Joe Kennedy's Heart Stops For An Instant

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy's heart stopped beating for a second or two Wednesday, but his doctor says there is nothing serious about it.

"There was a brief loss of consciousness, but there are no after effects," the doctor said. "He'll resume his normal activities."

The 77-year-old father of the late President John F. Kennedy collapsed in a chair just before noon after stepping out of the pool at his oceanfront winter home.

Carried inside a male nurse carried him inside. Ann Gargan, longtime Kennedy companion, called the doctor and a priest.

Magr. Jeremiah P. O'Mahoney administered final rites of the Roman Catholic Church.

Kennedy recovered from the heart block under oxygen and the doctor decided there was no need to hospitalize him. Members of the family telephoned from around the country. His wife, Rose, said it was not serious enough for them to gather at Palm Beach.

"Heart blocks are not uncommon among older people with a history of heart trouble," said the doctor, Saul Rotter. They are only dangerous if prolonged, he said.

Kennedy watched television.

ate a normal supper and went to bed at 8 p.m.

He has been recovering slowly, but surely from the stroke here Dec. 19, 1961, that left his speech and mobility impaired.

He is able to carry on a limited conversation but he is unable to move without help. He told some of the few old friends who visit him at his summer home in Hyannis Port, Mass., that he wished the recovery were more rapid.

His oldest son, Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., was killed in action as a naval pilot over the English Channel in World War II.

One of his five daughters, Kathleen, widow of the Marquisess of Hartington, died in a plane crash in France in 1948.

President Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963.

Former Ambassador Seven months later, Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., narrowly escaped death in a plane crash. His back was broken but he walked out of the hospital six months later.

His other son is Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y. Kennedy, ambassador to Great Britain from January 1967 to late in 1960, came here several weeks ago for the winter. He swims regularly as part of a rehabilitative program.

Male Killer Whale

May Have Companion

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Namu, who was caught in a purse seine by mistake, may soon have a companion who was caught in a purse seine on purpose.

Ted Griffin, Seattle aquarium owner, said Wednesday he had gotten a big fish net around a female killer whale off the east shore of Whidbey Island in Puget Sound.

Namu, a male killer whale, blundered into a purse seine on the British Columbia coast last summer and was bought by

Crime Slowed By Bus Strike

NEW YORK (UPI)—Add crime to the list of activities disrupted by the city's bus and Subway strike.

A Police Department spokesman reports that the crime rate is down throughout New York. This is the way he explains it:

"The strike has caused business to fall off so badly that most of the smaller stores which usually are victims of holdups don't have enough money in the till to make a holdup worthwhile."

Griffin. He is wintering across the sound in Rich Cove.

"Also, a holdup man would have no way to make a getaway after the robbery. The subways and buses aren't running, traffic is so badly jammed he'd be unable to flee even if he was using a car, and it's almost impossible to get a cab."

"If he did try to run on foot, he'd be captured immediately because we have so many cops out on the street trying to control traffic."

EARLY ACTION WASTED

Columnist Will Save His New Year's Resolutions Until Right Time—Fall!

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—At this time there is always a lot of talk about "starting the year off right."

It is based on the ridiculous notion that if the year begins on a constructive note, the pattern will continue. Actually, as well as all know from experience, it rarely works out that way.

Various charts and graphs show that the average life span of a new year's resolution is approximately 14 days, give or take Saturday night.

The result is that we concentrate within one two-week period a full 12 month's supply of high purpose and fortune. This tends to make the year lopsided and unbalanced.

Staggered Resolutions

The country would be better off if we staggered our resolutions in an orderly fashion, releasing a uniform amount at fixed intervals over the entire calendar.

There being 26 letters in the alphabet or exactly half the number of weeks in a year, I propose that the following system be adopted:

Ike To Leave For Vacation In California

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, undergoing a medical checkup at Walter Reed Army Hospital here, was expected to leave tonight or Friday for his annual winter vacation in Palm Desert, Calif.

The former president, who suffered a heart attack Nov. 9 in Augusta, Ga., flew to the hospital grounds Wednesday by White House helicopter from his home in Gettysburg, Pa. He spent a month at the hospital recuperating from the attack before returning to Gettysburg just before Christmas.

The five-star general plans to travel west by train. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower; Mr. and Mrs. George Allen of Washington; Mrs. Eisenhower's uncle, Joel Carlson of Boone, Iowa; and Brig. Gen. Robert Schulz, his aide.

Classes To Start In Elementary Art

Elementary art classes are beginning first lessons at Municipal Garden and Arts Center, 4215 College Ave., today and Saturday under sponsorship of Lubbock Art Association.

Grades 1-4 will meet at 3:30-5 p.m. Thursday with Elsie Wilbanks as instructor. Dorrance West is teaching first, second and third grades 10-11:30 a.m. Saturdays and fourth through sixth grades 1-2:30 p.m. Saturdays.

By THE NUMBERS!
MANILA (AP)—Triplets, all boys, born to a family in the provincial city of Tarlac have all been named Ferdinand I, Ferdinand II and Ferdinand III. The parents of the boys, Conchita Yung and Primitiva Angeles, have four other children.

People whose last names begin with "A" would abide by their resolutions during the first two weeks of January, as usual. Those whose surname initial is "B" would take the next two weeks. And so on down the line.

Thus, during any given period, a sizable percentage of the population would be living up to their good intentions. You can easily see what an improvement that would be over previous conditions.

I'm not too sharp at mathematics, but I figure my time would come during the fortnight of Oct. 30-Nov. 12.

Ready for Autumn
In the interest of practicing what I preach, I have started the New Year in my normal dissolute manner, but I have already drafted a set of resolutions that I intend to adhere to next fall.

1. I will not sit around hoping that the autumn leaves in my yard will be blown over into my neighbor's yard. If necessary, I will rake them into his yard.

2. I will not wait until the first snowstorm to put snow tires on my car. At some point during this period I will tell my wife to change tires.

3. I will not awaken my family on Veterans' Day by blowing a bugle unless I can find where they hid it.

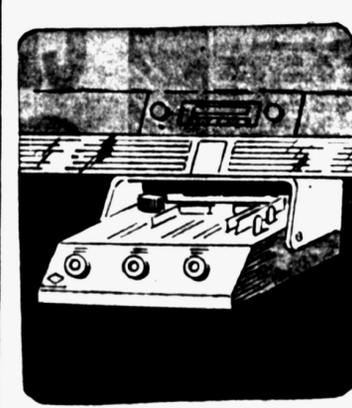

4. I will not put the lawnmower away for the winter before the grass stops growing.

5. I will keep my head when all about me are losing theirs and blaming it on me.

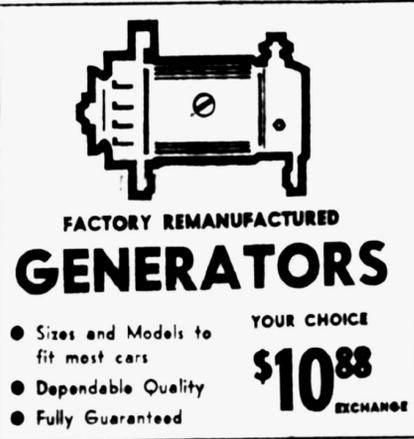

If the other "W" sin the land are equally resolute, Oct. 30-Nov. 12 will be a fortnight to remember.

UNITED STATES IS GIVING RED NATION STRONG SUPPORT

Yugoslavia Revising Economy Along Western Lines

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

As economic realities have forced the East European Communist nations into reforms with more than a tinge of capitalism, the most far-reaching have been undertaken by Yugoslavia, traditional maverick of communism.

The many-pronged objectives of the Yugoslav program are to make Yugoslav products competitive on a free world market, to establish the dinar on an equal footing with western currencies, including the dollar, to reduce subsidies to state enterprises at home and to place the economy on the basis of supply and demand.

Steps being undertaken by Yugoslavia parallel almost exactly those followed by France when President Charles de Gaulle overhauled its economy in December, 1958. But in Communist lands it is rank revisionism.

In France, De Gaulle first de-valued the franc, reduced subsidies to state-owned industries, including the railroads and then reduced the astronomical figures appearing on French paper currency by moving the decimal over a couple of points. Thus, a 1,000-franc note became a 10 franc note with the same value as its predecessor.

The same has happened to the dinar in Yugoslavia.

Giving strong support to Yugoslavia's attempt to liberalize its economy has been the United States.

In December it was disclosed the United States had granted the country credits and debt postponements amounting to $57 million.

In November the United States had granted a long-term $46 million credit for Yugoslav wheat purchases.

Impressive Results

Results of the reforms, which began last July, already have been impressive.

Prices of many products have been allowed to find their own level on the free market. Despite early confusion, some factories are increasing their output.

The trade deficit of about $200 million has been cut in half. Exports are showing a healthy gain and imports have been reduced.

But while the state has benefited, the change has not been without hardship for the Yugoslav people.

In the controlled economy of orthodox communism, rents for the worker have been all but free.

But as rent subsidies were reduced, the cost of housing more than doubled as did the cost of electricity.

Transportation costs jumped 45 per cent.

Workers Laid Off

As factories pulled in their belts under orders to get along without government support, thousands of workers were laid off and many still are unemployed. Some have emigrated to other lands to find work.

Unskilled workers who had abandoned the countryside to jam the cities were being forced to return.

Housewives began buying black bread instead of white and raising coffee and beer prices half-emptied the taverns and coffee houses.

But despite dislocations and some hardship, the reform has moved forward with amazing smoothness.

New York Welfare Budget Takes Jump

NEW YORK (AP) — The City Welfare Department has submitted a $63-million budget for the next fiscal year, an increase of $142 million over the current budget.

Philip Sokol, acting welfare commissioner, said the welfare rolls would continue to grow unless New York provided more jobs for unskilled and semiskilled workers.

RENT ASTRONOMICAL

South Viet Nam Caught Up In Wild Inflation Spree

By ROBERT MOOREFIELD
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The South Vietnamese are caught in the whirl of spiraling prices in a war economy. Food, rent, clothing are climbing week by week.

The prices of many foods have doubled since June.

An ao dai, the graceful native high-necked dress, cost from 300 to 400 piasters six months ago. A tailor charges 800 for the same ao dai today. The price of a conical straw hat worn by Vietnamese women has risen from 120 to 200 piasters.

The official rate for the piaster is 73.5 to 1 U.S. dollar. Shudder At Prices
Foreigners and Saigonese alike shudder at the monthly cost of apartments or villas

when compared to the prices paid a year ago. An apartment that once rented for 4,000 piasters a month now is 15,000.

In June, a kilo — 2.2 pounds — of rice cost about eight piasters. The cost today is 15 to 20. Rice to the Vietnamese is what bread and butter is to the American.

A kilo of pork has jumped from 80 piasters to 220 in the same period and beef from 60 to 130.

The price of a package of tea remains about the same. Prices remain generally unchanged both for a loaf of bread or a breakfast roll.

Power Shortage
Ice, on the other hand, has doubled in price, and so have candies. A power shortage has plagued Saigon for months. "There's nothing to do but pay these new high prices," says 35-year-old Nguyen Thi Tu.

Her household, which includes a husband and five children, runs on a monthly budget of 4,000 piasters or roughly $50.

Bargaining and bargain hunting are a national trait. For many Vietnamese and Chinese here, housing is the least of worries. What would be no more than a pantry in an American home makes a living quarters here.

In many cavernous buildings that house a conglomeration of shops, apartments, bars and hideaways, cot space in the halls is let on a nightly basis.

Some Vietnamese sleep, rolled in various covers against the predawn chill, at the side of the pavement shops they operate by day.

Serving Warrant Is Tough Job At Times

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Constable Don Smith of Midvale, Utah, served a resisting arrest warrant in Salt Lake City, but it wasn't easy.

Police said Smith's man provoked a fist fight with him, threatened to throw a fire extinguisher at him, swung an ax at him and took him for a cross-town ride in the bed of his pickup truck before surrendering.

Smith returned to his own car to find it damaged by vandals.

FAA INSPECTS UNIT

Airport Radar Control Setup Being Installed

By DAVE KNAPP
Avalanche-Journal Staff
Installation of equipment for the Federal Aviation Agency's new Area Surveillance Radar unit was started at Lubbock Municipal Airport Wednesday following inspection and acceptance of facilities in the main terminal building.

The $1 million center will be manned by 28 operators and six technicians, representing an annual payroll of more than $300,000 to the Hub City. Newly assigned personnel will be drawn primarily from Fort Worth and Waco.

Making the inspection for the FAA was Paul E. Cannon, area manager from Albuquerque, N. M., Anderson, chief of the air traffic branch and Herbert D. Estes, chief of the airway facilities branch.

The ASR unit includes facilities in the expanded main terminal building, remote transmitter and receiver sites on airport property and a radar site two miles northwest of the airport.

Funds for the project were allocated last July, culminating more than a year of combined efforts to secure the radar traffic control center for all military and civilian aircraft within a 100-nautical mile radius of Lubbock and Reese AFB.

No matching funds were involved, according to Edward L. Colby, director of aviation for the City of Lubbock. FAA facilities at the airport were included in a $1,665,000 construction and expansion program, now being concluded.

Also included in the terminal expansion is the addition of a baggage room, new flight kitchen, rental car offices, plus canopied areas for public, taxi and limousine services.

The overall program is to be completed by April, about the time the radar system is commissioned.

Will Speed Air Traffic
Completely owned and operated by the FAA, the ASR, consisting primarily of four radar scopes, will provide precise traffic control and traffic separation for aircraft operating within the 100-nautical mile radius.

Described by Colby as a "combination of military and civil need," the ASR also will greatly speed up arrivals and departures of civilian and military aircraft.

"We must have it if Reese is to perform its mission on schedule," Colby added.

"Facilities Are Wonderful"
The airport has no similar system at the present time, relying entirely upon fixed geographical points on the ground. Aircraft now must be "stacked at various altitudes."

With the ASR, Colby explained, "aircraft can be vectored into 360 arrival or departure courses."

The area FAA manager lauded the rapid construction program here. "I was here about three months ago," he said, "when just the footings were poured. It was done rapidly and well. The facilities are wonderful, thanks to the efforts of the director of aviation."

LEAVING FOR ENGLAND
CHICAGO (AP) — Police Capt. Patrick V. Needham, 32, will be the first American to attend England's Bramshill Police College. Needham, director of records and communications for the Chicago Police Department, will leave Friday for England to enroll for a six-month course. The school was founded in 1958 to train top-level British police officers.

Other survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Dorine Harbin of Levelland and Mrs. La Nelle Webber of Austin; five sons, Harold of Lockney, Kenneth of Plainview and Herbert, Elton and Chester, all of Lubbock; one brother, Arthur J. Roberson of Lockney; 26 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services for Mrs. Walter Griffith, 84, a resident of the South Plains area for 65 years, will be at 3 p.m. Friday at the West Side Church of Christ in Lockney.

Officiating will be N. E. Rhodes Jr., minister of the Memphis Ave. Church of Christ in Lubbock. Burial will be in Lockney Cemetery under direction of Carter Funeral Home of Lockney.

Mrs. Griffith died at 11:55 p.m. Tuesday in the home of a daughter, Mrs. Kline Nail, 3324 20th St., Lubbock. She had been ill for several months.

Mrs. Griffith, a native of Rogers, Ark., was a pioneer teacher in the Lockney area. She moved there from Erath County, in 1900.

Other survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Dorine Harbin of Levelland and Mrs. La Nelle Webber of Austin; five sons, Harold of Lockney, Kenneth of Plainview and Herbert, Elton and Chester, all of Lubbock; one brother, Arthur J. Roberson of Lockney; 26 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

MUNICIPAL AIRPORT ACTIVITY

Passenger Record Set Here

Commercial airlines at Lubbock Municipal Airport boarded 94,852 passengers during 1965 while establishing an all-time high and eclipsing the previous year's total by 16.6 per cent.

Edward L. Colby, director of aviation for the City of Lubbock, said all three airlines posted healthy gains over 1964. Carriers serving the airport include Continental, Braniff and Trans-Texas.

Colby said the previous record, set in 1964, was 81,357 passengers.

That figure was surpassed at the end of November, but an additional 9,152 passengers in December boosted the total to lofty heights.

Six years ago, three airlines accommodated only 53,660 passengers.

In addition, the FAA traffic control tower logged 127,621 landings and takeoffs at the airport during the year for an average of nearly 350 daily. At the end of 1964 the figure was 119,473.

Combined with Reese AFB traffic, more than 1,000 landings and takeoffs are recorded daily in the Lubbock area, Colby estimated.

The December tower traffic report included 1,717 commercial carriers; 4,390 transient aircraft; and 3,141 local planes.

Teachers Out On Strike Face Possible Dismissal

Union Vows Defiance

NEW YORK (UPI)—Twenty-five faculty members of St. John's University, striking in sympathy with 31 fired colleagues, today faced possible dismissal if they fail to attend their next scheduled classes.

The university sent telegrams to the 25 absent teachers saying that it would "deal promptly and appropriately with any further violations" of contractual commitments.

Dr. Israel Kugler, president of the United Federation of College Teachers (UFCT) which called the strike said the university was resorting "to coercive and threatening methods in an attempt to break the strike. These methods will not succeed," he said. "We will continue the strike until we win reinstatement of the 31 dismissed teachers and the establishment of the principles of academic freedom at the university."

St. John's authorities said that from 42 to 55 teachers have stayed away from classes since the strike began Tuesday. It was triggered by the pre-Christmas dismissal of the 31 professors, all of whom were members of UFCT.

Sources close to the university administration said that a number of those presently absent apparently could not reach the campus because of the transit strike or other reasons not related to the strike against St. John's, one of the largest Roman Catholic schools in the world.

Dispute Claims
UFCT officials disputed the university's claims and said its head count showed that 183 of St. John's 651 faculty members had stayed away Wednesday from the schools two campuses in Brooklyn and Queens.

There was also considerable disagreement about the effectiveness of the strike.

The university said that in the two days of the strike attendance by pupils had been about 80 per cent, a high figure in view of traveling difficulties.

The Rev. Peter O'Reilly, chairman of the St. John's chapter of the UCTE, claimed that classes were disrupted and that the university's liberal arts college was as good as closed "as far as effective education was concerned."

Striking teachers and student sympathizers marched on both campuses Wednesday in support of the strike, the first ever called by teachers against an American university.

St. John's has refused to recognize the UFCT as bargaining agent for the professors, about 100 of whom are members of the union. The 31 fired professors had been active in union matters and had spearheaded a drive for "academic freedom" and a greater say in university policy.

The union accepted and the university declined an offer by Mayor John V. Lindsay to appoint someone to mediate the dispute.

The university said that normal labor mediation cannot be used in an academic dispute.

There was also considerable disagreement about the effectiveness of the strike.

The university said that in the two days of the strike attendance by pupils had been about 80 per cent, a high figure in view of traveling difficulties.

The Rev. Peter O'Reilly, chairman of the St. John's chapter of the UCTE, claimed that classes were disrupted and that the university's liberal arts college was as good as closed "as far as effective education was concerned."

Striking teachers and student sympathizers marched on both campuses Wednesday in support of the strike, the first ever called by teachers against an American university.

St. John's has refused to recognize the UFCT as bargaining agent for the professors, about 100 of whom are members of the union. The 31 fired professors had been active in union matters and had spearheaded a drive for "academic freedom" and a greater say in university policy.

The union accepted and the university declined an offer by Mayor John V. Lindsay to appoint someone to mediate the dispute.

The university said that normal labor mediation cannot be used in an academic dispute.

Appeal Issued For Orchestra

Nineteen-year-old Robert Davis, an airman serving in Viet Nam, has issued an appeal for a sponsor for a musical group, a band composed of Vietnamese performers.

Davis, an airman second class, is the son of Mrs. Hazel Morgan, 2408 Auburn St., Space 172.

Davis wrote his mother that the orchestra, called "Strad 6," plays nightly at the Airman's Club at the base, where he is stationed on the outskirts of Saigon. He praised the group highly in his letter.

"These guys need a chance," Davis said of the six-man band, which includes organ or piano, drums, saxophone, guitar, bass and rhythm. "The only thing stopping these boys is not having a sponsor."

"Now is the time for the U. S. to show its colors and let these guys have a chance," the airman added. "All I can do is write this letter now, and the rest will have to be done there in the U. S."

Davis' address is: AF18673939, Box 5304, 6250th Camron, APO San Francisco, 96307.

Murder Charge Filed In Disappearance

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Charles Schmidt Jr., 23, must go to trial March 15 charged with murdering Alleen Rowe, 15, who disappeared in mid-1964 and hasn't been found.

A defense attorney's request to delay the trial "a reasonable time for things to cool off" was rejected Wednesday by Superior Court Judge Richard Royston.

Schmidt goes to trial Feb. 15 on charges of murder in the deaths of Gretchen Fritz, 17, and her sister, Wendy, 13, whose bodies were found last fall.

Adm. Nimitz Suffers Stroke

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, 80, has suffered a stroke which is affecting his left side, doctors at Oakland Naval Hospital said Wednesday.

The spokesman said his condition was satisfactory "at this time." But he added that the cerebral thrombosis or blood clot "must be considered serious for a man of the admiral's age."

Nimitz was admitted to the hospital Monday for what was then described as a routine post-operative check after recent minor back surgery.

He had been recovering at his home on Yerba Buena Island in San Francisco Bay.

Gross National Product Climbs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's gross national product (GNP)—its total output of goods and services—soared to over $675 billion last year, a thumping 5.5 per cent jump over 1964, even after making allowances for inflation.

The Commerce Department said Wednesday that the figure, described as preliminary, was substantially higher than previous estimates and represented a gain of about $46 billion during 1965. This compared to a rise of just under $40 billion in 1964.

Surprising medical facts about tension indigestion

Tests of a famous medical center show how one special formula beats even prescription-type products in fighting excess stomach acid, immediate cause of tension indigestion. This special formula is not an expensive drug, not difficult to get, but found in today's TUMS®. Stomach specialists know TUMS is no mere candy mint. In tests, today's TUMS fought stomach acid faster, more completely than even a prescription-type antacid coating six times as much. It is the medicine for tension indigestion. TUMS.

South Plains Weather Pattern In '65 Spotty

Highlights of South Plains weather from month to month hereford. Olson Dimmitt and during 1965 were presented in a Littlefield had between seven summary by Lubbock Weather and eight inches. Station this morning.

Rainfall Spotty
The weather "diary" includes:

JANUARY... The first month of 1965 was dry and mild. Spur recorded a high of 78 degrees on the 7th and 21st. It was dusty during the last 10 days of January with a major dust storm on the 25th. Gusts to 75 miles per hour were recorded at the Lubbock Weather Station during that windy afternoon and cities as far east as Pittsburgh had settling dust the next day.

FEBRUARY... February was seasonably cool and dry except unusually wet in the extreme south around Midland and Big Spring. One of the two coldest mornings of the year for the high plains occurred on the 25th when temperatures at Plainview, Hereford Silverton all dipped to four degrees above zero and Dimmitt had three degrees above.

MARCH... The month was dry and unseasonably cold. This was the third coldest March on record for most sections. Previous records were in 1958 and 1915. Morning lows dipped to three above at Dimmitt and four above at Spur on the 29th. Another dust storm occurred on the 16th with gusts clocked to 67 miles per hour at Lubbock.

APRIL... April was a little warmer than normal with unseasonably hot weather during the third week. Brownfield's 102 degree mark on the 22nd was the highest reported. Rainfall was spotty and generally below normal except in the east central counties. Crosbyton collected about two and a third inches. The last frost of the spring was reported in northern sections on the 27th.

MAY... This is normally the rainiest month of the year and most sections did receive near or above normal rainfall amounts. Tahoka and Big Spring both measured between 4½ and five inches of moisture. Temperatures averaged slightly warmer than normal with afternoon readings well into the 90's during the 2nd and 21st. Thunder showers began to produce hail during the last half of the month.

JUNE... The tragic Hale Center tornado on the 2nd started off the month that saw record or near record rains fall across the northern half of the High Plains. Tulla recorded over 13 inches

IN NEW YORK:

Strike May Ruin Small Businesses

NEW YORK (UPI)—Who buys flowers to carry 50 blocks? Who goes to a nightclub when getting there is no fun? Who walks a mile for a camel hair coat at a January sale?

Nobody does, and because nobody does, business is lousy in this business town. The little shopkeepers are hurting.

If the subway and bus strike, now six days old, continues much longer it could mean absolute ruin for many small firms.

Losses Are Heavy
Put together, the business losses add up to $100 million a day. The city loses $1 million a day in sales tax collections.

But to a man who invested a lifetime in building a small meat cutting firm which serves the city's better restaurants, the loss adds up to $1,000 a day.

"At this rate," the meat cutter said today, "everything I've worked years to build will be wiped out in a couple of weeks along with the jobs of my nine people."

Ralph Gross, executive vice president of the Commerce and Industry Association, said many small businesses could "fall by the wayside" if the strike lasts another week or 10 days.

Fear Bankruptcy
Frank Conant, president of the Fifth Avenue Association, wrote President Johnson that business losses "could well spell bankruptcy for many of our business concerns which are operating on a narrow profit margin." He asked the President to prod the strikers into settling.

Despite all the walking being done in New York, even shoe repair stores report a slump.

Hardest hit are the beauty shops, florists, luncheonettes, cleaners and watch repair shops of midtown and downtown Manhattan—the districts Mayor John V. Lindsay has asked the citizenry to avoid unless "absolutely essential."

NEWSPAPER CIRCULATION
Although the United States has the largest daily newspaper circulation in the world, the country with the highest daily newspaper circulation per 1,000 inhabitants is the United Kingdom, with 582 copies.

An evening of the 23rd caused a tornado alert for the eastern third of the High Plains with no damage found from the one reported tornado seen about 10 miles south of Siston.

LETTER TO LBJ PAYS OFF—Hitting a note on his new electric guitar is Jose A. Castillo, a 12-year-old Cuban refugee with a passion for music. Jose wrote President Johnson of his desire to join a band but of his lack of an instrument and asking for one for Christmas. His letter went through several departments and Wednesday in Miami Jose proudly showed off the gift he received at the Cuban refugee center. (AP Wirephoto)

PUBLIC SCHOOL EXCELLENCE

Houston Attorney To Head Top-Level Education Group

AUSTIN (UPI)—Gov. John Connally today named Houston attorney Leon Jaworski to head a top-level 15-member Committee on Excellence in Public Education.

Connally announced the long-awaited appointments at a conference of school administrators. He said he wants the committee "to give us some urgently needed guidelines" for improvement of elementary and secondary education.

The committee is patterned after Connally's "Committee of 25" which recommended the sweeping reorganization of higher education enacted by the 59th Legislature.

Members Introduced
He introduced the committee members at the administrators' meeting and said they "represent the full spectrum of the education, cultural and economic life of Texas."

Jaworski, who prosecuted German war criminals for the Allies after World War II, is a former president of the American Bar Association and a prominent trial lawyer.

Other members are Joe E. Chapa, San Manuel rancher; Kermit Dyeche of Alvin, a businessman; Paul Haas of Corpus Christi, an oilman and member

Corpus Driver Hurt In Mishap

SNYDER (Special)—A 22-year-old Corpus Christi truck driver was seriously hurt near here late Wednesday in the rear-end collision of two loaded grain trucks.

Admitted to Cogdell Memorial Hospital for treatment of multiple fractures and other injuries was James C. Chancellor, driver for Cudd Motor Lines, Corpus Christi.

The Department of Public Safety said the mishap occurred about 7 p.m. 16 miles northwest of here on U.S. Hwy. 84. Both trucks were traveling toward Snyder.

Investigators said Chancellor was trapped inside the wreckage for more than one hour. Two large trucks pulled the twisted steel apart, enabling rescuers to free the driver.

Grain was scattered over a wide area.

The other driver escaped unhurt.

The new president of the Western Toastmasters Club was named the top speaker at the group's 6:30 a.m. meeting today at Furr's Cafeteria, 34th Street and Avenue H.

"SCORCHED EARTH" POLICY

Paratroopers Burn Houses, Crops In Viet Cong Area

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—To break the back of the Viet Cong, U. S. and allied forces are adopting a program of destroying houses and crops in areas which feed and shield the Communist forces.

For years, Americans refused to participate in "scorched earth" efforts, leaving them to the Vietnamese. Now Americans are directly involved. They are trying to protect innocent people.

The broad-based program includes the establishment of free-bombing zones in Viet Cong regions, killing rice crops in enemy areas, and burning other crops and homes.

Prime Targets
The rich, intensely cultivated flat lands south of the Vaico Oriental River west of Saigon are prime "scorched earth" targets. U. S. paratroopers from the 173rd Airborne Brigade began operating there last weekend.

They laid their base camp among the blackened frames of burned houses. Within two miles of the paratroopers' camp not a house was left standing. Constant pounding by artillery and planes had reduced every building to rubble.

The paratroopers' mission was to move out farther, round up all the people they could find, evacuate them north of the river to resettlement camps, and burn and destroy everything eatable and livable.

Patrols waded in neck-deep canals slicing through the canals, crept stealthily down high dikes, and pushed through thick brush.

Every House Burned
Every house they encountered they burned to the ground. Most were of thatch, but some were large with heavy wooden frames and neat gardens.

Every cooking utensil was smashed, every banana tree severed, every mattress slashed.

On the first day, the men of C Company found more than 60 Vietnamese women and children as they lay in trenches around their devastated homes. These people were sent in helicopters to Bao Trai District, north of the river, and resettled.

Their men folk stayed hidden in the canefields and the canals, sniping at the searching paratroopers and mining the trails. The province chief had told the Americans that every man were Presley Sheppard, Charles Parrack and Rueben Lambert. Bob Slough was a toastmaster, George Staples, table topics master, and Bill Blake was a master evaluator.

Final Arguments Are Near In Civil Suit

Jurors were expected to begin deliberations this afternoon in a 140th District Court civil suit on two contracts for installation of irrigation systems and a cross-action.

Testimony and final arguments were expected to be completed by early this afternoon.

In the suit, BOSS Irrigation, Lubbock, seeks $3,200.50 judgment against D. C. Lothringer, San Antonio.

The irrigation firm alleges that only $5,000 of a $7,938.50 combined amount allegedly due under two contracts was paid and that trade-in equipment called for under agreement was not delivered.

In a cross-action, Lothringer alleges the equipment purchased under the contract did not measure up to warranties and asks that no judgment be awarded.

Judge Robert H. Bean is presiding. Trial of the suit began Monday.

Child Born To Wife Of Battle Victim

BRIDGE CITY, Tex. (AP)—Word came Wednesday that Sgt. Jerry Morton, 31, of Bridge City was killed in Viet Nam two days before the birth of his third child here in Southeast Texas.

The Defense Department notified his widow, Mary Lou, that Morton, a 10-year Army veteran, was killed by mortar fire Jan. 2.

Their daughter was born Jan. 4.

GIRLS LOSE OUT

Fine Art Is Feature Of Calendars

By GAYLE NOLL
Avalanche-Journal Staff
Who would have thought the day would come when a "cheesecake" pose of a pretty girl would be replaced by a Michaelangelo painting?

wives and businessmen want calendars that blend with modern decor.

Most Are Practical
One 1966 calendar, for example, consists of a single sheet seven inches wide and 32 inches long with a wooden rod at the bottom.

The popularity of calendar girls has declined in the past decade. But men emphasize the "girly" calendars may be going out of style, but the girls aren't.

Presently in demand are practical calendars, especially those with large squares for jotting down appointments and notes. Also a kitchen calendar quite popular has a pocket at the bottom to hold trading stamps, bill, recipes, etc.

Among traditional calendars, those with a religious theme remain popular, as do some landscape and vine-covered cottage scenes.

Forecasts Popular
One of the most elaborate designs on the 1966 calendar features a three-dimensional color photograph of Michelangelo's "Pieta."

Still holding their own, too, are calendars that predict the weather for each day of the year.

Some 400 million calendars will be issued in the United States in 1966 and banks and other financial institutions, whose taste in calendars tends to be conservative, distribute the most calendars, the experts report.

Calendars began to flourish in the late 19th Century. See CALENDARS Page 12

By PHIL HAMILTON
Avalanche-Journal Staff
A 137th District Court grand jury Wednesday returned 65 indictments including two each against three men accused of a daring robbery attempt at the Idalou State Bank, Nov. 26.

In addition to being the initial grand jury of the newly organized court, the grand jury made history in another way when it became the first court here to indict a juvenile under provisions of the new code of criminal procedure.

Federal Judges Warn Of Faults In Remap Statute

Police Ask Cage About Smuggling

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Convicted Texas embezzler BenJack Cage was questioned all day about a diamond smuggling operation and then released Wednesday night.

Cage, 47, was arrested by federal police Monday and later turned over to state police.

Newsmen at the interrogation said Cage stated his name was not Jack Cage, he knew nothing about diamond smuggling. State police said they also questioned him in connection with accusations of embezzlement and white slave traffic.

Cage jumped bail and fled to Brazil in 1958 after he was convicted in Dallas of embezzling $100,000 from one of his insurance companies. He was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

A spokesman for Brazil's counterpart of the FBI said Cage's 1962 naturalization, which prevents extradition under a 1964 treaty with the United States, would be re-examined.

Texas authorities say Cage committed a crime before obtaining Brazilian citizenship and therefore is not protected.

Cage's lawyer said earlier he believed police were holding Cage in connection with unspecified charges made this year by Naomi Belle, wife of another American expatriate, Earl Belle. Belle returned to Pittsburgh in 1963 to face fraud charges.

1967 To Be Deadline

HOUSTON (AP)—Three federal judges upheld the legality of the new Texas congressional redistricting statute Wednesday, but with a warning that "our approval is limited in duration."

The 85-page opinion and decree signed by the special court said the act contains numerous weaknesses which should be corrected without delay.

The judges made no specific recommendations but indicated the legislature should make a second effort by July of 1967, stating delay of a "second look" until after the 1970 census "would be unreasonable."

Good Faith Effort
They agreed the legislature, despite the statute's defects, had made a good faith effort and it would be presumptuous for the court to pinpoint areas of concern "until such time as the state legislature indicates its complete unwillingness or inability to face up to the job."

Apportionment, state and congressional, is for the legislature, not the courts," said the opinion written by Circuit Judge John Brown.

Texas officials applauded the decision, noting it apparently clears the way for the election of 23 congressmen this year. An adverse decision would have upset the 1966 political schedule. The filing deadline for candidates is Feb. 7.

Case Is Pending
A similar case over redistricting of both houses of the state legislature is pending before the same court. The judges gave no hint when they might rule.

Gov. John Connally said of the ruling: "I am delighted it was received in time for candidates to file and for the people to have no interruption in this year's election process."

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and Secretary of State Crawford Martin agreed.

"I am pleased the court has sustained the position of the state of Texas and has decided the issues so properly," Carr said.

"I feel this is a great victory for the people of Texas," Martin said. Brown and Dist. Judges Joe See JUDGES Page 12

Personal Funds Used For Business May Be Claimed As Deduction

By RAY DE CRANE
NEA Special Writer
In many occupations employees use their personal funds in the regular conduct of their business. This is particularly true of salesmen.

Their annual income tax return gives them the opportunity to recover these funds if they have not been reimbursed through a company expense account.

The tax form provides two sections where such expenses may be claimed. The first opportunity is on Page 2 of Form 1040 in the section headed "Adjustments."

For most employees the amounts to be claimed here are limited to transportation expense (use of personal automobile, tax hire, fares on public transportation), travel expense (bus, plane, railroad, steamship fare) and meals and lodging while away from home at least overnight.

All other work-connected expense, such as dues paid to a professional society or labor organization, nonreimbursed entertainment expense, gifts to customers, cost of subscriptions to professional or technical publications required in the performance of your work, are claimed in the itemized deductions section of your return.

So-called "outside salesmen" are the exception to this general rule. They may deduct ALL their ordinary and necessary business expense in the "Adjustments" section. This gives them a distinct advantage.

Who are outside salesmen? Internal Revenue regulations define them as spending full time

Beauty After Forty

DO YOU HAVE gray hair? Do you want to color it? Well, this is a new year so why not do something about your gray hair? I consider that silver, gray or white hair is an asset to smartness and personality. You must, though, either dramatize it or color it. The decision rests with you—but once you decide, do not waver.

IF YOU FIND that gray hair is becoming to you and you like it, wear it bravely and beautifully. Use one of the modern color rinses to highlight your own shade of gray. These rinses come in Smoke, Slate, Silver, and Blue tones. Pay special attention to the care of your hair whether you color it or not. You must brush it and massage the scalp with cosmetic oil, if your hair is dry. You must choose a most flattering hair style. If possible, visit a smart hair stylist and get a very becoming hair-do—but insist that it be one that you can follow yourself. As yet nothing has been produced that will bring back color to graying hair. Every now and then there is a great flurry of excitement about some vitamin which it is reported will bring back color, or restore the natural color. Nothing ever comes from those reports and rumors. But modern color rinses do a beautiful job. Just read the directions, follow them to the letter and you will get good results. Just remember, if you do not consult an expert as to the color you might wish to use, lighter shades look more natural; never choose dark browns or black.

ALSO, WHEN YOU color your hair, you can no longer wear the makeup which went with your gray hair. So select new makeup shades to harmonize with your hair color. Also, it is important to be careful about selecting makeup shades to be worn with gray hair. Soft lovely colors look best.

A mature woman must watch the back of her neck. Be sure the line is clean; an upswept style does more for you!

Mother-In-Law Problem Discussed By Sociologist

Are in-laws more likely to help or hinder a young couple in establishing a happy marriage?

Traditionally, in-laws have usually been regarded as a handicap. "Marry an island woman and you marry the whole island," says an Irish proverb. Never rely on the smile of your mother-in-law," is an old Japanese saying.

But a sociologist has come out with a report that indicates that mother-in-law isn't always the problem she is usually thought to be. Likely as not, she's a help.

The sociologist, Robert O. Blood, Jr., of the University of Michigan, based his report on a survey of families in Detroit. The report, made under a research grant by the Institute of Life Insurance, found that in today's urban society, in-laws are a source of trouble for a marriage mainly when they come in too large or too steady doses.

Both marriage and kinship are primary relationships, the sociologist notes, and the mere fact that two people get married does not automatically guarantee that they will shift their primary loyalties from their parents to each other.

So if the couple to continue to maintain unusually close relationships with their families, the development of firm marriage bonds based on mutual dependence is hampered, Prof. Blood says. The survey indicates that the most unfavorable circumstances for a young couple's marriage occur when:

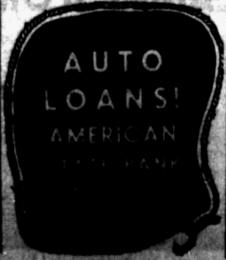

(1) The couple settle down in the same neighborhood where they grew up and where more than half of the relatives on both sides are still living.

The result is a closely connected network of family relationships. While the couple has established a separate household, the sociologist says, they have only partially left home and "neither has any reason for breaking accustomed patterns of dependence and learning new ones." They rely on each other less for mutual assistance in the household tasks and for emotional comfort, he found.

(2) Relatives visit frequently, with a high proportion of the visits on a "drop in" basis without notice.

Unannounced visiting indicates that the boundary lines between family units are not clearly established or respected, the sociologist says.

The autonomy of each family unit should be respected, the sociologist says, by being asked in advance of a visit and being

Collecting Recipes Is Favorite Hobby

By GRACE HOLMAN
Women's Staff Writer
Mrs. Ferman R. Priddy, 4913 19th St., enjoys collecting recipes, both new and old, and hand-painted china as a hobby. Another hobby is studying music and playing the organ.

She explains that her favorite "hobby" is her grandchildren, Lisa Michelle, 6, and Robert Bryce, 8 months; their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Baxter, 3505 47th St., and her husband.

Mrs. Priddy attends the Broadway Church of Christ. She has membership in Algreo Music Club, Lubbock Women's Club, Lubbock Women's Forum and Lubbock Knife and Fork Club.

Recipes Mrs. Priddy wishes to share are for Oven Steak, Apple Pudding and Holiday Candy.

OVEN STEAK
1 large slice round steak (cut into serving pieces)
Salt to taste
1 egg, beaten until foamy
1 cup milk
1 cup flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
Hot shortening
Salt steak to suit taste. Make batter by adding milk to beaten egg and blending well with blender or mixer. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt.

Dip salted steak in egg and milk mixture. Roll in flour mixture. Brown in hot shortening just until brown; drain on paper towel. Place on rack in covered skillet or roaster with tight lid. Bake in 350 degree oven about 45 minutes or until tender.

APPLE PUDDING
6 medium Jonathan apples, peeled and cored
Sugar
Butter
Nutmeg

3 eggs
3/4 cup sugar
2 tbsp. flour
2 1/2 cups milk
1 tsp. butter
Nutmeg

Fill centers of apples with sugar and sprinkle sugar on top of apples; dot with butter and nutmeg. Bake in greased (with butter) baking dish in 375 degree oven until apples are brown.

To make sauce, cook egg yolks, 3/4 cup sugar, flour, milk, 1 tsp. butter and nutmeg until thick. Add Vanilla; remove from fire. Make meringue with three egg whites; bake on top of apples. Place apples in large bowl and pour custard sauce over all.

HOLIDAY CANDY
3 cups sugar
1 cup evaporated milk plus 3 tsp.

1 cup white corn syrup
1/4 lb. butter
1 lb. pecans
1/4 tsp. salt

Phillips-Fowler
Vows Exchanged
In First Baptist

CROSBYTON (Special)—Miss Linda Gay Fowler and Jimmy Marion Phillips pledged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony at 7 p.m. Saturday in the First Baptist Church.

Officiant was the Rev. Ernest Stewart, pastor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Fowler, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Phillips of Ralls.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire gown of white crepe designed with an oval neckline and formal length sheath skirt.

A train attached to the shoulders formed a floor-length back panel and a halo veil was caught in front with a cluster of satin and seed pearls.

Her bridal bouquet was of white gardenias and was carried atop a white Bible.

Miss Janice Ausmus was maid of honor and Eugene Deering of Ralls was best man. Ushers were Robert Phillips of Dallas and Darwyn Fowler. Following a ceremony a reception was given in the home of the bride's parents.

For a wedding trip the bride chose a grey two-piece ensemble with black accessories, and wore a corsage of white gardenias from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Phillips is a senior at Crosbyton High School. Phillips is stationed at Selfridge AFB, Detroit, Mich., with the U.S. Air Force. He is a graduate of Ralls High School and of Jessie Lee's Hair Design Institute of Lubbock.

From LOU to LOUELLA

DEAR LOUELLA:

Lubbock high school students will do their annual part in raising money for the March of Dimes by staging a "March of Dimes Walk-A-Thon" beginning at 1 p.m. Sunday. Groups of students from Lubbock High, Monterey, Coronado and Dunbar will establish "headquarters" at four different places on 4th, 34th and 50th streets.

Students will volunteer to help pick up money when it is donated by Lubbock residents. The groups from the four schools will be called the Roadrunners, the Toddlers, the Creeple Crawlers and the Long Leggers. Three people for each group will take shifts from 1 till 5:30 p.m. to "step" off the number of dimes as the "runners" bring them in from the donors and put them into the red wagons which will be at each station to hold the money.

For each dime donated, the person will take one step. All groups will start the same distance from the Texas Tech traffic circle, and the group whose "stepper" reaches the circle first by counting off the dimes will be the winner. Plans have also been made to wait until all four groups have reached the circle before ending the drive.

Mustangs Meet Tascosa In Amarillo

Lubbock's high schools are in the middle of their basketball seasons. This week Coronado's Mustangs will play Tascosa's "B" varsity. The game will be in Amarillo at 6 p.m. Friday.

The dimes were used to pay for the party, and what was left went into the Student Council treasury.

Dancing was in the cafeteria from 7:30 till 10:30 p.m. Pepper Shelton was in charge of the dance and toy drive.

DEAR ABBY

Writers Protest

DEAR ABBY: In your column recently you said that the hostess who asks if her guests want a cold drink, coffee, or a sandwich, and then sits on her bottom without making a move toward the kitchen, is just "lazy" and she shouldn't ask, she should get up and serve it.

Well, I'm sorry, Abby, but I don't agree with you. I am on a limited budget and I can't afford to prepare refreshments to throw out. I always ask if anybody wants anything first. And I am only too glad to serve whatever I have if it is wanted, but it bugs me to watch guests toy with their food and pretend to enjoy it when they really don't. Bugged In Beaumont

DEAR ABBY: Just because a hostess doesn't force eats on her guests doesn't mean she is lazy. Anyone who is so stupid as to refuse a cup of coffee when they really want one, deserves to go without. This business of having to beg folks to have a cookie or a sandwich is for the birds. Whatever happened to the simple "Yes" or "no" when something is offered? I ask once and I mean it. And whatever answer I get is okay by me. I don't beg anybody to eat or drink anything in my house. Just Plain Folks

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I wish to differ with your advice to "Often A Guest" in which you state, "The hostess who sincerely wants to serve her guests doesn't inquire; she acts."

We know some of these so-called sincere ones who act! They figure our digestions are as indestructible as theirs. They take offense if their goodies aren't consumed, be it immediately after a banquet, or just before we hope to get some sleep.

The good hostesses we know inquire, and then act accordingly. Overfed In Iowa

Report Given In Meeting Of Chapter

Lubbock Chapter 76, Order of the Eastern Star, met Tuesday night in the Masonic Hall, 1207 Main St., with Mrs. Clyde McKinzie, worthy matron, and H. A. Harrison, worthy patron, presiding.

Early Daniel and Mrs. J. O. Scoggins, O. W. Schellinger, Artie Hunt, S. E. Marbut and Paul Basinger, grand officers, were presented. Visitors were introduced from Idalou and Forestville.

Harrison reported on welfare projects during the holiday season.

The 1966 executive board for Rainbow Assembly 98 was elected. Members will be Mrs. Sam Prather, Mrs. Sam Cox, Mrs. Lynn Peveler, Mrs. Ferrell Farrington, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Marvin, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ware, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sulivent and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Mugg.

Mrs. Ronald Smith announced that a study class will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. today in the Harrison home, 3201 37th St.

After a ceremony of initiation, a reception was given in the dining room, with Mrs. Marbut presiding at the coffee service.

The serving table was decorated with an arrangement of frosted flowers interspersed with green vigil candles.

Hostesses were Mrs. G. R. Saverano, Mrs. Pat Culver and Mrs. Beas Oglesby.

Volunteers To Wed In Turkey Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Telford, 2429 26th St., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Sylvia June Telford, to Robert Lee Staab, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Staab of San Gabriel, Calif.

The couple will be married, Jan. 26 in Ankara, Turkey, where both are serving with the Peace Corps.

The bride is a graduate of Lubbock High School and Texas Tech, and the bridegroom has attended schools in California that card.

You aren't always right, I think the hostess who puts the food and drink before her guests without first asking if they wish for anything is presumptuous and inconsiderate.

It should be the privilege of the guest either to partake of refreshments or refuse. But if something is set before him, he feels compelled to "enjoy" it or offend the host. I have avoided calling on a certain relative who is a notoriously bad cook because she is the type who insists that her guests eat, no matter what time of day or night it is. Her heart may be in the right place, but my stomach can't take it. "Bear's Bertha"

DEAR ABBY: With regard to the letter, signed "Often A Guest" and your reply: I disagree with you, Abby.

I am a pastor's wife, and oh, how I wish well-meaning parishioners would quit feeding my husband! His clothes are bursting at the seams. He is earnestly trying to lose weight, but with all he calls he has to make, and people showing goodies at him constantly, it is almost impossible for him to stay on a diet.

I am not saying he doesn't enjoy eating, because he does. But it would be so much easier for him to refuse if he were asked, instead of served. Please publish this. It might help. But don't use my name or the town from which this came. Thank you—Pastor's Wife

DEAR ABBY—I agree with you. If you have something in the house for company, put it out and let them take it or leave it.

I used to ask people who dropped in if they wanted a piece of my freshly-baked, homemade bread, or a slice of my warm, just-out-of-the-oven green apple pie. And they would say, "Not right now, but it sounds so good, would you mind wrapping up a little piece so I can take it home and have it for my dessert tonight?"

Now, Abby, you know I'm not going to wrap up one piece of bread or pie for a whole family. So there used to go a whole loaf of bread and a whole pie.

Old-Fashioned Baker

Dear Abby: Your mistake was in describing the goodies. You should have just made the offer and skipped the commercials.

DEAR ABBY: Apropos "Often A Guest". The guest who gets me as the one who, when asked if he wants something, replies, "If you are going to have something, I'll join you."

Activity In Educational Circles Quickens As Training Is Stressed

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist
During the past year, education has been recognized as the backbone of our nation. Every area of our society whether it be business, government, health, space science or even education itself, needs personnel who are trained to do the job properly as well as to create new dimensions for progress.

The federal government is pouring money into many areas of education. Many programs have already been started but many more are yet to come.

They are not all aimed at fighting poverty as some people seem to think. Projects are being developed to improve local school systems as well as state education departments.
Activity Quickens
There is unprecedented activity in educational circles. Extensive plans are being developed by individual school systems and by groups of systems and by groups of larger projects. The Trenton, New Jersey, public schools have appointed an individual to coordinate and help them obtain all of the federal aid to which they are entitled. The Jericho, New York, public schools have been named the agent to obtain a cooperative grant involving fifty-six Long Island school systems. State departments of education have appointed individuals and in some cases entire departments to assist local school systems and to coordinate federal projects throughout the state.

152 PHOTOGRAPHS SHOWN

'Photography In Fine Arts' Exhibit Opens At Museum

An exhibition of "Photography in the Fine Arts" opens today at West Texas Museum. A collection of 152 photographs (66 in color) by 129 photographers will be on exhibition in the Museum's art gallery through January 30.
The collection places photography in dramatic and persuasive dimensions. The fine arts photographer draws on his sense of design; his ability to see patterns, to select and create light and shade contrasts, and to suggest moods. The photographer-artisan is a master of perspective. Subjects visualized first in the abstract by the photographer are then translated by sensitive camera imagery with such particular care that the "ordinary" world about us suddenly comes alive in new, exciting and unusual frames.

The exhibition presents "photography in the fine arts" against a comprehensive background of categories: pattern and design... the portrait... formal, candid, imaginative... the lyrical mood... vitality and strength... the abstract... the and white... the incident... the repetitive form... fantasy in the landscape.

Professional Photographers of America, the National Press Photographers Association, the Photographic Society of America, and the Photographic Society of Texas collaborated in a working search to locate outstanding photographs which contained that certain spark which kindles in a sensitive observer a response to its message; or perhaps a response to its arrangement of subject matter, of mass of light and shade.

Thousands of photographs were pre-judged by these groups. Others participating in the search were art museums, photography and art schools, camera clubs, advertising agencies and the Art Directors Club of laboratories. Also providing assistance were publications such as Holiday, Horizon, Life, Look, National Geographic and Realities, along with photo agencies. A. Hyatt Mayor, Curator of Prints at the Metropolitan Museum, and a member of the Photography in the Fine Arts National Advisory Committee, stated: "The panel of judges covered the widest possible spectrum of interests that center on creative picture-making with the camera. We concentrated only on the content of the pictures set before us, and no more cared about the cookery of their technique than a concert audience cares whether a pianist is playing with his right hand or his left."

The exhibition, free to the public, may be viewed from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday, and 2-5 p.m. Sunday. Visitors' parking is available in the Museum parking lot behind the building on the Texas Tech campus.

ANTIQUE AUTOS BARRED
JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Motorized vehicles produced more than 20 years ago will not be allowed to move around in this capital city any more, the Jakarta administration has announced. It said this was in view of traffic disruption caused by old vehicles that were frequently stalled in crowded streets.

AREA MARINE NOW DEAD

'I Want To Thank You For The Card...' Letter Began

The "Thank You" letter from Viet Nam to residents of Men's Dorm 9 at Texas Tech was dated Dec. 8.
It was tacked on a bulletin board along with others from U.S. servicemen in appreciation of Christmas cards mailed them in a mass display of grassroots support for the war effort.
"I'm a Marine in a reconnaissance unit," the letter began. "I want to thank each and every one of you for the card we received from you good people."

The letter was signed by Cpl. R. S. Joy Jr. Eight days later, he died in action.
As Cpl. Joy's body started home to Abernathy this week, the letter was taken down and re-read.

"We over here are trying to do a job, not big, not small," the corporal wrote. "We believe we are right and with support like you are giving us, we know we are right."

He added: "We will win. We have to."
In his three-page letter, Cpl. Joy said he attended West Texas State for two years and therefore knew "it took of your valuable time" to organize the Christmas card campaign: "girls, studies, girls, beer, girls, teachers, girls, etc., oh well I could rattle on about the everyday problems of life."
He closed with an offer to "answer any question" if the students wanted to write him, then added "may God bless you... Your friend in the service."

Cpl. Joy (Raymond Stanley, 23) will be buried in Abernathy Saturday. (See story, photo Page 12, Sec. A)

Borman To Bring Flag To Arizona

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Arizona expects to get back Monday the state flag which astronaut Frank Borman carried on his Gemini 7 flight.

Gov. Sam Goddard gave the flag to Borman, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, and a spokesman for the Tucson Chamber of Commerce says the astronaut plans to return it at a public reception honoring him.
A spectacular display of lights—in the shape of a Titan rocket 10 stories high—will greet Borman when he returns to the city where he spent his boyhood.

The green and amber fluorescent lights across an entire side of a new downtown skyscraper will say, "Welcome Borman."

BERLIN—German lighthouse-keepers will get new pensions.

HIS WAR ENDS:

A Soldier Goes Home

By TOM TIEDE
QUI NHAN, Viet Nam (NEA)—Four men crouched on the runway waiting for transportation... five really, but one of them was dead now.

They had placed the fifth in a green plastic bag, as they do all men killed in combat. The sack sagged over the outline of a thin man whose hands were carefully crossed over his stomach.

"Wonder how he got it," a boy mumbled.
"What's the difference?"
"Just wondered."
"A grenade maybe," a sergeant said.
"Wonder how old he was," the boy stammered.
"What's the difference?"
"I... I just wondered, that's all."

The bag had two hand holds on each end. It was over seven feet long and featureless except for the word "Head" stenciled forward on one side and underneath it the name of the manufacturer.
The thick zipper which ran the container's length was fastened but blood trickled out.

"I feel ashamed somehow," a guy said.
"Me, too."
"I always feel small around dead people."
"Everybody does."
"I remember one time," the noncom sighed, "I was in an aid tent with a blister on my heel. That afternoon they dragged in five guys who had gotten caught in machine gun fire. And there I was with a lousy blister."

The men shook their heads. Somebody crushed out a cigarette. The boy bit his lip.
The dead soldier was enroute to Saigon where he would be cleansed, mended, embalmed, dressed in a new uniform and placed on a jet for San Francisco and then home.

Home. How long the dream... and now finally to return this way.

"I always feel small around dead people."
"The killing, shooting, the whole mess."
"Easy now."
"I apologize."
"Well, anyway," the sergeant said, "he's at peace."
"That's right. He got his truce."
"Great," the medic snapped, "that must be a comfort to him."

The four men stared uneasily at the bag. Death is routine to war but never to the men who fight it.
"I wonder if I'll make it," the boy said suddenly.

"What kind of talk is that?"
"Yeah, knock it off, huh?"
"Sorry. I don't really think about it much. But, like now, I just feel like running only there ain't no place to go."
"You're lucky, son," the sergeant muttered. "I've felt that way through two more wars than you."

KARL MALDEN HAS GOOD REASON Actor Conducts Seminars At Universities For Free

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Karl Malden is explaining why he goes to universities around the country to conduct drama seminars without pay.

"My father used to ask me, 'What did you do today?' If I said 'Nothing,' he'd always tell me, 'That day will never come back; you've wasted it!'"

His father's words returned to Malden during the inevitable lapses between movies. The Oscar winner ("A Streetcar Named Desire," "1951") is one of Hollywood's busiest actors; this year he performed in three important films: "The Cincinnati Kid," "Bullwhip Griffin," "Nevada Smith."

But every film actor experiences idle periods between pictures. At such times, Malden admitted, "I'm bored stiff."

He is a graduate of the Actor's Studio and hence believes in continuous study of his craft. But such is not possible in Hollywood, he declared, even though acting workshops have been attempted from time to time.

"Everything is too commercial here," said Malden. "Actors don't just classes just to polish up their skills. They join with the idea that maybe if I do some scenes with Malden, he will recommend me for his next picture."

"In college communities it's different. Students are in classes for what they can learn."

Back To College

So he went back to college. As Malden Sukolovich of Gary, Ind., he didn't get very far at Arkansas State Teachers College. He checked an athletic scholarship for a career in the theater. His return to the campus life was occasioned by an invitation from an old friend who teaches dramatics at Eastern New Mexico University.

Word got around the academic community that Malden was available. He also accepted invitations from Kansas State Teachers and Indiana University.

Now he has eight future dates, including Denver, San Jose State, Northwestern and Midland, Neb.

"I accept the dates with the provision that I can leave if a movie job should come up," the actor explained. "For that reason I don't want to be paid."

"After I was at Kansas, the university sent me a check for a thousand dollars. I sent it back with the suggestion that they might convert it into a Karl Malden scholarship fund, if they wanted to. That was done, and now thirty dramatic students are given a hundred dollars a semester."

Malden's plan is to visit each campus for a three-week period. He lives and eats among the students and reports that after the first few days he is accepted as part of the local scene.

"I specify that I want to work with advanced acting classes, no more than 20 to 25 in each session," he said. "Most of the time we do scenes and improvise. The instructor can remain in the class if he wants. But he has to get up and make a fool of himself, just as we do."

Malden, who has a daughter at the University of Oregon, said his collegiate experiences send him back to Hollywood refreshed. How does his wife feel about these absences?

"She approves," he grinned. "She knows what a miserable person I can be when I'm not working."

Nugent Reported In Line For Job With Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Airman Patrick J. Nugent, who became engaged last month to President Johnson's daughter Luci, has a job lined up with the Senate Commerce Committee, according to a spokesman for the District of Columbia National Guard.

Commerce Committee aides were unable Wednesday to confirm the report.

Nugent is scheduled to complete six weeks of basic training Friday at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas. He will be transferred at his request from the Wisconsin Air Guard to the D.C. Guard and probably will be assigned to a unit of the 113th Tactical Wing at nearby Andrews Air Force Base for another 120 days of training.

Later he will attend monthly drills.

Before beginning his basic military training, Nugent worked here for the Federal Advisory Council on Higher Education.

Airman Says Luci's Fiance Does His Fair Share Of KP

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — Pat Nugent is looked upon by most of his buddies at Lackland Air Force Base as one who can do his share of dish washing and potato peeling and then some, a fellow airman said.

Buddy Chapman of Shelbyville, Tenn., who is in the same Air Force flight as Nugent, fiance of President Johnson's younger daughter, Luci, said Nugent's friends were upset to hear reports of dissent.

Chapman said Wednesday he heard some newspaper columnists had said Nugent and members of his unit did not get along. The quoted the columnists as saying other barracks mates were angry because Nugent had been "vanishing on weekends and missing KP."

"At the end of a day of washing dishes, mopping and peeling potatoes, the boys were convinced that Pat could do his share of the work and then some," said Chapman.

Chapman said there were rumors that Nugent's flight was angered about Pat's holiday visit with Luci. During which he became officially engaged.

"Everyone would like to leave the base during the holidays," said airman basic Larry G. Cox of Knoxville, Tenn., another member of Nugent's flight.

"But that's impossible. If Pat can leave, then we say more power to him."

"There wasn't any animosity shown toward Pat in that incident," said Cox.

Anthony Lonero of New Orleans, another member of Nugent's unit, said before he met Pat, he felt Nugent might have been arrogant or a little conceited. But he is quiet and can take a job and is polite to everyone.

Chapman said Nugent told him he had "tried to be one of the boys down here and follow instructions to the best of my ability."

"It's been quite an experience," Chapman quoted Nugent as saying.

Nugent, 22, is from Waukegan, Ill. and a graduate of Marquette University in Milwaukee. He will complete six weeks of basic training in the Air National Guard at Lackland Friday and will be transferred to Andrews Air Force Base, Md., near Washington, for four months' active duty.

Phyllis Diller Is Having Real In-Law Trouble

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Comedienne Phyllis Diller filed suit in U.S. District Court Wednesday asking that she be allowed to continue calling fictional relatives in her comedy routine by the names "Moby Dick" and "Captain Bligh."

Miss Diller said the references to her stage mother-in-law as "Moby Dick" and "The Great White Whale" and to her stage sister-in-law as "Captain Bligh" did not constitute an invasion of privacy to her former relatives by marriage.

In Laws Object

She said in the suit that her former in-laws had been trying to prevent her from using such names in her comedy routine.

She sought a declaratory judgment that her comedy routine has no application to the defendants as individuals and asked for $50,000 damages that she said she suffered from their interference with her business relationships.

Named as defendants in the suit were Mrs. W. E. Diller, her former mother-in-law, and Jeanne Diller, her former sister-in-law.

The 48-year-old comedienne formerly lived in Webster Groves, Mo., a St. Louis suburb. She was divorced last September from Sherwood Diller, to whom she had been married for 25 years.

She later married Ward Donovan Tatum, a Hollywood real estate man and actor. They separated last month.

Thief Steals Monitor To Hospital Camera

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — General Hospital is installing an apparatus that enables doctors to insert a tiny television camera into a patient's heart to help with diagnosis.

Trouble is, someone has stolen the television monitor.

Dr. Jerome Wiot, associate professor of radiology at the University of Cincinnati, said the monitor has no tuner and will not receive commercial television stations.

"I'm afraid that whoever took it will throw it on a dump some place and we'll never get it back," the doctor said.

11 Yugoslavians Die Of Alcohol Poisoning

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UPI) — Eleven persons have died of wood alcohol poisoning in a commune in Slavonka Poga, the Yugoslav News Agency Tanjug reported Wednesday.

Tanjug said the alcohol, originally bound for a veterinary institute in Zagreb, arrived in Slavonka Poga by mistake and was put on sale by local pharmacies.

Grand Jury Returns 65 Indictments Here

FROM PAGE ONE

Heading the list were indictments against Juan Ysasaga, 37, 1018 3rd St., Epifanio Bela, 21, 704 Hub Homes, and Rudy Clarence Garcia, 29, 1317 E. 14th St. Each was indicted on two counts of robbery by firearms in connection with the attempted hold-up of the Idalou bank and with commandeering a car at gunpoint from Mrs. D. R. Rackley and her son, Joe, prior to the bank robbery attempt.

Faces Federal Charge
Each of the men also faces federal bank robbery charges in connection with the holdup. Bela and Garcia have been in Lubbock County jail since their arrest Nov. 26, a short distance from the bank. Ysasaga has been released on bond totaling $50,000 on the state charges.

The badly executed plot to hijack the bank began when Mrs. Rackley and her 18-year-old son were abducted from the Idalou Church of Christ about 2 p.m. Nov. 26 by three masked bandits. After taking the Rackley car they drove around town about 30 minutes before entering the bank three minutes before the 3 p.m. closing time.

Before the robbery could be completed, a bank employee managed to sound an alert and law enforcement officers converged on the bank while the bandits were still gathering up money.

Three women employees were held hostage for nearly four hours while the bandits negotiated with lawmen for a getaway car. After obtaining the desired car, they left the women behind and two of the bandits fled, leaving the third man behind.

Bela and Ysasaga were arrested a short time later where the getaway car, owned by one of the hostages, had crashed into a parked vehicle. Garcia was arrested at the bank.

Faces Burglary Count
The grand jury Wednesday also named Bela in a burglary indictment accusing him of Oct. 14 burglary of a Lubbock County gun. Guadalupe Gonzales, 21, Petersburg, was accused in a companion indictment.

Eight other indictments alleging robbery by assault and two alleging murder with malice were also returned by the grand jury.

Rudolfo Garza Ponce, 24, 2509 1st St., was accused of murder with malice in connection with the Dec. 26 shooting death of Willie Flores, 40, at the El Patio Club. Flores, manager of the club, was dead on arrival at Methodist Hospital after being shot twice.

Store Holdup Cited
Another murder indictment named Claude Ivory James, 31, 1510 E. 27th St. James is accused of the stabbing death of John Hugsley Jr., 35, 1510 Ave. A. Nov. 20 Hugsley died of a stab wound in his chest after being admitted to Methodist Hospital.

Willie Lee Baker, 29, 1813 Ave. D, Ollie Red, 42, Roberts Apartments, Tommy Ransom, 38, 1715 Ave. B, and Billy Ransom, 26, 1515 Ave. C, were all indicted in connection with the holdup of Jiffy Food Market, 511 17th St., Nov. 19. Baker was indicted for robbery by assault. The other three men were accused of being accessories to robbery by assault.

Also named in robbery by assault indictments were Ben Jackson Jr., 19, 1001 E. 28th St., and Alvin Eugene White, 17, 1010 E. 29th St., accused of the beating and robbery of 13-year-old Jarry Lee Reed Dec. 7. 16-Year-Old Named
A 16-year-old, Rayford Ellis, 1809 Ave. D, was also indicted by the grand jury under provision of the new criminal code. Dist. Atty. Alton Griffin explained that the code provides that a 16-year-old, although still considered a juvenile, can be indicted and tried as an adult if the juvenile court certifies to the grand jury that he should be handled as an adult. Another juvenile, 14, has been charged in juvenile court in connection with the beating and robbery.

and by 1903 pretty girls were standard calendar ornaments. The Chicago and Alton Railway issued Alton's 1903 Fencing Girl Art Calendar featuring a girl in a short skirt—daring for the times.

But now the girls are losing the race. And judging from the calendar distributors' predictions, when Lubbockites glance up to check the date in 1966, they'll more likely find themselves face-to-face with "Mona Lisa" than Jayne Mansfield.

Heart Failure Killed Whooper

WASHINGTON (AP) — An autopsy report disclosed today that heart failure from advanced age and possibly the stresses of Hurricane Betsy caused the death of Josephine, matriarch of the whooping crane flock at New Orleans' Audubon Park Zoo.

The Fish and Wildlife Service said in announcing this that Josephine was about 28 when she died last September.

She was the mother of four of the six whoopers at the zoo, the only existing whooping crane flock besides the wild population of 44 now wintering at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge in Texas.

Personal Funds Used For Business May Be Deducted

in the solicitation of business away from their employer's place of business. An outside salesman may make periodic visits to his employer's office for consultation, turn in orders or make reports.

But if he is required to sell at his employer's place of business as a regular part of his employment he does not qualify.

To understand the distinction, consider the expenses of two men each earning $10,000 annually. Only one of them qualifies as an outside salesman. Their identical expenses consist of:

Work-connected automobile mileage—18,000 miles.
Meals and lodging while away from home overnight—$825.
Entertainment expense—$150.
Secretarial help—$50.
Professional dues—$65.
Technical and professional publications—$25.

The outside salesman will deduct $2,825 as his employe business expense and charge off the amount directly against his gross income on Page 1 of his Form 1040.

In arriving at the car expense we used the Treasury-approved allowance of 10 cents for the first 15,000 miles and seven cents per mile thereafter.

How does the other salesman fare? His employe business expense deduction will be limited to:

Car expense $1,710
Meals and lodging $25
$1,735

He will recover the missing $290 in business expense only if he itemizes his regular deductions on his return.

When such employe business expenses are claimed, use either Form 2106 (provided by Internal Revenue) or your own statement to explain the deductions. Strict record-keeping and receipted bills are required by IRS in the event of an audit of your return.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A new era in long-range weather forecasting opens this month with the launching of the first of several satellites operational forecasting network.

Within two to three years, weathermen "will be able to advise people not to go to the beach two weeks from Sunday because it's going to rain that day," predicted an official working on the project with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Launch Date Near
A picture-taking satellite named TOS 1, which stands for Tiro's operational satellite, is scheduled for launching late this month, probably Jan. 25 or 26, as the first fully operational weather satellite.

TOS 2 is due to ride aloft about one month later. Although more than a half-million useful pictures were received from the first 10 Tiro's weather satellites, their primary function was to test telemetry systems to be used in weather monitoring by satellites.

Heart of the long-range forecasting system will be packed inside another satellite, called Nimbus B, which will be launched in late 1967 or early 1968.

Sensors aboard Nimbus will record data such as the atmospheric pressure and moisture content of the air at various locations around the world. Remote unmanned stations on the earth's surface and relay this data to the satellite.

such as geology or oceanography. Infrared sensors aboard the next Nimbus could also be used to predict volcanic eruptions, NASA said, and help the fishing industry by recording ocean currents and predicting ocean temperatures within one degree centigrade. Advanced infrared systems will also be able to calculate how choppy the ocean is.

Palmer, Casper, Lema Head Field In Los Angeles Open

Arnie Paces Pro-Am Competition With 67

By BOB MYERS

Associated Press Sports Writer
 LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 40th annual Los Angeles Open, with a purse of $70,000, was slated to get under way today and the more foolhardy were busy predicting the winner when the last putt drops in Sunday.

Bill Casper Jr., seemed to be in the consensus choice, which is as good as the next guess. Slimmed-down Bill has all the talents and has something else going for him—the fact that he has never won the Los Angeles Open.

There are others to consider, of course, fellows such as Arnold Palmer, Tony Lema, Doug Sanders, Chi Chi Rodriguez, George Knudson, Al Geiberger, Davey Marr, Bruce Crampton, Art Wall, Jr.

Or it could be Paul Harney, the long hitting club pro from Worcester, Mass., who has merely won the last two opens here.

Harney retired from the PGA tournament wars three years ago but still manages to keep a sharp eye.

Two of the more consistent best bets in a golf match, Masters Champion Jack Nicklaus and U.S. Open king Gary Player, are not here. Player remains home in South Africa and Nicklaus won't join the touring pros until the Bing Crosby shindig later this month.

Takes A Beating
 Play is at the 7,131-yard, par 36-35-71 Rancho golf course, a municipal layout which for 51 weeks of the year takes a beating from the usual hackers and often at L.A. Open time shows it.

Recent rains, however, have

King Named Top Coach

DALLAS (AP)—J. T. King of Texas Tech was selected over three other football coaches as the 1965 senior college coach of the year in Texas.

King, whose team won eight of 10 games and played in the Gator Bowl, will receive a plaque at a Texas Sports Writers Association awards dinner here next month.

He was voted the honor ahead of Abe Martin of Texas Christian, David Slaughter of Sul Ross, Bobby Dobbs of Texas Western, Emmett Brunson, Rice track coach, and Red Barr, Southern Methodist swimming coach.

INELIGIBLE PLAYERS

TCU Won't Press Case Against TWC

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—A faculty adviser to the Texas Christian University Athletic Council says the school probably will not press charges that Texas Western College used two ineligible players in last Friday's Sun Bowl game.

Texas Western defeated TCU in the El Paso postseason game 13-12.

The adviser, Henry Hardt, said in Fort Worth Wednesday night that "we would make no protest. I imagine we will let it rest."

Ryan Is Named Astro Official

HOUSTON (UPI)—Veteran baseball manager Joe Ryan, 49, was named Wednesday as general manager of the Houston Astros' Pacific Coast League club at Oklahoma City.

Ryan takes over for Owen Martinez, who was made a traveling secretary for the Astros.

Ryan has been in baseball management 26 years. He owned several minor league franchises at one time. Martinez, 40, has been in baseball 19 years, the past three of them as general manager of the Oklahoma City 89ers.

He said, however, if "someone else wants to protest that is up to them."

Texas Western's athletic director, George McCarty, has said that end Bob Wallace and linebacker Fred Carr were not eligible for the game because of NCAA rules regarding junior college transfers.

Carr and Wallace were regulars for the Miners this year after transferring from Phoenix Junior College in Arizona during the summer. But the rules require that a student transferring from junior college must be a graduate of that institution or lose one year of eligibility in post season events sponsored or sanctioned by the NCAA.

Officials Mum

Meanwhile, Texas Western officials remained mum on the matter until the NCAA investigates.

"The facts are being reported to the National Collegiate Athletic Association," said Dr. Joseph M. Ray, president of the El Paso school, "and we have no further statement to make."

ASHE SEEDED FIRST

HOBART, Tasmania (AP)—Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Virginia, and UCLA, and Nancy Richey of Dallas, were named the No. 1 foreign seeds Wednesday in the annual Tasmania tennis tournament which begins Tuesday.

TONIGHT

LCC Hosts Howard Five

The Lubbock Christian College Chapparals face their second test in a week tonight when they play host to a bunch from Howard County College in a 7:30 p.m. Western Junior College Conference contest.

Howard County is rolling along in conference play with a one-point loss to favorite, NMML, bearing witness to the power of its play.

Loses To AJC
 LCC opened hoop action Tuesday on Amarillo's home court and failed to break a precedent of six years standing by dropping the seventh game between the schools on the Badger hardwoods, 83-81.

Coach Lester Perrin plans to start 6-1½ Robert Evans, Jim Harp, Marvin Levels, Ernest Chesshire and Gene Hight.

Evans is the team's leading scorer and led the Chapparals' efforts against Amarillo with 18 points. Levels, a freshman, has averaged 11.8 per game and hit 13 at Amarillo.

Chesshire and Hight give LCC height under the basket with 6-4 credentials. Levels also measures 6-4.

THE FACES OF ARNIE—These were the faces of Arnold Palmer as he putted, pondered and drove en route to a 67 in Wednesday's pro-amateur prelude to today's $70,000 Los Angeles Open. Palmer, once golf's most feared competitor, hopes to start his 1966 campaign with play that will put him at the top again. (AP Wire-photo)

Bonus Babies Featured In Hula Bowl Grid Tilt

HONOLULU (UPI)—A pair of $300,000 pro football bonus babies and a couple of unheralded performers will lead the North and South all-stars into Friday's 20th annual Hula Bowl classic.

Fullback Jim Grabowski of Illinois, who reportedly received the $300,000 from Green Bay, and his Illini teammate Don Hansen were elected North co-captains at the conclusion of practice Wednesday.

Carl McAdams, the linebacker from Oklahoma, was named defensive captain for the South all-stars. McAdams reportedly signed for $300,000 with the New York Jets.

Quarterback Tom Wilson of

TORONTO MANGER REHIRED

TORONTO (AP)—Dick Williams, who managed the Toronto Maple Leafs to the playoff championship of the International Baseball League in 1965, will be rehired for 1966. The announcement was made Wednesday by team President Robert L. Hunter.

The South's defense has a hefty bank balance, too. Besides McAdams, there is linebacker Tommy Nobis of Texas, who signed for around $300,000 with Atlanta, and tackle George Rice of Louisiana State, who reportedly got about $250,000 from the Houston Oilers.

Coach J. T. King of Texas Tech had the South offense run-

Simple Ways With Rice

THURSDAY, JAN. 6, 1966

JOY PENROD, Food Editor

Simply beautiful and beautifully simple—that's how many rice dishes might best be described. They have the look and the taste of elegance without the cost and the effort of elegance. Mincemeat Rice and Upside Down Ham and Rice Loaf, illustrated here, are two fine cases in point.

Mincemeat Rice is a glamorous vegetable accompaniment to ham or chicken, and it takes only three ingredients in addition to the rice to do the trick. Preparation is about as simple as it can be: rice is cooked by package directions, onion is sautéed in butter, and the two are combined and tossed gently with prepared mincemeat and heated through. That's all it takes to make a vegetable dish of truly remarkable flavor and appearance.

While the list of ingredients is longer for the Upside Down Ham and Rice Loaf, this show-stopper of a main dish is equally simple to prepare and well worth the little extra measuring. It has the added advantage of "stretching" a pound of smoked ham into five or six fully satisfying servings, and providing the menu with a vegetable and fruit as well as meat in a single dish. A second hot vegetable (preferably a green one) and a cool crisp salad could be served with the loaf.

Also simple to prepare and delightful to eat are Dill Rice and Scallops and Rice Casserole. Dill Rice is an unusual accompaniment to meat or poultry. The flavor of the casserole belies the simplicity of its ingredient list and preparation time.

UPSIDE DOWN HAM AND RICE LOAF

- | | |
|---|--|
| 1 pound raw smoked ham, coarsely ground | 1/4 cup chili sauce |
| 1/2 cup finely chopped onion | 2 tablespoons pineapple juice |
| 1 1/2 cups cooked rice | 2 tablespoons brown sugar |
| 2 eggs, beaten | 1 tablespoon prepared mustard |
| 2 tablespoons chopped parsley | 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg |
| 1/4 teaspoon pepper | 1 can (1 pound, 4 oz.) sliced pineapple, drained |

Combine ham, onion, rice, eggs, parsley and pepper. Mix well. Blend chili sauce, pineapple juice, brown sugar, mustard and nutmeg. Arrange pineapple slices on bottom and sides of lightly buttered 10 inch pie plate. Pour chili sauce mixture over pineapple. Add rice mixture and press evenly over all. Bake at 350 degrees 1 hour. Invert on platter. Cut in wedges to serve. Serve with additional mustard, if you wish.

Makes 5 to 6 servings.

MINCEMEAT RICE

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|----------------------------|
| 1/2 cup chopped onion | 3 cups cooked rice |
| 2 tablespoons butter or margarine | 2/3 cup brandied mincemeat |

Cook onion in butter until tender. Add rice and mincemeat. Blend and heat thoroughly. Serve as accompaniment to meat or poultry.

Makes 6 servings.

DILL RICE

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|-----------------------------|
| 1/2 cup chopped onions | Topping: |
| 2 tablespoons butter or margarine | 1/2 cup sour cream |
| 1 cup uncooked rice | 1 1/2 teaspoons lemon juice |
| 2 cups chicken broth | 1/4 teaspoon salt |
| 1 teaspoon salt | 1/2 teaspoon dill weed |
| 1/3 teaspoon dill weed | |

Cook onions in butter until tender. Add rice, broth, salt, and dill weed. Heat to boiling; stir once. Cover, reduce heat, and simmer 14 minutes or until rice is tender. Serve with topping made by blending topping ingredients.

Makes 6 servings.

SCALLOPS AND RICE CASSEROLE

- | | |
|----------------------------------|--|
| 1 pound scallops, quartered | 1/2 cup chopped green onions with tops |
| 1 can (10 1/2-oz.) mushroom soup | 3 cups cooked rice |
| 1 cup light cream | 1 cup grated Cheddar cheese |

Combine all ingredients except cheese. Turn into a buttered 2-quart casserole. Top with grated cheese. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes.

Makes 6 servings.

KREMLIN ANGRY Two Russian Writers To Face Trial

WASHINGTON (UPD)—For the first time, Russia has publicly acknowledged a literary cloak-and-dagger case which has been a hot topic of international discussion for months.

Pair Identified The two Russians were identified as Andrey Sinyavsky, described as a philologist on the staff of the Soviet Institute of World Literature, and Yuliy Daniel, called a "very mediocre translator" by Moscow radio.

Arrest Reported The arrest of the two was reported by literary sources in Moscow last Oct. 21. The report triggered a flurry of protests by U. S. and British writers...

Typical Reaction He added somewhat ruefully, "We can't really compete with the publications that produce the more scantily clad type of pinup."

LAKE SUBMERGES HOMES

Uprooted Nubians Of Egypt Settling Down To New Way Of Life

By ALY MAHMOUD, ASWAN, Egypt (AP)—Their exodus over, the Nubians of upper Egypt are at last succeeding in settling down to a new way of life at Aswan.

Uprooted from a beloved homeland as old as history, more than 70,000 Nubians now, seven convinced they have to adapt themselves to new conditions and overcome homesickness. Their once sacred villages now lie beneath Lake Nasser, rising behind the Aswan Dam.

The Nubians, whose forefathers once invaded and ruled Pharaonic Egypt, consider themselves a purer people than their fellow Aswanis. Tall, slim and tough, Nubians pride themselves on a glorious history and old traditions. Even when they go to Cairo and Alexandria to work as porters or servants they demonstrate this sense of pride. They are known for their cleanliness and honesty.

Since Moses' Flight
Late in 1964, the Egyptian government mobilized steamers and sailboats to start the Nubian exodus, perhaps the most dramatic in this area since Moses' flight with the Israelites from the Egyptian Nile delta to Palestine.

Nubians were reluctant to leave. Officials had to convince them that their land was doomed and would be submerged forever as Lake Nasser filled for 314 miles behind the dam.

They were promised better homes, better fields and more money, but Nubians moved only when they felt they had to leave.

Witnesses to the departure from the village of Ballana, near the Sudanese border, said tears streamed down the face of young and old as they stripped their homes of doors and windows. Some kissed the ground and the walls. They kept looking back at abandoned houses and the cemetery where their dead were buried.

One woman, a widow, was heard addressing her dead husband: "I leave despite myself, I leave you to the care of God who never sleeps. Farewell now. I long for the day when this soil will combine us forever."

Every adult carried a sack full of earth, a barakah—source of blessing—from the land they left behind.

At Aswan, workers and students were mobilized to receive them with songs and flowers. But few Nubians smiled.

Although they found their new villages neatly built, they spent their first nights in the open air, unwilling to accept the new life. Most had farmland, which they started immediately to till. Others were told they had to wait until the dam made possible the reclamation of 1.2 million acres. Meanwhile, they were given jobs on the dam. Others went away on their own, seeking jobs as porters, cooks or servants in Cairo. Young Nubians were encouraged to join the Egyptian army.

The new villages at Kom Ombo, 24 miles north of Aswan, bear the names of the submerged villages. Ballana has become New Ballana, Debod is New Debod, and so on.

Women Stay Home
Heavily veiled women rarely are seen outside their houses. Men seldom visit the city of Aswan.

When a female becomes ill, no male doctor can see her. Female doctors finally were assigned to the villages, and Nubians have expressed gratitude.

The government has furnished cut-price transistor radios and batteries and soon the well-to-do may get television sets. Papers also reach them but due to a high percentage of illiteracy, they are not as effective as the radios. Mobile cultural caravans visit the villages from time to time.

HEARINGS HELD
Legal Curbs On Klan Are Suggested

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time, Rep. Edwin E. Willis, D-La., chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, has suggested possible new laws to curb the power of the Ku Klux Klan.

Willis said at Wednesday's Klan hearing that possible approaches include a requirement that Klansmen register with the government as Communists are supposed to do; a federal law forbidding masked gatherings; or a federal law against organized acts or threats of violence. Willis invited Ralph Blumberg, a former radio station owner in Bogalusa, La., to suggest possible legislation. Blumberg said he had no suggestions, however.

Lives Threatened
The witness told of being hounded and boycotted by the Bogalusa Klan, his and his family's lives threatened, car windows smashed and the radio station fired at by high-powered rifles.

His crime in the Klan's eyes, Blumberg said, was being on a local community relations committee which invited a former congressman and Baptist lay leader, to break the Klan's isolation in Bogalusa on "better community relations."

Because of Klan pressure, Blumberg said, the meeting had to be canceled. He lost all but one of his sponsors, and eventually had to sell the station and move away.

"Unfortunately the Klan has won its battle in Bogalusa," Blumberg said. "They control, or influence deeply, all the communications media. There is no freedom of speech or freedom of assembly in Bogalusa today."

The rest of the day the committee heard a parade of clamoring men identified as Bogalusa Klan leaders, refuse to answer all questions except their age and place of residence.

With their youthful-looking lawyer, Michael Ingraham, advising them, they pleaded the First, Fourth, Fifth and 14th Amendments. The lawyer had a black eye and a badly swollen lip, but offered no explanation for his injuries.

Man, 105, Has Eye On Future

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—"Devonshire people just live longer," is what Theophilus May had to say on his 105th birthday.

The old Englishman, who carried mail in Cleveland for 33 years, is a bit hard of hearing, but said casually Wednesday at his birthday party that he is looking forward to Jan. 5, 1967.

May, who is living with his grandson, Charles Mills, said he has outlived his 13 brothers and sisters. All of them lived until their 70s and 80s.
