Seven Children Die In Flames

WADESBORO, N. C. (AP)—Seven children died Sunday night in a fire that destroyed a small, frame home on the outskirts of Wadesboro.

Sgt. W. J. Strand of the Wadesboro Fire Department said the children, all brothers and sisters, were alone in the home when a portable kerosene stove exploded or overturned.

He identified the victims as the children of Thelma Rorie, 30. Their names: Herbie, 7; Dianne, 6; Cynthia, 5; Brenda, 4; Paul, 3; Mahalia, 2 and Thelma, about 18 months.

Tech Grad Gets Post

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. John Connally appointed Wayne Gibbons, a three-term member of the Texas House, today to operate the state's new liaison office in Washington.

The legislature authorized the position last year at Connally's request.

Gibbons, 29, resigned from the House as representative from Eastland, Shackelford, Palo Pinto, Callahan, and Stephens counties.

Tech Graduate
The Breckenridge resident was in the 1961, 1963 and 1965 legislature and was a key member of the youthful House team that secured passage of much of Connally's legislative program.

Connally asked the legislature to set up the post late in the session, saying state officials too often are uninformed of legislation affecting Texas.

The post went vacant for months as Connally conducted a talent hunt.

Gibbons, a graduate of Texas Tech, was elected to the legislature a year after his graduation. He attended the University of Texas law school between legislative sessions.

Class Of 1969
Ex-Student Association records at Texas Tech reveal Gibbons as a graduate of the Lubbock school with Class of '59. From Breckenridge, he was a governor. See TECH GRAD Page 6

"FINEST IN SOUTHWEST"

Work Begins On New Theater Here

Construction began today on a huge 13,000-square-foot movie theater on a tract in southwest Lubbock.

The theater will be, according to its operators, "the finest... in the entire Southwest."

It will seat about 1,000, and will be owned and operated by Lindsey Theatres, Inc., and Preston Smith, according to J. B. Rhea, general manager for Lindsey Theatres.

Tatum Construction Co. is general contractor, submitting low bid among nine bidders for the building. Contract between the owners and the Tatum firm was signed Friday.

$400,000 Investment
The theater, yet to be named, represents investment of about $400,000 in building, furnishings and equipment, Rhea said. It is to be located on the southwest corner of a 10-acre tract bounded by Indiana and Joliet Avenues and 50th and 52nd Streets. Parking for 400 vehicles is provided on hard-topped surface to the front of the theater, with entrances from 50th Street, Indiana and Joliet.

"This will definitely be an all-purpose theater," Rhea said today, "designed for showing of any known movie process in the round auditorium, including Cinerama."

Closest round theater to the Lubbock area presently is in Denver, and the builders say the Lubbock facility will have later innovations and more conveniences than any known anywhere.

Target date for completion is in the late summer of this year. A carport type entrance to the northeast side, enabling entrance from vehicles in any type weather. The box office is built for indoor or outdoor service for maximum convenience.

Largest Movie Screen
To feature the largest movie screen in Lubbock, variable in size for the different movie processes, the theater will not have a stage. All seats will be situated on the one floor.

Exterior finish will be face brick and Egyptian stucco. Inside diameter of the building is 122 feet.

The elaborate facility is on land owned by the Rob Caraway family of Lubbock, and a long-term lease has been signed by See NEW THEATER Page 6

Gunmen Rob Dallas Grocer

DALLAS (AP)—Two gunmen held up a chain store grocer, his wife and daughter in their swank home Sunday night and escaped with $4,335 cash and $2,100 in checks.

Sherman A. Pritchett, 47, and his wife were tied up by the men. A daughter, Janice, 9, freed her parents after the robbers left.

Pritchett told police the gunmen waited until he parked his car in his garage shortly after 10 p.m., after he collected receipts from several stores. They leveled guns at him and demanded not only a sackful of money from his car but more money from an office inside his home.

The wife and daughter were held at gunpoint until the office was checked. After tying up the Pritchetts, the gunmen fled in the grocer's white convertible. He manages and is part owner of the Forney Cut-Rate Drive-In Grocery Stores.

GIs Plagued By Snipers, Booby Traps

By HORST FAAS
TRUN LAP, South Viet Nam (AP)—A lone American spotter plane circled over a maze of camouflaged tunnels and Viet Cong fortifications just south of Saigon River.

Only the pilot and a few American officers knew the mission: to collect intelligence for the biggest and most ambitious U. S. operation of the war in Viet Nam.

An American combat force of some 8,000 paratroopers, infantrymen and artillerymen was to converge the next morning on this-bomb-scarred, triangular-shaped Communist stronghold of 15 square miles.

The spotter pilot did not live to see it. A well-concealed Viet Cong antiaircraft gun shot down his plane. His body was recovered by helicopter.

From Three Bases
Just an hour before the huge operation began, the U. S. troops and the Vietnamese forces in the area were told what was planned. American units from three bases, each 30 miles apart, began to converge at midnight Friday on the Viet Cong territory 25 miles west of Saigon. French and Vietnamese forces were never able to penetrate it successfully.

A long convoy of heavy tanks, armored personnel carriers, and trucks loaded with troops of the 1st Infantry Division left their base See SNIPERS Page 6

The author, Richard Chaput of Nashua, N.H., was paralyzed from the neck down by polio when he was nine years old. Now 28, Chaput uses a special typewriter which he activates with his tongue.

The space walker is Edward H. White II who was named along with fellow astronaut Charles Conrad Jr.

Others cited are Presidential Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers, Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla.; space scientist Donald D. Williams of Inglewood, Calif.; educators Arthur E. Turner of Midland, Mich., and Frederick P. Whiddon of Mobile, Ala.; egg producer Fred Rodgers Adams Jr. of Jackson, Miss., and Broadway composer and lyricist Jerry Herman.

Awards Congress Set
They will be honored at an awards congress Jan. 14-15 in St. Paul, Minn.

Chaput made use of private tutoring to develop his writing style and has had several articles and short stories published in his autobiography, "Not to Doubt," which was published in 1964.

White, 35, became the first American to leave his spacecraft in flight, spending 21 minutes outside Gemini 4 on June 3. A native of San Antonio, Tex., White was an experimenter. See MEN HONORED Page 6

LBJ To Report To Nation

Second Session Starts Today

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Democratic leaders, convening the second session of the 89th Congress, served notice today they will resist efforts to scuttle Great Society programs in the name of the Viet Nam war.

"Building a strong America at home can't hurt the military posture of the country," said House Democratic leader Carl Albert. "Teaching children to read and write, putting food on the table of the poor, will help build the national strength."

Pre-Session Blast
The Oklahoma Democrat gave newsmen a pre-session hint of what lies ahead shortly before gaveling the House to order at noon EST.

The Senate was convened at the same hour by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Both chambers, after routine business, planned recesses until Wednesday. Traditionally no business is done at a new session of Congress until after the President has delivered his State of the Union address.

Johnson Speaks Wednesday
Johnson will address the lawmakers — and the nation by television and radio — at a joint session of House and Senate at 9 p.m., Wednesday.

Johnson's message is expected to deal largely with the uncertain and perilous situation in Viet Nam, in which his country is losing ground. And there current peace offensive appears to have no doubt the new session of Congress would be keyed largely to developments there.

Albert and Senate leader Mike Mansfield agreed in separate conversations with newsmen that efforts undoubtedly will be made to choke off funds for home front economic and welfare programs enacted last year.

But Mansfield said he expects the leadership will try to maintain at least the current levels of spending on these newly launched Great Society programs.

The opening rituals at opposite ends of the Capitol were relatively brief. Two new members were sworn in in the House and one in the Senate.

Committees were named to notify the President of what he already knew—that the Congress would be in session.

Reporter Held After Manhunt

ANSON, Tex. (AP)—Frank Ransnetti, a Munday Times reporter, was charged today with carrying a prohibited weapon following a manhunt in this area about 70 miles southwest of Wichita Falls.

Highway Patrol Sgt. C. A. Cockrell said Ransnetti was captured after his car was wrecked.

The manhunt started Sunday when Mrs. Jackie Huber could not locate her son, Don, 10, who had been hunting with his air gun.

The boy later was delivered to his home and said a man had ordered him into an automobile with what the boy considered threats. They drove for a half hour before the man took Don home.

Cool Air Pushes Deep Into Texas

(Avalanche-Journal News Service)
Cold air was moving across the country on a line from the Great Lakes through Ohio to Texas today, leaving sub-zero cold at places in northern states and cool weather to the south.

Temperatures dropped to the high teens in parts of Colorado and the low and middle 20's in New Mexico and parts of North Texas.

In Texas, the front pushed to a line from Texas to Waco to Del Rio by noon today. Readings behind it included 21 at Dalhart, 25 at Amarillo, 22 at Hereford, 28 at Lubbock and the 20's in most of the northern half of the South Plains.

Harvest Continues
Conditions remained favorable for harvesting on the South Plains. The Lubbock Cotton Classing Office, USDA Consumer and Marketing Service Cotton Division, estimated the South Plains cotton harvest was 85 to 90 per cent complete Saturday. The greatest harvest activity was concentrated in the central and southern counties and the harvest had reached the scraping stage by Saturday in the extreme western, northern and eastern counties, according to the office.

Cotton classing offices in Lubbock, Brownfield and Lamesa had classed a total of 1,807,000 samples during the entire season through Saturday, compared with 1,805,000 samples on the corresponding date last year.

The forecast for Northwest Texas indicated maximum readings from 52 to 62 degrees this afternoon and low readings from 25 to 35 early Tuesday. A little warmer weather is forecast for Tuesday.

Warming also is expected Wednesday, ahead of another front expected to move into the High Plains about Wednesday night.

Subzero cold returned to the north border area from northern Minnesota across North Texas.

Two State Senators Involved

Speedy Court Ruling Sought

AUSTIN (AP)—State Democratic Chairman Will Davis said today he will refuse to accept the candidacies of state Sens. Franklin Spears and Galloway Calhoun for attorney general in order to get a quick Texas Supreme Court test.

Davis spoke out shortly after Spears announced he would file for a spot on the Democratic ballot at Davis' office today.

Spears said he is convinced he is eligible for the job.

"I believe that it is in the best interest of you, the Democratic party, and the people of Texas that this question should be resolved as rapidly as possible by the Supreme Court of Texas," Davis said.

Salary Is Boosted
"An early resolution will enable you to be sure of your position prior to the filing deadline so that everyone involved will have time left within which to change his plans if this should become necessary."

The question of Spears' and Calhoun's eligibility arose because they were members of a legislature which increased the attorney general's salary.

Davis urged both candidates to make formal filings as soon as possible. "My refusal to accept your application will bring about an early, orderly and final determination of this matter... in answer to your application for a writ of mandamus (to force Davis to accept the filings)," he said.

Davis assured the two senators he is taking no side in the issue.

Martin Is Candidate
The third announced candidate is Secretary of State Crawford Martin.

Spears was en route from San Antonio to Austin and not at once available for comment. Calhoun said he would submit his filing application in the "next day or so" and hoped to submit an application for a writ of mandamus to the Supreme Court before the end of the week.

"I am confident I am eligible to run and that the Supreme Court will see me," Davis said. See CANDIDATES Page 6

Girls Die Trying To Save Sisters

BEECHVILLE, N.S. (UPI)—Two teen-aged sisters died Sunday in a vain effort to save their little sisters from a fire which swept through their home in this town 10 miles from Halifax.

The blaze broke out in the home of Earl Dorrington shortly before 5 a.m. Dorrington and six of his eight children fled safely from their home but the two oldest—Barbara, 17 and Phyllis, 15, returned to the burning building to attempt to rescue Noreen, 5, and Pauline, 11.

WEAPONS CAPTURED

Reds Duck Knockout Punch In Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The largest U.S. fighting force of the Vietnamese war demolished a honeycomb of Viet Cong fortifications on the edge of the Iron Triangle 25 miles northwest of Saigon today, but the Communists ducked the knockout punch.

Most of the guerrillas kept away from the U.S. and Australian troops as they scorched the Communist stronghold on the third day of Operation Crimp.

Australians operating with the 1st Infantry Division and the 173rd Airborne Brigade uncovered a big weapons cache left by the fleeing Communists. The haul included 47 weapons, five of them crew-served, 114 grenades, 15,000 rounds of small arms ammunition, 58 heavy mortar rounds, 100 pounds of dynamite, 20 tons of rice and a large store of medical supplies.

Contact Is Lost
There were more than 8,000 men in the allied force, but U.S. military spokesmen reported only light contact with the enemy, a regiment-sized force thought to be holed up in the 12 square miles of jungle and marshland.

The spokesman reported 25 Viet Cong killed, 28 captured and 269 suspects, mostly women and children detained. Allied casualties were light, they said.

Elsewhere on the ground, U.S. spokesmen reported few contacts with the enemy. But the air war in the south continued unabated with 281 strike missions against Viet Cong targets by Air Force and carrier planes. Four U.S. planes were lost in the past 24 hours.

Crewmen Rescued
A Marine F4B Phantom jet crashed 15 miles southwest of Da Nang because of undetermined causes. The two crewmen bailed out and were picked up by helicopter. One man was wounded.

Chance Discounted

Brokers say most traders tended to discount the chances of the various U.S. diplomatic missions setting off peace talks.

Stock traders also took the crippling subway and bus strike in stride by concentrating heavier buying into the four hours of trading on Thursday and Friday.

Others think that the compromise increase was still a part of a generally rising price structure and stocks are dubbed a hedge against inflation.

Still others think that any cooling in the relationship of government and business is less important just now than the chance that government spending will be rising in months ahead. They think this will help keep the current economic expansion going strong.

May Take Heart Many take heart in the reports that the federal government may forgo tax increases on either business or individuals and finance the higher government spending by selling securities or by collecting more revenue from rising incomes, or by both.

Stock traders are noted for changing their minds fast. But in the first week of the new year, at least, most of them still were bullish.

EARLY DECISION MUST BE REACHED, REP. RIVERS SAYS

Congressmen Call For Resumption Of Raids In North

By CARL F. LEUBSDORF WASHINGTON (AP) - Chairman L. Mendel Rivers of the House Armed Services Committee said today "an early decision must be reached" on ending the pause in bombing North Viet Nam targets.

their (the Communists) part to talk these things over." Mistake To Stop Said Hickenlooper: "I don't see that the suspension has accomplished anything. The only result has been that the other side has been able to collect their forces. When the pressure is on they're being hurt. I think it is a mistake to stop the pressure."

Support for the U.S. peace offensive has come from most of the world's free press, Director Leonard H. Marks of the U.S. Information Agency said Sunday. But Marks said "the press was skeptical that the Communists would recognize this peace offensive and want to sit down to the bargaining table and wind up the problem."

any fruit, replied: "Not to my knowledge." Arends, Gruening and Church said they felt the report on Viet Nam issued Friday night by five senators headed by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield was a frank appraisal of the situation. Mansfield and his colleagues said that despite U.S. efforts the military situation in South Viet Nam was about the same as a year ago and that the present alternative was between an expanded land war that might engulf all Southeast Asia and a just peace settlement which would be difficult to attain.

But Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, an Armed Services Committee member, told an interviewer he was "surprised there was such unanimity in the report," drawn up by three Democrats, Mansfield, Edmund S. Muskie of Maine and Daniel K. Inouye of Hawaii, and two Republicans, George D. Aiken of Vermont and J. Caleb Boggs of Delaware. Unduly Depressing "It struck me as unduly depressing," Miller said. "Granted that the situation is a tough one, maybe it was intended to be depressing to lay the foundation for some hard decisions by the President."

Miller said he expected to leave for Viet Nam later this week to make his own appraisal of the situation. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois called Mansfield's report "anything but encouraging" and said he believed in the policy of the late Gen. of Army Douglas MacArthur: "There is no substitute for victory."

Well-Placed Bombs He added: "I feel that a few well-placed bombs on military targets in North Viet Nam that have been heretofore spared - undeserved sanctuaries in Hanoi, Haiphong and other places - would make (North Vietnamese President) Ho Chi Minh reach an early decision. The American people feel he has been given enough time." Rivers said his committee would meet Tuesday to map plans for the new congressional session.

Alaska's Ernest Gruening, a leading critic of the Johnson administration's policies in Viet Nam, said, "I think the pause should continue." "I don't think there were any results from the bombing. This has been at least as successful if not more so. We're killing fewer people. That's an improvement," he added. Sen. Frank Church of Idaho, a Foreign Relations Committee member, agreed with Gruening. "We have to wait and see what will happen," he said.

Haas't Borne Fruit Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, asked in Buffalo, N.Y., Saturday night whether the peace offensive has borne any fruit, replied: "Not to my knowledge." Arends, Gruening and Church said they felt the report on Viet Nam issued Friday night by five senators headed by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield was a frank appraisal of the situation.

Stoughton Lynd, a Yale University professor who has led demonstrations here against U.S. Viet Nam policy, and Thomas Hayden, a leader of Students for a Democratic Society, said they were told by Premier Pham Van Dong that the United States had not contacted Hanoi directly since President Johnson said he would knock on any door to seek peace.

Wrong Party "To those with whom they spoke," Lynd and Hayden said in a statement, "it appears that the United States knocks on all doors except the doors of whom it is fighting." The third member of the group, U.S. Communist party leader Herbert Aptheker, said he was in "general agreement." He added in a separate statement that President Johnson's policy is bringing "death to thousands of Americans" and "devastation" to Viet Nam.

Present crop of senators has no known snuff sniffers. It is possible someone has been stealing snuff? Marked that down for further investigation. Desk arrangement same as last year. By DICK WEST WASHINGTON (UPI) Each year on the eve of a new Congressional session I make an inspection tour of the Capitol area to see if everything is in good order. This year's report is herewith submitted. Began tour in Senate chamber. Noted both snuff boxes almost empty. Something strange apparently going on.

Present crop of senators has no known snuff sniffers. It is possible someone has been stealing snuff? Marked that down for further investigation. Desk arrangement same as last year. Crowded on Democratic side; roomy on Republican side. Four Democrats still on park row that caused Bob Kennedy to say he could get better seats for "Hello, Dolly!" Possible Culprit? Let chamber and walked through basement of Senate Office Building. Passed mail room with sign reading "Jack the Wrapper." Maybe Jack is culprit who has been stealing snuff.

Your Child's Health

JOHN H. DAY, D.C. Because you love your children and feel an obligation in contributing to their well being, you make every effort to protect their health while they are in your care. You often your interest and obligation continues long after they leave home. We often don't know what we don't know. Are you really doing all that is necessary as parents to keep your children in good health? Almost everyone has their eyes, ears, and teeth checked regularly. Add to these an examination of the spine - Your life line. The numerous falls and injuries to which children are subject may cause trouble in the spine and nervous system even though no damage was apparent at the time. You may recall that many of your children's fevers, headaches, digestive disturbances, ear aches or nervous spells have followed a fall, injury or emotional shock. It is advisable for all school age children to have a chiropractic spinal check-up at least once a year. A balanced spine and efficient nervous system are essential to normal body function. These health factors increase the child's ability to learn, comprehend, and concentrate, and avoid time lost from school in sickness. Children who are subject to nervous spells (tantrums, St. Vitus Dance, Epilepsy), asthma, allergies, stomach trouble, bowel conditions, kidney malfunctions, muscular aches or headaches should have their spine examined by a Chiropractor. Spinal adjustments should be given early to remove the nerve pressures and prevent serious ailments in the future. Regardless of age, your spine is the key to health and vigor! Disabled back to House wing via outdoor route. Stopped to observe sad condition of West Front. Paint flaking off. Cracks showing. Walls propped up in places. Concluded that West Front in almost as bad shape as some senators. Present plan, advanced by Capitol architect, is to replace old sandstone walls, all that remains of original Capitol exterior, with expensive new marble front. Alternate plan, advanced by some congressmen with economy complex, is to repair old sandstone walls and replace Capitol architect. Went back inside to House chamber. Joint crawling with technicians installing lighting equipment for telecast of President's state of the union message Wednesday night. Another Bowl Game Saw TV truck marked "Sports Network, Inc." Assume SNL will cover Republicans accusing President of playing political football. State of the union message this year will be delivered in living color. House chamber's new carpet (maroon with yellow dots) should look splendid. Also great for showing faces turning pale if President mentions upcoming budget message. Too bad budget message later this month won't be in living color, too. Possibly cameras can't handle it without red filter. Since last opening day, mammoth new Rayburn Office Building has become fully occupied and work has started on mammoth new underground parking garage next door. Ended tour there. No longer believe that mammoths are extinct. Two Walkie Talkies, Diesel Thwart Theft ATHENS, Ga. (AP) - A couple of railroad men used two walkie talkies and a diesel engine to thwart the theft of an auto. Switchman Olden A. Gans III saw his car being stolen and notified an engineer. The engineer moved his diesel across a road and blocked the path of the auto. Gans and the engineer then subdued the man in the car and Athens police took him into custody.

Airlines Up As Market Irregular

NEW YORK (AP) — Airlines, electronics and copper were among gainers in an irregularly rising market early this afternoon.

The market advance was having tough going because traders were taking profits with the averages at the peak of a string of new highs made last week.

Aerospace defense stocks also were firm to higher as Viet Nam fighting continued on a fairly large scale.

Gold Issues Rally
Gold mining issues had a rally following publication of a report that about a billion dollars worth of newly-mined gold was absorbed by private hoarding or speculation in the first three quarters last year.

Steels put on a wavering performance and motors were thoroughly scrambled. Rails were strong.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon were up 9 at 365.8 with industrials up 11, rails up 8 and utilities up 5.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 67 at 985.90.

Opening Delayed
Anken Chemical advanced 7 1/2 to 29 on a delayed opening block of 110,000 shares. The company plans to market a relatively low-priced picture-in-a-minute gadget.

Admiral Corp. rose 7 1/2 to 88 1/2 on a delayed opening block of 52,000 shares.

Admiral drew trading attention because of a dramatic turnaround in profits and the chance of dividend payments after a long lapse.

Also delayed, G.D. Searle rose 3/4 to 66 on an opener of 12,500 shares. It clipped a point from this later.

KLM Rebounds
KLM Airlines rebounded nearly 7 points. Zenith and Xerox were up about 3. U.S. Smelting and Crucible Steel about 2 each.

Gains of a point or better were made by Homestake, American South African Investment, Radio Corp., Eastern Air Lines, Chesapeake & Ohio, Santa Fe and New York Central.

Also up about a point were Du Pont, Union Carbide, Air Reduction, American Airlines and Pan American Airlines.

Polaroid and Eastman Kodak were off 2 each.

Prices advanced in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange. Synthex rose more than 3. Crown Central Petroleum about 2 1/2. Northeast Airlines and Acme Missiles about 2 each. Up about 1 were Atlas Consolidated Mining, Dennison and Brown Co. O'Keefe Copper lost 1. Burma Mines lost a fraction in active dealings.

Corporate and U.S. Government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Hundreds Try To Claim Kinship With Actress

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Gila Golan came to this country a couple of years ago, a penniless Polish orphan with huge eyes, beautiful face and a desire to become an actress.

Gila is troubled by the pictures that accompany her, seeing letters. Usually they are snapshots of some old bag who claims she and Gila are identical twin sisters who were separated at birth. Or worse, a photograph of a tearful matron pointing out the family resemblance.

Bravely, Gila answers all the letters at the peril of becoming pen pals with some of the kookier ones.

Gila's latest picture is "Three Varieties of Nuts and Fortune on a Couch," which stars Jerry Lewis. Her first two films were honest writers deny blood "Our Man Flint" and "Ship of Relationship, but kindly offer to adopt her. Still others would gain more relatives.

There is no way to prove through marriage who I am or who my real parents were," she said, seemingly out of relief. "I've tried to trace my background but it is useless."

"What I can't understand is why nobody claimed me when I said, 'And because they think I am Polish they tell me my name is Wyseznuski or something like that. I've even had letters from Poland and Russia from frantic parents who think I am their long lost little girl."

Actually, I don't know my background. I was raised in Poland, France and Israel with no name and no parents."

Why she chose Gila Golan for a name is not quite clear, but one must agree that it is almost better than no name at all.

Same GOP, Demo Leaders Back At Helm Of Congress

By JOE HALL. WASHINGTON (AP) — The same Democratic and Republican leaders are at the helm today as Congress opens its new session.

However, there will be three changes in important committee chairmanships resulting from the death of one key member and the retirement of two others.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., becomes head of the potent Finance Committee succeeding 78-year-old Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., who resigned from the Senate Nov. 11, making way for his son, Harry F. Byrd Jr.

Despite his key position the elder Byrd had been unable to defeat such bills as the 1964 income tax cut or the 1965 health care for the elderly legislation.

On House Side

On the House side, Rep. Edward A. Garmatz, D-Md., takes over the chairmanship of the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee. The former head, Rep. Herbert C. Bonner, D-N.C., died Nov. 7.

Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., soon will make way for Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., as the new chairman of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee.

Harris already has been nominated and confirmed as a U.S. district judge in his home state. He has said he will resign from the House Feb. 3.

Floor leaders of the House and Senate were elected at party caucuses in January 1965, for the two-year duration of the 89th Congress.

Continuing in these posts are: SENATE — Democratic leader, Mike Mansfield of Montana; Democratic whip, Russell B. Long; secretary of the Democratic Conference, George A. Smathers, D-Fla.; Republican leader, Everett M. Dirksen, of Illinois; Republican whip, Thomas H. Kuchel of California; chairman of the Republican Conference, Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts; secretary of the Republican Conference, Milton R. Young of North Dakota.

McCormack Back

OVER WORLD: News About Area Men In Service

The South Vietnamese government conveyed its regard to U.S. servicemen fighting there by presenting them with Christmas cards, one of which was relayed to the wife of an airman formerly stationed at Reese AFB.

The card, received Friday at Reese Village by Mrs. Howard Lamont, 200 George, was sent by her husband, T. Sgt. Howard Lamont from Cam Ranh Bay, where he has been stationed since August, with forces building a giant seaport.

The message of the card: To you who fight by our side the people of Viet Nam send greetings. May victory be ours that we may live in peace, freedom and prosperity. Long live the friendship between Viet Nam and her allies.

Sgt. Lamont was stationed at Reese two years and is in supply work. He wrote of having severe difficulty in getting mail at the base because of water covering a landing strip because of the monsoon.

The Lamonts have three sons, Michael, 10; Wayne, 8; and Jimmy, 1.

Rampaging California Rivers Cause Damage

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Army engineers say rampaging rivers of Northern California caused an estimated $3 million damage last week.

The Russian River, running through a favored resort area north of San Francisco, accounted for $2.5 million of the damage in the preliminary estimate.

LANDMARK BURNED

HOVE, England (UPI) — The local town hall, scene of the last allied war council before the fall of France in 1940, burned to the ground Sunday.

"We have not got a thing left, not even a pencil," magistrate's clerk A. E. Thompson said. The mayor's secretary, however, got inside in time to save the mayor's robes and chains.

KASHMIR FIRE

JAMMU, India (UPI) — About 1,000 persons were made homeless Sunday by fires that swept through the Kashmir valley towns of Baramulla and Spoc. Officials reported 45 houses and 125 shops were gutted in the two towns. They estimated damage to property and goods at $10 million.

man of the Democratic Conference, Eugene J. Keogh of New York; Republican leader, Gerald R. Ford of Michigan; Republican whip, Leslie C. Arends, of Illinois; chairman of Republican Conference, Milvin R. Laird of Wisconsin.

There had been some speculation last year that Long might be asked to give up his whip post after he succeeded to the finance chairmanship.

But this talk has died down and Mansfield says he expects Long to continue in the post. The Louisiana Senator has said he does not see why he cannot handle both jobs.

A conference of Democratic Senators has been called for Tuesday morning at which the issue could be raised if any Democrat desires.

Plans To Quit

Smathers has announced he plans to quit the Senate when his present term expires in 1969 because of health problems. He expects to retain his leadership post at least through the 1966 session.

The Senate will have the same party lineup this year as in 1965 — 68 Democrats and 32 Republicans.

In the House there are 292 Democrats and 140 Republicans with two vacancies. These result from the resignations of Rep. John V. Lindsay, R-N.Y., elected mayor of New York City, and Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., named U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations Economic and Social Council.

On the administration side, Joseph C. Duke has requested immediate retirement as Senate sergeant-at-arms, ending 14 years as that body's chief law enforcement officer.

Duke's request will be laid before the Senate Democratic Conference Tuesday by Mansfield. The conference will choose a successor. Robert G. Dunphy, Duke's deputy, is a leading candidate for the post.

Radar Can Detect Speed, Distance

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Purdue university scientists say they have developed a radar system which, they say, can determine for the first time both the distance and velocity of distant objects in space. Previous systems could determine either range or velocity but not both.

A team headed by Prof. C. D. McGillen was able to obtain both kinds of information by introducing a random, continuously changing signal plain noise into the radar. The outgoing and reflected noise is identified by a special computer.

BERLIN — Germany is planning a fairland park for the young.

Pvt. David M. Guess, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Guess, 720 Seventh St., Idalou, completed advanced artillery training at Ft. Sill, Okla., Thursday. He was trained to serve as a crewman in field artillery gun or howitzer units. He entered the Army in August and completed basic training at Ft. Polk, La. The soldier is a 1963 graduate of Idalou High School.

Insurance Group To Hear Doctor

Dr. Whitman M. Reynolds, Greenwich, Conn., newly elected president of the Association of Life Insurance Medical Directors of America, will speak Tuesday at the Lubbock General Agents and Managers Conference (GAMC).

Frank Fata, GAMC president, announced that the luncheon meeting will be at the Johnson House Restaurant, 4801 Avenue Q.

Dr. Reynolds is a graduate of Cornell and Columbia, and presently is medical director of insurance medicine for the Equitable Life Assurance Society, New York, N.Y.

He will speak in Lubbock on "Medical Underwriting."

A member of the Fairfield, Conn., County Medical Association, Dr. Reynolds is active in many church, charitable and educational activities.

EARL WILSON: Strike Hits Clubs Hard

NEW YORK — The Subway Strike has gone down in history as Death Valley Time for the night club comedians who clowned to many empty tables and were rewarded frequently with a funeral silence.

Jack Carter at the Royal Box here, the biggest man in the hotel after Mike Quill left so abruptly, said, "Oh, the strike didn't hurt our business a bit. We had a wonderful table here last night." Quill, he remarked, "turned the town into an Irish wake. He's the head of a new thing called the Irish Murf. He went to jail because he preferred the room prices there to the $105 a day he was paying here. I don't mind him emptying the subways but I wish he'd stay out of this room. The hospital managed to quiet him. They gave him a train-quill-izer."

THEN THERE WERE OTHERS

Comedian Pat Henry at the Copacabana said: "Mayor Lindsay said not to bring your car into town unless there were other riders. I had to rent four people just so I could get into the city."

"How do you like my luck?" demanded Joey Villa. "They closed the subways and I got mugged in a car pool."

"Quill's favorite song is 'You'll Never Walk Alone,'" Merv Griffin maintained.

When Quill collapsed, Mickey Rooney (at the Latin Quarter) dropped a joke about quill pens that was becoming rather familiar.

HENNY YOUNGMAN couldn't resist the pun, "They put Quill in jail. Does that make the prison a Quill pen?"

But some good things result from the strike. . . . The Subway Strike Stroll of 2 to 4 miles a day reduces waistlines. . . . smart people grab "hot tickets" to hit shows. . . . some offices put in cots and iceboxes and one boss said he was trying to hire "sleep-in secretaries."

Beautiful Danish actress Hannah Bork, leaving Toots Shor's after lunch, hailed a truck driver who gave her a lift.

The only restaurant that could get the slightest happiness from the strike was the "Ground Floor" in the new CBS Bldg. where the usual subway rumble is not felt now. Temporarily one did not hear the gag, "This is the only restaurant that gets off at 42d St."

COUPLE EXPECTED TO REMARRY

Vince Edwards is expected to remarry Kathy Kersh any day. . . . This week's Buyers' Week with the hotel jam worse than usual. . . . Gypsy Rose Lee's due here to open her show on WOR. . . . Lou Walters is rehearsing Jayne Mansfield for her Latin Quarter opening Jan. 18, has Edie Adams, Buddy Hackett and others booked, and hopes to star Nai Bonet in an Oriental revue. . . . Tony Randall, unable to rent a limousine, thumbed a ride to the opening of his show "UTBU" then left the Roma di Notte party early to join his wife who missed the show due to a broken arm. . . . Elaine May, so great at the Cue Mag "Entertainer of the Year" party at the St. Regis, handing the prize to Mike Nichols, said she's convinced she should do a lot more performing, hurra.

THE READERS ALWAYS WRITE: "I'm hoping you can do something about the six critics in N.Y. who murder plays without mercy," writes Mary Ann Frey, of Inglewood, Calif. "Did it ever occur to anyone that the jaded appetites of the critics may be to blame? We, the public, cannot see EVERY play as they can. The public should be the ones to decide whether a play is good or not. How about a vote box on a preview night—like the movies? These critics are annihilating theatre. Stop 'em, will ya!"

Danny Stradella, owner of Danny's Hideaway, again acted as dishwasher, thanks to the strike. (He's the only dishwasher who goes home in his own Caddy).

Jane Morgan's New Year's gift to herself—a Rolls Royce. . . . Hugh O'Brian's date at a "10 Little Indians" screening: Socialite Jeanne Vanderbilt. . . . Dean Martin may start a fashion trend with "The Silencers"—turtle-neck sweaters. . . . Bert Lahr's son John is writing the bio of his famous dad. . . . There are two Bradens in "The Chase"—Marion and his sister Jocelyn. . . . Little Anthony and the Imperials, a rock 'n' roll group, have come of age—they've dropped "Little" from the title.

Viet Cong Ducks Out As Allies Close In plane crashed five miles north of Saigon. As a helicopter lifted out the pilot by his gun belt, it broke and he plunged into a river. Apparently he was killed.

Ground Fire Blamed

Spokesmen confirmed that ground fire had been responsible for two explosions that ripped apart a C-130 loaded with 11,000 pounds of ammunition on a flight to Pleiku last Friday. Five men were killed in the crash of the four-engine plane.

The suspension of bombing raids on the Communist north continued into the 18th day. Some of the tunnels and caves blasted by the U.S. and Australian troops in Operation Crimp dated back to the French Indochina fighting.

River Not Crossed

Although the huge allied force pushed to the Saigon River boundary of the Communist Iron Triangle, it did not cross the river and attempt to sweep the triangle itself.

Two hundred helicopters lifted the troops into action at dawn Saturday, swarming like locusts over the jungle in the biggest display of whirlybirds of the war. Hidden Communist gunners knocked down two helicopters and mechanical trouble caused a third to crash.

Participating in the operation were units of the 1st Infantry Division, paratroopers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade and the Royal Australian Regiment. They were backed by 3,000 artillerymen manning cannon up to 175 mm in size, heavy tanks, armored personnel carriers and a cover of U.S. Air Force and Navy jets.

No government troops were to prevent the Communists from learning of the main thrust. U.S. officials kept word of it from the Vietnamese high command until the last minute. No government troops were used.

The operation pushed into the background other fighting over the weekend in the hit-and-run war.

However, troops of South Korea's Tiger Division killed 20 Viet Cong Sunday as they continued to mop up in a campaign 270 miles northeast of Saigon near the coastal city of Qui Nhon. A Korean military spokesman reported. He said a total of 185 Communists had been killed and 600 suspects detained while Korean casualties had been light.

Bridge Attacked

Some 500 Communists attacked a bridge at Tan Khai in Binh Long Province 40 miles north of Saigon with unusual ferocity just before dawn Sunday, catching a company of South Vietnamese defenders by surprise.

The government troops held until reinforcements came. A government spokesman reported. A platoon was knocked out of action but casualties were light.

Operation Crimp put the U.S. and Australian troops just outside a Communist stronghold known as the Iron Triangle, a repeated target for U.S. B-52 stratofortresses from Guam. The two shorter legs of the triangle are formed by the Saigon and Thi Tinh rivers, while Viet Cong-dominated provincial Route 7 guards the northern approach.

Some U.S. officers estimated it would take a month to destroy the tunnels and enough explosives to rip apart a mountain. This is what they are determined to do.

Weather

Dakota to north central Montana. The temperature at Grand Forks, N.D. hit -9 early this morning.

In Minnesota, where the cold was firmly entrenched, sub-zero temperatures and winds 20 to 30 miles per hour in velocity were the rule. Bemidji in northwest Minnesota had the lowest reported temperature in the nation this morning with 17 below zero, according to the Weather Bureau.

Light snow that had come earlier with the Arctic outbreak had retreated for the most part north of the Great Lakes.

Sub-zero cold also hovered over New England this morning, following a weekend storm that brought a fresh snow cover to nearly all of New England. Some places received more than a foot of snow.

Cold and strong 30 to 45 miles-an-hour winds produced near blizzard conditions from eastern North Dakota to western upper Michigan.

Precipitation during the early morning was confined to a little light snow over the northern Great Lakes and upper Mississippi Valley, with some rain over the north Pacific Coast and light rain in southern Florida and western Tennessee and nearby areas.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Clergy and lay leaders of the Southern Baptist church will attend two conferences this summer to discuss the Christian interpretation of sex. The meetings—Aug. 11-17 in Glorieta, N.M.—are the first called by the Southern Baptists to deal with sex.

4 Break-Ins Reported To City Police

Four break-ins were reported to city police this morning, adding to several other offenses of the weekend.

Patrolmen discovered a burglary of Frank Newcomb's Humble station, 5425 Brownfield Hwy. An undetermined amount of money was missing from a cash box, the owner said.

Wallet Taken

Betty Jo McKee, 3106 Harvard St., complained that a wallet containing $76 was taken from her purse Sunday night at the Buckaroo Lounge, E. 19th Street and Quirt Avenue.

A vending machine was looted at both N-Way Products, 123 N. Ave. V, and Tri-Way Grocery, 3501 Railroad Ave.

Investigation continued in other incidents reported Sunday.

Coin Changer Robbed

Ten or 12 boxes of copper wire containing 500 feet each were reported stolen in a break-in at W. E. Gobel Building Contractors, 3403 N. Ash. Officers said locks had been pried off two worksheds, but only the wire was found to be missing.

A burglar that missed the lock off an office at the Highland Laundry, 4035 34th St. Saturday night, got a coin changer containing $10.25 in change, but left behind some more money and a pistol in a desk drawer. A tire tool, presumed to have been used to break into the office, was found on a chair.

No estimate of the amount of loss was available Sunday night, but all the money in the machines was taken.

Mrs. Flora M. Dean, 1926 28th St., reported the theft of her social security check for about $70 from her home Saturday, and A. L. Wood, 2617 20th St., reported a portable radio and cigarette lighter stolen from his car. Wood also said the dash board of his car was damaged in an apparent attempt to pry out the instrument panel.

Early registrants for the trip included Kay, Aderton, Doug Boren, Reuben Lambert, John Spikes, Leon Ashford, Roy James, Bo Sexton, Jim Sexton, Joe Stanley, Curtis Aycock, Harold Carrico, Phil Rosen, Rex Welsch, Arthur Stark, Leland Boyd, and Don Lewis and Grey Lewis of the chamber.

The helicopter continued on over the bomb-torn jungles on the northern bank of the river. The Communist sharpshooters there that had plagued pilots for years were quiet, apparently silenced by the many B-52 strikes of recent months.

Small Arms Fire
But the sound as the helicopters reached the southern bank small arms fire spat from the villages, paddy fields and plantations below.

One helicopter was hit and plummeted into a field of tamarisks. As it dropped the blades continued rotating and kept it from crashing. Another helicopter rescued the troops and crew on board.

As the assault helicopters set down, the soldiers saw that every surrounding building was on fire from air strikes that had just ended. A field of unharvested rice, the top of the many rotor blades fanned the flames 50 feet high.

The troops rushed to the perimeter of the landing zone toward a long-abandoned rubber plantation. A few sniper shots cracked and kicked up dust, but the Americans paid little heed.

Defense Line
As the first troops reached the plantation they pulled up short. Before them was a Viet Cong defense line such as they had never before encountered—a zigzag trench about 300 yards long, hidden under brush and trees. It was empty.

The trench was six feet deep. Every three feet along the bottom was a step on which sharpshooters could raise up and fire, then drop back under cover.

A network of tunnels flowed from the trench to outlying machine-gun emplacements and antiaircraft pits.

For every rifleman there was a small cave dug in the back wall of the trench which they could slip into when under artillery or air bombardment.

Some of the tunnels sloped down 10 or 15 feet to underground command bunkers that could hold 10 men.

As the troops pushed deeper into the plantation, they realized they were on top of an underground guerrilla camp. They encountered four more of these intricate trench-tunnel networks, linked together smaller defense lines.

"If the VC had stayed," said one infantryman, "it would have been a fight like in the history books of World War I. We never would have gotten out of the landing zone."

Dangerous Advance
The battalion's advance became painstaking and dangerous. Sniper fire erupted, and the Viet Cong seemed to be all around.

One Communist sharpshooter with a carbine fired on the lead platoon. A bullet pierced a soldier's helmet, spun around his head, and stuck in the helmet liner. The man was nearly scalped. With blood streaming down his face, he walked to an ambulance helicopter.

Artillery was called against the sniper, but when the battalion had moved another 100 yards he opened up again from a hole and killed a man. Later he harassed the rear.

Another Viet Cong popped up from a hole and threw a grenade at two soldiers only 10 feet away. One was killed, the other crumpled with many wounds.

A guerrilla hidden in a tunnel detonated a claymore mine attached to an American moving down a trail. He was killed on the spot.

From 15 Yards
The battalion command post set down for lunch in what they thought was a secure area. Snipers snapped at them from 15 yards away. The men vividly recalled the incident.

Pursuit of the guerrillas was discouraged by hundreds of wires with booby traps attached, concealed holes lined with razor-sharp spikes, and land mines.

The sight of a comrade with his limbs torn by an exploding booby trap made the Americans wary. They tiptoed as if walking on eggs for the next quarter of an hour.

Most of the area had been hit by big bombs, including some from B-52s. Yet several tunnels dug 35 feet into the rock-hard clay soil did not give in even under direct hit. The Viet Cong enter these deep mine-like shelters by ropes, like mountain climbers.

A total of $1,833 was netted Sunday in a "walkathon" in Lubbock, where about 50 Hub City teenagers collected funds in a March of Dimes drive. Four "teams" competed to see which group could collect the most contributions, and a group called the "Creepy Crawlers" won by netting over $400. The teenagers were aided by the Lubbock Emergency Corps, which picked up contribution pledges made by telephone.

Brownfield Man Accused In Fire
BROWNFIELD (Special)—A Brownfield man was being held early today, charged with arson after an early Saturday morning fire that heavily damaged a cafe building and its fixtures in downtown Brownfield.

OSCAR J. Ingram, 43, was charged today on the arson count according to Chief Det. Sheriff L. C. Webster, who said the suspect was arrested Sunday and today gave a statement admitting entering the building and lighting a file of newspapers. He was held this morning in lieu of $5,000 bond.

The burned building, property of Murphy May of Brownfield, was known as the Club Cafe but the cafe had not been in operation for some time. The roof of the building collapsed in the 3:45 a.m. fire, and two adjacent businesses, a recreation club and the Brownfield Paint Store, received minor smoke damage, according to Fire Chief Bobby Graves.

near Saigon during the night. They headed northwest to the Vietnamese ranger training center deep in Viet Cong territory near Trung Lap.

American and New Zealand artillery took positions in the area and began firing at dawn. At the same time a fleet of about 80 helicopters started to ferry several battalions of the 1st Infantry, the 173rd Airborne Brigade, and the Royal Australian Regiment into positions from which they could fan out to block off the triangle.

The wide and swampy Saigon River north of the area was closed to all traffic. Loudspeakers from helicopters sent the message to hiding Viet Cong and their civilian supporters. It said anyone trying to navigate the river would be shot.

One large hoistboat set out. From 3,000 feet up, troops in the first swarm of helicopters could see several persons feverishly paddling to get extra speed from the motor-powered boat.

Like eagles, armed helicopters swooped down on the target. Before the boat reached midstream splashes from machine-gun bullets caught it. The craft floated free with the current. The engine had stopped and three bodies toppled into the muddy water.

The helicopters continued on over the bomb-torn jungles on the northern bank of the river. The Communist sharpshooters there that had plagued pilots for years were quiet, apparently silenced by the many B-52 strikes of recent months.

Four Document Files Purchased By County

By KENNETH IRISH, Avalanche-Journal Staff

Lubbock County commissioners this morning purchased four document files for the county clerk's office after opening sealed bids, and conducted routine business, including approval of time deposit transactions.

Present for the first session of the court in 1966 were County Judge Rodrick L. Shaw and Commissioners Arch Lamb, George Green, Les Derrick and Alton Brazzell.

The court purchased four document files, each six drawers wide and six drawers high, on a low bid basis from McGlaughlin Office Supply Co. The bids were $622.94 for three files without lock and $229.56 for one file with lock.

Other bids were given in the order of the bid on the files without lock followed by the bid on the file with a lock: Miller-Howard Office Supply Co., $635 and $235; Thatcher Printing Co., $637.50 and $243.50; Thomas Brothers Co., $639 and $234; Lubbock Printing Co., $687.78 and $258.86; and The Paper Clip, $652.02 and $241.15.

Approval was given to six time deposit transactions. In each transaction, time deposits will mature Jan. 16, and principal sums will be returned to time deposit to mature Jan. 16, 1967. Also in each transaction, interest will be deposited in the fund represented.

Because of a shift in banking procedures, part of the interest was paid Dec. 31 and has already been deposited in the respective funds.

The time deposits are given, in order, principal sum, interest to be paid and, in parentheses, interest already paid:

Road Bond Sinking Fund 1966: $50,000; $38.19 (interest $1,211.81).

Road Bond Sinking Fund 1967: $33,000; $25.21 ($779.79).

Social Security Fund: $15,000; $11.46 ($363.54).

Courthouse and Jail Sinking Fund 1946: $13,471.33 and $27,787.77 for a total of $44,200.10; $31.51 ($998.49).

Agricultural Building Sinking Fund: $15,000; $11.46 ($363.54).

Road Bond Sinking Fund 1961: $30,000; $22.92 ($727.08).

Warrants Cancelled The court authorized Royal Purgeson, county auditor, to cancel 17 warrants issued by the county which have been lost or for some reason have not been collected. Total value of the warrants, issued in 1963 and 1965, is $112.77. They include one warrant on the General Fund for $10; one on Road and Bridge No. 1 Fund for $3.50; 14 on the Jury Fund totaling $87; and one on the Idalou Park Fund for $3.77.

Most of the warrants have already been replaced. The cancellation is a routine accounting practice to clear the county books.

Commissioners authorized inclusion of two orders by the county's four district judges in the minutes of the Commissioners Court. One order appointed and set salaries for the stenographic reporters, and the other reappointed Bill Crutcher as county purchasing agent.

Salaries Listed The court amended the salary schedules in the 1966 county budget to provide two additional deputies for the sheriff's office and a new assistant in the adult probation office.

The deputy sheriff's salaries will be $45 a month. They will work as bailiffs in the new 137th District Court and the central jury pool. The salary for the assistant in the probation office will be approximately $500 a month.

In right-of-way matters, the court authorized the relocation of concrete pipe on the Henry Lawson farm by Standard Concrete Pipe Co. at a cost of $844.80 to widen County Road 62 in Precinct 4.

Also, authorization was given to relocation of utility lines by South Plains Electric Cooperative, Inc., along County Road 19 at a cost of $222.

Derrick was authorized to begin acquiring right of way to widen a portion of County 61 in Precinct 3 west of Idalou.

MARIJUANA, DRUGS FOUND

University Of Oklahoma Students Arrested In Raid

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI)—Charges were expected to be filed today against 14 persons, 11 of them University of Oklahoma students, who were arrested in a raid on a basement apartment one block from the university campus.

Police said they seized a large quantity of marijuana and other drugs in the raid late Saturday night.

Police Chief Bill Henslee said 13 of the suspects would be charged with possession of marijuana. A vagrancy charge was planned for the 14th person, an 18-year-old freshman girl whom police said they found nude. Two of those arrested are former students. All are in their teens and early 20s.

Bond was set at $1,500. Henslee said officers confiscated several marijuana cigarettes and seeds, boxes of barbiturates and other drugs. He said some of the pills found in the apartment would be analyzed by the police laboratory to determine their contents.

Some of those arrested were identified as members of the Students for a Democratic Society. Henslee said some anti-Viet Nam literature was found in the dimly lighted apartment.

Condition Of Man Critical

A Lubbock Negro remained in critical condition today at Methodist Hospital after being slugged in the head with a baseball bat about 3:45 p. m. Sunday.

Albert Ray Wilburn, 31, 1901 E. 15th St., was asleep in a booth at the Lucky Corner Cafe, E. 37th and Walnut Avenue, at the time of the incident, according to police reports.

Police obtained the name of a suspect, another Negro man, who reportedly entered a rear door, hit Wilburn and fled out the same door, leaving the bat behind. Wilburn reportedly suffered a fractured skull. No arrest had been reported this morning.

In an incident late Saturday, Tonis Flores, 2700-block Fordham Street, reported two Latin American men and a Negro man beat him and left him on Southeast Drive near the Slaton Hwy. One of the men also pulled a knife and out Flores' hand, police were told. Flores said he met the men at a cafe and for $1 agreed to take them to get some beer. Flores later obtained a ride back to Lubbock from a passing motorist. Investigation was continued in the case today, with no arrests reported this morning.

THINGS HE MIGHT NEVER KNOW:

Notes In A Reporter's Mail

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

It has been estimated that the average girl kisses 74 lads before she finds the one she marries. But to reach that score she must have played "post office" at a lot of birthday parties during her school days.

Unless you like to be treated by witch doctors, Africa is a poor continent on which to fall ill. It has only one trained physician for every 80,000 inhabitants.

The U.S. farmer is one of the world's most efficient manufacturers. He now grows enough food each year to feed 31 people, five of whom live in impoverished foreign countries and are fed practically free on Uncle Sam's bounty.

Your body is a busy factory. It has some 30 trillion red blood cells, each of which lives about four months. Your bone marrow has to produce 10 billion of them every hour to keep you healthy. Musicologists say more songs probably have been written about Franklin D. Roosevelt than any other man in modern times. There are more than 100 listed.

Quotable notables: "In our civilization, men are afraid that they will not be men enough, and women are afraid that they might be considered only women."—Dr. Theodore Reik.

Creepers: Some safety experts rate highway slowpokes as more dangerous than speeders and perhaps even than drinking drivers. They say that cars traveling at 20 miles below average highway speed are involved in twice as many accidents as those going 20 miles faster than average speed.

Sign in an upstate dairy farm: "One good chum deserves another."

Tiny but still mighty: Britain's 52,710,000 people make up less than two per cent of the world's inhabitants and occupy only about a fifth of one per cent of earth's land area. But they produce a sixth of the world's exports and handle 10 per cent of its international shipping.

The U.S. Air Force reportedly is developing a machine that can learn from its own mistakes.

If it succeeds, this probably will be the machine's final victory over man.

The teabag is an historical accident. In 1904, a New York merchant bagged small samples of his tea and sent them to prospective customers. They soon found tea could be conveniently brewed by simply dunking the bags in boiling water—and a new industry was born.

Worth remembering: "The reason a dollar won't do as much for people as it once did is that people won't do as much for a dollar as they once did."

History lesson: Any American boy has a chance to wind up as a White House tenant, but a good education is a help in getting there. Twenty-five of the 35 U.S. presidents were college graduates, and 12 were members of Phi Beta Kappa, the honorary scholastic fraternity.

In 1870, John D. Rockefeller incorporated Standard Oil Co. in Cleveland with $1 million dollars capital.
In 1917, Buffalo Bill Cody died.
In 1946, delegates from 51 nations convened in London for the first session of the United Nations General Assembly. UN membership in 1965 rose to 117.

Christian Arabs End Annual Jordan Trek

AT MEET HERE

Postal Clerks Install Officers

Thirteen officers of the Lubbock Postal Clerks Local 952 and its Ladies' Auxiliary were installed in ceremonies Sunday afternoon before about 25 local and auxiliary members.

New president of the local is George W. Lane who replaces Ralph Riley. Mrs. Norma Beauchamp assumed chairmanship of the auxiliary. Lois Perkins is outgoing president.

Clyde Curlee, past president of both the state and local organizations of postal clerks, directed installation of Local 952 officers. Mrs. Curlee, who also has held local and state presidential posts, swore in auxiliary members. Ceremonies were held in the Reddy Room of Southwestern Public Service Company.

Following formalities, officers began planning for the state convention of postal clerks and their auxiliaries to be held in Lubbock at the Pioneer Hotel, June 15-18. About 300 delegates are expected.

Other officers who will serve Local 952 for one-year terms are William P. Riley, vice president; Mrs. LaVerne Naylor, secretary; J. P. Abbott, treasurer; Robert Steele, sergeant-at-arms; David Sears, parliamentarian; Ward Bartle, hospital plan representative, and Woodrow Dorsey, legislative representative.

Mrs. Irene White is vice president of the auxiliary. Other new officers are Lois Perkins, secretary; Joyce Sears, treasurer; and Vera Inmon, sergeant-at-arms.

Admiral Continuing On Road To Recovery

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz continued to show improvement Sunday at Oak Knoll Naval Hospital where he is recovering from a blood clot on the brain.

The 80-year-old former leader of America's mighty World War II Pacific armada entered the Oakland hospital Monday for a physical checkup.

The five-star admiral suffered the blood clot, affecting his left side, last Wednesday. Doctors describe his condition as satisfactory.

This is the opinion of automobile safety experts—government, industry and those in private, independent research groups.

In fact, the experts say the biggest handicap they face in defeating the highway killer is the feeling on the part of too many persons that there is an easy solution. Driver education, claim some. Seat belts are a frequently-cited "cure-all."

Strict law enforcement, better roads, safer automobiles, better search groups. Mandatory vehicle inspection.

All are worthwhile objectives. But not a single one or even a combination of a few would make much of a dent in the nation's annual highway carnage. The extent of that carnage underlines the size of the problem.

Exceeds Combat Toll
—More than 50,000 Americans will have died in traffic accidents by the end of 1966. This is more than the combined combat fatalities in the American Revolution, War of 1812, Mexican War, Spanish-American War and the Korean War (42,442).

At least two million will have received serious injuries. This is more than the total wounded in both world wars plus Korea (1.5 million).

The cost to the nation (insurance payments, hospital bills, time lost etc.) will be close to $9 billion. This is almost double what the United States is spending on the space program this year.

By the end of the year there will have been at least 40,000 fatal auto accidents involving more than 60,000 drivers, plus 1.3 million non-fatal accidents involving about two million drivers. At this rate, one of every two Americans can expect to be killed or injured in a traffic accident during his or her lifetime.

Increase Inevitable
What alarms safety experts is not so much the total deaths and injuries. The number of cars on the highway and the number of drivers keeps going up annually and some increase in the accident statistics is inevitable.

The key statistic is the death rate per 100 million miles driven. In 1945, the rate was 11.3. For the next 16 years it showed a steady decline—dropping to 5.2 in 1961 when it started climbing again. It was 5.4 in 1963 and 5.7 last year.

Traffic fatalities this year, according to the National Safety Council, are running at least 1 per cent above 1964. This means that by the end of the year the fatality rate may hit 6 per cent for the first time since 1956.

What can be done?

Coordinates Work
There are numerous government and industry automotive safety groups. Most of the work is being coordinated with the high-level President's Committee for Traffic Safety, first organized in 1946 but admittedly rather ineffective until the last two years.

The committee's main task has been to get states to cooperate in a nationwide highway safety program with common goals and common methods. It still has a long way to go, but some progress is being made—with a hefty boost from Congress.

The latter involves the so-called "Baldwin Amendment" which is part of the Highway Act signed by President Johnson. It directs the secretary of commerce to establish uniform standards for highway safety programs for adoption by the various states.

Those standards still are in the process of being developed. They will cover such items as uniform accident records systems, driver testing, vehicle safety, highway design and maintenance, traffic control, motor vehicle laws and traffic court procedures.

No Real Teeth
There is nothing in the Baldwin Amendment with real teeth—a "conform or else" edict. But the teeth are implied, for there is no doubt the federal government would seriously consider withholding highway aid funds from states which refuse to go along with the safety standards once they are drawn up.

Even without the Baldwin Amendment, there has been some progress toward uniformity in safety projects. More than 30 states and the District of Columbia have passed laws requiring seat belts in new cars. The interstate highway system is being built in accordance with federally-established standards. Nearly 30 states have adopted the "point system" for monitoring frequent traffic law violators. The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads has requested each state to inventory high-hazard locations on their federal-aid primary and secondary roads and to give their correction top priority over the next four years.

Two-Fold Problem
But considering the enormity of the highway safety problem, even these achievements are not major. The problem really is two-fold:

—To prevent accidents from happening, a task which involves an all-out, nationwide effort on many fronts.

—To reduce deaths and injuries when accidents do occur, a category which involves vehicle design but no really simple answers.

RY EDUCATOR
U.S. School Standards Criticized

By CHARLES T. BURNS
 WATERTOWN, Mass. (AP) — Dr. Jerome B. Wiesner, 50, scientific adviser to two presidents, thinks American public school standards are not high enough.

And the man who had the ear of Presidents John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson is doing something about it.

Wiesner is a candidate for Democratic nomination for an unpaid job on the school committee in his hometown of Watertown, a suburb of some 40,000 west of Boston.

"I think the children need and deserve a better education than they are getting today," Wiesner said today. "I believe that our standards are not high enough and that's why I'm a candidate."

A Better Job
 Wiesner, dean of the School of Science at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, said "Our schools have got to do a better job. In these days of luxury, it is a necessity."

"Anything less is simply not fair to the boys and girls facing the tough competition for jobs, scholarships and college admissions."

He got into a bitter squabble in Watertown recently when he headed a group protesting appointment of school committee members' relatives to important teaching posts.

"Our group decided someone should run for a place on the school committee and I was picked," Wiesner said.

"I couldn't very well refuse because I strongly believe everyone should take an interest in local affairs."

 The Democratic caucus Feb. 4 will choose the party candidate. See STANDARDS Page 8

SOME CONSOLATION
Military Pay Earned By Soldiers In Viet Nam Is Tax Exempt

By RAY DE CRANE
 NEA Special Writer

Can you imagine this scene between two GIs fighting their way out of an ambush in Viet Nam?

"Hey, Joe, you hear the news?" hollers one machine-gunner to another. "LBJ says we don't have to pay a tax on the pay we get for this."

It's true. By designating Viet Nam as a combat zone, the President made military pay earned there by U.S. personnel exempt from tax.

For enlisted men the exemption applies to the full pay for each month earned in a combat zone. Any part of a month is considered a full month. A serviceman who arrived in Viet Nam on the 29th of a month eliminates from his return the full pay earned for that month. The exclusion remains in effect so long as he continues to serve in the area.

If the enlisted man is hospitalized as a result of such service, the exclusion applies to all pay received in the hospital, again with any part of a month counting as a full month.

For officers in combat zones or hospitalized as a result of such service, the first $200 received monthly is tax-exempt. While military personnel pay a tax on all regular and longevity pay, subsistence, uniform and quarters allowances are tax-exempt.

They have the same April 15 filing deadline as civilians but if they are out of the country on that date, they receive an automatic two-month extension for filing. Those serving in Viet Nam have until 180 days after they leave Viet Nam to file their returns.

Taxable military pay includes the following:

- Pay received on active duty or while attending armed services academies.
- Lump sum payments upon service separation.
- Re-enlistment bonus.
- ROTC pay.
- Reserve training pay.
- Longevity pay.

Nontaxable military and veterans' pay includes:

- Payments equal to six months pay to beneficiaries of servicemen who died on active duty.
- Veterans' benefit paid by the Veterans Administration.

GEORGE MURPHY
Ex-Actor Has Changed In A Year

By BOB THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The spring is still in his step and he still has the Irish good looks, but a year has brought an immense change in George Murphy.

No more the dancer-actor nor the film executive, Murphy today is beginning his second year as the junior senator from California. Before departing for the start of the second session of the 89th Congress, Murphy took some rare repose in his local office to discuss his new life.

Sen. Murphy breezed into his suite in the new Federal Building looking distinguished in a well-tailored gray suit with vest. Sitting with his back to the Los Angeles Civic Center, he commented on the first session of the 89th.

"Pretty hectic," he said. "Everything had the mark of urgency on it, and we were too rushed. Once I discovered a bill that didn't have a number on it. Even I knew there was something wrong about that."

"I agree with Mike Mansfield that the coming session will be more of a process of refining what has already been passed. I think that's a necessary step, and I have proposed a Senate bureau of investigation to discover what has happened to legislation after it has been passed."

The California Republican said that he hasn't become integrated into the Washington social scene.

"I live in a hotel and my wife stays at our Beverly Hills home because she can't travel," he remarked. "But I'm here a great deal of the time—at least every two weeks. I don't believe you can legislate for the state of California without being in California and knowing about the problems."

Travel Isn't Bad
 "The travel isn't bad. I can get on a plane and be here in four and a half hours, and I can use that valuable time for reading, without being interrupted by telephones. No, I don't watch the movies on the plane; I've seen most of them, anyway."

"I believe I only went to two cocktail parties during my year in Washington. One was a party for South Korea and the other a reception for Madame Chiang Kai-shek."

"I just don't have time for parties. We finish work about 7:30 in the evening. By the time you have dinner and read an hour, it's time for bed. And you

MISSING DURING DUCK HUNT
Object Of Search Takes Nap At Motel

MOSES LAKE, Wash. (AP)—While men in airplanes, on foot and on motorcycles searched the swampy potholes area near here for a missing duck hunter, he snoozed at a motel.

Search was begun late Saturday after Dale Krause, 19, of Snohomish, Wash., became separated from his father, Ed Krause. It continued Sunday.

At about 4 a.m., Sunday young Krause found his way out of the potholes, trapped into Moses Lake and rented a room at the motel.

"We knew there was a search going on and they had the planes out," motel operator M. H. Melson said Sunday night.

"About three this afternoon, we finally figured out it could be him. So we called the sheriff and he came out and sure enough it was."

They woke up young Krause and he went home with his father.

11 Killed In Mishaps

(By The Associated Press)
 Violence claimed at least 22 lives in Texas during the weekend. Traffic fatalities were uncommonly low at 11.

The Associated Press tabulation began at 6 p.m. Friday and continued until midnight Sunday.

Edie Grinage, 2, of San Antonio choked to death Sunday on a piece of dirt she stuck in her mouth at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. D. Grinage.

Tech Professor Conducting Tests About A Child's Learning Ability

By GAYLE NOLL
 Avalanche-Journal Staff

How does a child learn—learn to walk, to talk, to reason?

This may sound like an irrelevant question to some persons, but to Dr. Henry A. Cross, associate psychology professor at Texas Tech, it's the most significant "riddle" he has ever tried to solve.

Cross is conducting learning process experiments with 2-through 6-year-old children at Carver Heights Day Nursery, 2508 Elm, a United Fund Agency where children of needy working mothers are kept.

With a simple research device called a Wisconsin General Testing Apparatus (WGTA), Dr. Cross tests the children's "discrimination" learning ability.

HMMM, WHERE'S THE CANDY?—Randy Moore, 3-year-old son of Mrs. Mary Moore, 2423 E. 28th St., pushes back a block to see if it is hiding a piece of candy, as Dr. Henry A. Cross, associate psychology professor at Texas Tech, administers a learning process test through a two-way mirror. Dr. Cross is conducting the learning experiments at Carver Heights Day Nursery. DEAR ABBY Wife Creates Avalanche!

DEAR ABBY: A colonel suggested that a service wife with a grievance against her husband would get quicker results by writing directly to her husband's Commanding Officer rather than to her Congressman. I am a retired Army major, and lead this...

One lady, whose philandering husband ran my operations section, wrote to me with her complaints. I called the sergeant in and we had a little chat. Then I sat down and wrote the wife the usual letter. "I have discussed the matter with your husband, et cetera, et cetera, et cetera."

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell me why people will not make reservations for dinners at civic clubs and church doers. They show up at the last minute, sometimes bringing a guest or two. They seem to think that "one or two more" won't matter, but if you have planned on, it makes a whale of a lot of difference. I would like to have the hat they think we pull our food out of.

DEAR ABBY: Those who do not make reservations but show up anyway are divided (like Gaul) into three parts: the lazy, the thoughtless and the disorganized. But that was one Operations Sergeant who really got straightened out in a hurry. Sincerely, "Honest Al" in Roanoke, Va. Major, USAR (Retired)

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 years old and in our house we have this rule: Nobody can accept a telephone call during supper time. Well, I have told this to all my friends, but this one girl, no matter how many times I tell her, always calls me during the supper hour and I have to say, "I'll call you back later," but...

Polly's Pointers

Cotton Ball Will Moisturize Cookies

DEAR POLLY—I love to have cookies on hand but hate to have them dry up quickly as they so often do. My method for keeping them soft and fresh is to take an aluminum tea ball, open it and place a wad of cotton, slightly dampened with water, inside the ball, close it and drop it in the cookie jar. Cookies stay fresh for such a long time if a bit of water is added to the cotton every now and then. Dry cookies can also be softened this way.—E. M. K.

DEAR POLLY: I wonder what our bridge club talked about before the column appeared in the paper. We enjoy the Pointers very much and are always comparing notes. Reading the letter from the man who carried a clean cloth in his car for the service attendant to sit on reminded me that I had wished a friend of mine had dusted the back seat of her car before she offered me a ride. I had on a white dress and the back of it looked like a duster when I got home. So many of us seldom use the back seat and need to be reminded to get in the habit of cleaning it, especially those whose cars sit out all the time. Edith

DEAR POLLY: I am 23, a bride of four months, and my husband and I are trying to save money so as to be able to buy our own home. I have found several ways to save but the main one is on the grocery bill. For two months I sat down once a week and made out the menu for the following week and then a grocery list with just what was needed and no more. Regardless of what anyone says I can get by on $15 a week. We have a proper diet, do not eat just hamburger but have good meat, a starch, a green vegetable and homemade bread every day. Mrs. L. W. F.

DEAR POLLY: If your electric blanket will not heat any more, just run the facing off both ends and then reach in between the two layers of blanket, clip the loops of electric wire on both ends and pull it out. The facing at the top may be worn but the one on the bottom can be split down the center to make enough for both ends. Wash and have one of the fluffiest blankets you ever owned. Mrs. J. W.

DEAR POLLY: My little girl wears pigtail and every morning we used to be searching for the right color in hair ribbons. When finally located they were often dirty or wrinkled. Now I have a solution. I store her ribbons in an apothecary jar in a clean mayonnaise jar would do which is kept on the counter in the bathroom. The ribbons do not become wrinkled and withered. After wearing I have found that I can dampen them, wrap smoothly around the outside of the jar and they soon look as good as new and are ready to go inside the jar. Beverly

GOOD BRAND OF BANKING!

AMERICAN STATE BANK

MEMBER FDIC

EDITOR'S NOTE: What are the military opportunities for American women today? This is the first of three articles on the line of life led by several thousand American women who have joined the Armed Forces. The author visited WAVE, WAV and other women's service installations all over the United States—at Colorado Springs, Travis Air Force Base, Fort Bragg, the Presidio, and many other locations.

By MARGOT PHILLIPS WASHINGTON (WNS)—Tired of addressing envelopes and filling form letters? Fed up with the day-in, day-out drudgery? Bored by the same old circle of friends? How'd you like to break away from all this and take up a life of adventure and high purpose? A life—or at least a couple of years—in which you'll be surrounded, virtually engulfed—by men, men, men? Most of them young and in their prime.

All you have to do is join the Army or the Navy, Air Force or Marine Corps, Women's division, of course. Thousands of American women are doing it, many of them very much like you.

Probably you've passed many a recruiting poster without giving so much as a second thought to actually joining. And yet, a military career can be a short cut to career success for women. It can give you money in the bank, rare job skills, or a college education. It can also give you poise, a better figure, a new confidence in yourself.

Today more and more girls are discovering that a career in uniform has advantages that make most so-called good jobs look pallid.

Chance To Study The armed services today offer a woman a number of unique advantages. A girl in uniform gains opportunity, companionship, a varied non-routine life, chances for travel and further education, plus fringe benefits that cannot be matched in civilian life.

If you're serious about your career, it's reassuring to know that in time you can win through to the highest ranks with all the pay and prestige that means.

For girls who may have missed out on college and feel the lack of a sheepskin, joining the armed services means a chance to study at Uncle Sam's expense.

The fringe benefits include life-time medical care plus good retirement pay.

And perhaps the best fringe benefit of all—99 per cent of your cost of living is met.

The feminine 1 per cent is made up of 9,000 WAVES, 6,000 WAFS, 5,000 WAVES and 1,700 Women Marines.

Wide Job Choice Remember, the Department of Defense is the largest employer of man and woman power in the U.S. And that means the job choice is staggering.

A high-school graduate can select her field from among personnel, administration, finance, food service, post exchange stores, medical assistance, public information, lithography, intelligence, transportation and even weather forecasting. And that's to name but a few.

Women college graduates who obviously watch big industry's campus recruiters wooing their male fellow students may not realize that the armed services offer positions of challenge and responsibility hard to find in civilian life.

For instance, WAF First Lieutenant Barbara Grain from Orange, Va., bosses 100 men in her job at Strategic Air Command Headquarters in Omaha, Nebraska. Barbara, who's not yet 25, credits her university BS plus a stint as a chemistry teacher as the foundation for her rapid advancement.

There are nurses, dieticians and women doctors in uniform.

Scientific qualifications are especially welcome in many defense areas.

At the Defense Radiological Laboratory in San Francisco, Commander Doris Cranmore from Jamaica, N.Y. is working as a biophysicist. Her current assignment involves experiments on genetic effects in blood cells.

Mrs. Lee Curry Rook of Delbert, W. Va., describes herself as a "tailor for the astronauts." Her work at the Aerospace Medical Laboratory in Dayton, Ohio means researching and designing space suits.

Today there are very few differences between conditions for women in each of the four leading services.

Travel Opportunities It's worth remembering, though, that the WAC (Women's Army Corps) offers the most travel opportunities both here and abroad. That's because there are more WACS to go round.

As a general rule, girls who join the Navy WAVES do not go to sea. But they get shore assignments at naval centers throughout the U.S. and overseas.

Women do not usually serve in combat zones. By law, they are prohibited from serving in the front lines. Women with special training can volunteer to work in supporting areas, but they don't see the gunfire.

As the exception that proves the rule, two WACS are in Vietnam right now as advisors to the Vietnamese Women's Army. A group of stenographers will shortly be assigned to Saigon and one WAC intelligence officer is currently being trained for a Viet Nam assignment.

Apart from the solid advantages of a military career, girls look good in uniform. Why not? Top-name designers like Hattie Carnegie, Mainbocher and Dior dreamed up the tailored outfit the women's services now wear.

Stylish uniforms are available. The WAC uniform is olive color but far from drab, and it's a Hattie Carnegie design. The Paris fashion house of Dior created the WAF sky-blue suit that's worn with a pale blue shirt edged in darker blue.

The WAVES wear a well-matched, navy-blue suit designed by Mainbocher and a cute white bucket hat modeled on an 18th-century sailor hat.

The Women Marines' winter green uniform, perked up with flame-red cording on the cap and sleeves, is also a Mainbocher design.

Whoever service a girl decides to enter the uniform, let with which she is issued will be hand-tailored to fit and worth at least $300 retail value. High heels can be worn, although not on the parade ground. Hair-creams are a matter of personal choice. Except that a girl with long hair has to keep it up during the day.

Basic training for newcomers usually includes a special course in make-up and grooming conducted by one of the national model-training schools.

For a thoroughly new slant on yourself, from appearance to performance and potential, a military career offers opportunities that just do not exist elsewhere.

Spring Fashion Shows Feature Chic Pajamas

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) What's in and what's out in fickle feminine fashion was made clear last week to the more than 200 newswomen attending a four-day program of style previews called the American Designer Series.

Pale lips are out and rouged ones are in. They are covered by a luminous finishing coat. Fish scale eyelids are definitely in for the charity ball and sooty ones with splashes of chalky white are acceptable for the daytime, provided the woman has the self confidence to wear them. That was the opinion offered by Charles Lowe, noted for his pop art makeup.

It is in to be rich as long as you are very democratic about it. The chicest woman this spring will wear poor girl sweaters along with her sleek leather workingman's jacket and ranchers pants. Along with these sleek costumes, shown by Anne Klein for Mallory, were leather levis and leather bell-bottoms.

These also are definitely in. Glittering, floor sweeping ball gowns are out, but glamorous party pajamas this spring are for any place but at home. Christian Dior of New York ended a collection of chic French inspired clothes with vividly patterned pants with huge legs like those worn by the movie queens in the '30s.

Among the colors that are in are grass green, shocking pink, butter yellow, and as always red, white, and blue. Two-tone combinations of navy and white which never seem to go out are still in. But shades of lavender and purple hues that had prestige last year are strictly for grandmothers now.

Chiffon is out with some designers such as Norman Norell, but it is very in with most. With designer George Stavropoulos, it is very much in, indeed he uses it to cover figure faults in the filmiest, most flattering way possible.

His gowns are long sleeved, necklines are high to eliminate what he considers unnecessary exposure, and skirts are long and graceful often with winklelike panels.

Personalized Foyers Radiate Warmth

NEW YORK (Special) — Should you have amnesia and suddenly awake in a foyer, you would not need a crystal ball to tell what room you were in, for the contemporary American foyer is probably the most stereotyped room in the house.

CREATE SECOND LIVING ROOM—One noted interior designer suggests turning a medium-sized foyer into a second living room. Here, one wall has been covered with a dramatic floral print, the other faced with bricks and painted white—echoing the white brick-patterned vinyl flooring.

"The Country Look" If you want "the country look," you might choose the tall red armchair from a new "France in the country" collection, concealing a refrigerator and bar. Thus your foyer becomes the service area for parties, relieving the burden of the dining room and kitchen.

Extra Living Space Even a small foyer can sometimes serve as extra living space. A cozy reading corner, a welcome retreat from the distraction in the family room, might be set up there.

An excellent choice would be one of the new, high-styled recliners or rockers, with three remarkably comfortable positions. Or you might try a swivel rocker by the same firm—the closest thing to "instant comfort" on the market today.

Britain Snubs Red Charges Against U.S. LONDON (AP) — A Foreign Office spokesman rejected today a formal Soviet attempt to condemn American actions in Indochina.

Private, British authorities have formed the impression that the Soviet Union produced and published the message assailing the Americans as a means of countering Red Chinese charges that Moscow is in collusion with Washington in order to negotiate a compromise peace in Viet Nam.

Mayors Favor Fluoridation Of Dallas Water

DALLAS (AP) — Mayors of two towns that buy their water from the city of Dallas said Sunday they favor fluoridation of the water supply.

Dallas voters will decide Jan. 29 on adding fluoride compounds to the water as a means of fighting tooth decay.

Cockrell Hill Mayor B. H. Eaton and Farmers Branch Mayor A. J. Alroid said the question of fluoridation has not been controversial in the Dallas County communities, as in the city of Dallas.

The Trinity Sands, he said, is naturally charged with the recommended level of fluoride—one part fluoride to one million parts water.

Four City Youths Are Chosen For All-State Choir

Four students from Lubbock high schools were selected for positions in the All-State Choir in competition held Sunday at West Texas State University in Canyon.

Susan Good, Monterey High School, was chosen All-State second soprano. First alto position went to Donna Smith, Monterey.

The All-State Choir will appear at the meeting of the Texas Music Educators Association in February.

Twenty Lubbock students competed with other students from the south zone of Region 1. Only 16 contestants from this region were named to All-State Choir.

Auto To Serve As Vote Booth

GAITHERSBURG, Md. (AP) — An automobile will be the makeshift voting booth for residents near this small town Jan. 31 in a vote on proposed annexation of a 13-acre tract.

There are no adequate facilities on the tract, and local law says this is where the election must be held, so a city automobile, curtained off for privacy, will be the voting booth.

Colombia Hunts Smugglers

By DANIEL HMMARKER
BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Colombia has denounced the existence of "an international Mafia" which it says is smuggling arms and luxury goods into this country, using a fleet of private planes and an extensive network of airports.

The denunciation said the smuggling of arms was done by "foreign organizations that are trying to create in the country a climate of subversion."

The government spokesman who made the charges declined to say whether he was talking about Communist activity.

Clandestine Flights
The spokesman said foreign luxury goods, such as television sets, transistor radios, American cigarettes and whisky, are being brought in through clandestine flights.

Colombia does not allow the importation of luxury goods and in the case of cigarettes and whisky it demands payment of stiff duties reaching up to 400 percent of original value.

During December two DCs, crashed at night trying to land at private airports. It was discovered that both were carrying smuggled goods. It was also revealed that during 1965 the plane had intercepted several small planes carrying arms and goods when they tried to land at private airports. Those planes did not have markings.

Hard To Stop
The government acknowledged that it is almost impossible to stop such flights due to the existence of "more than 2,500 private airports" and to the lack of adequate radar systems and patrol planes.

One explanation given for the intensified aerial smuggling is increased patrolling of the Colombian coasts and land borders. At the beginning of 1965 Colombia bought a fleet of fast patrol boats from West Germany equipped with radar and machine guns.

The smuggling of arms is believed to be done with the aim of arming the several Communist-led guerrilla groups now operating in the mountains. Another big market for smuggled weapons is the average Colombian citizen who traditionally likes sidearms, especially in the rural areas. The sale of arms in Colombia is forbidden, including sporting weapons.

A bottle of smuggled scotch sells for $3.50 while a legally imported bottle sells for $9. A smuggled television set is $100 while a Colombian-produced set, of inferior quality, brings $400.

The planes do not leave the country empty. Most of the time they carry coffee to Aruba and other places where it is shipped to the United States. In this way they do not pay stiff taxes amounting to 50 per cent of the value of the export.

Two Are Injured In Rural Crash

A car occupied by two Idaho men overturned twice on a farm road northeast of Idalou Sunday afternoon, injuring both occupants, neither seriously.

Felix Rodriguez Jr., 30, identified by officers as the driver of one of two cars involved, was treated and released from Methodist Hospital. His companion, Guadalupe Singletary, 41, suffered a broken arm and was taken to an Idalou doctor for treatment.

Highway Patrolman H. D. Clesker said the mishap occurred about 3:30 p.m., 13 miles northeast of Idalou on FM 789 when cars driven by Rodriguez and Guy Dane Qualls, Rt. 2, Plainview, collided.

Clesker said both cars were traveling north, and Qualls had started to pass another car, but before he had completed passing, Rodriguez, who was ahead of the two vehicles, also started to pass a car.

Qualls was not injured.

Business & Industrial Review OF LUBBOCK

One Hour Sunatizing Is Friend To Housewives

Winter chill brings on a need for more clothes, and when more clothes are worn, more clothes have to be cleaned. The housewife must work harder, do more. Also with winter comes shorter daylight days — less time for the housewife to get her work done, forcing her to work far into the darkness hours. But in Lubbock, the housewife has a friend to help with the laundry and cleaning. One Hour Sunatizing at 4115 19th St., can be that friend — the answer to all the housewife's cleaning needs. The fast service and quality work of One Hour Sunatizing can be beneficial to the housewife in many ways. It can give her more time to work on other little necessities around the home, more time with the children, more time to prepare the meals for the man of the house and more time to rest — something every housewife needs. Drapes, slipcovers, couch covers and whatever else that needs cleaning about the house will be beautifully finished at One Hour Sunatizing. School clothes, work clothes, dress clothes are finished to a new cleanliness. And there will be no drycleaning odor whatever left in your cleaned items, because One Hour Sunatizing uses an odorless solvent, not a petroleum-base solvent. One hour drycleaning service offered until 4 p.m. each day at no extra cost with reasonable prices on all items to be drycleaned. One Hour Sunatizing also offer same day service on shirts, with any shirt brought in by 9 a.m. out by 5 p.m. Each shirt will be folded or placed on a hanger to suit the customer's choice for only 25 cents. One Hour Sunatizing is the only drycleaner in Lubbock that does its own shirts on premises. It is a Nelson Brothers Franchise, and is a young, fast-growing organization eager to meet and satisfy the customer's needs. One Hour Sunatizing realizes that speed is essential in our modern way of life, and a drive-in window helps to pass on this courtesy to the customers. So, if you want fast service, quality work and nice packaging, go by and check with One Hour Sunatizing at 4115 19th St. They are open from 7 a.m. until 6 p.m., six days per week.

McBrayer Piano Company Does 'Complete' Job

One of the most important things in any industry or business is knowledge of that industry or business, a knowledge to do a complete job and do it well. McBrayer Piano Co., 4219 34th St., sells pianos and organs, and now they are distributor for Baldwin Guitars and amplifiers. But just selling a product doesn't complete the job. McBrayer is one of the few businesses of its kind in this area equipped to do a complete repair or rebuilding job on any piano or organ. McBrayer also does custom refinishing including antique finishes and complete restyling of older models. Well, it's not at McBrayer. McBrayer Piano Co. has a huge display van for taking pianos and organs to outlying communities for display and sales purposes, giving residents of the area a chance to shop without traveling miles to see the display. That's complete you say? Well perhaps it is, but McBrayer still does a better job. The firm has an electronic engineer, equipped to work on any electronic piece of equipment, including church or school speaker systems. McBrayer adds another extra. The owners, Darrell, J. D. and J. E. McBrayer do not have extra commissioned salesmen in the firm. They, along with R. C. Matheny and David Howell, use the finest finishing materials available. But just selling and repairing or rebuilding a product is not a complete job at McBrayer Piano Co. The firm also has teaching studios where three qualified pianos and organ teachers are on duty constantly, teaching in the private studios. And McBrayer often clears the floor of its spacious showroom, sets in chairs and loans the area free of charge to music teachers for recitals. The space is capable of accommodating up to 300 persons, and McBrayer serves refreshments too. You think that is a complete job?

Payne's Jewelers Announces Sale

Payne's Jewelers and Gifts of 5302 Briercroft Center has enjoyed one of the most successful years that it has had in the past 10 years in business in Lubbock. The staff of Payne's Jewelers wants to take this opportunity to thank you for the past patronage that you, the customer, have given them. Payne's Jewelers also wishes to announce the start of the annual "Red Tag" January clearance sale which will start Wednesday, Jan. 12, and run through Jan. 22. Payne's Jewelers extends an invitation to all the old customers and new customers and those who have never been in the store to come in and take advantage of the many bargains offered for this sale. Some of the items at Payne's are reduced up to 50 per cent. Here is one example of the many bargains: one floor clock, Seth Thomas Electric, walnut finish, modern design, about five feet high, regular price $189.50, but during the "Red Tag" sale the price will be only $89.95. Payne's also has one Gents Mido wrist watch of yellow gold regularly priced at $125, during the sale at only $59.95. Here are some of the many name brand lines that Payne's carries in the new store. In the gift lines there's famous brands of wall decorations by Syroco, the finest in decorative accessories. Each Syroco accessory is an exact reproduction of an original brand carved wood model. The trusted seal "by Syroco" is your guarantee of uncompromising quality. Another of the many lines Payne's carries is the solid brass line by Baldwin. With pride and painstaking care, Baldwin has produced "Georgetown," a collection of brass accessories identical to many of the articles that once graced those rich interiors. Payne's carries other lines such as Artcarved Diamonds, Star of Africa Diamonds, colored stone rings by Kimberly, Hyde Park men's desk accessories, Kremenetz gold jewelry for men and women, Speidel, Bulova, Wyler, Croton watches, Cross and Sheaffers pen sets, Andon Jewelry for men, clocks by Seth Thomas, General Electric, Herschede and Westclox, Lotus crystal in the anniversary line. Cormaking a complete selling force. They do their own selling, rebuilding, delivery, tuning and other services, therefore no commissions are paid out, passing on a savings to the customers. There's built-in stereo sound to enhance your shopping pleasure. McBrayer displays an average of about 100 units of pianos and organs on the floor. The firm has organs all the way from small spinets to the great Baldwin Theater organ. It has church organs from a small chapel organ to the Baldwin Model 12, 360 watt full church organ. McBrayer has spinet pianos and console pianos in Howard and Aeolian lines, all made by Baldwin. There's the famous Hamilton Studio piano and Baldwin Grand pianos in all sizes. McBrayer has been serving Texas 56 years under one name. The prime reason for opening in Lubbock was that McBrayer felt a complete rebuilding shop was needed in the area. All work is done with pride at McBrayer. Refinishing is done in any style or color and to fit any decor. Complete Job? Yes Sir. Call McBrayer Piano Co. SWS-9313, Home of Baldwin.

That Girl on Broadway says money may not be everything, but there are times when it can't be beat.

Times do change. For instance, thrift once was a family word and now it's practically obsolete, even in the bank advertisements.

TODAY'S POME

You can learn many things from children, And not the least of the lot Concerns your degree of patience; How much or how little you've got.

S. Omar Barker.

Thought for the day: Only time will cure a hangover—and it takes its own sweet time in doing it!

THOSE STOLID, unimaginative citizens who maintain, with considerable logic, that modern art is a state of mind—and of not a very stable mind, at that—have some new ammunition to throw at those who "ah" and "ah" over senseless dabblings of one kind or another.

Over in our neighboring city of Albuquerque recently, the City Council bought a couple of gorillas to add to the Duke City zoo—bought 'em on the cuff, incidentally, on acct. of the zoo fund at the time was depleted.

When the simians were properly lodged behind bars, one Dr. Frank Hibben, a professor of anthropology at the University of New Mexico, noticed they appeared bored. So he gave them some water colors to play with and by the results, he hopes to gauge the gorillas' intelligence.

Although the good professor had no idea of starting a new trend in modern art, the monkeys immediately went to work and produced, 'tis claimed, some "truly magnificent modern masterpieces." Some guy in Albuquerque was so taken by the masterpieces that he laid 1,000 bucks on the line for one; other "art lovers" and "critics" went into ecstasies as art patrons in Texas and Michigan began showing interest in buying some.

DAN BURROWS, more of a racetrack specialist than an authority on culture, whooped from the columns of the Albuquerque Tribune, which he edits, that "Albuquerque is the gorilla art capital of the world!"

All this is especially ducky, since the Albuquerque City Council is 15 Gs in the hole as the result of its purchase of the monkeys "on the cuff." If enough pictures can be produced and sold, it may be the gorillas won't cost the taxpayers a dime.

Of course, only time will tell the whole story and it may be that the primary interest of the gorillas will shift any day now from art to bananas, or flea-picking. But in case they keep on turning out "modern masterpieces," there's at least one celebrated gallery which might well buy and exhibit a few.

It's the Guggenheim Museum of Modern Art on New York's Fifth Avenue, where-at they've got more paintings that don't make no sense than any other place in the country!

The season to be jolly is over when the bills come piling in.

That Man on Avenue Q says the older a man gets, the easier it is for a young woman to make a fool of him.

Living within one's income has a lot to recommend it, but it doesn't often generate a lot of fun.

YEARS AGO, it sagely was noted here that Lubbock could not seriously consider itself a city until it boasted (1) a pole down which firemen slide from their sleeping quarters to their ground floor equipment; (2) a revolving door and (3) a moving stairway.

Time rocked along and we got these accoutrements of a metropolis which fact, certainly, was chronicled here with the blousing of bugles. Now there's still another indication that we're solidly in the city class—an indication which may be shocking to some oldtimers but which, nonetheless is proof positive.

More and more Lubbock businessmen are keeping "New York hours," at least when it comes to getting on the job; more and more of them are not showing up at their offices until around 10 a.m.

If this isn't "big city" stuff, there ain't no such thing.

THERE STILL are some of us around here who remember when the business day for everybody started at the very latest at 8 o'clock in the a.m. Nobody ever waited until 9 o'clock, let alone 10, to show up, unless he'd broken his leg on the way to work.

But several times recently, I've made pre-10 a.m. telephone calls to some of our quotes busy executives close quotes, only to be informed by startled secretaries that "oh, Mister Blank hasn't come in yet this morning. He'll probably be in about 10."

And one can tell by the tone of their voices that they simply can't understand anybody who expects an Important Man to be around any earlier than mid-morning.

OF COURSE, this indication indicates something else besides Lubbock's becoming a metropolitan center.

It further indicates that either there's a lot of prosperity around, or that a good many business men have decided there's no use working their heads off if doing so only means shipping more cash annually to the "Great Society."

But whatever the reason, the trend in Lubbock today is "high style"—high style when it comes to going to work, anyway!

BILLY GRAHAM:

My Answer

QUESTION: We prayed faithfully for Dr. Paul Carlson in the Congo, and yet he was killed. Why pray, if God willed that he die? Mrs. U. F.

ANSWER: Dr. Paul Carlson, Christian that he was, would not have questioned the matter of his dying, and regretted that he had ever prayed. His noble, sacrificial death, has been an inspiration and a benediction to all Christians.

To pray for something you want very badly, with the awareness that you are going to feel bitter toward God if you do not get your way, is really not praying; it is a selfish wish put into the form of a prayer.

The prayer we should pray for Christians who are undergoing persecution, is not that they be spared suffering, but that in their suffering that they will be given strength to endure it as a Christian, and that, whether spared or not, that God will get glory to His name from their dedication.

Dr. Paul Carlson was given unusual strength during the hours preceding his martyrdom, and he died as a Christian should die; courageously, forgivingly and without malice or regrets.

The time may come when many of us may be called upon to die for the glory of our Lord. If so we should not pray to be spared, but to follow the example of our Lord and say: "Not my will, but thine be done."

ALLEN & SCOTT:

End Of Lull In Raids Set

WASHINGTON—Tentative deadline for expiration of the North Viet Nam bombing lull is Jan. 15.

This will cover the period Alexander Shelepin, special Kremlin envoy, is expected to be in Hanoi. The purpose of this mission has never been indicated.

Authoritative Administration sources stress that the duration of the bombing lull is "flexible." It could run beyond the 15th, or be terminated before then.

IT ALL DEPENDS on "developments" in both Viet Nam and elsewhere.

Asked what was meant by "developments," one high-placed official replied, "Any sign that continuance of the bombing suspension would further the prospects of peace. On the other hand, a large-scale Communist offensive or a particularly barbarous act of terrorism could abruptly end the lull."

"Does that mean the next move is up to the Reds?"

"That's about it," was the reply. "We're leaving the door wide open and hoping for the best. But we are also preparing for the worst."

ANOTHER DATE very much on the minds of President Johnson and his lieutenants is Feb. 28—when Prime Minister Harold Wilson is slated to fly to Moscow for conferences.

An unanswered question is whether the President's hectic worldwide peace probes will be prolonged until then.

That would seem improbable barring some manifestation of encouragement from the Communists. But Administration insiders would venture no opinion one way or the other.

THE ONLY answer was, "Every possible avenue toward peace is being fully and earnestly explored."

One of the strangest of these "avenues" is the following:

From sources known to them in Red China, some wealthy U.S. Chinese businessmen received what they described as "very vague peace feelers." This information was conveyed to a Senator, who reported it to Secretary Rusk's office.

There the matter was turned over to John Merriman, member of Rusk's staff.

THIS IS AS much as is known about this mysterious affair. The Senator has heard nothing further, and neither have the businessmen.

As a direct consequence of the bombing lull, the Joint Chiefs of Staff estimate that the Communists now have the capability of launching large-scale attacks late this month or early in February.

This grim conclusion is based on intelligence reports indicating that upwards of 10,000 North Vietnamese troops and large quantities of supplies have been moved into South Viet Nam, though Laos, in the past several weeks. This intelligence is based on U.S. reconnaissance flights.

THEY WERE considerably increased last week as a result of these disturbing disclosures. In the first days of the bombing lull, only a few reconnaissance flights were made.

On the recommendation of Defense Secretary McNamara, President Johnson has decided to include a special Viet Nam budget in his regular budget message.

This has never been done before. The special budget will be part of the Defense budget and will spell out in general detail the funds requested for the Viet Nam conflict.

Pentagon insiders are saying these expenditures will be between $10 billion and $15 billion.

TWO MIDWESTERN Democratic governors have a direct personal interest in President Johnson's wide-ranging peace offensive. The success or failure of this drive may largely determine whether Governors Frank Morrison of Nebraska and Harold Hughes of Iowa seek reelection or try to unseat incumbent Republican Senators.

Both governors are eager to go to the Senate. Morrison, a third term, faces seeking an unprecedented fourth term. Hughes would have to run for a third term. That's why both prefer aiming for the Senate.

BUT BOTH ARE shrinking from that if the Viet Nam conflict continues. Privately they consider that a major handicap in their Midwestern states.

National Democratic leaders have been vigorously urging Governor Morrison to run against Republican Sen. Carl Curtis, up for a third term this year, and Governor Hughes against Sen. Jack Miller, seeking a second term. Both Republican Senators are admittedly strong candidates, and would be difficult to beat even without the Vietnamese war issues.

TO GET first-hand information on the Viet Nam outlook, Morrison is coming to Washington this week and Hughes later in the month. Both will confer with President Johnson.

Democratic National Committee sources are credited as intimating that the President is so eager to have Hughes and Morrison oppose Curtis and Miller that they will be named to the Federal bench if they aren't elected.

GRANDHOSE PLANS for a "march of the poor" on Washington have sputtered out. Lack of money and interest is the apparent cause for the flop.

Planned to coincide with President Johnson's State of the Union message to Congress this week, the demonstration was to dramatize the alleged lack of participation by the poor in the anti-poverty program. Marchers from New York, Syracuse, Newark, Philadelphia, Chicago, Cleveland and other cities were to take part.

A PLANNING session several months ago in Princeton, N.J., was spearheaded by a Chicago group called JOIN, made up largely of representatives from the Appalachia area. JOIN and other groups are splinters from the Students for a Democratic Society, the anti-draft and Viet Nam organization with headquarters in Chicago.

The scheme for the Washington march apparently never got beyond the planning stage. Washington groups which were to be active say they have heard nothing further. A representative of the Citizens Crusade Against Poverty, sponsored by Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers, indicates that appeals for funds "fell flat."

TODAY'S EDITORIAL:

Population Up And Down

A POPULATION paradox affecting almost every phase of life in Texas was discussed the other day by Walter B. Moore.

Writing in the Dallas News, Mr. Moore noted that population in Texas is growing rapidly but shrinking at the same time.

This paradox, he says, is part of a nationwide—and worldwide—rush to live in urbanized areas. It influences business, government, crime and every other facet of our lives.

To illustrate what is taking place in Texas, Mr. Moore notes that the State's population almost tripled from 1910 to 1965. But many Texas counties have fewer residents now than they did 50 years ago. Others have multiplied population many times in the half-century.

"A map of population changes in Texas in the past 50 years," writes Mr. Moore, "will show islands of urban growth surrounded by seas of counties with little population increase or decrease. There are, of course, exceptions among nonurbanized counties. The Panhandle Plains of Northwest Texas and the Gulf Coast region from Louisiana to the Rio Grande are the two largest areas where practically all counties are more populous now than in 1910.

"Comparison of cities and towns of Texas shows the same trend, of course. Many towns that seemed to have a great future when Dad was a boy have almost disappeared now.

WILLIAM S. WHITE:

Ho's Scowling At Peace Move Remindful Of Adolf Hitler

WASHINGTON—In an increasing arrogance reminiscent of Adolf Hitler, the Communist dictator of North Viet Nam scowls like a bird of evil omen over the worldwide campaign of the United States to bring an honorable end to the war in South Viet Nam.

Beyond doubt emboldened by shrill and ceaseless demands of a pacifist-isolationist minority here at home that we abandon South Viet Nam, Ho Chi Minh has all but turned down already the most openhanded and generous peace offer ever made by a great power in the world's history.

ONLY A MIRACLE can bring an armistice of decency; only some change of mind within the brooding prison camp that North Viet Nam has become.

Still, the attempt was worth the making. And if it is indeed to end only in contemptuous enemy rejection, all of this nation will now know where it stands and all of the world will now know who it is that is implacably determined upon more war.

THE ESTIMATE of the most skilled and objective of our career intelligence officers is that those in other lands outside the Communist bloc who once had genuine questions about the integrity of our purposes have those doubts no longer.

But one must qualify a bit. Not quite all of this nation will even now concede the plain reality. Already, the far-out home spokesmen for a peace at any price—so long as the quick and obvious victim is a ravaged South Viet Nam whose agonies have never yet penetrated into their ivory towers—are preparing the necessary apologies for Ho's unaltered bellicosity.

WELL, YES, they are now saying, perhaps it is true that President Johnson really walked the last mile—maybe. (It is, after all, hard to ignore completely the personally dispatched messages, to 115 nations and to the Pope in Rome, whose earnest good faith has in fact moved even some Iron Curtain leaders to privately whispered expressions of faith in our national motives.)

Still, so goes the apologetics of the far-outs, one can't be truly and absolutely sure that the President was truly and absolutely sincere until we make it plain, in advance, that in any possible negotiations we would certainly accede to all Communist demands and make none of our own.

SYLVIA PORTER:

Eating Out Can Pinch

AS YOUR COST of living climbs relentlessly to all-time highs in 1968, keep in mind that you yourself are responsible for part of the rise in your costs. It's your own voluntary "trading up" in your purchases which is absorbing an increasing share of the extra dollars you earn. It's your own deliberate spending on higher quality, and thus naturally more expensive, things and non-things which—coming on top of the generally rising price level—helps explain the pocketbook pinch you feel.

Nowhere is this more obvious than in the powerful trend toward eating out.

YOU, THE AVERAGE American, are now spending $1 in $5 of your food dollars and $1 in $20 of your after-tax dollars for eating out—an average of more than $400 a year for each U.S. family.

As a nation, we are now spending more than $20 billion a year for food away from home, quadruple the sum we spent in the late 1940s. Our spending in a whole range of eating and drinking places is increasing at a rate of 9 per cent a year, about double the rate of rise in amounts we spend on food for eating at home.

EATING OUT has rapidly developed into one of the biggest businesses in the U.S. and it will become even bigger in the years directly ahead. Consider these facts of the boom:

Restaurant eating and hotel-motel living have soared along with our rising income, and use of credit cards, lengthening weekends and vacations, superhighways and auto ownership. Traditional "eating and drinking places" account for three-fourths of our spending to eat out—and city families in the $15,000 and over after-tax income bracket actually spend one-third of their food dollars on eating out.

SCHOOL LUNCHES and school cafeterias are multiplying as enrollments at all levels increase and as the National School Lunch Program expands. More than 17 million school children now get free or low-cost school lunches under this program.

Companies and government agencies are installing cafeterias and other eating facilities at a record clip to offer employees low-cost or no-cost lunches. It's now estimated that more than half of all workers eat at least one meal each weekday away from home—either in the company cafeteria or in nearby eating places. Says one spokesman of the "industrial feeding" industry: "The lunch pail has been replaced by the coffee break and plant cafeteria."

THE BOOMS in travel, vacation, and leisure time have spurred a dramatic growth in roadside restaurants, airline meals, restaurants in airline and bus terminals, in resorts and national parks. One quick-lunch outfit is selling around 150 million hamburgers a year. Food vending machines are sprouting in office buildings, shopping centers, gas stations, schools, factories.

Our national concern for health and medical care translates into more meals in hospitals, mental institutions, nursing homes. Medicare will add thousands of elderly citizens to today's peak hospital population and mean more meals for them. The rise in our elderly population also means more restaurants and food-catering services in retirement communities and more pre-cooked "meals on wheels" for those who live at home.

The ever-climbing total of working women and working wives is an extremely important factor. The working wife eats out during the day just as her husband does, of course—and the two often have dinner out as well. The income the working wife brings in also goes for family spurges in restaurants.

Clearly basic to the whole eating-out spurge is your trading up. Millions of you don't "need" to spend the additional dollars eating out; you could shop the food stores for the best bargains, prepare all meals at home. But you "want" to eat out—and there's one key reason for your pocketbook pinch.

RUTH MILLETT:

We—The Women

ARE YOU WORKING at becoming a widow? In the final chapter of his book, "How Not to Kill Your Husband," Dr. Kenneth C. Hutchins lists "46 fatal ways to make yourself a widow."

There's not room to list all 46 in this column, but here are some of the ways by which the doctor thinks wives turn themselves into widows: Arrange social engagements for every evening in the week.

Think up as many strenuous jobs as you can for him to do around the house and yard. Make him angry. Keep him constantly on the boil.

ENCOURAGE HIM to bring home work from the office to do in his "leisure" time.

Get him to talking about his worries just before bedtime.

Set the alarm late enough so that he always has to hurry in the morning.

Never let him have his own way in anything. Never let him get away with anything. If he has made a mistake, be sure to point it out to him.

Tell him how to drive.

Never let him have a meal in peace. (Always bring up some bone of contention.)

NEVER ALLOW him to know anything that is going on in the family. (Play the game of keeping things from father.)

That's just part of the doctor's list. But it ought to be enough to give you an idea of whether or not you are working at becoming a widow. If you don't do anything on that list, then you probably wouldn't be guilty of any of the other crimes, either. For in a way they are all of a kind. They are based on the idea that husband is indestructible, isn't quite as bright as his wife, and that his main duty in life is to do as his wife pleases.

How can there be much peace on earth as long as there is the electric guitar. Adam and Eve had their problems, but they didn't have to write any "thank you" notes.

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)

Gov. J. Millard Tawes said today he expects Bernard J. Schmidt, Baltimore police commissioner, to vacate his post "as soon as the details of his retirement can be worked out."

The governor's statement came after a meeting with the police commissioner in the wake of a report highly critical of the department. The report, by a special commission studying the effectiveness of the police force, charged flagrant vice, poor administration and organized crime existed with the knowledge of police authorities.

Tawes said since the "main thrust of the report points clearly to the need for a new police commissioner, I suggested that the commissioner might give some consideration to applying for retirement. I think he is inclined to do that. I expect that I will be receiving a letter from him in the next few days doing just that."

Russian Rejects U.S. Peace Move

MOSCOW (UPI) - The chief of a Soviet delegation to North Viet Nam has flatly rejected the sincerity of current U.S. quest for peace in Viet Nam and urged the Asian Communists to keep on fighting, it was reported today.

"The fact is that the United States, while publicizing its so-called peace initiative, keeps on increasing the number of its armed forces in South Viet Nam," Shelepin said.

Chicago Aide George Allen May Get Post With Rams

LOS ANGELES (AP)—George Allen, defensive coach of the Chicago Bears, has become the No. 1 prospect for the Los Angeles Rams' coaching job.

Allen arrived Sunday in Los Angeles for an interview with Rams owner Dan Reeves. Reeves fired Harland Svare from the head coaching post two weeks ago.

Since then, the National Football League club owner has refused to speculate on Svare's successor. But over the weekend he announced through a spokesman that Allen was flying here from Chicago.

The interview is scheduled this afternoon and a news conference may follow, the spokesman said.

Sources close to Reeves listed Allen's competition as: Paul Brown, former owner and coach of the Cleveland Browns; Sid Gillman, a Ram head coach in 1955-59 and now field boss of the San Diego Chargers of the American Football League; Buddy Parker, former coach of the Detroit Lions and Pittsburgh Steelers; and George Wilson, until last year coach of the Detroit Lions and now a Washington Redskins assistant.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle has ruled against an owner hiring the head coach of another league team.

And Reeves has virtually ruled out reaching into the college ranks, saying: "It is highly unlikely that we would take a college coach—not impossible, but highly unlikely."

Allen, 43, is no stranger to the West Coast. He has head coach at Whittier College in 1951-56, then spent a year as end coach for the Rams.

In 1958 he went to the Bears as a defensive assistant and scout. After helping sign such rookie-of-the-year choices as end

Mike Ditka, in 1960, and half-back Ronnie Bull, in 1961, Allen succeeded Clark Shaughnessy in 1963 as chief defensive coach.

"Allen has done an outstanding job," Bear Coach George Halas noted, "particularly in improving our pass defense."

In the Bears' world championship season that year, Allen's defensive team led the NFL in 10 of 19 statistical categories and was second in eight others. The pass defenders set a Bears' team record with 36 interceptions.

A native of Detroit, Allen played varsity football at Marquette University in Milwaukee and at Alma (Mich.) College.

Svare, 34, became the young-

By EARL SCUDDAY

A FUNNY THING happened to the Dallas Cowboys on their way to the NFL Playoff Bowl in Miami Sunday. They forgot that they would have to play a bunch of old pros named the Baltimore Colts.

And those same old pros, guys named Lenny Moore, Raymond Berry, Jim Parker, Bob Boyd and Jerry Hill, taught the young Cowboys a valuable—if somewhat painful—lesson. You don't beat a good team in the NFL without 100 per cent preparation, 100 per cent execution and 150 per cent effort.

The Cowboys, despite the fact that they were playing in their first post-season game in their brief history, just were not mentally ready for the big day. They acted like all they had to do to win was to show up.

But those Baltimore pros, with money at stake and a chance to regain a lot of prestige after their recent losses to Green Bay, stomped on the po' Cowboys with both feet.

Packers Find Dallas Tough

THE LOT OF THE LOSER ever is difficult, and no doubt a great many persons will use the 35-3 trouncing to argue that Dallas still is the inept team that staggered through its first years in the toughest football league in the world.

That's not entirely fair, because any team—college or pro—cannot be judged on the basis of one game.

Back during the regular season, Dallas played the Green Bay Packers at Milwaukee. The Cowboys turned in a tremendous defensive game, holding the Packers to something like a total of 63 yards in total offense. Green Bay finally won, 13-3, thanks to a Dallas fumble on the Cowboys' own 20-yard line.

In their other outing against Western Division competition, the Cowboys outscored the San Francisco 49ers, who were one of the better teams this season.

During the regular season, Dallas gave up fewer points than any other team in the Eastern Division, 280. Only Green Bay and Baltimore in the West gave up fewer tallies over the 14-game route.

So all that cannot be wiped away on the basis of one post-season, rather meaningless contest.

THE BEST REASON for the Dallas debacle probably is found in a statement made by Smiling Bud Wilkinson, the former Oklahoma grid wizard, shortly before the flurry of bowl activity.

Always beware of the possibility of upsets in the bowls, said Bud, because you never know how a team has reacted to the long layoff between the end of the regular season and the kickoff of the holiday classics.

The New Year's tussles showed that Bud was right, as usual. Three teams previously undefeated, Michigan State, Arkansas and Nebraska, all bit the dust from Pasadena to Miami.

Obviously, something had taken the edge off the Michigan State and Arkansas machines. The Spartans already had defeated UCLA once this season, and the Razorback defense was a thing of beauty in the clutch for 10 consecutive games.

But a month's layoff took its toll. There's only a slim margin between winning and losing, at best.

Cowboys Need Fast Halfback

TAKING A LOOK into the crystal ball, it is apparent that Dallas coach Tom Landry still faces some rebuilding work before the Cowboys will be able to play powerhouses like Green Bay, Chicago and Baltimore on equal terms.

Landry reconstructed his offensive line this season, but it still leans badly against a determined rush by a skillful opponent. Rookie tackle Ralph Neely, a 255-pounder, made good progress this year. Next season he will be joined by the Cowboys' No. 1 choice in the recent draft, All-America guard John Niland of Iowa, a 250-pounder.

The Cowboys' offense this season was tremendously handicapped by the lack of a halfback with enough speed to go outside. Don Perkins is a fine inside runner at fullback, although on the small side, but he cannot go wide.

There's no one on the Dallas draft list who rates as a fast, capable halfback, so this problem may be difficult to solve. The only immediate solution would be to move the speedy Mel Renfro from his defensive safety spot to the offensive unit.

The Cowboys have come a long way since that 1960 season, when they started with a scraggly squad of castoffs and untried rookies. They have sound coaching, unlimited money and good organization.

That should produce a winner one of these days.

NCAA TO GET REPORT

Houston U. Grid Program Is Rumored Under Study

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Post said Sunday night the National Collegiate Athletic Association's policy-making council may "take a look at the University of Houston football program" at its first business meeting today in Washington.

The newspaper said School President Dr. Philip Hoffman, Athletic Director Harry Fouke and Dr. Frank Stovall, the NCAA faculty representative, are expected to present the findings of a University-conducted investigation into its own program.

"The NCAA is believed to have dealt with the school's football program, but not necessarily its recruiting," the Post said.

University representatives were not available for comment Sunday night in Washington.

Texas Ags Surprise In SWC

(By The Associated Press)

Texas A&M accomplished two things in the first week of Southwest Conference basketball competition.

They not only took the lead last week as the only undefeated team in league action, but they were able to win away from home.

Home Teams Win
With the exception of A&M's win over wireless Rice at Houston Saturday night, no SWC team was able to win on the road. The Aggies topped Rice 92-85.

Had Rice won the game as all other home teams had been able to do during the week, the conference would have been locked in an eight-way tie.

Earlier last week, the Aggies beat co-champion Southern Methodist 85-78. The College Station five tangles with Arkansas at home Tuesday and then goes before the television cameras Saturday at Waco as they play Baylor in an afternoon game.

Hogs Beat Tech
Arkansas, which boasts a 7-3 mark, shocked pre-season favorite Texas Tech Saturday 74-65.

Baylor and Southern Methodist bounced back from conference opening losses to win their games Saturday. The Bears defeated Texas Christian 89-75 and SMU handed Texas a 99-78 setback at Dallas.

Basketball action in the conference will be curtailed during the next few weeks as semester examinations take the spotlight.

Unbeaten Kentucky Heads For Showdown With Vandy

KICKING TO VICTORY—Kansas' Jim Ryun leads Great Britain's John Whetton (4) and Alvan Simpson (2) through the second lap of the mile run at San Francisco Invitational track meet Saturday night. Ryun won in 4:02.1 to clip 3 1/2 seconds off the meet record. Whetton took second with 4:02.5 fastest ever indoors by a British runner. (AP Wirephoto)

AMERICAN POLE VAULT MARK FALLS

Pennel, Ryun Give Indoor Track Season Fast Start

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An American record in the most spectacular event sends the 1966 United States indoor track season off to an auspicious start, thanks to a man with an aching back.

Veteran John Pennel pole vaulted 16 feet, 7 1/4 inches Saturday night as the final competitor in the third annual Examiner Invitational meet to erase the Cow Palace record set last year by Billy Pennelton.

The 25-year-old AAU champion, who says a chronic back ailment continues to give him trouble, cleared the height on his third try to the full attention of the Cow Palace audience since all other events had been completed.

Two Kansans with speed and stamina highlighted the running events. Nineteen-year-old Jim Ryun won the mile in 4:02.1, clipping 3.5 seconds off the Cow Palace record, and John Lawson upset Gerry Lindgren in the two-mile with 8:40.4, a meet record.

Ryun led most of the way. Despite a heavy cold, he had enough left to run back the challenge of England's John Whetton, who ran the fastest indoor mile in 4:02.5.

Spotlight Battle In SEC Slated Saturday

By JEFF MEYERS
UPI Sports Writer

The Kentucky Wildcats, second-ranked and unbeaten in 10 games, are looking ahead to Saturday's showdown with Vanderbilt but can't help looking back to a similar situation two seasons ago.

In 1964, the Wildcats also were 10-0, ranked No. 2 in the United Press International coaches ratings and looking forward to an important Southeastern Conference clash with the Commodores two days after playing Georgia Tech. But they lost both games.

Similarly, the Wildcats have to hurdle SEC foe Georgia tonight before taking on the Commodores at Lexington. Third-ranked Vandy is gunning for its second consecutive SEC crown while Kentucky is seeking to regain the title it lost last season. The Commodores also must play Mississippi (tonight) and tough Tennessee (Wednesday).

Top-ranked Duke is faced with a three-game Atlantic Coast Conference schedule this week. The Blue Devils, seeking their third league crown in four seasons, meet Clemson (Tuesday), Maryland (Thursday) and Wake Forest (Saturday).

Only independent, the sixth-ranked Providence, the only independent in the top 10, is home Saturday against bitter rival Boston College, while the remainder of the college elite play league games.

Only the Friars were idle last Saturday as nine of the top 10 quintets saw action, with ninth-ranked Iowa the only member to lose.

Duke won its ninth consecutive encounter after losing to South Carolina by whipping SEC foe North Carolina 88-77 behind the 29-point effort of Bob Verga, and Kentucky ripped Florida 78-64 as sophomore Thad Jaracz scored 26 points. Kentucky and Texas Western are the only major unbeaten teams.

Clyde Lee netted 22 points to break the Vanderbilt career scoring record by raising his total to 1,409 and lead the Commodores to a 77-63 victory over Georgia, while fourth-ranked St. Joseph's throttled Philadelphia cross-town rival LaSalle 92-69 for its 10th triumph.

Powerful Colts Win NFL Consolation Crown

Baltimore Thunders By Dallas Cowboys, 35-3

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Tom Matte, who almost quarterbacked the Baltimore Colts into the National Football League championship game, has led them to a 35-3 victory over Dallas Sunday in the consolation tilt. The performances pose for Coach Don Shula the problem of what to do with Matte next season.

"I don't know," said Shula. "I guess I'll have to keep the Matte offense in our play book, though."

Matte, in only his third professional game as quarterback, was voted the outstanding player in the playoff game before 65,569 in the Orange Bowl. He earned the award on his passing.

LANDRY IRKED Dallas Team "Flat" For Big Clash

MIAMI (AP)—Baltimore has a great football team, but Dallas coach Tom Landry thinks that his Cowboys could have made it a real contest Sunday with a more spirited performance.

Except for defensive back Warren Livingston and linebacker Jerry Tubbs, the Cowboys flattened out as early as the second quarter.

"I thought we were in good spirits and ready to play all week," said Landry. "They did not do anything we were not expecting. But the good spirits were just a temporary thing. Once we went flat early, everything seemed to let down."

Matte Gets Angry
Livingston and Tubbs however, had their moment of satisfaction. Late in the third quarter, these two turned Matte briefly from the game's most valuable player to its most enraged.

What Tom Matte told us you couldn't put in the paper," said Livingston as the Cowboys showered and dressed. "Let's just say that the man was a little irritated."

Matte was on his way down, according to Livingston, when hit around his 20-yard line by Livingston and Tubbs.

In full view of the 65,569 spectators, Matte leaped up and appeared to kick out at his assailants. Matte also spoke, which cost the Colts half-the-distance penalty. "He deserved it," said

Receives Fumble
In addition to his interception, Logan recovered a fumble on the Dallas 25 in the third quarter and fullback Jerry Hill plunged for a touchdown five plays later. Hill also boomed three yards for a second quarter touchdown after catching a 52-yard rocket from Matte.

End John Mackey's catch of a 37-yard pass from Matte set up Baltimore's first touchdown—a six-yard run by Leroy Moore—after a scoreless first period.

He was a quarterback at Ohio State, but since then had thrown only a couple on the halfback option play.

"We just couldn't seem to do anything about stopping him," said Coach Tom Landry of the Cowboys.

The attendance for the NFL Playoff was a record in the Stadium where the rival American Football League will field a team next season.

The victory by the Colts underscored mastery of Western Conference NFL teams over the Eastern this season. It was the 15th victory in 16 contests for the West.

For the 36-year-old Shula, it was a measure of satisfaction after coming so close at Green Bay.

"This was the next best thing," he said, "since it was just not meant to be for us to win the title."

Texas Archers Take Honors
HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Texas archers won the top places Sunday in Hot Springs Indoor Archery Championships, taking both the men's and women's titles.

Joe Mills of Dallas made a second round comeback to win over Saturday's men's leader, Ed Rhode of Muscatine, Iowa.

Mrs. Sue Craddock, also of Dallas, took the women's title, beating out another Texan, Shirley Ellison of Franklin.

Paul Crane Inks Pact With New York Jets
NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Crane, Alabama's All-American center, signed with the New York Jets of the American Football League Saturday.

He had not been drafted by any team in either the American or National Football League, primarily because he weighs only 200 pounds. He was a member of the South in today's Senior Bowl game at Mobile, Ala., which was coached by Weeb Ewbank of the Jets.

Completes Passes
When he was first rushed into the quarterback breach because of injuries to John Unitas and Gary Cuozzo, Matte had a slim repertoire of plays, mostly running. Still the Colts defeated Los Angeles 20-17 and in a playoff for the Western Conference title lost 13-10 in overtime to Green Bay.

Matte passed 17 times against the Cowboys, completing seven. Two of them went 15 and 20 yards to Jimmy Orr for touchdowns. Two more of 37 and 52 yards set up second period touchdowns which gave Baltimore a 14-3 halftime edge.

The Cowboys, who tied for second place in the Eastern Conference by winning five of their last seven games, ran into a fierce Colt defense.

One Long Drive
Dallas put together only one sustained drive on the passing of Don Meredith in the second quarter. The Cowboys reached the Colt four with a first down but were stopped in their tracks and Danny Villanueva kicked a 13-yard field goal.

The Cowboys reached the Colts 29 in the first period and the 31 in the third for their only other threats. They lost the ball on an interception by Jerry Logan the first time and on a fumble recovered by rookie end Roy Hilton the other time.

Bob Hayes, the Olympic sprinter who had caught 13 touchdown passes during the season for the Cowboys, was restricted to four catches for 24 yards.

"It was as good if not better than any defensive game we played this season," evaluated Charlie Winner, Colt assistant coach.

ALTA, Utah (AP)—Mike Allsop of Denver University and Jean Saubert, double Olympic medal winner, won the men's and women's divisions Sunday in the 25th annual Alta Snow Cup ski races.

Miss Saubert won for the second year in a row. Both had to fight off strong challengers to win the right to engrave their names on the Snow Cup. Allsop's Saturday time saved the day Sunday. And Miss Saubert broke a Saturday tie by four-tenths of a second for the win.

The combined totals of both days' races determined the winners. Allsop, 20, didn't match the speed of Ogden's 17-year-old Ray Miller Sunday. Miller skied through the giant slalom in 1:58.2. But Allsop came close enough 1:58.7 to save the victory with his Saturday time of 2:02.3. Miller posted a 2:03.0 Saturday.

Arnie Regains Title Touch

Palmer Outlasts Paul Harney, Miller Barber

LOS ANGELES (AP)—There's no better way to start a new year than by winning, especially if you've been losing.

Arnold Palmer was the author of this sentiment today, and he brought the point into sharp focus by starting 1966 off with first place—and $11,000—in the 40th annual Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament.

Palmer headed for the Palm Springs desert country today for some golf work and most of his fellow pros took off for the next event on the new winter schedule, the $45,250 San Diego Open coming up this weekend.

Palmer won the Los Angeles fixture for the second time, but it wasn't as easy as most everyone had figured in Sunday's final round at the Rancho Miraflores municipal course — par 36-35-71.

He shot a two-over par 73 and won by three strokes with a 72-hole total of 273.

Palmer's sensational 62 Saturday sent him into the final round with a lead of seven strokes over Bill Casper Jr. and nine shots over two rivals who, it developed, gave him a large scare, Paul Harney and Miller Barber.

It was still Palmer by six after the first nine holes, but Harney particularly was closing in and Arnie's army, and possibly Arnie himself were worried.

At the 14th Palmer's lead had melted to one over Harney and two over Barber.

Barber, from San Antonio, Tex., finished ahead of Palmer and Harney, somewhat unnoticed in the scramble.

But as matters turned out, Barber's 67 matched that of Harney, and they tied for second at 276.

Palmer was asked if he preferred to be ahead or come from behind. In regard to the latter, Palmer laughed and said:

"If that was the case in the final round, I'd never have made it."

Then he added: "It's a pleasure to start the new year better. When you don't win for awhile, it starts to cause problems."

This was only Palmer's second tournament victory in some 18 months.

"My game is coming along, but I need a little sharpening up. I need a little confidence in some kind of shots, but I'm reasonably satisfied with my iron play and driving."

The other aspects could stand a little brushing up."

Palmer said he has resumed smoking and contended it has helped quiet his nerves, especially on the putting green.

The surprise of the tournament was 24-year-old Dave Stockton of San Bernardino, Calif., who shot rounds of 71-69-69-68 for 277. He played the final round with Palmer and another veteran, Don January, in this, his second year as a professional.

Wood, after the round, asked about the pressure and the immense Palmer gallery.

"Actually," said the good-looking Dave, "the toughest part was when I came up and shook hands with him."

As it turned out, the pressure-packed round saw Stockton shoot Palmer by five strokes.

Spahn Not Yet Ready To Quit

BOSTON (AP) — Warren Spahn, the biggest southpaw winner in baseball history who will be 45 April 23, says he hopes to continue pitching.

"I think I can still pitch in the big leagues, Spahn said in a telephone interview from his ranch in Hartshorne, Okla.

Spahn, released after last season by San Francisco, told Will McDonough of the Boston Globe that he is shopping around for a job.

"As it stands, I don't know who I will pitch for next year, or what league — American or National — that I'll pitch in, the veteran hurler said.

"I've talked with several clubs, and I have an invitation to spring training with San Francisco if I don't work out something on my own before then."

Cowboys

"We did nothing wrong," Livingston maintained. "We were just coming down to clean up on him, make sure he wouldn't go anywhere, as we're supposed to do. It happens a thousand times a season, but the quarterbacks never seem to get used to it."

Landry refused to alibi. "We had plenty of opportunity in the first quarter, when we had the wind. After all, we chose it." The Colts won the toss, elected to receive.

"We just got beaten up," said Landry. "We couldn't handle their red-dog and we couldn't spring Bobby Hayes or Buddy Dial loose because they were in on Don Meredith before he could get straightened out. That is the way it goes sometimes. Everything you do goes wrong."

Bob Hayes Limited
Landry acknowledged that Mattie performed better than expected. "But can you imagine what it would have been like had Unita been in there? Katy, bar the door."

Hayes, whose 13 touchdowns led the Cowboys to the playoff bowl game, was a limited to four receptions for 24 yards.

"I had no trouble getting loose," said the world's dash king from Florida A&M. "I just wasn't going very far. I'd get a few yards downfield and see they already had Meredith in trouble. There was no time to throw the bomb at all."

"I'm just sorry I couldn't do a better job for the people in Miami. Sometime s. s. though, you just can't come up with a thing," Hayes said.

The Cowboys' Danny Villanueva was limited to a 27 1/2-yard average while Tom Gilburg of the Colts kicked for an average of 42 yards.

"Well, the wind was a factor, of course," said Villanueva. "I was up against it in the second and third quarters. I was getting them up there, but they weren't going any place. Nothing you can do about it."

Track Meet

(Continued From Page One) mly, ever by a Briton, 4-02.5 Lawson, 22, runner up in the NCAA three-mile last summer, let Lindgren set the pace and then finished past the 19-year-old Olympian from Washington State with one and one-half laps left. Lindgren finished 15 yards back in 8:42.8.

Parry O'Brien ended a year's absence from the shot put ring with a victory at 62-3 after being introduced as "the man who did for shot putting what Orville Wright did for flying."

O'Brien, now 34, was the first to put the shot 60 feet and won his first Olympic title in 1952.

Records Broken
Collegiate sprint king Charlie Greene of Nebraska beat Derel Newman of Fresno State in the 60-yard dash in six seconds flat to start a list of Examiner meet record breakers which later also included Wayne Hermen of San Jose State with 16.6 for 160 yards and the San Jose mile relay team at 3:21.0. Newman's second place time in the 60 was 6.1, one-tenth below the previous record.

Olis Burrell of Nevada, Max Love of Foothill College and John Rambo of Long Beach all cleared seven feet in the high jump. They finished in that order on the basis of fewer misses.

Perhaps most unexpected was the 85-yard hurdle victory by Earl McCullough of Long Beach

City College. He won in 7.3, beating Olympian Blaine Lindgren and Ralph Boston among others. The latter, world record holder in the long jump, injured a heel in on his first leap and retired from competition. Rainer Stenius of Finland, a Los Angeles State student, won at 25-4

SANDIES ROLL

LHS Last Obstacle

By CARLTON STOWERS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff

For all practical purposes, the war is over. But, so far as Hub City cage fans are concerned, the battle is yet to be fought.

The powerful Amarillo High Sandies cleared their final major hurdle last Friday when they downed the Lubbock High Westerners, 63-49, and need only to get past Borger this week to wait off with the first round title in District 3-AAAA.

Lubbock and Monterey, tied for second with 6-1 loop marks, will renew their colorful rivalry in Municipal Coliseum Tuesday night in a game which should produce all the color and excitement such a torrid intra-city rivalry demands.

Conceding an Amarillo win against Borger — and the Bulldogs would have to make a complete about face to pull off an upset the LHS-MHS encounter will produce the second and third place finishers in the first half of league play.

Tuesday Marks End
Tuesday's action will write an end to the first go-round and the second half of play wastes no time in getting underway Friday night.

Monterey scored an impressive win Friday over defending champion Pampa, defeating the Harvesters, 38-31, while hitting a torrid 61 per cent. The lone district loss by the Plainmen and Lubbock was suffered at the hands of the unbeaten Amarillo Sandies.

In addition to their sparkling 7-0 league mark, AHS' high-scoring Sandstorms are the winningest team for the season with a 15-1 record. Monterey is 15-2, Lubbock, 14-3, and Pampa is 13-4 — evidence aplenty of the caliber ball played by 3-AAAA's top four squads thus far this season.

Sandies No Fluke
The league statistics bear out the fact that Amarillo's lofty perch is no fluke. The Sandies are the leading scorers, having averaged 66.4 points-per-outing, and own the top individual scorer in Charlie Wells. The AHS standouts has hit for 122 points to date for a 17.4 league average. In fact, there are three Amarillo players among the top 12 point-makers in the district.

Bill Jordan and Jeff Harp have hit for 81 and 82 points respectively in playing strong roles in coach John Ethridge's attack.

Despite giving up 63 points Friday night, the LHS Westerners are still the leading defensive outfit, having allowed 42 points-per-game. Pampa has allowed 42.5 and Monterey, 44.0.

Monterey's Kenny Coleman and David Reed have hit for 86 points each for identical 12.2 scoring averages and Lubbock's Don Burrell has scored 77 for an 11 point average.

Eighth-ranked UCLA, gunning for its fifth consecutive Pacific Athletic Conference title, made Oregon its fifth successive victim by blasting the Ducks 97-65.

Big Walt Wesley scored 39 points to power Kansas (No. 9) to an 82-65 Big Eight victory over Iowa State, and Wisconsin stunned Big Ten rival Iowa 69-68 on the Badgers' home court.

In an opening defense of its Big Ten title, Michigan beat Ohio State 83-78 for the first time in 19 years at Columbus behind the 32-point outburst of All-America Cazzie Russell, and Julian Hammond's 26 points led Tulsa to a 73-71 MVC victory over Cincinnati.

RED CHINA CALLS CASTRO LIAR

Communist World Embroiled In New And Bitter Dispute

By BEN F. MEYER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communist world found itself embroiled today in a new and bitter dispute which could have far-reaching repercussions.

The new controversy centers around a charge by Communist China that Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro lied in saying Peking refused to carry out a plan to barter rice for Cuban sugar.

But deeper than a trade dispute is the real cause of the controversy — the Peking-Moscow struggle for leadership of the Communist world and the timing of the current disagreement.

One immediate effect of the Peking-Havana quarrel could be an internal struggle at the three-continent "solidarity" conference now under way in Havana. Some said it might produce a walkout of Red China's delegation which has found the conference heavily weighted in favor of the Soviet line. Moscow bolsters Castro's regime with economic and military aid estimated at $1 million a day.

The timing of the dispute is significant. It was begun by Castro on the eve of the Asia-Africa-Latin American meeting. He announced that his government and Red China found a plan under which China would send rice to Cuba in exchange for sugar.

Major Staple The Peking government's action has caused a cut from six to three pounds per month in the ration of rice in Cuba, where rice is a major staple of the diet.

Now the Peking government has issued a blistering statement about Castro's declaration. Stripped of its diplomatic niceties, Peking says in effect:

1. Castro is a liar.
2. Castro violated the norms of international good manners in speaking out publicly about negotiations then under way, particularly since Cuba has an official mission now in Peking to present his viewpoint.
3. Castro's timing in attacking a sister nation on the eve of the Havana conference gives broad reasons to suspect the sincerity of his motives.

Observers here are watching the new controversy closely. They wonder if North Viet Nam's Hanoi regime will be able to keep on playing it cozy with both Moscow and Peking as Castro tried to do. A high-level Soviet delegation is now in Hanoi talking things over with government leaders.

Today's supermarkets carry from 70 to 100 pet food items, compared with about 40 in 1957.

California Man Discovers Way to Hold False Teeth

BAKERSFIELD, CALIF. — A new discovery called Acryline is big news. Users say it fits plates so beautifully they can't believe it. Acryline uses a startling new vacuum principle. It flows on plates and forms an air tight seal. Users say this feels akin to natural teeth. This wonderful feeling lasts six months before a new application is necessary. Acryline is available at all drug counters. (Adv.)

Reward Studied As False Alarms Grow

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The Baltimore Fire Board, worried about mounting false alarms, is thinking about offering cash rewards to citizens who capture the culprits.

The board has asked the city solicitor if it has the authority to offer rewards. False alarms hit a record high of 2,960 in 1965, accounting for about one-third of all alarms turned in.

War Memorial On Corregidor Island Planned

SEATTLE (AP) — A Seattle architectural firm has completed plans for a $1.2 million Pacific War Memorial on Corregidor Island, designed to commemorate American World War II battles in the western Pacific.

The next step will be bids for construction of the memorial under an appropriation voted by Congress a year ago.

The memorial will feature a concrete dome supported by columns in an area 160 feet square, with an opening in the center of the dome and a round, white marble altar beneath it. A bronze monument representing an eternal flame will stand at the end of a 50-foot vista looking toward Manila, 28 miles away.

Dedication has been set for April 10, 1967.

The design is by the firm of Naramore, Bain, Brady and Johnson.
