have a harmful aspect, it is a preventative against such diseases as typhoid, dysentery and cholera. If water companies discontinued the use of chlorine, it would be to trade for the possibility of epidemics. Your water will be safe and healthful when you filter it through the Home Spa water purifier.

The Home Spa also removes sulphates, pesticide residues, rust, algae and especially foul taste and order. Hardness in tap or well water is reduced making it a pleasure to cook with Home Spa water.

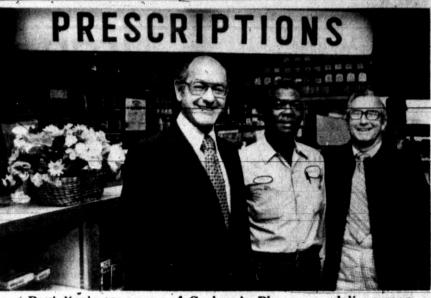

House plants thrive on Home Spa filtered water. Flower shops localy and nationwide are using water filtered through activated carbon (charcoal) for the health of their plants and flowers. According to Gene Hurt, the Old Pro of horticulture, "Odessa water kills more plants than all the insects combined." (from the Odessa American, Dec. 28, 1978) And Midland water comes from the same source.

The Home Spa water purifer is an ideal Christmas gift and Acme Marketing is continuing its special Christmas sale from now until Jan. 1, 1981. The retail price of the Home Spa by the manufacturer is $24.95, plus tax. But, Acme Marketing, Inc., will deliver locally, or ship anywhere in the continental U.S. a Home Sp for 40 percent off - only $15, plus tax, delivery or mailing charge. Tony Rogers says to get your orders in as soon as possible to assure a Christmas delivery.

Replacement filters for the Home Spa should be replaced about every six months. They, too, are on sale now. The regular price of the filters is $7.95 each. During the Christmas sale, they will be $5 each, plus 25 tax. Now is the time to stock up on them. They will keep indefinitely.

If you have an automatic ice make on your refrigerator, Acme Marketing, Inc., has exactly what you need. The AP 300 filter, very easy to install, will not only purify your ice cubes, it will keep your ice maker from clogging up and needing repair. It retails for $41.90, but will be only $29.90 during the Christmas sale. It is also one of the nation's best filters for automatic ice making machines, drinking fountains and restaurant coffee makers. The difference in the taste of coffee, using water filtered through the AP 300 is unbelievable

Mercedes Benz not cutting employees, production

By HARRY TRIMBORN The Los Angeles Times

STUTTGART, West Germany — The big news at Daimler Benz headquarters here these days is about what the West German maker of luxury Mercedes Benz

It is not laying off any of its 141,000 employees. Nor is it cutting back on production of the 1,750 cars that roll off its assembly line each day. And it is not up in arms - yet - over the Japanese export blitzkrieg that has angered other auto makers on both sides of the Atlantic

"We have been able to increase our production over the years and our sales continue to increase," company official Bernd Harling said "We have never had to cut a single hour from our work schedule.'

Mercedes is being sustained by its reputation for quality, durability and prudent design that make yesterday's Mercedes seem as stylish as today's. These qualities, the company believes, take on an added importance in times of economic stress, when individuals who can afford it look to cars like the lercedes and other items that will remain desirable in years to cor

Thus Mercedes has become the shining exception to the turmoil that has hill West German and other Western car makers in the wake of falling sales caused by rising oil and other material and labor costs. Mercedes is the only West German maker to boost both domestic and foreign sales, which last year were up 9.7 percent and 3.6 percent respectively. Last year sales totaled about four 422,000 cars. In addition, Mercedes built more than 256,000 commercial vehicles.

This year's car production is expected to toal more than 430,000 cars, to continue a trend that resulted in an average annual production increase of nearly 5 percent during the past 10 years.

In contrast, the West German automobile industry as a whole — the backbone of country's industrial output - had an average annual increase of only 1.2 percent during the same period. Other statistics, according to a Daimler-Benz study, are equally impress-

Mercedes boosted production during the decade ending this year by more than 50 percent. The comparable figure for the industry as a whole is 11.5

In the 10 years ending in 1980, the industry boosted exports 2.6 percent. The increase for Mercedes was nearly 40 percent. Nearly half of all Mercedes car production is for export, with about 13 percent — about 53,000 cars of total production sent to the United States. This, the company said, is not enough to meet the demand.

In contrast to the humming assembly lines at Mercedes, other West German car manufacturers have intermittently been cutting back on production.

Although registration of Japanese-made cars has increased as much as 118 ercent during the past year, with Japan's share of the domestic market now totaling more than 10 percent, Mercedes has not felt the impact yet...

'There are no signs so far that the Japanese are about to enter into our class of automobiles," Harling said. "But that doesn't mean they won't do so in the future. They have a goal of achieving a quality image similar to ours, and they may try to enter our field, even if it is only as a symbol that they can do it. The rosy production picture painted by Mercedes does not mean the company has remained unaffected by the problems that have hit other auto makers. Mercedes has been able to absorb shocks afflicting other makers because of a large cushion of unfilled orders accumulated during the car-boom years between 1976 and 1979. This backlog forced some customers to wait as long as four years for the Mercedes of their choice.

"We lost a lot of customers who did not want to wait that long," Harling said. "We are now back to 'normal' waiting periods of about six months for domestic

Tentative agreement reached with Continental attendants

LOS ANGELES (AP) - A tentative agreement was reached today to end 10-day strike against Continental Airlines by its flight attendants, the airline announced.

Following five hours of talks, Continental spokesman Julian Levine released a statement saying negotiators would resume talks later today to iron out a back-to-work agreement.

He said details of both agreements would be released only after the back-to-work issue was settled. 'Members of the union (Union of Flight Attendants) and senior management of the company must ratify both agreements before they become final," the statement said.

There was no immediate word on when the striking flight attendants would be back in the air.

The union had no immediate comment on the tentative settlement.

Continental had given the attendants until noon PST Sunday to accept the same contract proposal issued by the company eight weeks ago the last time the two sides had a bargaining session.

The airline then extended its deadline until midnight Sunday, but Levine said it was suspended again be-

The union represents 1,764 flight attendants working before the strike began Dec. 5, plus about 500 others on the union seniority list.

About 225 union members have crossed picket lines to return to work, Levine said. Pilots and mechanics have worked throughout the strike.

Continental said that on Friday through Sunday it operated 179 daily flights - which is 56 percent of the pre-strike flight schedule. Before the strike Continental had 324 daily flights serving 18 states and several foreign countries. Union spokeswomen said they had accepted the company's terms of a 30.6 percent wage increase over 27 months, but the union balked on approving work rule changes -elaiming they could mean loss of hundreds of jobs. The company sought to do away with distinctions between domestic and international flight attendants as well as rules allowing attendants to work up to 10 hours a month over their current ceiling of 80 hours

Wages for flight attendants now range from $12,000 a year for newvears of experience.

Seismic bursts continuing on Mount St. Helens

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) - A series of seismic bursts continued into today on Mount St. Helens, but a seismologist who analyzed the volcanic rumblings said the events were nothing to lose sleep

"They're just piling up," University of Washington geophysics spokesman Steve Bryant said today after a burst at 12: 15-a.m.— the seventh such event since Sunday.

Scientists are unsure what has been causing the intermittent bursts the last month. They could be small earthquakes, tiny steam eruptions, avalanches or geyser-like spouting cause by snow or ice exploding on contact with hot rocks, Bryant said.

Seismologist Steve Malone was called in Sunday afternoon to examine seismograph data. He determined Sunday's first four seismic bursts were insignificant, said Steve Walter, another geophysics spokesman. Later events were similar in their low

The bursts lasted about a minute and some, but not all, were followed by harmonic tremors which indicate the movement of molten rock in the mountain: Because the volcano was covered by heavy clouds. it was impossible to see if the bursts were accompanied by steam, Walter said.

Weeks of little activity on Mount St. Helens ended Saturday night when a minor steam plume from the 8,400-foot volcano rose to an altitude of 17,000 feet.

A brief burst of seismic activity accompanied the plume, scientists said. The plume, which appeared on radar at 8:22

p.m., dissipated rapidly to the northeast, the National Weather Service said. "The seismic burst that came with that occurred at 8:17 p.m. and was followed by moderately strong harmonic tremors, "stronger than we've seen for some time now," said Bob Norris, another geophysics spokesman. The burst "by itself is not a significant event.

We would have to see more of these before we could get concerned," Norris said. "This is similar to other (seismic) events we've seen recently, but it's just a little larger in terms of The volcano last erupted on Oct. 16. Its May 18. eruption killed 34 people and left another 28 miss-

Connally seeks funds to pay off campaign debt

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - Several fund-raising events will be held next year to help retire a $1.8 million campaign debt run up by former Texas Gov. John Connally during his bid for the Republican presidential nomination, a Connally adviser said. Julian Read said one fund-raising letter already has been sent to Connally supporters and others will be mailed in the coming weeks. "His creditors have been extremely patient and offers to help reduce the debt have been coming in."-Read said. "People want to help and there has been a structure of anthusiasm."

Connally's campaign spent $12.5 million, but capured only one convention delegate before the former RECREATION & RESORT tured only one convention delegate before the former treasury secretary dropped out of the race in March after losing the South Carolina primary to Ronald

Connally, in Dallas last week for a business symposium, said he plans a full-scale effort to clear the campaign debt

We're working on it all the time and we'll make a concerted effort to retire it after the first of the year," Connally said.

Read said Connally decided to delay fund-raising efforts until after the November election so he would not interfere with similar drives by the Reagan-Bush

But Connally said he doubted he would have fund-raising dinners in Texas with Reagan to help pay off the debt

'Most of the effort will be by mail," he said. "It's more efficient.

Read said several fund-raising events to be held after the first of the year also will benefit Connally, but he added that specific details have not been worked out.

One problem Connally and others with campaign debts face is collecting funds from donors who already have given the maximum $1,000 contribution allowed by federal campaign law, Read said. "If it weren't for the limits, we could pay off the debt in a week," he said. But Read said many of Connally's supporters are looking for others who can legally contribute. "The unique thing is Gov. Connally's continuing appeal to people and their willingness to support him," Read said. "All of our money was raised without him having a power base and not having held. elected office in more than a decade. It's his pure personality and the belief in him that makes people want to contribute.

Connally's latest campaign expenditures report filed with the Federal Election Commission shows his largest debt to be $257,848 to direct mail expert Richard Viguerie.

Read said Viguerie is not involved in Connally fund-raising efforts at this time; but may handle future mailings.

Suspicious blaze burns five homes

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) - Fire officials today were investigating a "suspicious" blaze that destroyed five homes and injured three people as it roared through an exclusive Berkeley Hills neigh-

"To the best of our knowledge it started as a grass fire, but we're not sure what caused it," said Berkeley Fire Chief Victor Porter after the blaze, which began shortly before 2 p.m. Sunday and caused an estimated $1.25 million to $1.5 million in damage.

The blaze began in a grassy area off Wildcat Canyon Road and moved swiftly up a hill, coaxed by mild winds. The first houses reached by the flames "literally exploded," according to one resident. whose home was undamaged.

Mary Yund, 37, whose home was destroyed, suffered second-degree burns on her face and teft hand as she fled the fire, officials said. She was treated at Herrick Memorial Hospital in Berkeley One firefighter suffered a wrenched knee, while nother get cinders in his-eyes.
